Rescuers of Six of Laristan's Company Regret Not Being Able to Save All; One of Survivors Says German Sailors Treated Him "Like the Kaiser"

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Evening Standard says that Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lite, president of the Board of Trade, has created a new precedent for his department by sending a high official to Plymouth to meet the United States liner President Roosevelt. Sir Philip also will send a full report on the ship's rescue of the crew of the British steamer Antinol to King George. On his report, the Evening Standard says, it will be decided in what manner the gallantry of Captain George Fried and his crew can be recognized most suitably.

The paper says that the Roosevelt's skipper and his men may receive exceptional honors, but that a final decision on this point will not be made until the King has considered Sir Philip's report.

RESCUE RETOLD. The columns of the newspapers this morning are filled with stories of the rescue of the crew of the Antinol, after a battle of 80 hours at sea against the waves which finally overwhelmed the ship. They were related by rescuers and rescued, and alongside them are photographs taken from the Antinol as it was in the mountains.

EDITORIALLY, admiration is expressed over the gallant performance and courage of the crew of the Roosevelt in carrying out their task of saving the lives of those on board the Antinol. The rescue was a heroic one. They were related by rescuers and rescued, and alongside them are photographs taken from the Antinol as it was in the mountains.

HEROES ARE MODEST. Apparently it is Captain Fried and Chief Officer Miller who will receive the congratulations and laurels which they already have begun to find embarrassing. They will have to hide them selves. The modesty of Fried, Miller and others was remarked yesterday when the Roosevelt came into Plymouth with the 25 members of the crew of the Antinol aboard. It is said that Captain Fried had been detained by British naval officers went on board the Roosevelt and conveyed to him the thanks of the British Admiralty. He said to have declared that, although he appreciated the thanks heartily, it was almost a greater ordeal to listen to them than to stand for days and nights on the bridge maneuvering the Roosevelt in the attempt at rescue.

MILLER was equally modest. As an instance of his coolness in the rescue work it is said that he refused to shore off from the wreck with the last party of the crew in the lifeboat, until he had ascertained there were no pet animals aboard the Antinol.

BREMEN AT QUEENSTOWN. QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, Feb. 1.—Another heroic rescue ship, the German liner Bremen, reached port today, bringing with her six battered seamen, snatched from the jaws of the storm in the Atlantic.

As was the case with the President Roosevelt and her gallant crew, the Bremen was given an enthusiastic welcome, but the survivors of the British freighter Laristan were in a mood far from the hilarity displayed by those rescued from the Antinol. Over them hung the shadow of the fate of their 24 comrades who went down with the Laristan before Captain Wurps of the Bremen and his men were able to complete their work of rescue.

REGRETS OTHERS' WORK. To a welcoming delegation of Irish government officials and representatives of public bodies, who went aboard the Bremen from a tender early this morning, the German captain said: "We regret very much that our continued attempts to rescue these poor men were not crowned with better success."

The survivors expressed admiration for the efficiency of the German crew and gratitude for the courtesy and attention shown them aboard the Bremen.

Michael McCann, one of the six, said: "The Germans are good fellows; I was treated as though I were the Kaiser himself."

All told of the narrow escape they had while being taken off the sinking freighter and paid tribute to the courage of their rescuers.

Windsor, N. S., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Arthur Deal, who is recovering in the hospital here from an attack of acute appendicitis, probably owes her life to her neighbors. About two weeks ago, Friday, during the height of a blizzard that blocked the roads that a doctor summoned from Windsor could not reach her place, 10 miles out in the country, they organized a number of teams and men to haul the sick and weary lady to the nearest hospital for treatment.

WILL EAR-MARK SCHOOL SHARE IN TAX BILLS

Common Council to Have Proportion Printed in Red Ink

ACTING MAYOR SAYS BANKER CAN ACT TO WRITE ABOUT OVERDRAFT

Monthly Payment Idea Finds Support.

The citizens will be able this year to tell at a glance just how much of their tax bill goes for school purposes. A resolution to have the amount printed in red ink on the face of the bill was adopted this morning by the Common Council. An application from Garson, Ltd. for permission to erect a service station in Douglas avenue near the private road of Murray & Gregory, Commissioner Harding said that as the council had gone over his head in granting permission for gasoline stations he would not oppose any license in future.

SCHOOLS AND TAXES. Commissioner Bullock said he thought the time had arrived when every taxpayer should know just what portion of his tax bill was for the schools. He moved that the amount for schools be placed on the face of each tax bill in red ink.

MONTHLY PAYMENTS. A communication from A. B. McIntosh endorsing a suggestion by E. Schofield for monthly collection of taxes and urging a reduction in the amount of the levy was ordered filed. In this connection Mayor Frink said the city had collected 80 per cent of the levy in the past year and Commissioner Wigmore said the water assessment for 1925 had been collected within 80 per cent.

PORT AND INSURANCE. A letter from P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner, thanking the council for its letter of appreciation of the services of the Imperial Shipping Committee in having the marine insurance to Saint John reduced, was read. The High Commissioner said he was still working on this matter and hoped eventually to have the port of Saint John placed on the same basis as American Atlantic ports in this respect.

MARRIAGES. MANNING-PARRIS—On Jan. 29, 1926, at the home of the bride's parents, 39 Queen street, by Rev. J. E. Trotter, Esila Gladys, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parris, to G. William Manning, both of this city.

DEATHS. SMITH—At her residence, 118 Lancaster street, West Saint John, on Jan. 30, 1926, Mary Loretta Smith, widow of Joseph E. Smith, leaving one son, three daughters and five grandchildren to mourn.

IN MEMORIAM. COCHRANE—In loving memory of our dear son, Ernest, who departed this life, Feb. 1, 1925. Sincerely the stars are gleaming, Upon a lonely and silent grave, Where thou sleepest in quiet, One we loved and could not save.

WIFE AND CHILDREN. O'DONOGHUE—In sad and loving memory of Matthew D. O'Donoghue, who departed this life, Jan. 31, 1926. And if at times the heart's bowed down With grief it ever thins, There's comfort in the thought that they are waiting over there.

CARD OF THANKS. Mr. Mitchell and son wish to thank their friends and neighbors for kindness shown and also for floral tributes in their recent sad bereavement.

Local News

NEARLY THE SAME. The withdrawals at the Saint John branch of the Dominion Savings Bank for January were but little in excess of the deposits for the month. The figures were: Withdrawals, $29,928.82; deposits, $29,928.44.

OUR CURLERS ABOARD. The Glasgow Daily Record of Jan. 12, the illustrated section, contains an excellent reproduced snapshot of F. C. Beatty and Johnny Malcolm of this city playing in one of the Canada vs Scotland curling matches in Edinburgh. As a matter of fact the stone that Mr. Beatty is stopped to "put" was the very first shot played in the series of matches. Big Johnny Malcolm, wears a broad smile but no topcoat. He played in his shirt sleeves. The picture is an interesting memento.

PROMINENT MEN ILL. Word was received this morning from New York that the condition of F. G. Spencer, who is undergoing treatment at one of the hospitals in that city, was not as good as it had been. H. E. Gould, city forester, who is a patient at the General Public Hospital, was reported this morning to be making good progress toward recovery. A slight improvement in the condition of J. Walter Holly was reported this morning. Mr. Holly is at his home, Rothsay.

AN APT ILLUSTRATION. Rev. Harold A. Goodwin in Portland United Church yesterday preached a sermon in which he likened the late championship skating meet to the spiritual life of people—the contest of individuals on the same track, a dispirited time to lag and loiter because the leaders did so. He stressed the thought that initiative and personal struggle regardless of the other fellow would win the prize eternal. Rev. Mr. Goodwin also observed that if similar preparation and community interest were shown, our spiritual welfare what a great work could be accomplished. He praised the skating meet, highly as called healthful, edifying sports, paying a compliment to those who had the sports in their charge.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 1, 1926.

HALIFAX AND GRAIN.

Representatives of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Pool and officials of the Atlantic Division of the C. N. R. inspected the grain handling facilities at Halifax on Saturday, and made public their views regarding traffic prospects there.

Mr. Wood, general traffic manager of the C. N. R.'s Atlantic Division, said that the Canadian National intends to provide two, or probably three, additional grain berths at Halifax.

There is an indication in what he said of the extent to which rates exercise a commanding influence over the routing of traffic. It is quite natural that the western growers should prefer the cheapest haul to tidewater, and if Canada is going to enjoy the haulage of its own traffic, and so derive the full economic benefit from it, it is up to this country to introduce rates which will keep the business in home channels.

More exports will mean more imports. If the present season at Ottawa develops a government, of any political stripe, which can transact pressing public business, one of its first duties should be to respond to the national demand that Canadian traffic be moved over Canadian routes and that the ports of the country be equipped adequately to handle it.

THE FUTURE CANADA.

That the prosperity of this country will in time equal, if not surpass, that of the United States is the judgment recorded editorially by the Cardiff Western Mail, which has been reviewing statements recently made by Sir Emley Carr and others who visited Canada last summer.

Sir Emley recently made a speech in which he expressed the fear that "with the bulging pockets of the United States within such easy reach" Canadians might be tempted to think of joining the Republic.

"It needs no prophet to foretell that when her vast fertile acres have been peopled, when her mineral and agricultural resources have been fully developed, Canada will equal, if not surpass, the prosperity of the United States.

"During the war the dominions of the British Empire learned to know and respect one another and the Mother Country in a manner never before possible. Those years of mutual sacrifice forged a sacred bond that no material interest—least of all, material interests built up at a time when the men and women of the Empire laid aside all immediately on the altar of

Twenty Years Ago Today

From Times' Files.

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY, C. P. R. president, announced that the railway hoped to bring some of their big steamers to this port during the fall of 1906.

THE preliminary work for the municipal elections was reported as going forward briskly. Ex-Mayor Sears was making a personal canvass.

THE lowest temperature recorded for January, 1906, was two below. Only 2.2 inches of snow fell and there was no January like it in 32 years.

Who's Who in the Day's News

GEN. VON SEECKT

IN recognition of his services to Germany during the trying days after the flight of Emperor William to Holland, President Von Hindenburg has promoted Gen. Von Seeckt to the rank of Field Marshal.

As one of the great generals in the World War, Von Seeckt, as chief of staff of Field Marshal Von Mackensen, commanded the southern front and refused to take orders from the Kaiser and other military leaders, escaping punishment because of his genius as a soldier.

The dominant figure stepped into command following the collapse of the German government, and with the aid of a few veteran troops took it upon himself to suppress lawlessness and protect life and property. It made no difference to him who the rioters were, he treated all factions alike. His actions met with the approval of the Entente powers.

At the international conference which took place in London four years ago, the general, accompanying the Prime Minister and Chancellor of Germany, made an excellent impression on his former enemies, convincing them that while he was in power in Berlin they need fear neither Communist uprising nor monarchist coup.

Dinner Stories

A CLERK showed 40 patterns of gingham to a man whose wife had sent him to buy some for her, and at every pattern the man said: "My wife said she didn't want anything like that."

The clerk put the last piece back on the shelf. "Sir," he said, "you don't want gingham. What you want is a divorce."

ON ONE occasion the minister delivered a sermon of but ten minutes' duration—a most unusual thing for him.

Upon the conclusion of his remarks he added: "I regret to inform you, brethren, that my dog, who appears to be peculiarly fond of paper, this morning ate that portion of my sermon that I have not delivered. Let us pray."

After the service the clergyman was met at the door by a man who, as a rule, attended divine service in another parish. Making the good-man by the hand, he said:

"Doctor, I should like to know whether that dog of yours has any pups. If so, I want to get one to give to my minister."

SERMON SERIES ON EVOLUTION IS CONCLUDED

Rev. Mr. Bonnell Preaches Third in St. Andrew's Kirk

FAREWELL SAID BY REV. C. J. MARKHAM

Other Matters of Special Note in City Churches Sunday

Rev. J. S. Bonnell, in St. Andrew's church last night, preached his final sermon of the series on evolution. His subject was Evolution and Man. More than 1,100 people were present.

The speaker described the text as a religious interpretation of the fact of man's creation. For an account of the process or method it was necessary to go to the best accredited science, he said, and two answers were possible.

Mr. Bonnell gave an interesting description of such skulls as the Piltdown and others, and said that their reconstruction was largely imaginative. Even though the most recent of the body of man by evolution, many questions remained unanswered.

He said that even supposing every link should be proved in the chain of man's creation it would not dishonor God nor degrade man. He went on to tell of the evolution of modern surgery from the methods of the 18th century.

He asked whether the achievements of the British race were less glorious because the ancestors 2,000 years ago were fierce savages, or whether the colors of the butterfly were less beautiful because it had evolved from the lowly caterpillar.

Weddings

Manning-Farris.

An interesting event took place on Friday evening, Jan. 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Farris, 80 Canon street, when their youngest daughter, Elsie Gladys Farris, was united in marriage to G. William Manning.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly gowned in peach georgette crepe with silver lace and carried a bouquet of carnations.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Fowler and Mrs. W. H. Ring, sister of the bride, played Lohengrin's Wedding March. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. F. Allison Keith, River Glade, N. B., sister of the bride; Mrs. R. P. Farris and Mr. and Mrs. F. McAllister, of Chipman, N. B.

Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity of the young people. Mr. and Mrs. Manning will reside in this city.

Hall-Northrup. MONCTON, Jan. 31.—John A. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hall of Moncton, was united in marriage to Mabel A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Northrup, of Sussex, on Saturday afternoon at the parsonage of the United church at Sunny Brae.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Levan, brother of the bride. The young couple left on a short honeymoon trip. On their return they will reside in Moncton.

between good and evil and did not breed party hate. True religion helped to develop the soul to its highest. The power of moral choice was a gift of God and in making choices the means of guidance were found in the scriptures.

He spoke of the historic background of the church in the continuance of apostolic succession, the three-fold ministry, the sacraments and the Gospel message.

Mr. Markham spoke earnestly of the supreme joy of those who have fellowship with Christ and of the inspiration of the noble lives of the followers of Christ in past ages.

The communion service which was held in St. David's United Presbyterian church yesterday morning was attended by 848 communicants. Rev. Hugh Miller preached an impressive sermon. The eldership was also well represented.

Mr. Miller traced the pathetic story of the world's exiles, and the causes of their exile, especially dwelling on the life of those who suffered exile for science sake. The Jewish exile in Babylon was due to the weakening of their religious life.

ST. JOHN BAPTIST CHURCH. The financial statement for the year 1925 in St. John the Baptist church, Broad street, was read in the morning service yesterday by Rev. J. J. McDermott, parish priest, and showed that the total amount raised was almost $12,000 and the balance at the end of the year amounted to $899.

The church debt was reduced about $4,000 during the year. The amount nearly $800 was raised by the Ladies' Society of the church and substantial sums by the baseball players and the minstrel show given by the Men's Society.

Mr. McDermott also announced that at yesterday's Septuagesima Sunday, and the pre-Lent season had commenced, the time of the week-day masses would be changed until after Lent in order that children might attend mass before going to school.

MEIGHEN SOLUTION FOR UNEMPLOYMENT. Tells Labor Member His Plan is to Get Jobs For Workless

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—The views of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition Leader, on unemployment relief, and old age pensions, were outlined in a letter to J. S. Woodworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre, read during his speech on the address in the House.

"The thing to do for the unemployed, is to get them work, and I have been often very disappointed that I have never been able to secure your co-operation in the least degree in an effort to extend the area of employment in this country," Mr. Meighen said in his letter.

Demented "Sourdough" Was Killed in Shack in Which He Had Barricaded Self

DAWSON, P. T., Feb. 1.—Exonerated Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers from criminal responsibility for the death of John Smith, demented "sourdough" of the Yukon, who was killed in his cabin in which he barricaded himself last week, after he had run amuck with a gun at Sulphur Creek, 40 miles from Dawson, was contained in a verdict returned Saturday by a jury which investigated the affair.

A posse of mounted police officers who besieged Smith's shack, fired a number of shots at him on Tuesday, when he emerged to get a bucket of snow. He ran back into the cabin and when the officers entered the next day, they found his body with a bullet hole through his chest and another which had broken his left leg.

Dorothy Dix

"The Happiest Marriages Are Those Where There is Neither the Wolf Nor the Sports Model Car at the Door," Says Dorothy Dix.

AMONG my acquaintances are a man and woman who married upon the proverbial shoestring. They started housekeeping in a little two-by-four flat, and the husband hustled at his job, while the wife cooked and mended and sewed and trimmed her own hats and made over frocks, and hunted down bargains in butcher's meat. And they were happy and contented and devoted to each other.

DOROTHY DIX

Such cases are not, alas, uncommon and they make one wonder whether poverty or riches makes for happiness in marriage. According to the old adage, when poverty comes in at the door, love flies out the window, but just as often riches come down the chimney, love sneaks out the back stairs.

UNDoubtedly, bitter biting poverty is a hard test for love to stand, for even love is material. When you are hungry you are more stomach than heart. When you are cold you think more of the temperature of your body than you do of the temperature of your affections. When you are harassed by bills and hounded by collectors, money, and not sentiment, fills your waking thoughts and nightly dreams. Love has to be comfortable before it can get in its great and perfect work.

But on the other hand, money brings temptations from which poverty is exempt. Especially does money bring temptations to men, for every rich man is the forested prey of every adventurer he meets. Married or single, women smile upon him who has the price of the luxuries their souls crave, and so it is that the man who, had he been poor, would have been permitted to walk the straight and narrow path in peace, because he is rich finds hundreds of soft white hands dragging him down into the pit.

A WOMAN once justified her extravagance to me by saying that the only way that a wife nowadays can keep her husband in to keep him poor, and she was not far from speaking the truth. A rich man has to be, indeed, a Joseph if he resists the wiles and is adamant to the flatteries and seductions of the pretty young creatures who are always out on a still hunt for a Candy Papa. And it should console many a woman for not having a limousine to still have a faithful husband, and to know that that is a luxury that few wealthy women possess.

Statistics show that the ratio of divorce is much greater in rich and fashionable society than among the poor. This may be accounted for in many ways. The first aid to divorce is, as I have just said, the fact that the feminine branch of Willing Workers is organized to take every man with money away from his wife, and only too often it succeeds in its nefarious designs.

Then the rich have time to coddle their emotions. The poor have not. There is doubtless just as much incompatibility of temper and ungenerosity of taste in green grocer circles, as there is in banking circles. Also, the wives of green grocers lose their heads and get fat just as do the wives of trust presidents, and the latter we have always with us in every grade of society.

The only difference is that the green grocer is lucky enough not to have leisure in which to brood over his blazed.

HE IS so hard-worked trying to make both ends meet that he hasn't time to consider whether his wife represents his ideal of feminine perfection or not. Also, Mrs. Greengrocer's thoughts are effectually and permanently diverted from yearnings for a real soul mate by having to get up and get breakfast and patch her husband's trousers and wash and mend and sew for the little Greengrocers. In so far, poverty is the handmaid of domestic happiness.

The rich miss this aid to marital bliss. Being freed from the daily grind, they have abundant leisure to take note of each other's little imperfections, and dwell upon the state of their own affections.

Mrs. Croesus having nothing to do, sits with her finger on her pulse, and observes that her heartbeats do not quicken as they did ten years ago when her Henri Adolphus approached, from which she argues that she made a mistake in her matrimonial and matrimonial love, and finds that from fever heat it has gone down to normal, and the results figure in the divorce court.

Or perhaps it is Mr. Croesus, who, observing that his Matilda's looks are not what they once were, starts out to hunt for thrills, and the wifecol is trouble and tribulations and alimony.

FURTHERMORE, the habit of self-indulgence is strong upon the rich, and the men and women who are not used to doing without anything they want are not apt to deny themselves the forbidden fruit. But most of all it is boredom, the desire for fresh sensations and fresh amusements, and a general lack of something to do, and some real interest in life, that is at the bottom of the domestic infidelities of the rich.

The wisest prayer ever offered is when the psalmist exclaimed: "Give me neither poverty nor riches," and this petition might well be incorporated in the prayers of the marriage service. For undoubtedly the happiest marriages are those where there is neither the wolf nor the sports model car at the door, but where the husband and wife most work together and sacrifice together, and plan and hope together, and have that community of interest that makes them indeed one.

Evening Wrap Is Designed For Warm Clime

By MME. LISBETH
HEADS may be barbaric but they are decidedly effective as dress trimmings, and milady refuses to give them up although they have been used for so many seasons now that they might properly be called passe and relegated to the attic until in the course of the next decade the vogue again rolls around.

Nothing of the sort seems at all likely to happen, however, as the costumes pictured above show. Miss Blanche Sweet, well known photo-play actress, trims both her elaborate evening dress and her somewhat unisex evening wrap with them. To the right and the left are two views of this coat. The upper part is of white fox fur, which protects the shoulders and arms, while the lower part is of silver 'jack' trimmed with rhinestones and heavy glass beads. It is intended for wear in a mild climate where it warranted an ideal wrap for theatre or dinner party. It is surely most attractive and becoming.

The frock (centre) is a heavy white satin and, too, is trimmed with rhinestones. It is sans shoulder straps, being held in place by a necklace arrangement. The satin collar is closely to the figure, fullness being introduced by short godets at the hem. The bottom of the skirt is cut into points. A matching hair band and long shoulder cord finished with heavy tassels complete a very effective costume.

A complicated cut-out sandal design is being worn for evening shoes in preference to the pump. They are made of satin or panne to match the gown and the vamp is worked with semi-precious stones. Jeweled buckles and cabochons are also used for decoration, with a matching design on the heel.

And a novelty that seems coming in to favor for evening wear is the skull cap. A black and white ensemble combining a white pearl embroidered georgette dress worn under a black velvet cloak lined with ermine, had a little cap of black velvet and ermine.

News Notes From Movie Land

YOU'D think it was spring, the way real-estate romance is stirring up things in Hollywood. Mrs. Murray came back from Europe to find film folk talking about the romance of her former husband, Robert Z. Leonard, the director, and Gertrude Olmstead, Metro-Goldwyn leading woman.

The way Leonard paid ardent court to Mae before she left for Europe made some of their friends think that a re-marriage was impending, but now, of course, there's no chance.

It will make Bob happy to marry Gertrude, I'll be happy, too," Miss Murray opines. "She's one of the prettiest girls in pictures," is the compliment she pays to the brunette. Mae is a blonde. Miss Olmstead's newest picture is "Monte Carlo." Christy Cabanne, not Leonard, is the director.

Of course, there are people who say Leonard made Mrs. Murray a star; this despite the fact that perhaps the best work she has ever done is in "The Merry Widow," with which Bob had nothing to do. But maybe he can make Gertrude one of the big box-office favorites.

Pretty Elinor Fair, who eloped the other day with William Boyd, leading man, is going to continue her screen career. She settled that with Bill before she said the magic "Yes."

Hollywood is being told that Allan Pringle is nursing a broken heart, but Allen doesn't look it. It was thought that she was going to marry Cedric Gibbons, a scenic artist, but he led Gwendolyn Weiler, who is little known in screenland, to the altar.

News Notes From Movieland

By JACK JUNGMEYER
SO MANY warnings have been issued against display of "temperament" in movie studios that most young actresses, even when they have it, are careful to curb and conceal it as something wholly paratious.

Generally it is considered a self-destructive fire. But for Olive Borden it sparked the fuse of extraordinary progress from minor roles to stellar part in the biggest Fox production for the coming year, "The World of Promises."

It was when things were at their worst for the Borden that Olive had her chance. Dissatisfied with a small part for which she had been cast, the young lady flared up in hot protest—a dark fury launching honest opinion on an emotional bolt.

And instead of showing her the exit door, the Fox officials for the first time sensed her capabilities, backed off respectfully and handed her a five-year contract.

Right here there was a loud shriek for help and everybody turned to see what was happening. What they saw was enough to make your hair stand on end. It was the Turkey Gobbler, and down his red throat the Gingerbread Man was about to disappear. Indeed nothing but his one foot was to be seen right then.

Nancy stamped her foot—it was all she could think of to do, but it had the desired effect, for the gobbler gave a scared hop up into the air and forgot to swallow. When he got his breath the Gingerbread Man's current eye into his hind pipe and in the sun coughed.

Out flew the engineer of the Hidy Go Land Express and the day was saved. "What are you doing in Hidy Go Land, Sir?" demanded Mister Havaloock. "We are having trouble enough without you." "Yes, and Thanksgiving and Christmas are over," said Nick. "You are safe enough now."

The gobbler gobbled. "Turkeys are the hardest people in the world to keep at home," he said. "They love to go off and hide. I'm no different from the others. Besides when I come here by the back way I often find bird-bait." "Did you see anything of the Bag Doll?" asked Miss Crinolite.

"Yes, I passed her just going into the drain." "My skirt will be ruined!" shrieked the Crinolite Doll wildly.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont
So many of the smart resort frocks have emphasized the use of two shades of the same color. The sketch above exploits the effectiveness of this plan when the frock is one of youthful lines.

Kasha in a deep pink tone is chosen for the body of the frock, while the bands are of kasha in rose color. The dress is in one piece and fastens straight down the back.

The rather large hat repeats the deep pink, with a band of rose color.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

I all but collided with Frank McIntire, the elephantine comedian who 300 pounds, more or less, occupy the major portion of almost any sidewalk.

In the course of chatter he sprung the grand old line: "I was a newspaper man once myself." And, sure enough, he was once an infatuated spitter on the Ann Arbor (Mich.) Argus.

It so happened that a prominent citizen had died and a headwriter jotted down the words: "PASSES AWAY."

IN THE NIGHT
It also happened that, on the same day, a young man left town without saying good-bye to his landlord and several others. Another head was written, which went something like this:

COLLECTORS WEEP
WHEN HE DEPARTED
McIntire, new on the make-up, got the two heads on the wrong stories. He left in the early dawn. The Fourth Estate lost and the theatre won.

At any rate, this is the tale as it comes to me. I vouch for no anecdotes.

Plain Omelet—Beat four eggs just long enough to mix the yolks and whites well together and add two tablespoonsful tomato cream or seasoning. Melt three tablespoons butter in an omelet pan. Pour in the mixture, stir with a fork until the eggs begin to set, then fold the sides toward the middle in an oblong form; turn over on to a hot dish, and serve quickly.

Fish Balls—Take six medium sized potatoes, pare and cut in quarters; one cup salt codfish cut in small pieces, two eggs, two tablespoons butter, salt and pepper to taste. Cook potatoes and fish in boiling water until potatoes are soft. Drain and mash. Add eggs, slightly beaten, butter and seasonings and beat until light. Drop by teaspoonfuls into hot, fat and fry brown.

Cranberry Apple Tapioca—Cook one-half cup of granulated tapioca in double boiler until clear, add juice of one-half lemon and one-half cup of cranberry juice or strained cranberries, and pour over apples which have been pared and quartered and covered with one cup of sugar in baking dish. Bake until apples are soft. The cranberries give a delicious flavor and a pretty color, and leftover cranberry sauce can be used up in this way.

PORTLAND HAS BIG GRAIN YEAR

Maine Port Reaps Benefit of Large C. N. R. Shipments

Says More Canadian Grain is Routed That Way Than For Several Years

A recent despatch from Portland, Me., says:

While a heated controversy is in progress over the failure of the Canadian National Railways to make more extensive use of Halifax, N. S., as a winter port, Portland is reaping the benefit of immense shipments over the Canadian National lines for transfer to steamships here.

"The beginning of the year finds the Portland elevators of the Canadian National rapidly filling with Canadian grain and more routed through this port than for several years. This, coupled with large imports of European coal and china clay, is giving Portland its heaviest winter port business since the war.

"Increased sailings to foreign ports from Portland have been scheduled by all the trans-Atlantic lines which use this port in the winter months after the freezing of the St. Lawrence river has closed the ports of Montreal and Quebec. Every steamer which leaves for Europe has the maximum cargo permissible, and in some instances the shipments of grain have been so heavy that part of the general cargo has been left behind for later boats. In addition to the regular lines four British tramp steamers have sailed from Portland so far this season as compared with a total of three for the whole of last year.

"If the importation of foreign anthracite, due to the coal strike, continues at its present rate, all previous records for that business here will be shattered. The heaviest import of that commodity is from Wales to local dealers."

Morning Stock Letter NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—There was plenty of profit taking Saturday, but the market held well. The public seems to have been selling stocks for weeks, but the market does not go down.

There is a chance that the publication of the first loan figures may bring some relief, but we expect any reaction in the near future to be only temporary.

General Motors looks a great deal brighter and is a purchase at these prices. So are Dupont and Goodyear.

Some utilities look higher, including ANHEIL and North American. Incidentally we still expect Consolidated Gas, E. S. Ry and C. & O. to advance, and in the steel group we would buy U. S. Steel and Sloss on any dips.

The train brought Friday's and Saturday's mails. Highway travel through the country was resumed in a measure today.

WILLS - LENGLEN CLASH UNCERTAIN

U. S. Girl Withdraws From Tourney Owing to Type of Ball Used

CANNES, France, Feb. 1.—When Helen Wills is to meet Suzanne Lenglen in a match across the nets for the tennis supremacy cannot be foretold. Certainly it will not be during the present week, and possibly not next week.

Miss Wills has definitely withdrawn from the singles in the Nice tournament commencing today and in which Suzanne was a defeated entrant. The reason for the United States champion withdrawing her name from the list of players was because during the week a comparatively dead English ball will be in play, while she requires a ball with a "hop" to it to show her best efforts at speed.

The overseas girl says she may not play in the Carleton tournament singles next week if the English ball is used. The was considerable announcement Saturday when Suzanne announced that she would play in the Nice singles. Reference was made to the fact that she had announced her intention to play only after it had become known that Miss Wills had decided to draw out of the Nice tournament.

This nettled the French flash and she announced that she would scratch. Then she changed her mind. The first draw did not contain the name of the Nice girl in the singles and when it was learned by the tennis authorities that she finally decided to play, it was thought that the draw would have to be made over again. Finally, however, the difficulty was overcome by seeding Suzanne and giving her a bye. She will play in the upper half. Miss Lenglen who will play in the women's doubles and mixed doubles, Miss Wills is similarly entered in these events, and it is possible that she and Miss Lenglen will face one another in them.

Pledges N. S. Aid For Digby Hydro Project

DIGBY, N. S., Jan. 31.—The hydro committees of the Board of Trade, Town Council and Municipality of Digby held a conference with Hon. J. A. Walker, Minister of Natural Resources for Nova Scotia, at the Travellers' Inn here, evening and morning, and the proposition regarding the development of hydro in this county was thoroughly discussed. The most feasible proposition outlined was regarded as that of developing hydro at the Upper Falls on Sissibon River, two miles back of Weymouth, and Mr. Walker promised the committees that the Provincial Government would do everything in their power to see that concessions were granted by the Nova Scotia Power Commission as well as assisting in the work, which is expected to start within the next four weeks.

KING CABINET FACES SHAKE-UP

Appointment of Ontario Member is Expected During Recess, Due Tuesday

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 31.—Parliament opens its third week of the new session tomorrow with the almost certain prospect of adjourning before the week-end until March 15. With every prospect of carrying its motion, the Government has moved for an adjournment from the end of the debate on the address until that date.

There will be a reorganization of the cabinet in the recess and probably at least one more by-election in Ontario following the appointment to the cabinet of an Ontario man.

PLANS UNDISCLOSED. Whether the Government will give portfolios to men already elected for Ontario seats, or whether one or more of the defeated Ontario Cabinet ministers will be provided with a seat has not been disclosed. At present Ontario has no elected member of parliament in the cabinet and it is well known that the Government is anxious to return Rt. Hon. George P. Graham, present minister of railways, to the House. The by-election in Prince Albert is now almost certain to result in an acclamation for Premier Mackenzie King, who has gone West to address his constituency and may be resuming his place on the treasury benches by next Friday.

DEBATE NEAR END. The debate on the address in reply, which has run exactly ten days, is expected to end tomorrow. Since Thursday afternoon no Conservative member has participated in the debate, the official opposition taking the stand that it is ready for a vote at once on the Meighen amendment to the address. The list of Liberal and Progressive members still waiting to speak is expected to be exhausted by Monday night and a tentative arrangement has been made between the whips of these parties for a vote before adjournment of Monday's sitting. It has not been announced yet whether or not the Conservatives will submit another amendment to the address if the present one is defeated, as it is expected it will be, but it is not likely that an amendment calling for prolonged discussion will be put up.

LIKELIEST MOVE. The likeliest move by the Opposition will be the submission of a straight motion of want of confidence in the Government which may be voted on immediately after the present amendment has been disposed of. The probability of the Government's immediate extent of the Government's majority on the address in reply is variously estimated from six to nine, including independents and nearly all the Progressives.

Since there has been no Conservative participant in the debate since Thursday, it is not likely that the vote on the Meighen amendment will be delayed beyond tomorrow night, and Tuesday beyond that. The Commons already in recess and the members scattering again to discuss the political situation with their constituents. Many of the western members, it is expected, will return in Ottawa during recess.

KING PRAISES YANK SAILORS IN RESCUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—King George has sent Lieutenant Colledge a cablegram praising the officers and crew of the liner President Roosevelt for rescuing in an Atlantic gale, all hands of the British freighter Antinoe, an expressing regret that two of the rescuers lost their lives. In reply, the President cabled that "the crew is but another illustration of the heroism and gallantry which have characterized alike the mariners of the United States and Great Britain."

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The latest Republican characterization of A. L. Smith is "His Majesty Alfred" by the Grace of God, King of the Dominions from Montauk Point to Lake Erie.

CONCRETE PLANTS JOINED IN MERGER

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—Plans for the consolidation of concrete products plants throughout the United States and Canada operating under patents controlled by the Building Units Patents Corporation, are announced by Charles R. Flint, New York banker.

Associated with Flint in the organization of the merger is Rufus Waples and Company, Philadelphia, bankers. The new concern to be known as the National Concrete Products Corporation, Flint said, would have a capital stock of about $10,000,000. The proposed consolidation would include control of the Straub band Co. patents covering the manufacture of concrete building blocks under which 76 plants in this country and Canada operate.

FARRELL'S DEFEAT SURPRISE OF DAY

BOSTON WON.

MONTREAL, Feb. 1.—The Montreal Maroons defence crumpled before the Ottawa Senators Saturday night, and when everything was over they stood 0 to 0 for the cellar team.

Boston seems to have a hypnotic influence over the Maroons. So far this season they, with Ottawa, are the only players who have been able to hold an edge over the Montrealers.

Frank Carson made his debut with the Maroons. He showed a hard shot, good speed and a willingness to mix in the play which stamped him as a likely prospect.

Eddie Reid gained first place, followed by Logan and Snodgrass, who were tied for second place.

Paul Forsman of New York, captured the 220 yards race in 21 seconds, while Lela Brooks, Toronto, who won the women's championship at Saint John, fell in the 200 yard event.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 1.—Playing consistently and at times brilliantly Sid Boys, English billiards champion of British Columbia, at the two sessions Saturday of the Western Canadian billiard championship final, markedly increased his lead over Tom Brownlee, Manitoba champion.

INTERMEDIATES MEET. An important meeting of the executive of the City Intermediate League has been called for this evening at 6:15 o'clock in the office of the president, A. W. Covey.

C. P. R. LEAGUE. In the C. P. R. League Saturday, the Steamship Checkers took three points from the C. P. R. Checkers. The team scores were: Steamship, 125; C. P. R., 123.

BAND WON. St. Mary's Band bowling team won a match game from St. Pats Saturday evening by 1403 to 1314 score.

FREDERICTON, Jan. 31.—The Trojans, of Saint John, overwhelmed the University of New Brunswick basketball team here last night, 68 to 20. The game was fast and very rough and Referee Clarence Burden was kept busy handing out penalties.

Why The Fans Want Doubleheaders

Along The Sport Trail

WHAT CAUSED THUMBERG'S DEFEAT? OUT OF 150 races in his career as a speed-skater in Europe, Clas Thumberg, Finland, won 145. Yet, he comes to this side of the water and in defence of his prize title here, he does not win a race.

Yes, he was hopelessly out-distanced when our North American boys started to sprint toward the finish. We have been fed on the idea here that the Finns are a trifling bunch of athletes and that the way Thumberg trained was to put two carloads of cement on his back and skate 20 miles and then when he was tired add another carload and skate 20 more. There must be something wrong with all this training dope.

Before the day of the big meet, we asked a man who knows this game from A to Z what he thought of the Finn. His reply was that his mind was in a good way, but that the Finns are a trifling bunch of athletes and that the way Thumberg trained was to put two carloads of cement on his back and skate 20 miles and then when he was tired add another carload and skate 20 more.

Was it climate? Or was it different conditions of skating? There are many who believe that the pack bothered the Finn and consequently he could not get going. Over in his own country, he is used to skating in his own way, using the blades all the way.

There was another theory knocked galleywest, for the Finn set the pace in only one final event and that was the mile where he was left standing almost still in the last mad lap. The Finn in that race had a good chance to get a big lead and hold it but the simple truth stands that our boys rode him easily and left him in their wake when they wanted to.

It must not be forgotten that Clas did not understand a word of our language and he was skating under conditions totally foreign to him. A comrade might have helped.

OR IS THE REASON just the simple fact that Clas is getting along and that Father Time and not changed conditions, climate and other reasons are doing the bad work? Mr. Thumberg is nearly 33 years. Mr. Goran is barely past 26.

Yet we expect speed-skaters to show all-round efficiency from the 220 yards to the five-mile. Is there any harder or more exacting test? A skater's muscles must be accustomed to the short, snappy pull of the sprint and the long, easy stretch of the longer events. It is tearing, grinding work and soon brings its toll. Perhaps, the readiness of youthful muscles was the real cause of Thumberg's defeat.

Any reader who has any ideas to air on this subject should get busy and let's have them. It is interesting work.

And Wilson, of the visitors, had four, but both men were allowed to remain in the game. The winners played a strong game, their combination work being good and their shooting accurate.

Wilson and Plumpton were prominent in the Trojans attack and the defence kept the college score low. The half-time score was 38 to 18. A return game will be played in Saint John in about two weeks.

FREDERICTON, Jan. 31.—The Trojans, of Saint John, overwhelmed the University of New Brunswick basketball team here last night, 68 to 20. The game was fast and very rough and Referee Clarence Burden was kept busy handing out penalties.

FINAL CLASH OF YEAR AT MONCTON

Locals Must Win Tonight to Prevent Railway Boys Getting Title

After two hard games last week, Saint John goes to Moncton today for the final meeting of the season between these two teams and the outcome hinges on the result of the championship. A win for Moncton will settle the question definitely, while a loss would put the issue up to the Wednesday night game at Sussex between Moncton and the Dalry Kings.

The locals are going out to try and duplicate Sussex surprising win over the Moncton laddies last Wednesday by the close margin of 3 to 2. This was the only loss sustained this year by the Athletics on their home ice and they are out to keep it down to that number in tonight's game.

The final league game of the season is staged for Friday night of this week when Sussex plays here. It may or may not have bearing on the title, but whether it does or not, a big crowd should be on hand to see these old rivals in action.

Nothing daunted by the wide margin the Moncton girls secured through Miss Weldon's wonderful work, the locals cut down their lead slightly in the second string and third string, but that 112 practically beat them all the way through as the final count was 1209 for Moncton and 1185 for the Saint John girls.

ANCIENT LICENSE TO TRADE WITH INDIANS IN ARCHIVES STORY

Tale of Caton's Island, on Saint John River, Told in Paper of Late Ven. Archdeacon W. O. Raymond

FROM the records of the late Ven. Archdeacon W. O. Raymond in the Saint John office of the Dominion Archives, Princess street, is taken the following story of Caton's Island in the Saint John River:

"The valley of the River Saint John remained in possession of the French until the year 1763, when Brigadier Monckton took possession and built a new fort on the site of the old French fort at the mouth of the river, and destroyed all the French settlements as far up as Gagetown.

MAKES LANDING.

"On his way up the river he anchored at an island called by the French Isle au Grace. He landed on the island, which he described as a very fine one, with oak, beech, birch and butternut and little or no under-wood. This island was none other than the historic Isle Emenemie or Caton's Island. In the plan which accompanied his official report of the expedition the small rocky island just above is marked 'Ile de Trent Sols' (or Thirty Penny Island), and Foster's Island adjoining is marked Isle au Nods, or Butternut Island.

"In the year 1763 many schemes were on foot for the settlement of the valley of the Saint John, and during that year 70,000 acres of land were granted to various associations and individuals. Among those who received grants was Captain Isaac Caton of Pennsylvania. On Oct. 21 a tract of 2,000 acres on the west side of Long Reach was granted to the brothers Isaac and James Caton, together with the island in front, since known as Caton's Island. Captain Caton evidently established himself upon his lands immediately and most probably made his headquarters at the island which bears his name. The then Governor of Nova Scotia, Hon. Montague Wilnot, gave him the following license:

"License is hereby granted to Isaac Caton to traffic with the tribes of Indians on St. John's river and in the Bay of Fundy, he conducting himself without fraud or violence and submitting himself to the observation of such regulations as may at any time hereafter be established for the better ordering of such traffic or commerce. This license to continue during pleasure. Given under my hand and seal at Halifax, this 9th day of November, A. D. 1763.

(Signed) "M. WILNOT, Secretary."
"Captain Caton was evidently for a brief period an Indian trader. He obtained some of his supplies from the store of Simonds & White at Portland Point (Saint John). Among the items charged against him on the 28th July, 1765, is that of a dozen bottles of Lisbon wine at two shillings a bottle.

"Captain Caton's name appears in several grants made to various associations on the River Saint John, but his stay was brief, and when the Loyalists arrived few marks of improvements made by him on the island remained. "The attractiveness of the situation appealed to the Loyalists, as it had already done to the French and early English pioneers. Ebenezer Foster, a leading citizen in Woodbridge, New Jersey, was banished on account of his loyalty to the crown at the time of the American revolution. He came to Saint John with the spring fleet of 1788 and proceeded immediately up the river to the Isle of Pines, or Foster's Island. In 1788 Foster addressed a memorial to Governor Carleton, in which he made application for a certain tract of land in his possession known by the name of Caton's Island, in Long Reach. Three small islands were included in his grant. In his memorial, Foster called the upper one, on which he lived, Cherry Island; the small rocky island, Tronsure, and the third, Caton's Island. "The name given by the French to Caton's island was 'Ile au Grace,' or Maiden's Isle, a name not easy of explanation, but suggestive of an unwritten romance.

INSULIN SURPASSED.

VIENNA, Feb. 1.—Professor Gustav Singer, of Vienna University, recently lectured to the Society of Physicians on the results of his two years' treatment of cases of diabetes with albumin preparations. His hospital experiments with 150 cases proved, he said, by the fasting effects, the great superiority of the treatment over other treatments, especially insulin, which Professor Singer said he only applied in desperate comatose cases.

BARBARA LAMARR, FILM ACTRESS, DIES

Started Stage Career at Age of Seven; Was Five Times Married

ALTAGENA, Calif., Jan. 31.—Barbara Lamarr, motion picture actress, is dead here.

Miss Lamarr's death resulted from complications following a nervous breakdown several months ago, her father, W. W. Watson said.

The drama of the screen stories in which Miss Lamarr starred pales before the drama her own life story. She is said to have been born in Richmond, Va., and to have played her first stage role when she was seven, but she made her first of hundreds of first page news appearances when she was 15, the occasion being one of her many martial entertainments.

The beautiful film artist was married five times. Her husbands were acquired and disposed of in the following order and manner: Jack Lytle, died; Lawrence Conner, annulled; Phil Kingsworth, divorced; Bernard Seelye divorced; Jack Dougherty separated.

Recently her attorneys were called to determine her marital status in order that she might will her estate to her two adopted children. Long before she was out of her teens a California judge termed her "the too beautiful girl," and the phrase clung to her several years.

The presentation was made by Edward Lynch, a member of the baggage-room staff, on behalf of the lady employees at the Station, the news-room staff and the baggage-room staff. Mr. Lynch, in his brief address, expressed the regret of Mr. Kelly's associates at his retirement and at the illness in his home. Mr. Kelly replied heartily thanking his friends for their gift and kind words.

WIFE LEFT 25 CENTS TO BUY RAT POISON

DETROIT, Jan. 31.—A will, unique among the many queer documents filed in Circuit Court here, was presented for probate. The administrator of the estate of James Thorpe, who died Dec. 12, 1924, filed the will, which divides an estate of $400 or more. Thorpe allows his wife, Edith, of Wigan, Lancashire, England, one-quarter of a dollar to buy herself rat poison. The allowance carries a proviso that she take poison one hour after getting the 25 cents. Otherwise the estate is divided among brothers and sisters.

S. S. Newton Bay Sold At Halifax

The steamer Newton Bay, which has been in the service of the Newfoundland Canada Traders Limited, between Halifax, Saint John and Newfoundland ports with general cargo, was sold at Halifax last week to private parties. The company is looking for a new steamer to replace the Newton Bay as the freight offering to the company has increased during the last few months to such an extent that a new and larger steamer is necessary to take care of it properly.

TO ASK OTTAWA WHAT'S COMING FOR SAINT JOHN

City Council Decides to Query About Development at This Port

CONFER ALSO WITH HON. W. E. FOSTER

Commissioners Give Views on Subject—Tripartite Agreement.

The City Council this morning, sitting in committee of the whole, decided to write to the Minister of Public Works and the Minister of Marine and Fisheries asking if the appropriations for this year development here, either in Courtney Bay or in connection with the carrying out of the tripartite agreement for extension of the terminal facilities in West Saint John, and also to have a conference with Hon. W. E. Foster on the matter.

ACTING MAYOR SPEAKS

The subject was brought up by Acting Mayor Frink, who said he had seen in the press despatches that two additional grain berths were to be built at Halifax to accommodate tramp steamships and he expressed the opinion that it was time Saint John had some knowledge of what was going to be done here in the way of additions to the terminal facilities. He thought if anything would hearten the people of Saint John it would be to have the Minister of Public Works or the Minister of Marine and Fisheries announce that, having spent $8,000,000 under the tripartite agreement the Federal Government would now expend an additional $4,000,000 in extending the facilities which were to be built under this agreement.

The great trouble, as he saw it, was that nobody was asking for anything under this agreement and the Government would not do anything unless pressure was brought to bear from the city.

MR. BULLOCK'S VIEWS

Commissioner Bullock said the city had backed up the request of the C. N. B. for the building of the first unit in Courtney Bay, and they had also asked that work be done under the tripartite agreement. The grain conveyors to No. 16 berth had been built as part of the work to be done under it, and there had been additions made to the cattle sheds. He did not think the members of the council should have to go every year to Ottawa to ask for needed facilities. He was inclined to think that the information about berths for Halifax was a case of "the wish being father to the thought."

SUGGESTS CONFERENCE

Commissioner Wigmore said the city had backed up the C. N. B. and they had also asked for the extension of the Negroon breakwater. He thought the Council should have a conference with Hon. W. E. Foster and discuss these matters with him.

Commissioner Harding thought the city should find out what was going to be done about the unit in Courtney Bay and a new station for here.

Commissioner Bullock moved that a communication be sent to Hon. W. E. Foster asking what information he could give the council on the subject and if he knew whether there was anything in the estimates this year for work at Saint John, either at Courtney Bay or for work under the tripartite agreement.

On the suggestion of Acting Mayor Frink the motion was changed to read that letters be sent to the ministers of public works and marine and fisheries asking for this information. He said all realized that the harbor was the main asset of the city and that it was no better equipped than it was 10 years ago.

Commissioner Bullock said it would remain as it was unless harbor commission had been adopted.

The motion carried and on the suggestion of Commissioner Wigmore the acting Mayor will arrange for a conference with Hon. Mr. Foster.

DRIVE AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bealey, South Bay, entertained about 20 of their friends from the city on Saturday evening. The party left the city in a large sleigh and after a pleasant drive enjoyed cards and dancing at the home of the host and hostess. Mrs. Bealey was assisted in serving by the Misses Johnston, Mortimer and Hyler. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pearson, Miss Hyler, Miss Manning, Miss Andrews, Miss Sutton, Miss Johnston, Mr. Wilkes, G. Lyons, C. Potter and Mr. Johnston.

DRIVE OVER TRESTLE

A man in a light sleigh drove onto the N. B. Power Co. trestle on the East Saint John shore early last evening and horse and outfit tumbled into the ditch about 15 feet below. It was a case of near fatality with the road—the driver had not been out there before. Fortunately no serious damage was done. There was a bank of snow into which the outfit landed. Neighbors helped extricate the rig and animal. Several times this trestle, located on the shore side of the roadway, has been mistaken by strangers for the general trackway. An automobile got in a mixup on it once.

DIED ON SATURDAY.

The body of Mrs. Amanda Rogers, wife of John Rogers, 92 St. Patrick street, was taken to Sussex on this afternoon's early train, the bereaved family accompanying Mrs. Rogers Saturday after a two weeks' illness of pneumonia. She was a daughter of Mrs. Ann Church of Newton, Kings county, and was 44 years of age. She leaves two sons and a daughter, besides her husband. At 10 o'clock this morning services were held in Fitzpatrick's undertaking parlors, Waterloo street, at which the Rev. H. H. of the Brindley street Salvation Army Corps, officiated.

HELD FOR WITNESSES

George Brown, 48 Erin street, who was before Magistrate Henderson this morning for assaulting his wife, was remanded until this afternoon until further witnesses were notified to testify. Mrs. Cameron, who called for the police, will be the chief additional witness. In the testimony adduced this forenoon it was said Brown struck his wife in the face and that the mark she bore was not accidentally inflicted as he claimed. During the progress of the Brown case a local clergyman happened in the court-room to attend to the officials' errand with one of the domestic drama he said he had married them some years ago but little thought his next sight of them would be under such circumstances.

FORMER SAINT JOHN MAN ON AIR TONIGHT

Dr. Joseph H. Marcus to Speak By Radio on Care of Children

If the radio reception is at all good tonight, an old Saint John boy should be heard talking from WPG, the municipal station at Atlantic City. At 9.30 o'clock, Saint John time, Dr. Joseph H. Marcus' voice will go on the air with an address on the care of children.

Dr. Marcus, whose brothers here carry on the furniture firm of that name, left Saint John 15 years ago to take up the study of medicine at Jefferson College. Since then he has established quite a name for himself on children's cases, specializing on that branch of medicine. He has a palatial residence on the famous Board Walk, is physician of several hospitals, contributes freely to medical journals and is a frequent lecturer on his specialty. This is the Dr. Marcus who two years ago, created a mild sensation at a medical convention on his dictum to "outstretch the child." This address was wired all over the continent by the Associated and Canadian Press and aroused comment editorially in European newspapers. Dr. Marcus is an official on various national, state and local health bodies, and is frequently called to New England cities for consultations. From time to time he pays a return visit to his brother's home in Kinghurst.

A generous bag of candy went into each stocking, also a good helping of nuts, a package of raisins, an orange and an apple and a nicely gotten up package of fancy biscuits.

MANY CONTRIBUTED.

As will be remembered when the contributions were coming in and were being acknowledged each day the list of those giving to the fund was much longer than in the previous years, showing what an appeal there was to the kindly heart in connection with this effort for the pleasure of the little ones of the poor. There were received gifts of money from 299 individuals and from 62 groups. This latter plan, it will be seen, was a popular way of assisting in the work. Collections were taken up in business houses, factories, bowling games and elsewhere, and in this way many were able to give something to make up a large group offering. The City Council Bank also was a greatly helping factor. In some of the groups there were fully 100 contributing and so an estimate that well up to 3,000 helped in this way is not far astray. It shows how generous was the response to the Times-Star appeal.

HELPED IN WORK.

In addition to the money subscriptions, oranges, toys, candy and other suitable gifts were received from business houses and others.

In the work of filling the stockings and in distributing them the committee, as announced at the time, had the loyal co-operation of the Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., automobile owners and a corps of ladies and gentlemen and girls and boys; in addition members of the Times-Star staff. There was a great deal of work involved, but it was all done in cheerful spirit and the sacrifices of time and labor were felt to be well worth while in the joy that was brought to many homes. That much happiness was occasioned the little ones and the Christmas problems of many parents solved through the operation of this fund is attested in grateful words conveyed to the Times-Star from households partaking and in letters received from clergymen who had the pleasant task of distributing the greater number of the stockings.

DRIVE AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bealey, South Bay, entertained about 20 of their friends from the city on Saturday evening. The party left the city in a large sleigh and after a pleasant drive enjoyed cards and dancing at the home of the host and hostess. Mrs. Bealey was assisted in serving by the Misses Johnston, Mortimer and Hyler. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pearson, Miss Hyler, Miss Manning, Miss Andrews, Miss Sutton, Miss Johnston, Mr. Wilkes, G. Lyons, C. Potter and Mr. Johnston.

DRIVE OVER TRESTLE

A man in a light sleigh drove onto the N. B. Power Co. trestle on the East Saint John shore early last evening and horse and outfit tumbled into the ditch about 15 feet below. It was a case of near fatality with the road—the driver had not been out there before. Fortunately no serious damage was done. There was a bank of snow into which the outfit landed. Neighbors helped extricate the rig and animal. Several times this trestle, located on the shore side of the roadway, has been mistaken by strangers for the general trackway. An automobile got in a mixup on it once.

DIED ON SATURDAY.

The body of Mrs. Amanda Rogers, wife of John Rogers, 92 St. Patrick street, was taken to Sussex on this afternoon's early train, the bereaved family accompanying Mrs. Rogers Saturday after a two weeks' illness of pneumonia. She was a daughter of Mrs. Ann Church of Newton, Kings county, and was 44 years of age. She leaves two sons and a daughter, besides her husband. At 10 o'clock this morning services were held in Fitzpatrick's undertaking parlors, Waterloo street, at which the Rev. H. H. of the Brindley street Salvation Army Corps, officiated.

HELD FOR WITNESSES

George Brown, 48 Erin street, who was before Magistrate Henderson this morning for assaulting his wife, was remanded until this afternoon until further witnesses were notified to testify. Mrs. Cameron, who called for the police, will be the chief additional witness. In the testimony adduced this forenoon it was said Brown struck his wife in the face and that the mark she bore was not accidentally inflicted as he claimed. During the progress of the Brown case a local clergyman happened in the court-room to attend to the officials' errand with one of the domestic drama he said he had married them some years ago but little thought his next sight of them would be under such circumstances.

DETAILS OF DISTRIBUTION.

With the money so generously given to make a happy Christmas for poor little ones who otherwise would have had little of the joy of that time, the committee in charge of the work purchased and distributed 3,500 pairs of stockings and a corresponding number of pairs of mitts. There was put in the stockings candy to the quantity of 2,875 pounds and 1,200 pounds of nuts. A generous bag of candy went into each stocking, also a good helping of nuts, a package of raisins, an orange and an apple and a nicely gotten up package of fancy biscuits.
