C. N. R. TERMINALS

The statement that the Canadian Pacific could utilize every ship berth in St. John harbor at present in connection with the traffic over its line of railway brings forcibly to the front the question of providing berths for the Canadian National Railways.

Has the public forgotten that the contract with the company building the dry dock in Courtney Bay provides also for the construction of a number of docks, and that the company may be called upon to fulfill that portion of the contract?

New docks must be constructed for the Canadian National Railways. They will be in competition with the Canadian Pacific Railway. To compete successfully the facilities do not now exist. Where are they to be provided? Is it better to try to construct them at West St. John, or East St. John? If built at West St. John, with limited track systems, would the results be as satisfactory as if the C. N. R. had its own tracks connected with its own terminals for at least the greater bulk of its business? We must assume that the Canadian Pacific has not come anywhere near the limit of its capacity to bring traffic to St. John. As the years go on it will require more and more track and wharf space.

The N. R. It would therefore seem to be wise to look some years ahead and consider whether now is not the time to begin the construction of wharves in Courtney Bay. Perhaps there are stronger reasons against this course than in its favor, but since the question is before the people it is at least worthy of discussion. It is the desire of all the citizens to avoid making a false move in the matter, and that is the greater reason for a careful study of the situation.

Of course the breakwater must be extended to Partridge Island, as a first essential, and further improvements made at West St. John, but there must also be a definite policy in relation to C. N. R. terminals, with the knowledge that the traffic of the government railways must rapidly increase here, if they are to be of the greatest possible service to the trade of Canada.

PRESIDENT MACLAURIN.

The death is announced of Richard Lockburn MacLaurin, who since 1909 has been president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He was under fifty years of age, and fell a victim to pneumonia. One of the brightest minds in educational circles in the United States this was a native of Scotland but while yet a lad went to New Zealand. Later he attended English schools and graduated at Cambridge. After graduation he toured the United States and Canada, studying their educational systems and spending much time at McGill. After a period of study in Germany he accepted in 1888 a chair in the University of New Zealand, became a trustee of the university and took an active part in the introduction of technical education in the colony.

In 1907 he came to Columbia University and became head of the department of physics, but in 1909 accepted the position of president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. A brilliant career is now closed. The Boston correspondent of the Times-Star says: "His death came almost at the moment when his ambition had been realized. Only last Saturday the announcement was made that the Institute was free of all financial embarrassments, and could go forward with its work on an enlarged scale and fulfill its destiny as the foremost technical school in the world. At the same time the name of the greatest benefactor of the institution, George Eastman, of Rochester, N. Y., became known. The magnificent plant which houses the school on the Cambridge bank of the Charles will stand as a monument to President MacLaurin."

GASPING FOR LIFE.

The Christian Science Monitor has a very striking editorial under the heading—Public Schools Gasping for Life. Of the place of the public schools in the national life it says:—"Public schools in this country are the traditional basis for practical citizenship. They are looked upon as the means of making education universal in order that universal suffrage shall be intelligent. They are likewise considered to be the melting pot for the various racial ingredients of Americanism. The public schools take in all and sundry, by compulsion if need be, and in theory at least they teach the embryonic citizens how to live together in mutual toleration of one another, at the same time that they provide the foundational knowledge whereby each individual shall be equipped to observe, and to know, and to act independently of others as a factor eventually in those common decisions and judgments which are the waypoints of progress for popular government. Like other features of the American system, public schools have been accepted as a fixed quantity, as established and not subject to elimination or essential change. At least, such has been the typical American attitude toward them. But while this is true in theory the public school in practice is "gasping for life." We quote again:—"The inadequacy of teachers' pay is forcing teachers out of the public school system by tens of thousands. By the declaration of the Honorable Frank K. Lane, secretary of the interior, more than 148,000 public school teachers resigned their places in the United States last year. Mr. Lane does not hesitate to say that this 'greatest bulwark' against the spread of Bolshevism is crumbling, and the immediate reason is that teachers' salaries have not kept pace with the cost of living. It is not that teachers are to blame for leaving their posts. They are not. Almost any American man or woman knows of particular teachers whose ability, to obtain the living necessities at prices now prevailing has become dependent upon the finding of a job paying considerably more than they could hope to get by sticking to school teaching."

This condition is not peculiar to the United States. Too many good teachers are quitting the profession in Canada, and not enough clever, thoroughly trained and devoted young men and women are thinking of teaching as a life work. Moreover, as has been said, too many children are growing up in ignorance or leaving the schools with just enough knowledge and intelligence to make them dangerous. Democracy must look to its schools or suffer very serious consequences.

The eastward movement of the Bolsheviki very deeply concerns the British Empire. Last night's cables indicate that the seriousness of the menace to India is recognized by the British government. The Bolsheviki and the Turks together could stir up very serious trouble, not for Britain alone, but for the world. Press opinions in London are hopelessly at variance in regard to the right attitude toward Russia, and the situation is more complicated on that account.

The leader of one of the great historic parties in Canadian politics will be heard in St. John this evening, not in the heat of a political campaign, but nevertheless at a time when the people are doing much thinking in regard to national affairs. The meeting will not be a partisan rally, but one for the calm and reasoned presentation of the principles and policy of a party, that the electors may know what it stands for in the politics of the nation.

Bradstreet's weekly food index last week, based on the prices per pound of thirty-one articles used for food, was $5.24, the highest on record, and compares with $5.07 for the previous week and $5.02 for the week ending January 9, 1919. A downward trend this year is, however, predicted.

If Nova Scotia will but heed the suggestion of Hon. Mr. Veniot in joining New Brunswick in adopting the road rule of driving to the right it will be of great benefit in connection with the good roads policy of both provinces, and especially in relation to tourist motor traffic.

The progressive policy of the provincial agricultural department is bearing fruit in the satisfactory development of the dairy industry.

SOUNDING AN ASPHALT LAKE

(Engineering News Record.) Recent borings made in the asphalt lake on the Island of Trinidad, have reached a new low level record of 150 feet. The previous record made in 1907 was 125 feet. On both occasions the asphalt was found to be of uniform character throughout. Great difficulties attend any attempt to sound the lake, as it is in constant, although almost imperceptible, motion. The pressure of the mass of asphalt against the drilling apparatus causes it to bend, and the deflection makes further boring impossible. After completion of the test, the hole was observed to shift at the surface twenty-five feet in six weeks. The movement was shown to exist to a depth of 100 feet, and there was evidence that the direction was reversed at a depth of from twenty-five to fifty feet. The movement of the asphalt is believed to be similar in many respects to the ascending and descending currents in a kettle of boiling water.

BAGHDAD'S CHANGE OF DRESS

"In Baghdad today the young blonds are showing a desire to adopt European dress. We cannot imagine why anyone should want to discard the picturesque Arab head-dress in exchange for a billiard hat, but there is no accounting for taste," says The Times of India. "Relief at getting rid of Turkish military head-dress was celebrated in some way or other, and the acquisition of a new suit of clothes, even if they are ready-made reach-me-downs, is undoubtedly an event which would appeal to the nut of Baghdad, who, like nuts all over the world, wants to be unlike his elders."

PAYING RENT.

Some kind of home you'll have to own, a humble shack of brick or frame, or one of stucco, mud or stone, if you would beat the landlord's game. For long sad years I paid my rent, and there'd be sunshine in my soul if I now had the coin that went to swell the landlord's gorging roll. The landlord owned a row of shacks, and every month he walked abroad, left desolation in his tracks, and touched each tenant for his wad. I muttered, as I dug the dime, coughed up the sweet staid, hard earned cash, "I've bought this coop a dozen times," and yet the landlord has the seeds. And when I fell and broke a limb, the landlord came to get the rent; there was no sympathy in him when I could not produce a cent. He said he didn't care a whoop for all my sufferings and sorrows; he freed me from that lowly coop and chided my weeping aunts out doors. There is no thrift in paying rent to landlords who have hearts of stone; far better have a canvas tent, and know the blessed thing is your own. You cannot borrow seven dime on all the wealth of jumpy shoppers; rent on your own house, in crucial times, you'll get a loan from some kind gent.

CAN-ADA—EAST AND WEST

Domitian Happenings of Other Days

A MILITARY EXECUTION.
In 1894 a military execution took place at Quebec under circumstances of exceptional occurrence. Seven men were shot with all the pomp and circumstance of a military punishment to deter soldiers from future crimes. The unhappy men were a sergeant, a corporal and two men of the 49th and one man each from the three other units. A conspiracy had been formed in the 49th regiment to revolt, lock up the officers and then cross to the United States. This was the regiment that Brock had been in charge of, who was loved of the men but a new commander had not been so well received.

It was discovered that the plot was fairly widespread in the regiment and, after the leaders had made an unsuccessful attempt to escape, they were brought to trial at Quebec. Seven were sentenced to die. On March 2, 1894, they were paraded at 10:40 o'clock for execution. The entire garrison was on parade on a cold, bleak day. The prisoners were brought out accompanied by four priests and the Rev. Mr. Mountain to comfort the victims of the court martial. For three-quarters of an hour the seven knelt in prayer at the firing line. The firing party consisted of fifty-six soldiers divided into three parties. Though a misunderstanding there was confusion in the firing line and the prisoners fell wounded but not dead. It remained for a reserve party to complete the ghastly sentence. There was general sympathy with the seven, for most of them had fine records for bravery and devotion in the army in previous wars in Holland and at Copenhagen. The execution was very unpopular in the colony.

THE MIRACLE

Oh, the daily cost of living
Rises higher, like a flame,
But the little home Love builded
Thrives and prospers the same!
There is warmth and cheer a-plenty,
There is food upon the shelf,
And a corner by the fire
For the God of Love himself.
There he curls, where none may spy him,
And I think he understands
Just how far the two have traveled
Who set out with empty hands.
Ah, at times the way was weary—
'Twas a thorny road and rough,
But what worlds two hearts can conquer,
Given love and faith enough!
In the crib in yonder corner
Love's most precious children lie;
Heavy lids with slumber laden
Hide the laughter in his eyes.
Can the garden's flowers be withered,
Show a fainter bloom than this?
Can the heart be starved for flowers
That has rosebud lips to kiss?

Nay, we go not clad in velvet,
And the only gem we own
Is the jewel of contentment—
A right rare and precious stone!
Having books, who years for rubies?
Having music, who needs gold?
Youth lacks never food for laughter;
Sorrow shared is soon consold.
He who counts the cost too often
Plays a cautious, lonely part;
May the little home Love builded
Spurn the heaviest heart!
—Beatrice Barry in N. Y. Times.

LIGHTER VEIN.

"There is one good thing about this year's libration."
"What's that?"
"Nobody has tried to set any of it to a popular song."—Washington Star.

Mrs. Bacon—"How is your sister getting along taking boarders?"
Mrs. Egbert—"Oh, fine. She hasn't heard a complaint from one of her boarders yet."
"Too bad. I didn't know she was getting as hard of hearing as that!"—Yonkers Statesman.

"What keeps Fluddub poor?"
"Dunno."
"Seems to be an energetic cuss."
"Wastes too much time looking out for his rights. I understand."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Without interrupting.
"Is she really so curious?"
"Curious? Why, that woman would listen to advice."—Boston Transcript.

His fellow clerks gathered round him when the news became public property, and extended congratulations. "But," said one man, "I understand the girl you are engaged to is a twin; how do you tell the difference between her and her sister?"
"Well, it's a mighty nice family," said the lucky man, "and I don't bother very much."

A New Scheme for Montreal Government

Montreal, Jan. 16.—A project for the reconstruction of municipal government for the City of Montreal and the Island of Montreal, based on a borough system, though differing in many details, is being laid before Premier Gouin, says a dispatch from Quebec to the Montreal Gazette. The scheme provides for a system of local government, by which each section would bear the major burden of its own projects.

ST. JOHN'S GREATEST MERCANTILE EVENT

Oak Hall's 31st Anniversary Sale Started Yesterday With a Swing.

When the Oak Hall doors opened yesterday morning it marked the commencement of this firm's 31st anniversary sale, and it was not many minutes before the entire store was over-run with hundreds of happy shoppers. The people of St. John and New Brunswick fully realize that an Oak Hall sale is different from most sales they know that it is not simply a clearance of odds and ends but that it is a mammoth affair that includes every piece of merchandise in the entire store from the ground floor to the Boys' Shop on the fourth floor.

Those who have visited Oak Hall's 31st anniversary sale have seen for themselves that the volume of business being done is enormous and that the Oak Hall motto of Large Volume at Minimum Profit is a reality and not merely an empty phrase. This motto combined with the many new lines of merchandise bought with rock-bottom prices particularly for footwear, make one of the most substantial money-saving opportunities to be had in St. John at this time.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

British military and naval officials have been summoned to Paris for a consultation with Premier Lloyd George and it is generally believed that the purpose of the meeting is a discussion of matters arising out of the Bolsheviki military successes in Russia. Many English people believe that Britain before long will be forced to meet the Bolsheviki in the field because of their aggression.

IN VICTORIA STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

The vestry of Victoria street Baptist church was filled to capacity at the evangelistic services last night. The organists played several selections and a solo was given by Miss Hazel Reicker. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson were heard in a charming duet. If the attendance continues to increase it is planned to use the auditorium of the church for the services during the balance of the campaign. After the meeting the young ladies' class of the church adjourned to the home of the president, Miss Beulah Watts, Meacoff street, where they held their monthly meeting. The matter of organizing a chapter of the W. W. G. was taken up and it was decided to organize at a later date. Plans for other

FIRST BIG FUR AUCTION IN MARCH IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Jan. 16.—An official of the Montreal Fur Auction Company, who has just returned from a trip through Western Canada is authority for the statement that great shipments of new furs are on their way to Montreal for the first auction in Montreal in March. The company expects to have at least $6,000,000 worth of furs on sale. It is likely that the silver fox offerings alone will run well over the million dollar mark. The company is already securing hotel accommodations for buyers from Europe and the United States.

HALIFAX AND THE LIBERAL MESSAGE

Comment of Chronicle on Speeches of Messrs. King and Lapointe.

(Halifax Chronicle.) The two meetings which Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Ernest Lapointe addressed in Halifax on Monday night were great successes from the point of attendance, the enthusiasm of the audiences and the public interest which they undoubtedly have revived in the discussion and consideration of public issues and the fundamental principles of good government. It was an auspicious opening for the series of speeches which the Liberal leader proposes to deliver before the opening of the next session of parliament.

For more than five years there has been almost complete subsidence of political discussion in Canada. A new generation of young Canadians have grown up who know little of the political history of our country and have but little conception of the necessity of maintaining responsible government and representative institutions, both of which are not only essential to the progress and good government of the country, but are imperatively needed to preserve our liberties and free institutions. The revival of platform discussion of public questions is, therefore, greatly to be welcomed.

There are fundamental principles underlying our political institutions which need to be reasserted and emphasized anew in these days of change and unrest, and Mr. King and Mr. Lapointe are standing upon solid ground and are performing a real service to the country when they seek to revive interest in the principles which are the basis of our whole system of government and to lay before the people of the country their interpretation of the history, teachings and ideals of Liberalism.

The audience which Mr. King had to face at the Orpheum Theatre, where his main speech was delivered, was not an old-time campaign crowd. There was no election campaign fervor in evidence, and the audience might properly be described as critical and expectant. It was eager to hear the message of the new leader of a great historic party. It not only gave him a good hearing, but, as he developed his point, it appeared to hear him gladly, and at the end gave him a demonstration, the enthusiasm of which could not be mistaken. This does not mean that the appeal which Mr. King made to his audience won complete support, but it does indicate that his presentation of his case and his appeal for stability in government and unity in the nation as solvents for the problems which face the country was given a very sympathetic reception.

Mr. King has an excellent platform style. He speaks easily, pleasantly and with persuasive force. He rises at times to flights of oratory. His speech throughout was marked by no unpleasant word, and was a model in dignity and courtesy. His quickness and aptness in retort were frequently displayed, and he showed that he was capable of striking back with effective force when challenged. It was not in any sense a campaign speech. It was devoted rather to the exposition of the philosophic principles of Liberalism and to the reaffirmation of the policy of the Liberal party, as adopted at the great national convention at Ottawa in August last. The message he delivered will be read with interest throughout the whole country.

Mr. Lapointe came to Halifax with a high reputation as a brilliant speaker, and that reputation was more than sustained, although necessarily his speech had to be greatly curtailed. His declaration of the gospel of sound Canadianism, which knows no sectional or national divisions, which knows no east or west, but only the building up of a larger Canada and a united people free from prejudices and sectionalisms, will especially appeal to the people of Nova Scotia who, as Mr. Lapointe proudly acknowledged, are distinguished for tolerance, liberality and good will. Mr. Lapointe appeals for Canadianism in the best sense, and it is a happy omen for Canada that the mantle of the Laurier leadership and traditions in the great province of Quebec has fallen upon the shoulders of one who so admirably expressed the ideals and principles of true Liberalism, which means the best

SAVE A LOAF at Every Baking

COMBINED with its great nutrition and enticing eating qualities, FIVE ROSES is the acknowledged flour for economical baking.

It actually saves flour and the money that that flour costs. This on account of its bigger yield due in turn to its glutinous strength and water-absorbing capacity.

Exactly how much it will save you depends upon how much baking you do, and upon how much bread you make at one baking.

Read what thrifty housewives write us, in the margin. It points the way to patriotic economy.

You know how much FIVE ROSES flour you can bake in a year. By saving a loaf at every baking, figure out for yourself how you can reduce your own High Cost of Living.

"I use 7 quarts of FIVE ROSES flour in my recipe. Other flours I have used take 9 quarts." —Miss A. E., Marshville, Ont.

"An positive one can get more bread out of a bag of FIVE ROSES flour than from any other kind." —Mrs. N. H., Copetown, Ont.

Canadianism. Mr. Lapointe's speech is a promise that he will go far in the public life of the country.

Both speakers urged the historic mission of Liberalism to establish and maintain a reasoned policy broad based upon the people's will, meeting new conditions as they arise and working always for the common weal. In so far as that ideal is pursued it will win and hold the best opinion and support of the people of Canada.

GILMOUR'S CLEAN-UP SALE

of Incomplete Lines of Men's Overcoats

Men have been quick to grasp the superior opportunities offered in this sale. There are good selections still in every size.

WAIST-LINE, FORM-FITTING and SMART ULSTERETTES are all included. There is something of exceptional swaggerness in these styles—in drape—in modelling and in distinctive textures and patterns that young men who like the latest will admire—all fresh, new stock but incomplete lines.

Table showing prices and sale prices for different styles of overcoats.

MELTON OVERCOATS, black and oxford grey, fly front velvet collar.

They're always good—that's the nice thing about these coats—always stylish, always tasteful, always good, anywhere. If you want a guarantee of long wear, correct style, and a shape-keeping garment, one of these is the coat to buy.

Good Melton is getting scarce and dearer all the time. The lines are incomplete but there are some in every size.

Regular Price, $40 Sale Price, $32

$25—Splendid Ulsters which meet all requirements of protection and comfort, a valuable addition to any man's wardrobe. Regular prices were $35 and $40.

$15 seems an absurd price nowadays. It means a saving, however, in this sale of $5 to $15 on an ulster or tweed overcoat. Just one coat of each pattern and some were $90.

A word to the wise is sufficient—don't miss this opportunity.

ST. JOHN AS GREAT NATIONAL PORT

Its Case Presented by Commercial Club to King and Lapointe.

The Reasons Which Move the Citizens to Press for a Square Deal From the Other Provinces and the Federal Government.

A delegation from the Commercial Club this afternoon waited upon Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Ernest Lapointe, M. P., and presented the following address to them as members of the parliament of Canada.

January 16, 1920.
Messrs. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, M. P., and Ernest Lapointe, M. P.:
Gentlemen,—The officers and members of the St. John Commercial Club greet and welcome you to our city as fellow citizens of Canada.

Our club is non-political, and has as its aim the advancement of our city and province along such lines as will be of benefit to all our people, thereby not only benefiting our own province, but, as must necessarily follow, our nation and our empire.

We say this that you may the better understand our motive in addressing you; and with the knowledge that we are striving to bring about such transportation, terminal and docking improvements as are needed, and that the improvements are not only of local but of national need and importance, we feel that you will be in harmony with us in our efforts and agree with us that the need of these improvements is of such national importance that their construction should be no longer delayed.

From the birth of Confederation, when the four original provinces made a partnership agreement to work together to develop our great Canadian nation, this province has done her share—and perhaps more than her share—without complaint, whether it was in paying out share to buy the northwest territories from the Hudson Bay Company, the construction of our railway systems, our canals, or any public work that would be of benefit and help make Canada what she is today.

Our people from the earliest days of Confederation have willingly done their part; we have given of our ablest men and money in carrying out our part of the agreement we made in 1867, feeling that if we builded well and the day should ever come when we would have to call on the people of all Canada for assistance, we would have developed with the help of the Canadians such an asset as would justify and warrant our asking for assistance and expecting that it would be given to us.

In so far as the development of this port is concerned that day has arrived. In the past our people have done splendidly in supplying the needs of the city here, and with very little outside assistance we have constructed wharves and other facilities that have fairly well taken care of the traffic, but it has grown to such an extent that the supplying of facilities to handle it is beyond our financial ability. Moreover, this is a national port, and we have the right to check from the people of Canada such financial aid as is necessary to provide facilities to handle the ever increasing traffic.

You have seen, gentlemen, in addition to the steamers that are receiving and discharging cargoes, fourteen large ocean steamers lying at anchor here awaiting a berth. In addition to this, many steamers have come here and been turned away—some of them steaming with cargoes which were routed here, have been diverted to foreign ports. You have also seen all the available railway sidings full of loaded cars, and can appreciate what a financial loss this condition is causing, not only to the carriers but to this port and to all of Canada, and we trust you will agree with us that immediate action should be taken to have this condition remedied.

The great war has made our people generally realize many things as they did not realize them before, and perhaps not least among them is the importance to the British Empire of the port of St. John, which is second only to Montreal in the volume of its export and import trade.

Canada today in recognizing her position as the centre of the British Empire should see the necessity of developing her Atlantic ports in the maritime provinces that are accessible at all seasons, and make such arrangements as are necessary for this protection in case of war and not allow herself to remain as she now is, dependent on our neighbor's goodwill and privileges.

There is no port that is so easy of access as St. John.

By land—As the terminus of three transcontinental railways and situated 160 miles nearer the heart of the country than any other Canadian port in the winter season.

And by water—With its harbor without ice or tides to prevent steamers entering or leaving it at any time, and no other port in Canada is of such vital importance, or the need of naval protection so apparent, for should the Bay of Fundy be in control of a foreign navy all Nova Scotia ports as well as St. John could easily be cut off.

A structure is no stronger than its weakest point, and it is apparent that in the building up of Canada the maritime

ROUMANIAN QUEEN LAUDS CANADA

Letter to Col. N. Marshall of Red Cross Notifying Him of Honor Bestowed.

Lady Tilley has received a copy of the following letter telling of the great work of the Red Cross in Roumania: Bucharest, Dec. 13, 1919.

Dear Sir,—I cannot deny myself the pleasure of sending you personally a word of thanks for all the wonderful help you have sent out to Roumania.

You can little realize what your aid meant to me, the queen, who has been struggling since three years against such heavy odds. To see one's country invaded, looted, destroyed, handicapped in every way, and to be unable to relieve all the misery is a great torture.

Thanks to the wonderful generosity of the Canadian Red Cross I was able to help thousands, and it touched me quite particularly that all their gifts were put into my own hands to distribute as I thought best, thus giving me the almost joy of helping my people as a mother should be able to help.

Colonel Boyle has been an invaluable aid—he has seen my country in its greatest misery and stood by us faithfully when so many dared not stay, so his heart has understood what your gifts have meant to me.

The name of "Canada" is now known throughout Roumania, and it is a sweet satisfaction to me to hear her name blessed by thousands of suffering women and children.

The king hopes that you will accept the Regina Maria Cross, First Class, as his special appreciation of your kindness.

I shall never forget what you have done for my people.

(Sgd.) MARY, Queen of Roumania.

provinces have been neglected—not only by the people of other parts of Canada, but by our own people as well in their desire to make Canada great. We have built up a great nation, with a vast and rapidly increasing trade extending all over the world, and have neglected to supply facilities for the handling of that trade, and are now in a position where we are obliged to rely on the generosity of a foreign nation for the transportation of our goods. Canada as a nation, and as the centre of the British Empire, should not be in that position.

There is a feeling of dissatisfaction extending all over Canada on account of the present rate of exchange between the United States and ourselves, and probably no single item of commerce is contributing more to the adverse balance of trade than is the amount of transportation we are buying from the United States—the amount we Canadians are paying the people of the United States to transport our goods through their territory. This condition should not exist, and would not exist if the transportation facilities of the maritime provinces had been built up in conformity with the building up of other parts of Canada.

We ask you as parliamentary representative of the Canadian people to give the national needs of Canada in regard to transportation your most earnest consideration, and we are assured that a study of the subject will convince you of the justice of the claims of St. John.

Respectfully yours,
THE COMMERCIAL CLUB OF ST. JOHN.

A Quiet Morning

Accommodation at the local hotels was at a premium this morning, so great was the influx of visitors to attend the introduction of Hon. Mackenzie King to the people of St. John and the province as the Liberal leader of Canada.

It was planned to take Mr. King for a trip around the harbor and the railway terminals this morning, but the trip was postponed until tomorrow. Mr. King having decided to rest during the day after a rather strenuous week.

Amongst the out-of-town people who arrived in the city last night and this morning are Messrs. E. J. Sweeney, Moncton; W. Robinson, Moncton; Hon. E. A. Smith, Shediac, and Hon. P. J. Veniot.

Windows Worth Studying

This store believes that the people of St. John are very much interested in the "Better Homes" idea. We accept it as our responsibility to encourage this interest because the public looks to this store as the authority on what is new and correct for the home.

We appreciate that our window displays provide one of the most effective avenues at our command for the accomplishment of this service. And so, ever since this store first opened its doors to the public, our windows have been dedicated to the encouragement of more culture, more refinement, more attractiveness in the home.

True enough our windows are intended as a reflection of the character of home furnishings you will find on our floors, but that object is secondary to the all important purpose of constantly instilling into the public mind by the power of suggestion a deeper interest in the "Home Beautiful."

We hope you will study our windows not merely for the profit we may derive therefrom but for the helpful, useful suggestions they may offer you.

Dramatic moments from four great stories!

SUDDENLY round the corner whirled a shabby old depot hack; it was plainly empty, but the well-known negro driver seemed to be in a desperate hurry. He lashed the horses to a run.

"Wonder who's goin' to miss his train to-night," laughed Mr. Ludlum.

But the driver turned in to the Ludlum curb, threw his weight backward and checked the horses so sharply that they slid, and their shoes scratched sparks from the stone.

The driver stood up in his pulpit and shouted at the porch.

"Oh, Miz. Ludlum, your boy's drowned."

Then he struck out with his whip; the horses plunged, the hack careened round the next corner and was gone.

"THAT'S cheap and noisy melodrama!" he scoffed, albeit a bit worriedly. "What do you mean?"

"I mean just this," she said: "Life is not worth the living without you. I came here to claim my rights. If you refuse me those rights, I'm not going on living. And I shall end things here and now, I have thought it all out. And I've come, ready," she finished, with a slight gesture toward the hand-bag she carried on her wrist. "I am not bluffing, Rolf. You have deserted me. You have wronged me. You'll take me back or there will be a human sacrifice here to adorn your wedding-night. Make your own choice."

The man felt a twinge of physical nausea at her flamboyant threats and at a memory they evoked.

SOMERS suddenly came to action. He jerked a revolver from his pocket, and there was a spurt of flame, the bullet slashing by my ear.

The frightened mare swerved and reared perilously near the edge of the road. Choked with rage, I tugged at the reins, keeping my eyes on Somers. There seemed no escape, and I couldn't even curse. I opened my mouth to shout; but the sudden rush of blood to my head caused a warm trickle in the very center of my forehead.

Somers instantly perceived it. It seemed to stagger him, for my eyes never left his face as I struggled with the reins. His imagination thoroughly tricked him. Slowly, with an expression of horror, he backed away into the darkness, still covering me uncertainly with his revolver but not daring to fire again. Then to my ears there came another sound from up the valley—the ringing, ringing of the tonga horn.

New Murder Puzzle
 Louisville, Jan. 16.—Coinciding with the failure of the grand jury to indict Dr. Christopher G. Schott for the murder of his office assistant, Miss Elizabeth Griffin, whose death thus becomes a mystery, Louisville confronted its second crime puzzle within a month when the body of Miss Rebecca Lovell, twenty-one, was found in Shawnee Park, her head almost severed.
 The young woman, who was partly deaf and dumb, had been missing since Saturday night. Search for her had been unavailing until a park guard found her body at the basement entrance to the park refectory. Apparently her throat had been hacked with an axe or a hatchet. Motives for the murder and clues to the slayer are lacking.
 "Truth will prevail," Dr. Schott is quoted as having said when the grand jury's report was read. He maintained that his contention that Miss Griffith committed suicide had been upheld. Mrs. John Griffith, mother of the dead girl, refused to accept the suicide theory. "There is another and higher court," she said, "and as sure as there is a God in heaven the guilty will be punished."

 Circuit officials said that if the suicide theory subsequently is rejected, the testimony taken at the present inquiry may be submitted to future grand juries. Such action is regarded as remote, however, and the grand jury's action apparently closes the case.

EVANGELIST DIXON HEARD BY MANY
 In spite of the inclement weather a large congregation greeted Evangelist Dixon in Centenary church last night. The chair was taken by Rev. H. Penn and Miss Dixon sang the song "There Were Ninety and Nine." The preacher gave a telling sermon from the text, "Likewise I say unto you there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth."

WAS CURED BY "LIV-RITE"

St. John Man, George Murray, of Queen Street, Says it Worked When Others Failed.
 Another St. John man, George Murray, 116 Queen street, has found the good qualities of "Liv-rite Tonic." Almost every day brings word of some person through the city who has had his health improved through taking this great medicine, and now Mr. Murray's name is added to the rapidly growing list. His letter of praise to the Maritime Drug Co., 108 Prince William street, here, may be of interest to some person who is suffering in the same way he has.
 "Mr. Murray says: "People can talk of the power of one medicine or another. I pin my faith to 'Liv-rite.' The reason I do so is because it has worked wonders with me. When you have a liver which is out of order which prevents your eating properly and causes your system to become rundown, your blood to become weakened, and you suffer from headache, dizziness, and constipation, well then you know what it is to have your health again. I was troubled for some time. I had tried different remedies before I began taking 'Liv-rite.' Soon after I tried it I noticed a difference. I have no doubt but that it was 'Liv-rite' which caused this difference and since continuing to take I have become quite completely cured. I intend keeping a box in the house to prevent further trouble. I shall recommend 'Liv-rite' to any person suffering from any complaint of the liver."
 This great tonic may be had from the Maritime Drug Co., on receipt of one dollar, or from any reliable druggist. (Advt.)

WAS AFRAID TO SLEEP AT NIGHT

Mrs. O'Neil Almost Desperate From Ill Health But Tanlac Soon Restored Her.
 "I am just so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I can't find words that will express my gratitude." was the characteristic statement made recently by Mrs. John O'Neil, who lives on Victoria Road, Sydney, Nova Scotia. Mrs. O'Neil has been troubled with indigestion so bad that I thought I would have to give up entirely," continued Mrs. O'Neil. "I was in such misery after nearly every meal the pains in my stomach and across my chest would almost draw me double. Gas bloated me up until I simply had to fight to get my breath and my heart palpitated something terrible. Night after night I sat up in bed afraid to go to sleep, and often the checking spells were so bad that I would have to get up and walk the floor. When I got up of mornings I felt so weak and had so little energy that my house-work was a burden. Life was no pleasure and I worried so much all the time that I was almost desperate.
 "When I began taking Tanlac I had already taken so many medicines that I did not know what to try. I had but little faith in anything to help me. But I quickly changed my mind because I started to improve in almost no time after I began taking it. I took five bottles in all and today I am in better health than I have been in many years. I can eat just anything I want now and digest it perfectly. The gas does not trouble me any more and I never have a pain of any kind. As my breathing is free and easy I am no longer afraid to go to sleep at night and I fall asleep just as soon as I go to bed. I never once wake up till morning and when I get up I am feeling full of life and energy. At times it seems wonderful the way Tanlac has built me up that I can hardly realize myself what perfect health I am enjoying."
 Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and R. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. (Advt.)

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them
 The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in a good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and if you are not a dangerous person you will find them very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters. This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system, and will leave a clear, healthy skin.
 Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N. B., writes:—"For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day I saw an advertisement for Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and boils disappeared. I have not had a sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B. B. to anyone who is troubled with skin diseases."

Diamond Sparkies.
 Al Baird, who has been a utility infielder for the Giants since 1917, was released this week to the Rochester Club of the International League. Baird is a former minor league player at times when some of the regulars were laid up. He is a skillful fielder, but has not yet reached the batting stage which would insure him a job with the Giants. Last season he played in thirty-eight games and had a batting mark of 241.
 Harry Frazee of the Boston Red Sox, and his manager, Ed. Barrow, are negotiating with several clubs for new players to bolster up the Sox. Frazee, who is in the market for a new pitcher, said that plans were being laid for deals which would involve more than one club, but he did not expect that any real transactions would be made before the joint meeting of the league in Chicago on Feb. 11.
 The Detroit Tigers are not worrying about Ty Cobb for next season, as the contract of the Georgia Gents still has another season to run. Manager Jennings already has two pitchers, two center fielders, one second baseman, and one shortstop under contract. They are Dutch Leonard, Bernie Boland, Almsmith, Stange and Bobby Veach. The Tiger pitching staff will consist of Macco, on Feb. 22, and the Boston Red Sox will have plenty of opposition at Hot Springs in March. The Pittsburgh Pirates will train their new pitcher, Gus Gibson, and the Akron Club of the International League will train their new manager, Dick Hoblitzel. The three clubs will give several exhibition games during the training season.
 The Chicago White Sox have decided on Tuesday night as the date to open and the club will go there late in February. It is said that two members of the club's club will be in the lineup on Tuesday night, but that the rest of the roster, the first baseman and shortstop, are the two who are slated to return.
 While Colonel T. L. Huston of the Yankees is at Dover Hall, in Georgia, he is making plans for establishing a permanent training establishment for the New York Club, which may be tried in 1921. There is ample room on the large game preserve to build a baseball diamond for training purposes, and it is within easy reach of several of the southern cities.
WRESTLING.
Will Meet Jan. 30.
 New York, Jan. 15.—Earl Caddock of Iowa, the wrestler with a thousand holds, and Joe Stecher, the Nebraska scissor-hold expert, will meet in a championship wrestling match at Madison Square Garden on Jan. 30. This date was definitely adopted by Promoter Jack Curley following receipt of communications from the representatives of both grapplers, agreeing to the date and terms for the match. On the same night Curley will promote two men who will wrestle for a purse of $40,000, said to be the largest wrestling purse ever offered in this country.
 This match will decide the championship situation which has been in a confused condition since the war. Caddock, who served in Uncle Sam's army overseas, returned to this country and announced his retirement from the sport because of illness. The title was, therefore, an open question and three followed a series of elimination matches in which Stecher, with his dread scissor-hold, advanced to the leadership and sought recognition as champion. Caddock, reconsidering his decision to retire, questioned Stecher's claims to the title which the Iowa held before going to the U.S. to fight in the war. Caddock and Stecher until Promoter Curley arranged the details of the coming title match.

Yale Athlete Is Injured.
 New Haven, Conn., Jan. 13.—Louis Reinhardt, a prominent all-around athlete at Yale, has broken his ear drum through a peculiar accident. He was injured in water polo practice. He was tackled and struggled violently, his injury being sustained, it is believed, at that time. He is presently deaf, but the physicians in attendance believe that his hearing will be partially restored in a few weeks.
 He was one of the most valuable members of the water polo team and played end on the football eleven. He is also one of the best boxers at Yale and was expected to take part in the boxing tournament. His home is in New Orleans.

you had a sore place, and had to choose between two remedies, one of which went to the spot direct, and the other by a round-about way, which would you prefer? Undoubtedly, the one that gets there direct!
 That is just the reason for people's preference for Peps for ailments of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. Peps get there direct, because they are breathable, while remedies which are swallowed only go to the stomach.
 Dissolve Peps in the mouth, and the vapor which is liberated is carried by the breath direct to the breathing passages and minute air cells of the lungs, destroying all germs, and soothing, healing, and strengthening the delicate membranes.
 Once you try Peps you will never use any other remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, tightness across the chest, night cough, laryngitis or asthmalma. All dealers 25c. box.

A Drop On a Touchy Corn
 Instant relief! Then corn or callus lifts off with fingers.

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without pain or trouble in ten minutes! A Cincinnati man discovered this ether compound and named it Frezone. You apply it to a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off. Frezone is wonderful. It dries instantly, and it doesn't eat away the corn or callus, but shrivels it up without even irritating the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses, lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards. No soreness or smarting. Women should keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn catch twice.

Told on the 4.22
 The train was filling up with women shoppers from the suburbs. Helen Weaver was sitting up and down the aisle and she was so comfortable in the tiny car. Just as the train was pulling out some one sat down with a weary "Hello, Helen," and looked up and saw her friend Dorothy Thomas. "What are you doing on this early train?" she simply had to go home from the office. Her head was so aching and she knew I have a fever. It's another one of my miserable colds," was Dorothy's answer. "Why in the world do you bother a doctor when you only have a cold?" Helen Weaver asked. "I don't take Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets until the very first sniffle, and a cold simply can't get a start on you." "But I am afraid of cold tablets since I took a certain kind," Dorothy said. "They contained calomel, which is a mercury compound you know. The mercury stayed in my system and I was nearly poisoned." Helen smiled and took a small box from her bag. "Now, here's a danger-free cent box of Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets. There is no danger of mercury in this. A vegetable, active is used instead. You see Weeks' active is person's cold resistance—that is why they are so effective." "I take them and I haven't had a cold that lasted over night all this winter." "I certainly shall get a box. Where do you get them?" Dorothy asked. "Almost every druggist carries them." Helen replied, "but insist on Weeks'. They cost only twenty-five cents a box and they are real boys'.

Don't stay crippled. Rub this soothing, penetrating liniment right into the sprain, ache or strain, and out comes pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Nothing else penetrates, heals and strengthens the injured muscles, nerves, tendons and ligaments so promptly. It doesn't burn or discolor the skin and can not cause injury. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store now—limber up! Rub the misery right out. A moment after "St. Jacobs Liniment" is applied you can not feel the slightest pain or soreness, and you can go about your regular duties.

"St. Jacobs Liniment" conquers pain. It has been used effectively for sprains, strains, soreness and stiffness for 60 years—six gold medal awards.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulholland coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulholland coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Oak Hall's 31st. Anniversary Sale!

The First Days of This Sale Have Proved it to be—
St. John's Greatest Mercantile Event!

OUR CLAIMS for this sale have been substantiated; the tremendous business done at the commencement of this great event shows that we were not exaggerating when we predicted our 31st Anniversary Sale would set new records.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS' worth of new merchandise have been purchased especially for this sale at prices which, in many instances, are lower than the makers can reproduce the same merchandise for. We have been able to accomplish this because of our great cash buying power.

AND NOW you have an opportunity to benefit through this cash buying power, because of our motto of "Large Volume at Minimum Profit," these great savings we have made are reflected by the markings on our merchandise, so that you actually get the savings.
