Attempt to Advance Westward and Push Toward Paris Most Important Development—Enemy Intentions Revealed—
German Guns Buisier East of Aime and North of Albert

Paris, June 1.—The military critics, says a Havas Agency review today, still view the situation as serious, but consider the signs increasingly reassuring. The most important development is regarded as the enemy's attempt to advance westward and push toward Paris. Thus, it is considered, revealing his strategic intentions unmistakably.

In the first shock of this new push, it is pointed out, the Allies were obliged to give ground in some places, but they held their own on the Aisne and the Ourcq, and their vigorous counter-attacks are considered a prelude to the stoppage of the enemy advance.

At present the most important part of the battlefield is that with Noyon on the right to the south of it on the one end, and the district north of Chateau Thierry on the left on the other. It is here that the German rush toward Paris demands undivided attention.

The newspaper L'Homme Libre, Premier Clemenceau's organ, is optimistic today over the situation. It points out that the enemy plan to draw the Allies toward the south and to push on westward only met with success so far as the first part of it was concerned. The remainder of the plan is being completely defeated, it declares, and everything gives reason to believe the enemy will be finally stopped.

NEAR AMIENS AND ALBERT

London, June 1.—It is announced officially that the German artillery was considerably more active this morning in the sectors of Villers-Bretonneux, east of Amiens, and Hebuterne, north of Albert. It is announced officially.

TRYING HARD
WESTERN WING

Paris, June 1.—Against the western wing of the battlefield from the Oise to Chateau Thierry, the strongest German offensive has been directed since the beginning of the war.

It is pointed out that the German offensive has been directed toward the pockets, made by the German offensives of March 21 and May 27. The plateau opportunities for making troops.

The salient held by the French constitutes a grave danger to the German flank and the enemy is striving to remove it, but with indifferent success.

The ground won in earlier offensive operations serves as the point of departure for the present movement, which is opposed from two bases, the Noyon-Montdidier line on the right and the Soissons-Chateau Thierry line on the left.

LACK DIRECT
COMMUNICATION
NORTH AND SOUTH

Amsterdam, June 1.—The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says that it is increasingly apparent that the German Crown Prince's advance is not a systematic attack, but a systematic continuation of the previous offensive.

Continuations in the region south of Chauny, which were secured in April, the new region of attack is already beginning to develop, together with the big wedge driven towards Amiens.

The military correspondent of the Hamburger Nachrichten points out that further developments will mainly be influenced by two factors. Firstly, he says, the increased effect of the heavy reserves must be reckoned on, because General Foch had the opportunity to bring up even remote troops, and, secondly, that there are local difficulties including the entire lack of main roads and railway communication from north to south to connect previous bases with the foremost positions already reached.

ITALY READY FOR EXPECTED BLOW

With the Italian Army, May 31.—(By the Associated Press)—It is considered a question of only a short time when the Austrian offensive, long heralded by the meeting of the German and Austrian emperors, will break violently. This is further indicated by the local actions at both extremities of this front.

However, a high Italian official in a statement to the Associated Press, declared, "Italy's armies are thoroughly prepared, perhaps better than ever before so far as concerns up-to-date war material."

BRITISH GRATITUDE FOR CUBAN GENEROSITY

Washington, June 1.—Further evidence that an Austrian offensive against Italy is imminent is noted in an official despatch today to the Italian embassy here. "This," said the message, "would be part of Germany's plan which includes the posting of action against France and Italy at the same time."

BRITISH GRATITUDE FOR CUBAN GENEROSITY. London, June 1.—The British government has directed the British minister in Havana to express to the Cuban government their cordial appreciation of Cuba's generosity in authorizing the expenditure of up to $600,000 yearly on Cuban Red Cross activities in Europe, and in allocating $240,000 for the aid of civilians in the war zone, relatives of those killed in the war and incapacitated soldiers.

THE ADVANCE ON THE ALETTE

German Evidently Feared Counter-Attack There, Endangering Front Line Troops—Eastward Flank of Allies Showing Wonderful Tenacity

With the French Army in France, May 31.—(By the Associated Press)—While continuing their strong pressure on the centre of their line, the Germans today began a violent diversion on the western wing along the Ailette River, where they advanced nearly five miles.

The reason for this new push is probably because the Germans feared a counter-attack in that region that might endanger their forces now contained within the bulging salient into which the enemy progressed on the first day.

The Allies chose to recede, leaving in the possession of the Germans a patch of territory approximately stretching from the extreme limit of Verres, on the Oise, passing by Epercourt to Epagny.

In the vicinity of Soissons, further combats of extreme violence today raged in favour of the Allies. In this region the resistance of the French division was the absolute same of heroism, fighting as they were against odds immensely superior.

All the men seemed to know that where they stood it was their duty to stand, to hold firm and we will do it. The same is true throughout the Aisne which are setting.

The eastward flank of the Allies is showing wonderful tenacity, and the German advance is being stopped.

NO THOUGHT OF AN ALLIANCE OF JAPAN
WITH GERMANY,
SAYS THE PREMIER

London, June 1.—There is little present possibility of an alliance between Germany and Japan, says the Premier, Count Terauchi, to the Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail in an interview recently.

"I feel very earnestly," he said, "that under the present circumstances such a contingency as a German-Japanese alliance is impossible." At the same time Count Terauchi emphasized his belief that Japan's relations with the Allies would continue unaltered.

ENTRY IN FAMOUS
KENTUCKY HANDICAP

Big Turf Event Today at Douglas Park—Worth About $15,000 to Winner

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—Twelve stars of the running turf are carried to go to the post at Douglas Park today to struggle for fame and fortune for their owners which goes with winning the sixth running of the Kentucky Handicap, the richest of all American races for thoroughbred three year olds and over.

The distance is a mile and a quarter for a purse of $100,000 added money, and will be worth approximately $15,000 to the winner.

Horsemen pronounce the field the most uniform in quality in the history of the event. It includes such horses as The Mighty Cudgel, the crack son of Bromstick, which will carry top weight and go to the post the favorite under the colors of J. K. L. Ross, a Canadian turfman; R. L. Baker's King Corin, which won the race last year and probably will make another bid for it; Mr. Baker's P.M. Jr., which established a new American record here on Wednesday at a circuit track; G. M. Hendries' Rancher; A. K. McComber's Hollister; J. W. Harris' Midway.

U. S. TO CALL 280,000
TO COLORS THIS MONTH

Washington, June 1.—It is officially announced that 280,000 men will be called to the colors during June. They will be ordered to report on June 24, but it has not yet been determined to what camps they are to be assigned, so the list of appointments is for the present being withheld.

MAUD ALLEN'S AVOWAL

Dancer Says Theodore Durant, Murderer, Was Her Brother

London, June 1.—During the trial of Noel Pemberton-Billing, member of parliament for East Hertfordshire, and publisher of the newspaper Vigilante, who is charged with libelling Maud Allen, a proposed production of "Salome" Miss Allen testified on cross-examination that she was a sister of Theodore Durant who was hanged in California in January, 1908, for murder.

Maud Allen is an American dancer who first won renown in London in 1908 with a "Salome" dance in the music halls of the English capital.

The man who she admitted in the trial in London was her brother was convicted and sentenced to death in one of the most sensational murder trials ever held in California.

She was convicted of the murder of her brother in 1908 and was hanged in California in January, 1908, for murder.

Finance Minister Urges That All Who Can
Should Re-Invest in Dominion Securities to Keep the Money Working to Defeat Germans

His Excellency met the donors of the aeroplanes, namely, James Caruthers of Montreal, who had presented four battleplanes and three biplanes; Sir William Hooper and Hon. T. W. McGarry, representing the government of Ontario, who presented one biplane and two training machines; Mayor Church, R. H. Cameron and W. H. Hamilton, representing the ladies of the city, who presented one biplane and two training machines.

Ottawa, June 1.—The interest payment which is due today on Canadian domestic war loans will amount to more than $16,000,000. This large sum, which will be paid out chiefly in Canada, represents the first interest payment on the Victory loan, and the regular payment on the 1915 loan.

In calling attention to this large disbursement from the dominion treasury, Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, suggests that all who can possibly do so should invest their interest payments in dominion debenture stock obtainable from the finance department, or in war saving certificates, so that as large a portion as possible of the $16,000,000 payable today should find its way back to be used for other purposes.

If, for any reason, the definite bonds are not received by the owner in time to present coupons on June 1, he should take his scrip certificates, upon which payment has been made in full, to any bank, which will pay the interest thereon and endorse the same on the back of the certificates.

FALLS 2,000 FEET
BUT LIFE SAVED

American Aviator Keeps Presence of Mind When Machine Plunges in "Tailspin" — Drops Clear of Wreckage

New York, June 1.—While Lieutenant Gardner C. Means and four other army aviators were practicing in a flying formation similar to that of the Germans' "flying circus," at a height of about 2,000 feet over the Hazelhurst Aviation Field near Mineola, Means, who was at the peak of the formation, lost control of his machine and the plane whirled to the ground in the dangerous tailspin. It fell within a few feet of the spot where Cadet Aviator Charles B. Fairwater was killed on Monday, when his airplane fell to earth in a tail-spin.

Aviation instructors at the Hazelhurst Field were watching the evolutions, saw Means working his loops as coolly as if he were in a pleasure flight. After the plane had fallen about 1,000 feet it was seen that the aviator had thrown his body clear of the machine and was falling safely out of its dangerous position, but some part of the machine seemed to crumple and the plane continued to spin.

As the machine crashed to the ground the instruction officers jumped into an automobile with surgeons from the field hospital and sped to the wreckage, expecting to find the aviator dead. Instead, they found him on the ground, clear of the wreckage, and although he was unconscious, surgeons found that his condition was not serious. He was taken to the field hospital, where it was said he would be ready to fly again in a few days.

He was suffering only from bruises and shock, and the officers said they thought that his coolness and presence of mind in the fall had saved his life, because, after working at the level of the other aviators in the formation saw their leader fall into the tail spin they continued their manoeuvre upon plans that had already been made for the loss of one of the members of the circus in battle. They said they thought that Means was preparing to vantage point of the formation when his engine stalled and threw the plane into the tail spin.

LIFE OR DEATH TO AUSTRALIA

That's What War Means, Says Premier Hughes — Invites U. S. to Join "Hands Off" Policy in Pacific

New York, June 1.—Declaring that Australia is committed to an Australasian Monroe doctrine, Premier Hughes of Australia made a plea in an address here last night for American co-operation to maintain after the war a "hands off" policy in the Pacific.

He declared that Germany in her plans of conquest had deliberately parcelled out Australia, along with other countries, to the Junker capitalists. "Because of this," he said, "the war literally meant life or death to Australia."

London's Sensational Trial

London, June 1.—The greater part of yesterday's proceedings in the trial of Noel Pemberton-Billing was taken up with a cross-examination of Captain Harold Sherwin Spencer. Few new developments were brought to light except that Captain Spencer said that he had received from Italian deputies and members of the British embassy at Rome information about the efforts of the Camarilla to get Herbert H. Asquith, Joseph Caillaux and Giovanni Giolitti returned to power as the premiers of England, France and Italy.

RED CROSS PROTEST AGAINST BOMBING OF HOSPITALS

Geneva, June 1.—The members of the International Red Cross committee are preparing a strong protest against the bombing of hospitals behind the British and American fronts by German armies. The committee expressed deep indignation when official facts and figures on the bombing raids were presented. The protest will be on the lines of that sent to Germany concerning the sinking of hospital ships.

FRENCH CANADIANS DO GOOD WORK IN RAID ON ENEMY

Canadian Army Headquarters, June 1 (By W. A. Willison, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—Successful military operations against enemy posts, French-Canadian troops have captured a number of prisoners and inflicted many casualties on the Boche. After a very effective artillery, trench mortar and machine gun barrage, the raiders attacked in four parties.

LONDON PAPERS OF TODAY ON THE WAR

London, June 1—The gravity of the news from the western front is emphasized in this morning's newspapers, which comment anxiously on the situation, although they express hopefulness as to the final outcome. The Daily News says the statement given last night by a military authority to the Associated Press, in which the situation was depicted as a very serious one, is disappointing since it must be accepted as reliable.

MILITARY MATTERS

A board composed of Captains Heron as president and Lieutenants Foster, representing the Royal Military College, will conduct examinations for the R. M. C. in the army starting on Monday morning. Five New Brunswick boys are writing the papers.

COAL TENDERS

Whether the city will take action on the one tender which has been submitted for next winter's fuel supply depends on the decision of the council on next Tuesday. The council this week decided to call for tenders for the entire supply required by the city en bloc instead of allowing each department to issue a call for its requirements.

BANK HOURS CHANGE

The new banking hours went into effect today and the banks were open for business at 9:30 o'clock this morning. They will close at noon on Saturdays, as before, but on other days of the week will close at 5:30, so that the staffs need not be kept up with the work.

ONLY 32 PAINT COLORS

Painters Will Eliminate Variety to Conserve Tin and Oil. To conserve tin, linseed oil and other ingredients of paint necessary for carrying on the war, U. S. manufacturers now making in some cases as high as 100 shades of house paint will limit themselves after July 1 to thirty-two shades. The detailed limitations refer to all kinds of paint and varnish. Examples, for instance, will be restricted by the manufacturers to eight shades, floor paint to eight, roof and barn paint to two, shingle stains to twelve, oil colors to thirty, carriage paint to eight, architectural varnishes to ten grades, marine varnishes to four and so on. In many cases this will mean a reduction of 60 per cent or more.

FROZEN FISH FROM NEWFOUNDLAND

Frozen fish is to be exported from St. John's, Nfld., to Halifax, for distribution in refrigerator cars to Canadian and American markets, and it is understood that some of the fish will be re-shipped here to England and France. The Reid Newfoundland steamer Meigs is now undergoing extensive alterations, having a system of cold storage installed for the purpose of conveying frozen fish from Newfoundland to Halifax. The Meigs performed a fortnightly mail, freight and passenger service to Halifax during the winter, and Captain Charles Cross will again be in command of the steamer when she takes up this special freight service.

HALIFAX PLAY GROUNDS

The Halifax Chronicle, in a report of a meeting of the Playground Commission, says it has decided to equip as far as possible four playgrounds, and is negotiating for a first-class supervisor. The report adds:—

"The commission feel in common with Playground Associations of the United States, Canada and England, that universal medical examination of the young men of the Allies, has demonstrated the necessity for a greater physical development of both sexes of the youth, which, accomplished as a pleasure and a pastime, will produce a more virile manhood and womanhood for the future, affording the children of this city advantages now obtained only by college students. Proper supervision also develops the Anglo Saxon ideals of fair play and democracy, as well as protects the average from the detestable bully and sneak."

GIVEN SEND OFF WITH HYMNS AND PRAYERS

Toronto, June 1—A batch of twenty-four conscientious objectors were given a rousing send-off at the Union station. They are from six different parts of Ontario. They left for Burwash prison, where they have been committed to spend two years for refusing to join the colors. Prior to their departure they were surrounded by a large gathering of friends and well-wishers, who sang hymns and offered up prayer before the men were ordered by Sheriff Ryan to board the train.

THE WAR SITUATION LAST NIGHT

Plunging southward, with its momentum still unspent, the German war machine has driven its wedge into the Allied lines along the front until its apex has reached the Marne river south of Fero-Ee-Tardenera. The desperate efforts of the French and British to stem the tide against the invaders have served only to slow down the rate of speed of the German advance; the defenders of the heights north of the Marne seem to have been swept aside in the rush of the enemy toward the road to Paris.

Along the movement of the German armies southward, two other significant incidents of the tremendous battle have occurred. One is that the Germans have extended their attack to the northwest, along the Ailette river, from which the French have fallen back for some distance. The other is that the battle has extended to the east of Rheims, which city, during the first few days of the battle, formed the extreme eastern end of the line of the battle.

SIDES OF SALIENT HELD STUBBORNLY. Along the sides of the salient formed by the rapid German advance to the Marne, the French and British have been holding their positions gallantly, while the French have defended their line with such vigor that the Germans have not made much impression upon it. On the other side of the battle area, the British are still holding the forts of Rheims and positions just west of that which stricken city.

Between the extreme sides of the salient the front sags towards the south, the line from Rheims to the Marne running to the southwest at a gentle angle, while the French are holding a front at right angles to the direction of the German advance.

The occupation of Chateau Thierry marks the beginning of the expected turning movement toward Paris which the Germans may be expected to make down the Marne. If the town has been taken in its entirety the Germans may be expected to move down the Marne.

Before they can go far in this direction, however, it will be necessary for them to break the French line south of Soissons for as long as the French stand along the Soissons-Hartennes road, the German advance is in jeopardy. The Germans, however, claim already to have crossed this line. The attack along the Ailette may be the beginning of a movement that will seek to prevent the French from making a heavy attack somewhere in the neighborhood of Soissons.

General Foch, the commander-in-chief of the Allied forces, has not as yet brought his reserves into action. All reports from the field of battle, tell of the Allied forces being vastly outnumbered.

BOY LEAPS FROM WINDOW OF POLICE COURT; ESCAPES

There was considerable excitement in the guard room of the police court this morning when a boy who was waiting to be taken into the court room made his escape by jumping from one of the windows. Detective Luning gave chase, but up to the time of going to press the lad had not been captured.

Magistrate Ritchie said that it would come harder on him for this action, and that an example would be made of him. Two other boys who were with him were remanded until next Tuesday.

MRS. E. N. RHODES,
Wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons.

"We are in no position to criticize regulations issued by the Food Board. We cannot judge of what should, or should not be, for we have no such accurate knowledge of the situation as the food authorities necessarily have. I firmly believe in our accepting all the Board's rules without any questioning."

MRS. E. N. RHODES.

This picture shows the wife of the speaker of the House of Commons in their beautiful garden at Amherst, Nova Scotia. Her work here represents her chief contribution to the cause of food production, for she is a keen gardener and not of the kind-glove type who treat it as a hobby. Mrs. Rhodes knew all about digging and hoeing long before war clouds or war gardens appeared on the horizon. And she admits that it is hard work—quite hard work. But enjoyable!

Naturally, she thinks it is doubly important now to grow one's own vegetables, but she has done for years, and thinks it is no hardship that women should have to busy themselves with, rake and hoe.

"Then, naturally, you approve of the farmette idea?" Mrs. Rhodes was asked.

She did. Nevertheless, she thought it was going to be mighty hard work, and that a preparatory course was very essential. The girls would then go forth to their work with more confidence and fuller knowledge of their duties. Fruit-picking, on the other hand, had a special appeal for girls, and was pleasant work in comparison with the routine of a farm.

Mrs. Rhodes is an advocate of dairying for girls. With such a shortage of fats, she thinks that it would be profitable if more of them went in for butter-making. "I know that in England women are scrupulous about using as little milk and cream as possible in order that it may be made into butter," declared Mrs. Rhodes.

The shortage of butter in Britain as a result of the war is 200,146,784 pounds. In 1916 Canada sold only 6,983,100 pounds. From this it can readily be seen that the butter-making industry needs some feminine impetus!

"Then canning?" Already women are beginning to think about it, and to wonder if they are going to have enough vegetables to take care of the fruit crop.

"We should leave those things to the men," Mrs. Rhodes declared. "I judge of the Food Board's regulations, for as we have no such accurate knowledge of the situation as the food authorities necessarily have, we should accept them as they are."

BELEATED GARDENERS.
There are plenty of "eleventh hour" gardeners in Canada, and there is no reason why the beleated amateur should be discouraged. Even if his neighbor is already using his lettuce and radishes he may still do his bit and, assuredly, it's better late than never. Right up to the first of July even the so-called "early" seeds may be sown and no man or woman should call off because he or she thinks it is too late to make a start.

Weather and soil conditions vary all over the country. These bulletins do not pretend to be uniform for all our war gardeners. But cut them out and keep them on hand. They will help you out and serve as constant reminders.

Perhaps you are feeling a little discouraged over your garden. It may be that you planted some garden seeds when the early birds came and they never sprouted. You cannot control the weather. Get busy again and give them another trial. Gardening is something like gambling, with the chances all in favor of winning. The one essential thing is that everyone should have a war garden of some kind and add to the country's food supply.

directions, Mrs. Rhodes believes, and then they will give all that is in them. "Generally speaking, the women do not get quite understand what is expected of them. They don't read the papers enough. They are apt to do what their neighbors do—which is often a fatal practice. It seems to me that the people who are better off might make it easier for the poorer classes by using substitutes as much as possible. Just judging from my own experience and the ever-increasing difficulty of catering for one's family, it is a source of wonder to me how some people manage to get along so well. But, of course, we must expect things to be much worse yet. That is why I think the well-off should try to make things a little easier for the poor."

Mrs. Rhodes does not believe, as many city people do, that there is no room for the farmer and his wife in the view that the farmer and his wife are extremely careful and save everything for marketing. The teachers in the country schools are in a position to do much for the cause of food saving and food production, she believes, and her interest is soon reflected by her parents. "And lastly—what do you think about the hue and cry that we have 'sacrificed' tea?" the wife of the Speaker was asked.

"I think it's a question that every woman can settle for herself in her own home without making any fuss about it."

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES

An Appeal for a Pension Act For The Province of Ontario

"Is anything being done about mother's pensions?" asked an anxious feminine voice over the telephone the other day, and the speaker, a well-known woman physician, went on to tell her why I ask. I have a patient whose husband volunteered for overseas service and she has no money to run on. The youngest one year old and the other three. There was no money. For years he had earned only $8 a week but he had gradually worked up until, just before he died, he was making $17. A collection for his widow was taken up among his fellow-employees who said he had always been the first to think about that when others were in need. This fund was disbursed to his widow weekly, $10 at a time, and with $250 insurance, she got along until about the first of May when all her money ran out. She shares a house with her sister, whose husband was killed overseas and who gets $10 a week, though she has no children to look after. I don't know what in the world she would have done without that money.

"Well, she is a splendid little woman and a wonder at making over clothes and doing up a dollar to do charity sales, etc. even if it means a long day of work for her. It wouldn't be a good thing for her or for the country for those children to go to the workhouse. It breaks her health working by the day."

"There is such a thing as a quarantine allowance. Did you ever hear of it? Well, if a child has whooping-cough or mumps, for which ailments there is no hospital accommodation, its mother can be paid $12 a day to enable her to stay at home and nurse it. Now, if the city recognizes the necessity of the mother in such an emergency, why can't the government see the possibility of doing something for the widowed mother of small children whose existence is really one long-drawn-out emergency?"

The Doctor Lady paused, breathless, and I had to confess my inability to answer her question. I could tell her, however, that the government had been given the opportunity of learning a good many things about mothers' pensions, by way of both example and precept.

The Local Council of Women proved the efficacy of the scheme right here in Toronto by supporting several families for some years. In Manitoba mothers' pensions have been paid since 1916 and only last February the legislature voted $100,000 to this work. Saskatchewan has more recently adopted a similar scheme.

J. J. Kelso, who is convener of a committee of social workers engaged in considering the basis of policy for a bill to be submitted to the Ontario legislature, has recently been in Jersey where a mother is paid $9 for one child, $14 for two children and $4 for each additional child under sixteen. This is not regarded as a sufficient payment to enable the mother to stay at home, but is, of course, better than nothing.

A scheme suggested in England provides for allowances to all mothers, whether widowed or not, and the plans for Ontario will probably be based on the same idea. "This would be something in the way of the 'economic independence for women' of which the reformer has long dreamed. It is to be hoped that some measure, at least, for giving little children the mother-care without which we cannot hope to rear healthy,

MAKING YOURSELF WELL AND STRONG

You Can Improve Your Physical Condition by Keeping the Blood Pure

People with strong constitutions escape most of the minor ills that make life miserable for others. Don't you envy the friend who does not know what a headache is, whose digestion is perfect, and who sleeps soundly at night? How far do you come from this description? Have you ever made an earnest effort to strengthen your constitution, to build up your system, to ward off discomfort and disease? Unless you have an organic disease it is generally possible to improve your physical condition that perfect health will be yours. The first thing to be done is to build up your blood. Poor blood is the source of physical weakness. To build up the blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is just the medicine you need. Every dose helps to make new blood which reaches every nerve and every part of the body, bringing color to the cheeks, brightness to the eyes, a readiness to the hands, a good appetite and splendid energy. Thousands throughout the country whose condition once was miserable, are now enjoying the good health to this medicine. If you are one of the weak and ailing give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and note the daily gain in new health and abounding vitality. Among those who have proved the truth of these statements is Mrs. Fred Goslin, R. R. No. 2, Ruthven, Ont., who says: "A few years ago I underwent an operation for a fibroid tumor. I had been ailing so long that I did not gain as the doctors said I should. I was in such a run-down condition that they said it would take me a very long time to recover. But instead of gaining, I was growing weaker, and the doctor said I must go back to the hospital. I did not want to do this, and having often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a strength builder I decided to try them. I was greatly surprised at the help I received from them. In three months I was able to go about, and our home doctor expressed his astonishment, as he had not expected me to recover believing me to be in a permanent state of weakness. I can now do all my own housework, and have to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the praise for my present state of good health."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WELL SATISFIED WITH BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. Edmond Gagne, Tikapeau, Que., writes: "I am well satisfied with Baby's Own Tablets. They are absolutely necessary in homes where there are little children. They cured my baby of constipation and I would not be without them." Thousands of mothers always keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets on hand as a safeguard against constipation, colic, colds, simple fevers or any other of the minor ills of little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FOOD REGULATIONS AND BUSINESS LICENSES

According to the regulations of the Canada Food Board practically every place serving food as a business or selling food or food products was required to have a license by June 1, or be liable for a heavy fine after midnight tonight. This regulation has been amended by certain exceptions announced from Ottawa today which give a month's extension to some classes.

The provincial inspector, W. S. Potts, of 225 Rockland road, said today that there still is considerable ignorance regarding the requirements of the law. He is busy issuing licenses and getting the machinery for the enforcement of the act in working order but, meanwhile, is collecting information regarding violations regarding boarding. When time permits he will follow up the information and will see that offenders are dealt with. This will apply also to those who do not take out licenses required.

Among the businesses for which licenses are required are: bakeries, restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, home bakeries, ice cream parlors, fruit stores, and all other places serving or selling food products. All such places are liable to a heavy fine if they have not secured a license or at least sent in their application before the time limit expires.

No person can cook at home for charity or for party sales, etc., even if proceeds are for patriotic purposes, without a license, as such sales are in direct competition with the bakers who are limited in their products by law and who are required to have licenses.

It has been found necessary to explain that persons going to the country cannot take more sugar or flour than sufficient for their own use, unless they are more than two miles from a grocery store. If from two to five miles distant, thirty days' supply is permitted. This regulation is to be enforced strictly. The announcement which was received over the press wires from Ottawa yesterday is as follows:

Ottawa, May 31—In order to allow ample time for proprietors of public eating places affected by the licensing regulations of the Canada Food Board to comply with these regulations, the board has extended from June 1 to July 1 the date on and after which it will be illegal for any person to operate a public eating place without having first obtained a food board license.

For a similar reason, the order requiring persons manufacturing in Canada for sale, ice cream, candy, cake, crackers, biscuits, pastry, confectionery, ice cream cones and chewing gum, to obtain a confectioners' license, has been amended by changing from June 1 to July 1 the date when licenses become compulsory and operative.

L. O. D. E. WANTS NO GERMAN AFFILIATIONS

Toronto, May 31—Unless the National Council of Women of Canada repudiates their connection with the enemy countries, there is an end to the federation of that body with the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire, according to a resolution unanimously adopted by the L. O. D. E. convention this morning.

The treasurer's report shows that the order had collected $1,044,295 throughout the dominion last year.

The secretary's report stated that no less than 275 men had been practically restored to health at the L. O. D. E. hospital, Hyde Park. The annex to the Maple Leaf Club in London had accommodated with beds an average of 280 men per night. Up to March 23, 1918, 42,827 beds were provided, and 691,469 meals served to men recently arrived from Canada "on landing leave." The order had now 700 chapters, and a membership of 45,000.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvellous to smoothen rough, red, hard-

LOCAL NEWS

The swimming scows are now ready for the public, free of charge. The scows have been placed at No. 5 berth, West Side. Mark Burns is the instructor.

It was learned last evening that J. B. Craven and Colonel Thomas Duff, promoters of the drydock and shipbuilding scheme at Courtenay Bay, will arrive in the city on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Colborne of Halifax left last evening for Calgary. Mr. Colborne has been manager of the P. R. Telegraph Company in Halifax and has been transferred west.

E. Whitenet left from a staging at Grant & Home's shipbuilding yard yesterday afternoon and broke his arm and seriously injured his shoulder. He was taken to the General Public Hospital, thence to his home.

The body of Superintendent Fred Lomax, who was killed when the scuff- lodging broke in the C. G. R. elevator on Thursday, was taken to his home in Fort Arthur on the Montreal train last evening.

The St. Martins Railway will formally be taken over today by the Canadian Government Railway system and operated by them. A party of C. G. R. officials went over the road yesterday on an inspection tour.

Student teachers attending normal school will hereafter be required to give a bond for $100 that they will give three years of their service teaching in the province before teaching elsewhere. The aim of the new regulation is to keep New Brunswick trained teachers from going west.

H. O. Eaman, dominion organizer for the boys scout, who has been in the city for the last few days, inspected the various troops of scouts and awarded Senator Thorne's cup for the best all round troop to St. Paul's troop. The Portland Methodist church troop was a close second.

At the meeting of the executive of the Retail Merchants' Association yesterday plans were made for the bringing to St. John of F. W. Stewart, dominion chair- man of the publicity committee of the Canada Food Board and Chairman Ab- rham, of the recent lot committee. They will arrive next week. Both men are very forceful speakers.

A Canadian Hospital Bombed By The Huns

German airmen bombed a Canadian hospital in France early on Thursday morning and caused a considerable num- ber of casualties. The hospital is a large one which has been in existence since the early days of the war and was plain- ly marked by huge Red Cross signs.

Three bombs were dropped by moon- light and then a large fire was lit and by its light a bomb was planted squarely in the middle of one of the wings of the hospital. Many were killed and wounded. Rescuers worked hard and heroically to save those in the blazing building but many bodies could not be recovered.

Among the slain was a medical officer of the U. S. forces who was administering an anesthetic to a British officer. More than one nursing sister lost her life.

A long heavy aerial attack was made by British airmen on Zebruggen on Thursday night and Friday morning. A tremendous explosion leads to the belief that a powder magazine was blown up.

Two of Germany's newest and largest submarines of the cruiser class were sunk May 17 and 18 near Gibraltar by Allied destroyers, according to passen- gers arriving at an Atlantic port.

Officers of a vessel arriving at an At- lantic port yesterday announced that their vessel had been fired on by a Ger- man submarine in the mid-ocean. Riots and internal disorders of all kinds are increasing in Bohemia.

NEWS OF SOLDIERS

The names of three New Brunswick men appear in the midnight casualty list: Wounded and missing, E. P. Cole, Middle Covertide; wounded, D. Grant, Chatham; prisoner of war, re-arrested, A. V. Hiley, Chatham.

Ray Craft, clerk in the Clifton Home, was made the recipient of a writ what evening by the employer, James Thomas Walker, J. B. Baxter, James L. Sugrue, Thomas Bell and Charles Robinson.

The New Brunswick Returned Sol- diers' Commission met last evening in Fredericton. Those who left from St. John to attend the meeting included Dr. Thomas Walker, J. B. Baxter, James L. Sugrue, Thomas Bell and Charles Robinson.

Buried Yesterday.

The funeral of Charles Calvert took place yesterday afternoon at three o'clock from Trinity church to Cedar Hill cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. R. A. Armstrong and Maribou- rough Lodge, Sons of England, attended.

TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION

From 16 to 20

Constipation is one of the commonest ills of mankind, and one too often allowed to go unlooked after until some serious complication sets in.

If the bowels are properly looked after there will be no constipation, jaundice, sick or bilious headaches, heartburn, coated tongue, sour stomach, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills will keep your bowels so regulated that in no time the constipation will disappear entirely.

Miss Emma B. Melanck, of Halifax, N. S., writes: "I am now 20 years of age, and since I was 16 I have been greatly troubled with constipation, so much so that at times I would be in bed 3 or 4 days a month. I tried all the old-fashioned remedies, castor oil, cascara, etc., with only temporary relief until my sister-in-law gave me some of Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills. From the first they seemed beneficial and I gave them a fair trial. This was two years ago and with an occasional dose I have kept entirely free from constipation for the period mentioned."

Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RECENT DEATHS

Andrew Lamb, an old and respected resident of St. Andrews, died last night, aged ninety-one years. He was born in Ayre, Scotland, and came to America in 1848. He engaged in shipbuilding in St. Andrews and at Robinson, Me. In 1857 he went to South Africa and spent some time in the diamond fields. After returning to St. Andrews he purchased the St. Andrews foundry. Later he be- came interested in a canning factory and in the lumber industry and was the owner of several vessels. He is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Rev. L. J. Watson of Young's Cove, has received word of the death of his sister, Miss Gladys Watson, at her home in Bath, Me. Death was due to heart fail- ure.

Thomas Blundell, a well known citi- zen of Dalhousie, passed away last Sun- day morning after a stroke of apoplexy. He was in his seventy-ninth year. He is survived by three daughters. His funeral took place on Wednesday.

Catherine Wilson died at her home in Blissfield Thursday after a lingering ill- ness. She is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Mrs. John Campbell passed away at her home in St. George on Wednesday morning after a brief illness. Besides her husband she leaves two sons and two lit- tle daughters.

Mrs. Henrietta Currie died at her home in Macaque Friday morning after a lingering illness. She is survived by her husband, four sons and three daughters.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The Halifax city council will meet to- day to receive representations from Thos. Icard of Montreal, on behalf of Norcross, Wolvin and associates, who propose erecting a shipbuilding plant there.

A despatch from Washington says that Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Ray T. Baker, director of the mint, are to be married early in June.

At a gathering of Salvation Army officers of the maritime provinces held in Moncton last evening a report showed that $20,737 was raised in this district in the self-denial war fund campaign.

A report to the crown land office in Fredericton from an official said that the recent fire at Maltais was between Kedgewick and Anderson stations and did damage to the amount of $15,000.

Some Advice To The Veterans

Their Own Organ Quoted by Ottawa Paper and Some Comment Added

(Ottawa Journal-Press.)

It is with a great deal of pleasure we notice in the latest issue of the Veteran an article in splendid tone counselling the great war veterans against allowing an unsound, intemperate element to gain the ascendancy in their organization and appear to represent the spirit of the returned soldiers. This is the kind of advice the veterans are in need of in this early stage of the existence of their association, and it is infinitely better that it should come from within the organization than from without. We do not think it will go unheeded and we are glad to believe that it will very materially increase the public's estimation of the Veteran.

The danger against which the Veterans cautions has been apparent to observers of the G. W. V. A., but some members of the association, and even the Veterans itself, have not been always sympathetic to outside warning. Perhaps, after all, this may prove to be just as well, for knowledge gained by experience is generally more profitable than that acquired through gratuitous tutelage. The Veterans has been impressed by the evil it discusses by first hand experience—it has seen the effect of this evil reflected in the sentiments of the general public. This personal observation has impressed it where columns of warning from without the G. W. V. A. would have failed. So the organization itself must learn and in learning, we hope, will take heed. The greatest asset of the veterans is the good will of the public. The danger presently confronting them is that this unsound tactics of irresponsible units in their association. The need of the association is for the suppression of these elements. They should be permitted neither to overrule the more sober judgment of the organization nor to appear to the public to be the spokesmen of the returned soldiers.

Already these elements—always waiting for a chance to serve their own ends through any medium that offers itself—have been allowed to come to the front in some of the branches of the G. W. V. A. Speaking of these branches the Veteran says:

"They have permitted the appointment of officers, noted neither for their intelligence nor good sense; they have alienated some of their most stable and public-spirited elements, and acquired a great unpopularity with the rest of the community. They are the object of a great deal of private criticism and are decidedly falling to achieve the objects for which the Great War Veterans' Association was established. In fact they have succeeded in transforming it from a popular body into a possible menace in the eyes of the public. If a commission of inquiry were appointed to report upon the cause of this unfortunate state of affairs, it would probably report that the branches which are by schisms rent asunder, and heresies distressed are those

In which, firstly, a preference had been given in the election of officers to irresponsible talkers rather than responsible workers, and secondly, where an unfortunate spirit of begging for charity and grants had been allowed to develop. It also said that in these places public adulation carried to wanton excess has much to answer for.

A more intimate description of the situation is given in the article when it says in regard to solicitation for public assistance on behalf of the returned men: "If any demands, however exorbitant, were refused, or if they were even made the subject of debate, there followed turbulent outbursts, which often bore a too pre-emptory tinge."

The public is altogether sympathetic toward the returned men and their association. It wants to assist them. It desires, more than anything else, that the association should grow to be a power for good in the country. Its feeling in regard to the immoderate attitude of sections of the organization is more that of disappointment than of resentment; that the great opportunity they have should be closed.

Very wisely the Veteran counsels the sinner elements of the G. W. V. A. against impatience toward these disturbing influences and aloofness from the trouble makers. That course would heal the evil. For the sake of the association and its purposes they must combat them. They must assume the leadership.

GETTING WAR PICTURES. (Manchester Guardian.) The official photographer who has just been severely wounded near Bethune is Lieutenant A. Console, who is well known in Fleet street. Lieutenant Console had not been out very long as an official photographer, but he had been in the thick of things from the beginning of the war as a press photographer. Like all his comrades, he took every risk. In the first days of the over-running of Belgium he slipped through the hands of the Germans several times without being caught, and he was one of the last civilians to get away from Antwerp. Some of the best of the pictures of the German offensive now on view at the Grafton Galleries are taken by him. It is amazing that this is the first serious casualty to an official photographer. They go everywhere that the soldiers go. They are among the first to go forward and the last to retire. They are always in danger, because it is the scenes of danger the public wishes to see most. The photographer must work alone without the moral support of his comrades that the soldier has. Every picture of a bursting shell that we admire in the exhibitions has been taken at the risk of life. A Canadian official photographer went over the top at the Vimy Ridge with the soldiers, armed only with his camera, and took an astonishing picture of the Canadians creeping along behind the barrage. Lieutenant Brook, who recently received the Croix de Guerre from the French, and Lieutenant Brook, who was visited by the king in hospital, are our most famous camera heroes.

WILSON'S SPEECH

Address Which Resulted in Decision to Keep it Till Revenue Bill Passed

The following is a portion of President Wilson's address to congress, which resulted in a decision to remain in session till the needed revenue bill has been passed:

"The consideration that dominates every other now, and makes every other seem trivial and negligible, is the winning of the war. We are not only in the midst of it. Hundreds of thousands of our men carrying our hearts and our fortunes, are in the field and ships are crowding faster and faster to the ports of France and England with regiment after regiment, ten thousand after thousand, to join them until the enemy shall have been beaten and brought to a reckoning with mankind. There can be no pause or intermission. The great enterprise must, on the contrary, be pushed with greater and greater energy. The volume of our work must steadily and rapidly be augmented until there can be no question of resisting it. If that is to be accomplished, gentlemen, money must sustain it to the utmost. Our financial programme must no more be left in doubt or suffer to lag than our ordnance programme or our programme of munition making or our programme for making millions of men ready. These are not to be programmes, indeed, but mere plans upon paper, unless there is unquestionable supply of money."

"That is the situation and it is the situation which created the duty, no choice or preference of ours. There is only one way to meet that duty. We must meet it without selfishness or fear of consequences. Politics are adjourned. The elections will go to those who think the people will give a just verdict upon the service of the men who act for them when the facts are such that no man can disguise or conceal them. There is a danger of deceit now. An intense and pitiless light beats upon every man and every action in this tragic plot of war that is now upon the stage. If lobbyists to believe what is believed nowhere else. Have you not felt the spirit of the nation rise and has it not become a single thought since these eventful days came in which we have been sending our boys to the other side. I think you must read that thought as it means this that the people of this country are not only united in the resolute purpose to win this war but are ready and willing to bear any burden and undergo any sacrifice that it may be necessary for them to bear to win it. We must not be afraid to tax them if we lay taxes justly. They know the war must be paid for, that it is for us that the burden should be distributed justly, and that none escapes it who can bear it at all; they will carry it cheerfully and with the solemn pride. I have always been proud to be an American and was never more proud than now when all that we have said and foreseen about our people is coming true. The great days have come when the only thing that they ask for or admire is duty, greatly and adequately done; when their only wish for America is that she may secure the freedom she enjoys when a great compelling sympathy swells up in their heart for men everywhere who suffer and are oppressed and when they see at last the high uses for which their wealth has been piled up and their mighty power accumulated and, counting neither blood or treasure, rejoice to spend and to be spent through a long night of suffering and terror in order that they and men everywhere may see the dawn of a day of righteousness and justice and peace. Shall we grow weary when they bid us act?"

THE RUSSIAN WIFE. "Like the French wife, the Russian wife is a good manager and knows what is going on about the place. The wife of the landed proprietor regularly accompanies her husband in his tour of inspection about the estate, but domestic life is not. German women have developed housekeeping into a fine art, so that a woman who is wholly uninitiated finds something satisfying in being a good housewife; but in Russia it is otherwise. Possibly on account of cheap servants, the Russian wife is not so good a cook and housekeeper as the American wife in similar circumstances, and housekeeping has little attraction for the rising generation. One cause of the daughters' passion for education is their yearning to escape from the gray domestic round. The paying job outside the home promises to them release from kitchen bondage. As more of them gain a higher education they will realize there are not enough careers to go around and will look on the home with kinder eyes. As yet there has been no attempt to dignify the domestic arts by giving them a place in the curriculum of study for girls, nor has 'home making' been idealized, as it has been successfully idealized among us in the course of the last twenty years. The master ideal of the women of the Russian intelligentsia has been freedom and independence, and Americans of both sexes long resident in Petrograd believe they have realized it more fully than any women in the world. Their leaders admit they have no unjust discrimination to complain of in either law or social custom. Conventions press but lightly upon them. In these days of dear matches a young lady may stop you in the street and ask for the loan of your cigarette in order to light her own. The one foolish convention I noticed is that a woman must never be seen outside the house with the head uncovered. In one form or another the kerchief rules all classes, the result being that Russian women do not rejoice in very luxuriant hair, nor do their dresses show the girdle and sheen that come from going about bareheaded."—Edward Alsworth Ross, in the June Century.

hurry to Washington to attempt what you do in the matter of taxation to their protection or advantage, the light will be cast also upon them. There is abundant fuel for the light in the records of the treasury with regard to profits of every sort. The profiteering that cannot be got at by restraints of conscience and love of country can be got at by taxes. There is such profiteering now and the information with regard to it is available and indisputable. AMERICANS GLAD TO BEAR FINANCIAL BURDEN OF WAR. "I am advising you to act upon this matter of taxation now, gentlemen, not because I do not know that you can see and interpret the facts and the duty they impose just as well and with as clear a perception of the obligations involved as I can, but because there is a certain solemn satisfaction in sharing with you the responsibilities of such a time. The world never stood in such a case before. Men never before had so clear and moving a vision of duty. I know that you will begrudge the work to be done here by no more than the men begrudge us theirs who lie in the trenches and sally forth to their death. There is a stimulating comradeship knitting us all together. And this task to which I invite your immediate consideration will be performed under favorable influences if we will look to what the country is thinking and expecting and care nothing at all for what is being said and believed in the lobbies of Washington hotels where the atmosphere makes it possible

Story from the Trenches.

The Irishman and the Scotsman are usually very good chums in the trenches, although they are miles apart in the matter of temperament. The Irishman is all for the present and let the future take care of itself, but the Scotsman is full of care for the future and in every way cautious and canny. Here is an example of their different temperaments. Pat and Sandy, reconnoitering round an old farmhouse, found a war-weary chicken. Pat was overjoyed. He was sick of bully and biscuits. "That's a bit of luck," said Pat. "Sure we'll have a decent supper tonight." "No, no," said Sandy. "Let's keep it till tomorrow. It may lay an egg."—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph. Several persons were injured by a bomb explosion in Chicago jail, where 112 I. W. W.'s are held.

Canada's Registration Its Purpose and Application CANADA faces the gravest crisis in her history. Four years of war have taken from the Dominion a heavy toll in talent and labor, yet despite the shortage of man power, our Allies still depend on Canada to maintain her own fighting forces at full strength and to increase her exports of food and war materials, so vital to them, and to the successful prosecution of the war.

WAR'S EFFECT ON HOUSE BUILDING

England Asks Question "What Is a House?"

Answer Costs Millions

Homes Provided by Government Not Only to House Workers But to Add to Their Efficiency

What is a house? Under this interrogation the Journal of the American Institute of Architects has been advocating improvement of housing conditions in the United States as the fundamental requirement for winning the war and for industrial and social progress after the war.

A Permanent Investment. Having come to this decision, it became necessary to ask what kind of houses to build in other words, "what is a house?"

The Paint That Costs The Least

is the Paint that covers the greatest surface—that takes the shortest time to apply—that wears the longest. Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint does all three. Here's the proof. "100% Pure" Paint covers 900 square feet of surface per gallon.

Hand-mixed-lead-and-oil, and cheap prepared paints, cover only about 500 square feet.

The greatest cost of painting is for labor. It takes less time to apply Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint because its fine, even texture spreads much easier.

MARTIN-SENOUR "100% PURE" PAINT

(Made in Canada)

is guaranteed to be exactly as represented. The purity of the White Lead and Zinc Oxide—the high quality of the Linseed Oil—the minute fineness of the grinding by powerful machinery—insure a paint that gives years of protection and beauty to your home.

Why use cheap paint—that is expensive to put on—when Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint wears nearly twice as long?

If you are painting this year, you'll be interested in our books—"Town and Country Homes" and "Harmony in New-Tones". Call or write for copies—free.

conditions, and is preparing to cope with them. If it answers the question wisely and with foresight, the United States will learn a great and valuable lesson, for we shall learn that if a decent house is essential to war, it will be equally essential to our economic life after the war.

The new English houses have ample lot room and a maximum of light and air. Instead of being monotonous they are as varied in their picturesque character as any of the ancient towns of England. These new villages are striking examples of what may be done when the size of lot and house and room—and their design and arrangement—are not arbitrarily and ruthlessly sacrificed to the financial limitations of private capital.

TREAT FOR ALL IN NEW OPERA HOUSE BILL

Music, Fun, Dancing, Novelty and a Stirring Chapter of Mystery Ship Serial

Music lovers and all those who like to see a variety of dancing from the classic to the old time square should not fail to visit the Opera House during the next few days. The programme was changed last evening and was enjoyed by the usual capacity houses. That the programme pleased all was evinced from hearty laughter, frequent applause and complimentary remarks about the various acts. Selections on the violin, concert, piano and vocal solos are features which go to make up a stellar performance.

Reynolds and White have the opening vaudeville number. As the curtain raises a miniature tank creeps out on the stage and in its wake comes the report of rapid firing. The cannon on the tank swerves around and after firing several rounds the top is raised and an unique individual pops out his head. He has a small electric light attached to his nose and this acts as a search light. He attempts to give a musical selection on a "tax pot" violin, but falls miserably. His partner then glides out behind the footlights, playing a pleasing violin solo. She renders several selections in addition to giving a clever demonstration of dance steps. The act is a good one and won well merited applause.

Vaughn and Dreams in a singing act won instant favor and made a decided hit. One of the ladies has a rich baritone voice which led many to believe that a man was singing behind the wings, and her appearance caused no little surprise. Her companion played the accompaniments on the piano and in addition blended her voice in a duet which greatly pleased the large and appreciative audience. They were forced to respond to an encore at the conclusion of their act.

Skipper and Kastrup in a singing and talking act also made a hit. Both have pleasing voices and in addition have a touch of humor above the ordinary. The male member's facial expressions when called upon to change his act were a treat in themselves. The act was humorous and won hearty applause.

John Cutty opened his act with a "tax pot" violin, but falls miserably. He played selections on the piano and cornet. He is a clever musician and his playing brought forth rounds of applause.

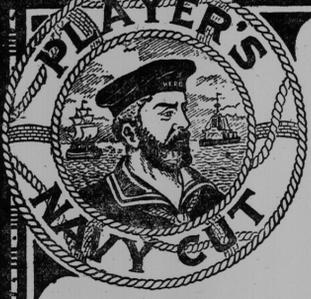

The Justa Trio concluded the programme. They are three colored persons, all dancing artists with ability far above the ordinary, and their work was a feature. Their many steps were cleverly executed and the act was full of life and action. The young woman is very graceful and her dancing was greeted by prolonged applause. The young man was in a class by himself and on the whole the act was good.

The episode of the "Mystery Ship" was, as usual, brim full of excitement. It has many features which mark it as one of the best yet shown in this popular serial. An air raid on the home of the mystery man and his subsequent injury or death leave all in suspense and eager to see the next reel.

USE AEROPLANES IN FIRE PREVENTION WORK IN PROVINCE FORESTS

Before Ten Years, is Opinion of Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines—Recent Destructive Outbreaks

(Frederickton Gleaner)

The two forest fires the last week did damage to the extent of nearly $60,000, according to figures presented at the Department of Lands and Mines today. The fire on the Sinclair limits, in Northumberland county, resulted in about $40,000 damage, which was principally to the supplies and warehouses of the Sinclair Lumber Company. The fire at Malaga Stream, between Kedgewick and Anderson, in Restigouche county, burned pulpwood and railway ties to the extent of about $18,000.

The section in Restigouche county, where the fire broke out early in the week, is the most important Crown Land section in the province; and, if the fire had not been put under control, it would have been the most serious loss that ever happened to the Crown Lands of the province. It was in the vicinity of Grouse and Hazen Settlements.

The department yesterday appointed P. W. Tapley a special fire prevention officer to take charge of this section, and to remain on the ground during the year.

Two other caretakers are also there.

Chief Forester Prince has returned after fighting the fire at Sinclair limits, forty miles from Grouse. He left here on Saturday by automobile and, after driving all night and most of the next day, struck into the forest on Sunday night. They started in with one hundred men on Monday to fight the fire, and about 11 o'clock the rain came on. This was a great aid in putting out the blaze. Ten men are now around the lakes at the head of the Nepliquit river. The machine will be able to take in several tons of provisions and cover in two hours distances which it now takes two weeks to haul provisions over a rough portage road. Aeroplanes similar to those which will probably be used by the forestry branch of the Lands and Mines Department in the near future.

May Use Aeroplanes

Before ten years aeroplanes may be used by the Department of Lands and Mines in forest fire prevention work, according to an opinion expressed by Lieut.-Col. Leggie, Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines, today. Other forestry men say that aeroplanes will be used by the department long before that time, and only the war at present prevents their use. The forestry department of the province of Quebec has two in use at the present time, one of which is around the Three Rivers territory.

The Man In The Street

Germany has been advancing almost as rapidly as the cost of living.

But the chief result of the advance is that a whole lot of Germans will worry no more about the cost of living.

If you do not believe that General Foch knows what to do next, ask your neighbor; he will tell you.

Might be a work of patriotism to collect all the free advice on how to run the war and use it to inflate a hot air balloon.

Germany will force her citizens to get married. Another Hun atrocity!

Representative of one of our South American allies remarks that his country is still in the war. Doesn't Webster define "still" as "motionless"?

Food is selling in Petrograd at from ten to twenty times ordinary prices. If that is the result of peace we need not kick about war prices.

Russian peasants, having looted the bourgeois, are now fighting among themselves over the division of the spoils. Which is another illustration of the beauties of capitalism.

As part of the war economy plans which limit the number of pets which may be kept, England is to take a census of the cats. Will the official record be described as a cat-log?

Banks open and close earlier in the future. Which makes a three-months note come due that much painfully earlier.

Having invented substitutes for leather boots, some enterprising manufacturers are now offering something to take the place of the substitute.

Charity becomes expensive when the housewife has to take out a $4 license before she can bake a cake for a pantry sale. Good-bye pantry sales.

The sun seems to be doing its little best to celebrate the first half-holiday by a victory over the Boy of Fandy.

Do you take a holiday on Monday?

The fact that a lot of citizens are dodging close contact with their neighbors these days does not necessarily indicate an unfriendly disposition; a sore arm likes a wide berth.

RELEASE SIX THIS EVENING

There has been no new smallpox cases reported to the health authorities during the last few days. Of the seventeen cases in the isolation hospital, not one is considered serious. The health authorities have decided to discharge six of the patients this evening and lift the quarantine on one of the houses in the city.

The house-to-house vaccination is still being continued and it will take a few days more before the whole city will have been covered. All precautions are being taken and it is hoped that the disease will be stamped out within the next few weeks.
