JAPAN WILL KEEP EYES ON SHANGHAI

TOKIO DENIES SENDING THREAT OF OCCUPATION

Policy of Watchful Waiting Only Will Be Followed

MARINES LAND

Government Optimistic That No Further Strike Riots Will Emerge

By J. FRANCIS MISSELWITZ United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKIO, June 6.—Japan will continue a policy of "watchful waiting" toward the Shanghai strike situation. This assurance emanated in positive form from the Foreign Office today, apropos of London reports yesterday that Tokio had sent a bribe, threatening landing forces at Shanghai and re-occupation of Tsing Tao.

Any such communication had been forwarded was strictly denied. Japan, it was explained, would act in the Chinese situation only in agreement with the other powers, and she desires only the fullest co-operation with them.

MARINES LAND

A handful of marines from the cruiser Tatsu has gone ashore at Shanghai but the government is optimistic that there will be no further Chinese riots there although it anticipates peaceful demonstrations at Canton and other cities.

The government deprecates that "responsible students" had been permitted to disturb the peace.

The London reports referred to above, claimed that Japan had sent a note virtually threatening China with a re-introduction of the famous twenty-one demands.

STILLMAN MUST PAY

$25,000 Due Mack as Baby Guy's Guardian—Gleason's Fees More.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 6.—Two fees amounting to more than $50,000 must be paid by James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank of New York, as part of the cost of the four-year proceedings for divorce brought by Stillman from his wife, Anne U. Stillman, it was reported here.

A fee of $25,000 is that of John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie, special guardian for Guy Stillman, whose legitimacy was involved in the suit. The fee of Referee Daniel Gleason of Poughkeepsie, who heard the testimony on the trial, is expected to aggregate more than $25,000.

The Court of Appeals unanimously affirmed the order of Supreme Court Justice Joseph S. Morschauser, approving Referee Gleason's report denying Stillman a divorce from his wife and it was said here today that the next step is for Stillman to pay the costs.

The total costs, including allowances, it is reported here, will be about $100,000, the allowances being those for special counsel for Mrs. Stillman to fight the appeal of her husband in the highest court.

RECORD CATCHES

Man Plunges to Death; Would Have Lived Had He Waited

NEW YORK, June 6.—Trapped on the fourth floor of a seven-story loft building at 34 Goerck street by a fire which prevented him reaching the stairway or fire escapes, Harry Englander, a hat manufacturer of Newark, N. J., dived from a window and was instantly killed.

Had the man not lost his presence of mind he probably would have been rescued by firemen who reached the building a few minutes after the alarm was sounded. Englander was caught alone in his hat factory and became so entangled that he did not stop to telephone in an alarm. A passer-by saw flames and smoke coming from the windows and called the firemen.

Englander and Max Schaffer were partners in the Class Hat Company in the rear part of the fourth floor. Schaffer was also owner of the Victory Hat Company in the front of the building. At the close of the day's business Schaffer went to the Victory place to talk over matters with one of his men while Englander stayed in the rear establishment going over his books.

The origin of the fire has not been determined, but shortly after Schaffer left the flames had spread to the little office where Englander was working. His escape down the stairs was cut off and he clambered out to a window, where he stood poised for a few moments before he leaped headlong to the street.

President of U. M. W. Local Amongst Seven Pickets Arrested

Canadian Press.

SYDNEY, N. S., June 6.—Following the arrest of seven members of the United Mine Workers of America, District 26, charged with "unlawfully assembling," at New Waterford and Dominion last night, a body of pickets, between 200 and 300 strong, invaded the power plant at No. 6 mine, the only remaining colliery where maintenance work had been carried on yesterday, and driving out the officials, shut down the pumps and the fans.

Thus the wage dispute between the British Empire Steel Corporation and its 12,000 employes today entered its fourth month with every mine in the Southern Cape Breton coal field closed down tight, the company's mines at Springhill abandoned and operations in the company's Pictou county areas at a standstill.

NO VIOLENCE

The raid at No. 6 was carried on without violence. The seven U. M. W. pickets arrested were lodged in the city jail here last night. Hugh Mackay, warden of the county jail, having refused, it is stated, to admit the men arrested by the company police in addition to sub-district board member Dan R. MacNeil, President Angus MacEachern of No. 12 local, New Waterford, was among those arrested and lodged in the Sydney jail.

Reports received up to a late hour this morning from various parts of the district, reported no unusual happenings.

ALLIED NOTE DEMANDS WAR PLANTS RAZED

Military Forces of Country Must Be Reduced to 100,000 Men

SECURITY POLICE ALSO TO BE FEWER

Compliance With Terms Necessary Before Evacuation of Rhine Territory.

LONDON, June 5—Germany's failure to carry out the disarmament requirements of the Versailles Treaty were outlined in detail in the note the Allied powers have presented to the German government, the text of which was made public here today.

The note was handed to Chancellor Luther in Berlin yesterday morning by Baron D'Abernon, the British ambassador, representing the council of ambassadors.

GERMANY MUST COMPLY.

Germany must comply with an extensive list of restrictions and demands before the disarmament obligations of the peace treaty are considered fulfilled, justifying the evacuation of Cologne, in accordance with article 429 of the Versailles pact.

The chief of these sweeping demands include radical modification of the Reichswehr general staff, reduction of the country's military forces to 100,000 men, and suppression of short-term enlistments. The military character of the security police must be abolished and the force itself reduced from 180,000 men to 150,000. Wholesale destruction of industrial plants of the Krupp and a dozen other big concerns which in their present state are held adaptable for the production of war material is demanded.

DEFAULTS TOLD IN DETAIL.

The note itself is not a long document, but it was accompanied by very long detailed annexes setting out in tables and in minute details what the allies consider Germany's defaults and the requirements which alone will justify the commencement of evacuation and the withdrawal of the allied control commission. After referring to previous communications and the report of the control commission which established Germany's short-comings, the note states the allied governments consider it of capital importance to place in the foreground of their argument that the defaults unless promptly rectified, would be in the aggregate enable the German government eventually to reconstitute an army modelled on the principles of a nation in arms.

CAMP GETS $53

The sum of $53 was handed to Miss H. Dykeman yesterday for the Lady Hyng summer camp at Fair Vale. The money was quarter of the proceeds of the opening game of the City Amateur Baseball League. Those responsible for the camp are most appreciative of the kindness and interest of the League and the very welcome donation will help materially in raising the funds necessary to maintain the camp this season.

An interesting report of the recent Dominion triennial convention of The King's Daughters, held in Montreal was given by Mrs. Edith Stevens, president of the Saint John City Union, at the meeting of the City Union in the Guild yesterday afternoon. SAINT JOHN, N. B., JUNE 6, 1925.

SEEKING A REMEDY.

The Maritime Provinces will see in the speeches of Hon. Mr. Meighen and of others who discussed his resolution in the House of Commons at least one ground for hope.

With respect to the proposal that the country at large should absorb some portion of the extra cost of transportation between the Maritimes and the Central Provinces on the one hand and between the Central Provinces and the West on the other, Mr. Forke, the Progressive leader, joins issue squarely with Mr. Meighen.

When he came to Mr. Meighen's proposals concerning concessions in transportation rates to the Maritimes and to the West, Mr. Forke became very critical. He said Mr. Meighen was going to help some sections of the Dominion by reducing freight rates at the expense of some other parts of the country.

Mr. Forke went beyond that, however. He reminded the House that agriculture is a great industry in Ontario. Two years ago Western Canadians raised a great many turkeys, and a surplus which could not be sold in the local markets was sent into Ontario.

Hon. Mr. Meighen, of course, had not overlooked that aspect of the question, but had indicated rather plainly that the more populous industrial parts of the country would pay the greater share of this extra taxation, practically in return for the kind of tariff he was advocating, which would be more beneficial to the Central Provinces than to the Maritimes or to the Prairies.

Hon. Mr. Meighen, the Prime Minister, Mr. Forke, Mr. Crerar, Dr. Baxter and others in the course of this debate all recognized the economic difficulties facing the Maritimes and the West to-day, and all spoke strongly and earnestly of the need for unity and for a broad national viewpoint.

In all this discussion practically nothing was said concerning an all-Canadian transportation policy. Yet these leaders must realize how important it is to all sections of Canada that we should retain for our own railways and ports a very great portion of the Canadian traffic which is now handled by American transportation agencies.

The leaders of all parties in the House realize that Canada is confronted with a difficult situation as regards the Maritimes and the Prairie Provinces, and logically they will be compelled to seek some better remedy for these conditions than they have yet devised.

INCOME TAXES.

"Make economy popular and it will be put into effect," said Mr. W. S. Morden, in presenting the report of the legislation committee at the annual meeting of the Manufacturers' Association in Hamilton.

The legislation committee expressed regret that income taxes in Canada have not been reduced, although there have been reductions in both Great Britain and the United States. Mr. Morden, in pleading for lower income taxes, asked how this country can expect to stand up in competition for either population or capital if it keeps its income taxes so high as compared with those in the United States.

ALARMING FIGURES.

The astonishing statement, supported by figures in detail, that the homicide rate in the United States for 1924 was double that of 1900, is made by a famous statistician employed by one of the American life insurance companies. He says that there were 11,000 murders in the United States last year.

That anxiety is justified is sufficiently illustrated by some comparisons. The number of murders per 100,000 of population in the United States is eight times as great as in Great Britain, and five times as great as in France.

American themselves are the most severe critics of the conditions complained of, and for some time past many of their public men and their newspapers, speaking along the lines so recently followed by the President, have referred frequently to the matter of crime detection and law enforcement as enviable and affording a constant object lesson.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE.

Public men of eminence in Britain, in Canada and in the United States have paid many fine tributes to the value of the Boy Scout movement. The development of many character and high ideals resulting from Scout training and the inculcation of Scout principles are being more generally recognized as the movement spreads.

At a recent testimonial dinner given in New York in honor of the retiring President of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, Colin H. Livingston, who has been head of the organization since it was founded in 1910, there was a special message from President Coolidge.

The Boy Scout organizations in the United States now have a membership of 750,000—"an army in preparation for the best performance of the highest civic duties," in the words of Mr. Coolidge.

A highly important development is the Government's order that the Railway Commission shall proceed with a revision of freight rates. In the order-in-council equalization is named as the end to be sought. The board is directed to give special attention to the encouragement of the movement of traffic through Canadian ports, and to the claim of the Maritimes that they are entitled to the rates which prevailed prior to 1919.

It is cruel to a generation of readers to be reminded that the "Ballad of the Wreck of the Hesperus" was not precisely founded on fact, says the Toronto Globe. This has been revealed by Helen A. Clarke in her book, "Longfellow's Countess," some 15 years ago, and the world went on just the same, but now it is proclaimed in news despatches from Boston.

Wonder Spots of The Empire

British Columbia Trees

The height and girth of the trees of British Columbia constitute probably the best known feature of the western province to those who reside in the central and eastern portions of the Dominion. The Pacific province has as large an assortment of trees as any other section of Canada, but the Douglas Fir and the Red or Giant Cedar, reach the greatest heights, often exceeding three hundred feet, and as much as twelve feet in diameter.

NO TRACE OF STOMACH TROUBLE FOR SEVEN YEARS

Health restored by "Fruit-a-tives."

"For years I was a martyr to Chronic Constipation and Dyspepsia. I tried various Cathartics, salts, and so-called vegetable laxatives, but without relief. Finally I decided to try 'Fruit-a-tives,' and in a short time found they were all that I claimed of them. They always act naturally, never causing griping, or nausea, nor having that weakening effect which so many other laxatives have. I have been using 'Fruit-a-tives' now for seven years and have never had a trace of constipation or stomach trouble since."

SO MUCH MEAT CAUSES GOUT

PERSONS suffering from gout should not eat meat.

Gout is due to an accumulation of uric acid in the body. The diet best adapted for persons suffering from gout is such as will enable them to eliminate uric acid from the system.

Since uric acid is one of the results of meat-eating, meat, of course, should be discarded. Doctor Hindhe, an eminent Scandinavian physician, who has given much attention to the study of diet, and who has, for many years, advocated a low-protein and low-fat diet, has published the results of an extended experiment in various exclusive diets, especially in relation to uric acid.

It has found that when the diet consisted of potatoes only, the uric acid was but slightly acid, and contained no uric acid. He finally discovered that the sine from a potato diet was capable of dissolving from one-half to a dram of uric acid daily. This was found to be true also when strawberries or milk, or both, were taken with the potatoes. A diet consisting largely of apples or tomatoes produced similar results.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON. MRS. BLACKBIRD'S STORY.

Mrs. Blackbird came to Doctor Bill's hospital one fine day, all ruffled up in a most untidy manner. It wasn't like Mrs. Blackbird a bit, because she keeps herself so sleek and shining she always looks as though she had been using brilliantine or bandolina or something like that on her feathers.

"Well, well, well," said the kind little bird doctor. "You certainly look as though you had been in a fight, Mrs. Blackbird. Were you?"

"No," croaked Mrs. Blackbird hoarsely. "I wasn't in a fight. At least I don't think I was. Do you call it a fight when you are protecting someone?"

"It all depends on how much protecting you have to do," said Doctor Bill. "Whom are you protecting, Mrs. Blackbird? Your children?"

"Well, not exactly," said Mrs. Blackbird. "At least I—well, I was sort of, too! For I was protecting a friend of my children. And by doing that, I guess I was protecting them."

"Who was it?" asked the Twins, who had been listening to every word that was said, and who were so curious by this time they could wait no longer.

"It was a hawk," said Mrs. Blackbird. "Oh, ho!" laughed Doctor Bill merrily. "That's a fine joke! You—protect a hawk! Why, Mrs. Blackbird, a hawk would eat you up at one bite. And as for being a friend to your children, you must be mistaken."

"No, I'm not mistaken at all," said Mrs. Blackbird sharply. "Maybe some hawks will eat blackbirds. Chicken-

"Will wonders never cease!" cried Doctor Bill. "And what did you do?"

"Well, where I was invited," said Mrs. Blackbird. "There was a lovely space between some sticks in the outside of Mrs. Flash-Hawk's nest, so I carried some straw and made a snug little nest of my own. There I hid my eggs and hatched out my family. One family outside and one family inside, you might say."

"But how did you get so ruffled up?" asked Nancy.

"Oh, yes!" said Mrs. Blackbird. "I almost forgot to tell you. In spite of Mrs. Flash-Hawk's kind heart, she has enemies. It's the way of the world, I guess."

"Humph!" croaked Mrs. Blackbird. "Why, that old bird-eagle that chased her was four times as big as she was."

"A bald-eagle!" cried Doctor Bill and the Twins. "You weren't fighting a bald-eagle, Mrs. Blackbird, surely?"

"Well, not exactly by myself," said Mrs. Blackbird, modestly.

BRAINLESS.

It is told of a certain school professor that a girl student once asked him whether peroxidizing the hair is injurious to the brain.

"No," replied the professor, positively.

"Why, I've heard it is," said the student.

"No," repeated the professor. "Any person who peroxidizes the hair hasn't any brain to injure."—London Tit-Bits.

Tell it to the World

Millions of dollars are spent annually by visitors in the State of Maine. Until a few years ago Maine was almost unknown as a haven for tourists—today it is one of the leading states in the production of tourist revenue.

There is no reason why New Brunswick should not secure just as much tourist traffic as Maine. In climatic conditions, in its facilities for fishing and hunting, and in practically everything which appeals to the vacationist this province has even more to offer than the neighboring state.

But, Maine has advertised extensively and New Brunswick's story has only been whispered.

On June 22 The Telegraph-Journal will publish a sixty-page Tourist Edition which will be abrim with articles and illustrations, representative of the entire province, of immense interest to the prospective tourist.

In order that the facts concerning our tourist attractions may be put in the hands of as many prospective visitors as possible everyone interested in boosting New Brunswick should send copies of this edition to friends and relatives in other parts of America.

Copies will be wrapped, addressed and mailed direct from The Telegraph-Journal office, the price being ten cents a copy. Orders may be left with any Telegraph-Journal newsdealer, or may be sent direct to this office by filling in the coupon below.

Orders should be mailed before June 15.

Write names and addresses clearly, enclosing ten cents for each copy ordered.

MINERS ARE HELD FOR UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLY

No Further Attempts to Remove Company Officials From Pits.

SYDNEY, June 6—Seven miners of the United Mine Workers of America, District 26, were arrested, yesterday, charged with "unlawful assembly" in connection with picketing at the New Waterford Power Plant of the British Empire Steel Corporation and the alleged forcible ejection of maintenance workers who have been keeping the light and water plant there in operation since the coal miners' strike began on March 6.

Those arrested included Sub-District Board Member Dan R. McNeill of New Waterford. They were lodged in jail, and Magistrate Campbell said they would probably be remanded in jail today to appear again in a week. Canadian Troops' Experiences Aid Move For Poison Gas Suppression

Veterans In Service

For two cents a week, boys in Saint John in the early '20's could secure the elements of an education, according to William B. Parks, ferry engineer who will complete 40 years of service on the ferry on August 5, 1925. "I was born in Simonds street, North End," he said to a Times-Star reporter, "my parents being Mr. and Mrs. William Parks. My father was a caulker by trade and I first went to school in the Orange Hall, Simonds street. The teacher then was John Brooks, father of John Brooks, the Mayor's clerk. There was another school I went to conducted by St. Luke's church where the Alexandra school now stands. The principal's name was Middleton and the charge for tuition weekly was two cents." When he left school, Mr. Parks went on the river steamer Rosy as a deck-hand. "At that time," he said, "there were four river steamers in operation and a big trade was done between this port and Fredericton. There were the Rosy and Olive, owned by E. Lunt & Sons, and the David Weston and the Prawn, owned by Hatheway & Small. Captain Samuel Weston, long since dead, was in charge of the Rosy. From the Rosy, Mr. Parks went to the harbor tug Hercules, owned by Tapley Bros, and from there he went into the ferry service in 1879. Previous to entering the service, the ferry privilege was leased to the N. B. Railway Company, connecting with Bangor, Me. The two ferry boats in service then were the Ouangoody and the Western Extension. The Ouangoody was built by Isaac Olive, still living, in the Olive shippard, and the engines were built and installed by Fleming's. The Ouangoody had a 125-foot keel. The Western Extension was built for the railway company at Millidgeville by Joseph K. Dunlop.

S. JONES WAS MAYOR Simon Jones was Mayor of the city when Mr. Parks went on the ferry and John Magee, he said, was largely responsible for getting him the job he has filled so creditably for nearly half a hundred years. "I was once in hospital for three weeks off once for illness. Mr. Parks' wife still is living as are his three sons and one daughter. The sons are: William M., holler inspector for the Travelers Assurance Company, Cleveland, O.; Harold, assistant superintendent of a steamship company,

BIG CLEAN-UP ON ONT. TRACK

U. S. Horsemen Surprise Bookmakers in Ottawa Betting on Tuesday

False Favorites are Created by Placing Large Amounts on Machines

OTTAWA, June 5—Bookmakers in Canada and the United States are said to have been staggered on Tuesday by the operations of a clever bunch of race track devotees at Connaught Park. According to the Citizen a syndicate of New York horsemen is said to have cleaned up thousands of dollars, not at the expense of Connaught Park patrons, but at that of bookmakers away from the local track. Ottawa people, in fact, reaped a harvest as a result of the several coups pulled off, as they got far larger prices than they would ordinarily have received.

According to the information obtained by the Citizen, the system is worked by six or eight of the cleverest track gamblers on the continent, who have come to Ottawa for the Connaught meet. These gamblers every day throw thousands of dollars into the machines, wagering on horses they believe will not win, thereby creating false favorites.

The gamblers then play the horse picked in the form and considered legitimate favorites, with bookmakers in several American and Canadian cities. Their favorites usually win, the betting on false favorites has increased the odds and the men who play this system, although they lose the thousands they spend in creating false favorites, have a goodly portion of the winnings from the bets they make with outside bookies. Their system is a risky, though legitimate one, and bookmakers in New York and Chicago are said to have been almost wiped out, as they had to pay three times what they expected. The action of the Americans in playing false favorites and thus lengthening the price on the winner which they would bet heavily in other places, is known in the parlance of the race track as "Dutching the book."

Children Look On As Father Is Slain

PARIS, June 5—Anastole Rosse, of Puteaux, yesterday failed to kill her husband with poison and by hitting him on the head with an earthenware jar, so she strangled him to death while her four children looked on.

When a visitor came to the house shortly after the slaying and asked to see her husband she pointed to the floor where Rosse lay and said: "There he is; I've just killed him. What can I do for you?"

GENEVA BODY FAVORS MOVE AGAINST IT

Arms Conference to Frame Special Protocol to Outlaw Use in War.

CANADA AND U. S. MEMBERS SUPPORT

First Contingents Suffering at Ypres in 1915 is Recalled.

GENEVA, June 6—Canada yesterday rallied to the idea of a conference to be held in Washington with a view to outlawing the use of poison gas in warfare, the suggestion having been advanced by T. E. Burton, the United States representative at the present conference on the control of arms.

The Canadian delegate, Dr. Walter A. Riddell, supported the proposal of Mr. Burton. He recalled the fact that it was the Canadian troops, the first division, who had stood the first shock of poison gas, when it was projected from the German trenches at Ypres, in April, 1915, thus emphasizing Canada's interest in any movement that would have for its aim the suppression of this method of waging war.

ELOQUENT APPEAL Thrilled by eloquent appeals from Paul Boncour, France, and Mr. Burton, the conference last night went on record in favor of the immediate framing of a special protocol by which the use of asphyxiating gas in war would be outlawed.

Walter P. Chrysler Stamps His Genius On Maxwell Results

Canada's enthusiasm for the new good Maxwell can be scored among the many triumphs of Walter P. Chrysler. Since this master manufacturer of motor cars directed his genius to the greater development of the Maxwell, the advance of this car in popularity has formed one of the most impressive chapters in Canadian automobile history. No man was ever better equipped by training, experience and ability to perform a revolutionary task. And revolutionary it proved to be, for in his determination to make the new good Maxwell the finest among fours in results, he produced a car with a score of outstanding performance qualities that no other four combines. Walter P. Chrysler stamped his genius on the new good Maxwell as he stamped it on the Chrysler Six and buyers of this car are profiting by the invaluable contributions this man has made to finer four-cylinder motoring. Unquestionably, the new good Maxwell occupies the preferred position among fours throughout the Dominion and its sales are mounting to new heights each month. RED DEER PASTOR PRESENTS DISSENT

Meeting Hears Objections and Puts Framing of Reply in Committee's Hands.

TORONTO, June 5.—Debate on church union was continued this afternoon. The second clause in the "declaration of principles" proposed by the union committee, which brought objections from non-concurrenats at the morning session, was adopted without a word of debate.

This declared that the church was entering union as "an organized living body," without loss of principle or practice. The third clause, declaring belief in the essential unity of all Christian people, likewise was adopted without debate, and then the report as a whole. There were about six times raised in objection to the adoption.

ENTERS DISSENT.

Rev. W. G. Brown, of Red Deer, Alta., then entered a dissent in behalf of the non-concurrenats, which, without debate was referred to the union committee to prepare a reply. Mr. Brown claimed that to date approximately 700 congregations had voted against organic union under the present plan; that there was a majority of about 10,000 Presbyterians against union in the vote already taken, and that the present assembly was not representative of the denominations in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. When he added, 3,432 unionists had 71 commissioners and 7,775 non-concurrenats had one commissioner. British Columbia had one non-concurrent commissioner, Montserrat one, and out of 70 Presbyterians, 49 he said, had no representation for the anti-unionists. No assembly so constituted, he declared, could fairly deal with a question of such magnitude.

DR. PIDGEON THANKED.

Mr. Brown's statement was ap-

Cuts Gasoline Cost

To 10 Cents a Gallon

SIOUX FALLS, S. Dak.—James A. May of 4009 H Street has perfected an amazing new device that is enabling car owners to cut their gasoline bills in half by doubling their mileage from gasoline used. Many owners have made over 40 miles on a gallon. It also removes carbon, increases motor power and pep, prevents spark plug trouble and over-heating. Anyone can install it in five minutes. Mr. May wants agents, and is offering to send one free to one auto owner in each locality. Write him today. 1918-6-6

UNION MEETING IN KNOX CHURCH HALL

Several Speakers Are Heard—Manner of Voting on Union is Given.

Under the auspices of the Presbytery of Saint John a well attended meeting was held last night in Knox church hall in the interests of church union. George McKinney was appointed chairman and the opening prayer was offered by Rev. J. S. Bonnell. Following addresses given by Rev. Hugh Miller, moderator of the Presbytery, and Mr. Bonnell, Rev. Prof. J. W. Falconer of Pine Hill College, Halifax, was heard in a very powerful speech. Dr. Falconer declared when no essential was surrendered in joining the United Church of Canada. He quoted Dr. Curtis, professor of theology at Edinburgh University, who had said that it would be a great thing for Protestantism when the union between the Congregationalists, Methodists and Presbyterians in Canada became an accomplished fact.

MARITIME AND PACIFIC RATES TO BE REVISED

Rail Board Plans to Aid Traffic Through Dominion Ports.

LEGISLATION GIVING AUTHORITY IMPENDS

Equalization of Charges to Fullest Extent Laid Down as Policy.

OTTAWA, June 5.—The board of railway commissioners has been instructed by the government under order in council to proceed with a revision of railway freight rates.

The railway board is to be unfettered in its investigation except in regard to the westbound rates of grain and flour.

POINTS ENJOYED

Furthermore, the railway board is directed in its investigation to have regard to the freest possible interchange of commodities between the various provinces and in particular to:

- 1. The claim asserted on behalf of the Maritime Provinces that they are entitled to the restoration of the rate basis which they enjoyed prior to 1919.
2. The encouragement of the movement of traffic through Canadian ports.

RULING BY COMMITTEE

The order-in-council is in the form of a ruling by the committee of the Privy Council (the cabinet) on the petition presented by the government of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba by way of appeal from the ruling of the Railway Board, which set aside the Crow's Nest Pass rates.

The committee observe that the agreement in question was made at a time when the Canadian Pacific Rail-

Toronto Mother Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—'I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a splendid medicine to take before and after confinement. A small book was put in my door one day advertising Lydia E. The expectant mother is wise if she considers carefully this statement of Mrs. Westwood. It is but one of a great many, all telling the same story—beneficial results. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for use during this period.

SAINT JOHN PRODUCTS ARE CARRIED TO MANY PARTS OF WORLD

Growth of Industry Since "Brush" Murphy's Time Is Tale of Progress With the Marching Years and Their Many Improvements

Simms Brush Business Pays $230,000 Wages In Year

Not All Shown Here, But Simms Plant Has 25,000 Panes of Glass

MEN SHALL BE SHAVED; city streets, dwellings, warehouses, garages, barns and buildings of every description shall be swept free from dirt accumulation; houses and property shall be painted; shoes polished, clothes washed clean and T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., brushes are doing this not only in Canada but in many other parts of the world. And they're made in Fairville, just across the road from Saint John City.

This prominent industry, employing from 250 to 300 employees, all local or Maritime men and women with the exception of a few specialists from outside points, has an annual payroll in the vicinity of $230,000 and is among the foremost of Canadian industries.

T. S. Simms and Co. Ltd., have agents in almost all of the large countries of the world. Twenty-five per cent of their Canadian trade is done in the Maritime Provinces, 25 per cent in Quebec and Eastern Ontario, 25 per cent of their goods are exported to various world countries but their best export market is the British West Indies.

FAR AFIELD.

T. Geddes Grant and Company has the West Indies agency, and the bulk of their products in the Canadian trade is produced in Ontario province and the western provinces of the Dominion.

In South America they are represented by an agent with headquarters at Montevideo, his territory including the Argentine, Chile, Peru, Rio Janeiro and Columbia. South Africa is on the agency map of the T. S. Simms Co., Ltd., and a representative of the firm takes care of Australia and New Zealand. The plant's London offices sell shaving and paint brushes to the British Isles and these are offices established in Montreal, Toronto, London, Ontario and Winnipeg. Their brushes are also sold, although on a smaller scale, in European and Asiatic countries. Thus it may readily be seen that few parts of the world are left unvisited by the Simms wares.

IMPORTS OF MATERIAL.

As their agencies are practically world-wide, so are the markets from which this company obtains its raw materials. Celluloid is purchased from England, the United States or Germany according to the quality and kind desired. Split bamboo and cane are brought from Japanese dealers; horsehair from all countries, fibres from India, Mexico and Africa, broom corn from Oklahoma and other western states and brush bristles from China, Russia, France, India, New York and London. All the lumber used by the plant in the manufacture of handles, for the various brushes, and which amounts to 600,000 superficial feet annually, is purchased in the Maritime Provinces. The handles, which are of the hair of which the best of Simms' shaving brushes are made, are obtained from Serbia, the silver-tipped handles providing the very best obtainable. The tin used is imported in sheets from England.

FIVE GENERAL LINES.

The products of the plant may be divided into five general lines, paint brushes, by far the greatest export product of the firm, shaving brushes, broom corns and household brushes of every description. This latter division includes stove, scrub, shoe and cane brushes, etc. Twisted wire brushes are also a popular production. The Simms factory shelters many separate industries under its roof. Formerly this plant, as many other brush factories are doing at the present day, manufactured brushes only and purchased their handles, ferrules, (the tin band which holds the rubber-berst bristles to the handle), and machinery from firms making those articles. Now there are departments in the building which manufacture them. A large number of the machines used in the plant are designed and made in the company's machine shop. The process taking place in the one building are as varied as those of one industry are from another. All machines in the factory are driven by electricity. In the brush business, as time advances, there is a necessity felt for a certain type of machine without which the firm feels that they are falling behind in efficiency, and consequently production, and the mechanics are requested to solve the problem and come forth with the desired machine. This they are constantly doing, under the capable superintendency of Andrew Patriquen. Two graduates of the Nova Scotia Technical College are maintained on the payroll the plant, and their chief duty is research work and to draught these machines and estimate their cost. The Simms firm has a completely equipped power house, which furnishes the heating steam for the plant, the dry kilns and various other drying processes.

SINCE 1872.

The business known today as the T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., was founded in 1872. One John Murphy, familiarly known to the elder group of the brush and broom craft as "Brush" Murphy, started to make brushes in Saint John in 1865, and seven years later this concern saw the appearance of Thomas Stockwell Simms, first as a partner and eventually as controlling owner. Mr. Simms was born at Raymond, Maine, in 1845. Early in 1866 he became a partner in the broom-making firm of Redland & Simms, on the outskirts of Portland. During his business trips to Saint John, Mr. Simms became acquainted with James Logan and Matthew Lindsay, who had interested themselves in the brush-making business of John Murphy, and who, feeling that the progress being made was unsatisfactory, induced Mr. Simms to come to this city and become an active partner of Mr. Murphy. One year prior to Mr. Simms' arrival in St. John, Mr. Murphy had built a four-story brick building at the corner of Union and Carmarthen streets, and it was in this building on October 9, 1872, that Mr. Simms formally entered the business. It is in the year 1873 that the first exact records of the business are to be found. In this year the total sales amounted to $21,912, and in the following year it valued $21,020. At the present time the Simms plant employs five to six times as many hands and has thirty times the first year's value in finished products.

THERE'S 51 YEARS.

It should be noted at this point that it was in July, 1874, that a 12-year-old boy, tired of school, obtained employment at the Simms plant. That "boy" is still doing his bit in the broom shop and is known to all who know the Simms family of workers as John Kennedy, senior employe of the firm and who has been with them for over 51 years. Mr. Kennedy has a close second for seniority honors in the person of another broom-maker, Ben Knowles, who at the age of 15, in August, 1874, first went into the service on the company. Early in 1881, Mr. Simms went to Europe for the purpose of getting advanced ideas and labor-saving devices in brush and broom-making. While away, G. Fred A. Anderson, then a boy in his teens and now vice-president and director of the firm, showed the business acumen with which those who know him are familiar. Mr. Anderson, single-handed, carried on the business successfully during the entire period of Mr. Simms' absence. On his return, Mr. Simms was made recipient of five handsome volumes by the German street Baptist church, of which up to the line of his duties was a faithful member and ardent supporter.

TO DOCK STREET.

On August 12, 1883, the building at the corner of Union and Carmarthen streets was destroyed by fire, but in a short time Mr. Simms opened up a plant in the Dock street building now occupied by Marcus' furniture store, and later, in the spring of 1884, moved the factory to the Starr building in Smythe street, where it remained until 1902. Early in November, 1898, the present president, L. W. Simms, anxious to earn a little Christmas money after school, got his first job in the plant, boring holes in brush blocks at the rate of five cents a thousand holes. The year 1902 marked another milestone in the progress of the organization as in March of that year, the Union street plant was begun and finished in October. It was also in June of that year that Lewis Simms decided to end his school career with the single year he had spent at Acadia and enter the business.

FAIRVILLE PLANT

During the years of 1911 and 1912, Messrs. Simms and Purdy studied and drew the details for the Fairville plant, built in the summer of 1912. That these plans were not only well thought out but effectively executed has been proven by the fact that very few changes have been necessary from that time up to the present day. There are 25,000 panes of glass in the plant. The factory is equipped with all modern conveniences, such as hot and cold water in all wash rooms, shower baths and first aid rooms. The plant is insured with the New England Senior Mutuals, and precautions and equipment against fire are maintained, as these are the only class of risks taken by these companies. A sprinkler system supplied from a 40,000 gallon tank on the roof and a 100,000 gallon tank on the ground with a 1,000 gallon steam fire pump protects every corner of the plant. There is also an air pressure system in the lumber shed and outside warehouses. The acute scarcity of fuel due to the war gave rise to the instituting of the Girls' Cottage in 1915. Beginning in a small way with accommodation for nine girls, this department grew until at the present time there have been 60 girls living in the Falls View Cottage, in the capable charge of Miss May Corbett, at the one time.

13 DEPARTMENTS

There are five stories to the Fairville plant, besides the lumber warehouse and the power house, and 13 separate departments. In the sub-basement the rooms for dipping and finishing the handles are located; the basement is used for the storage of household brushes awaiting removal to the shipping room; on the first floor are the woodworking, shaving brush and broom departments; on the second floor

The T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., formerly purchased a rubber compound to set their brushes in. It is a well known fact in the brush industry that the setting of the brush makes the brush. A few months ago, this compound was found to be unsatisfactory and then the firm made up their minds to make their own rubber compounds. As a result of this determination, the cost of the finished brush has been cut and production has been given a considerable impetus. The plant obtains its raw rubber from the big rubber houses in New York and other United States cities and other United States cities.

The compounding process changes the composition of the rubber entirely and this material is one that demands great care in mixing. A brush set in rubber—for example a shaving brush—is ten times as strong as it would even need to be. Some paint brushes were formerly set in glue, but painters found that this was very unsatisfactory as the glue would soften when mixed with certain liquids peculiar to the painting trade. A rubber-set brush may be brought into contact with almost any liquid and there will be no troublesome effects.

The broom corn, used in the manufacture of the brooms and whisks, is obtained practically exclusively from Oklahoma, Texas, and other of the western states. It is grown for the sole purpose of broom making and is not edible. The broom corn arrives at the Simms' plant in huge bales.

The corn stalks are cut off by a "striking" machine. Going through this machine, the stalkless corn emerges on horizontal, revolving belts under which are several small bins of various lengths. As the corn passes along these belts the 18-inch corn drops into the 18-inch bin and so on. The "sized" corn is then placed on a speedily revolving cylinder which thrashes it; in other words, the corn seeds are separated from the "hull" (corn).

The sorting process follows. The sorting of the corn for Simms' best brooms rests upon John Kennedy, veteran employe of the firm. Corn of different color is put aside for the cheaper broom products of the plant. The Simms Company purchases various grades of corn for the different grades of brooms. Some broom-making plants obtain a carload of broom corn and produce their best as well as their cheapest brooms from it. With the corn sorted, it is subjected to the hull stemming process, that is, the corn is separated into individual fibers. The long and fine fibers are used for the outer edges of the best brooms. These fibers also have to be sorted, the shorter lengths being used for the inside of the broom.

All corn is given a dye-bath which changes its color from the original yellow to a green shade. The bleaching process follows. The dye in the brooms. The corn is dyed to insure uniform greenness.

MAKING BROOMS. In making the brooms, a broom handle is placed in a clamping machine and wire attached to the end of the handle upon which the broom proper is to be placed. A quantity of corn, which has not been stalked, is weighed in a scale and the fibers are then followed by the outer and inner hairs. A cord is slipped around the corn, the housewife would probably call it straw, and it is ready for sewing and trimming.

In sewing the broom it is placed upside down in the sewing machine and strands of twine wound about the broom part. These are sewn to the broom part by the action of the machine. Following the sewing, the brooms are trimmed and sewn together in bales of twelve, for labelling and removal to the stock rooms, where they are kept prior to their removal to the shipping room. In the trimming process, the broom is placed on the horizontal part of the trimming machine and brought into contact with a rotating trimming wheel which takes off all uneven edges and trims the corn to a uniform length. In sewing the brooms, the fibers are in a bundle, it is necessary to have a skilled employe as it takes a knack, strange to the amateur, to sew the brooms together in such a way as to have six of modern times, made every effort to return, but made it fruitlessly. From them it gained its popular name. Later two brother explorers were reported to have discovered signs of the "Lost City." This report gained enough credence to warrant an equipped party being sent to start excavations in the hope of determining its actual existence. Their efforts met with success and the excavations by the Heye Foundations immediately followed.

BAN ON SUNDAY FISHING IN N.S. ASKED IN HOUSE. L. H. Martell Brings Matter Before Commons When Fisheries Estimates Up.

MINISTER TO GIVE HIS CONSIDERATION. Hansen Sees Sabbath Angling No More Harmful Than Golfing.

OTTAWA, June 5.—Followers of Isaac Walton who are prone to wield the rod and line and indulge in sport fishing on Sundays in Nova Scotia, came under discussion in the House of Commons this afternoon when an item for civil government administration in the fisheries branch of the department of Marine and Fisheries, was under consideration.

"Was there ever in existence," asked L. H. Martell, Liberal, Hants, "a regulation which prevented sport fishing on rivers or streams on Sunday, and if so,

Hot Dogs and Ice Cream Cones Banned In Maine State House

AUGUSTA, June 5.—No more hot dogs and no more ice cream cones for State House diners. That's the order hereafter and Jack McAuley, colored dispenser of these delicacies, is to say nothing of chicken sandwiches, chocolate cake, milk and ginger ale, must needs seek another source of income, to maintain the family since the death of his father. Jack McAuley, Sr., had built up a lucrative business in catering to the in-between-lunch needs of State House employes and in a popularity contest last fall, won the title of most popular man about the building. When the Legislature was in session the last winter, McAuley was on hand every day with a supply of good things to tide the busy lawmakers over the noon hour. He died suddenly in February after a short illness of pneumonia, but the lunch business was continued by his sons until the end of the session. Since that time Jack, Jr., has been carrying on on a smaller scale and his wares have been much sought after by the clerks, possibly too much. At any rate, the order has gone forth and lunches are a thing of the past. "Well, maybe we'll be just as well off," say some of the girls; "perhaps we were eating too many anyway."

is such a regulation still in effect in Nova Scotia?" "There is none," replied Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. "Has the department ever taken into consideration," Mr. Martell again asked, "the advisability of making Sunday a closed time in the interests of the fish themselves, in order that the fish may be able to get to their spawning grounds? I think that would aid the fisheries generally apart from the moral side. I think more harm is done by Sunday fishing than by all other fishing throughout the week. People go off in the morning and whip practically every stream. They are also the cause of setting fires. Moreover, there is a day set aside of rest—and that is the seventh day."

"How about Saturday?" interjected

R. B. Hanson, Conservative, York-Sunbury, to the amusement of the House. "You can take it from the scripture or in any other way," retorted Mr. Martell. "One day in seven is necessary physically as well as morally."

Hon. Mr. Cardin interjected to say that he agreed with Mr. Martell "from the viewpoint of the fish themselves." He did not see any more harm in sport fishing on Sunday than in Sunday golfing, motoring, or a dozen other healthful recreations.

Lost City of Nevada is Oldest Uncovered In North America

DENVER, Colo., June 5.—Additional details are filtering into this city from the Heye foundation's exploration of the "Lost City" in the southernmost tip of Nevada. This city is believed to be the oldest uncovered in North America. The discovery, in an expanse of heat and barren rock, 50 miles north of the Grand Canyon, was made by M. R. Harrington of the Museum of the American Indian. A small area of the buried city "Pueblo Grande," is has been named—has already been excavated. The only key to the time in which the city was built is in the formation and erosion of the rocks. Geologists are as yet at variance upon this point, some placing the date at ten thousand years ago, while others make a more conservative estimate of 100 B. C.—2,000 years ago. Pueblo Grande is in the immediate location of the Valley of Fire—a geological wonder in which layers of rock and sandstone of one startling hue are piled upon others of different and still more startling colors, giving an effect of a huge desert conflagration. The implements of the ancient people—red-skinned, presumably, who built the city, were made of jade and Jasper.

One point in which it is believed this city will differ from other Indian ruins is in the architecture of the houses. Evidence has been gathered which is expected to bear out the belief that the circular structures of "Pueblo Grande" were joined until a veritable palace of many chambers was formed. Graves found in the ruined city promise to be of great value in determining the civilization that built it. One skeleton was found surrounded with eight pottery bowls, while in another grave was found a skeleton, a dog and a rock hammer. Archaeologists believe they see in the ruins the marks of progress from one century to another. The governmental system is believed to have been a form of communism. The name of "Lost City" is popularly applied to the region by those who live in that section. Trappers and prospectors of decades ago are reported to have come upon the ruins of their wanderings, and although little realizing their value to the scientific man

The cars are of all makes, but the bigger percentage are large cars. Probably one of the best to go through so far was a $12,000 vehicle, owned by two daughters of Lieut.-Governor Douglas of Nova Scotia, who had come from Massachusetts and were going through to Halifax on a visit.

INFORMATION BUREAU.

The new information bureau, in charge of E. G. Beer at the Canadian end of the bridge, is now open and is proving a big asset to the tourist, who are handed out maps, booklets and all kinds of literature advertising the Maritime Provinces.

A good many inquiries are made about the boat leaving Saint John for Digby and about the P. E. Island boats.

TRENCH WARFARE IS 100 YEARS OLD British Claim it Was Originated in Burma by General Named Bandoola. By C. T. HALLINAN United Press Staff Correspondent LONDON, June 6—This is the hundredth anniversary of trench warfare, according to English military writers. Several American military textbooks assert that trench warfare originated in the American Civil War, but English authorities beg to differ. They say that the first military genius to conceive the brilliant idea was a Burmese named Bandoola who in 1826 sprang the British troops, then striving to conquer Burma. It was so successful, according to the military writers, that it held a strong British army at bay for a year, while thousands of white soldiers perished from scurvy, fever and experts who have been studying recent dysentery. This local Napoleon, according to the records of that campaign was a true military genius in the best sense of that much abused word. His instinct for checkmate was nothing short of inspired. He allowed the English to land at Rangoon under cover of their guns and never fired a shot or wasted a man. He tacitly said to them: "Take the blooming country if you like." Sweeps Country Fall of white man's pride, the British troops landed and started inland, but Bandoola swept the country bare of every bird and beast and hid his green thing until the British appalled at the prospect, came to a halt. Then Bandoola showed himself at the head of several thousand men and advanced upon the British in a great semicircle. The English prepared grimly to fight and as darkness fell they remained under arms practically all night. When dawn broke, the Burmese had dug themselves into trenches over the tops of which nothing showed but their spears. This is believed to be the first trench in military history. It took the British a year to beat this combination and 3,000 out of the original 8,500 who landed at Rangoon paid with their lives for Bandoola's genius. Furniture for Sale, Cheap. Thumbs Down On Tobacco In Tibet CALCUTTA, India, June 6—Tibet, land of the mediocrity, has banned tobacco smoking lest the "powerful gods of the country" be displeased. The Calcutta agency of a tobacco importing firm wrote Tibetan government suggesting that the nation's revenue might be considerably increased by permitting the importation of cigarettes. But the high and mighty Lhasa government wasn't having any. The habit, it replied, "might seriously displease the powerful gods of the country while the smoke might reasonably be expected adversely to affect the health of the people." STOPS WEDDING LONDON, June 6—Two well-dressed young women and a young man of nineteen entered a Grimby church, and were followed almost immediately by a middle-aged woman in a hurry. She seized the young man by the ear, and cried, "Come on home, my lad, you are not going to marry her." She then led him away.

MINISTER GIVES ANTI-UNION TALK Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison Delivers Address in Moncton Church. MONCTON, June 6—Rev. Dr. J. H. Morrison, of Saint John, who has been for some time addressing meetings on the subject of church union, was the speaker at a meeting in St. John's Presbyterian church last evening. In concluding his address, during which he expressed opposition to union, Dr. Morrison said: "I don't come to ask you to vote against union, and I don't come to ask you to vote for union. I come to tell you my story. I ask you to think the matter through, to face it and have the courage of your convictions. Life is short, and we don't want to say unkind words about anybody." Hugh Gardiner, who presided expressed thanks on behalf of the continuing Presbyterians for the use of the church, and also thanked Professor Rasmussen for presiding at the organ. Dr. Morrison left last night for Saint John. He addressed meetings on the North Shore during the last few days.

The annual inspection of Cadet Corps was continued yesterday afternoon and evening by Colonel W. B. Anderson, district officer commanding, and Colonel S. H. Hill, cadet inspector for Canada. In the afternoon the Corps of several city schools were inspected and in the evening those at Rothsary Collegiate School. At the conclusion of the inspection Colonel Hill expressed surprise at the apathy of the people of Saint John in connection with the Cadet movement, as shown by the lack of attendance at the inspections and said this was the only place in Canada where there had not been a number of prominent citizens present to encourage the boys in their work.

The inspecting officers were accompanied by Lieut.-Col. A. B. Snow, cadet officer for No. 7 district. The turn-out yesterday afternoon was rather disappointing to the inspectors as some boys were absent from each corps and one turned out only two members. In all 138 boys were in line for the inspection, which was held on St. Peter's grounds.

The schools inspected yesterday were King Edward, Winter street, St. John Baptist, Victoria, Central, Aberdeen, and St. Vincent's High.

In the evening the Rothsary Collegiate School Corps was inspected and Colonel Hill said it was the best corps he had inspected to date in all Canada.

NEXT CHRISTMAS WILL BE HOME ONE

Rev. E. C. Hennigar and Wife Get Advance of Year in Furlough.

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Hennigar, the former of Saint John and the latter of Sackville, are expected home on furlough this year from Japan. They will arrive for Christmas. The board of management made a ruling last fall that the missionaries who had been for some years on foreign fields should have their terms of service shortened and this has given many the opportunity to come to Canada this year, when in the ordinary sequence they would not be off duty until next year.

Rev. and Mrs. Hennigar and his wife have worked at Matsumoto and other stations in Japan, and have carried on extensive advertising work, which has formed an excellent medium to impart Christian teaching, through writing and lending libraries. Both were graduates of Mount Allison University and later studied in England and on the Continent. They will sail for home in November.

Saint John Nurse Home From South

Miss Gretchen M. Turner, R. N., who has been for four years at the head of the Standard Oil Company's hospital in Barranca Belina, Columbia, South America, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. D. Turner, 28 Paddock street, for four months. The vacation home is granted every two years. A sister, Miss Elvira Turner, R. N., is head of a hospital for the same concern at Carthagen. She left for her work two months ago.

Miss Turner has six English speaking nurses and a large number of orderlies under her supervision. The hospital contains 150 beds and is part of a colony of 300 English speaking people, who said that she did not find the climate nearly so enervating in Barranca Belina as in her short stay in New York and Boston, en route home. The heat there was intense, she said, and much harder to bear, with the shut-in conditions of living, as compared with the south, Spanish is spoken almost all the time by the nurses.

Births 26 And Deaths Number 18

Twenty-six births, 18 boys and eight girls, 16 marriages and 18 deaths were reported at the Health Centre for the week ending last night. The deaths were from the following causes: Senility, three; myocarditis, three; pulmonary tuberculosis, two; hydrocephalus, poisoning, lobes pneumonia, acute trichitis, cancer of stomach, carcinoma of prostate, fracture of skull, aneurism of aorta, infantile convulsions and tuberculosis of peritoneum, each one.

Stair Carpets and Hearth Rugs

A very important item in the furnishings of a house is the Stair Carpet, and particularly so in an upstairs flat where a tastefully covered stairway produces the first favorable impression of the house. In many cases, too, small rugs of the same material are required for small halls, doorways, etc., and we carry a splendid assortment of these, suitable for every room in the house.
