FRENCH FIGHT WAY INTO MAUREPAS WHILE BRITISH PUSH LINE FORWARD NORTHWEST OF POZIERES

Allies in Another Combined Attack Along the Somme Make Notable Gains and Successfully Check Enemy's Attempts to Recover Lost Ground—Russians Continue Drive in Galicia.

BRITISH GAIN ALONG FRONT OF NEARLY A MILE

Push Line Forward Near Pozieres Wresting 300 to 400 Yards of German Trenches.

THREE NIGHT RAIDS WERE SUCCESSFUL.

Heavy Casualties Inflicted on Huns While British Losses were Small Compared with Results Attained.

London, Aug. 13.—An important advance on the Somme front northeast of Pozieres was announced today by the war office.

The British pushed forward their line 300 or 400 yards over a front of nearly a mile. The announcement follows:

"On the plateau northwest of Bazentin-le-Petit we gained ground to the west of the main enemy trench. Northwest of Pozieres we made a further important advance of 300 or 400 yards over a front of nearly a mile. Our losses were light in spite of a heavy barrage by the enemy's artillery.

"Last night we carried out three successful raids on trenches of the enemy: the first southwest of La Puelle Farm on Wimpy Ridge; the second opposite Calonne, and the third east of Arpentieres. We inflicted many casualties on the enemy and captured a machine gun and prisoners.

"The enemy attempted a raid near the Hohenzollern redoubt, which was repulsed with loss by our infantry. Several Bavarian prisoners were captured. The enemy exploded a mine east of Cabaretzou, but we occupied the lip of the crater, and we fired three mines north of Notre Chapelle and also south of the quarries northeast of Huluch. The enemy made no attempt to occupy the crater."

Huns Beaten Back Near Guillemont.

London, Aug. 14.—The repulse of a German attack southeast of Guillemont is reported in an official statement issued tonight by the war office.

"The text of the statement follows: 'Southeast of Guillemont the enemy last night made an attack with bombs which we repulsed. On our right flank, except for some fairly heavy shelling of our front trenches and minor encounters with hostile detachments near Devils Wood, there was no event of importance.

"North of Pozieres the enemy were observed by aeroplanes to be concentrating large numbers behind Mousmet Farm. Our artillery was directed at them and was seen to be very effective, the enemy scattering wildly in all directions. No hostile attack developed. In the same neighborhood a working party of 500 Germans was surprised by our machine guns and lost heavily. On the remainder of the front there was nothing of importance except some hostile shelling of our back villages.

"Yesterday our flying corps carried out a long distance raid and did great damage to some railway works and sidings. Several short raids and reconnaissances were undertaken with good results. Hostile aircraft, although fairly active, avoided combat. We drove down an enemy machine and one of ours is missing."

German Version.

Berlin, Aug. 13, via London, 5.11 p. m.—The French and British hurled large masses of troops against German positions on the Somme front yesterday and last night. The official statement of today records no gains for the Allies, and says the assaults between Thiepval and Guillemont broke down with the heaviest losses.

French Are In Maurepas

Gain Footing in Village in Course of Advance Along Four Mile Front on Somme.

BRILLIANT DASH BY THE INFANTRY.

Number of Unwounded Prisoners Over a Thousand, and Thirty Machine Guns Captured.

Paris, Aug. 13.—At Maurepas, in which the French obtained a foothold yesterday, in the course of their advance along a front of four miles in the Somme region, the Germans delivered a counter-attack last night, centering their assault on the cemetery and church, the war office announced today. The Germans were repulsed sustaining a heavy loss.

On the Verdun front the French made slight progress southeast of Fleury. The statement follows:

"North of the Somme, the night was comparatively quiet. Our troops consolidated the positions on the conquered ground. A German attack from the direction of Combles against the church and cemetery at Maurepas which we occupied, was stopped by our machine guns, which inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. Eighty prisoners remained in our hands.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front), we have progressed slightly to the southeast of Fleury. The enemy attempted several small attacks in the same region, which were repulsed easily. The artillery on both sides was very active all along the sector.

"Adjutant Lenor yesterday brought down his seventh enemy aeroplane, which fell near Gincrey, department of Meuse, in which the German lines. Last night French bombing squadrons dropped 120 large bombs on the railway station at Metz-Sablons and on the railway workshops and barracks in Metz itself."

A Thousand Prisoners.

Paris, Aug. 13, via London.—The official statement issued by the war office tonight reads:

"North of the Somme, after preparatory fighting yesterday and last night, our troops today attacked the third German position extending from east of Hardecourt to the Somme opposite Buscourt. On this front of six and one-half kilometers our infantry with magnificent dash captured all the trenches and strongly fortified works on a depth of from six hundred to one thousand metres.

"We captured the village of Maurepas, of which the southern part and the cemetery are in our hands. We carried our new lines on the southern slopes of Hill 109, along the road from Maurepas to Clercy and on to the saddle west of Clercy.

"The number of unwounded prisoners taken by us and counted up to the present is one hundred, while thirty machine guns were captured.

"A German counter-attack between Clercy and Maurepas failed under our fire.

"South of the Somme we carried out numerous destructive bombardments on the enemy organizations in the region of Denicourt.

"On the Verdun front there was an intense artillery duel in the region of Fleury and Vaux Chaptire. 'The day was comparatively quiet on the rest of the front.'"

Further Progress.

Paris, Aug. 13, 1940 p. m.—The French have made further progress southeast of Maurepas, in the Somme sector, according to an official announcement issued by the war office tonight. A violent artillery duel is proceeding in the Barleux-Chaulnes sector.

"On the Verdun sector a German attack south of Avocourt Wood was repulsed. The text of the statement follows:

"North of the Somme no action by the enemy was attempted during the

NEW ALLIED CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY IN AFRICA

British and Belgians Working Together in Wide Encircling Movement Inaugurated Last Week.

FIFTY MILE MARCH THROUGH THE HILLS.

Belgians Occupy Karama — Allied Forces Under Gen. Smuts Closing in on the Teutons.

London, August 13 (8.55 p. m.)—The advance of a wide encircling movement by the British and Belgian forces in German East Africa is reported in an official statement issued by the war office today. The text of the statement follows:

"The forces under General Smuts began a simultaneous forward movement on August 5. A strong mounted force under Brigadier-General Enslin undertook a wide movement north and northwest of the Nguru mountains. After traversing the center mountains Gen. Enslin's troops emerged on August 8 at Mbonda Mission, between the mountains and the Kanga hills, overlooking the Mjonga Valley, completing an arduous march of fifty miles where transport was impossible.

"At the same time strong infantry forces moved into the Mjonga Valley from the north and to the eastward of the Kanga hills. On August 9th stubborn actions developed at Mbonda and Matamonda in the valley, lasting until August 11, when the enemy's resistance was broken at Matamonda and pursuit started down the valley.

"Further west Lieut.-Col. Vandevanter, after occupying Kilimandjia, Dodoma and Kikombo, on the central railway, pushed eastward through Kwanyanga on the main road to Mpwapwa and at nightfall on August 11 encountered the enemy in a strong position in a road defile at Tschunoo, ten miles west of Mpwapwa. The enemy was defeated and pursued by us. In all these engagements the enemy's losses were relatively severe.

"In the south our columns, after inflicting severe losses on the enemy at Malangali, are now approaching Iringa. On Lake Tanganyika we occupied Kirundo Island, also Kato. On the road from Bismarckburg, parallel to the eastern shore of the lake, the Belgians occupied Karama, fifty miles north of Kirundo. South of Lake Victoria Nyanza the British and Belgian columns are closely pressing the enemy on the roads to Tabora."

Celebrates 79th Birthday.

Many expressions of goodwill and hosts of congratulations marked the celebration on Saturday of the 79th birthday of Dr. George F. Matthews at his home at Gondola Point. A large number of friends called both in the afternoon and evening.

Minor combats enabled us to progress on the slopes of Hill 109, southeast of Maurepas. Artillery fighting continued somewhat violently in the sectors of Barleux and Chaulnes.

"On the left bank of the Meuse a strong German attack made yesterday evening on our lines south of Avocourt Wood was stopped by our barrage fire and hand grenades. There was an intermittent bombardment on the right bank. On the remainder of the front the day was calm. In the afternoon one of the enemy's long range guns fired four large calibre shells in the direction of Nancy."

Turk Forces In Retreat

Defeated Near the Seuz Canal Are Being Pursued by British Cavalry.

FIGHTING AGAIN IN MESOPOTAMIA

British After Long Inactivity Attack Along the Euphrates But Retreat After Brief Engagement.

London, Aug. 13, 2.38 p. m.—The British forces in Egypt are still driving back the Turks who were defeated in the recent battle east of the Suez Canal. The following announcement in regard to this campaign was given out here today:

"Our cavalry is still in pursuit of the Turkish rear guard, and yesterday evening had driven back the Turks to a position east of Birs-El-Manca. Although no material stores were found at Birs-El-Manca, there were large heaps of ashes in the vicinity of the abandoned Turkish positions."

The Turkish Version.

Constantinople, Aug. 13, via London, 6.52 p. m.—Heavy fighting has been resumed between the British and Turks along the front east of the Suez Canal, the war office announced today. The Turks attacked the British on the flank and inflicted heavy losses on them, the statement says, compelling them to retreat.

In Mesopotamia, where there has been a long period of quiet, the British made an attack, but retreated after a battle of two hours, leaving dead or wounded behind them. Turkish successes in Persia and on the Caucasian front also are reported. The statement follows:

"A portion of a British force which attacked our volunteer detachments in the vicinity of Masrieha, in the Euphrates sector, retreated after two hours of fighting, leaving behind a certain number of dead or wounded.

"In Persia our detachments dislodged the Russians from positions west of Kankaver and drove them eastward. We took some prisoners. The enemy, pursued by us, retreated with the main force to Eesadabad, on the Hamadan road. Our advance detachments reached Rahmedabad, 17 kilometers northwest of Kankaver and Husseinabad, 10 kilometers west of Kankaver our troops which on August 5 dislodged the enemy from Songur ejected him also from the Ezrin Pas, 23 kilometers east of Songur, and occupied the pass.

EVENTS OF WEEK-END IN WAR ZONES TOLD IN SHORT METRE

Hard fighting in the Somme region of France, in Galicia, and in the Italian theatre, with further gains for the Entente Allies in all three regions, marked the operations of Saturday night and Sunday.

Northwest of Pozieres, north of the Somme, the British made an advance of from 300 to 400 yards over a front of nearly a mile against the Germans and also captured trenches on the plateau northwest of Bazentin-Le-Petit, while the French southeast of Maurepas gained a further foothold on the slopes of Hill 109. The fighting near Ham and Maurepas continued through the entire night and into Sunday, the men repeatedly coming to grips in hand-to-hand encounters.

Mariampol, in Galicia, 7 miles southeast of Halicz, the town of Podgaj and several villages along the Upper Sereth river have fallen into the hands of the Russians. All along this front, even in the Carpathian region, Petrograd reports that the Russians are continuing their advance against the Austro-Germans.

On the Bystrizza sector and near Monasterzyka, however, Berlin says the Russians have been thrown back at several places by the counter-attacks of the Teutonic Allies.

The Duke of Austria is keeping up his strong offensive against the Austrians in the isonop region, having driven them from fortified positions in the Montafione and Gorizia sectors and made prisoners of more than 2,000 additional men.

Constantinople reports that the Turks east of the Suez Canal have turned to the attack against the British and compelled them to retreat with heavy losses. The London war office, however, disputes this statement, asserting that the British cavalry is still in pursuit of the Turkish rear-guard which Sunday evening had been driven back to a position east of Birs-El-Manca.

After a long period of inactivity in Mesopotamia attempted an advance against the Turks, but was repulsed after two hours' fighting. Further advances for the Turks against the Russians on the Persian front were in Turkish Armenia are claimed by Constantinople.

The controversy was laid before the president, at his invitation, after the workers had flatly refused any form of arbitration. They had refrused mediation yesterday. Soon after accepting the president's summons, extended through the federal board of mediation and conciliation, the men announced that the leaders of the four railroad brotherhoods would leave for Washington at midnight, accompanied by thirty of the 800 delegates assembled here. An hour later the railroad managers, nineteen in number, said that they would leave for the capital at the same time.

Both parties will reach Washington tomorrow in time for an early conference with President Wilson.

Czar's Armies Celebrate Fete Day of Grand Duke Alexis by Capturing Whole Region of Enemy's Main Winter Defences Before Tarnopol and Buczac.

Petrograd, Aug. 13, via London, 5.11 p. m.—The Russian drive in Galicia goes forward unchecked and, the war office announced today a number of additional villages have been captured. Russian forces have reached Mariampol, seven miles southeast of Halicz, the key to Lemberg. On the Upper Sereth, they have gained possession of a series of fortified positions.

Petrograd, Aug. 12, via London.—"The whole region of the main enemy winter positions before Tarnopol and Buczac" has fallen into the possession of the Russians, according to the official statement from general headquarters issued tonight. COULD AN ENEMY DO MORE?

The Liberal Ottawa Free Press assails those other Liberal newspapers which are attempting to claim that Hon. Robert Rogers and the Conservatives on the committee named to consider the reconstruction of the Dominion House of Commons buildings are untrustworthy. The Free Press asks whether the machine Grit press believes that the Liberal members of that committee are also crooks, and if not, how is the fact explained that these members have concurred in the actions and decisions of their fellow committee men. If, the Free Press contends, the Liberals on the committee are to be trusted then the newspapers attacking the Conservative members and particularly the Conservative Minister of Public Works, are merely engaged in an unwise attempt to keep the political pot boiling at the expense of any one who may be a political opponent.

The Free Press is correct, but it has no need to limit its remarks to the matter of the Parliament Buildings Committee. It can take up almost any activity or enterprise in which Conservatives have engaged and it will find the same sort of unprincipled criticism where there has been no ground for it.

The London Free Press, discussing the stand of its Ottawa contemporary, scathingly arraigns the petty critics and declares that their dastardly attempts to undermine the Canadian Government and destroy confidence in the men who are doing their level best to administer the affairs of this country are unworthy of Canadian journalism. "What better service," says the Free Press, "could these newspapers render to the German Kaiser than they are giving examples of every day? The presentation of the members of the Government as men who are without honor or capacity is undermining public confidence. Furthermore, this contemptible and dangerous campaign is conducted at a time when the nation's nerves are strung to a high pitch by reason of the stress through which the Empire and the whole civilized world is passing. Could Emperor William ask of any servant that he render greater service than to create distrust and uneasiness in the nations with which he is at war?"

"The Government," continues the Free Press, "has not asked that it be freed from criticism. Indeed, it has not often protested against the gross untruths which are daily circulated in sections of the Liberal press. It has left it to time to reveal the facts. Why, even the fustian inquiry failed to remove the falsity of the charges that were set up in the minds of many people by these newspapers. Sir Robert Borden, on the charges being presented, immediately constituted a court of inquiry, composed of jurists of the highest repute, and evenly balanced as to political predilections. He gave to the leader of the opposition the right to name counsel to insure the ferreting out of every vestige of truth in the case. The Government purse was placed at the disposal of this court and the prosecuting lawyers. And in due time the court gave its pronouncement. It absolved Sir Sam Hughes and the shell committee absolutely free from all suspicion of dishonorable conduct. How did these newspapers receive and present the report? With glaring type lines they published the deliberate falsehood that the charges had been proved!

"All honor to a newspaper like the Ottawa Free Press that has regard for fair play rather than party advantage, and that in this great crisis refuses to be a party to the effort of other Liberal journals to defeat a Government that, as Dr. Michael Clark, Liberal member for Red Deer, said on the floor of the House of Commons, is led by a Premier whose eye is single to the winning of the war."

SIR WILFRID'S PUPIL.

The Liberal newspapers which have contended that Henri Bourassa was the only man to preach in Quebec the doctrine that Canadian troops should not go to war in the interest of the Empire have, to date, failed to give prominence to Mr. Bourassa's reply to the highly patriotic communication he received from his cousin, Captain Talbot Papineau, grandson of Louis Papineau. In that reply Bourassa said in part:

"In 1896 your Liberal leaders and friends stumped the whole Province of Quebec with the cry 'Why Should We Fight for England?' From 1902 to 1911 Sir Wilfrid Laurier was acclaimed by them as the indomitable champion of Canada's autonomy against British imperialism. His resisting attitude at the Imperial conferences of 1902 and 1907 was praised to the skies. His famous phrase on 'the vortex of European militarism' and his determination upon keeping Canada far from it became the party's by-word—always in the Province of Quebec, of course. His Canadian navy scheme was presented as a step towards the independence of Canada."

There is much about Bourassa and his doctrines to which Canadians will not subscribe but at the same time to those familiar with conditions in the Province of Quebec it must be apparent that he is not far from the truth in his summing up of the Laurier activity. It has been patent for a long time that the influence of the Liberal party in that province has not been wholeheartedly directed towards participation in the war. True, Sir Wilfrid delivered some recruiting addresses—a few, but they were confined to localities where there was at least a fairly large proportion of English-Canadian electors. It is not on record that the Liberal leader, either by word or letter, rebuked those of his lieutenants in the province of his birth who openly advised against enlistment. When one considers that under Laurier the Liberal party has more than once reached a position dangerously near to a point where they might have favored separation from the Empire, the Laurier activity in Quebec will not come as a surprise. The climax came in the Laurier opposition to the plan to vote aid to the British navy when the Liberal press from Halifax to Vancouver was flooded with the statements of the Liberal leader and his lieutenants regarding the gross iniquity of a "policy of contribution." We must have a separate navy of our own, a Canadian navy to be built in Canada and entirely distinct from that of Britain. It did not worry these gentlemen that the Germans were even then ready to spring at the throat of Britain in an effort to gain world mastery, and that assistance from Canada to be of any value at all must come quickly and that there would be a waste of much valuable time if the ships were to be built here. These Liberal speakers and Liberal newspapers scoffed at the cry of emergency, they were then prepared to put their politics ahead of their patriotism and to favor the policy which they believed would best suit the exigencies of their party and their leader.

Today Canada is reaping the seeds sown in the days when politicians, in their zeal for party gain, trifled with or disregarded the things of account and in Quebec as elsewhere preached the gospel of separation and individuality. Bourassa was an apt student in that school and has not forsaken nor forgotten the doctrines of his teacher. Today he out-Lauriers Laurier for he still clings to the anti-imperialism in which the wearer of the white plume taught his Quebec compatriots to believe, while the war has caused Sir Wilfrid, himself, to adopt tactics somewhat different from those he formerly used. Bourassa is not a true Canadian but as he, himself, points out it does not rest in the power of Laurier to repudiate his pupil.

THE SINGING HIGHLANDER.

By John O. Irvine, With the British Army in France.

From a position near the front this afternoon, with the roar of heavy guns going on all around an endless procession of transport, ammunition and Red Cross wagons filling the roadways, I witnessed the passing to his rest camp of men who represented the survivors of one of the hardest experiences our troops have undergone during the past three weeks.

They were the regiments which have done most of the fighting in High Wood—or, as it is called on the French maps, Bois de Fouroux—and in the strip of territory which lies between this wood and the village of Longueval, with Devils Wood just beyond it, and who have borne also the brunt of the counter attacks which the Boches have launched with successive waves of fresh forces against us.

The regiments who have been engaged in these momentous episodes, and maintained right worthily the best traditions of the British Army, include men from the western and eastern counties, and Highlanders. These men had fought continuously, and maintained a ceaseless vigils day and night.

Routine Order.

They had passed through the trial of night bombardments. They had seen the dawn break—only as a signal to a renewal of the struggle at close quarters with bomb and bayonet. They had seen many gallant comrades fall by their side, but they had witnessed also the overbearing of the fiercest of the Emperor's troops. They had seen the Boches fall on their knees and beg for mercy or run like hares before them.

They knew that the struggle even in the limited area of their operations was by no means over, but the spirit within told them that they had gained the upper hand, that time is on our side, and that the tide of German domination is fast going out on the ebb. They were tattered and mud stained. But were they downhearted? No. As the kilts swung by the pipers who strutted in front of them were playing the inspiring strains of an old Scottish love ditty—a song of constancy in affection:—

I lo'e nae a laddie but aae
And he lo'es nae a lassie but me.

Other pipers were skirling forth the air familiarly known as "The cauld wind from Ben Wyvis," so the Gaelic word for emotion may be more picturesque, albeit unintelligible to the mind of the untutored Saxon. But as a man from Ross-shire, beside whom I marched for a brief part of the way, remarked: "Oh, aye, it may be a cauld wind that blows o'er Ben Wyvis, but I'm thinking it's a warm wind we've given the Germans. They'll not forget it in a hurry."

"But your own losses have been heavy," I said.

"Aye," he replied, "nae doot; but if you pick up the change I think you'll count the balance as on our side."

What They Played.

At a critical moment, when the signal to attack the enemy was given, the Highlanders were played into action by their pipers. "What did you play?" I asked one of them. "What could we play?" he replied, almost indignant. "We played of course, 'The Campbells are comin', and by God! the Germans went."

"Perfectly true," remarked a west countryman, "I don't say the Germans ran because they couldn't endure the pipes, but, by my faith, they did run. They ran so devilish fast that we couldn't overtake them."

"Take many prisoners?" I inquired.

"Well," he said, "you'd better ask the Jocks. For myself I saw nothing but dead and wounded Germans and the ones that bolted. There are some fine sprinters among them."

Most of the men I saw had lain out all night under heavy shellfire. Some of them had been in High Wood, where the Germans caught them in an enfilading fire. The troops, while waiting the order to advance, lay flat on the ground, and the shells inflicted comparatively little damage, though the Germans brought to bear on the position the original "Jack Johnsons," of which little has been heard recently—the black fellows which scoop out gigantic craters in the earth, but kill or maim those only who are ill-starred enough to be within the immediate circle of the "burst." They are expensive things to use, and since the days of fierce fighting around Ypres have been employed chiefly in the destruction of cathedrals and public monuments.

In Longueval we have discovered

Little Benny's Note Book

My sister Gladia was reading in the parlor, and I was trying to stand on my head against the wall and falling over every time just before I got all the way up, and Gladia sed, Benny, for hevvin sake we dont you go in some other room and stand on your head?

My dont you go in some other room and stand on your head? I sed, O all rite, wate till you want me to do sumthing for you, sed Gladia.

In ware? sed the waffle man and I sed, Ill show you. Wich I did, taking him into the parlor, and he saw Gladia reading and sed, Ixcuse me, lady, do you want to see me? And Gladia looked up surprized, saying, Waf, who are you?

The waffle man, sed the waffle man. Being a fat waffle man with a tern up nose, and Gladia sed, No I dont want to see you, Benny, this is one of your smart tricks, well, it didnt work, did it?

But how about me, sed the waffle man, how about my time being wasted this way, I got a famerly to support and I cant afford to have my time wasted wawking in houses and being told I aint wanted.

Well, sed Gladia, suppose you give me haff a durzin, then, I like waffles. And she gave him 5 cents and he went out to his waggin agen and made them, me following him out, and he put them in a bag and gave them to me, and I took them in to Gladia, saying, Give me one, Gladia?

Not in 1,000 years, sed Gladia. Wate do I care, I got one in my house, I sed. Wich I had, on account of taking it out of the bag on my way in, and I quick ran out agen and ate it.

FARM LABORERS LEAVE FOR WESTERN POINTS

Two Train Loads Take Away More than 2,500 for Harvest Work—An Orderly Lot of Men.

More than 2,500 farm laborers left on Saturday evening for the two harvesters' excursion trains bound for Winnipeg, at which point, as usual, the men will be distributed amongst different centres where the work of harvesting calls for their aid. The train leaving at 9.30 took away 872 and a second train, which left two hours later, had on board 884. At Fredericton there were picked up 185 more excursionists and at McAdam an additional 466, making a grand total of 2,506. Of this number nearly 700 came over on the Digby boat on Saturday.

M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., reported to the C.P.R. authorities that the passengers were sent away without a hitch, and that there was no trouble with them at all such as has been experienced in previous years, for they were a distinctly orderly class of people. Another excursion will take place in about a fortnight's time.

WHEN "GUM SHOE" FRANK WORE HEAVIER BOOTS

Another Carvell Story Which Proves that the Boy is Father of the Man—The Country School Bully of Years Ago is the Political Bully of Today.

Lakeville, Carleton County, N. B., August 11, 1916.

To the Editor of The Standard:
Sir—Your Woodstock correspondent has told the story of the silk hat. I would like to tell you another story concerning our illustrious Carvell.

The story is not a political one and is only of interest as a sidelight. True, it is a story of his boyhood days, but it is an old saying: "The boy is father to the man." I know of no one to whom this more truly applies than Frank Bradstreet Carvell.

Mr. Carvell was born hard by here, grew up among us and went to our public school. He was a stout, lusty, vigorous boy, large for his age and exceedingly muscular. Very early he realized these facts and some of us, his schoolmates, realized other characteristics. He was never chivalrous, always coarse, rough and smacking of the bully. His people were in very comfortable circumstances. He was kept in school longer than other boys of his age and was soon "the big boy" of the school. As soon as he realized he was "the big boy" he began to develop the bulldozing characteristics which have marked his public career in his manhood days.

As stated, his people were in comfortable circumstances. In those days the greater number of the children went barefoot to school; but Frank's parents were able to keep him shod. Being "the big boy" of the school he felt he could do about as he pleased, and one of the things that he found a very pleasing form of amusement was stepping on the feet of smaller boys, who were barefoot. He continued this practice, taking particular delight in the tears of the smaller boy, until one day, a boy of his own size and weight appeared in the school. The first day he was there, he caught the joker practising his special sport. Being of a different type, he pulled off his coat, went into the bully and gave him the finest trimming a boy ever got, proving Frank, as all bullies are, a coward.

The years went by. Carvell was running an election. He called upon one of these boys upon whose feet he had frequently trod, soliciting his franchise, and was promptly refused. He expressed his surprise, as his people were all Liberals. But the answer he got was: "Frank, shall I take off my boots and show you the prints of the nails of your boots upon my feet? They are still there, and I will not vote for you."

Wherever he has dared, Carvell has been stepping on people's toes, and has delighted in inflicting pain. Never in all his history has he been known to do a chivalrous act. If the spirits of Drysdale, Appleby and other old-time Liberals, now passed away, could speak, they would tell how he walked rough-shod over them: friend and foe, it has been all the same when it served his purpose. Would that all the people of New Brunswick could hear Henry McCain, of Florenceville, tell his tale of woe, of how his toes were trodden upon in the South African hay deal. With McCain it was a case of—falling out, when honest men got their dues. Poor old McCain's toes were badly lacerated and for several years were running sores, which Henry never lost an opportunity to exhibit, but they are healed now, and I wonder how many dollars were mixed with the salve which healed them. They are healed, but the scars are still there.

Up in Ottawa, he stepped on the toes of Dr. Edwards. The Doctor quickly invited him to step outside of the privileges of Parliament, where he is especially protected; and it is said that for weeks he dodged out side doors and down alleys, performing all sorts of stunts to avoid meeting the worthy Doctor, who was ready to punch him as thoroughly as his schoolmate did years ago. He undertook to tread upon the toes of the Grand Trunk Pacific. He threatened to resign if it did not come down the Valley. He made a speech against the cross country route; but Laurier doubled up his fist and Frankie cowed, and, like a little man, voted with his party. He undertook to put it over on B. Frank Smith, but he has found Smith a tough nut to crack. Smith has chased him pretty well out of the public life of the county. He would have had him out long ago, but Carvell had too many friends with long purses. There were too many returning officers who were "blind in one eye, and couldn't see out of the other."

Every rule of the game, from start to finish, was violated by the mob who supported him, and, protected by two governments, he has not yet got his knick-out, but it's at hand. Carleton County is done with the man, who, on the floors of the House of Commons, insulted and slandered the Brighton Engineers, a company of men who have made their names famous on the battlefields of Europe.

I could overlook in a degree his statements made in the heat of debate concerning our splendid boys, if he had the decency to apologize for his slanders; but not one word of apology, not one word of regret, has fallen from his lips. They may not have been angels, few of us are; whatever may have been the faults of some of our boys, they have redeemed themselves, some of them with their own blood, all of them by their sacrifice, while this ex-captain of militia played the coward; true, he offered his services, but we of Carleton County don't want him to think that we are unmindful of the fact that his offer was made under conditions that no self-respecting Minister of War could accept. Why did he not say to Sir Sam, "Here am I, send me;" without conditions or requirements, as did the noble men of the Brighton Engineers.

But there, what's the use of wasting words? We are waiting, just waiting, for election day.

A FRIEND OF THE BRIGHTON ENGINEERS.

ices were conducted in Moncton by Rev. Edward Savage. Interment was made in the old Catholic burying ground.

Fell Through Skylight.
The boy Murray McIntyre, who fell through a skylight above A. A. Powers' barber shop in Germain street, on Saturday morning, while engaged in carrying goods from Hecker's drug store, and was taken to the General Public Hospital, for treatment, is progressing favorably. It was stated early this morning by the hospital authorities. He is suffering principally from shock to the system, but his condition is not regarded as serious. His injuries include cuts about the head and back and an arm was also rather badly hurt.

DECORATION DAY OF THE 'PRENTICE BOYS

Graves of Deceased Members Visited by Comrades Yesterday—Large Number Attend Ceremony.

The Prentice Boys turned out in large numbers yesterday afternoon when the annual decoration of the graves of deceased members took place. About three hundred were present, John Carson acting as marshal assisted by Harry Sellen. Representatives of the following lodges were on hand: King Edward No. 30, Maple Leaf No. 40, Lorneville No. 34, and Grand Bay No. 51. An absent member much missed was Frank Thomas who has given his life on the field of battle.

The graves decorated numbered about twenty, most of which are at Cedar Hill. These latter include the resting places of George Cameron, William Rolston, Robert Currie, George Campbell, Israel Patchell, Leonard Smith, Harry Nice, James Munday, Charles McGinn, Fred Carvell and William Davis. Representatives were present at each of the cemeteries where lie the bodies of comrades. Bunches of flowers were placed on each grave after a circle had been formed around it by the members, one of whom read the short service of the P. A. P. B.

The scene on these annual occasions is always impressive and the proceedings yesterday were marked by much earnest feeling. The Temple band headed the procession from the headquarters of Maple Leaf Lodge at Fairville to Cedar Hill cemetery.

BINGEN LIGHT
WINNER IN THE
FREE-FOR-ALL

Good Programme of Races for Turf Followers at Moosepath on Saturday.

Bingen Light won the Free-for-All Saturday at Moosepath, although it took four heats to decide the race, Little Jimmy proving a real contender in every heat. They were the only two starters in this race. Bingen Light won the first two heats, with Little Jimmy fighting all the way. In the third heat the little horse managed to beat Bingen Light on the home stretch, although it was a tight sprint.

In the named race, which was only half a mile, Cassie W. captured first money, and Lady Kickaboo second. For second money it was a toss up between the Lady and King William, but after the first heat, which was won by King William, Lady Kickaboo gained speed, winning the last two heats in succession.

SWIMMING RECORDS BROKEN.
Mark Burns, swimming instructor at the city baths in West St. John, informs The Standard that two world records were broken in the harbor yesterday afternoon. He says that William J. McNulty made a two-mile swim from the city bath house to Union street west to the Eastern Steamship Line dock and return in sixty-five minutes, two minutes ahead of the record of sixty-seven minutes, held by Ben James of Boston. Arthur Quigg of Fairville swam from the bath house to the Eastern Line dock in the world's record time of twenty-five minutes. Mr. Burns claims that the distance is one mile each way. The conditions of the tide and water favored the swim from the bath house to the east side of the harbor, but the return trip was very difficult. On Saturday Charles Day and Arthur Ready swam from the bath house to the Eastern Steamship dock. In two weeks another attempt will be made to make return trip for the one mile distance over the same course. The effort will be made under the supervision of Instructor Burns who was looking after the swimmers yesterday.

General news of the day was of a nature to cause a change in sterling or rates of exchange other than that of the pound. Contrary to expectations, the statement failed to reflect large accessions of gold from the Treasury, and instead of an actual cash gain, a loss was disclosed in the Treasury's account of gold, with a loan expansion of $12,000,000 and a decrease in reserves of more than $10,000,000.

Bonds were steady today, offerings of the new French 5's were $11,000,000. Government bonds were steady on call during the week.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL WORLD

METALS FEATURE ON WALL ST. SATURDAY

Rise in Coppers Ranging From One to Almost Three Points, EXTREME DECLINE IN MARINE SHARES

Moderate Loss in Bank Statement—Bonds Steady with Large Offerings of Anglo-French 5's.

New York, Aug. 12.—Metal shares were the conspicuous features of today's short session, which was characterized by the usual week-end settling of professional contracts. Rails continued under the handicap resulting from the dubious state of the labor situation, and manifested marked heaviness before close.

The rise in coppers which ranged from one to almost three points, was based upon reports that foreign interests, chiefly British, were about to close contracts for enormous quantities of the refined metal, running into the coming year. American Smelting and the zinc issues shared in the movement, which was well sustained. Changes elsewhere in the active list were without much significance, except among shipping issues. Mercantile Marine preferred made an extreme decline of 2 1/2 points on an announcement of the plan of capital re-adjustment, with a one-point loss for Atlantic Gulf and West Indies.

Munitions equipment and motors held their ground or registered moderate gains, with an additional five points for General Motors, which attained a new high record at 585. Miscellaneous specialties were relatively quiet and irregular. Total sales amounted to 285,000 shares.

General news of the day included a hardening of francs, with no material change in sterling or rates to continental centers either in Paris. Contrary to expectation, the bank statement failed to reflect the week's large accretions of gold from Canada. Instead of an actual cash gain, a moderate loss was disclosed in that item, with a loss expansion of slightly more than $23,000,000 and a decrease in excess reserves of more than $9,000,000. Bonds were steady today, with large offerings of the new French notes. Total sales, par value, $1,110,000. Government bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

FIFTEEN P.C. OF ENTIRE OUTPUT OF COPPER FOR 1917

Munitions Makers in U.S. Negotiating for the Purchase of 250,000.00 Pounds of Copper.

Special to The Standard. New York, Aug. 12.—Manufacturers supplying the Allies with munitions are negotiating for the largest copper purchase ever made in the United States. The amount required will be 250,000,000 pounds—about fifteen per cent. of the country's entire prospective output for 1917. At present prices $70,000,000 will be involved.

U. S. Steel Corporation Gets Big Order. Contracts calling for 500,000 tons of shell steel, and valued at $34,000,000 were closed yesterday between representatives of the Allies and the United States Steel Corporation acting with several large independent companies. This business is the largest steel contract placed in this country since the war began.

E. & C. RANDOLPH ON NEW YORK MARKET

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.) New York, August 12.—Strength in the copper stocks was the feature of today's markets. Outside of that there was little doing except for profit-taking sales in Mercantile Marine, following the announcement of the reorganization plan and continued activity in reading which advanced farther and then sold off. The strength in the copper stocks was credited to reports of heavy demand for metal abroad, said to be sufficient to absorb our entire output for a long time ahead, and was somewhat in the nature of a belated response to the excellent quarterly reports issued earlier in the week by several of the companies. It was announced that efforts of the mediation board in the railway wage controversy had failed and that the Brotherhoods were now considering the question of arbitration. The movements in the market are professional and not of a convincing nature realizing the amount of stock which is still held in Wall Street and which comes on the market whenever prices show strength. The announcement just before noon that 35,000 men of the militia now in mobilization camps would be sent to the Mexican border received considerable attention and was generally connected with the morning papers report that Carranza is now held a prisoner in Mexico City. Sales 260,500. Bonds $2,116,500.

E. & C. RANDOLPH.

NORTHERN OHIO TRACTION AND LIGHT

Special to The Standard. New York, Aug. 12.—Northern Ohio Traction and Light common stock has advanced to 91 on expectations of the sale of control of the company to a New York banking syndicate and also on the large gains being made in earnings. These gains have been steady and large since the first of the year, and for July receipts from passenger traffic on the lines of the company showed a gain of $71,822 over July, 1915, or an average gain of $2,316 a day. The average daily passenger receipts in July were $11,298. To these are to be added the revenue from other services on the railway lines and the light and power revenue which are showing as large, if not larger, gains than the electric railway revenues.

The folder deals with the irrigation enterprises in the neighborhood of Calgary. It is handsomely illustrated and complete with valuable information for the farmer and home-builder. A copy may be had free by writing the Publicity Branch, Department of Natural Resources, Calgary, Alberta.

FISH CONTINUES SCARCE.

There was only a moderate supply of fresh fish on Saturday. The demand for sardines, which was quite brisk last week, was in part satisfied by two fairly good catches. On Saturday morning about fifteen headsheds of sardines were taken in the weir at Negretown Point.

GOLD PAN MINING COMPANY FORMED

Mining Properties in Manitoba Purchased for New York Interests, and Company Formed to Develop.

Special to The Standard. Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—Henry Cecil, of Halseybury, Ont., has been in Manitoba for the past month investigating the Rice Lake gold field and this week made a deal with Angus McDonald, the discoverer of the new field, by which the largest mining company in connection with Manitoba's prospective gold camp has been brought into existence. Mr. Cecil, who is acting for New York interests, has purchased the gold pan, gold seal and gold plan traction properties covering altogether 147 acres and they will be known under the name of the Gold Pan Mining Co., Ltd. It is understood that Angus McDonald has received half a million dollars for these properties. Mr. Cecil stated that he intends to start development work right away. The equipment has already been ordered. There is at present a shaft 135 feet down on the original gold pan property. There will of course be a promotion in connection with the purchase and it is hoped to list the stock in Toronto and New York.

EDUCATION VITAL AFTER WAR REFORM CRUSADE

British House of Lords Debates Merits of Classics Versus Sciences.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS PRESSING PROBLEM

In England 18,000 Enter Universities Each Year—Only 1,500 Trained Chemists in the Whole Country.

London, August 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Education is one of the most vital of the after-war reform crusades which are agitating the public mind.

The Oxford and Cambridge traditions of instilling a little old-school learning in the way of Latin and Greek, hand in hand with really expert knowledge of cricket and judgment of the virtues of port, are to be scrapped to make room for chemists and engineers.

The American educational system should be cited on the side of the "humanities" in a debate over the merits of the classical versus scientific education.

The application of science was becoming a necessity, but was discouraged because nearly all the scholars in the country are allotted to the professions.

Lord Haldane had much to say about the German system. He made a plea for schooling in the practical sciences, but first and throughout a plea for more schooling.

Probably no other parliamentary body in the world could have provided an entertainment in exactly the same atmosphere of this in the lords.

The elder statesmen have no rules. They are more like a club, even than the American senate.

Lord Haldane asserted that the secondary schools are the strongest point in the German system, and the most pressing problem in the British system. It was a defect in the German system that a hard and fast line was drawn between various classes of the nation—the aristocratic class, the middle class and the democracy.

In England out of 2,750,000 boys and girls between the ages of twelve and sixteen years, only 1,100,000 get any education after the age of thirteen.

Only 250,000 go to proper secondary schools, and most of them only for a short time. Thus quantity as well as quality is deficient.

"I hold my countrymen in some respect higher than the people of other nations," said Lord Haldane, "but where we have been lacking was in the scientific direction of our abundant energy, and in order to obtain that scientific direction training and education are necessary of a kind we have not yet known, which other nations are putting into practice, and which, if we ourselves do not learn and supply we shall find ourselves inevitably left behind."

"I am not talking of any particular nation. It is sufficient for me to take the case of Switzerland and the United States of America. Switzerland puts us to shame in respect of her national system of education, and in the United States there is a keenness and activity about the whole subject which we would do well to take note of."

"The application of science was becoming a necessity, but was discouraged because nearly all the scholars in the country are allotted to the professions. There was no use telling manufacturers to employ more chemists when the country was not training them."

"One striking thing which fills me with hope is that we are now thoroughly awakened to the necessity of action. Everywhere we see the most magnificent public spirit. People are ready not only to contribute their money and pay taxes, but the sons and daughters of all classes are ready to throw their energies and abilities into the production of the things necessary to ensure victory."

"The real value of classical and humanistic education is not so much to turn out a few men of deep learning as to create a certain atmosphere of thought and to give the whole uneducated mind of the country a certain direction and tendency."

"The elder statesmen have no rules. They are more like a club, even than the American senate. Any 'noble lord' rises and speaks as the spirit moves him on any topic from Mesopotamia to the Shakespearean century."

Lord Haldane asserted that the secondary schools are the strongest point in the German system, and the most pressing problem in the British system.

capac impert in the very best sense of the term. Can Germany produce anything of that sort? Can Germany produce the incomparable imperial agents who are to be found all over the British empire? I reply most emphatically she can do nothing of the kind.

"Nothing struck me so forcibly when I was in America some years ago as that the education of the women was vastly superior to that of the men. All the young American men from 16 and 17 upwards seemed to be thinking of nothing but of turning the almost dollar. Since that time I believe a considerable change has come over American thought."

"The important feature of the application of science might have upon their business."

When Cutting Teeth Babies are Subject to DIARRHOEA.

When the baby starts to cut its teeth, then is the time that the poor mother is under the stress of great anxiety. For some reason or other the baby's bowels become loose, and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and many other bowel complaints occur; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow.

MEMORY. Day long sometimes, it seems that I forget. And in my crowded hour comes no thought of you. So much there is to plan, so much to do. My plot to till, my house in order set. So goes my day—and then, Oh Marvel yet! A street turn or a name—a sundown hue. And you are with me as of old I knew. And I am singing, though my eyes are wet.

Head Writing. Does this quotation from "Mr. Knox and His Country" by the author of "An Irish R. M.," describe the handwriting of anyone you know? My friends say they would enjoy my letters if they could read them! But one does trust to the intellect of one's friends.

Hand Writing. "I too had encountered Mrs. Knox's handwriting and realized the high imaginative and deductive qualities needed in its interpretation—no individual word was decipherable but with a bold reader groups could be made to conform to a scheme based upon probabilities."

From a Woman's Point of View. Reliability. We hear a great deal about what women are doing of the sacrifices they have made, and of the splendid assistance they have given in all the relief work which has been needed in the sad results of this fearful war. There is no doubt of the sacrifice, there is no doubt of the huge amount of unselfish labor, but I hope no man will read this some of our women have fallen in reliability. Every head of any society will tell you (one told me this morning) that unfortunately there is a lack of conscientious workers. For instance there is an entertainment to be arranged for—so many waitresses needed. The convenor of the tea committee gets a list of so many girls, and after much time spent sitting at the telephone gets the desired number.

On the day appointed her telephone rings and "Betty" is very sorry but she won't be able to come this afternoon. Poor Mrs. Convenor had probably asked every girl she could think of, and anyway she hasn't a moment to stop, to phone a half dozen people, so probably eight girls have to do the work of fifteen, and "Betty" goes down many pages in the opinion of the convenor and her friends.

Apart from this (and it is a true story about much more time spent things than a tea, only I'm not allowed to tell it) if each person who could not come got a reliable substitute the circle of workers would widen and others would become interested in the patriotic or charitable endeavor, whatever it may be.

I could give you names of girls living in this city who to my certain knowledge have refused invitations to the country because it was their day at the Convalescent Home or the meeting of their society, and there are the large band of the faithful who do the world. Those are the women who are admired and respected, and it is the self-sacrificing, conscientious worker who will redeem women from the charge of unreliability.

New blouses from Paris are of silk green, one most attractive model being embroidered in delicate coral silk. This blouse closes in the front, has a turned-down collar and small revers, wrist-length sleeves attached to drop shoulder armholes and a gathered plum bordered with the embroidery in a dainty floral pattern. There is an extremely narrow belt of leather and kid, with buckled fastenings are a coming smart accessory of dress.

Hampton. Aug. 11.—The Sunday school of St. Paul's Episcopal church held an excursion and basket picnic on Tuesday afternoon, 8th inst., at "The Willows," a point about ten miles down the Kennebecas river from Hampton. The weather was favorable, being delightfully cool, and although the morning had been rainy that fact rather helped than hindered the attending as there were some free to attend who could not have taken a perfectly dry day from the pressing work of hay. Shortly after one o'clock the steamer Hampton, in charge of Capt. Belyea, left for the picnic. The boat was full of board and after a delightful sail arrived at the Willows about three o'clock, where a splendid programme of sports was carried out including races for the different ages (boys and girls), sack races, bean toss, rifle shooting, swimming, etc., for which suitable prizes were awarded. Support was served about half past five and the boat left on her return trip at seven o'clock, arriving in Hampton about half past eight. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent by all who attended.

Who's Who and What's What in the Picture World and on the Stage—Favorites and What They Say and Do.

THE UP-RIVER TRIP. To show Mr. F. J. Richardson the St. John River and to entertain the visiting motion picture men a trip to Brown's Flats and back was arranged for yesterday. The tug Lord Kitchener left Inlandtown wharf at eleven o'clock and returned at four in the afternoon. Luncheon was served on board. It was a beautiful day and the excursion was much enjoyed by all the guests. On the return trip speeches were made by Mr. N. V. Gastonguay of Halifax, Mr. S. W. Dimock of Campbellton and Mr. A. E. Wall of the chief Board of Officers of Nova Scotia, expressing the thanks of the visiting motion picture men for the delightful outing and uttering the hope that this meeting in St. John might lead to the organization of those interested in the motion picture business. A cordial invitation was extended for a meeting to be held in Halifax. The date—suggested by Mr. J. M. Franklin of Halifax—is September 16th, during the week of the Halifax exhibition.

The Leprechaun—Do You Know It? What is a leprechaun? Director K. Searle Dawley called his assistant to him the other day and told him to have five of those things at the Famous Players studio by nine-thirty the following morning, says Motion Picture News. The assistant was floored for an instant. Then he decided that since the picture on which he was working was Marguerite Clarke's "Little Lady Eileen," an Irish fairy story, he might get some information from an Irishman. Carefully avoiding the subject of Home Rule, he addressed himself to a brawny some shifter and asked him what it was all about. "A leprechaun, did he say?" replied the Irishman as he shifted a table which he was carrying, from one hip to the other. "Sure thim's nawthin' but fairies and sich."

And Dawley got his leprechauns. Did you get the pronunciation also? Leprechaun (uttered as spell) is correct, I believe.

HAZEL DAWN IN POWERFUL DRAMA. Famous Players' Star in "The Feud Girl"—A Revelation.

When these pioneer producers determined to stage this big story of the feud country it was at once decided that Miss Dawn and her supporting cast should be sent to the mountains to obtain the proper atmosphere for the settings. Accordingly Director Frederick Thomson took the players to the northern part of Georgia where the woods are still full of game and the mountains for miles and miles are undelled by the habitations of man—as the poet would have it.

It is a big, rugged country which itself suggests the force of the story and the strength of character of the mountain lass about whom the action centers. For the actual feud scenes, nobody but real mountaineers, many of whom have actually fought in the feuds that have raged in those very hills, were engaged to appear. Never since the last feud came to an end has this quiet mountain community been so stirred as it was during the six weeks which were consumed in staging "The Feud Girl," which, by the way, is the first picture of this nature which was ever photographed in a bona fide feud country. Many were the points which were learned from his weather-beaten "supers" by the director and it is said that some of the incidents which are depicted in the photoplay are actual reproductions of scenes which transpired in deadly earnest some years before.

Nell Haddon, the girl into whose impersonation Miss Dawn has projected her delightful personality and remarkable histrionic powers, is a typical daughter of the mountains. Her father is the head of the Haddon clan which has fought the Bassett faction for years over the possession of Iron Mountain, which lies between them. In order to avoid carrying out the compromise scheme which has been suggested by her father, of marrying a Bassett, Nell declares that she will wed the Haddon who wins her in a lottery.

But she so arranges the ballots that the choice falls upon a young stranger, Dave Rand, with whom she falls in love. After they have been married a short time, the terrible realization is brought to Nell that Dave has lied to her—that he is a Bassett. From that point on the action is swift and intensely dramatic as the love and trust of girl suddenly turns to hate.

Miss Dawn has among her supporting cast Irving Cummings, Arthur Morrison, Hardie Kirkland, George Majeroni, Gertrude Norman, Russell Simpson and others.

"The Feud Girl" today—it is a good picture and you will like it.

GURTAIN FLASHES. The report of a falling out between Charlie Chaplin and his brother Syd is quite untrue. Both deny it emphatically. Brotherly love continues.

Marin Sals and her polo team of women screen stars continue to practice ardently at the Coronado Club field.

Cleofe McDowell, former Biograph star, now with the Universal Company, is playing the lead in "Husks of Love," a three-reel picture being produced by William V. Wong.

Helene Rosson is now working under the direction of Wm. Dowlan at the American studios. She is appearing with Franklyn Ritchie.

George E. Periolat plays the role of an elder brother to Richard Bennett in the second feature this star is making at the American studio. Periolat also had an important role in the first Bennett picture, "The Sable Blessing."

Mary Pickford posed 70 times for one New York photographer before she got a picture which satisfied both that camera man and the subject. Mist people would have to be carried home in an ambulance after an ordeal like that, but there's everything in getting used to things.

Bathing suits seem the favorite costume for the stars of the picture world to be photographed in just now. Certainly they must be the most comfortable dress in the heat of the States.

"The House of Mirrors," a five-act Mutual Masterpiece, De Luxe Edition, introduces Frank Mills to Mutual audiences. Mr. Mills is a well-known legitimate actor.

"Lonesome Luke" appears as "Sherlock Holmes" in a burlesque on that play directed by Hal Roach, who makes Rollin comedies for Pathe. Bebe Daniels plays "Lady Raffles."

Around the City

Pay your taxes on or before August 17th and save 5 per cent. discount. Immediately after the 17th day of August executions will be issued for all unpaid taxes.

Enveloped in Smoke.
Yesterday morning the city was enveloped in thick smoke caused by forest fires.

Held the Lucky Ticket.
In the drawing for a double barreled gun donated by Elijah Stewart, R. D. Coles, of Charlotte street, held the lucky ticket and became the winner.

Killed by Policeman.
Yesterday evening a dog was run over by an automobile on Brunswick street and the animal was so badly injured that Police Constable Gorman was obliged to put it out of agony by shooting it.

Stray Horse Found.
Early yesterday morning Police Constable Linton found a horse wandering about the Marsh Road and had the animal placed in a stable where it was later found by the owner, Frank Hayes.

Who Owns the Coat?
A gentleman's short blue coat was found on the Loch Lomond Road on Saturday and was handed over to the police. The owner can receive the same on application at police headquarters.

Struck by an Automobile.
On Saturday while William Miller of 48 Kennedy street was walking across Main street near the corner of Sheriff street, he was struck and knocked down by an automobile and was slightly injured. The automobile was owned by William A. McColgan.

Had an Arm Broken.
William Carson, of Britain street, met with a severe injury on Friday afternoon while driving near Point. His horse bolted at an automobile and Mr. Carson was thrown out of the carriage and fell over a ban, which resulted in his breaking an arm.

A. M. E. Conference.
The annual conference of the A. M. E. churches will be held in St. John this week, commencing Tuesday. Bishop Smith will arrive on the noon train on Tuesday. The conference will be held in St. Phillips church, Queen street. Mayor Hayes and other prominent citizens will speak on Wednesday evening. The Rev. M. Stewart of Bermuda will also be in attendance.

A Batch of Drunks.
A glance at the arrest book in police headquarters would give one the idea that there was an overabundance of those partaken of on Saturday and Sunday. Six men were gathered in for drunkenness on Saturday afternoon and night, while four were arrested yesterday. Five of the prisoners had sobered up sufficiently to get out of the cells last night by leaving a deposit of eight dollars each for their appearance in court this morning.

Bootleggers Arrested.
During the last two years the police have arrested a large number of bootleggers. Many of these have paid fines of fifty dollars each, while others went to jail for six months, being unable to pay the fine. These examples have not proven a lesson to others as two more were gathered in by the police Saturday and yesterday. On Saturday afternoon Police Constables Henrickson and Winter arrested Frank Gallagher, aged 34 years, on the charge of selling liquor to a soldier in uniform on Water street. Lewis Landry, a soldier has been detained as a witness. Yesterday Detectives Barrett and Briggs arrested Henry McDonald, aged 35 years, on the charge of selling liquor on the tracks near Courtney Bay and Joseph Lavigne has been detained as a witness in this case.

Soldiers Wives' League.
A meeting of the Soldiers Wives' League will be held at the residence of Mrs. Walter W. White, 71 Sydney street, on Tuesday, 15th inst., at 3:30 p. m. Business—To consider plans for Labor Day.

NO. 8 FIELD AMBULANCE AT CHURCH

Under Command of Major Skinner They Attended Germain Street Church Yesterday.

The No. 8 Field Ambulance Corps, sixty-one in number, in command of Major S. S. Skinner, paraded to the Germain street Baptist church yesterday morning, where the Rev. A. P. Hodges preached a forcible and impressive sermon. It will be remembered that Mr. Hodges enlisted last week as a private in the Ambulance Corps.

The members of the Ambulance Corps made a very impressive appearance as they marched through the streets yesterday and many eulogistic remarks were heard from those who had the pleasure of viewing the parade.

Taking for his text, "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me and I unto the world," Gal. 6, 14, the reverend gentleman said:

"It is given unto every man to have something in which he glories, some ideal in life which moulds and fashions character. It is this capacity that separates us from the beasts that perish. Some men glory in that which is debasing but it is not of those that I would speak this morning. Others find their glory in life in cause and action that are noble and worth while but which nevertheless must not be allowed to occupy the pre-eminent place in our lives. They are the minor chords that fill up and give harmony to the setting but if we would reach perfection we must make the cross of Christ the great outstanding note.

"We may illustrate the point I wish to make by Paul himself. Some men glory in an honored ancestry. Paul did not hesitate to let the world know that he was 'of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews.' He was proud to be a member of a family that was illustrious in the history of his people. There is something in blood that makes for the making of the best manhood. There is an incentive in a good name that will help a young man to live worthy of his family that he in turn may hand on that name unshaken to his children.

"Some men glory in their scholastic achievements. He too was no mean scholar. He came from a city that was noted as a seat of learning in the ancient world and completed his course in the law school at Jerusalem. There are not wanting in our day those who tell us that we shall find our panacea for all our evils in the education of the people. Up till two years or so ago we were pointed to Germany as an example of what culture could accomplish in the making of a great nation. But in these last days we have been made to realize that culture was but a mask to hide a heart of treachery, cruelty and illicentiousness.

"He could have gloried in his prospects, it may be as he made his way to the city of Damascus entrusted with a high commission that there came to him visions of still higher service in the coming days. I pity my heart the young man who has no day-dreams that tinged with golden glory the years that are to come.

"Some glory in their citizenship. On more than one occasion Paul asserted his rights as a free-born citizen of Rome. I, too, am proud to be a son of our great empire. This present conflict has clearly demonstrated to the world that in spite of surface indications, the heart of the Motherland still is true and we can say with the poet:

"England with all thy faults,
"We love thee still.

"These things, however, gave place in the life of Paul to the one supreme glory—the cross of Christ. What was this cross in which he gloried? Not the rough hewn instrument of torture but the principles for which it stands. How does the world regard them? Let us ask the Roman of that day, Sir, what is this cross in which this man glories? The soldier of Rome's conquering legions turns to us with look of scorn. Know you not, sir, that the cross is the badge of degradation and shame? None but a slave or member of a subject race would boast of that. Rome's glory is the sword, her emblem the outspread eagle that strikes with quick and certain aim the prey it would consume. Could he but have foreseen the history of the future he would have beheld with astonishment the supplanting of that eagle by the despoiled cross and heard an emperor declare that to him had come a vision of the cross resplendent and underneath these words 'In this sign conquer.' On still another fateful day in the history of that proud city he would have seen the ancestors of the modern Hun draw near with fire and devastation for her wall to be confronted by an aged man accompanied by a few followers, bearing in his hand a cross but before that cross the pride and might of the Hun was humbled in the dust. We too shall see the day and that right soon when in like manner the descendants of those ruthless savages shall find the cross is still triumphant.

"To the Greek the cross was foolishness. The Man that the solution

EIGHT MEN ON ROLL OF HONOR ON SATURDAY

Four Passed Examinations and Were Duly Enlisted—Notes of Local Military Units.

HONOR ROLL.

W. H. Preston, St. John.
P. Mignogna, Italy.
No. 8 Field Ambulance.
Wm. McCormick, U.S.A.
Wm. Fritz, New Hampshire.

Up to Saturday night eight recruits applied for enlistment in the various battalions now under mobilization. P. Mignogna, a native of Italy, enlisted in the 8th Ambulance Corps at the army camp on Saturday.

This unit has now passed the century mark and it looks as though the remaining sixty-five men will be recruited by the end of this week. Besides Privates Lavigne and Scribner, who are recruiting in and around the city, Private B. Ferris is soliciting men at Cumberland Bay.

Sergeant McNeill, accompanied by Privates G. S. Dunham and W. T. R. Flemington, are on a recruiting trip in and around Fredericton, and according to reports received are expected back in the city with several stalwart youths as the result of their work.

The medical and stretcher bearing equipment has been shipped and is expected to arrive this week, when practical field work will be practised.

It is the ambition of Sergeant Major Weston to make this unit the best New Brunswick has yet contributed to the British Empire, and with this purpose in view is leaving no stone unturned to accomplish his undertaking. The unit still requires sixty-five men to complete its establishment. This branch of the service offers a splendid opportunity to university men, clerks and bankers. The work is not strenuous, and as this unit will not lose its identity the men now enlisting will remain together. It is probable that after it has been recruited up to complement it will go immediately overseas to finish training. As the boys have opened up a recreation room at the army they would appreciate any donations such as books, magazines, games, etc., from the citizens of St. John.

MILITARY NOTES.

Lieut. Colonel Guthrie, who has been spending the week-end in Fredericton, is expected back to the city today.

Corp. Joseph H. Darrah of the mail service of the 14th Battalion left Saturday night for Valcartier after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Darrah, Dorchester, N. B.

Capt. (Dr.) F. W. Barbour, of Fredericton, accompanied by his son, Noel R. Barbour, will pass through the city tonight on his way to Aldershot, where he is to be attached to an overseas dental corps. His son, Noel, is to be attached to the same corps with the rank of sergeant.

Lieut. Allan W. G. Good, son of Major F. A. Good, officer commanding "C" Company of the 14th Battalion, is ill with pneumonia at Valcartier Camp.

Sergeant George Scovill, of the 14th Battalion at Camp Valcartier, is in the city on a few days furlough.

To all life's problems would be found in the willing sacrifice of life itself was too absurd for their acceptance. Yet we today are realizing that his truth shall yet prevail. With ready hearts and speeding feet the sons of Mother England are hastening to her help and the aid of ravished Belgium, stricken Poland, persecuted Armenia. The life blood of our best and noblest is being poured forth, not for selfish aggrandisement, but for the maintenance of those principles of truth and righteousness for which the Master died. The cross stands as the symbol of noblest self-sacrifice and it shall prevail. Among the waving battle-flags of Europe there floats one banner that even blood stained Germans hold in some respect. It is the cross of crimson upon a field of white and speaks of human love and compassion amid the strife and heat of war.

"In conclusion I would make an appeal to every young man present to make that cross which I and every comrade of my corps wear upon our right arm the glory of his life. Beneath that cross we go forth in the spirit of the Master to minister to our stricken brothers, friends and comrades who call to us across the waters from the blood stained fields of France and Flanders."

TWO ST. JOHN BOYS KILLED AT THE FRONT

Gunner Arthur G. Cobham, of West St. John and Pte. Peter Gallagher, of North End, Made Supreme Sacrifice.

Ottawa, Aug. 12th, 1916.
Mrs. George Cobham, 97 Germain street, West St. John, N. B.:—
Deeply regret to inform you 43975, Gunner Arthur Glendon Cobham, officially reported killed in action July 30, 1916.
(Signed) Officer in Charge Record Office.

The above telegram was received by Mrs. Cobham yesterday and this sudden and sad news plunged her home into one of grief, and told the tale of one more brave hero giving up his life for King and country.

Gunner Cobham was one of three sons at the front, and while the mother of the three brave sons has spent many an anxious day and night since the boys joined the colors, the news of Glendon's death came as a shock, and proved too much for Mrs. Cobham and she was immediately prostrated with grief. After being attended by a physician and when she had become calmed last evening she spoke only as any brave mother would when she said "It is indeed terrible that he has been killed, but then we are proud of him."

In addition to his father and mother the brave young soldier, whose body now fills a hero's grave "somewhere in France," leaves to mourn his loss a young man with considerable experience in artillery training he had no trouble in passing the examination and was sent to Partridge Island to train. At the time of enlisting he was in the employ of the Maritime Dredging Company and was extremely popular with his fellow workmen. On the day he left for Camp Valcartier with Major Magee he was accompanied by a purse containing fifty dollars in gold from the dredging company and his fellow employees. His first and last thought was of his mother he was leaving behind and placing the gift of gold into the hands of his father he instructed that he be given to his mother. The brave mother never used the money but placed it in safety, waiting until her boy would return after fighting the battles for his country and could then enjoy the gift. There was no young man better known on the western side of the harbor than Glendon Cobham, who was a favorite with all who knew him; jovial in nature, kind in disposition, and his death is received with the deepest sorrow by all.

It is but two weeks ago that Mrs. Cobham received a letter from her son in which he stated that they were having a hard time of it, and he was getting tired of it all and wished that he would return after fighting the battles for his country and could then enjoy the gift. There was no young man better known on the western side of the harbor than Glendon Cobham, who was a favorite with all who knew him; jovial in nature, kind in disposition, and his death is received with the deepest sorrow by all.

The younger brother, Roy, enlisted with the 4th Siege Battery under Major Barker and he is also in France doing his bit.

Pte. Peter Gallagher.

Mrs. Alice Gallagher, 65 Sheriff street, received official word on Saturday that her son, Pte. Peter Gallagher, had died of wounds on August 6th. This is the first word received by the noble mother since July 18th, when she received a letter from her boy saying that he was in good health.

Prior to enlistment Pte. Gallagher was in the employ of the Corona Chocolate Company, Union street. With the exception of a few months which time he spent at headquarters the deceased soldier has been in the trenches since June 15, 1915.

Pte. Gallagher was an active member of St. Peter's Young Men's Association and enjoyed the companionship of a large circle of friends in the north end of the city who will regret his early death.

Pte. Gallagher leaves to mourn besides a loving mother and a kind father, three brothers and two sisters, Thomas, who is now at Valcartier Camp with No. 1 Construction Corps, and Fred, Cecil, Helen and Sadie.

Music's Re-Creation

Something more than mere tone reproduction. Artificial tone reproduction is wonderful indeed; but it is not musical. A beautiful voice marred by mechanical timbre in its reproduction is no longer beautiful—it no longer satisfies the music lover, however great the artist may be.
