HAMILTON, CANADA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1909.

NO. 214.

WHOLE TOWNS SWEEPED AWAY.

Terrible Loss of Life and Destruction by Mexican Floods.

Hundreds, if Not Thousands, of Persons Have Perished.

Tornadoes Added to the Disaster—Great Destruction.

Monterey, Mex., Sept. 8.—Word was received from Xicotencatel, in the State of Tamaulipas, that the entire country was inundated along the Tampico branch of the Mexican Central Railroad between the San Juan River and La Cruz.

Below Xicotencatel all the plantations on the Tamesi river were destroyed and several towns wiped out. The destruction along the San Juan River was almost complete.

All the irrigation works in and around Matamoros have been ruined and involve a loss of millions of dollars.

GREAT DESTRUCTION. Mexico City, Sept. 10.—The destruction wrought by the floods and tornadoes throughout the State of Tamaulipas has done frightful damage, and may even rival that in Monterey, according to the statements given out yesterday to the offices of the Federal Telegraph and the National Meteorological stations.

The greater part of the State is still cut off telegraphically from the rest of Mexico. Such reports that are coming in tell of whole towns having been swept by the raging waters. Refugees from remote sections are going into Victoria, the capital, for relief.

Destitution has spread over great areas. Plantation owners have sent messengers into Victoria telling the authorities of the pitiful condition of the inhabitants.

HEALTH TRIP. Rev. C. B. Kenrick Left For England To-day.

Yesterday evening Rev. C. B. Kenrick, of St. Philip's Church, left for Quebec on the Liverpool this afternoon by the Empress of Britain.

Mr. Kenrick expects to be away about two months, and his trip has been undertaken under medical advice. Rev. Mr. Corder will be in charge of the parish while the rector is away, and he will be assisted by two lay readers, Messrs. V. C. Spencer, of Trinity College, and M. Medlen, of this city.

Mr. W. J. Atkinson, of St. Philip's parish, will also assist, and Mr. H. E. Spicer will teach the rector's Bible class. Rev. Mr. TenEyck, of St. Peter's, will officiate at the early celebrations on the second and fourth Sundays of the month.

AGAINST TOWN. Injunction Against Oakville Council Made Perpetual.

The motion to continue the injunction obtained from Judge J. F. Monck, of this city, on June 21 last by Edmund Henry Gullidge restraining the town council of Oakville from proceeding with the construction of sewer across the front of his property at Front and Dundas street along the lake shore, was yesterday morning at Toronto turned into a motion for judgment by consent, and Chief Justice Meredith made an injunction perpetual, with costs. Leave was given to set down. Complaint of the nuisance caused by sewage had been made by Allan Chisholm, and the council proceeded to cut off the sewer where it crosses Front street, and to build a new one from it to the lake shore, to the annoyance of his tenants.

He says that no law was passed, nor were the plans submitted to the Provincial Board of Health.

FOR ITALIANS. Classes and Religious Services In Westminster Church.

In connection with the work of Westminster Presbyterian Church the pastor, Rev. J. Roy VanWeyck, has arranged to open a class and hold services for Italians, beginning next Tuesday evening, N. Marotti, a competent teacher, has been secured, and it is intended to teach the Italians the English language and to preach the gospel to them in Italian.

Mr. VanWeyck feels keenly the need of undertaking the work of christianizing and Canadianizing the large and increasing foreign population in the east end, and is looking to the wealthier Presbyterian churches in the city to discover some way of financing the work.

THE LATE E. H. HARRIMAN, The great railroad magnate.

WIRELESS SYSTEM PROPOSED TO CITY.

Mayor McLaren Has a Plan For Honoring Champions Who Bring Honor to Hamilton.

A wireless telegraph system to parallel the lines of the present telegraph companies throughout Canada is the project planned by the Lepel Wireless Company, which has asked Hamilton to consider the installation of a wireless station here, the city to bear the cost, which will be about $2,500. Similar propositions will be made to London, Peterborough and other Canadian cities. The company stipulates that no money need be paid over until the plant has been in operation at least thirty days. The tariff proposed for messages to many points in the United States and Canada is one cent a word up to twenty-five words, and above that one cent for two words. The company expects that once it gets the scheme under way every city and town of any size on the continent will establish a station in view of the small cost and numerous advantages. Hamilton, it will be recalled, had the distinction of having the first inland wireless station ever erected in Canada. The DeForest Company erected a station near Point Hill for experimental purposes.

To-night the Board of Health will hold a special meeting to discuss the scarlet fever situation. The weather is getting too cold now to continue the use of tents. Dr. Roberts says that if the city does not see fit to open the small hospital for the use of patients he will advise that a house be rented and a nurse placed in charge. The scarlet fever epidemic will probably cease. The board to have an overdraft this year, when it would otherwise have been well within its appropriation. There are twenty-two cases of scarlet fever now at the isolation hospital, and thirty-two cases quarantined. (Continued on Page 5.)

HARRIMAN'S LAST DAY.

The Multi-Millionaire Bade His Family Affectionate Farewell.

Cancer of the Stomach Carried Him Off.

His Successors—The Funeral—The Markets and His Death.

New York, Sept. 10.—With the passing of E. H. Harriman from the realm of business, where he had long occupied a dominant position, achieved by remarkable genius and intense energy, the attention of hosts of his friends and admirers turned to-day to the stricken family in the silent home on Tower Hill at Arden. Almost to the very last the mind of the man who had never given up in defeat continued actively directing the great business he had built up. His last instructions were delivered to a subordinate only a few hours before his death.

Although the patient's vitality was at a low stage, and he was suffering from a high fever, he revived a trace yesterday morning and endeavored to cheer his despairing wife and children. "Don't worry, my dear," he said to his daughter, Miss Mary Harriman; "I am going to get well."

Some hours later it became apparent that the end of the brilliant career was approaching, and the members of the family were summoned to the bedside. There, according to one of those present, the scene enacted was most affecting as the husband and father bade his wife and children good-bye, and spoke words of cheer to his sons, Roland and Averill.

Mr. Harriman's death occurred at 1:30 p. m., but the fact was not announced until after the close of the stock market.

The general opinion in financial circles this morning was that the business world (Continued on Page 9.)

ANOTHER DAY OF BIG FINES.

Hydro-Electric Engineer Contributes For Over-Speeding.

Another Foreigner Fined For Having Too Much Liquor.

James Brooks Bound Over For Threatening a Witness.

A few more substantial fines augmented the city's cash account this morning. Excessive speed of two automobiles was responsible for $50 in the treasury, and for this remark by the Magistrate: "I'm getting tired of this kind of thing," meaning the driving of autos to the danger point.

"He was going at a terrible speed, Your Worship," said P. C. Cameron, who carries a stop watch to test the speed of autos. Such was the evidence submitted against D. Ryan, Lottridge street, who was charged with immoderate driving on Barton street east. P. C. Barrett corroborated P. C. Cameron's statement. "You are fined $30," said the Magistrate.

Even though assistant engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission, F. W. Scott, of Toronto, cannot drive his buzz wagon furiously within this city's limits. He travelled too fast, and it cost him $20 this morning.

"You Forbes, I'll have your heart's blood as soon as I can get it," were the words that William Forbes swore James Brooks said to him after Police Court last Tuesday. Forbes was a Crown witness in an immoral house case, and one of the defendants was a relative of Brooks. A warrant was issued for Brooks, and he was arrested two days ago.

Brooks said that he did not use those words. What he did say was: "You ought to have the other side of your face made red." (Forbes has a red mark on the left side of his face.)

A. M. Lewis contended that there were extenuating circumstances. His Worship remarked he would do his best to suppress the threatening of witnesses, and bound Brooks over in the sum of $200 to keep the peace.

Like his fellow countrymen who were fined yesterday for a breach of the Liquor Act, Joseph Pollar, 377 John street (Continued on Page 12.)

THE MAN IN OVERALLS.

That new story is a pretty good one. Are you reading it?

Teach your children politeness. It will pay both you and them.

Once more, will oiling the streets do away with watering them?

What we have well hold, including the North Pole.

It won't be long now until you will take the rocker in off the veranda.

Is local option a party question, I am asked. It shouldn't be.

N. B.—Never ask questions of the press without sending your name and address. We want to know who is kidding us.

From the number of children seen in some of the city blocks, race suicide is not a failing in Hamilton.

Talking of the Esquimaux, you remember her one of our city members insulted certain estimable Esquimaux ladies.

If necessary, T. J. Stewart can be compelled to testify in the Morris case. He can make up his mind for that.

Happy thought! Send your dogs to Germany, where they are used as an article of food by the protected workmen, at so much a pound. Puppies, of course, come higher.

If Dr. Marsh had dropped his "hatch" when he took those photos of Mars, there would have been two of a kind, two Mars.

Chief Ten Eyck auto get an auto.

Father Cleary and I don't go in at the same church door, but all the same I feel tickled to think that he got that carriage. Long may he live to ride in it.

Perhaps the Canadian Club will see to it that old country celebrities are in future stered into Hamilton. This is no jumping off place, let it be known.

Now, if the temperance people would up and say just what they want, the hotel men would know where they are at. Is it a war of extermination or what?

There should be three months of good building weather yet. We nearly always have good falls.

Well, the Labor lottery has come and gone and we are all yet walking the streets.

But Toronto hotel men should see that it would be impossible to blow out the gas with fatal results. A little precaution would prevent these accidents.

I certainly wouldn't like to be in T. J. Stewart's boots. Then Mr. Fessenden may also be a witness. That might be bad for Mr. Stewart.

BELIEVED TO BE WULFO, DYNAMITER.

Local Police Think One of Italians Under Arrest Is a Notorious Criminal.

Believing that Samuel Wolfe, one of the alleged Black Hand artists awaiting trial here with two companions, charged with demanding tribute from Salvatore Sanzone, in default of which Sanzone was threatened with death, is one of a gang arrested in Baltimore two years ago for a dynamite outrage, the local police are tracing up his record. Immediately after the arrest the police at Niagara Falls, N.Y., were asked to intercept and hold all who were in any way connected with the three men under arrest here. Before the officers were aware of it a messenger called on the prisoner's wife at the Falls and notified her of Wolfe's arrest. The authorities are wondering if this is the fourth man, who was with the prisoners on the Dundas road, and who made his escape when the detectives sprang out of Sanzone's wagon.

The prisoner's right name is said to be Wulfo, and he is well known in the Italian quarters at the Falls.

About four years ago Wulfo was employed in Mirillo's meat market in Eleventh street. Later he engaged in business for himself. About two years ago he left the city to go to Baltimore, leaving his family behind. Some time after his arrival in Baltimore Wulfo was arrested with others on a charge of dynamiting a building. He was convicted and sentenced to a term of imprisonment. He was released a few weeks ago after serving nineteen months, and crossed the border. His wife claimed she was unaware of

Wulfo's whereabouts until the morning a friend of her husband called upon her with the news of his arrest.

SAMUEL WOLFE, One of the alleged Black Hand men now under arrest, who is believed to be Wulfo, who served a term for a dynamite outrage in Baltimore.

Wulfo's whereabouts until the morning a friend of her husband called upon her with the news of his arrest.

REMANDED.

Alleged Black Hand Men Declined to Elect To-day.

Ernest Speranza, Carmelo Colombo and Samuel Wolfe, the three Italians who are locked up on the charge of playing the Black Hand game on S. Sanzone, fruit dealer on James street north, were up for election before Judge Monck this morning. Through their solicitor, Mr. A. M. Lewis, they declined to elect and were remanded.

J. Kelleher, who is charged with stealing a watch from Robert Flynn, elected to be tried by a judge on the advice of his solicitor, Mr. A. M. Lewis and will be arraigned next Tuesday.

Bert Horning has been in jail for the past 16 days for trespassing on his brother-in-law's property and threatening to use violence on him. His brother-in-law, J. Phillips, did not appear anxious to press the charge and Horning was allowed his liberty on promising to stay away and leave Phillips alone. Judge Monck gave him some good advice and a stern warning to carry out his promise.

CONSIGNED TO THE RATS.

They Have Unreasonable Amount of Liquor In Store

And an Exodus May be Looked For From Cells.

All the Confiscated Liquor Dumped Into the Sewer.

There was a dramatic finale to Police Court this morning, from which the public was excluded, and only by strategy did the newspaper reporters witness, from an upper window, an incident that would have been heartrending to devout worshippers of Bacchus.

"Where is there an axe?" asked P. C. Wallis, after court had adjourned.

Then the news leaked out that the confiscated "lubricant" was going to be consigned to the gutter at the back of No. 3 station. Chief Smith donned his white sky piece, took up his ivory-handled black stick, and proceeded to give orders to bring the stuff forth. Constables Cameron, Stewart, Wallis, Gillespie and Sergeant Finch brought up, from the cellar 16 four-gallon kegs of lager, 37 quart bottles of the same liquid and a few bottles of various brands of whiskey and gin, and placed all in the back yard.

By the courtesy of the proprietor of the Bethel Hotel an axe was loaned to do the work of destruction.

"Keep the reporters out," said the chief, but 'twas impossible.

"Who swung the axe?" "I swung the axe," said Jack Cameron. "I swung the axe."

"Who superintended the job?" "I said Chief Smith, 'I in my tussled coat, I superintended the job.'"

"Big 'Eve' bang, and up shot the frothy stuff from the broken barrels, and Chief Smith tried to dodge the shower, but it soaked the two dozen tassels on his tunic.

On wet destructive operations, and the wet goods seemed to be excited; for it rushed madly out and rained wildly down the gutter, in very shame of being submitted to such indignity.

A levee of rats will likely be held this evening as they surely have an unreasonable amount on their premises, for their personal consumption. Maybe the gentlemen in the brown overcoats will leave the cells en masse to-night to visit the ratty haunts.

A $1.50 SUIT. Defendant Had to Pay $2.25 to Get It Adjourned.

Another chapter in the Mills-Robinson mixup was written this morning. F. C. Mills, of the Herald, sued M. Robinson, of the Spectator, for $1.50 witness fees which he alleges, Robinson secured on a false affidavit. Robinson's lawyer was not present, and he asked for an adjournment. This Judge Monck granted, but ordered Robinson to pay $2.25 witness fees—75 cents to each of three witnesses.

A NEW FACTORY. With the return of prosperity the citizens have more money to spend for the things that please the palate. A little over a year ago Lumden Bros. started candy-making on a small scale, and since then their business in that line has increased very rapidly, and they are now considering the advisability of erecting a factory to carry on the business on a large scale. They have not decided as yet in which section of the city it would be advisable to locate. An expert American candy-maker has been secured and will take charge of the new factory.

The Roosevelt, with her crew, will proceed for New York later.

SORRY FOR MARVIN. St. John, N. B., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Robert Peary and party passed through St. John late last night en route from Portland, Me. Mrs. Peary has had no word since she left Portland Wednesday. Mrs. Peary, when informed of Ross Marvin's death, sent the following message to a newspaper in Elmira, N. Y.:

"Please find mother of poor Ross Marvin, who went north with my husband, and lost his life performing a dangerous duty to the world of science. Convey my deep sympathy in this sad hour. (Signed) Josephine Peary."

A WELCOME. Methodist Social Union Reception to New Ministers.

Six of the Methodist churches of this city having changed their pastors this Conference year, the executive committee of the Methodist Social Union decided at a meeting held last evening to extend to the Rev. J. V. Smith, D. D., Centenary Church; Rev. E. B. Lanely, First Methodist Church; Rev. W. J. Smith, Carlton Avenue; Rev. A. H. G. Applegate, Zion Tabernacle; Rev. E. R. Todd, Crown Point, a public welcome to this city on Thursday evening, the 23rd, in Centenary Church. Mr. W. H. Hewlett will have charge of the music and prominent vocalists will assist.

LOSS OF COW. Protection of Mountain Brow Involved In Case.

An action brought against the Township of Barton by Mr. Edward Steir for damages for the loss of a cow, which fell over the mountain edge, was tried at Stoney Creek by Judge Monck yesterday. The plaintiff's claim was that the road running along the brow of the mountain, on which the cow was being driven, was not fenced and that the defendant was liable for not safeguarding the road with a fence. The argument set up by the defendant was that it is not a concession road and does not run quite up to the mountain brow. It being a given road, the township contends that it is not liable in any case and in this particular case the travelled part of the road was some distance from the edge of the mountain.

The action is one of importance, so far as the township is concerned, as there are several miles of road not fenced and it would cost a large sum of money to safeguard the precipice.

Mr. W. E. Brandon, of the firm of Paddock & Co., acted for the plaintiff, and Mr. S. D. Biggar, K. C., for the defendant.

DELIGHTED. Scottish Masons Greatly Impressed With Work Done Here.

The party of distinguished Scottish Masons, composing a deputation from the Royal Order of Scotland, who are touring Canada and the United States, were entertained last evening by Moore Consistory, A. and A. S. R. They were formally received by F. J. Howell, 33, commander-in-chief of the consistory. After the 27th degree had been exemplified a reception was held and the visitors introduced to the local brethren.

Mr. Howell presided at the banquet which followed, when toasts to "The King," "The Craft" and "Our Visitors" were honored.

The visitors declared that the exemplification of the degree was a revelation, and surpassed anything, even in Scotland. Visitors were present from Cleveland, Pittsburg, London, Toronto, Guelph, Brantford and other points.

HAVE BEEN RELEASED. Messrs Kerr & Thomson this morning received a letter from the Department of Justice, Ottawa, announcing that W. Burkholder and J. O'Reilly, who were confined in the Central Prison on a conviction, have been released on ticket of leave.

NOTICE. To steamer Turbina patrons: The 8 p. m. trip from Toronto on Saturday, September 11th, is cancelled. Passengers can return from Toronto via steamer Macassa at 6 p. m.

Edward Young, 45 Wilson street, was unfortunately enough to have his toe crushed while working at the steel plant. He was removed to the City Hospital, where his injuries were attended. He is improving nicely.

THE FARM

THE CARE OF FARM HORSES.

As the season is nearing when horses will be worked, it is well that their diet receive some study and investigation. For such the bran-mash has proved to be an invaluable adjunct to the ordinary diet. As a laxative food it ranks as one of the most useful, and it is a food that is as a rule always available and readily obtainable.

Horsesmen generally give a bran-mash once a week (whether if required) when no other laxative food is provided in the diet. Grain, hay and chaff, which is the ordinary diet of horses that are stabled, are apt to exert a binding effect, as this food is of a dry nature, and when given liberally fed, has a tendency to bind the system. These undesirable effects must be counteracted by providing laxative food, and the bran-mash has been found to be the most suitable for this purpose.

The beneficial part of the bran-mash is that it relaxes the bowels nicely and does not act on them in a violent manner, nor does it purge. Besides it is cooling, and has a wholesome effect upon the animal. When horses have undergone an unusually severe exertion, and are very tired and exhausted, a warm bran-mash proves a soothing, palatable and easily digested food. For a sick horse, these mashes are excellent, as they suit the animal's requirements and tempt the appetite.

As a general thing, horses are fond of these bran-mashes; yet once in a while an animal will be found that shows no liking for them. Such cases, however, are rare. But when that is the fact, the horse can be induced to eat them by adding a handful or two of oats.

The proper way to prepare the mash is to use sufficient boiling water to wet all the bran thoroughly. This should be done in a bucket, which should then be covered over and the mash allowed to steam for about a half-hour. This steaming will partially cook the bran, thus making it all the more effective and soothing. It is well to add a pinch of salt. The usual quantity of bran used is from a half to three-quarters of a peck.

It is always best to feed the mash in a lukewarm state, but never must be given while hot. Sometimes the mashes are prepared with cold water, but they do not have the same beneficial and soothing effect as when hot water is used. It is the steaming that the bran fed that gives the desired effects. Bran fed dry does not possess any laxative effects, and exerts no particular action on the bowels of the horse.

The Australian horseman says "all stabled horses ought to be given, at any rate, one bran-mash of roots or green forage, and, as a rule, it is advisable to provide them with mashes twice weekly. Spawning in a general way, it may be said that bran-mashes are not made use of in the stable nearly as often as ought to be done. There are, of course, some horses which are predisposed to scour for such a reason. The usual quantity of bran for such a horse is one peck, and the bran should be given with some forage, frequently. Whenever a horse appears to be at all constipated it should have a bran-mash, which will quickly set matters right.

In some stables the practice is adopted of omitting the grain ration when a mash is supplied, but there is no actual need to do this. In fact, unless the

SCARED AWAY.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, SEPT. 10, 1909.

SAVING THE BABIES.

The success which has attended the efforts of health authorities and philanthropists to lessen the awful preventable death-rate of infancy in the cities is most gratifying, and encourages to cheerful optimism. We have been accustomed to hearing the loud and persistent wails of those who lament the declining birth rate, but too little attention has in the past been given to the deplorably high infant death rate. And what boots a very high birth rate, if the little ones are born to conditions which doom them to death in a few weeks or months?

In England and Wales the birth rate for the last quarter was 26.6 to the thousand of the population. This is less than the rate of some years ago; but that does not prove that the decline is to be regretted. The deaths are fewer also, being in the proportion of 14 to the thousand. The decrease is especially noticeable in the infant death rate. If fewer babies are born, and they are better cared for so that more grow up to healthy manhood and womanhood, the nation may be the gainer. Moreover, people marry later in life than formerly, which must affect the birth rate. But if they do not assume the duties of parenthood till they reach maturity and acquire the knowledge of how to care for a family, it may be better for the family and for the race.

The move made here to provide clean, wholesome milk for the babies, and to teach those responsible for their care how to feed them and minister to them so as to promote their health and comfort, is one of the first importances. It takes time to enable such a service to show results, but already its good influence is manifest. A great want has been availed themselves of the service in the last few weeks who did not at first appreciate the boon within their reach. A careful study of the records of the clean milk movement shows that the clean milk babies have enjoyed a remarkable immunity from the serious ailments which make the summer months a time of anxiety for mothers. Another reason there will be less need to urge upon the public the importance of utilizing the service.

In New York city seven pure milk depots have been in operation. The number is to be increased to seven next year, and $55,850 is to be expended for the carrying on of this method of supplying babies' lives. The benefit of this work has been proved there, and its extension is a fixed part of municipal policy. In Chicago similar efforts to supply the babies are being made, and a decline of 333 in infant deaths is commensurate with the eight months of last year in that city, some of all of which is due to this campaign. The deaths of infants under 1 year constitute 32 per cent of the total mortality of Chicago, and yet the infant population is only 21.2 per cent of the whole. There is a vast field open for useful endeavor to limit infant mortality.

CANADA NO SUPPLIANT.

The attitude of the New York Journal of Commerce toward the United States agitators for a tariff war with Canada is highly commendable and in striking contrast with the folly of those journals which are ready and eager to use the tools of those who seek to play upon passion and ignorance to enable them to prey upon the people. It strongly deprecates the evil influences which make for international strife and trade obstruction. It says that the higher officials of the United States Government in Washington "show some anxiety over the prospect of trade difficulty with Canada on account of certain foolish provisions in the new tariff." And it points out that the "controversial duties" were inserted at the demand of Senators from Maine in the interests of the pulp-grinders and paper makers "who desired to get at the cheaper supply of pulpwood in Canada without obstruction," in retaliation for the provincial Crown lands regulation as to home manufacture of pulpwood thereon. It says:

The policy of Quebec and Ontario in this matter may or may not be wise, but it is quite in keeping with the "permeable" of the protective tariff, and the United States, of all countries, has no ground of complaint on account of it. As it applies only to wood cut on public lands it may be regarded as a policy of conservation, though doubtless the purpose is to give Canadian pulp and paper-makers an advantage in the use of this material. That makes it all the more in the spirit of the protective tariff policy. If countervailing duties are intended to be an instrument of coercion to secure the removal of the obstacle to the exportation of this Canadian pulp wood, they are sure to fail of their purpose. They certainly will if anything like the American spirit prevails in Canada, and we hope it does. If they are intended for retaliation or punishment, they are likely to have the opposite of a deterrent effect. Already they are producing an agitation for the adoption of the policy of prohibition by the Dominion Government of all exports of pulp wood, whether grown upon public or private land.

The natural result of the United States attempt to coerce Canada will, it thinks, be to strengthen a demand here for the prohibition of the export of all pulpwood, no matter where cut. This, while being bad for Canada, would, it points out, be a serious loss to the United States, but it "would be wholly due to the contemptible mean action of Congress, with which no considerable or decent part of the citizens of this country can be in sympathy." The effect of the United States countervailing duties is thus described:

What are the people of the country to gain by these countervailing duties?

They can only make printing paper more costly. The duty on pulp will add to its cost to the paper-makers and that by adding to the price of their product. But how is it to be made up to the consumers and to the people for whom cheap paper is a benefit? Our tariff makers seem to care nothing about that. They were not imposing duties for the benefit of the people, but for the benefit of the paper trust and similar combinations and monopolies.

Our contemporary is doubtless right, but that does not mitigate the exasperating meanness of the course of Congress. Moreover, the device of menacing Canada with the threat of a surtax of 25 per cent on her exports of goods to the United States has no terrors for us. The Journal of Commerce says:

What Canada would do would remain to be seen, but the practical result would be to raise and strengthen the barrier between the two countries, and to divert the trade of each from the other and send it to more distant parts of the world across the seas. A more utterly foolish course than that deliberately started in the tariff law, at the instigation of the paper trust, could not be conceived of, and it is to be hoped that the public opinion of the countries, and the sanity of the authorities, of both Governments will prevent its going any further.

It is about time that the common sense of the United States people made its influence felt upon Congress. The rings rule Congress, however, and Congress makes laws to let the rings rob the people. Canada is not worrying. We should like to deal with our neighbors in a neighborly way; but if they will not have it so, we can get along very well without them. Congress has caused us about all the harm it can. We have sought other markets, and with success; and this latest churlishness and effort to coerce us will not work out to Uncle Sam's profit. The spectacle of Congress in the role of a coarse bully, fighting the battles of a great trust to enable it to rob the United States people, at the expense of the international trade of the two countries, cannot be a pleasant one to self-respecting Yankees. It can hardly be rendered less pleasant by the pitiful failure of the mean attempt to coerce Canada, a result sure to be realized. For Canada will shape her legislation in her own interest, let Congress and the combing rage as wildly as they may.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Blind Pig" breeding would appear to be quite remunerative, judging by the way those $50 fines were paid in.

If any civic official should have an automobile it is Chief Ten Eyck. And it should be no inferior article, but one that "gets there," and is not afflicted with "halk" or "colic." In his case it would serve a useful purpose.

The new British patents act has now been a year in force. The applications for patents have not decreased in numbers, but patentees are rapidly taking steps to manufacture in the United Kingdom in compliance with the act.

The fining of eight men concerned in the demonstration against Inspector Aycratt and his liquor detectives at Ingersoll is an intimation that the law and its officers must be respected in this country.

Inspector Hunter is out after truants. There are said to be a large number of children who do not attend school, and he is trying to remedy the evil. Meanwhile the School Board is worrying about finding accommodation for them. It is a part of the "growing pains" which we must expect to experience.

When a man or paper argues that those who oppose the plunging of Canada into a great scheme of militarism must, to be consistent, advocate the disbanding of our citizen soldiery, there is an end to reason. An efficient defence force of volunteer militia is the alternative to the establishment of a professional military class.

Professor Goldwin Smith, of Toronto, will have the sincere sympathy of the Canadian public in the bereavement which he has sustained in the death of his wife, which took place yesterday. Mrs. Smith was in her 85th year and had enjoyed fair health for a few days of her death.

The Ontario Government contemplates the sale of 2,000 square miles of timber, tenders to be in by the 15th of this month. What is the need for sacrificing such an important item of our natural resources? And why is not opportunity given for lumbermen to carefully explore the territory to be sold? This proposed timber sacrifice has an ugly look.

The Canadian Independent Telephone Association passed a resolution declaring for public ownership of trunk lines without delay. Its enthusiasm for "public ownership" stems from applying the principle to local lines, which might affect the Association's own interests. It is eager only for public ownership of other people's businesses.

The Toronto Telegram is losing contact of Lord Charles Bessford. That gentleman's approval of local fleets, built and controlled by the various British nations has quite disgusted it. It tells Lord Charles that a Canadian navy "will put a sneer on his face and a jeer on the lips of every press and platform enemy to British connection." The Telegram knows by the feeling the idea produces in itself.

OUR EXCHANGES

FOR COUNTY FAIRS. (Toronto Star.) By next fall the county fair without a flying machine race will not be much of an attraction.

A PAIR OF MONUMENTS. (London Advertiser.) The discovery of the North Pole is a monumental achievement, and if Cook didn't discover it he is a monumental liar.

NOT FRANKLIN'S WAY. (Ottawa Journal.) Also it is hard to believe that Sir John Franklin had come back here would have peddled his news at the first wire-end.

A REAL FIGHT. (Buffalo Express.) The fight between Peary and Cook appears to have placed the prospective match between Johnson and Jeffries in the background.

SCARED THEM. (Peterboro Review.) Reports show that the auto has practically driven farmers' wives and daughters off the road altogether and deprived them of much pleasure.

TIMES CHANGE. (New York Sun.) Hudson had just landed. "And I wasn't treated like a convict, either," he boasted. "Thus we learn it was before the days of the United States customs inspector."

CARRYING THE WAR INTO AFRICA. (Kingston Whig.) Free Trade England carrying its competition in the shoe business into protectionist America! Say, what do you think of it? It is time that some people revised their political opinions.

FEATURES THE BOSS. (Toronto Globe.) The Telegram cartoonist is an effing fellow, but his constant use of the printer at the editor of his paper as his models results in a sameness in the compositions that somewhat detracts from their interest. The Esquimaux in yesterday's issue is a case in point.

THE STRAW HAT. (Ottawa Journal.) It is announced on what purports to be authority that the day for the final appearance of the straw hat has been postponed until Sept. 15. Meantime, however, all the hat connoisseurs show the best autumn styles in all sorts.

THE HAMILTON POLICE. (Dundas Banner.) What's the matter with the Hamilton police now? That capture of Black Hand agents near the Half Way House on Tuesday morning was one of the finest in police history. They must have got a pointer or two from Dundas police.

BETTER THAN HIS POLICY. (Buffalo News.) Tom L. Johnson seems to have received his fifth nomination for Mayor of Cleveland and at the same primary members of the City Council who have favored his "thorough" line plans have been beaten for re-nomination. This looks as if Mayor Johnson's popularity exceeded public confidence in his railroad schemes. There is no doubt of the strong personal popularity of Mr. Johnson, but there is abundant doubt of his ability to give the people of Cleveland a decent street car service for three cents.

"SOCIETY" TALK. (Vancouver Saturday Sunset.) Some playmate editors of the stripe of the Fernie Free Press and others in the East Kotegay and Boundary are squealing like signed hogs because Bruce may or may not have private interests in the Similkameen. Yet these snivelling journalists, whom any respectable journalist would be ashamed to own, would be among the first to benefit by the railway policy which Bruce has so forcefully and so persistently advocated in this journal.

THE AGE OF "CLEANLINESS." (Pittsburg Gazette-Times.) Delegates attending the national convention of laundrymen in Chicago report a decided boom in business the last few years, due to the pleasing fact that patrons change their shirts and collars more frequently than of yore. One-collar-a-day man, it appears, are much more numerous than formerly. There are even quite an appreciable number of one-shirt-a-day men. A writer in a trade journal declares that the demand for bathtubs is increasing by leaps and bounds. The entire annual output of several large factories has been contracted for in advance, while plants are being enlarged to care for the additional structed to place three inspectors in charge of the town, whose duty will be to see that it is cleaned up and put in a sanitary condition. Now let the Provincial Board also take such measures as will ensure a supply of clean drinking water for the place. The activity now shown, had the Government awakened in time, might have saved many lives and much money and suffering.

FOR COUNTY FAIRS. (Toronto Star.) By next fall the county fair without a flying machine race will not be much of an attraction.

A PAIR OF MONUMENTS. (London Advertiser.) The discovery of the North Pole is a monumental achievement, and if Cook didn't discover it he is a monumental liar.

NOT FRANKLIN'S WAY. (Ottawa Journal.) Also it is hard to believe that Sir John Franklin had come back here would have peddled his news at the first wire-end.

A REAL FIGHT. (Buffalo Express.) The fight between Peary and Cook appears to have placed the prospective match between Johnson and Jeffries in the background.

SCARED THEM. (Peterboro Review.) Reports show that the auto has practically driven farmers' wives and daughters off the road altogether and deprived them of much pleasure.

ABOUT BUE. (Louisville Courier-Journal.) "Not going to write letters during your last day at the beach?" "I must finish this one," declared the girl. "This is the letter I started to my fiance last June."

TIMES CHANGE. (New York Sun.) Hudson had just landed. "And I wasn't treated like a convict, either," he boasted. "Thus we learn it was before the days of the United States customs inspector."

MEASUREMENT. (Washington Star.) "Why do you insist on regarding your self as only half-educated?" "This book," answered the modest man, "I have read only two and a half feet of my five-foot bookshelf."

NO DIFFERENCE TO HER. (Philadelphia Record.) Nell, Miss Antiquer says all men are alike. "Belle, yes, I suppose all men do look alike to Miss Antiquer."

CARRYING THE WAR INTO AFRICA. (Kingston Whig.) Free Trade England carrying its competition in the shoe business into protectionist America! Say, what do you think of it? It is time that some people revised their political opinions.

FEATURES THE BOSS. (Toronto Globe.) The Telegram cartoonist is an effing fellow, but his constant use of the printer at the editor of his paper as his models results in a sameness in the compositions that somewhat detracts from their interest. The Esquimaux in yesterday's issue is a case in point.

THE STRAW HAT. (Ottawa Journal.) It is announced on what purports to be authority that the day for the final appearance of the straw hat has been postponed until Sept. 15. Meantime, however, all the hat connoisseurs show the best autumn styles in all sorts.

THE HAMILTON POLICE. (Dundas Banner.) What's the matter with the Hamilton police now? That capture of Black Hand agents near the Half Way House on Tuesday morning was one of the finest in police history. They must have got a pointer or two from Dundas police.

BETTER THAN HIS POLICY. (Buffalo News.) Tom L. Johnson seems to have received his fifth nomination for Mayor of Cleveland and at the same primary members of the City Council who have favored his "thorough" line plans have been beaten for re-nomination. This looks as if Mayor Johnson's popularity exceeded public confidence in his railroad schemes. There is no doubt of the strong personal popularity of Mr. Johnson, but there is abundant doubt of his ability to give the people of Cleveland a decent street car service for three cents.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

WHITNEY'S WRONG. (Toronto Sun.) We have been disturbed by the methods by which Mr. Whitney has sought to carry the new enterprise into effect. He has made mistakes, which ought to have been avoided, serious mistakes for which he should be severely reprimanded. In a new venture like this, in all matters of government, the Prime Minister was bound to follow not only the letter of the law but its spirit and the hitherto unchallenged traditions of British justice. It may be that there are here as well as in England, and indeed in what are called the "civilized" states, as well as there, they ought not to have been followed. It may be that under our constitution the Legislature is supreme and above the law and Magna Charta and all traditions of justice, that it can close the door of the court and do what it will with the property and rights of citizens. If so, it might not to have deposed a valid contract which, as Judge Anglin found, the municipal equality of Galt never made. That is retroactive legislation against which the law for good reasons has always resented. It violated local government and it shut the door of justice in the face of those who may have been injured. Cheap power, important as it doubtless is, ought to have waited till things could be done decently and in good order. Every interest should have been given fair play.

THE PEOPLES WORST ENEMY. (Prof. Goldwin Smith.) The bystander feels sure that in dealing with the Cobalt case he said not a word at which a Government desirous of acting constitutionally could take offence. The Dominion Minister of Justice said that there had been an act of confiscation without compensation. A Provincial Judge showed plainly that in his opinion the gate of justice had been unrightfully closed. That the Premier of Ontario, when he overrides the law, as he unquestionably has done, and disregards private rights, believes that he is doing "no harm" to the people, need not be disputed. "The people," whose majesty in such cases is invoked, are a multitude without individual responsibility, without special knowledge, without consent, without force; easily led away by professions of devotion to them and desire to assert their supremacy. If the form of Government is arbitrary, you must be content to obey the rule, only praying that his rule may be just. But of popular institutions and interests held under them, the only safeguard is universal respect for law. If the law needs amendment, amended in a constitutional way let it be. But the politician who breaks through it or overrides it, on a pretence of doing the will of "the people," is the people's worst enemy.

FOR THE FINAL FIRE. August Belmont in the smoke room of the Lucania told, apropos of luxurious motor cars, a story about the young Marquis of Anglesey, who died in Monte Carlo some five years ago. Lord Anglesey's cars were the most luxurious then known," said Mr. Belmont. "This young man went to extremes in everything. He was very intelligent, though. "Once at his historic castle in Wales, there was a slight fire. So, lest the priceless pile burn down, he ordered an enormous quantity of hand grenades, or extinguishers, from London. "When the grenades arrived, they were hung all over the castle; but, though it was an enormous place, there were still several dozen grenades left over at the end of the hanging. "And what shall I do with them, my lord?" the butler asked. "Lord Anglesey coughed—and was already in a pretty bad way—and said dryly to the butler: "You may put them in my coffin."

NOT SO EASY. An awkward-looking country boy was seated upon a stump quietly whittling a bit of wood. A city boy and a friend passing by senting an occasion to have some fun, the smart boy called out, "Hello, sonny! Do you live in these parts?" "Yaas," drawled the youth. "Say, do you have any fools around here?" "Nary one," came the quick response. "We sent for a carload last week, but wasn't lookin' for them just yet."

HOW HE KEPT HIS BED. Rev. Daniel Isaacs once alighted at an inn to stay the night. On asking for a bed he was told he could not have one, as there was to be a ball that evening and all the beds were engaged. "At what time does the ball break up?" asked Mr. Isaacs. "About 3 in the morning, sir." "Well, then, can I have a bed until that time?" "Yes, certainly; but if the bed is asked for you will have to remove." "Very well," replied Mr. Isaacs, and away he went to get between the sheets. About 3 in the morning he was awakened by loud knocking at his chamber door. "What do you want?" he asked. "How many are there of you in there?" inquired a voice. "That which is in the room, and Dr. Isaacs and an old Methodist preacher," was the reply. "Then, there's plenty of you," and the speaker passed on, leaving Mr. Isaacs to enjoy his bed, a cheerful leader.

NATURAL GAS STOVE SALE

Having a carload of Stoves delivered to me six weeks earlier than expected and not having room for them at present, I am going to sell them at a little better than MANUFACTURER'S PRICES.

These Stoves and prices afford you an opportunity that should not be ignored.

In order to burn natural gas economically you must have stoves which are made for natural gas, then the stove will very soon pay for itself. If you do not want to buy at present come anyway and look at this excellent display of high-grade Stoves and see the bargains your neighbor is getting. We can demonstrate features in these stoves not shown in any other line. I will have them on sale SATURDAY, SEPT. 11, and the sale will continue from that time until the carload is disposed of, as I have no room to store them.

antined in private houses. There are seven cases at the Boys' Home and the Board of Health is keeping a nurse there.

Mayor McLaren has determined that the Radial Company shall stop moving freight cars on King street east at once, or apply to the Council and have its by-law amended. The company asked the city to reconsider its decision on account of the inconvenience it would put Beach people to if the hauling of freight was stopped. In reply the Mayor yesterday sent the following letter to Traction Manager Coleman:

"In reply to your letter of the 19th August last, I desire to say that should your company wish to make any extension of its railway or obtain any further privileges from this municipality, application will have to be made to the City Council in the usual way, and I hereby give you notice that I will give instructions to have proceedings taken to compel the company to observe the provisions of the by-laws governing it unless the company immediately ceases the running of freight cars on King street. Kindly let me hear from you without delay."

Chairman Allan, of the Board of Works, left last evening for Detroit. He will return in time for the Council meeting on Monday night.

Principal Wittson, of the Technical School, has arranged for a Saturday morning class in arts, at the school. It will be held from 9 to 12 every Saturday, beginning to-morrow.

Although Hamilton has a smoke nuisance by-law no attempt has ever been made to enforce it because the manufacturers have insisted that they have not yet discovered a smoke consumer that is a success. In London, the city has succeeded in inducing a number of the factories to use smoke consumers, and it is said they are accomplishing what is claimed for them.

Mayor McLaren today outlined a scheme by which, Hamilton, the home of champions, will honor its favorite sons. The idea is to have a die cast for a pendant with the city's coat of arms and appoint a committee, not necessarily from the Council, to say whether the medals to be conferred in any case shall be of gold, silver or bronze. The first of these will be given to the Bismley men, Sergt-Major Huggins, Staff-Sergt. Mitchell and Color-Sgt. Freeborn. They will receive gold pendants. The Finance Committee voted the money yesterday.

The manufacturers are very anxious that citizens should decorate their places of business and homes for the Canadian Manufacturers convention, which opens here on Tuesday. "We are always out after manufacturers," said the Mayor.

and is a chance to make a favorable impression.

City Engineer Macallum, although he is still unable to get around, has been removed from the Toronto General Hospital. He expects to be at his office the latter part of next week.

Less cement sidewalk work has been done this year than in many years previously. There are, however, a large number of walks to lay before October 15. The Board of Works expects to finish up the road work this year before the end of the month. About all that remains to be done is Park, Market street and West avenue.

R. F. Ollman has been granted a permit for two brick houses on Sydney street, between King and Main streets, to cost $2,600.

The Salvation Army Band will give a concert at the Aged Women's Home to-night.

Need of An Athletic Park Discussed by Board.

The first regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors for the season was held last evening. Several of the members were out of the city, but there was a good working attendance, and the various activities of the association during the summer months were reported and discussed. The physical department report urged the need of an athletic park in which to conduct the summer work. It was estimated that the park would require to be at least one hundred yards square, so that there would be room for baseball, football, lacrosse, tennis and all outdoor athletics. It was thought that if the need was properly known and understood that some good citizen might make a present of some such property to the Young Men's Christian Association, so as to enable them to enlarge their sphere of usefulness. The Building and Repairs Committee was authorized to have the building cleaned up immediately, with fresh paper, kalsomine and paint.

Tenders for the new boys' building are to be in by Saturday and building operations are to be pushed on as rapidly as possible. Eight thousand dollars has already been paid in by building fund subscribers.

The report of the boys' department showed a very satisfactory work carried on among the boys in the cottage at the Beach, and urged the necessity of having a club house at the Beach, so that the good work might be carried on more extensively next year.

Rev. Clarence Miller, of Marion, Ohio, and John Burns, city, are representing the association in the interests of a high-class course of entertainments to be put on in Association Hall during the winter. They are securing subscribers for course tickets and meeting with good success. Interested parties may have the advantage of having their names on the subscribers' list by telephoning the Y. M. C. A. office.

The executive committee will meet early next week to transact business referred to them by the board. Members of last year's cabinet are asked to meet for reorganization on Monday evening next.

BOY KILLED.

Paris, Sept. 10.—A boy was instantly killed yesterday by the automobile of Herrman Durieux, of New York, at the entrance to the Batignolles railroad station. The boy had been riding on the back of a wagon, jumped off, and fell under the wheels of the automobile.

Seventy thousand Americans will settle this year on 20,000 to 25,000 farms in the Canadian Northwest and take with them a wealth of $70,000,000.

Amusements

NEXT WEEK AT BENNETT'S.

At Bennett's Theatre next week DeWitt, Burns and Torrance will present a novel absurdity in "The Awakening of the Toys." The three are galvanized into life in a toy shop, and go through all kinds of grotesque comedy, tumbling and dancing in the various characters they are made to assume. Two men and a woman work in the act, and aside from the excellence of the acrobatics, the trio have a very pretty idea in the toy shop staging. Judging from the success this original realistic ballet met with, Toronto has attraction for the grown-ups as well as the children. A number of other important offerings will be seen next week, including Foy and Clark in their fantastic comedy; Clifford and Burke, the noted black face comedians; Vinie Daly, a vivacious little dancing comedienne; Jack Lee, presenting vaudeville's latest song hits, and Savoy, a novelty juggler.

This week's show will undoubtedly play to capacity business at the performance to-morrow, judging by the advance sale. Sibson's cat circus will make a great Saturday matinee feature.

MOUNTAIN THEATRE.

"Charley's Aunt" continues to please large crowds at Mountain Theatre. This is the "laugh show" of the season, and it should be well patronized. Next week, which will be the last, several plays will be presented by this popular company, including "My Old Kentucky Home," "A Bachelor's Honey-moon," "Niobe," and a farce that is said to be a scream, entitled "Caught in the Rain."

"THE MAN FROM HOME."

"The Man From Home," the play of the century, as it has been termed, comes to the Grand next Monday night. In Chicago it hung up a new record of 342 performances, and then ran for an entire year at the Astor Theatre, New York. The scenes are laid in Sorrento, Italy, and its story concerns the fortunes of a young Kokomo, Indiana, heiress and her brother, whose golden dollars are sought by foreign adventurers through the medium of titled adventurers. How the schemes are baffled by the shrewd guardian of the youngsters, Daniel Voorhees Pike, attorney-at-law, is told with inimitable humor and fine dramatic effects. Henry Hall, who played the part at the Astor Theatre, New York, will be seen as Daniel Voorhees Pike, "The Man From Home." Seats were on sale this morning, and judging by the demand a large audience is assured.

"KING DODO."

"King Dodo," that highly successful comedy opera by Pixley and Luders, is touring the country this season under the direction of John Cort, will be the attraction at the Grand next Thursday evening, and it is said to contain more pretty and catchy musical numbers than any entertainment of its kind that has been produced in recent years. There are more than twenty of them. The "Bumble Bee" song in the second act is possibly the most catchy of the lot, but "The Eminent Doctor Fizz," "Diana," "A Jolly Old Potentate," "I'll Do or Die," "Look in the Book and See," and "The Lad Who Leads" are all time-fad and well calculated to please the most musical of hearers. In the second act is introduced a march which is executed by twenty of the prettiest girls it was possible for the management to get together. The costumes, scenery, properties and effects are all new and very beautiful.

THE HOUSEKEEPER

JOHNNY CAKE.
Into a quart mixing dish put one teaspoonful of thick sour milk, add one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of sugar, the yolk of one egg. Stir together. Add slowly two cupfuls of yellow cornmeal, stirring constantly. Have ready the stiff beaten white of egg and add to the mixture after having put in one-quarter, scant measure, teaspoonful soda dissolved in hot water. Beat all together until light. Pour into a well greased pan and bake in moderate oven 25 minutes.

SALT RISING BREAD.
Many think salt rising bread a lost art or too slow a process, with much uncertainty as to results, for the modern housewife to undertake. By 9 o'clock, if you rise at 6 a. m., you can have three loaves of sweet, delicious bread baked, which will be the envy of all your friends, and may, if necessary, be the means of bringing in "pin money" if you will follow these directions:
Pour boiling sweet milk on a heaping tablespoonful of cornmeal and stir to a smooth paste only. Set this snugly covered in a real warm place over night. The next morning this should be swelled up, light. Heat half a coffee cupful of sweet milk and cool to a good warm temperature, not scalding, with a coffee cup of water. Into this stir a pinch of salt, a pinch of soda, a level tablespoonful of sugar, the light meal, and flour for a smooth batter. Set this in warm water snugly covered till it foams up twice as light as first quantity.

Next take a deep pan or bowl and take a coffee cupful of sweet milk, a pint of warm water, the light sponge, and flour to make a smooth, stiff batter. Stir over this an inch of flour. Set container in warm water, all snugly covered, and when the sponge breaks through all over and at the edges, add a pile of flour on the moulding board, and pour out on it the light sponge, catching it up and kneading into a soft mass. Pinch into three loaves and put into greased bread pan, allowing about an inch for rising. Grease top of loaves with butter. When level with the pan's sides bake in a quick oven forty minutes and cool in cold or cool air. This will be the most delicious bread you ever tasted.

THE POLE.

[Tune: "Carcassonne," by Francis E. Brown.]
I'm an old man; I'm eighty-three; I ought to stay at home.
My work, it keeps me close at home—I have no time for play.
It were not for the journey back, That so fatigues a soul,
I'd like to take a little trip— I never have seen the Pole.
"It's said that in that favored place There is no heat or drought;
And that, whichever way you turn, Your looking south-by-south
Some say there is a hole,
Think of the years that I have lived And never have seen the Pole.
The parson a hundred times is right— We ought to stay at home.
I'm an old man; I'm eighty-three; I have no call to roam.
And yet if I could somehow find The time—God bless my soul!
I think that I would die content If I only could see the Pole.
My brother has been to Baraboo, If so he speak the truth;
My wife and son, they both have been As far as to Duluth.
The census taker, Eastport, Maine, On a ship that carried coal,
I've been as far as Adakine— But I never have seen the Pole!

Most Famous of Comets.

Halley's comet, which is approaching the earth at a constantly increasing speed, and to catch the first traces of which photographic plates are being exposed at observatories all over the world, will not be so striking an object as Donati's comet, which in 1858 spread semicircle-like over a great part of the heavens. Yet two points in its history make it the most famous of all comets—its long sequence of appearances at intervals of about seventy-five years, which have been traced back to 240 B. C., and the circumstances under which it became associated with the name of Edmund Halley.

Newton's theory of gravitation suggested that comets might belong to the solar system, moving about the sun in long ellipses and parabolas. Halley, on his appointment as Savilian professor of geometry at Oxford, in 1704, followed up the work of his beloved mas### ter by computing the orbits for twenty-four comets from 1337 to 1698.

As an accidental outcome of this he discovered that the orbits of three of them—those of 1531, 1607 and 1682—were so nearly alike as to suggest the identity of the comets. The period of their appearance varied between seventy-four and seventy-six years, but this could be accounted for by the pull of the planets, and hence Halley decided that they were really reappearances of one comet.

Before his death, in 1742, he reflected that although he could not hope to see the comet's return, if it did appear, 'about the year 1758,' posterity would remember that it was an Englishman who first predicted it.
The comet returned in 1759, as Halley predicted, the slight delay being also foreseen as due to planetary attraction. It has appeared once since then, and we are now watching for its third calculated appearance.—London Mail.

The Siamese Cat.

The Siamese cat comes from the kingdom of Siam, where I first met him, and is of two classes, the common and the temple cat. The common or garden variety differs from the temple in the same manner as a thoroughbred differs from the mongrel, whether cat, horse or dog. The temple cat is the outcome of long years of careful breeding and anxious care. He is jealously guarded by the houses (priests) of the temple, and enters in some way which I have never been able to discover into their religious rites and sacrificial offerings.

His exportation has been prohibited for many years, as he has always been in great demand among cat fanciers, and so many were carried off that the price became fabulous, and the priests objected, as there was fear that the royal line might become extinct. Oh, yes, there is a royal line of cats, of which there were two in this country.

The pure Siamese temple cat is born pure white, and at the age of two or three months shows markings of blue gray on tail, legs, and ears. As time passes, these turn brown and at six months the face, tail, ears, and feet show a beautiful brown color, like young seal, where the body is as yet white with just enough color to warm it. The greater the age of the cat the deeper will be the color of the fur. The eyes are of a beautiful azure; blue in daylight, they glow like live coals at night.

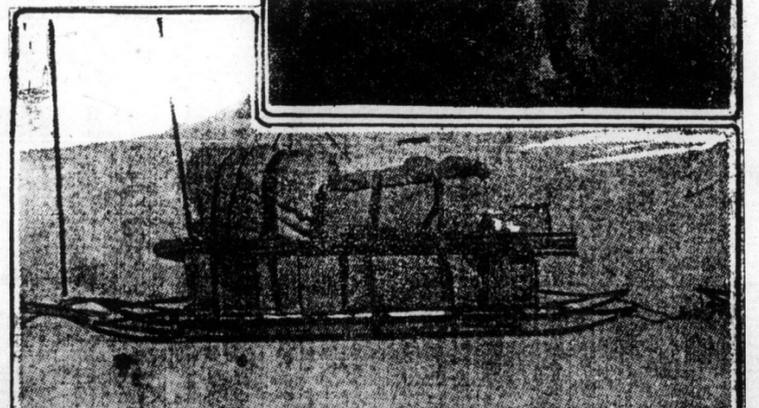

I have had thirty at a time. I rent a pair to the exhibition at Liege, which were sold for six thousand francs. Five hundred dollars is not an excessive price for a pure specimen.—Harold Bassett, in The Cat Review.

Russia's copper production is increasing, amounting to 10,306, 14,554 and 16,501 tons in 1906, 1907 and 1908 respectively.

Deposits of copper in the Caucasus present vast opportunities and enormous beds of coprolites exist in central Russia and in the Diester basin, the quantity in the latter alone being estimated as high as 27,000,000 tons, says a consular report.

Oregon Astrologer Sees Things.

N. Becker saw a wonderful sight Tuesday night and called his family to see the phenomenon. He looked at the moon and saw the luminary surrounded by a halo in the perfect shape of a ball and with an outer edge the color of a rainbow. The corona was whiter than the moon, which looked like a bell hammer. Mr. Becker, who is an astrologer, cannot explain the matter, and states that it is the first sign of the coming destruction of the world.—Woodburn Independent.

The date has been selected in order that the members of this important body may have an opportunity of attending the Niagara District Horticultural Exhibition, which will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 15, 16, 17.

DRIVING TO DEATH.

Charles Reckard, a Waiter, Rescued at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 9.—Drunk and whipping a frightened horse furiously, Charles Reckard, a Dutch waiter, was saved from death by being dashed over the Niagara bank to-night at 5 o'clock.

Reckard says that he has secured a position as head waiter at the Hotel Lafayette, Buffalo. He was to commence work to-morrow morning and spent the day viewing Niagara Falls. He realized that he must get to Buffalo to-night, and engaged a hack to drive to the station and gave the driver "hurry" orders showing a big roll of bills.

Sutton, the driver, realizing the man's condition, and noting the large amount of money in his possession, left the hack at Park street and went to advise the police. Becoming impatient at the delay, Reckard whipped the horse and drove down the hill which leads to the bank at full speed. The horse dashed towards the precipice, with speed increasing every minute.

Chief Kimmins with commendable promptitude dashed after the runaway, climbed into the rig, and checked the horse's mad flight just as the affrighted animal was about to leap over the precipice.

Reckard was locked up, and three hours later said he had no knowledge of the affair. He had over five hundred dollars in bills.

Hamilton Board Wants the Public Library Building.

Additional Land to be Secured at Barton School.

The Board of Education held a meeting in the City Hall last night. Several resolutions were passed, but very little discussion was entered into by the members on the questions before them.

Mr. C. G. Booker suggested that the board pay a tribute to Mr. T. L. Kinrade, late principal of Cannon Street School, and accordingly introduced the following:

Moved by C. G. Booker, seconded by C. R. McCullough, that this board can not allow the occasion of the withdrawal of Mr. Thos. L. Kinrade from the service of the board without placing on record its sense of appreciation of the services rendered by him during the past thirty-six years by the members of the board who were devoted to the work in Cannon Street School, of which he was principal, and that a vote of thanks be conveyed to him for the long and faithful services rendered by him to this board, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the secretary to Mr. Kinrade.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Another motion was moved by Mr. Lyman Lee, seconded by Mr. Thos. W. Watkins, that the secretary of the board be requested to obtain as soon as possible for the information of any and all the members, the percentages of candidates who passed the last entrance examination in Ottawa, Toronto, and London, such percentages to be based upon the number who were recommended from the public schools in each of the said cities; and that the secretary of the board also obtain if possible a statement showing the percentage of those who passed the last junior and senior leaving examination in each of the said cities, and also a statement of the number of candidates who wrote this year on all junior and senior leaving matriculation examinations at the collegiate institutes of said cities, and the number who passed and obtained honors respectively in all said examinations.

The resolution was referred to the Internal Management Committee.

A letter was read by the secretary from Miss Savage of Central School, requesting that the members of the board inspect the exhibit of Kindergarten work, by the students of Miss Savage's training class, on Wednesday, September 15, at Central School, from four to six o'clock. The members looked upon the invitation very favorably, and a large representation will probably attend the exhibit.

The question of the purchase of property on Birch avenue for the extension of Barton Street School was introduced by Mr. Alfred Ward, who moved that the secretary be instructed to purchase the property at the price arrived at by the committee, namely $3,100. Mr. S. F. Lazier, K. C., seconded the motion, and it was adopted. Chairman Hobson explained that some difficulty had been experienced in arriving at a price with the owner, who at first asked $3,600. The price offered was much less, but finally they reached $3,100, and he thought it was wiser to settle at that price than to appropriate.

Mr. Thomas W. Watkins suggested that, in the event of the purchase of the public library building by the city, application be made for it for the accommodation of the Board of Education.

He intimated that the growing needs of the Board would before long necessitate the securing the public library for all purposes of the Board.

ALL WERE FINED.

ASSAULT ON LICENSE OFFICIALS AT INGERSOLL.

Charles Cannon and George Bower, Who Pleaded Not Guilty, Had to Pay Twenty Dollars Each—Others Assessed Ten Dollars.

Ingersoll, Sept. 9.—Intense interest was manifested in the trial this afternoon of the eight men charged with assaulting Provincial Inspector Aycerst and the detectives who furnished the evidence on which John Hayes, of the Normandie Hotel, was on Thursday last fined $100 and costs for selling liquor without a license. Details of the melee, which took place in the stairway and on the street, as the Government officers were leaving the court room, were brought out in the evidence. The cases were heard before Magistrate Morrison, County Crown Attorney R. N. Ball, Woodstock, prosecuted.

The first two cases, the only ones in which evidence was taken, occupied the attention of the court until nearly 6 o'clock, when an adjournment for an hour was made. Charles Cannon, the first defendant called, pleaded not guilty. The two detectives, Corian and Ransome, testified that they saw Cannon at the bottom of the stairway as they were leaving the court room. They also positively identified him as one of the men who had taken part in the disturbance. They swore he struck the first blow.

gave evidence of a contradictory nature, but the Magistrate held the charge proven, and imposed a fine of $20 and costs, to be paid forthwith, and in default two months' imprisonment.

George Bower, bartender at the Kirwin House, was the second defendant called. He also entered a plea of not guilty. As in the first case, the two detectives testified against Bower. Corian swore that Bower struck him. In this respect the evidence of Ransome was that he saw Bower strike at Corian. Bower denied striking anyone, and other witnesses for the defence testified that they did not see Bower strike any blows. The Magistrate held that the evidence warranted a conviction and fined Bower $20 and costs, to be paid forthwith, with the alternative of two months' imprisonment.

When court resumed at 7.15 the other defendants, Fred Barrow, Chas. Barrow, Ewart Bell, William McLean, William Murray and Daniel McMillan, pleaded guilty, and were each fined $10 and costs or two months' in jail. In the first two cases the fines and costs total $317.50 each, and in the other six $217.50 each. The best of order prevailed during the trial and the crowd quickly dispersed at the close.

Get Out the Vacuum.

Under the classification "Situations Wanted--Female," the Milwaukee Journal publishes this ad: "German girl wants cleaning."

—Unless German nature abhors a vacuum.

It has been announced that an airship line will be in operation soon between which was received by Corian. Cannontween Potsdam and Berlin.

VALE--NISBET.

Former Hamilton Man Married Yesterday In Toronto.

Yesterday afternoon the marriage of Miss Isabel Barr Nisbet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nisbet, and Mr. Percival Arthur Vale, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Vale, Harbord street, took place at Westminster Church, Bloor street east, Toronto. Rev. John Neil, D. D., assisted by Rev. John Stenhouse, D. D., were the officiating clergy. The church was beautifully decorated with Killarney roses and palms, and Mr. Peter Kennedy was organist. Mr. Arthur Bright sang a solo during the signing of the register. The bride was given away by her father, and wore an exquisite dress, slightly empire fashion, with embroidery of seed pearls and soft lace drapery; tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and shower of white lilies and roses. She was attended by Mrs. Clarence Aton as matron of honor. Miss Helen Langford Rochester, N. Y., and Miss Isabel Barr were bridesmaids, in dresses alike of pale rose marquisette, over Nile green satin, black plumed hats, and showers of Killarney roses. The flower girls were Miss Jean McIntosh and Miss Helen Horne, who wore white mousseline de soie with Valenciennes lace, large pink bows in their hair, and carried artistic baskets of lilies of the valley and pink roses. Mr. Stuart Kirstman, of Toronto, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Charles Christie and Mr. Russell Finch. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Walker avenue. Mrs. Nisbet wearing a rich copper color chiffon velvet. Mrs. Vale, mother of the groom, wore blue liberty satin. Mr. and Mrs. Percival Vale left for New York, the going-away dress being a pretty grey striped chiffon cheviot dress, with which was worn a becoming black hat of new shape with grey feathers.

The groom, who is a promising young banker, is a native of Hamilton, a son of Mr. J. J. Vale, of the Provincial Department of Insurance, and formerly of the Times.

HELD CAPTIVE.

Fifteen-Year-Old Girl Found by Detectives in Chinatown.

New York, Sept. 8.—For two weeks a pretty 15-year-old girl was held captive by a Chinese in a dark room at No. 8 Bovey, within the shadows of Chinatown. She was rescued before dawn yesterday by two detectives who for ten days had been searching through the quarter for the white slave they knew to be imprisoned in one of the squalid tenements fringing the narrow streets jutting off Chatham square and the Bovey.

She had no complaint to make of the treatment her master accorded her, she told the detectives. He kept her well supplied with money and gave her jewellery and costly dresses, and her meals consisted of dainty Chinese dishes. But she had not seen light from the time she entered the windowless, box-like room, and she blinked her eyes when Detectives Brickey and Reilly led her into the street.

It was like a strange dream—the two weeks in darkness, save when her master smoked opium and the glow of the peanut oil lamp penetrated the gloom. When he was away he had cautioned her to keep the room dark, so none would learn of her presence, and to respond to no knocks at the door, and, terrified, she obeyed his commands and unwittingly kept the detectives off the scent until yesterday morning, when they broke into the room.

Christiana Braun had run away from her home in Weehawken, N. J. She was sent to the Children's Society, and Joe Wong, her master, was committed to the Toms in $5,000 bail to answer to a charge of abduction.

REPLIES TO WHITNEY

London Economist Arraigns Him For Bad Faith.

The London Economist of August 28 contains a lengthy editorial replying to Sir James Whitney's statement as to his course complained of in breaking faith with British investors in Ontario electric enterprises. We quote from it:

"In 1903 the Electrical Development Company of Ontario contracted with the Niagara Falls Park Commission, a body appointed by the Ontario Government, for a supply of power for sale and delivery to Toronto and other municipalities. To construct its works, the company sold $8,000,000 of bonds in England and Canada, while upon the remaining $2,000,000 it had authority from the Provincial Legislature to issue $10,000,000 worth—advances were obtained in London. The Park Commission, which is the Government under another name, covenanted not to compete with the company, save under circumstances that have not arisen. Nevertheless, the Government established quite recently at Niagara another agency of its own, known as the Hydro-Electric Commission, with a Minister of the Crown at its head, and is proceeding to build transmission lines for the delivery of a number of western Ontario municipalities, Toronto included, of power which this new commission derives from an American plant on the Canadian shore, that in turn generates it from the water of the Niagara River, and an arrangement made with the Park Commission."

After calling attention to the fact that this is a manifest breach of contract, and a moral wrong to the British and Canadian investors, the reply deals with Whitney's legislation making legal what was illegal, and forcing the municipalities into contracts different from those signed by the ratepayers. Such a course, it says, is likely to damage the public credit of Canada. "Further, the whole of the legislation may be unconstitutional for another reason, that by the Government of Ontario has throughout assumed jurisdiction over the water in the Niagara River, which first, as a navigable stream above and below the cataract, and second, as constituting the boundary between Canada and the United States from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario, is surely within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Dominion Government and Parliament."

"Sir James Whitney cites the English laws giving finality to the decisions of the executive departments of the British Government in certain matters in that justification of his legislation in that respect. He is, apparently, not aware that the law in question is very generally disapproved in England, and that in June last the Lord Chief Justice entered a dignified protest against it, saying that whereas in time past the judiciary had stood between the people and the Crown and had protected the people, it might be necessary for some time to say to the people and the executive, in order that the executive might not presume to be the final interpreter of Acts of Parliament."

"Besides, there is an important difference between refusing access to the courts from the decision of a Government Department in England and refusing it from an Act of a Provincial Legislature in a British dominion possessing a federal system of government, under which the Legislatures, though subordinate politically, exercise original jurisdiction over property, civil rights, and other matters counted amongst one's dearest possessions. If for nothing else, for the sake of their credit in the English money market, Canadians should lose no time in procuring such amendments to the British North America Act as, without reducing the Legislature to impotence, shall curb their propensity to legislate by executive order, and of the principles of justice and fair dealing."

"Sir James says his present statement is not a reply to his critics so much as a complaint against their methods and that he and his colleagues intend at their own time to make a detailed answer to them by a quiet and dignified way, and that it will show that the facts above given are susceptible of a different gloss and conclusion from those at which we reluctantly arrive. He is an able and honest man, but has, perhaps, been led astray by his public-ownership friends in Toronto, some of whom are disposed to regard the private investor in public services as a noxious monopolist to be got rid of in as shabby a fashion as the law allows."

"The rush of the fall business is now on, Finch Bros.' report being unusually busy. Their five made-to-order departments are fast filling up with orders for the coming season, and ladies desiring garments made to measure should lose no time in placing their order and choosing the materials now. Large assortments of the new dress and suiting materials are ready and choosing now is easy and best. Saturday being the great shopping day of the week, Finch Bros. are advertising to-night a very special savings in many lines of the new goods for the autumn, read about them. They will interest you. Besides, the display of the new autumn merchandise should charm the heart of every woman. Make a note of it and shop at Finch Bros. Saturday."

WOMAN BANKRUPTS IN ENGLAND

Reasons of Failures—Dressmakers Who Give Credit.

More women failed in business during last year than in 1907, according to a return just issued by the Board of Trade. Of the total of 441 failures there is a preponderance of married women bankrupts, the proportion being: Married women . . . . . 208 Widows . . . . . 154 Spinsters . . . . . 82 The trade that has proved most disastrous to the business woman is dressmaking and millinery, as is shown by the following table:

Trade. Failures. question put to the head of a flourishing dressmaking business in Mayfair. "There are three principal reasons," was the answer. "Too little capital, too long credit, and lack of hereditary business instinct."

"Only dressmakers starting with big capital can afford to give credit," she added. "A ready money basis is the only possible one for a woman whose capital is restricted. Another common mistake is to launch out either in the west end or in a high rented district on the fringe of the fashionable quarter, where many rivals and heavy outgoings must be encountered. The suburbs are crying out for good dressmakers and there is money to be made by women who will conduct their

WHAT IS GOING ON TO-DAY IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

JOHNSON FAILED TO KNOCK OUT KAUFMAN.

White Fighter Was Sadly Outclassed and Just Managed to Stay on His Feet.

HAMPION JACK Johnson defeated Al Kaufman in a ten round fight at the Mission street arena in San Francisco.

From the first round Johnson proved himself master of Kaufman at every angle of the game, and though the plucky Californian lasted the limit, this was largely due to the fact that Johnson did not force the fighting in the early rounds, and when he tried to finish his man in the seventh and succeeding rounds, he did not have enough steam.

Johnson's most effective blows were heavy left hooks to heart and right uppercuts, which he landed at will.

Nearly every blow of Johnson reached its mark and Kaufman's face was covered with blood after the first round. So easily did Johnson outclass Kaufman that it seemed he could have ended the fight at any stage.

There is no question but that Johnson was trying hard for a knockout in the final round. He followed the white fly relentlessly around the ring to cut loose some hard punches.

Referee Eddie Smith was not permitted by the articles of agreement to give a decision, but in an opinion to newspaper men he declared Johnson was the winner all the way.

Round 1—Johnson opened with a left hook to the stomach. They met at close range. Johnson landed right and left short arm punches to the jaw and left to the face. Kaufman looked worried. Johnson closed in, landing short arm right hand lefts to the head. There was little sting in them, however.

Just before the round ended, Kaufman shot a right and left to the jaw, but the champion only smiled. Kaufman seemed slow in comparison with the fast work of Johnson.

Round 2—Johnson wrestled Kaufman against the ropes and a moment later drove a straight left to the face, following it with a left to the body and then quickly whipping left to jaw. Kaufman appeared confused. They closed in and Johnson rocked Kaufman's head with a short arm swing that carried no steam.

Johnson had the better of a tame round. Johnson smiled and cracked jokes at the spectators.

Round 3—Johnson drove a wicked left to jaw and a hard right to the stomach and uppercut twice with his right to the mouth. Johnson planted an awful right wallop on Al's bleeding face and forced him to stall. Johnson taunted Kaufman good-naturedly and varied this with two fearful jabs to the jaw. The bell rang and Al tumbled into his chair with blood flowing in a veritable stream from his mouth and nose.

It was apparent that Johnson was clearly Kaufman's master and could finish him at such time as he was ready to get loose.

Round 4—Kaufman drove a hard right to stomach. This angered Johnson and he beat the Californian against the ropes, planting right and left to the jaw. Kaufman again drove his right to the stomach and Johnson grinned. Both men eased up, but Johnson's landing was good. The round ended tamely and it looked as if Johnson deliberately slowed.

Up to this stage Kaufman failed to lead and had landed but two punches, both to the stomach.

Round 5—Johnson uppercut twice with his right, lifting Kaufman's head a foot. Johnson was very quick. He drove right and left to the stomach and had Kaufman constantly on the defensive.

No damage was done in this round.

Round 6—Kaufman clinched, but Johnson broke loose and sent the white man almost into the press stand with a left hook to the body and a right across to the jaw. Al mixed it but found Johnson waiting, and the latter showed that he was master of the situation at any style of fighting that Kaufman could bring to him. The round closed with ineffectual exchanges, Johnson having everything his own way.

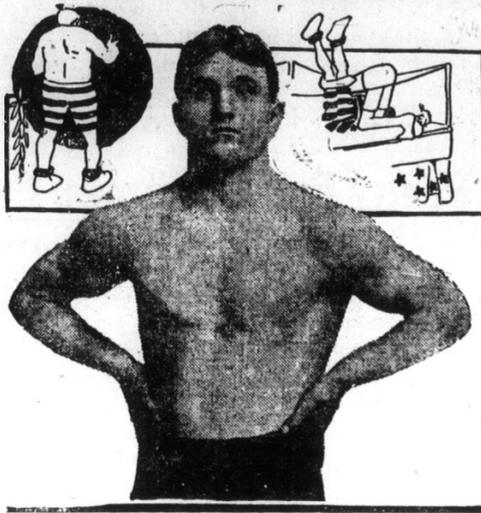

Round 7—Kaufman tried with left for the jaw, but Johnson blocked. Kaufman fought in close, but the black man smothered every attempt. Kaufman started the crowd into a real cheer by planting right and left to the stomach. A long lunge followed, during which Johnson held back and cut loose alternately. The gong ended a featureless round. It was apparent to all that Johnson was holding himself back.

Round 8—Johnson opened with a straight left to the jaw and swung right and left with great force to the jaw and mouth. Kaufman looked away, seldom, if ever, leading. Johnson uppercut twice to the jaw with his left, for which he was re-laid by a hard right hook to the stomach, the best blow Kaufman had landed.

Round 9—Kaufman forced the smile from Johnson's face by clouting him in the stomach with a hard right. The black fought back a bit wildly, but quickly regained his composure and sent right and left with great force to the jaw. The round ended with the crowd jeering Johnson.

Round 10—Johnson hooked to the jaw and a hard right to the stomach and uppercut twice with his right to the mouth. Johnson planted an awful right wallop on Al's bleeding face and forced him to stall. Johnson taunted Kaufman good-naturedly and varied this with two fearful jabs to the jaw. The bell rang

YOUNG MILLER.

Minneapolis, Sept. 10—This is Young Miller, who claims to be welterweight catch-as-catch-can champion of the world. Miller has been wrestling but three years and during this time has defeated such men as Max Luttbeg, Ed. Adamson, Fred Baril, Max Wiley and Stanley Karp, some of the best welters in the country.

Miller is after Otto Suter, holder of the international welterweight title.

The pair met at Duluth about a year ago and went to a draw which lasted nearly three hours without a fall.

In this bout Miller was the aggressor and the opinion prevailed at the time that had Suter opened up he would have been defeated.

Miller is a marvel of strength, speed and cleverness and in his defi says he will wrestle any man in the world at 142 pounds, the welterweight limit.

MANY CLUBS ANXIOUS TO ENTER "BIG FOUR."

T. A. A. C., Peterborough and a Montreal Club Will Make Application For Admittance.

Indications point to an influx of applications for admittance to the "Big Four" at the semi-annual meeting of the Inter-Provincial, which takes place here on Saturday next. Several clubs have written to President Doc Thompson intimating their desire to play in faster company, and some have made direct application. It will be easy enough to accommodate those who wish to enter the intermediate and junior series, but on account of a clause inserted in the Inter-Provincial constitution at the time of drawing it up only four teams can play in the senior series. The time that this clause was to remain in force was limited to three years, and after this season the league will be enlarged. The T. A. A. C., of Toronto, is again anxious to enter the league, and like to have a squad in the "Big Four." A Montreal club also has the same aim, but for the reason given above none of them will be allowed to enter this year. It is a matter of considerable doubt whether Peterboro could scrape together a team worthy of faster company than the senior O. R. F. U., or the intermediate Inter-Provincial.

After to-morrow the local football fans will be able to talk of this season's prospects with more certainty. The first practice should be a big one, and the players should turn out regularly from then on until the games start. It will not be an early start, by any means, and the time that is before them, about a month, is none too long in which to get into the condition that is necessary to stand the knocks and scuffles of the game. Chaucer Elliott has had his team out practicing for the past two weeks, and although things do not look any too bright for the winged wheel team, it is in condition that counts, and a repetition of what occurred two years ago would not be appreciated by the local enthusiasts.

"What will the Tigers do for backs with Simpson, Moore and Tope quitting?" asks the anxious fan. Let us reiterate, Simpson, Moore and Tope will not quit; they are not the quitting kind. Even though Cottontop is going to take the fatal step this fall and join the ranks of the benefactors, we do not hesitate to prophesy that he will be out chasing the pigskin around in as brilliant style this season as he ever did in the past.

In Sim Vaughan the Tigers have secured as capable a trainer as the best in Canada. He has had years of experience, and knows the business from A to Z.

TORONTO BEAT LEAGUE LEADERS YESTERDAY.

Newark and Jersey City Played Thirteen Innings Without Scoring a Run.

MCGINLEY had the better of Barger yesterday in the first game of the series between Rochester and Toronto at Rochester, the visitors winning by a score of 3 to 1. For eight innings it was a tight battle with a single tally perched on each side, and it looked like an extra inning game when the ninth opened. However, Kelley started a batting rally which netted two runs, and the Hustlers could not equal it in their half. Grimshaw got Toronto's first run. There was an element of luck in it. His hit was a lally perched on the terrace, and instead of striking the fence rolled under. It would have been good for three bases anyway, and he made the circuit on it.

Toronto didn't get near the plate after that until the ninth, when Joe Kelley doubled to center and scored on McDonald's out and Houser's single through the box. Grimshaw followed with a single to right which put Houser on third. A double steal was worked to perfection, Houser scoring.

Erwin was the first to touch McGinley for a safe one. It was in the third and fourth innings that Barger and Anderson could not advance him. Rochester's only run was a gift. Barger hit a six one to McDonald in the sixth. His throw was low and went through Houser's legs, Barger reaching third. Anderson's slow grounder to Mallen scored him, no effort being made to reach Barger at the plate, as he started home when Anderson hit the ball. The Hustlers had a chance in the ninth, but a double play killed it. Score:

ATHLETIC UNION FOR THE INTEREST OF YOUNG ATHLETES

Will be Formed in This City Shortly—W. H. Wardrope and Other Prominent Men Interested.

That a new amateur athletic association is to be formed in the near future is the announcement of a well-known sporting man, who takes a great interest in the young athletes. While nothing definite has been decided, plans are under way, and in the course of a few days arrangements will be completed. Notices are being sent to the secretaries of different clubs, requesting them to send representatives to an inaugural meeting of the new union, to be held in the Y. M. C. A. building on Monday evening. It is the intention of the promoters to run this organization under the same lines as the C. A. A. U., giving all the contestants a fair chance. In all probability fifteen clubs will enter, as a starter, and more will join later on. Suitable grounds, with the proper appliances, will be erected in different parts of the city and weekly meets will be held, as well as baseball and football leagues formed. Every member will be asked to contribute the nominal sum of 25 cents for an entry blank, and this card will entitle the holder to all privileges. Any questionable standing or other disputes will be settled by a committee, consisting of W. H. Wardrope, K. C. and a few other capable business men. The philanthropist who were not in the playgrounds movement are the gentlemen who are trying to make this scheme a success.

There are a few promising players sprouting up, and they will be ready for the championship senior Tigers in a few years. Abe Tremble, the fast outside wing of the Junior Alerts, is a dandy. "Trem" has shown fine form this year. "Tup" Volker and Guy Butler are also fast outside men.

The Church League got off to a good start last evening. The organization meeting was held, and indications are that it will be a bigger success than ever. Last year the league was in a class by itself, and this season promises to be a banner one. The clubs are all enthusiastic, and there is no doubt but that the teams will be in condition for the opening game, which takes place on September 25. The most important topic discussed last evening was the advisability of expanding the league. Four teams clamored for admission, but after much discussion it was decided to refuse their applications. It was pointed out that the league could be divided into two sections, and the winning teams play for the trophy, and if the four new teams can find grounds the scheme will go through. It speaks well, however, for the class of ball played in this league, and by the end of the season some promising material will be ready for faster company. The officers were elected as follows: R. Tasker Steele, Honorary President; Mr. A. R. Baker, President; Mr. Alexander, Vice-President; Fred Skerrett, Secretary-Treasurer. The forfeit will be $5. The teams entered are the same as last year—St. Thomas, Ascensions, First Church and St. Patrick's. The meeting was adjourned this evening, when the schedule will be drawn up and other business attended to.

No Inter-Provincial players will be allowed to play. This should meet with the approval of all, and help to keep the league in good standing. While teams will not be effected at the beginning of the season, it will stop the large number of teams from strengthening up by playing the cast-offs from the big league. The average weight will be 145 pounds and the maximum 160.

The election of Mr. Baker as president of the league was a good move. He was an ardent admirer of the teams last year, taking much interest in the league.

The manager of St. Patrick's team requests all players to be out to practice on Saturday afternoon on the church grounds.

The Broadviews, champions of the City League, will receive a handsome silver trophy, and each player will be given a nobby coat jacket. The league committee wish to thank Mr. Skerrett for the generous way in which he handed out the prizes.

Mr. Decey, the energetic president of the Church Baseball League, handed in his resignation with a letter of regret. He intends to give all his time to the interests of St. Thomas' team.

The Ascensions will hold a light practice at Sherman's field on Saturday afternoon.

The executive of the City League met last evening and arranged a few minor matters. At present only three teams

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Bobby Kerr will likely be in charge of the Hamilton team in The Montreal Star's annual fifteen-mile race next month.

In pole discovering, as in other lines of endeavor with which we are familiar, it is not discreet to pay off until the numbers are hung out officially.

The Hamilton Rowing Club's oarsmen will take their last workout this evening in preparation for the contests in which they are entered at the Argonaut regatta, which takes place to-morrow at Toronto. The local "eight" has been getting in a lot of hard work during the past week. Judging by the form they showed on Saturday last, when they defeated the Dons, of Toronto, so decisively, they should give Charley Turner's fast crew a good race.

Johnson put it all over the white man yesterday; now for the winner of the Ketchell-Langford go.

In Montreal they are fixing up electric lights to practice after the sun goes down, and "Chaucer" Elliott is sitting up nights figuring out new trick plays. With Tommy Stinson as captain, the winged-wheel fourteen should do great work, as the former Hamiltonian is one of the speediest in the game—almost too reckless, in fact, in getting out of tight places. There never was a footballer more ready to take a chance.

RUGBY

A practice of the Junior Tigers is called by Manager Tom Ross for Saturday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock at the Cricket Grounds. Any new men wishing to make the team are requested to turn out.

At a meeting of the Western Stars, Western Thistles, Shamrocks and Victorias, last night the average weight limit was fixed at one hundred and ten or one hundred and one hundred and fifteen pounds.

The one hundred and twenty-five pound City League will meet on Monday evening at J. W. Nelson's. The representatives from each club are requested to be on hand.

A Peterboro' despatch says: "At a meeting of the executive of the Peterboro' Club, held to-night, it was decided to form a senior and junior city Rugby league. From present indications there will be three teams in the senior division and four in the junior. The playing of a team in the Senior O. R. F. U. was also discussed, and while no action was

One of the latest ideas in the sporting world is a Kinrade baseball game. Dr. Anderson, who was cornered at the inquest, has been unspiring soft ball games with a good deal of success, and the idea of having him officiate at a game between the jurors and those otherwise connected with the case was talked over among some of the spectators at a recent game at which he officiated. There would be no difficulty about getting the jurors together, but, with Geo. Tate Blackstock, Dr. Bruce Smith, Detective Miller, Detective Greor and others out of the city the promoters are wondering how they could make up a team of officials, unless they ring in some of the newspapermen who reported the sessions. Dr. Anderson is quite in favor of the scheme if the game can be brought on within a week or two.

Fred Clarke asked Wagner if he could hit Camnitz one day when the Pittsburg star was bending them over exceedingly well.

"I don't know, but I'd keep my eyes on the ball," said Hans.

"If I feel right I don't worry about the pitcher," continued the champion swatter. "Some days I feel as if I can hit anything, and again they keep me guessing."

"People seem to think players should be like machines, putting up perfect games all the time. If they were, there wouldn't be any more fun watching a game than there is watching a rolling mill turning out rails."

It is certain that Peterboro' will have a strong aggregation in the provincial organization. Dr. A. W. MacPherson, the former Varsity star, has been appointed coach and will likely play again this season.

Hans Holmer Broke All Marathon Records.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 10.—Hans Holmer, of Quebec, a dark-skinned, lithe young athlete, romped away with the national Marathon race over the Merrimac valley course yesterday afternoon.

Holmer won because he was the best runner in the race. Not only did he win the Marathon championship of America, but he lowered all world records for 26 miles 385 yards over the road. His time was 2 hours 43 minutes 37 seconds, 18 seconds better than Bob Fowler's world's amateur record of 2 hours, 43 minutes 55 seconds, made from Ashland to Boston on Jan. 9 last.

PEARY AT LABRADOR.

Will be Saturday Before the Roosevelt Gets to Sydney.

Colored Man Accompanied Peary to North Pole.

Cook Hurrying From Copenhagen to New York.

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 9.—Commander Peary and the Roosevelt are still at Battle Harbor, on the coast of Labrador, according to the latest wireless news received at the North Sydney station, via Cape Race, to-night. Coaling has been in progress all day, say the dispatches. Battle Harbor is 350 miles from Sydney, and the Roosevelt is not believed to have speed greater than seven knots in her now. It is thought that, should the boat leave the harbor tomorrow, it cannot get here before Saturday. A local reception committee, headed by Mayor Richardson and Mr. Kohl, the American consul here, has planned a welcoming demonstration, timed to go off on a minute's notice.

Herbert L. Bridgman, the secretary of the Peary Arctic Club of New York, who arrived here this evening, read in a Halifax paper early in the morning Peary's advance report of his trip from Etah to the pole and back. The report of the death of Prof. Ross G. Marvin, who had been drowned, was a great shock to Mr. Bridgman. He immediately forwarded from the first station a telegram to Mrs. Mary Melvin a message of sympathy. Mr. Bridgman said that in all of Commander Peary's twenty years of Arctic exploration he lost but one other member of his expeditions. This one was John J. Stenhouse, who in the Peary expedition of 1892 left camp at the head of McCreck Bay, on the west coast of Greenland, and was never seen again. It was believed that he fell into the crevice of a glacier which has since borne his name.

"I will say that I am surprised at Peary's speed over the frozen ocean, which is something that he has never approximated for any length of time in his previous efforts. This must all depend upon conditions, which are variable and never to be anticipated."

Mr. Bridgman's attention was attracted to the difference of time Peary had occupied in going from Cape Columbia to the pole and in returning to the cape. Mr. Bridgman counted the distance between the points as 130 miles, allowing 70 miles as the distance between ten degrees of latitude. This Peary covered in 57 days. It took him only sixteen days to make the return, and the season was further advanced with the presumed consequent increase in the number of open leads.

"The rapid return trip is explainable," he said, "by the fact that on going south he had no necessity of fixing his course for a definite point, as he did on his dash for the pole, but he could strike Grant Land at any point and then find the Roosevelt's original party."

Another favoring circumstance that can be deduced was the good condition of his dogs. He must have had plenty of hunting during the winter at Cape Sheridan."

Mr. Bridgman further said that probably there were not more than two of the Roosevelt's original party with Peary when he made his final dash to the pole. One of these was probably Hensen, the colored man, who has been along as general utility man in every expedition of Peary's since 1891. The other would logically be D. B. McMillan, the ranking subordinate directly under Peary.

CAPT AMUNDSEN TALKS.

Copenhagen, Sept. 9.—No man's word is more respected here than that of Captain Amundsen, the well-known Arctic explorer. His enthusiastic support of Dr. Cook has increased, if possible, Denmark's faith in Dr. Cook's bona-fide statement. "For two years," says Captain Amundsen, "I was very close to Dr. Cook during our Antarctic expedition. I have met Peary a few times, but do not really know him. Cook is the most reliable man I have ever met. I would trust no other man as I would trust him."

When asked about Peary's talk of the Eskimos' evidence, Captain Amundsen laughed heartily and said: "I don't care a damn for the Eskimos. They can say what they want to. They reckon out what you want to hear and then speak to please the good white man. Only a man like Amundsen can handle them so as to get the truth."

Further questioning brought forth the following: "No one doubts Peary. No one doubts his word. No one doubts Dr. Cook. I believe he and Cook have been at the Pole. I am going there myself next year. I believe that when the excitement calms everything will be all right."

Captain Amundsen evidently respects Cook's wish not to tell stories of his experience, but Captain Amundsen said: "We talked for a long time last night. They had a terrible hard time. I told them of details which I will not talk about, but they were terribly hard. He has observations and all that sort of thing with him, while Mr. Whitney will take his instruments to America."

He has not seen Dr. Cook's diary or observations, and does not think the people who are said to have seen them have really done so, but he said: "We talked a long time last night. He had his map out and we went all over it. That was enough to make me believe Cook had been to the North Pole, even if I had not known him before. Yes, I could have believed you, though I had never seen you or heard of you before, had you been at the Pole, if you had gone over your journey like that."

Captain Amundsen's expedition was then talked of. It is to be an oceanographical study of the ice currents and to sound seas. "It makes no difference to my ideas, but we now know there is no land at the Pole we ought to get across in four years. Before I knew that I would have said the expedition might have taken six years."

Prof. Torp, Rector of the University, in presenting a diploma to Dr. Cook to-day, spoke of the admiration his achievement had aroused in the university, and declared that the news that another famous explorer had solved the same problem could in no way detract from the honor due Dr. Cook.

In expressing his thanks, Dr. Cook said he accepted the honor as testimony of the genuineness of his journey. He promised to send the university his complete records, and he completed that it was his intention to dispatch a ship

SCRAP BOOK POETRY

THE LAND OF SHINING GOLD.
(By George R. Sims.)
"The woman must go to the workhouse, and the young man to the school; Outdoor relief? Oh, nonsense!—besides, it's against the rules." The man didn't speak unkindly, he simply met the bleak despairing face. But the woman she lay and listened with white despairing face. She had starved herself to a shadow, she had pined her needle and thread To pay the rent of her lodgings and to give her children bread; But when she was down with fever, to the parish her landlord sent; To come and remove the tenant who had nothing to pay the rent.

The children cling to their mother, the tears coursed down their cheeks; They had been in the workhouse through all the weary weeks. They had starved and never murmured; they had knelt down on the bread; That the God of widow and orphan would send them a brighter day. But now they were there—the parish whose laws are wise Can't alter its regulations for sentimental things. The guardians in their wisdom keep families far apart. Which is good for the parish pocket if bad for the pauper heart.

They took her away to the workhouse—this woman, Elizabeth Roy. And the officer came soon after to fetch the girl and the boy had vanished; they dreaded their pauper fate—The boy was just eleven, and the little girl was eight. Where had the children gone to? They'd hidden, the neighbors said, on the alley where they had hid the golden day. And all that day they hunted for Kate, and for her brother Fred. But night came down on the alley where their poor little home had been. And by none of the people searching were the missing children seen.

The mother lay in the workhouse, racked with the hunger pain. But a beautiful peaceful vision came to her fevered brain. The scullion's solum and alley had faded out of sight. And back to a scene far brighter had fancy winged its way to the golden day. Harvey as wife and mother, she sat in the sunlit room. And looked down the country garden where the roses were in bloom; And the children played and prattled, and their innocent laughter filled the air. The air with joyous music, and the sweet birds sang and trilled.

And he, her love and her darling, stood smiling by her side. As gentle, as kind and tender, as the day she was his bride. There was never a cloud in the heavens, never a chill in the breeze. And the sunshine danced a measure with the leaves of the waving trees. But sudden came a great, and the sky grew ashen gray. And night with its gloom and terror had winged its way to the golden day. A wife sat alone—deserted—left with her babes to brave. The storm that had proved her husband only a coward, knave.

Where had the children gone to? She never knew their fate. They knew to tell her the story in her weak, exhausted state. But the neighbors had traced the children to the busy river side. Someone had seen them gazing on the black and swollen tide. They had heard of the fate before them, they had thought of 'school' with dread. They'd found some day in the river—that's what the gossip said; But many a month went over, and never a trace was found. Of the children and sister, and the parish believed them drowned.

But they were alive and happy, thousands of miles away. And this is how things had happened: they sought the workhouse, would come to take them. "They knew their mother's fate, So they held council together, Fred and his sister Kate. A wonderful scheme the boy had; he had heard of the land of gold. And then we could fill our pockets;" but Kate didn't understand. So he told her the splendid story—he fancied that in the mines. In great and wondrous masses, the fabulous wealth of the Northlands lay. And he said if they could but get there and dig up a lot of gold. They'd be able to get the things back, their mother had pawned and sold. And buy her wraps for winter and comforts to make her well.

But how they could make the journey was more than the boy could tell. "I know," cried Kate, in a moment; "I've heard the teacher say That ships of the docks are sailing almost every day. You know the name of the country where the golden nuggets grow. Let us look for a ship that sails there and sign on board and go. There's only one thing she added—"I fancy you have to pay." Then Fred remembered the story he'd heard. So they trudged to the docks and finding a vessel about to sail. They managed to get on board her and hide behind a bale.

They were found by the men next morning when the vessel was out at sea. And were taken before the captain, who said a word scolded at their story and he took them all the way. And the passengers heard about it and petted the girl and the boy. And the hearts of the little miners were filled with childish joy. As they dreamed of the famous gold fields that lay across the seas; And the good ship followed the waters and hid behind the breeze.

Their pale cheeks flushed with color, and their tear-dimmed eyes grew bright. And the ship was a wondrous playground from early morn to night. When they touched at Melbourne, the captain took them ashore. And showed them a hundred marvels they had never seen before. But Freddy said to the captain, "We shall have to say good-bye. For the captain's wife has places where the beautiful nuggets lie. We'll go, if you please, to-morrow, and soon we'll have filled our sacks. We'd like, if you'd be so kind, sir, for your ship to take us back."

The eyes of the captain twinkled—he thought it splendid! "I'll take you to Melbourne barroom. And that night in a Melbourne barroom. He told the children's story to the men who were the place. There were some of them there, old miners, who said, "Was a rummy case." But one of them asked the captain to let him see "the pair." A fortune-telling fellow, who'd made a fortune out of the boys as a miner, but he just made a lucky hit. And he said, "I'll take you to Melbourne, and was going the pace a bit.

The captain took the miner and showed him the girl and boy. He asked him what her name was, and she answered "Kate." The miner started for a moment and his face went deadly white. Then he asked the boy a question—he mightn't have heard aright. He asked him about his mother, and the miner's face flushed hot. As the children told the story of the mother's weary lot. He rushed from the room like a mad man, and came back with a bag of gold. And said, "I'll take you to Melbourne, and was going the pace a bit.

"Take that," he said, "to your mother—it's the gold that you came to seek; God's Providence sent you thither, the wanted word to speak. To call the wanderer homeward—he'll sail with a touch and trembling lip.

MRS. GOLDWIN SMITH

Passed Away at the Grange After a Short Illness.

Toronto, Sept. 10. Mrs. Smith, wife of Mr. Goldwin Smith, died yesterday evening at the Grange. She was 85 years of age. On Aug. 31 Mrs. Smith contracted a slight cold, and while to this her death is immediately attributable, the indirect cause was an old ailment, which was attached to her system until Sunday last, when she became suddenly worse. On Monday fever was entertained that she would not recover. Thereafter she gradually lapsed into a state of unconsciousness and so remained until her death. Mrs. Smith, like her distinguished husband, had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances in the city and throughout the country, and to many of these the news of her death will come as a sad surprise. It was not generally known that she was ill. For the kind-natured Mrs. Smith's sympathy will be felt on all sides in the great bereavement she has sustained.

The late Mrs. Smith was born in Boston, Mass., in 1824. She was the daughter of Thomas Dixon, a Knight of the Order of the Lily, and her maiden name was Harriet Elizabeth Mann Dixon. She was first married to William Henry Boulton, of the Boultons of Boulton, county of Lincoln, England, and a member of the Provincial Parliament for Toronto. The Boultons took up their residence at the Homewood, in Toronto.

Mrs. Boulton continued to reside there after the death of her husband, and on Sept. 30, 1875, was married to Mr. Goldwin Smith.

FROM BURNING HOME

Two Women Saved at Belmont—Rescuer Was Injured.

London, Ont., Sept. 9.—Three people narrowly escaped with their lives in an early morning fire which destroyed the residence of Mrs. Campbell, Belmont, yesterday. Dr. McIntyre, who occupied the ground floor, woke to find the flames raging about him. He got out with some difficulty and then went to rescue the two women who were sleeping oblivious to danger.

Mrs. Campbell is 80 years old, and in her excitement fell downstairs into the fire. Her daughter hysterically rushed after her, and both were slightly burned before Dr. McIntyre could get them out. The doctor had all his hair burned off and his face is scorched. His loss is $1,500, and the total loss is $4,000.

The captain took the miner and showed him the girl and boy. He asked him what her name was, and she answered "Kate." The miner started for a moment and his face went deadly white. Then he asked the boy a question—he mightn't have heard aright. He asked him about his mother, and the miner's face flushed hot. As the children told the story of the mother's weary lot. He rushed from the room like a mad man, and came back with a bag of gold. And said, "I'll take you to Melbourne, and was going the pace a bit.

PARENTS' NEGLECT.

It Hastened Child's Death, Say Welland Coroner's Jury.

Welland, Ont., Sept. 9.—The verdict of a coroner's jury, together with the evidence of an inquest held in Crowland, has been forwarded to County Crown Attorney Cooper, and it is likely that Edward Beckon and his wife, two faith curists, will be prosecuted.

Their daughter Ruth, aged five years, was taken ill of diphtheria and a doctor was called. They permitted the house being placarded, but would not allow him to administer treatment. The child died and the verdict of the jury is that "she came to her death from diphtheria, and death was hastened by the neglect of her parents, who did not get a doctor for medical purposes."

KILLED BY CAR.

Merritt Man Meets Death Near St. Catharines.

Had Been Out With a Brother Who Came From Galt.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) St. Catharines, Ont., Sept. 10.—A terrible fatality occurred on the local trolley line on the Knife Works Hill last night. The trolley leaving the city at 8.40 for Thorold, in charge of Conductor John Bowerbank and Motorman John Seord, was climbing the hill near the Whitman & Barnes factory in the darkness, there being no electric light in that vicinity, when Seord noticed the car strike an obstruction. He immediately reversed the controller and made an investigation only to find that a man was lying partly across the track, and that the car had cut his right leg severely. The conductor and motorman bound up the wound as best they could, and had him removed to the hospital, where the leg was amputated, and the man died an hour later. It was discovered that the man was Robert Cooper, of Merritt, and that in company with his brother, John, who was visiting him from Galt, and whom he had not seen for five years, he had been in the city, and both had been drinking heavily. It is supposed that they started for home and got as far as the scene of the accident, when Cooper fell down on the road. He leaves a wife and twelve children. Dr. Merritt, coroner, was notified, and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

THE GROCERS.

Collection of Accounts Again Discussed Last Evening.

At the meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association last night in the Board of Trade rooms, very little business was taken up, and not very many members were present. The meeting lasted about half an hour, and the main business discussed was in regard to the best manner of collecting accounts. The grocers have a great deal of trouble over collections, and at previous meetings the matter has been discussed, and numerous resolutions have been suggested. At last night's meeting plans were again discussed. Some spoke of bringing a man from Galt to address the next meeting and explain the system in use there, and it is likely that will be the course followed. The grocers all expressed themselves pleased with the success of the hump at Oaklands.

LADY KILLER.

Soldier Who Received 50 Proposals is Dead.

New York, Sept. 9.—Frederick Seiler, civil war veteran, has gone to the Grand Encampment. All that there was of him, uncovered in the blue of '62 and medals conforming his breast, was carried to the grave. Seiler, whose first wife died many years ago, had just passed 80 years. He died of old age. He lived at 486 First street, Hoboken, N. J. About three years ago Seiler astonished Hoboken by eloping with and marrying Miss Jennie Wolff, a 16-year-old girl. Shortly after the honeymoon the veteran again caused astonishment by divorcing his young wife. To-day she attended his funeral services and kept over the casket containing the remains of her former husband. It is common gossip in Hoboken that Seiler, who was thought to be very wealthy, was proposed to in marriage by no less than fifty women, several of whom are married, but offered to divorce their husbands to marry him.

ONE OF WEIGHT.

Young Man's "Ad." For a Wife i Specific in Stating Desires.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 9.—Any stout woman who fears her chances of matrimony are impaired by her weight, will do well, perhaps, to write to "M. T." of Webster, who is looking for just such a wife. The Webster man has sent the following letter to a Washington newspaper, requesting that it be published in full: "I desire to correspond to no one lady for matrimony purposes. No one need answer under 13 or over 35 years and prefer stout lady not under 120 nor over 216 pounds. I am a pretty young man, weighing 160 pounds, and am without a home, but I am building a cage and have it almost completed. I have dried two (2) bushels of apples and built a spring of good water at the door, and I have a big amount of fruit. I believe I am prepared for the hereafter, and all must be settled up before Thanksgiving. All answers must be addressed to M. T. Webster post-office, and residence East Donora, Pa."

north, was found guilty of a similar offense. Two full four-gallon kegs of lager and eleven quarts of the same concoction were found in his house, said P. C. Campbell and License Inspector Sturdy.

"How many relatives have you in the house, Pollar?" "Six." It was considered an unreasonable amount to have for personal consumption, whereas he was fined $30. While this case was in progress a young foreigner undertook to interpret for the defendant. The magistrate looked at him and asked, "Where's Mr. Proctich?" The regular interpreter was at once sent for.

You can go to-day, but if they are out again they will be captured and taken to the police office, and the owner will have to claim them there," said the magistrate. Mrs. Wynn's son appeared, and said the fowls were not his mother's.

Sergeant Pinch pinched John Watson's dog for roaming. John paid $2.

What New York Children Read. The children's libraries of New York, more than half a hundred of them, are very wisely directed by Miss A. L. Moore, of the Board of Education. It is therefore a position of unique responsibility and opportunity. Miss Moore is the final court of appeal in determining what books shall be laid before the children, as she also exercises a general direction over their management. It is she, therefore, more than any one else who moulds the taste of these children, thus exerting an enormous and far-reaching influence upon the taste in literary matters of the coming generation. An army of children is reached in this way to be numbered by hundreds of thousands.

Miss Moore has found that the children of New York are great readers and that their taste is often amazingly good. The children's libraries scattered throughout the entire city have been largely arranged by her. Here the children gather daily to read before the little tables or search through the long, low book shelves for books to their liking. It is her own personal experience that, left to themselves, the children are remarkably orderly and careful in handling books and may be trusted far more than grown people in such matters.

The records kept by Miss Moore of the taste of children in various neighborhoods show some surprising facts. The taste of the children on the lower east side, for example, is far more serious than in many of the more well to do or fashionable neighborhoods. Thus the little Hebrew children will read Shakespeare, serious works of history and much poetry, while the average child further up town prefers picture books and humorous writings.

Wise and Otherwise. "Modern literature has nothing similar to Polonius' advice to his son." "No chance for it. No modern Polonius would attempt to tell his son anything." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Faint-hearted men are the fruit of luxurious countries.—Herodotus. "Lusin' yoh temper don' pay," said Uncle Eben. "In a heap 'o' cases it don' do no mo' dan put you to de expense of hirtin' a lawyer to show you what yoh's wrong." —Washington Star.

The road leading to justice is the safer.—Hesiod. "And your husband is a yachtsman?" "Yes, indeed, and awfully enthusiastic about it. He has a nice boat of his own." "Is it a centrobout or a boat?" "No. From what I hear it must be a side-board boat." —Cleveland Leader.

Beyond his power the bravest cannot fight.—Homer. "There's one widow who has refused a pension." "But why?" "Won't admit that she was livin' durin' the war." —Atlanta Constitution.

"Does he ever do anything on time?" "Oh, yes. He quits work." —Detroit Free Press. Some men wear themselves out, and others merely rust.
