In the report of the graduation of nurses trained at the general hospital at Kingston, the name of Miss Mary Salisbury, daughter of Mr. C. Salisbury, of Forest, formerly of Watford, appears as having received her diploma. The presentations were made in Convocation Hall, Queen's University, before a large gathering.

THERE'S a smudge in the garden, a smok in the air; a smell combined of burnt leather and hair. There's a girl on the lawn with a rake in her hand; there's woe and distress all over the land. There's carpets to beat and rugs to shake; enough of such work to make a man quake. There's stoves to be moved and carpets to put down—no wonder a man wants to get out of town.

ON Wednesday evening Mrs. Mathews and her daughter, Mrs. Ben Smith, were driving along the Main Road, coming home after visiting friends, the horse they were driving got frightened at a bonfire and started to run. When in front of T. McLeay's both ladies were thrown out, Mrs. Mathews being thrown over the fence on the opposite side of the road to which she was sitting. Miraculously the ladies were not seriously injured although Mrs. Mathews was badly shaken up and it may take some little time before she gets over the shock.

AT a parental gathering recently a lady toasted, "The Gentlemen" as follows: "Bless'em. They add to our joys, they double our sorrows, they triple our expenses, they quadruple our cares, they excite our magnanimity, they increase our self-respect, awaken our affection, control our property, and out-manoeuvre us in everything. This would be a dreary work without them. In fact, I may say within fear of successful contradiction that without them this wouldn't be much of a world anyhow. We love them and the dear things cannot help it. We control them and the precious fellows don't know it."

THE CARNEGIE LIBRARY

The above cut is taken from the architect's drawing of the new Carnegie library now being erected in Watford and will give some idea what the building will look like when completed. On Thursday last the secretary of the Library Board, Miss May Reid, received from the Carnegie Corporation a cheque for $2000, being the first payment on the $6000 gift. Work on the building is being rapidly pushed forward.

Two able and exceedingly interesting addresses were delivered in Trinity Church Wednesday evening to a large congregation by Rev. T. R. Westgate and Rev. Canon Tucker. The entire evening was a very interesting one.

DR. V. W. SHIRLEY, a former resident of Watford, and brother of Mr. John Shirley, St. Clair street, has just been elected mayor of the town of Onaway, Mich. Dr. Shirley has occupied the mayor's chair in Onaway for several terms and his many old friends and acquaintances here will be glad to hear that the honor has again been conferred upon him. The Onaway Outlook says that "During Dr. V. W. Shirley's last administration as Mayor of the city he advocated stoning the road from city limit to city limit, and that now is a grand opportunity for the doctor to take up the thread where he left off when last mayor."

SPECIAL sale of dress goods remnants.—SWIFTS'.

MRS. D. FALLOON, of Warwick, met with a serious accident on Friday last at the home of her father, Mr. H. Waugh, John street, by falling from this kitchen to the basement. The members of the family who were at home at the time were engaged housecleaning in the basement and had left the trap door open. When Mrs. Falloon arrived, carrying a crock of butter in her arms, she walked into the house, and it is supposed that, entering out of the bright sunshine, she did not notice that the trap door was open and fell to the cement floor beneath, a distance of about 8 feet. When picked up she was totally unconscious and has remained partially so since, and has no recollection of anything that transpired after she entered the house. In the fall she received a severe bruise on the head but was not otherwise outwardly injured. Her physician gives hopes for her ultimate recovery.

ANOTHER bright young life passed from earth to a happier state on Friday last when the spirit of Martha Leila Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson, took flight after a long and tedious illness extending over sixteen months, which was borne with remarkable patience and cheerfulness. In January, 1912, Miss Thompson found her health failing and gave up her position as teacher of the 6th line school a few days after the term commenced. In the hope that the climate there would help her, but not improving in health she returned early in the fall, and from then to the time of her death was unable to leave her bed, gradually getting weaker until the end came. Willing hands and loving hearts did all in their power to help her bear her affliction during the long period of her illness, but nothing could be done to improve her condition. Miss Thompson was a young woman of very cheerful disposition and ambitious character, easily making friends, and she inspired the love and respect of all who became acquainted with her. The funeral on Sunday afternoon was one of the largest ever held in Watford. Service was held at the family residence, John street, by the Rev. T. M. Mead, pastor of the Baptist church, and the remains were carried to their last resting place in the Watford cemetery, covered with floral gifts from admiring and sympathetic friends. The bearers were L. Aylesworth, T. L. Swift, M. James, F. Kersey, J. Joynt and G. Griffith. Deceased leaves behind her to mourn her loss her parents, one brother, Manfred, and one sister, Mrs. L. Griffith.

and the contracting parties were unattended. They left on the 4.15 p.m. train for Ridgeway and arrived at their home in Watford Saturday evening. The Guide-Advocate joins their many friends in congratulations.

FEEDING MARKET TOPPING CATTLE

About the close of November George N. Runkle of McDonough county, Ill., was on the Chicago market with a string of cattle of his own feeding which made a great sales record. One bunch of thirty-seven head, averaging 1,527 pounds, brought $11 per 100 pounds, top price by 25 cents that day and the highest ever paid on the open market for branded cattle. Their gross price was nearly $168 per head.

The remainder of the shipment numbered eighty-six head, averaged 1,388 pounds and sold at $10.00, or within 15 cents per 100 pounds of the best price any other man's cattle made that day. Their gross price was a little Breeders and feeders of Galloway cattle declare they are early maturing, easy feeding animals, with plenty of vitality to stand crowding for market when the time comes. They are able rustlers, hardy of constitution and have a thick mossy coat that enables them to withstand sudden changes of weather. Without horns, they are gentle and easy to keep. Their feed is manufactured into the finest flavored beef, with a preponderance of the choice cuts. As a machine for manufacturing farm roughage into meat they have few equals and no superiors.

gy roads, a mighty big task indeed. During winter the cattle had all the shock corn and ear corn they would clean up, and from May on they were given all the ear corn they wanted. I do not take my cattle off the pasture in the winter nor early spring. They get used to the new grass as it springs up, and I believe this prevents them from scouring on new grass."

Quantity of Silage For a Cow.

A cow weighing 1,000 pounds will consume on an average about thirty pounds of corn silage daily. Fifteen pounds may be fed in the morning and fifteen pounds in the evening. The allowance may be increased or decreased in proportion to the cow's weight and individual needs. Some cows weighing a thousand pounds require more silage than others of the same weight. It is well to feed regularly, and it does not make much difference when the cows are fed provided they are fed regularly. As a rule, we believe it better to feed silage immediately after milking in the morning rather than before. If care is not exercised there is some danger of the silage tainting the milk when fed at the time of milking.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Selecting Feeder Steers.

While the butcher desires fineness of bone and high quality in all parts so that there shall be little waste on the block, it is not desirable to have this go to extremes. A steer with too much refinement, as indicated by a light bone and frail head and a small paunch, will not be able to stand the strain of heavy feeding and then finish out with the great weight that is desired. No one point is considered more important in selecting feeder steers than the width and straightness of the back, with the accompanying well sprung rib. It is an index to the feeding quality and points to the ability to put on meat in the expensive cuts.

Regularity

of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless the waste matter from the food which collects there is got rid of at least once a day, it decays and poisons the whole body, causing biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches. Salts and other harsh mineral purgatives irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills—entirely vegetable—regulate the bowels effectively without weakening, sickening or griping. Use Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills better than $147 per head. Mr. Runkle's cattle were all steers, branded westerns, grade Shorthorns, and went on eastern shipping account—to Boston and New York. They were originally from New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming, having been raised on the ranges of those states.

The cattle were bought as feeders through a live stock commission firm at Denver late in January, 1912, at $6.15 to $6.55 per 100 pounds, freight paid to the river, averaging around 1,000 pounds. When they arrived at Mr. Runkle's feed lots, Feb. 1, they averaged about 900 pounds. The difference in weight at Denver and at the feed yards reflected the shrinkage en route from market to home.

"When I received the cattle at home," stated Mr. Runkle, "I put them on a good blue grass pasture and in addition fed them a little ear corn in order to get them used to eating grain. It must be remembered that these cattle were strictly range grass cattle—had never tasted either corn or hay while on the range. When snow covered the grass I fed them shock corn, continuing the ear corn, this constituting their ration until May 1. By that time new grass took the place of the shock corn. From then until time of marketing blue grass pasture and ear corn were their only flesh getting rations. They would have made bigger gains had they had cotseed cake, but in order to get it I would have had to haul it fifteen miles over mud-

HOW TO RESIST

Chronic Coughs and Colds.

Strong, vigorous men and women hardly ever catch cold; it's only when the system is run down and vitality low that colds and coughs get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way to cure a cough is to build up your strength again?

Mrs. Olivia Parham, of East Durham, N. C., says: "I took Vinol for a chronic cough which had lasted two years, and the cough not only disappeared, but it built up my strength as well."

The reason Vinol is so efficacious in such cases is because it contains in a delicious concentrated form all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood-building iron added.

Chronic coughs and colds yield to Vinol because it builds up the weakened, run-down system.

You can get your money back any time if Vinol does not do all we say.

Thunder In Various Regions.

Java is said to be the region of the globe where it thunders oftenest, having thunderstorms ninety-seven days in the year. After it are Sumatra, with eighty-six days; Hindustan, with fifty-six; Borneo, with fifty-four; the Gold Coast, with fifty-two; and Rio de Janeiro, with fifty-one. In Europe Italy occupies the first place, with thirty-eight days of thunder, while France and southern Russia have sixteen days. Great Britain and Switzerland have each seven days, and Norway has four. Thunder is rare at Cairo, being heard only three days in the year, and extremely rare in northern Turkestan and the polar regions.

Leibnitz and the Alchemists.

Leibnitz, one of the great men of literature, who died in 1716, wished to join a society of alchemists who were prosecuting a search for the philosopher's stone. He compiled a letter from the writings of the most celebrated alchemists and sent it to the society. The letter consisted of the most obscure terms he could find, and he himself, he said, did not understand a word of it. Afraid to be thought ignorant, the society invited him to its meetings and made him secretary.

Mistaken.

Magistrate—You are charged with having emptied a bucket of water over the plaintiff.

Irishwoman—Sure, yer honor, ye must forgive me. In the dark I took the gentleman for my husband.—London Telegraph.

A POWER OF ITS OWN.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own that other oils cannot pretend to, though there are many pretenders. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

Mother's Day

Next Sunday, May 11th, is Mother's Day; wear a white flower (of a blameless life) for mother, if dead, and a red one, if living. As James Whitcomb Riley so beautifully puts it "the heaven that lies about us in our infancy is motherhood, and no matter how exalted or depraved we may become we are always attended by the grace of a mother's love and does not vision of splendor ever fade into the light of common day."

In the tragedy of Calvary it is beautiful to see the Master looking down upon His mother in tenderest solicitude, telling her to comfort His best beloved disciple, and him to comfort her.

"Backward, flow backward, O tide of the years,
I am so weary of toil and of tears,
Toil without recompense, tears all in vain,
Take them and give me my childhood again.

What man and what woman have not expressed these same thoughts? Yes, even those who have received the applause and plaudits of the multitude. The glamor soon wears off and they continually long again for the days of their childhood. While those poor weary ones, whose lives seem to have been cast under an unlucky star, so weary of toil and the tears, wish to be a child again just for to-night.

Do not forget that your mother's life has not been an easy one, my boy. She has worked, not eight or ten hours as the union scale goes, but twenty-four. Remember she cooked and cleaned and scrubbed and patched and nursed from dawn till bed time, and in the night was up and down getting drinks for thirsty lips, covering restless little sleepers, listening for croupy coughs. She had time to listen to all your troubles as well as your stories of boyish fun and frolic. She had time to say the things that spurred your ambition on. She never forgot to cook the little extra pie for you; she did without the dress she needed that you might not be ashamed of your clothes before other boys.

Remember this, my boy, while there is time, while she is living, to pay her back in love and tenderness some of the debt you owe her. You can never pay it all, but pay down something on account this very night.

"All that I am my mother made me."—Raicher.

"The world will judge largely of mother by you."—John Quincy Adams.

"For the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world."

Daughters of the Empire

The May meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. Mitchell, there were seventeen members present and five visitors. After roll call and general business, a very interesting program was rendered. Mrs. A. G. Brown gave a reading, "Like English Gentlemen." The Chapter sang "The Maple Leaf Forever." A short sketch on the early life of Nellie L. McLung was read by Mrs. W. E. Fitzgerald. The papers for the day, "A slouchy good natured wife" by Mrs. T. G. Mitchell and "The clean scold" by Miss McCaw, were good and amusing. Several selections on the gramophone and a dainty luncheon brought a very enjoyable meeting to a close. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Tye. Subject "The Jacobites." Five minutes talk on Mrs. Montgomery and Agnes Laut. Quotations—Suggestions for a summer vacation. God Save The King.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS

Cause. Rush of Blood, Fullness, Dizziness.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head, and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded, finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault.

GOOD QUALITIES OF DAIRY BREEDS

Answering a subscriber who asks, "Can't you tell me which is the most profitable breed of dairy cows?"

Hoard's Dairyman says: "No, for the reason that there are so many men in all the breeds that are making their cows highly profitable it is impossible for us to make a choice for this of any other man but ourselves, and when we come to look into our own choice we find it is very largely a matter of taste."

With cows as with other domestic animals, they always do the best with those men who have a fondness or liking for them. Indeed, we may say this is more true with cows than with any other animal, because the cow is a female and a mother and as such is particularly susceptible to her own likes and dislikes. There are a lot of cow owners who are blind to this principle when it plays a very important part with their profit.

Every breed of cows has its distinctive line of qualities. The Jersey is a wonderfully economic consumer and close manufacturer of food into milk solids. So is the Guernsey. Both yield milk rich in butter fat, and both are highly profitable provided they are good cows and you do your part. The Ayrshire is a very hardy, robust breed and another highly economic consumer of feed and of medium weight, but her milk rarely exceeds 4 per cent in butter fat. As a basis for crossing with pure bred Guernsey or Jersey sires, there is no foundation that is better than the Ayrshire grade cow. Some great business herds have been produced in this way. There seems to be a natural "nick" between the Ayrshire grade female and the pure bred Guernsey or Jersey male, whereby heifers are produced that show great capacity for profitable dairy work.

Carlotta Pontiac, a registered Holstein cow, produced 22,583 pounds of milk containing 700 pounds of fat in one year under official test. This is equivalent to 87 pounds of butter. This cow was bred, raised and owned by the University of Missouri and is a granddaughter of the well known Hengerveld De Kol. She is the ninth cow in this herd to make a butter record in excess of 700 pounds and the third to pass the 800 pound mark.

The Holstein is a gross feeder and a wonderful producer. On a farm where there is an abundance of good roughage, well backed up with a generous grain ration, she can and has beaten all other breeds in gross production. Whether this has been done economically is disputed by the partisans of other breeds.

The Brown Swiss is just coming into notice. She has been bred and her body fashioned to meet the stress of severe mountain climbing for many years. Consequently she has not yet acquired that refinement of form that all breeds come to at last in this land of gentle exercise and abundant feed. But she has talent as a milk and milk solid producer, and the records this breed is making under American conditions all challenge attention.

Now, there we are. Reduced to its final analysis, the question like that of politics or religion or love is a matter very largely of personal partisanship, and so we come back to the place of beginning. But it is generally wise for every man to select such breed as he likes best, that appeals most to his taste, for under that influence he will accord that treatment that will cause his cattle to do their best.

Hog Troughs.
The question is often asked, "What is the best style of hog trough?" writes C. P. Williams in the National Stockman. We use troughs made of inch oak boards. Bottom boards are eight inches wide, with edges slightly beveled so as to make the width at top about ten inches. The sides should be of six inch boards nailed to the beveled edge of the bottom board. End boards should be two inches longer at each side than the width of the trough to prevent splitting when nailed on. Thirty inch lengths for single hogs, three feet for two or three hogs and twelve feet for general use make good standard lengths.

Wider bottoms are likely to warp and split. Shallower troughs waste feed. Deeper troughs invite the hogs to put their feet into the trough while drinking. No slats should be used, as they

GIN PILLS Brought Relief

Larder Lake, Ont., March 26th. "I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night."

I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief. In two days, the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again."

prevent easy cleaning.

Indigestion of Horses.
Horses frequently suffer from indigestion caused by imperfect nutrition. Have the teeth attended to by a veterinarian. Give the drinking water before meals; do not feed any bulky feed at noon or work the horse soon after a meal. Allow free access to rock salt. Bed with sawdust or planing mill shavings if he eats his bedding. Feed whole oats (old) and one-sixth part of wheat bran, wetted at feeding time. Allow one pound of this mixture for each 100 of live weight and give a like amount of mixed or timothy or prairie hay.—Farm Journal.

HEALTH RULES.
How To Keep Well as the Japanese Do In Their Country.

The following rules for the general guidance of the people in health matters have been printed and widely distributed by the Japanese Government.
First—Spend as much time out of doors as possible. Bask much in the sun and take plenty of exercise. Take care that your respiration is always deep and regular.
Second—As regards meals eat meat only once a day, and let the diet be eggs, cereals and vegetables, fruits and fresh cow's milk. Take the last named as much as possible. Masticate your food carefully.
Third—Take a hot bath every day and a steam bath once or twice a week if the heart is strong enough to bear it.
Fourth—Early to bed and early to rise.
Fifth—Sleep in a very dark and very quiet room, with windows open. Let the minimum of sleeping hours be six or six and one-half hours. In case of woman eight and one-half hours is advisable.
Sixth—Take one day of absolute rest each week in which you must refrain from even reading or writing.
Seventh—Try to avoid any outbursts of passion and strong mental stimulations. Do not tax your brain at the occurrence of inevitable incidents or of coming events. Do not say anything pleasant things nor listen, if possible to avoid it, to disagreeable things.
Eighth—Be married! Widows and widowers should be married with the least possible delay.
Ninth—Be moderate in the consumption of even tea and coffee, not to say tobacco and alcoholic beverages.
Tenth—Avoid places that are too warm, especially steam-heated and badly-ventilated rooms.

PERILS OF THE CIRCUS.
The Dread of Falling Is Ever Haunting the Performers.

Day after day the circus woman dons her tinsel, slips on the heavy wooden "slop shoes" over her satin pumps, and so, with perhaps a "By-by, girls," and a nod to the wardrobe mistress, she shuffles out from the dressing tent to the ring, blows a kiss to the audience at large and takes her life in her hands. She does not think of this fact consciously, as a rule, but subconsciously the knowledge is with each one that

Paddy bought a watch from a local jeweler, who guaranteed to keep it in order for twelve months. About six months later Paddy brought it back because it had stopped. "You seem to have had an accident with it," said the jeweler. "A small one, sure enough, so! About two months ago I was fading the pigs and it fell into the trough." "But you should have brought it before." "Sure, sor, I brought it as soon as I could. We only killed the pig yesterday."

some day perhaps she will be like the little girl who once was hustled out of a circus ring so fast that the audience hardly noticed, and then a gaudy kimono was thrown over her face, and instead of her slop shoes returning when the whistle blew, men's feet tramped, and the circus doctor found no work for him when he got there. Get to know these women and you find that under all their easy light-heartedness, their gypsy spirit, is a sort of smoldering dread like that of the people who live in earthquake countries.

You see it, for instance, in the keen way they take up the subject of accidents.
"The worst I ever fell was once when the net broke," said a trapeze performer.
"I'd just as soon have it break as to fall bad in it," put in another.
"Remember that time I bit my lip?" Felt like my chin was knocked right up through the top of my head. My lower teeth cut my upper lip till it had to be sewed up clear across."
I learned then that the art of falling in the net is as difficult as any part of the performance, for so great is its elasticity that if a performer "falls bad," say in a standing position, the knees may be shot straight up to the chin and a knockout blow may result. To learn to come into the net prostrate, as in a hammock, is no small trick.

A Dutch Ironclad.
It is of interest to note that, according to some authorities, the Dutch were the first in the modern period of history to build an ironclad and that during the siege of Antwerp by the Spaniards in 1585 the people of that city built an enormous flat-bottomed vessel, armored it with heavy iron plates and thus constructed what they regarded as an impregnable battery. This they named Finis Delli. Unfortunately the vessel got aground before coming into action and fell into the hands of the enemy. It was held by Alexander of Parma to the end of the siege as a curiosity, but was never employed by either side in any action.

Indorsing the Asp.
In Marmontel's tragedy of Cleopatra, represented in the Theatre Francaise, when the Egyptian queen was about ready to commit suicide she held in her hands a mechanical asp of cunning workmanship devised by Yarexanus, the most ingenious mechanician of his time. This venomous reptile reared its head and before plunging its apparent fangs into the arm of the actress gave a shrill hiss. A spectator hereupon arose and left the house with the simple but expressive remark, "I am of the same opinion as the asp."

CAUSE OF ASTHMA.—No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to irradiate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

100 PERSONS CURED OF ECZEMA

Within the past few months over 100 persons have written to the Zam-Buk Co. reporting their cure of eczema, rashes and skin diseases by Zam-Buk. Does this not prove that Zam-Buk is something different? Don't you need it in your household?

Miss Mary McCusig, 913 St. Catharines Street W., Montreal, says: "I do not know words powerful enough to express my gratitude to Zam-Buk. Eczema broke out on my scalp and hands. The irritation of the scalp was so bad that I could not sleep or rest, and I feared I should have to have my hair cut off. On my hands the disease appeared in sore patches, the burning and itching of which drove me many times to spells of weeping. I went to the dispensary, but they referred me to a skin specialist, who said that mine was as bad a case of eczema as he had seen. He gave me some ointment, and then a second lot, but neither gave me any relief.
"I was in a very bad condition when Zam-Buk was introduced, but I soon found out that it was different from all the other remedies. I persevered with the Zam-Buk treatment, and each box did me more and more good. The irritation and smarting soon disappeared, then the sores began to heal, fresh healthy skin grew over the parts which had been sore, and I am now quite free from all traces of eczema, both on head and hands. My hair has also been saved.
Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for piles, eruptions, blood-poison, cuts, burns and all skin troubles. See all drug stores and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse substitutes."

THE FLOCKMASTER.

A good Shropshire flock should average nine to ten pounds of wool.

Do not attempt to winter more sheep than can be done without crowding.

Be sure the flock has plenty of fresh water. If the sheep drink from springs, keep the approaches dry.

It is a great mistake to keep sheep in a warm pen in winter. Their fleeces protect them, and if they are kept dry they will be comfortable if properly fed.

Avoid crowding the lambs in the winter feeding quarters. They need a lot of room on account of their natural habit of crowding.

Arrange for plenty of yard room, and on all fair days keep the sheep in the open air as much as possible.

THE COLT IN WINTER.

Growing Animals Need a Ration of Grain and Warm Stalls.

During the cold winter days the colt needs some grain to keep him growing and in good flesh. The older horses may get through fairly well on roughage, but they are not developing bone and muscle like the colt. Then they are larger and naturally have more heat in their bodies. The grain given the colt should be ground so that he can thoroughly masticate it and get all the nourishment it contains. He should be fed in good, tight troughs so that he will be certain to get all of it. Also he needs to be shut away from older animals while eating so they will not steal his daily ration. Oats and corn ground together make a splendid feed. One-fourth oats and three-fourths corn is about the proper proportion for winter feed.

Then the colt should have good shelter from the storms. The old horse may stand the sleet and snow and rains and biting winds, but the colt will soon become pinched, and he needs a good warm stall where he will be protected from the furious weather. Keep him well housed and he will need less feed and come through the winter looking better than if left exposed to the storms. A box stall 14 by 14 feet will accommodate three or four colts if they are kind to each other. This should be located on the south side of the barn if possible and should be fitted up with mangers and feed boxes. The colts should be fed plenty of hay, and if it is clover or alfalfa so much the better. During the warm, sunny days they may be allowed to run out in the pastures or lots. This gives them plenty of exercise, and they will keep the more healthy.

It is a good plan to watch the colt's feet and keep them trimmed. Allowed to grow long, there may be a split hoof or a deformed ankle. If the colt gets lousy rub some coal oil and lard down his backbone, and if worms bother him feed a teaspoonful of finely ground tobacco in his feed twice each week.

While, according to this plan, it is a little more expensive to take a colt through the winter than would be the case where the little fellow is allowed to rough it, yet in the end there is economy in good care. This applies particularly in the case of draft colts, where weight at maturity is a most important factor.

Treatment For Ringbone.

In many cases treatment for ringbone starting on hind pastern of a colt's leg is not necessary. If lameness is absent it is usual to leave such cases to nature, says A. S. Alexander in the Farm and Fireside. Sometimes the "bunch" is reabsorbed. More commonly it goes on growing, and lameness comes on when the horse is worked hard on hard roads or even without the hard road influence. If you prefer to try inducing reabsorption of the growth (exostosis) clip off the hair and blister at least once a month by rubbing in a little of a mixture of one dram of biniodide of mercury and two ounces of cerate of cantharides. The cerate keeps indefinitely, but the iodide of mercury should be rubbed up with the cerate just before use. Rub the blister in for fifteen minutes. Tie the colt up short so that he cannot lie down or bite the blistered part. Rub lard on the part in three days and then apply a little lard once a day.

For a "Ringbone" that causes lameness it is best to have the part punctured and blistered by a veterinarian and then give six weeks of rest in the stall. The results will pay for the expense.

Cause of Mottled Butter.

Mottled butter may be due to several causes. If the cream is not strained into the churn there are likely to be large specks of curd in the butter, as the curd will not take up the coloring matter used for coloring the butter. The most common cause of mottled butter is the improper mixing of salt and the presence of too much buttermilk. When care is taken to thoroughly wash out all buttermilk and to mix the salt evenly throughout the butter there is very little danger of producing mottled butter.

Remedy For Scours in Horses.

The feeding of carrots sometimes checks tendency to scouring. If that does not prove helpful mix a pint of browned wheat flour with each feed, and if that does not suffice give twice daily a tablespoonful of a mixture of one part each of powdered alum, sublimate of bismuth, powdered catechu, powdered ginger root and two parts powdered wood charcoal.

LOST BY AN EYELASH.

When James R. Keene Laid For Him a Big Bet on Besom.

Although James R. Keene was known as the nerviest of Wall street operators, he was anything but a betting man on the race tracks. He dearly loved to win valuable stakes, and he won nearly everything in his line except the classic English Derby. His horses rarely carried anything but an infinitesimal wager. Big wagers were few and far between with him.

One day when his Ben Brush colt Besom was making his racing debut at Sheepshead Mr. Keene visited the paddock in company with his trainer, Jimmy Rowe, and inspected the colt minutely. Keene was very fond of Noonday, the colt's dam, and he talked proudly of his expectations of Besom. The colt had worked exceptionally fast, and the race looked as sure as sure things can be regarded on a race track.

The result of the conference with Rowe was that Mr. Keene decided to make one of his rare large bets on Besom to win. The news of the Keene wager created almost a sensation in the ring, and the price against the colt went tumbling.

The race was run, and Besom lost by an eyelash. He went out with Berry Maid, and the two raced stride for stride like a team. When it was Besom's turn to stride his nose showed in front, and when it was Berry Maid's turn she showed a scant advantage. So it was all the way, Mr. Keene watching the contest through his field-glasses without a murmur. The crowd was on its toes. As they passed the judges it was Berry Maid's turn to stride. Then the apple of Mr. Keene's eye at the time lost the verdict, and the vice chairman of the Jockeys club lost one of his few wagers on the turf.—New York World.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is all You Need

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches, and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble. Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in spring is a tonic that will make new blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine makes new blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mrs. Maude Baigg, Leamberg, Sask., says: "I can unhesitatingly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood builder and tonic. I was very much run down when I began using the Pills, and a few boxes fully restored me."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Corn Growers Association

In response to an invitation from the District Representative of the Department of Agriculture, Petrolia, an enthusiastic number of Lambton County Corn Growers met in convention at Oil Springs on Saturday, May 3rd. Mr. J. Anderson, Warden of County Council, presided. Addresses by Messrs. John Hunter, W. H. Porter, R. L. Moorehouse, Cairo, B. W. Fansher, Florence, Alex. Wark, Wanstead; S. C. Smale, Oakdale; brought out many interesting and important points in relation to the growing of corn and the importance of the industry to the county. Seed corn grown in Lambton County will mature from one week to ten days earlier than corn imported from Essex, Kent or United States. It is not only better for home seed but superior as well for the counties which lie to the east and north of Lambton.

A Corn Growers Association was then formed with the following officers:—Hon. President—Dr. C. O. Fairbank, Petrolia. Hon. Vice-Pres.—J. Anderson, Oil Springs. President—Chas. Fleck, Corunna. 1st Vice-Pres.—R. L. Moorehouse, Cairo. 2nd Vice-Pres.—S. C. Smale, Oakdale. Treasurer—John Hunter, Wyoming. Secretary—W. H. Porter, Petrolia. Any farmer in the county of Lambton interested in the growing of corn and wishing to become members will be welcomed into the Association. The Secretary will receive memberships and be glad to communicate any information regarding the Association that may be desired to one interested in the organization.

Address and Presentation

A goodly number of the members of the Kerwood Methodist church and other friends, in the event of your departure from among us, desire, in the first place, to express our deep regret in parting with you. In the second place, to show our esteem for you as a Christian neighbor and citizen. Many of us have been long acquainted with you and our friendship has been strengthened as the years have flown. We will miss you in our neighborhood. We will miss you in our homes, most of all we will miss you in our church, not only as a member but also as an honored official where your wise counsel assisted us in the transaction of business. We wish to couple with you one who has long been your help meet and has helped to make you what you are. You are no doubt deeply indebted to her but she owes much to you. We would convey to sister Richardson our deepest gratitude and best love, asking you to accept these chairs as a slight expression of our appreciation of your life and work among us. And we would earnestly ask Myrtle Richardson to accept this music cabinet that she might remember us as we remember her loyalty and devotion. We trust you may all live long and enjoy your new home and sometimes you may rest in these gifts and find that the Kerwood friends are with you. God's best blessings in life and a home with the redeemed.

Signed on behalf of the congregation by J. J. Earley, F. J. Richardson, Elmer Langford, J. H. Richardson and R. L. Wilson. Mr. Richardson thanked the donors in a few well chosen words, and expressed the regrets of himself and family in leaving so many old friends. A tasty lunch was served and an exceedingly pleasant time spent until about one o'clock, when all dispersed for their homes.

Warwick Lady Displayed Splendid Nerve

(Friday's London Free Press) A remarkable demonstration of nerve and endurance was given Wednesday afternoon at Victoria Hospital when Mrs. Jane McLellan, 2nd line, Warwick, a lady 86 years, refused to take an anesthetic when she underwent a somewhat serious operation. Mrs. McLellan was accompanied to the city by her son, Samuel, who was present with her at the hospital. Despite her advanced years she bore up well under the ordeal in the operating-room while a surgeon made quite a deep incision in her forehead and afterward sewed up the wound. She is reported now to be progressing favorably.
