WILLIAMS AND BAKERS ARE FOUND CONSPIRING IN CITY OF MONTREAL

Statement by O'Connor to Deputation of Master Bakers, Headed by Mark Bredin of Toronto—Over One Hundred Quebecers May Face Tribunal.

Canadian Press Despatch. OZAWA, Ont., Dec. 3.—That a conspiracy had been unearthed between certain milling interests and some bakers in Montreal, which might lead to action being taken against from 100 to 125 persons, was the statement of Commissioner of Commerce, to a deputation of master bakers who waited upon the board this afternoon.

The deputation, which was headed by Mark Bredin, of Toronto, after an hour's round-table discussion with Commissioner W. F. O'Connor and James Murdoch left feeling apparently much more kindly disposed toward the board and its work.

Mr. Harry Neal, Windsor, who introduced the members of the deputation, said they had come with the idea of placing before the board the conditions under which the bakers of Canada are working.

CANADIAN NURSE DID NOT APOLOGIZE

Aldermanic Committee Investigating Flag Incident in Vermont Hospital.

Rutland, Vt., Dec. 3.—Testimony regarding an alleged insult to the American flag by Miss Annie McLane, a Canadian nurse at the Rutland hospital, was heard today by an aldermanic committee appointed to investigate the institution, for which an annual appropriation is made by the city.

Miss Josephine Niles, a nurse, testified that when she showed Miss McLane a postcard bearing a picture in which the American flag was shown, Miss McLane remarked: "That would be a pretty picture if it were not for that dirty, red, white and blue flag."

After Miss McLane had refused to make an apology which the witness demanded, Miss Niles said she and several other nurses went to the Canadian young woman's room with an American flag and insisted that she salute it. She refused and the nurses reported the affair to the hospital superintendent, Miss Annie Aiken.

Miss Aiken, according to the testimony of Miss Niles and other nurses, would not accede to their request that she make Miss McLane apologize, but instead reprimanded them for going to the nurse's room and told them she would deprive them of their next Sunday leisure hour. Thereupon the nurses declared a strike. After they had remained away from duty one night they returned, upon being informed by the superintendent that Miss McLane would apologize and would leave the hospital.

Three nurses testified that so far as they know Miss McLane never had made an apology. They said she left the hospital shortly afterward, returning to her home in Canada, and although she had not completed her term of training the superintendent gave her a diploma. Several nurses testified that they were reprimanded by the superintendent for taking an American flag to the table where Miss McLane was sitting.

The committee will hold another hearing tomorrow. A self-constituted committee of citizens went to the hotel tonight and conducted a secret hearing.

RAPIDLY BUILDING GOVERNMENT SHIPS

Eighteen Already in Commission—Industry Important to Canada.

Special to The Toronto World. Ottawa, Dec. 3.—Of the 57 ships contracted for under the program of the Canadian government, 18 are now in commission and four more will be by the end of the present month. One of the latest ships to be commissioned, the "Canadian Aviator," is the first government vessel to sail for Australia. She has cleared from Vancouver with a cargo of paper for the sister dominion. Two other government vessels built on the Pacific—the "Canadian Volunteer" and "Canadian Trooper"—have also sailed from Vancouver to Great Britain, via the Panama canal, with cargoes of British Columbia lumber, of which the British government is buying 70,000,000 feet.

Time for Canadian Policy. For over a year the thirteen shipyards of Canada have been building steel freighters for the government. The time has come when Canada must consider what its future policy toward the shipping industry shall be. The shipbuilding plants represent an investment of nearly fifty million dollars, and they have been paying out in wages over forty million dollars a year, while with auxiliary industries they employ nearly fifty thousand men. On the strength of these figures the government is being urged to give further encouragement to the industry.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

DRAMATIC SUCCESS SHOWN ON SCREEN

"Males and Females," the Film Version Barrie's of "Admirable Crichton."

Invitations have been issued by the Famous-Luskay Film Service Limited for a private showing of the Paramount-Artcraft picture, "Males and Females," at the Regent Theatre, Toronto, on Tuesday, December 9, at 11.15 p.m. Arrangements have been made for a full musical accompaniment by the famous Regent orchestra. This showing will be purely an invitation and the invitations must be presented.

"Males and Females" is the latest and best of the Paramount pictures. Based on Sir J. M. Barrie's famous play, "The Admirable Crichton," it has been characterized as one of the greatest achievements in motion picture art. The cast chosen for the various parts is one of the most brilliant in a motion picture, and includes Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson, Theodore Roberts, Robert Cain, Mitchell LeRoy, and others of equal merit.

"The Admirable Crichton" is known the world over as one of Barrie's most successful plays. The motion picture adaptation in "Males and Females" broadens the scope for the action in the play and the scenic side of this play is wonderful.

Much of the action of the play transpires in the London household of an English aristocrat, a representative of the aristocratic strata of British society. Crichton's discriminating soul is delighted with her beauty and her wit, while appreciating Lord Brocklehurst's sterling qualities, rebels against the superciliousness which she represents. The party, accompanied by other British aristocrats, start on a yachting cruise. Lady Elsie, under the influence of party leaves, shocks them all by eloping with her chauffeur.

While cruising in the south Pacific, Lord Loam's yacht is wrecked and the party cast ashore on an uninhabited island. The much-boasted leadership of Lord Loam there proves incapable of coping with the situation, and the real genius of Crichton, the real hero, Crichton teaches Lady Mary to become his love for her. Just as finally declares of the party is about to officiate at their wedding, a ship is sighted, and the party is rescued.

Returning to London, Crichton resumes his old place in the household and is forgotten by all except Lady Mary. But Crichton contrives to let her see him, promising to treat her to a party. He goes back to the only man who can make her happy, Lord Brocklehurst.

Crichton decides to remain a servant where he had been a leader would never do, so with Twenny he starts for America.

Rare furniture and antique treasures from many lands were secured for the full eye of Mr. De Millie.

The showing at the Regent on Tuesday night is by invitation only, and one will be admitted without an invitation card.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRH DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should be used especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of parmitin (Double strength), take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clog the nostrils with cotton wool, breathe easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmitin used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic effect that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, clean, little and pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

REVOLUTIONIST TALK AT RADICAL MEETING

FEATURES EVIDENCE

Report of Speech by R. B. Russell Read at Winnipeg Trial.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Dec. 3.—Reports of speeches made by George Armstrong, R. B. Russell, R. B. Russell and Blumenthal at a meeting held at the Majestic Theatre, featured the evidence at the trial today of R. B. Russell, for alleged seditious conspiracy.

The reports were prepared by W. P. Peppery, Macdonald Agency detective, who had attended the meeting at the instance of the city police authorities and taken shorthand notes of what he called "startling statements," and was brought to the attention of the court by counsel for the prosecution. The evidence showed that the necessity for a revolution, bloodless if possible, and preferably in Canada, had been urged at the meeting.

In the report of Russell's speech, the accused was stated to have said labor had never done anything by legislation and that there must be a revolution. Russell was also said to have declared with a snap of his fingers, "We don't care that much for the city, provincial and Dominion governments of Canada."

Said Revolution Coming. Armstrong did not say "anything startling" according to witnesses, but Johns, who seemed excited, asserted that the revolution was coming, and that he was present for the purpose of circumstances in which he would be everything through the country "with or without bloodshed."

The witness was put thru a sharp cross-examination by Robert Cassidy, senior counsel for the defence, and to test the ability of the witness as a shorthand writer, Mr. Cassidy dictated a passage from a document. The witness read the passage at the rate of 200 words a minute, and the witness gave up the task of taking notes and protested that he was not supposed to write shorthand at such a speed.

Evidence About Seizures. Evidence of the seizure of documents was given by various police officials in the afternoon. Searches, conducted by Will H. Hays, chairman of the national Republican committee, at Vancouver, Edmonton, Brule, Minnesota, Windsor, Toronto, Montreal, North Bay and Ottawa. The crown then recalled witness Percy, a court reporter at Fernie, B.C., who reported the miners' convention held in Calgary in February. He had been told to stand aside until the short hand notes which he took at the convention could be obtained. These, said Mr. Andrews, were now available. The witness was asked to name any individuals at the miners' convention who were also present at the Calgary convention in March.

He, in part, gave the following names: H. B. Blair, E. McNabb, Alex. Roberts, E. H. Davis, N. D. Patchou, J. O'Sullivan, H. Smith, S. Marazout, A. Benson, J. J. Keene, Ed. Brown and E. McPhail.

The witness said that there might have been some more that he could not remember.

POLICE DEMAND MORE INSURANCE

Shooting at Constables Makes Them Anxious for Future.

One of the most important matters for debate at the next meeting of the Police Benefit Fund will be the advisability of granting further police insurance to dependants of members of the department. The question has been hanging fire ever since Detective Williams was murdered by Frank McCullough, and since Policeman Milton was shot twice by burglar officers are insured. Increased police officers are insured when a man loses his life on police duty, his family should receive a pension in addition to a lump sum of $1,000 insurance, in order that his children can be properly cared for.

Policeman Eakins is resigning from the force after fourteen years' service. Eakins is asking that he be allowed to resign on pension owing to ill-health. His case is similar to that of P. S. Langtry, who resigned after several years' service and was granted a gratuity from the benefit fund.

FEDERAL REGULATION, BUT NOT OWNERSHIP

Chairman of Republican National Committee Outlines Planks of Party.

New York, Dec. 3.—A method by which labor may acquire an interest in the business to which it gives its efforts, federal regulation of industry as opposed to government ownership and a system of taxation, which will not kill business initiative, were named among the national planks of the Republican party tonight in an address by Will H. Hays, chairman of the national Republican committee. Mr. Hays spoke at a banquet given by the Republican women's executive committee at the Waldorf-Astoria, and Mrs. John Glover Smith, chairman of the women's division of the national committee.

Mr. Hays opened his address with an assurance that the Republican party proposes to recognize the woman voters as an equality in every respect with their men colleagues, and entitled to a proportionate share in the control and direction of the party. He declared that the Republican party stood for full federal regulation and held to no hard and fast set of rules. Turning to reconstruction problems he dealt first with business, which, he said, must be treated "with an appreciation of its fundamental importance, and not as a demagogic's shuttlecock."

"The business men of the country," continued Mr. Hays, "are entitled to every consideration, including the right to run their own business, but the which will initiative must not be levied. This should be a large inheritance tax on the very large inheritances. The Republican party from its inception stood against undue federalization of industries and activities. There must be strong federal regulation, but government ownership. The railroad problem will be solved and solved fairly, with provision for just return on investment and with reasonable assurance for essential development and extensions. We are against paternalism in government and we are against that form of pedagogic paternalism which has developed recently in this country."

Referring to the possibility of German aggression to surrender the ships, Admiral von Reuter said in one of the documents: "When the ships will be handed over, to the lasting actions of those who placed us in this position."

The weightiest document the admiral's disclosure is a letter from Rear Admiral Adolf Tzodha, chief of the German admiralty, written to Von Reuter, dated Berlin, May 9, and marked "most secret." It was found in the safe of the Emden at the close of the salvaging of that cruiser.

This letter discusses at considerable length the negotiations then in progress at Paris regarding the fate of the German ships. It gives no actual instructions on the scuttling of the ships, but the one sentence runs, "the surrender to the enemy remains out of the question."

The admiral does not claim that he profited from the scuttling of the ships, but it claims that the letter proves the German government was able to communicate with the officers of the Emden, and that such communication, notably in the case of the German transports, the Admiral von Reuter's secret order, "Indeed," says the admiral, "June 17 was the date of Von Reuter's secret order. His officers concerning the projected scuttling."

These are the facts of the situation, and therefore, even if it were possible to reduce the price of bran and shorts, as fixed by the Canadian wheat board, it would be merely making the cheapest livestock on the market at the present time bear the brunt of uninformed prejudice.

The rumor that a certain government official at Queen's Park woke up recently only to find that he was no longer an official, has been denied.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY PUBLISHES LETTERS FOUND IN ADMIRAL VON REUTER'S SAFE.

London, Dec. 3.—In view of the German government's denial of responsibility for the sinking of the German warships in the Scapa Flow, the British admiralty tonight published a number of documents, including all the secret instructions of the German admiral, Von Reuter, to his officers on the preparations for and the method of scuttling of vessels when ever the signal to do so was given from his ship, the Emden, his intention being to send the vessels to the bottom should the British attempt to seize them without the consent of the German government.

DENY EXORBITANT PRICES FOR BRAN

Chairman of Wheat Board Gives Answer to the Critics.

Winnipeg, Dec. 3.—James Stewart, chairman of the Canadian wheat board, made the following statement to the Canadian Press tonight: "From an interest which has been directed against the operations of the Canadian wheat board with regard to bran and shorts for livestock that can be purchased anywhere in Canada at the present time, Bran at $32 per ton without sacks, is materially cheaper than oats, corn, oil meal, alfalfa, silage, bundle corn, barley, shreds, timothy or clover at present prices.

These are the facts of the situation, and therefore, even if it were possible to reduce the price of bran and shorts, as fixed by the Canadian wheat board, it would be merely making the cheapest livestock on the market at the present time bear the brunt of uninformed prejudice.

The rumor that a certain government official at Queen's Park woke up recently only to find that he was no longer an official, has been denied.

CANADIAN CLUB WELCOMES PREMIER

E. C. Drury Emphatic on Importance of Education and Good Forestry.

NO PATRONAGE

Will Be Beholden to Nobody for U.F.O. Stay in Office.

Premier Drury attracted a record crowd at the Canadian Club luncheon yesterday, and both he and the new lieutenant-governor were most heartily greeted. Premier Drury made a free and easy straight-from-the-shoulder address, and some of his statements were loudly applauded. That he had the entire sympathy of his audience was obvious, and Premier Percy Brown voiced the common sentiment in concluding: "We all feel that a powerful personality has arisen in Ontario."

"I feel highly honored in being your guest today," began the premier, proceeding to say: "I recognize the useful and indispensable work the club is doing. Highly important public opinion should be correctly and broadly informed, and the club has done this work. You want to know about this strange thing that had come to pass? (Laughter). No one had been surprised that the farmers themselves, he declared. They had really organized for federal purposes and the provincial election was a secondary consideration. He was therefore a second best of a second best.

There had been some talk of class legislation, but he assured them the farmers wanted nothing but a square deal. "No one can put a finger on any resolution they have ever passed, asking for class privilege," he said, and added that they were against any such policy. The counties and ridings had entered the field in order to secure proper representation. "They had not been fairly represented—there's no use talking," he remarked, amid laughter. The basic industry had been neglected. This great city with its factories, its universities and other institutions rested on the country behind it, and it could not be ignored.

Quite Unexpected. The farmers took action, but they did not expect what they got. Whether wisely or not, he had been chosen as leader and he had done his best to form a government. They had one or two samples there, and they could look them over. He was growing more proud and less ashamed of them every day.

Whether their term was long or short they would do their best, and he was glad to think they were not counting on the support of servile members, but upon the support of men who cannot be whipped into line by the party in power.

The day of caucus government was past. Every member would think for himself and the government would have to be very careful of its legislation.

He could not see much justification for party government. There were his majesty's government and his majesty's loyal opposition, but he did not believe much progress was made by obstructing the business of the country. There was one difficulty the government had, and that was the opposition. He might have to lose up for it. Most of the government of the country were carried on in the counties, cities and other municipalities without the party and opposition system and he thought it could be equally well done in the legislature.

No Patronage. My government is in power for two years, or four, or ten. I will never depend on patronage to keep us in office, nor will I countenance anything that might prolong the life of the government at the sacrifice of our honesty and straightforwardness. The important thing was that they should steer a straight course and he would leave nothing undone to steer that course.

We have lots of good laws, he said. The trouble in the past has been that they have not been enforced. We may do something along the line of administration and we shall do our best in that direction.

Education Prime Factor. He thought education was perhaps the most important matter before them. They would not neglect the colleges and they must do something for the 90 per cent. which needed attention most. The common school education was what provided an intelligent citizenry. It was too soon to announce a policy, but they hoped to free the teachers from over-control from the top and too much restraint and allowing the teachers an opportunity. He did not believe in trying to teach a man to plow by shouting across a field. We had to have technical or vocational training. The main thing was not to make a good carpenter, factory hand or farmer, but to make a good citizen.

He illustrated his idea of education by the farm story of a fence that was described as very good, but it was high in some places and low in others. A fence was no higher than its lowest part. They had the idea dawdling upon them that forests grew. They had been accustomed to think that forests were to be cut down and that was the end of them. The forest cut-over land should be producing constantly. They had lost by wasteful fires owing to the slash and burn being left, which was sure to catch fire in a few years. They must inaugurate a new policy, and have foresight and perhaps spend a little of the people's money. They must also get some money for the people out of this industry. Their policy in the past had been criminal. We had cut down and destroyed, while even our farms were putting the province to shame. He instanced the case of an acre of white pine planted not more

LORD LEVERHULME CONSIDERS LABOR

Advocates Wearing Out Machinery, But Saving the Employee.

One of the great merchant princes of the empire arrived in Toronto yesterday in the person of Lord Leverhulme, better known perhaps to the man in the street as William Lever, the inventor of Sunlight soap, the founder of the largest soap works in the world at Port Sunlight, near Liverpool, and the creator of a model village for the accommodation of his workpeople. In addition to being the largest producer of soap in the world Lord Leverhulme is greatly interested in margarine and boot polish factories in all parts of the empire. In fact, there is nothing in "fats" that he has not a finger in. As pigs are necessities to the packers so are fats to all the Lever enterprises.

Lord Leverhulme has perhaps done more to elevate labor than any other large employer of the day. He takes his employees into his confidence, shares his profits with them, pays excellent wages and seeks to provide for their comfort and spiritual well-being, as few large employers of workmen and women have, with the exception of the Cadburys, ever done before.

At the present time Lord Leverhulme has a pet idea for the further improvement of the workers' state, and one he will personally very soon put into practice. Shortly, and without frills, it is to establish a workday of six hours, and for which the workers will receive the same amount of pay as for eight hours. By this scheme there would be two shifts of six hours each per day, thus doubling the employment in each individual factory and increasing the pay well to twice its present figure. The resultant to the employing firm would be increased production, which, according to the Sunlight merchant prince, would amply compensate the manufacturer for the extra pay list he would have to foot. "Sweet the machine and not the worker," is Lord Leverhulme's ideal, as he contends under present conditions no man or woman can for long stand the strain of a ten-hour day.

Industrial Progress. Lord Leverhulme says he is interested in anything that will increase production and reduce the cost of living and make wages higher, and all that can be accomplished by his two six-hour shifts, he contends. "If the industry," he says, "is such that if the capital invested in the plant and all other overhead costs, salaries, bank interest and so on, are at least equal in amount to the weekly wage in that industry, then it will be found more economical to work two shifts of six hours each, than one of eight."

The scheme would not at present apply to farming, although a time may come, said Lord Leverhulme, when the amount of machinery used on the farms will be such that one day farmer to employ two shifts profitably. He further believed the principles of his ideas might be applied at once to the textile and most of the engineering trades and the printing trades.

The old ten-hour day shift," declared his lordship, "was practical, and economically sound, but it was too great a strain on the flesh and blood. The eight-hour day on the other hand is impracticable because the machinery does not produce sufficient for the cost that it involves. The six-hour shift does not necessarily assure that the output per hour must be produced in order to pay higher wages and still make a profit. We can produce cheaper even the three-quarter ton of output secured in six hours, because a fifty per cent. bigger output would be got from the plant less the small cost of oil to run the machinery. In short, what the six-hour day will do, will be to reduce the cost of production by working the machinery more hours in a day than under the present longer hour day system."

More Employment. Any chance of a shortage of labor by the adoption of a six-hour day, Lord Leverhulme thought would be averaged by more women entering into factory work. The scheme would give them ample room for expansion and not fatigue them to the extent that an eight-hour day does.

In reply to a question which the English trade unionists would not adopt a six-hour day idea, his lordship said in time they would recognize the logic of the situation and the machinery and to wear it out, instead of wearing the man and wearing him out. The only obstacle, he contended, was the short-sighted school who were afraid of overproduction. "But," added his lordship, "there can be no overproduction whatever there is proper production. Why, ninety-five per cent. of consumers are working men, and they who are to get the higher wages. I can't imagine any maintaining this attitude any longer than they fall to see the futility of this position."

"Will you introduce the six-hour-day in your Toronto factory?" The World asked. "I will introduce it anywhere where

How to Kill Dandruff So It Won't Return By a Specialist

The dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the scalp itching and the scalp is held as well for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well-known fact. We recommend that Canada should be free of any agent that will destroy the germ. This reason is a pleasure to give herewith the recipe for a famous scalp specialist states he has found, after repeated tests, will completely destroy the dandruff germ from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has innumerable cases produced a new hair-growth after years of partial baldness. The mixture can be made up at home, or any druggist will put up for you—5 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Castor Oil, 1 ounce one-half dram Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly and after standing an hour morning, rubbing into the scalp with the aid of a brush, your favorite perfume. While this preparation is not a dye it is unequalled in restoring gray hair to its original color.

COMMUNICABLE CASES INCREASE

Death Rate is Low—Venereal Diseases Show Marked Advance.

Communicable diseases of the commoner varieties present an enormous increase for last month over those of November, 1918, according to a report issued by the provincial board of health yesterday. This is particularly true of scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles and whooping cough. The death rate from these affections, it is gratifying to note, is low, that of scarlet fever being less than 2 per cent, diphtheria 7.7 per cent, measles 5 per cent, and whooping cough 5 per cent.

This is the season of the year for acute primary pneumonia, from which province last month, "Fortunately," the report states, "we have been spared the experience the country suffered from influenza last year, and it is sincerely hoped this affliction may not reappear."

Venereal Diseases Increase. Venereal diseases reported last month also show a marked increase, equal in amount to that of November, 1918. The complete comparative table follows:

Diseases.	Nov. 1919.	Nov. 1918.
Scarlet fever	488	7 157
Diphtheria	421	4 147
Measles	412	2 65
Whooping cough	53	24 80
Typhoid fever	53	24 46
Cerebro-spinal meningitis	13	3 8
Tuberculosis	197	224 139
Infantile paralysis	2	0 1

Chance of Bassa Freezing in Ice; Has 400 Motor Cars Abroad

Montreal, Dec. 3.—The chances of the Elder-Dempster cargo steamer Bassa being frozen in midstream for the winter are becoming more evident, as up to dusk today all efforts to make her budge proved ineffectual. It had been hoped that the removal of a considerable part of her cargo would have resulted in her refloating, but although this work went on steadily throughout the day and the stevedores started on the lower holds, the ship refused to respond to the buoyancy of the water. Among the cargo was 400 tons of newsprint and a large quantity of cement as well as lumber and about 400 automobiles.

THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 4.

Has He a Mandate?

The people of North Ontario have a perfect right to elect as their member of the Dominion house the candidate pledged to free trade with Great Britain and unrestricted reciprocity with the United States.

The platform of the United Farmers for the provincial campaign dealt with a number of subjects of provincial interest, such as a fixed election day, the recall, and proportional representation.

Comparatively few of the electors who voted for Farmers or Labor candidates understood that they were thereby committing the province of Ontario to the support of reciprocity or free trade.

Mr. Drury is quoted as saying that he desires the end of the party system and wishes his government to be regarded as the people's government.

"The provincial election looks big to us at present, but after all it is a small thing. The matter of importance to the people is not so much the provincial as the Dominion government.

Indeed in the same speech he intimated that the recent provincial election was mainly important as a stepping-stone to the overthrow of the Borden government.

Mr. Drury as an individual may believe in free trade, but Premier Drury a mandate from the people of Ontario to intervene in a federal contest?

What would appear to be the rank-and-file kind of bungling is responsible for the tragedy in Hamilton jail. It is not very long since the McCullough case in Toronto jail had the province stirred up over the slackness and laxity of the jail officials.

It looks as though the province were badly served in its jail methods. Cheap and inefficient officials could do no worse than the responsible people have been doing.

Submit the Bylaw. All the municipalities between here and Bowmanville are threatened with a hold-up by York township, because the councillors of that district have taken into their heads that they will not submit the bylaw approving the purchase of the Toronto & Eastern Railway for the radial system on January 1.

township of York have now to vote. Toronto will certainly pass the bylaw on New Year's Day. If the township council body has an opinion on the proposed, the purchase of the Hydro radial body has an opinion from the federal government, will be delayed just that much longer, and the service between here and Bowmanville, which can be started after the completion of a short connecting link, will also be delayed.

township of York have now to vote. Toronto will certainly pass the bylaw on New Year's Day. If the township council body has an opinion on the proposed, the purchase of the Hydro radial body has an opinion from the federal government, will be delayed just that much longer, and the service between here and Bowmanville, which can be started after the completion of a short connecting link, will also be delayed.

The expense of balloting on January 1 will be just the same as on February 1 and no reason which is valid has been given for the delay. It is difficult to believe the statement that the councillors hope to achieve an acclamation by postponing the bylaw balloting till February, but if this idea animates them they may make up their minds at once to opposition on nomination day.

What is the matter with the military authorities? The heroic work of the men who formed the 3rd and the 15th battalions has endeared these units to the public, and the determination of the red-tape, brass-hat artists to extinguish the celebrated Toronto battalions indicates an entire lack of appreciation of public spirit.

The blood and tears, the heroism and sacrifice that are represented by the 3rd and the 15th, may mean nothing to brass hats, but the people of the city want these highest qualities recognized, and if they do not get their wish, they have found a way to let their displeasure be known.

The official conscience-keeper of the U. F. O. says the Drury government really wants criticism. Governments cannot live by flattery alone. The chief snigger-up to the Drury government reports him verbatim as saying on the question of provincial development of St. Lawrence power: "I am not prepared offhand to say what steps will be taken by my government."

"My" is a tiny word, but it may mean a whole lot. Traditionally it is the crown that speaks publicly of "my" government, and then only in formal speeches from the throne. Mr. Drury may have observed that early in the war the King spoke in proclamations of "my army and my empire."

Sir William Hearst was the first premier of Ontario who contracted the habit of speaking to the public of "my government." Mr. Drury can make sure Sir William was also the last to do it. The government of a people's party is the government of all the people.

Advices from the United States regarding the coal strike are not reassuring. Draconic restrictions to conserve coal are being put into effect by great cities like Chicago, and the federal railway administration, which still has possession of the roads, will curtail passenger and freight service and lay off all trains not absolutely necessary for the service of the public.

We in Ontario can expect little coal from the maritime provinces, as despatches from that part of the country indicate that the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick mines are not fully supplying local demands, and the Canadian National Railway has already commenced to commandeer coal in the hands of the dealers. The long haul for Ontario and Quebec to get coal from Alberta and British Columbia. Besides this the United Mine Workers are as powerful in Canada as they are in the United States.

We will have to do the best we can in this province, which, by the way, is not so well supplied with coal reserves as the province of Quebec, but the peril of the fuel famine which may soon be upon us should certainly wake up the people of this province to their dangerous situation. We must develop the white coal of electric power to an enormous extent and we must develop the petroleum resources of the province as far as possible; also of the whole country.

And in this connection the people are anxious to know what the Ottawa government is doing with the oil fields of the Peace River country. Is oil found there in paying quantities, and to what extent is it being produced? Is the government getting anything more from the prospectors and operators than a nominal rental of 25 cents an acre? What percentage, if any, of the oil that may be pumped to the surface goes to the Dominion government? What steps are being taken to conserve the oil when it is produced, and what exploration or development work is being done by the government?

This country can only become great by developing on a big scale the coal and oil deposits and the great water power which it undoubtedly possesses. Central Canada must not remain dependent on the United States for fuel. The strike and the coal famine which threatens to follow will serve at least one good purpose if it spurs the Dominion and provincial government alike to more activity in locating and producing coal, petroleum and electric power.

Old Horses Perfectionist. There is a strange synchronizing outbreak of political piety in The Globe and Mail and Empire. Both the old war horses are agonizing over Mr. Drury's electioneering soul.

ON EARLY CLOSING. Editor World: In your issue this morning, December 3rd, you state that the council chamber and gallery was filled with those opposing the act. Now I might say for the benefit of those who could not get away to hear the discussion, that there was not a dissenting voice raised from the benches of the chamber, with the exception of Mr. McEwen and Mr. Ramsden, against the act.

The food controller admitted that Canadian spirits in considerable quantities were coming to England, and there was much difference of opinion whether they were readily distinguishable from the home product.

MOONLIGHT AND MONEY

BY MARION RUBINCAM

A DISTURBING NOTE.

CHAPTER 52. The following morning Louise awoke early, as she had done when keeping house. She started up in bed with a feeling of being late, then she remembered there was no Harry to make breakfast for this morning and no early train to hurry her off to catch.

So she lay back in bed again, glad to be able to relax and rest, yet far from happy. Harry had had the whole day now to think about her absence. For the first time she began to wonder what he would do. Then actually she felt a sense of comfort and warmth stole over her again, and she snuggled under the covers and dozed until 10 o'clock.

"Your mother is up and wants to know whether you'll have breakfast with her in her room," she said, closing the windows and turning on the heat as she talked.

"Of course I will," Louise answered, reaching for her bath robe. "Then I'll serve it in your mother's boudoir right away," the woman said. "You look a heap better this morning than when you came yesterday," she added, looking critically at Louise.

When they were alone again, Mrs. Driscoll turned the lamp face up. "I was addressed to Mrs. Henry Morton. Louise took it, her face suddenly white and her hands cold. It was in Harry's writing. "I knew, of course, that he would try to get in touch with you," Mrs. Driscoll said, looking at the letter which

WHAT "NOT" TO GIVE HIM. BY IDA L. WEBSTER. We have received a letter written on behalf of the members of a girls' club, or rather we should say a "young ladies' club," asking us what they could give to their men friends, and be sure of its receiving a hearty welcome.

Just why we have been picked on to make such a suggestion is not quite clear to us at the time of going to press, but it will likely percolate thru our mind in the course of time. However, in the meanwhile we will do our best to fall into the trap, whatever it happens to be.

First of all, having worked in an office with men, we would strongly advise women against giving cigars for Christmas. Also those cleverly constructed pearl tie pins which make the wearer look so much like a funeral wreath.

Writing sets, memorandum books, blotters, quotation books, diaries, portfolios, sleeve holders, calendars, pipe racks and the racks, also collar boxes, should be avoided by the discoverer. It is just what he has been looking for.

For instance if your husband is a reporter you might get him a "pre-emptive" if he is an editor, you might try getting him two. If he is just an honest man who works by the sweat of his brow, and whose money is not particularly flush, give him some good tobacco, a pipe, if the old one is really "old," and make the packages up in an attractive fashion with ribbons and everything else. In short, do the trick as you did before you changed your name, but do it with discretion.

French Aviator Resigns. Paris, Dec. 3.—Capt. Heutteaux, a French aviator whose work during the war was most spectacular, and who was elected to the chamber of deputies last month, has resigned from the army.

The Proclamation of Peace. will create an interest in the new boundaries of Europe. The Toronto World has obtained a limited supply of the NEW MAP OF EUROPE, size 41 x 54, printed in colors, and inset maps of Australasia, Asia and Africa, showing the new divisions.

Readers of this newspaper may obtain a copy by clipping this notice and sending same, together with fifty cents, to The Toronto World.

WILHELM'S CHARACTER MIGHT BE INJURED

Supposed Reason Why Publication of Bismarck's Memoirs Was Stopped.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The provisional prohibition upon the publication of the third volume of Prince Bismarck's memoirs, just secured thru legal proceedings, has prompted some of the Berlin legal writers to discuss the political phases of the case.

Erich Sick, writing in The Vossische Zeitung, expresses belief that there is no doubt the reason for stopping the publication of the letters exchanged between the iron chancellor and the young Emperor William would be of significance as giving testimony of the character of the emperor, and that the monarchists feared the publication of the documents would be inimical to their cause.

Professor Heymann, in The Jurist's Gazette, gives his view that the publication of the letters should have been permitted. Bismarck's legacy, he thinks, unquestionably contains a valuable message to the German people.

PROMISES NEW PLAN TO MAKE AMMONIA. Paris, Dec. 3.—The industrial use of pressure above a thousand atmospheres in the production of synthetic ammonia, something never accomplished heretofore except by the Germans, is promised in a paper read before the Academy of Science by Professor George Claude.

ANTI-VACCINATION ARGUMENT FITTLE, HEALTH BOARD SAYS

City Authorities Rapped for Failing to Observe Compulsory Law.

"From some quarters enquiry has been made as to why the board has not replied to the arguments and advertisements presented in the sporadic campaign of the anti-vaccinationists."

The foregoing statement appears in the monthly report of the provincial board of health, issued yesterday.

"The failure of the city authorities to carry out the law in respect to compulsory vaccination and the fear of the disease spreading to the United States has had the authority of the latter country to establish quarantine regulations at the border and to require persons travelling to the States to show evidence of recent vaccination."

INDUSTRIAL GIRLS ATTEMPT ESCAPE

Charged With Arson for Alleged Attempt to Fire Refuge.

Attempting to escape from the industrial girls' refuge, 43 Belmont street, at 8.20 last night, two young women set fire to paper in an empty room on the ground floor. Their plans of escape were revealed by other girls to the superintendent, who on hearing that a fire had broken out summoned her assistants and put out the blaze before it had gained headway.

There are 68 girls quartered in the building, but it was stated by one of the officers, none of the others intended escaping. It was the intention of the accused when the fire-works for the inmates to march out of the building and to escape.

The superintendent refused last night to state the length of term term the women were to be detained in the institution or to discuss the nature of the offence they were committed for. The damage by fire was not estimated. No call was sent in for the fire reels.

ANTI-VACCINATION ARGUMENT FITTLE, HEALTH BOARD SAYS

City Authorities Rapped for Failing to Observe Compulsory Law.

"From some quarters enquiry has been made as to why the board has not replied to the arguments and advertisements presented in the sporadic campaign of the anti-vaccinationists."

The foregoing statement appears in the monthly report of the provincial board of health, issued yesterday.

"The failure of the city authorities to carry out the law in respect to compulsory vaccination and the fear of the disease spreading to the United States has had the authority of the latter country to establish quarantine regulations at the border and to require persons travelling to the States to show evidence of recent vaccination."

BLECK WALKIN AWAY WITH THE APPOINTMENT

INSIDE GOSSIP OF THE FIRESIDE LEAGUE.

"He spotted you good and plenty with a bunch of names. She says you was buried deep in the actors' bible trying to get a line on the two-a-day. Now, looka here, boy, the varieties apt for you. Maybe it is a joke life and they pay on the nail an' all that, but take a tip from me and forget this acrobatic stunt of yours. It's a fool's errand."

"Why don't you try exorcism your prodigious influence over the diamond? Giving the majority of four over the 55 Liberals and Conservatives."

What Hartley Dewart Said. Hartley Dewart had the following to say recently regarding the speakership: "Is it fair to secretly bargain with an elected Liberal member for his appointment as speaker, with the knowledge that the speaker is attending the private conferences of Liberal members? Every fair-minded man in the province of Ontario will resent any attempt to Liberate or Conservative to detach themselves from their respective parties to augment the Partner force by the promises of preferment and office."

While Premier Drury appears to be fairly safe to find a seat in Centre Simon, Hon. Manning Doherty and Hon. W. E. Hanes are still without immediate prospects of obtaining a political home.

Tomorrow is the last day upon which election petitions may be filed, so the days are being clipped since October 20.

Even Money on Today's Fight

THE EXPERTS PICK CARPENTIER TO WIN

But He Must Be in Condition to Beat Beckett, According to General Opinion.

London is athrob with excitement over tonight's battle for the heavyweight championship of Europe between the bulldog of England, Beckett, and the French air pilot, Georges Carpentier. No other fight in the history of the ring since that of Sullivan and Mitchell, more than a generation ago, has aroused so much interest here.

Promoter Cochrane could easily have sold $500,000 worth of seats for the bout, or $600,000 available in the Holborn Stadium. Sportsmen in all parts of Great Britain were yesterday bombarding Cochrane, offering anywhere from 20 to 50 guineas ($100 to $250) for comfortable standing room.

The places of honor at the ringside were occupied by the Prince of Wales and half a dozen members of the royal family. The fight will be broadcast on the radio by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Beckett has shown himself to be a rugged, two-handed fighter, with courage and experience, who up to the present time has done nothing to excite the admiration of his countrymen. Whether he will develop into a heavyweight of the first rank will doubtless be known after today's contest. Carpentier, a noted amateur, has never added to his reputation as a champion of Great Britain, as defeat was his portion nearly every time they entered the ring against one another.

Therefore, when Beckett began to beat the men with whom he was matched, he became enthusiastic, and now are convinced they have a victim to whom to take the measure of any heavyweight in the world, including Jack Dempsey.

The victor's question, however, concerns his physical condition, and reports from the other side of that point are conflicting. Also, it is not known whether the French champion seems to indicate that he is in good condition, but the only indisputable proof to date is the effect which he has had on the Frenchman enters the contest today in condition to go the pace, he should have little trouble in defeating his opponent and getting the decision at the end of the twentieth round.

But Carpentier, the physical wreck he has been pictured, then the rugged Beckett should score a knockout in the limit of twenty rounds is reached.

The match is not dissimilar in its main aspects to the fight between the champion and Coney Island. Corbett could not have lost if his vitality had not been lowered through neglect of proper training, for he outlasted the boldermaker in the science of boxing. But the former champion, after winning twenty-one rounds, collapsed in the twenty-third round and was unable to continue.

Beckett appears to be a Jeffries in build and he is credited with a knockout punch in either hand. The two boxers who have seen both men at work in recent months have given expression to interesting views as to the outcome of the contest.

Jimmy Wilde declares that Carpentier is in good condition and that he should be returned to the ring. He was beaten by Beckett and has had a terrific bout. He insists that the Frenchman will win in a few rounds.

There probably is not in the ring a more picturesque figure than Carpentier. He was born in Lens, France, January 12, 1892. He was 27 years of age last January. He has been practically out of the ring for five years, owing to his military service.

While he is not a physical giant, he is 5 feet 11 1/2 inches tall and weighs about 180 pounds in the type of building peculiar to Kid McCoy and Jim Corbett, possessing much of the art and cunning of the former and the tenacity of the latter.

He began boxing in public when he was fifteen years of age. He is a graduate of Grogan's gymnasium, and the latter is believed the best educator for a boxer. Carpentier has had a number of bouts. Losing never discouraged him. He took the bitter with the sweet. The first year he boxed he won four bouts and lost one. The next year, 1905, when he was but 15 years of age, he scored two knockouts, won two bouts, and drew one with Le Grand, a Parisian rival.

One as a ten-round affair.

The details of Carpentier's bout with Kimbault Smith in London, July 6, 1914, are interesting. The Frenchman won on an alleged foul in the sixth round. Carpentier had outboxed Smith at long range, and Jim Buckley, who was the referee, told him to test in the fifth round for the sixth round. Smith obeyed instructions and Carpentier, after a right hand lead which sent Smith to the floor, stepped back and Carpentier, smiling, seeing a fight, Carpentier dropped on one knee. Smith had started his right hand lead and could not pull it. He went over the French heavyweight's head.

Deschamps jumped into the ring and claimed a foul. Referee Eugene Corri stood over to one side of the ring, and after the excitement had subsided, he declared Carpentier had won on a foul. The moment Deschamps jumped into the ring the bout was over and Carpentier was automatically disqualified. The commissioner was the referee, and the referee's decision was the final one.

Beckett is past 30 years of age, but in prime physical condition.

RUTH WANTS CRACK AT BOXING GAME

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—"Baby" Ruth, outfielder for the Boston American League baseball club, and champion home-run hitter of the world, may become a professional heavyweight boxer, it was announced today.

"Kid" McCoy, a former pugilist, and Al. St. John, a motion picture actor, who entered into an agreement by which McCoy will train Ruth for three days, and if his report was favorable, a campaign of St. John would finance a match with Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, in a future fight.

Ruth has given up plans to become a motion picture actor, it was said.

The home-run hitter champion said he used to be in preliminary contests in Baltimore.

"I have always wanted to be a professional boxer," he said, "but in that my future I might have had in that I would have to play baseball. If McCoy and St. John think I have any chance, I am willing to do everything they ask."

SHORT STORIES

Varied are the opinions of the English public and experts on the Beckett-Carpentier fight, which takes place today in London. The close-in critics believe that Carpentier will win, and Eddie McGoorty, who has met both men, figures the Frenchman the better of the two. When Tex Rickard charged $50 for the ringside seats for the Willard-Dempsey battle, it was thought that the last word in high prices had been reached, but for the big battle today, the ringside seats are being sold for $125, and according to last night's despatches, $250 was offered for standing room.

It has often been said that no English boxer would attempt to visit America without bringing with him a trainer or manager whose first name is David. In this respect there is no exception. Not only is his manager's first name Dave or David, as Freddy Welsh would say, but one of his sons is also named David. Ben Williams is trainer of the wonder-none other than Dave Hughes, a noted London sport.

LIVELY WORKOUPS BY LOCAL SQUADS

Pittsburg Wants Toronto Teams — Patricks After Keats and Briden.

Rickey, the defence player with the Seattle team in the Coast League last year, has failed to come to terms with the Patricks. The eastern clubs will be looking for a try at signing his name on a one-year contract and the local club will be one to make the effort.

Balmly Beach claim that Nelson Stewart, the crack center player of Beaches Bankers last year, with wear the cast-and colors in the senior hurl this winter. Jimmy Dolan also promises that he will have out some good ones this week. About a dozen turned out for B. R.'s early workout yesterday in the lot near the D'Arcy Smith's. The Daddies and Emmerson, late of the Port Hope Intermediate, Gallagher, Stevens, the Jessé Steiner, and Moffat, from Moose Jaw.

Pittsburg A. C. have written to the Dentals, asking the Toronto team to open the season in the Smoky City on December 12th and 13th. The Dentals will be able to get away at this early stage and the season will likely take a Pittsburg trip along with a jaunt to New York later.

The Patricks have written east to ask permission to dicker with Keats and Briden this year. The permission will be given.

Jack Marks took charge of the Don's practice last evening and with the new material expected next week he will begin to learn them the game. Tex White, D'Arcy Smith, Murray Waldron, Harold Bounnail, the bike rider, and Caswell, were a few of those on the job last evening.

Parkdale had a useful workout last night. Jack Caine was a spectator, but did not do a uniform. Collett, Munton, Winters, Stewart and the others were on the job. Woodcock, Erb, Batstone and Dunn were the players out.

Dons have been asked to play an exhibition game in Kitchener on Christmas night.

Commodore Jenner, who is looking after the Parkdale senior team, is one man who believes that the west coast are strong enough to defeat Dentals. Saturday night's game between Dentals and Parkdale will go a long way towards deciding the question.

Dentals have an advantage not enjoyed by other teams. They have lined up a powerful squad of puck chasers, are sure of every one of their own players for the season to begin. Parkdale claim a line-up which is watching Collett, Caine, Westman and Woodcock. Collett, Caine, Westman and Woodcock will guard the net with the defence and Nelson Stewart, Stewart, the young Eitherton, Harry Batstone and Erb, Kitchener, on the forward line.

The reserved seat tickets will go on sale at the Arena on Monday. The demand promises to be large.

WEAKNESS SHOWN IN CORN MARKET

Shutting Down Industries and Break in Foreign Exchange Are Influences.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Shutting down of industries and a severe new break in foreign exchange has a depressing effect today on the corn market. Prices closed nervous, 1 1/2 to 3c net lower, with December $1.32 1/2, to $1.40, and May $1.22 1/2 to $1.32. Oats finished 1/2 to 1 1/2c down. In provisions, the outcome ranged from 5c decline to the advance.

Altogether prices in the corn market had an upward slant at the opening, sellers were soon in a majority and during the remainder of the day the bulls were at an evident disadvantage. Continued scantiness of corn receipts together with initial higher quotations on hogs failed to exercise more than a temporary strengthening influence.

Instead, buyers were checked as a result of announcements that all the plants of a big cereal food manufacturing company had been closed indefinitely owing to the coal shortage. New low records for British exchange added another element of weakness and so too did a report that the United States government would not finance export business. Under such circumstances the market was at virtually the lowest figures of the day.

Despite further sales to the seaboard, oats gave way with corn. Provisions averaged lower affected by grain weakness and by disappearance of strength from the hog market.

ON CHICAGO MARKET

Hughes, Harcourt and Co., 307 Royal Bank building, received the following wire at the close of the Chicago market yesterday: Corn opened higher, but met a rush of selling orders and prices quickly receded to below yesterday's close. Local traders who have been bearish in the past and who have been fighting the advance are now bullish, judging from present indications there will be no permanent large run of corn until the coal situation is nearer normal. Even should the situation improve there is little hope for a large movement of corn, and the perishable food will naturally have the preference. So long as present conditions remain as they are no material decline is likely.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

Winnipeg, Dec. 3.—Today oats were lower for December, 5c lower for May and 3c lower for July. Barley closed 2 1/2c lower for December and 1 1/2c lower for May. Flax, 2 1/2c higher for December and 1 1/2c higher for May. Rye, 1 1/2c lower for December and 1 1/2c lower for May.

Oats: December, open 85c to 85 1/2c, close 85 1/2c; May, open 88 1/2c, close 88 1/2c; July, open 88 1/2c, close 88 1/2c; Barley: December, open 1.13, close 1.13; May, open 1.13, close 1.13; Flax: December, open 85, close 85; May, open 85, close 85; Rye: December, open 85, close 85; May, open 85, close 85.

AUSTRALIAN WOOLS NOT TO BRING PRICES DOWN

Washington, Dec. 3.—Importation of Australian wools, to be auctioned in Boston, will have little effect on domestic prices, according to a report today that the Boston auctions merely replaced the Australian transactions of normal years.

Canadian buyers were expected to take a large portion of the wool, but it will not be allowed by the British committee. Other shipments will not be allowed by the British committee. It was said, the total amount will be less than in the past.

Outlook for Canadian Trade And Commerce

BANK OF MONTREAL ANNUAL MEETING

Sir Vincent Meredith, the President, Favored System of Taxation That Would Affect All Classes of Community Who Have Ability to Pay—Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, General Manager, Points Out That There Had Been No Profitreing by Banks During War Period, As Loanable Funds Had Remained Unchanged—Bank Had Never Been in a Healthier State.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—(Special)—At the annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal, at the head office of the bank, Sir Vincent Meredith, the President, in his annual address, took occasion to refer particularly to the many problems with which Canada was at present confronted and to the best manner in which these could be solved. It is generally recognized that these problems at the moment are of almost an unprecedented character and, therefore, they are of the greatest importance to the mercantile interests of the country.

Sir Vincent attributed the high cost of living very largely to the pressing demands of European countries for commodities of every nature. He considered that in Canada it might be possible to look forward confidently to a reduction in all commodities, both at home and abroad, after another harvest. He dealt particularly with the change in opinion that had developed as regards the relation of gold reserve to note circulation. He expressed the view that it might be a part of wisdom to depart from the old notions of the rigidity of the gold reserve and recognize that we are justified in enlarging our note-issuing powers to respond to all legitimate business demands in periods of great trade activity or emergency, provided such expansion is based on self-liquidating securities.

The President also pointed out that it was vitally important that the unoccupied areas of Canada should be settled and made productive with as much rapidity as possible, the future prosperity of the country and ability to meet our debts being largely dependent on increased production.

The question of taxation in Canada also received particular attention and Sir Vincent expressed the view that trade was being hampered by a somewhat penalizing excess business profit tax. Furthermore, enterprise and expansion are stifled and foreign establishments deterred from entering the Canadian industrial field. He expressed the view that Canada should do away with many exemptions and impose taxation on all classes of the community who have the ability to pay and at the same time place a higher tariff upon imported luxuries, which would cause little hardship and at the same time considerably ease a strained financial situation.

Difficulties to be Overcome Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, the General Manager, dealt more particularly with the record of the Bank during the past year, but also touched on many of the developments outside of the country which had a bearing on the situation. Sir Frederick stated that it was no reassuring reflection that the United States has already reduced her war debt by some $600,000,000, while Canada was confronted with an increase of $600,000,000 for the current year.

Sir Frederick took occasion to point out that it was a matter of sufficient importance to bear repeating whatever by the banks of Canada, for the price of money had not been raised. Alone of all commodities the cost to the borrower of loanable funds of the banking institutions of the country had remained unchanged. Not only was this the case, but speaking for the Bank itself, it was only proper that the shareholders should know that in handling business entrusted by the several Governments during the war and since, the policy had been to charge only the narrowest of commissions and minimum interest rates. In many instances, where the services were of a war character the Bank had acted free of charge.

A satisfactory sign of the times in Canada was the increase in buying power by first-class securities. This is a healthy and desirable condition, induced by Government war loans and war saving certificates. It is vital that Canadians should recognize the value of saving, as between production and thrift, the latter goes hand in hand, the latter is fundamental and leads naturally to the former.

General Trade Activity. Sir Vincent Meredith, in his address to shareholders, said in part: "General trade in practically all branches had been active and profitable during the war and the Bank has participated in the general prosperity in moderate proportion to the resources employed to the shareholders. That reaction from the feverish activity to the mark, the Western farmers had much to be thankful for.

"In British Columbia one is struck by the confidence of the people in the future of their rich and beautiful Province, with its wonderful climate. It is a healthy sign that the men of affairs in the West hold such sane views concerning the outlook locally and for the Dominion at large.

"I hope that time may presently permit me to visit other divisions as I did British Columbia and the Northwest. "In concluding, I have no hesitation in expressing the belief that the affairs of the Bank have never been in a healthier state. Our domestic business is expanding satisfactorily, our foreign branches and connections have been adequately extended to meet the development of the country's trade, and, what is more important, we are well equipped in point of staff. Altogether I feel that we are well prepared to meet any conditions and contingencies that may arise.

Overseas Record. "The record of the staff of the Bank overseas showed that 1,405 members of the staff had served with the colors. Of this number 1,183 had survived, of whom 662 have already been reinstated. Of the total who joined the colors it was Sir Frederick's sad duty to record the fact that 223, or 16 per cent, gave their lives for their country. In paying tribute to them, Sir Frederick said: "No words of tongue or pen can fully express our pride in our admiration for these gallant young crusaders. It must suffice to say that their names are not merely written in the records of this Bank and in the history of the Empire they served so well, but live on far away, woven into the fabric of other men's lives. Such dead are honored with unchallenged admiration."

Our superintendent has reported on provincial conditions as follows: Ontario. Manufacturing in Ontario has been limited only by shortage of supplies and disturbances in labor. Government credits for goods sold to Europe have stimulated manufacturing, and domestic demands have been insistent. New industries have been started, and a number of successful manufacturing concerns in the United States have been making inquiries with the intention of locating in Ontario.

Ontario farmers have been steadily bettering their position in recent years, installing modern equipment and improving their modes of living. The past year has been one of fair crops and high prices. A wet spring was followed by an exceptionally dry summer, and grain crops, with the exception of fall wheat, fell below the average. Root crops were good; corn and tomatoes were a record yield; the season was poor for all fruit except grapes. Cheese production showed a falling off. There is a shortage of hogs; sheep-raising is on the increase.

The present situation is somewhat unsettled, owing to the limited amount of feed available for carrying through the winter. The production of lumber has been seriously reduced owing to shortage of labor—1919 has been an excellent marketing year, with heavy sales to Great Britain and the United States, and a steady domestic demand for all classes of lumber. Prices have been unusually high, there is no accumulation of stocks on hand, and notwithstanding the scarcity of labor and increased costs of operating, the year has been a successful one. Pulp and paper have been in large and increasing demand, with soaring prices for the latter.

Mineral production during the year has been curtailed. The demand for nickel fell off; the silver output, strikes lessened the silver output. Both these situations are improving and larger production has taken place at the gold mines. Both wholesalers and retailers report it easy to sell goods. Credits are shortened and bad debts negligible. Larger expenditures were generally made by municipalities this year in an effort to overtake works postponed during the war.

Population shows a general increase, with a tendency to drift to urban and manufacturing centers. Values in real estate are steadily increasing. So little building took place during the war that there is now a general shortage, particularly in dwelling houses, and in consequence there is much activity in real estate and an improvement in the building trades.

There has been a continued extension in Hydro-Electric power during the past year, and works at Nipigon and Chippawa, as well as at other places less important, will within the next two years add very largely to the available power for manufacturing and other purposes throughout Ontario. Generally speaking the year has been one of great activity throughout the province.

"STOP THE HOT AIR," SAYS NEW LABOR MAYOR

London, Dec. 3.—Alderman Tom Fox, recently elected the first labor lord mayor of Manchester, received a deputation of unemployed who protested against the withdrawal of the unemployed grant. When a member of the deputation spoke of "not being responsible for what might happen," the lord mayor replied: "I am lord mayor and bound to keep order. Make no mistake. I am prepared to take action with all possible energy. I have been unemployed myself. When you go back to your men tell them to stop letting off hot air."

The directors of the Mining Corporation of Canada yesterday issued a circular to shareholders, notifying them that the final quarterly dividend for the year would be omitted. The reasons cited are the loss of time due to the miners' strike, the expense of dewatering the mine, and the company's commitments in respect to the Foster and the Buffalo properties. Hope is expressed that disbursements can be resumed with the first quarter of next year.

MINING CORPORATION HAS PASSED DIVIDEND

Directors Hope to Resume Disbursements Early Next Year, However.

The directors of the Mining Corporation of Canada yesterday issued a circular to shareholders, notifying them that the final quarterly dividend for the year would be omitted. The reasons cited are the loss of time due to the miners' strike, the expense of dewatering the mine, and the company's commitments in respect to the Foster and the Buffalo properties. Hope is expressed that disbursements can be resumed with the first quarter of next year.

Mining Corporation stock sold off about 30c a share yesterday to $1.70, but the opinion expressed by mining men was that the "street" took an un-pleasant view of the matter. They pointed out that the company is not going to risk money in development work, but is paying out money for the possession of areas which can be treated profitably in its mill. The circular is as follows: "The directors, after very careful consideration, have decided that it is in the best interests of the company that the last quarterly dividend for the year 1919 should not be paid.

"Owing to the miners' strike which took place in the summer months, and to the necessity, after the strike, of dewatering the mines and putting them in shape for operation, upwards of two months and a half were lost, decreasing to that extent the company's normal earnings. Further, the company has purchased for cash in the last few months a lease of the property owned by the Foster Mining Company, and over seventy per cent of the capital stock of the Buffalo Mines, Limited. These purchases required a large cash outlay, and your directors consider that it would be most inadvisable to make any further dividend distributions during the current year, having regard to the future development of properties now in the hands of the company. It is hoped, however, that commencing with the first quarter of next year, corporate distributions will be made and continued so long as the affairs of the company justify."

The Mining Corporation has been a liberal dividend payer in the past, it or its subsidiary companies having paid $2,294,134. The output in September was 53,021 fine ounces with a value of $228,719, and in August was 49,621 fine ounces valued at $207,339.

PRODUCTION OF GOLD.

London, Dec. 3.—The production of gold in Rhodesia, South Africa, in October was 57,548 fine ounces, valued at $2,294,134. The output in September was 53,021 fine ounces with a value of $228,719, and in August was 49,621 fine ounces valued at $207,339.

PARTY VISITS GOLD CENTRE.

A large party of capitalists from New York, visiting the Gold Centre at Porcupine. They are accompanied by A. S. Fuller, the well-known mining man. The Gold Centre is well situated. It has two outcrops of quartz porphyry similar to those on the Hollinger Consolidated. The Hydro-Electric power line and the C. and N. O. line both pass over the property. Its development has been retarded by the great war. Now labor troubles and supplies are coming down in price and henceforth development will be actively pushed on the Gold Centre.

BID FOR FERLAND SLIMES.

Cobalt, Dec. 3.—The Chambers-Ferland has been offered a comparatively large cash price for the tailings pile which has been situated on the property, and the offer is now under the consideration of the London directors. It is learned officially that the offer is equivalent to about six each of the company's shares. This offer, coming on the top of the recent $200,000 bid for the property, has served to attract considerable attention to Chambers-Ferland shares.

MONTREAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—There continues to be a steady demand for local buyers for oats, but there was no improvement in the demand for spot supplies, and this coupled with the decline in the markets, created a weaker feeling and prices were reduced one cent per bushel, and at the close car lots of No. 2 C. W. were quoted at $1.01, No. 3 C. W. at $1.00, extra No. 1 feed at 99c, No. 1 feed at 98c, and No. 2 feed at 94c per bushel. The wheat market here, and No. 2 C. W. ex-water at 91 1/2c, No. 3 C. W. at 91 1/2c, and No. 2 feed at 93 cents ex-ester.

The demand from all sources for flour was good today and quite an active business was reported in car lots. A stronger feeling had developed in the market for potatoes and prices have scored an advance of 15 to 20 cents per bag. The cheese market was quiet with finest white quoted at 29 1/2c per pound, and colored at 30c.

SILVER STOCKS AT HIGHEST OF YEAR

Passing of Mining Corporation's Dividend Causes Reaction in Afternoon. High records for the year were made by several silver stocks yesterday morning, but the tendency in the afternoon was to sell off somewhat, the action of the directors of the Mining Corporation in deciding to pass the dividend for the first quarter of the year having a rather depressing influence. Mining Corporation, which sold at $2.00 on Tuesday, dropped yesterday to $1.70, and failed to rally, although mining men express the opinion that the market's judgment as to the treatment of Foster and Buffalo ores in the Mining Corporation will should bring a quick recovery in the price of the stock. They look for a restoration of dividends in three months' time. Many traders, however, seem to think the time a good one to get out of their holdings, and a number of them have sold their shares at a profit.

Beaver was the leading performer among the Cobalt, 35,000 shares being sold at 78 1/2c, with the closing bid at 78 3/8c. The price advancing in the afternoon to 81c, leaving the day's net gain of 2 1/2c. Beaver was again well bought by those in close touch with recent developments on the property. "The value of gold is increasing," is the statement made by one of the gold mine operators of the north. The reason for this is the fact that, with more satisfactory working forces, the efficiency of the efficiency was not high. With forces

STEAMSHIPS LEADS IN HEAVY TRADING

Four Thousand Shares Change Hands in Montreal Market. Montreal, Dec. 3.—The heaviest trading today was again in Steamship common, nearly 4000 shares changing hands. The stock was stronger in the early trading than in the afternoon, some rather heavy liquidation, reported to be profit taking, easing the stock from 81, the highest point the stock has reached to 78 1/4, with the closing bid at 78 3/8c. The close was at a net gain of half a point over Tuesday. The preferred was strong, selling up one point to 86 and holding the gain with 86 bid.

Next in activity came Dominion Steel, with dealings in 1700 shares. The stock rose a large fraction to 78 1/4 and held the gain with 78 1/4 bid. Lyall said claimed attention by reason of its continued decline to below par. At 97, the low price for the day and the closing price the stock reached the point from which it started on the publication of stories concerning the company's new motor engine. At the close 96 7/8 was bid. Albitri was again strong, selling up with a 12 1/2 point rise to 138 on sales of 120 shares. Closing bid was at 138.

Transactions were irregular and not much in evidence. The power stocks were steady to weak, with Shawinigan unchanged at 115. Montreal off one point to 87, a new low for the movement, and Laurentide off 1 1/4 to 73 3/4. There was little feature to the bond market for the movement, and Lauretude off 1 1/4 to 73 3/4. The war loans holding generally strong. Total trading: listed shares 15,471, unlisted 395, bonds $270,600, vouchers 35.

RAILWAY STOCKS EASIER AT CLOSE

Until Final Hour New York Market Shows Steady Strength.

New York, Dec. 3.—Dealings on the stock exchange today were almost the same, both as to volume and scope, in many weeks, but the movement until the final hour, when rails eased moderately, was one of almost steady strength.

Trading remained all of its recent professional aspects aside from an casual demand for rails, in which further public investment interest was noted.

Standard industrial, including U. S. steel, were similarly favored, according to board room gossip.

News in other departments having direct relation to market values was widely divergent, ranging from the sweet call money rate of recent weeks to the fur- gress in foreign exchange, and great unsettlement in the coal situa- tion.

The fuel shortage, as reported by various trade authorities, has caused further curtailment of steel and iron production, leading manufacturers hav- ing virtually closed their sales depart- ments.

Banking interests professed not to be in accord with the views of the secre- tary of the treasury, who stated in his annual report that the problem of financ- ing the European campaign developed up- on private interests, and not the govern- ment.

Motor, oil, steel and equipments com- posed the bulk of the day's deal- ings. General Motors, Texas Co., Mexican Petroleum and Crucible Steel again set- tled a pace for others of those groups at extreme gains of 4 to 10 points. Ship- ping, rubber, tobacco, copiers, allied metals, also good issues, trailed on their advance in the customary profit-taking movement at the close.

Liberty issues raised slightly on re- duced offerings, but the general bond list, including U. S. government bonds, was irregular. Total sales (par value) were $30,750,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NATIONAL BREWERIES' DIVIDEND IS RAISED

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Directors of National Breweries have put the stock on a ten per cent. basis, declaring 2-1-2 for the quarter, payable Jan. 2 to stock of record Dec. 15.

National Breweries paid 10 per cent. on its common stock in 1918, dropped it in 1917 and 1916, and resumed divid- ends at the 6 per cent. rate in April of the present year. Its shares sold as low as 15 early in the year.

One of the noticeable features else- where which advanced 1-2 to 71-1-2 Atlantic Sugar at 87 1-2 was up half a point, and Spanish River, advanced a week opening at 69 1-2, advanced to 70 1-8. Brazilian on offerings of 225 shares, sold off 1-4 to 52 5-8 with the closing bid down to 52. Twin City at 38 lost a point.

The war loans were less active than usual, and prices were shaded slight- ly. The day's transactions: shares 5,509, including 1,950 mining shares, war loans $198,650.

NEW YORK CURB

New York, Dec. 3.—The close on the curb today was strong following a day of active trading with quotations generally higher than those regis- tered at the opening. There was extensive short covering apparently evident in numerous industrial spec- ulations, which together with buying for long account contributed to a more cheerful tone than has been the case for some days past.

General Asphalt again provided the fireworks among the industrials rising from 113 1-2 to a high of 124. Vari- ous other advances of about 2,000 shares, sold at 59. Hupp Motors on new buying moved up to 14 5-8. Loft Cardy recovered some of its recent loss advancing to 24.

White Oil, in response to what was described as pool operations, reached a high of 48 5-8. Curly Syndicate showed a distinctly upward trend, closing at 48, a gain of 2 1-2 points for the day. Int Petroleum com- munity Int Petroleum shareholders will receive a stock dividend around Christmas time. Houston Oil ad- vanced to 172.

New York funds were quoted in the Toronto market yesterday at the greatest premium on discount, namely 23-25 per cent. to 13-15 per cent. with the premium to 13-15 per cent. However, the discount on Canadian money can be regarded as extremely moderate.

TWO-POINT GAIN BY STEAMSHIPS

Stock is Reactionary in After- noon—Steels and Canada Bread Active.

Canada Steamships issues, the steels, Canada Bread and Brazilian provided most of the animation in yesterday's considerably more active trading on the Toronto Exchange. 42 issues contributing to a total of slightly more than 5,000 shares, in- cluding mining stocks. Steamships common and Dominion iron were, in which dealings exceeded 500 shares, and each exhibited pronounced strength, the both reacted at the close. Steamships opened at 79 3-4 and touched 80, three points above the former high record established on Tuesday, but fell back in the after- noon to 78, leaving the day's net gain two points. More stock was offered at 78 with the closing bid 77 1-2. In Steamships preferred dealings ran slightly beyond 300 shares, and the price advanced 1-4 to 88. While both stocks are now on a seven per cent. basis, many local traders consider that the additional safety margin should give a spread of more than eight points in favor of the senior is- sue. Dominion iron was bought briskly, and moved up a point to 73 1-2, gaining 73 at the close, but with the final bid stiffening to 73 1-8. There was also a fair demand for Steel of Canada which held steady at 76 1-2. Canada Bread, which has been struggling upward since its break from 33 ten days ago, sold up 3-4 to 31 1-2 yesterday, but yielded later to 31, the day's net gain being 1-4.

One of the noticeable features else- where which advanced 1-2 to 71-1-2 Atlantic Sugar at 87 1-2 was up half a point, and Spanish River, advanced a week opening at 69 1-2, advanced to 70 1-8. "We get no good

By being ungenerous even to a book, And calculating profits—so much help By so much reading. It is rather when We gloriously forget ourselves, and plunge Soul forward, headlong into a book's profound, Impassioned for its beauty and salt of truth— 'Tis then we get the right good from a book."

—E. B. Browning.
