IMMENSE CROWDS SEE ECCLESIASTICAL PARADE ASOUTH FORBADE HOST

Majority of Spectators Attracted Thru Curiosity, and Some Openly Hostile—Police Have a Busy Time.

ARCHBISHOP FORCED PREMIER'S DECISION

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A great procession of Catholic clergymen, which brought the Eucharistic Congress to an end, was held this afternoon amid scenes such as the English churchmen who planned it, had never anticipated. Cardinal Vanuttell, the Pope's legate, walked at the head of the procession, wearing his scarlet robes and hat, but not carrying the Host. He was accompanied by a bodyguard of English peers, of whom the Duke of Norfolk was the most prominent, and a concourse of cardinals, archbishops and bishops, who were attired in unceremonial robes instead of vestments, which originally it had been proposed they should wear.

No such throngs of people have been seen in London since Victoria's funeral, if even then. The purpose of Archbishop Bourne, the head of the Westminster diocese, and his associates, who had arranged the program had been to have the Host carried through the streets in the rear of Westminster Cathedral, and the great body of Catholics who were unable to participate in any of the services within the cathedral should have an opportunity of joining the eucharistic observances and of seeing the high ecclesiastics present in London on this memorial occasion.

The route of the procession was laid thru the quiet streets adjacent to the cathedral and but for the unexpected partisan strife which a discussion of this ceremony brought on, it probably would have been solemnized quietly and in a reverent atmosphere. The great majority of those who attempted to witness the spectacle, however, apparently were attracted by curiosity and a small part were openly and demonstratively hostile.

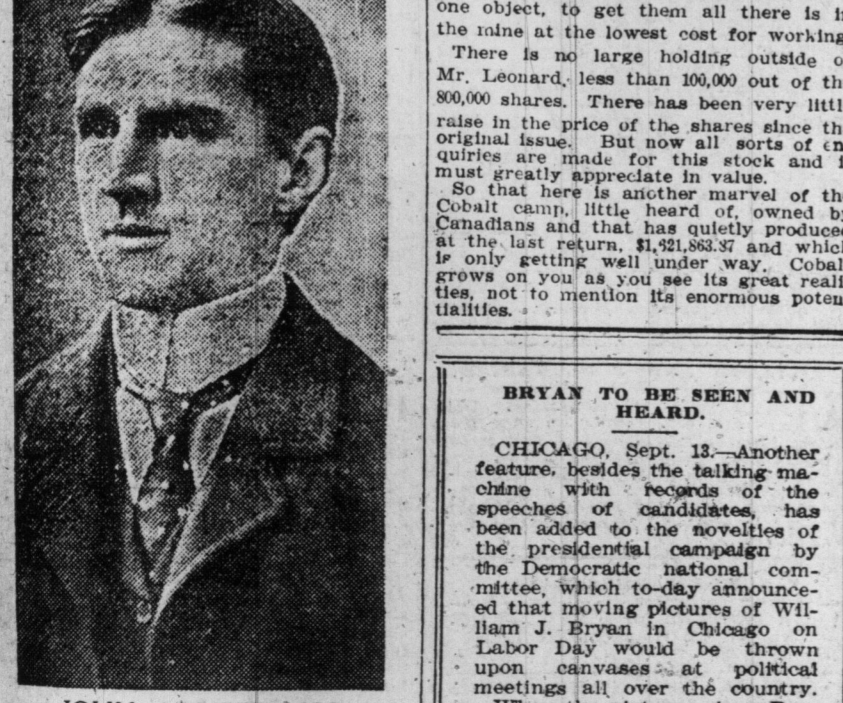

The Catholic element cheered heartily while the procession passed by and through the route, but there was also heard considerable "booming" as the Archbishop passed.

The announcement that Premier Asquith had intervened in the matter and that as a consequence there had been some modifications of arrangements, was made last night at a mass meeting in Albert Hall, where the cause of great uproar. The meeting was exclusively for men and was attended by about 10,000.

As soon as Cardinal Vanuttell, the papal legate, who was accompanied by the usual brilliant array of cardinals and bishops, took the chair, Archbishop Bourne arose and said that he had a statement to make which would be a source of disappointment and pain. He deprecating Sunday's procession and advocating its abandonment. This announcement was greeted with groans and cries of "shame" by the assembly.

TEC. SCHOOL SITE WON'T PASS COUNCIL

Opinion Seems Unanimous That Board of Education Have Been Too Lib- eral in Matter.

The ambitious proposal to expend $600,000 on a new technical school on Borden-street, by the voting of $300,000 in addition to the $300,000 already authorized, promises to meet with a complete Waterloo when it comes before the city council this afternoon.

While the council has no power under the statute to reject absolutely any project to expend money on new school buildings which may be passed by the board of education, it can refer such question to a vote of the rate-payers, and there is very little doubt such a decision will be reached.

From the sentiments expressed to The World by aldermen last night, it is evident that an overwhelming vote will smother the extravagant scheme. Not a single alderman looked upon it favorably. As for the board of control, it would not be surprising to see a majority of the members vote with the rest of the city council. The recommendation made is only a nominal one, and does not bind the controllers to support the expenditure.

Mayor Oliver and Controller Harrison are understood to be inclined to doubt the wisdom of the undertaking. Controller Spence thinks $600,000 might not be too much to devote to an up-to-date school, but is still open to conviction. He thinks that as pupils will come from outside, the Ontario Government should contribute.

Here are a few aldermanic opinions which should be interesting reading for some school trustees:

ALD. SAUNDERSON: This is going too fast. The citizens wouldn't stand for such expenditure. All the aldermen I have spoken to think as I do. Trustee Brown's stand seems to be the reasonable one.

ALD. J. J. GRAHAM: I am in favor

GRAHAM WON'T CONSENT TO QUEBEC BRIDGE DEAL

Parent Said to Have Arranged for the Rebuilding of the Structure.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—It is understood here that Hon. Geo. Graham, minister of railways and canals, has just vetoed a new plan of reorganization entered into between Hon. S. N. Parent and the Phoenix Bridge Co. for the reconstruction of the Quebec bridge.

The report has it that President Parent of the bridge company entered into a deal with the Pennsylvania Co. to rebuild the bridge on new lines, that all the plans were made and accepted by the company, and that the three government experts named in this connection, but all this appears is not the case.

Another Guess.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—It is asserted that the interests which have been urging the government to hold the elections during the last week of October rather than the first week of November, have won out, and that the date is almost certain to be Wednesday, Oct. 18, or the following day.

Unless a definite announcement as to the date of dissolution is forthcoming on Monday, it would appear that it will be made during the absence of the premier from the capital, which would be rather unusual.

Mr. Wilfrid Laurier will keep him away from Ottawa till the end of September, and the announcement is certain to be made before then.

Nobody Killed—Some Enemy Opened a Switch.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Sept. 12.—Thirty-four persons were injured to-day in the wreck of train No. 4, Chicago to New York express on the Erie Railroad at Geneva, Pa.

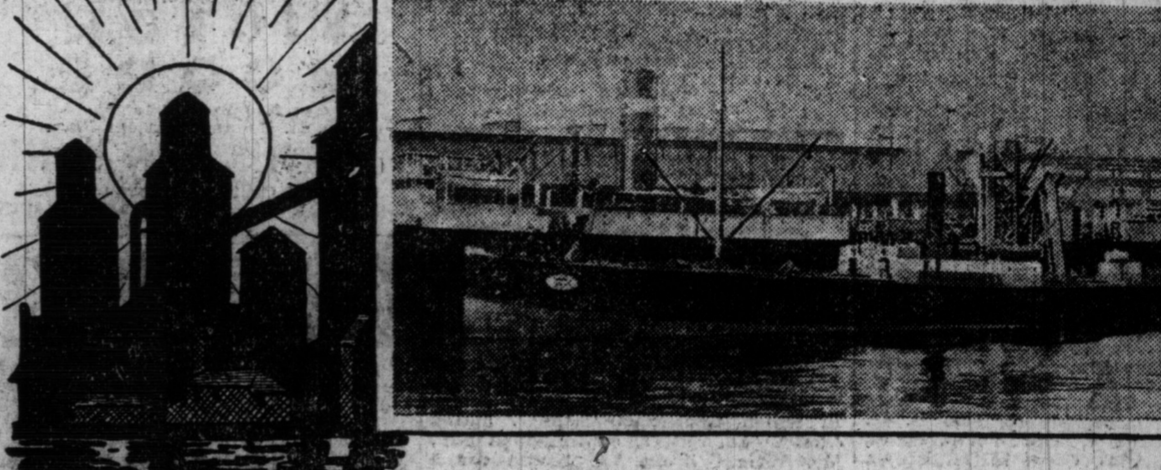

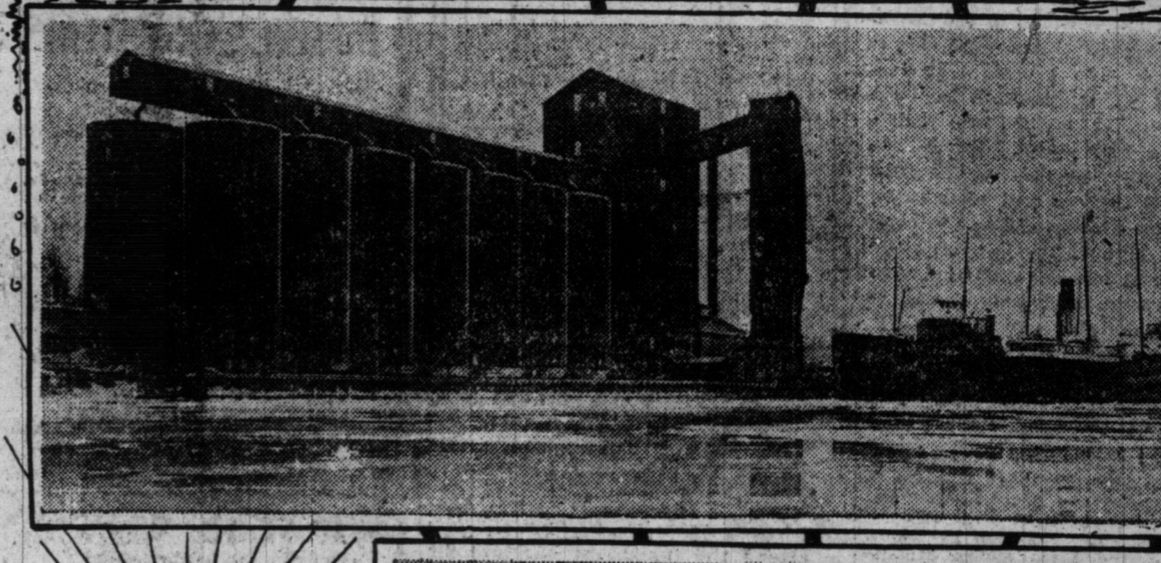

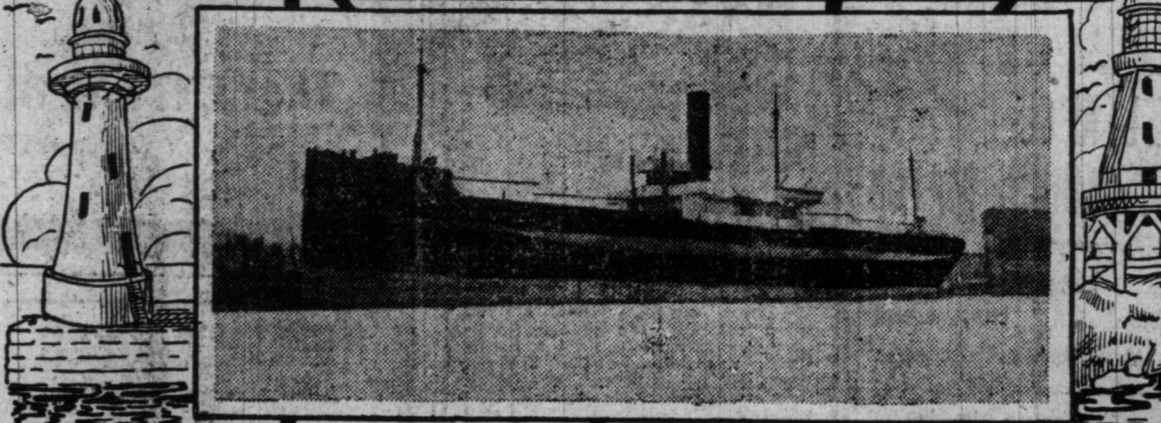

Railroad officials believe it was caused by an error of the conductor. A switch. All of the injured were brought to this city and 18 still remain at the hospital.

Thirty-one of the injured were passengers and three railroad employes. A majority of the former are Italian and Greek laborers who were in the second class car. It is not believed any of the victims will die.

FORCE GOOD CANUCKS TO PASS THE DOCTOR LIKE IMMIGRANTS

Strong Protest Against Indignities and Class Legislation For- warded to the Federal Authori- ties.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—Persistent rumors of cabinet changes once more fill the air.

It is positively asserted in some quarters that the retirement of Hon. R. W. Scott, secretary of state, will take place in the near future and that his place will be taken by Charles Murphy, K.C., the well known Ottawa lawyer, who represented the National Transcontinental Railway Commission before the parliamentary committee which enquired into the Hodgson charges. Mr. Murphy may come into the cabinet first as minister without portfolio with the understanding that he will become a full-fledged cabinet minister after the general election if the government is returned to power.

This arrangement, it is thought, would appease the Irish Catholics, who have long been dissatisfied because their interests are not more energetically represented at the cabinet councils.

An effort will probably be made to get Mr. McLaurin, the Liberal candidate in Russell County, to step aside for Mr. Murphy, altho when spoken to-day Mr. McLaurin said he had not heard anything about it.

Mr. Murphy had a long talk with Sir Wilfrid Laurier on Saturday. It is understood that the matter was fully discussed, but that plans were not definitely settled.

The necessity of doing something to meet the wishes of the Irish Catholics of the country before the election, was fully recognized, Hon. R. W. Scott, it is said, would be willing to retire if his son, D'Arcy Scott, mayor of Ottawa, is appointed to one of the vacancies on the railway commission.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—The above resolution was passed by the second-class passengers on the Allan liner Corcoran. It followed the general application to them as passengers of the Dominion Immigration laws, which demand that all passengers who do not pay a certain amount of money intended to exempt to the medical and educational tests that are applied to immigrants. It is distinctly "class legislation" and it was because of this fact rather than from the natural feeling of personal annoyance, that the protest has been made.

The second-class passenger list, as it happened, was large and distinguished, including several well-known Torontonians.

Among those who suffered were: F. A. Bell-Smith, R.C.A.; Rev. Wm. H. Hincks, L.L.B.; W. A. Martin; A. Hobson; Miss Helen A. Sheppard, school teacher of West Toronto; W. Stoney; Miss R. Newman; A. Nicholls; M. Hobson.

BILL SNOW GETS AWAY FROM "CENTRAL"

Brother of Bob Squeezes Thru Barred Window and Suc- ceeds in Eluding Bel- labeled Pursuers.

Forcing his way thru the 6 1/2 inch space between the sill and the first bar on a window in the Central Prison on Sunday afternoon, William Snow got clear away. He is a brother of the notorious young Robert Snow who was one of the seven making the getaway from the Toronto jail some time ago.

The escape is supposed to have taken place about 3.30 in the afternoon; he was not missed till 4, and an additional quarter of an hour was lost trying to locate him in one of the cells, so that he had a good three-quarters of an hour start before Deputy Warden Logan noticed the two planks standing against the twenty foot wall on the west side, showing how Snow had gained his freedom from duressville. The city police were notified at once, and guards started immediately to search the surrounding lands.

It was expected that he would make for his father's home on Farley-avenue, nearly opposite No. 3 police station at East-end-street, and he is reported to have been seen there by a citizen, wearing a short coat over the regulation blue and brown striped card of the institution, a peaked cap, and a pair of rubbers. He was also seen in the "Ward." Since Bob Snow's capture a week ago the Snows have moved from Farley-avenue.

How It Was Done.

On Sundays no guards patrol the walls, rifle in hand, to watch for whippersnappers such as Snow, but the outer doors are locked up. Snow, along with all the other prisoners in the north end of the prison, was attending divine service in the chapel, which is situated at the top of the central or main building. Snow, who was near the back of the chapel, whispered to the guards at the door that he wanted to go down to his cell for a minute, and the guard, knowing that all the doors were securely locked and barred, gave him the permission without attending him, or sending any one along with him. There was no one else beside himself in that wing of the prison when he left the chapel.

Crossing the swing bridge separating the cell galleries from the main building, Snow made his way to the bottom floor. Convenient to his purpose he noticed beneath a window, a little six feet from the floor, a wash tub which had been used to wash up some of the prison vessels. He climbed the tub, and thus was able to get a good purchase on the solid bars, pulling himself up and outward and got thru.

It took him the work of a minute for him to place a couple of 18 foot planks against the wall—one reaching to within a couple of feet from the top at a steep incline, and the other at a long angle to make it easy to mount the second—mount them to the top, and turn from there to the prison land between these.

DEATH OF JOHN BEGG IN A PECULIAR WAY

Dish of Plums Brought It About—Seven Alleged Gamblers Caught in Raid.

HAMILTON, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—John Begg, 247 Mary-street, died under unusual circumstances this morning. He had been in poor health for some time and last night he over-indulged himself in some plums which his wife had purchased. In the middle of the night he was seized with severe pains in the stomach, and his wife went out to get Dr. Hopkins. When she returned to the house her husband was dead, due to pressure on the heart by the stomach, which became bloated with the fruit. The deceased was a Scotchman, who had been in the country only a short time, and he had no relatives.

The police made a successful raid on the Franklin Hotel stables about 3 o'clock this morning and arrested seven men who are alleged to have been gambling. Those arrested were John Maskey, 53 North Bay-street; Michael Goughlin, 71 North Bay-street; Wm. Connolly, Franklin Hotel; Donald Graham, Franklin Hotel; John Tracey, 43 East Stuart-street; Michael Sutton, 117 Tisdale-street; Frank Wright, Franklin Hotel. The raid was made by Acting-Sergeant Bainbridge and Constables W. McLean, Wallace and Lowrey. The men were all bailed out.

Norman Boyd, 485 East Main-street, was thrown from his horse while out for a run with the Hamilton Riding Club on Saturday afternoon. His horse balked near the mountain seen from the club house, and Boyd was thrown, and Mr. Boyd's hip was broken in the fall. He was brought to the city on a Bradford car and taken to his home in an ambulance.

A number of friends of R. Graham of the Dominion Drug Co. tendered him a banquet at the New American Hotel last night in honor of his intended marriage.

The street cars started to run at 8 o'clock this morning instead of 10 as formerly on Sundays. The men object to the extra two hours as they claim it is the only day in the week on which they can get a little extra sleep. It is possible that there may be trouble between the company and the men over the matter.

USED REVOLVER IN FIGHT. Bullet Went Wild and Thru a By-stander's Hat.

GUELPH, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—There was a shooting in the down town streets on Saturday evening, and Joshua Peters can consider himself fortunate that he didn't kill a man. Joshua is the city dog catcher. He says he was chasing a canine back of the Central Hotel when Robert Bulger interfered. Peters started in to use his "billy" on Bulger who got possession of it and struck back. Then Joshua drew his revolver and fired. The bullet went over Bulger's shoulder and passed thru the hat of the usual innocent bystander. Bulger grappled with Peters and both were on the ground when P. C. Borthwick arrested them.

A Great Meeting. In spite of the warm weather an immense audience gathered last night in Massey Hall to hear the recital of "Ben Hur" by J. J. Winchell, who expressed his surprise at its size. Probably half of them were exhibition visitors, and few, if any, left the hall till the conclusion of the service at 9.30.

Mr. Chatto-Morton was in splendid voice and sang with fine effect "Ora Pro Nobis" and "His Love Can Never Fail." W. H. Allen, the blind singing evangelist, met with a splendid reception. He sang with much feeling, "Poor Little Child" and "Some Day We Will Understand."

At the request of the audience Mr. Wilkinson promised to repeat next Sunday "The Sign of the Cross," which will be his last service in Massey Hall this season, as the hall, unknown to him, was secured last winter by the Salvation Army.

LIEUT. E. L. McCOLL WINS G.G.B.C. CARBINE MATCH

"A" Squadron Teak Merritt Challenge Shield and Hunt Club Trophy—York Rangers' Scores.

On Saturday afternoon the annual rifle and carbine matches of the Governor-General's Body Guard were held at Long Branch. The general match at 200 and 500 yards, possible 100, was won by Lieut. E. L. McColl, with a score of 75. The scores were on the whole very good, considering the great handicap the Body Guard labor under in not having a weapon that can compete with a rifle. They have little incentive to practice, knowing that, however well they shoot, they would be outclassed when they met in the O. R. A. or D.R.A. those with rifles.

The Merritt Challenge Shield was won by "A" squadron with a score of 380. The staff came second with 283. The Senior Rifle Match was won by Lieut. Gordon, and the extra series carbine by Lieut. E. L. McColl.

MORE AEROPLANE RECORDS.

Wright Spins Around Almost 40 Miles an Hour—Breaks Old Records.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—In two flights at Fort Myer Saturday afternoon, Orville Wright in the "Wright Flyer" broke three records.

Staying up nine minutes and six and one-third seconds in the first flight, in which George O. Squier, acting chief signal officer, accompanied him, Mr. Wright broke the record for a two-man flight which he established on Tuesday.

In the second flight Mr. Wright broke the record for time and distance of a heavier-than-air flying machine, which he established yesterday, by remaining in the air for one hour, four minutes and 24 seconds. In this flight he also went higher than an aeroplane has ever gone, rising to an altitude of 250 feet.

Mr. Wright also maintained a higher speed than in any other flight at Fort Myer, sailing around the grounds at the rate of 33.35 miles per hour on the first flight, when Major Squier accompanied him. Distance of this flight was 5.38 miles.

In his flight Mr. Wright broke the world's record for time and distance for the fifth time this week.

NEWS OF PORT ARTHUR.

Real Estate Sells Well—Bush Fires Abate—Train Service Resumes.

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—Temple Godman, London, England, to-day purchased 49 feet on Arthur-street, paying $15,700. He will put up a block.

Trains are again running over the bridge which was wrecked east of here. Five trains came in this evening from the east.

Bush fires have abated and there is now no fear of any further damage being done. Large territories of timber lands have been burned and large losses have been sustained by lumber companies and the contractors.

A street car belonging to the city ran into a freight train of the Canadian Northern yesterday at the diamond. The car was shoved off the track and the signal house was overturned. No passengers were injured. Fortunately the train was running fast and crossed the Hamilton quickly, and would have been broken into kindling-wood and many lives lost.

DANISH PREMIER RESIGNS.

Consequence of Strong Public Opinion Against Ministry.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 12.—The Danish premier, J. C. Christensen, last night handed the cabinet's resignation to the king in accordance with the latter's demand.

The order for the cabinet's resignation was issued this afternoon in consequence of the strong public opinion against the ministry, which was committed to the premier's guarantee of M. Albert's honesty and integrity.

Premier Christensen's resignation had been loudly demanded by the public and the newspapers ever since the downfall of M. Albert, the ex-minister of justice, who recently surrendered himself to the police and confessed to widespread fraud.

It was only last spring that the premier publicly affirmed Albert's honesty and a few months later thru public channels, borrowed $400,000 for the former minister.

HI HENRY DYING. BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 13.—Hi Henry, the veteran minstrel, lies at his home at Horseshoe Bend, two miles from here, in a critical condition from apoplexy.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

HER ANSWER.
No-day, dear heart, but just to-day,
The sunshine over all,
The roses crimsoning the air
Along the garden wall
Then let the dream and dreamer die;
What'er shall be, shall be—
To-day will still be thine and mine
To all eternity.

And oh, there is no glory dear,
When all the world is done,
There is no splendor match out
The sinking of the sun;
There is no thing that lasts, not one,
When we have turned to clay,
But this: you loved me—all the rest
Fades with the world away.

So little while, so little while,
This world shall last for us;
There is no way to keep it, dear,
But just to spend it thus,
Tapering from the sand from flowing fast away,
But who turns the whole glass down
And dreams 'tis all to-day.

Three New Princess Dresses.
Among the many new princess and semi-princess dresses there are three that stand out prominently from the others, says Helen Berkeley-Loyd, in The October Delineator.

The first is a close fitting princess dress with two seams in the front and two in the back that run from the shoulders to the bottom of the skirt. The mousquetaire sleeves are small and close fitting and are made of the material of the dress. The gown is quite devoid of trimming, except for a deep shawl opening at the neck, and filled in with a sheer chemise.

The second is a semi-princess dress of the short-waist order and is especially designed for the delightful bordered woolsens that already are making their appearance. The shirtwaist is joined to the skirt with a belt of the border, and a hand of the border runs down the side front of the dress and around the bottom of the straight plaited skirt. The border is utilized again along the shoulder seam and down the outside of the sleeve into the cuff.

The third is a most delectable empire dress calculated to make the stout princess imagine vain things in her heart and make herself to the best of her ability a slender figure. It has a two-piece sheath skirt with a narrow black panel buttoned upon the waist to the shoulders with, innerly, small cloth-covered buttons. The back of the waist is laid in two wide plaits that button down into place like the panel. The trims correspond to the plaits are concerned, with the back, but instead of a continuous panel, the bodice is cut out in a rounded, slightly flared shape, closing slightly to the left side. The sleeves are short cape affairs—the last word from Paris on the Japanese oversleeve.

The Usual Way
Alice, aged 4, on the arrival of her aunt, said: "No, Aunt Mary, do not make yourself at home while I am here. Her aunt replied: "What must I do to make myself at home?" Alice said: "Fetch in and help mamma work."

Household Economies
If there is anything that puzzles the ordinary domestic cook it is the problem of how to dispose of the left-over biscuit. A cold biscuit has few attractions for those who like good things to eat, and I have yet to meet anybody who is willing to admit that he really liked them after they had been warmed over, and yet, when the biscuit, the discarded cold biscuit actually becomes a blessing rather than a burden on the wife. Another excellent experience, the first step in making use of stale biscuits is to toast them, after which they may be deposited in several ways. Another excellent method of disposing of this toast is to place several slices beneath the meat that is to be broiled. To do this, butter each slice slightly, dust it with pepper, and spread a thin layer of chopped celery or onions over it. Arrange the requisite number of slices in the bottom of the pan, place the meat on top of them, and roast as usual. By this process the juices of the meat and the basting liquid will

Public Amusements

THE PRINCESS will to-night present Geo. M. Cohan's greatest musical play, "The Talk of New York." The cast, headed by Victor Moore, is the one which has made such a big hit in New York and Chicago. The play tells some of the further adventures of "Kid Burns," and the music includes: "Put a Little Bet Down for Me," "Mr. Burns of New Rochelle," "When We Are M-A-double-R-I-E-D," "Burning up the Boulevard," "Busy Little Broadway," "When a Fellow on the Level With a Girl That's on the Square," "Claremont," "Under Any Old Hat at All," "Drink With Me," "Gee, Ain't I Glad I'm Home," and "That's Some Love."

THE ALEXANDRA will continue with "Florodora," the famous English musical comedy which, from the exceptional patronage accorded during last week is evidently the most popular to-day as in its premiere performances. The substitution of Mr. Girard as Abercrombie is a most favorable impression with Saturday's audiences. The sextet is encored again at every performance.

Beginning next Saturday matinee, "The Circus Girl" will be given.

Miss Violet Colby, the alternating prima donna of the Imperial Opera Co., sustained a severe fall during Saturday evening's performance of "Florodora." During the act she was thrown, while giving an equestrian dance.

VOIET COLBY
Soprano, Imperial Opera Co., Royal Alexandra.

The ribbon harness caught her foot, throwing her to the floor. Only owing to the quick action of the orchestra she was able to complete the performance, her agony being intense. She expects to be at her post to-night.

THE GRAND will present the Four Huntings, well known in vaudeville, as the stars of a new musical comedy, "The Fool House," which is a very lively and equally funny farce with a lot of musical accompaniment in which a large chorus figures. The Broadway Comedy Four is an added feature.

SHEA'S will have a splendidly assorted bill with three headliners. The Gibson Girls are billed as a distinct novelty; Claude Gillingwater, Fritz Schiff's leading comedian, and his company will give "The Wrong Man," and Hassel Ben All's whirlwind acrobats will amaze. Others are Johnston & Hart, singing comedians; Sam Elton, the monologist; Hibert and Warren, pianist and dancer, and Lillian Ashley, comedienne.

THE MAJESTIC will present a brand new drama entitled, "His Terrible Secret." It is of the Jekyll-Hyde order, with musical comedy, and situations described as startling and weird. A specially selected company will present it, beginning with a matinee to-day.

THE STAR will have "The Cherry Blossoms Burlesque," which, in addition to musical comedy, has a Broadway way, will have a "Salome" dance that excels all the others already seen here. The other entertainers are of the highest class in burlesque.

THE GAYETY will have that funny man, Frank Finney, in a skit, "Funny to One Shot," as the headline novelty of the "Troadero Burlesque." "The Isle of Nowhere" will introduce a large company in a musical playlet with the scenes laid in Japan.

AT MASSEY HALL the subscription list for the Sheffield Choral Concerts opens this morning. The most brilliant chorus in Europe will give four (4) programs in Toronto, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon, Nov. 5, 6 and 7. Subscribers to the course of four concerts will receive first choice, to three concerts second choice, to two concerts third choice. Seats will be allotted by drawing.

SCARBORO BEACH may close its gates for the season on Saturday night. The park has been in receipt of enormous patronage during the past few weeks, but that the melancholy days are coming on apace, and it is highly probable that this week will provide the last opportunities for one to ride on the Trolley, to feel the exhilaration of the chutes, to indulge in "bumping the bumps," or to gaze spellbound at the prowess of the truly marvelous mule, Maud.

DID YOU SEE PADDY?
Col. Anson G. Henderson has lost his dog, Paddy. Paddy's home is No. 51 Sussex-avenue. He is a black cocker spaniel.

R. & O. Service.
Commencing Monday, Sept. 14th, the steamer Toronto will leave Toronto at 3 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays only, up to and including Sept. 20th, for Charlottetown, P.E.I., and 1000 islands, Rapids, Montreal and Quebec. The steamer Kingston being laid up for the season, this will be the only service via the tourist line. In addition the steamer Belleville, via the Bay of Quinte, for Montreal and way ports, will continue leaving Toronto every Tuesday at 7.30 p.m.

AT R. DOOR-ST. BAPTIST NEW PASTOR IS HEARD

Rev. W. A. Cameron Enters Upon His Ministry With Large Congregation to Welcome Him.

Anyone who heard Rev. Frank Bristol a quarter of a century ago in Grace M. E. Church, La Salle-avenue, Chicago, would have been reminded of the early days of that successful preacher in listening to the first sermon preached by Rev. W. A. Cameron yesterday on entering upon the pastorate of Bloor-street Baptist Church. Mr. Cameron is as youthful, as earnest, as eloquent and in person as slight and fair as Dr. Bristol was in those days, and no doubt will prove as mighty in the Word. He has the "eyes deep-set, nose and nervous facial movements. But he is 25 years broader in his theology and Christian vision. He graduated two years ago from McGill University.

The service was well attended and hearty, such favorite hymns as "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," "Dear Friends of Bloor-street, this is I," "Thou Joy of Loving Hearts," being sung, while the very excellent quartet sang an arrangement of "Rock of Ages" with exquisite taste. A responsive reading of Psalm xxxiv, and Mr. Cameron's passage from John xii, 27, formed the scripture lessons.

The text was taken from John xii, 27: "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Me." Mr. Cameron spoke without notes and with much fluency, while avoiding conventional phrases.

Certain Greeks had come to Jerusalem to participate in the passover, and were desirous of seeing Jesus. Whatsoever they saw of Jesus, they were desirous of seeing Jesus. He pointed a moral of self-forgetfulness. Unless the grain was cast into the ground, it must die alone. This message for the Greeks was one of diffusion. If they were to take their place in the world they must recognize their art and their culture must be spread abroad for the uplifting of men.

In the miracle of the raising of Lazarus the divinity of Jesus had already been established. He who wrote of the dead to life was now willing to submit himself to death for the sake of the souls of men. He would so take the place of the man who had died, and render themselves into the hands of Himself that they would partake freely of the life He had to give.

Christ and His gospel are inseparably bound up with the future progress of the world. Not only by conscience and the work of the past, but by the continual operation of this spirit. The poet who wrote of the cross that "it creeps and rocks from left to right," surely did not understand Christianity. Mill had said it was another name for Calvinism. Swinburne had condemned it. Men had been told politics or the scholars for more knowledge, or the men of business for more means of commerce.

It was not a literary lecture they wanted, but a spiritual life. In the midst of troubles they wanted to be comforted in the hope of everlasting life. Christ asked men simply to believe in Him, to love Him, to follow Him. They had in the uplifted Christ the message for the day. Nothing had blotted that light. The radiance that shined from the manger-cradle, from the cross, and the empty tomb, had never flickered from the first moment it had lighted the darkness of the world.

In eloquent strain Mr. Cameron pictured the sickened and dying man to whom every cup of healing was offered, but of which none availed until One came with the cup, around whose brim the halo shone, and held to His lips the water of life. Spraying up from the manger-cradle, this is the message of thank to God that giveth the unspeakable victory.

In conclusion Mr. Cameron said: "Dear friends of Bloor-street, this is my hope as I enter on this pastorate, and while I am more and more conscious of my own insufficiency as I minister to the men who have in this pulpit preached the unspeakable riches of Christ. Dr. Parker was once asked, 'Why did Jesus choose Judas?' 'I don't know,' he replied, 'but I have a greater mystery still—'Why did He choose me?'"

"In the quiet of these summer months the question has often come to my mind—'Why did He choose me?' He came to me as an answer—'If I be lifted up I will draw all men unto Me.'"

"Dear friends, the same uplifted Christ, if John Knox raised his country from end to end why can't we? We have the same uplifted Christ. I believe we can, and may God grant it for His glory's sake."

W. G. ELLIOTT DEAD.
Prominent Brantford Citizen is Suddenly Called.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—William G. Elliott, managing director of the Ontario Portland Cement Co., and one of the most prominent of Brantford's business men, died from a heart failure to-day. A week ago he had a stroke of paralysis.

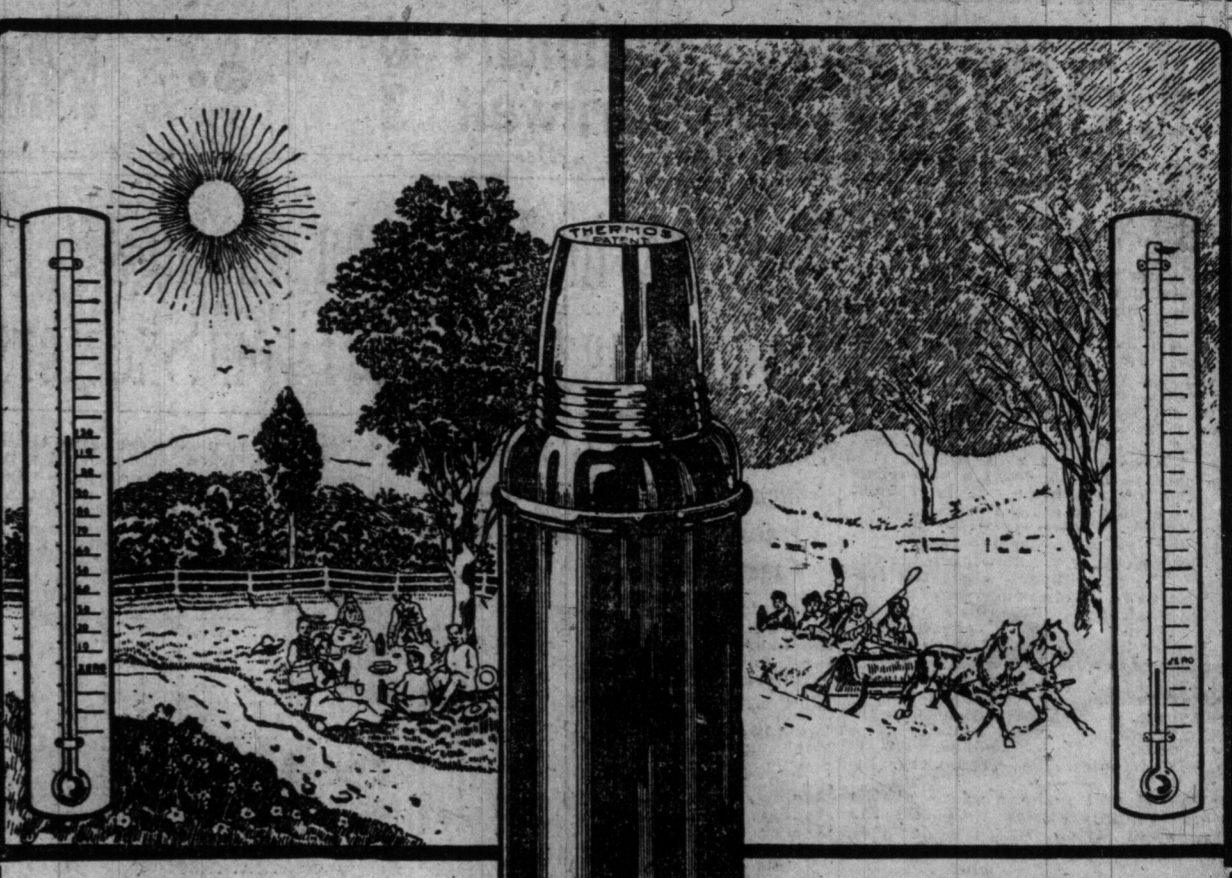

Mr. Elliott, who was 44 years of age, was senior member of the firm of Elliott and Nihan, which constructed the cement portion of the Canadian approach to the Sarnia tunnel, and of the firm of Elliott and Phin, which built the Grand River dam.

The deceased was a prominent Conservative, he opposing the late Hon. A. S. Hardy in 1898. He was also an alderman for several years, and chairman of the local prevention committee.

MONK'S CAMPAIGN SPEECH
Speaks Against the Importation of C.P.R. Strike Breakers.
MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—F. D. Monk, M.P., for Jacques Cartier, is the first public man in this province to openly denounce the policy of permitting people from the old country to come here and take the place of Canadian workmen who are striving to better their position in the world.
The speech of the member for Jacques Cartier was delivered this afternoon before four thousand people at Beauharnois, where a great demonstration signalled the opening of J. G. H. Bergeron's electoral campaign. The fact was assumed by the Club Montreuil of Montreal, and besides the federal members for Beauharnois and Jacques Cartier the local members for these counties, as well as those for Chateaugay and Laprairie were also present. Mr. Bergeron, who has been ill, delivered a broad, statesmanlike address, declaring that this election was the most important since Confederation, and that if the French-Canadians did not want to see every vestige of authority and influence taken from them within the next few years they would have to vote for Laurier's expulsion from power.
Mr. Monk was wildly cheered as the chairman declared that he was the leader of the party in this province and that Bergeron was his first lieutenant.
The name of R. L. Borden was not mentioned by any of the speakers. Mr. Monk declared that he believed that a change of government was at hand and he assured his French-Canadian compatriots that if they voted for Laurier simply because he belonged to the Province of Quebec they would probably find themselves completely isolated in the near future from the governing power of the Dominion.

PUBLIC FOREST POLICY.

In an editorial paragraph, The Toronto News, referring to the forest fires and the inadequacy of the protective measures so far undertaken, reminds believers in public ownership that here is a great utility owned by the state, and adds, "Let them see to it that they give those in charge such support that this asset shall be as profitable to the state as if in the hands of private individuals."

Experts all agree that the world is within measurable distance of a timber famine, and the conditions in the United States particularly are causing grave anxiety to all public men who have given the question attentive consideration.

The denudation of the old forest lands in creating the shortage in the supply which has to be faced. Denudation of mountain ranges and wooded areas has a very important bearing on the character of the streams and rivers, and on the climate and soil conditions.

When the ground is forested, the water courses are not liable in the same degree to sudden changes in volume. Rivers rise and fall gradually and disastrous floods are much less likely to occur.

Forests hold the water and help to feed the springs, whose existence is so necessary in many parts of the country, and looking to the new and extraordinary value now associated with water powers, their maintenance at sufficient volume throughout the year, and from year to year, must become a question of increasing importance and urgency.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is desirous of associating himself with some great national policy and undertaking with which his administration will be identified in days to come.

But the premier has in the forest areas forming part of the federal domain another magnificent opportunity to vindicate his claim to high place among the makers of Canada.

By no stretch of partiality can the administration of the Dominion timber lands by the federal government be justified.

These vast national assets have been very profitable to private individuals, they have not been profitable to the state nor has the problem they offer been grappled with as it should have been and ought to be.

The time has arrived for the Dominion and the provinces of Canada, possessing valuable forest lands, to protect the present and future interests of the people in these assets and their responsible governments can find no better way of laying posterity under obligation.

GET ON WITH THE SEA WALL. No citizen who has given any thought to the matter, or who is cognizant of the history of the waterfront, but agrees with the scheme to erect a permanent sea wall along the lake shore in the Humber Bay section.

Large sums of money have been spent on temporary works of which little or nothing now remains, and unless proper protective measures are now taken the ultimate loss to the city may far exceed the cost of the project already sanctioned on the initiative of Controller Ward.

newspaper is to be credited the proposals to be submitted by the committee will be of a thorough, almost revolutionary character. In brief, it is said the recommendations include the limitation of the membership of the upper house to 100—the number on the present roll being upwards of 600.

The qualification is first, public service and secondly an extension of the principle of representative peers now ruling in the cases of the Scottish and Irish peerage.

Peers who have served in either Conservative or Liberal ministries or who have been members of the house of commons would thus be at once eligible for the reformed chamber.

The plan is supposedly the handiwork of Lord Rosebery, the chairman of the committee, and he is known to favor a drastic scheme of reform. Lord Lansdowne, the leader in the house of lords of the Conservative party, is also a member of the committee, and should recommendations of the nature indicated receive his support, they will at once enter the field of practical politics.

Whether they will be acceptable to the general body of the peers is another question, and it is doubtful if they will commend themselves to the Liberal party who could hardly expect to be more favorably represented in point of numbers than they are under existing conditions.

The effect of the recommendations if seriously contemplated would be the creation of a select circle within the peerage and the modification of the hereditary principle could hardly fail to end in a demand for election by popular vote.

Reform of the house of lords if ever essayed will probably have to await the advent of a Conservative ministry. In the meantime the issue is dormant, tho the proceedings of the approaching autumn session may revive the Liberal agitation.

UNUSUAL FOG. Traffic in Welland Canal Seriously Impeded. PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., Sept. 13.—The dense fog which is impeding navigation on the upper lakes, has struck Lake Ontario, also the Welland Canal. Boats that were bound both up and down the canal had to tie up all night, being dangerous to navigate.

Old experienced navigators never saw the fog so thick. It did not lift until the sun was out good and strong this morning, and then set in again and still is as bad as ever here. The fog horn is blowing continuously.

The Political Situation.

For one week the federal political campaign has been on. Speeches have been made by the leaders of the two opposing parties, far from the immediate ears of Ontario. It has been merely a warming-up canter.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier made a speech to his home people, but he saved, it is said, his new ammunition to give it off at Niagara on Tuesday. Mr. Borden has spoken much in the Maritime Provinces for seven days, but little of it is brightened by novelty.

He makes his great effort to-night (Monday) at Halifax. Hence, with to-day, it may be truly said that the shouting has begun. Below will be found two articles on the political situation that give two distinct and opposite views of the issues and the probable results.

One has been prepared by a talented Liberal journalist, whose sources of information are many and varied, and who is in close and daily touch with a large and influential body of public opinion.

The other article is contributed by a well-known and well-informed Conservative journalist, who has had much experience as a writer and observer in the press gallery of the house of commons.

The World thinks that the simultaneous publication of these articles will be informing and will lay the ground for our readers to assimilate the arguments that Mr. Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier will enunciate this week.

The articles follow:

FROM A CONSERVATIVE PEN.

With the elections not two months away and both parties putting all their energies into the fight it is only natural that everyone who takes an interest in affairs should be asking: "Who will win?"

The business of forecasting the result of a general election is a precarious one at the best. The writer remembers that on a previous occasion a newspaper went to very great pains to ascertain the feeling of the electors in every county in Ontario—and it produced a couple of columns of facts and figures showing that the Ross government would be upset by some what narrow majority.

The Ross government did go, but a comparison of the post-election returns with ante-election predictions of the newspaper in question discovered the fact that the prophet was wrong as often as he was right, but that in the general result the nail was hit on the head.

Ross went out by a much larger majority than anybody anticipated, and even the political expert was unable to see signs of a debacle.

Pass along the street and interview your friends indiscriminately. Ask them what they think of the "dyed-in-the-wool Grit" he will tell you that YOU CAN'T BEAT LAURIER. He has 96 majority in a full house, and the majority is not a sign of any great dissatisfaction.

Your next friend may lift up his hand and say, "No, he is not!" for what they can get out of it. This man is ready to smile any man or any party that goes wrong.

You should ask this voter—the independent voter—the man who has a free mind—he will probably throw out some such comment as this: "The government is very much weaker to-day than it was four years ago. It has fattened a few favorite politicians at the expense of the country."

scandal and graft have characterized the operations at Ottawa in the past term—man for man the administration is weaker than it was four years ago and it is now a gathering of mediocrities compared with the bunch of big men that carried Sir Wilfrid Laurier into power in 1896.

The opposition has strengthened itself by its continuous and vigorous assaults on the record of the government. Mr. Borden has developed wonderfully his skill in debate and in constructive statesmanship being admitted, while even his opponents say his honesty cannot be questioned.

The government of to-day is a government of office makers, a government of grafters, a government of men who are fastened on and cannot be shaken off for fear of disclosure.

FROM A LIBERAL PEN.

The personality of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a factor that must be weighed by the prophet of politics in his forecast of the impending campaign.

As the great oak that stands unmoved while the storms bend to their blasts the small trees of the forest, so towers the prime minister of Canada, dignified, impressive, with personal character unspotted by blemish.

Smaller men have stood beside this Liberal leader bending at times to the will of political followers as the smaller trees of the forest bow to the will of the winds.

At times the tongue of scandal and the finger of scorn have found their subjects close to the premises of the practice where the justice or with malice. Men have sat for a few years at the cabinet council and have disappeared from the scene as if the stress of weather the leaves flutter and fall from the giant oak of the forest, but the oak tree stands unmoved.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the man, serene, honest and eloquent, has impressed himself upon the imagination of his countrymen. The fisherman who dries his net in the wind-swept beaches of Nova Scotia, while the white-capped waves hurl themselves in vain against the shore, knows the name of the navigator.

Across the prairie where the red earth sings the song of gold to the stranger, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's name rests pleasantly upon the tongues of the people.

Builders of the vast enterprises of the Pacific coast, with their armies of workmen, gaze from the far side of the continent at the man and behold in him the imperiousness of integrity, while casting from their thoughts men whom they trust but little and care for less.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a national figure and the prestige of his name is the greatest single asset with which the Liberal party faces the country to-day.

No journalist has ever watched the premier from the press gallery in the house of commons but knows that Sir Wilfrid is an able, sincere and honorable man in the fulfilment of his executive duties. Mistakes of the mind and not of the heart are the worst that can be laid to his charge, and even such obstacles have not yet obstructed the easy exit and entry.

The broad statesman spirit of the man was exemplified in the opening speech of the campaign. In his words he advocated an increase of the federal subsidies. In this he sees the real solution and an increase in the loyalty of Ontario and Quebec. Commercial organization, but nearly always enterprising reaches forth where jurisdiction is established. Again we see the characteristic of the man—the man of the larger outlook.

A Port Arthur special says: Conservatives were in session all Saturday afternoon at Fort William, delegates being in attendance from all parts of the district. It was one of the most representative meetings of Conservatives ever held there.

The first name to go before the meeting was that of J. T. Horne. The meeting was unanimous in favor of him, but he would not accept on account of ill health. Another session was held last night when F. H. Keefer was nominated.

A special despatch from Cayuga says: At a fair representation of delegates here Saturday afternoon to nominate a candidate for the Liberal Institute seven persons were nominated, but only two allowed their names to go before the convention, J. Y. Murdoch, barrister, of Jarvis, and R. F. Miller, merchant and farmer, Rainham Centre. The result of the vote was the election of Mr. Miller, which was made unanimous on the motion of Mr. Murdoch. Addresses were de-

Mr. Miller was for some years Reeve of Rainham Centre and member of the council.

No. 478, which meets in Euclid-avenue Orange Hall, will on the 14th of next month tender a reception to six of the parliamentary representatives of Toronto, of the Dominion and provincial houses, who are members of the Orange Association, as well as to the brethren who have come from Belfast, Ireland, during the past few years, and now residing in Toronto, of whom there are a great number in the city.

M. S. McCarthy, M. P. for Calgary, is at the Queen's. He came east to take his wife and children, who have spent the summer at Burlington, back to Calgary. Mr. McCarthy says the Conservatives will carry at least four of the seven Alberta seats.

Socialists have three candidates running in Alberta and another will face Hon. Frank Oliver in Edmonton. The candidates are: Calgary: M. S. McCarthy, Conserva-live; C. J. Stewart, Liberal; F. Sherman, Socialist.

Macleod: John Herron, Conservative; A. B. McDonald, Liberal, and a Socialist.

Medicine Hat: C. A. Magrath, Conservative; E. Shummons, Liberal; R. Pettipiece, Socialist.

Red Deer: G. F. Root, Conservative; Dr. Clark, Liberal, who was a defeated candidate for the legislature.

Strathcona: Dr. McIntyre, Liberal; E. W. Day, Conservative, and a member of the Society of Equity.

Edmonton: Hon. Frank Oliver; J. D. Hyndman (son-in-law of Sir Louis Davies), Conservative.

The executive of the North Essex Liberal Association have decided that it will not be necessary to hold another convention to nominate Hon. R. F. Sutherland as a candidate, the convention that nominated him and J. A. Tremblay last May being considered sufficient. Some doubt had been cast on the legality of the action of the former convention after Tremblay withdrew as a candidate for the provincial house.

Wall Street is Awakened From a State of Confidence

By the Passing of the Locomotive Dividend and Higher Money--Toronto Market Relapses into Inactivity.

World Office, Saturday Evening, Sept. 12. Wall-street was rudely awakened from its speculative reverie on Thursday by the passing of the dividend on American Locomotive. The event was softened by advanced gossip of a possible cut in the return to shareholders, but traders had been led to believe that commercial conditions had generally improved that few expected that it would have been found necessary to adopt such a course as the directors decided upon. If the earnings of this company have so decreased as to warrant the change it must be conceded that earnings of other industrial concerns are likewise injuriously affected and the market showed this belief after the situation was realized.

The decision in the Heppburn Act had but a temporary influence upon the values of railroads which might have been subjected to the clauses of the statute, and the decision that the act not override bearish sentiment. The market had had an almost continuous rise for upwards of two weeks and even in the ordinary course of events a good reaction to induce profit-taking and work up another short interest was overdue. The outside speculative interest has been accumulating since early in July and Wall-street is not given to paying big profits if they can be avoided by manipulative efforts.

The first sign of distress was given by an abrupt advance in call money to 2 1/2 per cent. There may or may not be reasonable grounds for this, but it is certain that at all times the money market is rigid when it is thought to be required for market effect. A slight tightening in rates is quite natural owing to the interior demand for money, but reserves are too plentiful to excite distrust of the future. Sterling exchange has experienced a reaction recently, and it is thought possible that exports of gold may be necessary. The output of agricultural products is being restricted because of high domestic prices. This is having an influence on international credits and may, from prospects, continue to work in the same direction.

Operations the last week have been chiefly confined to the Harman act issues, each of which has made new high prices for the year. The manipulators of these shares are playing utterly reckless games for money, but reserves are too plentiful to excite distrust of the future. Sterling exchange has experienced a reaction recently, and it is thought possible that exports of gold may be necessary. The Shopper Knows

The fur business isn't learned in a season; and when it comes to any special advantages we're not amateurs by any means. The idea that any one store controls all that is worth while in styles and qualities may sound well in advertising, but shoppers do a little figuring on their own account and are sharper than a merchant thinks.

We claim a first-class reputation for this store based on the quality of service we've been giving for over fifty years. Others perhaps may do as well if they keep at it long enough and behave themselves in the meantime.

FRENCH CLERICS ARE TOLD WHO TO SUPPORT AND WHY

Somewhat Remarkable Speeches at an Election Rally at Cookshire, Que.

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—A very strange incident took place yesterday at Cookshire, where fully 4000 people from Compton and Megantic met to celebrate Rufus Pope's 52nd birthday.

Mr. Pope, in fact, opened his campaign in a speech of very considerable power, in which he declared that were the occasion to present itself again he would once more vote in favor of the Liberal minority, as he had done under the old regime.

Mr. Pringle, M.P., who was also present, took the same ground, and the speaker appeared to be well satisfied with the remarks of the speaker, but the interest became intense when Alban Germain of Montreal, and one of the best speakers on the French Conservative side, took the floor.

Turning to the clergy and people, he asked them to note the remarks which had fallen from the lips of Messrs. Pope and Pringle, the English-speaking Protestants, he declared, were like anything else, and our system of government, in this country, was one of compromise.

"How do you expect these English Protestants," he asked, "to do anything for you when you have absolutely failed to vote for men who sacrificed so much?"

In a few words Mr. Germain gave the clergy of Compton to understand that if they preferred Sir Wilfrid Laurier to their dearest rights as French-Canadian Catholics, they had no one to blame but themselves if those rights were trampled under foot.

At the conclusion of the meeting several of the clergymen cordially thanked the speaker and admitted that all he had said was perfectly true.

BE CAREFUL OF THE WATER.
 Reservoir Supply is Still on the Low Side.
 On Saturday the water in the big city reservoir was still dangerously low, the measurement showing a depth of only 7 feet 10 inches. During Friday night a foot or so was gained, but it was lost during Saturday. Deputy Engineer Fellows is confident that the figures this morning will show a big gain, as Sunday is usually a quiet day, and little water is consumed. The engineer is looking hopefully for a heavy thunderstorm, which he thinks that would relieve conditions to a great extent.

NORTH YORK CONS. PICK REEVE ARMSTRONG, KING

West Toronto Railway Men Endorse Action of The World—County News.

NEWMARKET, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Enthusiasm unbounded, a record convention as represented by numbers, perfect unanimity in the choice of the gathering, and a determination to wrest from Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, minister of justice, and the Liberal party, the historic old riding of North York, were the dominating features in the Liberal-Conservative convention held here Saturday.

It was a great gathering, and when the ballots were cast, John Armstrong, reeve of King Township, while a law student, and now, after 30 years of age, a successful conveyancer and farmer, was chosen as reeve, was the choice, the thunders of applause fairly shook the foundations of the old town hall.

That it was a representative convention may be gathered from the fact that out of a possible 195 delegates 175 were present. From up near Georgina Island on the extreme northeast to the borders of Simcoe County, they flocked there with one aim, the redemption of the riding.

Archibald McCallum, president of the association, and the man who at the by-election led Mr. Aylesworth a mile, was in the center, and following the accrediting of the delegates, which occupied some time, called for nominations. They came thick and fast in the order:

John Armstrong of Schomberg, by Wm. Proctor and Walter Street; E. H. Brunton, Newmarket, by J. D. McKay and J. C. Murray; John Currie, Newmarket, by Titus Peregrine and Wm. Keith; Wm. Warden, Newmarket, by John Moore and J. C. Murray; John Moore, Mount Albert, by Dr. Stevenson and J. Moore; Dr. Stevenson, Aurora, by Danford Roche and T. J. Woodcock; J. D. McKay, Newmarket, by Ed. Coltham and Dr. Wesley.

During the entire proceedings and while the nominations were in progress a number of delegates from the more distant parts arrived, and among others P. Herbert Lennox, M.L.A., who was loudly acclaimed.

Nominations closed and the delegates duly voted for the big gathering square, itself a feat of critical inspection and analysis of the candidates.

Mr. Armstrong spoke briefly and well. He declared his willingness to accept the candidature, avowed his allegiance to the Conservative cause and his determination to himself and friends that he would redeem North York.

"If it be one month, two months, or two years, before this election materializes, I am in the fight night and day to the finish," said the nominee, and the meeting voiced its approval as only North York can. He admitted his youth, but pleaded unbounded energy in extenuation, and the meeting would have rendered an election unnecessary, and that I would have been content to see myself opposed," said T. H. Brunton, in recounting his service to the Conservative party. He paid, in passing, warm tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who sacrificed the minister of justice, who he declared lacked even the courtesy of gratifying his constituents, and thanked his supporters, and made a host of friends by his frank and manly avowal to support heartily the choice of the convention.

Warden Keith, J. D. McKay, Dr. Stevenson, John Moore and J. C. Currie all retired, declaring their absolute confidence in the ability of the choice of the convention to retire the Hon. Mr. Aylesworth into private life.

"It is like nothing better than to tackle the minister of justice myself," said T. H. Lennox, M.L.A., "and I would beat him, Herb," came from the stalwarts down in the body of the hall.

"As a lawyer, an ornament to the bar; as a politician, a perfect failure," was the assessment showing for North York summarized the minister of justice. The Laurier administration was discredited, and with hard work North York would send a supporter of R. L. Borden and good government.

"I will be with the candidate, whoever he is, from this moment to the close of the poll," said the speaker. Capt. Tom Wallace, Major Currie (candidate for North Simcoe) and J. S. Carstairs, who had been deputed to count the ballots, communicated their result to the president, who in turn announced that Mr. Armstrong was the choice of the convention.

This was the signal for a mighty outburst, which was intensified when T. H. Brunton and J. D. McKay, in turn, moved that the nomination be made unanimous.

The candidate, John Armstrong, is a native of Lloydstown, King Township, public meeting in the late Capt. Thomas Armstrong, and possesses the attributes of a great campaigner. He is a speaker of exceptional ability, 30 years of age, and last year, his first entry into public life, wrested the reeve ship of King Township from Thomas Legge. He received his early education at the public school, and later at Upper Canada College, after which he studied law for three years. He resides in Schomberg, where he conducts a conveyancing business, and at the same time manages most successfully a large farm on the outskirts of the village.

WEST TORONTO. Big Meeting of Railway Men Evinces Heartly Support of Citizens.
 WEST TORONTO, Sept. 13.—Clear-cut, straightforward explanations of the C.P.R. strike, leading up to the present C.P.R. strike, were given at the addresses given at the Wonderful theaterium this afternoon, where a public meeting was held in the interim of the strike. The chair was occupied by Mayor Baird, and there was a large attendance. There were many ladies present. The principal speakers were: James Somerville, vice-president of the Machinists' Union, and railwaymen's representative on the conciliation board, which met recently in Winnipeg; William Bancroft, vice-president of the Pattern Makers' Union, James Simpson of Toronto and Ald. Armstrong of West Toronto also gave addresses. The necessity of the strike was clearly shown by Mr. Somerville. It was not a case of the West Toronto employees striking in sympathy with their fellow employees out west, but a common grievance which C.P.R. employees from coast to coast would have to suffer or rectify. The men were not asking for anything beyond a continuation of the agreement which has been in existence between the company and the employees for some time past and which terminated on April 31. The C.P.R. had stated that after May 1 the agreement would end. After that date they would deal with each man individually, without the assistance of a union being taken into consideration. Now this, said the vice-president, is what the men are annoyed about, as they see and declare that it is a deliberate fore-planned attempt to break up the union and declare the open shop.

The speakers deplored the action of the press in general for taking the side of the company, and contrasted it with The Toronto World, which had come out in the most friendly and sympathetic way, and had championed their cause from the very first.

Death of Mrs. Maharg.
 After a two months' futile visit to Los Angeles, Cal., in quest of health, Mrs. Eliza Lucinda Maharg, wife of C. E. Maharg, divisional superintendent of the C.P.R. at Saskatoon, and late of West Toronto, died on Saturday, a few days after her return from the south. She leaves a family of several children. Mrs. Maharg was a sister of Eber C. Knapp of 59 May-street, a C.P.R. conductor, and Louisa Knapp of 28 Humber-street, and the receipt of a telegram on Friday stating that Mrs. Maharg was in a critical condition, her brothers, Eber and Louisa, left for the west, but another telegram arrived on Saturday night to say she was dead. The remains are being brought to West Toronto, and the funeral will take place here on Wednesday, at 4 p.m., at Prospect Cemetery. Besides the two brothers residing here, Mrs. Maharg was survived by her mother, and two other brothers, R. E. L. Knapp of New York City, and J. D. Knapp of Minneapolis.

Blue Parade.
 There was a large attendance at the annual church parade of the Loyal True Blue Association, which took place to-day at Davenport Methodist Church. The procession formed at St. James' Hall and proceeded to the church, headed by the West Toronto City Pipe and Drum Band, a contingent of the drill corps of the Knights of St. John and Malta, in full uniform, and the members of the Rev. John Lock, and the collection is in aid of the Loyal True Blue Orphanage, which is being conducted by the Rev. John Lock, and the collection will meet on Tuesday evening.

 related by a band of faithful Liberals—disclosed a condition of rottenness in the administration of the public lands and the swaying of contracts that the record of the Ross regime in Ontario did not even approach.

Leaister's prestige has been greatly weakened. He was unable to carry out his program for the making of new voters lists in Manitoba owing to the successful fight of the opposition.

The persistent fight of the opposition for the right to examine original documents yielded a great amount of excellent material, indicating the reason why the government wished to keep the papers from the public's eyes.

The complete rout of the Liberals in the Ontario election has entirely demoralized and discouraged the fighting element of that party, and this servative organization in every riding where they have a chance is perfecting its plans for a great deal in the coming year.

The Ontario Liberal leaders are not in touch with the fighting element in the party. Hon. George P. Graham is a physical organizer, but he is not physically able to endure a wearisome campaign. He is the only one of the Ontario representation in the cabinet who is capable of leading. Aylesworth is out of the country, and is unwelcome, but one of his own followers in an interview said that he had no confidence in him. Scott and Cartwright are too old and feeble to take part in the campaign, but the statement that they stay in that the Ontario delegation. It is a pity.

Other reasons could be stated, but these are the principal ones. The Liberals admit they will get a black majority in Ontario, and the only way of going into Liberal halls to endeavor to save something out of the wreck. They say they will be no worse off than they are in Ontario, but to do better than that and are aiming at 35. Looking the field over it is not hard to discover many ridings which the Conservatives are expected to regain. But if the independent voters had been the record of the government administration is not interested with graft-ers and "barnacles"; that it is not of affairs. The duties of the government; then the hopes of the Conservatives are likely to be dashed if the Liberal vote is in each constituency if the trend is always in favor of the government, will defeat the Liberals. Sixty per cent of the whole vote against the government, but better still a smaller turnover in public offices will effect the result. Can the Conservatives accomplish this task? It looks as if the Liberal vote will be a heavy one. Then, admitted that the Conservatives will make considerable gains in Ontario, what will they do in the other provinces? The World put the question to a western man who spends much of his time in Ottawa and knows conditions. His Liberalism will not be questioned. This is the way he sizes up the result:

There are 35 seats in the west and 35 in the Maritime Provinces. The west will go this way:

British Columbia	Con.	Lib.
Alberta	3	4
Saskatchewan	4	6
Manitoba	4	6
	15	16

The Yukon is a deferred election and will probably go to the party that wins. The same regarding two British Columbia seats, which he gives to the Liberals.

As to the Maritime Provinces:

Prince Edward Island	Con.	Lib.
New Brunswick	8	5
Nova Scotia	5	13
	13	18

That is, the east practically offsets the west. Quebec, he figures, will not do any better than 15 seats for the Conservatives. That would be a government majority. His opinion was that the government would be returned by a diminished majority.

This informant's figures are right the Conservatives will have to get 35 majority in Ontario. But more likely he has not conceded enough. The Conservatives are either will take five or more seats in British Columbia, four in Alberta and five in Saskatchewan.

The standing of the parties in Ontario after the last election was: Conservatives 47, Liberals 39. There were four changes in the by-elections, the Conservatives gaining London and Wentworth, and the Liberals North Bruce and South Huron, so that the result at the close of the last session was the same. not be questioned. This is the way he sizes up the result:

There are 35 seats in the west and 35 in the Maritime Provinces. The west will go this way:

British Columbia	Con.	Lib.
Alberta	3	4
Saskatchewan	4	6
Manitoba	4	6
	15	16

The Yukon is a deferred election and will probably go to the party that wins. The same regarding two British Columbia seats, which he gives to the Liberals.

As to the Maritime Provinces:

Prince Edward Island	Con.	Lib.
New Brunswick	8	5
Nova Scotia	5	13
	13	18

That is, the east practically offsets the west. Quebec, he figures, will not do any better than 15 seats for the Conservatives. That would be a government majority. His opinion was that the government would be returned by a diminished majority.

This informant's figures are right the Conservatives will have to get 35 majority in Ontario. But more likely he has not conceded enough. The Conservatives are either will take five or more seats in British Columbia, four in Alberta and five in Saskatchewan.

The standing of the parties in Ontario after the last election was: Conservatives 47, Liberals 39. There were four changes in the by-elections, the Conservatives gaining London and Wentworth, and the Liberals North Bruce and South Huron, so that the result at the close of the last session was the same. Here is the standing in 1904 with the majorities:
