THE PASSING SUMMER

The almost forgotten phrase, "Fall and winter goods" in large type in the newspapers, reminds us with something like a shock that the season is passing, and that the days of suburban pleasure and summer outings will soon have given place to the more sombre skies and sober thoughts of Autumn.

WHO SAID EXTRAS?

The city seems to be face to face with the alternative of holding a firm of contractors to a contract on which the engineer says they would lose $20,000, or of taking over the whole work itself.

FADS AND FACTS

Those who fail to recognize the value of manual, industrial and technical training as part of an educational system disregard alike the teachings of experience and the trend of modern progress.

Two young Englishmen who arrived in Montreal two weeks ago, were found to be armed with revolvers and bowie knives. They explained that they thought it necessary to carry these weapons for self-defence.

The Times reprint today from the Montreal Witness an interesting account of the proposed Legion of Frontiersmen, which a former member of the Northwest Mounted Police proposes for the Empire.

THE MONRO DOCTRINE

"When we announce a policy such as the Monroe Doctrine, we thereby commit ourselves to accepting the consequences of that policy," said President Roosevelt at the Chautauque Assembly yesterday.

The Chinese boycott of American trade is assuming proportions that cause some worry in commercial circles. China is waking up.

protection when the outraged nation demanded reparation. In short, these republics must pay their bills and observe the rule of international law.

A week ago today the Times quoted the views of a French gentleman on the Frenchman's attitude in relation to international affairs. He stated that the sentiment of France was pro-Japanese and pro-British.

The Boston Transcript, in the course of an article strongly censuring the recent salary grab, observes that "Canada in these days of her romping prosperity, with the government supported by unwieldy majorities in the house and the senate - never needed a strong opposition in the commonsense more than she does today."

Rev. Dr. Gonsalus of Chicago was recently quoted as making a comparison between Roosevelt and Christ. The reverend gentleman states that he did not think of the sort. The comparison was between Roosevelt and Emperor William of Germany.

A further advance is reported in the American spruce market, which is fortunate for those who have lumber of suitable dimensions to ship. The British market continues very dull at a low range of prices, but manufacturers here are so much concerned just now about a lay supply as they are about markets.

Crop reports from the Canadian west continue favorable. The general belief in the west is that the crop will be unusually heavy in yield, and this, with the increased acreage means a very large total.

The subject discussed by the District Division of the Sons of Temperance last evening was one of really vital importance if the society is to continue successfully the work for which it was originally organized.

The people of Montreal are nobly striving to forget the heat. A few days ago suit was entered against the street railway company for part of the cost of removing snow from the streets last winter, and now four victims of a deplorable accident have sued the city for $6,310.

President Roosevelt informs the little republics to the south that the Big Stick will not save them from the consequences of wrong-doing. Some of them will not relish the information.

Halfax will mourn for social reasons, no doubt, the change in military rule in that city, but will quickly adjust herself to the new conditions. After all, she will still have the navy.

ANOTHER OPINION

Toronto Clergymen Do Not Agree With Rev. Lawrence Amor on the Subject of Church Federation.

The Times on Thursday quoted Rev. Lawrence Amor to the effect that in his opinion the inter-church conference on federation, to be held in New York in November, representing 18,000,000 communicants, will not accomplish a great deal because of difference on the question of an historic episcopate.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland, secretary of Methodist missions, "I think this New York gathering is to be taken as one of the indications of the united aim and effort of all Protestant bodies. Whatever may be the practical outcome, there can be no question it will tend to a better understanding among the different denominations, and probably to a great saving of men and money in the carrying forward of a evangelistic work."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Still there is almost a state of dormancy in matters theatrical. The warm season is not yet over and the plans of very few managers have been put into effect.

presence and orders that he produce his daughter. It looks for a time as though Yen How would have a short season with the official headman, but San Toy's charms soften the emperor's heart, her father is forgiven and she is allowed to marry her English lover.

Yerk home, however, a truckman drove up one day and unloaded a large box. The markings made it evident that it was from his friend in Florida, and the sides, bored full of small holes suggested something that needed ventilation, and Mack saw snakes. At least he imagined he did, and ordering a couple of servants to carry the crate into the back yard he decided to have it broken open and satisfy himself as to the contents.

His gardener, coachman and butler armed themselves with such implements standing at a good safe distance, gave the order to break the thing open. Promises of reward in the shape of current coin spurred them on, and after beating a lively tattoo on the top of the box for a few minutes there was a grinding noise that sounded like the fall of the glass "grass" used in theatres.

This was followed by a familiar odor, scolding, animating, eye-whiskering, and the moment it reached the nostrils Mack edged near enough to see several little brown streams issuing from the holes in the box; he took just one good look, and he checked to see if he was tricked down the cheeks that usually harbor only smiles, and adjourned to the library to put the matter in telegrams.

FIRE DOES $200,000 DAMAGE TO BIG FREDERICTON MILL

Donald Fraser & Sons Great Mill Property Destroyed in What was the Worst Fire of Half a Century—City of Fredericton Threatened.

Fredericton, N.B., Aug. 11.—(Special)—The most destructive fire which Fredericton has seen in half a century broke out at 5 o'clock this evening, destroying the Aberdeen mill, owned by Donald Fraser & Sons and 10,000,000 feet of lumber, entailing a loss of $200,000.

the strenuous efforts of the mill crew and firemen this building was saved. Nearly the whole population of the city was attracted to the scene of the fire but there was little to be done other than to stand back and watch the element of destruction get in its deadly work.

In less than fifteen minutes after the fire broke out on the roof of the building fall in. The mill was located at the upper end of the city on the bank of the river and was not equipped with fire-extinguishing apparatus. The city water pipes extend only to the government house half a mile below, so there was practically no means of checking the flames.

Five million feet of lumber stored on the upper end of the lot, mostly spruce deals and a large quantity of firewood by spruce boards and scantling which the firm intended shipping to South American ports. It was ready for shipment several months ago but was being held pending an improvement in the market.

The fire spread from the mill to the large warehouse in which was stored about $200,000 worth of box shingles. The firemen worked with teams carting lumber away and hundreds of citizens took hold and helped them but little could be done to check the progress of the fire.

Donald Fraser, Jr., head of the firm, who was in St. John, when the fire broke out, came to Fredericton by the evening train. He seemed to accept the situation with good grace and remarked that the firm would not allow a setback like that to discourage them. He was unable to give an estimate of the loss, but thought there was insurance amounting to about one-third.

Asked if the firm would likely rebuild here he replied it was too early to give an answer to that question, but as considerable lumber was saved, in all probability they would.

Mr. Fraser stated that several million feet of logs on hand would be manufactured in St. John mill.

ST. JOHN'S DOWNED BY EASTPORT

The St. John Team Had the Best of it Until the Seventh Inning, When the Balloon Went Up.

Yesterday afternoon on the Victoria grounds the team lined up by St. John Brouse of Eastport, after putting up a rattling fine game for six innings.

The home team was minus McEachern, Woods, Carson, Harris and Cooper, and although their substitutes played well yesterday, yet they are not the first ones of the day. The teams lined up as follows:

McEachern, pitcher; Mills, first; Sullivan, second; Short, third; Russell, fourth; O'Dell, fifth; Sullivan, sixth; O'Dell, seventh; Sullivan, eighth; Sullivan, ninth.

Titus pitched an elegant game, and he received the support that he should have, he would undoubtedly have won his game, the record of the game clearly shows how effective he was throughout the contest.

First Inning. Watt fielded to Howard. Sawyer was hit with ball and walked. G. O'Dell hit to right, Howard walked.

Night-handling Sweet Marie's victory over Tiverton (284) last week in the fast-paced three-hundred yard race on record.

In speaking of the race at Boston Mr. Gwathey said yesterday that Tiverton was quite lame when he started, having wrenched his ankle several days before the contest.

"I have more faith in him than ever," said the owner of Tiverton, "after seeing him win a race in 2:05 and come back with a neck of the winner in 2:04 when he was not in condition to race."

ARCHBISHOP CHAPPELLE

Distinguished Career of the Prelate Who Sacrificed His Life in His Efforts to Prevent the Spread of Yellow Fever in New Orleans.

(Boston Transcript.) Archbishop Placide Louis Chappelle, the heroic Roman Catholic prelate who, while fighting yellow fever in New Orleans, himself contracted the disease and died this week, is known and honored in widely separated sections of America...

Archbishop Chappelle was born in France—in the diocese of Meude, to be precise—sixty-three years ago, and came to America when seventeen years old. His school years were spent partly in France, partly in Belgium...

It was at St. Matthew's that the future prelate's exceptional abilities first became manifest. When he succeeded to the pastorate, it was a decidedly poor one...

It appears that a more of money came regularly every morning to the line to watch the laborers at work, and the engineer in charge of the monkeys used to come in carrying material to a railway extension in Cape Colony.

He was at St. Matthew's that the future prelate's exceptional abilities first became manifest. When he succeeded to the pastorate, it was a decidedly poor one...

Some years ago a number of British engineers employed monkeys to assist them in carrying material to a railway extension in Cape Colony.

Men while Father Chappelle had received the degree of doctor of divinity from St. Mary's college, and by virtue of his studious habits and mature force of intellect had secured a prominent place among Catholic theologians.

MONKEYS AS SERVANTS

Some Tales of the Simians When Pressed Into Service.

The cleverness and imitative faculty of the monkey have been utilized by mankind in many ways during late years, and today this hairy animal acts as clerk, servant, laborer and tax payer in various parts of the world.

A female chimpanzee once went out to service at Longo, and made the beds, swept the house and assisted in the kitchen, peeling the potatoes and turning the fire.

These facts are equalled, if not surpassed, by a young monkey, the property of a native of British Guiana.

During the rush to the gold fields of Yukon an enterprising miner carried five Chinese monkeys to help him in gold washing.

THE LEGION OF FRONTIERSMEN

Roger Pocock's Plan to Provide a Body of Trained Fighting Men With No Expense to the Government—Great Possibilities of the Project.

(To the Editor of the Montreal Witness.) Sir—If physical, moral and mental development count for anything, the Canadian ought to be able to whip any rival who comes against him.

As with the other English-speaking nations, all able men are liable to military service, but in recruiting her forces, Canada does not control men over a certain age.

Now to such a squadron Canada might have contributed perhaps twenty men more from the whole Dominion.

There would remain thousands of members comprising the Canadian wing of the Legion, but ready to place their trained services at the disposal in time of war.

It has been decided that with the consent of the Dominion government the first wing of the Legion will be established in the Dominion.

These, at our own cost, will be brought in the following year to London, that they may contest with the champion which are the best in the whole Empire.

These Empire champion teams will be formed into a squadron, ready to serve as a reserve at any point where the Emperor is attacked.

Secondly, a few great specialists in scouting, thirdly, a body of well-trained men, equipped with a pony herd and pack transport, able to ride one hundred miles a day.

A LAY SERMON

Delivered by President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay Last Sunday.

President Roosevelt last Sunday afternoon, delivered a lay sermon to the Oyster Bay Brotherhood of Oyster Bay. He emphasized especially the necessity of moral character in the real essence of a Christian life.

religion a driving force in our lives, to do unto others as we would have them do unto us. The next text I wish to read is found in First Corinthians, chapter xiii, beginning with the first verse: 'Though I speak with the tongue of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, I am nothing, and though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, I profiteth me nothing. Charity suffereth long and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up. And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.'

THE WORK OF A NOBLE WOMAN

Worth Millions, She Works For the Good of the People Around Her, and Becomes a School Trustee in Order To Serve Them Better--Mrs. Clarence Mackay Is One of the Women Who Do Things.

(New York World.) Not often, even in democratic America do the wives of multi-millionaires run for school trustee, as Mrs. Clarence Mackay has just been doing at Roslyn, L. I. It was not so long ago that Mrs. Mackay was the beautiful "Kitty" Duer, a belle of New York society. She loved the life and 'go' of it all--the dinners and the dances and the sea and the theatre parties. Her beauty made her courted above many whose wealth was far greater than hers--the Duers are not especially rich as folks go now in society.

It was Clarence Mackay, the wealthy head of the Postal Telegraph Company, who won her at last. There was a splendid wedding, and people predicted that Mrs. Mackay would take her place among the distinguished hostesses of New York. So she has. And she has done more than that. She has taken her place among the company of women who do things. There was a daughter born in 1891, named Bianca. Mrs. Mackay, for the little one's sake, made Harbor Hill, near Roslyn, her permanent home, coming to New York only in the dead of winter. The little girl needed most of her attention; the rest Mrs. Mackay gave to writing.

Living in the country, she began, naturally, to take an interest in her neighbors, some of whom came to the rich yard of Harbor Hill, who employ forty servants, and sold her their difficulties. Gradually she found herself getting interested in the welfare of the town and its people. She had one day she made up her mind to take up seriously the work of making her home town better. The hospitals, the schools, the roads, even the jails became objects of her interest. To raise money for Nassau Hospital, she arranged a fair, the proceeds to go to the hospital. It was a tremendous success, and enough money was raised to support the hospital a whole year by that one afternoon's work. Some 2,000 tickets were sold. Everything in the way of expense was paid for by Mrs. Mackay. The investors were the most elaborate affairs, done in mauve and powdered with three-cent purple stamps to hasten the smartest and prettiest. The advertising poster was a work of art. All the grounds were thrown open, and within the hour the smartest and prettiest of the society attended the booths and made thousands of dollars for charity's sake. Mrs. Mackay presided in the drawing room herself, where tea was served from 1 to 7 p. m. One of the greatest money-makers were the signed photographs con-

LETTER FROM ROME

The Pope's Health Improves--His Sisters' Devotion.

A Rome letter of Aug. 8 says:--Improvements have recently been made to the great square in front of the church of St. Peter's, which, according to complaint, had been insufficiently illuminated. Overtures have been made by the municipality for permission to add more lights to those already in place, but Leo XIII. always refused to give his consent. Complaints reached Pius X. of the darkness of the square on nights when there was not moonlight, and as the result of negotiations with the municipality there have been added a large number of lights, so placed as to provide an even illumination all over the square. The novelty attracted the Roman population, and to the consternation of the Vatican authorities it was discovered that the festive Romans were using the steps of the great church as a place for summer-night picnics, especially on Sunday evenings, when they would bring tables and wine-flasks and have an excellent time. The police have now interfered with these festivities, a sufficient number of officers being provided to keep the people from crowding on the steps of the famous church. "Notwithstanding the advice and admonition of the pope, his sisters have far refused to leave Rome to spend the time of extreme heat at the papal villa. They have announced their intention of remaining in Rome all summer in order to spend the vacation at the apartment on the large square, just opposite the Vatican palace, and every morning they make it a point to go to mass at St. Peter's, unless they are asked to attend some special function in the Vatican itself.

LETTER FROM ROME

The Pope's Health Improves--His Sisters' Devotion.

The composer Perosi and several members of the Gregorian Commission, will soon leave Rome to attend the Congress of Gregorian chant to be held in Strasbourg on the sixteenth of this month. The pope is much interested in the work of this congress, which is designed especially to promote general interest in the ancient chant of the church, which the present pope has done so much to restore to its primitive form and use.

AUTOMOBILE FARMING

(Harper's Weekly.) A new and special type of automobile has recently been put upon the market in Scotland which is designed especially for farm work, and which is not only suitable for ploughing, but may be equipped as a cultivator or rasper. It will prepare the ground and sow the seed at one operation, and can be operated at a better speed than a horse. Thus when ploughing it can cover from six to seven acres a day, and goes over the field so as to leave it in final shape for cultivation. When not in use in the field, the motor can be used to drive all farming machinery, and when ploughing, the cost of fuel, labor, and depreciation has been computed at one dollar per acre, or less than one-half the expense of ploughing by horse. It is interesting to note that the cost of the machine is about $1,000, an amount that does not seem prohibitive for a large farm, where a thorough test of the new machine could readily be made. The automobile, unlike the farm animal, does not have to be fed when it is not working, and it is here that a substantial element of economy can probably be secured.

RELIGIOUS NOTES

There are now 5,000 Young Women's Christian Associations circling the globe, with a membership of half a million. The bishop and twenty of the Protestant Episcopal clergy of Kansas have agreed to refrain under all circumstances from marrying divorced persons within the lifetime of the other party. Twenty years ago Presbyterian missionaries entered Korea. Today they have 323 congregations, with more than 20,000 adherents and between 6,000 and 7,000 communicants. Melan Olaf, for some time a student at Wellesley, is returning to Japan to teach in the Normal school at Tokio. He is a member of the Episcopal church and of the Christian Association. A Buddhist newspaper, Kyokai Jiji, says, "Numerically speaking, Buddhism far outranks Christianity; but by reason of actual work accomplished, the balance of power is in favor of Christianity." In Toronto there are more children in the Sunday schools than there are in the day schools, and there are more churches there than schools. Both his excellency the lieutenant governor and his worship the mayor are active Sunday-school men. In an excellent editorial on "Half-truths," the Christian Register says: "All the differences which separate the churches of Christendom today are differences in ability to see the truth, and differences in the forms in which the fragments of truth already attained to are made portable and fit for common use."

RELIGIOUS NOTES

The appeal made last year for help to rebuild the parish church of Lower Brighthelm, Devon, England, in memory of its first vicar, Henry P. Lyte, who was the author of the much-loved hymn, "Abide With Me," has resulted in the raising of thirteen hundred pounds out of the twenty-five hundred pounds necessary for its completion. Rev. J. J. Taylor, of the Sao Paulo Southern Baptist Mission, Brazil, writes

KROPOTKIN ON RUSSIA

Prince Kropotkin, whose book, "Russian Literature," shows how prevalent socialistic and democratic tendencies have been among Russian writers, is himself both an author of distinction and a democrat in exile. In a recent letter on the present agitation in Russia, he complains that there are "so many nurses and dunces among the people, so many clannishness, 'Don't do this, and don't do that, you can't accomplish much by force.'" "That few," he remarks, "dare to say, as Danton said, 'Have the courage, the courage to do and to act--the courage to think and to act.'" And Kropotkin concludes eloquently: "And it is necessary that the few should encourage the mighty of the people to think and to act mightily. It is necessary that the few shall be with the people in all their struggles and plant everywhere the hope in revolutionary destruction of the old and the responsibility of the new forms of life."

KROPOTKIN ON RUSSIA

The Kestoulian--"I never saw a man who thinks more of his wife than Majah Blugras." The New Yorker--"Love her some, eh?" The Kestoulian--"Simply worship her! You may believe me or not, but I know for a fact that he named his best horse after her!"--Puck.

THE ROOSEVELT FAMILY

The Roosevelt family's strong hold upon the good will of the public has been strongly emphasized by the remarkable popularity of the portraits of "The President's Family" in the July McClure's, which went out of print a few days after issue, the circulation department being swamped with orders. The edition of the magazine was quickly exhausted and so persistent demands for "the magazine containing the Roosevelt pictures" that several thousand sets of the portraits were run off the press and arranged in portfolio form. It took very nearly the entire printing to supply the orders of the first few weeks.

Queen Alexandra of England is, like most women, ill at ease on the trotter. Her voice is low and sweet, with just the suspicion of a foreign accent about it. There is an almost pathetic note in the tone that lingers in the memory hauntingly. However, all her subjects joyfully declare that she is a most charming speaker and that the foreign inflection is but an added charm to the voice.

MILLIONAIRES' WIVES HAVE NO VACATIONS

A Day in the Life of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, a Society Leader, Who Dresses Five Times Daily and Works as Guest and Hostess.

In August, when the thoughts of the masses are centered on vacation days, the women of the millionaire class are working their hardest. In fact, it is the society woman who stands out just now, pre-eminent as the member of her sex who knows no vacation.

Strain of Entertaining. This when she plays the role of guest only. But she must entertain and, in her role of hostess, she has much to do and plan, while the changes of gowns go on just the same. As her summer functions are very elaborate, there are many tradespeople to be seen. Theatrical managers and vaudeville artists are summoned from New York for consultation. Caterers are in her palace by the sea as well as those who furnish the entertainment, but she is not in the least weary. She is, in fact, a business woman, and she is not in the least weary. She is, in fact, a business woman, and she is not in the least weary.

Business Trip Abroad. She is off to Paris for more gowns. This will involve an ocean voyage which once upon a time represented seven days or more of solid rest. Now the cabin life and bridge which have done away with this. The smart traveler may take all her meals at her richly furnished state room, but she dresses for them religiously and plays bridge with fellow devotees until the same late hour at which she retired in town or at Newport.

Details of a Day. Even in midsummer there is one member of the society woman's household staff whose presence must be reckoned with—and that is the housemaid. She it is who makes over the elaborate gowns which can be worn in public only once, twice or thrice. These she converts into house frocks and negligees, and she has the care of her mistress above all other servants. It is she who utilizes all the rich fabrics, rare bits of lace and extravagant scraps of trimming to make the Parisian outfit respect in a most deceptive if charming guise.

Christmas, and all December, for that matter, are spent out of New York, perhaps in Italy, where quite a smart American colony gathers to greet old Saint Claus. January 1 finds her back in New York for a hard, brief whirl at opera, more dinners, more balls, more luncheons and more bridge. The New York season is shorter each year, as society grows more restless. Once it closed with Lent, but now the gayest season of the year, spent among country homes and home parties, followed by the inevitable trip south to Palm Beach, Bermuda or the B. H. M. s. where the dress parade is more vigorously followed than on Fifth avenue. My and June find her abroad for more dress. These appear during the London season when she must steer her way through the breakers of royalty and the conservative American colony. A second set of frocks is reserved for Newport, which she reaches on or about August 1.

Manufacturers are becoming alarmed. At Lyons, which is the headquarters of the world for silk, manufacturers have drawn up a petition imploring French women not to be induced into any pronounced neglect of silk. The material of your mothers, they say, is a sentimental phrase, which is likely to bring about some result, if not all that is desired.

HOME-MADE ICES AND CREAMS

With the New Freezers, Ice Cream Making Robbed of Its Terrors—Pound the Ice Very Fine and Use Plenty of the Salt and Ice Mixture—Half a Dozen Ways for Serving Vanilla—A Dainty Mould of Raspberry Jelly in Which It Is Packed—Recipes for Hot and Cold Sauces.

From all over the land comes the cry for America's summer dish, ice cream. In reply, the city housewife orders by telephone from the caterer, or sends her one maid around the corner to the nearest candy shop for her frozen dessert. Her country or suburban cousin freezes her own cream, and the family of the latter gains by the proceeding. High-priced city caterers offer a frozen custard to which cream has been added, the cheaper shops adulterate ingredients from milk to flavoring, until the mixture ferments in anything but an absolutely healthy stomach.

Given one of the new kind of freezers and an energetic, interested young assistant to turn the dasher, any housewife can make her own frozen desserts rapidly and inexpensively. She should remember that cream sweetens with freezing, and that it is to be induced into any pronounced neglect of silk. SWEETLY SCENTED LADIES. (County German). It is not the custom in these days to saturate one's self with scent; but in certain ways women still move about in an atmosphere of delicate aroma. They accomplish their object by keeping all their linen and wash cloths, and even the ornaments which they wear around their throats, in soapboxes and boxes fitted with sachets, and by wearing sachets in their toiletette little bags of odor they most appreciate.

serve stock of crushed ice to fill up the freezer as fast as the first lot melts. When the crank moves slowly and heavily, wipe off the top of the can, open it and if the mixture is of the consistency of cornmeal mush, remove the beater, take a long wooden ladle and beat the mixture until your arm aches. This will give it a smooth, velvety finish. Put on the top, drive a cork firmly into the round opening in the top, cover with old canvas or tarp and allow the cream to stand an hour or so before serving, as this mellows the flavor, packing with plenty of fresh ice.

Chocolate Fudge—Place two squares of uncoated baker's chocolate into a double boiler. When it has melted, add one quart of milk, which has been warmed slightly; two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Cover and boil five minutes. Then whip with an egg beater until very smooth and set away to cool. Freeze as you would for cream until the mixture is soft and mushy, not firm and smooth, and serve at once with whipped cream. Fudge has been sweetened with pulverized sugar and flavored delicately with vanilla.

ST. JOHN MAN'S SUCCESS

Pleasant News of Walter H. Belding Comes From Annapolis.

The Annapolis Spectator contains the following, which will be interesting to the many St. John friends of Walter H. Belding.

FORWARD MOVEMENT

The Sons of Temperance in this City Talk of More Effective Work.

At the meeting of the District Division, Sons of Temperance, held in hall, Market Building, last evening, the chief topic of discussion was the need of better work for the subordinate divisions than that now in use, which is on the upper floor of the Market building, reached by a side door and winding stairways.

There was a hope that a building might be secured to be used exclusively as a temperance hall, but that is now out of the question for at least a year, if not longer. The great need of such a building was strongly urged by the speakers at the District Division last evening.

The recent visit of Mr. Wightman, of London, and the M. W. P. of the National Division of America to this city has encouraged members of the order here to think that with the reconstruction of the benefit feature the Sons of Temperance will become a much stronger organization.

It is not probable that the St. John divisions are not doing as much as they should do for the cause of total abstinence.

The idea of Col. A. J. Armstrong, which was heartily endorsed by others last evening, is that the order should have a hall, not only for public meetings every night, to get hold of men who are away from the city, and influence them in the direction of sobriety and total abstinence.

This is not possible at the present time because of the lack of hall, but it is to be kept in mind, and meanwhile the various divisions are to be urged to greater activity. The officers and members of the district division will visit subordinate divisions to take counsel with them and encourage them to renewed effort.

The first formal visit will be paid to Granite Rock Division in Carleton, a week from next Tuesday night.

POLICE COURT

One drunk, an old man of 67 years of age, was fined $4. A common drunk, who is supposed to be troubled by epilepsy, was remanded.

A dog owned by John Sealby, a young boy of five years of age, had the legs and tail ordered to be destroyed.

Joseph Clinton preferred a charge of abusive language to himself and wife by Mrs. Wm. Cleary. The defendant denied the charge and the case was adjourned until Monday morning.

Mary Walsh, known as Mary McCarthy, and by several other names, was again remanded at her trial, in order that she may be allowed to question Sergeant Campbell, who arrested her.

Harry Wright was fined $8 for indecent exposure.

One drunk was allowed to go on promising never to touch liquor again.

FIRE AT PLEASANT POINT

About twelve o'clock last night a fire broke out in the residence of John Ogden, Pleasant Point. The reflection of the fire spread that one of the big river mills, Jordan's or John H. Moore's, was on fire.

About two o'clock the fire had consumed the building, which was a one-story pitched roof structure of a large size. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Mrs. James Paul returned this morning from Hampton, where she has been visiting relatives.

McARTHUR AND McVEY SAY THEY CANNOT FINISH WORK

They Notify the Water and Sewerage Board and a Committee is Appointed to Consider the Situation.

McArthur & McVey informed the water and sewerage board yesterday that they could not finish their contract on section 2 of the water extension. They suggested that they should complete part of the section and the remainder, where excess of rock existed, at a small percentage of cost or else that the city should finish the work with their plant and allow them for material and labor.

Engineer Harbour advised that the city ascertain the cost exclusive of the plant and, paying all bills in future, give the contractors the work to finish with a bonus if finished by Nov. 15 and a penalty of $100 for each day over. After a long discussion the matter was referred to a committee to come to an arrangement and report back.

Mr. Harbour reported on the replies of the contractors, who were dealt with at the previous meeting.

Referring to B. Mooney & Sons, he said they were finished on time. They had sufficient men and had just obtained a concrete mixer, which would be ready to supply the plant.

Mr. Harbour said: "I do not advise the board to accept the contractors' proposition."

MATINEE RACES

This Afternoon's Programme at Moosepath Should be Interesting.

The matinee races at Moosepath this afternoon promise to be very interesting. In addition to the list of entries published yesterday, Mr. Earle has entered Le Roi E. in the pacers' class, and Mr. Cole will be starting in the trotters.

Arrangements have been made for a special train to leave the Union Depot at 5:30 o'clock, which will stop in front of the park gate. The visiting Massachusetts Knights will go out on this train accompanied by their band, which will discuss a choice programme of music.

The presence of the Knights in their navy uniform will add greatly to the brilliancy of the occasion. The races are attracting a great deal of interest as the horses and their owners are all local men, and well known. There is considerable rivalry among those who have entered, and it is expected that the meet will prove a great success.

Miss Ellen Frances Murphy, second daughter of Patrick E. Murphy of Ready street, Fairville, died early this morning after a comparatively brief illness. She was in her 77th year, and a young lady of many estimable qualities.

Her parents have the sincere sympathy of many friends in their bereavement. The funeral will take place at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon from the deceased's parents' home to St. Rose's church, where service will be held.

AN AGED LADY

Mrs. Robert Matthew, who, tomorrow, will have completed the first half of her 100th year, was probably the most interested listener at a gramophone concert given at the Old Ladies' Home last night by Misses Duffell and Sandall.

Mrs. Matthew is the oldest lady in St. John, and is the only one in the city who has lived to see the present century.

She has been a most interesting and interesting conversationalist, and her conversation is most interesting. She has been at the home for several years, and is a most interesting conversationalist.
