Abandoned Farms and an Empty School House Where Once Were Thirty-Five Pupils—Fine Opportunities for Market Gardening—Steamer Service Should Be Improved—A Game Country Near at Hand—Great Local Market

A member of the Times staff who has spent the week-ends during the summer at Public Landing gained some information concerning farms and farming along the river within fifteen miles of the city, which may be of considerable interest to readers generally. One fact stands out clearly, and it is that the farmers are not getting anything like the fullest returns from the soil, and that the area under cultivation is very small compared with that which might be profitably used for fruit raising, market gardening and general farming purposes. One of the greatest difficulties, it is said, is that of getting satisfactory help, but even with the help that is available a good deal more produce could be raised if all the owners of the land set themselves seriously to work to improve their farms...

EX-KING MANUEL MARRIED TODAY

MARRIAGE IN GERMANY

(Canadian Press)
Stuttgart, Germany, Sept. 3.—King Manuel, former King of Portugal, was married today to Princess Augusta, the Victoria daughter of Prince William of Hohenzollern, Cardinal-Prince of Liechtenstein, former Archbishop of Salzburg, who conducted the religious ceremony and by Count August von Saldern, grand marshal of the Prussian court, who presided over the civil function. The religious rites began at half-past eleven in the Catholic parish church near the palace. The road along which the bridal pair passed from the palace to the church, was spanned with arches covered with bright flowers, and along both sides were drawn up lines of soldiers and school children. The little capital of the Principality of Hohenzollern had made every effort to render itself attractive for the occasion, although it was understood that the marriage was to be celebrated in as quiet a manner as possible, owing to the political situation. A gate of honor was erected at the railroad station, where all the royal guests were met by military escorts, which accompanied them to the palace. At the same time, a strict watch was kept on all strangers arriving here, because it was thought by the police that an attempt might be made on the life of the former king. Nothing, however, in the way of a manifestation against the exiled monarch, marked the occasion. (Continued on page 7, fourth column.)

MASONS' GIFT TO PRINCE ARTHUR

Three Hundred Guineas Voted For Wedding Present

PLANS FOR ROYAL MARRIAGE

(Canadian Press)
London, Sept. 4.—The Grand Free Masons Lodge of England, under the presidency of Lord Ampthill, last night adopted a motion that the sum of 300 guineas be taken from the funds of the grand lodge, to be voted for the purpose of presenting a suitable gift to Prince Arthur of Connaught on the occasion of his marriage with H. R. H. The Duchess of Fife. No ceremonial programme for the royal wedding has yet been prepared. Proceeding will very largely govern the ceremony, which will be on the lines of the wedding of the king and queen. There will be very few guests beyond the actual family circle, and even then the limited accommodation at the Chapel Royal will be quite sufficiently taxed. The Duke of Devonshire has been asked to purchase a residence in Mount Street, which Prince Arthur of Connaught purchased from the Earl of Plymouth. The orders are that the house must be ready by the first week in December. The name of the Duke of Fife is personally attending to the furnishing, the decorations and other details. The key of the whole is simplicity. The Prince of Wales, whose hobby is modelling and metal work, is preparing beautiful pieces. Prince Arthur's bride has proposed a dinner party housewarming, to be attended by the royals in London, headed by the king, Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra and Empress Maria of Russia. SOME CARS IN USE FOR LAST FIFTY-ONE YEARS

New Haven Wreck to Lead To Greater Precautions

COMMISSION'S PLANS

(Canadian Press)
Washington, Sept. 4.—Evidence became stronger yesterday that the Wallingford wreck on the New Haven railroad will result in legislation for the protection of passengers on the railroads of the United States. This slaughter by the railroads must stop and we are going to see that nothing comes out of this wreck besides publicity, was the comment of Interstate Commerce Commissioner Michael, who has charge of the enquiry into the New Haven disaster. As a one of the first steps in this general enquiry, the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday called on the Pullman company to submit a statement showing the number of cars of wood and steel construction in its entire service. In speaking of what may be done to safeguard the life of passengers as a result of this wreck, Commissioner Michael said: "We will, before this is ended, investigate the entire question of comparative cost of steel and wooden cars, their respective life and service, the capacity of the country's manufacturers to turn them out and other details. I understand that the cost of the steel car is about one third more than that of a wooden car of like capacity, but we have not yet had a detailed statement of the cost of each type will last, or which is the cheaper in the long run. My understanding is that the steel cars have not been in vogue long enough to give an accurate answer to the question of their lifetime of service. On the New Haven, though, we have found cars of wooden construction, that have been in use since 1862." "Neither do we know how long cars of each type will last, or which is the cheaper in the long run. My understanding is that the steel cars have not been in vogue long enough to give an accurate answer to the question of their lifetime of service. On the New Haven, though, we have found cars of wooden construction, that have been in use since 1862." Secret Inquest Begun New Haven, Conn., Sept. 4.—The formal inquest into the wreck which cost the lives of twenty-one passengers, began behind closed doors this morning in the office of Coroner Mix. The facts of the case were given in public by the state attorney as a basis for criminal prosecution, should they warrant such action. All the passengers and public opinion of these facts might prejudice the state's case, and the interest of justice required that the inquest be held in secret. The condition of five of the injured who were brought to the hospital this morning, as still critical. All the bodies of the bodies of those killed have been sent to their homes. Greeks Convicted By Letters of Their Own Men

REPRISALS ON BULGARIANS

Villages Burned and Peopled Are Slaughtered—Of 1,200 Prisoners in One Case, All But 41 Killed—One Writes of Slaying 14 Himself

(Canadian Press)
Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 4.—In order to prove that Greek soldiers were responsible for some atrocities against the Bulgarians in the fighting last July between Bulgaria and her former allies, Greece, Serbia, and Montenegro—there have been made public in Sofia extracts from letters written by Greek soldiers and officers to friends at home. These letters were captured in a mail bag of the 10th regiment of the 70th Greek division by Bulgarian troops in the vicinity of Raslog. They have been given out by the Bulgarian telegraphic agency in pamphlet form. Each letter is printed in facsimile of the original Greek, followed by a translation in French, which gives the dates and the names signed to each communication. The first letter is dated July 11 and is printed in facsimile of the original Greek and officers follow: "We have burned all the villages abandoned by the Bulgarians. They burned the Greek villages and we the Bulgarian villages. They massacred, we massacred, and the manufacturer has operated against every member of this dishonest nation who has fallen into our hands. Out of 1,200 prisoners that we took at Nigrita, only forty-one remained in prison, and everywhere we went we have left behind us a trail of blood." Another letter from a sergeant says: "We burned the two villages of Doulou and Saniata, and put everything to the bayonet on the flames, making exception only of women, children and old people, and churches. We did this without pity and without grace." A third letter, dated Nerio River, July 12, says: "Here at Vrondon I captured five Bulgarians and a girl from Serres. We shut them up in the police station. The girl was killed, but the Bulgarians also suffered. When they were still alive, we gouged out their eyes." This letter is signed Costi. Another Greek soldier named Panaghis Beglikis writes to his brother under date of July 16 as follows: "The Greek army is burning wherever it finds a Bulgarian village, and is massacring all those which it overtakes. Things are happening which it is impossible to express. God knows where this business will end." A very brief extract from the letter of Nico Theophilatos sent to Demetris Chr. Tsigaridis at Mexistata under date of July 11, Nico writes: "They gave me sixteen prisoners to take to division headquarters, and I turned in only two. The others were lost in the darkness, massacred by myself." This last letter bears the seal of the 10th regiment. RUSSIA SETS A NEW MARK FOR SPEED Swinemunde, Germany, Sept. 3.—The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Novik established a record when she attained a maximum speed of 37.3 knots on her trial here yesterday. Her average speed over the measured mile was 37 knots. The Novik, which was built in Germany, burns oil and is not fitted with smokestacks.

BELIEVES CROP WILL LOOSEN MONEY IN WEST

Hon. Mr. Cochrane Says New Line Will Be Ready to Handle Grain

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—After an inspection of the National Trans-Continental Railway from Cochrane to Winnipeg, Hon. Frank Cochrane announced last night, on his arrival in Winnipeg, that the line would be ready to handle this year's grain crop. Mr. Cochrane is in the west to inspect the entire G. T. P. system. On the financial situation, Mr. Cochrane is optimistic over the crop outlook and believes it will materially help to loosen the money situation. With the minister is Sir George Gordon, E. J. Chamberlin, president of the Grand Trunk system; Nelson Macpherson, the only other director of the G. T. P. resident in Canada; Albert Grigg and Charles Macree, M. P. P's of Ontario; Hon. W. H. Hearst, minister of justice for Ontario; and W. R. Smythe, M. P.

ARE COMING HOME ILL FROM THE MISSION FIELDS OF INDIA

Miss Gausson of New Brunswick Among the Number—Letters to Baptist Board

At a meeting of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board yesterday afternoon a letter from the field in India showed that ten missionaries have left or expected to leave on furlough. Three of them are quite ill and are on their way home now. They are Miss Archibald and Miss Elliott of Nova Scotia, and Miss Gausson of New Brunswick, and Mrs. Hardy, daughter of Nova Scotia, and Dr. Sanford, senior missionary for that province, and the others who are to take a well earned rest, but they will not leave until the regular furlough next month. It was also announced at the meeting that Miss Zella Clarke, M. D., and her sister, Miss Mary, have left Vancouver for the east, and are expected in St. John very soon. In another letter from the mission field the Brussels street church, expecting on September 24, and it is hoped that several workers from the mission field will be present. In another letter from India, signed by Miss Flora Clarke, dated Aug. 25, (which arrived here within twenty-eight days), she writes that two of her associates, Miss Woodman and Miss Conzett, have been obliged to go to the hills for the winter. The first of October, when the hot season is first over. Miss Mason remained with Miss Clarke at Valsadgar, and she also wrote that the general conference, which meets twice a year, was held in July at Coonabad. A large number of missionaries were present. The board yesterday expressed appreciation of a generous gift from King and Mrs. Miss Bessie King of Chipman and Mrs. Mand King of Montreal who recently donated $1,200 each for the erection of a residence for the surgeons and nurses at Chicocote, India, in connection with the hospital there. The residence is being erected in memory of their deceased brother and will be known as the Frank C. King memorial building.

Paving Contracts Are Awarded

Matter of Alleged Discrimination Disposed of—More Band Concerts—Conference on Street Railway Extension—City Bonds For Our Own People

Contracts for laying the permanent paving on the south side of King square and in Queen street were awarded to the Warren Bitulithic Company, and to George & Moses, respectively, at an adjourned meeting of the commission which was held this morning. Inquiries were made regarding the reports that a discrimination against the contractors by quoting a price for the surface work for coal was awarded to the City Paving Company, and the payment of bills for fire apparatus, totalling $800.00, was authorized. Arrangements were made for a conference tomorrow morning with the directors of the St. John Railway Company regarding the extension of the lines. Authority was given for five more band concerts in King square, a contract for coal was awarded to the City Paving Company, and the payment of bills for fire apparatus, totalling $800.00, was authorized. Commissioner Agar moved acceptance of the tender of the Warren company for King square, and Michael George for Queen street, explaining that he recommended Warren Brothers in the first case as it was a desirable contract, and their work to induce them to keep their plant and their crew here. Commissioner McLellan, in seconding the resolution, asked if any inquiry had been made into rumors that Warren Brothers had furnished estimates for laying the top surface to certain contractors to the exclusion of others. He did not believe the story, as all his inquiries on the south side of King square, including estimated cost of surface paving. The various tenders were figured out as follows: A. R. Clark & Son, $7,166.00; G. & M. Moore & Sons, $7,882.00; Louis Corey, $6,088.00; George & Moses, $6,751.25; A. R. Clark & Son, $6,801.00; Louis Corey, $6,088.00; A. R. Clark & Son, $6,801.00. MR. EASSON AWAY THIS WEEK

Going to Toronto for a Time Before Crossing Ocean to London

C. H. Easson, formerly general manager of the Bank of New Brunswick, and who, since the amalgamation with the Bank of Nova Scotia, has been engaged settling the affairs of the former institution, will leave this week for Toronto where he will occupy a responsible position in the head office of the Bank of Nova Scotia pending the opening of their branch in London. Easson, of which he will be manager. Mr. Easson was warmly welcomed when he returned to the city, and his many friends regret that his advancement will make it necessary for him to leave the city.

POPE AGAIN INDISPOSED

Illness Slight, But Something Like That of Last Spring

Rome, Sept. 4.—Pope Pius X is again suffering from a slight indisposition, somewhat similar to the serious illness through which he passed last spring. A doctor in the Vatican it is said that his present trouble is due to a cold, but it has brought on hoarseness, headache, and a slightly rising temperature, and the Vatican physicians have suggested a complete rest. His Holiness, however, insists upon keeping engagements he had made for today, and he received in audience Cardinal Ferrari of Milan, who headed a body of Milanese pilgrims. The Pope afterwards appeared before the pilgrims themselves and welcomed them to Rome. The general condition of the Pope is good, according to the doctors today. They think that, although he is troubled by an occasional cough and some catarrh, he will be able easily to overcome the affection and will be assisted in this by the favorable climatic conditions now prevailing.

INTERNATIONAL LABOR BUREAU PROPOSED

P. M. Draper's Suggestion Wins Favor at Big Gathering in England

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 4.—Delegates representing Canada and the United States took a prominent part at today's session of the Trades Union Congress in which the British delegates represent two and a quarter million workmen. The foreign delegates today were given their first opportunity of addressing the assembly. P. M. Draper, a Canadian delegate, was greeted with approving cheers when he declared that the time had arrived for the establishment of an international labor bureau to regulate the tide of emigration, and to construct them so to the real conditions of affairs in the countries to which they proposed going. TWENTY NOW THERE Dr. David Townsend, superintendent of the Jordan Memorial sanitarium at River Glade, is in the city today to examine any applicants who may apply for admission. There are now twenty patients in the institution, filling two-thirds of the total capacity.

Guy Campbell Run Over By a Heavy Lumber Wagon in Millville

(Special To Times)
Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 4.—Guy Campbell, an employe in Hay's mill in Millville, was badly injured yesterday by a heavy lumber wagon passing over him. One ear was completely severed and his skull fractured, his chest is also hurt. He was brought by train to the hospital here. His condition is serious, but the physicians think he has a chance for recovery. GONE WEST Arthur J. Casey of Chesley street, who has been in the employ of C. B. Pidgeon, Main street, for some time, as salesman, left on the Montreal train last night for Winnipeg, where he has accepted a position with the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., on their traveling staff. His departure was the cause of much regret from many friends amongst whom he enjoyed a great share of popularity, and best wishes will follow him in his new field.

TRAIN OF RADIUM AT COST OF $37,500

Sept. 4.—The Prussian government bought a gram of radium for hospital and scientific use. Senator Hays is making an appeal to the nation to subscribe to the fund for the purchase of radium. It has already $800,000.

POPE AGAIN INDISPOSED

Illness Slight, But Something Like That of Last Spring

Rome, Sept. 4.—Pope Pius X is again suffering from a slight indisposition, somewhat similar to the serious illness through which he passed last spring. A doctor in the Vatican it is said that his present trouble is due to a cold, but it has brought on hoarseness, headache, and a slightly rising temperature, and the Vatican physicians have suggested a complete rest. His Holiness, however, insists upon keeping engagements he had made for today, and he received in audience Cardinal Ferrari of Milan, who headed a body of Milanese pilgrims. The Pope afterwards appeared before the pilgrims themselves and welcomed them to Rome. The general condition of the Pope is good, according to the doctors today. They think that, although he is troubled by an occasional cough and some catarrh, he will be able easily to overcome the affection and will be assisted in this by the favorable climatic conditions now prevailing.

P. M. Draper's Suggestion Wins Favor at Big Gathering in England

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 4.—Delegates representing Canada and the United States took a prominent part at today's session of the Trades Union Congress in which the British delegates represent two and a quarter million workmen. The foreign delegates today were given their first opportunity of addressing the assembly. P. M. Draper, a Canadian delegate, was greeted with approving cheers when he declared that the time had arrived for the establishment of an international labor bureau to regulate the tide of emigration, and to construct them so to the real conditions of affairs in the countries to which they proposed going. TWENTY NOW THERE Dr. David Townsend, superintendent of the Jordan Memorial sanitarium at River Glade, is in the city today to examine any applicants who may apply for admission. There are now twenty patients in the institution, filling two-thirds of the total capacity.

BAR CHILDREN FROM MILLS IN MASSACHUSETTS

Thousands Formerly Employed Are Idle as Result of Operation of New State Law

Boston, Sept. 4.—Thousands of children of the mills and child employees under sixteen years in other manufacturing establishments in Massachusetts were thrown out of work this week by the operation of a new state law which became effective on Monday.

working schedules so that the children could be employed under one set of hours and the older operatives under another. As a result they had to re-organize the children, they say.

No child between fourteen and sixteen can be employed without the issue to it by the school superintendent of a school certificate; no child under sixteen can be employed where there is dangerous machinery; no child under eighteen can be employed in disease breeding trades; no child under twenty-one can be employed in the sale of liquors; no boy under twelve and no girl under eighteen may sell papers or black boots in Boston or other cities having a population of 80,000; powers of truant officers are increased, so that they may go through factories or workshops for violations of the laws; heavy penalties for violations are provided—if one permits a child to work in violation of the act he may be fined $50 and sent to jail for thirty days for the first offense and fined $200 and sent to jail for sixty days for the second offense; and any person who would sell papers or boot blacking to a child knowing that the child intended to work in violation of law may be fined $200 and sent to jail for sixty days.

Nearly 20,000 employees in the state are affected by the new law and the number of children which comes under the provisions of the new statutes is estimated to be more than 25,000.

Daily Hints For the Cook

Scotch Collops: Cook 1-2 sliced onion in 8 tablespoons butter or dripping until lightly browned, take out the onion, blend in 2 tablespoons of flour, add slowly 1 1/2 cups water and stir until smooth. Add 1 pound chopped raw beef, cook slowly until done. Roll Jelly Cake: Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, Beat well, add 1-4 cup milk, 1-4 cups flour and a little salt. Beat well. Spread this in long baking tin. When baked turn at once onto a towel wrung out of boiling water, spread with jelly and roll quickly.

WILL RETURN AGAIN, SAYS LORD STRATHCONA

(Montreal Star) "I am coming back to Montreal again," said the indomitable Lord Strathcona as he stepped on board the Rutland train this morning to return to New York and board the Lusitania, for England. "It has been a delight for me to make this flying trip to Montreal," said the Lord high commissioner as he grasped the hand of Principal Peterson of McGill University. "The scene I witnessed in the Convocation Hall when the degrees were being conferred yesterday afternoon is one of the most remarkable in my recollection."

MOTHER FALLS FORTY FIVE FEET DOWN A SHAFT WITH BABY

Boston, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Viola Katz and her one-year-old baby are in the City Hospital on the dangerous list as a result of a 45-foot fall. Mrs. Katz went on the roof of her home, 221 Dover street, with her baby to get some air and she was near the glass air shaft. In some way not known she toppled backward, and the two fell down 45 feet through the shaft to the bottom of the well. Neighbors picked them up and the police were notified. An ambulance was summoned and they were taken to the City Hospital. It was found that the woman was dangerously injured, sustaining the shock of the fall, thereby protecting the baby. But both their names are on the dangerous list and it is said the woman will die.

OUR MR. HAZEN

(St. Andrew's Beacon) Hon. Mr. Hazen is evidently not complete "master of the situation" so far as St. John harbor works are concerned. The editor of the Chatham World, who is a conservative, and who was recently in the city, remarks of the situation there—"The Custom Bay work is almost at a standstill, only a few men and horses being engaged, and nothing has been done to connect the elevators by conveyors with the new wharves, and nothing has been done to extend the breakwater that is to close the western entrance of the harbor."

New York city's expense budget for last year totalled $181,000,000. A card index system for employes is planned as a curb.

RECENT DEATHS

A prominent Liberal passed away yesterday, when the death occurred at 10:30 a. m., of Thomas Hetherington, ex-L. P. P., and former dominion immigration agent at Bonaventure.

Actively engaged in the affairs of his province for many years, the late Mr. Hetherington formed a wide circle of friends who will learn with regret of his death, and his followers in Queen's county will mourn the loss of a worthy leader and true friend.

Particularly severe was the blow to the family as Mr. Hetherington died on the day that his eldest daughter, Mrs. Fred Perry, was buried, and general sympathy will be felt for the survivors at their double bereavement.

The late Mr. Hetherington would have celebrated his 82nd birthday on the 29th of this month, and during his long, active career, spent principally in his native community at God's, he was regarded as an exemplary neighbor and a man of wide political knowledge.

Mr. Hetherington represented Queen's county in the provincial government for twelve years, being elected for the first time in 1882, re-elected in 1886, and returned to acclamation in 1890. He was appointed dominion immigration agent at Bonaventure, later, and served with distinction for seven years, until removed by the Borden government, immediately after the Conservative party came to power.

Mr. Hetherington was parish clerk of St. John's for many years, and was senior deacon of the Baptist church at Thorton. He was a member of the Masonic body.

Surviving besides the widow are his sons, Dr. Gilbert Hetherington, J. Hudson E. Hetherington, P. B. Hetherington, and two daughters, Annie, of Calgary, and Hetherington, of Athabasca Landing.

Two brothers also survive, Isaac Hetherington and Hetherington, of Kings county, and Mrs. Small of Highfield, Queen's county.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2 p. m. from his late residence at God's.

Many will hear with regret the death of Mrs. Susan A. Barnes, who died yesterday after a brief illness. She was survived by four sons and three daughters. The funeral is to take place tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock.

Clinton Kitchen died yesterday in Fredericton, aged 22 years. He was the son of Mrs. Cyrus Kitchen. Besides his mother he is survived by three brothers, Howard and Cyrus, at home, and William, in the United States.

James Maxwell died at Newcastle on Friday, aged 91. He is survived by the following children: James, with whom he resided; Andrew and Walter, of Newcastle; James, Hugh and Richard, in the western states; Miss Jessie, of Newcastle; Mrs. John McDowell, of Ladysmith, B. C.; Mrs. Edith Brown, of Seabrook, N. H.; another daughter, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, of Derby Junction, died on July 17 last.

The British Empire in India is a sort of political miracle. How can you explain how it is that Britain administers the affairs of 294,000,000 people—the sixth of the human race—with civil service, chosen by competition, of about 1,000 men.

The record of 26 deaths in New York City due to automobile accidents in July suggests once more the seriousness of the form of danger.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Mott-Barnes.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. William B. Barnes, McDonald's Point, Queens county, on Tuesday, September 2, when her daughter, Bella, was united in marriage to Robert Myles Mott, of Central Cambridge, Queens county. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. E. McCutcheon in the presence of about seventy invited guests. The bride was prettily attired in a gown of pearl white silk with crystal trimmings and wore a veil with lilies of the valley and carried a bouquet of white lilies. The little Misses Abigail and Roberta Gance, nieces of the bride acted as flower girls, and carried bouquets of sweet peas.

The married couple left yesterday morning on the Atlantic for a short honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Central Cambridge. The bride's travelling suit was a gray whipcord with hat to match. The numerous handsome and useful gifts bore testimony of the esteem in which the bride and groom are held.

Fawcett-Holland.

At St. George's church last night Herbert Fawcett, of West St. John and Miss Margaret Holland, of Holland's Point, were united in marriage by Rev. W. H. Sampson, rector of St. George's parish. The pair were unattended, only a few friends being present. The bride wore a tasteful white dress. The happy marriage pair will take up housekeeping immediately at West St. John. Mr. Fawcett is employed by the St. John Street Railway.

Keirstead-Davidson.

Sussex, N. B., Sept. 3.—A very pretty wedding and one of the popular local interest was solemnized in the Church of the Holy Trinity this afternoon, when Miss Alice Davidson, second daughter of Mrs. Fred Davidson, was united in marriage to Howard Keirstead, bookkeeper for the Sussex Lumber Company. Rev. W. F. Parker performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Miss George Davidson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The groom was supported by Albert Black and the Misses Dorothy Davidson was flower girl. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Keirstead left by auto for Moncton, Alberta and other points in Alberta county. On their return they will reside in Sussex.

Two of Salisbury's most popular young people were united in marriage yesterday afternoon when Miss Beatrice Francis, the only daughter of Rev. F. G. Francis, became the wife of George Wortman, son of Miss Wortman of Salisbury. After the ceremony the young couple left on a tour through the New England States. On their return they will reside at Moncton, where the groom is employed with the Summer Company.

The marriage of Alma Agnes Huggard, of Norton, to William McCrea Pierson of Hartford, Conn., took place at the home of the bride's brother, Herbert Huggard, at Norton on August 29. Mr. and Mrs. Pierson will spend a few weeks in New Brunswick and will then go to Hartford, where they will reside.

Miss Hattie I. Weldon, daughter of Mr. Emma Weldon was married at her home, Middle Coveville, Albert county, on September 2 to James W. Steeves also of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Champion of Sackville.

The Agricultural College of Kansas claims to have effected a saving of a million dollars a year in the homes of that state by teaching domestic economy.

Better Bargains in Furniture

cannot be found in this city than at our store. Do you ask why? The answer is, because the quality of the material is a little better, to begin with, than is generally used, which gives a better appearance to the finished product. Another reason is that we believe in a quick turnover and moderate profit, and we can handle more goods than most stores without additional expense. If you want better furniture than others are selling for the prices you wish to pay, you had better see us.

CHANGED APPEARANCE

Many who visited the site of the new sugar refinery on the holiday were agreeably impressed with the changed appearance of the wharf properties in that vicinity, recently purchased by the Consumers' Coal Company; these properties front almost three hundred feet on Charlotte street. The fencing has all been renewed and painted in dark red and blue, and a reproduction of their attractive trade-mark about nine feet in diameter at each end. Altogether the properties have a more attractive look than coal yards usually have, and the Consumers' Coal Company is to be congratulated on the appearance of their premises.

A picture which proved very interesting and afforded much excitement was shown yesterday at the Gem Theatre in the two reel drama "The Cheyenne Massacre," in which the treachery of the Indians of this tribal name was clearly depicted. Its enactment centered about a south-western fort and a large number of men were used in the various scenes. There were sensational adventures amongst the soldiers defending the fort, and the heroism of the Indian warriors was shown in a most convincing manner. It was a picture which gave much pleasure and will be repeated this evening. E. A. Emil, the Gem's new baritone singer, was heartily received in a new success; the orchestra had a fine bill of hits and there was an Edison comedy which provided much laughter.

Do You Read Much?

Frequently you hear men and women remark that they do not read very much because their eyes tire quickly. Perhaps you have a similar experience yourself. That's an acknowledgment of eye-strain, for if the eyes are in a normal condition you should be able to read for a long time without overthinking of your eyes. If you cannot do this you should have your eyes examined at once and know just what is the trouble. Come in early any morning and have us make a thorough scientific examination of your eyes. We will tell you just what they need.

FARMS AND FARMING ALONG THE RIVER

their plans, there would be many more people spending the summer months at river points, and the farmer and gardener's local market would thus be enlarged. One of the great needs along the river is the assurance of a satisfactory passenger service.

There can be no doubt that the construction there of one of the finest wharves along the river has been of great benefit to Public Landing this year. People very much prefer to get on and off steamers at a wharf, rather than to use a boat, which is especially disagreeable in stormy weather. A wharf is much needed at Bely's Point, and it is said to have been promised. The people at Public Landing fear, however, that unless some further protection is provided this fall, their wharf will be likely to go out with the ice in the spring or at least to suffer serious damage.

Charles Parker's Profitable

Charles Parker, of Public Landing, was asked by the Times to talk about raspberries, of which he raises considerable quantities. Pointing to one large plot, Mr. Parker said it had been planted for ten years, and the plants were still yielding as large a crop as ever. He has four plots in all, and has set out some rows of fresh plants, which in two years will begin to yield a crop. It is only necessary each season to run the cultivator between the rows and keep down the weeds, and after each year's crop of berries has been gathered, cut down the oldest stalks, and perhaps some of the new ones, until the rows are properly thinned, when each separate raspberry plant is pulled to keep it upright. Once planted the plants are easily cared for, and very little labor is required. Mr. Parker has about half an acre. Mr. Parker gets an average annual return of about $75, and he says he does not know any other crop from which he could get as good returns with as little trouble.

Mr. Parker also keeps some cows, pigs and poultry, and raises some hay, grain and roots, but he does not undertake more than he is able to attend to himself. It is very hard to get the right kind of help. His cows are Jersey stock, and yield good returns. He has tried raising strawberries, but found that they were not satisfactory. To very greatly increase the production of his fine farm would merely be the question of planning the work and getting the right kind of help.

Some Deserted Farms

But Mr. Parker told the Times another story that is of more than passing interest. His boyhood home, Public Landing, several miles back of Public Landing. By the people on the river from the place is called the "Five Pines," in which the treachery of the Indians of this tribal name was clearly depicted. Its enactment centered about a south-western fort and a large number of men were used in the various scenes. There were sensational adventures amongst the soldiers defending the fort, and the heroism of the Indian warriors was shown in a most convincing manner. It was a picture which gave much pleasure and will be repeated this evening. E. A. Emil, the Gem's new baritone singer, was heartily received in a new success; the orchestra had a fine bill of hits and there was an Edison comedy which provided much laughter.

An Apple Orchard

Mr. Parker has a small orchard, but no special care has ever been taken of it, and the yield is not large. The valley above Public Landing is a great orchard country. Apple trees are found growing wild in the fields, the fence rows, the pastures and the woods. It would only be necessary to plant the right kind of stock and care for the orchard in the usual way to get splendid returns. The fact has been proved by actual experiment, but the development of a real orchard industry in this part of the river is still in the future.

Every kind of fruit thrives near the Landing. In a deep ravine near Mr. Parker's house, which is traversed by a brook, the Times man found pine, spruce, fir, cedar, tamarack, oak, maple, white and yellow birch, poplar, beech, and other trees. There are also cherry, elder, wild thorn, apple and other trees and shrubs. Wild fruits, such as raspberries, blackberries, cherries and hazel nuts flourish along the roads and in the vacant spaces. As yet the land in this region, so near the city, which is under cultivation, is a mere trifle compared with that which is covered with woods, and it is not surprising that a course be now returning to a state of nature.

Believes in Holstein Cattle

"If you want to talk with a man who knows something about cattle," said Mr. Parker one day, "come with me this afternoon and meet Charles McKenzie at Nepean."

We found Mr. McKenzie, for his home is just at the end of the long Westfield bridge, and his orchard, close beside the railway, is one of those used by the provincial department of agriculture as a demonstration orchard. It is much older than Mr. McKenzie, being between forty-five and fifty years; but for two years it has been pruned and sprayed by experts, and even in this year, yield has been a crop of 8,750 boxes, which at 14 cents per box brought in over $500.

Mr. McKenzie keeps cows, and sells milk and cream. He tried Jerseys, but abandoned them for Holsteins. The latter he likes much better, and he finds that dairying pays well. He did keep as many as fifteen cows, but has reduced the number to nine, and expects to make a further slight reduction, his aim being to do as his friend Mr. Parker does, and avoid the trouble of hired help. His whole farming operations are directed and devoted to the one object of producing milk, and he has a small plantation of hay trees, and vetches are raised for this purpose. A few pigs are merely incidental, to market the skimmed milk. He made an experiment with alfalfa, but it was winter killed. However, he expects to try it again this year. He has also raised some fruits, and expects to cultivate some in the near future.

A Question of Intelligence

"Do you see enough intelligence in our farming?" said Mr. McKenzie. "That is a question I often ask myself. I have decided not to attempt more than I am able to tend myself. The help problem is too much for me. I find

There were sensational adventures amongst the soldiers defending the fort, and the heroism of the Indian warriors was shown in a most convincing manner. It was a picture which gave much pleasure and will be repeated this evening. E. A. Emil, the Gem's new baritone singer, was heartily received in a new success; the orchestra had a fine bill of hits and there was an Edison comedy which provided much laughter.

An Apple Orchard

Mr. Parker has a small orchard, but no special care has ever been taken of it, and the yield is not large. The valley above Public Landing is a great orchard country. Apple trees are found growing wild in the fields, the fence rows, the pastures and the woods. It would only be necessary to plant the right kind of stock and care for the orchard in the usual way to get splendid returns. The fact has been proved by actual experiment, but the development of a real orchard industry in this part of the river is still in the future.

Every kind of fruit thrives near the Landing. In a deep ravine near Mr. Parker's house, which is traversed by a brook, the Times man found pine, spruce, fir, cedar, tamarack, oak, maple, white and yellow birch, poplar, beech, and other trees. There are also cherry, elder, wild thorn, apple and other trees and shrubs. Wild fruits, such as raspberries, blackberries, cherries and hazel nuts flourish along the roads and in the vacant spaces. As yet the land in this region, so near the city, which is under cultivation, is a mere trifle compared with that which is covered with woods, and it is not surprising that a course be now returning to a state of nature.

Believes in Holstein Cattle

"If you want to talk with a man who knows something about cattle," said Mr. Parker one day, "come with me this afternoon and meet Charles McKenzie at Nepean."

We found Mr. McKenzie, for his home is just at the end of the long Westfield bridge, and his orchard, close beside the railway, is one of those used by the provincial department of agriculture as a demonstration orchard. It is much older than Mr. McKenzie, being between forty-five and fifty years; but for two years it has been pruned and sprayed by experts, and even in this year, yield has been a crop of 8,750 boxes, which at 14 cents per box brought in over $500.

Mr. McKenzie keeps cows, and sells milk and cream. He tried Jerseys, but abandoned them for Holsteins. The latter he likes much better, and he finds that dairying pays well. He did keep as many as fifteen cows, but has reduced the number to nine, and expects to make a further slight reduction, his aim being to do as his friend Mr. Parker does, and avoid the trouble of hired help. His whole farming operations are directed and devoted to the one object of producing milk, and he has a small plantation of hay trees, and vetches are raised for this purpose. A few pigs are merely incidental, to market the skimmed milk. He made an experiment with alfalfa, but it was winter killed. However, he expects to try it again this year. He has also raised some fruits, and expects to cultivate some in the near future.

A Question of Intelligence

"Do you see enough intelligence in our farming?" said Mr. McKenzie. "That is a question I often ask myself. I have decided not to attempt more than I am able to tend myself. The help problem is too much for me. I find

Good Farming Pays

Whatever one saw growing on this farm, whether potatoes, oats, buckwheat, turnips, cabbage, corn, beans, peas, cucumbers, squash, pumpkins, tomatoes or other crops, everything was flourishing, and gave proof of great care and skill. Only 25 to 30 acres are under cultivation, but they are well tilled.

Mr. Wood has a pure-bred Holstein bull, besides five cows, a heifer and two calves, and is greatly pleased with this breed of cattle. He got the bull from Charles McKenzie at Nepean.

He has also begun bee-keeping, with four hives as a nucleus. Asked about sheep-raising, he said he believed it could be done with good profit, whatever the conditions were favorable, but added that one man should not attempt too many things, and he himself had not taken up that branch.

Mr. Wood is firmly convinced that many young men who go west would do very much better if they remained at home and intelligently cultivated the land of New Brunswick. He thought that perhaps parents were a good deal to blame for not encouraging their sons to learn the better methods of farming, and giving them more encouragement in the form of some share in the fruits of their labor. "A young man," he said, "does not like to have to ask his father every time he wants twenty-five cents."

Good Local Market

Mr. Wood finds a large and excellent local market among the summer residents in his neighborhood for dairy products, fruits and vegetables. With regard to marketing in St. John, he believes the farmers could improve somewhat on present methods, although in his own case he attends personally to the marketing and finds that it pays to do so. He agrees that there are great opportunities along the river for much more of such farming as he and his sons do, and that with a more satisfactory steamer service for city people to summer along the river there would be a great growth of the local market for dairy and garden products, with necessarily larger returns for the farmers who were progressive enough to be able to deliver the goods.

Speaking of strawberries, it is worthy of note that Mrs. Wood is a niece of the late D. P. Wetmore, who introduced the cultivated berry in these parts. It is not surprising, therefore, that her boys take kindly to the cultivation of strawberries and other small larger fruits.

Game Country Near

Moose and deer are shot within half a dozen miles of Public Landing, and there are lakes where at this season of the year the hunter is likely to find wild fowl.

There was a little conversation about game at Chas. Parker's farm house the other night. Mr. Parker produced a couple of birch bark which he uses as a mouse call, and gave some illustrations of the call and the answer. There was talk also concerning bears and wild cats, and altogether it was a thrilling hour for those who are less familiar with the denizens of the woods than some of those who took part in the discussion. In fact, toward bed-time it became an act of heroism to go over the brow of the hill in the inky darkness to a cold spring for a pail of water. A wild cat might have leaped from a brush of the old pine, a bull moose might have broken through the clump of lilacs, or a bear rushed from a black-berry covert, or a whole army of wilderness folk might have crept out of the wooded hollows near at hand to prey upon the luckless invader of their territory.

A RIVER SUNRISE
Yonder behind the Bedford hills the morning sky brightens toward the sunrise. Brighter and brighter at that point the horizon glows, and presently the shining rim of the sun appears.

ing is often an effective instrument for reclaiming boys who would otherwise be in danger of becoming wastrels. It is satisfactory to note that in the schools of New Brunswick more attention is to be given to agricultural subjects, especially in the rural schools; but there is also room for a more general introduction of handwork, which, as the report to the London board of education shows, has so excellent an effect in stimulating all classes of students to do better work even in those subjects which do not involve handwork at all.

There is not a breath of wind. The surface of the river is almost without a ripple. As the sun rises higher, the whole aspect of the stream, the fields, the woods and hills changes momentarily, and the observer from the eminence behind Public Landing is entranced. With the first appearance of the sun the deep and wooded hollow to the right is vocal with the song of birds, welcoming the day. Yonder in the pastures cattle graze, and the rich tone of a bell is borne on the morning air. Presently the motor boats begin to move on the river, the whistle of a steamer many miles away is heard, and voices call in the valley. With the rising sun the strengthened for the tasks of another day.

The Canadian Northern Railway will not be far behind the Grand Trunk Pacific in reaching down to the port of St. John. Will St. John be able to handle such business when it comes? The St. Andrews Beacon observes that the closing of the sardine factory and Chamcook emphasizes the necessity of having the American market kept open to our weir fishermen. "If," it says, "they were wholly dependent on the local plant, they would be in a pretty hard position just now."

Words fail to describe the beauty of that sunrise, or the beauty of the St. John valley as it is revealed in ever new and changing aspects, in the day and in the night. Whether in strong sun or moon or starlight, or when the mists are on the hills or in the valley; whether the surface of the river is calm, or the whitecaps are tossing in the storm, one never wearies of its moods. There is about them all a charm which holds and prompts us to return again and again from the dusty streets of the town to the open spaces, where there is air to breathe and joy to win, and renewal of health to be had for the asking.

Now that the passage across the tracks at Haymarket Square by the street railway has been provided for by placing the necessary diamond crossing, there would seem to be some hope of the operation of the line to Ken's Corner at an early date. The directors of the company, however, have not yet been able to spare the time for a consideration of the request for the further extension of that line.

Those wonderful hills on the farther side. How they coquet with the lover of nature who looks upon them. At times they are bright, and near and friendly. At times they are cold and dark and distant, withdrawing themselves and sweeping gray garments of mist about their stately forms. But always they are so rich a background for the picture that the eye of the observer never wearies of gazing on a scene so fair.

The news of the death of Mr. Thos. Hetherington is heard with deep regret by a very wide circle of personal friends. Mr. Hetherington lived to a ripe old age, and during his life-time rendered good service to his native province. He was active in a great many hard fought political battles in Queens county, but the bitterness of party strife did not affect his kindly relations with those to whom he was opposed. Successful in his own life, he told all comers that New Brunswick offered splendid opportunities to the home seeker, and to all who are willing to devote intelligent energy to the development of its resources.

THE NEWLYWEDS AND THEIR BABY AT THE OPERA HOUSE MONDAY
The Newlyweds and Their Baby, the big composite of fun, girls and music that is to appear at the Opera House, Monday, carries its own special train of five coaches. The company number fifty people. The play is founded on George McManus' cartoons with a book by Seymour Brown, Nat D. Ayer and John W. Bratton. Frank Smithson staged the production. A pony ballet termed the "Eight Pouter Pigeons" wins instant favor. Sixteen tuneful numbers are interpolated in the piece.

At a meeting of the directors of the St. John Railway Co. yesterday afternoon a budget of routine business was disposed of. COMING WEDDINGS
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson, of St. Stephen, announce the engagement of Miss Eva R. McWha to Robert L. Nixon, the wedding to take place at an early date. Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Herbert, of Edmundston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha S. to G. Ambrose Sullivan, son of Postmaster Sullivan of St. Stephen, the marriage to take place late in September.

Handwork in schools is the subject of a recent report issued by the consultative committee of the London board of education. It deals particularly with secondary schools, but the general principles which it advocates are applicable to all schools. The evidence submitted shows convincingly the excellent results produced by manual training, and it is also shown that such training leads to improvement in the general efficiency of the school. A review of the report published in the Manchester Guardian gives one admirable illustration of improvement in general efficiency as follows: "Sir William Mather provided Chetnam's Hospital with a workshop and tools for wood and iron work. As it was doubtful whether the standard of the ordinary work could be maintained, if the boys spent some of their time in the workshop, only half the school was at first allowed to do handwork. Yet at the end of the year it was found that the boys who spent three hours a week in manual training, instead of falling behind the rest in the book subjects, had actually done better, especially in mathematics."

What are the wild ways saying? murmured the woman as she stood on the pier viewing the mighty main. "Nothing, Maria," remarked the man hoarsely. "They are like some people we know; they make a great deal of noise but don't say anything."

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4.

Edmund Bristol, M. P., for Centre Toronto, since 1905, was born in Nanaimo, Ontario, fifty-two years ago today. He has been long prominent in legal and sporting circles in Toronto. Joseph T. Clark, one of the most widely known Canadian working newspaper men and now on the editorial staff of the Toronto Star, is forty-seven years of age today. He is an ex-president of the Canadian Press Association and a writer and speaker of ability.

It—Col. W. P. Anderson, chief engineer of the Lighthouse Board of Canada, observes his sixty-second birthday today. He is a native of Levis, Que., and a civil engineer by profession. He is also an expert rifle shot and has commanded the Rifle team.

Ought To
By the aid of electricity, it says here, 5,000 photographs can be gotten out per second.

Partially Returned
Aly—You say she only partially returned your affection? Clarence—Yes; she returned all the love letters, but retained all the jewelry.

Wise Woman
She sets an awfully poor table and yet she always manages to have plenty of boarders. Well, she always engages the prettiest waitresses she can find.

The Bends
On a tree grew apples green. Little Willie, seeing them, With a grin, came on the scene And was bent on eating them.

Those Tomcats
"Each dog has his day," Is a proverb e'er true. So we add, if we may, "Each cat has his night."

Hitting the Six Hard
I always try to look like a gentleman, that's what the women occasionally had to walk across a plank high in the air. One of them would cross it on his hands and knees. He was frightened of walking on the plank? The foreman said to him once, "No, sir," replied the man, "I'm frightened I am of walking off it."

Never More
A well-known preacher was making a pedestrian excursion in a wild rural district. Feeling rather hungry he looked at his watch to see if it was nearly dinner time, but found the watch was stopped. Just then, happening to meet with a country boy he asked him, "What time is it, my lad?"

Off Not On
During furnace-cleaning operations in a large steel works the workmen occasionally had to walk across a plank high in the air. One of them would cross it on his hands and knees. He was frightened of walking on the plank? The foreman said to him once, "No, sir," replied the man, "I'm frightened I am of walking off it."

Back to the Beginning
What do you think of the new ball dresses? One bell hop asked the other in a broad street hotel the other night. "I suppose they are the very latest," replied the other looking for tips, "but they look to me like the earliest."

MORNING LOCALS
A horse backed over the embankment at the foot of Kennedy street yesterday afternoon and the firemen were called out to assist in extricating it from its position.

Nine carloads of excursionists to the harvest fields of the west left last night about 7:45 o'clock. The crowd gathered in the station earlier in the evening created a good deal of disturbance before they got aboard their train. The fire department was called out yesterday afternoon when a horse and coal cart, driven by James H. Kane, backed over the embankment at the foot of Kennedy street, but the assistance of the firemen was not required.

At a meeting of the directors of the St. John Railway Co. yesterday afternoon a budget of routine business was disposed of. The proposal of the city in regard to the proposed extension to Kane's corner came too late for discussion and another meeting will be held this week when the matter will be further considered.

The Right and Wrong Way to Sew
The professional dressmaker, like the stenographer, must sit most of the time during her daily duties and consequently it is very important that she maintain a correct posture of the body. This is also true in many kinds of work and study, such as the office, many of the professions, the shop and factory, and life in school and college. The reason that sitting is the position more indulged in is due to the fact that it is less tiresome than standing. The sitting position, as in sewing, although easier than standing, will after a few hours become very tiresome. When the chest is in a stooped condition the lungs, heart and other internal organs are crowded and restricted in their movements, causing one's work to become all the more tiresome. The legs should not be crossed, as this impedes the proper circulation of the blood in these parts of the body. Keep the body erect with the chair the proper height, in order that the feet may be placed solidly upon the floor; the chest should be held high and the trunk tilted slightly forward so that its weight may be properly distributed over the pelvic bones. The strength or power of endurance may be estimated of a man or woman with mathematical certainty; other things being equal, by the straightness of the back. If the correct posture is maintained while doing these various kinds of fancy work it will be found an excellent form of exercise, because those who keep the chest high and well expanded are not only less liable to pneumonia, tuberculosis and other affections of the throat and lungs than the careless, faulty-postured persons, but are more tenacious of life—Wm. J. Cromie in Woman's World for September.

the men are falling into line. For a time we had the greatest difficulty in interesting the men folks in BUTTON BOOTS, but now they are awaking to the fact that button boots are just as applicable for men as for women. It is true they never will supplant laced boots, but for special occasions they are certainly the style.

We are now showing them in all the leathers—Patent Colt, Russia Tan and Gun Metal Calf.

A particularly nice boot is a Dull Calf Button with a Dark Grey Cloth Top, made on the new Imperial recede toe last. Price $6.00 a pair.

SLIT SKIRTS BARRED BEFORE THE PRELATE

Guests at Reunion Abandon Styles of the Moment in Deference to Apostolic Delegate

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Chicago has a temporary surplus of stylish, above-the-knee skirts, slit skirts, peck-a-boob fabrics and low cut corsets. Scores of light and airy creations fashioned for a specific occasion will not serve the purpose at all, as it now develops, and all because the affair is to be greeted by the presence of a representative of Pope Pius X.

The Most Rev. J. Bonzano, Apostolic Delegate, is the man in deference to whom the beautiful gowns have been laid aside, and the occasion is the annual alumnae reunion of St. Mary of the Woods college and academy, near Terre Haute, Ind.

There were evening frocks for the reception, cut low. There were skirts with the saucy little bow through which might twinkle just a glimpse of a trim ankle, bearing, perhaps, a jewelled bracelet or a tiny watch. It was even whispered that perhaps a kneecap might be worn. And all these skirts were to be narrow, according to the prevailing mode.

These were the styles of yesterday. Today all is different. Close and long, ransacked, skirts of another year are being brought to light, and old shirt waists with high necks are being finished up for wear. Diamonds and pearls will be left at home and plumes will not wave in the breeze.

In a letter to the Chicago alumnae superior of the academy closed with these admonishing words:

Also we omitted to say it is our request that, through regard for the distinguished guests and your alma mater, no décollete, elaborate or narrow skirted gown be worn at the reception or any other function of the reunion.

Mgr. Bonzano was not aware that his trip to this part of the country was causing embarrassment among women.

In never cautioning these new fashions in wearing apparel," he said Sunday. "That is the duty of our pastor."

"Every good citizen, however, should realize that women's dress of today is decidedly immodest and is becoming more so each year. Women can be neat of appearance and stylishly dressed without adopting the narrow skirted gown as has been advanced by the fashion makers of Europe."

MORNING LOCALS

The examination of Charles Forting was completed before Magistrate Allingham in the Fairville police court yesterday afternoon. The prisoner is charged with having brutally assaulted Mrs. Sanford G. Kelly at Tilton's corner last Friday evening and sufficient evidence was found against him to commit him for trial, which will probably take place on the last Tuesday in September.

A special meeting of the Board of Health was called yesterday afternoon to discuss the smallpox situation. W. Manning Doherty, the chairman, presided and Dr. G. G. Melvin reported that the case was a very mild one and every precaution was being taken to keep the disease from spreading.

Thelma Gilman, a Russian girl, in the employ of Mrs. Colin Livingston, of Washington, D. C., at their summer home at Carter's Bay, has been made heir to the estate of a rich uncle living in Russia. The estate is valued at $800,000, and the girl will leave for Russia shortly to come into her fortune.

Is This Why English Beauties Are So Fair?

(From London Herald.)

Ever since the discovery that mercuric iodine was used to whiten the skin, it has been a substitute for toilet creams has grown rapidly. A perfect complexion can be maintained indefinitely if this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficial cleansing, clearing and preservative action is quickly apparent, and ladies who have been paying as high as a guinea a jar for "special cream" from beauty specialists, soon recognize that mercuric iodine was outwitted them all. It has become so popular that it can be obtained at all chemist shops in the British Isles. American druggists also have great demand for it, in original and powdered packages. The favorite way of using it to apply it, like cold cream, before retiring, washing it off in the morning.

The saxolite lotion for wrinkles and the facial contour has also become extremely popular. One ounce powdered saxolite is dissolved in one-half pint which hazel. Bathing the face in this has a splendid effect in erasing wrinkles and improving contour.

GALLANT FIGHT IN BEATING OFF THE DERVISHES' ATTACK

"Hell on Earth," Writes Correspondent of British Combat With Mullah's Men

London, Sept. 4.—The first detailed description of the terrible fight between the Somaliland Camel Corps and the Mullah's Dervishes, which took place on August 9, is contained in a graphic report published in the Daily Express. Lieutenant Dunn, who was in command after Lieutenant Corfield had been killed at the commencement of the battle, writes that the Camel Corps all told, 112 strong, went to reconnoitre in a large tract which had been looted by the Dervishes, Corfield, on the morning of the 9th, lined his men up.

The Dervishes numbered a thousand. Fighting began soon after the first things became a perfect hell on earth.

Corfield was shot and Summers wounded.

In the end 32 men were killed and 23 wounded, and there were only 26 able fighting men left to combat a force estimated at 1,200. "All that saved us," says the correspondent, "was that their ammunition gave out, and forty-six of their camels and nine ponies were shot. "In a last mad rush they brought up a body of spearmen who must inevitably have finished us, but for our maxim gun, which was going for half an hour, its deadly shots steadily disabling the Dervishes, though some of them got right up to our midst. Twice we thought they were bound to get at us, but they fled at the critical moment. Their losses, which have been underestimated, were 200 killed and 200 wounded. There were 100 dead on one side position only. Summers believed in a most plucky manner, never giving way, though he was three times wounded in the arm and twice in his legs."

The Truth At Last

"Doctor, I wish you would tell me as a medical man, if you know of anything that will make the hair grow on this bald spot?" "My dear sir, if I could answer that question in the affirmative do you suppose my forehead would extend from my eyebrows to the back of my neck?"—J. K.

LOST HER NERVE, TOOK ONLY ONE POISON TABLET

Young Girl Sought Death When Wedding Money Was Stolen

New York, Sept. 4.—Miss Letitia Carillo, a 19-year-old prospective bride, attempted suicide by poison when she discovered the money for her wedding trousseau had been stolen. She is in a serious condition in Bellevue Hospital.

The girl's aunt, Mrs. Carmelo Rubino, with whom she lives, at 32 Grand street, had been saving the money for the wedding, which was to take place next Christmas. She had saved $29, which she wrapped in a handkerchief and then placed in her trunk. One morning this week she looked in the trunk and noted that the handkerchief was not in its usual place.

"Somebody has stolen the money," she remarked to her niece.

On her return, Miss Letitia greeted her with a laugh. "I found the handkerchief all right," she said, "but it has only $10 in it."

"Very odd," said Mrs. Rubino, beginning a search which ended unaccountably.

In the course of the afternoon friends called. One of them remarked to Mrs. Rubino that the girl was lying on the bed in an adjoining room seemingly ill. The Rubinos went in and found four white tablets on the floor.

The Rubinos, who deny they had accused the girl of theft, questioned her. She said she had intended to take several tablets kept by Mrs. Rubino, but lost her nerve, and took only one.

This has been the greatest year the stores of Philadelphia have ever known. Their crowds have been larger, their sales have amounted to more money, and there has been a wider reach in their patronage.

Down Puffs recovered and made perfectly new.

LINEN SHOWER
Friends of Miss Maud Crosby last evening gathered at the home of her uncle, Charles Rogers, in Millford, and tendered her a linen shower by way of a matrimonial event of the near future. A variety of very pleasing remembrances was received by her and she was also the recipient of hearty congratulations. A pleasant time was spent by all in dancing, singing and music. Mrs. Brown, of Montreal, presided at the piano.

DR. T. D. WALKER TO READ PAPER IN OTTAWA ON THE COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

Conference of Canadian Political Science Association Opening Today in Capital

The first annual conference of the Canadian Political Science Association opens today in Ottawa and will close on Saturday. At the closing session the association will be formally organized, a constitution adopted and officers elected. There is a local interest in this conference because the question of city government is one of the subjects to be discussed, and there will be a short paper by Dr. T. D. Walker of this city on the commission plan of government in St. John.

The first meeting of the new association will be held this evening. There will be an opening address by Premier Borden, after which Dr. Adam Shortt will speak on the aims of the association, and Dr. Andrew Macphail of Montreal will deliver an address. Among subjects to be discussed tomorrow will be: The Housing of our Immigrant Workers, Agricultural Credit in the West, the Role of the Middleman, Canada's Federal Constitution, Canada's Balance of Trade, the Working of the Lloyd George Insurance Act, City Government and the Municipal Survey. The various subjects will be introduced by eminent speakers, and among those who will talk on commission government will be John MacVicar of Des Moines, and Professor Munro of Harvard.

A KING SQUARE INCIDENT THAT SHOULD HAVE HAD POLICE COURT SEQUEL

Would-be-mashers have been the source of a good deal of annoyance at an incident of this week.

Three ladies, evidently visitors, sat on a bench near the fountain on Tuesday evening to enjoy the fresh air. Two young men came and sat on the bench such that the ladies were compelled to move to another part of the square. The men followed them, and a second time they were compelled to move. One still followed, and at this a citizen interfered, and threatened to have him arrested. This ended the annoyance but one cannot help but wish that a later chapter of the story might be told in the police court.

MORE THREE DECKERS BUT THEY WILL BE OF BETTER CONSTRUCTION

Several Applications Received by Inspector Since Referendum—Law to Be Strictly Enforced

Since the defeat of the amendment to the building regulations, several applications for permission to erect three story wooden buildings have been received by the building inspector and are now under consideration.

While permission will be given those cases where the specifications comply with the regulations in other respects as well as a closer watch will be kept on the construction of such buildings and the provisions of the law will be strictly enforced.

In the past numerous three story buildings have been built in various parts of the city with a framework of only two by four inch scantling which is not regarded as strong enough for safety. The regulations provide that all wooden buildings of more than twenty feet in height shall be of "post and girder" construction with framework of four by eight inch timbers. This method provides for not only uprights of that size, but also that the uprights shall be connected and braced with pieces of similar dimensions, thus giving a framework strong enough to support the weight of the building and its contents. Under the method frequently used the upper floors were supported only on the edge of one inch boards nailed to the uprights, the enforcement of the law will mean that there will be substantial timber support for each floor.

Not only will the construction according to the law give greater structural strength, but it will also make the fire risk less, as the openings in the walls will be blocked at each floor, thus helping to confine the flames, in case of fire, to the story in which the fire breaks out.

Investigations into their standing had been eminently satisfactory and they had been generally commended for fair and square dealing. He thought this should be cleared up before the contracts were closed.

Commissioner Agar said he did not believe the story. He thought all the work would be done satisfactorily from the Warren company. The company only wanted to be sure that the whole work would be done satisfactorily on their share of the work. The price paid to the Warren company for their last work was public property, and any contractor might estimate on this basis. He suggested a letter from John Fellabee, the Warren's representative, saying that he had not quoted prices for the surface on any contract.

Com. McLellan said he understood Mr. George had made the statement that Mr. Fellabee had quoted figures in his bid. He asked if any effort had been made to ascertain the truth of this.

Com. Wigney said that Mr. George had told of negotiating with Mr. Fellabee regarding the matter and yesterday he had told the Mr. Fellabee had quoted him a price of $1.88.

Road Engineer Hatfield said that he had written Mr. George in the presence of Mr. Fellabee if the latter had quoted him a price for the surface work and Mr. George had said that he had asked for a quotation and Mr. Fellabee had told him that if he were a spender he could get all the information he needed about their work at City Hall.

The motion awarding the contracts was then put and carried.

Street Railway Extension
Com. Agar presented a letter from the St. John Railway Co., Ltd., saying that the directors would meet him at any time to discuss the extension of their line out the Marsh Road. He suggested that the directors be invited to meet the commissioners at City Hall at 11.30 o'clock on Friday morning.

This was agreed to. Mayor Frink asked if provision could not be made for more band concerts before the season closed.

Com. Agar said that the appropriation was expended. If there were any more concerts each of the fire bands, which had agreed with the city's provisions should be given an opportunity. He moved that arrangements be made for five additional concerts. This was carried.

Com. McLellan submitted tenders for coal for the fire department as follows: 35 tons and City Fuel Co., $8.00 per ton; J. S. Gibbon Co., $8.10; 4 tons chestnut, City Fuel Co., $7.75; J. S. Gibbon & Co., $7.90. The contracts were awarded to the City Fuel Co.

Com. McLellan presented bills for a Monitor nozzle for use on the aerial fire truck, cost is $198, and other equipment for the same, including hose, lanterns and gloves costing $169.10. Payment was authorized.

The committee rose and reported.

City Bonds.
Mayor Frink remarked that he had received many inquiries from would-be purchasers of city bonds. The sale of city bonds in small lots had been attempted several years ago, but had not received much response, and he was glad to see a change in public sentiment. Hardly a day passed but complaints were made to him by people who had invested their hard-earned savings in worthless stocks and bonds; the sale of city bonds would give these people a good safe investment and might save much money which might otherwise be lost.

Com. Agar approved the suggestion and suggested that an advertising campaign be carried on to educate the public regarding the value of civic investments.

The meeting then adjourned.

MOTOR PARTY
Visitors to the city yesterday were Dr. D. J. and Mrs. Hennessey and Mr. and Mrs. J. McNulty of Bangor, who were registered at the Royal. Their party were on their return home after a motor trip to Halifax and came to St. John on the steamer St. George after a trip through the Annapolis valley. Dr. Hennessey is a former resident of Westmorland county and has many friends there besides in St. John. He left his home there more than twenty years ago, and has done well in the states.
