TRURO MURDER CASE COMES UP MONDAY

Perry Brought Into Court Today Asks Postponement TO SECURE COUNSEL

Detective Hanrahan of Halifax is Working on the Case in the Interests of the Crown—Prisoner Said to Have Come From New York

Truro, N. S., Sept. 23.—The preliminary hearing in the Wright murder case was opened this morning before Stipendiary Magistrate Crowe. Edward J. Perry was in the prisoner's dock and all eyes were centered on the man who is charged with Sunday's terrible murder. Perry appeared to be a man of between 35 and 40 years of age and grey at the temples. He has dark brown hair and with four days' growth of beard has anything but a good appearance. When asked by Magistrate Crowe if he had obtained counsel Perry rose in the dock and said "Sir, when a man is charged with a serious crime, as I am, I think he should be given a chance to try and get counsel and I ask you to postpone this hearing and give me a chance to get some one to defend me."

He discussed at length the objections raised to organic union, and cited the success of previous unions in the Presbyterian and other churches. He concluded by moving that the Presbytery approve the basis of union submitted by the general assembly. The Rev. Dr. Mackie, Kingston, criticised the basis of union. Six-Year Old Child Crushed Under Wheels of a Train

River Herbert, Sept. 22.—George Delierro, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Delierro, met with a sad ending yesterday afternoon at River Herbert Station. Dr. McKie, Avonmouth, was summoned to hold a coroner's inquest in the absence of Dr. Monroe, and empanelled a jury to hold the inquest. The verdict was to the effect that the young lad came to his death through purely accidental causes. His parents are Belgians and only lately came to this country. There is much sympathy felt for the bereaved parents.

Chavez Made the Perilous Flight Over Simplon Pass

Wins $20,000

Dumosedola, Italy, Sept. 23.—To George Chavez, the Peruvian aviator, belongs the honor of being the first to fly across the Alps. The daring feat was accomplished today in an attempt to win the prize of $20,000 offered by the Italian aviation society of Milan for a flight from Brig, Switzerland, to Milan. Chavez, however, was unable to complete the trip having sustained painful injuries when he alighted here. His machine was overturned and he was buried in the wreckage. It is not believed, however, that his injuries are serious. As the air man was seen to be slowly descending a great crowd gathered. Slowly and gracefully he neared the surface and was only about thirty feet above the ground when a gust of wind caught and overturned the machine. It fell heavily carrying the aviator beneath it. Chavez was pinned under the motor and painfully hurt. He had fainted on striking the ground and was bleeding profusely when released from the wreckage. The machine was ruined. Arriving at Dumosedola he had left the hardest part of his journey behind him, having escaped the high peaks and the jumble of rocky gorges on this side of the summit. The remaining distance to this city is less difficult, but takes the aviator over Lake Maggiore, and a succession of plains to the goal. The distance from Brig, Switzerland, to Milan is 72 miles, and a prize was for the aviator who should make the first flight, starting from a table land 800 feet above sea level at the head of the Rhône valley near Brig. In addition to reaching a height that would bring him over the Simplon Pass, he was in doing what he might suffer severely from the cold; the aviator was required to guide his flight over wide channels, notably the Gorge of Yvette, where a safe descent would be quite impossible and an accident must mean certain death. Aviation experts had predicted freely that the only alternative to a successful flight across the Alps was the death of the aviator. Signal flags along the Napoleon road made the way as far as Dumosedola and the rest of the course was indicated by flags and lamps anchored on Lake Maggiore. The summit of the pass at Monsera was illuminated with oxyhydrogen lights and a captive balloon showed the finish line at the aerodrome here. Wayman, the American aviator, first attempted the flight leaving the table land at Brig at 1.10 o'clock this afternoon. Later word was received here that he had descended after being in the air four minutes. The weather for the competition was excellent. The morning opened clear and the surface and the haze that had gathered on the mountain top was early blown away. By noon the wind had died down.

LUMBER CUT LIGHT ON SOUTHWEST MIRAMICHI

(Fredericton Mail)

Michael Welsh, the well-known Miramichi lumberman, who was in the city this week, says that operations on the Southwest Miramichi will be considerably curtailed. Mr. Welsh and the Lynch Company will operate on the North Branch and it is understood that the Miramichi Lumber Company will cut logs from the lands of the New Brunswick Railway Company burned over two years ago.

Mr. Welsh says that when the Transcontinental Railway is completed and in operation, it will mean a considerable saving to lumber operators on the Southwest Miramichi, and tributaries, in the matter of getting men and supplies into the woods. At present Mr. Welsh totes his supplies in from Bristol, but when the railway is completed he will send them by rail to a point within a few miles of his camps. Most of his men for logging and stream-driving are hired in Northumberland County, and are sent to the camps by way of Fredericton and Bristol, the trip consuming the best part of three days. When the new railroad is completed it will be an easy matter for them to leave home in the morning and be in camp the same afternoon and evening. This will mean a substantial saving in time as well as in the cost of transportation.

Fined For Trapping Salmon

Chatham World:—The river is alive with fish, to judge from the numerous salmon that jump out of water in their play, and the temptation to catch some of them is more than many riverside residents can resist. There are many fish traps along the banks. Traps are put out at night and taken in at daylight. Overseer Abbott caught John McElmna, of Lower Nappan, bringing thirty-six salmon to town for sale, and confiscated the lot. The fisherman was haled to the police court and was ordered to pay $28.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

SOUL AGAINST FORCE

By Victor Hugo

From chapter 4 of the novel "Ninety Three," Translation of Frank Lee Benedict.

THEY heard a noise unlike anything usually heard. The cry and the noise came from inside the vessel. One of the carronades of the battery, a 24-pounder, had become detached. This, perhaps, is the most formidable of ocean events. Nothing more terrible can happen to a war vessel at sea and under full sail. A cannon which breaks its moorings becomes abruptly some indescribable supernatural beast. What is to be done? A tempest ceases, a cyclone passes, a wind goes down, a broken mast is replaced, a leak is stopped, a fire put out; but what shall be done with this enormous brute of bronze?

All of a sudden, in that kind of unapproachable circuit wherein the escaped cannon bounded, a man appeared, with an iron bar in his hand. It was the author of the catastrophe, the chief gunner, guilty of negligence and the cause of the accident, the master of the carronade.

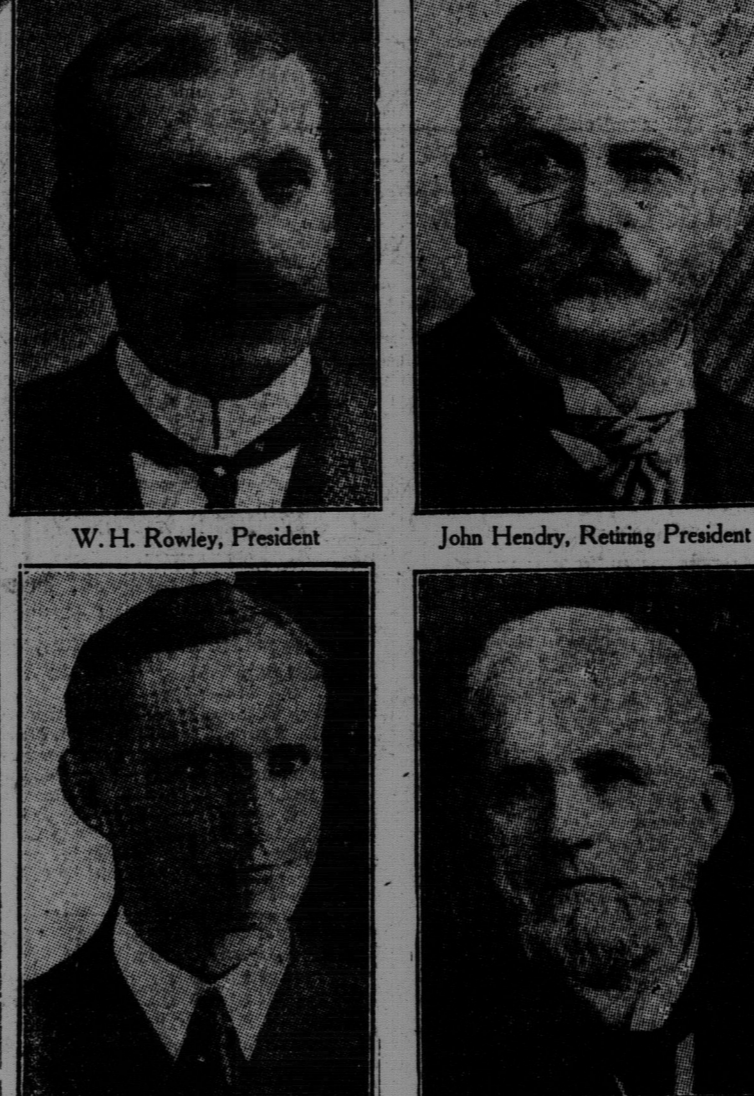

Then a wild exploit commenced; a Titanic spectacle: the combat of the gun with the gunner; the battle of matter and intelligence; the duel of an animate and the inanimate. On one side force, on the other a soul. A soul! a strange thing! one would have thought the cannon had one also, but a soul of hate and rage. This sightless thing seemed to have eyes. The monster appeared to watch the man. There was cunning in this mass. It chose its moment. It was a kind of gigantic insect of iron, having the will of a demon. At times this colossal grasshopper would strike the low ceiling of the battery, then fall back on its four wheels like a tiger on its four claws, and commence again to dart upon the man. He, supple, agile, adroit, writhed like an adder in guarding against all its lightning-like movements.

Such things cannot last long. The cannon seemed to say all at once: "Come! there must be an end to this!" and it stopped. The man had taken refuge at the foot of the ladder, a few steps from an old man who was present. The gunner held his handspike at rest. The cannon seemed to perceive him, and without taking the trouble to turn round, fell back on the man with the promptness of an axe-stroke. The man if driven against the side was lost. All the crew gave a cry.

But the old passenger, till then immovable, sprang forward, more rapidly than all those wild rapidities. He had seized a bale of false assignats, and at the risk of being crushed, he had succeeded in throwing it between the wheels of the cannon. The bale had the effect of a plug. A pebble stops a bulk; a branch of a tree diverts an avalanche. The cannon stumbled. The gunner, in his turn, taking advantage of this terrible juncture, plunged his iron bar between the spokes of one of the hind wheels. The cannon stopped. The man, using his bar as a lever, made it rock. The heavy mass turned over, with the noise of a bell tumbling down, and the man, rushing headlong, attached the slip-knot of the gun-tackle to the bronze neck of the conquered monster. It was finished. The man had vanquished. The ant had subdued the mastodon; the pigmy had made a prisoner of the thunderbolt.

THE CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

W. H. Rowley Elected President—The Retiring President Opposed to Reciprocity With the United States

W. H. Rowley, President
John Hendry, Retiring President

Gilbert M. Murray, General Secretary
Vancover, B. C., Sept. 22.—The result of the election of officers of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association this morning was as follows: President, W. H. Rowley, Halifax (Que.); vice-president, Nathaniel Curry, Montreal; British Columbia—Vice-president, T. R. Rogers; Quebec, S. N. Dougal; Nova Scotia, J. P. Edwards; Manitoba, T. R. Deacon; New Brunswick,

Geo. Booth, General Treasurer
T. S. Simms; Prince Edward Island, Hon. S. L. Hassard; Alberta and Saskatchewan, W. H. Clark; treasurer, Geo. Booth.

The retiring president, John Hendry, of Victoria, in addressing the convention, said regarding the proposal for reciprocity negotiations with the United States:—"I desire to emphasize the contrast between the reciprocity situation as it presents itself today and as it presented itself forty years ago. At that time it was Canada who came forward as the supplicant, anxious to secure a market in the United States for her natural products. Today it is the United States who comes forward as the supplicant, anxious to secure a market in Canada for her manufactured products. Canada today stands in no need of reciprocity with the United States. This morning the association convened in the board of trade rooms because preparations were in progress in Dominion hall for the grand banquet which closed the convention this evening. Ewing Buchan, president of the board of trade in welcoming the manufacturers, took occasion to say that in Industrial Canada the association monthly, it had been suggested that British Columbia was anti-Canadian in regard to the companies' act, he thought this due to a misunderstanding. In British Columbia they had the companies act for many years. An amendment was brought forward in the legislature and passed before the business men were aware. The board of trade and other organizations discussed it, and a deputation went to Victoria to interview the attorney-general who said he could not alter the act but invited suggestions for an amendment. As a matter of fact the British Columbia companies' act was less stringent than in other provinces. Mr. Buchan suggested a discussion of the act by the association and that each provincial legislature be approached with uniformity of such acts to encourage inter-provincial trade throughout the dominion. Atwell Fleming read the parliamentary report, Hunter Read, the insurance report, and Mr. Walsh read the report on railway transportation and all were passed, after resolution of thanks the convention rose and the delegates visited New Westminster this afternoon.

TOWN PLANNING

Mr. Henry Vivian, M. P., one of the Labour members of the British parliament, gave some startling statements in a recent address at Victoria, B. C., on the effect of slum life upon the physical and mental development of the people.

However, against this dark picture of conditions in the slums, Mr. Vivian was able to place another of more cheering aspect. It set forth what is being done in the work of town planning.

TO RAZE TAVERN 600 YEARS OLD

Modern Improvements Sweep Away "Ye Olde Whyte Harte," a Landmark of Ancient London

London, Sept. 16—Historic London continues to make way for modern London. The latest sacrifice to the wreckers is to be "Ye Olde Whyte Harte," which stands at the Holborn end of Drury Lane and whose claim to be the oldest tavern in the metropolis has passed unchallenged.

The ancient sign over the doorway of the unpretentious building bears the words "Established 1272."

Records in the British Museum tell that "the 'Whyte Harte' stood in Drury Lane a century before a certain tournament was held by Richard II. in Smithfield in 1389.

The tavern's name then recorded as having stood on the edge of Mary-le-bone Forest, where roamed the wild boar and the red deer. The "Whyte Harte," appears in a plan of London published in 1669. In Rowland Dobie's "History of St. Giles-in-the-Fields," published in 1820, there is a page referring to the ancient deed by which old St. Giles' Hospital made an exchange of estates to King Henry VIII. The property is described as "one messuage called the 'Whyte Harte,' with eighteen acres of pasture, to the same messuage belonging. It stood at the N. E. corner of Aldwych or Holborn end of Drury Lane, and was an inn as lately as 1729 (see view of London, 1708) and Stuype's Stow, in whose plan it is shown under the name of the 'Whyte Harte,' 1729."

Nell Gwynn was born in the vicinity, while Jack Sheppard and Jonathan Wild were one time residents in the neighborhood. It was in an adjoining thoroughfare that Wild established his famous academy for training thieves, it being recorded that in Macklin street "he equipped 40 highwaymen, 120 footpads, 100 housebreakers, 83 shoplifters and 162 pickpockets." It also is contended that it was in this tavern that the two Frenchmen who brought the plague from Holland in 1664 found hospitality.

W. F. M. S. Society Moncton Sept. 22—The fourth and closing session of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church was held today and much business of importance was dealt with. The following are the changes in the list of officers: Corresponding secretary of Mission band, Mrs. J. Putnam, Halifax. The following were added to the board of management: Mrs. Owen Campbell, Mrs. R. Dawson, Mrs. Roome, Miss J. Falconer. The total membership of bands, Sydney Presbytery figures not being included is 225; membership, 5,798; total amount raised for foreign and home missions, $4,848. Mrs. J. H. Thomson, St. John, moved seconded by Mrs. Blackwood, Halifax, that the society be called the "Women's Foreign and Home Missionary Society." This motion carried. Mrs. R. Cruikshank, secretary of the young people's work, conducted a conference on mission band work. An excellent paper was read by Mrs. Strathairn, of Summerside, on The Boy Question. Charles Cunningham, who for two years was teaching in Trinidad, gave an interesting address on the work in that field. This evening a public meeting was held and an interesting address given on home missions by Rev. Dr. J. W. McMillan, Halifax. After the public meeting the closing business session was held. On motion of Mrs. Thomson, St. John, it was decided to devote $30 to the traveling expenses of the board when necessary. Mrs. T. Hunter Boyd suggested that the annual report be published in one edition of the Messenger. This was referred to the board. At this afternoon's meeting Mrs. Carmichael, New Glasgow, was unanimously re-elected president. The place of meeting next year was not considered, that being by invitation and decided by the executive. The estate of Geo. The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON What is there about marriage that makes folks forget they were human once, too? The pretty little girl with the big married sister wants me to write on that. She says she's sure that there's lots of young folks like herself who'd be pleased to know why it is that when their sisters and girl friends get married and settle down, no matter how desperately flirtations, how darsingly indiscreet and convention-hating and fun-loving they were before the ceremony, after it they almost invariably develop into Malame Grandes. "It's had enough about it," she says, "but after the babies begin to come it's worse. Then they're hopeless." "Before my sister was married, she used to tell me all her little affairs and flirtations and I used to sympathize and be interested, and try to smooth things over when she needed it—keep mother from worrying when she came home from canoeing or motoring, later than mother liked—and cheer her up and help her out when she got into any silly little scrapes. "Well, by and by she found the right man and was married and settled down and began to raise a family and in the meantime I grew up and began to have flirtations and love affairs of my own. "And, of course, at first I took them straight to sister. I thought she'd sympathize with me and help me out when I needed it. "Did she? Guess not. My dear, she was shocked at the thinnest little things. Instead of helping me out or smoothing things over for me, she was always telling mother that I ought not to do this or that—all things that she always did before she was married. Once she was at the house when I came home from a canoe trip an hour later than I expected and instead of telling mother that it took a long while to get the canoe and the cushions put away, and that the canoe are so apt to be late, she worried worse than mother did and had mother all worked up. "And then she thinks it's so terrible to be frivolous and wanting to trot about all the time. As if she wasn't twice as bad before she met Jack. "And then, before she was married sister always used to be so ready to stand up for a girl when anyone was running her down. She said one ought always to give a girl the benefit of the doubt unless you absolutely knew something against her. And now she is just as quick to be suspicious, and just as unwilling to believe that a girl is good, in spite of appearances, as anyone. "And it isn't just sister, either. She's such a splendid girl in most ways that I thought maybe that was a saving fault that she had developed to keep her from being too good to live. By when two of the girls that I chummed around with were married and changed the same way, I saw it was just the fatal ceremony. "Why is it, do you suppose? "Does it have to happen, or is there any way of dodging it?" I wonder.

RECORDER SKINNER DIED LAST NIGHT Only a Few Weeks—Was a Prominent Figure in Public Life and Fraternal Circles The news of the death of Hon. C. N. Skinner, which occurred last night, will cause a thrill of regret not only in the city where he was one of the best known citizens, but throughout the province generally. He had been taken ill about three weeks ago, but had been improving and had been down stairs in his house on several occasions. On Wednesday, however, a change for the worse took place, and he continued to grow weaker and passed away last night about 9.30. Besides Mrs. Skinner, his brother, A. O. Skinner and the two sons of deceased who live here, were present when the end came. For considerably more than half a century he had been prominent in the province in one way or another. He ran his first election for the legislative assembly of New Brunswick when quite a young man, and held the office of solicitor-general of the province at the time of confederation. For many years he was judge of probate for the city and county of St. John, resigning that office in 1886 to accept the recordership of the city. He was a member of the dominion parliament from 1887 to 1892. The late Recorder Skinner was an eloquent speaker. He was prominent in the I. O. O. F., having been one of the oldest members of Pioneer Lodge, and the holder of a veteran's jewel. He had held many of the highest offices in the order, being a past noble grand. He was also very high in the councils of the Orange order, and was always in demand for the celebration of Guy Fawkes' day and July 12. Recorder Skinner is survived by five sons and two daughters. They are: Sherwood Skinner, barrister at law, who was associated with his father, in the Pugsley building, Charles, of New York; Waldo W., of Montreal; Harold, of New York; Dr. Stewart Skinner, Charlotte street; Miss Grace, at home, and Mrs. E. Gordon, in New Westminster (B. C.). There are also several brothers and sisters: Miss Mary Manning Skinner, Miss B. Skinner, Mrs. A. Robinson, Mrs. E. Pike and A. O. Skinner. The funeral will be held from the family residence, on Saturday afternoon at 3.30. The following sketch appears in the Biographical Review of New Brunswick: Hon. Charles N. Skinner, K. C., ex-judge of probate for the county of St. John, and recorder for the city of St. John, was born in this city March 12, 1833, the son of Samuel Skinner, whose father came from New England to the province just before the revolutionary war. Samuel Skinner was born in Nova Scotia and during his active life was a leading builder and contractor of St. John. He married Phoebe Sherwood, daughter of Robert Goding and granddaughter of Captain Goding, a Loyalist, who commanded a company of dragoons through the American revolution, and afterwards emigrated with his family to the maritime provinces. Charles N. Skinner received his elementary education in the schools of St. John, and after studying law with Charles W. Stockton, was admitted an attorney in 1858, and in 1860 was called to the bar. He began the practice of his profession in the city of his birth, where he afterwards won an excellent reputation as a clear-headed lawyer, prudent in counsel and devoted to the interests of his clients. For a great many years he was active in politics and from 1861 until 1868 was a member of the legislative assembly. In August, 1867, he was appointed solicitor-general, an office which he ably filled until March, 1868, when he was made judge of probate for St. John county. During the same year he was also appointed queen's counsel by the provincial government, and in 1833 was thus honored by the dominion government. In 1867 Mr. Skinner, who had previously resigned his position as

A meeting of the St. John County Temperance Federation was held last night in the W. C. T. U. rooms, German street. Nothing was given out after the meeting, but it was said that another meeting would be held in the same place early next week, when plans would be considered for an active campaign in the cause of temperance. Thousands of people from all over the state assembled in Augusta last night to take part in the celebrations in honor of the election of the Democratic governor, Mayor Plaisted, of Augusta. Speeches were given by him, and by others in his party, and all were loudly cheered by the assemblage.

Skinner, which occurred last night, will cause a thrill of regret not only in the city where he was one of the best known citizens, but throughout the province generally. He had been taken ill about three weeks ago, but had been improving and had been down stairs in his house on several occasions. On Wednesday, however, a change for the worse took place, and he continued to grow weaker and passed away last night about 9.30.

Hon. C. N. Skinner away last night about 9.30. Besides Mrs. Skinner, his brother, A. O. Skinner and the two sons of deceased who live here, were present when the end came. For considerably more than half a century he had been prominent in the province in one way or another. He ran his first election for the legislative assembly of New Brunswick when quite a young man, and held the office of solicitor-general of the province at the time of confederation. For many years he was judge of probate for the city and county of St. John, resigning that office in 1886 to accept the recordership of the city. He was a member of the dominion parliament from 1887 to 1892.

The late Recorder Skinner was an eloquent speaker. He was prominent in the I. O. O. F., having been one of the oldest members of Pioneer Lodge, and the holder of a veteran's jewel. He had held many of the highest offices in the order, being a past noble grand. He was also very high in the councils of the Orange order, and was always in demand for the celebration of Guy Fawkes' day and July 12. Recorder Skinner is survived by five sons and two daughters. They are: Sherwood Skinner, barrister at law, who was associated with his father, in the Pugsley building, Charles, of New York; Waldo W., of Montreal; Harold, of New York; Dr. Stewart Skinner, Charlotte street; Miss Grace, at home, and Mrs. E. Gordon, in New Westminster (B. C.). There are also several brothers and sisters: Miss Mary Manning Skinner, Miss B. Skinner, Mrs. A. Robinson, Mrs. E. Pike and A. O. Skinner. The funeral will be held from the family residence, on Saturday afternoon at 3.30.

The following sketch appears in the Biographical Review of New Brunswick: Hon. Charles N. Skinner, K. C., ex-judge of probate for the county of St. John, and recorder for the city of St. John, was born in this city March 12, 1833, the son of Samuel Skinner, whose father came from New England to the province just before the revolutionary war. Samuel Skinner was born in Nova Scotia and during his active life was a leading builder and contractor of St. John. He married Phoebe Sherwood, daughter of Robert Goding and granddaughter of Captain Goding, a Loyalist, who commanded a company of dragoons through the American revolution, and afterwards emigrated with his family to the maritime provinces. Charles N. Skinner received his elementary education in the schools of St. John, and after studying law with Charles W. Stockton, was admitted an attorney in 1858, and in 1860 was called to the bar. He began the practice of his profession in the city of his birth, where he afterwards won an excellent reputation as a clear-headed lawyer, prudent in counsel and devoted to the interests of his clients. For a great many years he was active in politics and from 1861 until 1868 was a member of the legislative assembly. In August, 1867, he was appointed solicitor-general, an office which he ably filled until March, 1868, when he was made judge of probate for St. John county. During the same year he was also appointed queen's counsel by the provincial government, and in 1833 was thus honored by the dominion government. In 1867 Mr. Skinner, who had previously resigned his position as
