THAW IS INSANE; BACK TO ASYLUM

lative was undoubtedly insane, though as to them the evidence is not clear, but there had been insanity in the Thaw ancestral lines not common to the prisoner's own.

As a child he was physically weak and puny, exceedingly nervous and abnormally wasteful. Older, he was subject to violent spells amounting almost to paroxysms, without any naturally adequate cause. He attended various schools for different periods from the age of six years upwards, but made little progress in study.

CASTRO'S MILLIONS WIPED OUT

Ex-Dictator's Fortune Reduced to Nothing by Systematic Spoilation.

Caracas, Aug. 11.—The much heralded appeal of Cipriano Castro to the Venezuelan Congress, which, after long recess, was referred by Castro's friends to a special committee for report, has died a natural death in the committee room, and instead of the desired report, the curious ex-presidential message has been archived.

Cipriano Castro

The last spasmodic effort of the few friends of the late dictator to awaken some sentiment for their fallen idol has failed, and the ex-patriate in Santander has not even had the satisfaction of having his name mentioned in the Venezuelan newspapers, as must have been his wish.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—A special dispatch received here from Teheran says that Mohammed Ali, the deposed Shah, who is in Persia, will leave the country on Aug. 15, and that the young Shah, who is his favorite son, is downcast at the prospect of a separation from his parents.

GEORGE S. CUSHING ON WITNESS STAND TODAY

St. John River Commission Resumes Sitings Here—He Tells About the Conducting of His Business—Mr. Fellows Takes Spirited Part—Stetson, Cutler & Co. and Their Nationality.

The sitting of the St. John River Commission was resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 12.—(Special)—The sitting of the St. John River Commission was resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Jones withdrew the question in order not to detain the session. Mr. Cushing said that Stetson Cutler & Co. obtained their supply of lumber from the State of Maine, and above Van Buren on the main St. John, and on the Allegash. Geo. and Fred Cutler have resided in Boston for a number of years, and John Cutler has lived in New York for fourteen years. They carry on a commission lumber business in both of these cities. Their business interests in the States are great.

Mr. Cushing called

George S. Cushing, lumber manufacturer of the business from his father who had a mill at Union Point. It was a two gang mill cutting from 100,000 to 120,000 feet a day which would mean approximately 30,000,000 feet a year. The lumber was taken mostly from Maine, the Allegash river, and floated from the Fredericton boom down the St. John river in practically the same manner as today.

The sequel of this story of "high finance" was the sudden arrival of a few days ago of a German citizen named Theodore Hauer with the million dollars of cigarette shares in his pocket and he claims that these belong to him by virtue of purchase from General Castro. He has engaged eminent counsel and will bring action against the perpetrators of the alleged illegal reorganization which "froze out" these shares of his.

Mr. Jones—"Did you take any steps to place a man at the head of the St. John to look after the logs for the downriver manufacturers?"

Mr. Cushing said he had written in 1908 respecting operations in connection with logs being piled up to that date. The letter was addressed to the St. John Lumber Company at Van Buren. No reply was received to this letter, so a second was sent, and a response received apologizing for not answering the first letter. He did not receive payment at any time for logs manufactured at Van Buren by the St. John Lumber Company.

Orinoco Shares Gone

What has been done with Castro's Orinoco stock in an exact repetition of the process used to him from the company which controls the monopoly of navigation of the Orinoco River and by which his large block of stock was made worthless.

Mr. Cushing said he sent John McAllister to look after the interests of the company at the sorting place, and he had submitted a written report as to what had been done there. It was produced as evidence by Mr. Jones, but on Mr. Fellows' objection was not received.

Mr. Jones—"Do you know where the delay of logs took place in 1907?"

Mr. Cushing—"At Van Buren."

GREAT WRONG DONE SISTER, SAYS SCOTT

Trial of Mrs. Castle to Bring Out Story, Says Her Brother

New York, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Mary Scott Castle, wife of the late Captain Scott, who was killed in the Waldorf-Astoria last week, her brother, Captain Henry H. Scott, of the Coast Artillery, makes it known that there will be an unusual story told before she is sentenced or freed.

When Mrs. Castle appeared before the magistrate with her brother, her attorney, Paul Fuchs, waived examination. Magistrate Butts, in announcing that he held her for trial, said:

"There have been intimations that there was to be a condemnation of this case; that Mr. Craig would agree to such a condemnation, and that this defendant would have to go to trial. I wish to go on record as declaring that there is no such condemnation. There is no law for defendants in high society who do not apply to defendants who are not in high society."

Then he again placed Mrs. Castle in $3,000 bail which was furnished.

Later in the day Captain Scott visited Acting District Attorney Nott and requested that the prosecutor's office make most thorough investigation into the circumstances of his sister's relations with Craig before she goes on trial. Mr. Nott assured him that this would be done.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 12.—(Special)—The funeral of Mrs. James Hannay took place this afternoon with large attendance.

Chimo, of Halifax; John A. Bowes and sons, and Our Orphans, Grace Hebb, and instructive addresses. Past presidents Robinson, Peters, Hebb and Boyer were present.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

Momentous Conference

The Times new reporter had an interesting interview last evening with Sir William Van Home, the Liverpool and Hamburg of America.

"I have always felt," said Sir William, "that a talk with an intelligent newspaper reporter would be a very high value on time and the significance of this remark was not lost, therefore, on the new reporter. He lit one of Sir William's cigars, and casually observed that the pleasure was mutual and the brand excellent.

"For my personal friends," said Sir William generally, indicating the cigar; and the new reporter put another one in his pocket. Then ensued a long and interesting conversation in which Sir William pointed out that New Brunswick was on the eve of great development, and that Sir William had the Liverpool and Hamburg of America.

"I had discovered your province first," said Sir William, "it would have rejoiced me greatly to be identified with its development, and to have had a larger stake in it than I have at present."

"May I say," said the new reporter, "that, greatly impressed by unvarnished and most thorough investigation into the magnificent province, you have decided to throw yourself into the work of developing its resources, and attracting foreign capital to be invested in great productive industries?"

Sir William pressed another cigar upon the new reporter.

"Well," he said, "I hardly think I would say that. You might fairly say, however, that I anticipate a great future for the province, and especially for the port of St. John. With regard to your harbor, I believe the citizens would do well to keep it this side of Partridge Island. I would not at present extend it out into the bay. So far as the C. P. R. is concerned, I am convinced that it will continue in the transportation business. Going so soon? Well, you have given me some valuable information. I hope to have the pleasure of meeting you again. You newspaper men are the brightest lot of fellows in the country—this door, please."

THE GRAND FALLS POWER

Evidence at This Morning's Hearing—The Value of the Site and the Power That Might Be Developed.

The hearing in the matter of the Grand Falls Power Company was resumed this morning in the admiralty court room before Commissioner J. N. W. Winslow.

Col. McLean recalled Wm. A. C. Rice, who said he found there was no estimate made for the grist mill property other than the general estimate for 1,000 horse power.

The commissioner asked what value the witness placed on that property, to which he replied $200,000.

To Mr. Powell the witness said the valuation was on a basis of a maximum horse power of 24,500 provided the company owned the land they claimed. He would advise anybody to take the property at $200,000 as worth that amount as a manufacturing proposition. It would be worth that amount if a dam was erected across the river at the place he had plotted.

In reply to a question from Mr. Powell regarding the cost of power at Niagara Falls, the witness said that power purchased from the Grand Falls at a horse power would be cheaper than Niagara power at no cost whatever.

Mr. McLean said it was his intention to call W. T. Whitehead, of Fredericton, to testify about the amount of timber available at Grand Falls, and it was agreed that Mr. Powell should open his case, and Mr. Whitehead would be called as soon as convenient.

Question of Title

Col. McLean said there might be some title deeds to submit later on. Mr. Powell contended that all these title deeds should be put in now.

Col. McLean stated that he had not understood that their title was disputed. It was agreed that the papers would be produced before the hearing ended.

Mr. Powell said in outlining his case, they were simply expropriating lands in the Hayes estates, which would not interfere with any lands held by the Grand Falls Water Power Co. He put in evidence several documents bearing on the case.

D. W. Jamieson, engineer, of Ottawa, was called as the first witness. He had been with the Grand Falls Power Co. since January, 1908. He was assistant to F. W. Anderson, resident engineer, but latterly was resident engineer in charge of the work. J. B. MacRae, of Ottawa, was chief engineer. He had made soundings in the river and taken the elevation and daily gauge of the water, showing the quantity of flow.

On September 20, 1908, the quantity of water flowing was 2,200 cubic feet a second. The flow continued at about that quantity until March 2, 1909, with slight variations. The lowest flow reached during that time was 1,800 cubic feet a second. In March 1909 the flow was 2,600 cubic feet. The difference in the two elevations was 117 feet.

The plans and surveys prepared by the witness, and to which he had referred, were initiated by the commissioner for identification.

At the site of the dam he had driven a six-inch pipe through fifty feet of gravel, which was thirteen feet below the deepest part of the centre of the river. He did not strike rock at that depth. He continued soundings down river to the government wing dam shown on the plan. He found rock where he sounded below the island. Soundings were made through the ice with iron pipe driven down. In

THE MESSAGE

By LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Wheel of Fortune," "The Captain of the Kansas," etc.

(Continued) "But can you carry out what you promised?" "Two, three months, yes. After dem yacht hit for Madeira, no. Praphs dem girl he wife dem." Rosamund's dark eyes narrowed to two tiny slits. If Figuero could really keep Warden and Evelyn apart during so long a period, the utterly hopeless project on which she had embarked in a moment of jealous rage might become feasible. Of course, the suggestion that he would marry Evelyn was preposterous, but there was no reason why she should hurt his pride by telling him so. Her heart throbed madly, while her active brain debated the pros and cons of the all-important question—should she post the letter already written? Yes, it was the outcome of her earliest thought. She would follow it up with another in different strain. The two would be vastly more convincing than one, and the dates would have a significance that no mere contriving could impart. By this time they were at the post-office, from which mails were dispatched by a later train than that caught by the groom. Rosamund dropped her letter in the box. She was quite pale with suppressed excitement. Her hands were burnt. She heard the fall of the envelope into the receptacle, and the appalling notion possessed her that the sound resembled the fall of earth on a coffin. She breathed heavily, and pressed a hand to her bosom. Figuero was watching her.

"Now you done dem t'ing," he said, "you dash me some money." She started. Did he mean to levy blackmail for his services? "Why?" she asked, summoning all her strength of character to meet his gaze without flinching. "Me buy present for dem girl. If I make wife palaver dat cost many dollar. I an not buying your help. You trade with me one thing for the other. If you refuse, I write to the government about the men of Oku." The Portuguese laughed more naturally than she had yet heard him. If his archenemy, Arthur Warden, was well acquainted with the mission he and the chiefs had undertaken, this pretty and passionate woman could for very little in the scale against him. "You dash me one hunner pound," he said cheerfully. "Ouf! dat, no mo." If you say 'no dem girl no lib for yacht. Mr. Baumgartner say go one-time. Me tell 'im take dem girl—over-time. She gave him thirty pounds—all she could spare from her purse—and promised to send the balance to an address in London. He was fully satisfied. He was sure she would not fail him. When he needed further supplies she would pay willingly. In an intrigue based on such lines Miguel Figuero was an adept.

CHAPTER IX.

Wardens Begins His Odyssey.

Evelyn's weekly letter from Scotland usually arrived by the mail-boat due at Ostend about three o'clock in the afternoon. Warden, sitting on the pier among a cosmopolitan crowd that delighted in its own antics, watched the steamer from Dover picking its way along the coast and into the harbor. He was dining with a friend that evening in one of the big hotels on the sea front. He could call for his letters after he had dressed—meanwhile, he had an hour or more at his disposal, and he was weary of the follies of Monsieur, Madame et Bebe, and of a great many other people who came under a less domestic cat's paw. To kill time, he strolled into the Casino and drank a cup of the decoction which Belgians regard as tea. Then he went to the so-called Club to look at the gamblers. Play did not appeal to him, but he had joined the Cercle Prive because some men he knew went there regularly for beer-carat. Today, to dispel the ennui of existence between meals, a German baron was opening banks of five hundred louis each, and losing or winning money with a bored air. He had just closed one bank successfully, and the table was set for another, when a young American, bright-eyed, clean-shaven, and pallid, stirred the purses of both onlookers and players by crying, "Banco!" Even in Ostend one does not often see four hundred pounds, won or lost at a single coup. Warden, whose sympathies were against the stolid banker, stood by the side of the youngest man until the incident was ended. There was no waiting. The challenger, impassive as a Red Indian, gave a bundle of notes to the croupier, who counted them. The baron dealt the two tableaux, and his adversary stooped and picked up the first. "Hunt!" he said, throwing the cards face upwards on the table. He took the second pair. "Need!"

An excited buzz of talk rose around the board. With a blasé smile, the banker showed his cards—two queens. "Peste!" cried a Frenchman, "tojours on souffre pour les dames!" Some few laughed; the German, more phlegmatic than ever, opened a pocketbook, and started a fresh bank for the same amount, while the American collected his stake and winnings. He was stuffing the notes into a pocket when he caught Warden's glance. "That's the easiest way of making two thousand dollars I've ever struck," he said. "He walked away, erect, alert, and self-possessed. Warden strolled to a roulette table. "Why, yes, the only difference between me and the fellow who puts up with this beastly atmosphere for a month is that he fritters away his money at five or ten dollars a pop, while I hit or miss at the first time of asking." "You won't play any more, then?" "No sir. Me for the tall timber with the baron's wad. Lucky at cards, unlucky in love, you know, and I've just heard that my best girl has made a date with the other fellow." He walked away, erect, alert, and self-possessed. Warden strolled to a roulette table. "I wonder if that is true?" he mused. Instinctively his hand went to his pocket, and he staked a louis on 29, the year of his age. Tip came 29, and he won thirty-five louis. He was so astonished that he bent over the shoulders of a lady seated near the foot of the table, and began mechanically to draw in the five-hundred franc note on the 19-24 transversale. Thus pushed by a croupier's rake close to his own coin. "But, monsieur," whispered the lady, who was French, and gave slight heed to convention, "certainly you will follow your luck!" "Why not?" he answered. Knowing that the maximum on a number was nine louis, he was on the point of leaving that amount on 29, when he remembered that Evelyn's age was twenty. To the surprise of his self-appointed counselor, he told the croupier to transfer the gold to the new number, while the note went on the 19-24 transversale. Thus, if he lost, he was still a louis to the good, and the American's consoling adage was robbed of its sting. The roulette whirred round, the marble danced madly across diamonds and slots. Checking its pace, it hopped, hopped, hopped into 29—and the Frenchwoman nearly became hysterical. Warden received so much money that he lost count. As a matter of fact he had won just forty louis less than the price of the bacarat table. He deemed the example of the unknown philosopher too good not to be followed, so he gathered his gains and stakes, and left the room.

GOUGED OUT EYES OF OPIUM SMOKER Cause of Mohameedan Uprising—Magistrate Suldices. Victoria, B. C., Aug. 10.—Further particulars brought by the steamer Montague, from the Orient, concerning the Mohameedan uprising in the Shen Si district, states that the revolt was due to the severe methods taken by the Chinese local magistrate to suppress the opium habit. He seized one of the local opium smokers and had his eyes gouged out and his arms taken off. The people then rose in rebellion and attacked the magistrate in his yamen, killing his son. To save himself the magistrate jumped into a well.

GENTRY WON FAME WHILE IN PRISON

The Story of the Murder of Madge Yorke Recalled—Comedies Written Behind Jail Bars.

(Bangor Commercial.) From the solitude of the prison cell, where he spent 14 years awaiting the verdict of a jury...

Will go to farm. He was a young actor of promise who had made quite a success by his interpretations of rural characters.

Troubled Gentry. Madge probably welcomed the new condition, but to Gentry the loss of his chance to see his sweetheart constantly was a terrible deprivation.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured. By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness.

Irrigation Congress. Spokane, Wash., Aug. 12.—At the National Irrigation Congress yesterday, Dr. George C. Pardee, formerly governor of California, attacked Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior for his policy in dealing with public lands.

He kills her. She refused and the act was her death warrant. Gentry drew a pistol, fired at her point blank and death came to her so quickly that she was never able to make any paragon.

The hunting season. Yesterday's Boston Journal says:—Reports from Maine would seem to indicate that there is going to be a successful hunting season with plenty of large game.

Three times execution. Three times the date was set for his hanging, but in every case steps of execution were obtained, and finally Gentry had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

For the first part of his stay in prison Gentry lived like a man dazed. He took no interest in anything and the feebleness of his health was only matched by the weakness of his mental condition.

Lifted out of his illness and despair he began writing for the stage, parts of plays, sketches and songs. Actors who were endeavoring to obtain freedom welcomed the chance to give him work.

When the board of pardons was presented to act favorably Governor Estlin of Pennsylvania was only too glad to affix his signature to the order for Gentry's discharge.

Friends of the actor have arranged to send him to a farm for a few months so that he can win back health after which he will devote himself to writing for the stage.

While plans for the Dominion exhibition of 1910 are as yet in the hands of the sub-committees of the Exhibition Association and the executive will not be called together until they have prepared a report, it is evident that when next year's big show opens, it will be the greatest yet seen in the Dominion.

BERMUDA AS STRONGHOLD

The Gibraltar or Malta of the Atlantic Coast—A Newsy Description

(Augustus in New York Observer.) No sketch of Bermuda would be complete without some notice of the islands as a great military and naval station of the British empire.

There has always been there a garrison of troops, sometimes as many as 3,000 men. The number is now reduced below 2,000, and at the time of my visit there were few ships of war in place of the considerable floating dock which was towed from anchor in Grassy bay.

The dock is 381 feet long, 124 feet broad, and 74 feet deep; it has 48 watertight compartments, draws 11 feet of water when light and 20 feet when sunk, and weighs more than 8,000 tons.

Accompanied by the Artillery Band which discoursed an excellent programme on the trip, the party left Indian town at 3 o'clock and went as far up river as Brown's Flat.

In the evening the Grand Lodge convened in the Keith assembly rooms at 8 o'clock. There was a large attendance of members, and practically the whole evening was spent in the discussion of constitutional points.

Mr. Margaret Peters, retiring president of the Rebekah Assembly, was heard by Grand Lodge in reference to the fund collected by her for the Oddfellows home, but under the whole evening was spent in the discussion of constitutional points.

It was also decided that the Grand Chaplain should be made an elective officer and be appointed as at present.

During the Grand Lodge session in the large assembly room the members of the Rebekah Lodge, held a reception for the visiting Rebekahs and on the Grand Lodge doors were thrown open to the reception developed into a joint session.

UMPIRE'S LOT NOT A HAPPY ONE IN SOUTH

Mayor of City Terms One "Skunk" in Appeal to Save Him From Mob—Jeffries and Johnson Sign to do Battle—Sporting News.

Approbrious epithets of all descriptions have been hurled at the baseball umpire dating back to time immemorial. Among the ho-bloated fans of the South the defence "ump" must surely earn his salary with daily sprays to the club house to avoid lynching parties and endeavours to simultaneously handle an indicator and watch eighteen men and evade an accurately thrown bottle or brickbat. Now the mayor of Augusta, Ga., one of the leading cities between the Mason and Dixon line, in a speech to an irate mob of fans at the baseball park refers to the umpire as a "skunk." The South African got away best, and led at the half distance, but Cartmell, sporting splendidly, caught and passed him man at the 100 yard mark, and won by a yard; 2 yards. Time 12.35 seconds (with a troublesome cross wind).

The next day the same men met in the 220 yards. Walker drew inside position, but at 220 yards he was beaten, and getting out of his stride, he finished third. Cartmell won easily by a yard; time 22.65 seconds.

Although a permit has been granted for an athletic meet at Hamilton on Saturday, August 28, there is a chance that this will be postponed, as Bobby Kerr, for whom the meet will be held, is in favor of a meet at a later date. He expects that Walter will visit Hamilton before going home, and prefers to wait until the South African comes this way. Kerr is making an effort to have Cartmell visit Canada.

In the 218 pace at Woonsocket, R. I., on Tuesday the best Warren F. driven by Frank Fox, could obtain was sixth place in a five heat race. The other four horses started and thoughtful won first money. Warren F. finished in three of the heats. Fox's Jay Kay finished fourth in the 216 trot. Bets on this race were declared off by the judges. Disputes were numerous.

At the second day of the Lake Erie circuit at Bradford, Pa., three drivers were fined $20 each for laying up in the 214 pace.

The opening day of the interurban circuit races at Lebanon, Ind., was marked by a collision which resulted in the injury to K. Powell of Chicago, O., and the death of Milton Moko, Powell's peer.

The Oxten selling plate of 100 sovereigns at the Nottingham, Eng., race meeting for all ages, distance five furlongs, was won by Poklewaiki, Donita second and H. P. Whitney's Tycoon third. Thirteen horses ran. The Fiat Truck selling plate of 100 sovereigns, for yearlings and cross-examination, was won by Palette. H. P. Whitney's Field Day was second and Phil row third.

The Ring Joe Gans, whom a Denver paper announced as being in Canada, is in fact in the city, now the official referee of the Eureka A. C. of Baltimore.

Hugh McIntosh is reported to be ready to bid $70,000 for the Johnson-Jeffries fight.

Chicago, Aug. 11—Articles of agreement for a fight between Jack Johnson and James Jeffries for the heavyweight championship of the world were signed here today. The fight will be held in the city in eight months before the club opening the best inducement. All bids for the fight are to be made in sixty days. Sam Berger, manager for James J. Jeffries; George L. Harbo, Johnson's manager, and Jack Johnson were present at the meeting when the articles were signed.

A warm discussion took place, the articles objected to any mention of prize in the articles, but he finally yielded. This point Johnson also equally as insisted that the agreement to Jeffries as the heavyweight champion of the world be struck from the agreement, declaring that his position on this point was irrevocable. He finally went out and all reference to this subject was dropped.

The agreement as signed calls for a fight of 120 to 150 rounds for the heavyweight championship of the world. The division of the purse was left to the hands of Jeffries. It also provides that as a guarantee of good faith each of the parties to the agreement shall post $5,000 with Charles Conkley, of Chicago, within seven hours with the understanding that the $5,000 operate as a side bet on the contest.

THREE TIE IN THE McLEAN MATCH

Dr. Langstroth Wins the Association Shoot at Sussex—Yesterday Afternoon's Scores.

Sussex, N. B., Aug. 11—Better weather greeted the P. R. A. marksmen here this afternoon, although there was a cold northerly wind blowing strongly across the range which interfered to some extent with the marksmanship. Dr. L. A. Langstroth, of St. John, won the Association match this afternoon. With seven shots each from the 200, 500 and 600 yards ranges he got a total of 84. He was closely followed by Captain W. E. Forbes of the 2nd Regiment with a total of 83. This was regarded as a very good shooting under the wind conditions.

After the association match the McLean match of the 800 yard range was shot off. This match called for ten shots from each range, and three men tied for first place, with a total of 49 out of a possible 50. These three men were Major Perley and N. J. Morrison, of St. John, and F. Robbie, of St. Stephen. Major Perley and N. J. Morrison were tied with a total of 48. Robbie was one point behind them with a total of 47.

Tomorrow the county matches from the 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges, and the Ladies' cup match from the 600 and 800 yards ranges will take place. It is expected that the ties in Nursery, Prince of Wales and McLean matches will be shot off.

At any rate, the punning is very liable to lead to a fitting flagpole if Gibson fails. If he doesn't good-bye to Fred Clarke and his cohorts. Halifax, N. S., Aug. 11—John W. O'Neill, champion amateur shooter of America, was given a splendid reception on his arrival in Halifax tonight. He was met at the railway station by a great concourse of citizens, including Premier Murray, Deputy Mayor Bligh, and several city officials. Through the aid of the mayor, he was given a civic address, and at St. Mary's Hall the club of which O'Neill is a member, gave him an address and presented him with a handsome box of cutlery.

MAGISTRATE KAY MAKES DEFENCE

Moncton, Aug. 11—The feature of this afternoon's session of the King inquiry was the evidence of the magistrate. Magistrate Kay was first called in defence and was questioned by Chandler, K. C., with reference to certain cases and matters cited by the attorney general. In reference to the case in which Mr. Kay was charged with tampering with a witness named Allen, a witness against Madden for violation of the Scott Act. In reference to the case in which Mr. Kay was charged with tampering with a witness named Allen, a witness against Madden for violation of the Scott Act. In reference to the case in which Mr. Kay was charged with tampering with a witness named Allen, a witness against Madden for violation of the Scott Act.

With respect to the allegations with Hon. F. J. Sweeney over the Free Speech incident, he said this misunderstanding arose after he had delivered judgment in the Madden case and left the bench. Mr. Sweeney appeared to think some remark he (Kay) made in delivering judgment referred to Sweeney.

As to accusing Mr. Sweeney with being after his position, that was said in the case of the principal matters under investigation in a jocular way. He and Mr. Sweeney had been very good friends and it was only a misunderstanding.

Asked about other squabbles with attorneys and the police clerk in court, the magistrate belittled them. One of the principal matters under investigation he had no feeling against Rand but only expressed his opinion on the conduct of the county and was for the general public to be satisfied.

The C. T. A. case against Mrs. Marjorie Wallace was also discussed. Mrs. Hattie Black, which comprised an important part of the complaint against the magistrate, were gone into and the case referred to the jury for their verdict. With respect to fees in conducting preliminary examinations in indictable offences, the accounts were made out and forwarded by the police clerk and he, Kay, received many of the cheques.

"What did you do with these cheques?" "I paid some of them into the city and some of them I have on hand yet."

"Why did you not pay them all in to the city?" "I didn't consider the city had any right to them legally. My predecessor took all these fees."

"I think you're entitled to them?" "You think I am and the city isn't."

"Why did you pay some of these cheques into the city?" "I was under the impression at that time the city should have them. I found out later it hadn't been done before I went in office and indictable offences didn't come under the act as to the disbursement of the money."

Commissioner—Did the city officials claim these fees from you? The auditor, he raised the question and he told him he had not any at that time, but if he had he would keep them as the city had the right to them. He considered he had a right to the fees collected from the county for such cases.

LABOR MEN AFTER DRAPER. Boston, Aug. 11—A committee appointed at a special convention of the Massachusetts State branch, American Federation of Labor, held in this city today, recommended that an effort be made to defeat in a campaign for public office Governor Draper, and all other political enemies of the trades union movement.

STORM'S HAVOC ON NOVA SCOTIA COAST

Fishermen Lose Heavily at Digby—Annapolis Orchards Suffer

Digby, N. S., Aug. 11—The worst north-east storm ever experienced during the month of August commenced here last night about 11 o'clock and continued during the greater part of today and evening tonight there is quite a sea running off Digby. A telephone message from Digby Neck states that great damage was wrought among the fishing boats, especially at Sandy Cove and Tommy's Cove. At the latter place nearly the entire fleet of little river fishing boats were destroyed which, with their gasoline engines, will be a total loss, with very little insurance. At Digby the R. K. Y. C. sloop yacht Rena, owned by S. A. Williams, of St. John, lost an anchor and dragged down through the fleet of boats. She was finally rescued from her perilous position by Captain Fred Robinson's powerful boat. Motor towed back to a safe anchorage. John W. Hayden's sloop yacht Evelyn parted from her moorings and sank in the jagged sea. It is expected to float after the weather moderates.

The New York schooner yacht Clara 11, which arrived here last night for harbor, rode out the gale in safety. Captain Rupert Maxwelline, master of the fishing schooner Elmer, says that he has never seen her experience in the bay at any time of year. He lost three dories and was washed to the wharf for several hours. Notwithstanding that her anchor light was brightly burning some boat collided with O. S. Dunham's power yacht Ocella during the night and carried away her signal mast and a portion of her brass rail.

Annapolis, N. S., Aug. 11—One of the fiercest gales that has visited the Bay of Fundy coast this year raged here for several hours during the night and was described as heavy. Grain and corn crops have, in many localities, been totally ruined, while other crops have suffered to a lesser extent. Hay that had been cut and stacked was blown broadcast over the surrounding country.

Many of the orchards are reported to have been completely raked by the gale and large quantities of apples blown off. It is reported that the damage to the damage done to fishing tackle as heavy.

AXE AGAIN FOR LIBERALS

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 11—The local government got through with the business of the session this afternoon, and the members left for their homes this evening. As far as could be learned only routine work was transacted at this afternoon's session. A number of members of the legislature including Messrs. Dickson, Prescott, of Albert; Young, Pinder and Robinson, of York; Spring, Kings and McLachlan, of Northumberland, had interviews with the executive on patronage matters. It is understood that a number of dismissals of Liberal officeholders was recommended.

Twenty-five young men from York and Northumberland counties left their affairs in the hurricane which prevailed in the harvest fields.

VESSEL ADRIFF, FEAR FOR CREW

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 11—For several hours yesterday afternoon the few scattered people who braved the elements and were out in the open at Ligan witnessed a sight that was calculated to strike terror to the heart of the stoutest onlooker. Far out on the sea, which rolls in from the Atlantic, a schooner could be seen with the hulls partly set, careened by the blast of the hurricane which prevailed. All the vessel ploughed her way into the bay and struck on the beach several hundred yards from the shore. Waves broke over the ship, and a rescue party was sent out. There was no boat that could live in the storm, and those on shore did not put off to the wreck.

The vessel was the Myrtle. The supposition is that the captain finding his vessel on a lee shore ordered his men to take to the boats which were swamping. All the sails of the vessel were torn to ribbons and are hanging in tattered remnants from the rigging.

A Canadian flag is flying at half mast in the main rigging. One dory in a wrecked condition has been washed ashore. The vessel's crew were rescued from a Nova Scotia port. It is feared that the crew have been added to swell the toll of the sea.

ON FOOD.

The Right Foundation of Health. Proper food is the foundation of health. People can eat improper food for a time until there is a sudden collapse of the digestive organs, then all kinds of trouble follow.

The proper way out of the difficulty is to shift to the pure, scientific food, Grape-Nuts, for it rebuilds from the foundation up. A New Hampshire woman says: "Last summer I was suddenly taken with indigestion and severe stomach trouble and could not eat food without great pain, my stomach was so sore I could hardly move about. This kept up until I was so miserable life was not worth living. Then a friend finally, after much argument, induced me to try Grape-Nuts. "Although I had but little faith I commenced to use it and, great to my surprise, I found that I could eat it without the usual pain and distress in my stomach."

"So I kept on using Grape-Nuts and soon a marked improvement was shown, for my stomach was performing its regular duty in a normal way without pain or distress. "Very soon the yellow coating disappeared from my tongue, the pain and distress in my head disappeared and my mind felt light and clear; the languid, tired feeling left, and altogether I felt as if I had been rebuilt. Strength and weight came back rapidly and I went back to my work with renewed animation. "Today I am a new woman in mind as well as body and I owe it all to this natural food, Grape-Nuts." "There's a blessing!"

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

The supreme council T. of H. had important sessions yesterday afternoon and evening. At the afternoon session the report in reference to junior work was received. It showed great progress during the year, especially in this province. It was decided that active steps be taken to still further extend the work to the other provinces, and to the various states of the union.

Reference was made to the great loss sustained by the order in the death of Mrs. Charles A. Everett of this city. Grand Worthy Recorder C. S. Woodruff, D. D., paid a high tribute to his memory. He referred to the order since his early manhood and of the years of faithful service and zeal the late brother had displayed.

Plans were made for the securing of a large amount of money for the propagation of the work of the society. Voluntary amounts of $1 each are to be subscribed by each member of the world's Templars. Congratulations were sent to the Grand Templars of England and Sweden, in which countries good work has been established.

Adjournment was made at 9 o'clock to the spacious dining hall, where supper decorated with flags. The flags of Canada and United States were draped by side near the end of the room. The toast list was as follows: The King, responded to with mutual honors; Supreme Council, proposed by M. W. T. Blewett, responded to by Grand Recorder Woodruff; Grand Jurisdiction, Dr. Woodruff and the following grand officers: G. T. G. Blewett, Hon. D. I. Robertson; The Council Department, Messrs. A PLEASANT TIME

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Gates Entertained at Drury Cove

Rev. Dr. G. O. Gates and Mrs. Gates, since they arrived in St. John last week, have been enjoying the hospitality of their many friends in the Germain street Baptist church. A very enjoyable time was spent at Drury Cove on Tuesday afternoon and evening. There are eight families from the Germain street church summering at the cove this year and they united in entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Gates on Tuesday and gave them a very hearty welcome. Although the day was not very fine, "covetees" assembled at one of the cottages where a sumptuous repast was prepared by the ladies and at 6 o'clock about 50 sat down to partake of the good things.

After supper W. C. Cross, one of the deacons of Germain street church, proposed a number of toasts which were responded to by Dr. Gates, Donaldson Hunt, G. E. H. Buerhaus, Geo. T. Cooper, A. C. L. Tapley, G. J. Estabrook and others. A very pleasant evening was spent. Ice cream and cake were served. Dr. and Mrs. Gates remained at the cove until Wednesday afternoon the guests of Donaldson Hunt.

As he was led to a cell he shouted, "They're going to hang me now."

Robert Dixon, to the astonishment of all, pleaded guilty to intoxication in Somerset street and was fined $8 or two months.

The club's band and orchestra will be in attendance.

REVOLUTION IN I.O.O.F. SAYS J. L. STEWART

Representation Swept Away, He Says, By Last Night's Action of Grand Lodge.

One of the matters dealt with by the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. at its session last night is looked upon as of more than ordinary importance. It was the adoption of the following resolution on motion of Ald. H. Cohen, of this city:—

"All past grands in good standing, who have filed their credentials according to the by-laws, shall be representatives."

"The business of grand lodge shall be conducted by the officers of grand lodge, and all past grands legally qualified to sit in grand lodge, said past grands to be designated 'representatives'."

Referring to these resolutions this morning Commodore J. L. Stewart, of Chatham, a delegate to the grand lodge meeting, said:—"This abolishes representation altogether, and destroys the grand lodge as a representative body, making it a town meeting, or a meeting of past grands."

"The effect will be that when the grand lodge meets in any of the large centres where there are 100 to 150 past grands, the representatives of the county lodges will be out-voted by the city men. Heretofore men attended the grand lodge from every county because they felt a certain pride as representatives of their lodges, but now it will simply be a matter of past grand attendance if they take a notion. They will represent nobody but themselves."

"It is a revolution, not an amendment to the constitution, and a lot voted for it without understanding the effect it would produce."

"St. John has perhaps 125 past grands, Halifax about 150, so it will be seen how easily they will be able to control matters if they wish."

Mr. Stewart said it was possible there would be an effort made to have the matter reconsidered.

NEARLY DROWNED

Two Former St. John Women Rescued Semi-Conscious at Winthrop.

The Boston Journal of Aug. 10 says:—"Caught in the surf and carried out beyond their depth, two summer residents, Mrs. Daniel S. Callahan and Mrs. Harry Olive, both of Worcester, had a narrow escape from drowning at Winthrop beach opposite the Great Hall ruins yesterday afternoon. F. F. Hylop and John Fiegh, both residents of Shore drive, heard their cries and without knowing any of their clothing plunged into the water and brought the women, both of whom were in a semi-conscious condition, to the shore."

"Incidentally Mr. Hylop nearly lost $240 in bills, which he carried in a purse. When he reached the shore and after the excitement had subsided he missed the money, and after searching for it, finally saw the purse floating in the water a short distance away."

Both ladies were at one time residents of St. John.
