LIBERALS STILL GAINING.

On a re-count, another seat has been won for the Liberal Government of Nova Scotia, which was sustained by the people last week. The parties now stand: Liberals 29, Tories 9, in a House of 38. Yet two days before the election the Toronto Empire, Meredith's principal organ, told its readers that the Liberals would be beaten. It and the other organs make the same prophecy regarding the Government of Ontario, but they are only whistling to keep the courage of their following up. They know that with the full Liberal vote polled the Macdonald-Chapleau-Meredith-Clancy combination to seize Ontario, and then gerrymander it will be routed as it deserves to be.

MONTREAL STARTLED.

The Body of a Missing Man Found in the Reservoir

With Cuts in the Neck and Stones in the Coat Pockets

The Remains Identified as Those of Thomas Kimber—Was It Murder or Suicide?

MONTREAL, May 28.—The Kimber mystery was unravelled in part yesterday by the discovery of the body of the missing man in the high level reservoir. Whether he came to his death by suicide or was the victim of foul play, is an unsolved problem. The opinion of doctors and detectives is divided on that point.

THE DISCOVERY.

The discovery was made by Antoine Bernichon, who, while going to his work, passed the high level reservoir in the Mountain Park. He noticed something white and unusual in the water and then saw a human head. Bernichon called to a park policeman, and together they managed to get the body to the edge of the reservoir. They then notified the caretaker of the morgue, and the body was taken in charge by him. It had in the left side of the neck, besides a long and deep cut across the throat. There was a towel marked "T. Styles" wrapped around the neck. In the pockets were stones weighing several pounds.

THE INQUEST.

Coroner Jones held an inquest. The caretaker of the morgue testified that he had searched deceased's clothing and found in the two coat pockets three stones which would probably average from six to eight pounds each. In the pants pockets were found two pipes, two tobacco pouches, a corkscrew and 15 cents in change. On the flannel undershirt was worked "T. S. Kimber," and upon the towel, which was bound around the throat, was stamped "T. Styles."

Dr. Mount said that on examining the body he found on the right side of the neck a cut five inches in length, which cut the skin and part of the muscular membrane. On the left side of the neck he found three similar cuts, but they did not appear to be very deep. On his opinion being asked as to the cause of death, witness said he could not give a decided opinion, as he had not made an autopsy of the body. He thought it was a case of suicide. He thought, however, that the cuts on the neck were sufficient to cause death, but could not say positively till an autopsy was held. There were no other marks of violence on the body. The jury returned a verdict of suicide.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

Detectives are still at work on the case, and Drs. Mount and Brennan are making a post-mortem examination. Notwithstanding the verdict of suicide, many people adhere to the theory of foul play, and ask how a man could possibly cut his throat to the extent of five inches, quietly leave Styles' Hotel on St. James street at 11 o'clock in the morning, and with a bloody towel round his neck, weak with loss of blood, stagger up the streets that lead to the mountain, climb the steep hill to the reservoir, surmount the iron railings that surround it and plunge into the water. Even had his strength held out to perform this extraordinary feat, it is pointed out that the strange and ghastly appearance presented by the man must have attracted special attention from some of the numbers of persons that he must have passed on his journey.

HISTORY OF THE CASE.

The history of the case in brief was as follows: Thomas Kimber, a young Englishman, arriving in Canada from Topsham, Exeter, Eng., (where his parents lived) per steamship Sarnia, on the 11th of April. He took quarters in the hotel of Thomas Styles, in this city, and after a bout of drinking suddenly disappeared. Blood was found in his room when the door was forced open, and a razor covered with hair and blood was found. Detectives and police engaged in a search for him, though without avail; but yesterday's discovery tells its own story. Whether suicide or a murder was committed remains an undecided question.

CHIEF SHERWOOD SAYS MURDER.

OTTAWA, May 27.—The English friends of the unfortunate victim of a dark tragedy in Montreal, Kimber, prompted the Colonial Office in April last to ask the Department of Justice here to set on foot an inquiry as to Kimber's disappearance. Major Sherwood, commissioner of Dominion police, took the matter in hand, and received a dispatch from his Montreal agent as to the finding of Kimber's body. The Montreal detective expressed the opinion that it is a case of murder, and to Major Sherwood it looks like another Benwell case.

SOLD INTO SLAVERY.

The Fate of a Beautiful Chinese Girl in New York City.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A strange story of violence and slavery in the very midst of this city came out at a hearing held in the Tombs Police Court yesterday. A beautiful young Chinese maiden was the victim, and she has been locked up on the top floor of No. 11 Mott street, in the heart of the Chinese quarter. It further appeared in the story she told through an interpreter, that she was sold to her master by her lover for the sum of $100. The case was discovered by a reporter. Suenice is the pretty 19-year-old victim, and she is a native of Amoy, China. She came to this country five years ago, four of which she spent in San Francisco. She was the handmaid of a wealthy Chinese bride. One day she fell in love with Ah Poor, a Chinese gambler. The scandal drove her from her employer's home. She came to New York disguised as a boy and in Poor's company. Her gambler lover was unfortunate in gaming and lost $1,000, and poverty drove him to sell his girl to Lee Khi. The girl was much frightened when brought face to face with Lee Khi in the court room. Lee Khi was held in $2,500 bail for examination.

"The University of Chicago."

CHICAGO, Ill., May 29.—At the session of the Baptist Educational Society here yesterday it was stated that Marshal Field had pledged $125,000 toward the cost of the site of the new university. The total pledged to the new institution is $1,200,000. The Jewish citizens of Chicago have raised $27,000 toward the new enterprise. The new institution will be called the University of Chicago. The alumni of the old university are raising $50,000 to endow a professorship as a memorial to President Edward Olsen, who perished in the Minneapolis Tribune fire. Hon. George A. Pillsbury, of Minneapolis, was re-elected president of the society, and Rev. F. T. Gales corresponding secretary. Two thousand people were present last night at the closing exercises of the Baptist anniversary. A telegram was read from John D. Rockefeller accepting the report of the raising of the $400,000 for the new university. Mr. Rockefeller pledged himself anew to give $600,000. The reading of the telegram was greeted with tremendous applause.

Perils of Railway Travel in India.

LONDON, May 29.—A Calcutta dispatch says: "At every station on the Eastern Bengal Railway passengers are warned not to accept food or drink offered to them by strangers, as an organized band has been discovered whose plan it is to treat passengers to food, drink and sweetmeats which have been poisoned, and decamp with their booty while the victim is insensible or dead. Many deaths have resulted from these crimes.

A LA "KOR."

Three Hundred Siwash Ancestors Illuminate the Banks of the Squamish.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A Winnipeg telegram to the World says: An outbreak is feared among the Indians of Northern British Columbia, who are in a terrible state of excitement over the burning of their burying ground. The practice of most of the Indian tribes is to dispose of their dead by hanging them up in large trees. The Siwash tribe had 300 of their ancestors hung up in this manner. White men accidentally set the forest on fire and the entire lot of bodies was burned. Most of the bodies were dried, and once the fire got among them they burned like tar barrels. The Indians were horrified and gesticulated in the wildest manner. Their grief was uncontrollable, as nothing is as sacred to them as their dead. Without taking the trouble to reason out the cause of the fire, they came to the conclusion that the white settlers along the Squamish had purposely brought it about, and so far did their feelings carry them that violence against these people was openly talked of. Indian agents, who have gone to the scene, are having a hard task restraining them.

Position of Quebec Protestants.

Speaking at Waterloo, Que., on Sunday evening last, Rev. Dr. Shaw, a member of the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction of Quebec, said: "The traditional policy of Methodism is that religion and education should go hand in hand. He believed in that principle himself, holding that religious and moral training should be the foundation of all education and culture. I know," continued the speaker, with great deliberation, "that this idea is not everywhere popular in these days. In another Province a political party is striving with noisy demonstration to abolish the separate schools, founded under the direction of Dr. Ryerson and afterwards guaranteed by the constitution. Let them beware lest in asking for bread they receive a stone. Banish the Bible from the public schools and its place may be taken by infidelity. There is another thing to be considered. If the separate schools are abolished in Ontario they must be abolished in this Province. And the Protestant minority of Quebec does not desire that. I am glad that throughout the Dominion the necessity for religious instruction is recognized in the various school systems."

TOOLEY VS. PURDOM.

Rousing Reception Accorded the Liberal Candidate.

Nominations in Trebilcock's Hall for the East Middlesex Election.

Feeble Appeal for Support from Mr. Richard Tooley—Mr. Purdom's Policy Which Will Carry the Constituency Again Clearly Elucidated — Tory Bubbles Neatly Pricked.

The nominations of candidates for the forthcoming election of a representative to the Ontario Legislature from the East Riding of Middlesex were held at Trebilcock's Hall, South London, this morning. Returning Officer J. B. McKillop presided, and at 11 o'clock the formal reading of the writ and proclamation of the election was proceeded with by Clerk R. K. Cowan. The candidates occupied seats on the platform, Mr. Purdom being still forced to use crutches on account of the injury received last week to his right ankle.

Mr. James Gilmour, North Dorchester, moved and Thos. A. Robson, London township, seconded the nomination of Mr. Richard Tooley.

Mr. Wm. B. Scatcherd, Nissouri, moved and Thomas Ross, Westminster, seconded the nomination of Mr. Thomas Henry Purdom.

On the selection of colors for the ballots, Mr. Purdom selected red and Mr. Tooley blue.

Mr. Tooley notified the returning officer that his financial agent would be Mr. N. P. Graydon, of London, barrister, and Mr. Purdom stated that Mr. A. D. Scatcherd, student-at-law, London, would fill that position for him.

Mr. Tooley nominated Mr. McKillop to act as chairman and Mr. Purdom seconded. It was announced that the nominations would close at 12 o'clock.

Mr. Tooley was the first speaker. The issue, he said, was the platform laid down by Mr. Meredith and the administration of affairs by the Mowat Government. The campaign had thus far been carried on in a friendly manner. Whatever the end might be he felt sure they could both be good friends together as they had been in the past. He claimed that the selection of registrars and other officials should be placed in the hands of the County Council. The supplies to public institutions were not all bought by tender, and should be. Competition would reduce the expense greatly. He referred to work done for the London Asylum by John Purdom, A. D. Cameron & Co., J. Green & Co., Robinson & Little, J. D. Saunby and others. The butter supply for the Asylum was, of course, secured by a Conservative, but it was because the Reformers who had first secured it were unable to carry out their undertaking. Mr. Tooley then spoke of the ballot, which he claimed was not strictly secret. These were his reasons for opposing the Government. However humble his ability, he hoped he had done his duty. If they believed he had done his duty he would like to be elected.

Mr. Tooley's reception was of a very cool character.

Mr. Purdom, who was received with loud applause, said he hoped also that the fair and manly methods of conducting the contest would continue. If all that Mr. Tooley claimed to be wrong with the Government were true it amounted to but little. (Applause.) But Mr. Tooley's charges were not well founded. If the Government made a liquor law, was it not right to have the license commissioners appointed by that Government? He showed conclusively how the taking of the liquor law from commissioners would cause strife between the temperance element and the hotel-keepers. To-day there was a better class of hotel-keepers and less drunkenness, and the statement that the Government had taken the law and carried it out was only an argument in its favor. The judges appointing Division Court clerks, as in times past, was often productive of poor specimens.

Voice—They're as bad now.

Mr. Purdom—No, they are not. Take Mr. W. J. McIntosh, who was appointed Division Court clerk in London: there is not a more able man to be found. (Applause.) If a judge appointed a bad man there was no remedy and he was as independent as a hog on ice." If the Government did not put in good men the people had the remedy in their own hands and could turn them out. As to saving $5,000 or $6,000 a year from the registrarship it was absurd. Col. Walker's total net earnings came to $3,000. The law under which these positions were filled was made by the Sandfield Macdonald Government, which all the Conservatives thought to be such a model. That was but a small sum when the enormous sums were considered which had been saved by Mr. Mowat to the Province in the matter of disputed territory alone. Mr. Tooley's arguments about asylum supplies would not convince. It was not rational to say that a Government would be turned out because a Tory named Higgins supplied the butter. As to work at public buildings, there was not a single building which was not let by tender. A sample of the Government's conduct in this regard was that the greatest work ever let, the Parliament buildings, had been given to a Conservative contractor, Mr. Lionel E. York. (Cheers.) The London Asylum coal contract was secured by Mr. Cameron because his tender was the lowest. During previous years Messrs. C. B. Hunt, William Bowman, and Maun & Son had been supplying it, and the speaker would like to know if they were Reformers? The lowest tenderer got it to be sure. It was all nonsense to talk this way. If Mr. Tooley did not know how grossly he misrepresented the facts he should know. These charges were all humbug. Not a finger could be pointed at the Government's acts. Mr. J. Purdom had done more work for the Board of Education and for the City Council than he had done for the Ontario Government, and it was because he had the lowest tender that he had secured the piece of work from the Government. As to the Dominion Government, a Reform contractor might as well fold up his books, for he was not of the right breed to get work there whether he had the lowest tender or not. Mr. Tooley had said that the speaker's brother had received an $11,000 contract.

Mr. Tooley—I did not.

Mr. Purdom—Well, the Free Press said you did.

Mr. Tooley—I don't care what that paper says.

Mr. Purdom, continuing, said the Mail had placed the sum at $100,000 (laughter) and perhaps it would soon come back in millions. However such things were so untrue on their face that they were unworthy of notice. As to the secrecy of the ballot, he spoke of the Toronto Telegram, an independent Tory paper, and Hon. Mr. Chapleau having admitted that the Dominion Government ballot could be stuffed. Of the Ontario system, in England and Australia it had been adopted, and it had been working here well for fifteen years. (Cheers.) He would be glad on June 5 when it was announced that he was elected by at least a reasonable majority of these ballots over his friend Mr. Tooley. (Applause.) If Mr. Meredith had been in power the surplus and great timber territory would never have belonged to this Province. In public life Mr. Meredith had not been straight. There was always a doubt as to where he stood. A man who so vigorously upheld the Dominion Government appointing Ontario's license commissioners was now showing his inconsistency; because it was the Ontario Government who now appointed them, he was objecting to the very principle. That the new Parliament buildings were necessary had been proved time and again, and he was sure that none who examined the case could find room for objection. They were needed very badly and would but be in keeping with the advancement of the Province — the substitution of good houses for log cabins and like changes. He was about as much a farmer as Mr. Tooley. That he was a lawyer did not prove him to be a bad man, and he was confident the electorate did not think so. The Free Press had said that no doubt the speaker would tell the workingmen that the Mowat Government was their friend. That was exactly what he would say and feel proud to do so. The Employers' Liability Act and Mechanics' Lien Act were examples of the legislation to which he referred. Mowat had done everything well, and without class distinction, and he should be supported. The Creditors' Relief Act was a good thing—doing justice to all and not permitting a case where one would get hold of an insolvent and leave others out. The Gerrymander Act was the blackest blot on Sir John A. Macdonald's character, and his opponents in this campaign supported it. It was a thing which no loyal man should be guilty of supporting. In the matter of education the Province was being improved rapidly; the workingmen were having laws placed on the books in their interests; and in all respects the Government was worthy of the confidence of the people. It had been claimed that he (Mr. Purdom) had a brother. Well, so had Mr. W. R. Meredith. Think of Mr. Ed. Meredith as an apostle of Protestantism. (Laughter.) He was out in North Middlesex and seemed to be backsliding in his missionary ardor while there.

Voice—I thought he was a Catholic?

Mr. Purdom—What was there in the talk about the separate school law? There was not much in a cry against amendments which the Conservative leader had voted for himself. He felt sure that on June 5 the men who sought to raise prejudice would be allowed to remain at home. Let Reformers be fair to the weak minority and give them every right that they enjoyed. The party should be one of true equal rights and give all that every class was entitled to and no more. Another complaint was regarding the administration of Crown lands, in which there was no foundation. Let the stand be taken that Oliver Mowat retained what he had found—freedom to worship God, let reason and good sense govern their votes, and he felt sure East Middlesex would come into line and send himself as a supporter of the best administration that any Province had ever seen. Loud cheers).

Mr. Tooley, in reply, was sorry that Mr. Purdom did not trust the county councils. He claimed that the people should take the appointments out of the hands of political parties. The county councils were responsible to the people and could be turned out if they did not administer fairly. He said Mr. Purdom was the candidate of Col. Leys, and would never have been brought out but for that gentleman. (Cries of "Yes he would.") He repeated his statements regarding the articles supplied to the asylum and when several gentlemen interrupted the course of his oratory by questions regarding contracts to Conservatives during the past two or three years, he declined to answer, saying he would only talk about the year 1889. (Laughter.) Mr. Purdom must have some great doubts of the result of the elections when he had to import a Minister of the Crown to speak for him.

Mr. Purdom—Those doubts will be removed on the 5th of June. (Cheers.)

Mr. Tooley deprecated any reference to Mr. Meredith's religion. Catholics and Protestants should be treated alike fairly. Referring to separate schools, the Opposition knew there was no use trying to do away with the schools. But they should be taken out of the hands of the hierarchy. The public school system was one of the grandest in the world, but the man at the head should not be a member of the Government. Mr. Tooley said workingmen had no truer friend in the world than Mr. Meredith. He continued by saying more about the ballot and undue influence over voters. He had held meetings in nearly every part of the riding, and hoped to be elected. If the present Government were the right one he would like to see it supported. (Cheers.) The constituency should rally and show they had no use for a lawyer from the city of London.

Mr. Purdom—Yes; a lawyer from the city of London—that's Mr. Meredith. (Cheers and laughter.)

After a vote of thanks to the chairman and hearty cheers for the Queen, Mr. Purdom, Mr. Mowat and Mr. Tooley the meet dispersed.

Annual Meeting of the Dominion Organization at Montreal—Work Accomplished.

MONTREAL, May 29.—The Dominion Woman's Christian Temperance Union opened its third annual convention here yesterday in Erskine Church, with morning, afternoon and evening meetings. The following Executive Committee was elected: Miss Tilley, Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. Fawcett and Mrs. Sanderson. Miss Tilley read the annual report of the work done during the year, giving details of several Provincial organizations, results of evangelistic work, of flower missions, of Band of Hope effort, and describing the effect of sailors' work, visitations to barbers' shops for the purpose of inducing this class to give up the purchasing of obscene literature for their patrons, etc. In noting the work in the Maritime Provinces, allusion was made to the glorious temperance victory in Fredericton, the value of which could not easily be overestimated. To the world's petition there had been 7,000 signatures. Miss Willard arrived in the evening in time for the meeting, and had a seat on the platform. Speeches of welcome were given by the presidents of local organizations, and replies by several of the delegates.

DILLON'S DODGE

To Secure $3,000 from an Insurance Company—Failure of the Plot.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 29.—James Dillon, of Tyrrell county, insured his life for $3,000 in the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company about a year ago. Some time after he fell from a boat half a mile from shore, and yelled loudly for help to a man a quarter of a mile away. When the man responded Dillon secretly swam ashore and disappeared. The man whose assistance he had asked supposed he was drowned, and was perfectly willing to swear to it. Notice of Dillon's death was sent to the company. It refused to pay the insurance. Action was brought by Dillon's wife, and when the case stood for trial at the court last week the widow alleged that he was drowned.

Ten days ago a body was found near the place where he had been seen to sink in the water. The body was identified by 200 people as that of Dillon. At court counsel for the widow took a non-suit because the body had been found. There is no doubt that the company would have paid the money, but last Tuesday, to the surprise of every one, Dillon himself returned safe and sound to Columbia. His statement is most remarkable. He says he swam ashore the day he overturned the boat, put his hat in it and left the boat half full of water. He determined to hide in the woods so as his wife could get the insurance money. He kept in the great swamp for five months, when he found the fody of a drowned man floating in the Alligator River.

He removed the hair from his head so as to make it bald, and taking his own hair and whiskers put them in the decomposing flesh of the corpse. He knocked out two of the front teeth of the dead man, removed the clothing from the corpse and dressed it in the clothing he had worn on the day of his disappearance. At night he conveyed the body to the place where he was supposed to have been drowned. Subsequently hearing of the non-suit, he thought it put an end to his claim, and that there was no hope of collecting the money, and so he returned home.

Smuggled Opium Seized.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—Customs officials Tuesday seized 310 five-tael cans of opium valued at about $2,000 in a Chinese wash house. John Mays, a brakeman on the Northern Pacific Railroad, who took the opium to the wash house, confessed that the opium was bought in Victoria, B. C., and smuggled into the United States. The custom authorities claim they have proof that a number of Northern Pacific employes and several Chinese are smuggling a large amount of opium into this city.

His Girl Stuck to Him.

CHICAGO, May 28.—John P. Kunze, who was tried with Coughlin, Burke, O'Sullivan and Beggs for alleged complicity in the Cronin murder, was married yesterday morning to Miss Julia G. Hoyer at St. Alphonsus' Church. During all the dark days of his incarceration, when it seemed that he would receive a long term of imprisonment, if he escaped the death penalty, his sweetheart stood by him faithfully. Kunze was presented with a solid silver water service by the lawyers who conducted his defense, the service consisting a silver pitcher, cup and jar of elegant design.

A "LIBERAL" CONSERVATIVE MEETING.

ELORA, May 28.—An election meeting held in the Armory Hall here last night was addressed by Col. Macdonald and Mr. Hampton, the Conservative candidates for East and South Wellington. Mr. G. W. Field was also present, and spoke in the interest of Col. Clarke and Mr. Guthrie. The hall was full, a large proportion of the audience being Reformers, who claim that the meeting was a grand success in their favor.

EAST KENT IS ALL RIGHT.

RIDGETOWN, May 28.—Mr. Robert Ferguson is meeting with a warm welcome all over this riding, new friends and hearty promises of support greeting him on all sides from both Conservatives and Liberals. At Botany on Saturday the electors were addressed by Mr. Ferguson, Charles Macdonald and Herbert Smith. The audience was large and almost to a man in favor of Mowat and good government. Although the Opposition was invited at Botany, no one offered to show up. Again on Monday evening at Morpeth a crowded house greeted our candidate, who was ably assisted by Mr. Charles Macdonald. On behalf of Mr. Patterson appeared Messrs. Harding, Drake and Bowyer, but did not help the Opposition to any extent. The meeting was again almost unanimous for Ferguson. Again, last night at Duart Mr. Ferguson and Dr. Samson addressed a very large and enthusiastic audience. The Opposition once more failed to materialize. To-morrow night a mass meeting will be held here and the Hon. David Mills will address the assembled multitude in behalf of Mr. Ferguson. The campaign during the coming week will be actively pushed and meetings held in various parts of the riding. East Kent is solid for the Government by a large majority.

THOMAS GIBSON.

BRUSSELS, May 28.—Political matters in this riding are at boiling point, and from two to three meetings a night are being held in different parts. Good work is being done on all sides, and the re-election of the veteran, Thos. Gibson, is conceded by Conservatives and Reformers alike, while from the assurances daily received, and the reports of the workers from the different localities, there is little doubt but that his large majority at the last election will be still further increased.

MR. MEREDITH AT ST. THOMAS.

ST. THOMAS, May 28.—Mr. W. R. Meredith addressed a mass meeting in the Elgin street rink to-night. The building was full, a large percentage being Reformers. After addresses by Mr. A. E. Ingram, ex-M.P.P., H. T. Godwin and D. McColl, Conservative candidates for the east and west ridings respectively, Mr. Meredith spoke for an hour and a-half, his address being a repetition of former speeches. He was frequently interrupted. T. W. Crothers made the closing speech.

SOUTH LANARK TORIES TROUBLED.

PERTH, May 28.—South Lanark, usually a safe constituency for a Conservative, is at the present moment in a great ferment on account of a divided "house." The ex-member, Mr. Lees, announced himself without consulting the clique in Perth as a candidate two weeks ago, and they determined to punish Mr. Lees by bringing out one of themselves, a Mr. McLeneghan. The opposing factions are very bitter toward each other, and both candidates say they will be nominated on Thursday next. The Liberal party have nominated Mr. Duncan Kippen, of Perth, as their standard-bearer. He has lived here all his life, and has been identified with municipal and educational matters for many years. Should all three candidates go to the poll, notwithstanding the effort which will be made to consolidate the vote on McLeneghan, the Liberal party feel satisfied that Mr. Kippen will come out ahead.

AT TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 27.—The campaign is going at a tremendous pace in the city. Three meetings were held again last night, Reform, Equal Rights and Conservative. If the enthusiasm and unanimity that mark the respective meetings are a fair criterion of the result of the contest it will be the two Clarkes who will be out in the cold on June 5.

TRANSPARENT TORIES' TACTICS.

PAISLEY, May 28.—The Tories have played a very cunning game, as they think, in Center Bruce by securing the nomination of an Equal Rights candidate in the person of Mr. Shaw, ex-M.P., a prominent old-time Conservative. They hoped by this means to win some Reformers from the support of Mr. Dack, the able and popular member of the Legislature, who is seeking re-election. But their little scheme is turning out anything but satisfactorily. Had they nominated a man with any record for independence, they might have imposed upon some credulous Liberals, but to ask the people of this riding to regard Mr. Shaw as anything but a Conservative is a little too much. To the feeling of loyalty no the Reform candidate among members of his own party has been added indignation at the attempt made to lead the riding into the Conservative camp by a ruse. This sentiment is all the stronger since the strong and convincing speeches of Mr. Charlton here and at Ripley, exposing the trickwhich the opponents of the Mowat Government seek to perpetrate.

MR. BRONSON.

OTTAWA, May 18.—A rousing Liberal meeting was held this evening in Harmony Hall in the interest of Mr. E. H. Bronson, the Liberal candidate. When Mr. Bronson rose to speak he was received with loud cheering, during which the chairman handed him a requisition signed by 2,000 electors. Mr. Bronson's speech effectively disposed of the cries raised against him by the Evening Journal, which nominated him in the first place and now opposes him. A resolution of confidence in Mowat and Bronson carried amid enthusiasm and closed the meeting.

Melbourne Musings.

[From the ADVERTISER'S Correspondent.]

MELBOURNE, Ont., May 27.—Mr. H. Tolson, of St. Thomas, formerly of this village, returned to that place this morning after spending the last few days with his friends and relatives.

The Queen's Birthday passed off in the usual manner yesterday. The baseball match between Glencoe and Melbourne was won by the former. Methodist brethren held a picnic, which was well patronized by all, and an enjoyable time was spent. The proceeds amounted to about $100.

Mr. Jas. H. Clarke, general agent for the Noxon Bros., visited Melbourne the latter part of last week.

The rain of the past few days has been beneficial to the crops.

At the baseball match yesterday Mr. John Tolson met with an accident, having been struck in the face with the ball.

Mr. N. Richards, of the firm of Cooper & Richards, Lawrence, returned to that place this morning after spending a few days with his friends and relatives.

Miss Florence Beattie and Mr. C. A. Johnston, of Highgate, returned to that place last evening.

Business during the past month has been very fair in every respect.

Miss Rosie Wills, of Longwood, passed away last Friday after a long illness. A large number of friends and relatives followed the remains to their last resting place yesterday morning.

Mr. J. Miller, of Vancouver, B. C., returned to that place yesterday morning after visiting his friends and relatives in this vicinity. He noted many changes in Melbourne during his absence of 28 years in the West.

Rev. C. Simpson is visiting in Newfoundland at present. It is expected he will return next month.

Rev. J. C. Scott is expected to preach next Sabbath in the Presbyterian Church.

Warning.

Owing to our 'el padre pin (size) cigars having been packed without bands, unscrupulous dealers have been placing cigars of an inferior grade in our boxes, representing them as the genuine. In order to protect ourselves and the consumers from a continuance of such disreputable tactics, we have adopted a red and gold embossed band with the words "el padre pin" thereon, without which none are genuine.

RATES REDUCED.

The Board of Trade Discusses Charges on Incoming Freight.

Representatives of the C. P. R. and G. T. R. Meet the Railway Committee and Settle the Matter.

Yesterday afternoon the Railway Committee of the Board of Trade met a deputation from the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway Companies in the Board of Trade rooms for the purpose of adjusting the grievances complained of by the Board in the matter of rates. The C. P. R. was represented by Messrs. Sutherland and Bosworth, and the G. T. R. by Messrs. White and Quinn. The members of the Railway Committee present were: Messrs. M. Masuret (chairman), John Labatt, E. A. Cleghorn, A. M. Smith, T. H. Smallman, J. E. Keenleyside, A. E. Hourd, John Bland, T. S. Hobbs, W. J. Reid, John Campbell, D. J. Cowan and B. J. Nash. The matters complained of by the Board were contained in a circular with which each member was armed. The following extract shows to what extent the merchants have reason for complaint:

The first matter taken up was the excessive rate charged on incoming freight from Montreal, London being charged 6 cents more than Toronto.

Mr. Bosworth, of the C. P. R., explained that the lowness of the Toronto rate was occasioned by the competition of the boats. The boats charged a rate of 7 cents, and the company was forced to carry at 12 cents. Even at this rate they could only carry about 25 per cent. of the traffic and it did not pay them.

Mr. Masuret contended that as the companies carried freight in and out of London both winter and summer the city should be treated more fairly. It was not right to charge 6 cents more than Toronto and 4 cents more than Hamilton. The city was a distributing point and should be recognized as such.

The railway men finally agreed to make the London rate 4 cents higher than Toronto and 3 cents higher than Hamilton. The change effects sugar, nails, etc., in car load lots.

Mr. Hobbs suggested that the city be placed on the same basis as Streetsville on the C. P. R. which was agreed to. It was also decided to fix the rate as per mileage.

Mr. Nash then took up the grievance of the discrimination in favor of Gananoque in the carriage business. The rate charged from that place to the Pacific coast on carriages in car load lots was 42 cents, and the rate from London to the same point was 60 cents.

Mr. John Campbell also spoke on the same subject. He had also suffered from the discrimination in favor of Montreal on shipments of carriages to the coast. He instanced a case where he had shipped a car load of carriages from London and a heavier car was sent from Montreal of prison-made goods. He was charged over $100 more than the sum which the Montreal shippers had to pay.

Mr. Bosworth said that if such a thing existed on the C. P. R. it was a blunder and would be rectified. He was prepared to give London the same rate to the Pacific coast as the eastern cities. He would give London a better rate to Winnipeg. If London was nearer to the Northwest it would have the advantage of its distance. (Applause.)

The matter of the Gananoque special rate was deferred until the meeting of the Classification Committee to be held in Montreal on June 12.

The G. T. R. men stated that they were prepared to give the same rates to the Pacific coast as the C. P. R.

Mr. Bosworth—Oh, certainly; I should have mentioned that. The two roads are allies now.

Mr. Masuret—Yes, we all know that. (Laughter.)

A vote of thanks was tendered to the railway men, after which the meeting broke up.

The changes made will have to be ratified by the general managers of the two roads.

That Birthday Poem.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

A writer who signs himself "A Lover of Poetry" attempts a criticism of a piece of mine that appeared in your columns on the 24th, and which was under the disadvantage entailed by my cutting ten verses out of the original so as not to trespass on valuable space. He does not hesitate at the unfairness of picking out expressions or single words here and there without giving the full sense in which they were used. First faults my allusion to the cookoo's notes, saying "this bird was never known to have more than two." Well, his "two" were just the ones I meant. But he should hear all the others from the birds themselves or what would be better for him should hear the cukoo solo on the fiddle. He faults "the linnet's twitter." Why even Gray thought the "swallows twittering" sweet. He describes the wren as never known to be a singing bird. He should ask some Irishman if he ever heard the song of the Dhroleen, one of the sweetest of the British Isles. He faults my mention of the "bagpipes, the Highland strathspeys and Scotland's bonnie lassies." But I like them all so well I could not help that. Next accuses me of jumping to India and "almost telling us of the Bengal tiger." I didn't, though; and it was fortunate, as I might have gone on until I described the ass of some other country. Then comes a crusher, "Whoever heard of cannons speaking?" The young man should, before venturing such remarks, turn over the leaves of the great poets and see Byron's allusions to the voices of mountains, lakes and rivers, the singing of bullets, by Tennyson, and the cannon's voice. And when he comes to Campbell's description of their adamantine lips, he will not be surprised that the guns of old England's war ships "spoke their thunder loud at Trafalgar." Lastly says I began my poem at London, ending it at the North Pole. The verse itself will best show up such remarks—

That thy flag, old England, long may wave,
Float far and proudly on the breeze;
The banner of the free and brave,
From the Polar to the Indian Seas.

Finally gives me words of advice. I will return the compliment. Young man, before you come out like that again acquaint yourself a little with the natural history of birds and beasts. Try and understand poetry. But above all things do not attempt to criticise others until you can produce an original poem yourself and without an assumed name for fear we might think it a borrowed one. I await it with interest. Until then must not trespass further on the kindness of the editor.

Sick Headache

IS a complaint from which many suffer and few are entirely free. Its cause is indigestion and a sluggish liver, the cure for which is readily found in the use of Ayer's Pills.

"I have found that for sick headache, caused by a disordered condition of the stomach, Ayer's Pills are the most reliable remedy."—Samuel C. Bradburn, Worthington, Mass.

"After the use of Ayer's Pills for many years, in my practice and family, I am justified in saying that they are an excellent cathartic and liver medicine—sustaining all the claims made for them."—W. A. Westfall, M. D., V. P. Austin & N. W. Railway Co., Burnet, Texas.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered stomach and liver. I suffered for over three years from headache, indigestion, and constipation. I had no appetite and was weak and nervous most of the time. By using three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured."—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kansas.

"I was troubled for years with indigestion, constipation, and headache. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, used in small daily doses, restored me to health. They are prompt and effective."—W. H. Strout, Meadville, Pa.

Keep It Up, Gentlemen. It Does Us Good. Figures Won't Lie!

Notwithstanding the combined efforts of jealous rivals to put us under, we are out on top as usual. Look at the record for 1889. Policies issued for nearly $3,500,000. Not bad for a young company, you will say. True, it took some of the old fogies 10 years to write up the same amount. Why, we declined more applications last year than some of the other companies wrote up altogether. How do we account for it, you say. Well, we have plans to suit everybody. Our premium rates are as low as any other company. Our policy is the most liberal, being nearly unconditional; almost a simple promise to pay at death or maturity, as the case may be. The policy-holders are entirely free from all liability; but are, nevertheless, allowed to participate in the control of the Company's affairs and to monopolize nine-tenths (9-10) of the profits of the business. Each policy-holder has one vote for every $1,000 of insurance held by him in this Company. These privileges are secured by the act of incorporation. If you are not insured, or want more insurance, take a policy in the MANUFACTURERS'.

HON. S. H. BLAKE speaks at St. Thomas on Monday evening next. An intellectual treat is in store for the Saints.

IT PAYS to be famous. Explorer Stanley has received £1,000 for the sole right of taking and publishing his photograph.

THERE are now, it is true, no longer any Bogomiles.—[London Spectator.

Are you sure? Scan the list of Tory candidates in the present campaign.

MR. CLANCY, of Kent, tried to wheedle the electors of West Lambton into voting for the Tory schemers last fall. His still hunt failed. Now Meredith has sent Lawyer Fitzgerald, of London, to try another tack. The dodge is altogether too transparent.

NOT a newspaper outside of Ontario, either Liberal or Conservative, has a word to say against Hon. Oliver Mowat's Administration. A great many of our contemporaries have discussed the probabilities of the coming election, and all agree that the Government will be sustained. They envy the Province in having such a Government, such a Premier and such a record. No other Province or State in the neighboring republic is without debt.

MR. CHARLTON, speaking as a consistent exponent of the Equal Rights Association at Ripley the other night, said Mr. Meredith is and has always been under the thumb of Sir John Macdonald. "The Ontario Tory leader," said Mr. Charlton, "would be just as ready to do his bidding again as he was when he sought to betray his Province at the bidding of his Ottawa 'boss' by attempting to surrender 93,000 square miles of its territory. Mr. Meredith's conversion was too recent to inspire him with confidence. He could not forget the 'Facts for Irish Electors,' issued under Mr. Meredith's supervision in 1883, nor the fact that he had concurred in all the legislation relative to separate schools up to last session. The fact was that Mr. Meredith and Sir John were on interchangeable terms, and the movement was, in his opinion, a conspiracy to capture Ontario for the arch-political manipulator at Ottawa. It was an easy thing to make professions and take positions when in opposition, but an entirely different thing to take definite action under the responsibilities of office, and if Mr. Meredith were in power he could not carry his colleagues or his party with him in the line of his professions even if he desired to do so. It was simply another move in the line of 'Facts for Irish Electors,' a political trick which he hoped would deceive no Equal Rights-Liberal elector."

DISREPUTABLE TACTICS,

Mr. W. C. Caldwell, of North Lanark, was the only member of the Legislature on the Government side who voted with Mr. Meredith on his clap-trap bills and resolutions respecting separate schools. And while it is the fact that Mr. Tooley and other friends of Mr. Meredith in the West are attacking the Government because it did not see fit to accept the bills and resolutions of Meredith, Creighton, French & Co., the friends of Mr. Meredith, in North Lanark are actually using Mr. Caldwell's votes to turn the Roman Catholic vote of the constituency against him and assist in electing the candidate of Mr. Meredith's party.

A more disreputable line of political conduct can hardly be conceived; yet it is in complete accord with the tactics of the Tory Opposition in this campaign. But Nemesis follows close upon the heels of that party, and her justice will be measured out to them on the 5th of June.

BALLOT SECRECY.

The Ontario ballot is identically the same as that in use in England. Many natives of England now living here have voted in the old land. Did any of them ever hear that it was not secret? The fact is it is thoroughly secret, except in the case of a scrutiny, ordered by the judges of the land, because of ballot-stuffing or other grave irregularities. The Tory agents know this, yet they industriously circulate the untruth that how they vote is known to the authorities. On the other hand, taking Hon. Mr. Chapleau, Secretary of State in Sir John Macdonald's Cabinet as our authority, the Dominion ballot is not secret. Here is what Mr. Chapleau said in the House of Commons last session:

The honorable member for West Durham (Mr. Blake) has stated that there were doubts as to the absolute secrecy of the votes given under the present system. I have no doubt that if people wish to know how others have voted, they can find out, in a great many cases, especially with regard to those who have not sufficient education to take their papers and give their votes themselves. If there be connivance between the voter and the election agent the voter may, by making his cross in a certain way, show the agent that he has voted according to his promises, I found in my experience that an agent could tell by looking at an ir ballots whether certain voters had carried out their promises. * * * I had the misfortune at one time of being obliged to ask for the conviction of two or three of any fellow countrymen in a case in the criminal court in which I was acting as counsel, for having stuffed a ballot box, and by this means changed the result of the election. * * * I must say that the present system does not give absolute secrecy and security to the voter.—[Hansard, page 202, 1890.

THE STATUS OF THE OPPOSITION.

The lists of Parliamentary candidates are now all but closed. In all save five constituencies the Opposition have men in the field, either straight Tories or Equal Rights-ers of Tory proclivities. The old members of the party are generally to the fore again, though several are missing, and in a few cases gentlemen who held seats in former Legislatures are again seeking public favors. We have accordingly a chance of taking stock of the men and forming an opinion of their possible value for cabinet material. In the last Legislature, as indeed in the last three Legislatures, the personnel of the Opposition was notoriously weak. Excepting Mr. Meredith himself, there was hardly a man in the party who could on the score of fitness be intrusted with a portfolio. There was not one who was fit to be named alongside the members of Mr Mowat's Cabinet except by way of contrast. Mr. Mowat with his great ability, long experience, solid sense and eminently judicial qualities of mind is alonea a tower of strength to the Government, to the House and to his party, and he has always surrounded himself with capable colleagues, the least of whom is a match for Mr. Meredith. And more than that, there are enough able men on the Ministerial side out of which to organize two or three Cabinets. Mr. Meredith, on the other hand, has at the best but a few third-rate men about him, and the majority are not superior to the members of an ordinary county council. We refer particularly to his followers in the last Legislature, Creighton, the two Clarkes, Clancy, French, Monk, Blythe, Tooley, Willoughby, Wylie, Cruess—who would ever dream of seating any one of those men on the treasury benches? Mr. Creighton and H. E. Clarke are probably the best of the lot, and both aspire to the office of treasurer; yet they both deny that the Province has a surplus in spite of the fact that last year the receipts of interest on special funds reached the large sum of $355,000. Capitalize this amount at 5 per cent. and we show a surplus of more than $7,000,000, and the Treasurer claims $6,427,252. Still with evidence so obvious as the interest paid into the treasury, earned upon special funds and investments, Mr. Creighton and Mr. Clarke broadly assert that there is not only no surplus, but that the Province is in debt. With such a demonstration of their incapacity for a portfolio that is confessedly the easiest in the Cabinet to hold, what has any reasonable man to expect of Mr. Meredith's friends as prospective members of a Government? Who would think of intrusting such men with the administration of a great Province like Ontario? And if the best men at Mr. Meredith's hands are of this quality, what is to be said of the second pick? What is to be said of the new men who are aspiring to seats in the Legislature? We have not a word to say against any one of them personally. They may be very decent folk for aught we know; but in the case of the old members it is a charity to pass them by in silence, and of the new men it can be said of very few that their names were ever before heard of outside the bounds of the municipalities in which they live. Who, for instance, has ever heard of Hutchins or Morgan outside of the county of Middlesex? Or Stinson outside of Hamilton? Or Godwin and Dougall McColl outside of Elgin? Or Jones and Hamilton outside of Brant? Or Fox outside of Essex? Or McGillicuddy and Coulter outside of Lambton? Or Musgrove, Roberts and Holmes outside of Huron? Or George and Tenant outside of Bruce? Or Patterson and Parrot outside of Kent? Or Wilson and Butler outside of Oxford? Or Craig and Miscampbell outside of Simcoe? Or Potts outside of Wentworth? Or Hampton, Long and Macdonald outside of Wellington? Or Gibson, Clendennan and Robinson outside of York? Or Miller and Glendenning outside of Ontario! Or Hiscott outside of Lincoln? The fact seems to be that if there are any men of capacity in the Tory party there are none among them who have any confidence in Mr. Meredith as a leader who can lead, and so he and his supporters are discounted all round. He has no timber out of which a passable Cabinet could be constructed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

LONDON now boasts of a "Society for the Promotion of Relaxation from Business Care and Enjoyment during Luncheon Hours.

OUT of respect for the countrymen of Livingstone Mr. Stanley has agreed to visit Scotland before he fulfills any other provincial engagement. He is to arrive in Edinburgh on June 9.

THE electric microscope promise to make some wonderful revelations in the world of science At a recent medical congress in Europe, microscopical preparations under a magnifying power of 11,000 linear were made visible to an assemblage of 300 persons. The pulsating heart of a dog and the heart beats produced by suffocation were successfully demonstrated.

PERHAPS Jenner did not discover vaccination. In a graveyard of Worth, Dorsetshire, there is a tomb with this inscription: "Benjamin Jestey, of Downshay, died April 10, 1816, aged 79. He was born at Yetminster, in this county, and was upright, honest man, particularly known for having been the first person known that introduced the cow-pox by inoculation, and who, for his great strength of mind, made the experiment from the cow on his wife and two sons in the year 1774."

IT is always best to avoid danger, if possible; therefore, there is one rule which ought to be taught in every school in the Canada, and that is: Never lift an electric wire off the ground. As long as it is on the ground it is harmless, no matter what pressure may be on it. The moment it leaves the ground it may be dangerous. If it is in the way of traffic, you may safely pull it across the street with your foot; then put your foot on it and hold it on the ground and it cannot hurt you, but do not lift it. Never touch a wire tied on a pole. It may not be dangerous, but it is like the "unloaded" gun—it may kill you.

THE Bishop of Liverpool is not in entire agreement with some of the directors of societies for the care of young women. At a meeting of the Liverpool Rescue Society he said: "I do not quite agree with the White Cross and other societies which look upon all young women as lambs and angels, and all young men as ravening wolves going about seeking whom then can devour. I think human nature is the same in females as in males, and that young women are often as prone, unless there is a good principle in them, to run into sin as young men. We must look at the matter in a common sense manner."

MONTREAL, Sept. 9, 1887.

To the Canada Sugar Refining Co., Montreal.

GENTLEMEN,—I have personally taken samples from a large stock of your Granulated Sugar, "REDPATH" brand, and carefully tested them by the Polariscope, and I find these samples to be as near to absolute purity as can be obtained by any process of Sugar Refining.

The test by the Polariscope showed in yesday's yield 99.90 per cent. of Pure Cane Sugar, which may be considered commercially as ABSOLUTELY PURE SUGAR.

AIR-POUNDING.

The Tecumsehs Only Make Three Hits Off Stein.

Detroit and Buffalo Both Beaten—Sporting News in General.

BASEBALL.

ONLY THREE HITS.

Somebody in the grand stand at the beginning of yesterday's game with the Hyphens made a remark that "Stein will be pounded for s'teen hits." As though that hardy-looking German gentleman was aware of the awful attempt at a pun, he pitched a grand game of ball, and worried the Londons so much that when the bats were packed up for the day only three men had hit safely, two of these hits being very scratchy. He gave only three bases on balls and struck out seven gallant Tecumsehs, so the home team was not in it by any means. Demaris pitched the first three innings, and was warmed for two hits in both the first and second. Jones then took the box, and was pounded at a lively rate by the Sagi-Bays in the sixth—three singles, a double, a sacrifice and a base on balls being the reason for the five runs that tallied. London escaped a whitewashing through the active base running of Leighton, who got first on balls and stole second, third and home amid the crowd's cheers, despite the really good throwing of the Hyphens' battery. Doyle, the visitors' shortstop, did a lot of work well, Wright had a splendid one-handed pick-up, and West's difficult catches of long flies to center showed considerable agility. London was in the race until the second half of the ninth, when Michael's curves failed to puzzle. The following shows the hitting and the wind-pounding:

NOTES.

Stein puzzled them.

Scooped by the Hythens.

Murphy has dropped his mustache.

Mickey seems to lose his grip once in a while.

'Twas the last of the present series of home games.

The Saginaw-Bay City aggregation can hit the ball, but are slow at running bases.

Buffalo will be here on Thursday next. In the meantime three games at Toronto and three at Buffalo will be played.

Doyle, the discarded Tecumseh short stop, had six assists, one hit, one put-out and no errors. Parks, the retained Tecumseh shortstop, had two assists, one hit, two put-outs and two errors. Comparisons are odious.

FLYS.

The American Association has changed the dates of several games which conflicted with League and Brotherhood games.

The Clipper Baseball Club of Delaware, will play the E. Adams & Company nine, of London, Delaware commons next Saturday afternoon.

Captain Peter Wood told the Toronto World that his shoulder now is not what it used to be and he will not likely ever occupy the box again.

Syracuse has released the veteran third baseman Joe Battin, who has played there for three seasons. Other changes in the team are pending.

Maguire has been suspended indefinitely for improper behavior. Two or three other pitchers are being communicated with by Manager Fessenden.

A dispatch from Buffalo says: Manager Bacon denies the report that the Buffalo International League club is to be transferred to Montreal. He says there is no truth in it whatever.

Mr. David Jennings, the well-known local pitcher of the G. T. R. Club, leaves for Port Huron in the morning, having signed with that club. This makes eight London boys playing in the Port Huron team.

The Grand Trunk Baseball Club have arranged a game with Struthers, Anderson & Co.'s nine on Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon next. As these are the two strongest teams in the city a good game may be expected.

Billy Serad, Toronto's clever pitcher, returned to that city yesterday looking quite happy for a man who was supposed to have a broken arm. The bone was not broken and the popular twirler will likely appear in the box before a fortnight.

LAWN TENNIS.

In the lawn tennis match played at St. Thomas the other day between Woodstock and St. Thomas the former won 18 sets and lost 5, and St. Thomas won 16 sets and lost 3, the result being a drawn game.

THE TURF.

THE MANCHESTER MEETING.

LONDON, May 29.—The Manchester Whitsontide meeting opened yesterday. The race for the Hartington plate was won by Cass' Jessamy, Lord Hartington's Hear Hear second, Jardines' Sarawak third. The principal race of the day was the Salford Borough handicap of 1,000 sovereign, which was won by O'Neil's The Rejected; Smith's Miss Dollar second; Lovther's Workington third.

DRAUGHTS.

Ex-President Cleveland (U.S.) is a great enthusiast of the game and a very strong player.

Mrs. Ida Briggs, sister of Mr. H. Z. Wright, draughts edior of the Yankee Blade, ranks among the best lady players of America.

Mr. J. M. Greenwood, superintendent of the city school, Kansa City, Mo., in writing of the game of checkers, says: "If our boys were taught to play checkers scientifically, it would decease the gambling habit of our people by large per cent. As for the educational value of each work, it ranks alongside the mental processes involved in solving mathematical problems. To cultivate attention too, it is certainly one of the best exercises. Our observation is that persons who are devoted to either checkers or chess care but little for other games."

THE WHEEL.

LAWRASON DOWSED AT LAST.

The first monthly race of the Forest City Bicycle Club was run last evening with the following competitors: Lawrason, Owens, Wigmore, Brobner and Tune. The starter was Mr. Thos. Killean and the judges Messrs. R. M. Burns and W. H. Irvine. A good even start was made at 7:22½ from the Guns, Victoria Park finishing in the following order: Owen 47½, Tune 48½, Lawrason 50, Brebner 52½ Wigmore 54 minutes. Owens rode a very fine race from start to finish showing up in the form. Tune did remarkably well, but showed that he had not been down to work. Wigmore on the cicyclette, rode the best race of all, it being his first race, and as he was not in racing costume he was at considerable disadvantage to the others who are considered old riders.

THE METHODISTS.

Closing Session of the London District.

The London District of the London Conference concluded its session yesterday afternoon. The question of financially strengthening the churches in the district was taken up. King Street and Queen's Park Churches asked for small grants from the contingent fund, which were granted. Sylvan circuit was found to be deficient in its superannuation fund. The amount was subscribed to the members of the District present. Rev. James E. Ford, of Westminster, was elected to the Stationing Committee and Rev. S. J. Allin, of this city, and Mr. E. S. Hunt, of Westminster, were elected to the Sabbath School Committee. A vote of thanks was tendered to Rev. J. E. Hunt for his sermon on "Fellowship" delivered on Tuesday evening. It was also decided to have it printed.

The following names were elected to the Conference, which meets next week at Chatham: R. J. Dawson, C. J. Beale, E. S. Hunt, S. Hunt, B. W. Davis, W. H. McCutcheon, W. Anderson, J. Goodge, F. Yates, A. B. Campbell, E. B. Plewis, G. N. Weekes, J. D. Saxby, R. W. Jackson, G. Carrie, J. Whalon, G. Fitzgerald, J. Creighton, E. McCann, J. Burrows, C. Sifton, G. Webster, W. Heaman, I. Webster, W. H. Winnett, J. Mill, W. Hamilton, S. McBride, W. T. Gartley, I. M. Mayell, W. Bowman.

Mr. Dawson was elected to the Missionary Committee. A motion was passed expressing the deepest sense of loss felt in the removal of Rev. A. Langford from the Conference, after which the District was dismissed. The District meets next year in their annual meeting at Wellington Street Church, and in their financial meeting at Lambeth.

Corn Sowing

Is a process conducted by the agency of tight boots all the year round. Corn reaping is best conducted through the agency of Putnam's Painless Corn Extrator, the only safe and sure-pop corn cure. Putnam's Extractor is now widely imitated. Beware of all poisonous and store-producing substitutes.

A good proof that water is elastic is the fact that it streches from pole to pole.

Miss-fits—Hysterics.

Sometimes it pleases an audience that it is a finished performance.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy, as a general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

NEWFOUNDLAND.

Arbitrary Proceedings of the French Naval Authorities.

Inhabitants Deserting the Island—The Delegates in England.

HALIFAX, May 29.—A good deal of excitement prevails at Bay St. George, Nfld., owing to the conduct of a French war ship in ordering British subjects there to remove their fishing gear from the water, otherwise the commander would order his men to remove them. Fearing they would be destroyed, the fishermen promptly removed them.

DESERTING THEIR HOMES.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 29.—The Buenos Ayrean, from St. Johns, brought 100 immigrants from Newfoundland. People are leaving that island in droves.

NECESSITY OF PROMPT ACTION.

LONDON, May 29.—The unofficial Newfoundland delegates it is learned, are well satisfied with the result of their labors here so far. The press has given a favorable reception to their views, and recognizes the importance of the issues and the necessity of prompt and thorough settlement of the difficulty. Above all, there is reason to believe the delegates have been successful in convincing Lord Knutsford of the strong grounds which their case rests upon. The delegates hope to have an interview with Lord Salisbury shortly after the present recess.

COERCION FORESHADOWED.

LONDON, May 29.—The Post says: "It is more than likely that the Government will reply to the address of the Newfoundland Parliament by insisting upon the compliance of that colony with the terms of England's agreement with France, in default of which sterner measures will be taken."

A FRENCHMAN'S SUGGESTIONS.

PARIS, May 29.—Deputy Deloncle, in an article in the Siecle on the Newfoundland dispute, calls the Newfoundland Legislature's address to the Queen an impertinent manifesto, to which, he says, Lord Salisbury will send a fitting answer. It proves, however, he continues, the urgent necessity for a solution of the question. If England only had the courage to make the proposals which he recently suggested, namely, to submit the dispute to arbitration, to compensation the French fishermen and to give France some indemnity, such as territory in Africa, in return for her surrender of her diplomatic rights, together with an additional proposal reserving to France the right to buy bait in Newfoundland for the Great Bank fisheries, her overtures would be favorably received in Paris and an amicable settlement would easily be arranged. Only let the two Cabinets open negotiations seriously and the colonial authorities would see that the hour for recrimination had passed, and that it would be to their immediate interest not to hinder the diplomacy of the home Government.

From his awkward position he could not hold the body and was forced to let it drop a considerable distance to the floor, thus badly bruising the body. Help was hastily called to the scene and under the charge of the doctors she was brought around, though there is yet great danger of his death.

The weather crop bulletin of May 24 of the Michigan weather service says: "The reports indicate that the weather conditions of the past week have been favorable to wheat and grass, and that these crops have made steady progress during the week. The oats have not improved much, and some late planted have not come up yet. The condition of corn planting is much the same as last week, as the continued wet weather has prevented much, if any, corn to be planted during the week, and in some sections the ground is too wet for even plowing to be done. Potato planting in the southeastern portion is about three-quarters finished, but not much has been done in this line in other sections of this State on account of the wet condition of the soil. Some corn planted about three weeks ago has not come up yet, and will probably rot in the ground. There are, however, very few reports of this. Reports from Evart, Osceola county, indicate that the fruit trees are not yet in bloom. Wheat and grass have improved during the week, but other crops have been retarded by the continued cold wet weather."

New Novel.—"The Bell of St. Paul's, by Walter Besant, has rapidly attained a large and deserved popularity. In it the author says, "This is an Age of Apollinaris Water"—a very true remark, seeing that no less than 15,822,000 bottles were filled at the Apollinaris Spring in the year 1889.

THE RAILWAYS.

Earnings of the Canadian Roads—Proposed Railway to the Summit of the Jungfrau.

Mails will be carried over the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railroad, beginning June 1.

The receipts of the Grand Trunk Railway last week were $383,064, an increase of $10,806 over the same period last year.

Egan Bros.' grading outfit and 60 men have been sent to Lethbridge, Man., to work on the Canada and Great Falls Railway from that place to the boundary.

Eiffel, the tower builder, is to construct a railway to the summit of Jungfrau Mountain in Switzerland, the summit being 13,500 feet above the point where the road will start.

The Executive Committee of the trunk lines met at New York Wednesday and agreed to restore west-bound all-rail rates to Chicago on June 2, and lake and rail rates on June 9.

Citizens of Watertown, N. Y., have subscribed for half the expense of surveying a railroad from Camden, Oneida county, N. Y., to Watertown, Austin Corbin, of the Reading, and the Elmira, Cortland and Northern agreeing to pay the other half.

A meeting of western general passenger agents of all the interested lines is to be held to-day (Thursday) to fix a date for restoration of rates. The Wisconsin Central has already signed the agreement. This removes the only apparent obstacle to the establishment of peace.

The Railway Committee of the Dominion Privy Council disposed of 30 cases Wednesday, mostly unimportant from a public point of view. The application of the St. Catharines and Niagara Central to run on Midland street, St. Catharines, by the side of Montebello Park, was granted.

The construction of the new railway for the Northern Pacific line from Emsdale to Parry Sound, will be commenced forthwith. The road, which is 47 miles long, has been surveyed. The contractor expects to have twenty miles of the line finished by the fall, and undertakes to have the whole road completed in two years.

The Canadian Pacific earnings during April, 1890, were: Gross earnings, $1,228,578; working expenses, $821,846; net profits, $406,672. In April, 1889, the net profits were $404,185. For the four months ending April, 1890, the figures are as follows: Gross earnings, $4,235,894; working expenses, $3,113,570; net profits, $1,122,323. For the four months ending April 30, 1889, the net profits were $1,069,361.

A statement compiled by the statistician and submitted to the Convention of Railway Commissioners at Washington shows that during the year ended June 30, 1889, in the States, 5,825 persons were killed and 26,309 injured. Of the number killed 1,972 were employes, 310 were passengers and 3,541 were denominated "other persons." Of the injured 20,028 were employes, 2,146 were passengers and 4,135 were other persons. The statement further says: The railways of the United States carried 472,171,343 passengers during the year covered by this statement, from which it appears that one passenger in every 1,523,133 was killed, and one passenger in every 220,024 was injured. For the year 1888 the rate of casualty in England to passengers from railroad accidents was one passenger in 6,942,336 killed and one passenger in 527,577 injured. In judging of the above figures it should be noted that passenger mileage for a given number of tickets sold is much greater in the United States than in England, a fact which mitigates somewhat the severity of judgment on railway management in the United States disclosed in the above comparison. The number of railway employes in the United States is given as 704,736.

EAST BUFFALO.

May 28.—The small supply of common cattle left over from Monday constituted the offerings to-day. The market was steady, but only a peddling trade was done. Calves sold at $4 to $4 75.

Sheep and lambs—Sixteen cars on sale, mostly yearling lambs of rather ordinary quality. Choice sheep wanted, and all offerings of sheep and lambs sold fairly. Best sheep, $6 to $6 25. Yearling lambs sell the same as sheep as to quality and weight. Spring lambs, $6 50 to $7 50.

Hogs—Offerings, ten cars, mostly medium and light hogs. The market is better and slightly more active; mixed, medium and heavy, $4 25; Yorkers, $4 20 to $4 30; light to medium, $4 10 to $4 20; pigs, $3 75 to $3 90.

TORONTO.

May 27.—For export cattle the demand was weak on account of the demoralized condition of the English markets. Shippers were buying, however, to fill the space engaged on the steamships. Prices were from 4¾c to 5½c per pound. Not many butcher cattle are coming in, receipts being chiefly export cattle. The demand is fair at steady prices. For choice lots 4¾c to 5c per pound was paid down to 3½c for inferior.

Sheep sold fairly well at from $5 50 to $7.

Spring lambs are rather quiet at from $3 50 to $4 50 each.

The calves offered were of uniformly good quality and brought good prices, ranging from $4 to $6 50, according to quality.

Hogs were in demand, the best selling for $5 to $5 40 per cwt. and stores at $4 75 to $5 per cwt.

The Search at Springbank.

No trace of the bodies of Adam Johnston and Ida Doherty, who were drowned at Springbank on Monday, has been found. A scheme was tried to locate the bodies, but proved a failure. A sack was filled with stones and bran to the weight of a man's body and was sent over the dam tied to a buoy to ascertain if possible the direction taken by the young people when they went over. As stated, the plan was unsuccessful. It is now believed that the bodies are in the neighborhood of the small island below the dam, where the water is very still and deep. The search is being continued.

The strike has created the greatest excitement in the southern part of the State.

CITY NOMINATION.

The Arrangement Between the Party Leaders Carried Out.

Speech by Mr. E. T. Essery on Things in General.

About 25 of the electorate of the city assembled in one corner of the City Hall at 11 o'clock this morning for the purpose of nominating candidates to represent the constituency in the Provincial Legislature for the ensuing term, Returning Officer Sheriff Glass presiding. Assistant Clerk Graham read the proclamation and Secretary Glass the writ of election.

The Returning Officer then called for the nominations.

Mr. George S. Birrell rose and nominated Mr. W. R. Meredith, Q.C., as a fit and proper person to represent the constituency. The nomination was seconded by Mr. T. H. Blackwell.

Mr. W. J. Lucas nominated Mr. E. T. Essery. The nomination was seconded by Mr. Thomas Marshall.

The returning officer closed the poll at 12:15 o'clock and adjourned the meeting to the Court House. Ald. Taylor was elected chairman and Mr. T. H. Blackwell secretary.

Mr. Essery was the first speaker to put in an appearance. He was greeted with applause. He said that although the present meeting was a small one, he thought that the people were about to deal with one of the greatest questions of the day. He objected to being governed by anything like an absentee landlord. Mr. Mowat had been in London but once in fourteen years, and the speaker knew of no place in the world, excepting Russia and the Province of Ontario, where such a state of things were allowed to exist. He then attacked the policy of Mr. Mowat in regard to appointing his son to be sheriff of Toronto, and claimed that he had carved out the best office in the Province for him. He had differed from Mr. Meredith in the past and would no doubt do so again, but when Mr. Meredith nailed his colors to the mast the speaker would support him, and if the Liberals brought out a man he would have the largest majority he had ever received. The speaker had never asked favors from anybody and was in a position to speak plain. Referring to the centralization of affairs in Toronto. He held that there should be a full court in the city of London of three judges, and thus save a great deal of legal expenses which the clients had to pay. The bureau question came in for a portion of his attention. He read several summonses issued by Squire Jarvis on a trivial case, and charged that the authorities were robbing the people of the county by the continuance of such a system. He instanced a case of trespass, by which several small boys had been summoned. The boys were asked to plead guilty before they were summoned, and some of them were fined without the knowledge of their parents. The speaker had defended several such cases and if the Premier of the Province was an honest man he would abolish these J. P. organizations. His experience was that the man best able to pay the costs was stuck for the case in such places. A constable should be a respectable man, but there was no such thing as justice carried in the bureaus, and a respectable man would not have anything to do with them. The appointing of three magistrates would be a good thing for the county, and their salaries would be but a flea bite compared to what the present system cost and the burden then could be borne by all alike. The speaker then took up the temperance legislation of the Mowat Government. He said the law formerly left it in the power of the majority of the electors to say whether licenses should be granted or not. It had since been amended so that the would-be saloon-keeper had not to appear with a petition from the majority of the taxpayers, and thus secure his license. He claimed the amendments had been made in the interests of the whisky men, and that whisky was still king as before. As long as one Government went snooks with the manufacturers of liquor and another went snooks with the sellers, the speaker thought that the business was a legal one. If the license system was operated by the municipal councils it would be better than the present system, but if they were elected the same as the water commissioners it would be better than either. The speaker thought that not allowing to women the privilege of voting was a lasting disgrace. If they were able to vote for aldermen they should also have the right to vote for members of the Legislature. The ballot question was not what the speaker would desire, and he contended that the numbering of them was for the purpose of telling how each individual man voted. The Estate Act amendment was next taken up. The speaker contended that the act was playing into the hands of trust companies in Toronto, which were in a flourishing condition, Referring to the Upper Canada College, the speaker held that its establishment and maintenance at the expense of the Province for the aggrandizement of Toronto was a lasting disgrace.

Mr. Essery then took up the question of litigation, which had been brought against the city for emptying sewage in the river, and contended that the Government had not treated the city fairly, and only abandoned the prosecution when worsted. The separate school question was the next subject taken up. In the Conservative rooms, don't you know that you have to speak in whispers for fear of offending the minority, and it is the same in the Liberal rooms. He challenged any member of the Government or Opposition to show what authority Mr. Mowat had to petition the Imperial Government to grant home rule to the people of Ireland. Mr. Mowat, the speaker said, had stated that the Imperial Government would never alter the constitution in relation to separate schools. The speaker held that the separate schools were never sanctioned by the people of Ontario, but were forced upon them. But the speaker thought that if the majority of the people of Ontario petitioned for the repeal of the constitution it would be repealed or the men of Canada would know the reason why. The speaker was not opposed to equal rights, but simply asked for a fair field and no favor. The reason the Liberals had not a candidate in London was because they were afraid of the questions at issue. If there had been a contest it would have been one of the prettiest ever seen. The speaker would have supported Mr. Meredith under any circumstances.

Mr. Essery declined the nomination, and Mr. Meredith, in accordance with the arrangements entered into between the leaders whereby both he and Mr. Mowat are unopposed, was declared elected by acclamation.

Attempted Murder at Galt—A Man Shot in the Face.

GALT, May 29.—What would appear to be an attempted murder occurred here last night about 9 o'clock. Wm. While talking to the foreman in the shanty his dog ran out and started barking at two men who were near by, and who commenced abusing the dog. Doidge came out and remonstrated with them, until the altercation became hot that Doidge struck at one of the... who immediately drew a revolver and fired ... to Doidge's face. The ball entered near the mouth and came out a little below the ear. The shot was fired at close range, powder marks being visible all over Doidge's cheeks. CHAPTER XXVII.

HOW GEORGE TREATED JOHNNIE.

Some two or three days before the scene described in the last chapter the faithful George had suddenly announced his desire to visit London.

"What?" said the Squire, in astonishment, for George had never been known to go out of his own county before. "Why, what on earth are you going to do in London?"

"Well, Squire," answered his retainer, looking marvelously knowing, "I don't rightly know, but there's a cheap train goes up to this here exhibition on Tuesday morning, and comes back on the Thursday evening. Ten shillings both ways, that's the fare and I see in the Chronicle, I do, that there's a wonderful show of these new fangled self tying and delivering reapers, sich as the use over the sea in America, and I'm rarely fell on seeing them, and having a holiday look round London town. So as there ain't northing particler a-doing, if you hain't anything to say agin it, I think I'll go, Squire."

"All right," said the Squire; "are you going to take your wife with you?"

"Why, no, Squire; I said that I wanted to go for a holiday, and that ain't no holiday to take the old missus, too," and George chuckled in a manner that evidently meant volumes.

And so it came to pass that on the afternoon of the day of the transfer of the mortgages from Edward Cossey to Mr. Quest the great George found himself wandering vaguely about the vast expanse of the Collinderies, and not enjoying himself in the least. He had been recommended by some traveled individual in Boisingham to a certain lodging near Liverpool street station, which he found with the help of a friendly porter. Thence he set out for the exhibition, but, being of a prudent mind, thought that he would do well to save his money and walk the distance. So he walked and walked till he was tired, and, then, after an earnest consultation with a policeman, he took a 'bus, which an hour later landed him—at the Royal Oak. His further adventures we need not pursue; suffice it to say that, having started from his lodgings at 3, it was past 7 o'clock at night when he finally reached the exhibition, more thoroughly wearied than though he had done a good day's harvesting.

Here he wandered for a while in continual dread of having his pocket picked, seeking reaping machines and finding none, till he at length found himself in the gardens, where the electric light display was in full swing. Soon wearying of this, for it was a cold, damp night, he made a difficult path to a buffet inside the building, where he sat down to a little table and devoured some very unpleasant looking cold beef. Here slumber overcame him, for his weariness was great, and he dozed.

Presently through the muffled roar and hum of voices, which echoed in his sleep-dulled ears, he caught the sound of a familiar name, which awoke him up "all of a heap," as he afterwards said. The name of "Quest." Without moving his body he opened his eyes. At the very next table to his own were seated two people, a man and a woman. He looked at the latter first. She was clad in yellow, and was very tall and thin and fierce looking; so fierce looking that George involuntarily jerked back his head, and brought it with painful force in contact with the wall. It was the Tiger herself, and her companion was the coarse, dreadful looking man called Johnnie, whom she had sent away in the cab on the night of Mr. Quest's visit.

"Oh," Johnnie was saying, "so Quest is the covey's name, is it, and he lives in a city called Boisingham, does he? Is he an oof bird?" (rich.)

"Rather," answered the Tiger, "if only one can make the dollars trickle, but he is a nasty mean boy, he is. Look here, not a cent, not a stiver to bless myself with, and I daren't ask him for any more until January. And how am I going to live till January? I got the sack from the Music hall last week because I was a bit jolly, and old Thompson, the conductor, wanted to drop 10 per cent. on my salary because he said I didn't draw as I used to, and that I was getting too old and ugly. So I just caught him one with the handle of my brolie that made him see stars, and the beast had me up for assault, and it was 40s. and costs. And now I can't get another billet any way, and I have got a bill of sale over the furniture, and I have sold all my jewels down to my ticker, or at least most of them and there's that brute," and her voice rose to a subdued scream, "living like a fighting cock and rolling in oof while his poor wife is left to starve."

"Wife? Oh, yes, we know all about that," said the gentleman named Johnnie.

A look of doubt and cunning passed across the woman's face. Evidently she feared that she had said too much.

"Well, it's as good a name as another," she said. "Oh, don't I wish that I could get a grip on him; I'd wring him," and she twisted her long bony hands as washerwomen do when they wring a cloth.

"I'd back you too," said Johnnie. "And now, adored Edithia, I've had enough of this blooming show and I'm off. Perhaps I shall look in down Pimlico way this evening. Ta-ta."

"Well, you may as well stand a liquor first," said the adored one. "I'm pretty dry, I can tell you."

"Certainly, with pleasure; I will order one. Waiter, a brandy and soda for the lady—six of brandy if you please; she's very delicate and wants support."

The waiter grinned and bought the drink and the man Johnnie turned around as though to pay him, but really he went without doing so.

George watched him go and then looked again at the lady, whose appearance seemed to fascinate him.

"Well, if that ain't a master one," he said to himself, "and she called herself his wife, she did, and then drew up like a slug's horns. Hang me if I don't stick to her till I find out a bit more of the tale."

Thus ruminated George, who, be it observed, was no fool, and had a hearty dislike and mistrust of Mr Quest. While he was wondering how he was to go to work, an unexpected opportunity occurred. The Tiger had finished her brandy and soda and was preparing to leave when the waiter swooped down upon her.

"Money, please, Miss," he said.

"Money," she said; 'why you are paid."

"Come, none of tha," said the waiter; I want a shilling for the brandy and soda."

"A shilling, do you? Then you will have to want, you cheating, white face rascal, you; my friend said you before he went away."

"Oh, we've had too much of that game," said the waiter, beckoning to a constable, to whom in spite of the "dir Edithia's" very vigorous and pointed protestations he went on to give her in charge, for it appeared that she had only tuppence about her. This was George's opportunity, and he interfered.

"I think, marm," he said, "that the fat gent with you was playing of a little game. He only pretended to pay the waiter."

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation; its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend. 25 doses, 35 cents.

"Why, Henry," exclaimed one man to another, "how cold you are getting!" "Yes," answered Henry, absent-mindedly, "but she's gone on a visit to her mother now."

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

Hotter the Weather Bigger the Proof.

As the weather grows warm, the sale of James Pyle's Pearline Washing Compound rapidly increases. This proves that many women recognize the fact that PEARLINE makes washing and cleaning very much easier than when done with the ordinary means. Proves also that summer clothing, being of delicate texture and color, will not stand the rough usage necessary when washed with soap, and establishes the fact that PEARLINE, in doing away with the rubbing, lessens the wear and tear and fills a very important place. Delightful for bathing in fresh or salt water. Its ingredients render it harmless to the most delicate skin. Especially during the hot weather it is to your advantage to use PEARLINE, and only humane to supply your servants with it, and thus lighten their labors; besides you insure much better results. Beware of imitations. JAMES PYLE, New York.

Hints to Factory Patrons.

Prof. Jas. W. Robertson, dairy commissioner of Ottawa, has issued three bulletins, one on "Butter-Making," another on "Notes for Cheese Makers for May," and a third on "Milk for Cheese Factories." These bulletins are furnished in English or French, as required, the latter being for circulation chiefly in the dairy districts of Quebec. The following points are specially for the attention of cheese factory patrons:

1. Milk from cows in good health and apparent contentment only should be used.
2. Until after the eighth milking, it should not be offered to a cheese factory.
3. An abundant supply of cheap, succulent, easily digestible, wholesome, nutritions feed should be provided.
4. Pure cold water should be allowed in quantities limited only by the cow's capacity and desire to drink.
5. A box or trough containing salt, to which the cows have access every day, is a requisite indespensable in the profitable keeping of cows.
6. Cows should be prohibited from drinking stagnant impure water. The responsibility for the efficacy of that beneficial prohibition rests wholly with the individual farmer.
7. Wild leeks and other weeds common in bush pastures give an offensive odor and flavor to the milk of animals which eat them.
8. All the vessels used in the handling of milk should be cleaned thoroughly immediately after their use. A washing in tepid or cold water to which has been added a little soda, and a subsequent scalding with boiling water, will prepare them for airing, that they may remain perfectly sweet.
9. Cows should be milked with dry hands, and only after the udders have been washed or brushed clean.
10. Tin pails only should be used.
11. All milk be strained immediately after it is drawn.
12. Milking should be done and milk should be kept only in a place where the surrounding air is pure. Otherwise the presence of the tainting doors will not be neglected by the milk.
13. All milk should be aired immediately after it has been strained. The treatment is equally beneficial to the evening and the morning messes of milk.
14. In warm weather, all milk should be cooled to the temperature of the atmosphere after it has been aired, but not before.
15. Milk is better for being kept over night in small quantities, rather than in a large quantity in one vessel.
16. Milk stands should be constructed to shade from the sun, the cans or vessels containing milk, as well as to shelter them from rains.
17. Only pure, clean, honest milk should be offered. Any deviation from that will not always go unpunished.

DYSPEPSIA.

Its Causes and Its Prevention.

"In this rapid age, this age of hurry and worry, this age of money-making and spending, this age of fast and careless living, we find a great amount of dyspepsia. People become dyspeptic from nervous excitement and nervous tension. They do not take time to eat their meals, but do that as they do their business—in a great hurry." In this way commences an article in the Cincinnati Lancet and Clinic, a prominent western medical journal.

It is a lamentable truth that dyspepsia is becoming one of the most common diseases in this country. Variable appetite, nausea, "gnawing at the pit of the stomach," gulping up wind, heartburn, loss of flesh, sallow skin, dizziness, furred tongue, foul breath, palpitation of the heart at the least excitement, and sleeplessness—when all or any of these exist, life has become a burden owing to the presence of dyspepsia. Pains in different regions lead the sufferer to imagine that he is a victim to Bright's disease, cancer of the stomach or fatal heart disease. Physicians are consulted, but the patient is not cured, and there is not only the frightful agony of dyspepsia, but also the terrible mental tortures of gloomy and despondent fears.

A typical case of dyspepsia was that of Byron Avery, of West Campton, N. H. For a long time he was very weak, very thin and a great sufferer. He could hardly eat anything, and what he did eat distressed him terribly; but he used Paine's Celery Compound, and in a short time had a good appetite, regained his strength, increased in weight, and food did not distress him. He recommends this medicine to all who suffer with dyspepsia or any nervous disease. This remedy is a purely vegetable preparation, the discovery of the late eminent Professor Phelps, of Dartmouth College. It cannot harm the most delicate, and in hundreds of instances has perfectly cured dyspepsia after other methods of treatment could not even benefit. It strengthens the nervous system, tones up and invigorates the digestive organs, gives sound sleep and perfect health. There is nothing like it, and if you suffer with dyspepsia or nervous trouble, you do yourself an injustice if you do not commence the use of this scientific preparation at once.

LONDON AND PRECINCTS.

Geo. Bryant, of Winnipeg, has come east on a visit to this city.

E. Lewis, Belmont, had his hand badly cut by a circular saw the other day.

Mr. G. Cooper, of Missouri, formerly a resident of Belmont, is visiting friends at the latter place.

Michael O'Meara and John Mason, charged with being disorderly, were fined $2 each by Police Magistrate Parke this morning.

There was a very small market to-day, evidently caused by the large number of electors attending nominations throughout the county.

Union village expects to be connected with St. Thomas and London by telephone in a few days. This will be a great convenience.

Examinations are in progress at the Chapter House. There are eleven candidates for deacon's orders, five of whom are from Huron College, two from Wycliffe College, Toronto, and four from elsewhere.

Two panes of glass were broken in a window in the rear of J. & D. Ross' store Richmond street, by some person or persons evidently with the object of robbing the store. Bars on the inside of the window prevented them from accomplishing their object.

Miss M. K. Thorne, of Mitchell, sister of C. S. and W. H. Thorne, of this city, was married recently to Mr. Wm. Levy, grocer, of Mitchell. The ceremony was performed at the residence of her father, Mr. Wm. Thorne, of that place, by Rev. Mr. Mills.

Death has been unusually busy of late among the priesthood of the London Diocese. Rev. Father Hertman, of Listowel, who has just died, making the third death in the district since the departure of Bishop Walsh for Toronto last November.

The little son of Mr. Fred. Fortnier, who was mysteriously shot while standing in his father's doorway on Monday, is in a very precarious condition, and little or no hope is held out for his recovery. The mystery has not been cleared up yet, but, it is learned, a slight clue has been obtained which would point to an accident on the part of some boys using a gun on the day of the shooting.

An accident of a very serious nature occurred on the heights at Port Stanley Monday afternoon. A number of young men were playing ball, when one of them threw the ball wildly, with the result that a book agent, who has been in London for a short time, was struck behind the ear and knocked senseless. He was picked up, restoratives applied and brought to consciousness. He fainted three times after this, and in the evening was scarcely able to take the train for home. His name could not be learned.—[St. Thomas Daily Times.

Rev. Calvin Shaw, brief mention of whose death appeared in yesterday's ADVERTISER, was one of the best known and most earnest workers in the mission field of the Methodist Church in the Dominion. The reverend gentleman's health had been failing for nearly two years, and in November last he was reluctantly compelled to abandon work in connection with the church. He was placed on the superannuation list, and went to Toronto with his family on Saturday, but on Tuesday he died of a combined attack of apoplexy and asthma. Mr. Shaw was born in Lancashire, England, in the year 1836. He came to Canada at the age of 21, and engaged in mission work for the New Connexion Methodist Church. He has held charges in various parts of the Dominion, and was regarded as one of the most earnest and zealous ministers in the Methodist circuit. His first pastorate was in this city, whence he was transferred to Montreal. During his ministry of over 30 years he was called to labor in many fields, his last charge being at Novar, Muskoka, which he undertook about a year ago.

His Record.

A correspondent writes: "Probably the electors of West Lambton will not be acquainted with the record of W. W. Fitzgerald, the London lawyer whom the wire-pullers of the Tory party have foisted on the riding as a candidate for Mr. Meredith. In 1889 Mr. Fitzgerald was a candidate for aldermanic honors. He was left at home—at the foot of the poll. This year, he was again a candidate—at the foot of the poll of successful candidates. He has been a standing applicant for a Tory nomination in East Middlesex for many years, but never succeeded in having enough popularity to carry the convention."

The Festival.

The "Festival of Days" in the City Hall, has certainly proven a success. Last night at the promenade concert friends began to file in very early in the evening, and soon the building was crowded by a thoroughly appreciative audience, moving round the central booth. "D" Company band was in attendance, and under the management of Bandmaster Fisher, assisted by Drum Major Burns, discoursed suitable music, much to the enjoyment of those present. Their rendering of "Ella Waltzes," "The Soldier's Lost Charge," Return of the Warriors," "Light and Shade Waltzes," "Harp of Erin," "Medley Mymoso," and "Sallie Maria" were exceedingly well performed. The sales during the evening were very gratifying, and the ladies in attendance feel highly elated over their success, which they hope will continue till the festival is closed, which will be to-morrow. A good programme has been provided for this evening and an enjoyable time may be looked for.

Legal Decisions.

The following cases were dealt with yesterday at Osgoode Hall: Whitham vs. Kidd—Counsel for the execution creditors Whithan & Co. and E. Leonard & Sons, appealed from an order of Galt, C.J., in chambers, affirming an order of the master in chambers directing the appellants to pay to the execution creditors the Bank of Hamilton a portion of their costs of a certain action brought by them and of interpleader proceedings. Appeal allowed with costs here and in chambers and orders set aside in so far as it relates to the cost of the sheriff upon the application of the interpleader order.

Hueston vs Village of London West.—Counsel for the defendants moved to set aside the verdict and judgment for the plaintiff in an action for damages for negligence in keeping a road in bad repair and to dismiss the action. The plaintiff, while driving over Walker street in a cab, met with an accident owing, as he alleged, to the bad repair of the road. The defendants contend that Walker street is not within the village of London West, according to the construction of the bylaw incorporating it as a village, and also that upon one of the findings of the jury the plaintiff is guilty of contributary negligence. Counsel for the plaintiff showed cause. Reserved.

THIRSTING FOR FAME.

A Host of Applicants for Positions on the Fire Brigade—No. 3's Deliberations.

No. 3 Committee met last night. Present: Aldermen Boyd (chairman), Heaman, Wallace, Bartlett, Chief Roe, Electrician Crawford, Inspector Bell and Secretary Graydon.

Mrs. Thomas Whistow applied for space No. 13, west of the Market Square, which was granted on the condition that she pay $12 in advance.

The monthly report of Inspector Bell showed that $2,708 50 was collected for licenses since April. Report filed.

Charles Dunn, W. J. Brazier, C. Lindsay, Michael Welch, James Webb, John Tanton and W. O'Hearn applied for positions on the fire department.

Ald. Boyd said they had about 100 applications now and they would have to get them all on the Market Square to decide on the best one.

Thomas Garside was granted $2 40 rebate on a market stall, on motion of Ald. Heaman.

Mr. Ball, who was present, was heard in reference to a stall rented to Mr. J. Egget a short time ago, which he claimed should have been rented to him. On motion of Ald. Bartlett, Mr. Ball will be allowed to rent the stall in a month, by which time Mr. Egget's lease will be expired.

The monthly pay-sheet of the fire department, amounting to $680 40, was presented by Chief Roe.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid: Smith Bros., $8 89; Wm. Ironsides, $2 91; Wm. Ironsides, $2; Wm. Ironsides, $79 16.

Chief Roe called attention to the condition of the roof of the stable at the fire hall, and said that a new roof was required.

Ald. Boyd and Ald. Heaman thought that repairing the old building was throwing money away, and that a new building was needed.

Ald. Wallace said there was a great many calls on the finances at present, and that he did not think they could spare the money.

Ald. Bartlett was in favor of building, but nothing more was said on the subject.

The Engineer was ordered to repair a ditch out of order at the corner of the Masonic Temple and the market.

The Secretary was instructed to communicate with the Western Fair Board re the electric light competition and see what steps had been taken.

Ald. Boyd said some information about the electric light plants should be gleaned somewhere, and that the committee should see some aerial ladder trucks, so that they could pick out the best one.

A number of specifications were read by Chief Roe to guide the committee in the purchase of a truck.

On motion of Ald. Wallace a recommendation will be presented to the Council to send the committee to Buffalo, Toronto, and Hamilton to examine electric light systems and fire trucks and also be accompanied by the City Engineer and the Chief of the fire department.

An Enviable Reputation.

Gentlemen desirous of obtaining the best possible value for their money in cigars should smoke the "Highland Lassie" 5-cent cigar, manufactured by H. McKay & Co., of London. This cigar has been subjected to the most complete tests by the great majority of the smokers of the Dominion, and all of them pronounce it one of the best articles in the Canadian market. Messrs. H. McKay & Co. take a special pride in its manufacture and are particular that none but the choicest specimens of fillers and wrappers enter into its composition. The "Highland Lassie's" reputation is of sufficient repute to satisfy the most skeptical of its worth.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.
