The Anarchist Hunt.

PARIS, April 23.—There has been no cessation in the activity of the police of Paris and various other places in France in their Anarchist hunt, and the result shows that if the campaign continues there will be few dangerous Anarchists at liberty on May-day to create trouble. Thus far 200 arrests have been made. Many more Anarchists will be in custody in a few days, and the disturbances which so many people greatly fear will occur on May-day will not take place for want of men to excite the crowds to riots.

The Record of the Fair Typewriter.

(Utica Observer.)

On Wednesday evening Miss Katherine V. Curry, of Syracuse, beat the record for fast typewriting, making 182 perfect words in a minute. Miss Curry has been operating a typewriter for five years. Last summer she commenced to try speed work, and Wednesday night succeeded in breaking the world's record. The highest sworn speed heretofore has been 172 words per minute. At the first trial Miss Curry wrote 172 words, but some of them were not quite perfect. Then she tried to get 180 words in a minute. The first trial showed 176 words, with but one imperfect one among them. The second trial showed the requisite number, but with some imperfections. The third trial, however, she managed to get 180 perfect words on the paper inside of 60 seconds. Then she attempted to beat her own record, and on the third trial made the unprecedented speed of 182 perfect words in a minute. The speed was sworn to by the judges and time-keepers.

FLYS.

NEW YORK, April 23.—According to a morning paper Dr. S. H. Talcott, the superintendent of the State Lunatic Asylum at Middletown, said yesterday: "I believe that baseball is a homoeopathic cure for lunacy. It is a kind of craze in itself and it gives the lunatics a new kind of craze to relieve them of the malady which afflicts their minds. I have noted our most melancholy patients watching baseball play, laughing heartily and even immoderately at the mistakes of the players and the funny incidents of the game. The free air which they breathe while sitting around the baseball field is beneficial to most of them, and I cultivate baseball both because I like it myself and because I believe it is beneficial to the asylum patients."

Starting next morning at 10 o'clock from the dam, Paris was reached at 1:30 p.m. After having dined it was found that if the journey was continued to Brantford the Galt and Guelph contingent would not be able to catch the train for home, and so very reluctantly the voyage ended, and the canoeists separated and wended their way homeward. ## THE L. AND P. S. R. BILL.

Clauses 4 and 5 Struck Out and the Preamble Amended.

Resolution of Condolence to Widow and Family of the Late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie.

Matters relating to the London and Port Stanley Railroad Bill were the subject of a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen last evening. Before proceeding with this business, however, the following resolution was passed unanimously, on motion of Ald. Parnell:

> That we, the Municipal Council, on behalf of the citizens of London, in common with the people of the whole Dominion, having heard of the death of the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, do desire to place on record our profound sorrow and regret at so great a loss to our beloved country, and trust that He who alone can be a comforter in the hour of greatest trial will be the portion of the bereaved wife and family; and that the mayor be instructed to send a message of condolence expressive of the foregoing resolution to Mrs. Mackenzie.

London has an interest in the London and Port Stanley Railroad of $327,649 first bonds, $164,400 second bonds and $139,329 third bonds. On this there was an accrued interest of $268,572. St. Thomas holds $38,296 first bonds and $10,637 second bonds.

Ald. Gartshore explained that the bill remained practically the same as before. The Council went into a Committee of the Whole, with Ald. Fitzgerald in the chair.

Ald. Judd moved that the preamble be amended as follows: 1. Striking out the last three words of line 25, all line 26 and line 27 except the last two words. 2. That the words "nearly one half" in line 29 be struck out and the words "1,500 shares" be inserted in lieu thereof, and that the words "the whole capital stock being 4,415 shares" be inserted at the end of line 29; that line 33 except the first word and lines 34 and 35 including that part of the word "securities" in line 36 be struck out and the following be inserted in lieu thereof: "the right hereinafter conferred upon them," and that as amended the preamble pass. Carried.

Clauses 1 and 2 passed without debate, and after some discussion clause 3 also passed.

The Grand Trunk and the city of St. Thomas authorities wanted clause 4 struck out, and London agreed to it. Clause 5 was also struck out. Clause 6 was retained and numbered as clause 4. The committee reported, and the Council adopted their report unanimously.

The communications from the St. Thomas Council and city clerk regarding proposed amendments were laid over for further consideration.

There were present Mayor Spencer, Ald. Fitzgerald, John Heaman, Yates, O'Meara, Jeffery, Jones, Gartshore, Hannah, Bartlett, Leonard, Garratt, Moule, Dreaney, Judd, Shaw and Parnell.

He Was a Club Man.

SENSATIONAL SECESSION.

Prominent Members Withdraw from the Western Ontario Bible Society.

Including the President, the Bishop of Huron—The Cause—Their Resignations Received in Silence.

A sensation awaited the directors of the Western Ontario Bible Society—some of them at least—at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday afternoon. The following communication is self-explanatory:

> At a meeting of some friends of Bible Society work in the city of London and neighborhood held in the Deanery of London Thursday, April 21, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "That we who are here present withdraw from the Western Ontario Bible Society, and that intimation of this be made to the honorary secretary of that body." The following persons were present: Archdeacon Marsh, Rev. J. A. Murray, Dean Innes, Canons Richardson, Smith, Davis, Rev. Messrs. Aylward, Clark, Ballantyne, Snort, Talling, Seaborn, Smith and Roger, and Messrs. Andrew Thompson and G. F. Jewell.

The Bishop of Huron also wrote, resigning the presidency of the society.

Both communications were referred to the adjourned annual meeting of the society to be held next Friday. There was no discussion on the matter.

Those who have read the ADVERTISER'S reports of Bible Society affairs will readily understand the circumstances that led to this move. It has been claimed by members of other denominations that the Methodist body had an undue ascendancy in the management. At the last general meeting of the society it was proposed to amend the constitution in regard to the rules governing representation, but the proposal was defeated by Methodist votes—a fact which doubtless hastened the present crisis.

Andrew Thompson, secretary, simply stated that the gentlemen did not desire to continue as members of the society, although they would not refuse to subscribe as before.

Rev. A. C. Courtice moved, and Rev. J. Philp seconded, that the appointment of the following officers for the coming year be recommended to the adjourned annual meeting: President, the Bishop of Huron. Vice-presidents—first, Rev. Dean Innes; second, Rev. J. A. Murray; third, Rev. Dr. Sanderson; fourth, Rev. Geo. Boyd; fifth, Rev. J. W. Beaumont; sixth, Rev. W. M. Roger; seventh, Rev. Canon Davis; eighth, Rev. Wm. McDonagh; ninth, Henry Mathewson; tenth, Adam Murray; eleventh, J. W. Robson; twelfth, Thomas McCormick. Honorary secretary, Andrew Thompson; honorary treasurer, J. F. Jewell. General committee—Anglican, E. S. Collett, J. S. Pearce, C. F. Complin, Thos. Kent and V. Cronyn; Presbyterian, H. E. Nelles, J. I. Anderson, Dr. Arnott, C. McCallum and C. H. Elliott; Methodist, A. B. Powell, Geo. Robinson, Dr. F. R. Eccles, I. Webster and James Percival; Congregational, J. B. Hicks; Baptist, Joseph Jeffery. All ministers of the Gospel and the presidents and secretaries of the various branches will also be recommended as members of this committee.

The motion carried and the meeting adjourned.

—Mr. F. W. Oakland, one of Primrose & West's soloists, looked over the music to be produced by the Young Liberals and pronounced the selections admirable.

—F. R. Shore, A. Talbot, W. W. Hardner, F. J. Cotton, James Drewe, H. P. Allen and J. G. Richter are to-day's London's registrations at Toronto hotels.

—Miss Norah Coleman, the talented elocutionist who appears at St. James' Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening, arrived in the city to-day and is visiting friends.

—N. W. Rowell, formerly of South London, and a talented public speaker, has been requested to speak at the first big mass meeting in the Toronto local election campaign.

—A successful concert was held in the Windfall Church on Monday evening, April 18. A fine programme was rendered, some banjo selections by Miss Edith Walker, of London, being particularly fine.—[Tilbury Times.

—Dr. Balfour reported that 17 patients had been admitted to and 22 discharged from the hospital in the past fortnight at a meeting of the Trust yesterday. There are 55 now there. The roof of the building will be repaired.

—Miss Jessie Alexander, the talented reader, left Toronto yesterday afternoon for New York, where she fulfills some important engagements. Accompanied by her sister, she will sail from there on May 4 by the steamer City of Paris to enjoy a few months' well-earned vacation in Britain and on the continent.

—County Constable Butler, of Lucan, reported a case to the high constable this morning. A week ago he charged Mrs. Hardin and Mrs. Ann Ashton with having used abusive language towards Thos. Haskett. Reeve Stanley fined each of the defendants $1 and costs and gave them until Thursday to pay. On Thursday they had not paid and no sign of them has since been seen. It is supposed that they have skipped out.

—St. Andrew's Society will discuss "Home Rule for Scotland" in the rooms of the W. C. T. U., over Jones' auction rooms, on Tuesday evening next. There should be a large attendance of members of the society and their friends. The discussion will be led by the president in a short speech favoring the project, and the first vice-president will follow with a few remarks in opposition. Then the talking will be general. A musical programme will be sandwiched in.

—Important changes in the staff of the permanent corps are announced this week: Major Vidal, of No. 2 Company, Toronto, and Lieutenant Carpenter, of No. 4 Company, Fredericton, are transferred to London. Captain and Brevet-Major Buchan, of No. 4 Company, Fredericton, and Lieutenant Fiset, of No. 2 Company, St. Johns, Que., are transferred to Toronto. Captain D. D. Young, of No. 1 Company, London, goes to St. Johns, and Mr. A. H. Macdonnell, formerly lieutenant Royal Grenadiers, is appointed lieutenant in the Infantry School corps, vice Captain Coursol, who retires retaining rank. Their Seventy-Third Anniversary.

The Oddfellows of the various lodges in the city will assemble to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at their hall, when they will parade for church service to St. Andrew's Church. The full band of the Seventh Fusiliers will head the procession. Rev. J. A. Murray has consented to deliver the annual sermon, and the choir will be composed exclusively of Oddfellows, who will render several choice anthems.

Change in the G. T. R. Staff.

It is understood that Mr. John Earls, district general freight agent of the Western division of the G. T. R., will go to Hamilton, and the gentleman he supplants there will be sent to Montreal. It is also understood that Mr. William White will take over the district vacated by Mr. Earls in addition to his own division. Mr. Earls will be connected with the Northern and Northwestern division.—[Toronto Empire.

Electricity and the Street Railway.

Mr. V. Cronyn, president of the Street Railway Company, has replied to the city engineer's suggestion that the millrace be filled in on the Street Railway Company's property, corner Horton and Ridout streets. Mr. Cronyn does not approve of the idea. He says that he thinks the site a favorable one for the establishment of an electric power house whenever it was found necessary to introduce electricity as the driving power of the street railway system. And for that purpose the water of the mill race would be of material advantage to the company.

For the Health Board.

A correspondent writes: "As the health inspector will shortly be making his annual house to house inspection, would it not be well for him to consider whether it is right to allow poultry to be kept in yards hardly large enough for domestic purposes? In the hot summer months places of this sort are a nuisance. There are many of them in this city, and in the interests of health the inspector should prevent fowl from being kept in yards that are not suitable. If the premises will not permit the fowl being kept at least 50 or 60 feet from the back door, the inspector should prohibit the keeping of fowl in all such places, and after prohibiting see that his order is enforced."

WHERE ANARCHISTS FLY FOR REFUGE

[From The World's Outlook, in Wives and Daughters for April.]

The air of spring seems to have stirred the Anarchists of Paris, Madrid and other European cities into fiendish activity. A few days ago bombs were laid at several residences of public men in Paris, as well as at a number of public buildings, and the gay capital was in a state of intense excitement. Happily, the excitement was much greater than the real damage. Owing to the vigilance of the authorities, the danger was reduced to a minimum, though the duty of protecting life and property is supremely difficult when the assailant is an Anarchist and the weapon dynamite. The leader of the party was arrested and many of his followers hunted out of the city. In Madrid a similar attempt was made, though on a smaller scale, and there is not much doubt that the Anarchists of other cities intended to act in concert with those in the French and Spanish capitals. It is known that a general stampede of the fraternity has been made for London, and that the authorities there are on the look-out for the knights of the bomb. These desperadoes try to destroy the law and order and then take shelter in the most order-loving country in the world. They know the value of law when they want to keep their own vile carcasses safe.

Spread of Cholera.

CALCUTTA, April 23.—A virulent epidemic of cholera is raging in Benares. The mortality is very great. Yesterday there were reported 180 new cases and 135 deaths from the disease.

In the Family.

"I am pleased to say that I have used St. Jacobs Oil for the various purposes of a family liniment, and can confidently recommend it as a very valuable preparation. It fills the bill every time, and truly conquers all pain." H. M. STEVENSON, Toronto, Ont.

A Rio Janiero dispatch says the State of Matto Grosso, which a few days ago proclaimed itself independent, has announced that it is a new republic and has assumed the name of "Transatlantica."

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto, sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

St. Leon Water on draught at Strong's drug store, 184 Dundas street.

Sir Walter Raleigh introduced the use of tobacco in Europe centuries ago, but if he could to-day smoke's Highland Lassie cigar manufactured by H. McKay & Co., London, he would assuredly consider himself one of the greatest of public benefactors. It is a five-cent cigar and has no superior on the market. The composition is of the choicest nature, the workmanship of the best and the flavor delicious. Try them.

WONDER IN WELLAND!

A Representative Farmer Speaks.

MR. C. C. HAUN.

The following remarkable facts are fully certified to as being undeniably correct in every particular. Mr. Haun is well known in the vicinity, having resided here over fifty years, and is highly respected as a [illegible] of the strictest honor, whose word is good as his bond.

As will be seen from his letter, four physicians had attended him, and it was only after he had given up hope of cure that he decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters on the recommendation of a neighbor who had been cured of a similar disease by its use. Mr. Haun writes as follows:

DEAR SIRS,—I think I have been one of the worst sufferers you have yet heard of, having been six years in the hands of four of our best doctors without obtaining permanent relief, but continually growing worse, until almost beyond hope of recovery, I tried your Bitters and got relief in a few days. Every organ of my body was deranged, the liver enlarged, hardened and torpid, the heart and digestive organs seriously deranged, a large abscess in my back, followed by paralysis of the right leg, in fact the lower half of my body was entirely useless. After using Burdock Blood Bitters for a few days the abscess burst, discharging fully five quarts of pus in two hours. I felt as if I had received a shock from a powerful battery. My recovery after this was steady and the cure permanent, seeing that for the four years since I have had as good health as ever I had. I still take an occasional bottle, not that I need it but because I wish to keep my system in perfect working order. I can think of no more remarkable case than what I have myself passed through, and no words can express my thankfulness for such perfect recovery.

C. C. HAUN,
Welland P.O.

In this connection the following letter from T. Cumines, Esq., a leading druggist of Welland, Ont., speaks for itself:

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto.

GENTLEMEN,—I have been personally acquainted with Mr. C. C. Haun for the last 20 years, and have always found him a very reliable man. You may place the utmost confidence in anything he says with regard to your medicine. He has on many occasions within the last four years told me that it was marvellous the way the Burdock Blood Bitters had cured him, and that he now felt as able to do a day's work as he ever felt in his life. Although quite well he still takes some B. B. B. occasionally, as he says, to keep him in perfect health.

Yours truly,
THOMAS CUMINES,
Welland, Ont.

The steadily increasing sale of B. B. B., the length of time it has been before the people, and the fact that it cures to stay cured, attest the sterling merit of this monarch of medicines, the people's favorite blood purifier, tonic and regulator.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION REGARDING LIGHT.

The Light of Truth Being Diffused in Canada.

Philosophers are not agreed as to the nature of light. Some maintain the opinion that it is a body consisting of detached particles, which are emitted by luminous bodies, in which case the particles of light must be inconceivably minute; since, even when they cross each other in every direction, they do not interfere with each other. Others suppose it to be produced like sound, by the undulations of a subtle fluid diffused throughout all known space.

In our beloved Canada a "new light" has shed its cheering rays on the people. There is no difference of opinion regarding its nature and component parts. The grand invigorating and life-giving qualities of this "light" are felt by the young and old, the rich and poor.

This "new light" leads on to health, strength and bodily robustness. The dyspeptic, the sleepless, the nervous, the rheumatic and the broken-down have to thank it for emancipation from suffering and bodily misery.

This wondrous "light" cures disease; it always conquers and leaves blessings in its paths. This "light" of Canada is Paine's Celery Compound, as precious to our suffering people as is the light of the great orb of day. This grand medicine is the people's favorite, and justly so, owing to the many marvelous cures it has effected. The people it cures are with us—in our midst—and are well known. These rescued men and women testify gladly in its favor, and recommend it. No other remedy can claim the place that Paine's Celery Compound now occupies in our land. Its work brings satisfaction, joy and increased happiness.

Most people suppose that the manufacture of tobacco consists merely of taking the leaf and pressing it into plugs. The fact is, however, that the process is a very delicate one, and the least false step will injure the flavor. The leaf must be carefully attended to for months after it leaves the planter's hand. It must neither dry too quickly or too slowly. Even after it has reached the factory the utmost delicacy of manipulation is required. The weather must be carefully studied, for if there is too much moisture in the air when it is pressed it will mould, and the same will happen if too much moisture is sprinkled upon it for the purpose of opening the leaf. Again, if it is overdried in the oven it will turn crisp, and will nip the tongue in smoking. It is by careful attention to all these points that the "Myrtle Navy" has been brought to such perfection. The firm who manufacture it have their own storehouses in Virginia, and from the time the leaf leaves the planter's hands until it is turned out of the factory, months afterwards, in plugs, it is under the care of their skilled and trusted employes.

Edward Lloyd, May 13.

The subscription list for the "Lloyd" concert is meeting with great success. On Wednesday, the first day it opened, nearly 200 seats were spoken for; and judging from the general feeling in the city the event is certain to be a very brilliant affair indeed. At a private musicale last Thursday evening given in Washington by Senator Calvin S. Brice, Mr. Lloyd, who was paid $1,500 for his services, achieved an unparalleled success; in fact even Patti and Albani have failed to arouse the wonderful enthusiasm that Mr. Lloyd is everywhere creating. Subscribers will please take notice that they will not be permitted (upon the opening of the plan) to reserve a greater number of seats than their subscription calls for. This restriction, which will be rigidly enforced, is rendered necessary owing to many of the late comers intending to get their friends who are near the top of the list to reserve their seats for them, which would be manifestly unfair to the other subscribers; so that it will not be permitted in any instance. Those subscribers who for good reasons require extra seats must see at once that the number is distinctly indicated opposite their names on the list; otherwise they cannot increase their number until the plan opens for the general public. b

Dominion Parliament.

The Government Intent on Grasping More Power—The Emigration Business.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, April 22.—The House of Commons began business to-day by a discussion in committee on the bill empowering the Governor in council to renew the modus vivendi with respect to the Atlantic fisheries from year to year.

Col. O'Brien objected to giving such extraordinary power to the Government and removing from Parliament a matter which should be left to the House. Mr. Davies joined him in this view.

Mr. Laurier protested against making this a permanent policy instead of re-enacting the measure annually.

Sir John Thompson said it would be more convenient to regulate this matter by order in council than by annual statute.

Mr. Mills (Bothwell) warned the House of the danger of allowing the United States to acquire a part of our rights by our acquiescence.

Mr. Tupper moved an amendment to the effect that if licenses issued by the Newfoundland Government under the modus vivendi should not be on a par with our own licenses they will not be recognized by Canada.

At Mr. Laurier's request the amendment—a very important one, which might destroy the basis of the whole fabric—was allowed to stand over, and the committee rose and reported progress. The House then went into Supply, and took up the vote of $200,000 for immigration.

Sir Richard Cartwright asked what the Government's policy with regard to this subject is.

Mr. Carling replied that there would be no change, and added that the prospects for the season were bright.

Sir Richard pointed out that according to the Department of Agriculture the prospects had been bright every year for ten years, and when the census was got it had been proved that the policy of the Government was a "total, utter, complete and radical failure." The discussion lasted until a late hour, and when the House rose very little progress had been made, and Mr. Carling was left in wonderment as to what more the Goverment could do than bring 800,000 immigrants at a cost of a couple of million dollars and allow them to float quietly into the United States.

London, Saturday, April 23.

Strathroy Age: A speaker at a London Liberal meeting remarked that the late Alexander Mackenzie was a statesman for whom no one need ever apologize. That's the truth in a nutshell and covers a multitude of pages of panegyric.

General Sir Lewes Pelly is dead. He earned fame as a soldier in India, and since retiring from the army had represented the Hackney division of London in the Imperial Parliament. He had a majority of over 3,000 and was a Conservative.

The crime for which Robert McGreevy has been sentenced to one year in jail was the attempt to defraud Michael Connelly by conspiracy. Both men figured in the boodling revelations last year, when a portion of the veil enshrouding Sir Hector Langevin's department was drawn aside.

Governor McKinley, the author of the revised United States tariff, has confessed that "no one ever claimed that protective tariffs were intended to increase wages." The Ohio Governor never listened to a high tax Canadian speaker. He invariably asserts that the more people are taxed by "protective" tariffs the higher becomes their income! But it is one thing to assert and another to prove. The intelligent workman knows better.

Lord Knutsford, British Colonial Secretary, has notified the Canadian Government, that he cannot advise Her Majesty to discontinue, as far as Canada is concerned, the favored nation clause between Great Britain and the German Zollverein and Great Britain and Belgium. The British Government takes the ground that they cannot imperil the large trade of the Motherland with Germany and Belgium, even though the change might be beneficial to Canada. While the protective tariffs last—and Canada maintains a system that is hurtful to British trade—Lord Salisbury asserts that those special arrangements with Germany and Belgium, which our Government asks shall be discontinued, must be maintained.

The managers of the Chicago Exposition are determined to turn an honest penny at as early a period as possible. They are already charging an admission fee of 25 cents to the grounds, and find that it pays them, even if it did nothing but keep back the crowds that desire to witness the busy scene of preparing the buildings and grounds. Jackson Park, where the exhibition will be, is six miles from the center of the city. It is one of the many beautiful parks of which Chicago is so justly proud, and which are maintained by the municipality in a very high state of perfection. Jackson Park will be wholly occupied with the exhibition buildings and grounds. These will be completed on a scale of beauty and elaboration wholly unknown in the previous history of international exhibitions. The main buildings will cover an area of 150 acres, or several times the area of Victoria Park in this city. According to a correspondent there will be a street of all nations a mile in length; a tower 150 feet higher than the Eiffel Tower in Paris; and there will be a marvelous display of relics of Christopher Columbus, whose discovery of America 400 years ago this exhibition is intended to commemorate. It will cost about $30,000,000; the labor expended on its construction would be equal to that of 1,000,000 men working for a week; expenditure is going forward at the present time at the rate of $1,000,000 a month; insurances will be effected on the buildings and their contents for $200,000,000. Approaching in dimensions, and, in some opinions, surpassing in architectural beauty the Capitol at Washington, the administration building will form a fitting monument to the energy of the city to whom the responsibility of holding the celebration was intrusted.

WHAT THE COUNTRY IS COMING TO.

The Dominion Government has taken the power to continue, for an indefinite period, the modus vivendi in regard to the Atlantic fisheries hitherto agreed to by Parliament from year to year. Unless a stop is put to the assumption of special powers by the Administration, it will soon not be necessary to call Parliament together. The business of the country could then be carried on by orders-in-council, and subsidies could be bled at the sweet will of needy or greedy politicians without any interference from inquisitive representatives of the people. It is a great scheme, and would please Caron, Dewdney, Haggart, Carling & Co. immensely.

A STRIKING COMPARISON.

Toronto has entered on a Provincial bye-election. How much easier it is to conduct such a contest than to carry on an election for the Dominion Parliament. Under the Dominion Franchise Act hundreds of voters can be disfranchised by technicalities, as we in London know, either by counting bad votes or by keeping off good votes, while hundreds of men who have moved away can come back and swamp the legitimate electorate. Under the Ontario law, passed by the Mowat Government, there is no non-resident vote, and little trouble in bringing the resident voters to the polls. The list is completed every year by municipal officers, and revised by a judge, but if he plays the partisan his decision can be appealed against. The one man one vote residential suffrage is indeed a great improvement upon the system decreed in Dominion elections. We wonder at any honest citizen upholding the cumbrous and expensive law, so capable of abuse, that has been forced on the country by unscrupulous men.

LONDON'S PRESSING NEED.

The London Board of Health has decreed that when its inspector and his assistants go on a pilgrimage through the city, with the object of compelling dilatory residents to clean up, they shall be accompanied by a policeman. This presupposes that there may be some citizens who are unwilling to aid in the preservation of the public health by a due respect for sanitary laws. Doubtless there are in London, as in every city of any size, men and women who are neglectful of the laws of nature, and need to be urged, even to the extent of pressure, to take reasonable precautions to keep themselves and their families from being attacked by diseases nurtured in filth.

But the health authorities of this city, while zealous in their endeavors so far as they go, are handicapped through the system adopted, or rather lack of system, for the removal of kitchen and other refuse. The present method is not only detrimental to the public in point of efficiency, but most expensive as well. Every householder, every man of business, is compelled to keep his premises clean. The individual effort is only made once in a year—in the spring or early summer. For the remainder of the year, so long as no infectious disease breaks out on the premises, the householder or man of business is permitted to accumulate as much kitchen and other refuse as he sees fit—always provided his surroundings do not develop into a positive nuisance.

This system is all wrong. It has been abandoned by every city of any size and progressive tendency, as costly and inefficient. The proper system of cleansing is that which proceeds upon the co-operative plan, the cost being defrayed out of the civic revenues. What Londoner would think of making every citizen responsible for the mud-scraping, sweeping, or repairing of the roadway opposite his property? Or of making every man light the street in front of his lot? In all these matters, the taxpayers wisely pursue a system of co-operation that is found to work equitably. There is a growing tendency to enlarge municipal management in every direction where the welfare of the whole people can be better served by concentration of management than by individual effort. There is just as much reason for the co-operative system in maintaining cleanliness as for monopolizing natural opportunities such as public lighting and public water supply. This fact has been grasped by every progressive city in the old and new world, and the daily or weekly removal of garbage, ashes, vegetables, refuse, etc., in accordance with the size of the municipality, has for years been carried out with scrupulous regard for the public welfare.

We sometimes poke fun at the slowness of the neighboring city of Hamilton, with its snail-at-the-gallop methods, but in the matter of providing for the public health it is away ahead of London. It took several years of agitation to obtain a weekly removal of refuse from every premises in that city, but once the system was established the people wondered why they had delayed so long, and they would not return to the old annual removal of the dumps on any account. Paid for out of the general taxation, the removal makes no appreciable difference to the tax-rate of the average householder. At the same time, it saves him the fee for carting away the accumulations of the year. But of more importance still, the weekly removal of the contents of the ash and garbage barrel reduces the number of cases of epidemic diseases, and adds immensely to the health and comfort of every resident.

When such results have been attained in other cities by the co-operative system of garbage removal, it is astonishing to us that the householders of London have not compelled their municipal representatives to inaugurate the plan here. Can a single valid objection be raised against it?

Like Jonah's gourd, the journalism of Japan has grown within the brief period of constitutional government. Last year there were as many as 550 Japanese newspapers and other periodicals, and in the city of Tokio alone there were seventeen political dailies, with a weekly circulation of over 1,000,000 copies, besides weekly and monthly publications devoted to progress, science, literature, the fine arts, and social affairs. Japan, which is at once very ancient and ever youthful, has become one of the great newspaper reading countries of the world.

Among the younger men whose names are current in literary circles to-day there are few about whom there is more curiosity than Walter Blackburn Harte, who within a year has become recognized as one of the wittiest and fairest critics in contemporary literature. There is a French quality about Harte's monthly chronique which has a savor of novelty for American readers, and he has set the critics as well as the poets and novelists reading "In a Corner at Dodsley's." His forthcoming novel, "Ambition on Crutches," will be likely to be widely discussed and read.

THE WORST ENEMIES.

(Canada Presbyterian.)

The very least we should do is try and keep the peace with our neighbors. The worst enemy of British connection in Canada is the man who foments quarrels with the United States.

REFLECTION ON THE SCHOOLS.

(Buffalo Times.)

Women should have the privilege of voting if they want to. The idea that a woman doesn't know enough to vote is too serious a reflection on the common schools to be listened to. Besides, women have for centuries been shrewd politicians.

LOW PRICES FOR PRIME HORSES.

[London Free Press.]

A. M. Polley, of Goderich, shipped from Stratford Tuesday night a car load of horses to Michigan. It was as fine a lot of horses as left Stratford for many a day. The animals were all purchased in the vicinity, the prices paid ranging from $80 to $140.

CANADA SHOULD BE A NATION.

(Vancouver, B.C., World.)

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier has declared for independence. Had he done so long ago he would not have to count defeat after defeat. The only possible solution of our political existence is nationhood, and until it comes we are merely parasites, who are treated as such abject creatures deserve to be. We are nobodies upon the map of the world.

DEWDNEY SHOULD GO.

(Toronto News, Conservative.)

It would be almost as great an outrage to appoint Dewdney to the Lieutenant-Governorship of British Columbia as it is to retain him in the Cabinet. Why should the people of Canada be called upon to pension at the rate of $9,000 a year a man who, during his whole tenure of office, has been a weakness to the party and a disgrace to the country? Hoist him out of the Cabinet and let him work for his living like the rest of us.

ADVERTISING MAXIMS.

(London Fame.)

Spare the advertisements and spoil the business.

He is a wise man who takes a large space and puts little matter in it.

Who so loveth a good business loveth advertising, but he that dispiseth fame is an ass.

As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is an effective advertisement in a journal without circulation.

A good advertisement is like the merchant's ship—it bringeth abundance from afar.

FACTS DO NOT CHANGE.

[Hamilton Times.]

The adoption of protection has injuriously affected the people's pockets and morals, just as the Free Press said it would when the late Thomas White lectured in London in 1876, and the Free Press replied to him with a strong, sensible free-trade article. For the Free Press to assume that all Canadians admit the advantage of protection, because it has forsaken its old belief, is too much of a good thing. Be the country old or new, it is no part of a Government's proper functions to divert the people's labor from one branch of industry to another.

A BURNING SORE LEG.

Ulcers Form. Hospitals and Doctors Useless. Crazed with Pain. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

About eight years ago I wrote you from Wilkesbarre, Pa., describing how your wonderful remedies completely cured me of a terrible case of eczema or salt rheum. I must now tell you what CUTICURA REMEDIES have again done for me. On the 22nd of last September I had the misfortune to bruise my leg, and I put a piece of sticking plaster on it. Inside of a week I had a terrible leg. My wife became frightened and advised me to go to a surgeon. I went, and doctored for two months, but no good was done me, besides costing me big money. My leg had by this time formed into an ulcer, and got worse every day. I could not stand it any longer and made up my mind to go to a hospital and see if I could be helped. I went to several here in the city, in turn, but none could do me any good. I had a terrible leg, with a hole in it as big as a dollar, and pain that almost set me crazy. I got scared about it, and determined to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. I obtained a set, and inside of five weeks my leg was healed up as well as it ever was, except the terrible scar it left for a reminder of what was once a terrible sore leg. These REMEDIES are worth their weight in gold.

IT IS CERTAINLY A GREAT TRIBUTE TO MELISSA THAT SUCH PERSISTENT ATTEMPTS ARE MADE TO PRODUCE IMITATIONS.

Counterfeit money to pass current even among the most ignorant must be made to resemble genuine coin.

In like manner it is found necessary to even copy Melissa patterns and styles in the frantic effort to place imitation goods on the market.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD. TRADE MELISSA MARK. WARRANTED RAINPROOF. REGISTERED.

ALL IN VAIN.

The public are not so easily humbugged, and regard with undisguised contempt such an underhand and paltry manner of doing business.

Our Melissa Cloths are manufactured by the largest and best mills in the country. All our patterns are made specially for us and the mills guarantee they will neither reproduce them in any other cloth, nor sell them to any other firm

WE NEITHER DEAL IN COUNTERFEITS NOR PLAY SECOND FIDDLE.

Copies of Melissa patterns must therefore be obtained from some of the smaller inferior mills in lower grades of cloth.

Midnight Visitor.

An anecdote told in the "Life of Dean Burgon" illustrates how a man every hour of whose daily life is occupied finds, like an omnibus, room for one more." The dean, then at Oxford, was leaving St. Mary's Church after morning service one Sunday, when a gentleman walked up to him, and with a decided "American accent" said, "Stranger, have you got any leisure?"

"Well, let me see," said the dean. "It is now a quarter past one o'clock. I have to get my luncheon and be back at the university sermon at 2 o'clock. At 3 o'clock I have a pressing appointment. At 4 o'clock I have an afternoon service. At 6, if I have time, I shall have some dinner.

"Anyhow, I must be at church again at 7 for evening service, which will last till 8:30. Then on returning to my rooms I shall find 20 or 30 undergraduates waiting for me, and I shall be engaged with them until about 11. Oh, at 11 I shall have some leisure."

"Ah! I'll come to you at 11," said the stranger.

"The usual routine of the day's work went on," continued Dean Burgon in telling the story, "and—tired as a dog, you know—I had just turned the men out of my rooms at 11 o'clock, having quite forgotten the inquirer of the morning, when I heard steps on the stairs and a knock at my door.

"'Come in,' and in came the man, and again asked, 'Have you leisure now?'

"Tired as I was, I said, 'Oh yes! Come in. Now, my dear sir, will you kindly tell me what you want of me?'

"'Well, can you convince me of the truth of Christianity?'

"'What sir! Do you really come to me at this time of night to ask such a question as that?'

"'Yes, stranger, that's what I came for.'

"'What do you mean, sir? What are your doubts?'

"'Well the Gospels; they contradict one another.'

"'The Gospels contradict one another! Now I pin you to that, sir! Where do they contradict one another?'

"'Oh, so and so.'

"'My dear sir, that is too easy! Do think of something else!'

"No, that's enough; explain that first.'

"I explained it at once, of course; it was too ridiculous. He then mentioned something else, to be as easily made clear to him; and so we went on, ding-dong, hammer and tongs, until the college clock struck 2, when he rose to go, saying, 'Well, I guess if anyone has convinced me of the truth of Christianity, it's you—you are so beastly positive. Good-night!'

"Before leaving he told me he was a clergyman of the 'American Church,' but from doubts that arose in his mind he had thrown up his living and had traveled a great deal. He never lost an opportunity to hear a preacher of whom he had heard favorable mention, and if he found him an earnest man, he always made a point of asking him if he could convince him of the truth of Christianity."

Good Society.

A rigid exclusiveness is no longer the "vice of the virtuous," but rather a fine inclusiveness, that its basis in spiritual gravitation. Whatever belongs to society shall come to its own. Whatever does not belong will fall away of its own dead weight. It is encouraging to note that more and more social gatherings rely for enjoyment on conversational intercourse, and the hostess does not feel obliged to provide amusement in the way of recitations, music or readings. The higher the order of society the more capable it is of enjoying that highest art of life—conversation. To doom a gathering of bright people to silence and attention to some parlor performer, whether of music or recitation, is anything but the fine art of entertaining. The people who have something to say are always gratified with the opportunity for saying it, and for this the informal afternoon reception is a charming opportunity.

The Oil of Peace.

The absence of small courtesies in the family life destroys the beauty and harmony so essential to its perfection. The lack of attention when one member attempts to speak, and the habit of all speaking together, are responsible for that confusion of talk which takes the place of the graceful conversation that is so desirable an art, and one that lends so much to the pleasure of family life—and pleasure is an important factor in its perfection. The polite formalities of "Excuse me," "Thank you," "I beg your pardon;" the habit of attention; the avoiding of subjects of conversation which arouse heated argument, are the constant offerings to hosts of people in whom we have but slight interest, and who reciprocate in kind and degree; we never think of omitting these formalities, and use them as the current coin in polite society. Yet where should society be so polite as within the walls of home? and where does it minister so much to the happiness of the individual as in the circle that bounds his world?

Much of the awkwardness, brusqueness, lack of power of expression that handicap many people in their intercourse with the world can be traced to the lack of polite intercourse in the home; the timid one growing more timid, and losing the self-confidence which is necessary to dignity; the aggressive one being unsuppressed till he becomes a tyrant at home and a nuisance abroad.

Politeness does not mean formality; it means graceful kindness. Said a lady recently, whose manner is full of charm: "My children are my best critics. When I hear the remark, apparently rude but intended as facetious, 'Mamma has on her company manners,' I know I have offended against good taste." The charm of that household lies in the perfect manners which reduce friction to the minimum and bring social training to the point of perfect naturalness. You never think of manners when in that home.—[Christian Union.

The Restful Yoke.

Mark Guy Pearse tells us of an incident which occurred in connection with a sermon of his on Christ's invitation to the weary and heavy laden:

"I had finished my sermon, when a good man came to me and said, 'I wish I had known what you were going to preach about. I could have told you something.'

"'Well, my friend,' I said, 'it is very good of you. May I not have it still?'

"'Do you know why the yoke is light, sir? If not, I think I can tell you.'

"'Well, because the good Lord helps us to carry it, I suppose.'

"'No, sir,' he explained, shaking his head; 'I think I know better than that. You see, when I was a boy at home, I used to drive the oxen in my father's yoke. And the yoke was never made to balance, sir, as you said.' (I had referred to the Greek word. But how much better it was to know the real thing.)

"He went on triumphantly: 'Father's yokes were always much heavier on one side than the other. Then you see, we would put a weak bullock in alongside of a strong bullock; and the light end would come on the weak bullock, because the stronger one had the heavy part of it on his shoulder.'

"Then his face lighted up as he said, 'That is why the yoke is easy and the burden is light—because the Lord's yoke is made after the same pattern, and the heavy end is upon his shoulder.'"

"So shall ye find rest to your soul."—[Nashville Christian Advocate.

WORDS THAT BURN.

LABOR.

I.

If some great angel spake to me to-night
In awful language of the unknown land,
Bidding me choose from treasure infinite
From goodly gifts and glories in his hand
The thing I coveted, what should I take?
Fame's wreath of bays? The fickle world's esteem?
Nay, greenest bays are worn on brows that ache,
And world's applauding passeth as a dream.
Should I choose love to fill my empty heart
With soft, strong sweetness, as in days of old?
Nay, for Love's rapture hath an after-smart,
And on Love's rose the thorn's are manifold
Should I choose Life, with long succeeding years?
Nay; earth's longest Life is longer time for tears,
I would choose work and never closing day
To work without weak hindrance by the way

II.

Ah, if an angel came to me to-night,
Speaking in language of the unknown land,
So would I choose from treasure infinite.
But well I know the blessed gift I crave,
The tireless strength for never-ending task,
Is not for this life. But beyond the grave
It may be I shall find the thing I ask;
For I believe there is a better land,
Where will, and work, and strength go hand in hand.

—[Charles Kiely Shetterly.

WITH THE NIGHT.

O doubts, dull passions, and base fears,
That harassed and oppressed the day,
Ye poor remorses and vain tears,
That shook this house of clay:
All heaven to the western bars
Is glittering with the darker dawn;
Here with the earth, the night, the stars,
Ye have no place: begone!

—[Archibald Lampman.

HOW!

"How shall I a habit break?"
As you did that habit make;
As you gathered you must loose;
As you yielded, now refuse.
Thread by thread the strand we twist
Till they bind us neck and wrist;
Thread by thread the patient hand
Must untwine ere free we stand.
As we builded stone by stone,
We must toil unhelped, alone,
Till the wall is overthrown.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

A Tory paper inveighing against the English temperance movement said: "We congratulate ourselves that so far as we know, but two bishops have signed the pledge this winter. Thank heaven none of the rest have bowed the knee to Baal."

There are thousands of men who drink liquors, even to excess, because they do not find a non-intoxicant that they like. Pure cold milk suits them, and they will drink it in place of beer. Let the temperance organizations spend some of their money in locating these milk saloons close by the door of every rum-shop in the city. They will thus do practical work for temperance, and at the same time provide a new market for milk.—[Rural New Yorker.

Canon Wilberforce in Exeter Hall, after a most thrilling passage in which he described the subtle dangers of moderate drinking and the hold it gets before the victim dreams how great is his bondage, said: "This reminds me of the old nursery rhyme in the 'Book of Nonsense:'

'There was a young woman of Niger
Who went for a ride on a tiger;
But they finished the ride with the lady inside,
And a smile on the face of that tiger.'"

The revulsion of feeling was electric, and that responsive audience made the old hall ring with their cheers and their hearty "Hear, hear."

The other day over in a Pennsylvania town a drunken mother threw her 3-month-old baby on a red-hot stove. It rolled off, and she threw it on again. The child's screams brought help, and it was rescued, but not before it was almost roasted alive. Nothing in the world could prompt a mother to such an awful and unnatural deed as this but the whisky fiend. The liquor traffic is maintained chiefly by the blood of the helpless and the innocent. The heathen god, Juggernaut, that rolled its bloody way over the crushed forms of women and children was an engine of love and mercy compared with the liquor Juggernaut that is rolling through our land this very day crushing out the life of multitudes and leaving behind it a fearful trail of ruined homes and maimed and suffering humanity. And yet this bloody monster is licensed to do this work largely by the votes of Christian men. Are you one of them?

Thirty years ago it required a great deal of moral courage in India for anyone to be a total abstainer. At that time comparatively few missionaries had adopted this rule and when a gentleman was asked to drink a glass of wine at a dinner table, it sometimes required no little moral courage for him to decline. But few hosts could understand his scruples, and sometimes a whole party would feel affronted if he did not conform to the common custom. All this has since been changed; an abstainer's principles are well understood, and he is now seldom pressed to touch a wine-glass. Even the Queen has caused it to be known that the practice of total abstinence is no longer to be considered at her table a breach of the best etiquette known in the Empire. With the pathway of duty thus made plain and easy, there ought to be no longer hesitation on the part of anyone in walking in it.

The president of the English Society for the Suppression of the Opium Trade has recently publicly declared: "As regards China, the opium vice seems to have settled upon the vitals of the people, and it will be most difficult to break it off. A great authority has stated that if this goes on for 50 years the empire will be in ruins. As the Chinese emigrate largely wherever they go—in the straits about Singapore and in the South Sea Islands—they carry the vice. According to a recent issue of 'L'Eglise Libre,' of Paris, the French colony of Tahiti has become infected, and the ravages have been terrible both there and in the Marquesas Islands. There have been various edicts forbidding the trade, but smuggling is only too easy, and the natives seem unable to resist the deadly influence of the drug. The French Government, however, has now absolutely prohibited the introduction of opium."

"Thousands of young men in New York go to the devil because there seems to be nowhere else to go," says Rev. Thomas Dixon, jun., in Frank Leslie's Weekly. "Suppose the 10,000 saloons in New York were opposed by 5,000 coffee-houses on the style of the English establishments. Suppose they were fitted up as handsomely and situated as well, and filled with good cheer, would not drinking be reduced to a minimum? I have yet to hear of the every-day young man who buys a keg of beer or whisky, takes it up to his cheerless room, sits down over it, and drinks merely for the sake of drinking. Is it not time that we recognize the fact that the saloon has built itself into the social structure of modern life, and that we must seek here for one of the most important secrets of its power?"

In a communication in the latest issue of the Union Signal, Rev. John L. Scudder, of Jersey City, outlines the plan and purposes of the People's Palace work. Among other things he says: "Our plan has cost us about $15,000, and can be duplicated with ease in every large sized city in the United States; and in the great cities at least one palace should be placed in the precinct of every ward. Please print the next sentence prominently, and I hope it will ring out over the whole land: THE BEST WAY TO CRIPPLE THE SALOON IS TO PROVIDE A REAL SUBSTITUTE AND STEAL AWAY ITS CONSTITUENCY BEFORE THE APPETITE FOR DRINK IS FORMED, BY SUPPLYING AMUSEMENT AT HALF PRICE. Let competition be our war cry for the next 25 years. Prayer meetings are excellent to arouse the saints and set them in motion, but the average young man will not attend them. After his day's labor is over he wants rational recreation. It is a perfectly natural desire, and we ought to have it. Give him wholly innocent amusements for a fraction of the price charged in the saloon, and thus wrest the weapons from the hands of the foe." The ideas here set forth have been repeated and emphasized over and over again in the columns of this paper for the past two years. Dr. Scudder is right. We shall never succeed in suppressing the saloons until we have provided a substitute for them in the shape of coffee taverns, people's palaces, or something of the kind, where men in the lower walks of life may find opportunities for rational recreation and social intercourse such as is now denied the masses of them except in the drink shops. We can beat the saloons here on their own ground.

The Little Minister.

By J. M Barrie,

AUTHOR OF "WINDOW IN THRUMS," "WHEN A MAN'S SINGLE," "MY LADY NICOTINE," ETC.

"Oh, that it had?" was my prayer. "It has not," I said to him. "A cannon is to be fired immediately after the ceremony, and all the glen will hear it."

I spoke on the impulse, thinking to allay his desire to be off, but he said, "Then I may yet be in time." Somewhat cruelly I let him rise that he might realize his weakness. Every bone in him cried out at his first step, and he sank into a chair.

"You will go to the Spittal for me?" he implored.

"I will not," I told him. "You are asking me to fling away my life."

To prove my words I opened the door, and let him see the drowning glen. Nevertheless, he rose and tottered several times across the room, trying to revive his strength. Though every bit of him was aching I saw that he would make the attempt.

"Listen to me," I said. "Lord Rintoul can maintain with some reason that it was you rather than he who abducted Babbie. Nevertheless, there will not, I am convinced, be any marriage at the Spittal today. When he carried her off from the Toad's-hole he acted under impulses not dissimilar to those that took you to it. Then, I doubt not, he thought possession was all the law, but that scene on the hill had staggered him by this morning. Even though she thinks to save you by marrying him, he will defer his wedding until he learns the import of yours."

I did not believe in my own reasoning, but I would have said anything to detain him until that cannon was fired. He seemed to read my purpose, for he pushed my arguments from him with his hands, and continued to walk painfully to and fro.

"To defer the wedding," he said, "would be to tell all his friends of her gypsy origin and of me. He will risk much to avoid that."

"In any case," I answered, "you must now give some thought to those you have forgotten; your mother and your church."

"That must come afterwards," he said firmly. "My first duty is to my wife."

The door swung to sharply just then, and he started. He thought it was the cannon.

"Oh, that it had been!" I cried, interpreting his thoughts.

"Why do you wish me ill?" he asked.

"Mr. Dishart," I said solemnly, rising and facing him, and disregarding his question, "if that woman is to be your wife it will be at a cost you cannot estimate till you return to Thrums. Do you think that if your congregation knew of this gypsy marriage they would have you for their minister for another day? Do you enjoy the prospect of taking one who might be an earl's wife into poverty? ay, and disgraceful poverty? Do you know your mother so little as to think she could survive your shame? Let me warn you, sir, of what I see. I see another minister in the Auld Licht kirk, I see you and your wife stoned through our wynds, stoned from Thrums as malefactors have been stoned out of it ere now, and as certainly as I see these things I see a hearse standing at the manse door, and stern men denying a son's right to help to carry his mother's coffin to it. Go your own way, sir, but first count the cost."

His face quivered under these blows, but all he said was, "I must dree my dreed."

"God is merciful," I went on, "and these things need not be. He is more merciful, sir, to you than to some, for the storm that He sent to save you is ruining them. And yet the farmers to-day are thanking Him for every pound of wool, every blade of corn He has left them, while you turn from him because He would save you, not in your way but in His. It was His hand that stayed your marriage. He meant Babbie for the earl; and it is on your part a loveless match, she only suffers for her own sins. Of that scene on the hill no one in Thrums, or in the glen need ever know. Rintoul will see to it that the gypsies vanish from these parts for ever, and you may be sure the Spittal will soon be shut up. He and McKenzie have as much reason as yourself to be silent. You, sir, must go back to your congregation, who have heard as yet only vague rumors that your presence will dispel. Even your mother will remain ignorant of what has happened. Your absence from the prayer-meeting you can leave to me to explain."

He was so silent that I thought him mine, but his first words undeceived me.

"I thought I had nowhere so keen a friend," he said; "but, Mr. Ogilvy, it is devil's work you are pleading. Am I to return to my people to act a living lie before them to the end of my days? Do you really think God devastated a glen to give me a chance of becoming a villain? No, sir, I am in His hands, and I will do what I think right."

"You will be dishonored," I said, "in the sight of God and man."

"Not in God's sight," he replied. "It was a sinless marriage, Mr. Ogilvy, and I do not regret it. God ordained that she and I should love each other, and He put it into my power to save her from that man. I took her as my wife before Him, and in His eyes I am her husband. Knowing that, sir, how could I return to Thrums without her."

I had no answer ready for him. I knew that in my grief for Margaret I had been advocating an unworthy course; but I would not say so. I went gloomily to the door, and there, presently, his hand fell on my shoulder.

"Your advice came too late, at any rate," he said, "You forgot that the precentor was on the hill, and saw everything."

It was he who had forgotten to tell me this, and to me it was the most direful news of all.

"The precentor!" I cried. "He will have gone to your mother and told her." And straightway I began to lace my boots.

"Where are you going?" he asked.

"To Thrums," I answered harshly.

"You said that to venture out into the glen was to court death," he reminded me.

"What of that?" I said, and hastily put on my top-coat.

"Mr. Ogilvy," he cried, "I will not let you do this for me."

"For you," I said bitterly. "It is not for you."

FUN, FACTS AND FICTION.

A man is obliged to breathe seven hogsheads of air in a day.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A physician declares that the very best remedy for the grip is champagne.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

The average man does as he pleases and then growls because other men expect the same privilege.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

A man never finds as much as he loses.

Adversity is a test by which we show either how much or how little we think of each other.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Denny Connors left yesterday afternoon to play ball with the Evansville team.

—Dr. Flint, the hypnotist, appears again at the Grand this afternoon and to-night.

—Col. Lewis, chairman of the Hospital Trust, has personally presented each of the four graduating nurses with a handsomely bound Bible.

—A short time ago Mrs. Kilgour, of South London, was called to Cornwall to the funeral of her mother. Yesterday she was summoned to the bedside of her father, and left for Cornwall in the evening.

—Mrs. McNamara, of Thames street, has returned from a six weeks' visit to Little Duluth, Wisconsin, where her daughter resides. Wm. Minhinnick, her son-in-law, who is an old London boy, is serving his second term as a judge.

—Miss A. Agnes Weir, of Woodstock, who has been visiting friends here during the last week, left London this morning for Chicago, where she has been offered the position of stenographer in the office of a large business house there.

—The Strathroy Town Council attended the funeral of the late Lieut.-Col. Winlow yesterday in a body as a mark of respect to the deceased gentleman, who for many years held the position there of town clerk. The religious ceremonies here were conducted by Rev. Canon Smith, and at the grave by Rev. L. DesBrisay, of Strathroy. The pall-bearers were the six sons of deceased—Messrs. R. C., of Toronto; George and Charles J., London; F. J., Aylmer; A. S., Leamington, and T. M., of Toronto.

—A most interesting relic of the long ago has been in the hands of Mr. A. Tytler, grocer, for the last week or two. It is a copy of the Aberdeen Journal, published in Mr. Tytler's native city in 1780. The Journal, now a splendid daily paper, was then published once a week, and was a very insignificant sheet. It was mainly devoted to the chronicling of war news, for at that time Great Britain was at war with almost every nation in the old world and had not entirely settled up the war in America. The foreign news was in each case many weeks old, but what could be expected in an age when steamships and electric telegraphs were unknown?

—The presentation to Assistant Superintendent Morrice, of the G. T. R., in London, made by the citizens of Niagara Falls Ont., and the employes of the line at tha point, on Thursday night, was a great surprise to the popular railway official. A Niagara Falls man told an ADVERTISER reporter to-day that Mr. Morrice was called to the Falls, presumably on important company business. He was busil engaged in the office when he was asked t step into the ladies' waiting-room where friend wanted him. There he was confronted by between 200 and 300 person embracing nearly all the leading resident of the town. Mr. Langmuir, manager c the Imperial Bank, on behalf of the assemblage, presented him with a purse c over $200 in gold, and a magnificently engrossed and framed address, bearing testmony to his amiability, attentiveness t duty, and kindness as a friend, and impressing the earnest hope of the dono that he would prosper in his new home i London. Superintendent Morrice, it evident, has the knack of making an keeping friends.

The Minstrels at the Grand.

The audience that greeted Primrose West's Minstrels at the Grand last nig was big—very big—and George Primros afterwards expressed himself as delighte with the reception he got in his native city He had reason to be. The receipts di fall far short of $1,000. Every seat in house was taken and scores in the ba conies were compelled to stand. Th floral first part of the performance w new and striking in stage effect, th costuming being elaborate and tastefu The choruses were good and the solo part well taken. George Primrose's specialt "The Swell," was decidedly taking, an his dancing showed that he retaine his old-time agility. "Tell It Him, He Never Heard," a far by Tom Lewis, is a poor makshift to fill in the time, but the r mainder of the programme was thorough enjoyable. "The March of the Re Hussars," under W. H. West, has nev been equaled here, the incandescent lig effects being a novel and brilliant featur The boneless Borani brothers proved then selves acrobatic wonders, and the conclu ing number, "Trouble in Blackville created a furore.

TRAGEDY IN BRAMPTON!

James Lundy Shoots His Wife—Jealousy and Drink the Alleged Causes of the Crime.

BRAMPTON, April 22.—Jas. Lundy, a well-to-do farmer, who moved here six months ago, has been in Toronto for several days looking for employment, and was not expected back for some months. Last evening he returned home, unknown to his wife, and having secreted himself under the kitchen table, opened fire upon her with a five-chambered revolver and shot her three times, killing her almost instantly. Lundy was arrested soon afterward.

He says he only regrets he was not left alone till he completed the tragedy by taking his own life. He said he had been living in jealousy for twenty years, and thought he would end the matter. He has, it is reported, been drinking heavily lately, and was thought to be mentally unsound.

Counting by Millions.

Extraordinary success of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. The Equitable's business exceeds that of any other company in the world. It has over $109,000,000 more insurance in force than any other company. It effected in 1891 over $60,000,000 more new insurance than any other company effected. Its assets over its liabilities are more than $9,000,000 in excess of those of any other company. Its income during 1891 averaged $126,000 daily. These results have only been reached by giving insurers the best value, and by making policies absolutely incontestable. The larger the business under a single management the greater the profit. Write for rates and profits on a policy on your life. Several local agents wanted. P. B. OWENS, district manager, London, Ont.

The Keenly-Tempered Scythe of Death Foiled Again.

A Young and Promising Life Saved by Paine's Celery Compound—Another Startling Proof of the Value of This Great Remedy—It Cures and Saves.

The grand work never ceases; wonders are being accomplished every day in all sections of this broad Dominion. Our people now recognize and appreciate the marvelous healing virtues of Paine's Celery Compound, and seem eager to make known the wonderful cures it effects. With the diseased, sick and afflicted, Paine's Celery Compound is a true talisman, a never-failing magical protector and renovator. Its fame has never been equaled in the annals of medicine, and no wonder it is that the medical profession look on with awe and astonishment. This grand, life-giving remedy boasts of its power to raise up and cure the people that some physicians pronounce incurable. It speaks words of cheer, comfort and hope to those who are far gone in disease, and honestly promises new life.

What other remedial power known to man can do the same work? Can any other agency known to medicine show such a record? We think not; the public well know that there is no other medicine that can work such wonderful results.

Paine's Celery Compound always produces the best character of approval and proof from amongst our own people; it does not require to deal with false or imaginary cures; it has an abundance of the most convincing letters and testimonials from Canada's own people, always fresh, crisp, strong and powerful in tone and feeling.

To-day we are enabled to give the public the testimony of a well-known young man of Clementsport, Annapolis county, Nova Scotia, Mr. William S. Roop. He suffered from a terribly dangerous, and often fatal, disease. He was treated by doctors, and consumed large quantities of medicines, but no cure came until the great modern remedy, Paine's Celery Compound, was used. Mr. Roop very recently wrote as follows:

"I would like to add my testimony to the effect of Paine's Celery Compound. For about four years I have suffered with neuralgia of the heart. Have taken lots of medicine from different doctors for it. Before I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound I could not sleep, was very nervous, had pains in my left side, shoulders and arm nearly all the time. It is gone now. I have used altogether about one dozen bottles. I send you my photo with this. WILLIAM S. ROOP."

This is to certify that we, the undersigned, are personally acquainted with William S. Roop, and can vouch for the truth of every statement made.

JAMES H. MERRITT, } Clementsport,
W. H. RICHAN, } Annapolis Co.,
WILLIAM ROOP, } Nova Scotia.

All diseased, weary and suffering mortals, afflicted with troubles which may prove fatal at any moment, should deduce this moral from the testimony given above: "Act promptly, by using Paine's Celery Compound when the first symptoms appear, and you will avoid suffering, anxiety and care."

Mr. Henry Macombe, Leyland St., Blackburn, London, Eng., states that his little girl fell and struck her knee against a curbstone. The knee began to swell, became very painful and terminated in what doctors call "white swelling." She was treated by the best medical men, but grew worse. Finally was used. The contents of one bottle completely reduced the swelling, killed the pain and cured her.
ST. JACOBS OIL
"ALL RIGHT! ST. JACOBS OIL DID IT."

WONDERFUL EVENTS.

CERTAIN WONDERFUL EVENTS THAT occur from week to week, are recorded in our daily press, and create much surprise and call for comment amongst all classes of our population. Our people are quick to discern grand and worthy deeds; they feel that in some degree men and women are made better; and that notwithstanding the fact that the world is evil, there is still something worth living and working for. Certain newspapers have informed us of great and mighty cures, which to one class in particular these recorded events have proved a blessing, and brought comfort and cheer to many despondent hearts. Week after week we have had proof of men and women—old and young—who were saved from the dark tomb through the power of a remedy that not one paper in Canada had the generosity to mention the name, save the ADVERTISER, simply because they were not paid for advertising this remedy. This shows a most wonderful pecuniary principle on the part of an otherwise generous press. The principle of the ADVERTISER is to deplore such a state of affairs, and to give fair publicity to all worthy preparations. It therefore is a pleasure for us to give the honorable name of this wonderful medicine, known as the ROYAL CROWN BITTERS. It seems to be able to take hold of the worst cases—those for whom physicians held out no hope; who were pronounced beyond all earthly help. The weak, nervous, sleepless, despondent, morose, dyspeptic and rheumatic, are given new life, and anxious parents and relatives are filled with joy. All this has been accomplished by ROYAL CROWN BITTERS; and truly such grand and noble works benefit us as a nation, and future generations will bless the name of the great discoverer of the grandest remedy ever given to suffering humanity. tx

BOOTS AND SHOES
Marked in Plain Figures and Sold at One Price Only.
Hubert Ashplant, having for some years past felt dissatisfied with the bantering two-priced system of dealing, which has so long been prevalent in the retail trade, has decided to mark all his immense stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, etc., in plain figures, to be sold at one price only, and at such low cost that no customer can fail to see good value. While obliged to meet a demand for all grades, I shall not study the shoddy or sheepskin lines, but cultivate such goods as can truly be recommended. I am daily opening out new and stylish spring goods. These new lines are bought right and are all being marked at lowest possible cash prices, and in the course of a few days all goods previously in stock will be re-marked in plain figures on the same system. I believe this one-price dealing will be appreciated by my old customers and by the general public. I desire my customers to be dealt with honorably, and I allow no willful misrepresentation of goods. If any shoe does not turn out satisfactory for its cost, please return to me and I shall be only too pleased to make it right, as no retailer manufactures his own goods, and errors may always occur unavoidably. Notice my address and sign of the big boot on the window in Market Lane.

has two pipes, one covering the valve rod (dry pipe) and the one conveying the water to the spout (wet pipe). The rod in this hydrant is actuated by a brass screw and handle above, and raising plunger the smallest fraction of an inch, closes waste before any water can enter discharge pipe. With the valve open we have the full and unobstructed flow of water through the hydrant which can well be compared to a straight way valve or round-way cock. Closing the valve empties all water from wet pipe through dry hole. To repair hydrant or washer remove top cap or plate and withdraw plunger valve. It can be readily repaired without digging up.
