City Election.

Registration Days Fixed for Next Week.

Vitally Important for Young Men and New Citizens.

An These Must Register or They Cannot Vote at This Election.

Read What the New Manhood Suffrage Act Provides,

And Register on the First Day if Possible.

Sheriff Cameron, returning officer for the city, received the writ for the new election for the Legislature this morning. The writ is dated Thursday, Oct. 25, and election day, as already stated, will be three weeks from Tuesday next.

The first thing to be done now is to arrange for the registration of every manhood suffrage voter not now on the lists.

To enable our friends to understand the task that they have before them we purpose now to give a brief summary of the provisions of "The City Manhood Suffrage Registration Act, 1894," which comes into operation in London for the first time in this election.

Under this Act every male person who is 21 years of age, and a British subject, and who has resided in the city three months, and in the Province twelve months, is entitled to vote at the ensuing election.

Every person who voted in the genelection in June last as either owner or tenant will find his name on the list to be used on this occasion. But every income voter, every manhood suffrage voter, must personally attend the istration places, and declare his inten tion to vote in the ensuing election. And Every new-comer in the city, whether tenant, owner, or simply 21 years of age, must also register, or he cannot vote.

The registration proceedings are the simplest possible. There is no badgering of the voter about how he makes a living. what his income is, where he spends his time, and what his washbill is. That kind of inquisition is left to the Dominion Franchise Act sponsors. Even when a voter is sick or temporarily absent on the days fixed for registration, if he notifies the registrar, in accordance with a form provided by the act, he can have his vote assured him at a subsequent sitting by personal attendance, if possible; if not, through the evidence of a friend cognizant of all the facts.

The registrars fixed by the Act for this city are Judge William Elliot, Judge Edward Elliott, Police Magistrate Parke and Col. Shanly, local master of the High Court. These officials constitute the Board of Registrars, but if any one of them is unable to act, from illness or other cause, the board has power to appoint some other proper person to fill the vacancy. Col. Shanly, being the oldest officer on the board, will be chairman.

It is provided that London city shall be divided into at least four registration districts, in each of which sittings must be held to register all voters 21 years of age not on the lists, but if the board considers the number of registration districts to be insufficient it can increase them.

Every registrar shall appoint a competent registry clerk to assist him in preparing the lists of voters registered, and the board must appoint one of the registry clerks to be the clerk of the board.

Each registrar must hold four daily sittings for the registration of those claiming to be entitled to vote in the city under the act. The first of the sittings must be held on the sixth day after the date of the writ (computing in such time any Sunday that may have intervened).

Wednesday next is, therefore, the first day for the registration of manhood suffrage voters in this city.

The sittings will be continued on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Plenty of opportunity will thus be given for everyone to register, but no one who can make it at all convenient to register should delay declaring their intention to and body, itching or peculiar sensation vote till Saturday.

The hours for registration will be from 9 in the morning till 10 in the evening, with intermission from 1 to 2 and from 6 to It is expected that the evenings will as far as possible, to the registhose who cannot leave their long to each political party, shall be present as spectators at any one time.

Provision is made for the proper checking of the lists after each sitting of the registrar, and for the punishment of persons who personate or attempt to personate. Penalties are also imposed upon registrars and their clerks if they fail to do their duty in accordance with the oath which they must take upon assuming

Every manhood suffrage voter should arrange to go as early as possible, and not wait to be sent for. It is an easily performed duty. Let every young man act

Polling in London Three Weeks from Tuesday Next.

The Nomination Day on Novembed 13.

A Most Satisfactory Arrangement for the Business Interests of the City-Many New Friends Flock to Mr. Hobbs' Standard.

The following special telegram was received at this office from Toronto last night:

"The writ for the new election for the Legislature for the city of London is

"The nomination will be on Tuesday, Nov. 13, and the polling will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 20."

Thus the campaign will be fought and the election over three weeks from next

We like short, sharp and decisive elections, and the present promises to be a

When it was announced that Mr. Meredith had given up all hope of overturning Sir Oliver Mowat's Administration, and had definitely retired from public life, leading supporters of the Government in London advised that no delay should take place in issuing the writ. The Government has promptly fallen in with this view, and the Ministers will have the thanks of the community for their consideration for the business and industrial interests of this

With a short campaign, there will be all the more need for steady and persistent work in favor of the Government candidate from now until election day.

Our information is that Mr. Hobbs wil poll a large number of votes in addition to those which were registered for him in June last. Already many electors who voted for Mr. Meredith on personal grounds or because they were under the belief that he could defeat Sir Oliver Mowat, have tendered their support to the Government candidate. This is most encouraging to the friends of Mr. Hobbs.

IN POLITICAL CIRCLES.

North Grey Patrons Indorse R. A. Stark for the Commons.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 25 .- The Patrons of North Grey met this afternoon in the council chamber, between 40 and 50 delegates being present from the various rural municipalities. After discussing matters from every possible standpoint the nomination of Mr. R. A. Stark, reeve of Derby. was again made practically unanimous. Some took the ground that the fact of his being an advanced prohibitionist was an objection; others that being a P. P. A. was also an objection; but after rigid questioning as to the candidate's position on these matters the nomination was unanimously

Operation on the Czar.

Paris, Oct. 26. - A dispatch from Livadia says the operation of thoracentecis has been performed upon the Czar with success. The releasing of liquid matter by puncturing has greatly relieved the patient's breathing and the pressure around the heart. It is reported that Prof. Leyden has declared that there is no danger of a collapse.

Fatal Panic in a Church.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 25 .- During the service at church at Atrokh, near Ostroviansk, in the Don Province, last night, a lamp was upset, a cry of fire raised and a panic followed. Two women and three children were trampled to death, and 27 persons were seriously injured.

Favors and Feathers. LONDON, Oct. 25 .- A dispatch from Shanghai to the Central News says an imthat Li Hung Chang has reported to the throne the details of the naval action off the mouth of the Yalu River. The Emperor is pleased to decorate Major Von Hanneken and create him a brevet commander in chief for victorious conduct. By the same decree the heirs of Engineers Nicholl and Purves, who were killed in the battle, receive two years' pay. Mr. Hockman, who was wounded, is created a lieutenant-colonel of the naval force, and Messrs. Bresant and McGiffen are made majors. Hockman and several others receive the decoration of the peacock feather, and a number of others are decorated with the order of one star of the third class.

Sunk the Ship. SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 25.—Between 1:30 and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning the steamer Paris, which arrived here last night from New York, ran down and probably sank an unknown ship. The weather was very thick at the time, a heavy rain falling. As soon as the collision occurred the Paris put about and made a search for the ship. After a time the vessel or a capsized wreck was reported off the starboard, but sight of it was lost before a lifeboat could be lowered. Nothing further was seen, though the Paris laid off, searching until daylight. The steamer sustained little damage. Sailors on the Paris say that the sailing vessel showed signals of distress after the collision, and that screams were heard aboard of her. The morning broke with a strong gale and a heavy sea, and nothing was seen of the vessel. The Paris landed all her passengers in safety. Reported Evacuation of Port Arthur.

London, Oct. 25 .- A dispatch to the Globe from Shanghai says it is reported the Chinese have evacuated Port Arthur and that the Japanese have landed in force at Talien Wau Bay, not far from Port Arthur. The opposing forces have both been making reconnaissances since the Chinese were driven out of Wi Ju, but no fighting had taken place until the morning of the 24th. Scouts have made their way a short distance down the river and have also pushed into the interior, but none have met any armed Chinese. A report is current that the entire effective Chinese force is entrenched close to the Yalu River, on the Moukden road. The main attack on the Chinese will be made before Sunday. The Hochi gives the following as an approximate of the losses of the Chinese at Ping Yang: Officers and men killed, about 1,860; wounded, about 2,000, and prisoners, over 700. The number of dead given is exclusive of the bodies washed away in the River Tai Dong. The horses killed numbered 1,000, wounded 800, and captured over 600. The treasure captured amounted to about 1,220,000 yen in Japanese cur-rency, including gold and silver coin, bullion and Corean coin. Rice and other cereals sufficient to maintain the army for a period of three weeks were also captured. The arms captured included 42 cannon,

1,300 rifles, and also 1,800 tents. LONDON, Oct. 25 .- The Japanese legation has no confirmation of the report that the Japanese army under Field Marshal Count Oyama has landed near Port Arthur, but the report is credited nevertheless. The officials of the legation regard it as certain that the expedition of Oyama was sent to attack Port Arthur or Wei

Hai Wei or both. Chinese Whipped at Wi Ju, London, Oct. 25 .- A dispatch to the Central News from Wi Ju says Count Yamagata, commander-in-chief of the Japanese forces in Corea, has reported to the Government at Tokio that a detachment of 1,600 Japanese infantry crossed the Yalu River on the morning of Oct. 20 at Sukachin, above Wi Ju. Shortly after crossing the river the troops met a body of Chinese, composed of 600 cavalry and 100 infantry with two cannon.

muskets. The Chinese lost twenty killed or wounded, but there was not a single fatality among the Japanese. The latter also seized a fort near the scene of the engagement. A detachment of the Japanese forces is advancing upon Lischyen, and the main body is crossing the Yalu River.

The force of Japanese which crossed the river and defeated the Chinese was composed entirely of riflemen. Earthworks had been thrown up at Suko Chin by the Chinese, but a slight deviation enabled the attacking force to cross the river without hindrance. The Chinese position was garrisoned with a small force of artillery and infantry, and these fled after two or three rounds had been fired. Count Yamagate adds:

"We captured the works with a rush. A regiment of Manchurin cavalry came up as the enemy were driven from the earthworks and covered their retreat. The retiring force took refuge with their batteries further down the river, throwing away their muskets in their flight.

"Our advanced detachments now hold the works erected at Sukochin Ferry by the Chinese, and are prepared to guard the pas sage across the river of the main body, which will probably be made at dawn on the 25th inst. Pontoons have already been placed in position, and all the men and materials are ready for a rapid advance." The Czar.

BERLIN, Oct. 25 .- A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Cologne Gazette says the Czar heard the intimation of his physicians that his case was hopeless with great bravery. Upon hearing that it would be impossible to save his life his Majesty ordered the settlement of the matter of succession to the imperial throne, and expressed a wish to bestow his blessing upon the Czarewitch and Princess Alix. It is the general belief in St. Petersburg that the marriage of the Czarewitch has been postponed only for a brief period, and that the formal ceremonies of betrothal will take place almost immedi-

It is reported that when the Czar was given to understand that his case was hopeless he remarked: "It is sad that a man of my years should have to die, though personally I do not oling overmuch to life. If God still deems my life of use to my dear country He will make me well."

A dispatch from Frankfort says that the ex-Empress Frederick has written a letter of sympathy to the Czarina.

It is said that the condition of the Czar yesterday varied between drowsiness and comparative cheerfullness. He passed an hour alone with the Czarewitch, and during the interview dictated an affectionate farewell message to Russia, which, upon his death, will be issued to the public. It is said that he is very grateful to the Russian people for their free expressions of sympathy.

this evening says that the Czar passed a painless day, though his weakness is increasing. The King of Greece, who is in Corfu, has ordered that the arrangements for the Czar's reception there be hastened. as he has received more favorable news fram Livadia.

The Russian embassy in Vienna denies that the marriage of the Czarewitch and Princess Alix has been solemized.

Thursday evening's bulletin: The Czar's physicians issued a bulletin at 8 o'clock this evening saying during the day neither somnolence nor spasmodic symptoms have been observed. The patient's appetite is satisfactory. The oedema has not in-

Lord Rosebery's Important Speech Londo t. Oct. 25 .- Lord Rosebery made an important speech at Sheffield this evening. He said the Czar would enjoy in history a reputation as a victor in peace not less undisputed than the reputation Cæsar and Napoleon enjoyed as conquerors. Great Britain, he said, had the greatest possible interest in the continuation of the Czar's life and health, because if he should be removed the greatest guarantee of the peace of the world disappeared. (Ap-

Referring to the recent meeting of the British Cabinet, the Premier said that none of the alleged reasons for the summoning of the Cabinet on that occasion were correct. The question of intervention between Japan and China was not discussed. No circular had been issued to the powers and no rebuff had been suffered from them. It was impossible, he said, to regard with indifference a possible sudden destruction of the central Government of China, a Government already none too strong. Its destruction would involve appalling danger to every Christian in the Chinese empire, and overflow of dangerous and barbarous elements into every adjoining part of the world, implying the greatest possible catastrophe to Asiatic civilization. (Ap-

After the first Japanese victory the British Government had learned from a very high and most convincing source that China was willing to concede honorable terms materially exceeding Japan's demands when the war was entered upon and such as Japan could certainly accept without lessening her prestige or advantage. The Ministry felt that they could not absolutely "pocket" these. They did not found great hopes upon "pocket" these. They overtures, but they thought it was their duty to sound the countries of Europe and the United States to ascertain whether in their opinions there was any possibility of China and Japan coming to terms on the basis indicated. The reception of Great Britain's approaches was remarkable favorable, but one or two of the powers judged that the time had not arrived when conditions could with advantage be submitted to the combatants. Personally he was rather inclined to concur with the latter. He believed that whenever it was possible every British Foreign Minister should obtain a concert of the powers in important international affairs, and in such case as the present one the Foreign Minister would have been culpable if he had not sought a concert of the powers. Moreover, in the jealous condition of affairs the war had produced it would have been impossible for Great Britain to attempt to act as bottle holder without incurring the suspicion of the other powers and all interested in the East. Referring to Madagascar Lord Rosebery said he doubted whether the name even had been mentioned between France and Great Britain. He hoped this would dispel all ideas of contention between France and Great Britain in regard to Madagascar.

Columns have already been devoted to the details of these stocks. It seems we're always talking of Dress Fabrics of one kind or another, but it is not to be wondered at with such a collection -not such another store within your reach that shows such a wealth of Dress Fabrics. It is our gauntlet. We challenge all competition. The gathering of stylish wares surpasses all former competing collections. It isn't possible, in the limits of a newspaper, to picture the exquisite taste and unique effects of new Dress Goods, Clever genius has been at work, and improved machinery has helped to make stuffs better than they were. We'd be slow indeed to offer you this season the counterpart of what you had last. Among the more exclusive lines we would like you to see our range of Holland & Sherry's Dress Tweed Suitings and Vestings. They are confined to us for this section and cannot be had elsewhere. Of all desirable weaves this season, perhaps, those English Covert Cloths take the lead. There is a feel about them that is almost irresistible. We have them in all pretty shades of fawn, tan, brown, gray and blue, also black. English Broadcloths for street wear are among the quick-selling things. We have them in 21 different shades, 56 inches wide, 51-2 yards to the dress pattern, only one of a color, To finish of with, all we can say is that if you want to know what is the fashion we have here the very extremes of present styles. Not a penny wasted in buying them. It's hardly possible for anyone to own the stock for less than we, which means lower pricea than others can afford. Joseph Fex's Wife Brings Her Elusive Husband Into Court.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 .- Joseph Fex, a shoemaker of 395 Wythe avenue, Brooklyn, was parolled by Justice Walsh, in Adams Street Court this morning, pending examination on a charge of abandoning his wife. Fex was arrested this morning after R. WILLIAM MOXON, STUDENT IN Germany and Cambridge University, England, receives pupils for harmony and vocal and instrumental music at 359 Princess eluding his wife for nearly four years, during which, she says, she pursued him to various places in Canada and finally to Mrs. Fex lives in Brockville, Ont., Canda. Detectives located Fex at 395 Wythe avenue, Brooklyn, and he was brought into court this morning.

Fex is 65 years old and looks like a prosperous merchant. His counsel claimed that the woman had no standing in court, as she was a non-resident. Justice Walsh ruled that a woman's residence was whereever her husband lived. He adjourned the hearing and remanded Fex to the custody STUART & STUART, BARRISTERS, solicitors, notaries, etc. Offices, southwest corner Dundas and Richmond, London; Main street, Cleroca

He was then doing a good business in Mallorytown, Canada. 1889 she was taken ill and her husband offered to take her to Brockville. He sold his store for $600, and wanted her to sign over her interest in a farm valued at $3,000. She refused. She was taken to a hotel, she says, and her husband told her he was go ing to visit a friend for a few days. He did not return. She did not see him again until September, 1890, when he called upon her and again asked her to sign away her interest in the farm. He told her that e had provided a home for her at Barrie, Ont. THE CREAT SMITH FAMILY Still Leads in the New Directory for 1894.

A Wealth of General Information Contained in the Book Just Out-Many Changes in a Year.

The Might Directory Company, Toronto, are delivering to their many subscribers in town the directory of the city of London for the year 1894. The book was printed in the ADVERTISER office, and it is needless to say that the typography is par excellence. The printing is neat, the general effect good and the advertisements are displayed in a readable manner. The workmanship playing on pianos. is all that could be desired, as a glance through the 500 or more pages will readily show. The Might Company has displayed its usual energy in collecting information, and each year the directory under their management contains more and more of useful information. Many persons say that there are no changes in London and that they do not need a new directory. As illustrating that there are changes in the city a yellow leaf is shown with a page of last year's directory of the west side of Clarence street. Of the 56 residents on that side of the street there are 37 who were not there last year. A wealth of accumulated information is stored up in the pages of the directory. While there is a great variety of names there are a great many people who answer to the same name. There are 334 Smiths, 193 Thompsons, 207 Taylors, 244 Johnstons, and perhaps 30 others that run well up to the 100 mark. There are in this city at present 5 accountants, 10 agricultural implement agents, 4 architects, 13 artists, 3 auctioneers, 25 bakers, 27 barbers, 72 lawyers, 31 blacksmith shops, 42 boarding houses, 8 book stores, 20 shoe stores, 44 cobblers' shops, 6 brickyards, 5 box makers, 16 brokers, 4 business colleges, 50 butcher shops, 10 cab owners, 18 carriage and wagon makers, 14 eigar manufacturers, 10 clothing stores, 21 coal yards, 14 colleges and private schools. 25 confectioners, 1 consul, 67 building contractors, 5 corset makers, 10 dairies, 12 dentists, 105 dressmakers, 17 druggists, 19 retail drygoods stores and 6 wholesale, 19 fancy goods stores, 10 florists, 20 fruit dealers, 23 furniture dealers, 10 gents' furnishers, 210 grocery stores, 7 hat and cap furnishers, 38 hotels, 47 insurance agents, jewelers, 12 laundries (7 Chinese), 20 very stables, 10 loan companies, 14 lumber vards, 33 merchant tailors, 16 millinery stores, 69 music teachers, 22 painters, 56 physicians, 11 piano stores, 16 plumbers, 9 real estate dealers, 10 restaurants, 6 savings banks, 16 tocacco dealers, 25 letter carriers and a host of minor occupations.

MORE SALTY THAN THE DEAD SEA A Ten of Great Salt Lake Water Holds

About 314 Pounds of Salt. Water of the Great Salt Lake varies greatly in its contents of dissolved solids, dependir upon the relation between the supply of water through streams and the evaporation. A fair average of total solids dissolved in the water of the lake at its present mean level is from 19 to 20 per cent by weight. But not all of this is common salt; for besides this ingredient the water contains sodium sulphate (Glauber salt), magnesium chloride, calcium sulphate (gypsum), and potassium sulphate. A detailed analysis of water taken from the lake in August, 1888, was made by Dr. Talmage. This contained in all 19 56 per cent dissolved solids, of which 15.74 was common salt. Such water would yield of total solid matter 391 pounds to the ton, and of common salt about 314 pounds to the ton.

The Dead Sea contains a greater proportion of solid matter dissolved in its waters than does the Great Salt Lake. Much discrepancy exists among published accounts of its contents, the fluctuations in composition being due to the same causes that prevail in our lake, viz., the relation between the supply through inflowing streams and loss by evaporation. A sample taken from a depth of 1,110 feet carries 25 4 per cent of dissolved solids. This corresponds to 528 pounds to the ton; but of this only 7.55 per cent was common salt, or 151 pounds per Therefore, though the Salt Lake carries a lower proportion of dissolved solids of all sorts than does the Dead Sea, the lake contains more than double the proportion of salt. The chief solid constituent of the Dead Sea water is not sodium chloride (common salt), but .magnesium chloride. Strictly speaking, the water of our lake is much "brinier" than that of the Dead Sea, common salt being the chief solid dissolved in the lake. Nevertheless the Dead Sea is much more highly saturated with solids. [Deseret News.

The mortality was 10 per cent of all the pilgrims.

THE Belgian Government, it is reported, is about to open negotiations with the Br tish Government looking to the establishment of telephone lines between London and Brussels. The authorities at Berlin have signified their willingness to continue the line to Berlin, and the prospect is good that London and Berlin will soon bf connected by telephone by way of Ostend and

The captain had only written his full name, "Throughmuch tribulation-we-enter - into - the-kingdom-of-heaven Happ." "May I ask you," said the official, what your mother called you when she wanted you ?" "Well, sir, when I was little," was the grave reply, 'they used to call me 'Tribby.'

PROFESSOR SWING'S congregation in Chicago is to disband. There is, it is said, "no enthusiasm among the trustees, nor, so far as can be learned, among the members for a new society. The success of the old one was unique. It was founded, as it was led, by one man, and it was only that man's personality that held it together. The members came from all parts of the city and from all classes, united by that bond only, and it is impossible to think of a living man who could unite these 2,500 men and women who have followed s closely for nineteen years the words of the man whose new message to the world first led them to meet.

UNSCRIPTURAL MARRIAGES.

A Pennsylvania Presbyterian Preacher Creates a Sensation.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 25,-The preaching of Rev. Dr. W. J. McCrory, pastor of the Free Presbyterian Church of Rochester, Pa., has created a sensation throughout the Beaver Valley. His recent discourses urging the application of the Biblical laws concerning marriages has caused trouble in several homes and may lead to divorce proceed-

He based his statements on a portion of the verse of the sixth chapter of the Second Epistle to the Corinthiane, which reads: 'Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers, for what fellowship hath righteousness and what communion hath light with darkness?" These utterances were literally accepted. A dozen or more engagements between young people have been unceremoniously severed, while in at least three instances women who have been for some time married and are mothers of families have also accepted the doctrine and decline to further continue the marital relations.

vote on the question of having the water-works and electric light managed by three commissioners. Burglars broke into the Harmony Church, South Easthope, Perth county, some time ago and succeeded in obtaining a number of library books. George Truman, a gardener living on Howard avenue, Windsor, has received word from Jamaica that he is one of the heirs to a large property there. A Mechanics' Institute has been established at Delhi with these officers: President, Rev. F. Leigh; secretary, James A. Lawson; treasurer, Wm. Corten.

A Syrian tramp peddler, arrested in Chatham on suspicion of being the Listowel murderer, felt so grateful at being released that he kissed Magistrate Houston's toe. A Chatham municipal delegation has been hunting the townships for good water, which the town needs. They have secured samples of Lake Erie water for analysis.

"Tyme" Dolson and his brother Charles, of Galt, had a row the other night. Charles used an axe and chopped off one of his brother's fingers. "Tyme" had been drink-

At the residence of the bride's brother, G. T. Ferguson, Toronto, on Wednesday, Rev. J. C. Tolmie, B.A., Windsor, was married to Miss Margaret, daughter of G. D. Ferguson, of Fergus. A desperate attempt was made the other day to burn down the Congregational Church in New Durham, Oxford county. The floor was bad y charred. Some Brantford toughs are suspected. Willie, the infant son of W. Witzel, Chatham, got hold of his father's coal oil can, and before he was discovered had drunk a large quantity of it. After an anxious time the boy is recovering. Gillman & Barnes, proprietors of the summer resort Des-Chree-Shos-Ka, have assigned to Robert A. Reynolds, of Windsor, and a meeting of creditors has been called. The liabilities amount to $84,000. The body of J. S. Shippey, who was drowned at Rat Portage in the Winnipeg River on the morning of Sept. 15, has at last been found. It will be sent to Dutton for burial. Mr. Shippey's mother lives there. Wm. Laing, of Varna, while repairing a well for Alex. McKenzie, Tuckersmith, was instantly killed. The pump, which a boy was holding, became too heavy for the lad and fell on Laing, who was in the well.

An attempt was made on Sunday about two miles east of Mount Forest to wreck a C. P. R. passenger train. A tie was thrown across the track, but no serious results occurred, excepting slight damage to the Word has been received of the death of Mrs. (Dr.) Malcolm in Honan, China, aged 30. She was formerly Miss Crit McArthur. daughter of Wm. McArthur, Stone road, near Galt. She went to China with her husband as a medical missionary.

Thomas D. Millar, died at Ingersoll Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Millar was well known in Oxford county and throughout Canada generally as one of the early pioneers in the cheese trade, in which he has made and lost large sums of money. The trial of Mrs. Milne, of Aylmer, for the alleged burning of Chief Milne's barn, ended in the dismissal of the prisoner, the evidence adduced in no way connecting her with the burning. The lady was heartily cheered when the verdict was announced. The county of Simcoe last year raised 297,000 bushels of potatoes, or about 80,000 bushels more than any other county in the Province. Simcoe is also the leading pea county of the Province, its yield in 1893 be-

The drilling rig is being moved away from the Goudie farm on the second line, near Wyoming, as no indication of oil appeared even at a depth of 600 feet. The tests on the Atkinson farm, con. 1, are more encouraging, oil having been struck in paying 538,000 bushels. Bruce came next with ing quantities. Two of the best known of St. Thomas younger citizens were united in marriage in Hamilton Thursday, Oct. 25, in the persons of Mr, J. A. Harvey, barrister, of the firm of Maxwell & Harvey, and Miss Lilian Teetzel, until recently a teacher in the Balaclava street school.

Miss Dixon, who was assaulted by a colored man on Quellette avenue, Windsor, a month ago and who was confined to her bed until a few days ago, has recovered, and will be taken to Sandwich to see if she can identify Marshall, Windsor's Jack the Hugger, as her assailant.

left the house for a few minutes immediately after dinner, and was returning when she fell to the ground and died instantly. Deceased was an aunt of Messrs. Archibald and Neil McKellar, of Glencoe. Wm. W. Elwood, of Orford, has published an arology to County Registrar, Mc-Kellar, of Kent. Elwood admits that he injurious and untrue statements about Mr. McKellar during the recent political campaign. The latter will therefore drop his suit for criminal libel. While Mr. Kenny, of Woodgreen, Mid-dlesex, was walking through his orchard on Monday he was surprised as well as struck by a passing bullet. The bullet lodged in his leg, a little above the knee, and was extracted by Dr. McKillop, of Wardsville. He will be around again in a few days.

Chas, Gibbs, of Parkhill, while out shooting the other day, at Lake Smith, was accidentally shot in the ear. He was approaching a flock of partridge at which he intended to shoot, when another huntsman shot at them from an opposite direction, several of the shots striking Mr. Gibbs in

The marriage of Dr. R. V. Bray and Miss Tackaberry, of Chatham, was solemnized Wednesday night. The ceremony was per-formed by Rev. R. McCosh, rector of Christ hurch. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. W. L. Tackaberry, and the groom is the son of Dr. John Bray, ex-president of the Canadian Medical Association.

Kirby Gregory, formerly proprietor of the Great Western Hotel, Windsor, has submitted charges in writing against Chief of Police Wills to Mayor Beattie. The charges allege immoral conduct on the part of the chief and breach of duty in permitting gambling houses to exist. The matter will come up before the police commissioners, consisting of Judge Horne, Magistrate Bartlett and Mayor Beattie. Chief Wills says he courts the fullest investigation.

Hugh McTavish, Mosa, met with a bad accident while out coon hunting the other night. He had climbed a tree after a coon and a limb on which he was standing breaking he fell to the ground. He was rendered unconscious. Those who saw the tree from which he fell say that he must have fallen twenty feet. Mr. McTavish was badly bruised and shaken up besides having his left arm broken near the shoulder. One of those pleasant events which cause ripple of excitement in society circles transpired on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the residence of Mr. Sylvester Dawdy, Southwold Station, it being the occasion of the marriage of his eldest daughter, Miss Florence Mabel, to Mr. James W. Cook, of Littlewood. At ll a.m. the bride entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father, as the strains of the Wedding March died away. Rev. R. J. Garbutt, LL.B., of Lambeth, performed the nuptials in the presence of about 60 invited guests. The bride was very handsomely attired and presented a charming appearance. She carried in her hand a beautiful bouquet of white roses, a gift from the groom. After the ceremony was concluded all present were regaled with a sumptuous wedding dinner tendered by the kind host and hostess, to which all did ample justice. The many friends of the bride will regret her departure from among them, where she was a general favorite with them all, especially so in the Methodist Church, where she rendered efficient service, being member of the choir and organist and teacher in the Sunday school. The presents were very numerous, useful, ornamental and costly, and evidenced the high esteem in which the contracting parties are held. The happy couple left 'mid showers of rice, and were driven to London, where they took the 4:30 p.m. G. T. R. Wabash express for Brantford, Hamilton, St, Catharines and Niagara Falls on their wedding tour, followed by the congratulations and well-wishes of a large circle of friends.

SARNIA SUNBEAMS.

(Agent for the ADVERTISER, D. McMaster.) Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stewart, Cobden street, lost their only child by bronchitis on Saturday last.

A large audience gathered at the Boys' Brigade hall on Monday evening to witness an exciting game of basket ball between the boys of the Y. M. C. A., Port Huron, and a picked team from the Sarnia Brigade. The Port Huron boys won by a score of 4 to 1. Point Edward Ladies' Auxiliary of the B. of R. T. will give a grand social on Tuesday, Oct. 30, at the residence of Conductor

Young, in the village. Mr. D. Garroch, who is well known to most of our citizens, has bought out the City steam laundry from Mr. R. Odbert. Dr. Logie has moved into his fine new residence, Christina street, near Wellington Park. James Ward has been appointed to carry the mail between Sarnia and Port Huron. Dr. Ames and family left Wednesday for Denver, Col., where the doctor has gone in hope of getting better health.

Lieut.-Col. Smith, D.A.G., of Military District No. 1, visited Sarnia on Wedneslay and inspected the armory of No. 7 Company, Twenty-seventh Battalion, and found everything in good order. Rev. Anna Shaw will deliver a lecture here under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. on Wednesday, Nov. 28, the subject of which will be "The Ballot for Women." Mrs. Julius P. Bucke and son Edward left on Wednesday for Santa Barbara, Cal., where they will spend the winter. The bazar in connection with the Catholic hurch, which opened on Tuesday and will be held the remainder of the week, is proving to be very successful. Walters Bros., drygoods merchants, were before the mayor on Monday charged with violating the early closing bylaws. They were fined $1 and $1 costs. W. C. Kerby was also charged with violating the same bylaws, but pleaded not guilty, and was acquitted. W. S. Boynton, great commander of the Knights of the Maccabees, has appointed Mr. Thos. Watson, of Roscommon, Mich., now great lieutenant-commander, to the important office of great recordkeeper, in room of Joseph Boughton, who failed to qualify. Henry W. Carey, of Manistee, now chaplain, is made great lieutenant-commander. The Port Huron Y. M. C. A. have purchased a lot on Sixth street, and will erect a handsome building thereon next summer. Rev. J. C. Madill will preach to the Orangemen on Sunday, Nov. 4, in the Congregational Church.

Chicago's Financial Pinch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 .- A special from Chicago (World) says: The credit of the city of Chicago has been attacked by a syndicate of local banks, which recently advanced $600,000 as a temporary demand loan in anticipation of tax collections. Several of these banks asked immediate repayment. Comptroller Ackerman complied, and now there is no money on hand to meet the October pay roll.

Since the resolution was passed by the finance committee, casting a cloud upon the authority of the comptroller to borrow money, the banks have made constant demands on the city for repayment. Up to date $300,000 has been returned.

Number Two Committee. The meeting of the board of works began last night, when Ald. Thos. Jones, Ald.

on the sidewalk in front of the City Hotel Shaw, Assistant City Engineer Ironsides, Secretary Bell and Commissioner Owen waited for a quorum. After a while Ald. Garratt happened along and the committee adjourned to the hall to pass a few accounts. Ald. Coo dropped in a little later and completed a quorum. Thomas Walls' request for privilege to run a switch from the C. P. R. to his premises found favor and will so be reported to the council. Mr. V. Cronyn complained of the state of the Dundas street sewer at his place. It had flooded the cellar and the effluvia had nearly driven the family out the house. The engineer reported that the facts were as stated and that the sewer had been constructed in a disgraceful manner. However another manhole had been build which would probably prevent its becoming blocked again. The engineer also reported that several signatures against the macadamizing of Dufferin avenue were in his opinion not valid. Names were signed on behalf of other persons, and the power of attorney was not produced. Ald. Garratt moved that the matter be laid over until next week, as he had learned on good authority that Bishop O'Connor was going to withdraw his objection. The matter was laid over, The paving of Dundas street down town caused soms discussion. Assistant Engineer Ironsides stated that two blocks of cedar pavement would cost nearly $4,000. Roughly speaking, asphalt would cost $3 yard, and vitrified brick, with concrete oundation, $2 a yard. Ald. Coo moved that the city pay the balance due on the present block-paving providing the ratepayers petitioned for a permanent pavement, and that the engineer prepare an estimate of the cost of pavements made of vitrified brick, asphalt or

Ald. Garatt moved that a 5 foot 4 inch sidewalk be placed on the east side of Colborne street between Dufferin avenue and Princess avenue. As Ald. Coo had left the room and there was not a quorum the matter was laid over. With reference to Francis Faulkner's grievance about a lane fence adjoining his property on Campbell street being taken down every fair time, causing him much trouble and expense, the engineer reported that there was no lane existing on the east side of his property. The lane only ran between King and York streets and did not extend to Campbell. "If the fence is pulled down at fair time as he states, he has cause for a civil action against the parties doing it for trespass. The Liberals, the Patrons and Their Respective Attitudes.

Sir Richard Cartwright on the Duty of the Hour.

Long Fight of the Liberals Against the Class Taxation Law.

They Lost Power Rather Than Forsake Principle.

Mr. McCarthy's Confession-A Record of Economy-In Favor of Honest Administration-Danger of Division.

ceived by a Patron in Lennox county from Sir Richard Cartwright, and has been handed to the Patron Sun for publication: "My Dear Sir, -I can very well understand the difficulty felt by you as well as by many other Liberal farmers as between the claims of your party and of the Patrons ence of Parliament. 3. Tariff for revenue

"Permit me in the first place to say that in its main features, so far as they affect Dominion politics, I am heartily in sympathy with the new movement. I agree with you that the farmers of Canada, one of all these objects which the Liberal well know, I have always maintained that protective system. "I know, no man better, how utterly fatal any protective system must be to liberty and to honest and economical government; and it was the profound conviction of this fact, quite as much as any to work to the chief interests of Canada (as I pointed out in my budget speech of 1876, and have done continuously ever since), which induced Mr. Mackenzie and my self and our colleagues to set our faces determinedly against the introduction of that most pernicious system here.

INCREASED TAXATION. "I know, no man better, how enormously the real taxes paid by farmers (and by all wage earners) have been increased of late years and how greatly their difficulties have been augmented by the developments which have taken place in other great food producing regions. I may add also that very few farmers in Lennox have suffered more than I have done from the very selfsame causes which have injured them. If their lands have shrunk in value, so have mine. If their incomes have been reduced from the causes I have enumerated, so has mine. If they find themselves in a very much worse position after, and in consequence of fifteen years of protection, so do I; nor do I believe there is one single individual in this county of Lennox-(quite apart from all questions of politics)-who would be a greater gainer than myself from the removal of these oppressive trade restrictions and by the introduction of a wiser and honester system of taxation.

'I am, therefore, on every account, strengly in sympathy with the Patrons of Industry as far as Dominion politics are concerned. I consider their objects to be good. I know they have suffered greatly already, and that they are in danger of suffering still more in the near future if no relief can be obtained-nay, are perhaps in even greater danger than many of them as yet realize. I believe the necessity for immediate action to be urgent and for all these reasons I am most desirous that they should commit no blunder in their crusade against political wrong-doing.

A WARNING. "Nevertheless, I feel that there is great danger of their making a very grave mistake at this juncture. The foes of liberty and good government are a very powerful body in Canada today. They are strongly entrenched and very highly organized indeed. Protection has many roots. It has a full treasury and a great hold on a large part of the press of this country. It holds the reins of government, and it has a very large proportion of the active wealth of the Dominion on its side. You may be sure it will die hard here as well as in the United States. Now, this being so, for the opponnents of such a foe to quarrel with each other on the very pitched battle against the common enemy is, as the French statesman said, even worse than a crimeit would be an irreparable and unforgiveable

AN ENVIABLE RECORD.

"Under such circumstances it becomes every Liberal who may have joined the Patrons to consider the position seriously. Wherever there is an honest difference of ences between the Liberal party and the of permanent success? Patrons of Industry at this moment? It is true that in matters affecting local affairs there may be differences on one or two minor points-certainly not on any questions of vital importance: But as regards dustry and the Liberal party may cut each Dominion politics their professed objects other's throats? For what end are their present outlay, and this was done although long delayed? the Liberal party was compelled to provide DANGER OF THREE-CORNERED CONTESTS. for a vast mass of costly engagements con-

ook office and against their votes and protests. Nay, more, in these five years the controllable' expenditure of Canada was reduced about 20 per cent from $8,500,000 | make any stable government an impossito about $6,750,000, a thing no govern- bility so long as the old political partics ment has attempted before or since; and continue to preserve their present relations the gross amount of expenditure was kept steady at $23,500,000, instead of $37. 000,000, which it cost last year, being a difference of fully $13,500,000 the exact value, I believe, of our whole export of cheese in 1893, so that the whole fruit of that most important industy, which it has taken 50 years to build up, barely equals the waste of the last fourteen years.

CARDINAL LIBERAL PLANK. "Then the Patrons desire to reform the tariff and to improve the system of taxation. Good again. By all means let us do so. This is the very cardinal plank of the Liberal platform, and has been so ever since 1878, as the records of Parliament testify most abundantly. The Patrons ask that the interests of the farmers be fairly considered. Was it not solely and simply because the Mackenzie Government would not agree to deliver over the farmer bound hand and foot to the tender mercies of the ring of would-be protected manufaturers that Mr. Mackenzie was defeated in 1878? Let me ask, too, by whose votes was Mr. Mackenzie defeated then? I do not say it as a reproach, but it is a matter of history that Mr. Mackenzie was defeated by the votes of Liberal farmers who were cajoled by the false promises of home markets, high prices and general prosperity held out by the reckless and ignorant charlatans who foisted this precious protective system on Canada in 1878.

THE USELESS SENATE. "Let us further analyze the Patron platform. Let us take the first plank, the abolition of the Senate. Here the vast majority of Ontario Liberals will certainly agree with the Patrons. The existence of such a body in its present shape is absolutely indefensible and a most manifest blot on representative government. It represents nothing, except the very worst element of a faction. It is irremovable and entirely irrresponsible either to the crown or to the people, and is as nearly absolutely useless (besides being expensive) as any institution of the sort well can be. But waiving the question whether it may or may not be possible to create a Senate which might be of some real service to the State, we must remember that ours is a Federal constitution and that whether the people of Ontairo like it or not, the Senate can only be abolished by an act of the Imperial Parliament, which act will assuredly not be passed without the concurrence of a decided majority of the several Local Legislatures. On this point, therefore, while there is no The following letter was recently re- difference of opinion, there is no great possibility of immediate action. OTHER PLANKS CONSIDERED.

"What are the other planks of the Patron platform affecting Dominion politics? They are these: I. Economy of administration. 2. Purity and independonly. 4. Reciprocal trade. 5. Protection of labor from monopolies. 6. No railway and especially of Ontar to, ought to assert party have not been fighting for, moving themselves more than they do, and as you resolutions for and doing their very best to obtain any time during the last twenty they are, from the very nature of the case, years. Look at the records of Parlia- recklessly thrown away. We need among in a very special degree victimized by the ment. Look especially at the several other things a radical readjustment, not with that a majority in the Legislature. ment. Look especially at the several only of our tariff but of our whole system their platform and at the very last of taxation. Great evil has been done, but there is a noticeable lack of the old time resolution moved by myself in Parliament. and you will see that as regards Dominion politics there is absolutely no ground for difference between the Patrons and the belief in the material injury it was certain | Liberal party. When the Liberals were in power, as I have shown and proved, they were in fact as well as in name a most economical party. No party either has ever suffered so severely as they have done, more especially in Untario, by franchise acts, by gerrymander bills, by the incessant briberies practiced against them by means of railway bonuses, by the creation of monopolies privileged to plunder the people on condition of sharing the spoils with the opponents of the Liberal party. "Tariff for revenue only and taxes on luxuries and not on necessaries, reciprocity and reservation of lands for the actual settler, are things the Liberals, collectively and individually, have always advocated, nor is there any single argument which has ever been advanced in favor of all these things either by the Patrons or anybody else which had not been previously stated and most generally stated many times over by the members of the Liberal party in Parliament and out of it. All this I make no doubt is quite well known to a man of your intelligence and does it not prove the truth of my contention? OBJECTS ABSOLUTELY IDENTICAL.

"You see as I have said that the objects of both organizations are absolutely identical. The Liberal party for fifteen years and more have been fighting at many odds for the very objects the Patrons profess to desire. The Liberal party lost office rather than forsake these principles. The Liberal party might have long since regained ffice if they would have betrayed them and yet we find certain Patrons continually declaring that both parties are alike and advising their associates to make no distinction between a Liberal and a protectionist candidate. Take the evidence of our life-long opponents, You know what are his very words:

"'And to get into power, friend says. He is a politician. No doubt in the world that we were out of power, and by going in for the N. P. and taking the wind out of Mr. Mackenzie's sails we got into power. We became identical with the protective policy, and if Mr. Mackenzie had adopted the protective policy we would have been free traders. I m willing to make this confession. If Mr. Mackenzie had been a protectionist there would have been nothing left for us but to be free traders. But Mr. Mackenzie was lither too honest or too rigid in his views to bend to the wake of public opinion, and the result was that he was swept out of power, and had only a corporal's guard to commit any such suicidal act; and I would support him when the House met. We adopted the N. P., and we told you, at least I did, because I was very young and | the ranks of the organization to use your simple at the time, that we were going to make everybody rich.'

"Now Liberal Patrons are asked to desert their party and destroy their friends-to kill the very men who risked their political existence time and again for the sake of the may rely on it that both Liberals and very objects the Patrons desire to gain. Why commit this ingratitude? Moreover, opinion on questions of importance I have is it not as clear as the sun at noonday that a tyranny which in the last fifteen PRAYING AND INTRIGUING. "For what are the Government and their protectionist supporters praying and intriguing today but that the Patrons of Inare literally identical. The Patrons desire emissaries so diligently stirring up opposisconomy in administration. So do the tion to Sir Oliver Mowat on very trifling Liberals; and what is more, when they grounds except that they heps to make bad very moderate figure as compared with the Dominion elections, which cannot be very that the Patrons carry a large number of seats. Suppose, for a space, they come to hold the balance of power and are able to towards each other. Suppose further that they succeed in driving out of Parliament a considerable number of those Liberal representatives who have in times past, through good report and evil report, proved themselves the staunchest opponents of the protective system and the staunchest champions of the very ideas the Patrons of Industry are now pleading for. Suppose all this, and suppose that the Patrons have so seriously weakened the Liberal party as to make its Parliamentary success impossible, do you imagine that this will secure the Patrons' own success?

ONTARIO NOT THE WHOLE DOMINION. "Not by any manner of means. What it may and very likely will do is to make various other combinations possible which but for such action on the part of the Patrons would never be dreamed of. We will do well to remember that after all Ontario is not the whole of this Dominion and that under certain conditions the two existing parties may coalesce and tariff reform, in any genuine and valuable sense. may then be shelved for another quarter of a century, in which case the Patrons for all useful and practical purposes will find themselves nowhere-will in fact have most completely defeated themselves and nullified the whole purpose of their exist-

"Now you will bear in mind that I am very far from saying that such a coalition would be justifiable or desirable. My point is, and it cannot be brought too clearly before the minds of all those Patrons who desire to promote the real welfare of their country, and who I make no doubt, constitute the vast majority of the order, that such a move would be always on the cards in the event of such proceedings on the part of the Patrons as I have indicated: and I may add that they of all men would have the least right to condemn such a coalition, seeing that it would be the natural outcome and result of their own deliberate action. The choice in such a case as I have described would have lain with the Patrons themselves all through. They would have shown that they utterly ignored long and faithful service under circumstances of aggravated temptation and they could not complain of the average member of Parliament, Liberal or Conservative, took them as he found them and acted accordingly. In such an event also you might be perfectly sure that the Patron organization would soon crumble, and what is more important that the objects they have in view would be further from attainment than ever. This, I, for one, would greatly regret. I believe that it is now in the power of the Patrons of Industry to secure great things for themselves and for the country at large by adopting a rational course of

for very extensive and far-reaching reforms. We have suffered much and have, it is to be hoped, learned something. I for my part would be sorry to see the issue dwindle down to a mere question of revenue tariff. This is a good thing in its way, but very much more than this is needed now, and very much more than this can be got if only our chances are not villainy of the protective system may be made to pave the way for so thorough a reform that it may prove possible for the first time in the history of Canada so to every man shall be compelled to contribute to the public needs according to his means and not according to his pleasure.

MUTUAL CONCESSIONS RECOMMENDED. "I have no intention and indeed no desire to see your organization put at the disposal even of the Liberal party. Let it remain distinct but friendly. This is preeminently a case for mutual concessions. Both Patrons and Liberals profess to have the same ends in view. Let them meet and adjust their defficulties. Differences of principles, there are none. The demand for an adequate representation of the great agricultural interests is a fair and proper one, and so also on the other hand is the claim that tried and faithful representatives should not be lightly discarded because they do not happen to be Patrons. Such men are none too plenty anywhere and you cannot afford to lose them. The position of Canada in many ways is a difficult one and you will not help your country or yourselves by dispensing with experienced public servants except for good

LESSON FROM THE PAST. "One of the greatest difficulties with which my esteemed friend, Mr. Mackenzie, had to contend lay in the fact that he was compelled to form his Cabinet entirely out of men who had no official training or experience, and it was partly in consequence that he himself committed the serious error of attempting at one and the same time to administer a large and most laborious department and to act as leader of a great political organization. It was no wonder at all that his physical powers broke down under the strain, and it was very largely indeed to Mr. McCarthy said on this subject. Here | this mistake in judgment that the defeat of the Liberal party in 1878 was due-as I have myself heard his rival, the late Sir John A. Macdonald, admit in conversation in my presence. For these reasons I would for the last time repeat my warning. The one thing which can defeat the Patronsthe one thing which can prevent their attaining the objects they wish to obtainand the one thing which the advocates of protection desire more than aught else is for the Patrons of Industry to quarrel with the Liberal party. SUICIDE ADVISED AGAINST "Now whatever some few may have said or even done up to this time I do not be lieve that the Patrons as a body, on calm consideration, will be so ill-advised as to most certainly urge you and all Liberals who have seen fit or who may desire to join best endeavors alike in the interests of the Patrons themselves and all true friends of honest government in Canada, to prevent such a disaster. As I have said, there is a hard fight before us in any event, and you Patrons have their work cut out for them in advance if they expect to vanquish aothing to say. But what are the differ- to do so is to destroy all their own chance | years has cost Canada a thousand millions of treasure and over a million and a half of people, beside debasing and degrading the whole tone of public morality and of public life to an extent which no other system ever did or perhaps could, and which, if not sternly checked while there is yet time, will ultimately and inevitably end in reducing the great mass of the population to a position very little better than that of seris bound to pay were in power from 1873 to 1878 they blood thereby between you and the Liberal tribute to a few score or a few hundred practised it. Wholesale Dealers Have No Particular Cause to Grumble.

Business Being Conducted on a More Solid Basis-A Week's Failures.

TORONTO, Oct. 25.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade in Canada for the past week says: The trade situation calls for special prominence this week. The movement in general merchandise is not above the average at this season of the year, but wholesale dealers have no particular cause to grumble.

Retail traders are cautious; they are not buying heavily, but only as occasion demands. This is by no means a bad feature, and will tell in the end. Wholesale merchants, too, are looking more into their credits, which is a very wise thing. The hitherto promiscuous selling by travelers for the sake of outdoing competitors, has resulted so often in disaster that it is time steps should be taken to avert the evils of the system. We are glad to note the change in this direction. When trade is carried on on purely business principles the benefits will be far reaching and lasting.

There has not been such weather as would tend to increase the sales of winter goods, and this of itself accounts for the comparatively quiet week in wholesale

There is, however, a fair movement in country produce, as reflected by the large increase in the circulation of Canadian banknotes, which we drew attention to in these columns a few days ago. Payments in consequence are fairly satisfactory.

The arrivals of Mediterranean dried fruits are increasing, but they are being shipped out about as fast as received. With regard to prices there are no important changes to note.

The number of failures for the week ending Oct. 25 is 52, as against 44 for the corresponding week of last year.

BEFORE THE BATTLE. Political Probabilities in Reference to New York State.

BUFFALO, Oct. 25 .- Buffalo is taking a very active part in favor of the straight Democratic ticket, and in Rochester, Syracuse, Utica, Troy, Albany and other interior cities, the factions have fairly got together. Whether the New York and Kings feuds will result in a great defeat of the Democratic ticket is yet an open question. But well informed politicians believe that Morton will carry the State by a good round majority, and possibly pul out of evil good may come and the colossal | brass band, kerosene torch and uniformed paraders and enthusiasm, and there is very much more platform oratory than is usual in a State campaign. Later telegrams say all the efforts to distribute the pressure of taxation that harmonize the Democratic tickets in New York and Brooklyn have apparently failed, and in Brooklyn the opposition to Senator Hill is still as strong as ever, while in both cities the factional fight is likely to lead to the defeat of several Democratic candidates for Congress in districts where on straight issue the Democrats have safe The fectional fight, however, does not very greatly extend this side of Harlem, and generally throughout the State the Death of a Unce Famous Business Man.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 25 .- Dr. H. T. Helmbold, the famous patent medicine man and one time millionaire, died at the State Asylum for the lusane above this city yesterday, aged about 56.

Pearline has had such wonderful success, from the very start, there must be good grounds for it. You won't have to be told what they are, if you're posted on washing compounds. Millions of women have used hundreds of millions of packages of Pearline. For making washing easy and at the same time keeping it absolutely safe, nothing has ever been found to equal Pearline. Quality accounts for its success. Its success accounts for imitations. Only the best thing of its kind is ever imitated.

Clandestine Meeting Between Ling and the Prisoner Described.

Fred Hartley Was Asked to Bring Home Some "Rough on Rats."

Louis Ling, the Prisoner's "Lever," in the Witness Box.

A CLANDESTINE MEETING. BRANTFORD, Oct. 25.—The second day of he Hartley murder trial opened this morning at Brantford. Mrs. Woodward, who was carried from the witness stand in a fainting condition, again entered the box. She was unable to reconcile certain statements made by her at the examinations before the coroner and police magistrate and before the present court.

Gilbert Woodward gave evidence of a clandestine meeting between Ling and the prisoner at his house at Hawtrey. He saw them both with their arms locked in each other's. They were apparently on familiar terms. He saw the prisoner sit in the young man's lap, and he saw them walking around his house outside with their arms entwined in each other's. Witness' wife before them all had reproved her as a married woman with showing such unseemly behavior with a young man,

Fred W. Hartley swore that he had a conversation with Mrs. Hartley one day some two years ago. He was going down to Norwich, and she asked him to bring some "rough on rats," and not to give it to anybody but her when he returned, as she was afraid that the hired girl, who was a little weak in the head, might open the package and taste some of it.

Frank Allan saw the deceased on the Wednesday before he died; he told witness on that date that he felt a little better, and could eat more and stronger food; witness Wednesday before Hartley died; deceased | weeks in advance. had his face swollen and bloodshot eyes when he saw him last.

The case is dragging slowly along. It is not expected to be finished before next

Frank Allen, cheese maker, New Durham, sworn-Knew Caleb Hartley, saw him on May 3 near the cheese factory. He was going to the doctor's; his face was flushed and eyes bloodshot. He told for trial. me he had vomited five or six times that day; I board near Hartley's, and called after to see deceased; saw him the Saturday night before he died; knew Mrs. Hartley and Ling; never saw them together.

Thomas Stevenson, baker, gave evidence. Witness called at Hartley's house with bread; asked Mrs. Hartley how her husband was, and she said he was not very bad and would soon be all right; that there was nothing seriously wrong with him.

Isaac Haight, farmer, of Newburyam, gave evidence as to Hartley's illness. Mrs. have given Hartley a big dose when he was away in Hamilton; Hartley joined the Home Circle about seven years ago; Mrs. Hartley wanted deceased to join the A. O. U. W.; she said the insurance should be made payable to her, as her son was provided for in his grandfather's will.

LOUIS LING'S TESTIMONY. Louis Ling, the principal witness, took the stand. He gave an account of the different places where he had been working for some time previous to his first going to workfor Caleb Hartley. Witnessfirst worked two weeks for Caleb Hartley and boarded at Jacob Gould's; first became acquainted with Mrs. Hartley in the store about eighteen months previous to Caleb Hartley's death; went to Hartley's store with George Hall and Harry Walker; saw Mrs. Hartley and remained till 10 o'clock; went again Thursday or Friday night of the at her beck and call, with the result that same week about 9 p.m. and left between she was piling up a magnificent load of in-12 and 1-the others left about 10. Wit- formation for wily old Li Hung Chang, of ness said: She took me in the house; there | whose extensive household, it appears, she was no light in the house; she sat down beside me on the lounge, put her arms around me; somebody came, and she put me in a bedroom until they had gone. Witness then detailed the different dates, places and circumstances of his improper relations with Mrs. Hartley. Continuing, witness said deceased vomited on the penalty of their rashness. Thursday and Friday. "I was hitching up the horse to get ice for Caleb at his request when Mrs. Hartley came out and said: 'I want to tell you something, and I want you never to tell as long as you live.' I would not promise, but she said 'Thursday Caleb went to Hamilton. I GAVE HIM A BIG DOSE of rough on rats, and the reason that I never sent the rig for him was I never expected him to come back alive.' I said, 'For God's sake, Maria, did you do such a trick as that?' She only laughed; she said, 'The insurance is what I work here, nor would anyone else.' She laughed and said she had intended for three years to do it, and kept the rough on rats in the house for that purpose, In the cross-examination by Mr. Osler the witness became mixed and could not tell exactly where he had lived since moving from Hamilton, twelve or thirteen years ago, and in a number of ways contradicted himself. He had sworn at the inquest and preliminary examination that he was at Norwich on Friday, whereas he swore in court that it was Harley. He said that he confessed to Rev. Mr. Best before the funeral, another time after the funeral and at a third examination three weeks after the funeral.

Court adjourned. THE THIRD DAY. BRANTFORD, Oct. 26 .- The third day in the Hartley murder trial opened at Brantford this morning. The interest remains unabated. The cross-examination of Henry Ling was continued. He was quite positive that on the Friday before Hartley died that Maria Hartley told him that she had given her husband a dose of rough on rats. He admitted that after being told that she had poisoned her husband he passed Dr. Haight's house on his way to Norwich, but he did not think it necessary to call and tell the doctor that a man had been poisoned. He torgot about that. He remembered going to Rev. Mr. Best. Witness corrected himself and said he had sent his father forthepreacher. When he came he told him what Maria Hartley had done. That was the Tuesday after Hartley died. her determination. Hartley died on the Sunday. Ling denied that he had not made the confession for three weeks after the death of Hartley. He did know Wm. Caven, the mailman, but had not told him that he (Ling) was the man who administered the medicine to h m. He had not told a 'bus driver named High Farrell, of Norwich, that Caleb Hart-stand after the recess at noon. He was called in to see Hartley the Wednesday before he died. He found him suffering from acute irritation and inflammation of the abdomen. He ascribed that to excess of drink. On the Tuesday the patient had developed all the symptoms of arsenic poisoning. He called Dr. Hill, of Norwich, who confirmed on the Sunday evening following. Hartley died with all the usual signs of acute arsenical poisoning.

All this money has been paid. Mr. Frank Ross has agreed to remit at once $50,000 to be employed in benevolent purposes in Carluke, Scotland, and also to devote $30,000 to the establishment and maintenance of a home for old men and boys of Protestants of all denominations.

Declared Off.

TORONTO, Oct. 25 .- A convention of the Christian Workers of Canada and the United States was some time ago announced to commence today at the Massey Music Hall and Association Hall, but was subsequently declared off. Many people, however, attended the halls named, expecting to see the convention in full swing. At the convention held last season at Atlanta, Ga., Toronto was accepted by the delegates as the place of meeting this year, but the executive committee subsequently decided to dispense with the costly annual meeting and substitute district conventions. The first convention was to open to day in Rochester, and to last six days.

ON THE TRAIL

Of the Wretch Who Murdered Jessie Keith,

New Links in the Chain of Evidence Against the Prisoner.

FERGUS, Ont., Oct. 25.—Government Detective Murray arrived here this evening on the trail of Chattelle, and is securing a train of evidence around the prisoner that will be difficult to break. The fact of the prisoner having been seen here on Saturday last by several persons has created great interest in the development of the case.

WAS IT THE SAME MAN? STRATFORD, Oct. 26 .- The police here have information which leads them to believe that the prisoner made attempts to assault females in this immediate neighborhood. They say that one girl in this city was chased to the very door of her own house by a man who may yet be proven to be the prisoner, and that another girl was followed some distance along the St. Marys road, perhaps by the same individual. ADMITS HE'S IN A HOLE.

There is one of the prisoner's admissions, however, to which considerable significance must be attached. Yesterday afternoon he received a visit from Malcolm McFarlane and Judge Woods. They conversed with him some time in French. Before the interview closed his honor said to him that if the story he told was true, and he really was not in the neighborhood of Listowel at all, there would be a good deal of sympathy for him as an ill-used and strongly-susthree weeks ago, died from the result of his injuries at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, his defense. "I, myself," said the judge, "would be one to contribute to a subscription to defend you."

His answer is reported by Judge Woods as follows: "It's no use; I'm in a deep hole three prospecting parties have struck gold and I'll stay there. You have too much there. The nearest station to the find is evidence against me."

Hearing of the Appeal Re the Empire Music Hall Promenade-A Remarkable Scone.

London, Oct. 26 .- The London County Council today gave a hearing on the appeal against the action of the licensing commitsee in ordering the promenade of the Empire Music Hall to be closed. Crowds gathered inside and outside of the council hall and the galleries were filled with ballet dancers, living pictures, posers, etc., together with a number of members of the Social Purity League. In all the chapels of London and the suburbs during the past week prayer-meetings have been held in favor of the action of the committee. The managers of the Empire announced that the place will be closed tonight and that if their appeal fails the hall will not be opened again.

The council, by a vote of 75 to 32, confirmed the decision of the licensing committee that the Music Hall promenade be

The Japanese began to transport the main body of their army across the Yalu on the evening of Oct. 24. The work of crossing continued throughout the night, and at daybreak on Oct. 25 all the guns, horses and men had crossed without mishap and formed an emergency camp. In the meantime Col. Sato, who had taken a flying column on the morning of Oct. 25 for the purpose of reconnoitering, came upon the enemy, who occupied a fortified position near the village of Fu Shang on the right bank of the Ayi River. Col. Sato attacked the Chinese at l o'clock in the morning, the fight continuing until 6. The Chinese offered a stubborn resistance, but were ultimately driven out of their fortification and retired in disorder to Kulienchao. and rejoined the main army. Count that the Chinese engaged in the fight greatly exceeded the Japanese in numbers. His plans for the coming fight are completed. These contemplate the movement of several columns in a concerted and concurrent attack upon the Chinese from all sides. Already he says a network is being drawn around the Chinese, and it is expected that the attack will take place at daybreak on Oct. 27, though it may possibly be made earlier. Chinese outposts are retreating upon Rulienchiel, and the number of batteries there has increased to eleven. It is doubtful, however, that these batteries are fully armed. The weather is favorable. The Japs are in good health and spirits, and eager to capture Moukden before Nov. 3,

FAREWELL TO MR. LAURIER. The farewell banquet to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and his friends, given by the people of Winnipeg last night, was a brilliant success. Premier Greenway and the Provincial Ministers were present, as well as many of the leading citizens of Last Night's Concert. the Prairie Capital. The Liberal chief was cheered to the echo when he rose to reply. No public man has ever received so cordial a greeting in the Northwest. He was in excellent form, and delivered an address in which he spoke of the warmth of the reception that had been accorded him. The speech was replete with patriotism. Mr. Laurier said the possibilities for the Northwest were great but the country must get trade freedom if the people are to prosper. This sentiment was applauded to

The youngster claimed to belong to Charlotte, Mich., and said he was bound for Montreal. -A reading circle under the supervision of the Epworth League literary department was reorganized last night at Mrs. Douglas'

Ada Spence, secretary. Semi-monthly meetings will be held.

-The young people of King Street Presbyterian Church, with a large number of their friends, indulged in a parlor social last night at the residence of Mr. John A. McHarg, Horton street. An impromptu programme of speeches and songs was carried out, and an enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. Archie Black acted as chairman. Refreshments were served.

-Workmen engaged in a sewer excavation on Dundas street, near the Market Lane, yesterday afternoon left a plank sticking on end at the scene to keep people from driving into trouble. In the evening some person pinned a large cardboard on the plank. It contained the words "Danger; aldermen, beware!" It was confiscated and taken to the meeting of the board of works.

The concert in Wesley Hall last evening was well attended, but not nearly so well as it should have been. Madame Selika came highly recommended, but was fully up to the mark-her singing is not to be surpassed, while Signor Volosko is quite her equal as an artist. Their rendering of the duet from "Il Trovatore" was splendid. Should they ever visit London again a crowded house is assured. Miss Evelyn Allen scored another success as a clean, artistic violiniste, and her last effort is always her best. The cornetist, Mr. Thomas McCormick, played two of Levey's famous solos in a masterly manner. He is one of London's rising stars. The Harmony Quartet well sustained its high reputation. Mr. Fetherston is to be congratulated on the programme, and the way in which it was carried out is beyond praise. The choir sang the part songs with power, and when they get a good hall to sing in they can do well, but no chorus can be heard to advantage in Queen's Avenue

$80,000 Yet Outstanding. Taxes are coming into the collectors' hands rather slowly. Of the $290,000 collectable, over $200,000 has already been paid in, while $80,000 is cutstanding. There are only five days in which to pay up and escape the payment of the extra 5 cents on the dollar, and as the taxes are only coming in at the rate of about $2,500 a day, there are evidently not a few taxpayers who are resigning themselves to the idea of the extra pay ment. To have all the money in by Oct. 31, it will be necessary to take in at least $16,000 a day. Many taxpayers who wait until the last day or so may possibly be crowded out. The taxes so far are paid up a great deal better than they were last year. The $2,500 allowed on the bonus of 3 per cent to those paying their first half in August has since been more than counterbalanced by the additional 5 per cent charge on those who had not. Assaulting a G. T. R. Conductor. At the Police Court this morning Wm. Prodger was charged with drunkenness. G. T. R. Constable Logan appeared in court and swore out fresh information, charging him with assaulting Mr. Harry Neil, a G. T. R. conductor. The assault is alleged to have occurred yesterday about noon in the neighborhood of Talbot street. Prodgers, who is an ex-G. T. R. employe, got on the train to ride a block or so and was ejected at Talbot street. He had been drinking, and is said to have beaten the conductor. The latter telegraphed back to this city and Prodgers was arrested. A warrant is out for a man named Lynch, who was with Prodgers and is alleged to have assisted in the assault. A couple of other men are also wanted in connection with the affair. Prodgers pleaded guilty to the assault and was bailed to appear for sentence on Friday. Norman Neil, who has lately been discharged from the Central, was fined $5 or twenty days for being drunk. Samuel Torreault, a drunk, was discharged. Y. P. S. C. E. Anniversary. The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Talbot Street Baptist Church celebrated its anniversary last night. Some seven years ago, and Thortly after the Endeavor movement was started, the younger people of Talbot Street Church fell into line and organized a society. It was small at first, but gradually grew. The zeal of the members increased, and year after year the fruits of their labors were more visible. And with one of the most flourishing organizations in London the members resolved to have a genuine celebration. The early part of the evening was spent in a reception, during which all comers were invited to partake of an array of tempting edibles and enjoy a social cup of tea. The auditorium was afterwards sought, where a number of solos and selections were rendered. The pastor, Rev. Ira Smith, presided, and delivered a few remarks in a happy vein. The choir of the church, under the leadership of Mr. Robt. Robertson, gave a selection; Miss Steele fingered the piano very cleverly, and Miss Edith Hartson, Miss Laura Browne and Mr. Fred Soper sang in good voice. The anniversary celebration was a success in every respect and an able committee was responsible for it.

They Had a Jolly Time.

The members of the Arlington Club gave house-warming in their club room in the Duffield block last night. It was a most successful affair, and was fully enjoyed by the nearly two score members and a great many friends. The Arlington is a recent organization, with Mr. L. W. Burke as honorary president, Harry E. Thompson president, James Bridgeman vice-president and H. G. Milling secretary-treasurer. A very energetic executive committee has the business end of the affair in charge. The members are a jolly crowd of young fellows, who intend to have an enjoyable time together during the winter evenings. At the opening last night the popular young president, Mr. H. E. Thompson, occupied the chair and introduced a splendid programme of vocal and instrumental music. The singers were Messrs. Wm. Clark, Charles Welford, J. Kearns, Wm. Brophy, Henry F. Hodgins, R. Bonney, J. Fitzhenry and C. McNabb. Those who favored with instrumental selections were F. McNabb, McNiff, Griffiths, Williamson and E. Burness. Mr. W. McLeod gave a recitation that took well. Lunch was served at Kent's, where Mr. Thompson made a short speech. Mr. Kenzie McCormick, of the Pickwick Club, on behalf of the visitors, tendered the members of the Arlington, a vote of thanks and spoke commendably of their hospitality. A Better Pavement Wanted. The agitation among the aldermen for a pavement of some sort on Dundas street west is at last assuming tangible shape, The only drawback in the way was the fact that the payment on the old pavement would not be completed or some years to come, and Dundas street ratepayers did not like the idea of paying for two pavements at the same time. The block paving became useless about eight years before the was reorganized last night be Mis. Douglas pecame useless about eight years before the residence, Wharncliffe road. "Quite well. She is in the dining-room, if you'll come in and see her. Nothing loth. Arthur Bonun stepped in at once, the doctor continuing his way. Mrs. asked. Rane was darning stockings. She and "New Arthur had always been the very best of friends, quite brother and sister. Meek and gentle as ever, she looked, sitting there with her smooth, curling hair, and the loving expression in her mild, soft eyes. Arthur sat down and talked with her, his glance roving ever to that other house, seeking the form of one he did not see.

"Do you know how Mrs. Cumberland is this morning?" he inquired of Bessy. "I have not heard, Mr. Seeley has been there; for I saw him in the dining-room with

"I think they are both in the garden

"Are they?" snapped Arthur. "His patients must get on nicely if he idles away his mornings in a garden. Bessy looked by from her darning. "I don't mean that Seeley's there. Arthur - I mean Mrs. Cumberland and Eilen." As Bessy spoke, Jelly was seen to come out of Mrs. Cumberland's house, penetrate the trees, and return with her mistress. "Some one has called, I suppose," remarked Bessy. Captain Bohun thought the gods had made the opportunity for himself expressly. He went out, stepped over the small fence, and disappeared in the direction that Mrs. Cumberland had come from, believing it would lead him to Ellen Adair.

In the secluded and beautiful spot where we first saw her-but where we shall not often, alas! see her again - she sat. The flowers of early spring were out then; the richer summer flowers were blooming now. A natural bower of roses seemed to encompass her; the cascade was trickling softly as ever down the artificial rocks, murmuring its monotonous cadence; the birds sang to each other from branch to branch; glimpses of the graen lawn and of brilliant flowers were caught through the trees. Ellen Adair had sometimes thought the spot beautiful as A scene in fairy-land. It was little less so. She was not working this morning. An open book lay before her on the rustic table; her cheek was leaning on her raised hand, from which the lace fell back: a hand so suspiciously delicate as to betoken a want of sound strength in its owner. She wore a white dress, with a bow of pink ribbon at the throat, and a pink waist-band. There a bad one, and I send you this that it may were times, and this was one of them, when she looked extremely fragile.

A sound of footstell's. Ellen only thought it was Mrs. Cumberland returning, and read on. But there was a different sound in these steps as they gained on her ear. Her heart stood still, and then bou nded on again tumultuously, her pulses tingled, her sweet face turned red as the blushing rose. Sunshine had come.

"Good-morning, Miss A.dair." In cold, resentful, haughty tones was it spoken, and he did not uttempt to shake hands. The sunshine seemed to go in again with a sweep. She closed her book and opened it, her fingers fluttering. Captain Bohun put down his hat on the seat.

"I thought Seeley might be here," saidhe, seeking out a lovely rose, and plucking it "Seeley!" she exclaimed. "Seeley. I beg your pardon. I did not know I spoke indistinctly. SEELEY."

He stood and faced her, watching the varying color of her face, the soft blushes ng and coming. Somehow they increased his anger.

"May I ask if you have accepted him?" "Ac--cepted him!" she stammered, in wild confusion. "Accepted what?" "The offer that Seeley made you last night."

"It was not last night," she replied in a confused impulse. "Oh, then it was this morning! May I congratulate you, or not?" Ellen Adair turned to her book in deep vexation. She had been caught, as it were, into making the tacit admission that Mr. Seeley had made her an offer. And she was hurt at Arthur Bohun's words and tone. Had he no more trust in her than this? As she turned the leaves of the book in her agitation, the plain gold ring on her finger attracted his sight. He was chafing inwardly, but he strove to appear at careless ease, and sat down as far from her as the bench allowed.

"I would be honorable if I died for it," he remarked with indifference, looking at the rose. "Is it quite the thing for you to listen to another man whilst you wear that ring upon your finger?'

Elien took it off and pushed it towards him along the table. This frightened him. He turned as white as ashes. Until now, he had only been speaking in jealousy, not in belief. Her own face was becoming white, her lips were compressed to hide their trembling. And thus they sat for a minute or two. He looked at the ring, then looked at her. "Do you mean it, Ellen?" he asked, in a voice that struggled with agitation, proving how very earnest he deemed the thing was becoming-what ever it might have begun in.

She made no answer. "Do you wish to give me back this ring?" "What you said was, I thought, equivalent to asking for it.' t was not. You know better." "Why are you quarreling with me?"

Moving an inch nearer, he changed his tone to gentleness, bending his head for-"Heaven knows that it is bitter enough to

"Was it my fault?" she returned. "He

"That it was quite impossible; that he was making a mistake a together. When he was gone, I complained to Mrs. Cumber-

"Insolent jackanapes! Was he rude,

"Rude! Mr. Seeley!" she returned in surprise. "Quite the contrary. He has always been as considerate and deferential as a man can be. You look down on his position, Arthur, but he is as great a gentleman in my mind as you are.' "I only despise his position when he would seek to unite you to it." "It has been very wrong of you to make me confess this. I can tell you I am feeling anything but 'honorable,' as you put it just Taking up the ring, he held it for a moment, as if examining the gold. Ellen rose and went outside. The interview was becoming a very conscious one. He caught her up near the cascade, took her right hand in his, and slipped the ring upon her third finger.

"How many times has it been off?" he "Never until to-day."

"Well, there it is again, Ellen. Cherish it still. I hope—that ere long—"
He did not finish, but she understood quite well what he meant. Their eyes met, and each read the impassionate love seated within the other; strangely pure withal, and idealistic as ever poet dreamed of. He strained the hand in his.

"Forgive my petulance, my darling." Excepting the one sweet word and the lingering pressure of the hand; excepting that the variegated rose was transferred from his possession to hers, the interview had been wholly wanting in the fond signs and tokens that are commonly supposed to attend the intercourse of lovers. Captain Bohun had hitherto abstained from using them, and perhaps Heaven alone knew what the self-denial cost him. In his unusually refined nature he may have deemed that they would be unjustifiable, until he could speak out openly and say, Will you be my

THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

Meeting of the Western Association-Practical Topics Discussed-London the Next Place of Assembly.

SCOTLAND, Ont., Oct. 24.-The Western Association of the Congregational Church was in session here on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. There were about 50 delegates present, and a most enjoyable and helpful time was realized. Among the questions that came up for discussion was "Church Union," "Home and Foreign Missions," "Training and Ordination of Ministers," etc.

Rev. John Morton, of Hamilton, preached the annual sermon of the association, his theme being "The Gospel is the Power of God Unto Salvation." The sessions concluded with a Christian Endeavor rally, a great many young people from the surrounding churches being present. Rev. A. F. McGregor, of Woodstock, spoke on "Some Things I Have Seen in C. E. Work," and Robert Hopkin, Listowel, on "Our Possibilities." The meeting closed with an inspiring consecration

Four years before that it borrowed $20,000,000. Over $44,000,000 in six years. Is not this a little fast? Thamesville Herald: Last Wednesday a boy giving the name of Johnny Smith was left off the C. P. R. here and was taken in charge by Chief Radcliffe. He appeared to be about 9 years of age, but if judged by the readiness and ease with which he could tell different stories as to his name and place of residence, the years of his journey. ing in this wicked world would be placed at three score and ten. Through a notice in the London papers it was found that his name was Johnny Conn, and that his parents resided at 419 Horton street, London, and accordingly he was taken home. Marie Burroughs at the Grand.

A large and fashionable audience greeted Miss Marie Burroughs at the Grand last night in a comedy drama entitled "The Scapegoat." Miss Burroughs made her debut as a star in Detroit just a week ago, and received very flattering press notices. The play, the scenes of which are laid in England, is unique in its construction. Miss Burroughs in the role of Lola Marsden is a beautiful and accomplished English girl, and as such made a decided hit, the part being played almost to perfection. Mr. John E. Killard, as the Marquis de Vaux, whose great love for Lola ends in his self-destruction, made a decided impression. His acting in many of the scenes with Lola was most passionate. The performance of Louis Mossen, as the husband, was manly, and his acting was greatly admired. Harry Gwynnette, Mark Price, Mrs. Jean, Clara Walters, Eleanor Perry and Minnie Monk all played their parts satisfactorily, and assisted in making the cast a strong one. The staging of the play was excellent, and the costumes remarkably rich. Following

'Williams' Royal Crown Remedy Saved John Weir's Life,"

May be seen in large letters on the covers of the horses that precede the handsome Royal Crown Remedy wagon at Toronto and Western Fairs. To a Globe reporter, Mr. Weir said: "This is a most marvelous cure. I Weir said: "This is a most marvelous cure. I became pale as a corpse: my blood seemed to be turned to water. I had dizziness and a ringing noise in my head; my hands and feet were coid all the time, and my limbs were completely swoolen up to the body, Some doctors called it consumption of the blood. I got so weak that I could not walk, and finally took to my bed." Mrs. Weir says: "All M. Weir has told you is true. At times he lay for days unconscious and unable to take nourishment of any kind, and was reduced to a mere skeleton of 84 pounds; and I fully believe that if we had been one day later in getting skeleton of 84 pounds; and I fully believe that if we had been one day later in getting Williams' Royal Crown Remedy he would be in his grave to-day. So it may well be said 'Williams' Royal Crown Remedy saved John Weir's life. The best druggists keep Royal Crown Remedy, but if your druggist does not, remit direct to Isaac Williams Company. London, and they will send it to you by first express. The price at which Williams' Royal Crown Remedy is sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with any other medical treatment. 6 bottles for $5. from Isaac Williams Co., London, Ont.
