Butter Factory in Splendid Shape

[Special to The Advertiser.] Forest, Aug. 7.—Frank Hens, secretary of the Western Ontario Dairy-men's Association, and Fred Boyce, sanitary inspector and instructor for the London group of factories, paid an official visit to the Forest butter factory recently.

They pronounced the sanitary arrangements here the best in the district. The tank system put in here this spring is the first of the kind, and was recommended by Mr. Hens, and he is so well pleased with it that it will be put in in other plants.

Mr. Wilson, the manager here, was complimented on the excellent manner in which the factory work is being carried on.

"CASCARETS" FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Sluggish Bowels Cause Gases, Sourness and Food Fermentation.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases, that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any. Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, removing the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. Get the children—their little stomachs need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

BRADY'S FORTUNE EQUALS THAT OF J. P. MORGAN

Had Thirty Millions in Tobacco Alone and Big Power Plant Holdings.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Aug. 6.—Although the provisions of the will of the late Anthony N. Brady, have given no indication of the size of the estate, unofficial estimates are published here today placing Mr. Brady's wealth practically on a par with that of the late J. P. Morgan.

A former financial adviser of Mr. Brady is quoted as placing his estate at $75,000,000 as minimum estimate, and as adding that it might prove to be in excess of $100,000,000.

A recent report by the state transfer tax attorney made a semi-official estimate of Mr. Morgan's estate at the same aggregate figure, $100,000,000.

Mr. Morgan filled such a greater place in the public eye, however, than Mr. Brady, or many others of great wealth, that the reports of his Brady fortune being on a par with that of Mr. Morgan have occasioned surprise even in Wall street where he was best known.

Mr. Brady's investments lacked the transient actor which made Mr. Morgan's wealth so well known. It is said that he had over $30,000,000 in tobacco alone. His holdings of Brookslyn, Rapid Transit stock amounted to about $8,000,000 in round figures. In Tennessee and Georgian Power properties he is said to have had investment worth $10,000,000, and during the last few years he had put between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 into Japanese lighting plants, especially in Tokio.

STRIKE IS OVER

Brantford Factories Declared Open Shops By Unions.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Brantford, Aug. 6.—The Iron Molders' Union of Brantford and the Buck Stove Company are no longer at odds. Four years ago the molders went on strike, the battle between union labor and the company proving a strenuous one. The shop has now been declared an open one by the union. Hardley's foundry, at which a strike was recently declared owing to non-union work from Hamilton being accepted, has been placed in the same class.

PEACE IN THE BALKANS

The peace of Bucharest probably stops for a time the Balkan struggle.

But there will now be two revenge problems in Europe. Bulgaria will eye Macedonia with its preponderantly Bulgarian population, language and religion as France eyes Alsace and Lorraine.

Kavala, the new northeastern outpost of Greece on the Aegean, will be a small counterpart of Strasbourg and Metz. Bulgaria may be held to have greater rights in Monastir and Demir Hissar than France in the lands that Louis XIV. stole from Germany.

And what of Siliustria, ravished away by Roumania?

Only a slice of Northeastern Macedonia goes to Bulgaria, where she threw the die for all. Servia gets a great extension southward and Greece what she is entitled to, southwestern Macedonia, and a little more north-eastward.

The new Greece is full of memories to students of ancient history. It was in the three-fingered peninsula south-east of Saloniki that Athens first clashed with Philip of Macedonia. There was the city of Olynthus for whose possession the rival powers contended. The Olympian ovals and Philip's of Demosthenes commemorate that struggle of nearly 2,300 years ago.

Near the town of Drama, which Greece requires, to the north of Kavala, are the plains of Philippi, where Brutus and Cassius were defeated and slain. The Struma River, falling just within Bulgaria's slice, is the ancient Strymon, famous for its marshes and cranes, as the old-fashioned school-boys knew or were supposed to know.

To the people of (Thessalonica) St. Paul addressed his epistles. Just over the old Greek boundary, in the extreme southern corner of Macedonia rises Mount Olympus, which Greece has always been looking up to but never possessed till now. History reverses itself. Philip conquered Greece, King Constantine wins the best part of Macedonia, with the splendid city of Saloniki.

But right here is a future apple of discord. Servia has been shoved back from the Adriatic. Will she not covet the cosmopolitan port on the Aegean? The new imperial Greece will have to maintain a land frontier against two Slav powers to the north, with hostile Slav populations within.

Bulgaria has a sad time ahead. No wonder her enemies abandoned their demand for a war indemnity. She has no means of reclaiming Adrianople, and with Adrianople will not Turkey regain control of the whole of Thrace? Bulgaria is apparently incapable of asserting sovereignty even in her slice of Macedonia, if Turkey chooses to march in there as soon as the Balkan states have demobilized. Roumania might do something to bluff the Turks out of Adrianople, but Roumania would have nothing to gain except somewhat in reputation, apparently a negligible matter at Bucharest.

The plea of the Roumanian Government, that it intervened for self-preservation from Bulgarian ambition, is quite ridiculous. When Roumania stepped in, Servia and Greece were evidently able to take care of themselves, but Roumania wanted to make sure of a slice of northeastern Bulgaria. The conquerors of Adrianople were clearly exhausted, and bankrupt of men and money would be unable for a generation to come to shake the peace of Roumania. Balance of weakness more nearly expresses the state of things in the Balkan states than balance of power. Roumania plays the hyena in this affair and some day will have to pay for her crime. The sword will be drawn again on the Danube and at Saloniki. For the moment the most interesting territorial question is what will the powers do regarding Adrianople and Thrace?

THE PANAMA FAIR.

When it was reported a short time ago that Great Britain would not be officially represented at the international exhibition to be held in San Francisco next year, it was at once assumed by many in the United States that it was because of the annoyance felt over the proposal of the Senate at Washington to disregard past treaties in the matter of the free use of the Panama Canal, and the delay of the Government in agreeing to the British suggestion of a reference of the dispute to arbitration. It was recognized by some of the leading papers in the republic that Great Britain had just cause for dissatisfaction, and that it was only natural for her to show her feelings. If that had been the reason, her refusal would have been considered rather a small piece of business, and unworthy the dignity of a great Empire. But the statement of Sir Edward Grey in Parliament clears up this misapprehension. It was done, after consultation with the Board of Trade, and the reason for it was that it involved a great expense without any corresponding benefit. Britain's trade with the Pacific States is small, and is not likely to increase; the expense of an international exhibition to the governments taking part is always large; but in this case it would be for Britain much larger than usual—the estimate placing it at over $1,000,000. The Government thought it could find better use for its money.

Nor is Britain alone in this matter. Germany has declined; so has Switzerland; it is expected Russia will do the same. Of course, the abstention of the Government does not prevent private individuals exhibiting. They are at perfect liberty to do whatever they think will be to their advantage. But the Government does not think it will pay to spend public money for an advertisement in San Francisco.

There is doubtless a great deal of truth in this contention, though on diplomatic grounds there was a strong argument for Great Britain's participation at this juncture. These international exhibitions are very expensive affairs. All governments that take part spend a large amount of money, and statesmen may well ask themselves if the game is worth the cost. Even the advertisement that private exhibitors secure is in many cases more costly than profitable. The people who make a profit are largely the people doing business in the city where the exhibition is held. We need not be surprised if foreign nations are beginning to lose interest in these United States "great fairs." They are getting just a little too common. If they did not come quite so frequently they would be thought more of.

Of course, there are some nations who cannot neglect them. Canada is of this number. We draw a large share of our immigration from the States. Our greatest trade is done with the people of that country. The volume of our exports as well as of our imports is steadily increasing. It will probably pay us to advertise ourselves in San Francisco next year; at all events, we cannot afford to neglect any opportunity. It is reported from Ottawa that the Government recognizes this fact, and is prepared to spend a fair amount of money in having Canada well represented. It is not a very logical procedure for a party whose cry during the last election was "no truck nor trade" with the Yankees? But, of course, even a Tory Government recognizes that our nearest neighbor is our best business associate, and will do anything it can to encourage international trade, except the thing which common sense would indicate as the most important. It will spend money, but it will not take down barriers and remove obstructions. But there is reason in its madness. There are large interests in the Dominion which do not want the obstructions to trade any less than they are, and the Government is more or less under their control. They have no objection to the public money being spent to encourage trade as long as the barriers to trade remain. The Government can spend money freely as long as it does not legislate adversely. The expenditure can be made of service to the party, while it does no harm to the masters of the party.

LIFTING THE VEIL.

A significant letter appears in the Montreal Herald over the signature of Brenton A. Macnab, Mr. Macnab was for years editor of the Montreal Star, and his pen was busy in that paper's violent anti-reciprocity campaign. He resigned lately to aid in launching the Montreal Mail, which will appear in October, and which it is generally believed will be strongly Conservative, and centralist in its attitude to imperial questions. In his letter to the Herald Mr. Macnab exposes the cynical selfishness behind the mask of loyalty worn by the magnates who financed and organized the anti-reciprocity forces. He writes:

"At the meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Club, Mr. Huntley Drummond, in moving the main resolution, a condemnation of the Senate's action on the naval bill, touched upon the reciprocity campaign. He said that the Montreal Board of Trade (of which he was a member) had first sounded the alarm against the Fieiding reciprocity proposals. The keynote of this alarm was the conservation of the Canadian market for Canadian interests—agricultural and otherwise. As the head of a large industrial concern, Mr. Drummond feared that the Fieiding proposals would, if enacted, eventually enable American competitors to touch the sugar interests which monopolize the Canadian market and surround the dealers in that staple with iron-clad regulations as regards price, and of selling methods. In consequence, he took a part in the campaign against reciprocity to an extent unknown to the general public.

"The fight won, Mr. Drummond casts about for a method of investigation about the sugar profits of his late father's estate.

"Would you believe it, that the building decided on as a suitable monument to protected sugar—which will rear its ten stories at the corner of Peel and St. Catherine streets—is designed by an American architect—has been allotted to American contractors, and will be built with American stone."

As a member of the anti-reciprocity junta at Montreal, Mr. Macnab speaks whereof he knows. What a tale he could unfold if he told all he knew! He reveals just enough to pique curiosity. What is this part that Mr. Drummond played unknown to the general public? How much of the sugar profits greased the wheels of the loyalty machine?

The Balkan states have made Macedonia and Thrace a solitude and have agreed to call it peace.

It is expected there will be nine federal by-elections in the fall. Watch the Honorable Robert tip his cornucopia.

It is to be hoped the banks are ready for the western crop, because the farmers are banking on it as never before.

All this blood has been shed in the Balkans over the possession of 6,700 square miles. There are over 470,000 square miles in Ontario alone.

The late Anthony N. Brady, of New York, left nearly $100,000,000. Money talks, but Mr. Brady's money must have whispered. How many ever heard of the man?

The Toronto Telegram rejoices over the flag incident in Saskatchewan. The Telegram says it will help to promote patriotism. Heaven save the country from the patriotism that has to be made of such shoddy.

The Toronto News repeats the stale slander that the Niobe was wrecked while returning from a liberal picnic. The Niobe took part in an old home reunion celebration in Amherst, N. S., on the invitation of the municipality. Since it abandoned the Canadian navy policy, which it ardently championed, the truth is not the compass the News steers by on the navy question.

GIVE THE FOREIGNERS A CHANCE.

[Toronto Star.] Some of us are inclined to claim superiority for Anglo-Saxon over the rest of the human family. Whatever advantage Anglo-Saxons may possess is due to their faculty for kicking against authority. When the American Anglo-Saxons revolted against George the Third, they were doing exactly the same as their ancestors who revolted against Charles the First and James the Second. The latter, and the French, were also lovers of liberty. Hence the British Commonwealths, the American Republic and the Republic of France.

It is right that we should take pride in these things, but do not let us shut out other races who are under some disadvantage because they or their ancestors were not so successful as kickers against tyrants. Give them a chance. Let their lungs expand under the influence of the air of freedom.

MILITARISM IN NEW ZEALAND.

[London News and Leader.] Descriptionists here have quoted the adoption of compulsory service in Australia as evidence of its democratic quality and its smooth working. A telegram from Christchurch announces that many youths sentenced to imprisonment for refusing to train have commenced the hunger strike. Here is evidence that in New Zealand there is widespread hatred of conscription, and that those who oppose it are prepared to undergo heavy sufferings rather than submit to it. Our descriptionists may be assured that the British people will not add the military hunger strike to their other troubles.

600 Petroleons Had Fine Outing

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, Aug. 7.—Between five and six hundred people were carried to Lake Huron Park by the street car company yesterday. An excursion came from Petrolea with over six hundred people aboard, the day being a Civic Holiday in that town. The affair was held under the auspices of the Salvation Army. The picnic is the last one on the books of the street car company, and as the summer season practically ends the first of September, it is not likely that there will be many more excursions.

him which, however, was largely dispelled when he foreswore American allegiance and became a British subject. The public in England only began to take him seriously when he carried off the military prize of $20,000 open to the world at Salisbury Plain in August, 1912.

Built Many Planes.

Since that time he has built several machines. All of his aeroplanes were heavy biplanes, which his rivals considered crude in their construction, but he nevertheless made successful flights with some of them.

He underwent several narrow escapes in his aviation career in England. Last July while he was flying at Aldershot, he lost control of his machine, which descended with great force, and striking a cow in a field, was upset, Cody escaping with a few bruises.

Cody leaves a wife and two sons in England.

EVANS A LEARNER.

Evans was a member of the Indian civil service, who had obtained leave of absence to come to England to study aviation.

The aeroplane was flying at an altitude of between 200 and 300 feet when it fell. Members of the Royal Flying Corps removed the bodies to the military morgue and an inquest will be held tomorrow.

Cody's neck was broken, and both of Evans' legs were fractured in the fall, and their bodies otherwise were badly mangled.

Sons Saw Accident.

Cody's sons, Leon and Frank, were eyewitnesses of the accident, which was attributed by spectators to the body of the craft proving too heavy for the wings. The machine, they say, appeared to crumple up, the wings suddenly pointing upward, and the whole structure collapsing. During the descent the aeroplane struck some trees and portions of the wings were left hanging on the branches. The motor was shattered, and the remainder of the aeroplane smashed into matchwood by the violence of the shock when they hit the ground.

The aeroplane had been out earlier in the day, making an extended flight and giving every satisfaction.

FINGER WAS AMPUTATED.

IN THE POLICE COURT

John Brazil, old, homeless and infirm, and technically charged with vagrancy, was sent to the Home for Incurables by Police Magistrate Graydon this morning.

Two young men charged with being drunk and disorderly were fined $2 each. A young man who was very anxious to escort home a young lady playing with one of the Ferris shows at the carnival in Queen's Park was fined $5 or five days.

It was alleged that he "battered" her between her and another escort that she preferred.

Burns' Benediction. John Burns pronounced a benediction on the court when he was fined $10 or ten days for being drunk Wednesday. He said he suffered from hemorrhage of the brain, and was discharged. This morning he claimed he was not drunk, either, but merely lying down in a shed at Queen's Park. He was doing no harm to anybody, he said, but the magistrate didn't see it that way. As Burns was led away, he raised his hands in an attitude of prayer and murmured, "God bless you, your honor," only not quite so audible as on Wednesday when he was let go. Fred Thompson, Indian laborer, was fined $10 or ten days. William Stephenson, of Glencoe, was fined $2 or five days for begging on the street while intoxicated.

Ed. Fined Ten. Edward Fountain, colored, was not drunk. He held that the four police officers who said he was were just a habit to err in point of veracity as he was. He said he just came down town to get his hair cut, and was leaving a cobbler's shop after having his shoes patched when E. C. Handsides took him in tow. Detective Nisler, Sergt. Brett and Sergt. Major McGuire were all of the opinion that Fountain was drunk. Magistrate Graydon drew that conclusion from the evidence also, and called for $10 or ten days.

EXPECT HOT FIGHT IN CHATEAUGUAY

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, Aug. 7.—Competition has already begun among the ranks of Liberals in connection with the party nomination for the by-election to be held in Chateaugay, Que., which seat is vacant through the death of J. P. Brown. The Conservatives will likely run Mr. Norris, who ran Mr. Brown a very close race at the last Dominion election.

A number of Liberals in the constituency favor the selection of a French-Canadian candidate, though the seat has always been represented by an English-speaking member. The French element in the riding want Edouard McGowan, of St. Martin, who, though of Irish descent, is a French-Canadian in everything but name.

Many Liberals here hoped that Hon. Sidney Fisher would be their candidate, but the former minister of agriculture declined to enter the contest. A visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the constituency last week is believed to have been connected with the differences over the nomination.

AMERICAN RATES AND RAILWAYS.

Local railway officials will secure a crumb of comfort and encouragement when they read what Mr. J. H. Haslam says about European railways as compared with railways of this continent. There may be some question as to the superior efficiency of our railways—but most readers must know by this time that the rates on the whole are higher in Europe than they are in the United States and in Canada. In making his comparisons, Commissioner Haslam, who is chairman of the commission to investigate agricultural rates, also European wheat markets, does not take into account the fact of the higher cost of production, the higher rate of wages paid to trainmen, engine-men and all who help to move the world's freight. If this were done, the showing of American railways would be even better than appears from this short statement. In a column article cabled from Europe to the Hearst newspapers of the United States, Mr. Haslam, over his signature, said:

"European railway systems are not as highly efficient as ours, and charge much higher rates, both for freight and passengers."

FIGHTING AT TEHRAN

[Canadian Press.] Teheran, Persia, Aug. 7.—Fighting has been in progress in the streets of this city since midnight, when the Bakhtiari clansmen and the national authorities burst into flames.

Firing is going on in the main streets of the city, where the foreign legations are situated.

In other districts also there have been numerous conflicts between the military police and the Bakhtiari.

The Bakhtiari are a semi-independent people, who inhabit Western Persia near the Turkish frontier. They are allied to the Kurds.

The clansmen were a potent factor in the last revolution, causing great trouble to the Government.

WAS NOT ARRESTED.

[Canadian Press.] Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 4.—There is no foundation for the reports published abroad of the arrest of Dr. S. D. Danef, former Bulgarian premier, at the instance of the Bulgarian Government.

Beets

TO COOK BEETS. The beet root is a native of the shores of the Mediterranean. It is wholesome and nutritious. It contains large amounts of sugar and salts. Consequently it is very nourishing. The French cook uses beets for a garnish by cutting it into fancy shapes which are beautiful. It makes almost any fish dish more attractive.

In cutting the tops of the beets leave an inch or two of the stem, or better still, do not cut them off, but wring or twist the tops from the roots. In this way the skins will not be bruised and no color or sugar will be extracted while boiling. Boil until tender. No length of time can be given. The young tender ones will usually cook in an hour. Often the old ones require four hours. When tender drop into cold water and the skins will easily rub off. Very young beets are often served whole with salt, butter and pepper put over them, or they can be sliced and a little white sugar sprinkled over them, dotted with butter and put in the oven until cream sauce.

the butter and sugar is melted. Beets cooked this way can be served with or without lemon juice.

BEETS WITH BOILED DINNER. When boiling beets with a New England dinner cook them by themselves, but be sure and turn some of the water off the other vegetables and meat over them. Peel, slice and serve with other vegetables or as a garnish for meat.

BEET SALAD. Slice boiled cold beets and serve on lettuce leaves, with salad dressing—either boiled mayonnaise or French dressing.

SPICED BEETS. Boil six pepper pods, six cloves, a pinch of ginger and half a cup of sugar in one quart of rather weak vinegar, add one even tablespoon of salt. Pour hot over sliced boiled beets. Ready to use any time after they have stood two hours.

CREAMED WHITE BEETS. Use small white beets. Cook until tender, drop into cold water, rub off skins and pour over them a rich, hot cream sauce.

BEET GREENS AND YOUNG BEETS.

Select one-half peck of young beets no larger than a walnut, using tops as well as roots. Wash thoroughly in several waters (in one of which there is a generous supply of salt to dislodge any insects). Put them into boiled salted water and cook until tender—about thirty minutes. Take out of kettle when tender and drop the beets themselves, which have been cut from the tops, into cold water and the skins will readily rub off with the finger. Then drain the greens, chop them rather fine, add one generous tablespoon of butter, a tablespoon of lemon juice and a dash of pepper. Arrange greens on shallow platter or dish. Cut the beets into halves and arrange around the greens. Serve VERY hot.

BUTTERED BEETS.

Boil, skin, slice some beets. Then put into granite steppan. Add one tablespoon of butter for each pint of beets. Salt and pepper to taste. Set over fire to become very hot or place in oven. Serve with quarters of lemon.

Dear Cynthia Grey: Please tell me how to cook fried green tomatoes. Thanking you in advance. BLOSSOM.

A—Cut green tomatoes into slices a quarter of an inch thick. Do not peel. Heat in frying pan two tablespoons of butter and one of bacon drippings. Lay each slice of tomato in and fry on both sides. Turn carefully—without breaking—and after turning season with salt and pepper. Serve as a border for chops or steak. One minced onion may be added to the butter if desired.

The Poets' Corner

RECESSIONAL.

[June 22, 1897.] God of our fathers, known of old— Lord of our far-flung battle-line— Beneath whose awful Hand we hold Dominion over palm and pine— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget, lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies— The captains and the kings depart! Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart, Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget, lest we forget!

Far-called our navies melt away— On dune and headland sinks the fire! Lo, all our pomp of yesterday Is one with Nineveh and Tyre! Judge of the Nations, spare us yet, Lest we forget, lest we forget!

If, drunk with sight of power, we loose Wild tongues that have not Thee in awe— Such boasting as the Gentiles use Or lesser breeds without the law— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget, lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts her trust In reeking tube and iron shard— All valiant dust that builds on dust, And guarding calls not Thee to guard— For frantic boast and foolish word, Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord! —Rudyard Kipling.

"Smile a Little"

The new person went to call on Aunt Minnie, dear and charming old lady, aged 93. Said he: "My dear friend, I find myself much impressed with your placid outlook, after a life so long that it would have bowed most of us half to the ground. Tell me, will you not, what it is that has supported and renewed you through all these years. What is it that has been your standard and comfort, what your substance and source of strength? Tell me, won't you?" "Victuals," said the dear old lady, charmingly.

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

THE NARROW SKIRT AND ITS MERITS.

The narrow skirt, which is by no means the "tight" skirt, is giving the world much undue consideration these days. To hear some folk talk you would think that the narrow skirt was the worst of all evils that escaped from Pandora's box! I see that a street car official gives it as his opinion that the narrow skirt is the cause of all or nearly all the accidents that happen on street cars! Could and dirty in front from mounting the street cars—and more men seem to fall off than women or girls—is it the tight skirt that causes their fall? In the old days of the cumbersome three-to-four-yard-round-the-hem skirt, did no women fall off the cars? If so where does the narrow skirt theory come in? A woman I know stumbled and fell on the narrow steps of the car the other day. By actual measurement her skirt was over three yards round the hem. As a matter of fact the narrow skirt is a much safer garment to board and alight from street cars than the old voluminous one! Women have worn both and they know. With a skirt three or four yards round the hem it is very dangerous indeed to mount the high narrow steps of cars. Such skirts because of their fullness were sure to trip one up, and one was always in danger of landing head-first into the midst of the seated passengers. Those skirts always were dusty and dirty in front from mounting the steps. There was only one thing to do with the voluminous skirt—that was to gather it all up in the hand so that the feet and ankles were a deal clearer and more exposed than they are with the narrow skirt, and, thus converted by the hand immediately into a tight skirt, the owner was safe to descend or to mount. The fact of the matter is that the narrow skirt is the most practical, the most sensible and the most attractive skirt that has yet been evolved. Long may it flourish!

Purify Drinking Water When on Vacation

By a Physician. How shall we be sure that the drinking water we use, while on a vacation trip, is pure and wholesome? The question is bound to come up when you and I and the folks at home "trip up" and start for the mountains this summer. There is nothing more important than this little matter, either.

It is quite out of the question to hope to get good water at every summer resort. And if you are planning to go camping, it is not certain that the mountain stream will be uncontaminated. Neither is it possible to have an expert or a chemical laboratory at hand to correct the shortcomings.

An Easy Method. So, this being the case, it will be wise to know some easy, simple way of purifying the drinking water yourselves. Read this little suggestion, carefully; cut it out and paste it in the memorandum book you are planning to take with you when you start for the summer rest. Take this procedure:

Take a level teaspoonful of chloride of lime. Rub it up in a teaspoon of water until there are no lumps. Dilute it with three cupfuls of water. Keep this solution in a carefully stoppered bottle until needed. A teaspoonful of this stock solution added to a two-gallon pail of water, and stirred thoroughly, should destroy typhoid and other harmful germs in the course of ten minutes or so. If this quantity should make the water taste, don't use quite so much. Precaution: Get the chloride of lime in metallic cases.

If you have pure water and protect the food from flies, the summer vacation should be productive of good. Too often carelessness in one of these respects causes after effects which are not at all in keeping with what we hope for when we take the trouble to rest a while.

This May Help You. Perhaps every housewife has, at times, lost time and temper because that in the darkness of her cellar she opened a jar of raspberry jam instead of the red currant preserve which she wished. It's rather a bother making labels, too, so on the chance that some reader may find these useful I reproduce below several printed slips to paste on the various groups of jam and preserves that look so similar when standing on the shelf. They may come in handy.

Tea-Table Talk

German Women. The American delegates to the Budapest suffrage congress who traveled across Germany in the special train labelled "Frauenstimmrecht," found occasion to wonder whether the Kaiser knew what the women of his country were doing. Certainly they were not paying heed to his dictum that the only place for women is in the church, the kitchen, or the nursery. In the country they were making roads, leading boys and doing every possible kind of farm and family work in the cities they loaded baggage, cleaned the streets, and did every sort of heavy work. Nine million German women are said to be earning a living for themselves and families in order that the vast army and navy may be maintained. This year the emperor has drawn 300,000 additional men from industry to war. Their work must, therefore, be done by women.

Mothers' Pensions. Mothers' pension laws have been passed by 14 states, 11 having enacted this year. Seven of them are suffrage states—Illinois, California, Colorado, Oregon, Utah, Idaho and Washington. The others are Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio, New Jersey and Pennsylvania; Missouri has authorized Kansas City to adopt the system, and other states are trying it in a limited way in some cities. When a woman is left destitute it has been found better in every respect for the state to bear the mother and children together.

FRIDAY, BREAKFAST. Thimbleberries. Corn Flakes. Cream. Potato Puff. Coffee.

DINNER. Mock Bisque Soup. Salmon Loaf. Dressed Lettuce. Scalloped Potatoes. Raspberry Compote.

SUPPER. Omelet. Light Rolls. Radishes. Fruit. Cookies. Tea.

Raspberry Compote.—Use ripe berries and allow just enough red currant juice to cover, or a little water may be mixed with it. Use a shallow dish; add a little granulated sugar to the currant juice, and as soon as it boils put in the raspberries, remove and cover; pour into a glass dish and serve with cream, plain or whipped.

Potato Puff.—To two cups of mashed potatoes add two tablespoons melted butter and beat till light; then mix in two eggs well beaten, a cup of milk, and salt to taste. Beat together until thoroughly light and bake in a buttered pudding dish until nicely browned. A fine breakfast dish.

been boiled in, combined in the usual way with gelatine. All such jellies should be sliced with a warm knife.

Table jellies mixed are delicious—pineapple and raspberry, or lemon and cherry, according to taste. A jelly added to stewed fruit improves it and thickens the syrup. Sufficient may be added to make a mold and turn out to serve with cream or mustard.

A substitute for egg is made by preparing a thick paste of flour and water, then dip the fish or outlet to be fried into batter, and sprinkle with bread crumbs. You will find this answers well, giving a beautiful brown appearance and preserving the delicate flavor.

When making a baked custard, add two tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs. Delicious with stewed fruit. When making a boiled custard add a spoonful of corn flour, mixed with a little cold milk, and boil in the usual way. This just thickens it and prevents burning.

PEACE SIGNED BY DELEGATES FROM BALKANS

Roumania Had to Threaten to Occupy Bulgar Capital at Once.

General Rejoicing All Through the District Devastated by Wars.

Bucharest, Aug. 7.—Terms of peace were arranged last evening, and the preliminary treaty to end the Balkan war was signed today by the delegates of Serbia, Greece, Montenegro, Roumania and Bulgaria.

Wednesday the discussions in the peace conference threatened to become interminable, but M. Majoresco, the Roumanian premier, and president of the conference, clinched matters by threatening that unless Bulgaria accepted the modified frontier proposed by the allies, Roumanian army would occupy Sofia next Saturday.

Agreement Reached. This threat had the desired effect, and the agreement was arrived at after numerous private consultations between the delegates. The new frontier as agreed to starts at a point on the old frontier west of the Struma River, follows the existing line to the Leska River, then leaving Strumnitza, the port of Lagos and Kanthi to Bulgaria and the port of Kavala to Greece.

Great Rejoicing. The news that peace had been arranged caused great rejoicings here. The war between the former Balkan allies, who had fought together against Turkey, began on July 1, when the Serbian Minister of the Interior declared that Serbia was at war with Bulgaria.

Fruit Growers Have Formed Association. Three Big Societies in Brant Have Been Amalgamated.

Brantford, Aug. 6.—For some time past the apple interests in the county of Brant have been divided among three associations. These have now amalgamated under one name and charter, namely, the Brant Fruit Growers' Association, with head office at Brantford, Ont.

The directors for 1913 are as follows: Col. J. F. Fraser and Messrs. W. H. Metcalf, F. M. Lewis and W. J. Dickie, of Brantford; C. W. Gurney and Horace Henderson, of Paris; Delbert Wilson and Norman Edmondson, of Brantford; and J. W. Clarke, of Cainsville.

Health and Beauty Hints. Mary D.: I want you to try the following recipe to whiten, soften and beautify the skin of your face and neck.

A. J. B.: Your trouble with itching scalp and loss of hair can be overcome with this simple hair tonic, which will always make up here at home.

C. J. H.: You say you are all fagged out. Let me give you a recipe which will brace you up and restore the clearness to your complexion.

P. S.: No fat is hardly an aid to attractiveness, but you have no excuse for being so fat—no one has. Get four ounces of pure cod liver oil.

A. M. F.: You should try this shampoo, which is always used because it keeps your hair lustrous and fluffy and is cheap and convenient.

DUCHESS IS MUCH BETTER

Suffered a Relapse Which It Was Feared Would Be Serious.

GOING ON A LONG TRIP

London, Thursday, Aug. 7.—It became known today that the Duchess of Connaught, who is at Cowes, in the Isle of Wight, has had somewhat of a relapse.

Sir Arbuthnot Lane, the famous surgeon, was summoned to Cowes in the early hours of Tuesday.

The Governor-General's wife has undergone two operations for an intestinal disorder since she was removed to England, on the advice of her Canadian physicians, last spring.

Retiring From Business

I have sold my lease and stock to a Montreal firm, but before they take it over the stock must be reduced. In order to accomplish this our entire stock of COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, SKIRTS, WAISTS, GLOVES and NECKWEAR will be sold at LESS THAN WHOLESALE PRICES.

It is well known that I have always carried a high-class stock, and as I have been in business for only a short time, the styles are Exclusive and Up-to-Date. THE SALE BEGINS TOMORROW (FRIDAY) at 9 o'clock and will last only a few days, as, when the stock is reduced to a certain figure, the business will be turned over to new firm.

Excellent Crops Around Regina

Regina, Aug. 7.—With continued fine weather of the past few days, crops in Regina district will be ready for the binder during the latter part of next week. Standing more than the average height and heavier than other years, wheat and oats are in excellent condition, and it is expected that a record crop will be garnered by the farmers. The demand for harvest labor is pronounced. Nearly 40 men were sent out of the city yesterday through an office that was opened by the provincial bureau of labor. There are still some seventy applications from farmers in the province to be filled, but difficulty is expected in satisfying the demand.

Fifty Wounded In Fight on Streets

Milan, Italy, Aug. 7.—Fifty persons were wounded and a hundred arrests were made yesterday during a free fight between strikers and soldiers. The fight had its origin in the stoning of soldiers by strikers. The Duke of the Abruzzi came in for an attack at the hands of the workmen. He was driving in his automobile through the streets in the afternoon, and was recognized by a band of strikers who were holding a meeting in the street. The workmen hurled epithets at the duke and stoned his automobile until the police charged and dispersed them. The duke was uninjured.

MASONS AND ODD FELLOWS BURIED BRO. J. F. WORREY

Resident of Ingersoll For Nearly Fifty Years Given Big Funeral.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, Aug. 7.—A large number of citizens gathered yesterday afternoon to pay their last tributes to the memory of the late J. F. Worrey, for nearly 50 years a resident of this town, whose death occurred at Walkerville on Sunday. The remains were brought here on Tuesday, and the funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the Methodist Church. Members of the Masonic Order and Samaritan Lodge, I. O. O. F., attended in a body. The service at the church was conducted by Rev. J. G. Scott and Rev. R. J. M. Perkins. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson, of the town line, between Dereham and West Oxford, in the great loss they have sustained by the death of their eldest son, Richard, which occurred yesterday. He had been ill for upwards of a year, and while it was known that there was no hope of his recovery, the announcement of his death was received with profound regret by numerous friends. Now that reorganization has been effected, greater activity will doubtless be shown by Ingersoll retail merchants. There seems to be plenty of enthusiasm and as the merchants have been seized with the importance of unity, no doubt the work will be taken up in a very earnest and active manner.

Woman Swallowed $300 Diamond Ring

[Canadian Press.] New York, Aug. 6.—Policeman Karl, of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station, was passing an apartment house at No. 352 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, when a man thrust his head out of a window on the fourth floor and cried "Police!" Karl ran up to the fourth floor, where he was met by Lorenz Mallia, a provision merchant. "Come in here, quick," cried Mallia. "A woman here has been demanding money she says I owe her on a check, and because I cannot at this minute pay she has taken my three-hundred-dollar diamond ring." Mallia indicated Mrs. Florence Sabagillia, 20 years old. Mrs. Sabagillia was taken to the station house, but a careful search by the matron failed to disclose the missing ring. "She swallowed it," moaned Mallia. "I saw her put something in her mouth just before the policeman ran upstairs." Dr. Kergan was summoned from the Harlem Hospital, applied the stomach pump and recovered the ring. Mrs. Sabagillia later was held in $1,000 bail for further examination.

Famous Singer Accidentally Drowns

[Canadian Press.] Tegernsee, Bavaria, Aug. 7.—A yacht in which Fritz Sturmfeld and Leo Slezak, two well-known operatic tenors, were sailing on the lake here yesterday, overturned, and Sturmfeld was drowned. Slezak clung to the boat and was rescued. Sturmfeld was a member of the Royal Opera at Leipzig. He made a concert tour in the United States in 1911. Slezak is well known in America, having sung at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York and in concerts in various cities.

His First Holiday In Nine Years

[Special to The Advertiser.] Strathroy, Aug. 7.—Rural Dean Robinson, who leaves today for a two-months' holiday in England, was pleasantly surprised last evening, when Miss Pincombe and Mrs. Cummingford called, and on behalf of the congregation presented him with a purse containing $150. This will be the first holiday the dean has had since taking charge here nine years ago. His son Bernard, who recently graduated from McGill, is going to take a post-graduate course at Oxford, and Rev. Mr. Robinson will accompany him across.

INDUSTRIAL BUREAU HAS BEEN CREATED TO ADVANCE CITY

Formed at Joint Meeting of Manufacturers Committee and Trade Board.

Will Gather Into the Organization All Business and Other Associations of Importance.

An industrial bureau for London, with the most interesting allied business and manufacturing interests in the advancement of London, was created at the joint meeting of the manufacturers' committee and a special committee of the board of trade, Wednesday evening. The bureau will carry out what was theoretically the object of the manufacturers' committee of the city council. It will gather into one organization all the business associations of importance. Each of these associations will be asked to appoint delegates to the central bureau.

The establishment of such a bureau has long been desired by business men in London at the present time, everywhere that it has been tried out. It has been found that an industrial commissioner no matter how capable, could not cope with the multiplicity of interests involved in improving conditions to attract men, money and industries for one of the first problems with which he is confronted is that of creating favorable conditions for the employer and the employee. With the assistance of an industrial bureau, with the various organizations and interests behind him—ready to supply needed information and to assist in every way, the industrial commissioner can give invaluable assistance in coping with the varied problems that might confront him.

Advance London. This idea of a general volunteer industrial movement to second his efforts, when presented by Industrial Commissioner Gordon Phillip to the joint meeting, was one that appealed to every man present. The resolution to establish the bureau was passed on recommendation of Ald. B. W. Bennett, seconded by T. H. McFarlane, of the board of trade. The stimulation of interests, the calling of all organizations into one common object—the promotion of London—was an attractive proposition to the businessmen and aldermen who listened to the new commissioner.

In explaining the movement, Mr. Phillip dealt with the board of trade phase. "The board of trade, very properly, I think, wishes to retain a separate identity, and while lending its aid to the association, working on what are its own terms, with what are its own proper problems, it will find that the bureau will be able in many instances to help it in any movement for the good of the community. The necessity, therefore, for a distinct body is apparent, and the advantage of forming a representative body capable of accomplishing organized work for the general good, are being worked out by the board of trade and standing committees selected from the appointed representatives as men having special qualifications for the duties they are intended to undertake. The work means that it falls lightly on all, and that the work of the commissioner is assisted by each committee and active member."

Explains Financing. Going further in his explanation of organization, the commissioner explained how the finances, advertising and publicity, trade expansion, educational and other phases of the bureau would be in the hands of committees, qualified by their own experience to lend invaluable assistance. While in time a multiplicity of other work would be added to the bureau's field, he advised that immediate start in a wide variety of work, arising, and the organization gained strength.

Reunion Association. As the first official act of the new industrial bureau, Commissioner Phillip suggested the indorsement of the formation of a London Branch of the Imperial Home Reunion Association, a migration of the most desirable class, has for its object the reunion of families of worthy immigrants, the money to pay for the transportation of the family from the old country to Canada being advanced by the association and paid back by the man whose family was brought out.

In defence of the organization Commissioner Phillip outlined the advantages it already has been to western cities and to those in Ontario as well, and asserted that it was carried out without the smirch of charity. A further advantage was the fact that thousands of dollars that are being sent monthly to the old country to maintain families there, by the father employed in Canada, would be saved to the Dominion and to London.

The fund necessary for this work is raised by agreement with a chartered bank in the city, the bank advancing the money to pay the transportation charges on the security of a large number of guarantors who would be responsible for $100 each. The reunion suggestion was one that also appealed to those present, and on motion of C. B. Hunt, seconded by Ald. Frank White, Vice-President E. C. Mitchell, of the board of trade, and Commissioner Phillip were appointed temporary trustees to arrange for the securing of guarantors' signatures and to complete arrangements with one of the city banks. To start the organization, a guarantee of $10,000 will be required. The majority of this has already been promised.

The Easiest Way To Banish Hairs

[Aids to Beauty.] A very simple method has been discovered whereby hair growing on the face, neck or arms without pain or trouble. A paste is made with a little powdered delatone and water and applied to the hairs not wanted, and after two or three minutes it is removed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. Use care not to get proxiol on the face, and when the skin is washed to free it from the remaining delatone, it will be firm and smooth. Stubby eyelashes will grow long and have a beautiful curl if proxiol be applied to each root with thumb and forefinger, and thin eyebrows come in thick and glossy, by rubbing proxiol on the brows. Use care not to get proxiol where no hair is wanted.

How to Destroy the Dandruff Germ

BY A SPECIALIST. That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well-known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair, and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you: Six ounces Bay Rum, two ounces Lavone de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it performed, add half a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this preparation has not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

[Canadian Press.] Mexico City, Aug. 7.—Seventeen Mexicans have paid with their lives for mistreating the daughters of Matthew Gourd, an American farmer, near Tampico last Monday. American farmers participated in the execution of the penalty, according to information regarded as reliable received here today.

The Americans, joined by Mexican landowners in the district of Atascador, near Tampico, organized a posse and drove into the country in search of the outlaws who tied Gourd and robbed him and afterwards offered indignities to the two daughters in sight of their helpless father. The band was located and defeated in a fight, and several of its members were captured.

Japs Loan Rebels Over $15,000,000

[Canadian Press.] London, Aug. 7.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Peking says it is reported that a Japanese loan of $15,000,000 to the Province of Hu-Nan has been signed.

The correspondent asserts that Admiral Tseng, commanding the Government squadron in the south, has issued a proclamation offering promotion to officers and cash as recompense to rebel soldiers who surrender.

MEMORIALS OF SYMPATHY FOR FORMER MEMBERS
Water Board Passes Resolution on Deaths of Col. Little and Mr. R. K. Cowan.

1897 was a member of this board, and during the years 1895 and 1897 chairman thereof.
"During his connection with this board he gave its affairs unremitting care and attention and this board feels that through his death the city of London has lost a good citizen."
"This board desires to convey to his family its sincere sympathy in its sad bereavement."

Queen's Park. They had lost money, he said, because hydro failed them on two nights. Mayor Graham said that the license fee had been remitted, no charge had been made for the park, and the power had been supplied free. As for the two nights when hydro was off, he said, he had been out there himself on one of those nights, and found the shows jammed.
The matter was settled by Mr. Bastla agreeing to settle the account as it stood.

General Manager Glaubitz is working out a plan whereby the hydrants of the city will be regularly inspected and a report submitted at regular intervals showing that they are in good condition. He outlined the details of the plan at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the board of water commissioners. Since the article printed in our issue after the Beck fire, in which it was stated that many of the hydrants were not in good repair, Mr. Glaubitz has had an inspection made of some of the hydrants in the outlying districts. Although only one was found that could not be turned, several were in bad repair.

Lieut.-Col. J. W. Little. "Resolved, that the board of water commissioners of the city of London hereby places on record its deep regret at the great loss sustained by the community through the death of Lieut.-Col. John W. Little, who, during his connection with the board while mayor of the city for the years 1895 to 1897, and also as a member thereof from 1898 to 1902, was uniting in his efforts to further the interests of the city."
"This board recognizes that such endeavor on his part was largely effective in securing to the city of London the present increased area at Springbank, the extension of which to a river drive being one of his hopes."
"The commissioners desire to extend their sincere sympathy to his family in its sad bereavement."
Late R. K. Cowan.

Matters pertaining to the Horton street station were also taken up. A new electric truck for transporting supplies is to be purchased, and two automobile firms are sending cars to the city next week to demonstrate. It was pointed out that the batteries of the electric cars could be recharged at the Horton street plant, and the business of the plant could also be profitably extended to recharging batteries for private-owned cars.
Mr. Glaubitz reported that the pulmotor had been requisitioned three times by the police department, and while there was no objection to their borrowing it in the absence of one of their own, there was a danger of something happening at the power-house while the pulmotor was away.

GRAPE-NUTS FOOD
A DOCTOR SAYS.
Grape-Nuts Food Contains All the Elements Condensed.
There was a time when doctors depended almost entirely on the use of drugs in treating disease. That day is happily past, and our doctors of today are men of wider views—they have learned that proper food is most important in healing disease. An eastern physician says:
"Disease is often an effort of nature to get rid of impurities in the system as the result of incorrect habits—wrong living. The cause of disease ought to and can be removed by right living and right thinking."
"Nature requires good air, sunlight, food of proper quality and quantity, plenty of pure water, exercise, cleanliness and sleep. When these conditions are met, health follows, but when they are denied or neglected, sickness and disease are sure to result."
"The important question is to decide what is the proper kind of food to supply the physical and mental necessities of man. I have had experience with the various foodstuffs known to our markets, but up to the present time I have met with no other answering so fully all the requirements as does Grape-Nuts food."
"In my own experience and observation in my practice, I have found Grape-Nuts to be not only more satisfying, but more lasting in the benefit derived from its use. It sends a man forth to his labors in a state of physical comfort, with a cheerful and buoyant spirit; and the end of the day finds him with reserve strength—he suffers less from exhaustion and depletion of powers."
"I particularly recommend Grape-Nuts food to those whose occupations involve a great deal of brain work. There could not be a food better adapted to the strengthening and conservation of the faculties and energies. It supplies a more sustained mental vigor than any other food that I know of."
"Grape-Nuts food contains all the elements that form the valuable part of natural diet in a condensed, toothsome and easily digestible form." Name given by Canadian Postum Company, Windsor, Ont.

GRAPE-NUTS FOOD
A DOCTOR SAYS.
Grape-Nuts Food Contains All the Elements Condensed.
There was a time when doctors depended almost entirely on the use of drugs in treating disease. That day is happily past, and our doctors of today are men of wider views—they have learned that proper food is most important in healing disease. An eastern physician says:
"Disease is often an effort of nature to get rid of impurities in the system as the result of incorrect habits—wrong living. The cause of disease ought to and can be removed by right living and right thinking."
"Nature requires good air, sunlight, food of proper quality and quantity, plenty of pure water, exercise, cleanliness and sleep. When these conditions are met, health follows, but when they are denied or neglected, sickness and disease are sure to result."
"The important question is to decide what is the proper kind of food to supply the physical and mental necessities of man. I have had experience with the various foodstuffs known to our markets, but up to the present time I have met with no other answering so fully all the requirements as does Grape-Nuts food."
"In my own experience and observation in my practice, I have found Grape-Nuts to be not only more satisfying, but more lasting in the benefit derived from its use. It sends a man forth to his labors in a state of physical comfort, with a cheerful and buoyant spirit; and the end of the day finds him with reserve strength—he suffers less from exhaustion and depletion of powers."
"I particularly recommend Grape-Nuts food to those whose occupations involve a great deal of brain work. There could not be a food better adapted to the strengthening and conservation of the faculties and energies. It supplies a more sustained mental vigor than any other food that I know of."
"Grape-Nuts food contains all the elements that form the valuable part of natural diet in a condensed, toothsome and easily digestible form." Name given by Canadian Postum Company, Windsor, Ont.
