LENINE GOVT. RETREATS TO NEW CAPITAL

Petrograd Is Reported Being Evacuated by Ministry and Populace.

London, March 6.—The evacuation of Petrograd has begun. Three state ministries, according to a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, dated Thursday, have started to leave the capital, from which the population is fleeing hastily.

The Bolshevik Government proposes to declare Moscow the Russian capital, and Petrograd a free port.

KRYLENKO PROTESTS.

London, March 6.—An official Russian statement received here today says Ensign Krylenko, the Bolsheviki commander-in-chief, has sent a message to the German and Austrian commanders, stating that the Germans and Austrians are still fighting, notwithstanding the conclusion of peace. Ensign Krylenko asks whether the German high command has taken all steps necessary for cessation of hostilities.

NO U. S.-JAPAN SIBERIAN PACT

Washington Says All Negotiations Will Go Through the British.

Washington, March 6. — It was authoritatively stated today that the United States has sent no communication to Japan on the subject of action in Siberia, and that if any views of the American Government are expressed they probably will be conveyed to Great Britain through which the United States has received all its information of the situation.

As Japan's special ally, Great Britain is represented as having confidence in Japan's intentions and has sought to impart that confidence to the United States with a view to seeking any active co-operation in a Siberian campaign, but simply to allay any feeling of apprehension that might develop in this country that Japan intends to extend her sovereignty over Siberia permanently.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR SCHOOL BOARD VOTE INCREASED BY BILL

Toronto, March 6.—All bakeries and manufactures of confectionery will require a license from the municipality in the bill of Thomas Hook. No license will be issued until the medical health officer certifies that all sanitary regulations have been complied with, and the municipality has power to revoke the license. An amendment by Wm. Proudfoot, that there be no fee for the license, was agreed to by the committee.

In regard to the bill of Mark Irish, to amend the public schools act to make the qualification of electors for boards of education the same as that of public school supporters at municipal elections for mayor and controllers, the cost of preparing separate voters' lists was urged in its favor. It would have the effect, admitted Mr. Irish, of disfranchising those assessed under $400, but few of them voted any way. This, said Mr. Proudfoot in reply, might be true of cities, but was not the case in the smaller communities. The bill represented a retrograde movement. He would rather reduce the qualification of municipal electors in the interests of a uniform franchise. He suggested that the provisions of the bill be confined to cities.

At the suggestion of the chairman, a bill will be prepared to amend the education act to exclude aliens from the franchise for boards of education, as they now are excluded from voting for mayors, controllers and council. This, would make the franchise uniform, and, subject to this bill, Mr. Irish's bill was approved by the committee.

Two amendments to the statute labor act were approved. The bill of Thomas Magladery (Temiskaming) raises the commutation from $1.50 to a sum not exceeding $2. While the bill is a general one, its aim is to enable the Township of Crowland to tax about 1,000 foreigners, many of whom are in receipt of $90 a month.

NEW ARGENTINE GOVT.

Buenos Ayres, March 6.—The foreign office has issued an announcement concerning previous reports that the Argentine Government would be reorganized. This will be done within several weeks. Honorio Pueyrredon, acting foreign minister, will become foreign minister.

NEW PREMIER OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Advertiser Illustrations.

HON. JOHN OLIVER, selected by B. C. Liberals to succeed late Premier Brewster.

RENDERED DUMB BY WAR SERVICE, YET IS GIVEN NO PENSION

CHARACTER GIVEN "BAD"

Honest Living Denied Man Who Suffered for Canada at the Front.

A soldier, recently discharged, showed his discharge papers to The Advertiser today. He was three years in the service, had been in France for over five months had shell shock and trench fever. He was invalided back to Canada, and discharged for being medically unfit "due to service." His discharge paper was not signed by the officer in charge, nor was there any evidence that the discharge was authentic, except that his description, etc., were in the paper.

The discharge was his only document to prove to the world that he had seen service for Canada, and had done his bit in the war. He has suffered a loss of speech because of his experience, has the greatest difficulty in making himself understood. No pension is given him, nor any other recognition of his services.

To make matters worse on his discharge papers his character is given as "bad." The only charges against him were minor, and his only punishment was confinement to barracks.

This man is turned loose without a pension and with a character as "bad" after doing service in the trenches. How a man can live without a pension and with a reputation for being bad, when his only offences were minor and resulted in mere confinement to barracks for a few days, is a question which those familiar with the case cannot answer.

"Any man who has done his duty in the trenches is not bad, and has no right to be termed such," said an officer. He has only one or two minor offences, of which hundreds of men are guilty, and yet he is given a character which will prevent him getting honest employment, now that he is unfit for further service because of his military experience. It's rotten in the extreme."

ANTI-CONSCRIPTION SENTIMENT STRONGEST IN ONTARIO—LE DEVOIR

Montreal, March 6.—Le Devoir says the official figures of the elections maintain the claim, often put forward by Le Devoir, that there was as much anti-conscription sentiment in Ontario as there was in Quebec. The figures show that while in Quebec there was a total of 243,478 votes cast against the ministry, in Ontario there were no fewer than 268,218 ballots against the Union Government and its policy. In general proportions the anti-conscription vote has been as strong in Ontario as it was in Quebec. Outside of Ontario and Quebec, the anti-ministerial vote was 248,316, or more than that of Quebec. In other words, there were twice as many anti-conscriptionists in the rest of Canada as there were in Quebec. This, of course, will not prevent certain newspapers asserting that Quebec is the hotbed of the opposition to conscription.

LIVELIEST OPENING IS SLATED FOR PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, March 6.—Monday, March 18, will be the liveliest opening of the Dominion Parliament since confederation. On this occasion, with the House meeting in the morning to elect the speaker, and the ceremonial opening fixed for the afternoon, it will be necessary for the members to sign the roll and take the oath before that hour. A start will probably have to be made at 9 o'clock. The oath will be administered by the officials of the House, and members to whom it is not administered before 11 o'clock will be unable to attend the first sitting.

As it has not been the custom since Parliament has sat at the Museum Building to assign seats except to ministers and the recognized Opposition leaders, members will be free to sit where they please. The absence of a definite plan for the seating of members under existing political conditions may mean that they will intermingle much more than they have done when party lines have been tightly drawn. Charles L. Panet will probably be appointed deputy sergeant-at-arms.

KAISER TURNS LOOSE MORE "GLORIOUS" BUNK

Stockholm, March 6.—Emperor William has telegraphed a message of congratulations to Field Marshal von Hindenburg on the "glorious conclusion" of the war on the eastern front. The telegram, as quoted in a Berlin dispatch, says further: "Now the costly prize of victory in the long struggle is in our hands. Our Baltic brethren and countrymen are liberated from Russia's yoke and may again feel themselves German. God was with us, and will continue to aid us."

KITCHENER MUNITIONS PLANT CLOSED BY THE GOVERNMENT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 6.—The Canada Blower and Forge Company of Kitchener, Ont., has been closed down by order of the Imperial Munitions Board, and it is considered doubtful here that it will open. The closing down was ordered at the instigation of the inspections branch, it being alleged that the company was not adhering to the standard in the manufacture of certain shells. A temporary suspension was ordered, but the impression here is that the plant will not re-open for the present at least.

It is stated that certain of the shells turned out were useless for purposes of warfare, though it is not hinted that there was any sinister design.

DEALERS STILL DECLINING ANY FUTURE ORDERS

Will Not Book Coal Business For Next Season's Supply Yet.

LICENSE BIG QUESTION

London coal dealers are in the dark as to next year's coal supply, and for this reason are unable to pass upon the advice, given by J. W. McCallum, London's fuel controller, that the consumers should lay in at least 75 per cent of their next winter's supply at once.

In the first place, the dealers state, they believe the people would do, if possible, just what Mr. McCallum advised without being told.

What is holding the dealers up is the fact that they do not know where they are at as to next season's supply. The present licenses issued by the United States Government for coal export, expires on the 31st of this month. New licenses will have to be issued. What the conditions will be are unknown. Until they know these and are able to find out something about the supply, the dealers are all refusing to take orders for next year.

There is a report to the effect that the licensing for export from the States next year will be on a different basis than this year. Transportation is to figure largely in the question. It is said that operators living closest to the different markets will be licensed to serve that market only. Each group of operators will be given certain districts to supply. Nothing authentic along these lines has been learned, however.

MAIN CORNER USED IN FLANKING MOVE ON DRAFT EVADERS

Military Police Accost Young Men on Downtown Streets.

If the mountan will not come to Mohammed, Mohammed will go to the mountain. This apparently is the slogan which guides the military police in this district in their work, for if the drafted men will not come to the army, the army will come to the drafted men.

At any rate the army went to the drafted men here Tuesday night, or rather in the person of its representatives the military police, it went to every man who looked as if he might be sufficiently young and strong to carry a rifle, and asked him for his papers.

Dundas and Richmond streets was the converging point of a flanking movement executed by the khaki police in an effort to corral all draft-evaders who ventured forth. The police were out in large numbers, and interviewed many of the young men who passed along the main thoroughfares between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock.

No men were apprehended in Western Ontario Tuesday, however, and apparently the eligible men are aware of the fact that they may be accosted on the street, and are carrying the documents that mean a safe passage for them.

HAIG'S MEN REACHED GERMAN SECOND LINE IN MONDAY'S RAIDING

Whipped the Boches Despite Their Strong Resistance.

London, March 6.—Field Marshal Haig reports that in Monday's raid at Warneton the British reached the German second line, killing 40 of the enemy and bringing back some guns. Casualties were light.

London, March 6.—"English troops raided the enemy's trenches early this morning east of Bulleicourt and captured a few prisoners and two machine guns," says today's war office report. "Our casualties were slight.

"Successful raids also were carried out by our troops last night north of the Scarpe and in the neighborhood of Lens.

"Southeast of Gouzeaucourt a hostile raiding party was repulsed.

"Additional prisoners and a machine gun were taken by us as a result of these encounters."

CITY'S LOSS $150,000 BY ITS FAILURE TO SELL BONDS IN 1915

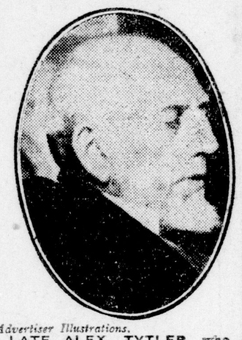

Could Have Saved This Sum, Declares Official.

That the city could have saved $150,000 by selling its debentures in 1915 is the statement made by a city official.

The price then was much more favorable than it has been, or will be, for some years, says this officer.

The city is today paying 6½ per cent for money, when it could have been obtained then for 6 and 5½ per cent.

VETERAN GROCER WAS PROMINENT IN CITY'S LIFE FOR 63 YEARS

Advertiser Illustrations.

LATE ALEX. TYTLER, who died at his Hyman street home this morning.

LONDON'S OLDEST BUSINESSMAN DIES; ILLNESS WAS SHORT

Alex. Tytler Succumbs to Pneumonia Today.

63 YEARS IN THIS CITY

Came in Year of Incorporation —Prominent in Its Life Ever Since.

Alex. Tytler, London's oldest businessman, died today at his residence, 251 Hyman street, after a brief illness. He was in his 83th year, and has been in business here for 63 years, during which time he was a conspicuous figure in London's mercantile life.

Mr. Tytler was an active man, and was engaged in his business, that of grocer's broker and insurance agent, until a week ago. He was not feeling well and decided to remain indoors. Tuesday he felt worse, and Dr. R. McGregor was called in. Pneumonia developed rapidly and he died at 3 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Tytler was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. He served his apprenticeship in the grocery business in Glasgow, and came to London in 1855, the year of London's incorporation as a city. He has resided here continuously ever since.

In his early life in the city he was engaged in business with such firms as Hugh Rose, R. S. Murray, and Kerr, McKenzie & Co. Later he embarked in the retail grocery business, opening a store on the present site of the Bank of Commerce. Later he sold out, the Federal Bank Building being erected on that site. He then opened up a store in the location which forms the eastern part of the present Smallman & Ingram store. A few years after he conducted a business opposite the old city hall.

About twenty years ago, he gave up the retail business and opened a grocer's brokerage office. During that period he kept in close touch with the wholesalers and businessmen of London, among all of whom he was extremely well liked. He was a close friend of the late Samuel Screaton and the latter's death a week ago came as a great shock to Mr. Tytler.

60 Years In St. Andrew's Church.

Mr. Tytler was the oldest member of St. Andrew's Church and has been active in its work for more than sixty years. He attended the old frame church built before the present St. Andrew's Church was built. He was a member of the board of management for nearly half a century. He was an uncompromising Presbyterian, and stood out gallantly against church union. He would not stand, as he frequently stated, to see the Presbyterian Church obliterated. His love for the church was almost pathetic.

In his business career he would not allow others to do what he thought he could do himself. Up to the last day he was at his office, he did all the outside business himself, and refused to give up. He was a strong Liberal in politics.

Never Aspirant For Honors.

Mr. Tytler was charitable in a quiet way. For many years he was chairman of the relief committee of St. Andrew's Church, and the poor of the congregation always had a good friend in him. He never sought political or municipal honors, although always taking the keenest interest in both. His popularity was such that he could readily have achieved honors had he so desired. In business he was honorable, honest and thorough.

"He was one of London's oldest businessmen, perhaps the oldest, and one of the most likeable and honorable men," said F. T. Yealland, a lifetime friend of his.

One daughter, Miss Margaret, at home, and one son, Alex. F. Tytler, of Elliott, Marr & Co., survive. The late Chine guns," says today's war office James D. Tytler, one of the best known bowlers and curlers in Canada, was a son.

LACK OF BILINGUAL KEYMEN SAVES ALFRED

Montreal, March 6.—Because there is a scarcity of bilingual telegraph operators competent to send and receive messages in both English and French, Mr. Justice Tellier yesterday exempted from military service Alfred Desilsets, 28 years of age, so long as he remains a telegraph operator in the service of the C. P. R. Company.

COMING TO ASSEMBLY.

Ottawa, March 6.—The Ottawa Presbytery will send sixteen commissioners to the General Assembly, which meets in London, Ont., next June. Eight of these representatives include Rev. T. J. Thompson, Rev. R. Gamble, Rev. W. P. Cramm, Rev. J. H. Turnbull, Rev. P. W. Anderson, Rev. R. B. Whyte, Rev. J. Cormack and Rev. P. J. McLaren.

DEATH CLAIMS JOHN REDMOND, IRISH LEADER

Great Chieftain of Nationalist Party Dies in London Hospital

London, March 6.—John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, died this morning.

Mr. Redmond, who underwent an operation in London last Friday, passed a fair day yesterday, and apparently was maintaining the progress shown Monday.

Mr. Redmond passed away peacefully at 7:45 o'clock this morning. Death was due to heart failure, following the recent operation.

The recent operation was for an intestinal obstruction. This was borne courageously, and it relieved the patient, but heart failure intervened on Tuesday night.

Condemned by Sinn Feiners.

With the entrance of England into the war, Redmond immediately defined his position as squarely with the Government in the earnest prosecution of the war. His support of the Government brought upon him the open and bitter condemnation of the Sinn Fein party, members of which at a public meeting accused him of being a traitor to the Irish cause. He maintained his loyal position even during the exciting days of the Sinn Fein revolution, decrying the rebellion, but attributing it to German plotting in the United States. When the rebellion had been put down he used all the eloquence of which he was capable in pleading for leniency toward the great mass of the rebels, and in urging a speedy settlement of the differences that had caused the revolt.

John E. Redmond was a brother of Major Wm. H. K. Redmond, who was killed while fighting under the British flag in France in 1917. Major Redmond was a member of parliament from East Clare.

Capt. Wm. A. Redmond, son of John E., member of parliament for East Tyrone, was awarded the distinguished service order medal for gallantry in the war.

For more than 25 years John E. Remond fought for home rule in Ireland and for a majority of that time he was the recognized leader of Ireland's "struggle for liberty." As chairman of the Irish parliamentary party—the Nationalists—he exerted a powerful influence in bringing about the creation of the Irish convention organized in July, 1917, to devise a system of government for the island.

Approved Convention.

When Premier Lloyd George in that year offered two methods of settling the vexed Irish question it was Redmond, who as spokesman for the Nationalists, rejected the proposition for a partition of Ireland and, instead, accepted Lloyd George's alternative plan for the convocation of the Irish convention in which Irish men of nearly all parties and creeds might meet in an effort to compose their difficulties and draft a constitution that would afford justice to all. Redmond was one of the delegates to the convention which sat at various times at Dublin, Belfast and Cork in 1917 and 1918.

In Commons Since 1881.

Born in 1851, son of W. A. Redmond, deceased, member of the British Parliament from Wexford, Ireland, John E. Redmond had sat almost continuously in the British House of Commons since 1881. There his parliamentary fights for home rule earned him the nickname of "Stormy Petrel of the House."

Educated in Clongowes Wood College, Kildare, and Trinity College, Dublin, Redmond was called to the London bar in 1886, and the Irish bar the following year, but he never practiced law. He devoted himself almost wholly to his parliamentary and political duties.

United Irish Factions.

Redmond's eloquence and his grasp of parliamentary procedure won him early recognition in Parliament, and when in 1891 the Irish party was disrupted, consequent on the Parnell scandals, he became the accredited leader of the Parnellites. In 1900 he succeeded in bringing about an amalgamation of the two leading Nationalist parties and made his position as Nationalist leader secure.

MOTOR CLUB CAMPAIGN FOR THOUSAND MEMBERS IS PROGRESSING BRISKLY

Complete Reports Will Be at Close of Canvass.

The London Motor Club's campaign for 1,000 members is well under way today. The twelve captains, with their teams, are calling on the 2,200 car owners in the city and expect to have made a complete canvas by 6 o'clock Thursday night.

"I have no detailed report from the captains," said G. M. Reid, chairman of the campaign committee, "but the reports received are most promising."

A dinner will be held at the Tecumseh House tomorrow night at 6 o'clock and then the reports of the captains will be received.

FURTHER PROTESTS TO GOVT. OVER FISH ORDER

Erie and Huron Fishermen Are Promised Consideration.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 5.—Two deputations waited on Sir William Hearst, prime minister, and Hon. Finlay MacDiarmid, minister of public works, today, to protest against the Government's policy in selling fish. One represented the Lake Erie Fishermen's Association, with about 700 members, and the other the Lake Huron and Georgian Bay Fishermen's Association, Brock McAuley, of Southampton, said the price offered by the Government is inadequate. Of 800 fishermen in Lake Huron and Georgian Bay, 150 as owners, have Government licenses. The Government price is only about half that paid by private dealers, he said.

Mr. MacDiarmid replied briefly to the deputations, explaining the attitude of the Government, but made no definite statement. However, he promised consideration of the request.

PRO-GERMAN HUNTERS ARREST A PROFESSOR

Atchison, Kas., March 6.—Dr. Frederick Konrad Krueger, professor of modern languages at Midland College here, was arrested last night on a special warrant issued by U. S. Attorney Robertson. The arrest followed three separate federal investigations, which disclosed what authorities believe to be pro-German propaganda.

BIG PROFITS IN FARM LAND IN THIS DISTRICT

$3,000 Advance in Eight Years On One 85-Acre Farm.

BIG RUSH FROM CITY

Townspeople Attracted to the Country Life, the Sales Records Show.

Local real estate agents predict quite an exodus of city dwellers to the farm this spring. They state that the demand for farms from London residents is brisk and sales are being made to Londoners.

The high price of produce has had a double effect. It is chasing people of the city back to the land and causing many farmers holding small farms to increase their acreage. The dealers say that the farms of from 50 to 100 acres are in the greatest demand. Many, however, are after small farms.

One agent reported that he this week sold an 85-acre farm on the Traction line for $11,000. Eight years ago he sold the farm for $8,000. The purchaser was a good farmer, and made money off it, besides his profit. Another dealer stated that four farmers had approached him during the past two weeks to solicit his aid in securing additional acreage.

There is a brisk demand for farms of about 60 acres, said another. Invariably the purchaser wants a little bush, so as not to have to depend on coal for fuel.

On the other hand there are few farmers retiring. There are comparatively few farms in the vicinity of London for sale, and not a great number for rent. They state that there will be very few farms in this vicinity go idle this season.

B. C. LIBERALS NAME HON. JOHN OLIVER TO SUCCEED BREWSTER

No By-Election and No Cabinet Changes Necessary.

Victoria, B. C., March 6.—At a fully-attended caucus meeting of the Liberal members of the Legislature held last evening, Hon. John Oliver was chosen as Government leader to succeed the late Hon. C. H. Brewster. He will be sent for by the lieutenant-governor this morning and subsequently will announce his cabinet. There will be no changes in the personnel of the Administration. Mr. Oliver will remain minister of agriculture and also minister of railways, in addition to being premier, and no by-election will be necessary owing to the new leadership. The vacancy arising in Victoria owing to the death of Premier Brewster will not be filled during the present session.

Last night's caucus lasted for three hours, and it was not until several ballots had been taken that Hon. John Oliver was finally chosen as leader.

The Legislature, which adjourned, owing to the death of Premier Brewster, will resume its session this afternoon.

FORMER HUN VESSEL TORPEDOED BY HUNS

An Atlantic Port, March 6.—The American steamship Armenia, formerly a German merchantmen, lies beached and badly damaged on the British coast after being torpedoed by a German submarine, it was learned with the arrival of the Armenia's crew here today. The attack took place on February 9, about three weeks after Secretary Daniels made public the details of a similar attack on the Armenia in December.

GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE IS SEEKING RECOUNT

Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 6.—Alex. Martin, Government candidate, defeated in Queens by John E. Sinclair, Liberal, by four votes, has started proceedings for a recount.

SOLDIER GOES TO "PEN."

Kingston, Ont., March 6.—Pte. Reuben James Smith of Gananoque, formerly of the 240th Battalion (Renfrew), was charged in the police court this morning with forging military checks and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. The prisoner was also charged with unlawfully carrying a revolver and stealing checks, but suspended sentence was handed out in these charges. One merchant in the city was "touched" for $197.

THEY'LL KNOW IT SOON.

Paris, March 6.—The Germans persist in declaring that they are not aware of the presence of American troops on the western front, writes the correspondent of the Temps with the British army in France. This, he says, may be pretence or the result of what they have been taught, but all prisoners, officers and privates, taken in the latest minor operations when asked about the Americans, invariably reply: "Yes, we know there is a division in France, and there never will be more. That is not enough to scare us."

CANADIAN LINER CALGARIAN SUNK BY GERMAN U-BOATS; 500 OF 610 ABOARD SAFE

Two Officers and 46 Men Lost by Torpedoing of British Merchant Cruiser Calgarian on March 1 — Carried Canadian Troops to England Last April.

Belfast, Ireland, March 2.—The British liner Calgarian has been torpedoed off the Irish coast.

There were 610 persons aboard, nearly 500 of whom have been landed at an Irish port. The Calgarian was struck by four torpedoes.

The official announcement was made by the Admiralty today that the British armed merchant cruiser Calgarian was torpedoed and sunk on March 1. Two officers and 46 men were lost.

The Calgarian was the Canadian Allan liner.

ON CRUISER DUTY.

Montreal, March 6.—The SS. Calgarian, sunk off the Irish coast, has been on cruiser duty in the North Atlantic steamship route since the war broke out. She has also made several trips from Halifax to England with distinguished passengers, on one occasion carrying Sir Robert Borden.

The Calgarian's navigating officer was Captain Kendall, who identified the murderer Crippen on the C. P. R. steamer Montrose, and was in command of the Empress of Ireland, sunk after collision with the Storstad, a collier, in the St. Lawrence in 1914. Captain Kendall also had a narrow escape from death at the time of the recent Halifax disaster.

The Allan Liner Calgarian was a vessel of 17,515 tons gross, 568 feet long and 70 feet beam, built in Glasgow in 1914. There are no published records of the recent movements of the Calgarian, which for some time has been in the service of the British Government. The last report given out concerning the liner was in April of 1916, when she sailed from Halifax for England with Canadian troops.

A most unusual circumstance in connection with the sinking of the Calgarian is the fact that she was struck by four torpedoes. So far as published reports have shown, in no previous case has a merchantman been subjected to such a heavy attack by submarines. Evidently the Germans concentrated U-boats to insure the sinking of the liner.

2,000 BANK CLERKS TO BE CALLED OUT

First Batch, 834, To Be Summoned on March 15.

Ottawa, March 6.—Two thousand bank employees will be called up for military service under a judgment rendered this morning by Hon. Justice Duff, central appeal judge. Of this number 834 will be called up on March 15. The remainder are to report for duty in three drafts, approximately equal, on May 15, July 15 and September 15.

Of the first draft of 834 to be furnished on March 15, the Bank of B. N. A. furnishes 25; Canadian Bank of Commerce 112; Dominion Bank of Canada 28; Bank of Hamilton 34; Imperial Bank of Canada 34; Merchants' Bank of Canada 60; Bank of Montreal 62; Bank of Nova Scotia 46; Royal Bank 120; Standard Bank 35; Bank of Toronto 37; Union Bank 67.

The judgment follows a series of hearings at which the bank's point of view was stated. In the majority of cases the claim for exemption had been based not on the special qualifications of the individual, but rather on the ground that efficient substitutes for the clerks could not readily be found.

After a careful examination of the facts, the conclusion reached is that, with the exception of those who may secure exemption on grounds personal to themselves and subject to the result of any special applications which may be entertained by the central appeal judge in regard to the small number of individuals holding positions of exceptional responsibility and requiring exceptional qualifications, all members of Class I in Canada who are now in Medical Category A or not yet examined (approximately 2,390) are to be called.

On January 25, 1918, the total number of male employees of all the banks was 11,872, while female employees numbered 6,775. Of the former 4,721 were in Class 1, and 2,390 were in medical category A, or not yet examined. Of these 370 have claimed exemptions on personal grounds.

From the beginning of the war down to January 15, 1918, bank employees to the number of 7,742 have enlisted.

RESOLUTION PLEDGING MANITOBA TO WAR WORK WAS UNABLE TO PASS

Winnipeg, March 6.—After having his "peace" resolution ruled off the orders of the House last evening, F. J. Dixon, Centre Winnipeg, succeeded in blocking Premier Norris' efforts to secure suspension of the rules and introduce a strong war resolution, pledging the entire resources of the province to the successful prosecution of the war.

The order paper for last night's session called for the clearing of the decks for prorogation today.

BELLAIRS SAYS SUB SINKINGS STILL HEAVY

London, March 6.—Before the close of the second day of the week's war Maidstone in the House of Commons yesterday gave submarine sinkings of merchantmen as averaging 70,000 tons weekly in January and 80,000 tons weekly in February.

BISHOP OF LONDON HAS GIVEN ALL TO THE WAR

London, March 6.—Before the close o fthe second day of the week's war bond campaign, tanks which are touring London and the provinces had brought in nearly £25,000,000.

The Bishop of London, speaking from the top of a tank today, declared he had invested his last hundred pounds in bonds and that all his income had gone. He said he was having his land plowed up for allotments and his houses had been turned into Red Cross hospitals.

MAINTENANCE MEN SETTLE.

Ottawa, March 6.—The department of labor has received word of the conclusion of an agreement between the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company and its maintenance of way employees as to wages and general working conditions, to date from January 1.

The differences between the men on the Canadian Pacific Railway, Grand Trunk, and Canadian Northern Railway roads and the respective companies were all adjusted.

NEAR TUSCANIA'S GRAVE.

An Irish Port, Monday, March 4.—The people of this town, who a few days ago won the gratitude of the American people by the kindness to the survivors from the Tuscania, have extended their hospitality in the last few days to nearly 500 men from the Calgarian, one of the finest auxiliary cruisers in the Atlantic service. The Calgarian was torpedoed in the late afternoon, not far from the place where the Tuscania met her doom.

The ship's bell had just sounded 4 o'clock when a torpedo struck. The shock was so slight that it was thought the vessel had merely touched a mine eastern. It was hoped to get her safely to port.

A considerable time later a second torpedo struck her, followed quickly by two more. By this time there were several trawlers and patrol vessels in the vicinity, and the work of disembarking the crew was hastened. By good fortune the Calgarian remained afloat on an even keel for some time, notwithstanding the four torpedoes.

It was possible to take off nearly all the crew, except men in the stoke holds and others who had been injured by the explosions.

Most of the rescued men were brought here. Hot meals and dry clothes were provided, and there were turned over to them the same beds which the Tuscania survivors had occupied a few days before.

NO NETS IN CHANNEL, BUT PLUCKY PATROLS KEEP OFF THE SUBS

London, March 5.—(Delayed)—The introduction of the naval estimates in the House today was made the occasion by Sir Eric Campbell Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, for a lengthy speech, in which he summed up the naval situation during the past year.

"On the whole, naval warfare during the past year has proceeded increasingly in our favor," said Sir Eric. "Occasional raids on our convoys and the English coast are a natural outcome of the blockaded enemy trying to harass the blockading fleet. The exit of the Goeben and Breslau (from the Dardanelles) was a raid of a similar character. The loss of the Breslau is a serious one for the enemy, and much outweighs, from the military viewpoint, the loss of our Raglan and M-28 (British monitors sunk during the engagement with the Goeben and the Breslau outside the Dardanelles).

"It has been common belief that the passage of submarines through the Straits of Dover has been prevented by nets and obstructions. That is not true. At night the patrolling craft, numbering over 100, burn flares, so that any submarine attempting the passage has a reasonable chance of being engaged.

"To raid this barrier the enemy came out on the night of February 14. I cannot comment on the incident, because the admiral at Dover has ordered a courtmartial to elucidate it; but I can pay tribute to the heroism and devotion of the men who, after being hammered by the warships, maintained their patrol, and went out again the next morning and ever since. Everything possible is being done to protect them."

BANDITS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS ENGAGE IN FIGHT TO DEATH

Covington, Ky., March 6.—Three men, two of them directors of the Ninth Ward Building and Loan Association, and the other a bandit, were killed last night when the bandit with two companions entered the meeting room of the association and ordered the directors to hold up their hands.

Chief of Police Theodore Klumper of Covington, who is a director of the association, and was present at the meeting, immediately opened fire on the bandits, shooting one through the head and killing him instantly. The other two bandits also opened fire and shot and killed Andrew Nordmeyer, 63 years old, president of the association, and John Rehm, 83.

About 25 shots were fired by Klumper and the bandits, after which the latter grabbed some money and made their escape in an automobile.

The dead bandit has not been identified. It has not yet been ascertained how much money the robbers secured.

FATALLY INJURED IN CHURCH RIFLE GALLERY

AMHERST, N. S., March 5.—J. Darcram Chapman, aged 17, was fatally shot in the shooting gallery of Trinity Methodist Church, last night, and died this morning. Chapman was acting as range officer, and how the bullet wound him is a mystery.

HEROES FROM VIMY AND LENS BATTLES HOME LAST NIGHT

Forty-Four Invalided Men Given Warm Welcome.

Invalided soldiers to the number of 44 sent back after "carrying on" in France and England, arrived at the C. P. R. Richmond street station at 7:30 last night.

In accordance with the new plan in use since the establishment of a clearing depot here, several of the eleven Londoners went to their homes with relatives, directly from the station. The remainder of the party, taken in motors to the Princess avenue barracks, were officially wecomed there by members of the various public bodies and organizations, assisted by the band of the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R.

One of the features of the clearing depot that lends perhaps more than anything else a homelike atmosphere to the place is the fact that men's relatives who have come to meet them are permitted to sit down with the men and enjoy a meal with them. Last night many little family gatherings, a mother and son, or a husband, wife and child, were to be seen holding impromptu reunions, chatting among themselves while supper was being served.

Perfect Meal System.

The perfection which has been reached in the manner of providing hot meals and warm beds for the men who return here is due in no small measure to the officers and men of the 7th Guard Details. The spick-and-span dining-room, the toothsome meals, the tidy bedrooms, all show that hard work has been done to keep things in tip-top shape. Owing to the uncertainty in the time of the arrival of the various parties of invalides that come here, it often happens that a hot meal is prepared for 50 or 100 men two or three times, only to have the party delayed. The men "carry on" cheerfully, however, and are always on the job when the returned men finally come in.

The party which arrived last night was expected at noon, but failed to make connections at Toronto. The men spent last night at the barracks here, and after being "boarded" by the doctors, those that are able will proceed to their homes on ten days' leave today.

Men Welcomed.

Following the supper the men were welcomed by Ald. Watkinson and Ald. Wilson, Sergt.-Major Bullen and J. W. Cunliffe of the G.W.V.A., Rev. H. D. Moyer, Ensign Snowden, Ed. Lance and J. J. Foote.

The London men in the party were: E. Crispin, 639 William street; W. Dinsmore, 70 Blackfriars street; W. Gales, 75 Glenwood avenue; M. Littlefair, 94 Sackville street; W. MacQuilne, 719 Princess avenue; A. Quinton, 24 Cove road; A. Sherlock, 945 Lorne avenue; A. James, London Junction, C. Miller, J. Murphy, H. Sampson, General Delivery.

Wounded at Lacollette.

Sergt. W. Skinner of Woodstock went overseas with the 71st, and received wounds at Lacollette. Sergt. A. Waters of Kenilworth, of the same unit, was wounded at Lens. F. Wilson of Woodstock was hit at Hill 70, after going over with the 168th. The same engagement resulted in wounds to J. Dalgleish of Windsor, a 48th Battalion man.

F. Martin of Wallaceburg, a 33rd man, was struck down at Lens; H. Wrigley of Wiarton was wounded at the Somme; E. C. Cooper of the 135th, a Strathroy man, received wounds at Vimy Ridge; P. McMahon of Kansas City, 91st Battalion, and T. Short of Rockwood, 133rd Battalion, were also hit at Vimy Ridge; and W. Sloan of Winnipeg, a member of the Lord Strathcona Horse, suffered wounds along the Somme.

CITY OF LONDON BILL INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Special Committee Will Amend Amusement Act.

TORONTO, March 5.—Sir Adam Beck introduced a bill in the Legislature today respecting the City of London.

Sir William Hearst announced that a special committee would be named to consider during the recess a number of proposed amendments to the amusement act.

Dr. E. Jessop (St. Catharines) introduced a bill to incorporate the town of Merritton and to separate it from the jurisdiction of the County of Lincoln.

LONG SERVICE MEDAL

Sergt.-Major W. J. White (W. O.), of the Royal Canadian Regiment, this city, has been awarded the long service and good conduct medal, according to an announcement in district orders.

Sergt.-Major White is at present engaged in instructional work here. He recently returned fro moverseas service with the 18th Battalion, of which he was battalion sergeant-major. He is one of the most popular of London's soldiers, and previous to the war saw long service in this city as a member of the Royal Canadian Regiment.

DISTINGUISHED ANGLICAN PRIMATE IS INVITED TO LONDON BY BISHOP

Archbishop of York Urged To Come Here During Canadian Tour.

Members of the Anglican communion of the city are expressing hope that it may be possible to secure a visit to London of one of the Empire's most distinguished ecclesiastics, the Right Honorable and Most Reverend Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York, who is at present paying a visit to the United States, and, it is stated, will spend the month of April in Canada. The Bishop of Huron, it is understood, has written to the Archbishop of York inviting him to honor London by a visit.

The distinction acceptance of the invitation would confer upon the city and diocese is appreciated when it is realized that the Archbishop of York is one of the two heads of the Church of England for Great Britain, and, indeed, the Archbishop of Canterbury and Archbishop of York are recognized as such throughout the Empire by virtue of the fact that they are primates of the mother church.

If the visit of Archbishop Lang can be arranged, doubtless visitors from all parts of the diocese will make a point of coming to London at the time.

Not in all the years of its history has London had the honor of receiving a guest of such high ecclesiastical rank in the Church of England. The last distinguished prelate from overseas to pay a visit here was Rt. Rev. Winnington Ingram, Bishop of London, beloved for his own personality as well as deferred to for the position he holds as Bishop of Old London diocese. The impressiveness of the service held in St. Paul's Cathedral on the occasion of his visit some ten years ago, and the dignity and simplicity of his utterances made an indelible impression on the minds of those who were privileged to attend.

Gen. Shannon Commends Unit at Club's Inaugural.

The 33rd Comrades' Club, recently launched in London to keep the members of the old 33rd Battalion together, held its inaugural meeting in the G. W. V. A. Hall on Tuesday evening. Brig.-Gen. L. W. Shannon, Lieut.-Col. Alex. Wilson and Major H. T. Rance were present, and were royally received by those present, assisted by the W. O. R. Bugle Band.

Major Jewitt, Capt. Moore, Capt. Gandier and Lieut. Hessel were among the members of the battalion who delivered addresses. Not the least interesting of the guests was Pte. Dick Howitt, one of the battalion's original members, who was taken a prisoner by the Huns and who later escaped. He threw some interesting light on the life of the prisoners in Germany.

Drum-Major A. W. Nanfan was awarded permanent custody of the bandmaster's staff of the 33rd Band.

The executive committee presented a set of rules which it had prepared. These were ratified by the meeting.

Brig.-Gen. Shannon said there would always be a warm spot in his heart for the men of the 33rd, which unit, he asserted, was one of the best that ever left Canada. The general said he felt sure that had the battalion been allowed to go over as a unit it would have made a great name for itself. Perhaps it might have become more famous than it is. He was pleased with the idea of forming a social club, where the men could get together and fight the battles over again. He was sure it would be pleasant for those who had gone through the thick of the fight to assemble in the club rooms and recount their experiences. More so, perhaps, as they were separated in the various units at the front.

The general's wish for the club was that it might be highly successful and that its lofty aims may be realized.

Lieut.-Col. Alex. Wilson, former O. C. of the 33rd, said that good reports had come to him from every officer who had men of the 33rd under him. He was pleased that they had upheld the honor of the battalion, but was sorry he did not have the honor of taking the battalion to France as a unit. He was pleased with the formation of the club. It would help to preserve the memory of those brave lads of the battalion who will never come home.

"Three hundred of our comrades," he said, "sleep in the fields of France and Belgium. I hope that there will be many more of the boys come back to strengthen the ranks of the club."

Lieut.-Col. Wilson cautioned the men in regard to being too ready to voice opinions on momentous questions of the day. At the present time every sympathy was extended to the returned men. Their numbers will greatly increase, however, and then this will not be the case. The colonel counselled them to have a discussion before the club on all important matters before making their opinions public. If the Government did not treat them right, he suggested that they should bring their grievance before the club. Concerted action would be sure to right matters.

SAYS ENGLISH NURSES ARE "PERFECT ANGELS"

Wounded Southwold Soldier Grateful for Their Ministration.

F. Adams, R. R. No. 2, Southwold Station, is in receipt of a letter from Pte. A. Hamilton, West Sandling, Kent, England, in which the latter outlines in a graphic manner the circumstances under which he was wounded at Hill 70 during an engagement last fall.

Pte. Hamilton was shot through the forearm during an attack his company was making on German trenches. The shrapnel bullet caused a compound fracture. On the way back to the dressing station at Loos, he and other men, wounded, but still able to walk, were subjected to the most intense shell fire.

Speaking of his treatment in the hospital in England, Pte. Hamilton says: "The nurses here in England are perfect angels."

In another portion of his letter he says: "Well, I may say that I didn't vote for the Union Government."

In closing, he predicts big changes after the war, and thinks labor will rule, and that capitalists will be replaced by the common people.

VOCATIONAL TALKS AT H. S. GIRLS' CLUB

Miss Stanley and Miss Gahan Guests of Honor at Collegiate.

The High School Girls' Club has been conducting meetings for the past month along vocational lines. On Monday afternoon the second of these vocational meetings was held in the lunch room of the collegiate, Miss Stanley of Victoria Hospital, and Miss Gahan of the London public library, addressing the girls. Miss Gemmill, the president, was in the chair.

Miss Stanley spoke on nursing as a profession, going into the history of nursing and showing its development along modern lines. She made clear the requirements of a good nurse, explaining the executive work and line of study necessary, and pointing out instances where nurses had reached the top of the ladder in their profession, and how they did it.

Miss Gahan gave an account of library work, explaining fully what was necessary to obtain an entrance into this work, and mentioning the library schools in the States. She explained that library work, as carried along the lines suggested in the library schools, was a new development in Ontario.

After the meeting was adjourned afternoon tea was served.

GUELPH CHANGE IN CITY GOVERNMENT NOT FAR ENOUGH

Local Officials Believe Council Control Should Be Greater.

At the city hall the opinion prevails that the city of Guelph bill, reported on favorably by the private bills committee of the Legislature, which gives the council control of all spending bodies save the hydro department and the board of education, is a step in the right direction. In the judgment of local officials, however, the Guelph measure does not go far enough.

"In the plan I suggested of civic government, it provided for taking in both the utilities commission and the board of education," said City Clerk Sam Baker. "Controller Moore had the same idea. The Guelph bill does not go far enough, although it is a step in the right direction. My idea is to give the council control of all spending bodies. The council would meet, scan the estimates, pass them, and then each subsidiary body could go ahead and administer the departments, much the same as now. The council would be legislative, not administrative, in function. It would get away with the discussion over small items as at present, and would take away much of the detail work, with which the council has to do. This would be done in committee after the estimates had been passed.

"It seems to me that it would result in much good, and would get better results from the standpoint of the citizens."

ONLY PAVING THAT IS NECESSARY WILL BE DONE THIS YEAR

Board Will Curtail Expenses in Interests of War Economy.

At a meeting of the board of works Tuesday evening it was decided, in the interests of wartime economy, to do no paving this year except in the case of absolutely necessary repairs. This includes the omission of any construction of gutters, storm sewers or curbs.

The motion to discontinue paving this year was made by Ald. O. G. Keene and seconded by Ald. G. B. Drake. Each argued because of wartime conditions, and as the city taxes were high, it was time to curtail expenses in some way, and the discontinuance of any further paving, they declared, was the best answer to the question.

Controller J. H. Saunders expressed belief that it might be unwise economy to retrench too far.

City Engineer H. A. Brazier declared that there was nearly sufficient asphalt now in stock to do all the repairing necessary this year. Most of the patching will be on Richmond street north.

The question of whether the streets should be oiled or watered was laid over for further consideration.

City Engineer Brazier submitted figures that watering would cost $20,000, whereas oiling would represent an outlay of approximately $20,000.

J. D. Long, representing the Oakal Company of Guelph, laid a plan before the members for converting the city garbage into fuel. His plan was to convert the garbage into fuel by adding coal dust, chemicals and other combustibles, the whole to be pressed then into brick form. Thirty tons of garbage would, said Mr. Long, make 60 tons of fuel.

The members of the board asked for further information on the scheme before committing themselves to the adoption of the plan. The members of the board of trade will have the proposition outlined to them at the Friday night meeting.

The request of the city engineer for an additional telephone was laid over. Ald. Drake was of the opinion that a switchboard should be installed at the city hall.

The estimates of Engineer Brazier were submitted and resulted in considerable discussion on certain items.

It was decided to do away with the drinking water service at No. 1 bathing camp, thereby saving $315.

IN JAIL, BUT WANTS TO ANSWER CALL TO CANADIAN COLORS

London Boy in Detroit Writes for Information.

A lonely London boy, who is in Wayne County Jail, Detroit, writes to the officer in charge of the local mobilization centre asking for information whether he has been called for service or not. He states that he is anxious to answer the call.

The letter follows:

Dear Sir.—I wish you would inform me if I have been called for service yet. At present I am detained in jail by the federal authorities awaiting trial by grand jury. Any information you would give me would be greatly appreciated in this matter, as I am anxious to go immediately upon call.

ACCEPTS INVITATION FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Pastor of Memorial Methodist Church Remains in Charge.

Rev. B. H. Robinson of Memorial Methodist Church, North Richmond street, has accepted an invitation, extended at the regular meeting of the quarterly official board to remain as pastor of the church for another year.

The invitation was made by unanimous vote of the board, and the pastor thanked the board and congregation for loyal sunport and co-operation during the year.

All branches of the church work were found to be in excellent condition, and good results are looked for during the coming year.

200 THRESHERMEN EXPECTED HERE AT ANNUAL MEETING

Brotherhood's Convention Is Opened This Afternoon.

Representatives from the Ontario Highways Department and the Ontario Department of Agriculture will deliver addresses at the fourth annual convention of the Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen, which opened this afternoon in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

W. H. Morton, Parma, Mich., president, and Wm. Kohlmeyer, Henderson, Mich., secretary of the Michigan State Threshers' Association, and other members of the Michigan organization are present, and will take part in the discussions. John Farrell, who until recently was manager of the London Branch of the Ontario Employment Bureau, will also deliver an address.

The executive committee held a meeting this afternoon for the purpose of passing accounts and transacting routine business. Final details of the convention were also perfected.

That the association is already making its influence felt to the benefit of the threshers and the farmers of Ontario was the opinion expressed by President Sam Oakes.

Mayor C. R. Somerville will officially welcome the delegates to London at the session this evening. Addresses will also be given by the president and others. Delegates who have anything of general interest will be given an opportunity to address the meeting.

"How best to use power when not threshing" and "Is it profitable for threshers to carry a full crew" will be among the questions discussed during the Thursday morning session. Reports will also be presented by delegates who attended the Michigan State threshers' convention at Lapeer in March, 1917.

Addresses by representatives from the Ontario Department of Agriculture and the Ontario Highways Department, and by visitors from Michigan will be given during Thursday afternoon.

The Thursday evening meeting will be taken up with the discussions of laws relating to bridges and the best method of meeting the high cost of labor, machinery, and supplies.

Large numbers of the brotherhood have already arrived, and it is expected that over two hundred will be present.

38 ACCEPTED FOR OVERSEAS SERVICE, FIVE ARE REJECTED

Big Rush of Volunteers at the Armories Tuesday.

After the usual slack weed-end recruiting at the local mobilization centre took a decided jump Tuesday. Thirty-eight recruits were accepted for the various units stationed in this district.

Twenty-nine volunteers came from the British Canadian Recruiting Mission, and eight from Windsor. Five recruits from the States were rejected.

Eighteen of the volunteers were Canadians, ten English, seven Scotch, four Americans, two Russians, one Australian and one Syrian.

Another group of men arrived this morning from the British Canadian Recruiting Mission.

NUMBER OF LOCAL ACTIONS WERE HEARD

Appeals Come Before Appellate Division at Toronto.

A number of London cases were heard in the appellate division at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Tuesday before Chief Justice Mulock. Justices Clute, Riddell, Sutherland and Ferguson.

They were:

Struthers vs. Chamandy—G. H. Kilmer, K.C., for defendant. G. S. Gibbons (London) for plaintiff.

Appeal by defendant from judgment of Masten, J., of 15th June, 1917.

Action for declaration that plaintiffs have a first lien on leases and premises of A. Essa & Co., to amount of their debt, and to set aside a chattel mortgage from A. Essa & Co. to defendant. At trial judgment was granted plaintiff declaring security of defendant invalid and nugatory as against plaintiffs and each of them and ordering defendant to pay plaintiff's costs with certain exceptions. Appeal argued. Judgment reserved.

Jones vs. Jones—J. M. McEvoy (London) for defendant. J. Montgomery for plaintiff.

Appeal by defendant from judgment of County Court of Middlesex of 9th January, 1918. Action to recover possession of house and garden. At trial judgment was given plaintiff for possession of lands with costs. Judgment set aside, with costs of trial and of this appeal to be paid by plaintiff within one month after taxation. If so paid new trial granted. If not so paid action dismissed with costs.

Robinson vs. London Life.—J. M. McEvoy and E. Jeffery (London) for defendants. C. W. Bell and T. B. McQuesten (Hamilton) for plaintiff.

Appeal by defendants from judgment of Falconbridge, C.J., of 28th January, 1918.

Action by widow of J. E. Robinson to recover $1,000, on alleged insurance of her husband's life for that amount. At trial judgment was given plaintiff as asked. Appeal partially argued but not concluded.

In the weekly court, before Justice Middleton, there was another local case.

Lusty vs. Roberts—J. M. McEvoy (London), for plaintiff, obtained order on consent continuing injunction granted by local judge at Lodon until trial. Costs reserved to trial judge.

MONTREAL, March 5.—George A. Ward, secretary-treasurer of the city of Verdun, Quebec, for the last twenty years, and an authority on municipal law, was found dead in his bed early this morning.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN HYDRO POWER SHORTAGE

Utilities Manager Looks for No Change Until September.

The Niagara power situation has not changed, according to reports at the utilities commission's offices. The amount set aside for London was exceeded for a day or two this week, but it is now about normal.

While the hydro-electric commission has increased its amount of power, there is still a demand, it is claimed, much greater than the available supply.

"We do not look for much change until the commission has a great deal more power for distribution," said General-Manager E. V. Buchanan. "That will not happen until September or October. There is a great shortage of power."

BISHOP RETURNING.—Bishop Williams is returning home today, after conducting confirmation services at Leamington.

Granny's Talk to Young Mothers

"Granny" Chamberlain

"Few young mothers realize the extent to which a cold lowers the system and makes it susceptible to disease. The majority of diseases arise from germs, but it is not widely known that a healthy system will repel their attacks. Mothers should never allow a cold to run for 24 hours without attention. If this is made a rule there will be less sickness for young mothers to worry over. A good reliable medicine for coughs, colds, croup and bronchitis should always be kept in the home. You may say that you have no confidence in cough medicines, but that is because you have never tried the medicine that is thoroughly reliable and has stood the test of half a century. There is nothing in it unsuitable for even the baby.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water, before breakfast, for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithiwater drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

CITY BREVITIES

MEETS FRIDAY AFTERNOON.—The regular monthly meeting of the Lorne Avenue Mothers' Club will be held in the kindergarten of the school at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

SIGNS OF SPRING.—Signs of spring are not lacking now, and the clean-up on the "park" at the Grand Trunk depot is listed among these. Rakes are in use to get rid of some of the winter debris.

DISCUSSING GRANTS.—The finance committee of the city council will meet this evening for the purpose of discussing grants to charitable institutions and dealing with other questions in connection with the estimates.

FROST GOES OUT.—Frost is rapidly disappearing from the ground and the springlike mud on many of London's streets bears ample testimony to this fact. Already drivers are registering complaints against muddy roads.

AT MICHIGAN CONVENTION.—President Sam Oakes, Strathroy, of the Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen, and J. Cushman of London attended the annual Michigan State Threshers' convention at Lansing, Mich., last week.

MANY COMPLAINTS.—Many complaints as to condition of city sidewalks are being registered. On many blocks sidewalks have been heaved by frost, and in other cases the excavations for gas, sewer and water connections have fallen in, breaking away the cement.

$80.31 FOR RED CROSS.—The Overseas Chapter, I.O.D.E., through Mrs. M. I. Fitchett, treasurer, has remitted $80.31, being the proceeds from concert held in the Majestic Theatre on February 17th, for the benefit of the Italian Red Cross.

GUARDING TURF.—Horse and vehicle traffic across Carling Heights is prohibited, and while the frost is going out of the ground, all vehicles must keep to the roads, according to camp orders, which state that every care must be taken to preserve the turf.

COMPLAIN OF DUMPING.—Residents of Carfrae street, South London, have again complained of the dumping of garbage on this street. They claim that denials have been made at the city hall that garbage is being dumped, but in spite of this the practice continues.

ASKED WAGE INCREASE—FIRED.—Eighteen special constables employed by the Grand Trunk around its Toronto terminals were dismissed by Chief Special Agent Hodge yesterday because they requested a ten-dollar-a-month increase to $75. No local constables are affected.

DR. BEAL SPEAKS.—There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the Alumnae Association of Victoria Hospital, which was held last evening, Dr. Norman H. Beal speaking on "Cancer and the Nurse's Relation to the Care of the Disease." Mrs. A. C. Josephs was in the chair.

WANT SOLDIER ACTORS.—The S. J. Meredith Company is anxious to secure the voluntary assistance of returned soldiers who sing or possess dramatic ability. Their abilities will be directed toward war relief if they communicate with Capt. Ed. Bellinger or Mr. Meredith, Phone 4167.

JAP RECRUIT REJECTED.—Frank Furuta, a Japanese, who appeared before the medical board at the local Mobilization Centre on Tuesday in an effort to enlist, was placed in Category E, unfit for service. Mr. Furuta informed the medical board that he would stay in the city if he could get employment.

WANT STUMPS REMOVED.—Residents on whose property trees have been cut down this winter by city gangs for use as firewood, are now requesting that the stumps be removed. In some sections these stumps are frequent. It will require considerable work and no little expense to have them taken out.

R. E. O. A. TO GET COPY.—Gordon Philip, commissioner of industries, has a copy of a bill which is before the Legislature, giving either tenant or property owner the right to cancel a year's lease on three months' notice. A copy will be sent to the Real Estate Owners' Association and other organizations interested for their information.

STOCKING UP.—Hardware and implement dealers, anticipating a greater rush than ever for backyard and vacant lot production are stocking up as never before with garden tools. Trade reports for London credit the dealers with enormous purchases of rakes, spades, hoes, etc. This year there is a bigger demand for the wheel hoes and other larger garden implements.

BACK TO NORMAL.—The river is still back to its normal height. In spite of this fact there are those who have followed the vagaries of the Thames for forty years, and more who declare that the river will come back for what it has left, in the way of ice floes in the flats. To attain such a height would mean a good many feet rise. The optimists take a more cheerful view of the situation.

MAKING GOOD IN STATES.—Walter C. Young, a former well-known Londoner, is now successfully managing a large poultry farm at Dayton, Ohio, and has been licensed by the American Poultry Association as a judge of all varieties. While a resident of this city Mr. Young was an enthusiastic poultry fancier, and an active worker in the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association.

THREE CASES RE-ENTERED.—Three cases adjourned from the last sitting of the supreme court have been entered for trial at the spring assizes, commencing on Monday, March 18. Watkins vs. Kellerman will be heard by a jury. Hoehn vs. Marshall and Lashbrook vs. Sweitzer are re-entered as non-jury actions. No criminal cases are yet listed, although Clifford Ellson, awaiting trial on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a young girl, may elect trial at the assizes. Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge will preside.

INQUEST TONIGHT.—The inquest into the death of Harry W. Millie, G. T. R. brakeman, of 499 Quebec street, who died as the result of injuries sustained at Kingscourt Junction on Saturday afternoon last, when he slipped and fell beneath a moving freight car, will be held at the police station tonight. Coroner Robert Ferguson will preside. It was while in the act of attempting to make a coupling that Millie's feet slipped on the icy rail and he was thrown beneath the wheels of the car. His left leg and thigh were so badly crushed that he died five hours later in Victoria Hospital from shock and the loss of blood.

COMMITTEE FINISHES WORK.—Members of the sub-committee of the London Methodist Conference, who were in the city Tuesday in connection with planning for the missionary work of the next conference year, returned to their homes last evening. As a result of the sessions several recommendations will be presented to the conference missionary committee in regard to the educational and other features of next year's missionary program for the church in this conference. Those who attended the sub-committee meeting were Rev. S. R. Muxworthy, Exeter, president of conference; Rev. D. N. McCamus, Blenheim; Rev. G. N. Hazen, Sarnia, and Charles Austin, Chatham.

SCHOOL CHILDREN OF LONDON RAISED $5,236.39 IN YEAR

Patriotic Givings Featured in Inspector's Report.

Inspector C. B. Edwards of the public school staff presented his annual report to the board of education Tuesday afternoon, and it is a most interesting document.

Much space is given to the patriotic work, and he presents a most interesting account of the interest shown by teachers and scholars. The report, in part, follows:

Public Schools and Patriotism.

During the present year the teachers and pupils of our public schools have contributed liberally, both in money and work, towards the various patriotic activities that have in view the comfort of the men at the front, and the wounded soldiers overseas, and those who have been invalided home. A total amount of $5,236.39 has been contributed in cash to the following funds: The patriotic and Red Cross funds, February, 1917; the Overseas Club, the British Red Cross, October, 1917, and the Edith Cavell memorial for the soldiers' infirmary, in connection with the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, for tubercular returned soldiers.

The girls of the household science classes, to the number of about 1,200, have provided a large amount of Red Cross material, in the shape of socks, wristlets, girdles, washcloths and bandages. In September and October the household science classes canned about 2,000 quarts of plums, peaches and pears for the three convalescent hospitals in London.

The boys in the manual training classes made for sale, chairs, lamps, tables and other articles, which were sold, and the proceeds devoted to patriotic purposes. In addition to this, many pupils, not included in the classes mentioned above, have done knitting, and turned their articles into the local Red Cross.

Public School Roll of Honor.

The following members of the public school staff are enrolled in various units of the C. E. F.: Lieut. Geoffrey Wheable of the 1st Battalion was seriously wounded at Passchendaele on November 9, 1917. He went overseas in April, 1915. Lieut. H. B. Galpin of the 55th Battery left for England in September, 1916, and went to France in October, 1917, where he has been slightly wounded. Cadet Harold A. Jackson enlisted in October, 1917, in the Royal Flying Corps. In November, 1917, L. D. McCamus enlisted in the 63rd Battery. Lance-Corp. E. W. J. Bowes is in the W. O. R. Lieut. G. S. Wright left for overseas with a draft of the W. O. R. in February, 1918. Miss Jean McCrimmon, one of our kindergarten teachers, is in the 28th Division of the St. John Ambulance.

School and Home Gardens.

In March, 1917, a circular was sent to the principals of the public schools, suggesting that they conform to the circular of the minister of education, and the inaugural address of the chairman of the board of education, in encouraging their pupils to aid "The Production Movement," by working in the school or the home garden. In only one school was there land enough to enable the teachers and pupils to have a real school garden. In another school district the pupils under the leadership of several ladies, very successfully cultivated two large school gardens, one for boys and one for girls. From reports made by principals, in May, it was learned that there were 3,276 pupils who were either working in their own home garden or assisting in others.

Another item of interest is in connection with the health of the pupils.

Health Provisions.

School Nurses—The three school nurses divide among them, the various schools, which they visit according to a regular schedule. They are at liberty, however, to vary this in cases where there is any outbreak of contagious disease among the pupils attending a school. In addition to examining the pupils, as to eyesight, hearing, nose and throat defects, they treat, at the request of the medical officer, and the parents, many cases of mildly contagious diseases, thus preventing the children affected from being excluded from school. One of the most helpful features of their work consists of visits to the homes from which the children come with infectious diseases, or physical defects. Children showing signs of tuberculosis are usually detected by the school nurse, and if, on examination, by Dr. Craig of the Byron Sanatorium it is found that a child is suffering from the disease, it is transferred to the preventorium, where it receives not only treatment, but education in the school attached to the institution.

School Dentist—The board of education has availed itself of the departmental regulations, which permits the employment of a dental inspector. This branch of the health work has been in operation since January of the present year, and present indications show a marked influence on the parents, teachers and pupils. Dr. Fuller has visited all the public school classes in the city, where he has delivered an interesting talk, showing the value of a clean mouth and clean teeth, and how these can be secured and kept. Following this, he receives in his office, situated in Aberdeen School, cases sent to him by the school nurses, from this and the adjacent schools. The dentist is on duty from 9 till 12 each school day.

ANOTHER THEATRE PROJECTED HERE, DECLARE RUMORS

Another theatre is projected in London, according to the latest rumor.

A businessman on Dundas street, near Wellington, has been notified that the lease of the store he occupies is terminated, and that it is to be used as an entrance for a new theatre.

The new place will have an entrance on Dundas street, and will be built in the rear.

It is rumored that the Allens of Hamilton, who have been building many theatres of late, are behind the proposition.

The rumor could not be confirmed this afternoon.

UP TO SIX YEARS.—Emphasis is laid by the executive of the London Child Welfare Association on the fact that the first permanent clinic to be held on Tuesday from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. in Victoria Hospital is for children up to six years of age. During the child welfare exhibit, the clinic was only open to children under three years.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 6—Wall Street, 1:30 p.m.—Moderate selling during the intermediate period caused reacttions of 1 to 2½ points in shippings, General Motors, Baldwin Locomotive and Industrial Alcohol. Rails retained the better part of their gains, but steels yielded fractionally.

VARIED ARE SPOILS OF TRINKET FUND CANVASS OF LONDON

Many Are Parting With Valued Family Heirlooms.

Some people are giving until it hurts in the silver thimble and trinket fund canvass in progress in the city. Gold and silver treasures, which have become a part of life itself are being sacrificed to do their bit in making sure that 75,000 cups of hot coffee at least a day are distributed by the Y. M. C. A. to the boys at the front lines, who are giving all, even life.

Mrs. McLeod, Manager J. E. Magee and Miss Betty Thornley sorted the treasures as they were brought in. The spoils were varied. A handsome, long, gold watch chain was one to attract attention. It was a gift that hurt from one of the city's most honored and beloved women workers, Mrs. Gregsten. It had been the wedding gift to her of her husband.

Fine Results Tuesday.

Trinkets and silverware of every description were gathered in the first day's campaign, the canvassers reporting that the people are willing and ready to give. The obliging bankers stored away in their vaults a curious conglomeration of valuables from a tiny baby thimble and thin old wedding ring to large sized silver cake dishes. Money has also been received. One lady in the city has some valuable old jewelry which belonged to her mother, consisting of two gold bracelets and a gold rope chain and locket set with four diamonds and pearls. These she proposes to send to Toronto, where the sale will be good, and give the proceeds to the trinket fund.

Owing to the disagreeable weather of Tuesday, the canvassers are only getting nicely started today. There are some four hundred in the field.

Cash Subscriptions.

Cash subscriptions amount to $75, including a generous one of $40.

One mother with a son serving his country, donated two crisp $20 bills, and insisted upon only having the initials "F. G. B." attached.

A woman who earns her daily bread by scrubbing, walked blocks in the rain on Tuesday to make her offering of $1.

On being opened an envelope sent in by a small boy was found to contain 56 cents in pennies.

One very interesting advertisement in connection with the campaign is the dugout which has been constructed at a great deal of pains in the window of Heintzman's store. Here may be seen a true-to-life mud-bespattered dugout, such as the Y.M.C.A. might use in France to serve coffee to the soldiers. A tripod from which hangs a pot is filled and running over with trinkets of various kinds, symbolic of the way in which London will fill the soldiers' coffee pots to overflowing. On guard beside the dugout is the inevitable dog, so well known when placarded "His Master's Voice."

OFFENSIVE REMARKS TO PROVEST-MARSHAL COST CIVILIAN $10

Magistrate Issues Warning as to What Repetition Will Mean.

John Birk, 182 Simcoe street, and a Central avenue man were found guilty in police court today of disorderly conduct on charges laid by Major Baron Osborne, provost marshal.

Birk was fined $10 and costs or 10 days in jail, and his companion was allowed to go with a reprimand.

Major Osborne testified he heard someone call, in loud tones: "How old are you? Let me see your papers." In looking around, he noticed Birk standing near the edge of the sidewalk. He approached and questioned him as to his reason for the statements.

Birk's reply, said the major, was none of his business. As Birk refused to give any satisfactory explanation, he was taken to the police station. His friend protested and was also taken along.

Birk, in his defence, admitted he had made use of the remarks sworn to by Major Osborne, but said they were directed towards a friend of his who was entering the door of a poolroom.

"There is no doubt that the expressions were intended in an offensive way, and that they were intended for Major Osborne," said the magistrate. "A military officer performing his duty or minding his own business is not going to be subjected to offensive remarks by civilians on the streets if I can do anything to prevent it."

Birk announced at this juncture that he had been in uniform a year ago, and had been discharged.

"That is a reason why you should not have acted in the manner you did, understanding, as you must, military discipline," commented the magistrate.

"This is the first occasion that I have been forced to take harsh measures with young civilians on the streets," said Major Osborne after court. "To their credit, the young men of this city have acted very decently when approached and questioned concerning their papers."

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MRS. TARLING BURIED.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret M. Tarling, who died Saturday, was held from the family residence, 28 Miles street, Tuesday morning.

Requiem high mass was sung by Father A. Finn at St. Peter's Cathedral. Interment was made at St. Peter's Cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Thomas Blanchard, S. Houston, W. Gregory, G. Gregory, W. Fenn, E. Pullman.

DIED IN MARITIMES.

Mrs. Charles Fewings, 152 Tecumseh avenue, received a telegram at noon today informing her that Walter Fewings, a son, had died suddenly at St. John, N. B. No particulars are given as to the circumstances concerning the young man's death. He was born in this city, and for some years past has been employed by the Ford Motor Company. He was transferred to the eastern branch several months ago.

He was chief accountant of the branch at St. John, having recently been transferred from the head office.

APPROVES HEARST'S STAND.—The London Presbytery passed a resolution at its meeting Tuesday afternoon approving of Premier Hearst's stand against any increase in the strength of beer.

STOP A MOMENT! LISTEN TO THIS

Cincinnati man tells how to lift off any corn without hurting one bit

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky substance which dries the moment it is applied, and is said to simply shrivel the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callous.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

VINOL MADE THIS RUN-DOWN WOMAN STRONG

Her Signed Letter Proves This. Read it

Keene, N. H.—"I was all run down, had no strength, no appetite and a bad cough, so that a good deal of the time I was unfit for work. My druggist told me about Vinol. I took it, and my cough soon disappeared, my appetite improved and I am strong and well again."—Mrs. Irine Davis, 50 Russell St., Keene, N. H.

Vinol is a constitutional cod liver and iron remedy which creates an appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, and in this natural manner creates strength. We guarantee it.

BLAMES NUTMEG WHISKEY.—Four young men were found guilty in police court today of intoxication, each being fined $10 and costs or 10 days in jail in default of payment. One of the quartet denied that he was drunk, but stated that he was subject to dizzy headaches which caused him to walk in a "wobbly" fashion. "I had one drink of nutmeg whiskey," he explained.

MONEY EARNS WAGES

Did it ever occur to you that when money works it is entitled to wages, just as you are?

To be sure, they are not called wages, but that is what they are. When money is loaned, it is working for somebody else, and its wages are called "interest" or "dividends."

Money is entitled to fair wages, just as you are. Furthermore, money seeks employment where wages (or interest) are highest, just as you do.

The Province of Ontario used to pay 4 per cent interest (or wages) for the money it borrowed. Today wages for money have gone up, just as wages for labor have, so that the province must now pay a wage of over 6 per cent for the money it hires.

The street railway is hiring money which has been put into track, paving, cars and equipment for giving London people the rides they need.

Should not that money have wages at least equal to those paid by the Province of Ontario, since the province's borrowings are secured by all property in Ontario, while the street railway's borrowings are secured only by track and equipment?

What would YOU do if you owned the Street Railway?

THE PROSPECTS OF PEACE.

LORD LANSDOWNE, earnestly searching for a possible basis of peace with honor, again thinks he sees some ray of hope in German utterance, this time in the speech of Chancellor von Hertling. He appears to base his theory rather on what the chancellor left unsaid than on what he said. The vagueness of the German's speech is not disconcerting to Lord Lansdowne, but encouraging, and the statement that Berlin is in accord with President Wilson's four cardinal principles "is satisfactory so far as it goes." The optimism of the British peer is founded on the possibility of the chancellor being willing to go much farther.

Is it not rather beneath the dignity of the Allies to put the speeches of German statesmen under the microscope in order to discover any peace germ that may be lurking in them? Such an attitude befits a nation at the end of its resources and fearful of the outcome of continued struggling. The Allies are not in this position; they are at the height of their strength, and have been reinforced by the vanguard of a mighty, new, determined army which is crossing the wide ocean to insure the achievement of the aims for which the Allied war was waged.

Lord Lansdowne, in common with some others, is so sorrowful over the fearful wastage which goes on without visible end that he lets this sorrow cloud his vision of the future. He does not desire a temporary peace which would result only in a greater war following, but he is so eager to have this struggle ended that he loses sight of what is necessary before permanent peace can be established.

Arthur Henderson, M.P., secretary of the British Labor party, has a clearer conception of what must be done before peace comes to the world, when he tells his audience at Eastham: "We must tell the German Socialists that we have done our part. Whether the struggle is to terminate soon or is to be indefinitely prolonged depends largely upon how soon they can produce a change of mentality in their Government. When they induce their Government to accept the broad human principles which inspire the proposals of Allied labor and socialism, then a world peace is assured. Then, only, will the peoples of the world agree to sheathe the sword and walk together in the paths of progress and peace."

The coming of peace without definite military defeat of one side or the other is "up to" Germany. While Prussian militarism retains its grip of the country and continues to threaten its neighbors, there cannot be insured peace. Mr. Henderson does not seem to hold out much hope for a complete Allied military victory, but depends on the policy of conciliation, as he calls it. When he explains that this policy means the destruction of militarism everywhere, many people will consider that his "conciliation" is one and the same in effect as a complete military victory for the Allies.

There must be no weakening of purpose on the Allied side, no looking for a loophole by which to escape from the struggle until the end is achieved. That kind of policy is, in part, responsible for Russia's plight today. Any sign of leniency is interpreted in Germany as a symptom of weakness, and is hailed with suppressed delight. It is a signal for the enemy to concentrate all his political forces on that weak spot, to agree with the waverers and to promise anything if only he can bring about slackening of national and military morale. What happens when he is successful, Russia shows. The broad, peace-loving smile of the German and the open hand held out in comradeship change to the savage, brutal sneer and the clenched fist holding a dagger, ready to stab wherever human flesh can be reached.

Russia dallied with German peace proposals and the world knows the result. The Allies must not fall into the same error and much less must they search for possible peace intent where none is expressed. When Germany openly offers peace and lays down her terms, including the elimination of militarism, it will be time to discuss them. Until then, shells, bullets and bayonets are the only reliable argument toward peace.

GERMANY—THE FRONT RUNNER.

SAYS George Archibald, a well-known American jockey, who has just been able to get out of Austria, and back among his own kind of people:

"Don't let this German peace talk fool you too much. Just give them a winning streak, and they'll insist on annexing New York and Chicago. On the other hand, if they pull an offensive just give 'em another dose of that Verdun stuff and they'll be eating out of your hand."

There's the gist of the situation from a man who by his contact with the ways and racing of horses knows something of men. Life is something of a horse race. There are horses with stout hearts and there are "front runners." A front runner is a horse that can beat all other horses when he has a long lead and a light jockey. But pile the weight on his back and give him some game horses to contend with and he will "quit like a dog" when the thunder of the honest hoofs comes up on his quarter. Germany runs like a "front runner." When her hordes get sweeping along with the force of great weight and a favorable start, they are in Paris, in their minds. But once the staying power of the other contenders begins to be revealed the German pace slackens. They have been known to "quit like dogs," and when the race has been finished their stamina will be shown up. The "front runner" may be the favorite in the betting, but when he gets a "dose of that Verdun stuff" he finishes up among the "also rans." The world's bankroll is not on the kaiser's nag.

SIN KIANG THREATENED.

GERMANY is apparently urging Russian forces to undertake or take part in an attack on the Chinese province of Sin Kiang, and the people of that district are said to be terror-stricken. They had already become alarmed because of the Teutonic attempts to stir up the Mohammedans of the province, and when they discovered that Russians were massing on their borders their fear became overwhelming, and they are pleading for arms and munitions to defend their lives and possessions.

When it is noted that this province is bounded on the southwest by Afghanistan and Northern India, the possible object of the Germans becomes evident. It would be a feather in the enemy's cap if he could send some forces into British India and stir up a serious revolt there. Doubtless the possibilities are recognized in Britain, and plans have been made to defeat any such attempt. Any hostile force which crossed the Indian border might find grave difficulty in recrossing it.

KEEP THE DUSSELDORF.

IT IS MOST unlikly that Britain will accede to the request of Norway and return to Germany the steamer Dusseldorf which, Norway says, was captured in Norwegian waters. The demand is German-inspired, and doubtless Norway, as a neutral, felt compelled to make it when asked to do so, but there the matter should end.

Germany has sunk Norwegian, Swedish and Spanish ships in neutral territorial waters on many occasions, and has caused the loss of scores of lives. In some instances she has paid for the material loss, and in others she has failed to do so. It goes without saying that she has not made good the lives sacrificed. Why, then, should Britain, because, in her humaneness, she captures a vessel instead of sinking it, return it to her enemy? It would be better, in these times of ship shortage, to pay for it, but better still to keep it, as repaying in part the losses sustained by Germany's illegal naval warfare. Germany has declared there is now no international law, and all her actions are based on that assumption.

THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

CANADA has not proved a profitable field for the publication of standard magazines, but where others have failed to make headway, The Canadian Magazine has succeeded, and has now celebrated its 25th birthday.

During its long existence, long in comparison with its contemporaries, The Canadian Magazine has introduced to the reading public many writers whose names since have become household words. Bliss Carman was a contributor during its first year, as was also Charles G. D. Roberts, with his "Songs of the Common Day," which were received with enthusiasm.

Among those whose works have appeared in the magazine may be found Canadian poets, essayists, novelists and short-story writers, including nearly all the notables in these branches of literature who have appeared in the last quarter century.

The Canadian Magazine has deserved its success, and its publishers may look to the future with confidence that still better things are in store. It has done its part in helping to create and preserve art and literature in the dominion, which, at the time of the magazine's establishment, was lacking in any history of these subjects. Its readers will join in wishing The Canadian Magazine continued prosperity and in looking forward to each issue with anticipation of pleasures in store.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Stay in Ontario. Saskatchewan is having the worst blizzard of the winter.

Col. Roosevelt leaves the hospital "feeling bully." That's good news. Long may he continue to feel that way.

Toronto people are accused of hoarding sugar. Hogging everything in sight has been the Queen City's forte for these many years.

Lloyd George emphasizes the late Gen. Maude's achievement in restoring British prestige in the east. The great importance of this is apt to be overlooked.

Allan Studholme, M.P.P., will gain friends by his attempt to protect the dogs. There are many nuisances among the canines, but then the human race is not free of these.

It may be taken for granted that whenever Sir Adam Beck undertakes to place the blame for power shortage or any hydro-electric trouble, it never rests on the all-powerful commission.

No one will disagree with those who say that the first contingent men have earned their discharge, but the conscription act has not succeeded in bringing enough new men to the colors to allow the early volunteers to get what they have earned.

CANADA'S FIFTH DIVISION.

[Vancouver Sun.]

The fifth division of the Canadian army is to be disbanded and the men used to reinforce the other four divisions. It is high time.

There never was any good excuse for the formation of a fifth division. It was notoriously organized to accommodate a lot of Canadian officers who were hanging around London, and looking for jobs.

The division was kept in England, nominally to be properly drilled, but really to provide superfluous officers with an excuse for existence.

This was one of the bad results of the application of the patronage system to army affairs. Something had to be done for the fellows with a political pull, who demanded commissions.

It is to the credit of the Unionist Government that they have finally mustered up courage enough to eradicate the scandal. Canada's half million—enrolled or prospective—will no more than suffice to keep four divisions up to full strength, especially during the days of stern struggle just ahead.

THE PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS' "TIP."

[Toronto Star.]

Mr. Rathom (of the Providence Journal) having stated after the burning of the Parliament buildings at Ottawa that he had warned the Washington authorities some time earlier that this particular act of incendiarism would be attempted, it is now charged, as disproving the truth of Mr. Rathom's statement, that the Washington authorities deny having received any such warning. But, of course, there are authorities and authorities. As no warning was, as far as we know, sent on to Ottawa from Washington, the presumption is that the warning did not reach the right person at the American capital, or, if it did, was not taken seriously enough to be either sent forward before the fire or admitted after it.

KILLED BY POISONS

All scientists agree that poisonous products in the blood are eliminated by the kidneys and liver. The kidneys act as a kind of filter for these products. When the kidneys are changed or degenerated, by disease or old age, then these poisons are retained in the body. If we wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily between meals to flush the kidneys. Then procure Anuric at a drug store. This Anuric drives the uric acid out. Scientific men have learned that in gout, also rheumatism, poisonous uric acid crystals are deposited in or about the joints, in the muscles—where inflammation is set up.

If we wish to keep our kidneys in the best condition a diet of milk and vegetables, with only a little meat once a day, is the most suitable. Drink plenty of pure water, take Anuric three times a day for a month.

You can obtain a trial package of Anuric by writing Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., or Bridgeburg, Ont., inclosing 10c.

St. Catharines, Ont.—"For sixteen years I have been a sufferer from kidney trouble; my back has ached almost continuously and I have had rheumatic pains in my arms, hands and lower limbs. I have doctored and tried every medicine recommended to me, but have never found the relief in anything (no matter how much I took) that I have found in one small package of Anuric. In one week the secretion cleared and my bladder was stronger than for years, so that I was not disturbed at night, where I always had to arise several times during the night. I only hope that many will read this and will try Anuric if they suffer with any sort of kidney trouble. "MRS. JACOB LONSBERY, 85 Albert Street."

BRITISH NOT WORKING TO LIMIT ON SHIPS, DECLARES FIRST LORD

Subs' Chances of Reaching Base One in Four.

London, March 6.—Sir Eric Geddes warns that British labor is not working to the limit on shipbuilding. They are too ready to take holidays. In waters around the British Isles great success has been achieved against the subs, but not so in the Mediterranean. In the latter field better results are expected. The Greek army is assisting. "For some months," said Sir Eric, "we believe that we and the Americans have been sinking subs as fast as they are built. The chances of a submarine returning to its base from a voyage in the waters around England was one in four or one in five.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION MAY BE PURCHASED, REPORT FROM MONTREAL

Montreal, March 6.—It was stated today that western interests, headed by James Playfair of Midland, were bidding for the purchase of the Northern Navigation Company's passenger service on the Great Lakes, and that $2,000,000 had been offered to Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, as owners of the Northern Navigation Company. President James Carruthers of the Canada Steamship Lines, admitted that there had been some offers, but there had not been an offer of $2,000,000. He intimated that if there were such an offer there might be business doing.

WESTERN ONTARIO BRIEFS

KITCHENER.—Emil Engel, aged 36, who died yesterday after an illness of three years, is survived by his wife, his father, three brothers, Albert and Edward of Waterloo, and John of Carleton, and four sisters, Mrs. Robert Descombes and Mrs. Harry Sheriff of Detroit, Mrs. W. Weaver and Mrs. W. Kuss of Kitchener.

WINDSOR.—Robert Ross and Earl Watson, of the Windsor police force, have resigned on the ground that the present scale of wages is not equal to living expenses, and both will go farming.

BLENHEIM.—The smallpox situation in South Harwich is steadily improving. No new cases have developed, and the patients under quarantine will be released shortly.

GALT.—Mrs. H. Devere, 57 Lowell street, was officially advised yesterday that her son, Pte. Harold Devere, 111th Battalion, is in the hospital with a gunshot wound in the leg. Two brothers are also with the 111th.

TILLSONBURG.—The provincial board of health's Child Welfare exhibit, which is being shown here under the supervision of Miss Knox of Toronto, is being largely attended.

MUNCEY.—Henry Germain has disposed of his farm on the Cook road to his son John.

WOODSLEE.—The Woodslee Farmers' Club has completed organization, and Secretary John Wilcox has been instructed to secure prices at once on various necessities in bulk.

WEST LORNE.—Machinery is now being installed in the new textile factory, and it is expected that operations will be commenced shortly.

CHATHAM.—Pte. Herbert McCall, son of I. McCall, is now in England taking a course to become signal instructor. He went over with the 241st Battalion.

BRANTFORD.—Bert Young for several years agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company, was sentenced to one year in jail by Judge Hardy yesterday afternoon on charges of embezzling $5,000 of the company's funds.

GUELPH.—Buyers from all over the district are attending the sale of registered stock being held today by the Guelph Fat Stock Club in the Winter Fair buildings. Sixty-three fine animals are being offered.

CEDAR SPRINGS.—Prior to his departure for London, where he will don the khaki, Roy Pilon, son of Fred Pilon, was presented at his home with a wrist watch and purse of money by friends.

WEST LORNE.—Farmers report that much of the wheat in this vicinity has been winter-killed. Many are applying for spring wheat, and the indications are that a record acreage will be sown.

KITCHENER.—The funeral of Russel Gillespie, who perished in the big January blizzard while trying to cross Georgian Bay, was held yesterday. The remains were found eighteen miles out on the bay frozen in the ice.

WHEATLEY.—S. Bolus has taken over the Commercial Hotel, which was formerly conducted by O. Bickford.

STRATFORD.—Mrs. Mary McMillan, aged 87, who came to this district from Scotland when a girl, died yesterday. Four days and four daughters survive.

ST. THOMAS.—George C. Carrie, tenor soloist, of New York, has been secured for choirmaster of Trinity Church. J. H. Jones will continue as organist.

WOODSLEE.—Every maple tree in this section is carrying its tin bucket these days, and the prospects are for a record production of syrup and sugar.

STRATFORD.—Charles A. Robertson, aged 25, died at his home in Ellice Township yesterday. His brother Fleming was recently killed in action.

WEST ONT taointflaro m mf fw ytaoyo

CHATHAM.—The conscription of labor and the placing of foreigners in the first draft to do labor in this country was the text of a resolution adopted by the Grand Black Chapter, L. O. L.

CHATHAM.—H. S. Miller, Severn Bridge, was named grand master of the Grand Black Chapter. Rev. William Lowe, Lucan, formerly of London, is chaplain. W. B. Walker, London, grand treasurer; R. B. Fox, London, and J. B. Armitage, Lucan, are on the grand committee.

KITCHENER.—Fire Marshal Pointon, Toronto, commended the fire department for their fight in the recent big fire here. He recommended that the department be enlarged and better wages paid. The council cut the estimates of the department, and the increase in wages asked by the men is not in sight. Several threaten to quit.

SARNIA.—City firemen threaten to quit if they are not given an increase of $10 to $15 a month with a day off per week.

SARNIA.—The tax rate this year will be 32 mills.

CHATHAM.—Kent Bridge farmers have organized a co-operative society.

INGERSOLL.—Because so much surface water got into the city supply during the flood the people are boiling their water.

GODERICH.—Two farmers' clubs meeting here passed resolutions asking the Government to pay the difference between the wages in the factory and on the farm as an aid to production.

BOTHWELL.—Judging on the big seed show is complete, and it will be open to the public today.

GUELPH.—Two International Bible students were fined $100 each here for having banned books in their possession.

GUELPH.—The city's bill in the Legislature accepted by the private bills committee provided for the abolishment of all commissions, and election of the mayor by the council.

ALVINSTON.—Flight-Lieut. Gordon Campbell, aged 20, has been reported killed in France. He went up in his machine to rescue an observation balloon and was attacked by five enemy craft and shot down.

STRATFORD.—John Meyers, Dublin, aged 42, was found not guilty of rape at the assizes. He will not be charged with seducing Jean Hill. He admits having carnal knowledge of the girl on different occasions, but with the girl's consent. She is not strong mentally.

STRATFORD.—A settlement was reached in the $2,000 slander action of Wellington Cousins, St. Marys, against Mrs. Hannah Cousins, Downie. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant had accused him of stealing $51. Sir William Meredith suggested that the parties get together, and they did.

MUNCEY.—A flying limb in the bush struck W. Whiting in the head, hurling him 15 feet. His face was badly lacerated.

BLENHEIM.—The firemen must purchase their own clothes in future. The council will pay them more money.

ST. THOMAS.—Albert Berdan, charged with being the leader of a gang of burglars and also with breaking his parole after serving a term in Kingston, pleaded guilty to the latter charge, and Judge Coulter reserved his decision in the other charges.

ST. THOMAS.—William Lyle of Southwold Township has purchased the farm of W. H. Futcher at Middlemarch for $12,000. Mr. Futcher is moving to St. Thomas to manage the Pure Milk Company.

ST. THOMAS.—Sergt. Walter Pavey, son of S. H. Pavey, 93 Hincks street, arrived home last night. He went overseas with the 91st Battalion, and was wounded in the arm.

Everybody Knows Dr. Chase's Receipt Book

"Ever since I can remember, this was the most valued book in the bookcase."—Mrs. S. Thompson, Smith street, Kingston, Ont.

"Mother has had Dr. Chase's Receipt Book for 20 years, and, I tell you, it is a good one."—Mr. John Miller, S. Salt Spring, B. C.

IT may be safely said, without fear of contradiction, that there is no more useful book to be found in any home than Dr. Chase's Receipt Book. The proof of this statement rests in the fact that several millions of copies have been sold, and it is sometimes said that the circulation is second only to that of the Bible.

From the time he began the study of medicine it was a hobby of the doctor to collect all recipes and prescriptions of exceptional value. There is so much of the doctor's own experience and history woven into these recipes that you cannot use his book without feeling that you know him personally and appreciate his sterling character.

The Receipt Book was soon widely circulated, and aroused so much favorable opinion towards the doctor that he found the demand for his medicines far greater than he could supply. This led to the decision to select a few of his most successful prescriptions and place them on the market for general sale.

This action met with some criticism from the medical profession, but Dr. Chase's motto was "the greatest good to the greatest number," and one cannot estimate the suffering alleviated and the lives saved by this generous action on the part of the doctor.

The use of Dr. Chase's medicines has become so general that there are few, indeed, who do not know something of their sterling merits. So enormous have the sales become that imitations have been put on the market and substitutes are offered by unscrupulous persons who seek to steal the reputation of their originator.

But the doctor has protected you by having his portrait and signature printed on every box of his medicines. By taking care to see these on the box you buy you can be certain that you are getting the genuine.

The latest edition of Dr. Chase's Large Receipt Book, containing over 1,200 pages, will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, $3.75, by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines are for sale by all dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How Some "Little Things" May Cause Big Eye Troubles

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

Your eyes are as much a part of your bodily organization as your stomach, heart, hands or feet. They are not just two large balls set into your head to shine and sparkle, irrespective of the other members of your anatomy. You can hardly imagine for a moment your eyes, although they seem not to cooperate in the bodily labor union, can hold out just as long as you choose to drive them. Your eyes are not independent of the other members of your mechanism. When the other organs decide to quit because of the stress and pressure of overwork, do not think that your eyes will continue to sparkle bright, clear and unaffected by the other disturbances. If they refuse to strike along with the other organs, they will be made at least to co-operate in the conspiracy against your anatomical unity and help disrupt your mechanical structure.

Never Permit Overstrain.

All the other rebellious divisions have to do to accomplish this is to send the scarlet stream which circulates through them to the eyes. Then it is only a matter of hours or minutes at times until the muscles of your eyes cease to be accurate in their relaxation and contraction. They will probably feel weary and droop, or else they will feel an almost unbearable strain. At this point, then, your brilliant sparklers have joined the discontented factions of your physical make-up.

Perhaps this is a condition not so very frequent, however, for presumably you would not allow all your parts to deteriorate one by one, without an attempt at least to keep the co-ordination between them. Just as you would try to aid your inner tubes and vessels in the proper execution of their tasks, so you can help your eyes in their struggle for an unmarred existence.

It is perhaps the easiest thing in the world to keep a normal machine at work. You can hardly use oil to grease the parts of the eyes, for there is no lubricant that can perform this service for them. The exercise which you give the other parts of your anatomy indirectly acts as oil to the mechanism of the eyes. It helps to change the blood, which, because of rapid circulation, makes the eye muscles more active. Direct exercise for the eyes, however, is negative. It consists of "don't do this and don't do that."

Points To Remember.

Maybe you have never thought it wrong to read in bed, flat on your back. To make matters worse, you perhaps never even thought of the dimness of the light. You rub your eyes every once in a while, and probably squeeze them, too, and then continue to read. In a little while you rub again, and so on until your eyes droop and close for the night. You perhaps continue the process, and in a month, two months or perhaps a year, you begin to take notice and wonder why you need glasses or stronger lenses.

Just a little forethought could have told you that to hold the eyes in a single position for any length of time strains a certain group of muscles. Try to hold your arm extended in one direction for a while to prove this, and it will become so tired in a few minutes that you will perhaps feel stiffness of the muscles for a day or two.

Again, it does not need much contemplation to realize that reading or working in a dim light causes you to strain beyond repair another group of muscles. In a short time, if you are not careful, you will have too rapid or too slow secretion of the eye fluids, and you may soon need lenses an eighth of an inch thick and maybe have to wear eye shades besides.

By means of the roundabout flow of the blood, the stomach, heart, brain and all the other members of your organization will most likely feel the effect of visual disorders, for not a single physical division can escape the injuries done to any other. They either hang together, as a rule, or else your whole anatomical structure becomes disrupted by illness and your physical kingdom is overthrown.

Answers to Health Questions

SHORTIE. Q.—Will you please tell me how I can increase my height?

A.—Stretching, swinging on a trapeze which has been hung over a doorway, gymnastics and swimming may help.

CHARLIE G. Q.—Will you please tell me what to do for a red spot that appears on my nose?

A.—You evidently eat too much food that is rich, highly seasoned and hot. Avoid soups, eat little and live on a hermit fare. Most persons deny overeating, and do not realize what is consumed until an inventory is made. Eat spinach, asparagus, sauerkraut, bran bread and lots of fresh fruits.

W. P. O. Q.—With you please tell me how I can get rid of blackheads?

A.—If you will massage your face gently with a sterilized piece of absorbent cotton and then apply a little of the following, I am sure you will soon get rid of the blackheads:

Fullers earth	4 drams
Vinegar	3 drams
Glycerine	3 drams

ALROY. Q.—Will you please tell me what to do for a tapeworm?

A.—Take one tablespoonful of Epsom salts, followed six hours later by a dose of mal fern, one dram, followed again six hours later by another dose of the salts. You should eat nothing, except a little thin milk or coffee while taking the medicine.

ALVIN ALFRED F. Q.—Will you please tell me what to do for premature grey hair?

A.—Massage your hair with firm, slow movements of the fingers. This will help to coax back the natural oil in the hair and do much to prevent premature greyness. You should also use a little of the following:

Tereben	1 dram
Sulphur	1 dram
Borax	1 dram
Lavender water	2 ounces

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Harry Underwood Said When Madge Told Him About the Clippings.

"Same old p-r-o-u-d b-e-a-u-t-y, aren't you, girl?"

Harry Underwood leaned across the table as the sad-eyed French waitress whose cause he had championed so royally at my request disappeared into the kitchen, and held my eyes with his quizzical ones, in which, however, there was a shadow of something deeper.

"I—I—don't know what you mean," I stammered.

"Oh, yes, you do," he returned. "You had a real, warm, human impulse a moment ago to 'clasp me hand,' because of the little waitress, but that iceberg of propriety and reserve that encases your heart made you draw it back."

Was the man clairvoyant? I was sure my hand hadn't moved an inch from its fellow. If he could read my very thoughts I must be on my guard indeed in this interview, and the others to follow on which Lillian was depending so much.

I shrank back in my chair a little. He saw the movement and the quizzical light died out of his eyes.

"Pardon me," he said quickly. "I'm forgetting my bargain. I'll can the persiflage, and suppose you start telling me what's troubling you, as you agreed a few moments ago."

"I have received a series of anonymous clippings which have alarmed me terribly," I began.

Harry Underwood straightened himself in his chair and into his eyes flashed an unfathomable look.

"Anonymous clippings!" he repeated sharply. "What about?"

How Madge Told Him.

"The first ones were newspaper clippings," I said slowly, for the horrified terror of the abominable things was gripping me anew as I recalled them to memory. "Each was an account of some mysterious murder with horrible cruelties attached, and the victim in each case was some person suspected of having betrayed some secret organization to which he belonged."

"D—n!" I heard Harry Underwood mutter between his teeth, and the expletive was filled with anger. I hurried on without raising my eyes.

"The last clipping came almost two weeks ago," I said, my voice faltering as I thought of that last missive of terror. "It had a broad black border which surrounded words cut from a newspaper. They were——"

I stopped abruptly, almost choking with excited emotion. Harry Underwood spoke quietly, warningly:

"Better sip your hot coffee before you go on. You're pretty white, and we don't want anybody to notice you're upset, you know."

I picked up my cup obediently and drank mechanically. Then I took a firmer grip upon my nerves and went on:

"You—Can't Mean——"

"The words were these," I said, "The late Robert Gordon, alias Charles Spencer. Better not to guess how he died. Au revoir for two weeks.'"

"Good heavens!" breathed Harry Underwood, and in the words was unbelieving horror, and something more—a rising, awful wrath. I took another draught of my coffee and then ventured again to raise my eyes to my companion's face.

It was as colorless as I was sure my own was. But his eyes were like glowing coals, and the fingers of the hand that gripped the table were white with the strain on the muscles.

"You—poor—little—devil!" These were the first words he uttered, and there was that in his voice which made of the uncouth epithet almost a caress. Then his fingers relaxed their tensity and he gave a slight shake of his tremendous shoulders, as if pulling himself together to face something that had found him unprepared. Forcing his lips to a smile he signaled our waitress.

"Another pot of coffee, please, quickly, and have it piping hot," he ordered.

"Yes, sir," and she was gone as if her feet were winged.

"Now, tell me quickly," he said, and there was a tone in his voice which impelled obedience. "Where were those things mailed?"

"From different suburbs and boroughs of New York," I replied. "Brooklyn, Staten Island, Flushing—there was one from a village in Jersey."

He pondered a moment, then shot a rapier-like glance at me.

"Look here," he said. "Have you guessed at all who was behind them?"

I hesitated. It was one thing to tell him the story of these clippings. It was another to implicate the woman who had accompanied him from South America.

"That means you do suspect someone," he returned, "and I can pretty well guess the name." He stopped short as if some thought had struck him suddenly, and then he stared at me in horror-stricken awakening.

"You—you—can't mean you think I had anything to do with so damnable an outrage as this, do you?"

BACKYARD GARDEN HINTS

(By The Girl With the Hoe.)

DAILY REMINDER.

March 1-15:
1. Plan garden.
2. Plant seed indoors for early cabbage, cauliflower, onions and eggplant.

"THE INCUBATOR GARDEN."

We want early vegetables to compete with the market gardener. This is only possible if the seed is planted while the ground is frozen outside. The market gardener has hotbeds, in which his seed is germinated, and later he transplants the young plants into cold frames, so that they may get hardened and not perished in the cold blasts of spring. We have not hotbeds, but we may have a tiny incubator garden, even as the professional gardener.

First of all, we must select a suitable window, east or south by preference, and then place a small table or shelf before it, so that it may receive plenty of light and sunshine. On this table our incubator garden will be laid out in boxes, or flats, as they are technically called. These boxes should be about 13 inches by 23 inches, and 3 inches deep. Suitable soil should have been obtained last fall. However, good garden soil can be bought, and then lightened by a little coal ashes or fine sand. To destroy all insects and disease germs this soil may be baked for half an hour in the oven, but should be well soaked afterwards and made light by working. Boiling water poured over the soil will also kill the germs.

Everything is now ready for the seeds. Make drills in the soil with a lead pencil or small stick; into these drills sow the seed, and then cover lightly until all is level. The surface may be covered for a few days with a board or stiff paper. The boxes must be kept moist with a fine sprinkler. When it is almost time for the plants to be set outdoors they are hardened by leaving the windows open during the day, and later by putting the flats themselves outdoors in the daytime and bringing them in at night. This is the same process as that furnished by the cold frame of the market gardener.

Although almost all vegetables may be started in this way, it is perhaps wiser to purchase eggplants and cauliflower plants from some market gardener, as they require a very long season. Tomato plants might also be purchased to advantage.

LONDON HIGH SCHOOL POSSESSES SPLENDID NEW LUNCH ROOM

old-pupil visitor to the collegiate at noontime would no longer see hungry boys and girls opening their cold and solitary lunches on the stairways or in the large and cheerless gym. Indeed, the visitor of today on entering the building would be impressed by the apparent desolation of the place. But, mounting to the second story, he would find the silence giving way to an incessant hum of voices, proceeding apparently from the very roof of the building. Discovering another stairway, he would soon be within the noisy community. For what was once the old lumber-room, the hiding-place of refractory pupils, has now become an excellent lunchroom, where hot coffee and cocoa are served at the noon hour to over one hundred boys and girls.

Whose is the credit for this splendid new lunchroom? Perhaps all the boys and girls, who for many weeks back have raised their voices in objection to the old stairway-gym system are really the ones. Be that as it may, it is now under the excellent supervision of the domestic science department, with Miss McPherson in charge, and it is whispered that the High School Girls' Club, that splendid organization, helped the domestic science department to push the ball along, which finally rolled at the feet of the board of education. These good men responded at once, and the new lunchroom came into being. G. F. Rogers, principal of the school, is a progressive educationalist, and any move of this nature wins his firm support.

At 12 o'clock every day the long oil-cloth-covered tables are filled with boys and girls, many of whom before preferred to take a long street car ride. Their lunches are no longer cold and cheerless, for hot drinks are served and plenty of company furnished. And this is merely a beginning. It is hoped that the lunchroom will develop as time goes on, and that not merely coffee and cocoa, but other things will be served as well. The High School Girls' Club even think of decorating the room to make it more cosy.

HEALTH ESSENTIAL TO BEAUTY, SAYS MARGARET BLAIR

Lecture-Room Again Crowded to Hear Popular Speaker.

The lecture hall of Smallman & Ingram's was crowded to capacity on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Josephine Blair gave the second of her series of lectures. This lecture was on "The Care of the Skin."

"Most people are careless with their skin when they are young," declared the speaker. "But they are all very sorry for their carelessness when they reach the age of 40 and their skin becomes wrinkled and their face sags; but it is not too late even then to commence taking care of the skin, and it should be the effort of every one to look beautiful when they reach the age of sixty or seventy.

"To look beautiful does not mean a lot of expensive dresses and suits and a lot of money spent on cometics, but it means to appear well groomed. The nails and hair should have every attention, even though it does take a little time each day; that time spent will bring its own reward. To keep the face looking young it is necessary to keep the tissues built up, and to do this a very good skin food should be used. On going to bed a little face cream should be massaged gently into the skin, and, while the skin is absorbing this, the hair should be brushed and combed thoroughly, this preventing dandruff. Then the surplus cream should be wiped off the face with a clean old piece of soft linen or cotton batting, as leaving the cream on promotes the growth of hairs on the face. A little tissue-builder should then be applied to the face and massaged very gently. Heavy rubbing breaks the tissues of the face. The face should always be washed in soft or distilled water, and never hot water, because it enlarges the pores of the skin.

"So many people pay all the attention to their face," said the speaker, "and entirely forget their neck. The neck is just as important as the face." Mrs. Blair then demonstrated how to remove a double chin.

"The cause of a great many skin troubles is the cheap powder that is used, which contains a great deal of lead. Before you can have a clear complexion it is necessary that your health is good and your blood pure. I have noticed among the young high school girl how many of their faces are covered with pimples. This is largely due to one of their bad habits, that of exchanging chamois. This is very insanitary, and should never be done."

Today Mrs. Blair will lecture on "The Conservation of Dress."

LARGE MEETING WILL BE HELD AT Y.M.C.A. ON FRIDAY EVENING

The Approximate Value of Trinkets Collected Will Be Announced.

A huge rally of the silver thimble and trinket campaign will be held on Friday evening, March 8, in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium. At this meeting reports from the various committees in connection with the campaign will be given, and two-minute speeches by the women in charge of the four different city wards and their assistants, will serve as campaign echoes, and give the public some idea of how the work has been carried on and with what success it has met. The chair will be occupied by E. R. Wilson.

A splendid program, consisting of choruses by 200 children of the Lord Roberts and Alexandra schools under the leadership of G. Quantz, solos by Ed Crawford and Mr. Johns of Detroit, a recitation entitled "A Y. M. C. A. Hut," by Miss Helen Brady, and an address by Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, has been arranged. A most interesting feature of Friday's meeting will be the presentation of prizes for the collegiate art posters by Mr. J. E. Magee, custodian of the campaign gifts. All of the posters will be displayed at the meeting.

Jimmy Coon Stories

By Dr. Warren G. Partridge.

Jimmy Coon Has Great Fun in the Flying-Machine.

It was very kind in the man who owned the Flying-machine to take little William and Jimmy Coon flying all over those country fields. And soon they were flying all over the Jones' Farm, and over the big meadows and pastures. Little William had the best time in his life; and he thought the Flying-machine was wonderful!

And Jimmy Coon was very happy; and it was funny to see Jimmy Coon lean over the rail and look down to the earth, which seemed to be flying past them, like a fast express train. And soon Jimmy Coon gave a loud scream of delight, for the Bird-man passed a flock of crows; and Jimmy Coon was overjoyed to beat the Crows in a flying race! And as the Flying-machine passed the Crows, Jimmy Coon waved his little hands.

And soon Jimmy Coon gave another yell of joy, as they flew past a flock of Bluejays, and beat them all to pieces in the race! And then the Flying-machine climbed higher and higher; and Jimmy Coon was kicking his heels, because he was glad to fly past big Blackfoot, the Marsh Hawk, and big Yellowfoot the Hen Hawk, who were always tying to catch him, and Jimmy Coon ran out his little red tongue, and made awful faces at these old enemies of his; and he shook his little fists at them, when the Flying-machine was whizzing past.

And then the Bird-man circled over the Great Forest. And as they passed over Mirror Pond the Bird-man dipped much lower, and sailed slowly over Mirror Pond. And Jimmy Coon was now almost crazy with excitement; for he leaned over the rail and looked down; and there were all his little friends, looking at the big Flying-machine.

And Jimmy Coon saw Tim and Jerry Beaver standing on top of their pretty little house, and Sammy Muskrat was eating a crawfish, on his front piazza, and Teddy Possum was hanging from a limb of the big Pine tree, leaning over Mirror Pond, and Bobby Skunk was digging for black crickets on the bank, and Quilly Porcupine was climbing down a big Poplar tree, having had his breakfast, and Peter Rabbit was trying to jump over a tall pine stump, and his father and mother were taking his brothers and sisters for a walk.

And Jimmy Coon was delighted, and leaned out so far, that he lost his balance and started to fall out of the Flying-machine; but little William caught him quickly by the seat of his grey pants, and saved his life. But Jimmy Coon waved his hands at all his friends, and all his friends waved their hands at Jimmy Coon, who was flying like Jim Crow.

BOOK SHOWER FOR "SAN" NETS OVER 400 VOLUMES

Over 400 books are now displayed in Holmes & Popham's bookstore, an evidence that the citizens of London did not forget the soldiers of the Byron Sanatorium during the last month, when the book shower was held by the Nicholas Wilson Chapter of the I.O. D.E. The members of this chapter are indeed grateful to the people of London for the help which they have thus given them in furnishing the library at the sanatorium.

KINGSVILLE.—The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Healey, the attendance being quite encouraging. The devotional part of the meeting was led by Mrs. J. W. Kennedy. Miss Ritchie, the president, occupied the chair. The various reports were read and adopted, after which Mrs. C. Johnson reported on the free drink campaign. It was arranged that a mothers' meeting, with babies, be held in April under the guidance of the superintendent of that department, Mrs. Gordon Thornton, the Methodist parsonage being kindly offered for the occasion by Mrs. George King.

The travelers' aid, in connection with the Frances Willard Hall, Toronto, and the restroom at Windsor also claimed attention along financial lines. Mrs. T. Salmon and Miss Ritchie were appointed visitors to the Sanatorium for the month.

AILSA CRAIG.—The Women's Institute of Ailsa Craig packed their monthly bale for the Red Cross. Sixty pairs of socks were sent to headquarters at Toronto, and 72 pairs of socks were sent to the Secours Nationale. Smallman & Ingram's window display. The society also sent $25 to Miss George, Toronto, for the Belgian relief fund. The Y. P. C. of Falkirk put on their play, "Valley Farm," when they appeared before an appreciative audience, the proceeds, which amounted to $120, being divided between the Y. P. C. of Ailsa Craig and the Y. P. C. of Falkirk, all for Red Cross purposes. The Y. P. C. of Ailsa Craig have been invited to Thedford to put on their last play, "Farm Folks," the money to go to the Thedford Red Cross.

POLLY AND HER PALS.—Pa Expects the Family to Have a Whale of an Appetite. — By Cliff Sterrett.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble
THURSDAY, MARCH 7.

Things should move along smoothly on this day, under heavenly aspects of weak significance. In the domestic circle the day promises to be uneventful, and in social, artistic and romantic affairs, but little adventure is indicated. Under a semi-square of Moon to Uranus there may be an impulse to make an unplanned change, a removal of journey, which, however, should be subdued, as the time for these is not at all propitious. The mind may be disturbed, sarcastic, indiscreet, with a leaning toward the occult and the metaphysical. An aspect between Mercury and Neptune will exaggerate this condition, making the mind and emotions fanciful and capricious.

Those whose birthday it is will have a rather smooth and uneventful year. A child born on this day will be impetuous and unconventional, but have a rather smooth and quiet career.

KITCHENER TEAM PLAYS PORT ARTHUR TONIGHT

The four leagues whose senior champions are eligible to Allan cup competition, viz., Ontario Hockey Association, Thunder Bay Hockey Association, Saskatchewan Hockey Association and Manitoba Hockey Association, have all declared winners. They are as follows: Kitchener, Columbus of Port Arthur, Saskatoon and Ypres of Winnipeg.

The first game of the elimination series will be between the Kitchener and Port Arthur teams. They will meet in Toronto in two contests for a majority of goals, the first being scheduled for tonight, and the second for the following Saturday night.

The Saskatchewan champions, Saskatoon, played Ypres, the Manitoba standard-bearers, in a western elimination series, last night at Winnipeg, and again in the same city on Thursday night. The winners will come to Toronto to meet the surviving team of the Kitchener-Port Arthur game in the finals, the games to be played on Tuesday, March 12, and Thursday, March 14th.

The western teams have expressed a desire to have at least one official brought from the west. The O. H. A., however, has suggested that a referee be brought from Montreal or Ottawa to act in conjunction with an O. H. A. official. It has not yet been decided whether the first or second games of the respective series carded for this city will be played under western rules. The west, of course, adheres to the seven-man regulation.

The Port Arthur and Kitchener teams arrived in Toronto on Tuesday at noon. The Arena will be at the disposal of the visiting teams for light practices today.

TORONTO NEWS SEES KITCHENER WINNERS

Toronto, March 6.—According to C. H. Good in today's News the Kitcheners will probably win their game for the Allan Cup tonight against the Port Arthur Thunder Bay champions. Good says: "Kitchener is called to win by the critics who were somewhat disappointed at the poor form exhibited by the western cup team at practice."

KITCHENER LOOKS BEST.

Toronto, March 6.—While the Columbus team of Port Arthur, which meets Kitchener in the first Allan cup elimination series at the arena tonight, impressed local hockey fans with their weight, the prevalent opinion among those who watched both teams practice yesterday afternoon is that the Ontario champions have the "edge" on the Thunder Bay champions in speed and stick work. L'Heureux made a favorable impression, as did Rabideau and Blair, but it is believed among local fans that the tricky forward line of Kitchener, consisting of Hiller, Parkes and Solomon, will have a trifle the better in the clash with the Port Arthur team.

VARSITY SQUAD READY FOR AGGIES SATURDAY

Western University basketball team will open their season on Saturday night, playing the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. The Varsity has a strong team and should be able to overcome the Aggies. Three of 1917's squad will be out again. They are Art Smith, Len Pritchett and Charlie Wortman. Kingswood and Billi Elgie will be out of the game this season. Kingswood has not yet recovered from an injured ankle received in a rugby game last fall, and Elgie has been forbidden to play by his doctor.

Quite a bunch of new men are on hand, and in the work-outs look pretty good. Jimmy McGeough, who was on the "Y" defence last season, will play for Western this spring. McGeough played rugby for the Varsity and was with the Hermits during the hockey season. Simpson of the Meds is trying out for defence. He is a former Niagara Falls player. Both of these men are fast, although Simpson is a trifle light for defence. Wittick is another man who looks promising. Ferguson, a fast end-man on the rugby squad, has been working-out, and will likely make the team

Art Smith is getting the boys in shape and has arranged for a practice game against the "Y" juniors on Thursday night. Although the loss of Elgie and Kingswood is a heavy one, Capt. Smith has high hopes of some of his new material, developing into real classy players. The team for Saturday's game has not yet been announced.

Through the other team entered in this group of the O. A. B. A. defaulting, Western goes into the semi-finals at once. Two games will be played with the Aggies, one there this Saturday and the return game here the following Saturday.

DE LA SALLE TRIMS KINGSTON HANDILY

TORONTO, March 5.—De La Salle are ready to meet University Schools in the Ontario Hockey Association junior semi-finals. The Irish brigade overcame Kingston's three-goal lead secured last week in handy fashion and won away off tonight. The score in Kingston was 7 to 4 for the Limestone City boys, but De La Salle turned the trick 7 to 2 tonight, and won the round 11 to 9, or by a two-goal margin.

On the big arena ice the winners were much the best. Kingston only went in spots, but when they took these spurts they made it interesting. The whole Kingston team was rushed up on the attack in the last period and they kept it lively. De La Salle dropped back to the defensive and were shooting the puck to the end of the rink in the dying moments of the game. The teams:

De La Salle.		Kingston.
Kain	Goal	Connelly
Spring	Defence	McLaughlin
Koster	Defence	McKelvey
Green	Centre	Gratton
Dye	R. Wing	Brown
McCurry	L. Wing	Elmer
Ingoldsby	Sub	Spoon

Referee—George Van Horn, Kingston.

THAMESVILLE LOSES TO OSHAWA 16 TO 2

Unions Put Up Stiff Fight, But Were Snowed Under.

OSHAWA, March 5.—Playing on sticky ice, the Oshawa O. H. A. intermediate team defeated the Thamesville O. H. A. intermediates here tonight by a score of 16 to 2.

Oshawa outplayed the Thamesville boys from start to finish, leading by four goals at the close of the first period. The play was very fast, considering the condition of the ice.

Etherington, the lightning left wing man of the Oshawa team, played an all-star game, skating around the Thamesville skaters in circles. Many individual rushes made the game very fast.

The second period was uneventful for the first few minutes, Oshawa playing a purely defensive game. During the latter part, now feeling their opponents were completely outclassed, Oshawa got away and scored five goals in quick succession. The sensational hockey of the night was provided in the third period, during which Oshawa scored seven goals, and Thamesville one. It was beautiful hockey. Three and four men rushes kept the play up to a terrific pace, though the players occasionally overskated the puck. The fireworks started in the closing minutes, when Thamesville made heroic efforts to score, but they could not penetrate the Oshawa defence. Only two players were penalized during the game. A large crowd was in attendance to cheer the boys to victory. The return game will be played in Woodstock next Friday night. The line-up:

Thamesville.		Oshawa.
Peardon	Goal	Childs
Davenport	R. defence	Phair
Weaver	L. defence	Bowen
Tiffin	Centre	Rowden
all	R. wing	Roenig
Lore	L. wing	Etherington

Referee—Hewittson.

THAMESVILLE DEFAULTS SECOND GAME TO OSHAWA

Woodstock, March 6.—Following their defeat by Oshawa last night by 16 to 2, in the Intermediate Ontario Hockey Association semi-finals, Thamesville has defaulted the second game, which was to have been played here Friday night.

N. H. L. DATES DON'T SUIT

Toronto, March 6.—Manager Querrie of the Toronto N. H. L. Club, has notified President Calder of the N. H. L., that unless the dates for the play-off with the Canadiens are changed his team will withdraw. He is not satisfied with the arrangements which requires the blue shirts to play the second game at home, and claims that his team should have been consulted before the dates were announced. He also accuses Manager Kennedy of the Canadiens of lack of faith.

SOLDIERS PLAY IN CLEVELAND FRIDAY, SATURDAY NIGHTS

The London Military Hockey Club seniors will leave at 1 o'clock on Thursday afternoon for Cleveland, where they will meet the Cleveland puckchasers on Friday and Saturday nights. The locals are in pretty good shape, for although the weather has been mild they have been fortunate in getting the Westminster rink ice for work-outs, where the slippery was not as soft as might be expected.

The games will be played seven-men to a team. London will likely line-up about as follows: Suter, goal; Sandercock and King, defence; Rose, rover; Ruppell, centre; Quinn, left wing; Bond, right wing; Storey, sub.

King, who played with the Woodstock juniors, is fast on his skates, and should show up well on defence with Sandercock. In Sandercock, Rose and Ruppell London has three fast men capable of showing Cleveland fandom a thing or two about hockey. The soldiers are depending a great deal on these three to bring home the bacon. Suter should be able to take care of the nets, while Bond and Quinn are good wing men.

This is the first season that Cleveland has been playing hockey. Last week they defeated Preston seniors twice. Preston was not playing its regular line-up and was trimmed by scores of 5—1 and 6—1. If this is the best that Cleveland can do against what was practically a picked-up team, Manager Storey believes that his men should make a good showing in the Sixth City.

WINNIPEG TEAM WINS FIRST FROM SASKATOON

WINNIPEG, March 15.—After being out-played, out-scored and out-generaled for two periods, and just when they seemed to be badly demoralized, and fans were looking for a regular rout, the Saskatoon Quakers tightened up in the final session of play and stayed in the race for western hockey honors by holding the Ypres team to a 7 to 3 score in the first game of the Allan cup elimination series at the Ampitheatre Rink here tonight. The visitors faced a 7 to 0 score at the beginning of the third period, and they had been badly rattled in all departments of the game, but they rallied, and held the locals to 3 to 0 in the last spasm. The contest was staged under Saskatchewan rules of three periods, with relays allowed, but the long train journey of the Saskatoon team, when they were held up for twenty hours by a snowstorm, showed its effect, and the Quakers were unable to take advantage of their own rules in the way they expected. The first period ended 4 to 0, and showed the visitors to be badly outclassed.

STRATFORD JUNIORS PLAY MITCHELL TONIGHT

STRATFORD, March 5.—Stratford Juniors go to Mitchell tomorrow, and although they are suffering considerably from their encounter with Sarnia, they feel confident that they will eventually qualify for the finals with Chesley.

The Midgets when they returned from Sarnia today resembled more a bunch of veterans returning from the front lines than of ordinary civilians engaging in nothing more warlike than a game of hockey. Every one of them bore scars. Harry Thorne suffered most, and will be out of the game for the season. He had his tongue split, but not content with this, he received nasty cuts on the lip and forehead. Lavelle had one eye partially closed. Malone got the puck on the face, when one of the Sarnia forwards burned it at him when he was not looking and after the bell had rung, it was said. Hoffman, Morenz and Seebach each had their decorations of battle.

Tomorrow's game, unless the weather turns colder, will be on pretty soft ice. The return game is on Friday, Stratford expected to go to Chesley Wednesday. It was thought that Chesley and Mitchell could have played off while the Sarnia-Stratford series was in progress. However, in view of the train connection making it practically a three-day trip between these points, the present arrangement was decided upon.

In spite of all handicaps, the Midgets are looking for a win. They have their fighting blood up, and are going out to hook up with the silverware for the second season.

PRES. McCAFFERY SAYS INTERNATIONAL TO PLAY

Toronto, March 6.—President McCaffery of the Toronto Baseball Club announces that the International League will be reorganized, and that there will be baseball as usual this season. The league contract of Pitcher Warhop has been received. Larry Lajoie is expected to come here for a conference before the week's end.

CANADIAN RAILWAY MECHANICAL FORCES JOIN WITH A. F. OF L.

Winnipeg, March 5.—The federation of Mechanical Employees of the four Canadian railways, have joined the American Federation of Labor. Delegates to the number of two hundred have been in session for a week, representing employees from Halifax to Vancouver. This brings 30,000 railwaymen into the American order, and will place them upon the same scale of wages and hours that has been in vogue in the United States, but this matter will be left to the federation to enforce.

MOONEY GIBSON TO JOIN GIANTS SOON

George "Mooney" Gibson expects to leave within a few days for the south to join the New York Giants for their spring training at Marlin Springs, Texas. Mooney looks forward to a good season with McGraw again this year and thinks that the Giants should play as good ball as they did last summer. He will act as coach, and will have special charge of the young pitchers.

"The Giants are practically the same as they were last year," he said. "Some of the teams have been badly hit by the draft, but we have been fortunate in this respect, Kauf being the only star man drafted, and he will not be called until some time in August, and will likely be able to secure his exemption until the end of the season. Cincinnati looked good at the end of last season, I thought, but they have lost some good men through conscription and at present it is hard to say just what they will do this season."

After the Giants, Mooney looks for big things from the Cubs. "They have the makings of a good team," he said.

Mrs. Gibson will accompany her husband to Marlin Springs.

LONDON "Y" JUNIORS DEFEATED BY GALT

GALT, March 5.—In one of the fastest and best games of basketball ever witnessed in the Galt Y.M.C.A., the local juniors tonight defeated London "Y" juniors, in the first of the home-and-home games in the semi-finals of the O.A.B.A., by a score of 31—30. The locals won out in the last four minutes of play. London had the advantage of the locals in weight and experience and played better team work, but found the Galt boys very speedy. A big crowd witnessed the game. Half-time score was 17-11 in favor of London. Henderson at centre starred for London, while McLean did most of the scoring. Himes was the pick of the Galt team.

Teams were:

London.		Galt.
Mascari	R. Forward	Himes
Gillies	L. Forward	Burgess
Henderson	Centre	Gardner
McLean	R. Guard	Snell
Cline	L. Guard	Knowles

Referee—Bert McKay, Hamilton.

Low Temperatures Often Mean High Upkeep

THE selection of a motor lubricant is at all times a vital question in keeping down the cost of up-keep but in cold weather it is even more important.

Some oils that lubricate your motor efficiently during warm weather are entirely unsuited to cold weather conditions as they fail to protect it against wear. They fail because they do not remain fluid enough and cannot be distributed to the friction surfaces of the motor.

The result is loss of power, expensive repairs for worn-out parts and a greater consumption of fuel, all meaning higher up-keep.

POLARINE is made in two grades—POLARINE and POLARINE HEAVY—from a Peruvian Crude having high lubricating value and the ability to flow at low temperatures.

You can end unnecessary winter lubrication troubles and keep your motor up-keep down to a minimum by always insisting on POLARINE MOTOR OILS—sold in half gallon, one gallon and four gallon sealed cans and in barrels and half barrels.

PREMIER GASOLINE is refined to definite specifications which produce a fuel with the proper balance for prompt starting and full power.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GREY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns grey, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, cream; lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advt

HOW TO GET RELIEF FROM CATARRH

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness, or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (double strength), take this home, add to it hot water and just a little sugar as directed in each package. Take 1 tablespoonful 4 times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat.

It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find it is just what you need.

Make Your Own Cough Syrup and Save Money

Better than the ready-made kind. Easily prepared at home.

The finest cough syrup that money can buy—costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations—can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 55 cents and gives you 16 ounces—a family supply—of a most effectual, pleasant tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed or swollen throat membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

LIBRARIES BEING ESTABLISHED AMONG UNITS OF DISTRICT

Educational Classes Are Also Under Way Here.

WILL HELP SOLDIERS

Good Work Is Undertaken—Assistance Needed to Carry Plan Through.

Taking the initiative in this direction as far as Canada is concerned, educational classes and libraries for the men in khaki have been established in practically all the units in this district.

Instructions were issued from district headquarters recently, advising commanding officers of all units in Western Ontario to make an effort to start preliminary educational classes and to foster the formation of libraries for the use of the men in each unit. The plan is being put into effect, and is being carried out along the lines of the "khaki universities" that have been established behind the lines in France and in the camps in England.

The work is being undertaken perhaps most extensively in the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. Regiment, where the officers and men speak most enthusiastically of what is being accomplished.

In addition to the classes in elementary subjects, popular talks and lectures by prominent educators, business and medical men are being planned for the future.

Help After War.

The work has a twofold object: first, to provide an intellectual stimulus for the men who have not had advantages of education, and secondly, to give the men sufficient groundwork in their studies, so that they will fall in with the plans in use overseas and thus profit by the instruction being given there to better fit them for their reabsorption into civil life after the war.

At present classes are held nearly every night in the week at Queen's Park Camp, at Carling Heights, and at the barracks of the 7th Guard Details, Princess avenue.

The co-operation of the ladies of the city is asked to assist in establishing libraries for the different units here. Already a good start has been made and there is a fairly good library at the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R., Queen's Park Camp, and there are also small libraries at the quarters of the Canadian Engineers and the 63rd Depot Battery, Carling Heights Camp.

Many more books are needed, however, and it is felt that if the people of the community once appreciated what the military authorities were trying to do, they would co-operate, and would offer many books for soldiers' libraries. In many houses books are read and laid aside as of no further use. These, it is felt, could be turned over for the use of the lads in khaki.

TO PICK ARBITRATOR

City Will Likely Choose ex-Ald. Richter for Jail Dispute.

The city will name an arbitrator shortly to deal with a similar appointee of the county council on the county jail and court house maintenance.

Ex-Ald. J. G. Richter, who is thoroughly familiar with the work, will probably be named by the city. The county will appoint its representative at the June sessions of the county council, and these two will name a third. There is no possibility of an amicable arrangement between the parties.

FACE NOTHING BUT RUNNING SORES FROM ECZEMA

No rest day or night for those afflicted with that terrible skin disease, eczema, or, as it is often called, salt rheum.

With its unbearable burning, itching, torturing, day and night, relief is gladly welcomed.

There is no remedy like Burdock Blood Bitters for giving relief to such sufferers; no other remedy has done, or can do so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture. Apply it externally and it takes out the stinging, itching and burning, and promotes a healthy healing.

Take it internally, and it gets at the source of the disease in the blood, and completely and permanently drives it out of the system.

Miss Mary V. Chambers, Anagance Ridge, N. B., writes: "I used Burdock Blood Bitters for eczema. I had it when an infant, but it left me. Two years ago it came back. I used doctors' medicine, but it did good only while I used it. At last my face was nothing but a running sore. I saw in the paper what B. B. B. did for people. I took it, and today I am free from that terrible disease."

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Send In Your Problems and They Will Be Answered From Official Information by The Advertiser.

OLD READER. Q.—1. What pay per day does a Canadian soldier draw while in England? Also in France?

2. What pay per month does the Australian soldier draw?

3. What is the monthly pension drawn by a widow of a Canadian soldier with one child?

4. Does she draw the three months' pay and separation allowance?

A.—1. It is said to be a shilling a day in England and a franc a day in France. (Franc is equal to about 20 cents). The remainder of the $1.10 per day can be drawn when going on leave, or partially assigned to relatives, etc.

2. Said to be 5 shillings a day (about $1.25).

3. Forty dollars for herself, and $8 for each boy under 16 and each girl under 17.

4. No. It is paid to a soldier on his discharge (post-discharge pay).

A. R. Q.—1. Should a man go to London or Toronto to get examined for the Royal Flying Corps?

2. I am 17 years and 10 months old. Would I be old enough for the R. F. C.?

3. Is it necessary to have a high school education for the R. F. C.?

4. If a person enlisted now would he be sent to Texas for training?

A.—1. He can get his preliminary examination in London, and if fit would probably be sent to Toronto for further examination.

2. Not until you reach the age of 18.

3. It is preferable, though not always necessary.

4. He would go to Toronto first, then possibly to Texas later.

PUZZLED. Q.—1. I was working in a the United States, and had taken out first United States papers and registered there on June 5, when I had to return to Canada. Would I be subject to the draft here or in the United States?

2. If not subject to draft here until the new law is put into effect, would I be allowed to claim exemption if I went to work here at my regular job, which comes under the head of necessary work?

A.—1. The question depends on your citizenship. If in taking out your papers, you went so far as to renounce your British citizenship, it would appear that you are a citizen of the United States, and therefore not subject to the draft here. Otherwise, you are still a British subject and liable for service here.

2. If you are a citizen of the United States, you would not be subject to the draft here, but would be subject to the terms of the convention agreement which goes into effect in about two months, which would necessitate your enlisting here, or returning to the United States. It is not known here what provisions, if any, are made in the convention for exempting men engaged in work of national importance.

SUBSCRIBER. Q.—1. When and at what age are the men of the second draft to be called?

2. If a Canadian citizen residing in New York State, aged 39 years, married, is included in the second draft, could he be examined as to fitness without coming to Canada? If so, where?

A.—1. Class two under the military service act includes those who have attained the age of 20 years and were born not earlier than the year 1833 and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children. When they will be called, if ever, has not been announced.

2. He is not included.

E. A. Q.—I am in category E, and am a farmer on a small farm. I have my exemption certificate. Would my certificate hold good if I rented the farm I am now on, and hired as a farm laborer on a larger farm?

A.—It is presumed that you are exempt because you are in category E, and therefore you would continue to be exempt, no matter what occupation you might follow. At any rate, your exemption should hold good until you cease to be employed as a farmer, so there would appear to be nothing to prevent your hiring as a farmhand if you so wish.

EX-SOLDIER. Q.—Have the C badges been sent to their owners, or when are they going to be sent?

A.—A few have been sent. They are being sent out as fast as they arrive from Ottawa. Apply to Major C. O. Fairbank, Wolseley Barracks, for an application form. When approved by Ottawa, the badge will be forwarded here, and then to the owner.

J. M. Q.—A man has volunteered for military service and has been rejected as unfit. Later he was called up under the M. S. A., and placed in category E. Is he entitled to a war service badge? If so, how would he procure one?

A.—If he volunteered prior to August 10, 1917, he is entitled to a class D badge, provided he is still unfit. See answer to Ex-Soldier.

TUBERCULAR PRISONER AT JAIL SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Convicted Soldier's Term Has Only Two Weeks to Run.

Higgins Hughes, the colored tubercular prisoner, serving three months in the county jail for a vicious assault on Dr. Shiels of Victoria Hospital, will complete his term on March 21, two weeks from next Thursday. Hughes' condition has been a source of worry to other prisoners and jail officials during his period of confinement. Some weeks ago it was announced he was dying, and that he would in all probability live only a few days.

Since that time he has shown some improvement, and today is not considered to be much morse than the day he was sentenced.

Dr. James D. Wilson, jail physician, pronounced Hughes' case as being highly contagious, and recommended his removal to a place where he could be properly treated.

Dr. H. W. Hill, M. O. H., disagreed, and stated that Hughes did not present an "open case," consequently would not infect others in the jail. Hughes will be deported to the United States at the expiration of his term if nothing arises to prevent the immigration authorities accepting him.

NEW Y. M. C. A. HUT IS OFFICIALLY OPENED

The new Y. M. C. A. hut which was recently completed at Carling Heights Camp was officially opened Tuesday night, when a band concert by the Henderson Kiltie band was given to mark the occasion.

The new hut is a large, roomy structure, and should provide ample space for the needs of the men at the camp, both in summer and winter months. The old hut was located across Oxford street, to the north of the camp grounds, but the new structure is on the camp grounds proper, being situated a short distance west of the Army Dental Corps building.

Following the concert refreshments were served through the kindness of Mrs. C. W. Leonard and other ladies from the city.

URGES WOMEN TO VOTE INTELLIGENTLY

ST. THOMAS, March 5.—The Liberal Club rooms were well filled tonight to hear Miss Isabel Armstrong of London. She said she realized the new responsibility that had been placed on the shoulders of the women of Ontario as something more than a mere privilege. Miss Armstrong, who was given a splendid hearing, urged all women to take an earnest interest in the questions of the day, so that they might exercise the franchise intelligently and clearly. Women would undoubtedly by their votes determine great questions.

WOMAN'S DANGER PERIOD

The period between forty-five and fifty-five years of age is said to be a crisis or danger period in a woman's life which tests her for her fitness to continue in the race. It is then that she suffers from such annoying symptoms as heat-flashes, nervousness, headaches, "the blues," or dread of impending evil, or some dormant disease in the system becomes active. When a woman is passing through this crisis there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which after forty years of success is now considered the standard remedy for woman's ailments.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages, and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

RETURNED SOLDIER NOW TELLS ABOUT HIS EXPERIENCES

Trouble of Five Years Standing Ended—Gains Twelve Pounds.

"If my testimonial will be the cause of others taking Tanlac you are welcome to it, for I certainly feel sorry for anyone suffering like I did, and am glad to do what I can to help them," said James Benson, who resides at 683 Runnymede road, Toronto, in a conversation with a Tanlac representative recently. Mr. Benson is a returned soldier, having gone overseas with the York Rangers. He is now employed by the Harris Abattoir Company.

"Tanlac has relieved me entirely," continued Mr. Benson, "of a case of stomach trouble that had been bothering me off and on for five years, and that is why I so willingly recommend it. My appetite seemed to be fairly good—that is, I could eat—but nothing agreed with me. My food would just stay in my stomach undigested, and the gas formed by it would bloat me all up, causing severe pain, not only in my stomach and sides, but around my heart. I was so nervous I couldn't rest well, and often had dizzy spells. I was badly constipated, and all day at my work I had that dull, tired-out feeling. I had lost several pounds in weight, and was getting worse all the time.

"My wife had been reading the Tanlac testimonials, and she finally succeeded in getting me to try a bottle. Well, I didn't stop at one bottle. It helped me so much that I bought another, then another, and when my third bottle was gone my stomach trouble was gone too. I'm never bothered now with any kind of pain or discomfort, and I eat just what I want. My food digests perfectly, and the best proof of this is the fact that I have gained twelve pounds, which is several pounds more than I had lost. In fact, I'm simply feeling fine, and can certainly praise Tanlac for the way it has relieved my troubles and built me up."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

Girls! Make Beauty Cream! Lemon Juice Whitens Skin

Prepare a quarter pint for few cents and massage face, neck, arms and hands. Try it and see!

Any grocer will sell you two fresh lemons and your drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white. Put these in a bottle and shake well. Here you have a whole quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon lotion at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams.

Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Used by day, this sweetly fragrant lotion protects the skin from the evil effects of the weather and prevents roughness, redness, chafing and smarting. At night it works in the pores while you sleep, and is intended to bring a freshness and peach-like beauty that wins envy and admiration.

Just try it! Make up a quarter pint and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It works marvelously on rough, red hands.

Application to Parliament

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made by the Corporation of the City of London to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next session, for an Act:

1. To authorize the Council of the Corporation of the City of London to pass bylaws without obtaining the assent of the electors thereto, for the issue of debentures for the following purposes, namely:

(a) $25,000.00 debentures to provide moneys for the Public Utilities Commission of the City of London, to pay for urgent and necessary extensions and additions to the waterworks pumping plants and distribution system of the City of London.

(b) $25,000.00 debentures to provide moneys for the Public Utilities Commission of the City of London, to pay for certain urgent and necessary extensions and additions to the sub-station equipment and distribution system of the electric light plant of the City of London.

2. The existing debenture debt of the said City is as follows:

General debentures	$2,938,634.63
War purposes debentures	253,845.72
Waterworks debentures	1,085,591.36
Electrical department debentures	699,537.54
London and Port Stanley Railway debentures	997,919.59
City's share of Local Improvement debentures	229,353.34
School and Public Library debentures	1,084,243.35
	$7,289,125.53

3. The reasons for requiring the issue of the debentures are as follows:

(a) To pay for the extensions and additions to the waterworks pumping plant and distribution system, which are urgent and necessary in order to supply the additional demand made for water.

(b) To pay for certain urgent and necessary extensions and additions to the sub-station equipment and distribution system of the electric light plant of the City of London, which are necessary in consequence of the increased demand for electric power and light in the City of London.

DATED at London, Ontario, this 4th day of February, A.D., 1918.

S. BAKER, City Clerk.

DEWART FIGHTS HARD AGAINST EXTENDING TERM

West Toronto Member Puts Up a Lone and Vigorous Battle in House.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 5.—Characterizing the bill to extend the life of the Legislature as a jug-handled scheme which ties the hands of the people, but leaves the Government free to spring an election at any time when the going is good, Hartley Dewart, member for Southwest Toronto, vigorously protested in the Legislature tonight against an indefinite extension, on the ground that such a measure really establishes an irresponsible oligarchy. He thought an extension for one year would be sufficient, but he was willing to extend the Legislature from year to year, if advisable, during the period of the war.

The Liberal leader, Mr. Proudfoot, declared that in making the extension offer to the prime minister he did so in the utmost good faith, believing that he had the authority of all the members of the Opposition, including that of Mr. Dewart. Mr. Proudfoot repeated the opinion that it was in the interests of the people of Ontario that the life of the Legislature should be extended.

The Premier's Reply.

Sir William Hearst also thought the members of the House were unanimous on the question at the time the offer was made, and accepted, and if he did not think that public opinion throughout the province was overwhelmingly in favor of the bill he would withdraw it, submit a soldier's voting bill in its place and bring on an election without delay.

Sam Clarke (West Northumberland) said the Opposition leader did not make the offer "off his own bat, but it was discussed by the members of this side of the House before the offer was made, and I certainly was not aware that there was a dissenting voice."

The motion for the second reading of the bill was then put and the only division of the session showed that Mr. Dewart stood alone, the vote being 58 to 1.

Mr. Dewart made a masterly speech, arguing the proposed extension was in contravention of the British North America act, and therefore unconstitutional. He said in part:

Dewart Opposes Extension.

"I am compelled to dissent from the idea of an indefinite extension of the life of the Assembly by members who happen to constitute the House at any particular time. It is contrary to the plain spirit of the constitution of the province as settled by the B. N. A. act, if not, indeed, clearly in violation of it. Definiteness of the term of holding office and retaining seats in the House was surely intended by the use of the words, 'for four years,' 'and no longer.' Any extraordinary power should be carefully exercised. When the leader of the Opposition made the tentative suggestion that he did in the course of his speech on the address, I understood him to express his own views, not even then fully formed, and certainly that the members on this side of the House were not bound by a proposal that had not been considered. The promptness with which the premier accepted these tentative suggestions, and amplified the powers that his Government proposed to exercise, without restrictions or making certain important limitations, was to say the least a little unexpected. There has been no opportunity given to consider the terms of this bill before its introduction, nor has there been any signification of the unanimous assent of the Assembly. Speaking the other evening on the address, I took occasion to point out certain important matters that I thought should be dealt with. I am sorry that these have been ignored.

"I can find but one precedent in our constitutional history for such a proposal as the present one, and I am sure that another 'long Parliament' would not be regraded with popular favor.

Not a Provincial Right.

"Despite this precedent I am convinced that it is not now in accordance with good constitutional practice that this Provincial Legislature should indefinitely extend its own life. The supreme powers that the British Parliament had and still has are not possessed even by the Dominion Parliament, much less by our Provincial Legislatures. The principle that the term of the life of every British legislative body shall be for a definite period has now become firmly established as a constitutional principle. This is true of the British Parliament, with its five-year term. The British North America act makes the life of our Canadian House of Commons five years 'and no longer,' and when its term had to be extended it was necessary to secure an imperial act. The provincial assemblies under the same act shall continue 'for four years,' 'and no longer.' It is only because the British North America act permits the amendment 'of the constitution of the province' by the Legislature that the right to make any extension by the Legislature itself can exist without other control.

"But since the constitutional principle is now firmly fixed that each parliamentary body shall exist for a definite period (subject to earlier dissolution), the same constitutional principle must surely apply to the term of any extension, and my contention is that this Legislative Assembly has no constitutional powers to grant itself an extension for an indefinite period.

May Get "Out of Hand."

"But apart from the strong constitutional argument against an indefinite understanding, it is not good legislation to pass an act that will enable any government to get 'out of hand' and 'out of touch' with the expression of the popular will for too long a period of time.

"We all trust that the war will be over inside of a year, and it is our fervent hope today that then the popular will may be expressed and a new legislature may be elected without diverting the energies of the people from the carrying on of the war. But this is a war for a complete and lasting peace, and after the experiences of the last three years and the changing conditions that have arisen from time to time, both upon the theatre of war and at home, so far as the returned soldiers are concerned, and so far as the great industrial and agricultural problems of production are concerned, no one can foresee what coonditions or what problems may have to be dealt with, even during the coming two years. It is only fair therefore that the influence of public opinion should be felt—that we should not deal today with conditions of years hence which we cannot foresee and which can be treated with greater wisdom then than now.

Too Long and Indefinite.

"It is estimated that it may take two years to bring our soldiers back after the war with the shortage of boats that exists—the present proposal in the form in which it has been drafted by the premier provides therefore for an extension not only until after the return of the last soldier, but for a further period of one year thereafter, to permit the session of the Legislature to be held for the readjustment of conditions. This is a very pretty way of saying that after the war is over and after the last soldier has returned the Government that is then in power shall have another year in which to put its house in order before submitting itself to the people. But conditions may change—the personnel of the Government may change—there may be an entirely different and unindorsed Government in power. Rumor has already been busy with the names of ministers of the crown from the prime minister down, who are to be elevated to the bench. The personality of a government must always have a great influence in determining whether the confidence of the people shall or shall not be given to that government, but under the proposed amendment the province is absolutely tied to the personnel of any administration that may be selected by our honorable friends without the necessity of any minister who may be appointed, either in or out of the House, going to the people for indorsement. It is really the establishment of an irresponsible oligarchy.

A Jug-Handled Scheme.

"It is a most jug-handled scheme, because while the province is tied, the Government is to have its hands free to dissolve at any time that it may deem the going good, and the occasion opportune. There are elements in this country which are not represented in their collective character by either the Liberal or the Conservative party in this House. The growing power of the industrial forces in Canada, the rapidly-increasing number of returned soldiers who have definite interests and who are entitled to interim representation in this House during the continuance of this war, make it inadvisable that they should be indefinitely bound by an agreement between the old line parties now, in which they have no voices and which deliberately excludes them from representative representation.

"While the Dominion Government is dealing with the question of patronage and has passed an order-in-council, which we hope may sound the death-knell of the partisan system, there is no suggestion made by the Government of Ontario that it will now adopt the same course or that patronage will be abolished, and appointments made upon examination and merit with the preference to qualified returned soldiers. True we have a purchasing agent suggested, but his general powers and duties as defined by the act as it has been brought down, will need considerable revision if they are to be effective. It should be a term, if any extension is granted that there shall be an abolition of patronage in this province.

Lucas' Camouflage.

"The bill that has been introduced by the attorney-general which he calls 'an act for the better regulation of the public service,' shows that he understands the meaning of the word 'camouflage,' which he has been so free to use himself. The bill is palliative, but not curative. There is no provision for competitive examinations—the attorney-general is unable to say whether the formal and competitive examinations which are to be enforced into the Dominion 'are suitable to the province.' Civil service reform, in his opinion, is not feasible now. Classes are to be formed. The commissioner is to make a continuous survey of departments, investigate the conditions in the various departments, hold inquiries and make recommendations to the lieutenant-governor-in-council. This falls far short of being an effective remedy. It leaves the principle of partisan appointment still untouched.

"I have, therefore, after the fullest consideration, come to the conclusion that I cannot accept the hurried agreement that has been made between the premier and the leader of the Opposition, because of the lack of consideration that is apparent of the important constitutional issues and the failure to deal with and safeguard other matters of policy which are of the utmost importance to the people of the province."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

The market today was slow, only a few loads of hay reaching the square, the majority selling at $14.50 a ton. This is a little lower than the price has been for some time.

Sixteen loads of hay were offered on Tuesday. This makes a total of 61 loads of hay in two days.

Oats are selling from $2.85 to $2.88 per cwt. Twelve loads were brought to the market Tuesday.

Straw is scarce, and a number of buyers went away disappointed this morning.

A shipment of live hogs was made, $18.50 per cwt. being paid. Dressed hogs are in great demand and remain at $24.25 a cwt.

Dairy products are scarce. Not many were offered Tuesday.

Country hides are selling for 10c to 11c, while city hides are selling from 12c to 14c.

LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, March 6.—The market at the Union stockyards was steady this morning and prices medium. Hogs and cattle steady, sheep and calves slow. Receipts, 36 cars, containing 700 cattle, 96 calves, 2,640 hogs and 75 sheep. Quotations:

GRAIN.

Chicago, March 6.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 27¼.

Oats—March, 91¼c; May, 89¼c.

Chicago, March 6.—Corn prices hardened today owing to unfavorable weather, more or less. Considerable notice was taken of an estimate that only 65.3 per cent of farm stocks were of merchantable quality, as against 84 per cent last year. On the other hand, the total stock of corn on farms on March 1 was figured at 1,454,000,000 bushels, an aggregate surpassing any previous record. Future deliveries, which opened at the same as yesterday's close to a shade higher, showed a tendency to hold steady within the initial range.

Scantiness of offerings resulted in an upturn in the oats market. Demand, however, was not urgent. After opening unchanged to ¼c higher, prices scored additional gains.

Winnipeg, March 6.—The oats market opened ⅛c higher for May and July at 97¼c and 95⅝c respectively.

Flax, 2c higher for May at $3 82.

Inspections yesterday, 456 cars, of which 238 were contract grades of wheat.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 6—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Industrial stocks were the conspicuous features of today's early dealings, steels showing especial strength in consequence of the favorable annual report issued by the Lackawanna Steel and Republic Iron. These issues ranged 1 to 1½ points higher with United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Crucible Steel and Pressed Steel Car. Coppers, shippings, oils, motors and American Wollen were fractionally better. Rails continued dull and irregular. Liberty bonds were again variable.

Noon.—Rails became suddenly active later under lead of St. Paul, the common stock gaining 3⅜ and the preferred 2 points on rumors that favorable dividend action might soon be taken. Pacifics averaged 1-point advances, and Rock Islands were substantially higher, also Reading and Chesapeake and Ohio. Industrials, notably equipments, were under the influence of profit-taking, yielding part of their early advantage.

CLASS "C" BADGES COME IN BETTER FOR WAR SERVICE

Number Issued From Headquarters—Woman Not Eligible.

A large number of Class C badges are included in the latest list of men to whom they have been mailed by Major C. O. Fairbank, officer in charge of war service badges, at military district headquarters. Few Class C badges were received at first, but they are now being issued with the others.

Women, unless they have been in the service, are not entitled to war service badges. Many women who have had relatives killed in action, and some who have had relatives in the service, have written to Major Fairbank applying for badges. Headquarters wishes it to be distinctly understood that the badges are not issued to relatives of soldiers.

Badges have been mailed to the following:

Alfred Pugh, 393 Simcoe street, London, A; R. Pittam, Komoka, A and B; J. P. Millar, Wolseley Barracks, London, D; Hugh Horner, 665 St. James street, London, B; L. Morgan, Wolseley Barracks, London, C; H. J. Myers, Wolseley Barracks, London, C; W. J. Brown, Wolseley Barracks, London, (lieut.-col), A; T. Eggbeer, Carling Heights, London, C; H. Froude, Wolseley Barracks, London, C; C. N. King, 45 Grove street, Guelph, C; H. Hinscliffe, Wingham, B; S. W. Hartley, Florence, A and B; P. C. Westbrooke, R. R. No. 3, Komoka, A and B; J. QUESTIONNAIRES OF FOUR TYPES BEING USED FOR REVIEW

Only First One Is Now Being Forwarded, However.

Four types of questionnaires to be sent to exempted men in Class 1 or their relatives will be dispatched from the office of Deputy Registrar Wismer within the next few days. The blank questionnaire sheets must be filled in and mailed back to the deputy registrar's office within three days after their receipt.

An exempted man's failure to comply with this requirement will mean that his exemption will be automatically disallowed.

When the questionnaire sheets are returned they will be considered carefully by the exemptions review board, consisting of Deputy Registrar Wismer, Capt. W. E. Hindson, public representative, and Lieut.-Col. T. R. Mayberry, agricultural representative.

Of the four types of questionnaires, but only one, that sent to the exempted person himself, is being forwarded now. It consists of five parts, plus additional queries on an insert. Part one is questions relating to name, age, personal appearance, in what respect not physically fit, country of birth (if not a British subject), nature of present occupation, and list of occupations engaged in since the age of eighteen years. It also requires name of next of kin. Part two is to be answered by all employed persons, and asks name and address of employer, and how long with present employer.

Part three is for men on farms. The kind of farm he works must be stated, name, sex and age of all persons working on it; other work, if any; special duties on the farm, number of crops last year, full particulars of stock, if farm is owned or rented, and finally: "What would happen if you left the farm?"

Part four consists of questions to be answered if claim for exemption is made on other grounds than occupation or physical condition, and must be filled in by all men not in category A as well. Names and addresses of all dependents are asked for; names, ages and relationships of near relatives in the Canadian Expeditionary Force; special circumstances connected with domestic position; total income last twelve months, cash or otherwise; exact character and extent of business and financial obligations. If a student full particulars are asked for concerning institution, course and its duration.

Part five is blank, in which the exempted person may write in any other facts upon which he relies for exemption from military service.

ORGANIZES THURSDAY

Gardening Committee Will Perfect Plans Then.

The special gardening committee of the city council will meet on Thursday evening for complete organization. Representatives from various societies will be present, and a big campaign for backyard production will be put on by Ald. S. R. Manness and his associates.

FURTHER MILITARY CHANGES.—Lieut. Joseph Atholstan Pembroke Marshall (C. E.), late 135th Battalion, C. E. F., has been struck off the strength of the C. E. F., having become surplus in rank to establishment, 9th January, 1918, camp orders state. Lieut. Harry Crane Mackendrick, 4th C. M. R., is taken on the strength of the C. E. F. in Canada, having been returned from overseas for disposal by the adjutant-general.

HAIG ADMITS ENEMY SURPRISE LOST HIM HIS CAMBRAI GAIN

Attaches No Blame to Anyone For Setback.

LONDON, Monday, March 4.—(Delayed.)—The war office tonight made public a long dispatch from Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig covering the much-discussed battles on the Cambrai front last November. It relates in much detail how the operations were carried out, tells of the successes at first achieved, and alludes, quite as frankly, to the subsequent reverses which compelled a withdrawal from territory that had been captured, no blame being imputed to anyone for this latter occurrence.

"At the northern end of the Bonavis Ridge and in the Gonnelieu sector," the commander relates, "the swiftness with which the advance of the enemy's infantry followed the opening of his bombardment appears to have overwhelmed our troops, both in the line and the immediate support, almost before they had realized the attack had begun. The nature of the bombardment, which seems to have been heavy enough to keep our men under cover without at first seriously alarming them, contributed to the success of the enemy's plans.

"In short, there is little doubt that although an attack was expected generally, yet in these areas of the battle at the moment of its delivery, the assault effected a local surprise."

ONTARIO LIKELY TO MOVE CLOCKS AHEAD

TORONTO, March 5. — The Ontario Legislature appears to be in favor of saving daylight. The bill introduced by Major J. I. Hartt, M. P. P. for East Simcoe, was today referred to the legal committee, on the understanding that the Ontario law would be changed to agree with the proposed new Dominion law.

It is probable that the clocks of the province will be put forward one hour on April 1, and put back one hour on November 1 each year.

The prime minister stated that he understands the Dominion Government was taking the matter up with the United States with the object of similar action being taken simultaneously all over the North American half of the continent.

Ottawa, March 5.—Brewers of the Dominion today asked the war committee for compensation for loss of business. They also asked that the standard non-intoxicant beverage fixed for beer at 2½ per cent alcoholic strength.

CZERNIN WOULD LET PRESENT RULER STAY ON RUMANIAN THRONE

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Count Czernin, the Austrian premier, the state department today was advised, told the Rumanian premier in the peace negotiations now in progress, that unless Rumania yielded she was to be crushed, but that if she ceded Dobrudja and agreed to rectification of boundaries she might preserve her integrity and her present ruling dynasty.

WESTERN ONTARIO TROOPS REPORTED SAFE IN ENGLAND

TORONTO PASTOR ACCEPTS CALL TO ST. THOMAS CHURCH

Rev. A. J. Thornloe to Be Inducted on March 19.

CHARGES CONSOLIDATED

Resignation of Rev. J. G. Stuart Is Accepted by London Presbytery.

At the afternoon session of the Presbytery a call was presented by Rev. G. H. Eastman from Alma Street Church, St. Thomas, in favor of Rev. A. J. Thornloe of Toronto. The salary promised is $1,400, with four weeks vacation. Mr. Thornloe accepted, and the induction will take place March 19 at 8 o'clock in the evening. The moderator to preside, Rev. H. McGillivray, to address the ministers, and Rev. John Currie to address the people.

Rev. John Currie of Belmont tendered his resignation of the Belmont Church. The matter will be considered later.

The resignation of Rev. John Elder of Bethel was laid on the table until next meeting.

Rev. A. W. Haig presented an overture to the General Assembly asking that the rules be adopted forcing all ministers to connect themselves with the aged ministers' fund.

Rev. Dr. Stewart of Dartmouth, N.S., Rev. Dr. Fletcher of Thames Road, and Rev. W. J. Clark, formerly of the First Church of this city, were nominated to meet the General Assembly in June.

Amalgamate Charges.

The committee on rearrangement reported that the following be adopted, and the congregation to be visited to see if they will accept these arrangements: That Bethel and Bryanston and Ilderton be on one charge; also that Hyde Park and Komoka be on one charge.

The resignation of Rev. J. G. Stuart of Knox Church, South London, was presented and requested to be accepted, to take effect on the 1st of May next. A resolution was presented offering Mr. Stuart $1,500 for three years, and thereafter $500 per year.

$1,000 Per Annum.

It was agreed to pay Mr. Stuart $1,000 per annum for three years, any further allowance to be decided at the expiration of these three years.

It was requested that St. Paul's Church, West London, be made a mission centre, but this was reconsidered, and it was decided that St. Paul's Church will remain as formerly.

The meeting was adjourned until March 19, to be held in Alma Street Church, St. Thomas.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY WITH HER HEART

Would Wake Up Smothering

The terrible smothering and choking up sensations and sinking spells, the feelings of dizziness and faintness that come over those whose heart and nerves are deranged causes the greatest distress of both mind and body.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills give prompt relief and effect a comple cure in cases of such severity.

Mrs. A. M. Powell, Norval Station, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I suffered five years with my heart and nerves, but the last two years I have suffered terribly. If I went to bed I would wake up as if I were smothering. I did not get one night's sleep out of seven. I got so very weak that the doctor was called in, and he said it was my heart, and that I must take great care of myself. I saw your advertisement in your almanac for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and said I would try them. I have only taken two boxes of them and I feel a new woman. I will recommend them to anyone afflicted with heart trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CITY SCHOOLS WILL NEED $20,000 MORE FOR THIS YEAR'S WORK

Board of Education Estimates Total $371,957.

The board of education at its session yesterday afternoon, passed the estimates for the year, and ordered them sent on to the council.

The public schools will require $317,129 for the year, and the Collegiate Institute $54,828. This is about $20,000 more than last year. The technical school will ask for $34,507.52 for maintenance, and also $37,0000 for furnishing, equipping and completing the technical school. The figures were submitted by the various committees and unchanged by the board. The trustees for all their work will require about $34,000 more than last year, or three-quarters of a mill on the tax rate.

City Clerk Baker submitted a bill for $348, as the board's share of the election expenses. The matter was referred to No. 2 committee, with instructions that the city council be charged $5 a room for the use of schools at election time. This will amount to more than $600.

Inspector's Report.

Inspector Edwards submitted his annual report. It will be printed in book form.

Power was given No. 2 committee to purchase coal for the schools next year at the most advantageous prices. The same committee was authorized to purchase the furnishings for the new offices of the board.

Inspector Edwards reported that during the month of February the enrollment was 7,767, an increase of 161. The average attendance was 6,081, or 308 less than for the same month last year. The falling off was due to the outbreak of measles and the cold weather. There are 930 boys enrolled in the manual training classes, and 992 girls in the household science classes, with an average attendance of 814 boys and 829 girls.

The school nurses made 3,055 inspections during the month. There were 60 suffering from defective breathing, 9 from defective hearing, 23 from defective vision, and 19 were excluded. Ten had tonsils and adenoids removed. The school dentist performed 214 operations.

Schools were closed a total of 41 days during January and February owing to the lack of fuel.

Returned soldiers will be accommodated at the new technical school, where they will be taught vocational training. The Government will supply the teachers and will pay a rental to the city.

Principal Rogers reported that the enrollment at the Collegiate was 928, with an average attendance of 837. There were 79 enrolled in the evening classes with an average attendance of 50.

Principal Beal stated that there were 73 day students at the technical, with an average daily attendance of 61. There was an average attendance of 119 at the evening classes.

The police will be instructed to proceed against boys and men who cut across school lawns. The practice is becoming a nuisance, and efforts will be made to stop it.

ANNOUNCEMENT

PATRICIA

"Efficiency Edgar's Courtship" is the screen attraction at the Patricia Theatre again today. Taylor Holmes, the star of this photoplay, won his fame on the stage by his clever portrayals of subtly humorous roles, and Essanay has been careful to provide him with exactly the same type in "Efficiency Edgar's Courtship." The picture was adapted from the story of that title written by Clarence Budington Kelland.

Edgar is an aggressive youth, who reasons that if efficiency methods win success in business, they should be equally successful in winning a maiden's heart. He tries it and succeeds, though not until he has weathered a series of setbacks which would squelch any ordinary young man's budding love.

The picture is brimming with homely humor and situations which are ridiculously real. At the Patricia Theatre today.

VIOLINISTS' OPPORTUNITY

London Conservatory Announces Special Course Under John Melvin Bush.

The new department of violin instruction in class, which was introduced at the beginning of the present school year, has been an unqualified success, and will be continued indefinitely under the direction of Mr. John Melvin Bush, the eminent soloist and teacher, formerly of the Von Ende School, New York.

The advantages of this method of instruction are many. The class is limited to four, each student receiving an individual lesson, and the benefit of the instruction given to the others of the class. This latter is of tremendous value to the ambitious pupil, and helps him in gaining experience more than in any other way.

A specially attractive feature of this course is that the Conservatory allows the use of a violin until such time as the pupil becomes assured of success.

Fees for this course are extremely moderate. For further particulars apply to the registrar, London Conservatory of Music, or 'phone 1101. New classes are now in process of formation. b

DISTRICT COMMITTEES TO CONSIDER REPORTS ON VENEREAL DISEASE

Will Send Verdict to the Legislature.

Every one of the 57 advisory committees on venereal diseases throughout Military District No. 1 will be asked to consider the bill now before the Ontario Legislature, and to forward their reports on it to Toronto before the bill comes up again for consideration on Friday next.

This action was decided upon at a meeting of the education sub-committee of the London advisory committee, held Tuesday afternoon. Copies of the bill will be made by the London committee and distributed so that it may be intelligently discussed. A meeting of the advisory committee will be held at 4:30 Thursday afternoon in the Y.M.C.A., when the bill will be thoroughly discussed, in order that a report may be drafted in time to be of use before the bill is again taken up in the Legislature on Friday. Pending the meeting of the whole advisory committee, the sub-committee did not take any action, but laid the question over till Thursday.

The following names were added to the list of members of the committee, subject to the approval of those named: Capt. T. J. McNally, district health officer; Police Magistrate Graydon, Dr. H. A. McCallum, Canon Tucker, E. R. Wilson, Crown Attorney McKillop and Dr. N. H. Beal.

PLAN TO RAISE $2,000 IN TEN-DAY CAMPAIGN

A canvass is now being made among the Hebrew residents of the city to raise $2,000 towards the Palestine restoration fund. It is planned to raise the first instalment of the fund, $1,000,000, in ten days. London's quota has been set at $2,000, and half of this amount has already been secured. A huge fund will be raised for the purpose of resettling the Jews in the Holy Land. The first $1,000,000 will be devoted to rehabilitating Jewish settlements and institutions in Palestine, many of which have suffered cruelly since the war.

The local restoration fund committee is composed of the following: Messrs. B. Lewis, J. Harris, I. Goldstick, M. Fishbein, J. Coppersmith, W. Leff, D. Rosenbloom and M. Lerner, its chairman. Contributions are received by the treasurer, D. Rosenbloom, 232 Dundas street.

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author Says
EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER EVERY DAUGHTER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES
To put strength into her nerves and color into her cheeks.

There can be no beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women without iron. The trouble in the past has been that when women needed iron they generally took ordinary metallic iron, which often corroded the stomach and did far more harm than good. Today doctors prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard looking women 100 per cent in two weeks' time in many instances. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.—Ferdinand King, M. D.
NOTE: NUXATED IRON recommended by Dr. Ferdinand King can be obtained from any good druggist who will guarantee if success or money refunded. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

Sold by Standard Drug Stores.

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says We Will Both Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh and Avoid Illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

The Wise Investment of Money

THESE are times when the wise investment of money, either large or small sums, is a matter of the utmost national and personal importance. You should buy those Bonds, Debentures and Stocks which have behind them unquestionable security for the payment of interest and principal. Such securities pay a fair and reasonable interest on the investment you make and command a ready market if you should decide to re-sell at any time.

¶ It is part of the service rendered by the members of the Montreal Stock Exchange to furnish all details of the security, earning power, and value of such securities, and to act as buying and selling agents for the general public.

¶ No matter how large or how small the amount of money you have for investment, you should know the assets behind the security you buy, the rate of interest it will pay, the probability of its increasing in value, and how it can be turned into cash should the necessity arise. This is the service which the members of the Montreal Stock Exchange maintain.

A valuable booklet has been prepared on "Investing," and the service rendered by the Montreal Stock Exchange. The edition is limited, so write to-day for your copy. Use the form below provided for the purpose.
