ACETYLENE GAS WORKS WRECKED BY EXPLOSION; MAN KILLED

EXPLOSION THIS MORNING DEVASTATION AT SCENE OF

The picture on the left looks directly on the site where formerly stood the Mitchell gas plant. The buildings in the centre of this picture stood north of the gas plant. Just to the left of the inset, small round carbide tanks may be seen. These were in the centre of the gas plant and remained more or less in their original position, while the huge cement blocks of which the building was constructed, were carried away some distance. To the immediate right on the picture on the left and in the background may be seen a tree with all its lower limbs torn off as a result of the explosion. The picture on the right is taken from the east of the gas plant. The badly-damaged Park home stands in the centre, and next to it is the Fishbein home. The debris in front of the Park home is all that remains of the Park kitchen. Fire Chief John Aitken may be seen standing in the foreground of this picture. He is standing where the gas plant building formerly stood and almost exactly on the spot where the body of the only victim of the explosion was found lying. Part of the machinery of the gas plant may be seen on the left of this picture. The inset is Stephen Snider, who met his death when the gas plant blew up, wrecking hundreds of windows and causing many thousand dollars damage to places in the vicinity.

Grave Digger Dies In An Attempt To Stop Runaway Team

Accident in Cemetery.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Montreal, Oct. 5.—Giuseppe Sonty, grave digger, was the victim of one of the tricks which fate plays so often in connection with the most tragic circumstances, when he was killed in the Cole des Neigs Cemetery here yesterday

Sonty was digging a grave, when a runaway team, drawing a heavy hearse, evidently frightened at something on the road, dashed down the inclined pathway from where the hearse had just returned from burying the remains of a Spanish influenza victim, and the driver, seeing the danger when the horses scared, jumped for his life. Sonty, dropping his shovel, jumped in front of the horses, in an attempt to stop their mad career, but the team, going down hill, knocked over the unfortunate man and trampled him under foot.

When the ambulance arrived, they cound him dead beside the grave which he had been preparing. LOCAL TEMPERATURES. Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 67; lowest, 31.

HUNS LONGING FOR PEACE

Amsterdam, Oct. 5.-Admiral von Hintze, who has repeatedly ten dered his resignation, has now joined the majority parties and will continue in office, it is said by the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. This change in von Hintze's attitude has occasioned considerable surprise in Berlin, it is said. During his visit to main headquarters, it is reported, he resolutely championed parliamentarization.

Declaring that Germany is ready to make sacrifices to obtain the advantages of admittance to a league of free and equal peoples, the Vorwaerts of Berlin, the Socialist organ, says: "If our opponents will name the price which individual nations must pay in order to participate in the advantages of lasting peace, then the German nation can decide whether or not to accept. Our people's desire for speedy peace is stronger than ever. The Government must take this into account, but must not make peace at any price."

Paris, Oct. 5.—The French and American troops in Champagne have gained further ground north of Blanc Mont in the direction of the River Arnes, according to the official statement from the war office today. Along the Aisne Canal, in the region of Rheims, the French are pressing the Germans vigorously and have crossed the canal at several points. The French have reached the outskirts of Bermericourt, east of the canal.

Violent fighting continues north of St. Quentin. In desperate fighting, the French have driven the enemy from the heights southeast of Chardon-Vert.

SERBIAN FORCES DEFEAT FOE TROOPS NEAR TURKISH FRONTIER

London, Oct. 5 .- Austro-German troops have been defeated in fighting with the Serbians, who pursued them towards the old Serbo-Turkish frontier, says a Serbian official statement of Friday. The statement reads: "We have repulsed Austrian and Ger-

LATE MAJ. LAWSON FELL AS VICTORY CROWNED EFFORTS

Fellow Officers Pay Tribute to Gallant Comrade.

Three very interesting letters from France have been received by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lawson, 53 Bruce street, this city, concerning the death of their son, Major Wilfred E. Lawson, late O. C. 17th Battery, C. F. A., who died of wounds at No. 7 Casualty Clearing Station on the 29th of August, 1918. Col. Constantine, O. C. 5th Brigade,

"As his brigade commander, I can only say that during his time with this brigade he was all that could be desired as a battery commander. A keen, efficient officer, who never failed in his duty to his seniors, similarly he did not fail in his untiring endeavors to look after the comfort and welfare of the men directly under him. Apart from his duty, as a man and a friend, his loss is deeply felt by his brother officers and his associates of all ranks."

Capt. M. N. Omond, Canadian chaplain services, of London, Ont., writes most interestingly, giving details of his wounds, which were in the chest, abdomen and thigh:

Death Unexpected.

"The medical officer at the dressing station found his wounds in good shape, and was very reassuring in his report. The major, though suffering a considerable amount of pain, was very cheerful. He asked me to write to you to say there was no fear regarding his leg, which the first medical officer to examine him thought to be in some danger. I was talking to him after he was placed in the ambulance to be taken on to the casualty clearing station, and he was speaking very cheerfully, as is the was speaking very cheerfully, as is the was speaking very cheerium, as is the custom, of the prospect of a good trip to, and stay in "Blighty." You may imagine my surprise and sorrow the next day when I heard that he had died in the casualty clearing station. Evidently the severe shock had been too much for his system.

Pte. McWilliams enlisted with the 99th Battallon and was transferred to the 142nd (London's Own) Battalion and went overseas with that unit. He has been overseas over two years, and was hit by shrapnel.

Met By Automobiles.

The members of the reception committee of the soldiers' aid commission were more than pleased the way the citizens of this city with automobiles turned out to meet the returned boys. Ald. F. E. Harley was in charge of the cars. Automobiles were also supplied to take the London men to their homes and to take the out-of-town men to the station.

The men were taken to the district depot at Princess Avenue Barracks and boarded.

A number of the men were granted leave of absence and allowed to return to their homes.

The exhibits in all the classes were splendid, and the judges had a hard task to choose the winners. All the animais and the poultry were judged in the yard, where pens had been prepared, while the school house had been transformed into a regular crystal palace. About $60 in prizes was carried off by the young patriots. Fifteen dollars of the prize money was donated by the school board, and special prizes to the value of $40 were given by the residents of the vicinity. The entry money also went towards the prizes. Following is a list of the special sprize winners:

Mothers' Club.

Urges That the Children Be Taught Real Domestic Science When Young.

"Service and sacrifice are the two things that count most at this period. It is up to the women, wives and mothers of Canada to lay these at the feet of their country." This was just one of the inspiring statements made by Miss Constance Boulton, school trustee of Toronto, at a meeting of the Union Mothers' Club in the Ryerson school on Friday evening. Her subject was education and reconstruction after the war.

cation and reconstruction after the war.

"United and concerted action will alone solve the gigantic problems that Canada will have to face at the end of the war, and is already facing. Education is the one thing that will count. We should begin reconstruction right now if we are to accomplish anything worth while for our country," said Miss Boulton.

now if we are to accomplish anything worth while for our country," said Miss Boulton.

Conditions in Toronto.

"When I was elected a trustee on the school board in Toronto last January, the first thing that I resolved to present, and did present, to the board was that in every school throughout Toronto, domestic science and manual training should be taught. Thousands of our young boys and girls have been leaving school at a very young age and accepting positions in factories and as cash girls in the large departmental stores. Not any one of them has learned a single practical thing, the kind of things that a woman who looks forward to the sacred things of wife and motherhood, should know, or things absolutely essential to housekeeping and homemaking. Some of the homes which the children come from are not worthy of that name, and so unless domestic science and manual training are taught in all schools we cannot expect children to grow up in the world as professional home-makers and housekeepers.

Real Domestic Science.

"What I mean by domestic science," said Miss Boulton, "is not teaching the art of making wonderful salads with glorious colorings on top, and such like but how to prepare a wholesome meal, boil a potato and broil a chop. This large room idea, with its rows of little gas plates, is all right, and answers the purpose very well, but why not have just a model little house with a diningroom, sitting-room, bedroom, and let the children be taught how to manage an average home and do the work thoroughly and methodically. What is needed in the schools is a greater practical and vocational training, in addition to the academical training, in addition to the academical training. We have to prepare this generation for the future, and it is only through this sort of schooling that this can be done in the proper way.

"The harvest that will be reaped schooling that this can be done in the proper way.

Great is the Harvest.

"The harvest that will be reaped through a thorough education for every child will be immeasurable." declared the speaker. "We should strive to follow our mother country, England, which is known as the 'land of homes.' It is compulsory there that every child shall attend school until he or she reaches the age of 15, and continuation classes until 18. In Canada the children, many of them, are little men and women at 14. When our men, who have gone in hundreds of thousands, left Canada, they left us to uphold Canada's ideals, truth, honor and liberty and the new democracy, and when peace is declared we do not want them to return and see that we have failed to live up to these marks, and have been slipshod and hap-democracy, and when peace is declared we do not want them to return and see that we have failed to live up to these marks, and have been slipshod and haphazard, but to return and find that through the various women's organizations throughout Canada, of which we cannot speak too highly, we have been taught to be thrifty and conserving.

"All women have the vote now," said wiss Boulton, "whether they want to use it or not, but I consider it as a sacred badge of citizenship. If it is not used, they are not fulfilling responsibilities to their country. Self should be put behind. The sacrifice of the boys at the front demands sacrifice and service from us. Would you let a land in the indicate of the sacrifice of the boys at the front demands sacrifice and service from us. Would you let a land the knowing that you would help carry on the battle?" challenged Miss Boulton. "Macterlink rightly named this the 'heroic age.' There is no greater profession than that of the teacher. She plays a great part in the lives of our children. Why should her salary be questioned? (Applause.) For several years she comes into close contact with them, and in no small way influences their lives. One thing of the present time which we all admire." said Miss Boulton then paid a tribute to the splendid work being done by the mother's clubs."

A thorough overhauling of the gymnasium equipment has been undertaken and repairs made, so that on Monday next, a good start may be made in the physical department. The Canadian Standard efficiency tests groups will begin their regular work on October 15 for boys from 15 to 17 years of age; on October 16 for boys from 12 to 15, and on October 18 for those from 17 to 21 years of age. The boys, entering upon this work, receive on allround training, physically, mentally, religiously and socially.

Supper Provided.

When the boys meet a war-time supper is given, for which the small sum of 15 cents is charged. Many of these groups are associated with city churches. Several boys from the Collegiate Institute bring their lunch to the "Y" each day, and on certain days are given the privileges of shower baths and swimming pool. result of which the Government as a result of which the dovernment is establishing in all American war hospitals in the United States and in American hospitals in Europe electrical apparatus for the treatment of soldier and sailor victims of this war

"Hyperthyroidism" has for several years been baffling the skill of the surgeons of European armies. Many of its victims among the soldiers have been saided with costs and production. been seized with acute melancholia as a result of which many were reported to have deserted or committed suicide. Wile the complaint has been found among the men in the American army, the results and tendencies have been entirely different. These facts were brought out in a lecture by Dr. Harlow Brooks, chief of the medical service at Camp Upton, before the New York Academy of Medicine.

"We have not found that this allment known to army surgeons by the unpronounceable name of 'hyperthyroidism' is a cause of suicide among soldiers in America," said Dr. Brooks. "nor have we found that the recruits who suffer from it are seized with melancholia or broodings and want to go seized with acute melancholia as who suffer from it are seized with melancholia or broodings and want to go home or desert. Such tendencies have been observed by the British surgeons, but we have found at Camp Upton that the recruit who becomes afflicted with the malady is most generally one who was wildly enthusiastic to join the army, and while the symptoms are the same—nervousness, anxiety and fear, or, I might say, general excitement and emotion—the disease usually takes hold on a soldier who is intently bent upon his work.

"I regret to say that more often than bent upon his work.

"I regret to say that more often than not it seizes a non-commissioned officer, a young man of intelligence, talented and determined, who is ambitious to get a bigger commission and who overworks himself because he wants to stay in the army, instead of wanting to get out of it.

That strangest of all maladies to which soldiers are heirs, and which is known to army surgeons by the equally strange name of "hyperthyroidism," has met its match in electricity. "As early as a year ago, however. Sanitatsrat Dr. Ernest Bever, chief physician of the nerve hospital at Roderbirken, near Leichlingen, declared that this trembling could be cured. The results obtained at the time were not a very satisfactory, but meanwhile it has been found possible to remove trembling and other nervous twitchings with a rapidity and a certainty formerly considered impossible.

Benham Snow, an authority on the subject:

"Electricity operates in three principal ways in the curing of disease—the chanically, chemically and thermally. These are the same actions as electricity brings about among machines. says that "it is not unlike that which every young experimenter in this country has played with for a long time past. The coils and condensers of the boy's wireless appartus are familiar objects; also the glass-plate static machine that he inherited from some lightning rod demonstrator, or that he made himself. That such machines as these, though naturally of larger size and better quality, have a practical usefulness in an army hospital is unexpected.

"Electrical currents of some types," says Mr. Darling, "are of special benefit in the many ills common to soldiers, and in particular to those that do not yield readily to ordinary treatment, for instance, trench foot. What is trench foot? It is a disease likely to afflict any of our men who have to stand for hours at a time in cold, water-filled trenches and in the slime and ooze that covers battlegrounds. At first, a man loses all feeling in his feet. They swell and pain, Gangrene may develop. Then there's rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago the 'trench back.' which frequently results when men have been buried alive, frost bite, shell shock, neuritis, wounds from which there is a large discharge of pus; sprains, contusions skin diseases, hysterical paralysis, tissues broken up by irregular bullet wounds and so on."

In treating a victim of any of these war maladles the patient is surrounded by electricity. He sits in an invisible electrical field, produced by what is known as a d'Arsonval apparatus, much like a Tesla coil, except that the current is greater. He is permeated through and through by the electrical field.

"You know," Mr. Darling goes on to the core.

"The patient is somewhat like the "The patient is somewhat like the iron core of the familiar coil. Every cell in his body is being stimulated just as were the molecules of the iron core. He feels no pain, because high frequency currents have the peculiar property of going through a man without his feeling it, yet stimulating the functional activity of all his cells and overage immensely."

President Nelson In Chair.

President Nelson was in the chair, and with him on the platform were Alex. Darrach and President Andrew Robson, of the London Liberal Club.

Among those in the front rows of the audience were some of the oldest and most loyal Liberals in the city, but there was a record attendance of ladies, showing the keen interest taken by them in political matters at the present time. The hall was beautifully decorated with the Allied colors, and at the right of the platform hung a handsome painting of the Liberal chieftain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

J. E. Nelson, as president of the local Liberal Club, presided, and in his opening remarks drew attention to the great benefit derived from an association such as the club he was addressing. He declared that civilization advanced in all the ages as men united together and developed their intellects. In addition to their educational benefits there were the social entertainments, where even those who could not explain themselves before an audience could advance some good ideas.

Referring to Socialism and its evils, the president declared that Canada today is allowing a kind of Socialism to develop wich the boys overseas are fighting to eliminate.

Secretary of Social Service Council Addresses General Conference.

STIRRING TALK ON WAR Methodist Episcopal Delegate Says Potsdam Must Be Crushed.

HAMILTON, Oct. 4 .- "We shall listen to no proposals of peace from Potsdam. There will be no conference to determine who is victor." With these and similar emphatic declarations. Bishop Joseph F. Berry, fraternal delegate of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States, stirred up the general conference of the Methodist Church of Canada this evening to a degree of enthusiasm that has not been equaled since its sessions began Wednesday last.

"There must be a surrender of the sword of Germany, dripping with the blood of innocent women and children," he declared, and he fairly carried his audience off their feet, when he declared: "The American colonies never fought their mother; they fought their Prussian grandfather."

Rev. F. J. Prettyman, chaplain of the United States Senate, who presented the greetings of the Methodist Episcopal Church, told the conference that there was no place in the world today where the colored man was better treated than in the south.

Dr. Shearer Speaks.

When the General Conference met this afternoon, Rev. J. G. Shearer, secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada, who was unable to be present Thursday afternoon, spoke for fifteen minutes as the representative of that council. He realized, he said, the danger of any social effort if it got away from a distinctively Christian basis.

"It will be done on that basis," he added, in reference to his recent appointment as the first paid secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada, "or it will have to be done without me. We believe in the Christianizing not only of men, but of society."

He expressed his satisfaction with the spread of prohibition in Canada and the United States. In the latter country it was not only war-time, but permanent prohibition, because it was Someone had said there were too many officials. He didn't agree with this. They had eight superintendents for missions. Without the co-operation of these they could not have had the splendid economy and efficiency they had. had.

On the Pacific coast they had one mission boat at present, but they intended to have a series of small boats in co-operation with the Presbyterians to care for the men of the canning factories and mining camps. The annual cost would be forty thousand dollars. It was well worth while. It was lars. It was well worth while. It was as important as Dr. Grenfell's work on the Labrador coast.

This exceeded the current income of the last year before the war by $134,-713.37. No one, however, could seriously argue that an average gift to missions of 4 cents per week from each highly arg 8 cents from member, and slightly over 8 cents from each Methodist family, was proportion-ate to the financial ability of the church or adequate to the needs of its missionary work.

Rev. F. G. Stephenson gave a talk on "The Young People's Forward Movement."
"The most optimistic," he said,
"would not have prophesied that the missionary income from our Sunday schools, Epworth Leagues and juvenile schools, Epworth Leagues and juvenile offerings would total for the quadrennium $498,757.01, an increase of $63,-798.93. Special relief funds also had been liberally contributed to, including $35,000 given in 1918 to the Syrian and Armenian relief fund.

The committee on memorials has overwhelmingly reported in favor of establishing a "dead line" of the age of seventy years for Methodist ministers and officials. If this is adopted by the conference, among those effected will be Rev. Dr. Briggs, the veteran book steward of the church.

SPANISH "FLU"

TILLSONBURG, Oct. 4.—Several cases of la grippe are prevalent in the town and today it became known that there are at least three cases of Spanlish influenza. This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made. ******

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. these heat-defying gloves, a workman can handle a variety of objects which would otherwise instantly inflict serious burns. They are especially valuable when sparks are flying about, since they turn away the sparks or even flames.

Asbestos cloth is used to make two-piece suits which protect the entire body. Being both heat and acid proof, they are very useful in a variety of occupations. A long coat is also made to wear over ordinary clothing. It is made with a high collar turned up about the neck and very long sleeves.

To complete the outfit, special shoes are supplied which reach up under the trousers, and long gloves or mittens. The asbestos suit proves invaluable in many kinds of foundry work. A shower of sparks may be thrown over the workmen thus dressed and they will glance off without doing the least damage. In working with the acetylene flame an asbestes suit renders the workman immune in a shower of sparks which could not be faced in ordinary clothing. A special asbestos hat or rather helmet is also supplied which completely covers up the head, leaving a narrow window for the eyes.

Asbestos cloth is a light grey in color and is surprisingly soft and pliable to the touch, but is very heavy. A spuare yard weighs about two and a half pounds, which makes a complete suit rather cumbersome for hot weather. A complete asbestos suit may be pur-

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excessive development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating, or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments, and is perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

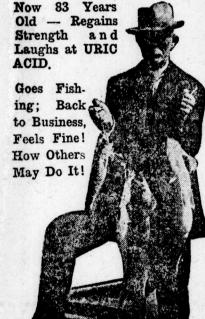

An antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in field responsible morally, penally and in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Blaurated Magnasia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adyt.

ENGLAND'S MEAT AND

Finds Cure For Rheumatism After Suffering Fifty Years!

"I am eighty-three years old, and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over fifty years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures,' and I have read about 'Uric Actd' until I could almost also nights most taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are sur-prised at the change." HOW IT HAPPENED.

Mr. Ashelman is only one of thousands who suffered for years, owing to the general belief in the old, false theory that "Uric Acid" causes rheumatism. This erroneous belief induced him and legions of unfortunate men and women to take wrong treatments. You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as to try and get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints, by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. Many physicians and scientists now know that Uric Acid never did, never can and never will cause rheumatism; that it is a natural and necessary constituent of the blood; that it is found in every new-born babe, and that without it we could not live!

HOW OTHERS MAY BENEFIT These statements may seem strange to some folks, because nearly all sufferers have all along been led to believe in the old "Uric Acid" humbug. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out this truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders and recover his strength from disorders and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," a remarkable book that is now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The London Advertiser wishes a copy of this book that reveals startling facts overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. THE HUN ON THE RUN.

CH'S BLOWS are falling so rapidly and at so many points that even the close student of the war maps is somewhat bewildered as he tries to keep in touch with the Allies' advance. Every few hours sees some new phase of the stupendous offensive. The most hardened of the arm-chair critics and cigar-store boards of strategy go easy on predictions. Foch has the Allied world guessing, just as he has the enemy. One thing that is clear, however, is that the Hun is on the run. Lens, Armentieres and Roulers are now ours; in Flanders Haig is allowing the retiring foe no respite; the Allied forces are well behind the "non-breakable" Hindenburg line at several points; passing back to the Allied cages are steady streams of prisoners; Lille seems about to be entered; Cambrai, the pivot of the first German defensive system, is about ours. These are sibilities of an early and supreme disaster to the splendid shining facts that are heavy with pos-

He sits astride no earthly steed of flesh and bone, but with a shout of joy rises in the new fleet courser of the clouds and leads his troop of poets onto Vienna. They are not armed with bombs, but with pamphlets and poems. They go not forth to slay innocent women and children, but to save the lives of many by sowing the divine words of truth among a misled and down-trodden people. And they bombed the skulking Viennese with their words, words written in the impassioned passages of the air king, the man whose figurative flights are true mates for his literal ascensions. Down upon the heads of the inhabitants of the sive. Austrian capital they gayly hurl their high explosive of knowledge and inspiration. They cry to the victims of their attack "We might rain bombs upon the heads of your women and chitdren, but we are not murderers. We hurl the truth at you so that you may have revealed the E PUBLISH in another column an able letter from Mr. Walter H. Wigg of Oshawa commenting on a recent editorial in The Advertiser, headed "Ireland-Bishop Fallon Can Help." The editorial was written after Bishop Fallon had delivered the opening address to the Canadian Club. Mr. Wigg objects to the statement that "it is not necessary to live better than the Bible requires to be a good Anglican." He asks if any church makes such a requirement. The Advertiser said the Anglican Church was probably the most liberal of all the churches. What we had in mind was the exception taken by some churches to theatres, card playing and dancing. Some Protestant ministers very strongly condemn these, but we do not find them among the Anglican clergy. This subject could be pursued further but this is sufficient to establish the point we took It is in favor of the Anglican Church.

Mr. Wigg takes another objection. He says Your further statement in the same article, that there is no reason why all Protestant denominations should not unite, is rather sweeping." He favors "church federation-Catholic and Protestant and all, but church unification never." There is no difference between Presbyterians and Congregationalists except in church government. Baptists believe in immersion, but we assume that any minister of any other denomination would, on request, baptize a candidate either by sprinkling or immersion. How small a difference that is when compared with the stand taken by the leading Baptist ministers in Germany. They held, in their correspondence with the Baptist ministers of England, that Germany was justified in invading Belgium, and that Belgium had only itself to blame for the inconvenience it had suffered, by refusing the very reasonable demands of Ger-How any member of any denomination could take such a stand is beyond belief, but it constitutes a much greater difference between a reached the little town of Laura's success, rumors undoubtedly disquieting to Tom. In his heart he had hoped she would fail—a costly experiment, he acknowledged, but the best thing for them both. He had given her so long to discover the volatility of fame and money, and had even hauled out the old dustovered plans for the house. and had even hauled out the old dust-covered plans for the house.

But he had failed to consider that Laura had some foundation to be-gin with, and that $2,000 will go fur-ther when one is staying with relatives.

The rumors were disquieting, but when they were repeatedly verified, and he began to see notices in the papers he gave up completely. He put the plans gave up completely. He put the plans away again and enlisted before the draft.

Another year passed, a busy year for Tom, a year in which he learned many things. For one, he discovered that the world is a big place, with big people who have big ideals, and broad, fair minds. He found that his own point of view didn't count for much in the general scheme of things any more than the fly on the elephant's back could lead the parade; that one lives not for himself, but for the good of humanity, and that sacrifice brings the greatest happiness one can know.

himself, but for the good of humanity, and that sacrifice brings the greatest happiness one can know.

His thoughts were full of Laura these days. As spring advanced and the illacs in the farmers' gardens spread their fragrance through the air, and the blossoms in the orchards wafted their sweetness of promise across the fields, a queer sort of restlessnes seized him. He felt that he would give anything he possessed or had wer hoped for for a sight of her. He knew not where she was. It was months since he had heard anything about her at all. The old aunt had left South Greenwich, and no one else seemed to know.

There was a concert that night in the Y. M. C. A. Everyone was shaving and putting on a clean shirt to go. But Tom wandered across the road from the barracks and sat on a fence, watching the moon come up and thinking of Laura and the night two years before when she told him she had meant to go.

After a while things grew quiet; then across the stillness of the night came a few chords on a piano, and a sweet feminine voice sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

A lump rose in Tom's throat. There was no one to keep the home fires hurning for him. He had wanted Laura to, but—well, there was no use going over it again. After all, perhaps, it was better. If he had married her he'd never have enlisted, and the country cailed. And he didn't blame her. She had a right to go if she wanted.

The last notes died away and the night was very quiet.

"Tom!"

"Tom!"

He was so startled he dropped from the fence. Laura, a vision in white, stood beside him.

"Why didn't you come to the concert, Tom? I looked for you," she asked

An Advertisement by Charles Dickens

CHARLES DICKENS is one of the world's great teachers. Here is what he has to say in one of his books:

> "My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £19.19.6—result, happiness. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £20.0.6 — result misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of Day goes down upon the dreary scene, and-and in short, you are forever floored. As I am."

The saving of a part of one's income was always a good policy.

Prudent men and women have always maintained a margin of saving.

But to-day we must go farther in our efforts to save than ever before.

To-day it is a matter of the gravest importance that each Canadian seek ways and means to economize by cutting down expenditures for unnecessary things, saving the money he spends on things he could do without, so that when the Nation needs to borrow money he will be in a position to do his full duty.

There is war-shortening work waiting for every dollar that can be saved.

Tf CHARLES DICKENS were II writing to Canadians to-day he would probably give us advice to this effect:

> "My other piece of advice, Canadians, you know. No matter what percentage of your annual income you have previously saved, your efforts to-day should be to save more. The advantage of so doing is threefold: By the practice of economy you conserve the material and labor which must be devoted to the grim task before us; you cultivate the priceless habit of thrift; you gather more and more money to lend to the Nation for the prosecution of the war to a quick and certain Victory."

THE BRITISH PEOPLE CONFIDENT WAR WILL BE OVER THIS WINTER

Britain Now Conducting War Effort That Will Astound the World.

"It was found by the British Government that while they remained silent as to their great war efforts, the Germans were conducting very successful propaganda in Canada and the other colonies, and the United States, advertising the story that Great Britain was willing to fight this war, as long as she had a Canadian, Australian or Amercian soldier to fight it for her," declared A. E. Miller, speaking before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. "To show the falsehood of this German tale, a party of Canadian press representatives were asked by the British Government to visit Great Britain and the front, feeling that in this way the people throughout Canada would be best informed as to the truth of the matter. The Canadian press party was shortly followed by others from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the United States. And I believe that the British Government will continue this policy of sending press parties overseas until the end of the war.

Will Astound the World.

"For this reason, I shall deal more particularly with the British war effort. While over there I found that Great Britain is conducting a war effort which I think will astound the world when the details are made known. They have a nation over there that is absolutely determined to bring the war to a finish. Constantly they are sacrificing, but they do not go about in mourning, with long faces. I went among all classes, and I found absolutely no complaining. All are putting forth every effort to bring about the end. Surely it is a noble motherland!

"Food is very scarce for the civilian in England. Only skim milk may be obtained, all the whole milk being commandeered by the Government for the nurseries; and war bread over there is war bread indeed. Taxation is very heavy, any man with wealth being required to sacrifice about half, and they do this willingly, and give more.

this war will restore the church. The Y. M. C. A. is doing an excellent work in providing entertainment.

Fortress of Verdun Described.

Mr. Miller's description of the fortress of Verdun was most interesting. He spoke of it as a series of fortresses built within a circle of hills, with ten miles of galleries and no outward sign to mark it as a fortress but the masonry of the entrances. "In one of these hills 16,000 men were living, and rarely go out, as the fortress is constantly under shell fire, being but 1,000 yards from the German line. Before the war, these hills were heavily wooded, but today there is not a sign of verdure," declared the speaker.

Mrs. Donald McLean moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Miller, which was tendered by Miss Grace Blackburn from the chair.

Golden Text.—Be Thou a Blessing.—Gen. xii:2.

WE SHOULD BE A BLESSING TO POSTERITY.

I realize, as I talk to you, how easy it is to talk and how hard it seems for one to carry out his own advice. Shakespeare says, "I can easier teach twenty what were good to be done than be one of the twenty to follow my own teaching," and it is true. Nevertheless, all I am now saying should and can be done. You should be a blessing to your children, to your husband or your wife, to your neighbors, to your church, and you can be. It is simply a matter, by the grace of God, of making the effort, and if you are a blessing to these, as I have advised, you will be a blessing to posterity as a natural consequence. Your influence will never die, and in ten thousand years from now the blessing which you have caused on the earth will be rolling on and repeating themselves.

THE END OF THE BIRTHDAY PARTY. It was a funny sight to see Jimmy those two rascals were enjoying the Coon and Snapper, the Snapping Turtle, Joke.

It was a funny sight to see Jimmy Coon and Snapper, the Snapping Turtle, chasing each other round and round the dining-room to find something to eat. You would have thought that the big fat trout that each one had just eaten would have been enough for one meal, but they both felt starved to death. Snapper was so cross that every time he came anywhere near Jimmy Coon he snapped at him, and sometimes he took a little bite of his hind leg.

Teddy Possum and his friends were all in the summer house at the end of the garden, laughing at the great joke played on Jimmy Coon and Snapper, the Snapping Turtle.

Soon they got tired laughing at the joke and they all came back to the dining-room and peeked in to see how late to you have your play such a trick on us. Snapper, think where can we get a little more to eat! Where can we get a little more to eat! Where can we get a little guests who were listening were cross when they heard Jimmy Coon say that it was their fault, and that Teddy Possum was not to blame at all.

Teddy Possum swelled out his chest and climbed right through the dining-room window, and gave Jimmy Coon a good hug, and he found a nice Beetle Wing and some meat nuts for Snapper to put in his pocket and eat under water.

The reason Teddy Possum hugged Jimmy Coon so hard was because Jimmy praised his table manners. Jimmy praised his table manners. Jimmy Coon couldn't have said anything that would have pleased him more.

"Well, Jimmy Coon, you certainly know good table manners when you see them. My Mother boxes my ears every day, and drags me away from the table, and she says that I eat so fast that no one else can get a bite. Of course, I may be in a little hurry some times, but when I am away from home my table manners are lovely, and when we have company they are just the same."

With the inclusion of Bryant on the picskin line-up a couple of changes in the aggregation will be made. It is likely that Bryant will be placed on outside wing, and Hoffman given try-out on the half line. Gillies was the original choice for left half, but now that Hoffman has been diverted to the second line of the football defence, Gillies will probably be placed at flying wing. His ability to tackle and kick the ball almost as well as carry the leather on the run earns him this position.

The Anglo-American League this year has played more than 150 games. The game at Stamford Bridge, July 4, which was attended by the King, drew 40,000 persons. In August the naval team from the American headquarters played a Canadian team before 28,000 spectators. Attendance at Saturday games ran from 3,000 to 10,000.

The league has more than paid its way, and it is expected it will turn $10,000 to $15,000 over to war charities after all expenses have been paid. The United States navy team has for its star pitcher Herb Pennock, the former Athletic and Red Sox pitcher. Outfielder McNaily is also with the team, which is destined to win the championship.

H. E. Booker, managing director of the league, intends to take the cham-pionship team to France, and play a series of games with soldier teams

The game was a tight one from the start, and much wagering evident on the outcome. Major Forbes, who is president of the soldiers' sports committee, has again been put in charge of the new league, and under his direction the schedule will be run off in fine fashion. When the men now on leave return Major Forbes will organize a basketball team. Another schedule will be drawn up for the coming winter for indoor baseball. The games will take place in the armories, and new teams will be organized so as to make this league much larger than the former ones.

Prizes Will Be Presented to Winners of Sport Events.

The Harriers' Club will hold its annual banquet on Thursday night, when the presentation of prizes to the various winners of the sports put on by the association during the summer months will be made. The club will organize a basketball league for the fall season at the banquet. Captains have already been chosen, and these will pick out their teams in the near future. David Allan, the new Y. M. C. A. physical director, will be in charge of the Harriers' Basketball League and all other sport carried on at the local athletic institution. A swimming meeting will be held shortly to determine who is the champion natatorial artist of the Y. M. C. A., Duncan McLean er B. Butterworth. These boys have shown good form throughout the summer swimming season, and will be called upon to perform stunts in the water according to the new program which is being ar-ranged.

Practical Suggestions on Individual Ways to Help Win the War.

BY ALBERT BARRETT SAVRES.

Making Practical Home Paper Savings.

The necessity for every person in this country to ally himself or herself with those who are bending every energy to win the war should lead every one of us to save paper.

It has been said that there is no nation in the world that wastes paper as

Add to your saving of wrapping paper for a second use the saving of envelopes that come through the mails and of circulars written upon one side only. These you can give the children to draw pictures on, and so let them have the joy of drawing freely without expense to you or waste of the paper supply.

Such savings—for instance, paper tags to light only one burner to cook a meal, and over that burner put a dish pan about one-third full of water. In the water place small cans or crocks with the meat and the vegetables for your meal. You will be surprised at the saving this scheme effects, and you dishwater is all ready without extra heating.

Solving the Problem of a Becoming Military Costume.

There's a mixed sentiment about the ethics of the feminine costume which is built on military lines. Some women have taken to military cuts of coats and military touches here and there on their frocks with a devotion which excludes every other fancy. For example, young Mrs. Deans, who used to be one of the most fastidious women about clothes, always insisting on an originality which would suggest nothing hitherto in fashion, is now wearing only military cut coats and frocks.

"I can't reconcile myself to wearing all the frou-frou things which I used to be so enthusiastic about," she declared, if think sackcloth and ashes ought to be made fashionable, so that we women would have to bear in mind constantly the suffering abroad and so curtail our own indulgences. Sunday promises to be an interesting profitable and happy day, judging by the profitable and happy day, judging by the strong planetary figures making for propitious conditions in many avenues of human interest. Mentally and socially the positions are most favorable, and also the prospects for sudden and advantageous change, removal or journey are indicated. Radical influences are operating in domestic or affectional affairs—which might be interpreted in the latter as an elopement. "Bake 10 minutes in a very hot oven"

THE clock will count those minutes for you to the exact second, but how about that "very hot" oven?

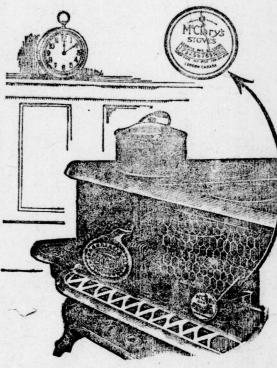

Every woman has known the nerve rack of that guess; whether the oven is "just right" or not; whether the cake will "fall" or burn, or whether it will come out done to a turn.

With the glass door and the telltrue oven thermometer of the Pandora Range there is no guess-only the sure knowledge of seeing exactly what is going on in the oven.

You not only can see the cake as it bakes but you can also see by a glance at the thermometer when the baking temperature of the oven is exactly right.

And by the Pandora flue and control systems you can instantly regulate that condition - raise or lower the temperature.

The woman who is plodding along with a worn-out range or an antiquated stove cannot appreciate the joy there is in store for her the day a Pandora Range is set up in her kitchen with its "daylight" oven and thermometer that never forgets to tell the exact heat of the oven.

"For men must work And women must weep." Theirs has been the worry and anxiety. The watching and waiting in constant dread of what might happen.

Because mental suffering is far more distressing and debilitating than physical pain and discomforts women have had the greatest burden to bear.

The strain has been both severe and long, and the result is an alarming increase in diseases of the nerves. Nervous headaches, neuralgic pains, nervous prostration and exhaustion, restlessness, irrita-

Mrs. S. N. Hurst, Barrie, Ont., writes: "About thirteen years ago, owing to a shock I had received, my nerves simply got the better of me. I could not sleep at night nor work in the day time. I suffered from a trembling sensation in my stomach, which kept up continually. I doctored for about a year and a half without getting any benefit. Then someone advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did so, and at first was nearly discouraged, but as I was finishing the first box I found I was getting a little better. I then continued the treatment until I had taken six boxes, and during this time seemed to be getting stronger and better as time went on. MANY people have thought that the United States loans to Belgium have financed all the Relief Work necessary. As a matter of fact the loans provide the minimum ration to sustain life in a grown person. The bowl of soup and two pieces of bread are totally inadequate to build bone and muscle for a growing child. The results are ghastly! These cases, running into hundreds of thousands of sick and defective children cannot be taken care of by the general funds", writes Mr. Hoover on July 8th of this year. There is an increasing need for funds for these cases our last reports show that the soup-lines of Belgium have increased from one-and-a-half to two-and-a-half million persons . . . I wish particularly to move any loubt is to the acceptability of contributions to me Commission for Relief in Belgium for the special purposes above indicated." Unless the sick and starving children of Belgium are given chance for life, Tuberculosis, Rickets and kindred ills will claim the next generation. That is Belgium's outlook. And yet a few dollars will restore health and strength to one of these tiny sufferers. Will you open your purse and help! If Fate had willed it that you should SEE these babies staroing, you would share your all with them. Must you SEE, before you will help?

Miss Clayton's exquisite portrayal of an arduous role and the beauties of the photopolay, which is far above the average in point of superiority of production, impressed a critical audience most favorably, as the frequent applause indicated. Appearing in support of Miss Clayton in her first Paramount production is the fascinating leading man, Elliott Dexter, and the famous character genius, Theodore Roberts.

In "Out of a Clear Sky."

A Belgian countess who objects to being made a pawn of state and, sold in marriage to a dissolute German prince, and who objects so strongly that she flees across the ocean and hides in the mountains of Tennessee, where she finds an honest lover to her liking, is the role essayed by Marguerite Clark in her new Paramount photoplay, "Out of a Clear Sky," which is to be the feature attraction at the Majestic Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The story of this new Paramount picture is taken from the novel, "Out of a Clear Sky," by Maria Thompson Daviess. The screen adaptation is the work of Charles Maigne, who wrote the scenario of Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird" for Artcraft presentation. The principal character is Celeste, the tiny but stately Countess of Bersek and Krymn. Her scheming uncle demands that she offer herself as a pawn of state in order that his relations with Germany may be improved. Celeste refuses to agree to a marriage with a German prince, and escapes with her governess to America. Her uncle follows her across the ocean, however, but when the ship docks she eludes him and makes her way to Tennessee, where she hides in a mountain gorge. There she is discovered by Bob Lawrence, a handsome and wealthy young landowner, who lends his aid in baffling the uncle. This is not accomplished, however, until the little countess has passed through a number of adventures.

imitation of the snake dance. Then comes Al St. John, the disturber. He falls in love with the cashier, and with real cave-man ideas he proceeds with his courtship. When Arbuckle protests, the disturber becomes violent, whereupon Arbuckle sets his terrier Luke upon the tough guy.

When the disturber is driven forth, peace reigns for a time in the cafe. Arbuckle's love-making methods are resented by the waiter, who smashes a huge bass viol over Arbuckle's head. When he recovers, he finds the cashier and waiter have disappeared. He goes fishing with Luke and hooks a monster of the deep, which he nearly lands.

Meanwhile, the disturber finds the cashier and waiter spooning on the beach. He kidnaps the cashier and a hot chase by the waiter ensues. The disturber and cashier are at the top of a roller coaster and the men engage in mortal combat. The cashier falls into the ocean and Arbuckle and the waiter chase the disturber all over the place. Arbuckle saves the girl and the disturber is driven so far to sea by Luke that he is unable to swim back to shore. It is fitting that all ends happily.

Delegation of Hungarian Statesmen Invades Vienna and Forces Issue-Premier Wekerle Admits, "We Are Already Negotiating."

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 4.—Austria-Hungary has requested Holland to invite the belligerents to take part in peace negotiations, says the Vienna correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt. The correspondent adds that Holland already has sent out the invitations.

A delegation of Hungarian statesmen, headed by Premier Wekerle, has arrived at Vienna in connection with a new peace move, according to the Cologne Gazette. The other members of the Wekerle party were Count Stephen Tisza and Count Julius Andrassy, former premiers of Hungary, and Count Albert Apponyi, the Hungarian minister of instruction.

Regarding the negotiations at Vienna, Premier Wekerle said to the representative of a Hungarian newspaper: "This much I can tell you—we are again laboring untiringly in the direction of peace, and we are already negotiating.'

LAKE OF THE WOODS MILLING COMPANY BUILDS UP SUBSTANTIAL SURPLUS

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—At the Annual Meeting of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, held here Wednesday, October 2, the chair was taken by Mr. W. Hutchison, the Vice-President of the Company, owing to the absence overseas of President Frank Meighen. A satisfactory report was presented to the Shareholders, and reasonably optimistic view was taken of the coming year's operations. Mr. Hutchison stated that the West "was now harvesting a fair average crop of good quality," and that "all mills were now running at full capacity," and that "we can look forward with confidence to a fair year's business." house, frame barn, frame driveshed and stable. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

The local market this morning was smaller than the market of a week ago, but nevertheless a large amount of produce was offered, and there was a good attendance.

Hogs went down in price, and brought for $26 per cwt.

Oats remained firm, and the supply was fairly good. Hay prices are steady, with a steady demand.

Large quantities of potatoes were offered, and brought from $1.40 to $1.50 per bushel.

The season for corn is about over and as a result not much was offered this morning. What was offered brought ten cents per dozen. The remainder of the vegetables were firm in price and offerings.

The price of fruit is steady. Peaches, pears and apples were offered in smaller quantities, while grapes were present in abundance.

Poultry was steady.

Eggs brought 52 cents per dozen.

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE. [Reported by Thomson & McKinnon.]

WALL STRET REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 5.—Bulgaria's surrender and the impending collapse of the Turkish forces overshadowed all other developments in this week's stock market incidentally impartial rule in that quarter later.

Despite the unusual exigencies created by the Liberty Loan, money conditions were in nowise disturbed. Pools evidently were freely supplied with call loans for their bullish operations, but time funds were at a minimum, the rate holding consistently at 6 per cent.

Most of the foreign war flotations reflected the stimulating news from abroad, Russian external bonds mounting to the year's highest quotations. Significant in this some connection was the heaviness of exchange on the neutral centres, remittances almost without exception favoring this market.

WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 5.—The customary week-end settlement of profesional accounts caused many substantial recessions during today's stock market. speculative favorites, especially shippings, motors, oils, utilities, tobaccos and coppers reacted 1 to 2½ points. Steels and equipments experienced further moderate reversals, and specialities as a class were heavy. Rails followed the general trend at the outset, but strengthened on buying of Canadlan Pacific, which gained 2½ points. Other leaders raillied from fractions to a point. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 200,000 shares. Liberty bonds were strong, foreign issues featureless.

New York, Oct. 5—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—Nominal changes prevailed at the dull opening of today's stock market, rails and shippings showing irregular tendencies, while utilities, oils and motors hardened fractionally.

10:30 a.m.—Gains outnumbered declines at the irregular opening of today's stock market, the so-called peace shares displaying further strength with various specialties. Local tractions scored additional advances, and oils also strengthened. American International waj the only strong shipping issue. United States Steel was firm, and rails were hesitant on very light offerings. Trading became stagnant before the end of the first half hour.

PREVENTION

Extracts from PROCLAMATION

Issued by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario. Whereas next to the care of those who are offering their lives on the front line of battle, the conservation of all our energies and substance is our most important problem; the saving of human life, thrift, and the p of loss of property through destruction by fire, is an aid which everyone should give willingly to the community at large; And whereas the reckless and impoverishing fire waste that confronts the people of our Province is appalling;

Therefore, believing that the loss can be minimized only by awakening in the public mind a universal watchfulness against carelessness, accumulation of rubbish and unsanitary conditions; Because of this great need and in order to arouse a sense of watchfulness, carefulness and cleanliness, and to create a greater personal responsibility in reducing the number of preventable fires; We have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Executive Council of Our Province of Ontario, to name, and do hereby name

9th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1918

Wednesday, the

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

And We do hereby urge that on this day, throughout our Province of Ontario, attention be called in schools and public places to the conditions that exist and to the need of immediate action and co-operation on the part of everyone; and special exercises, addresses and other means be employed to impress on the public n and lessons of Fire Prevention.

To insure the success of this great Clean-up Campaign it will be To insure the success of this great clean-up campaign it will be necessary to have the hearty and harmonious co-operation of all * * * who have for their objects civic, social and industrial betterment. * * The Proclamation should be read in all Schools and at Public Office of the Fire Marshal of Ontario, GEORGE F. THE NORTHERN LIFE Assurance Company of Canada

HEAD OFFICE, LONDON, ONT.

Life Insurance Fills the Breach With the cost of living advancing, it is very difficult for even the cautious spender to save much during each year, and it is sometimes difficult to invest that little at a rate of interest that is remunerative, if the investment is secure. And savings accounts grow too slowly to be of great account in the case of your death.

It is into this breach that life insurance comes as an aid to the man who desires to save a little, and at the same time protect his family from want in case of his death.

You may ask why we urge life insurance; it is because it creates the habit of saving; it insures the protection of widows and orphans; it means a lesser number of helpless persons left to the mercy of a meagre charity; it means fewer children forced to labor for hire at an age when they should be in school; it means a greater interest in the home; it means a better CITY AGENCIES:

PROCLAMATION

Issued By Mayor C. R. Somerville, London

AND WHEREAS the saving of human life, thrift, and the prevention of loss of property through destruction by fire, is an aid which everyone should give willingly to the community at large;

awakening in the public mind a universal watchfulness against carelessness, accumulation of rubbish and unsanitary conditions, and

Because of this great need, and in order to arouse a sense of watchfulness, carefulness and cleanliness, and to create a greater personal responsibility in reducing the number of preventable fires;

We have thought fit by, and with the advice of the Council of the Corporation of the City of London, to name, and do hereby name WEDNESDAY, the 9TH DAY OF OCTOBER, 1918, as FIRE PRE-

AND we do hereby urge that on this day, throughout our City, attention be called in schools and public places, to the conditions that exist and to the need of immediate action and co-operation on the part of everyone; and special exercises, addresses and other means be employed to impress on the public mind lessons of Fire Pre-

ESCAPING U-BOATS, MAJOR W. GREGORY ARRIVES HOME HERE

London Officer Tells of Nar- Every extra ounce you eat you row "Squeezes" of Transport.

After two narrow escapes from German submarines within one month, Major William Gregory, 86 Wharncliffe road south, returned home last evening. The transport on which he returned was attacked by a large submarine, and a brisk encounter ensued for about half an hour. It is thought that one of the transport's guns put the submarine out of business, for it was seen to sink shortly after a shell from one of the big guns had been fired at it. One shot from the submarine nearly got the transport. The shell struck the water a short distance from the steering gear, and it is said if this had been struck the boatload of wounded officers and men would surely have been at the mercy of the Hun pirates. The sea was so rough that it would have been almost impossible to lower the boats without their being swamped.

The submarine was one of the largest type, and carried heavy guns. It was sighted by the transport when about six miles distant, and all speed was immediately put on in an effort to get away. The engagement commenced when the sub was about 11,000 yards in the rear, and continued until the underseas craft sank, apparently from the effect of the shelling it had received. While Major Gregory was making a trip to the Channel Islands a short time before he salled for Canada, the boat was chased by a sub, but after an exciting time it managed to escape.

While in this hospital he met by chance three other London men, Frank Millar, A. Weldon, Lieut. Pope, and Lieut. G. N. Tucker, he also met in one of the hospitals in England. Lieut. Tucker went over with the company which Major Gregory had the honor of commanding.

HOW TO GROW A DIAMOND

A traveler one day heard a man make the assertion that he knew how to grow diamonds. A friend accused him of either being a real genius or an enemy of the truth, and insisted on knowing something of this discovery—the whole truth and nothing but the truth. So William tells him: I learned this method from John A. Nash (My Jeweler) in London. He formed a diamond-growing club and the members started by selecting a small diamond and later had it exchanged for a larger stone, and in every transaction he allowed full purchase price of the last diamond bought. I joined the club and planted $10 in a small diamond. last diamond bought. I joined the club and planted $10 in a small diamond. It was a small stone, I know, but the next month, cutting down on my smokes, side-tracking a few movies, left me a little surplus, so when I again hit London I had $20 to the good, so looked up My Jeweler and træded the dew drop for a $30 diamond. I did this over and over again till now I have a real beauty, blue-white and perfect stone, the only kind Mr. Nash sells. Say, does My Jeweler grow diamonds? He surely does, and his store is 206 Dundas street, opposite Gammage's, "where you will opposite Gammage's, "where you will eventually buy."

John Bridge Gives Warning.

At a meeting yesterday of about 30 men who have been most active in the promotion of the expansion and reorganization plans, it was said that much progress was being made in building up the campaign organization. F. E. Leonard, the president of the board, was unable to stay until the close of Leonard, the president of the board, was unable to stay until the close of the meeting, and turned it over to John Bridge, the vice-president, who made the important announcement that already quite a number of citizens of London, many of whom are not members of the existing organization, have told him they want to be members.

"This campaign is going to be one of the biggest things we men ever had anything to do with," he told the meeting. "I am going to have a team of my own and we are going out after the record. This is fair warning to you other fellows."

Topics of the Hour in City and Nation and All Creation.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Your editorial column wins by admiration. On the whole your writings merit little criticism, but contain much food for thought, and indicate your conversantcy with the many themes upon which you comment, and that you have spent much thought thereon. But, while reading your editorial of 26th inst., headed, "Ireland—Bishop Fallon Can Help," I was sorry to note a remark interwoven that might be accused of being gratuitous, and savoring of the superficial. That Ireland should have home rule, that the present demand is for religious toleration, that there is altogether too much prejudice on this account, and that Irishmen are the hinderers of Ireland's welfare—with these we heartily agree. Also, that there is too much appeal to religious prejudices as between Catholic and Protestant in this country, and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is without a peer as a statesman, and if the heart of Canada had been truly registered in the late elections, the country would today be benefitted by his administrative ability—these we likewise most heartily indorse. But when you allude to Protestant denominations, and use the phrase, "It is not necessary to live better than the Bible requires to be a 1. Am I a fit man to be placed in A2 category?

Protestant denominations, and use the phrase, "It is not necessary to live better than the Bible requires to be a good Anglican," there are some who will characterize this sentence as filip pant. If there is any church that makes such a requirement, it would be interesting to know it. If there is any that requires a standard lower than that indicated in the Bible, we may ask is it a church, or only a club?

That it is a very easy matter to live "good enough," seems to be a popular notion. Probably popular because people like an easy-going way in matters of morals. It would seem that such have not yet given the subject of religion, as revealed in the New Testament, any very serious consideration—not the consideration its importance merits. Take the Sermon on the Mount, as contained in St.
Matthew's gospel, chapters v. to vii.
Here Christ declares the principles of of living that no thoughtful person will pass over slightingly. Its ideals are sufficient to keep most aspirants busy for a lifetime. And the founder of Christianity declares that these teachings are not only needful to insure success in the Christian life, but that without them no one can even begin it. If there is any church with a higher requirement, as your sentence intimates, so far we have not met with it in our wanderings in this country and the one to the south of it. As a matter of fact, the Bible does not treat the Christian ideal as He was a British reservist and finished his service some years ago. He has enjoyed a brief furiough, but it was not long enough to permit him to come to Canada. In a recent letter he asked me to write to the does not treat the Christian ideal as one would a simple act—to be performed, or not to be, at will. Or as if one had merely to prefer or choose, and that question decided, the rest was easy. As if it were said, "Anyone can be a Christian if one but wants to." Can they? Christian living, in the Bible, is compared to the more difficult attainments of life. viz.: to wrestling, a race, a struggle, a warfare. Even Solemon, who is not open to the charge of being "strait-laced," in reference to the problems of life has said (Eccles, viii., 8), "there is no discharge in that war." Here "vigilance is the price of liberty." "After having done all," Christ taught His disciples to say, "we are ont long enough to permit him to come to Canada. In a recent letter he asked me to write to the war office, requesting a furlough if possible. Whom should I write to at the war office?

A.—Address your letter to Secretary of War, care of War Office, London, England, giving all facts which would help your husband's case such as period help your husband's regimental number rank, unit and full name. It would aid matters if you were to forward with the application a petition signed by friends of you and your husband, as he is surely entitled to a furlough if he can be possibly spared from his battalion.

IGNORANT. Q.—I. May an A2 man in the Western Ontario regiment transfer or enlist in the Canadian Air Force?

May an A2 man in the Western Ontario regiment transfer or enlist in the Canadian Air Force?

May an A2 man in the Western Ontario regiment transfer or enlist in the Canadian Air Force? will in the matter and allows God to work through him. "For it is God that worketh in us, both to will, and to do, his good pleasure," quoting St. Paul. Hence it is not what any ed from the infantry, and if so, how would he proceed?

Apply to your commanding officer, and if favorable he will give you leave to go to Toronto for examination. If successful you then return to your unit until your services are requested by the Air Force, and then your discharge is authorized to proceed as above.

3. If it is on the cuff of his sleeve its meaning is not known here. However, if it is on the upper portion of the sleeve near the shoulder it is a "patch" worn distinguishing his brigade, each brigade wearing a different colored patch, an innovation since the battle of the Somme to ald the artillery to distinguish the different brigades as they go over the top in waves. Paul. Hence it is not what any church may or may not require that matters, but what God can do when the individual gives him control. The reason that the publicans and harlots entered into the kingdom of heaven before the self-acclaimed Pharisee, was because the former had getten to the because the former had gotten to the place where "man's extremity is God's opportunity," and had quit patching themselves up, while the latter were still in the business of camouflaging.

Those churches which most emphasize the work of the Holy Spirit in the human life, best interpret the stan-dards required by the Bible. The human heart being inclined to evil, there is a controversy with God not ended until the "great surrender" is complete. "Yielding to God is pre vailing with God." Even in good peo ple there is a tendency to take what appears the easiest way—which ever church seems to require the least, and to criticize others as "too goods," or being inflicted with "other wordli-ness." But belonging to a church has never saved anyone, although in the minds of some it appears to have the significance of life insurance, or pos-E. E. S. Q.—Would a married man, an American, 38 years of age, have to register here?

2. Where would he register and sibly fire insurance.
Why do I mention these things? Because there never was a time when right living counts for so much. God works only through men, and men that are right with Him will always that are right with Him will always prevail. Admiral Beatty placed these matters in right proportion when he answered the question, "How long will the war last?" General Haig is credited with saying that fighting counted 25 per cent in securing victory, and praying (based on right living), the other 75 per cent. Lord Kitchener and Lord Roberts acknowledged the power of God and of prayer, when the tide was turned at the first battle of the Marne. It was God who defeated the Spanish Armada. In a notable sermon preached by Rev. Ira Dwight Little of the United Baptist Church, Little River, N. S., on "The Factor in the Fight," he well proves that the Almighty is the factor in this war, and that unless the people of the Allied nations acknowledge Him, there is danger of a compromise peace being signed. Allied nations acknowledge Him, there is danger of a compromise peace being signed. This sermon was delivered in January of the present year. The only nation called to humble itself before God, to confess its individual and national sins, has been the United States. In our own land there have been just "days of prayer," being all right otherwise, no humility or confession was asked for. Perhaps the President went too far and demanded more than the Bible required. But just the same his troops seem to be no worse for the completeness of the nation's response in the matter. It will be evident that as a patriotic duty it has become incumbent upon READER. Q.—I am 24 years of age, and was drafted in the army, I always thought that I was out of the draft age, and have papers to prove my correct age. I have a farm of 100 acres to look after single-handed, and help is very scarce around here. I was in camp for one month, and am now on harvest leave. I lost a considerable amount of crops by having to go to camp for one month. Could you tell me who to take the matter up with?

A.—Go to your commanding officer and state your case to him, and he will make arrangements, if possible, for further indefinite leave of absence to be granted you. It will be evident that as a patriotic duty it has become incumbent upon every Christian to live as the Bible requires and commands. What God says in His Word we should all do. This is more important than men and munitions, much acclaimed and necessary as these things are. With them alone we will not win. Without God we cannot. With God, we shall.

Your further statement, in the same article, that there is no reason why all Protestant churches could not unite is rather sweeping. First, there were reasons for the origin of these churches. Read history. Secondly,
