CALENDAR, WEATHER ASPECTS, &c.

D
 1 St. DAVID'S DAY.
 2 Moon in Apogee. 4 ev.
 3 Tolerably fair weather and
 4 not severely cold—in fact, the
 5 indications are for moderate
 6 winds and, on the whole, fair.
 S Quinquagesima Sunday.
 8 Changeable in S.W. Ontario.
 9 It has been raining since N. Moon.
 10 Ash WEDNESDAY.
 11 We are a little in doubt, but
 12 an east wind just now will
 13 bring with it a snow storm.
 S Quadragesima, 1st Sunday in Lent.
 15 A pleasant day and for
 16 St. Patrick a quiet visit here.

D
 17 St. PATRICK'S DAY.
 18 Moon in Perigee. 11 mo.
 19 Full moon, fair, and also
 20 frosty—wind not boisterous.
 S 2nd Sunday in Lent.
 22 You may look for a cold
 23 rain, if wind W., but if the
 24 wind tacks E. look for snow.
 25 Annunciation, Lady Day.
 26 I am afraid "Our Lady" will
 27 have a day or two rather stormy.
 S 3rd Sunday in Lent.
 59 Moon in Apogee. 9 mo.
 30 The month on the whole has
 31 been seasonable—ends briskly.

CALENDAR, WEATHER ASPECTS, &c.

D
 1 St. Philip and St. James.
 3 Low Sunday.
 3 Judging from the position of
 4 the planets, and the time of
 5 the moon's changes, this week
 6 will be mild, pleasant,
 7 spring-like, and a great deal
 8 of good farm work may be done.
 8 2nd Sunday after Easter.
 10 Moon in Perigee, 12 ev.
 11 Continues pleasant, but
 12 clouds are rising, wind
 13 changing; and therefore it is
 14 that we look for a good and
 15 useful rain-storm to-day.
 8 3rd Sunday after Easter.

D
 17 Full moon between 8 and 10 ev.,
 18 therefore forecasts rain.
 19 St. Dunstan.
 20 Quite warm, and, in Quebec,
 21 work, slow at the start, is now
 22 progressing rapidly.
 8 4th Sunday after Easter.
 24 HER MAJESTY'S BIRTHDAY.
 25 24th. Moon in Apogee, 12 ev.
 26 St. Augustine.
 27 Fair if wind North-west,
 28 but if S. or S.-west there will
 29 be rain, but not heavy.
 8 Rogation Sunday.
 31 A splendid, fine day.

 2 Visitation of Virgin Mary.
 3 Moon in Perigee. 5 ev.

 9 the weather is unsettled, and
 10 probability is now rain and winds.
 11 3rd Sunday after Trinity.
 12 Exceedingly warm day with
 13 sultry nights. Prospects of 14 good haying-time; but if your
 15 St. Swithin's Day.

JANUARY.—During the last thirty years in editing these notes we have frequently referred to the necessity for taking care of farming implements during those parts of the year when they are not in use. On this subject a correspondent of the New York Tribune says: "many an hour is lost in scouring a rusty plough on the wayside or on a gravel bank. This uses up the metal destroyed by the rust, and it wastes time and labor. There are several easy ways to prevent rusting of ploughs and cultivators, and to keep the teeth bright. One is to give them a coat of thick lime wash as soon as they are brought in from the field; another is to dissolve an ounce of resin in four ounces of linseed oil, and while hot mix this with a quart of kerosene and stir well. This is laid on to the smooth iron with a paint brush. To remove rust from ploughs or tools nothing is better than a mixture of half a pint of oil of vitriol poured slowly into a quart of water, and apply this to the rusted metal. Wash off with water."

Horse raising is a rapidly growing industry in Montana. The pasturage is excellent and the thin air increases the animal's lung capacity. Breeders are using finely bred stallions, and they confidently expect that in a few years the Blue Grass region will have a formidable rival in the Bunch Grass plains.

A Maine farmer had a tree which gave a very large crop of very small apples. He thinned the small branches from the outside, taking more than half, and thinning the fruit. The apples became larger and better, and gave as many bushels as before

FEBRUARY.—Concerning "Clover" as a fertilizer, from Dr. Lawes' experiments it has been found that the soil after a crop of clover has been removed from it contained a largely increased quantity of nitrogen, amounting to as much as would be required to supply several large crops of wheat, and as nitrogen is especially needed for the growth of wheat this increase is of great value to the farmer. A similar effect has been noticed to follow a crop of peas and beans, so that it becomes of the greatest advantage to farmers to bring these crops into their rotation as a means of improving the soil. A farmer in the State of New York has for forty years past produced large crops of wheat every third year upon a portion of his farm too far distant from his farm yard profitably to draw manure from it. Clover was grown for two years, once for hay and once for pasture, and then ploughed under, fertilizing only by a dressing of plaster in its first year.

Fail not to provide plenty of good tools for use in the garden. A steel rake, a scuffle hoe, a weeder, a trowel, a dibble, a small hand cultivator, etc., save time and hard labor enough to pay for themselves in a season.

MARCH.—A word or two about "Corn Fodder" may be of service to some of our readers. We do not care to plant very early, as there is no trouble about its maturing. It starts into a quick, thrifty growth when planted after the ground gets well warmed, and requires less cultivation than if planted earlier. We make the rows three feet apart and the hills from two to two and a half feet. Hilling is preferable to drilling, as we get as much fodder with less labor in harvesting. More food value will be realized if but three stalks are allowed in each hill, for while this perhaps will not give as much weight, it will give more grain, and, therefore, richer food. If not planted till near June in ordinary seasons this corn will grow so rapidly that three cultivations will be sufficient. Most farmers who raise corn fodder cut it too early and thus get a poorer quality of feed, while it causes more difficulty and hazard in curing, because of a tendency to moulding.

THE RHUBARB PLANT comes, like everything in the vegetable world, just when it is most needed. Owing to the warm, rather heavy food, requisite in winter, our blood has become somewhat impure, and requires something of a cooling nature to be taken into the system. Rhubarb possesses more purifying and medicinal properties than any other fruit, and therefore it ought to be far more highly thought of than it generally is. We all know how good it is in puddings, pies, tarts, &c., but there are other ways of preparing it, which may prove more attractive.

APRIL.—In answer to the question, "When is the proper time to plant our evergreen trees, also maples?" we have the following from the edition of the farming department of the Weekly Globe. He says, "Either fall or spring is a suitable season, but spring is preferable. With proper precautions almost any time during the year will answer, but in summer greater caution is necessary. In summer and winter the hole into which the trees are to be set should be ample, and the trees should be lifted with a large amount of earth undisturbed, as it is important that the roots should be in natural contact with the earth from which they derive their nourishment. Transplant only on cloudy days, and carefully avoid allowing the roots to get dry. Do the work as quickly as other necessary conditions will permit. By all means, if possible, avoid transplanting until fall or early in the spring, and then exercise a watchful care."

MAY.—In our notes for this month and the next, we condense the experience of a farmer on the "manner of applying manure" and he says: to my mind the kind of ploughing has a great deal to do with it. If I turn manure under with a flat furrow, and cover it wholly with five, six or seven inches of soil, it is buried where the roots of plants cannot reach it until they have passed through all that poor soil, and the plants may starve before they can reach this food. But if I plough the manure in with lap furrows and so have alternative slices lying in edge of manure soil, and then run the harrow through it, it is evident that the soil and manure are mingled quite as deep as the land is ploughed. There cannot possibly be a better way of doing the work than this for the growing of young crop which has food everywhere for its roots within reach. In so doing we are only following the ordinary laws of culture and growth.

Galvanized iron pails for drinking water should not be used. The zinc coating is readily acted upon by water, forming a poisonous oxide of zinc.

Wheat rarely winter-kills by the freezing and thawing of early winter. One reason is that even on moist land the surface soil is rarely saturated with water early in the season. Successive frosts finely pulverize the surface, which then absorbs more water. It is the freezing and thawing which occurs after this which do most mischief. The hardened and rough surface of wheat fields in the early winter is, therefore, some protection to the crop.

Farmers often desire a cement that will hold substances together under water or in damp places. As good a cement as can be wished is made as follows:—Dissolve one pound of India rubber in five gallons of coal naphtha. Add an equal weight of gum shellac, and stir over a low fire until the shellac is thoroughly dissolved. The gum shellac in naphtha or water make a stronger mucilage than gum arabic. The addition of the India rubber makes a glue that will not be affected by water.

JUNE.—When manure is spread on the surface the roots cannot get it until the rain washes it down, and if a dry time comes the plants may starve, just as in the first instance. Anyhow, there must be waste from this manure, by the evaporations from it into the air, as it dries repeatedly during its decay. There is a world of experience upon this question dating back for many years, all showing that the roots of plants have a very great effect in causing the decay of organic matter in the soil, and if the roots cannot get at this matter (the manure) one of their most important functions is prevented. The manure and the soil should be brought into the closest contact, so far as the roots of the young plants extend, and this all through the soil, at least as deep as it is ploughed. Plough in and not under, the object being not to fertilize the air but to manure the soil.

The best farms for farming purposes are based on limestone foundation. It is only where lime abounds that good wheat can be grown. When these soils are exhausted the loss of fertility is not entire, as good management, with a little manure, will render them productive. A soil naturally strong has more of hope in it for the cultivator, even when barren, than one that has never been productive. It is a singular fact that on exhausted limestone lands a dressing of lime proves to be just what is needed to restore productiveness, though analysis of the soil may show it to be well supplied with this mineral in an inactive state.

While it is a rare thing to see a lady, at any fair held in the States, taking even a casual glance at the stock, in Canada fine-appearing and richly-dressed ladies, with their husbands, and often in groups by themselves, make a tour of the stables, stalls and pens, and minutely examine and compare the merits of the different breeds and different animals of each breed, and it is not an infrequent occurrence to find the lady a better judge of stock than her husband. The ladies are also, as a rule, well posted upon the business and conditions of the farms and of farming operations; especially are they well informed in fruit-growing.

JULY.—Quite a little effort has been made in some parts of Quebec to promote forestry; a very praiseworthy undertaking. The relations of the forest growth to the value of agricultural lands and the healthfulness and general prosperity of the country cannot be overestimated; and should be kept before the people until at least there is a more intelligent and systematic effort made for the culture and preservation of trees. The destruction of maple groves is to be deprecated. It has been said that a forest of maples can be raised from the seeds, which are abundant and fall in June, in about 17 years. Other useful and ornamental trees can be brought to what may be called maturity in fifteen or twenty years. It was recently stated by a person in New Jersey that he had in his life-time seen the mother chestnut and two generations of the sprouts which grew from the stumps. Do not be afraid of doing some work that may be of use to future generations.

AUGUST.—American Journals are very much annoyed at what is called the "Canada thistles," and what is better they prescribe for their destruction. One of these papers says. "We have found but one successful plan, and that was by two cuttings at the right times in one season. No attention must be given to the condition of the new grass, every consideration must be given to the thistles. The thistles start in the spring more vigorously than the grass. When the Canada thistles come into first blossom set the mowing machine at work and cut them all down. There may be more thistles than grass, but do not mind that. When partly cured rake them up with the grass, haul at once and put in mow. This will all be eaten clean. Cattle and horses are fond of such thistles. Some of the thistles will grow again, and when they come into blossom, cut again, and be careful that every thistle is cut, partially cure, and put in mow as before.

TRANSMISSION OF SPECTACLES AND EYE GLASSES BY MAIL.

The exclusion of glass from the mails is so far modified that spectacles, eye-glasses, and microscopic slides, if securely put up in cases not likely to allow the contents to escape, if broken in course of conveyance, may be sent by Post within the Dominion on pre-payment of parcel post rates.

The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, or grafts, 4 lbs., and all other miscellaneous matters are limited to 4 pounds in weight, 24 inches in length, and 12 inches in breadth or depth. Post bands, with an impressed one cent stamp for this purpose, may be obtained at any Stamp Agency at the rate of 4 for 5 cents.

SEPTEMBER.—The New England Farmer says, the "bad luck" in raising calves by hand comes from too long intervals between the feedings, too heavy feeding, and especially from giving milk at too low a temperature. Let a calf become very hungry from long fasting, then be given an overfeed of cold milk and one may warrant the calf to become sick within a short time. An overloaded stomach refuses to act, sometimes even when the food is of the proper kind, but is sure to do so when the food is so cold as to chill the animal. When a calf shivers after drinking, it is safe to predict trouble. Milk should be nearly at the same temperature when fed from the pail, that it would be if taken in the natural way direct from the cow, and the colder the weather the more important does this matter of temperature become. The milk should not only be right when taken off the fire, but should be right when it reaches the stable. Blood heat is the right temperature, and should not go below that.

Patterns and samples of merchandise, not exceeding 24 ounces in weight, when posted in Canada for places within Canada must be prepaid by postage stamp at the rate of one cent per 4 ounces weight, and put up in such manner as to admit of inspection. Goods sent in an execution of an order, however small the quantity may be, or articles sent by one private individual to another, not being actually Trade Patterns or Samples, are not admissible as such.

UNITED STATES.

BEAR THIS IN MIND,

Register all valuable letters, and use sealing wax for letters containing money.

Transmit money by money orders.

Make complaints and inquiries in writing.

Preserve, and request correspondents to preserve, envelopes of missent or delayed letters.

Send to the Postmaster envelopes of letters about which you seek information or make complaint.

Business men should be careful to authorise but a limited number of persons to receive their letters, and only those in whom they have full confidence.

OCTOBER.—The pig is an animal that has too often to look out for itself. Yet it has a place in literature. "Harris on the Pig" is worth a careful study. He says of the young ones that they should be gradually weaned. They do better to remain with the sow until eight or ten weeks old, but he would commence weaning when three weeks old. Remove the sow from them,—at first an hour or so at a time, gradually extending the time as they get older. When a month old they may be allowed to go out with the sow for an hour or two in mild weather, but not while the sun is very hot, as in some breeds a hot sun will blister the backs of the young pigs. When five weeks old they may go out into the pasture while the sow is kept in the pen. The little pigs need more exercise at this time than the mother. The great point in pig management is to keep the youngest growing rapidly. If strong and vigorous they are seldom liable to any disease, and if attacked soon throw it off. Harris recommends us to pet them, and make them as tame as possible.

"Doctors differ" as to the precise food value of straw, as well they may, but all agree that it is too valuable for that purpose to be consigned directly to the manure heap. On most Canadian farms there is no thought of its use for any other purpose, though it is well known that with the addition of roots, cattle can not only be sustained, but fattened on this much neglected and greatly wasted fodder. "Wiful waste makes woful want, as the experience of the past winter has proved in the case of multitudes.

NOVEMBER.—A word about crows for winter meditation. Most farmers fight the crow as an enemy, but some consider him a friend. It is told of a Yankee farmer that when his corn is planted he sows two or three quarts of corn, well scattered over the place, and continues to sow until the corn is too large to be pulled up by the crows. In this way he secures their services to catch bugs, grubs, snakes, mice, and other nuisances to the farmer. Rather than an enemy he considers the crow one of the best friends of the farmer, and that if he had not been so necessary, he would not have been made so cunning. To the same purport it is related that a farmer once wanted to borrow a gun from a neighbor to kill some crows in his corn field, and which he thought were eating his grain. His neighbor declined to lend the gun, thinking the crows useful, and to satisfy his curiosity, he shot one of them, opened the crow and found in it thirty one cut worms and only four grains of corn.

As there are many places of the same name in Canada, in the United Kingdom, in the United States and other Countries, it will be necessary always to indicate upon the forms of application and in the advices the country and Province, or State, in which the office where the order is to be made payable is situated.

With the under-mentioned exceptions, no Money Order payable in the Dominion, the United Kingdom, the United States or any Foreign Country or British Possession, will be issued, unless the remitter furnish his own christian name, surname and address, and also the christian name and surname (and in the case of orders payable abroad, the full address or residence, of the payee. The exceptions to this rule are as follows:—If the particulars be furnish in writing, whether by filling up one of the printed requisition forms, or wholly in manuscript, it will not be necessary to give the christian name in full, it will be sufficient if the first letter be given, but if the name of the payee, or that of the remitter be tendered at greater length whether in the initials or full name, it must be received and advised accordingly. If the remitter or payee be a firm or corporate body the usual designation of such firm or corporate body is sufficient. When a married woman is either the remitter or the payee her own christian name should be given, and not that of her husband, thus—"Mrs. Mary Smith," not Mrs. John Smith."

When a remitter desires an order on the United Kingdom to be paid through a bank, it is left to his option to give or withhold the name of the payee, or to substitute for the name of the payee any other designation or modification, such as "the Cashier of the Bank of England," "the Chief Clerk of the Foreign Office." Such orders must, however, be crossed by the issuing postmaster with the name of the bank through which the order is to be paid.

The senders of money orders payable in Canada can procure re-payment thereof, on certain conditions, by applying to the Superintendent, Money Order Branch, Ottawa, through whom also application should be made for repayment in Canada of money orders payable abroad. Any order, however, may be repaid without the authority of the Superintendent, if presented for repayment on the day on which it is issued, and before the advice has been mailed.

Persons procuring money orders should examine them carefully to see that they are properly filled up and stamped, and contain neither alteration nor erasure. This caution will appear the more necessary when it is understood that any defect in these respects will throw difficulties in the way of payment.

The issues of money orders on credit, or for cheques not marked "good" by the bank drawn upon, is strictly prohibited, and by the Post Office Act of 1875 is made a misdemeanor, punishable with fine and imprisonment. Persons aiding, abetting, counselling or procuring the commission of any such offence are guilty of a misdemeanor, and punishable as principal offenders.

Payees who are not known to the post master or paying officer are required to prove their identity before the orders they present can be cashed.

If payee is unable to write, he must sign the receipt at the foot of the order by making his mark, to be witnessed in writing.

DECEMBER.—Always look for a little good advice under this month. Be sure and spend part of your long winter evenings in the careful reading of some good and useful books. At the present time there is no lack of valuable literature, which may be procured at very reasonable rates. Cheap books are not always the best, but there are many first-class books that can be bought very cheap. Works on Science and Natural Philosophy may be considered appropriate for the farmer. If the young men have tastes for other pursuits than farming, then the books appertaining to their tastes or pursuits may always be had. Avoid all intoxicating drinks—Keep good company—Remember he that walketh with the wise shall be wise, but a companion of fools shall be destroyed. Don't aspire to city life. Many young farmers are allured from the homestead and from rural life, by the glare of gas, that is—by vain predictions of success.

We have a large stock of Glass which we cut to any size for windows or pictures.

When a money order payable in Canada has been lost, the circumstance must be made known to the Superintendent, who under certain precautions, will either issue, or take measures to obtain a duplicate.

Duplicates of orders issued in Canada and payable in another country are obtainable only on application to the Postal Administration of the country of payment. Duplicates of Money Orders issued in any other country, and payable in the Dominion of Canada, are granted by the Superintendent of the Money Order Branch at Ottawa.

Money orders which are not presented until one full year after their date are considered as lapsed orders, and cannot be paid without the special permission of the Superintendent. In all such cases satisfactory reasons should be given explanatory of the delay in the presentation of the order.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK.

The direct security of the Dominion is given by the Statute for all deposits made in the Post Office Savings Banks.

Any person may have a deposit account, and may deposit nearly any number of dollars, from $1 up to $300, or more, with the permission of the postmaster general.

Deposits may be made by married women, and deposits so made, or made by women who shall afterwards marry, will be repaid to any such women.

As respects children under ten years of age, money may be deposited—

By a parent or friend as trustee for the child, in which case the deposits can be withdrawn by the trustee until the child shall attain the age of ten years, after which time repayment will be made only on the joint receipts of both trustee and child.

In the child's own name—and, if so deposited, repayment will not be made until the child shall attain the age of ten years.

A depositor in any of the savings bank post offices may continue his deposits at any other of such offices without notice or change of passbook, and can withdraw money at that savings bank office which is most convenient to him. For instance, if he makes his first deposits at the savings bank at Cobourg, he may make further deposits at, or withdraw his money through the post office bank at Collingwood or Quebec, Sarnia, Brockville, or any place which may be convenient to him, whether he continue to reside at Cobourg, or remove to some other place.

Each depositor is supplied with a pass book, which is to be produced to the postmaster every time the depositor pays in or withdraws money, and the sums paid in or withdrawn are entered therein by the postmaster receiving or paying the same.

Each depositor's account is kept in the postmaster general's office, in Ottawa, and in addition to the postmaster's receipts in the pass book, a direct acknowledgment from the postmaster general for each sum paid in is sent to the depositor. If this acknowledgment does not reach the depositor within ten days from the date of his deposit, he must apply immediately to the postmaster general, by letter, being careful to give his address and, if necessary, renew his application until he receives a satisfactory reply.

When a depositor wishes to withdraw money, he can do so by applying to the Postmaster General, who will send him by return mail a cheque for the amount, payable at whatever savings bank post office the depositor may have named in his application.

Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum is allowed on deposits, and the interest is added to the principal on the 30th June in each year.

Postmasters are forbidden by law to disclose the name of any depositor, or the amount of any sum deposited or withdrawn.

No charge is made to depositors on paying in or drawing out money, nor for Pass Books, nor for postage on communications with the Postmaster General in relation to their deposits.

The Postmaster General is always ready to receive and attend to all applications, complaints or other communications addressed to him by depositors or others, relative to Post Office Savings Bank Business.

A full statement of the Regulations of the Post Office Savings Bank may be seen at the nearest Post Office.

FOR NEWLY SET TREES.—Keep the ground clean, and especially keep it mellow for a space of six feet all around, from early spring to late summer.

A splendid feed for poultry in the morning is one-third ground oats, one-third cornmeal and one-third fine feed.

The best churn is one that will agitate most without pounding, at the same time creating a free current of air in the churn.

The farmer who leaves a few spare weeds to grow next to the fences which surround his fields, along the public highways, and in similar situations, is supporting an enemy against whom he must continually wage a fierce battle.

An easy way to kill plantain, dandelion and other weeds in a lawn, is to place a little sulphuric acid with a stick on the crown of each plant, carrying the acid in an open mouthed bottle with a long handle, so as not to touch it with fingers or clothes.

☞ A GOOD DEAL DEPENDS upon the condition of a man's stomach as to how he feels about undertaking a hard day's work. Put an ill-fed man to perform a day's work alongside of one who enjoys a varied and healthy diet, and other things being equal, the latter will soon show the advantage.

REMEMBER that nearly all soils are injured by working them when wet. It is better to let the weeds get a little the start, and fight them a little harder when the ground gets dry enough to slip from the harrow and cultivator teeth. If protracted wet weather prevails, see if a furrow here and there run in the proper direction will not conduct away the surplus water.

BARN DOORS should always be made to slide rather than swing on hinges. The first cost is slightly more, but if well done the sliding doors will last enough longer to make them the cheaper. Sliding doors have the important advantages that they are not liable to blow off by heavy winds, and the door can be partly opened to admit light without having it swung open to its full extent. Every barn should have a basement, and the doors to driving floors above these should always be set on rollers.
