Doetry.

[From Keble's " Christian Year."] ISAIAH XLI, 17. And wilt thou hear the fevered heart To thee in silence cry? And as th' inconstant wildfires dark Out of the restless eye, Wilt thou forgive the wayward thought, By kindly woes yet half untaught A Saviour's right so dearly bought, That hope should never die?

"Thou wilt"-for many a languid prayer, Has reached thee from the wild, Since the lorn mether, wandering there, Cast down her fainting child; Then stole apart to weep and die, Nor knew an angel form was nigh, To show soft waters gusbing by, And dewy shadows mild.

Thou wilt, for thou art Israel's God : And thine unwearied arm Is ready yet with Moses' rod, The hidden rill to charm Out of the dry unfathomed deep Of sands, that he in lifeless sleep, Save when the scorching whirlwinds heap Their waves in rude alarm.

Those moments of wild wrath are thine: Thine too the drearier hour, When o'er th' horizon's silent line Fond hopeless fancies cower, And on the traveller's listless way. Rises and sets th' unchanging day, No cloud in heaven to slake its ray : No earth, no sheltering bower.

Thou wilt be there, and not forsake, To turn the bitter pool Into a bright and breezy lake, The throbbing brow to cool Till left awhile with thee alone, The wilful heart be fain to own That He by whom our bright hours shone, Our darkness best may rule.

The scent of water far away Upon the breeze is flung; The desert pelican to-day Securely leaves her young, Reproving thankless man, who fears To journey on a few short years, Where on the sand thy steps appears, Thy crown in sight is hung.

Thou who didst sit in Jacob's well The weary hours of noon, The languid pulses thou canst tell, The nerveless spirit tune, Thou from whose cross, in anguish burst The cry that owned thy dying thirst, To Thee we turn our Last and First, Our Sun and soothing Moon.

From darkness here, and drearinesss, We ask not tull repose; Only be Thou at hand, to bless Our trial hour of woes. Is not the pilgrim's toil o'erpaid By the clear rill and palmy shade? And see we not, up earth's dark shade. The gate of heaven unclosed?

The Bible.

What is the Bible? It purports to be a communication from the all-knowing and eternal mind of the universe. Its origin. preservation and existence at the present moment is a standing, perpetual miracle.-A great part of it was written more than three thousand two hundred years ago, and all of it has been of nearly eighteen hundred years' duration. For centuries the art of printing gave no aid in multiplying copies and preserving it. Yet from the time when its first pages were written, it has been handed down from age to age, protected in its integrity and purity-undefaced, unmutilated, and almost unaltered. And where are the writings of the nations contempo raneous with its origin ?-of Assyria, and Chaldea, and Egypt?-of all those which preceded Greece and Rome? They perished with their authors, or were lost in the wastings of their nations. Where are the writings of Greece? A part, and a part only, remain. Of the four hundred works of Aristotle, one of the great masters of human reasoning, and the merits of which would create a desire to save them, but about ferry have reached us, and even of these some are broken, and of others the genuineness is questioned. Not one hundredth-perhaps not one thousandth-part of the precious literature of that land of poetry, eloquence and philosophy has escapistence. Rome was the successor-the imitator-the competitor-the survivor of Greece in literature; yet few of her works, which were her pride and her glory, survive. She was, for a long period, the keeper of the Book of the Cross, as she was of the literary productions of her citizens .-Yet it remains, and they have perished .-The dramas of Livius Andronicus were the first regular compositions in Latin of which we have any record. Infidelity and Superstition.

In reading the book of Acts a few days ago, we were reminded that infidelity and superstition, though seemingly antipodes, generally go hand in hand. The apostolic age was an age of general unbelief. India - The Insurrection.

By the kind attention of our late correspon dent we are put in possession of files of the " Friend of India" from the latest number of which we extract the following intelligence. THE INSURRECTION.—The facts of the week are generally unpleasant. Gen. Walpole in the North has suffered a severe repulse repaired by a subsequent victory, while Koer Singh in the South has obtained a temporary advantage. On the 15th Genl. Walpole with his brigade attacked a place called Roowah, to the N. E. of Lucknow on the road to Aligunge. The fort is a mud affair defended by a deep fosse in front, but exposed to an enemy in rear. Genl. Walpole had with him a magnificent Brigade, H. M.'s 42nd, 79 h, and 93rd, the 9th Lancers, the 4th Sikhs, the 11th Sikhs, the 2nd Punjab Cavalry, Toomb's Troop of Horse Artillery and four heavy guns. onfident in the strength of this force Genl Walpole it is said declined even to make a recon noisance, called back the 2nd Punjab Horse who had gone out for that purpose, and sent the 42nd bringing to the purposed recipients of this rife Bacon, per lb. Highlanders up to the Fosse. They could not the confirmation which is only reliable of the Cheese, " pass the ditch, and were shot in numbers. Regi-ment after regiment seems to have been ordered Lord the Spirit. up, the men failling fast with no guns to support them. At last night and a sandstorm coming or together, the retreat was sounded, and the force regained its camp having eight officers fifty Eu opeans and fifty natives killed or wounded.— Among the killed were Brigadier the Hon'ble . Hope, Colonel Dou las, and Lieutenant seamly of the 42nd, Lieutenant Willoughby of 11th Punjabees, Lieutenant Harrington and Sperling of the Artillery, severely wounded. The affair was terrible, and in the night the ene my escaped with their baggage. It was then discovered that the fort on the other side was perfect ly accessible. Three days after Gen. Walpol appears to have moved to Soorsah where he encountered and defeated a body of rebels.— They fled, having lost seme five hundred men and ten pieces of Artillery.

It will be remembered that the rebels driver out of Azinghur divided into three bodies. One headed by Koer Singh, contained 2000 Sepoys of the 7th, 8th and 40th Regiments, two guns-Sic. E. Lugard having captured the remainder-and thirty four elephants, the animals we pre sume which were stolen by the mutinous com-panies of the 32nd. Brigadier Douglas was depames of the 32nd. Brigadier Douglas was despatched in purtuit, but he was embarrassed by the difficulty which has impeded so many of our operations. It is useless to send Cavalry alone against these men who pick them off from small thickets which the horsemen cannot enter. The intantry cannot catch them, more especially as from the desolation of the country and the fright of the villagers they must carry their provisions with them. Brigadier Douglas for instance had ten days rations in store, but by desperate exertions he came up with the enemy on the bank. The two guns and four elephants were taken some 200 men were killed, and Koer Singh him self loss an arm. Through a trial of many verys and through every a trial of many years and through every Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYEn's CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, backing cough, the diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the

The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the Cherny Percent, if there is recovery. an irritations of the throat and lings are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in sea-son.
