

A commercial treaty between France and Belgium had been signed. The Archbishop of Tours, in a letter to the minister of justice, says that the temporal power of the Pope is abolished, and that the Catholic world will hold Louis Napoleon responsible for it. Garibaldi had moved to Capua. Large bodies of Italian troops had embarked at Genoa for Southern Italy, and 3,000 had reached Naples. Victor Emmanuel was about to visit Naples. The ex-king of Naples had left Rome for Villa Albano. The official journal of Rome denies that Sardinia has made conciliatory proposals to Rome. Austria.—The Upper House had voted an address in response to the speech from the throne. A large vote is to be asked to increase the Austrian navy and the ministry of marine is to be created. ITALY AND POLAND.—There has been a debate in the House of Lords on Italian affairs, in which Earl Derby took part, and his speech is interpreted to mean that he is bidding for office. Lord John Russell's Italian policy was distasteful to Lord Derby, and this fact has operated powerfully towards keeping the Tories from being advisers to the Queen. Lord Derby has come to see this, and so he tells Parliament and the country not to fear that he and his friends would bring the cause of Italian independence in the event of their being called to the helm of affairs. You will have noticed that the Italian Parliament has been the scene of an exciting drama, in which Garibaldi, Cavour, and Bixio have been the chief actors. The question at issue is the reconstruction of the army; in other words, whether there shall be a volunteer as well as a regular army. Fanti is for preserving the nucleus of a volunteer force—Garibaldi—for a national armament, which means immediate war. The various points involved in this question, retrospective as well as prospective, were hotly discussed for two days in the Chamber of Deputies, amid the most exciting scenes. There was a revival of the old quarrel between Garibaldi and Cavour, in which the former spoke with great violence and injustice, and the latter was provoked to designate the Liberator "a bad citizen." These recriminations brought General Bixio upon the scene, and his conciliatory appeals evoked passion and to some extent restored concord, as well as enabled Count Cavour to make explanations that disarmed his antagonist. The Statesman and the soldier came to a better understanding, and the decision of the Chambers was eventually in favor of the tentative proposals of the Government. This quarrel has, however, created a schism between the army and volunteers, which the subsequent correspondence between Cialdini and Garibaldi is not calculated to heal. But, after all, these differences are of the nature of lovers' quarrels; and there can be little doubt that, in the presence of the critical state of national affairs, the discord will soon be hushed. Reaction pursues its course unchecked throughout Poland. The patriots whom the Russian Governor made use of to preserve order have been put aside, now that an irresistible military force has been concentrated in Warsaw. The national movement is being "put down" on every side; and there is no longer any pretense that tangible concessions will be made to the Poles. A fear that these repressive measures will precipitate an insurrection has probably suggested the article in the Monteur which declares that the Emperor Napoleon has no disposition to encourage hopes he cannot satisfy. Poland must not look for external help. More will be granted to the national cause, though it be but slowly, by quiet agitation and self-discipline than by premature outbreaks. Cor. of the Globe.

UNITED STATES.
Washington, May 9.—The repairs on all the bridges are completed except the iron bridges at the Northern Relay House, and one between Cockeysville and Ashland; these were expected to be finished to-night, and a train is announced to leave Harrisburg for Washington to-morrow.
Baltimore, May 9.—Several British vessels, consigned to Norfolk, are in this port waiting orders, having been taken from entering Norfolk by reason of the blockade.
Washington, May 10.—The treasury has now ample means in specie for all necessities. They had this morning between two and three millions dollars in the vaults. There are offers of loans to any extent already exceeding $50,000,000. Nearly all are at par and some fully up.
It is ascertained that commissioned navy officers have gone to Europe for the purpose of buying steamers and other vessels for the United States Government.
There are some 8,000 federal troops under arms, commanded by F. P. Blair, jr., in defense of St. Louis.
Gen. Beauregard, with Mr. Russell of the London Times had arrived at Montgomery on the 8th inst.
The Government has now parties in nearly every Southern State who keep them thoroughly advised of everything that is going on.
The N. Y. Times has advised per the Kedar, that the secessionists have a battery of 68 pounders at the mouth James River.
The tents of the secessionist forces, lining the whole bank of the river are distinctly seen from the ramparts of Fort Monroe.
Flour at Richmond $10, port $50 per barrel. People very poor, banks closed, business prostrated, and no money to be had. Virginia and Carolina bonds worth 25c on the dollar.
