Body of Gouldthrite, Fugitive, Taken From the Detroit River

FUGITIVE IS DEAD

TORONTO MAN WANTED

Body of Frank Gouldthrite, fugitive, was found floating in Lake Erie, as indicated in note left on steamer—Had Used Another Man's Name.

DETROIT, July 3.—(Special.)—The body of Frank S. Gouldthrite, the former superintendent of the Ottawa printing bureau, who committed suicide last Tuesday morning by jumping off the steamer Grosvenor, was found floating down the river off Grosvenor Isle this afternoon, 20 miles south of here. The body was towed ashore and taken to Trenton, Mich.

The body was first seen by passengers on the steamer Columbia, on their way to Bois Blanc Island. The captain of the boat notified the lighthouse keeper on Grosvenor Isle, and he recovered the body. Marshall Winnie notified police headquarters to-night that the body had been identified by letters found in the pocket. Lieut. of Detectives Tuttle immediately notified Col. Sherwood, commissioner of the Canadian police.

Gouldthrite left Buffalo last Monday afternoon on the steamer Eastern States, bound for Detroit, and was last seen alive sitting on the railing around the upper deck, and ordered by one of the boat attendants to get off. A few minutes later Gouldthrite's straw hat and the notes were found lying on the deck.

LOOKING FOR TORONTO MAN

Edwin S. Andrews Wanted in Connection With Gouldthrite.

OTTAWA, July 3.—(Special.)—Since the disappearance of Fred Gouldthrite followed by the discovery of the frauds in the stationery department of the government printing bureau, authorities have been looking for Edwin S. Andrews of Toronto, upon a charge of complicity in the thefts. Andrews was associated with Gouldthrite in "The Mervin Baby Food Warmer" with offices in the Yonge-street Arcade.

Edwin S. Andrews is about 45 years of age. His occupation is given in the directory as manufacturer's agent and his office at 35 Yonge-street. At that office the name "The Avaleon Company" appears upon the card. Under this appear the names E. S. Andrews and J. C. Chamberlain. Andrews lived with his brother-in-law, James C. Chamberlain, at 135 Yorkville-avenue. He has not been there for some time. It is understood that the name "The Avaleon Company" was changed some time ago. It is Andrews' nephew who is in the Avaleon office with him, just what is the nature of the charge against Andrews could not be learned, as neither the city police nor Inspector Parkinson of the Dominion force, who has been in the city for some days, would discuss the matter.

Informed of the finding of Gouldthrite's body, however, Inspector Parkinson declared that he was not surprised, and that he had reported to Col. Sherwood, chief of the service, following his visit to Buffalo Saturday, that there could be no further doubt that Gouldthrite was the man.

He based this belief upon the statement of a ticket scaler in Buffalo, who said that he had sold two tickets to be used by Gouldthrite and Noel. One of these was sold to a young railway employe of St. Paul, Minn., who has since arrived safely there. The other ticket was sold to a man who gave his right name to the scaler in purchasing the ticket. It was the taking up of the other man's ticket under the name of Gouldthrite that Gouldthrite had assumed that led to the belief that he had turned in his ticket at Detroit.

While in Buffalo, Inspector Parkinson visited the store of William Richbart, 58 Seneca-street, where Gouldthrite had purchased $17 worth of goods before leaving for Detroit. The clerk, who had waited on him, remembered him perfectly. He had sold him a suitcase, a hat and several shirts. He said that when Gouldthrite came into the store his shirt was covered with blood, and he had a cut near his left eye. After buying the goods he changed the shirt in the store. The hat was the same as that in which the suicide note was found.

Both the clerk in this store and the ticket scaler declared that Gouldthrite's demeanor was so unusual that they believed him to be of unsound mind and thought of turning him over to the police.

NEWS SURPRISED OTTAWA

Most People Thought Suicide Note a Ruse.

OTTAWA, July 3.—When news reached Ottawa to-night that the body of Frank Gouldthrite, the missing purchasing agent of the printing bureau, had been found in the Detroit River, it surprised everybody but the most intimate friends of the missing official. While ninety people out of one hundred were convinced that Gouldthrite had not committed suicide, and that the message left on board steamer

Street Railway, in Arbitration, Will Try to Reduce Wage Scale

RAILWAY'S DEFT FAILS TO GOW EMPLOYEES

Threat of Company to Press for Wage Reduction Answered by Unanimous Vote to Go to Conciliation Board—J. G. O'Donoghue Chosen.

Without a single dissenting voice or vote, the 1100 Toronto Street Railway employes assembled in the Star Theatre in the early hours of Sunday morning declared for the rejection of the company's proposals, and in favor of having their case laid before a conciliation board. Similar unanimity was shown in appointing John G. O'Donoghue as their representative.

This course was taken in spite of the company's plain declaration that it would demand a lowering of the wage schedule if they did so.

The meeting which settled down to business shortly after 1 a.m., was concluded at 2.30 a.m. The men were apparently in the best of humor as they joked and sang and generally enjoyed themselves before the meeting opened, and afterwards acted like a lot of school boys getting out of school. In the opinion of the labor officials, it was the most orderly and best meeting in the history of the union.

Mr. J. Fleming said last night that the company had not yet considered the matter of choosing their representative.

One clause in the list of amendments proposed by the company stated that they would claim that the wages should be reduced to the alleged lower rate paid in neighboring cities if the matter went to a conciliation board. Mr. Fleming was asked by The World last night if the company was going to fight for the reduction now that the matter had passed the committee appointed by the union, but he declined to make public the plans of the company.

The company does not want to make another agreement, but they are willing to extend the present one. In the present one is not extended they wish to amend the old one. The union object has been to amendments. The company do not promise to confine the day's work within 12 hours, and they wish to reduce the Sunday

COMPANY WILL TRY

To reduce wages to level of those in eastern cities.

To pay for actual time of Sunday work (8 hours), instead of 10 hours as now.

To have union members refrain from wearing union insignia, as discriminating against non-union employes.

ROYAL BANK TO PURCHASE THE ASSETS OF THE UNION

Directors Have Assented and Special Meeting May Be Called of Shareholders.

MONTREAL, July 3.—(Special.)—The important deal by which the Royal Bank of Canada purchases the assets, amounting to about $15,000,000 of the Union Bank of Halifax, has been consummated as far as the directors of both institutions are concerned. The closing of the transaction depends now upon the ratification of the shareholders of the Union Bank.

As the annual meeting of the Union does not take place till February, it is quite probable that a special meeting will be called, notice of four weeks being given to each shareholder.

The Union has 45 branches, but it is supposed that the branches in Amherst, Bridgewater, Lunenburg, Sydney, Truro, St. John, N. B., Charlottetown and San Juan, Porto Rico, will be closed, as the Royal has also branches in those localities. As for Halifax, where both the Royal and Union Bank buildings are crowded, it is supposed that the Union office will be called the Hollis-street branch of the Royal.

The banking fraternity view the purchase with favor. Mr. John Knight, secretary of the Canadian Bankers' Association, said that both would probably profit by the outcome.

COOL BREEZES AGAIN

Excessive Heat Has Been Called Off for While.

The change in the weather late yesterday afternoon came just about in the nick of time. The hot spell was getting on everybody's nerves. Sunday was hotter than Saturday, the highest of the respective days being 90 and 88, and the lowest 66 and 65. From the calm which prevailed in the mid-afternoon a breeze developed from the northwest that at 8 o'clock was still blowing at a 16-mile an hour gale. Probs for to-day are continued cool breezes.

It was cooler throughout Canada yesterday, with some showers in Alberta and Quebec.

MENTALLY BETTER EQUIPPED, HIS ARTERIES STILL "YOUNG," AND HIS VITALS SHIELDED BY BONE.

RENO, Nev., July 3.—I am lacking in that admirable spirit of caution which prompted one man when pressed to name the winner, to announce that the victor would be the man whose first and last name began with "J. J." and boldly bear the banner of James Jeffries.

I see him as a winner for three reasons. Granting that the two contestants will be evenly matched, to the weight of a hair, in regard to science, condition and courage, there are three qualities in the white more upon which I pin my faith. One is psychological, and two are physiological.

First and foremost, he possesses a mentality lacking in his antagonists, and mind, after all, is stronger than matter. In his training he has had the counsel and stimulus of better minds than has the negro. While to the uninitiated the negro may appear slightly better than the white, it is a prediction of the outcome of a prize fight, yet in reality it is a tremendous thing. The man of education will outlast the man of ignorance in any test of endurance, he evenly matched in strength. In the civil war it was the clerks, the lawyers, the doctors, the educated soldiers, who finished the arduous campaigns that resulted in the collapse of the better muscled mechanics, farm hands and men of low mentality.

A Physiological Marvel.

Second, Jeffries possesses a certain physical peculiarity which, I believe, has never been touched upon, and of which I knew nothing until I talked with his physician. This man has made an exhaustive study of the retired champion, and finds that his ribs cause him to walk with a peculiar gait. His bones, whereas, in most men, there is a space of a hand's breadth at the waist, which is not protected.

Inasmuch as most of the vital organs lie in this vulnerable region, it is plain what an advantage Jeffries possesses over an opponent built according to the usual plans and specifications. Between his ribs and the point of his hips there is scarcely room to lay a finger, and when he assumes his fighting pose, his vital organs are encased within a cage of bones. Nature, likewise, has endowed him with a short stiff neck, which when drawn down between his shoulders, protects his jaw.

My third reason has to do with the all important question of youth, to which I drew attention in my first story. There is a common medical saying to the effect that a man is as old as his arteries. In other words age shows itself first in a hardening of the walls of these vital blood-carrying canals, and once they have lost their elasticity, a man is old, be his years few or many. It is this lack of elasticity in the arteries that causes the action that brings fatigue, shortness of breath, collapse. Athletes whose arteries have lost their spring virtually choke themselves with blood. My medical informant states that careful examination shows Jeff to still retain that artery expansion he had in former years, which should offset any advantage Johnson may have in point of age.

Not a Good Guesser.

It is largely upon these three things that I predicate my choice, and yet while the white man figures to win by all the laws of science and reason, I am mindful of the fact that I am an unlucky guesser. I never invested in a proven mine that did not peter out. I never picked a sure thing that did not lose. I never bought stocks that did not fall. While I am sure of the outcome in my own mind, I am from Joplin, Mo. I am waiting to be shown.

THE STORY OF THE CONTEST

RENO, Nev., July 3.—In my previous story I dwelt at length upon the tremendous public interest displayed in the coming battle. The longer one remains in Reno the greater becomes his wonder at it. That this is expected to be the greatest heavyweight struggle in ring history has something to do with the ravenous hunger of the public, of course; likewise the fact that it bids fair to be the last real championship battle most of us will live to see, but back of this there is a greater, deeper curiosity on the part of the public.

In order to satisfy this curiosity there is a veritable army of correspondents here, and more are coming by every train. Rex Beach told me that he has received more than 200 requests for press seats, and while not all of these men intend to write about the battle, most of them do, and the number of articles who will assemble here on Monday in the interests of the newspaper reader will be greater than reached the Russo-Japanese war or the last Republican convention.

A RECORD-BREAKING GALAXY OF TALENT

And what a gathering it is! Not even at the famous banquet tendered to the late Mark Twain on his 70th birthday, when the literary army of the world went down to Delmonico's in a solid phalanx, has there ever been such a glittering array of talent as in Reno to-day. At that time, it was my privilege to be present in an obscure way, and from a hidden corner peer forth with awe-dilated eyes at the brilliant scintillating galaxy of brains assembled, but in Reno to-day my obscurity is far greater. I am overwhelmed and blotted out by the brilliant literary glare that surrounds me.

Reputations of such high-stepping, blue-ribbon authors as Alfred Henry Lewis and Jack London, the dean of American letters, the dean of the press, and outweights any author in the land.

Robert Fitzsimmons, who will write for a great New York daily, gained his first wreath of bay and laurel in this very state some 13 years ago, when upon the retired rostrum at Carson City, he demonstrated the value of an Australian education and the "right shift." Since then he has been one of our very best sellers, and his "Life and Struggles of a Retired Blacksmith" has proved an inspiration to the youth of many lands.

Then there is James J. Corbett, whose keen analytical essays, written within the shadow of his former conqueror and distributed daily to the homes of rich and poor alike, have secured for him the title of "The Boswell of the Prize Ring."

INDIAN NABOB HERE WITH WIFE AND FAMILY

Maharaja Gaekwar is Powerful Potentate Ruling Over Large Area—Party on World Tour.

His Highness the Maharaja Gaekwar, Her Highness Maharani Gaekwar, Prince J. and Princess I. Gaekwar, with Captain Nimbalkar and suite of 310, arrived in the city at 3.15 yesterday afternoon and registered at the Queen's.

Baroda is one of the three large Maharratta feudatories of the British Indian empire, situated in the Province of Bombay. The greater portion of the dominion is centred around Gujrat, but strips are also scattered over the adjacent British districts and intermingle with the lands of the native chiefs in Kathiwar. In area it is 8750 square miles, and in 1901 it had a population of 2,894,910.

His highness and party are touring the world. They arrived in Canada from Japan, and recently visited Chicago and New York, from which latter place he will shortly take passage to Europe. Some four years ago his highness appeared in New York and created a sensation by the splendor and magnificence of his jewels, which are said to be among the finest in the world. He frequently wears ropes of pearls in public which are stated to be of priceless value.

The party left for Niagara Falls yesterday afternoon and will return to Toronto some time tomorrow, taking the night train for Montreal.

Panama Hats, Five Dollars.

You will never see their like again. The Panama hats the Dineen Company have on sale at five dollars each are real bargains. Owing to the interesting situation in New York, caused by the seizure of several immense shipments of Panamas from South America, the Dineen buyer was able to make some rare advantageous purchases, and the Toronto public can now benefit by them. If you are passing the corner of Temperance and Yonge-streets to-day, call in and see these hats. Store open every evening until 10 o'clock.

UP-TO-DATE ADVICE TO WOULD-BE AUTHORS

Space forbids me to mention all the vast array of talent that is here, prepared by the mere magic of its pen to transport the reading public to the ringside on the Glorious Fourth, when Jeffries and Johnson, as the case may be, gets his.

But, in looking it over, I am seized

$23,000 FOR MISSIONS RAISED BY ALLIANCE
Rev. A. B. Simpson of New York Hasn't Lost His Magnetism—One Subscriber Gave $5000.
Following an appeal for the cause of missions by Rev. A. B. Simpson, New York, some $23,000 was pledged at Parkdale Tabernacle yesterday at the meetings of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. This is not the first time that Rev. Mr. Simpson has spoken in aid of missions in Toronto, and on each previous occasion his remarks have met with tangible appreciation.
At the morning services Rev. Mr. Simpson preached on "Epistles and Apostles Bearing Fruit." His subject in the afternoon was "Bearing Fruit," which the meeting did to the sum of $22,957.65. Taking Revelation, xxii, 2, as his text, he pointed out that the symbol of the tree of life would have a literal fulfillment in the coming ages in the city of God. He emphasized the need of missions and the importance of missionary effort among the heathen.
One $5000 Pledge.
Rev. H. L. Stephens, founder of the tabernacle, conducted the pledge-taking campaign by means of cards. The highest pledge was for $5000; one for $4000; one for $3500; another for $1500, and three for $1000.
The evening offering augmented the afternoon contribution by $44.25, when the speakers were Rev. A. L. Merz, Alliance School, New York; Mrs. Carrie Judd Montgomery, Oakland, California; Rev. F. A. Christopher, South China.
A quilt made by a Calgary girl, on which the collection was taken, it was stated, would be taken to Thibet by Miss Edith Moul, Toronto.

EATON'S JULY SALE NEWS

Natty Neckwear

"The Byron" Collar is the latest arrival in the Neckwear Department. A broad, flat creation it is, opening low at the throat, and contributing in general effect a suggestion of the aesthetic that is doubtless responsible for its naming. An attachment in the nature of a narrow cape or semi-chemisette, provides for the easy adjustment of the collar to any shirt waist, while eyelet embroidery and the inserting of lace add a softening touch compatible with feminine daintiness.

Another notable acquisition to the show cases is a triumph in French hand needlework, a neck frill and leg-o-mutton jabot in the finest of mull, inserted and edged with Irish hand-made lace, and exquisitely hand-embroidered in colored thread—the smartest, most exclusive supplement imaginable for a simple blouse or tailored coat. Variations of the idea in real Valenciennes, and in pastel shades of grey and blue mull are also available.

Among other novelties displayed is an English importation termed the "Middy," a narrow neckpiece of the same species as the Dutch collar, though considerably narrower, its value consisting in the extreme delicacy of the material and treatment. This distinction, in fact, may be said to be the leading characteristic of the choicest treasures in the neckwear line, for the nattiest little bows and jabots we have gathered together for the season's showing are mere wisps of webby lace, gossamer lawn and fine hand stitching. They would not be in keeping with the dictates of style were they cruder or more ostentatious.

Also a feature of dainty ornamentation for the Summer coat or bodice is the "Claudine" frill, which exploits a double row of pleating in Van Dyke points, some finished with coquettish little bows at the fastening beneath the chin. That this pleating has not yet suffered a decline in favor, but is rather at the zenith of its popularity, is testified by the numerous forms in which it is found by the yard at the frilling counter, where new expressions of its fresh, crisp prettiness are being added to the stock daily.

French scarfs of the most luxurious and lovely description are well worth the viewing in the department under mention—exquisite chiffon and crepe productions with gold and crystal embroidery and satin bordering, veritable dreams of graceful drapery for evening wear.

The woman who is preparing for flight to some holiday resort, where Summery frills and furberlows are essential to a seemly appearance, should visit the Neckwear Section. She will find an exhibit where the paradox of style and moderate price is happily embodied.

HUMANIZING THE PRISON SYSTEM.

No one who has studied the results in other places could have entertained any doubt about the success of Hon. W. J. Hanna's plan of humanizing the provincial jail system. It is a matter for earnest congratulation, however, that nothing has interfered to retard or obstruct the success which alone can justify the innovation in the minds of those who are wedded to the old ideas of the depravity of human nature. Much still remains to be done, and it would be extraordinary if the experiment proceeded with the entire success that has so far attended it, yet Mr. Hanna has taken such pains, and is so ably assisted in his efforts, that an unusual degree of good fortune may be expected easily to raise the Guelph achievement high above the average attained elsewhere.

A great many of our legal crimes are not really of a moral nature at all, and unless a man's moral nature is deeply depraved, or so rudimentary as to be practically non-existent, it is comparatively an easy matter to bring him under the influence of reasonable discipline and restraint. Strong liquor has so much to do with the crimes of the day, that the compulsory abstinence required under prison regulations leaves the men in a favorable mood for reformatory control.

The chief thing is to be assured that the proper sort of influence is being brought to bear upon the men. This is the human element which is so difficult to secure, and it is here that Mr. Hanna's judgment and penetration are of immense value. In that extraordinary book of Harold Begbie's, "Twice-Born Men," it is brought out clearly that the sense of justice and injustice is very keen among the criminal classes. They feel that they have not had a "square deal," and they rebel against society. Under the new prison regulations the utmost pains are taken to ensure that each man shall have a fair chance to redeem himself, and to acquire whatever abatements and modification of his sentence are possible.

Beyond all this, however, comes the opportunity to do pleasant and useful work. The old idea of keeping a man busy while his busy-ness had no actual result, has gradually been giving way to the more reasonable idea of productive work. The mechanical character of the work hitherto required has been usually neither pleasant nor attractive. Of course there are many who wonder why life should be made agreeable for prisoners. The golden rule ought to be a sufficient answer in a Christian country, but it is not always. A more utilitarian answer is that it pays, it is true economy, for the men become less criminal under pleasanter surroundings.

Men become criminal in the struggle to get away from disagreeable surroundings. They may be very much mistaken about what they want. They have probably never realized the enjoyment attending useful and healthy labor. Even a young colt has to be broken to harness, and any horseman will tell you that his horse enjoys his work. The man has also to be broken to labor. God forgive us that we have not made the life of the average man as pleasant or as easy as the life of the average horse. The horse is sure of his food and shelter. Even in Toronto there are men and women who have not that assurance.

Mr. Hanna's scheme has this ecological value that the men, criminal or not, will be better men and better citizens after passing thru the training than before. If the plan succeeds as it has succeeded elsewhere, men will be in demand who have been to the Guelph industrial farm.

Mr. Hanna has gone about his work in the true spirit of the master, who said: "I was in prison and ye came unto me." We can all join him with hearty support and encouragement.

KELLEY AT THE BAT.
Casey we all have heard of; he of the easy manner, as he stepped into his place, in anticipation of swatting the ball over the bleachers at the opportune time. He didn't, but if he failed to gain undying fame in Spalding's annual, he got it from the poet and thru De Wolf Hopper. But with King Kelly it's different. Twice now have we seen him enter the breach in the faithful ninth. His confidence, his demeanor, is as Casey's, the Casey smile curls Kelley's lip, too.

Three on base, one-run to tie and two to win. "And Kelley to bat!" It's what the crowd demands and it's hummed expectantly thru the stands. And lo, he comes, and sees,

CORRECT THE ERROR.
Mayor Geary and the board of control should at once take steps to see that whatever increases are required by Mr. Altken for the electrical department of the city are granted. There are more ways than one of tying up the hydro-electric power scheme, and neither Mayor Geary nor any of the council can afford to take any chance of endangering the success of the project at this time. The public expects to get this error corrected without delay. It will be to the credit of the man on the board of control who first moves to reconsider the action taken.

PIN-HEADED METHODS.
Nothing has happened for years which so distinctly marks the necessity of some form of government by commission for Toronto as the incident of the refusal by the board of control to accede to the requirements of the electrical department in the matter of salaries. Such pin-headed methods would bankrupt any private business in a year. The present system of electing has broken down altogether in the selection of men of outstanding calibre, and the narrowness of policy evinced by the board of control indicates the miserable opportunity Toronto has for efficient and broad-minded rule. Guelph knows better how to run its city business than we do.

BRITISH PARLIAMENTARY OUT-LOOK.
On Thursday last Mr. Asquith announced that at the end of this month the British Parliament will adjourn and will resume its session in November. This means that contentious business will be postponed and that in the meantime only the measures necessitated by the accession of King George will be considered. In this category the bill amending the declaration issued upon the sovereign at his coronation is included, but there are indications that it will meet with considerable opposition in its later stages. No time will be available for the current year's budget, and it also must be postponed till the autumn session.

Report has it that the conferences between the government and opposition leaders over the proposed restriction of the veto powers of the house of lords are rapidly nearing a deadlock, if indeed they have not already failed to result in agreement. The premier, however, has declined to make any statement on the subject, and as the conferences are secret, the rumor, however probable in fact, cannot be confirmed. Reform of the house of lords is admitted to be requisite, but as matters stand, the government cannot afford to withdraw or substantially modify its demand. The only possible solution appears to be a temporary restriction pending the establishment of a second chamber on a more satisfactory basis. But it is more likely that November will see the constitutional issue again the bone of contention in British politics.

The accession oath now comes a little nearer the ideal of letting it may be nay and its yea, yea.

Who is E. W. Elkington, and how was he able to hypnotize Messrs. A. & C. Black the publishers? His book on Canada, as a view from a third-rate boarding house, is neither faithful nor funny.

Bertram Mackennal, an Australian sculptor, born in Melbourne in 1868, has been given the task of designing the new King George coinage. He will find it difficult to improve upon his predecessors, although he may find it difficult to make the coins more attractive than they are at present. As Canadians we care not who designs the coins as long as we can supply the ore.

ROOSEVELT'S CONGRATULATIONS.
Herr Albert Ballin, director-general of the Hamburg-American Line, has just received a letter from Colonel Roosevelt, in which the colonel congratulated him for his appreciation and thanks for the courtesies shown him when he crossed the Atlantic on the S.S. Kaiserin Auguste Victoria.

The letter, which was written on board the steamship just before her arrival in New York, according to advices received there Saturday, by Mr. Emil L. Boas, the resident director of the line, contains the following: "I like living in a perfectly appointed and perfectly managed modern hotel. Yesterday I went thru the ship with Capt. Ruser, and I was particularly struck with what has been done for the health and comfort of the stokers and engineering force. I am also especially pleased with the arrangements for the third-class passengers, and I hope all immigrants will soon travel as such. I congratulate your company on what has been done for both the fire room force and the immigrants."
(Signed) Theodore Roosevelt.

pay rate. Also they wish to eradicate all visible signs of unionism by getting the men to lay aside their union badges and buttons.
At the meeting Mr. Fleming came in for much adverse criticism. The men did not look on him as their protector and savior apparently.
Lemieux Act Protects.
The company's proposals were read to the men and afterwards the vote was taken. In a letter to the union, Mr. Fleming stated that the preference of the company was not to enter into another agreement. "If the reason for the past agreement was to prevent loss to the company by the union, then to preserve the interests and convenience of the public by preventing a strike or lock-out, then we see no occasion now for an agreement to be made against this, because the Lemieux Act makes provision for such a contingency," said the letter.

Notwithstanding our preference, if the employees are prepared to execute an agreement extending the present hours of their work, then we propose for the purpose of avoiding any disagreement with the men or inconvenience to the public, will sign an extension of the Lemieux Act.
If the employees refuse to accept the present agreement and desire changes and additions, then the company, having the same right, proposes to amend it. It should be stated that the whole question going beyond the present condition committee (of the union) the company will revert to the attitude expressed in regard to there being no need for an agreement at all and will claim that the wages should be the same as are paid in neighboring cities in the eastern provinces.

How Wages Compare.
The men now get, first year, 20 cents per hour; second, 22; third and subsequent years, 23 1/2 cents. In other cities the men get, first year, 20 cents; second, 22; third, 24 cents.
"Trainmen (motormen and conductors), shopmen and shedmen shall be paid the same as similar classes of labor in Montreal and other cities," says the letter. "The men in other cities are paid less than they are here."

The company wishes to make a number of amendments in the agreement if the men want to amend it. They want to make men who are taken on the road after the agreement is signed purchase one more uniform than the present men are obliged to purchase.
It now takes the men from 12 to 18 hours to put in their day's work. The union asked that the men be allowed to do their work in 12 consecutive hours. Regarding the request of the union, the company makes the following statement: "The general manager undertakes that the schedules be so arranged that the hours worked on cars will be put in following the least number of hours that in his opinion will be consistent with a safe and efficient service to be performed by the company." "That does not please the men at all for they want to work 12 hours."

Would Cut Sunday Pay.
When the company started to operate Sunday cars 8 hours was to be paid ten hours for it.
The company now wants to pay only platform time, or 8 hours.
The company will not discriminate against employees who are members of any organization (meaning the union) nor shall the employees be discriminated against fellow employees for the same reason, and to prevent discrimination they shall wear any buttons, badges, or any other identifying attachment to any organization, not by them by any other method distinct to each of the patrons of the cars or to each of the members of the union members and non-members of any organization," says the company.
The men sent their application for allowed of conciliation to the government last night. The company will be allowed five days after they get their notification from the government to refuse a man will be appointed by the government.

MISS PANKHURST CONFIDENT
Believes Victory of "Votes for Women" is Near at Hand.
NEW YORK, July 3.—The Sun's London correspondent cables: The suffragettes intend to take advantage of the autumn session to return to the warpath. Miss Cristabel Pankhurst expressed satisfaction at the decision of Premier Balfour to devote July 11 and 12 to the second reading of the suffrage bill. Miss Pankhurst believes that victory for the cause is near. She said today:
"With a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull together the victory will be ours."

WARNED BY WIRELESS
Theft of Over $3000 in Jewels and Money Reported to Police.
NEW YORK, July 3.—Responding to a report by wireless of the robbery of more than $3000 in jewels and money, Chief of Police Hayes of Hoboken, with four detectives, made a close search of the steamer America of the Hamburg-American line, when she arrived at her pier yesterday. The robbery was committed on Thursday, it is said, and the property stolen belonged to Mrs. G. Stratford, wife of a wealthy oakum manufacturer of Jersey City. The property was not recovered.

WATER OUTLOOK LESS DARK
Daily Consumption is Not Increasing and Reservoir Shows Gain.
Although Toronto's water consumers have not needed to any great extent the injunction to stop the extravagant use of Lake Ontario's stores, the situation is at least not growing worse.
Waterworks Engineer Fellowes said last night that the daily consumption of 4,000,000 gallons reached some days ago. The water in the reservoir has risen from a level of 15 feet to the mark of 18 feet.
Timothy Shane was killed at Lindsay by falling 14 feet from a hotel balcony while walking in his sleep.

WHY THE MAPLE IS A SYMBOL

Rev. W. H. Hincks Points Out How it Typifies Canada's Life and Ideals.

In an address whose keynote was Dominion Day patriotism, Rev. W. H. Hincks, pastor of Broadway Tabernacle, yesterday morning pointed out the appropriateness of the maple leaf as the national emblem of Canada.

Altho the maple was not indigenous to Canada, but a native of Japan, it was one of the hardiest working trees in extracting nourishment from the soil, typifying the lives of Canada's earnest pioneers in church, educational and political work.

The maple knew how to wait, and no shade was so dense as to kill its growth. Similarly, for a long period of Canadian history, the forces of nature waited for development. With sixty nations now knocking at Canada's gate for admission, the time of fulfillment had come.

The maple was a food producer, symbolizing the country's greatness as a storehouse of food for other nations. The bank deposits of $129 per unit of population, the highest in the world, were significant also of the industrial character of the people.

The maple was the most grateful good to others was marked in Canada's history by the altruistic spirit of the U. E. Loyalists and the shrouding of a share of the Boer war burden.

The brilliancy of the hue of the maple leaf in maturity depended upon the degree of humidity in the period preceding maturity. Canada was now in its youth, and to develop into later beauty and strength, the people must make good use of opportunities.

Frank Yeigh gave an address in the school house in the afternoon on the history of confederation. Mr. Yeigh was assisted by twenty young men, who were used to represent the different races being fused into the Canadian nationality.

WANT MAGISTRATE OF THEIR OWN.

WALKERVILLE, July 3.—Residents of Walkerville are discussing the advisability of having a police magistrate. Under existing conditions all cases which come under the city's by-laws are tried before Justice of the Peace Reid, but the other cases must be taken before the Windsor police magistrate.

"This takes time, and the Walkerville police are anxious to have a magistrate of their own."

MILLIONAIRE FIGHTS ARREST.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 2.—John I. Beggs, president of the local electric railway and light companies, and director of the North American Company, which owns properties in other cities, has decided to make a vigorous fight against his arrest by the Socialist administration for failing to pay a city license of $15 a car for each car operated in the city. He was arrested recently to make a test case, and now has obtained an injunction from a higher court forbidding the lower court to take testimony in the case. This carries the suit at once to the higher state courts and will rush the termination of the city's suit.

TREASURE SEEKERS.
DETROIT, Mich., July 3.—A Cleveland despatch says Bernard McCroder, a veteran lake pilot, will lead a new expedition next week to seek the treasure lost with the sinking of the old steamer Atlantic off Point Canada, dead north of Erie, in 1852. McCroder thinks there was between $300,000 and $400,000 aboard the ship.

Soft Collar Shirts by the Hundred

FOR Holiday Men. Muskoka Shirts, Simcoe Shirts, Lake Ontario Shirts; the Shirts a man may renew his youth in, forget the office and escape the slavery of linen and starch. The kind that mother used to make, only cut a little more scientifically perhaps, and a little more "sporty" in appearance. But comfortable as of yore, every bit.

We've made some good dickers with the shirt manufacturers to get shirts as good as these to sell at the prices—so you'll say.

Tuesday we devote a large special circle packed full and overflowing, to holiday shirts.

500 We Have Marked, Each 75c.

Made from English white cellulars (or net), and neat striped cashmerettes, plain blue, green, mauve and tan, self striped vestings, and other splendid cloths; a point well worth remembering is the soft lay-down collar, made reversible. Sizes 14 to 17. You would expect to pay $1.00 for these anyway. Each, Tuesday 75c.

450 We Have Marked Each $1.00.

It's wonderful the values we have been able to put in this lot. Pure white mercerized vestings, with neat self patterns and stripes, plain blue and tan, Madras cloths; white cellulars with mercerized self stripes, and many others. Shirts that would cause you no surprise if you saw them marked $1.25 and $1.50. We are selling at each, Tuesday $1.00.

200 We Have Marked, Each $1.25.

If we had paid the full manufacturer's price for these, the least they could have been marked would have been $1.50. They are made from soft swassettes, in plain blue, grey, mauve, tan, cream and white shades. They are very light weight, are cool, will fit, and are excellent value at, each, Tuesday $1.25.

A Cool, Airy Store

DID you ever notice how pleasant it was to breathe the air which blows up after a summer rain? How cool, sweet, moist and refreshing it is!

This store is equipped with cool, moist air, produced artificially. No matter how hot, how sticky it may be outside, how dry and dusty, the store is fresh and cool. We wash our air, in cold Lake Ontario water.

That is the actual fact. The system is a simple one, too. A huge electric fan draws the air in from outside, and forces it through a curtain of falling water. The dust is strained out of it, and it comes up into the store like a cool, fresh breeze off the lake.

It adds wonderfully to the pleasure of Simpson shopping these hot days.
