

Pacific of these upturn. The Canadian Pacific largely owns the harbor of Vancouver. These things make them masters.

Public ownership gives equality of treatment to all shippers in the use of the big services. No favoritism to the big shipper over the smaller rival; the big miller over the small one. Equality to all towns and districts, with preference to none. The Grand Trunk gives a suburban service with commutation tickets to Montreal, and almost does the like treatment to Toronto. A railway or a ring of private railways have it in their power to blight a community.

Public ownership can raise the capital for public service at less cost than private companies. Capital in public service is never in default in its payments, nor are its shareholders plundered by private exploiters as in so many cases in the States. The money that goes into railways is all the earnings of the people—hardly ever does a railway magnate invest his own money—and therefore the natural investment of the public savings ought to be in public railways. The interest will be sure.

Public-owned railways are consecrated to giving public service at the lowest cost; private-owned railways seek to make profits for the shareholders or owners, at the expense of the public. The cost of the modern railway is not the other for the most profits to the owners.

Public ownership would give Toronto terminals, sidings and street crossings the best possible. Public ownership would set all the railways leave Toronto to the east by the four-track line on a half of one per cent. grade, the three go out now on a one per cent. grade at three different places. The half per cent. grade can be got and might cost a little more, but once got it would quicken the services, reduce the cost, improve the whole layout of the city.

Public ownership of terminals and sidings should fit in with all harbor improvements and industrial layouts, not antagonize one another.

Public ownership of railways and telegraph, telephone and express, post-office and radials, would make a centre in every village and town that would have its headquarters in one fire-proof building that was open for public service every hour in the day; instead of as now being out of commission, many of them, more than half of the time.

Public Ownership Makes the State Supreme. Lastly, where you have public ownership you have absolute freedom to do whatever you like, whenever you like, with what is your own; once you part with a public franchise you have lost your freedom. A nation that is free can take up any and every improvement that comes along; private ownership tries to oppose all advances.

A private-owned monopoly becomes, in nearly every case, a public enemy. The private railways fight our postoffice in parcel-post and cheap express service just as the private-owned banking institutions of Canada fight the postal money order, and the rate of interest on deposits paid by the postal savings banks. Why should a nation expect unfair dictation within its own borders?

The War and Public Ownership. The great war has brought into the foreground the idea of public service being anything else. A state must own its railways for purposes of national defence if for that alone. Had it not been for our state-owned railway, the intercolonial we could not have sent a man to the front, except in Montreal, from Montreal and Quebec, Canada, today, had we not sole control of her three private-owned railways. The control may be in the States, of the C.P.R. was at one time in Germany. We must own our own railways, not let them be controlled by stock that controls them should be allowed to go out of the country. Lord Shaughnessy is bound to think more of his shareholders' interests no matter where they live than of the Canadians who are served by that road; Germany controls our nickel mines, and she could buy up our railways tomorrow by way of agents in the United States. Boston telegraph and telephone interests control the cable, telegraph and telephones that serve Canada. Our empire must own the cables. Our great Canadian Pacific has its closest allies in Wall Street, New York. A state that owns its railways can assist therewith in promoting foreign trade; in giving the best freight charges on her exports, and on her raw products from other countries needed for her manufacturers. Germany uses this to the great advantage of her wealth and interest. National railways have made Germany able to defy the world.

Take Over Our Railways Forthwith. And now let me apply what I have said to the situation at home, and make myself up-to-date in regard to public ownership of railways in Canada. I would take over all the railways in Canada by the state, and thereby follow the example set by most of the countries of the world. Most of all I would follow the example of our sister dominions, Australia and New Zealand, where they have always had state ownership of railways. As a war measure we should long ago have followed the example of Great Britain and taken over the railways in this country as she took them over. The clear-cut position taken by the Australasians in the war was made easier for them by their advanced legislation in the past, especially in regard to railways; and they dealt with the war because they had already learned the art of putting the public interest before everything else. Great Britain will never let her railways pass into private hands again, and it was the mistakes of Great Britain at the beginning of this war that made the led to the United States and Canada following a bad example. Great Britain let, and we let the "King's Highway" pass into private hands. So the States, I would take over the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Northern, all at once, and link them all up with the intercolonial. If I had to take any one first before the others I would take the Canadian Pacific. We could afford to guarantee all the commitments of the Canadian Pacific and pay the shareholders 5 per cent. on their shares. We provided we got all the assets and the organization of the Canadian Pacific, linked up with the government railway staff, would be competent to administer the consolidation.

Next, I would take over the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern, assume the liabilities, and pay the shareholders some reasonable compensation for a transfer of their holdings. I have very little sympathy with the proposal that the Grand Trunk or Canadian Northern should be put thru the hands of a receivership. A way can be found to take them over on terms fair to all. The Canadian Northern, notwithstanding all that has been said about it, has many respects has the greatest potentialities of any road in Canada, and those who have made it are worthy of a reasonable compensation for their services, and for the surrender of their prospects.

The Grand Trunk is the best road we have in Eastern Canada, and could be taken over by some reasonable compensation to the shareholders who now get little or nothing. But take them over I would forthwith, and consolidate them all into one system, under one administration, absolutely removed from politics, and put them in charge of a commission of one or three men of the highest ability, and free of all interference. It would be their duty to consolidate and co-ordinate all the present systems; to cut out unnecessary and duplicate lines and equipment for the unnecessary rails; to save unnecessary expense, to unify the whole, and to make the united railway system of the country complementary of the water transportation of the country, to the extent of taking over the ocean steamship lines that the railways may own. You can't settle the transportation problem by railway unless you also settle it by water, and there must be the one owner of the both means to that end.

And even before I did this from a federal point of view, I would take over by the province and by the municipalities all the radials and street car lines in Ontario, link them all up more or less, and also take over the main water powers of the province, and use them first of all for the local railways and industries, and next for eventually supplying the motive power for the federal railway system.

I would not allow a single water-power in any part of the Dominion to be hereafter alienated to a private company if it was needed for the railway services of Canada.

The Fear of Political Corruption. And now for a minute let me refer to the excellent speech made under your auspices by Mr. Dunne two weeks ago. He said a great deal in favor of the private-owned system of the United States; and with all its faults it has merits as you all know. It has done a lot in the way of competition, but it has ruined an innumerable number of shareholders; it has made enormous waste in unnecessary duplication, in unnecessary overhead expenses that can be eliminated; and it stands adjudged in the awful discrimination it has exercised against individuals, against communities, against interests.

And Mr. Dunne gave his whole case away when he said they now had public regulation. But this public regulation was attained and secured by the people as against the railways, and forced out of them; Mr. Dunne now makes a virtue of what he not long ago regarded as a crime. But whoever justifies public regulation must be prepared to go the whole distance and justify public ownership. Public ownership is but the completion of public regulation, and control by him up to the neck, and control by the state up to the waist to discuss, and that in the interest of politics and political corruption. I was sorry to hear him, an American, and therefore a republican of the United States, declare his lack of faith in the democracy of the United States. He was afraid of the people, most of all of the corrupt people! I take full responsibility when I say that the railways have been the greatest source of the widespread corruption that has prevailed in the United States. They are not able now to do much in congress, but they have demoralized nearly every legislature in the United States. The source of political corruption in nearly every case has been the man who took the money, and not the man who found it. And the railways are more or less blame-worthy in this country. The Canadian people are not the source of corruption that prevails here, and once you remove the source of corruption the corruption itself must largely disappear.

Mr. Dunne's follow, as Mr. Dunne says, that politics must necessarily get into the administration of public owned railways. They can be absolutely separated, and kept as a business proposition, just as it has been done in Australia and New Zealand and in the countries of Europe. Give men like Lord Shaughnessy and the other railway men like Mr. Chamberlain of the Grand Trunk, Mr. Hanna of the Canadian Northern or Mr. Guttridge of the Intercolonial full control, and back them up with legislation taking our railways out of politics, and I have no fear of public ownership in this respect. But that is another question that must be discussed some other day.

Rudyard Kipling's "The Light That Failed" in motion pictures has been substituted for the photo-rama, "The Forgotten Country," and forms the lead feature of the bill at the Strand Theatre for the first three days of this week. The pathetic and tragic story of a man's life, and the story of a man's life, is so well-known to the public that it needs no introduction to the public. The picture is a masterpiece of dramatic presentation in motion pictures, and is a most interesting and dramatic story. HUGHES RESIGNS

It is unlikely that this correspondence will be made public until the house meets in January.

Appointments Unsatisfactory. The appointment made by General Hughes for which most objection was taken was that of overseas deputy minister. He gave that important office to Colonel A. D. McKee, whose name connected with certain hand deals in the west, notably the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company. From the Ottawa point of view, the appointment was an impossibility. However, the other nominations of the overseas council were also unsatisfactory to the authorities here. The result was that nothing of this nature done by General Hughes during his last trip to England was approved.

General George Perley was appointed minister of overseas forces to clear up these matters. He is in process of carrying out the instructions of Sir Robert Borden.

Another action taken by General Hughes which was countermanded by the prime minister was the recall of General Guy Carleton Jones, senior general of the medical staff. Ending many complaints regarding the conduct of the war, and the care of the wounded Canadians, General Hughes ordered an investigation by Colonel Dr. Bruce, the eminent Toronto surgeon, and the report caused a sensation. One well-known Ottawa doctor is understood to have been dismissed from the service for crime, and General Jones had to resign his Ottawa position to explain how such things could happen under his management.

Just before he was to sail he was ordered to resign his Ottawa position, and he has now been reinstated by Sir George Perley.

The Gwatkin Case. There was also the case of General Gwatkin, chief of general staff at Ottawa. General Hughes had decided to replace him, but the premier also countermanded this action by his minister of militia. It has been known for some time that the relations between General Hughes and General Gwatkin were strained. It is said that General Gwatkin, the man who made public the report of General Alderson, condemning the Ross rifle. These are only a few incidents in a long list of minor but successful spending Hughes has given the government. The general complaint, it is learned, is that the ex-minister of militia has been in the habit of making a habit of spending his cabinet. As one minister put it, "we have to go to the council for authority to give a stenographer an increase of pay, or an extra week's holiday, but General Gwatkin has no such scruples." He has flouted the government on all occasions. The thing could not go on any longer.

The troubles with General Hughes began shortly after the opening of the war when the first contingent was sent to the front. It had been that magnificent muster of men to fight a battle of empire. Gen. Hughes had put forth a tremendous effort and he put forth a tremendous effort and he put forth a tremendous effort.

TWO LOST WITH SCHOONER. Craft Upsets in Malpue Bay During Gale.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 13.—The schooner W. J. Marshall, 79 tons, built in Essex, Massachusetts, was recently purchased by R. J. McMurphy of Lincolnton and Capt. Dunn of New Brunswick, captives during a heavy gale in Malpue Bay, on Saturday night. Capt. Dunn and his known man were aboard at the time, and both are supposed to be lost, there is no trace of them. The vessel went to pieces during the night. C. G. S. WESTON MANY RESIDENTS ARE IN FAVOR OF DRIVING CLUB Organization is Under Consideration at Present—A.Y.P.A. Hold Banquet.

The question of organizing for the formation of a driving club has been under consideration for some time by the citizens of Weston during the past few days. Many of those interested in the venture state that at present the half-mile track at the fair grounds is living life for the regular drivers, but also of fun, "half-mile" and very well built.

Under the existing arrangements new in force, no provision is made for the use of the track as an attraction for the public. The club is intended to be a regular card for Weston, other than the regular card for Weston, other than the regular card for Weston.

The plan is one to interest all Weston people as the "meets" can be arranged, as well as putting the grounds to a good use.

St. Philip A.Y.P.A. held a successful banquet last Thursday night in the "Hunters" Hall, Weston. Nearly 100 hunters met and had a very successful evening. The banquet was held in the "Hunters" Hall, Weston. Nearly 100 hunters met and had a very successful evening.

MIMICO Missionary Rest Home at Mimico Now Free of Debt

By the generosity of benefactors throughout the province the Missionary Rest Home at Mimico has been built and furnished and is now free of debt. This was the substance of the report read by Pastor A. W. Kofke at a meeting under the auspices of the St. Clair Avenue and St. George's Church, Mimico, last night. The report also contained the names of the donors not only of money, but also of furnishings and provisions. Rev. Dr. J. C. McCreary, pastor of St. George's Church, Mimico, addressed the gathering on the topic, "The Greater Works." "I believe," he said, "that if we in Toronto as a people, we would see a greater revival here than they did in Jerusalem in the days of old."

EARLSCOURT BURIED IN SHELL HOLE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Husband of Earls Court Woman Tells of Experience at Front.

Mrs. I. Roughley, 37 Sellers avenue, Earls Court, president of the U. W. W. is in receipt of a letter from her husband, Pte. I. Roughley, Canadian overseas force, recently wounded at the battle of the Somme, and now lying in No. 2 Northern General Hospital, Beckwith's Park, Leeds, Yorkshire, England. The following are interesting extracts: "I have been in this hospital since Sept. 17, and will not be fit for some time to come. My nerves are all shaky. I stood the racket of the artillery for 24 hours, and I can tell you we got it pretty hot, until one unlucky shell struck quite close and buried us up, and how we got out of the trench and away from it is a miracle, because even up to the dressing station behind the lines they tell me shells were dropping all around. I was far enough away when I came to my senses proper. I must have had a rough time of it, because I had no hat or shoes on; just my tunic and pants. I had quite a number of souvenirs, including a German officer's helmet, and everything went except my pay book and photos you sent me.

"We are being fed on the best of food here. Chickens, rabbits, all kinds of beef and puddings, and on visiting days we have lots of visitors, who supply us with cigars, etc.

"The people of Leeds are very good to disabled soldiers, and they are frequently invited to parties and joy rides."

If an Over Concession is Good for the Soul

Then we have this to say upon the Overall Question as it appears to us...

FOR a long time we sold a well known brand of Overalls and Jackets for $1.25 each, $2.50 the suit, when other houses all over Canada were selling them anywhere from $1.35 to $1.75. We did this to help the man who wears overalls, and a so because we do not think they were worth any more than we asked for them. We have cleared out every last garment of them and now we have something new for you, the "Bob Long" Big Engineers' Made-in-Canada Union Overalls and Jackets, guaranteed by the maker to outlast two pairs of any line in the market, and he is prepared to back this up, and so are we. The price for one year is going to be $1.35 a garment—$2.70 the suit—and here again we prove beyond the question of a doubt that we are the friend of the man in overalls as well as every mechanic in Canada. You see, we are "Clothiers" Only, and all our time is devoted to men and their needs in clothes.

Hydro-Electric Rates Considered Too High. Agincourt to Confer With Scarborough on New Lighting Scheme.

Reeve Cornell presided over yesterday's meeting of the Scarborough council and a big lot of local matters were dealt with. A communication from the Hydro-Electric giving an outline of the rates likely to prevail was looked upon as somewhat disconcerting, among other items the cost of street lighting alone in Agincourt running up to $4000. Agincourt people will be asked to meet with the township council on Monday to get, if possible, a representative opinion as to the advisability of entering upon the scheme.

Scarborough township will this year have two extra polling sub-divisions and the following were named for the officers: In No. 1, A. D. McKee; No. 2, George Brown; No. 3, D. Haldimand; No. 4, T. M. Beckett; No. 5, T. Jackson; No. 6, E. Kofke; No. 7, D. Reesor; No. 8, G. Robinson; No. 9, J. Miles; No. 10, H. Thompson.

During the progress of work on the Kenney road by the York Highway Commission it is claimed that the roadway in Agincourt between the G. P. R. and the Kenney road has been ruined. The village, thru the council, is applying for a grant of material from the commission to make good the damage. The engineer was instructed to prepare a plan showing the area in which water has been installed for street lighting.

FINER WEATHER FAVORS THRESHING IN WEST. Special to The Toronto World. Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—From seventy to seventy-five per cent. of the wheat in the districts served by Canadian Pacific Railway in the northern part of Saskatchewan has been threshed, according to reliable reports just to hand. About the same proportion of oats has been threshed and practically all the barley has been put thru the separator.

Nearly all points indicate that the cold weather of the past week has enabled farmers to do a good deal of the threshing. In some districts the weather has been so good that they have not been responsible for much delay in threshing operations. The weather report from the northern Saskatchewan districts, covering the past week.

MOTHER GOOSE STARTS PLUCKING THOSE GESE. Old Man Winter Appeared Yesterday in Real Old-Fashioned Style.

Twenty-four hours behind scheduled time, but amply atoning for its delay in the severity with which it came, winter made its initial appearance in the city, and practically all over central Ontario yesterday.

Far from being a "flurry," it was a real old-fashioned downfall, and the suburbs and well over the country were locked then by several inches of snow, with a low temperature of a few degrees below zero. There was no interruption to suburban railway traffic, all the lines running with customary regularity, but the storm, the heraldic look then by several inches of snow, with a low temperature of a few degrees below zero.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 14.

The Slacker's Choice

In the appeal of Captain Philippe Millet, the French military writer, that the British forces should take over more of the western front, there is sounded a note which ought to touch the hearts of our fellow-citizens in Quebec...

The French are holding four times as long a stretch of trenches as the British. We could do a good deal better if we were doing all we could. We are not doing as much as Great Britain did under the voluntary system...

Whether we can by voluntary effort raise as great a number proportionately as Great Britain is a vexed question, and the debate does not appear to help any, nor bring it any nearer settlement.

The prospect of the war going over into 1918 is being widely discussed in Europe, and the implacability of both sides in the conflict is everywhere taken for granted.

Until this issue is decided the drain of blood and the drain of gold will continue. Those who will not risk their courage are now by force of circumstances compelled to spend their cash, and the longer the issue remains undecided the more cash they will be called upon to expend.

Slackers must choose among prolonging the war, renewing the war later, and robbing the country of its cash.

The Cost of Living Problem is Still Up to the Federal Government

The Dominion Government has essayed to deal with the high cost of living problem, and we hope that good success will crown its efforts. The problem is a difficult one, and perhaps only admits of a drastic solution.

"unduly" from that section of the anti-trust law, which makes illegal a combination to unduly enhance the prices of food commodities. But whether the word "unduly" be left in the section or not it would seem to be likely that only an advance in price can be criminal when such advance is unreasonable, extortionate, or unjust.

The new order-in-council may work out all right, and we trust it will be enforced with commendable vigor. It has only been in operation for two or three days, and, therefore, has not had time to cause the bottom to drop out of the market to any great extent.

We repeat that the government has a difficult task ahead of it. Our own impression is that its duty can best be performed by executive action rather than by relegating citizens to the criminal courts.

DIPLOMATIC TRIUMPH Lusitania Situation Described as Taken Well in Hand.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 13.—United States Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson delivered the principal address at the opening here today of the 36th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

EXTENSIVE FRAUD SEQUEL IN COURT

Gramophone Co. Seeks to Recover Forty-Five Thousand From Union Bank.

QUESTION OF LIABILITY

W. J. Ott is Now Serving Five Years' Imprisonment for Forgery.

Mr. Justice Middleton and an imposing array of counsel will be occupied for several days in the non-jury assize court, deciding whether the neglect of a depositor to examine cheques returned by the bank and to neglect to keep a proper check on the balance submitted from time to time prevents him from holding the bank liable for the recovery of moneys paid out by the bank thru forged or raised cheques.

The amounts for these were received by Ott and charged against the account of the plaintiff and the plaintiff holds the bank liable under the Bills and Exchange Act.

The bank claims there was no improper accounting on their part, that there was conversion and that the plaintiff failed to notify them within the specified time of any errors as he ought to have done.

The defense further states that the amounts were submitted to the plaintiff, showing the condition of the bank and the company, and every opportunity was given for the detection of any irregularities. It is claimed by the defense that the plaintiff converted his employers to his use, and squared matters by manipulating the bank account, so that instead of his manager checking him he was checking himself.

MAYOR CHURCH MAY HAVE THIRD TERM

So Far No Serious Contestant Threatens to Oppose Him.

EX-CONTROLLERS RUN

Promised Line Up for Council Looks Like Past Years.

With nearly six weeks yet in election time, it looks as if Mayor Church is going to have a third term in the mayor's chair. So far not one serious contestant has announced himself.

There is to be some shifting of ground in the aldermanic contests. Ald. McBride is said to be contemplating a change and may be found opposing Alderman Hiltz, Robbins and Waststaff in Ward 1.

As usual these promises to be a big field in Ward 6. The present aldermen will all be in the running, and Ex-Controller J. O. McCarthy may also seek re-election as alderman.

MANY HOTELS DEALT WITH IN ASSESSMENT COURT

In the Majority of Cases Figures Stand Without Any Change.

Judge Winchester fixed eleven hotel assessments yesterday, rendering the following decisions: T. O'Rourke, Eastern Avenue and Morse Street, building reduced $1,000; H. H. Darby, Leslie and Queen, no change; Edwin House, Queen and Carroll streets, no change; J. J. Meagher, George and Front streets, building reduced $2,000; J. Chadwick, Britain and Sherbourne streets, building reduced $2,000; F. Maithlis, Gerrard and Parliament streets, no change; J. Goodwin, 317 Yonge street, no change; Mary Latimer, Power House, King and Spadina, no change; Eliza Maloney, Clarence and Queen, building reduced $1,000; F. J. McGarry, Dundas and Queen streets, no change; Gladstone Hotel, West Queen street, no change.

TOMMY AND HIS HUMOR INSEPARABLE IN WAR

Jokes May Be Rough, But They Are Hearty and Are Unending.

An observer somewhere in France made in a letter home the following picture of a little scene he witnessed—a scene illustrating the ubiquitous good nature and wit of the British soldier in the most trying conditions.

"No, I've not, but I've left it in the 'bus."

"You did, but oh, 'ell I clean forgot to see that."

"Suddenly came the 'fall in' horn and off they march, their sturdy soldierly paces wobbling along the road to the rest camp."

"They have had 'coveys and fags' and 'the usual' but they are cheerful and happy; and, in spite of the fact, they are clean—clean, but rough soldiers."

Chisholm Declares Hydro Is Not Overcharging City

Property Commissioner Chisholm's report upon Alderman McBride's statements in council that the hydro was overcharging the city on street lighting to make up an old error was to the effect that the accounts have not been overcharged.

During the year the accounts have averaged around $30,000 per month and only in May did it jump $500, which was readily accounted for.

PEPE OBTAINS PARDON

The Observator Romano states that M. Arthur Verhaeren, the deputy for Ghent, who was condemned by the German courts to two years' imprisonment in a fortress, has been pardoned as the result of the intervention of the Pope.

CITY HALL NOTES

Mayor Church has sent another protest to the military authorities, this one addressed to General Biggar. Ottawa, demanding better arrangements for arrival and reception to returning soldiers.

Council chamber galleries will be reopened at the next meeting of council under a soldier guard. Alderman McBride moved at the property committee that the closing order be rescinded also that the west entrance be opened. The two guards required must be returned soldiers.

The property committee recommended to council yesterday that 250 watt lamps, hung on goose-neck brackets from hydro poles, be installed on one side of University Avenue as an experiment in dark lighting. The hydro will install them at their own expense, but the maintenance will cost the city $20 per year as against $8 for the old lamps.

"If my boy were 17 he would be at the front," declared Ald. McBride yesterday in the council chamber. He expressed his disapproval of being called a shirker. Ald. McBride added that he had no objection at all to criticism leveled at himself, but promised to make things warm for anybody who attempted to criticize members of his family.

Dr. Hastings, commenting on Brantford's victory before the Dominion Railway Board regarding unnecessary locomotive noises, says Toronto is at a disadvantage because our laws are more stringent than those of deciding whether whistling or bell ringing is necessary. However, he says he is getting excellent results with his ordinance against unnecessary noises.

BOARD WILLING TO ORDER LINE

Property Committee Recommends That Salaries Be Cut Off.

UNLESS CITY OBJECTS INMATES GO TO FARM

Such Objection Must Be Definite, Not "Colorless and Spineless"

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board told the strong delegation of residents in western Toronto, who waited on them to ask for better transportation in the Pape Avenue district, that they would give an order for the construction of a line according to their own inspector's report—from Aue Avenue and Bay, along Richmond, Victoria, Witten, Broadview, Gerrard, Carlaw, Gough and Pape, to Danforth.

This line will necessitate the construction of very little new track, and will utilize a mile of track on Winton, Levee, Richmond and Broadview, which is now used for only an hour and a half in the day.

The Police and Letters found on the board, said that they regretted the position of the city in this matter, which had been hanging in the air since the board was willing to make the order and the responsibility, if it was nullified, would rest upon the city.

The delegation applauded the decision of the board. Among those present were representatives of various bodies of citizens in the east end, with W. J. Owens, M.L.A., Joseph Russell, M.L.A., and Ald. Robbins.

FRENCH AERO-BOMBS WORRYING THE GERMANS

Letters Found Show That Missiles Dropped at Krupp Town Did Great Damage.

The Paris correspondent of The London Morning Post writes that the German prisoners captured on the Somme bear testimony as to the efficiency of the bombs dropped by French aeroplanes. One of these letters, dated from Sarrebourg on September 17, states:

"Thursday was an unpleasant day. The air was full of bombs. They were dropped from the sky and fell on the houses and on the people. We were killed and wounded. We were brought out on to the square. Tomorrow the dead will be buried."

Another letter, dated from Essen, Sept. 24, states:

"We are no longer safe, even at Essen. We are no longer safe here today and caused great damage. Five dead, six wounded and a certain number of houses destroyed. We must now expect anything. Isn't it terrible that we should have to suffer like this? We have to stand everything. There are a lot of people here who are glad and who are happy. They would be fat if they were in the trenches; anyway they would get fatter."

GERMANS LAY NETS

According to a despatch from Stockholm, the Swedish steamer Norma with coals from a British port, has been caught in wire nets south of the Drogden Light and her propeller has been seriously damaged. The boats have gone to her rescue. The nets have been laid by the Germans to catch submarines.

LIEUT. TREACY WOUNDED

Rev. Dr. Treacy, of West Toronto, has received a cable notifying him that his brother, Lieut. Richard Treacy, who is with the Royal Dublin Fusiliers, has been wounded in action.

The nature of the wound is not stated. Lieutenant Treacy, who is a physician and surgeon, was at Mons and at Ghenvich, at which battle he was wounded. He was afterwards transferred to Egypt and stationed at Cairo.

At the beginning of September he was sent to the Balkans, and was at the front about three weeks when he was wounded on September 22.

CANADIANS SUCCEED IN A NIGHT ATTACK

LOSSES FAIRLY LIGHT

"Minor Operation" is Well Executed by Newly Arrived Troops.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, Nov. 13.—Soon after midnight, Friday, in bright moonlight, the Canadians delivered an entirely successful attack on a portion of the German ground east of Regina trench, not far from Courcolette, the result being that our trench system in this quarter was advanced about 400 yards along a length of something over half a mile.

The operation, of course, was a minor one, but good to prove that there is unlikely this winter to be the system of stagnation, such as the Canadians met with the rest of the British forces, have had to endure in previous winter months.

Newly-Arrived Soldiers. The position attacked was on slightly rising ground along which ran a track that used to lead to a farm. Now nothing is there but the usual mass of bricks and rubbish. The line in fact was pretty well wiped out weeks back when the Germans contrived to fortify it quite respectably.

The Canadians who made the attack were many of them newly arrived from England. It was conducted on lines now familiar, namely, a preliminary bombardment on the point chosen for the attack.

Fierce Artillery Fire. Canadians who have reached here say this artillery fire was as fierce as any put up during the last four months, which is saying a good deal, also in the present instance the fire was confined to a comparatively narrow length. It was cruel work to advance so far and to be met with the count of the resistance encountered, but because of the state of the ground, churned into chaos by heavy guns, to have been repulsed would have been the worst of all.

Light Casualties. The artillery work, however, had accomplished much, and the Canadians reached their objective with comparatively few losses. They found Germans lying scattered in the remains of the trenches and had to be driven back to the original position. There were some of the Prussian Guard and Saxons among those taken. Nearly 200 Germans were captured, and the first couple of hours, daylight, with more to follow.

This operation, minor one as it is, develops the value of a rather useful dominating point and entitles temporary system of strongholds by our men to be further strengthened.

The men who took part, speak highly of the discipline and courage of our lads, some of them fresh from the school at Shorncliffe.

Bochs Less Nerve. The Bochs are lighter at close quarters, but generally stick to the ground well enough till the last minute," said this informant. "The Bochs are a good deal better than they were a few months ago. They are now coming up to us, and they are doing so with more confidence than they were a few months ago. They are now coming up to us, and they are doing so with more confidence than they were a few months ago."

Child Was Nervous, Irritable, Tired Out

She Had No Appetite, and Her Complexion Was Pale and Sallow.

How many parents realize the strain which going to school means to the child who is naturally nervous and of delicate health?

You see them come from the schools daily with pale faces, many wearing glasses, and looking tired and worn. At home they are irritable and do not sleep well at nights, and are upset by a little extra excitement.

If they are to grow to healthy children and womanhood their systems must have attention now. Such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does wonders for children in this condition. We are constantly receiving letters from grateful parents telling what the Nerve Food has done for their children. This one is a fair sample:

Mrs. Stephen Hartman, Italy, Conn., Lanesburg Co., N.S., writes: "My little sister at eleven years of age became nervous, irritable and seemed all tired out. She had no appetite, was lifeless and drowsy and her complexion grew pale and sallow. Finally she had to keep her bed and have her leg in a cast. I tried everything, but was afraid of everything, would get excited and tremble till the bed would shake. As she seemed to be getting worse and the doctors' treatment, mother decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. After she had used about four boxes, improvement was noticeable and it was wonderful to see how much brighter and stronger she grew week by week. She used ten boxes for children in this condition. She got fat and rosy and went to school every day with an ambition that she never seemed to have before. I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to anyone for it was indeed wonderful what it did for her."

STOCKS TREND TO LOWER PRICES

New York, Nov. 13.—An undercurrent of heaviness and uncertainty pervaded today's market even though many stocks were strong at times and some records were established. Trading was broad, but fitful, with intervals of dullness during the intermediate and later stages. Price movements were frequently so confusing as to indicate buying and selling of various descriptions were lower by 2 to 3 points, and Central Leather made a further extreme decline of 10 points from its recent meteoric rise. Shipping shares, Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies, and United States Steel lost 2 points on the usual heavy offerings.

MINES STOCKS FIRM

McIntyre Stronger—Newray Up to High Level—Davidson Also Strong.

The mining stocks at the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday were unaffected by the easier feeling in both the New York and local markets for the most part. The details of the market were very steady, with trading fairly well distributed throughout the Cobalt and Porcupine lists.

MORGAN TO ACQUIRE A SMALL RAILWAY

Negotiations With British Holders Are Now Under Way.

New York, Nov. 13.—It became known today that negotiations are under way for the purchase by J. P. Morgan & Co. from British capitalists of all the securities of the New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad, which is a subsidiary of the Alabama, New Orleans, Texas & Pacific Junction Railroad Co. The latter is a British corporation incorporated in London in 1881, and has been conducted since that time in the interests of British capital.

WARRANTED DECLINE IN LOCAL SPECIALTIES

Overboomed Steel and Paper Stocks Have a Weak Market When Realizing Occurs.

The Toronto stock market was in a reactionary mood yesterday and almost throughout the entire list lower prices developed on realizing sales. The ostensible reason for the decline was a like operation on Wall Street, but aside from this prices were due to fall especially in such highly speculative issues as Steel of Canada, the price of which has admittedly been carried away beyond the bounds of prudence. This stock sold down to 72, but even at this price the pool, if profits could be realized, would make an exceedingly rich haul.

BUYING OF DAVIDSON COMING FROM CAMP

Davidson started off the week in the mining market by rising a point to a new high record in history at 62 1/2 cents a share, making a total advance of 5 1/2 cents in a week and of 1 1/2 in a month. It was stated that the bulk of the buying power came from Porcupine where the development of the 300 foot level is being followed with a good deal of interest. It is expected that the official assay returns on the ore from the vein at this depth, which was picked up last week, will be available today.

MONTREAL REACTIONARY

Huron and Co. report: Montreal, Nov. 13.—Saturday's reaction was carried further today, and the close was quite weak. Lower prices in New York, the selling here, and a reaction has been due for some time the local market sold off sharply.

MOTOR DIVIDEND RAISED

New York, Nov. 13.—A quarterly dividend of $1 has been declared by the directors of the White Motor Co., placing that stock, which has a par value of $50, on an 8 per cent basis. Heretofore the annual dividend rate has been 5 per cent.

COPPER DIVIDEND

New York, Nov. 13.—Utah Copper declared a dividend of $1.50. Previous dividend, Aug. 30, was 75 cents.
