Daily Fashion Hint for Times Readers.

This model splendidly illustrates the new arrangement of trimmings this season. Instead of braids and strappings applied in twists and scrolls, we have the straight line arrangements.

The Evening Times.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 25, 1907.

The St. John Evening Times is published at 21 and 23 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE EVENING TIMES, THE DAILY TELEGRAPH. New Brunswick's Independent newspapers. These newspapers advocate: British connection. Honesty in public life. Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion. No graft! No deals! "The Thistle, Shamrock, Rose entwine, The Maple Leaf forever."

ENFORCE THE LAW. The statement made to the Times by Police Magistrate Ritchie yesterday relative to the prevalence of drinking in prohibited hours was a topic of discussion throughout the city last evening. The deputy chief of police resents any suggestion that members of the force are influenced to favor liquor dealers by favors extended to them in return, and declares that he believes the license law, outside of the hotels, is well-observed. Among other things he said: "As regards Sunday drunks the only way to prevent drunkenness is to teach men not to drink. I do not think it would be of much use to close the bars at five o'clock instead of seven on Saturday nights. What effect would that have on Sunday? In Montreal the bars are open until 12 o'clock every night, and drunkenness is not more of an evil in Montreal than it is in St. John."

Surely this is a somewhat hopeless view of the case. If the bars closed at five instead of seven o'clock on the nights on which men get their pay, many homes all over the city would be made happier. Any man who stands, for example, on Water street or Union street between five and seven o'clock on Saturday evening knows this to be true. But the point taken by the magistrate is that the law as it exists is not enforced, and, whatever view the members of the police force and the inspector may take of it, the man on the street, with his eyes open, knows that it is not well enforced. Drunkenness, especially among mere youths, is increasing in St. John. To those men who labored in the rooms of the Every Day Club last winter the sight of new youths under the influence of liquor was shockingly common. The Times does not hesitate to say that if the inspector and the police together decided to close up all licensed bars on the hour, and to root out the unlicensed ones they could do so, and in so doing they would have the sympathy of every sober keeper who obeys the law, as well as of numberless wives, mothers and children who suffer as a result of present conditions.

MR. BOURASSA. At Ilerve, Quebec, on Sunday, Mr. Bourassa replied to the denial that he had been offered a place in the Quebec ministry. The Montreal Star reports say: "Coming to provincial matters, Mr. Bourassa declared that in 1903 on three occasions Sir Wilfrid Laurier had urged that he go to Quebec, to enter the Parent cabinet, where he would become premier on Mr. Parent's retirement, in place of Mr. Ferguson, who was on the road all the time and of Mr. Gouin, who lacked energy. Mr. Bourassa declared he had not accepted the suggestion, because he had no confidence in the men at Quebec, and he did not believe the members of a government could do much good unless they had confidence in each other."

IN RESTIGOUCHE. (Campbellton Events.) A prominent Liberal in the town suggests to "Events" the advisability of commencing at once in this county, to organize thoroughly. The suggestion is a good one. Other counties are preparing for both the provincial and dominion frays. Why not Restigouche? It is always well to be prepared.

AS OTHERS SEE US. (Montreal Gazette.) If newspaper reports are a good indication, the Opposition in the New Brunswick legislature is making headway that at the election to be soon held should bring about a needed change in the administration. Mr. Hazen, the leader, is a man of good character and ability, and is winning friends wherever he goes. He is also, it appears, getting good candidates to work with him, and good candidates are a main influence in deciding

No reasonable fault can be found with the motto of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association as enunciated by President Cockshutt in Toronto yesterday. He said that his motto was: "Keep your money in circulation at home by buying goods made in Canada, and when you cannot get what you want at home, buy within the British Empire." This would appear to be sound national and imperial doctrine. Mr. Cockshutt made a strong plea for the utilization of Canada's pulpwood forests for the benefit of her own people. He stated that two and a half million cords of pulpwood are exported to the United States each year, and that if this were checked by an export duty the pulp mills would be compelled to come to Canada, giving employment to our own people, and attracting foreign capital to this country. This question has been so widely discussed during the past year, and so much evidence has been accumulated in favor of legislative action, that the federal government will no doubt give the subject its early attention. Legislation must of course be preceded by careful enquiry, but no fear of possible retaliation need be entertained for a moment. If the pulpwood forests were on the other side of the line and Canada wanted to exploit them no unusual discomfitment is necessary to know and tell what would happen.

Since the city has entered an appearance in the suit of B. Mooney & Sons for damages in connection with the water-works extension, it may be assumed that able counsel will be engaged and the city's interests looked after with the utmost skill and care. The case is not only important in itself, but the result may have a direct bearing upon others not yet advanced to the courts. The Telegraph this morning very properly remarks: "The taxpayers are by no means hostile to the contractors. It is their desire, however, that no expensive precedent shall be established by this suit through any failure to bring out all of the facts and contentions upon which the city relies."

The verdict rendered yesterday in the Collins trial was not generally expected, although the public with the exception of a few who were swayed by unreasoning prejudices, had no doubt of the prisoner's guilt. But the rumor had gone abroad that the people of Albert county had been influenced by a quiet crusade against capital punishment, and that therefore no jury would agree to convict the prisoner. This rumor was so widespread and insistent that most people outside of the county looked for a disagreement. The result, however, has been otherwise, and this remarkable case has passed to the stage where only executive clemency may stand between the murderer and the scaffold.

Citizens interested in the success of the proposed exhibition in this city next year urge that action should be taken before the general meeting in January to fix the date and arrange other necessary preliminaries. If the thing can be done it is certainly should be done. The fair of next year should be made more attractive than the last one, and there should be ample time to complete every detail essential to success. Doubtless the suggestion that a general meeting be held will be acted upon by the directors.

SAYS THE OTTAWA FREE PRESS.—The time seems to be rapidly approaching when a mere man school teacher in this province will be as extinct as the dodo. What we are told is that there are 146 girls registered in the normal schools of Ontario and only twenty-three men, we begin to wonder who is going to wield the birch in the years that are to come."

Mr. Emmerson has no more loyal supporter in Canada today than Mr. A. B. Copp and hence any suggestion that he desired to supplant Mr. Emmerson is absolutely absurd. Not only is Mr. Copp a staunch friend of Mr. Emmerson but all Mr. Copp's relatives and political supporters are loyal to the member from Westmorland and consequently any suggestion that he would turn traitor to Mr. Emmerson is unworthy of more than passing attention.

how an election contest shall go. Moreover, the latest change in its composition did not strengthen the government, which has under a succession of premiers outlived its usefulness. There are two forces working for a change.

FALL AND WINTER OVERCOATS AND SUITS

It is no secret that for rapid, healthy growth and expansion, our business has no parallel and stands out in a class by itself in this city. There is a reason, it's the care with which we have selected our stock, the prices at which we marketed them, and the general satisfaction they have given. Our fall and winter stock of Suits, Overcoats, Reefers, Pants and Furnishings is now ready.

READY FOR THE CONCERT

A well-known musician was talking about old-fashioned concerts. "Some of the hits directed at these concerts were merited," he said: "One hit, and a good one, was made by a crusty old man. He called upstairs to his daughter: 'What a time you girls take getting ready for the concert! Look at me; a bit of wadding in each ear, and I'm all ready.'"

ONE ON BRYAN

It was early in the beginning of Mr. Bryan's political career. He had made a number of what he considered telling speeches in a campaign which had nevertheless resulted in the defeat of his candidate and the election of the man against whom he had been speaking. He was a short time after, it became Mr. Bryan's fortune to figure on the programme of a meeting where the man whom he had opposed was the presiding officer. Mr. Bryan wondered how the chairman, who of course would recall the very eloquent attacks made on him in the campaign just closed, would announce him. But when it came to his turn to take the platform the chairman leaned over toward him and said: "I beg your pardon, Mr. Bryan, but do you speak or sing?"

SORRY HE INSISTED

There was a specialist in a certain complaint who always insisted that he was an exceptionally busy man, his patients should partially direct themselves of clothing before coming into his presence. One day a man came in without having done this, and was about to speak when the doctor broke out with: "Don't you know my rule about taking off your clothing? Go and do it at once." "But I refuse to see you until you have partially undressed." "That's better," said the doctor. "Now what's wrong with you?" "I only came to ask you to settle this little tailor's bill which has been outstanding so long," said the victim.

TWO NEW FLYERS FOR THE C. P. R.

Two New 22-Knot Steamers to Be Built for Atlantic Service.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—A Canadian Associated Press cable says: Archer Baker, European manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, interviewed by the Westminster Gazette, said that the shareholders at the annual meeting in Montreal on Oct. 2 would be asked to sanction the building of two twenty-knot vessels for the Atlantic service, so as to make the passage from Liverpool in five days. The Canadian Pacific, he said, expects to cut the time from London to Brisbane down to twenty-four days.

A HEARTY WELCOME FOR GENERAL BOOTH

Halifax People Give Head of Army a Great Reception.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 24.—General William Booth was accorded a fine reception at the city hall this afternoon. Governor Fraser, Premier Murray, Judge Longley and other dignitaries of the state and church were present. A special meeting of the city council was called. An address was presented on behalf of the civic corporation. After reading of the address and the reply thereto a largely attended informal reception was held. The general will leave on Wednesday night for Moncton. This evening he lectured before an immense audience on The Success of the Army.

COLLINS SENTENCED TO HANG ON NOVEMBER 15

Judge Hanington Imposes Extreme Penalty on Man Found Guilty of Murder of Mary Ann McAuley.

Hopewell Cape via Moncton, N. B., Sept. 24.—The sentence and judgment of the court is that you be taken to the place from whence you came and there kept in close custody till Friday the 15th day of November next, and that then you be taken from thence to the place of execution and there hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord God Almighty, in His infinite compassion, have mercy on your soul.

This was the death sentence to which Thomas F. Collins listened for the second time this afternoon within a year. Save for a little nervous availing at the throat there was no outward sign to indicate that the calm, cool indifference he has maintained throughout has forsaken him. After sentence had been pronounced and he was being led across the jail yard he turned to one of the constables in charge and said that he had a book of fiction which he had lent to some one and which he wished to be returned. The scene was a most impressive one. The weather outside, which had been dull and threatening most of the day, had brightened up considerably after dinner and the sun, while yet tempered with thin clouds, was bright and warm. Every ear in the court room was taken when court resumed at 9:30. Soon after his honor had taken his seat he commenced his charge to the jury.

He spoke for about an hour and a quarter and Mr. McKewen, senior counsel for the defence, said afterwards that the whole was a model of impartiality and correct law. He said in substance: "Gentlemen of the jury, you are now, as well as myself called upon to perform a most solemn and important duty. The prisoner is indicted before you on the most serious charge known to the criminal calendar, that of murder, and he has the right to the fullest and most complete defence. It matters not that he is a stranger and without resources, because it is the duty and privilege of the presiding judge to see that the victim cries aloud to heaven for vindication and it is on the county of Albert to grant this vindication.

Capital punishment, gentlemen, has been the law of this empire for over 1,800 years but it is more, it is the law of Almighty God, not the law of man. It is the law of lightning and thunderbolts, but that which was established when God set His low in the clouds and promised that the world should no more be destroyed by a flood. In my humble opinion it is impera-tive now as ever. You are sworn to try this case according to the evidence and I ask you to know whatever you may have read in the newspapers or heard outside from your minds so that you may judge of it in that way."

His honor then commented briefly on the nature and value of circumstantial evidence and after reviewing the evidence with the greatest impartiality left the case in their hands.

The jury retired about 10:30 and at 1 o'clock his honor directed dinner to be served to them in their room and court rose till 2:30 p. m. Judge Hanington resumed his seat promptly on time and instructed the sheriff to ask the jury if they had agreed on a verdict and on his re-turning with word that they had, he gave orders that they should come down and the prisoner be brought into court. After the usual formalities Clerk Dixon said: "Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon your verdict, and who is to speak for you?"

Foreman Berryman at once rose in his place and pronounced the single word, "Guilty."

His honor in thanking the jury for their services said he entirely concurred in their finding, after dismissing them from further service he adjourned the court, an-nouncing that he would pronounce sen-tence at 4 o'clock.

Long before that hour all the sitting room in the court was taken and many were standing in the aisles and at the back of the different galleries. The scene was strongly impressive. The only one in the whole crowd who seemed absolutely composed was the prisoner. He never for a moment, as far as outward appear-ance went, lost the calm, cool indiffer-ence which he had shown from the begin-ning to the end of the trial.

Instantly the youthful figure in the dock arose to his feet and replied, "Noth-ing, sir."

The judge then commenced his address to the prisoner, which lasted about twenty-five minutes. The whole address was solemn and earnest. He dwelt on the heinousness of the crime of which the prisoner had been convicted and urged him in the few weeks which were left to him to seek the favor and forgiveness of Almighty God from the burden of the great sin which rested upon him. He did not, he said, wish to say a word to harrow the feelings of the condemned man. What he had said was simply the outcome of his belief in his guilt. He had not to pronounce sentence in a low tone of voice, every word of which was distinctly heard throughout the court room. The prisoner, meanwhile, had with his hands clasped behind him, seem-ingly the only unmoved person in the room.

WEDDINGS

MacNutt--Rus
This afternoon at 4 o'clock the mar-riage of Miss Nina Andrews Rus and Leslie D. MacNutt, of Malpas (P. E. I.), will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rus, 238 Germain street. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Ernest Ramsey, of Amherst, brother-in-law of the groom. Only relatives and immediate friends will be present.

The bride will be attired in a traveling suit of bronze green broadcloth. Immedi-ately after the ceremony they will leave for New York and Boston, taking in St. Andrews, where they will visit Mrs. F. G. Andrews, aunt of the bride, and return they will reside in Malpasque (P. E. I.).

Belyea--Smith
Yesterday afternoon at the home of John N. Smith, 173 Main street, North End, his daughter, Miss Della Smith, was united in marriage with Frank L. Belyea, of Brantford (Mass.). On the occasion, relatives and friends were present. Rev. B. H. Nobles officiated.

The bride wore white serge with an allover lace waist and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was given away by her father, Miss Smith has been a valued member of the Victoria street Baptist church choir which body presented to her a magnificent cut glass fruit dish.

Mr. Belyea's fellow employees at J. F. Williamson's foundry presented to him a handsome parlor lamp, while Mr. Wil-liamson's gift was case of silver knives.

The young couple left last evening for United States cities and will visit Mr. Belyea's home before their return to their residence for the winter at 173 Main street.

Park--Belyea
A pretty wedding took place in Taun-ton (Mass.), Sept. 15, when Thomas Park, of Chicago, formerly of St. John, was married to Miss Annie Mae Belyea, of Belleisle (N. B.), by Rev. O. J. White, of the Winthrop street Baptist church. The bride had been training in Taunton hospital for Nurses and the staff present-ed to her a silver tureen, and an address. Mr. and Mrs. Park left for Boston en-route to St. John.

Hilton--Whiteneck
The wedding of Charles T. Hilton, of Antigonish, to Miss Lottie Evelyn White-neck, daughter of George T. Whiteneck, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at 170 Prince street, the residence of A. E. Macaulay, cousin of the bride. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. Steele, of Amherst. The bride, who will be unattended, will be given away by her father.

At 7 p. m. the bride and groom will leave by the I. C. R. for Quebec and Montreal en route to Norfolk (Va.), where the honeymoon will be spent. Mr. Hilton is a councillor of Amherst, and a nephew of Sir Charles Tupper, who presented a substantial check to the bride. Many other handsome and useful presents have also been received.

Taylor--Law
The residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Law, 79 Mecklenburg street, will be the scene of a very quiet wedding at four o'clock this afternoon, when their eldest Colonel Buchanan presided, with the guest of honor at his right. After the good things had been done full justice to, Col. Buchanan, on behalf of the company, made the presentation, and Mr. Farren made a fitting reply and was heartily cheered.

At No. 3 engine house, Union street, the Happy Home Club, under the patron-ize of a member, presented to him a fine parlor lamp and No. 1 Salvage Corps, to which he also owes allegiance, gave him a beautiful china tea set.

Price--Quinster
An interesting event took place in St. John's church this morning at six o'clock when James Inlerman Price, the speed stater, was united in marriage to Miss Louise Price Quinster, daughter of Mrs. Wm. Quinster, of 448 Main street. The groom is now a resident of Chelsea (Mass.), and is in business as an electrician, but he is remembered in St. John as a hustler on the ice skates and a general good fellow. Rev. R. P. McKim performed the ceremony and the wedding was a quiet one. The couple were unattended. Joseph Court, the bride's uncle, gave her away. The bride wore a traveling suit of brown broadcloth with hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony, the happy couple left on the Boston train for Fredericton, where a few days will be spent. On Tuesday, October 8, the bride will receive her friends at her mother's home, 448 Main street, and later Mr. and Mrs. Price will go to Boston, where they will reside. Among the presents received by the popular couple are a number of substantial cloques from friends of the bride.

Stanton--Shaw
The marriage of a popular young couple took place at 5:30 o'clock this morning at the residence of William H. Shaw, 7 High street, when his daughter, Miss Jennie, was united in marriage to Frank Stanton, of the Star composing room staff. Rev. B. H. Nobles, pastor of Victoria Baptist church, performed the ceremony. The couple were unattended and the wedding was a quiet one. They left on the Boston train for a honeymoon tour to United States cities.

Copeland--Betts
At his residence, 41 Douglas Avenue, this morning, Rev. David Hunter, pastor of Main street Baptist church, united in marriage Samuel Copeland of Chipman, Queen's county, to Miss Ethel M. Betts, also of Chipman. The couple were unattended and after the ceremony they left by steamer May Queen for their future home.

AN EXPORT DUTY WANTED ON PULP

President Cockshutt of C.M.A. Makes Strong Plea for It.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—A strong plea for an export duty on Canadian pulp was one of the features of President Harry Cockshutt's address to the Canadian Manu-facturing Association at a meeting at the King Edward hotel this afternoon. Mr. Cockshutt stated that 2,900,000 cords of pulp went to the States every year.

"By allowing this material to leave our country in its unmanufactured state we are simply contributing to the upbuilding of our greatest industrial rival," he said. "The imposition of an export duty would unquestionably compel the investment of United States capital in Canadian pulp mills; would provide employment for thou-sands of Canadian workmen, and would ultimately open the door for the sale of Canadian pulp across the border."

They asked for a tariff whose minimum protection would be high enough to re-serve the home market for the Canadian manufacturers. They realized, however, that there were many articles they did not and could not produce in Canada, and when it became necessary for them to go abroad they believed in a preference which would give the mother country and their sister colonies the refusal of their trade before passing it over for foreigners. Their motto was "Keep your money in circula-tion at home by buying goods made in Canada, and when you cannot get what you want at home, buy within the British Empire."

Killed by Blood Poisoning
Used an old razor for paring his corns; foolish because a 25c. bottle of Putnam's Corn Extractor will cure all the corns in the family for a year. Safe, because purely vegetable. Use only Putnam's.

There was a fair attendance at the de-bate of the Portland Y. M. C. A. last evening in their rooms. The subject was an inter-esting one, as follows: "Resolved, that the time is opportune for the introduction of woman suffrage." The affirmative won after a sharp debate. The upholders of the winning side were R. G. Thomas, M. E. Green and Percy J. Steele. Those speaking for the negative were T. A. Ar-mour, Frank Wheeliply and Dr. C. M. Pratt. The judges were Rev. Nell J. McLaughlin and R. T. Hayes. A number of ladies in the audience seemed delighted at the result of the debate.

AN AUTUMN JEST.
Wife (postically)—Ah, the burning of the leaves in the park in the autumn! What does the aroma remind you of my dear?
Hubby—The cigars you bought me for a birthday present.

MONGOLIAN IS IN A COLLISION

Big Allan Liner Bound to Glas-gow Struck by Thompson Liner Hurons.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—Brief reports of an accident that seems to have been almost a foregone conclusion, have come to hand by telegram from Fame Point, which in-dicate that a collision occurred some time on Sunday between the Allan liner Mon-golian and the freighter Hurons, of the Thompson line, probably in the Straits of Belle Isle.

No definite account of the accident has yet been forwarded, as neither boat carried a wireless apparatus, but the Mon-golian was evidently seriously injured, and is now on her way back to Quebec, with the big freight boat standing by her. The Mongolian had on board 150 passengers, including several from Toronto.

HOW TILLY VISITED THE CLOUDS

BY MAUD WALKER.

Lilly sat swinging in a hammock that was stretched between two big shade trees. The hour was 2 o'clock in the afternoon and Lilly felt quite too lazy to bestir herself to play with Tom and May, her brother and sister, who were enjoying great fun rolling and tumbling over the new lawn by the meadow just a little way off from where Lilly sat swinging.

"It's much too warm and sleepy to run and romp on an afternoon like this, isn't it, Florence Belle?" asked Lilly of her big doll that lay in the hammock beside her. But Florence Belle—like so many dolls—made no response to her little mama's; she only looked up in Lilly's face with a drooping expression, which meant "Now, leave me, you may take a nap and I'll be awake beside you to keep the wood sprite's voice from coming and carrying you away."

"Now, little girl, said the sprite, 'we are going to the Great Factory of the Weather Man. So, if you hear rolling thunder and see flashes of lightning you must not be alarmed. It will mean that the master of the factory is preparing a rain for some part of the earth.' And sure enough, they soon flew into a dark cloud. The wind was whistling about them and Lilly had to hold tightly to the great bird. She also took a tight grip on Florence Belle's hand.

"What if I should let Florence Belle fall?" thought Lilly, with a shudder. "Oh there wouldn't be a whole home left in her body if she fell!" she said, to herself, as she felt the bird's wings.

"Just then there loomed in front of them a great factory where the Weather Man worked. The building was perched on a mountain of black clouds and from its many windows darted flashes of lightning. The master of the factory was sitting in a chair, and he was looking at Lilly and her sister and brother.

"What do you want?" asked the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man.

"I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly.

"I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly.

"I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly.

"I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly.

"I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly.

"I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly. "I want to see you," said the Weather Man. "I want to see you," said Lilly.

J. RAYMOND YOUNG NOT A CANDIDATE

Mr. Editor: I notice in the Evening Times of the 18th instant an article headed "May Run in Gloucester" which states that it is reported that I will be a candidate to contest Gloucester county for the seat made vacant by the death of my father, John Young, and that it is likely I will run on the opposition ticket.

ST. JOHN BOY IN TOGS AT MCGILL

The aspirants for the McGill senior football team went through the stiffest practice of the season on Saturday afternoon. Capt. Pare, who, on account of an injured knee was prevented from appearing in the team, whistled. Several of the new men showed up well, particularly Black, whose routine breaking through the scrim were features of the play.

NEW BRUNSWICK CROPS ARE NOT IN GOOD SHAPE

Cold and Wet Weather Has Tended to Retard General Opening—Potato Crop Short

(Moncton Correspondence of Montreal Star.) This has been one of the most extraordinary seasons on record throughout the Maritime Provinces.

The spring was late, cold and wet, so that many farmers had done scarcely any seeding or planting, except in favored localities until the middle of June.

Then there were four or five weeks of phenomenal growth, and by the middle of July the grain and root crops gave promise of being a good average, though the grass was a little short.

A week or two of variable weather followed, with sufficient moisture to help the grass, and the farmers began to look for a good all-round crop.

Throughout August and down to September the 10th the weather was unseasonably cold, with an almost steady downpour of rain, and the measured precipitation during July, August and September, to date, being about 15 inches.

The result is that thousands of acres of grass are still uncut, and much hay was ruined. The effect on the grain has been almost as disastrous, as it is still unripe and badly lodged.

Except in a few localities no harvesting has yet been done in either New Brunswick, Nova Scotia or Prince Edward Island, and the potatoes which had been extensively planted and promised well, are reported to be rotting badly before maturity.

Many low-lying fields are almost completely under water, and the ground generally is so wet that it is impossible to get machinery on it to save either the hay or grain, while the season is now so late that there is not time to save it all by hand-cutting with the help available.

Unless the frost holds off until October, which is regarded as improbable, much of the grain will not ripen even should the favorable weather conditions of the last few days continue.

Altogether the outlook for the farmers is not very bright, as the crops were generally short last year, owing to the drought, and all the hay, grain and potatoes in the country were cleaned up last spring, when hay sold at $30 to $25 a ton, and potatoes at a dollar a bushel.

At the present time $20 hay is predicted for this winter, but early potatoes are coming in pretty freely at 50 cents a bushel.

THIS IS ON US

(Halifax Recorder) A St. John contemporary tells this interesting bit of news regarding an occurrence in that city:—"In a sermon preached recently in this city a clergyman proclaimed his belief in a literal hell of the traditional fire and brimstone order, and declared that no conception of his horrors could be formed."

The question is, what confirmed him so strongly in his opinions in our sister city, and how long has he been there?

Mrs. Thomas G. Lawrence Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Thomas G. Lawrence, which occurred at Somerville, Mass. The deceased was formerly a resident of St. John, and the eldest daughter of the late Robert Cunard. She leaves three sons, Robert, George and Harvey, of Somerville, and two daughters, Mrs. George Reynolds of north end and Mrs. Henry Forsythe of Arlington, Mass. Mr. Cunard of St. John is a brother.

Steeves—Winter BRIDGETOWN BRIDGETOWN, N. S., Sept. 24—Geo. Dixon, of the Imperial Oil Company, went to Boston last Friday. Mr. Dixon has been in poor health lately and went there to consult a specialist.

Misses Sanford and Libbie, of Boston, are guests of their uncle, J. Harry Hicks. Mrs. J. W. Peters was hostess to a few friends last evening.
