

MURRAY KEEPS HIS SEAT ON NOVA SCOTIA

Returns to Date Indicate That His Government is Well Sustained.

ONE MINISTER BEATEN THOUGH

Result: Thirty Liberals, One Conservative, Five Labour and Seven Farmers Will Constitute Next House.

Halifax, N. S., July 27.—As a result of the general provincial election, held in Nova Scotia today, the Liberal Government, which has been continuously in power for the past thirty-eight years, and headed by George H. Murray since 1896, was returned with a majority of seventeen in a House of forty-three members, substantially the same as it received as a result of the election in June, 1916. The Liberals gained one seat each in Halifax, Kings, Lunenburg, Richmond and Queens, and lost three seats in Cape Breton, two in Cumberland, one in Antigonish and one in Yarmouth, making their net loss two seats. Included in the seats lost was that of Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Commissioner of Public Works and Mines, who was the only member of the Government who went down to defeat, although at a late hour Hon. R. M. McGregor's seat in Pictou was still placed in the uncertain list. The Conservatives, with a membership of eleven in the late House under the leadership of W. L. Hall, defeated in Queens County, returned a single representative, Dr. J. A. Macdonald, in Richmond. They lost five seats to the Liberals, one each in Queens, Halifax, Lunenburg and Richmond; three to the Farmers, two in Colchester and one in Hants, and two to Labour, one in Cape Breton and one in Cumberland, a total of ten seats. The Farmers took seven of the fifteen seats for which they contended, and Labour took five out of thirteen candidates. Neither of the two women candidates, one on the Conservative ticket in Cumberland and one on the Labour ticket in Pictou, made a serious showing.

Summary of Results. Liberals, thirty; Conservatives, 1; Labour, five; Farmers, seven. Total forty-three seats. Election of June 20, 1916, Liberals 32; Conservatives, 11.

Liberals Elected. Antigonish—Hon. Wm. Chisholm. Annapolis—Hon. O. T. Daniels, P. R. Elliott. Digby—J. W. Comeau, H. W. Walker. Guysboro—C. W. Anderson and J. C. Tully. Halifax—H. G. Bauld, A. ## LIPTON WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

Until Success is Achieved—Provision Made in His Will to Carry on the Struggle.

New York, July 27.—(By Canadian Press)—Sir Thomas Lipton has made provision in his will for the continuation of his efforts to lift the America's Cup, should he prove unsuccessful during his lifetime, according to a story printed in the Tribune today. The paper says: "Sir Thomas Lipton's game fight for the America's Cup over a period of twenty years will be continued until success is achieved. The aged sportsman announced this emphatically yesterday aboard his steam yacht, Victoria, while watching his Shamrock struggle vainly in the doldrums. 'So strong is his desire to win the cherished trophy that he has made a provision in his will setting aside a fund to construct challengers until the cup is won back for England, should he fall personally to achieve the ambition of his life. The fact that this provision had been made came from one of Sir Thomas' English guests on board in his hearing, and he did not deny it.'"

PREMIERS COME TO AN AGREEMENT

Lloyd George and Millerand Discuss Soviet Demand for Conference; Also Germany's Coal Agreement.

Boulogne, July 28.—Mr. Lloyd George accepted, in the main, M. Millerand's views, and it was decided Great Britain should reply to the Soviet demand for an international conference that it could not take place unless the Bolsheviks reversed their present attitude and agreed to discuss the real peace with Poland and that all qualified representatives of Russia and the border states should attend. Regarding the advances to Germany agreed upon at Spa in the coal agreement it was determined that Germany should deliver to the reparations commission by September 1, 1920, German treasury bonds to the value of sixty million gold marks, bearing six per cent. interest and maturing May 1, 1921, which may be sold or used as collateral, with or without the Allies' endorsement, as a means for the reparations commission realizing upon them. After September 1, Germany shall deliver to the commission similar bonds corresponding to the advances France is to make for fulfillment of the promised coal delivery. In this way France will be relieved of the burden through a simple banking operation. To establish quickly the amount of advances France is to make to Germany, the reparations commission can fix forty gold marks per ton provisionally, the amount to be adjusted later.

CANADIAN-AMERICAN FISHERIES CONFERENCE

Makes a Report, Which Contains Important Recommendations Regarding the Joint Fishery Question.

Ottawa, July 26.—(Canadian Press)—Important recommendations are made in the report, available today, of the Canadian-American fisheries conference, appointed to consider a settlement of outstanding fishery questions between Canada and the United States. The questions submitted and considered by the conference were:— 1. Privileges to be given fishing vessels of either country in the ports of the other country in the case of the Sockeye salmon of the Fraser system. 2. Protection of the Pacific halibut fishery. 3. Fishing by United States lobster well-boats off Canadian coasts. 4. Protection of the fisheries of Lake Champlain. 5. Requirements imposed on Canadian fishing vessels passing through territorial waters of Alaska, protection of sturgeon fisheries. 6. Protection of whales. On the first question the report traces the history of the controversy back over 100 years. It expresses the belief that the question can never be permanently removed from the field of discord unless the markets of both countries are available to the fishermen of both on the same terms. The commissioners recommended that the Canadian duty on fish and the frozen fish net including shellfish be removed and with a view to assuring stability in the industry that the two countries enter into an agreement by which such fish will be admitted to customs duty free from either country into the other and that such arrangement remain in force for 15 years and thereafter until two years after the date, when either party thereto shall give notice to the other of its wish to terminate. They recommend that article one of the treaty of the 20th October, 1818, be amended, so as to make available in either country, to the fishing vessels of the other, the privilege covered by the instructions of the United States Secretary of Commerce to collectors of customs of that country dated Feb. 21, 1918, and by the Canadian order-in-council dated March 8, 1918, in substance as follows:— 1. That the fishing vessels of either

FEAR OF WAR CAUSES WORRY IN ENGLAND

Anglo-Russian Possibilities Matter of Concern Among the Millions of London.

COMMON FEELING THAT POLAND WAS AGGRESSOR

Money Situation in England Causing Considerable Uneasiness—Higher Discount Rate Expected.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.) By SIR GEORGE PAISH. London, July 27.—The danger of war between England and Russia is causing much anxiety and the reply of Russia to Poland's request for peace is awaited with the keenest interest. War, were it to break out, would not be popular in England. The Bolshevik form of government, is universally disliked by all classes, but there is a very common feeling that the aggressor in this instance was Poland and that foreign nations have no right to interfere with other nations if they do not select the kind of government that meets with general approval. Consequently the hope is universal that Poland will make peace with Russia and so render actual intervention by Great Britain unnecessary.

Were war to break out, Great Britain could, of course, blockade the Russian coast and thus exert a very powerful economic pressure, while it is believed that Poland, with the help of British and French munitions of war, could put up a strong fight on land. Inasmuch, however, as Great Britain already has shown a desire for peace with Russia, it is hoped that the Russian Government will reciprocate, and that a fresh war, with all its horrors and economic and financial consequences, will be averted. The results at Spa, apart from the change of atmosphere and the manner in which the negotiations were conducted, are not considered important in the absence of any settlement of the all-important question of reparations. That the German proposals have been referred to a committee of experts, who are to report upon them at the conference of the supreme council, to be held in Geneva, is to the good is undeniable, but grave doubts are entertained as to whether or not the French Government is yet willing to inform the French people upon the real situation in regard to the possibility of obtaining more than a very reasonable sum from Germany.

Until the French Government is prepared to admit the facts of the situation and place them before the French people, no hope of agreement can be entertained, and there can be no possibility of issuing an international loan, based in part, upon the security of the reparations payments, in order to support exchange and get Europe started once more.

In the meantime the monetary situation is causing a good deal of uneasiness. The Bank of England should, in the middle of July, hold a reserve that is equal to only 13.4 per cent. of its value in New York, or of the autumnal demands yet to be met, is regarded as indicating a very high value for money in London during the fall, although any future advance in the Bank of England rate of discount in this connection is improbable. A substantial rise in October and November is regarded as virtually inevitable. In no small degree the value of money in London will be governed by its value in New York, but the fact that the proportion reserve to the liabilities of the Federal Reserve Banks of America is not much over 40 per cent. in the summer, is not so much how dear money is usually light, also seems to render dear money inevitable in America.

High money rates in New York must inevitably bring correspondingly high rates in London, but the real question is, not so much how dear money will be, but how far short the supply will be in proportion to the demand. Not to be able to borrow money at any price, however, much it may be wanted, is a particularly painful experience for those who suffer.

country may enter, from the high seas, any port of the other and clear from such port to the high seas and the fishing grounds. 2. That the fishing vessels of either country may dispose of their catches and purchase bait, ice, coal, netlines, oil, provisions, and all other supplies and outfits in the ports of either country. 3. That the repairing of fishing implements in the ports of either country be allowed to vessels of the other country. 4. That fishing vessels of either country may dress, salt, and otherwise prepare their catches on board such vessels within the territorial waters of the other country. 5. That the fishermen of either country may sell their catches in the ports of the other country, subject to the local tariff, if any. With regard to the rehabilitation and protection of the Sockeye salmon of the Fraser river, the commissioners express the opinion that a treaty or convention for the proper regulation of the fisheries should be entered into by Canada and the United States. With regard to the halibut fishing industry on the Pacific Coast, the commissioners recommend a close season for both the United States and Canada from the 16th of November to the 15th of February, during a period of ten

THE ST. STEPHEN SHOOTING CASE

Young Husband Must Stand Trial for Murderous Assault Upon His Wife—Accused Goes to Gaol in Meantime.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, N. B., July 27.—Police Magistrate Vroom has been busy all day with the hearing on a charge preferred against Ivan Little of McAdam of having on June 16 shot his wife, Myrtle Little, with intent to murder her, an outcome of the shooting affair at Honeydale which was married.

The story was gathered from many witnesses very few of whom could write their names. It appeared that Mrs. Little had left her husband last fall and had since spent most of her time with her mother at Honeydale, her old home, though at times she had lived for brief periods with her husband at McAdam. John S. Scott owns a house at Honeydale which he occupies with his wife and daughter, Mrs. R. Scott with her daughter, Mrs. Ansel Scott and that woman's husband and her brother Samuel Scott Jr., living in the ell of this domicile. Mrs. Little had been visiting between the two families until a few days ago, about ten days or a fortnight and stories were rife in the village of very friendly relations between young Sammie Scott and Mrs. Little though Mr. and Mrs. John S. Scott and their daughter, Minnie, stoutly declared that they had never seen anything of the kind about that house.

Such were the conditions when the young husband Ivan Little, appeared at the back door of the Scott home on June 16th just after the down train on the C. P. R. had passed at noon. Minnie Scott, eighteen years of age went to the door in response to her knock. He asked if his wife was there and being answered in the affirmative, he asked to see her. Minnie called her from upstairs and the two girls went to the door together. He asked his wife to step out in the yard that he wanted to speak with her but she refused and also refused a like second request. He then asked: "Do you want Sammie Scott or me?" The wife replied: "I don't want you or Sammie Scott either to hell with you go on down the road."

She is also alleged to have applied an unprovoked blow to him. He replied: "You do want me!" and twice repeated this remark. The evidence showed that he then stopped inside the door, drawing a revolver and the two girls started to run towards the front of the house. Two shots were fired towards them one falling in their mark and lodging in the wall, the other lodging in the hip of the young wife.

Almost immediately he turned the gun on himself and fired, the bullet entering just below the heart and coming out at the side a little lower down. Dr. Dibbee and Dr. Grey were summoned and the victims removed to the hospital in St. Stephen. Mrs. Little that same day and the husband the following evening. The woman's wounds, just regarded as serious at the time and the bullet remains in her thigh. The doctors regard Little's recovery as remarkable, as his death at first was expected to quickly follow the shooting.

Similar comments were related by Samuel Scott, Sr. and Mrs. Ansel Scott, and the magistrate committed the accused to jail at St. Andrews to await trial at the term of court opening October 5th.

C. N. R. ACCEPTS WAGE INCREASE

But if C. P. R. Accepts it Will Jeopardise Dividends.

Vancouver, July 27.—(By Canadian Press)—The Canadian National lines will accept the schedule of wage increases for railway men granted by the American Railway Board, Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, formally announced at a banquet given in his honor this afternoon. This will mean an increase in operating costs, he said, of from $47,000,000 to $70,000,000, which must be met by increasing passenger and freight rates. If C. P. R. accepts the award, he said, it would mean paying no dividends to shareholders unless conditions are adjusted.

PARIS TO VERDUN AND BACK IN DAY

Fort Douaumont Chief Centre of Interest to All Who Come—War Atmosphere Still Hanging Over it.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.) By WYTTENBERG. Paris, July 27.—A portion of Fort Douaumont has just been closed to tourists on account of the danger of cave-ins. An accident there a few days ago resulted in the imprisonment of several soldiers in one of the underground galleries for several hours. A party of American visitors narrowly escaped being cut off by the earth barricade. For a few days the entire fort was closed by orders of the government, but today tourists are again permitted in the main underground chambers and may descend to the lower galleries as far as the famous "post of the commandant," the main room, thirty yards underground, where the epic combat of the entire war was directed. The galleries which were the scene of final and liquid fire attacks during the final hours of the German occupation, and through the top of which the French finally exploded heavy shells that resulted in the German retreat, are now sealed with concrete and are not to be reopened until the army takes over the reconstruction of the fortress.

Despite the fact that it is natural for Americans to first visit the old battle line, Chateau Thierry usually being the first stopping place, Verdun remains the Mecca of all pilgrimages, with Fort Douaumont as the central shrine. There has been considerable complaint among the Americans that until now Verdun tours have been organized gives a complete circle of all Verdun sites and return in one day. This trip involves a train ride from Paris to Verdun city and by auto for the remainder of the trip. The entire trip costs about $15. The bureau reserves seats in trains and dining cars and has guides with each auto speaking English.

As a result, the hills around Verdun are now literally black with thousands of visitors, a majority of whom are American, although great numbers are coming from Italy, Belgium, England and parts of France. Inasmuch as the Verdun front is changing its character fast and also on account of the fact that the army is likely to step in at any time and occupy certain points are again to become military secrets, every visitor feels he must go to Verdun this year.

The city is rebuilding much faster than most places as a result of the influx of visitors. But to one who knew Verdun in its great days during the battle, and who often slept in its citadels when there was no other safe place in that region, there is something of a shock to get off the train in the remodeled station and face a long line of souvenir shops across the road, see dozens of char-a-bancs and hear a collection of guides hawking the merits of their trips.

To me it seemed something like the sacrifice to brass medals sold in the citadel of Verdun—in a long mess hall where officers had staggered in, we covered with many medals, to snatch a hasty meal and then take a few hours' sleep, while shells pounded furiously on the hundred feet of solid earth and rock above their heads—then back to the shell pits again. For it must be remembered that on this "battleground of a million dead" there were no trenches. The trenches we see today were built toward the end of the war as second and third lines of defense. During the great days there were neither trenches nor even paths. There was nothing but a desolate waste of shell pits, with the edges often overlapping and where soldiers advanced crawling to attack.

We went out to Douaumont in the afternoon by automobile. A quarter of a mile distant we got out. It is still impossible to walk that last quarter of a mile into Fort Douaumont. This seemed as it should be, except that we went over plank walks. There were more tourists in plain view than the entire garrison that kept concealed in the underground galleries during those days of October when Douaumont again became French.

Yet over Douaumont the war atmosphere still hangs. It was a gray day. All days should be gray on Douaumont. There are no trees, not even stumps, not even a bush. Yet even at Douaumont nature is healing and binding up the wounds, so that in a year or so only the great monuments now being erected will add one to reconstruct the past. Even weeds, hide scars, and there are weeds everywhere, and among them golden-rod, daisies and a million blazing poppies. The temperature remained 40 degrees below zero for the entire year. This is the statement of Professor J. W. Hovey of this city, whose scheme by which, he says, he could heat electrically houses in Winnipeg at 99 cent per unit is to be investigated by city officials.

MORE RIOTS AT LONDONDERRY

Crowd of Sinn Feiners Hold up Train With Military Supplies and Food.

Cork, July 27.—One soldier killed, two constables wounded and a court house burned were the results of disturbances in various places in this section in the past 24 hours. The soldier, who was a lance corporal attached to a regiment at Bandon, was shot dead mysteriously this morning. The two constables were ambushed and seriously wounded by bullets at Lisnaw, North Kerry, last night when also the Borriokane court house was destroyed by fire.

Londonderry, July 27.—Several hundred Sinn Feiners last night successfully blocked the running of a passenger and goods train through Letterkenney because it was carrying a dozen armed soldiers and food for the military barracks at Dungloe. No actual fighting took place but the crowd was so hostile that it was decided not to proceed with the train and the 200 passengers were obliged to sit aboard at the station all night. The soldiers were taken to the police barracks to avoid the crowd. Conditions quieted after three hours. Meanwhile the troops at Dungloe were in desperate straits for food, the Sinn Fein inhabitants refusing to supply it and trains with consignments being raided. The troops have been without proper food for many days.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO MILLVILLE MAN

Fell Off Running-Board of Automobile and Fractured His Skull.

Special to The Standard. Woodstock, July 27.—Herb Lint, who has been employed for years with Dibbee's Co., died this morning from hemorrhage, aged 41 years. He is survived by the widow and two children. His funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon. George Nowell, of Millville, met with a fatal accident this morning. He was acting as foreman of the lumber drive, and in going to the upper bridge to see about the logs caught there, he jumped on the running board of an auto, and when he arrived at this destination, without notifying the driver he jumped off, and fell on his head, breaking his skull. He was taken to the Fisher Memorial Hospital, and died in about two hours. He was twice married, and is survived by one daughter, Miss Mildred, trained nurse at the Fisher Memorial Hospital, and two sons in the United States. The body was taken to Millville tonight, where he owns a valuable farm, but for years he has been employed in the mills and on the drive by Geo. W. Upham.

COOLIDGE ACCEPTS FOR VICE-PRESIDENCY

Formal Nomination Tendered to Him in Presence of Large Crowd.

Northampton, Mass., July 27.—Governor Calvin Coolidge was formally notified today of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the Vice Presidency. The notification address was delivered by Governor Edwin F. Morris, of Kentucky, and the ceremony was witnessed by a very large crowd. Governor Coolidge in his speech of acceptance reviewed the campaign issues as already announced in the party's platform and Senator Hiram's recent speech. Regarding the League of Nations the Governor said his party favored "the principle of agreement among nations to preserve peace," but pledged itself to maintain "American independence" in making such an agreement.

GLAD TO LEARN ABOUT CANADA

And Anxious to Judge of the Extent to Which the Resources of the Country Would Play Their Part in Empire Development.

Sydney, N. S., July 27.—(Canadian Press)—Stating that the overseas delegates to the Imperial Press Conference felt themselves instantly at home in Canada, and suffering from an "anaemia of superlatives" in which to express their appreciation of the welcome extended to them from every community in Canada, Viscount Burnham, President of the Conference, thanked the people of Sydney and all Canada for their hospitality and friendliness at the close of a civic luncheon here today. The delegates from the British Isles, South Africa, Australia and India were nearly all assembled here when the official tour began with the debarkation from the steamship Victorian at 1 p. m. today. Lord Burnham conveyed to Hon. Arthur Meighen and the Government the good wishes of all the delegates for the success of their administration. They appreciated especially the opportunity of seeing Canada for themselves to enable them to judge the extent to which Canada and the resources of the Dominion, spiritual and physical, would play their part in the development of the Empire, the Empire of homes in which the bond of blood would always be the unbreakable link in the chain. Somebody had said that Canada was a half-finished piece, which meant that there was much left to be finished in the right way. The old country perhaps was never finished. He hoped that no one in Canada would think that the press delegates had come to Canada to tell the Dominion how to run their affairs. Instead, they had come to discover what was being done in the "land of promise" which had shown so effectively in the war that it was at once a land of performance. Speaking of Nova Scotia, Lord Burnham quoted Edmund Burke's remark that it was "a hard-featured bark." It was a very different physiognomy which the province had presented today when a party approached its shores, said Lord Burnham. Speaking for the press generally, he said that the newspapers must become more and more the medium of intercourse between homes and individuals in the "never-greater Empire."

A Langier, of Australia, spoke for the overseas Dominions, briefly expressing their appreciation of the welcome of Canadians and their keen anticipation of the tour through Canada. C. F. Crandall, of Montreal, honorary secretary of the conference, conveyed the formal welcome of Canadian newspapermen. Speaking of the Senator McLennan spoke warmly for Sydney and the province generally in welcoming the party. Mayor Fitzgerald, of Sydney, and Walter Crowe, K. C., extended the civic welcome. The afternoon was spent by visitors in inspecting the big plant of the Dominion Iron and Steel Corporation and a visit to the golf links.

The delegates left at 6 p. m. on two special trains for Halifax. U. S. AEROPLANES AT EDMONTON. Edmonton, Alta., July 27.—The Alaska flying expedition airplanes of the American army service arrived here at 2:12 p. m. and were met by acting Mayor James East and Alderman Charles Hepburn, chairman of the civil reception committee, in airplanes piloted by Captain May and Lieut. Gorman. The airman probably will not get away until Thursday morning. It is the intention of the fliers to spend tomorrow in overhauling their machines before continuing their flight.

London, July 27.—The ambiguous statement of Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons yesterday, that Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix, of Melbourne, Australia, would not be allowed to land in "England" because of his recent utterances, was cleared up this afternoon when it was declared in official quarters that Archbishop Mannix would not be allowed to land in the British Isles.

SAYS IMMIGRATION AGREEMENT KEPT

Believes America Intends to Impose More Stringent Regulations on Those Coming in.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)
By GLENN BABB.

Tokyo, July 27.—Announcement and bitter resentment is felt officially and unofficially throughout Japan following the semi-official announcement of July 13 that the United States would act on the proposed land exclusion laws in California.

While Californians look upon the rapid increase in the Japanese population in their state as undermining their industrial stability, Japan sees their efforts to curb that competition as strictly racial opposition.

Visitors of California, who will be in the question, have learned from the congressional investigation that they are facing industrial domination by the Japanese "citizens" due to their extremely low standard of living and their profrugality.

On the other hand, the Japanese are under the impression that the United States is seeking not only more stringent immigration regulations but is looking to the abrogation of the treaty rights of the thousands of Japanese on the Pacific coast.

"It has never occurred to the Japanese Government that the 'gentleman's agreement' needs revision, said an official of the foreign office in an exclusive statement to the Public Ledger.

So far the Japanese Government has lived up to this agreement conscientiously. We are doing all that is humanly possible from our side to see that it is observed. If, however, the American Government should take up the matter then naturally we should consider its revision. So far, however, no such move has been made by either side. Japan is not asking for unrestricted immigration to America. It desires only that the Japanese already there be accorded the same treatment the other aliens receive. We were amazed by the news that has been kicked up over a handful of Japanese in California who cannot number more than 50,000 at a generous estimate. It is absurd that such a handful should threaten the industrial Japanization of the western coast.

Although Japanese papers have been printing long news dispatches regarding the investigations of the congressional commission now probing the Japanese question, there has been remarkably little editorial comment.
The California question has been overshadowed for the moment by the civil war in China, the Siberian situation and the 1917 in session.

Yoroka, one of the leading Tokyo journals contains the first bitter attack on America in a week. It says:
"America is no longer the land of Lincoln, but a country of selfish devils. America has embarked on a policy of selfishness threatening greater harm to the cause of humanity than German militarism. Americans have become diseased with Japanophobia.
Japan, meticulously observing the gentlemen's agreement, has kept in effect the strictest regulations on passports to America. She no longer permits picture brides to receive passports and even prohibits immigration to Mexico because it has been charged the Japanese enter America across the Mexican border. Japan has done everything America could expect. Now America wants to deprive the Japanese in America of their vested rights.
This causes doubt as to the soundness of American civilization. Agitations the S. S. Lantow, followed by a civic luncheon at the Manor House, after which the party will enjoy, as the guests of the Automobile Association, a drive about the city and suburbs, ending at the Riverside Golf and Country Club, where they will spend the remainder of the afternoon and evening. It is anticipated that the club members will see that ladies and gentlemen who desire to play are piloted over the links while the special club house will give opportunity for pleasant social intercourse.

Luncheon will be served and in the evening there will be opportunity for an informal dance.

The visitors leave St. John at 7 and 7:30 Eastern standard time on Saturday morning en route to Quebec over the Valley Railroad. At Fredericton they will make a three hours' stop, enjoying a drive and luncheon, and at Woodstock they will be given a popular welcome.

Included in the party are some thirty ladies, who will participate in the various functions.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL

The Summer School for Sunday school workers in the Maritime Provinces opened at the Mount Allison Ladies' College, Sackville, last evening, and between seventy-five and one hundred persons were in attendance.

The evening lecture, entitled "The Romance of Love," was given by the Rev. Hamilton Wigle, D. D., Principal of the Ladies' College. Among others who will deliver lectures during the week are Rev. W. A. Ross and Rev. A.
J. Milligan, Moncton; Dr. DeWolfe,
Acadia College, Wolfville; Dr. King,
Sackville; Miss Somerville, Fredericton, and Miss McKay, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children.
Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its use is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL AGAINST YOUNG MEN FOR MANSLAUGHTER

The Six Young Men Who Were in Automobile That Caused Death of Young Girl at Renforth on April Last Were Yesterday Committed to Trial and Were Each Admitted to Bail for Appearance at County Court Next September 7.

The six young men involved in the Renforth tragedy of April last were committed to trial on a charge of manslaughter by Stipendiary Magistrate, P. W. F. Brewster at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing held in the Kings county court house at Hampton yesterday.

The accused were allowed out on bail to the amount of five hundred dollars each and two sureties of two hundred and fifty dollars.

The charge was brought against Harold Beverly, John Dean, Charles Ross, Allen Currie, John Kennedy and Jack Wilkinson in consequence of the death of Virginia Garret, at Renforth on April 29, after being hit by an automobile driven by Beverly, who was accompanied by the other five accused.

The case will be heard in the Kings county court, which sits at Hampton, September 7.

The witnesses for the prosecution included their evidence in the morning. Argument was heard after a further recess and accused committed for trial.

Dr. J. B. M. Baxter appeared in the interests of Beverly and Kennedy, and Senator George Fowler, K. C., appeared for the crown.

Court opened at 10.30 a.m. and Frank Cormier, automobile mechanic in the employ of J. A. Pugsley Co., was called to the stand. He stated that last May he went to Renforth for a car belonging to P. G. Ginter, of Mirville. He found the car, a light six Overland, at the edge of a culvert. The differential housing was broken away from the spring shaft; the radius rod broken; the propeller shaft pulled out of place, and the forward spindle bent. The body and fender were all crushed in; the bolts in the top broken with one exception; the upper joints in the wind shield and the gas tank bent in. The hub caps on both the left wheels were bent, and the rear one had to be replaced.

The car went out of gear when the shaft pulled away, so witness could not say if the brakes were set. It was evident that the wheel caps had struck the nearby store. It seemed as though the car had turned out of the road to avoid something and was then tried to get back. There was nothing to indicate at what rate of speed the car had been going.

Cross-examined by Mr. Fowler, witness said the full light of another car turned on a driver would be apt to throw him in the ditch as he would not be able to see where he was going.

Ada Finley clerk in the employ of L. L. Sharpe, Jewellers, St. John, stated that she was staying with her grandmother at Renforth on the night of April 29. Virginia and Margaret Garret were with her and shortly after nine o'clock she started to take them to their home which lay across the highway and railroad track. On reaching the edge of the road she saw the lights of a car coming from St. John on the rise of the hill, and other was coming from Rothesay with a team in front of it. Witness and children crossed the road and walked along its edge in single file. On hearing a culvert the car from the city was nearer than she expected. Its lights were flashing off and on, and then went out. Thinking the driver might not be able to see them she told the children to stop up quickly and stand in the all of the store.

They had hardly done so when there was a crash and the car went by with a bound. Margaret was lying on the ground and Virginia was gone. Some school books were knocked out of the arms of witness. When found later they bore the marks of where the car had passed over them.

Several of the accused were present in the crowd that gathered and Charles Ross came up to witness and asked if there was anything wrong. He seemed stupid with the shock and witness was impatient with him at such a question.

Latest witness saw Virginia brought out of the culvert. Her face and curls were covered with blood and she lived but a few minutes.

Patrick Biddiscombe, detective for the city of St. John, said that in consequence of information received at 10.15 on the night of April 29, he went to the General Public Hospital where he saw Allen Currie. The accused had one arm bandaged and said it had been fractured in an auto accident at Renforth. He gave witness the names of his five companions.

Currie said that a little girl had been hurt but he did not know how badly.

After leaving the hospital witness took to the home of John Dean, and found him in bed in a semi-conscious condition with a doctor in attendance. Continuing on to Main street witness saw Harold Beverly in his home there he had one cheek badly swollen. Beverly said he, Max Dean and Kennedy took a car from in front of the Imperial and picked the other three boys up at the head of King street. Dean drove the car as far as the Three Mile House and Beverly then took the wheel.

Acting on instructions witness brought Beverly to the police station and then went out and got Ross.

On returning he found Kennedy and Wilkinson had come in of their own accord. The four were held on the charge of acting together and stealing an automobile.

On the night of the accident witness could see no trace of liquor on any of the five accused he saw. As to Dean he was not near enough to say. Gilbert Davidson, photographer, St. John, identified photos taken by him of the accident in which the position of the wrecked car and the store were shown.

Wilson Dalton, of Renforth told measurements he had taken shortly after the accident. The width of the platform in front of the store was 8 feet 10 inches. There was a space of hard ground two feet wide between the road and the tarred surface of the road for just the width of the store. The median was 14 feet wide and the hard road 18.

The wrecked car No. 1094, N. B. 1920, was balanced on the edge of the culvert and its right hand rear wheel was 36 feet from the nearest corner of the store.

The tread of the car extended back from the St. John end of the store a distance of 202 feet. Ten feet from the store the tread of the front wheels turned back on the road. The culvert was three feet from the store.

Harold Climo said he was with all the accused except Currie and Kennedy up to eight o'clock on the night of April 29. He left them at that time on Charlotte street.

Climo was the last witness for the crown, none were brought forth by a defense and the reading of the evidence was dispensed with by them.

Senator Fowler then moved for the dismissal of the case against his clients, Dean, Ross, Currie and Wilkinson, on the grounds that no case of manslaughter had been made against them, and the only man against whom the charge could be brought was the driver.

As to the taking of the car all had been equally guilty and all had been punished. In a charge of manslaughter it would be necessary to show that they were accessories before the fact, and to prove their responsibility it would be necessary to show they had previously intended to run over the child.

It was not the purpose of the law that the innocent should be punished and the magistrate was as competent as a jury to sift the evidence and determine the responsibility of the accused.

No jury would convict them and the case against his four clients should be dismissed.

Mr. Baxter, appearing for Beverly and Kennedy, said that the position of Kennedy was exactly the same as Mr. Fowler's clients.

The five boys were nothing more or less than so much ballast in the car. As to Beverly the case was different. The law held that any person who killed with intent committed murder, all other killing was divided into two classes, that of culpable homicide, or non-culpable homicide. Culpable homicide might be either murder or manslaughter. Homicide that was not culpable was not a crime.

No one questioned that the death of the child had been caused by the car. The course pursued by Miss Finley in crossing the road may not have been a prudent one, as she said that after she had done so she did not expect the car would be so near.

The evidence showed that Beverly was sober and driving at a reasonable rate of speed that he shut off his lights and swerved off the road to avoid another car.

Counsel could see no use in prolonging the agony of those who were involved in the regrettable tragedy and moved that the case be dismissed against all the accused.

Dr. Wallace said that all the accused knew they were in a car on the night of the accident to which they had no right to be in. It had been shown that they were out for an illegal purpose and if anything happened all were equally responsible. There was no evidence to show the car had been driven negligently but the evidence did show that a child had been killed. The question was whether the accused should be sent

UNITED STATES OIL MEN UP AGAINST IT

Have Not Yet Been Able to Come to Agreement With Mexican Government Regarding Their Rights in Country.

(Copyright 1920 by Public Ledger Co.) F. W. WILE

Washington July 27—Settlement of the much-voiced Mexican oil question is not in sight despite persistent reports from Mexico city that the conference there between Government officials and representatives of American petroleum interests was making progress. It was learned authoritatively today that each side is holding its ground and the conference is perfectly dead locked.

Not a single gain had been registered by the American representatives who went to Mexico confident that the matter would be speedily adjusted. The Americans it is understood have met not only rejection of their demands but the new Mexican Government has increased the taxes on May June exports of oil.

The American oil interests it has been known were going to assist the new government in Mexico to establish itself firmly actuated largely by the belief that the de la Huerta regime would protect and encourage foreign investment. Apparently the representatives sent to the oil conference have waited patiently for some concrete exhibition of this good-will which has failed to materialize.

As to the demand of the American oil interests namely that article 27 of the Mexican constitution of 1917, shall not be retroactive, the American representatives are said to be adamant both as to the right to continue operation in old wells and to drill new wells on lands which they acquired previous to the adoption of the constitution the oil companies maintain article 27 shall not apply. They assert that their sub-soil rights on such lands, even when undeveloped are just as legitimate. Just as much as from any confiscatory clauses which the Carranza decrees might put into effect as if the wells were already producing.

It is not only on the question as to the retroactive phase of article 27 but also on the question of interpretation even admitting the general principle that the article shall not be retroactive that the apparent differences of opinion has occurred. If the Carranza oil decrees are held to remain in force, the oil companies are not any better off than if article 27 had not been declared non-retroactive. It is necessary therefore that there be a full interpretation of retroactive clauses of article 27 before the companies can determine whether what they contend are confiscatory measures still apply to their properties.

up on a charge of manslaughter or for reckless and furious driving.

After hearing Senator Fowler in rebuttal, the magistrate stated that in view of the evidence he could not assume the responsibility of dismissing the case, and committed the accused to trial before the next sitting of a competent court of jurisdiction.

Official Government Photographers Here

Messrs. W. M. Finn and J. B. Bock of Ottawa, official government photographers of the Publicity Bureau Department of Trade and Commerce, arrived in the city on Monday, and are registered at the Royal. Accompanied by C. B. Allan, secretary of the N. B. Tourists and Resources Association they spent yesterday filming points of interest in and around St. John. These included views of the harbor and waterfront, the Revere, the Falls and the bridges, the Work of Courtenay Bay, and the principal buildings and streets of the city. These pictures will very likely become part of a series featuring views for different Canadian cities.

The Exhibits and Publicity Bureau of the department of Trade and Commerce is under the supervision of R. S. Peck, with headquarters at Ottawa. During the summer months photographers are sent all over the country securing pictures of Canadian industries, and these pictures are shown all over the world. The titles and reading matter are printed in many different languages and special films featuring some form of Canadian industry are sent to these different countries. The whole aim of the department is to increase the trade and commerce of the Dominion. It has been in existence for the past three years, and up to March of this year forty-four series of pictures had been released. Wherever these were shown

Gifts to Women Who Use Jiffy-Jell

Jiffy-Jell users should write to the makers for a list of aluminum molds. Molds, spoons and measuring cups are supplied to users free. Jiffy-Jell is the one dessert which has the fruit flavors in vials. A bottle of condensed fruit-juice essence comes in the package. So a Jiffy-Jell dessert is a real-fruit dainty. The flavor is not artificial. The sweetening is sugar, not saccharine. Women who once try it will always get it. Your grocer has ten flavors. Try pineapple and loganberry first.

Mrs. E. S. Hennigar who has been visiting in Dorchester, N. B., has returned to the city.

EXMOUTH STREET CHURCH PICNIC

With Perfect Weather a Large Crowd Thoroughly Enjoyed Themselves at Fair Vale Yesterday—Programme of Sports.

A perfect day greeted the picnickers of the Exmouth Street church Sunday school to the number of three hundred or more yesterday on the grounds of the Fair Vale Outing Club. The booths, of which there were many, decorated for the occasion were well patronized and a pleasant day in general was spent by old and young. In the club house were erected tables where lunches were served. On the grounds sports were entered into by the younger set, of which the following were the different events and the winners:

 Small Girls' race—Margaret Ogler, 1st; Eva Rowen, 2nd.
 Small Boys' race—Walter Scott, 1st; Albert Robertson, 2nd.
 Junior Girls' race—Jean Young, 1st; Etta Finley, 2nd.
 Senior Boys' race—Ronald Thomas, 1st; Ralph Cosman, 2nd.
 Senior Girls' race—Edith Scott, 1st; Viola McAuley, 2nd.
 Sack race—Ernest Thomas, 1st.
 Boot race—Walter Thomas, 1st.
 Wheelbarrow race—Walter Thomas, 1st; Henry Crump, 2nd.
 Sack race, small boys—Wm. Hayt, 1st; Mr. Purdy, 1st; Mr. Whitehead, 2nd.
 There were also a number of races held for the kiddies.

Miss May Kirby, of Dorchester, is visiting Mrs. E. S. Hennigar.

POLICE COURT CASES YESTERDAY

In the police court, yesterday, Mrs. Mary B. Clarke was charged with keeping a disorderly house. The case was postponed until today.
 Walter Brown pleaded guilty to drinking in public and was fined $28. Two drunks were remanded.
 Robert Myles appeared being charged with riding a bicycle on the sidewalk in Rothesay avenue. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $2.
 Arthur Finnegan pleaded not guilty to the charge of expectorating on the sidewalk, but later withdrew his plea, pleading guilty, and was fined $1.

EXHIBITION ASSN. MET YESTERDAY

Considerable Routine Business Transacted and Reports Showed Practically All Available Space in Buildings Has Been Taken.

A meeting of the executive of the Exhibition Association was held yesterday afternoon and considerable routine business transacted. Encouraging reports were received from the chairmen of the different committees. Practically all the available space in the buildings has been taken. The advertising committee reported that the publicity campaign in the different weeklies throughout the province is meeting with good success. The rest of the advertising matter will be gotten out shortly.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

To the Editor Daily Standard, St. John, N. B.
 Dear Sir:—It is common, no doubt, with other public spirited citizens of this Province, I have for some days waited patiently for some announcement of the plans of the Provincial Government, indicating an intention to properly educate the delegates of the British Empire Press Association due to arrive Wednesday, 28th inst., at Sydney, C. B., and at St. John on Friday 30th inst. Surely this party of upwards of 120 representatives—many if not all, leading journalists of Great Britain and the outlying portions of the Empire, should receive marked attention from the Provincial authorities. As has no doubt been well said, they are coming to us not in the sense of tourists or travellers but as missionaries whose object it will be to note the advantages of our country from many standpoints and in their return to reflect through their various newspaper channels their views of these Provinces and their people.
 Let us hope that something worthy of our Province and the traditional hospitality of its people will yet be done, by our Premier and his Executive, in the way of a hearty welcome and proper entertainment of these distinguished guests coming as they do from all parts of the Empire.
 As suggested on the occasion of their send off at London, the very important part, which these same writers played in moulding public opinion and bracing the nation in the darkest days of the Great War entitles them to more than a passing welcome.
 Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
 Very sincerely,
 NEW BRUNSWICKER.
 Riley Brook, Vic. Co. N. B., July 23, 1920.
 Editor St. John Standard:
 St. John:
 Dear Sir:—I read in your issue of July 26th, some verses on women voting for prohibition. If you have room in your paper I would like to say a few remarks about them. I also am a returned soldier. Our friend talks about stealing his liberty. Was willing to go to France to save Canada from the Germans, now he is willing for the demon alcohol to still remain in Canada, and do in Canada what years of hardships in France and Belgium stopped the Germans from doing in Canada, namely destroy the country. Perhaps our friend forgets that a woman brought him into the world, and how would he like for someone to break her heart. If a man is so sodden with alcohol that he must have lemon, or other extracts, there is no one to blame but his own gluttonous appetite. Our friend is going to blame the women. If a mother sees a child drowned or burned, or anything else happens to them, does she let her own child do the same. No, she tries to find some way to save her own child, so that what women are doing now when they voted for prohibition, I wonder how many times in our friend's younger days his mother saved him from some accident. So why now does he grumble when other mothers try to save their children from the demon of strong drink. Our friend remarks about England having her beer and wine, that is true, but let England take the same kind of an election as was carried on in New Brunswick on July 10th, and let the women vote. I think that it would be like New Brunswick is today. I do not think that we have any right to grumble at the women, and I say that we should be proud of them for having the courage to work as they did.
 Trusting you will be able to find space in your columns for these few remarks, I am Yours truly,
 GEORGE S. BAXTER.

The Canadians' Olympic Chances

Final Trials Compared — Track and Field Time and Distances Against U. S. and French Finals.

The fact that the American Olympic final trials at Cambridge, Mass., recently, were run in yards while the Canadian trials were in metres makes comparison difficult. However, the American times were:

100 yards—L. Murichson, New York, 10 secs.
220 yards—C. Baddock, Los Angeles, 21 2/5 secs., equalling Heiler's American record of 1897.
440 yards—F. Shea, New York, 49 secs.; Meredith second, Emery third, 890 yards—E. Eby, Chicago, 154 1/5.

1 Mile run—J. Ray, Chicago, 4:16 1/5.
1 1/2 mile run—H. Barron, Philadelphia, 15:15 secs.
440 yards, hurdles—F. Loomis, Chicago, 55 secs.

Same Compared. The field events and some competitions in metres make comparison possible. The metre events:

5,000 metres run—American, Brown, 15:25; Canadian, Town, 15:37.
3,000 metres walk—Plank, New York, 13:08; Freeman Toronto, 13:57.
Earl Thomson's 110 metres hurdles in 15 1/5 stands against the 15 1/5 for the 120 yards of the Americans. A metre equals 39.37 inches, so that 110 metres is about 120 yards.

Some Fast Races At Fredericton

Fredericton, N. B., July 27—Blanche H., owned by T. M. Hoyt, of Presque Isle, Me., hung up a new track record and also gave herself a new winch record in the opening heat of the fourth meeting of the Maritime and Maine Circuit here today, when she paced in 2:11 1/4.

She dropped the second heat by making a break, and in the third heat the Exposer won, but the trotter swerved in the drive through the stretch and although he won the heat in 2:11 1/2, was set back to last position, Blanche H. being given the heat.

After Forefather, a St. John trotter, had won the first heat and Somersworth Boy the second heat, Togo M., last week, got straightened away and took the next three heats and the race. College Swift won from a big field in the 2:27 pace. Driver William Hood being fined $25 because the judges did not think he tried to win the third heat. The Problem, 2:04 1/4, is the favorite in the free-for-all pace tomorrow. A free-for-all trot is being opened up for Thursday in the hope of bringing the Exposer and Bill Sharon, champion four-year-old trotter of the Maritime Provinces in 1919, together.

War Veterans Trimmed St. Peters

Over 2,000 people saw the "Vets" defeat the St. Peter's team last evening on the latter's diamond by a score of eleven to three. This makes the tenth straight for the War Veterans. The sluggers of the Vets had their batting clothes on and would not be denied. Errors a critical moment by the St. Peter's contributed several runs. Heyson started the game for St. Peter's but was relieved by Chestnut in the 5th. He was touched for nine hits while Kirkpatrick who did the twirling for the Vets held his opponents down to five bingles. Features of the game were the hitting of Callaghan with three hits out of three chances, the hitting of Garnett with three hits out of four, and a spectacular catch of a sizzling liner by Stewart. Art Howard performed the Babe Ruth stunt by lacking out a homer.

The official box scores and summary follows:

DEFENDER RESOLUTE WINNER OF THE FINAL YACHT RACE

Race for America's Cup Yesterday Afternoon Was Sailed in Very Light Wind—Shamrock Was Left Far Behind When Defender Crossed Line in Light Breeze and the Cup Remains in the United States.

New York, July 27—For the thirtieth successive time since the inauguration of international yachting contest a half century ago, a British challenger has been defeated by a United States defender of the America's cup, the perpetual trophy named from the schooner yacht America, which won the first race from Great Britain in 1851.

Before Shamrock IV, twelve challengers strove in vain for the hundred guinea pewter mug, which since its founding as a world yachting prize has been in the custody of the New York Yacht Club.

Sir Thomas Lipton has failed in his fourth attempt to realize a cherished ambition, after trying since 1899, with four different Shamrocks to return the precious gail to the Royal Ulster Yacht Club of England. When the United States won the historic cup in 1851, the trophy was not an international one. Six years after this first race with Great Britain the cup was brought to the United States by the New York Yacht Club and placed in trust as an international challenge prize. Here it has remained and today's victory by Resolute insures its retention at least another year.

A Bad Drubbing. Sandy Hook, July 27—Defender Resolute gave the challenger Shamrock IV the worst drubbing of the 1920 regatta in the final race of the series today, winning boat for boat thirteen minutes and forty-five seconds—and the America's famous yachting cup remains in the United States.

Overcoming a forty second lead the advantage of a windward berth which Shamrock had taken at the start, the defender held a lead of four minutes and eight seconds at the half-way stake of the thirty-mile course, and crossed the finish line thirteen minutes and five seconds ahead. Including her handicap of six minutes and forty seconds, Resolute won by nineteen minutes and forty-five seconds.

As the challenger crossed the mark her British crew let out three rings for the victor, and the conquerors responded with lusty cheers for Shamrock and her crew.

Sir Thomas Lipton announced immediately after the race that he would build a new challenger and come across in 1922 to have another try at lifting the America's Cup, provided some other yachtsman did not challenge and win the cup sooner. "I was beaten by a better boat," he said. "I have no complaint to make, but I am greatly disappointed."

FIELD DAY TO BE HELD AT TRURO

Springfield, July 27—On Wednesday, August 4, there will be held in this place the biggest sporting event in the Province of Nova Scotia this year. On that date the G. W. V. A. are to hold a big field day, at which all the cranks of the Maritime Provinces are expected to be present and participate in. Sanction for the meet has been secured from the M. P. B. A. A. U. All entries should be sent to M. R. Henderson, secretary of the sports committee, not later than Tuesday, August 3.

Following are the events: 100 yards open, 230 yards open, 449 yards open, 880 yards open, 100 yards for boys sixteen and under, one mile open, seven mile run on half-mile cinder track, standing broad jump, standing hop, step and jump, running broad jump, high jump.

The sports will start at 2:30 in the afternoon. The Jersey shore, but she failed to find it, while Resolute picked up a favorable slant off shore. Still an hour after the start Shamrock was well in the lead and seemed able to head a couple points near the wind.

Everything seemed to be going unusually well for the green boat and hopes ran high on the yacht Victoria, carrying Sir Thomas Lipton. Then Resolute began to kick up her heels and over-reach her opponent. Adams tacked twice before he succeeded in getting across Shamrock's bow, but he finally landed and after that the race, as between the two boats, was over.

TELEGRAPH-TIMES DEFEATED HEBREWS

The Telegraph-Times nine on the East End grounds last evening defeated the team representing the Young Men's Hebrew Association by a score of twelve to four. There was some very good playing on both sides and the large crowd in attendance appreciated the class of ball played by the teams.

Two teams lined up as follows: Y. M. H. A.—Tanzman, catcher; S. Green, pitcher; Marcus, first base; Holtzman, second base; Baig, third base; Rokey, left field; R. Green, center field; Cohen, right field. Telegraph-Times—Smith, catcher;

Thompson, pitcher; McEachern, first base; Lowe, second base; Johnston, third base; Maxwell, left field; McLeod, center field; Waits, right field. Score by innings:
Telegraph-Times . . . . . 0 0 2 0 0 0—12
Y. M. H. A. . . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0—4

A feature of the game was a double play by the newspaper men. It was announced to the audience that the East End League would hold an open air fair on their grounds August 31st. The game was enjoyed by all present and there is a possibility of a return game in the near future.

This (treaty) is signed with the sign of the Crescent for its greater inviolability; David Ferid Pasha, grand vizier for the Ottoman Empire.

Halifax Woman Had to Spend Most of Her Time in Bed Before She Got Tanlac — Gains Thirty Pounds and Says Health is Perfect, Now.

"I had lost twenty-five pounds in weight and had reached the point where I didn't think I could ever get well, but in less than two months I have gained back all my lost weight and five pounds besides, and was never before in better health."

The above statement was made a few days ago by Mrs. William Munro of 22 West street, Halifax, while telling of her remarkable recovery by taking Tanlac.

"It was a year ago that I suffered a general breakdown and no one knows what I have gone through since then. I ate so little that I lost weight until it alarmed me and became so weak that I broke down completely. Frequently I had bursting headaches that kept me in bed for days at a time and they left me so weak that when I got up I couldn't walk without supporting myself with a chair. My stomach was upset and perate effort to check the Bolshevik advance. After three days in Warsaw I can report that these stories tell less than the truth.

Youths in Knickerbockers. At least a majority of the three to four hundred thousand volunteers who responded to the call of the committee of national defense throughout Poland, if the evidence of Warsaw street scenes is to be accepted, are boys who for the privilege of shouldering a rifle or wearing a fragment of uniform in the hour of their country's peril were accepted by the recruiting and examining officers. Your correspondent this morning had an opportunity to examine at leisure a company of volunteers drawn up in the courtyard of the general staff building to be sifted out. The minimum age for enlistment is seventeen, but it was evident at a glance that at least 60 per cent or more of the rank and file standing in line with anxious faces awaiting the verdict of the examining officers were not over sixteen and they shaded down from this age to urchins of twelve and thirteen. Knickerbockers were the predominant garb, long trousers being the exception rather than the rule.

Many "barefoot boys with cheeks of tan" evidently had come directly from their play in the streets or fields, probably without the knowledge or permission of their parents, to serve their country. Your correspondent could not wait to see how many ultimately were accepted, but the detachments marching through the streets constantly indicate that most of them succeed in their ambition. Many of the volunteers still are stockingless and shoeless when marched to the concentration camps for a brief hour of training, and are due to receive army footgear about the same time as they are entrained for the front.

Along with these lads are elderly volunteers from the settled walks of life. Your correspondent over and over again in the last few days has encountered old acquaintances holding important positions in government departments or business who have abandoned their work and their families to enter the ranks, even though they are without the slightest military training. Such is Polish patriotism. Conscripts and Prisoners Guarded. On the other hand, one often encounters detachments of recruits wearing no flowers—the sign of the volunteer soldier—trudging along, at an unwilling pace, with rifle-bearing soldiers as "whippers" in front and rear or at both flanks. These are the drafts, for every one of proper age must serve either as a volunteer or a conscript. Another, but less frequent sight of the city, is an occasional individual being marched along under guard, charged either with desertion or espionage. One man was in an smart soldier uniform, whom your correspondent encountered on one of the main streets, evidently was a prisoner of importance. He was handcuffed and was distinguished by an escort of fifteen men, all with fixed bayonets, to prevent any attempt at escape or rescue should his friends, presumably of Polish-Bolshevist faith, attempt to help him to escape his fate.

Your correspondent was informed at such Bolshevik agents are being discovered in increasing numbers as the machinery of detection now is being improved. Some are simple spies, others are engaged in the dangerous work of propaganda in the ranks, hoping to induce comrades to desert, refuse duty or give way at a critical moment of battle. Measures of greater severity also, according to information from the same source, are being applied to improve morale among the troops at the front, which has suffered in some respects under the influence of the depressing retreat.

The Never Failing Supply

Keep a tin or two of Klum on the pantry shelf and you are always sure of a plentiful supply of pure pasteurized separated milk.

With KLIM in the house disappointments and delays are avoided, because it takes but a minute or two to mix a fresh supply to meet all requirements.

Company may drop in unexpectedly—the hot day may sour the milk—the bottle or jug may be accidentally tipped over, but there is no cause to worry with KLIM on hand.

Always Ready Fresh and Sweet

To make KLIM into a liquid again simply mix it with water according to directions.

Buy Klum from your Grocer, in the blue and white striped tins in half pound, pound and ten pound sizes.

The Great Impersonation

"At half-past two," he announced, glancing at his watch, "I have an appointment with a woolen manufacturer from Bradford. I hope to get him to join my council."

He bowed ceremoniously to the lawyer, nodded to Dominey with the familiarity of an old friend, and made his bustling, good-humored way out of the room.

"A sound business man, I should think," was the former's comment. "I wish him luck with his League. You yourself, Sir Everard, will need to develop some new interests. Why not politics?"

"I really expect to find life a little difficult at first," admitted Dominey, with a shrug of his shoulders. "I have lost many of the tastes of my youth and I am very much afraid of my friends over here who will call me out on anything I do."

"I can't fancy myself doing nothing down in Norfolk all the rest of my days. Perhaps I shall go into Parliament."

"You must forgive my saying," his companion declared impulsively, "that I never knew ten years make such a difference in a man in my life."

"The colonies," Dominey pronounced, "are a kind of cure sort of business. You either take your rubber and come out a stronger man, or you go under. I had the very narrowest escape from going under myself, but I just pulled together in time. Today I would have been without my hard times for anything in the world."

"If you will permit me," Mr. Mangan said, with an inherited pomposity, "on this our first meeting under the new conditions, I should like to offer you my hearty congratulations. You only upon what you have accomplished, but upon what you have become."

"And also, I hope," Dominey replied, smiling a little seriously and with a curious glint in his eyes, "upon what any ye accomplished."

"The Duchess and her companion had risen to their feet, and the former, on her way out, recognising her solicitor, paused graciously.

"How do you do, Mr. Mangan?" she said. "I hope you are looking after those troublesome tenants of mine in Leicestershire?"

"We shall make our report in due course, Duchess," Mangan assured her. "Will you permit me," he added, "to bring back to your memory a relative who has just returned from abroad—Sir Everard Dominey?"

Dominey had risen to his feet a moment previously and now extended his hand. The Duchess, who was a tall, graceful woman, with masses of fair hair only faintly interspersed with grey, very fine brown eyes, this complexion of a girl, and, to quote her own confession, the manners of a kitchen maid, stared at him for a moment without any response.

Dominey's extended hand was at once withdrawn, and the tentative smile faded from his lips. The lawyer plunged into the breach.

"I can assure you, Grace," he insisted earnestly, "that there is no doubt whatever about Sir Everard's identity. He only returned from Africa during the last few days."

The Duchess's incredulity remained, wholly good-natured but ministerial to her natural obstinacy.

"I simply cannot bring myself to believe it," she declared. "Come, I'll challenge you. When did we meet last?"

"At Worcester House," was the prompt reply. "I came to say good-bye to you."

The Duchess was a little staggered. Her eyes softened, a faint smile played at the corners of her lips. She was suddenly a very attractive looking woman.

"You came to say good-bye," she repeated, "and?"

"I am to take that as a challenge," Dominey asked, standing very upright and looking her in the eyes.

"As you will."

"You were a little kinder to me," he continued, "than you are today. You gave me—this," he added, drawing a small picture from his pocket-book, "and you permitted—"

"For heaven's sake, put that thing away," she cried, "and don't say another word! There's my grown-up nephew, Sir Omar, paying his bill at most within a week. Come and see me at half-past three this afternoon, and don't be a minute late. And, Sir Omar," she went on, turning to the young man who stood down by her side, "this is a connection of yours—Sir Everard Dominey. He is a terrible person, but do shake hands with him and come along. I am half an hour late by my dressmaker's ready."

Lord St. Omar chuckled vaguely, then shook hands with his new-found relative, nodded assent to the lawyer and followed his aunt out of the room. Mangan's expression was hostile.

"Sir Everard," he exclaimed, "bless you! If ever a woman got what she deserved! I've seen a duchess blush—first time in my life!"

CHAPTER V.

Worcester House was one of those semi-palatial residences set down apparently for no reason whatever in the middle of Regent's Park. It has been acquired by a former duke at the instigation of the Regent, who was his intimate friend, and retained by later generations in mute protest against the disfiguring edifices which had made a millionaire's highway of Park Lane. Dominey, who was first acquainted by an individual in buff waistcoat and silk hat at the porter's lodge, was interviewed by a major-domo in the great stone hall, conducted through a strangely Victorian drawing-room by another myrmidon in a buff waistcoat, and finally ushered into a tiny little boudoir leading out of a larger apartment and terminating in a conservatory filled with sweet-smelling exotics. The Duchess, who was reclining in an easy-chair, held out her hand, which her visitor raised to his lips. She motioned him to a seat by her side and once more scrutinised him with unabashed intensity.

"There's something wrong about you, you know," she declared.

"That seems very unfortunate," he rejoined, "when I return to find you wholly unchanged."

"Not bad," she remarked critically. "All the same, I have changed. I am not in the least in love with you any longer."

"Was the fear of that change in you," he sighed, "which kept me for so long in the furthest corners of the world?"

"Look here," she said, "it is better for us to have a perfectly clear understanding upon one point. I know the exact position of your affairs, and I know, too, that the two hundred a year which your lawyer has been sending in to you came partly out of a few old trees and partly out of his own pocket. How you are going to live over here I cannot imagine, but it isn't the least use expecting Henry to do a thing for you. The poor man has scarcely enough pocket money to pay his travelling expenses when he goes lecturing."

"Lecturing?" Dominey repeated. "What happened to poor Henry?"

"My husband is an exceedingly conscientious man," was the dignified reply. "He goes from town to town with Lord Roberts and a secretary, lecturing on national defence."

"Dear Henry was always a little nervous, wasn't he?" Dominey observed.

"Let me put your mind at rest on that other matter, though, Caroline. I can assure you that I have come back to England not to borrow money but to spend it."

His cousin shook her head mournfully. "And a few minutes ago I was nearly observing that you had lost your sense of humour!"

"I am in earnest," he persisted. "Africa has turned out to be my Eldorado. Quite unexpectedly, I must admit, I came in for a considerable sum of money towards the end of my stay there. I am paying off the mortgages at Dominey at once, and I want Henry to jot down on paper at once those few amounts he got good."

CUTICURA HEALS SISTER'S ECZEMA

In Rash All Over Body, Burned And Itched. Could Not Rest.

"My little sister had eczema all over her body. It came like a rash, and was burning and itching. She could get no rest, and we would have to wet her clothing to take it off. She was cross and irritable, and the breaking out caused disgustment."

"She had the eczema about five months when we tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We could see she was getting relief, and we just used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment when she was healed." (Signed) Miss Jessie Campbell, Sunny Brae, Nova Scotia, January 16, 1919.

You may rely on Cuticura Soap and Ointment to cure for your skin.

Towed to Halifax
Halifax, July 27—Towing the British steamer Whigamoo which struck an uncharted rock off Casco on Sunday afternoon the Dominion Government steamer Lady Laurier, arrived in port early this morning. The Whigamoo, her officers reported, is not very seriously damaged. There is a hole in her hull forward, and the ship has nearly 20 feet of water in her forepeak. Otherwise she is in good condition. After examination of the steamer has been made it will be decided whether or not it is necessary to make permanent repairs here. The Whigamoo was bound from the Azores to New York via Sydney and Halifax for bunkers when she met with the mishap.

OBITUARY
Sarah E. Goggin.
Elgin, Albert Co., July 2.—At 12:30 p.m. today death entered the home of Councillor T. A. Goggin of this place and removed his aged mother, relict of the late Samuel W. Goggin, who passed away 30 odd years ago.

Since then she has made her home with her son who devotedly cared for her in her declining years. Surrounded by loving grandchildren, who fondly loved their dear grandmother. She was loved and respected by a large connection and a host of friends. She was always ready in her long active life to render assistance and council to any in trouble or distress. She will be mourned by many. She leaves to mourn one son, T. A. Goggin, seven grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren, one brother, Stephen E. Goggin, of Allon, Mass., two sisters, Mrs. B. Ansley Wallace, of Boundary Creek, N. B., and Mrs. H. D. Stevens, of Woodstock, N. B. She is in her eighty-second year, and a devoted member of the First Elgin Baptist church.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday from her late home at 2 p.m.

THE COUNTY HOUSING BOARD ENQUIRY FIRST SESSION HELD

Held Yesterday Afternoon and on the Whole Proved a Rather Tame Proceeding — Councillor Campbell Explained No Personal Reflections Were Intended Against Any Member of the Board—Witnesses Heard.

The first session of the enquiry into the charges made by Councillor Campbell against the County Housing Board was held yesterday afternoon and proved on the whole a rather tame proceeding, outlander Campbell, through his solicitor, W. M. Ryan, explained that he intended no personal reflections against any member of the board and the word squander which he used in connection with the operations of the board simply meant the adjudication of money. Mr. Ryan wanted to turn the proceedings into a court of law, but Mr. Moshier, chairman of the committee, informed him that it was not the intention of the committee to hold the enquiry under oath, but to hear both sides and then make a finding and assured him that a fair and impartial finding would be made. A difference of opinion developed between Messrs. Barry and Simms and Mr. Murphy, members of the board as to the purchase of the lots in Fairville, the two former contending that the motion for the purchase passed unanimously, while Mr. Murphy was just as certain that he opposed the purchase and voted against it.

Councillor J. P. Moshier presided and there were present Councillors Frink and Dalziel, the other members of the committee; Messrs. Wilson, Barry, Simms and Murphy of the housing board; Councillors Campbell, Golding and O'Brien, Mr. Griffiths of the firm of Rourke and Griffiths, the contractors; A. W. Carten and Neil Brodie, architect to the board and the county secretary. Mr. W. M. Ryan appeared as counsel for Councillor Campbell.

Councillor Moshier in calling the meeting to order outlined the object which was to consider the charges made by Councillor Campbell and called on the county secretary to read the charges which were: First, the board was inefficient; second, that it did not function properly in that regular reports had not been submitted to the council as required; third, that money had been squandered in purchasing unimproved land, and fourth, that lumber had been put into the houses that was not fit for building.

At this point W. M. Ryan announced that he appeared for Mr. Campbell and explained that Mr. Campbell had used the word squander in the same sense of injudicious expenditures and did not impute personal dishonesty to any member of the board. As Councillor Campbell had not arrived, Mr. Ryan expressed his willingness to proceed and asked for the minutes of the municipal council at which the board was appointed to be produced in evidence, giving the powers conferred on it.

Mr. Wilson asked that his answer to the letter of the county secretary notifying him of the charges and the hearing be read. This was objected to by Mr. Ryan. The chairman said he would read the letter and that the intention to give Councillor Campbell a chance to verify his statement.

J. A. Barry pointed out that the committee had certain definite lines to go by and could not go outside of them. They were required merely to find out the truth of the charges made in the council.

Mr. Ryan again asked for the minutes of the council at which the board was appointed but the chairman ruled him out of order. Mr. Ryan also asked that the enquiry be held under oath but it was decided not to do so.

Councillor Campbell then took the stand and was questioned by Mr. Ryan. In answer to the questions the witness stated that by inefficient he meant the board was not producing the effect desired and they had not reported to the council the progress of their operations. In connection with the McKell street location he had been informed that it cost the board $4,500 and contained 27 lots. That they were building ten houses and the installation of the roadway and water and sewerage cost about $8,000, which would bring the cost up to over $13,000 per lot. He understood there had been other and better sites offered, one of which was near City Line, one on DeMonts street, in connection with the bad lumber he stated that one evening he had gone to the place where the houses were being built and saw a pile of boards which he considered were no good. He had then gone into the houses and found boards which he could easily drive a penknife through. He reported the matter to a member of the housing board and was told later that it had been sent back to the Wilson Box Co.

On the conclusion of his testimony Councillor Frink wanted to know just what the order of procedure was to be, whether counsel were to be allowed to ask questions or whether the committee were to be the ones to do that.

The chairman said it was the idea not to hold the enquiry under oath and the committee were to ask all the questions.

In answer to Councillor Frink the witness said he did not consider the lots purchased worth $100 per lot and he gave as the value of lots in the sewerage district of Lancaster from $400 to $600. He personally had no interest directly or indirectly in any of the land offered to the housing board. So far as the lumber was concerned he had seen some that he considered unfit for use but would not say generally it was rotten. He had been told later that the bad lumber had been taken away by Mr. Wilson at his own expense and had been sent there in the first place without his knowledge. He did not know whether any bad lumber was in the house now and could not say there was bad lumber in them when he made the charges at the council meeting.

He assured Councillor Frink that in making the charges he had not wanted to get back at any one and there was nothing personal in the matter. Mr. Ryan again interjected and wanted his status in the matter defined claiming that the investigation so far as it had gone was a farce. He was informed by the chairman that each side would get a fair hearing.

but they did not propose to turn the investigation into a court of law.

The chairman then called on Alexander Wilson chairman of the housing board.

Mr. Wilson said so far as the board was concerned they had nothing to be ashamed of and had acted in all cases as their best judgment dictated. Before buying they had looked over a number of lots and had come to the conclusion that this land was the best to buy. It was near the car line, to the various industrial plants in Lancaster, on the line of water and sewerage and close to a good school. They had also purchased the land for less than was paid for it some years ago. He considered the charges did impugn the integrity and honesty of the board and the maker should be given an opportunity stating which other methods would be adopted.

He pointed out that while the board was only building ten houses the road which was being built would serve an additional eleven houses thus making twenty-one instead of ten to which the cost of the work would be apportioned.

So far as the lumber was concerned the car load in which that comprised of was found had been shipped from their Westfield mill and soon after arrival he was notified by the contractor that some of it was not up to the mark. He had instructed him to throw out all unsuitable boards and later there was returned to the box mill between four and five thousand feet of boards.

He gave the following account of expenditures to July 22; loans on private buildings $11,601.24; Champlain and McKell street contracts, $21,248.17; $600 to Architect Brodie, a total of $14,229.44, estimates passed by the board but unpaid, $15,119.72. The contract price for the ten houses on McKell street was $45,520 and for the ten on Champlain street $48,000.

Mr. Simms was then called and gave practically the same testimony as Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Griffiths, one of the contractors who was present and was called on. He said the material in the houses was all good. There had been some bad pieces in one car but he had called the attention of Mr. Wilson to them and had been told to send them to the box factory which he had done.

Neil Brodie said the specifications called for picked refuse lumber and had been told to send them to the box factory which he had done.

Mr. Barry said the specifications called for picked refuse lumber and had been told to send them to the box factory which he had done.

The Way To Have A Fortune Told

Old Time Gypsy Caravan Out of Question — City Now Worked in Ford Automobile and Palm Readers Work Unmolested.

There is an old saying that "one might as well be dead as out of style" and evidently the gypsies don't intend to be considered "dead ones" for yesterday a family of them arrived and located on the vacant lot on the corner of Westmoreland Road and East St. John road. Instead of the customary horses and van they travelled by the little old Ford. The usual assortment of dogs accompanied them, but the horses were missing. Query: Will the new order of things bring the trading floor gypsy instead of the old horse trading gypsy? The small party camped on the outskirts of the city and the couple of women attired in their gypsy costume rambled right into the city and the women with most quiet ways entered the stores in the principal streets, and speaking to customers said: "Have your hand read?" Doubtless to say many clerks and customers "hid their hands read." It was indeed wonderful what was told to them by the women in the gypsy attire. They held hands and heard things to the extent of a half dollar to a dollar and were convinced that the gypsy told them just what they themselves were to do.

About five o'clock or about the time the fortune tellers were to be through the "Little old Ford" rambled along Prince William street picked up the fortune tellers and proceeded to the outskirts of the city where the ready change was counted up amounting to quite a sum of money, without having to pay a license to get it and lifts will be kept up within the eyes of the law until the city is worked dry and then the "Little old Ford" will proceed to another section of the country. There is knowledge of local fortune tellers being arrested and fined for taking money while only telling what a man or woman's future would be. The gypsies, however, come by horse or automobile and manage to collect real money and get away with it. The gypsy on Prince William street yesterday afternoon worked hard in one store for an hour and made plenty of money. She was looked for outside of doors but the "Little old Ford" gathered her up quickly and departed before the old game became too popular. The store to store canvases is a new stunt and proves a money maker and yesterday it got well past the guardians of the law. This game can be worked at fairs, circuses, etc., but in a private dwelling it appears it is unlawful.

St. John W. C. T. U. Regular Meeting

Session Held Yesterday Afternoon — Reports Received — Resolution to Provincial Government Asking for Referendum Regarding Importation of Liquor into Province.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. David Hipwell, the president, in the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of the hymn: "Great Physician Now is Near." The president read the 146 Psalms and Mrs. Michael Kelley led in prayer. After singing the hymn "It's well with my soul" the president remarked that she thought only consecrated Christians should sing this hymn. A collection was taken up for flowers.

Mrs. Hanspöcker thought that the following resolution should be sent to the New Brunswick Alliance:

"Whereas the result of the plebiscite taken on July 10th clearly indicates that the majority of the people of this province are in favor of a prohibitory law, and whereas the Provincial Government has promised that in the event of such a mandate from the people they will ask the Federal Government to grant an order for a referendum on the importation of liquor into this province. Therefore, we, the St. John Women's Christian Temperance Union do most urgently request the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance to elicit from our legislators the fulfilment of this promise that a referendum on the importation of liquor into this province may be held at the earliest possible date."

A communication was read from Dominion Lodge No. 445 I. O. G. T., also a letter of appreciation for greetings sent from Grand Division Sons of Temperance of New Brunswick through their Grand Scribe, Thomas A. Clarke of Newcastle, N. B.

Mrs. James I. Davis reported on her hospital work and after a very helpful session the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

ST. ROSE'S PICNIC A GREAT SUCCESS

The picnic held yesterday by the congregation of St. Rose's Church, Fairville, was a great success. The grounds of the church had been rented for the occasion and hundreds went over from the city to enjoy that entertainment peculiar to a picnic. The City Cornet Band was present during the afternoon and evening and was an added attraction. The different booths and games under their efficient committees were well patronized. Supper was served on the grounds from 4:30 till 8 o'clock, and it is estimated that over five hundred people sat down to the hearty meal provided. The various games and booths on the grounds were under the supervision of James Hanlon.

The following is a list of the booths and those in charge:

Bowling alley—Gents, Matthew McGrath; ladies, John McGrath.

Cats—Leo Doyle and John Joyce.

Candy wheel—Miss Blanche O'Brien and Leslie Rogers.

Bean soup—Gents, Wm. McManus; ladies, Herman Hennessy.

Supper table—Mrs. F. X. Morris, assisted by the ladies of the congregation.

TOWER LODGE OFFICERS INSTALLED

A special convention of The Carleton Tower Lodge No. 37 Knights of Pythias was held in the Castle Hall, West St. John last evening. The accounts for the semi-annual period ending June 30th were read and adopted. These showed the lodge to be in a healthy condition financially and in membership. The officers for the ensuing term were installed by Deputy Chancellor Charles Brown, of St. John Lodge No. 30. The Lodge is the youngest in the district and with Knight W. H. Stewart as their Chancellor. Commendation of the members are looking forward with enthusiasm to a prosperous term.
