Scott Act Cases.

A complaint made before George Frazer, Esq., Parish Court Commissioner for Chatham, against A. J. Pine, for violation of the Canada Temperance Act, came up for trial on Monday, April 23. The defendant acknowledged the offence and was fined $50 and costs, which were paid.

A complaint was also made in the same court against Roger Flanagan for a second offence against the C. T. A. The case was called for trial the defendant acknowledged the offence and was fined $100 and costs, which were paid.

A complaint was also made against Thomas Flanagan for a second violation against the C. T. A., also tried in the same court, on the 16th April, when the defendant acknowledged the offence and was fined $100 and costs, which he at once paid.

A complaint was made against Isabella Reynolds for a first offence against the C. T. A. The trial was held on the 17th, and after several witnesses were examined, she was found guilty and sentenced to a fine of $50 and costs.

A complaint was made against Jessie Roberts for a first offence against the C. T. A., which was also tried on Monday, the 22nd. She pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

The complaint against Billy Mudge is thus returned in last Wednesday's issue.

The trial of Billy Mudge, which began Tuesday afternoon, before Mr. Frazer, was as everybody expected, rather farcical. One of the two witnesses sworn he never bought liquor of the accused, nor ever sent him for liquor. The other one said he sent him for liquor, but he never bought a bottle of whiskey, and gave him a quarter, not having any smaller change, for running the errand. When asked where Mudge got the liquor, he declined to answer. The Magistrate ruled that he must answer, when he said he didn't know—he didn't follow him, and couldn't swear where he went. Mr. B. B. Adams explained that he had not been retained for the defence but had volunteered, denouncing the magistrate for his rulings and lack of legal knowledge, and the counsel for the prosecution and the inspector for having brought a baseless accusation against one man for the purpose of trying to fish up evidence against another, and left the court room in disgust, saying as a parting shot that no self respecting lawyer would dignify his profession by presiding in such a court. The case was adjourned for the purpose of getting other witnesses.

Personal.

The Union Advocate invites all its readers to contribute to the items under the head of "personal." If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you drop a card or a line to this office.

Miss Emma Jean Thomson, of Campbellton, who is attending the Ladies' College at Halifax, N. S., spent her Easter holiday with friends in St. John, returning Friday to resume her studies.

Mr. John Menzies, Scott Act Inspector, was in town on Monday on his way to Chatham to attend a Scott Act case to come up that day. Mr. Menzies asks us to mention a letter received from Redbank dated April 12th, but as there is no name attached thereto the inspector cannot proceed against the parties mentioned therein, not knowing whether the charges are bona fide or not. Letters to the Inspector giving information in reference to illegal sale of liquor must be signed with the name of the writer, which in all cases kept secret, otherwise no notice can be taken of the case made.

Albert Craig, Esq., of Quebec, was in town on Thursday last, leaving by that night's express for his home.

Mrs. Smith, of Shediac, is here on a visit to her mother, Mrs. E. Williston.

to 70 cents a dozen bunches, the latter at 55 to 65 a dozen bunches.

There is plenty of single candy and sugar for the market. Sugar sells from 10 to 12 cents, candy from 14 to 15 cents. Nearly all that comes to this market is manufactured in Albert and Kings Co.

A week or so ago a woman who gave her name as Cora Coleman tried to cut her throat with a razor. The wound was not serious and the woman was taken to the hospital. It was learned that she was a married woman although she had represented herself as being single. Her husband lives at Miramichi, N. B., where the woman was sent a day or two ago. She had run away from her husband and was acting as street agent for a portrait company in this city at a salary of $4.00 per week.

The St. John river is free of ice to Fredericton. A tug went up on Tuesday last to swing the booms. The steamers are all out after having received a thorough overhauling. Navigation has begun nearly a fortnight earlier than last year.

A gentleman in Boston writing to the Star of this city says that the "down east" travel will be heavier this summer than ever. St. John will be prepared to receive strangers. Besides her old hotels she has two new ones, the Aberdeen and the Ducrest.

The Grammar School Cadets held a concert in the Opera House last week. The funds will enable them to go into camp during the holidays.

Another edition of the life of Henry Moore Smith is out and seems to be selling very well. The book is written by Mr. J. M. Trill, written by a Frenchman, Du Maurier. The early editions of the novel sold rapidly for $1.75, a cheap paper edition is now in the bookstores.

The bicycles have been on the streets for some time. The dust is flying and the weather is beautiful.

A day or two ago I had occasion to drop into the store of Sherbrooke & White, King St. It is one of the most interesting establishments in the city. They keep everything that is required in the kitchen from a nutmeg grater up to a large range.

The variety of spoons, knives, forks, pans, pots, kettles, strainers and little labor saving inventions to be found in this store would make glad the heart of the average country housewife. There are four flats in the building and each one is so well stocked with goods of the description mentioned that Mr. Whitaker said he did not know what he was going to do with a consignment of goods he had just ordered.

On the last flat is a tin shop where nearly all the tin utensils sold by the firm are manufactured. Messrs. Sherbrooke & White are branching out every year. Their business is wholesale as well as retail. They have travellers on the road constantly and their field is continually widening. They have a factory on King St. East for the manufacture of mantles. Their stock of bicycles is large and well known.

Two well known St. John newspaper men, A. M. Belding of the Star, and H. A. Woodworth of Progress, the latter formerly of Sackville and Parrsboro, have prepared a book of humorous sketches in prose and verse, to be issued about the first week in May. It will be entitled "A Heart Broken Coroner" and "Other Wonders," and will be something new in the way of literary effort in the lower provinces. Both men have been contributors to the well known Canadian and foreign periodicals, but the present series of sketches are not hitherto published. It ought to make a hit.

The result of the civic elections which were held on Tuesday last was not a great success for the friends of the Tax Reduction Association. Out of a possible fifteen they received only two men.

The Tax Reduction was organized last week. They try to attract the public attention. The majority of the electors were anxious to have their taxes reduced and the members of the Association promised that this should be done. "Place us in office" they said "and we will turn several of your useless, big salaried officials out of office. We will cut the expenditure now and you will have to pay less taxes." We have a possible fifteen places, but the reductionists were placed in office, including the Mayor, Mr. Robertson, and the new council did not turn one high salaried official out of office, neither did they reduce the expenditure. The new members may not have been blame for having investigated every expenditure through the accounts of the city and only after doing no good they came to the conclusion that St. John had no good form of government as it was possible for it to have. But the electors, holding that the Tax Reduction council had lessened their taxes turned away from it coldly and voted for the opposition.

Mayor Robertson was returned by acclamation.

A few Sundays ago a Congregational minister residing in this city preached a sermon in which he said he would the day would come when he could exchange pulp with Bishop Sweeney and preach in the Catholic Cathedral. This coming from a Congregationalist rather startled the conservative congregation, and the sermon was discussed in many cases severely criticised by a number of unfortunate members of the congregation who were beyond the doors of their own particular church. A few days after the sermon referred to was delivered, the gentleman received a string of beads and a Roman Catholic prayer book. But he has not been to mass since that time and it is understood that the members of his congregation are thinking of making a change.

Chief of Police Clarke has been making his annual attack on the drum shop, which was generally held on the 17th of March or the first of April, the chief said becomes aware that the liquor license law is being grossly violated. He at once summons his men, makes several raids upon the offending parties and arrests them. They are generally fined pretty heavily and for a few weeks end the "dress circle" cannot get a drop after hours or on Sundays. But the chief soon becomes indignant again and at the expiration of a fortnight or perhaps three weeks every proprietor of a tavern is selling after hours and on Sundays as badly as ever.

About a fortnight ago Chief Clarke was making things pretty lively for these people. One Sunday afternoon a well known citizen went into the Victoria hotel and asked for something to drink. "The bar is closed" was the reply. "Oh one off" exclaimed the citizen. "I want a drink and must have it, see?" "Go up to room No. 6." The citizen went up and there found several friends and the admission was portered up to the room by a lack stairway.

The market was brisk for Easter and no one could say it was not well supplied. Trade has not been quite so brisk since, but I was told yesterday that business generally was looking up. During the winter a great deal of beef has been imported from Ontario, and several carloads were brought down for the Easter trade. I thought it strange that the St. John butchers were compelled to go out of the province to buy beef. I inquired the cause of one of the heaviest importers. He said it was because the New Brunswick farmer could not make his cattle fat enough. "We can't buy good beef in Brunswick" is the reason we go abroad for it.

Butter is selling from 12 to 16 cents with only a fair demand, and is rather scarce. Eggs are scarce since Easter, they are selling from 15 to 16 cents; chickens are scarce from 15 to 15 cents; turkeys for 15 and 16 cents. Early rose potatoes are selling at $1.20, coppers will bring $1.40, Heltons $1.50 to $1.75, Kidneys are worth $2.00. Lettuce and radish have appeared in the market, the former is selling at 65

Sons' Great Band is Coming.

A great treat is in store for the people of the Maritime Provinces. Sons' Great Band has been contracted with Mr. Morley MacLaughlin to give a grand musical jubilee at St. John on 4th and 5th of June and Halifax on 6th and 7th.

The concert will be the grandest musical event in the history of the Maritime Provinces, and will be given at a cost of upwards of $3,000.

Sons' Great Band is too well known to require any extended introduction. It was specially formed to uphold the honor of America at the World's Fair against the great banding of Europe and proved one of the leading attractions. John Phillips, its leader, was for sixteen years leader of the President's Band at Washington, and was especially commissioned to secure the pick of the musicians of the bands of America and Europe, such as the Royal Household Troops to form the band. Every player is a soloist on his own instrument.

The great band last year made a tour of America giving 500 concerts and playing to upwards of a million people.

The famous soprano, Miss Marie Barnard and Miss Carrie Duke, the beautiful contralto of Gen. Basil Duke, U. S. A., and pupil of the King of Violins, Mr. Joachim, will also perform accompanied by the full band.

Very low excursions will be run on all railways so that all may take advantage of this great opportunity to hear America's greatest band.

Full particulars will be advertised in this paper.

Castle Square Theatre Co.

The performance of this well known company in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening last attracted a large audience, who were well repaid for their attendance.

"The Two Orphans" was the play, the rendering of which attracted the closest attention and rounds of applause were frequent. Zaida, the whirlwind dancer, received round upon round of applause for an encore.

Death of Mr. J. Forrest.

A MAN WELL KNOWN IN BUSINESS AND SOCIAL CIRCLES PASSED AWAY.

After a long illness extending over a period of two years and a half, Mr. J. Forrest, aged 72, died at his residence in St. John on Monday, April 23, 1895. He was afflicted with dropsy and had been a great sufferer from it for some time under his trials with great fortitude.

He was in his 54th year and was born at Chatham, N. B. In his early life he was a stone mason by trade and was united at the Baptist seminary at Fredericton and at Acadia. He was married with Miss Macdonald, and was admitted a member of the church in 1851. He was a member of the church of St. John until smitten by disease and enjoyed good practice.

He was a member of the council board of the old city of Portland, and was an alderman for Victoria ward for two years after the union and was an active member of a number of societies, the Free Masons, St. Andrew's society, the Odd Fellows, A. O. U. W., and Foresters. He was a member of the Leinster street Baptist church.

He leaves a widow and two children a son and daughter. His son Frank is now in Minnesota. He was a man of high moral character and was respected by all who knew him. His death will be a great loss to his friends and his death will be a great loss to the community.

North-West Literature.

There is now ready for the press another North-West book published not in London but in the Capital of the Territories. This is the second literary effort which has its birth and cradle in the North-West and as we have had an opportunity of examining its contents we can say it is literally ray of the soil. "Prairie Pot Pourri," by Mary Markwell, is a delightful holiday work which will welcome the beauty and delicacy of our prairie flora and in others the breadth and power of our horizon wide landscape and the breeze which sweeps across our extended plains.—Review Leader.

Washington Letters.

The predicament of the income tax law is getting worse and worse. As a matter of fact, the calamitous consequences of the Supreme Court decision, or rather in decision, multiply apace. The decision has the effect of taking the life out of the law, impairing its vitality, tainting its pseudo virtue, and questioning its authority, and yet it leaves many of the most objectionable features of the law in active operation—a legacy of confusion and distress, a fruitful source of strife. It exempts one class of incomes from taxation and leaves the other an open question. The country knows, and so does the Supreme bench have declared the law to be unconstitutional, and to be so, and would have so ruled had the case come to them. Hon. James C. McMillan, the country knows, furthermore, that with the return to the bench of Justice Jackson, or his retirement for the appointment of a successor, the matter must be taken up again. It was not for the good of the people for the Supreme Court to have left in the present deplorable confusion and uncertainty. And it will be difficult to make thinking men believe that eight leading members of the Supreme Court, or of the government that the question should be left in the present deplorable confusion and uncertainty. President Cleveland has made his income tax return. It is included his salary of $90,000 as Chief Executive, on which the tax will be $200, declining to what the tax collector determines whether the payment of the 2 per cent assessment will be in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Despite the Honolulu address to the contrary, it is asserted with the utmost positiveness, by a gentleman close to the administration, that Secretary Gresham did instruct Minister Willis to suggest to President Dole the desirability of the recall of Minister Thurston on the ground that he had become persona non grata to the administration.

Those persons who are urging Mr. Cleveland to call an extra session of Congress seem to forget that he had a little excitement of this sort in the year 1883. Mr. Cleveland is by no means a glutton.

SUSPICIOUS BUSINESS.

HOW PATRON NOMINATIONS ARE MANIPULATED.

A Deal Between the Patron and Grit Leaders—Ample Evidence of the Fact—Patrons Nominated Against Conservative Candidates, but Not Against Liberals—Several Notable Instances.

Begin, please, with Russell county. This is a riding represented by a Grit in the House of Commons, Mr. W. C. Edwards. In this county, evidently because a Patron candidate might disturb the safety of the Grit candidate, there is no Patron candidate put in the field.

Carleton. Alongside of Russell county is the County of Carleton. In this county the representative is Mr. Hodgins, a Conservative, and a Patron of Industry is being run. Now why is this, since no candidate is being run in the neighboring county represented by a Reformer?

West Ontario. In this riding the Grit candidate is that run-and-get-out-of-my-way Grit political boss, J. D. Edgar, M.P. But the independent Patron organization has put no one in the field against him. Evidently they feared that he might be too easily beaten.

South Lanark. South Lanark is represented by a Minister, Mr. Hon. John Haggart, a very able man, and an honor to his constituency and the country. Against him a Patron has been brought out.

Lennox. In this riding the Grit candidate is that run-and-get-out-of-my-way Grit political boss, J. D. Edgar, M.P. But the independent Patron organization has put no one in the field against him.

West York. This riding is represented by a resident of the riding, a successful home business man, and a member of the Government, the Hon. N. C. Wallace. Therefore, it was thought better to bring out a Patron candidate against him.

derstand, accepted by a Montreal lawyer, who for years was a political rouabout for the Grit party. He will make a capital independent candidate.

Now, I wish to say to Conservative Patrons that it looks to me as though a game was being put up on them. I shall show this still further in other letters.

In the meantime, I would like to see communications upon the subject from all parts of the province.

The Grits are openly boasting that they have joined hands with the Patron leaders. No Conservative Patron will join hands with Cartwright and Charlton and Mulock, unless he is being lied to and misled.

for temperance had to break away from the drinking customs of their ancestors and burst the bonds that were forged on body and mind at their own home tables and firesides.

All honor to those moral heroes! Their sons and daughters are proud to inherit virtues and characteristics from such noble ancestors.

These sons and daughters are seen everywhere today in the thickest of the battle of life on the side of temperance and moral and social reform. These are turning the world right side up; and they are just the ones to do it.

To praise liquor or to try to give good qualities to it, or to advocate or use it in cooking, or to uphold the use of 'wine' at the Lord's table (when Scripture does not mention 'wine' at the supper) puts the person on the wrong side of the temperance fence, and his influence gives a bent to the minds of children that may render them, when grown, very crooked citizens.

THE WINDOW GARDEN. How to Provide for it in Summer the Warm Months.

In a summer window garden where the sun will shine brightly during the greater part of the day, it is especially important to provide large, deep boxes. If they are shallow, with insufficient soil, this will quickly exhaust the plants they will soon be injured.

When the water window garden, that are to supply slips and cuttings, these should be started in March, and they will have time to form thirty plants before settled weather, when it is safe to plant them outside.

If there are no potted plants on which to depend, it is necessary to raise plants from seed. It will be well to arrange seed boxes in the window garden, now in some sunny window ledge, and now in some sunny window ledge, and now in some sunny window ledge.

If started into growth now, and transplanted (as soon as the second leaves form) into the soil in small pots or boxes of fresh soil, the sweet alyssum seedlings will be ready to bloom very soon after they are set in the window box, and with a little urging in the way of spraying, fertilizing, etc., they will soon become large plants, drooping over the side of the window boxes, and forming the perfect picture of a window garden.

The petunia plants will also trail and droop over the box if allowed to grow to the height of three or four inches in height if staked. It will be best to bleed them; however harsh it may seem to you, it is necessary to bleed them.

A few geranium plants are always desirable in a sunny window garden no matter what other plants are used, as these good old stand-bys are so sure to succeed under all circumstances.

These are the plants to be used, as these good old stand-bys are so sure to succeed under all circumstances.

thankful this phase of loving energy came when it did and is here to stay. No part of woman's work gives better returns than the efforts for home training.

With these facts, what is to be done? Many influences must be kept busy, and the results will be better than we dare hope.

Permit me to suggest work on the following practical line: Let the reader look more carefully to his or her own home, and then to the homes of our State, city, county. Many mothers, dull, ignorant and uninterested, would be glad of a call and sympathetic talk with a friend or judicious woman.

Many mothers and fathers know so little about training their children. Let every temperance society and church have a 'Home' committee whose members will quietly look around and endeavor to fill every home—especially of the non-church members—with sympathy, love and literature. The details of this must be left to the people of each place.

Of all the dear words in the world 'home' is one of the sweetest. The word is mother of the precious things of life. This word is Saxon, English, American; it belongs to us more than to other tongues or peoples.

The power and teaching of home is called 'training.' Without Temperance training we have no home; without home we have no upright fight for prohibition; with such training in the home Temperance must be the victor.
