

BRITAIN AND U. S. GO TO HAGUE
TO SETTLE FISHERIES QUESTION

Interpretation of Newfoundland Treaty of 1818 To Be Submitted
To the Permanent Arbitration and Vexing Differences Settled Once For All.

Washington, April 15.—The British and the United States Governments are planning to submit to the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague the task of interpreting the Newfoundland fisheries treaty of 1818. Ratification of the general arbitration treaty recently negotiated between the two countries will be necessary before the Hague court can be called upon to take jurisdiction, but this ratification is predicted in well-informed quarters. In settling this controversy the Hague tribunal will have to decide whether state or colonial laws and regulations shall be permitted to interfere with the terms of a treaty. This latter question has recently confronted the American administration in the Japanese school question in California.

The United States Contention.
That under the treaty of 1818

Americans were granted the same fishing rights in Newfoundland waters as British subjects, is the American contention. The British view of this question is that Americans were given such rights only as British subjects then, or at any subsequent time, should possess. To accept this view the American rights would be subject to change at the will of Newfoundland, expressed in the enactment of local regulations. Such regulations have been made, and each has been regarded by American fishermen as a grievous curtailment of the original unlimited privilege to fish. The attempted enforcement of these rights has resulted in the accumulation of claims on the part of the aggrieved fishermen, and these claims will be considered in the award of the arbitration. To this list of claims has been added those of the two American captains of fishing schooners arrested last week and fined $100 each by the Newfoundland authorities. The submission of this treaty to the Hague court will, it is believed, inspire similar action by other nations.

Accommodation for Sixty Wanted
Health Board Moves Re IsolationA Resolution Stating Present
Plans Inadequate Adopted
Yesterday.

At the regular meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon the following health inspectors were appointed for the year: Messrs. H. E. Hickson, E. E. Griffith, J. Selkirk, Frank Wright, H. Hollingshead and S. C. Hersey.

Mr. Hersey was chosen seventh man, and will be given a position in case any of the others do not report. The inspectors will begin work shortly, and must report on the conditions of the yards before May 15. The question of the isolation hospital was brought up by Medical Health Officer Hutchinson, who declared that the present plans for the hospital do not provide sufficient room for the scarlet fever and diphtheria patients. He referred to his records, and showed that at one time there were as many as 27 scarlet fever cases in the city, and as many as 20 cases of diphtheria. The present plans showed that accommodation

Inspector Smith Offers Suggestions
Improvement of Victoria HospitalSpoke in Flattering Terms of the Institution in His Report.

The report of Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, provincial inspector, was the most important feature of the hospital trust meeting yesterday afternoon. The report was very flattering. Dr. Smith declared that the public wards in Victoria Hospital were in many respects the best in the Province. Since his last visit many improvements had been made, chief among them being the establishment of a diet kitchen. Special care had been taken of the dietary, and the supplies had been carefully and wisely purchased. The per capita cost would compare favorably with any hospital in the Province. The beds and other paraphernalia of the hospital were all found in excellent condition.

Separate Wards.

Dr. Smith recommended, now that an isolation hospital was being built, that separate wards be established for

Vancouver London Old Boys Organize

A Vancouver dispatch says: The London, Ont., old boys are now formally organized and added to the list of "way down east societies" formed in the city to perpetuate recollections of their former homes. The organization meeting of the ex-Londoners was held, with over a score of those eligible to membership present.

Rev. A. J. McGillivray was voted to the chair, and after the formalities of organization were over, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Honorary Presidents—Col. Tracy

and Mr. John T. Stevenson. President—Mr. J. K. McPherson. Vice-President—Mr. F. B. Whiting. Secretary—Mr. W. W. Strong. Chaplain—Rev. A. J. McGillivray. A committee was appointed to submit bylaws by the next meeting. Preliminary steps were taken towards an excursion to London for the reunion in August. The place of the next meeting will be at 18 Cordova street again until a permanent room shall have been obtained. The time of the meeting will be duly announced.

Work on Dundas Street Pavement

Work on the Dundas street pavement will be commenced tomorrow. The London street railway will lift the north track in the morning, shifting it several feet north.

When this is done, the London street railway will lay their new steel on the north side. The laying of the new rails will begin within two weeks it is expected. Engineer Pratt has a large gang of men at work getting material ready.

No Labor Candidate in This City

There will be no labor candidate in the coming provincial elections. Such is the opinion of nearly all the labor leaders at the present time.

"We are in no position financially to run a campaign at this time," said a prominent labor man this afternoon. "The funds of the organization are quite low, and we are not in good shape otherwise. If the parties put up good men, men who will treat labor fairly, I think that we will not put up a man. There is the Dominion election coming on shortly. We expect to put up a man for that contest. I hardly think we will touch the provincial."

LADY SAVED
CHILD'S LIFE

Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chapman, of John Street, Had Close Call.

The prompt action of a young lady, whose name could not be learned, alone saved the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chapman, 205 John street, yesterday afternoon from a terrible death.

The little chap had been playing in the yard, and finally getting the gate open, he went as far as Richmond street. A Wellington car was coming down from the north, and when it suddenly turned and ran towards it, the motorman reversed, and jammed the brakes down, but it seemed if the youngster would be struck.

A young lady, who was passing, saw the child run onto the tracks, and following quickly seized him and pulled him out of danger, just as the car passed by. She took him to the sidewalk, and gave the little chap to some friends. She would not give her name.

$5,000 A YEAR FOR THEFTS
HOW THE RAILROADS SUFFER

An Official Says the People of London Have No Idea How Much Annoyance the G. T. R. and Other Roads Are Subjected To—Almost Impossible To Stop Thieving.

A Grand Trunk official stated to The Advertiser this afternoon that the public has no idea of the amount of pilfering that is continually going on in cars in transit.

"You would be surprised if I told you that we have claims filed with us every year, at London, amounting to nearly $5,000," he said. "Just for little items, too; most of it such as a case of goods being broken into and part of the goods taken. This sort of thing is continually going on and try as we will we cannot locate the parties."

"We receive many such claims from merchants dealing in clothing and furnishings."

"If a case of hats is broken into, and say half a dozen hats taken out, it does not take long for the bills to run up."

"In some cases, there seems to be little doubt that the cases are broken into really before they leave the factories."

NEAT THIEVES.

"Some of the thieves work with the greatest neatness."

"One cigar firm, Tuckett's, who had been robbed right along of its goods, got the shipper to put a double band of tin around the boxes."

"When the shipments arrived they were, to the eye, apparently untouched. Yet when they were opened nearly half the goods were found missing."

SAPPER EDWARDS PICKED LOCK
BARRACKS SOLDIER SKIPPED

Had Been Sentenced To Six Months' Imprisonment, But While Awaiting Deportation To Kingston He Succeeded in Getting Out of His Cell.

Sapper Edwards, who was sentenced at Wolseley Barracks the other day to six months' imprisonment for desertion, escaped from the barracks last night. He has not been apprehended, and it is thought that he has left the city.

After his sentence Edwards was confined to his cell at the barracks, being located in the bottom tier of cells.

The prisoner had evidently been prepared to make his escape, and picked the lock.

A guard was going through last night to examine the place, and as he was busily employed elsewhere, Edwards quietly walked out of the barracks. Search was made for him, but he could not be found, having got clear away.

The prisoner deserted some time last fall from the engineers' corps. He was located in Windsor about a month ago and brought back. A court-martial was held on him last week, and on Monday he was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

Col. Macdonnell has notified the police in several cities to be on the look-out for the man, and his recapture is expected.

Boy Had a Close Call From Death
Lumber Pile Fell On Lorne Miller

Simcoe Street Lad Was Almost Suffocated in Howie's Yard.

While playing in the lumber yard of W. Howie, Maitland and Bathurst streets, yesterday afternoon, Lorne Miller, the young son of Mr. John E. Miller, 506 Simcoe street, toppled a pile of lumber over on him.

He was taken out in an almost suffocated condition. Miller was badly bruised, and his spine is injured, but it is expected that he will recover.

Lorne Miller and two young companions were playing in the lumber yard together. He attempted to climb a pile of lumber, and it fell over on him. His companions were thoroughly frightened and ran away. One of the employees of the yard happened to be going through and noticed the boy lying under the lumber. He took the lumber off the boy as rapidly as possible and found him almost smothered. Miller was removed to his home in an unconscious condition, and a doctor summoned. It was found that the boy was badly bruised and his spine was also affected.

He is a little better this afternoon, and his recovery is hoped for.

NEW PLANS WOULDN'T DO
OLD PLANS ARE ACCEPTED

Hospital Trust Declares That the Building Lastly Proposed by City Architect Nutter Would Be Too Small—Committee Is Now Ripping Up the First Plans Presented.

The latest plans for the isolation hospital will not do, so the hospital trust has decided.

The hospital is too small, and the trust does not want a small building.

The former plans of Mr. Nutter were thought to be the best, and were accepted. However, they will be modified to come within the amount of money, $50,000, at the disposal of the committee for that purpose.

Cutting Them Down.

This morning Ald. Stewart and Mayor Stevely started at the reducing process in order to see if the hospital cannot be built within the sum specified.

The tenders for the former hospital aggregated $65,549.

So far the reductions aggregate $16,000, and it is expected that a couple of more thousand will be cut off.

The building will be reduced in size but will still accommodate 60 patients.

What Will Be Done.

Two private wards will be cut off each floor, making eight in all.

Ten feet will be taken off each wing

making the public wards 30 feet in length instead of 40.

A large portion of the administration building will also be cut off, leaving just one office instead of two on each side, and reducing the number of rooms for the nurses.

All the stonework in the front will be cut off, and other expensive features reduced.

The fixtures will not be as expensive as formerly.

"We are cutting the price down considerably," said Ald. Stewart this afternoon. "We have about $16,000 cut down already, and I think we can still further reduce it to come well within the $50,000 limit. I liked the plans submitted last night very much as it insured complete isolation. The administration building will permit of a mingling of the nurses and attendants of the two departments, and that, to my mind, is not complete isolation. However, the trust wants this building, and I suppose we will have to give it to them. I think we will suit them this time."

A consultation of the special hospital committee and the trust will be held very shortly, and then it is expected that the plans as reduced will be ratified, and tenders called for.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 15.—Third fatal accident in two weeks due to street cars occurred this morning at the corner of King and Gwynne avenues, 15-year-old Bennett Waugh, running to catch a car, jumped on the rear end of the motor, and was thrown between motor and trailer. The carwheels went over him, and tore both legs from his body. He died instantly.

NO DOMINION EXHIBITION
FOR LONDON FOR THREE YEARS

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, Has So Informed Secretary Hunt of the Western Fair—Two Provinces Have Not as Yet Had the Exhibition.

London will not get the Dominion Exposition next year.

Secretary A. M. Hunt of the Western Fair Board has received word from Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister of agriculture, informing him that two provinces, namely Saskatchewan and New Brunswick, have not yet had the Dominion Exhibition, and that they must have it before the claims of London are considered.

The fair this year will be held in Calgary, Alberta. Next year it will probably go to St. John, N. B., and after that to Regina, Saskatchewan. Later London may have a chance for it.

This means that before 1911 a Dominion Exhibition for London is out of the question. London's claims will be kept before the Minister of Agriculture and efforts will be made to get the exhibition here at the earliest possible date.

Eighteen Months for James Cotter
Was Sentenced By Magistrate Love

Said He Was Under Influence of Drink When He Took the Bonded Car Goods.

"James Cotter, have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon you for the crime of breaking into a bonded car on the Grand Trunk and stealing whisky therefrom?" said Magistrate Love this morning.

"I did not take the whisky, your worship," replied Cotter, "until after it was stolen. I was intoxicated at the time, and did not know what I was doing."

"It is most regrettable," continued the court, "that such a formerly respectable young man should find himself in such a position. There is no doubt in my mind that you stole the whisky. Such offenses strike at the commercial interests and carrying trade of the whole country and directly affect the whole community. The Grand Trunk have suffered very heavy losses lately by reason of thefts from their cars. Unfortunately for you, these thefts have been of frequent

Double Murder in the Tenderloin
Mysterious Affair Startles Gotham

New York, April 4.—The midriff of the tenderloin produced another tragedy today quite as gruesome and mysterious as others that have made certain sections of the city notorious. When the police reached the scene, Kate Pelter, 38 years of age, had been strangled to death with a towel that was bound tightly around the neck; Vito Della Badia, 46 years old, a cloth cutter and once a companion of the woman, was dead with his throat cut. Win. Charles A. Berger, a boiler maker, 40 years old, who occupied the flat where the killing was done, was bleeding from wounds in the side made by a bread knife.

Berger will probably live. He told the police that he had discovered Badia robbing the flat. The latter attacked him and then killed himself. Berger is under arrest at the hospital. The Pelter woman came here two years ago from Chicago and was said to be the widow of a tailor of that city. She possessed a considerable amount, and at one time is said to have been well provided with money. The police have established that the woman's maiden name was Kratoski and that her family live in Chicago. Her husband, Samuel Pelter, died in Chicago four years ago from causes not definitely determined. The woman's sister-in-law, Mrs. Annie Kratoski, was similarly strangled to death six months ago.

Minister Against Apartment Houses
Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of Ottawa, Speaks

Says 30 Families in a House Is Bad for the Children.

Rev. A. E. Mitchell, of Erskine Street Church, Ottawa, who has been in the city in connection with the anniversary services at the new St. James' Church, left for his home this morning.

"I always like to come to London," he said to The Advertiser this morning.

"You have such nice wide streets

here, such nice lawns and such nice trees. Ottawa is a pretty city in many ways, but I always like London.

"Ever since my first visit here I was impressed with the homes of London. They are all so neat and attractive."

"In Ottawa we are getting too many apartment and tenement houses. I am glad there are none in London. Such living is destructive of much that is best and beautiful in family life."

"Here in London the children have lots of room to play. Where thirty or forty people are living in one flat, the children have no chance to play and develop as healthy children should. I hope to see a day when the development of a city of apartments and tenements."

A Civic Official's Important Statement

A Remarkable Case in Which the Life of One of Toronto's Brightest Young Ladies Was Saved as by a Miracle.

From the Toronto Star.

The following statement, by one of Toronto's best known and most popular civic officials, is given in a spirit of gratitude for the wonderful cure of his daughter. The name is withheld, as when given on a previous occasion it interfered with his public duties. The name will be furnished to any person desiring further information. He states:

"My daughter was pronounced a hopeless case of consumption by several eminent physicians of this city (Toronto). She had been for years somewhat delicate and easily contracted colds and coughs. I was informed by physicians that nothing could be done for her, and that it was a hopeless case. I decided to try Slocum's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. Before she had finished the first two bottles of these preparations she was able to sit up in bed, and gradually became quite strong again. Before many months she was able to be out and about."

Slocum's Emulsion can always be relied on to cure when cure is possible. It is the greatest strength restorer and system builder known to medical science. Slocum's Emulsion regulates and tones up all the vital organs. It cures stomach troubles, aids digestion, destroys disease germs in the system, is the greatest and best of spring tonics, making the blood pure and rich and healthy, and giving renewed vigor and energy to those who are weak and tired and run down. It revitalizes every part of the system. It cures when all else fails. At all druggists, 50c and $1. Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto.

ALEX. STUART, K.C., IS IN THE FIELD

Issues Manifesto To the Electors of West Middlesex—His Platform.

To the Liberal Electors of the West Riding of Middlesex:

Gentlemen.—The Legislature of this Province will soon be dissolved and the electors of West Middlesex will be called upon to elect a fit and proper person to represent them in the Legislative Assembly.

You, the Liberal electors of the riding, will doubtless deem it proper to meet in convention to select a candidate to contest the riding in the interest of the Liberal principles which you avow, and the progressive policy which all good citizens desire to see pursued.

On the dissolution of any constituent assembly the relation between the people and their representative has ceased, and it is the privilege of any citizen of the country to solicit the suffrage of the people whom he thinks he can serve in the halls of the Legislature. At the instance of some friends I avail myself of that privilege and solicit from the independent Liberals of West Middlesex the honor of a nomination as their candidate for the representation of the riding in the Provincial Assembly. In so doing I follow a good old British practice and announce myself boldly and publicly, instead of privately canvassing and securing pledges for a nomination which ought to be at least voluntary, if not spontaneous.

I shall not make any attempt, other than one of this character, to obtain the selection of my friends as delegates to a convention of Liberal electors for the purposes of the nomination. I hope to see voting compulsory at elections and personal solicitation an election offense. The latter might well apply to party conventions also. I shall be satisfied on this occasion if a meeting of all Liberal electors be held in response to a public call, and not otherwise, in every polling subdivision in the riding, and there, without preconcert, and on separate and individual matters, they freely elect representatives, unprompted by any candidate, who will meet to select a man to contest the riding in the Liberal interest.

Nothing less will constitute a Liberal convention or entitle the meeting to speak for the Liberal party or bind any one by its decision. As to my own claims I need say little. I think that a life-long residence in the riding, a close personal acquaintance with the people in almost every locality, arduous labor for every Liberal candidate who has contested the riding for more than thirty years, and a continued and substantial personal interest in riding, amply justify my expectations as to your favor.

My life-long interest in public affairs warrants me in believing that I can serve you efficiently in the Legislature, but if there is any one connected with the riding (whose views on public questions you approve) whose services have been greater, and whose qualifications for the distinguished service are better I submit it is your duty to him and to yourself to select him, and I shall readily defer to him. No other considerations are deserving of the respect of good citizens.

A change of boundaries clearly designed for a party advantage in other riding places the Liberals of West Middlesex in a position where the most partisan of them will be under no temptation to consider anything but the interest of the country.

As to my views on public questions, I think they are well known in West Middlesex. I believe that material, educational, and social progress have not been as great, nor has administration at all times been as pure as public-spirited and honest citizens have had a right to expect in this great country. While both political parties have produced men of ability and character whose services our country enjoyed I believe that the Liberal party and the great Liberal leaders have deserved more of their country than have the other party and its leader and I shall until more disappointed in them.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

WILL ASSIST ANYONE IN WEAK, PALE, NERVOUS CONDITION TO ROBUST, HEARTY HEALTH.

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state, read what J. W. Jervell, well-known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, pale and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgic attacks over the temples made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they possess mystic power surely, for I gained and improved day by day, and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of nature in the form of vegetable juices and extracts—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for young and old alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which revitalize delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health, and has caused thousands of broken-down despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficent aid that comes from this king of all tonics. More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures sick women.

Miss M. R. Morin, 335 Ontario St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was in very poor health and doctor for months, receiving very little benefit. I had lost all ambition, was nervous, and subject to dizzy spells and painful periods each month."

"A friend suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the proper medicine for me. I procured a bottle of this remedy and began taking, and before it was finished, I felt so much better that I continued its use and gave it a thorough test, with the result I am to-day well and healthy, a healthier girl than I was three years ago. I have no more painful periods, dizziness or nervous troubles."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backaches, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

continued to expect at their hands more certain and substantial progress in legislation and better administration than I feel justified in expecting at the hands of the party now in power at Toronto.

At the same time, if elected, I shall give my best consideration to every measure introduced by the present Government if it should be returned to power, and I shall do my best to discourage the view, lamentably too prevalent, that public affairs is only a game in which the prize is public office, and the partisan spirit in which efforts are made to obtain a victory. The book of reform was not closed when the old Liberals had done their work. You can not expect much true reform from a Conservative Government. It has no room for a useful place in the government of every state, but a true Conservative cannot be a real Reformer. If he is, he misleads himself and is fighting under the wrong flag.

The Legislature of the Province has great and important duties to perform, duties which come nearer to the homes of the people than the duties of the larger body at Ottawa.

Among the subjects demanding greater attention is that of technical and scientific education, by which the youth of the country generally may be better qualified to engage in the higher parts of the work of developing our great natural resources. Our efforts to preserve our forests, to make more profitable the farmer's soil, had opportunities of being taught more of business methods, and knew, like a manufacturer, which he is, how to calculate the exact cost of production, and how to arrive at the best margin of profit. Schools of technology and agriculture should be multiplied and brought nearer to the sons of the artisan and farmer. They would be able to discover and develop talents which would enrich and adorn our country.

The state owes it to humanity to adopt measures more far-reaching than have yet been taken to assist the medical profession and philanthropists in arresting the spread of tuberculosis and other dread diseases, and in preventing the growth of slums in our fast-growing cities. The Legislature recently refused to permit our county council to grant $4,000 to assist in the erection of a tuberculosis hospital to preserve useful lives and in preventing the growth of slums in our fast-growing cities. There is great need of reform in the liquor traffic, which might be touched less tenderly, but more equitably, than has yet been attempted in this province. Methods could be adopted which would wrong no one and would remove the most effective opposition to the restriction and early abolition of the traffic if statesmen had courage. Are politicians always to be afraid of the liquor interests on one side and of extreme prohibitionists on the other? Is it so impossible to the province that any particular man should be in power, that you will excuse him from the performance of his duty for fear of his losing his place?

There is much to be done in the way of prison reform, in the prevention of crime among children and youth, and in the care of the weak and unfortunate. Election laws need improvement. REARRANGEMENT OF CHURCHES IS SOUGHT

Committee of the Presbytery of London is Now at Work.

A committee of the Presbytery of London, consisting of Rev. W. Moffat, Rev. J. G. Stuart, Rev. Dr. McCrae and Mr. H. F. It is sought to have the fields made more workable, and to save the home mission and augmentation funds.

ADDRESS PRESENTED TO MR. LAWRENCE

By the Employees of the D. S. Perrin Company.

The employees of D. S. Perrin & Co. presented a traveling bag and trunk to Mr. F. St. Lawrence, who is leaving for Winnipeg, where he has accepted a position. The following address was also presented:

Mr. Fred St. Lawrence, As you are about to leave for another position, which will take you from amidst us, we, your fellow employees, desire to join with the firm in wishing you every success in your promotion to your new field.

During the time we have spent together as fellow employees, your ever pleasing ways and willingness to help out another during any extra pressure of work has won our sincere regard, and as a slight appreciation of that high regard we wish you to accept this traveling bag and trunk. We can assure you they are not large enough to hold the high esteem in which you are held by us all, nor to contain half the good wishes that accompany them. We would ask you to accept these and our good wishes for your future success in the far west. Signed on behalf of your fellow employees.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Regular Session Was Held Yesterday in the Public Library.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held yesterday in the lecture-room of the public library.

The topic for the day was "Prayer for the Conversion of Our Children." This was held in connection with the mother's meeting, and it was very interesting.

Mrs. Laneley favored the meeting with a well-chosen Scripture reading from Mark x, and Mrs. Green read an excellent paper on the topic of the day.

Several ladies took part in the discussion, and they all spoke well. A solo by Miss Hunt was much enjoyed.

The meeting closed with prayer.

SPRING WATER ONLY.Mayor Stevely is sound in his confession that Londoners of today will have nothing but spring water. One point upon which exact information
should be furnished, is the cost of fil-

day:"Mayor Oliver, who, with City Engineer Rust, has returned from Philadelphia, after having looked in-
to the water filtration system there,
is not at all enthusiastic on the propo-

found out the great expense entailed in the filtration of water, he is still less favorably disposed towards it. The Philadelphia plant has cost $9,000,000, and is not yet completed. The actual filtering cost $4 per million gallons, in addition to the expense of the plant. His worship said it would cost Toronto $120 a day to filter its water, in addition
to about $2,000,000 for a filtration
plant."The greater the quantity of water
filtered, the smaller the cost of filtration per million gallons. The cost in London would probably be much more per million gallons than in Toronto,
if the best filtration system were installed. Even Mr. Maury, in his report, advocated taking in the north branch
springs, an admission of the superiority of spring water. The wide area over which the springs comprised in the Komoka scheme were scattered,
offered engineering and hygienic difficulties, but there are springs within a convenient distance, not spread over
too much territory, which should be impounded before having recourse to the river or the lake. The mayor is of this opinion. If the waterworks board frames a policy on these lines
it will be certain of public approval.
London's spring water is a precious asset, and those who appreciate it most
are those who have had to drink
filtered water elsewhere.The mayor is also well-advised in favoring the extension of the use of meters. He would install them gradually in all premises having sanitary conveniences, which would effect a saving of at least half a million gallons of water daily, and the cost of pumping the same. Attempts have been made to create a prejudice
against the meter system. The consumer is told that he will be stinted
in his use of water, and will pay a higher rate. On the contrary, the rates would be so regulated that the careful consumer would pay less than
he is charged under the present plan,
under which there is no check on waste. Citizens now pay in increased water rates the cost of pumping hundreds of thousands of gallons daily,
which go to waste. The water thus wasted, when saved by the meters,
could be sold at a profit. Meters have meant cheaper water wherever they have been installed. Their use is rapidly growing in the cities and towns of the United States and Canada, and the experience has been so favorable that no community has abandoned them after a trial.

CANADA'S BALANCE OF TRADE.

During the budget debate in the House of Commons Opposition speakers have made much ado about the recent excess of imports over exports.
Mr. Schell, the able member for South Oxford, discomfited these critics by showing that during the eighteen years of Conservative rule—from 1878 to 1896—our total imports amounted to $2,044,807,768, and our total exports
to $1,682,592,467, an excess of imports
over exports of $362,215,301, or an average of $20,123,000 per year, while during the eleven years under the present tariff the total imports have been $2,295,947,569, and the total exports $2,185,374,146, or an excess of imports of $110,573,423, or $11,552,000
a year. In other words, the balance of trade against the Dominion during the latter period has been only one-third of what it was during the former period, although the trade of the country has been infinitely larger.
Moreover, during the past eleven years Canada's exports were $482,- 981,673 greater than in the preceding eighteen years.There are compensating assets
which more than counter-balance the excess. For instance, among the imports are found $54,000,000 worth of settlers' effects, which wipes out about one-third of the amount. Then it is estimated that the settlers who have come over from the United States
during the last eleven years have brought in cash $80,000,000. These are admitted to be settlers of the best
class, men who have sold their farms
at good prices and have brought their money with them to invest in land of the Canadian West. That $80,000,000 wipes out the balance of the excess ofimports over exports. Mr. Schell estimates that the 470,000 odd immigrants who have come to the Dominion from Great Britain have brought with them $40,000,000 or $50,000,000.
It is calculated that the great railroad corporations have brought in at least $180,000,000 to invest and put into circulation through expenditure on construction work and raw material,
which accounts in a large measure
for the great amount of imports
shown in the trade returns of the last year or two. In addition to that there is reason to believe that the increase of population during the last eleven years amounts to 1,500,000. It has been the experience of all fast growing countries, while population is increasing and development is proceeding at a rapid pace, that imports are,
of necessity, greater than exports. In view of the rapid progress that is taking place, of the increased flow of capital to this country, of the immigrants coming to our shores, Mr.
Schell and the Government which he supports are justified in claiming that the excess of imports is by no means an unfavorable balance. It represents the material for the growth of the country.

BRITISH FINANCES.

British finances are in a sound condition. For the financial year, which ended on March 31, the receipts were £156,537,690, or £4,725,598 in excess of the expenditures. Instead of an estimated decrease of £2,000,000 in the yield of the income tax, it increased
£1,500,000. The expenditure was £1,- 250,000 less than expected. In the past three years there has been a reduction of £13,500,000 in the public debt. The details of the receipts for the past year are as follows:Customs £ 32,480,000
Excise 35,720,000
Estate, etc., duties 19,070,000
Stamps 7,070,000
Land tax 730,000
Property and income tax 32,380,000
Postoffice 17,830,000
Telegraph service 4,420,000
Crown lands 529,000
Receipts from Suez Canal
shares and sundry loans 1,189,412
Miscellaneous 2,908,978
Total £156,537,690The custom taxation falls mainly upon two items, liquor and tobacco.
It was one of Gladstone's axioms that customs duties, if they were necessary, should be levied upon only a very few commodities. This principle has always governed British fiscal policy since his famous first budget.
The Unionists, having embraced protection, will probably reverse it when they next attain to power.It is estimated that 47 per cent of the revenue is a direct tax upon
wealthy in the form of estate duties,
income tax, stamps and the land and
house tax, while the upper and middle classes also pay their share of the customs and excise duties. The widening of the basis of taxation, by numerous customs imposts, would take more out of the pockets of the poorer classes.To think that the once peerless Radical, John Morley, would be tamely caged in the House of Peers!And still Mr. Beck and his organ fail to explain why a Toronto elector
is given two votes and a London elector one.Why should this generation of Londoners drink filtered river water because another generation may be compelled to? Sufficient unto the day, etc.The agitation against immigration suggests the query, Has Canada's wonderful progress of the past ten years not been mainly due to the influx of immigrants?The politicians of Denmark have given every woman over 25 years of age a vote. Sly dogs! What woman is going to voluntarily confess she is over 25 years of age?A contemporary solemnly declares that Sir Mortimer Clark "congratulates the Whitney Government" upon its efforts in the people's behalf. Was Sir Mortimer guilty of the constitutional heresy of composing his own
speech at prorogation?

HIS WAY.

[Halpern's Weekly.]
First Broker—I hear it's been touch
and go with poor old Carter.
Second, Ditto—Yes, he touched me for a dollar this morning, and went.

NOT A CHANCE.

[Tit-Bits.]
Doctor—Your wife is very ill, sir, and
likely to die.
Husband—You needn't worry about her,
doctor. She got a new dress the other day, and she hasn't tried it on yet.

AN HISTORIC EXAMPLE.

[Toronto Star.]

Some surprise is expressed that an archbishop should resign and retire into a monastery. And yet an emperor, the greatest of his time, Charles V., did it,
and history notes it quite unfringed.

SIR MORTIMER.

[Toronto Saturday Night.]
As the term for which Sir Mortimer
Clark holds his appointment as Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario draws to a close,
many are the conjectures and prophecies
as to who will reign in his stead at Government House. Over certain tea tables
hot favorites are named from Toronto, Hamilton and the capital. The very latest
is a cabinet minister, formerly a resident of Toronto. There are some who foretell an extended term for Sir Morti-mer Clark; in fact, what no one can possibly know anything about it what everyone has the strongest opinion upon. Whilethey vacate or continue to occupy Government House, there is but one opinion as to the conscientious, cordial and delightful way in which Sir Mortimer
Clark and his family have upheld the dignity and dispensed the hospitalities of the big house on Simcoe street. That their successors may equal them in this respect is all one could wish.

MAPLE SUGAR MAGIS.

[New York Sun.]
Now the farmer taps his maple,
And cunningly he smiles,
Then sets a shiny pail of tin
Beneath the dripping spout.
Each morning with his ancient yoke—
And sometimes twice a day—
He pours the nectar from the pails,
And lugs it all away.Upon the farmhouse kitchen stove
A spacious kettle boils.
To keep the pot quite full of sap
The patient housewife toils.
She tests the liquid with a spoon
Till it hardens where it's cold,
Then pours the succulent syrup out
In many a little mold.
When the sugar season's over,
And sap has ceased to drip,
The farmer sends the little cakes
Upon a city trip.
Although the sugar Nature gave
Was but a hundredweight,
The alchemist of the farm has stretch'd
The total up to eight.

COCAINE VICTIMS.

[Ottawa Journal.]
It is stated that a number of young men of London, Ont., who indulge in the cocaine habit, being unable to procure the drug at London, are being supplied by accommodating druggists at St. Thomas.
The Provincial Government having been communicated with by friends of the young men, prosecutions are to be laid against the vendors. The heaviest fines
the law allows should be inflicted.

WHEN CISSIE SWIMS.

[Punch.]
When Cissie swims, by strict command,
She doesn't venture far from land.
But shows her skill where all may view
Beyond the waves a yard or two;
And, oh, her trudgeon stroke is grand.
Up swings her gleaming arm and hand,
One snowy white, the other tanned,
And water-wings are quite taboo
When Cissie swims.Her course no current can withstand,
Yet, all the time, she keeps her hand.
While now and then above the blue
A little foot appears, and who Would guess the other's on the sand
When Cissie swims?

CIVILIZATION.

[Boston Herald.]
A commotion was caused in the Boulvard Haussmann the other day when one of the best known women in Paris got out of an elegant motor car leading by a silver chain a tiny poodle dressed in the height of fashion. The dog was wearing a pigskin collar adorned with gold coins,
and a little fur coat with a sash pocket
from which peeped a small lace handkerchief, while its little feet were protected from the damp by india-rubber shoes. In the poodle's ears were two pairs of diamond earrings, one pair in each ear, the ears being pierced at the base and at the tip. The feelings of this dainty pet were doubtfully repressed. He appeared absolutely indifferent to the excited glances bestowed upon him and his mistress.

HOW HURON LOOKS.

[Goderich Signal.]
The gerrymander of Huron County reported from Toronto this week is nothing short of an outrage upon the people of this county. A dishonest attempt is being made by the Conservative party to frustrate the will of the electors of Huron
by so dividing the county as to secure a majority of seats from a minority of the votes, and to carry out this design the principles that should govern in the making of constituencies have been violated in the most barefaced manner.
The shape of the new North Huron reminds one of those Dachshund dogs, half
a dog and a pig, and a half long.
South Huron resembles a top boot.
Center Huron doesn't look like anything
at all on earth.

LORD CRQMER.

[M. A. P.]
Lord Cromer's great book on Egypt has been much praised by the critics not only for the substance, but for the admirable
literary form in which it is presented.
As a matter of fact, however, he has always known how to write, and he has shown in his masterly annual reports. It is not generally known that, although he never went to a university, and had the severely practical education of an army officer, Lord Cromer is an ardent devotee
of the muse. Some years ago he published a volume of poems, and has since been the recipient of many literary criticisms. Here may be quoted the witty epigram that was circulated at a farewell dinner given to him in India, when he was Major Evelyn Baring, and was going to Egypt:"The Egyptians some patience have shown.
But how our Evelyn Baring is such,
They will live to own
There is evil in bearing too much!"Lord Cromer is a great reader. He knows the Bible practically by heart, and does not disdain good modern fiction,
though he has been known to take a modern novel of the wrong sort with the tongs and place it firmly on the fire.

LAURIER'S SALARY.

[Stratford Beacon.]
We cannot help wondering if the services of the chairman of the railway commission are of greater value to the country than those of the Premier. He does not get $15,000 for guiding the ship of state through all the intricate windings
of his tortuous course. Magnates of the commercial world may get such salaries,
but the Premier of our Dominion, the most conspicuous figure in our country, has to take a second place when the question of salary is considered. It is humiliating to Canada, and should be remedied.

BRITAIN'S SUNDAY.

[Montreal Star.]
Mr. W. T. Stead contributes an article
to the International Review on "Sunday Observance in England," in which he points out in his vivid way what a boon
the Sabbath of Rest is to the working man. "Whatever may be said about the English Sunday," he says, "it has for centuries succeeded in securing for mankind in the United Kingdom this day of rest, religion and festival." After giving instances that the people of the continent
are endeavoring to secure "by belated legislation" some of the advantages of the Sabbath rest, he concludes: "The secular mind of the continent is slowly waking up to the fact that the English Sunday has been a Magna Charta of Labor, securing
to the overworked toilers an inalienable
right to at least a few hours of the mortal existence. Six days shall toil labor and do all thy work. But your Sunday is your own. It is a day of rest, and the laws of Ina, King of the West Saxons,
it is solemnly enacted that a self who was compelled to work on Sunday became there and then a free man. Sunday was the slave's free day, and so great was the magic of its spell that his lord could only work him on that day on penalty of losing his slave."

Isolation Hospital Plans Considered
Matter Is Once Again PostponedDifferent Opinions Expressed as
To the Merits of the Drawings.The new plans for the Isolation
hospital were placed before a joint meeting of the special hospital committee and the hospital trust, last evening. The trust wanted more time to look the plans over, as the members had not seen them until the meeting. As a result the drawings were given to the trust, who will report at the meeting to be held Monday.The committee thought the plans were all right and would meet the needs of the city. The hospital trust,
as well as the board of health, thought that the hospital was too small, and that accommodation should be provided for sixty beds, at least, instead
of forty, as in the present plans.

Too Elaborate.

"The difficulty is this," said ex-Mayor Judd. "The other plans were too elaborate; the committee has gone
to the other extreme, and made them too small. The council has $50,000 to spend, and the hospital must be built within that limit. The plans shown are very good, but they do not provide room enough. The hospital will not accommodate the usual run of cases,
but the accommodation is totally inadequate in case of an epidemic.
These epidemics run in cycles, and we are certain to have one within a year
or so, and we should have accommodation for the patients."

The Isolation.

"I do not like the scheme of isolation," said Chairman Screaton. "The two buildings are completely separated, and as a result two cooks will be required. I think that can be obviated
if the two buildings are brought together. One cook would be sufficient in that case. The hospital is too small—much too small. I think the hospital as designed by Mr. Victor Mitchell could be built for less than $50,000 and would be satisfactory."

Provide for Additions.

Ald. Stewart pointed out that the present plans were designed so that additions could be built as needed.
There was no doubt that the hospital
was sufficiently large for all the present needs, and he could not see the need of enlarging until it had to be enlarged. The hospital trust had asked for complete isolation. The building provided for that. There could be no complete isolation if the buildings were joined together. It was a scientific fact that there was danger
of scarlet fever patients contracting diphtheria unless there was complete isolation.

HAND TERRIBLY MANGLED.

Doctor Withdrew his Remedies
in favor of Zam-Buk.Mr. Ab. Wheeler, Marine and Stationary Engineer, of 145 Front St., Belleville, Ont., says: "Two months ago, while employed in a steam laundry in this city, my left hand became caught and was accidentally drawn into a hot mangle.
As soon as possible the machinery was stopped and my hand was extricated, but not before the flesh on the palm of the hand was literally cooked to the bone and the fingers flattened and of shape. However, quite soon after the accident my hand and arm became frightfully swollen to the elbow and the hand presented a shocking sight. No one can imagine what I now suffered and endured. Not only was it hard to bear on account of the cruel pain, but it was a great to my nervous system. It was some time after the injury before the cooked flesh could be removed from the palm and then only a very little at a time. As soon as all this had been well removed, the Doctor for Zam-Buk to be used exclusively, as several of my men friends (having previously used it for severe injuries) spoke in the highest terms of its unusual healing qualities and urged me to give it a trial. From the commencement Zam-Buk soothed and relieved the pains and drew out the sores. I now began to enjoy good nights rest and sleep. In about three weeks the palm of my hand was nicely healed over thro' daily

"SPRING FEVER"

The need of a spring medicine seems to be universal. This is due to the fact that during the winter the blood becomes impure on account of the hearty food eaten. This causes that tired, weary, all-gone, don't-care-to-work feeling, which is so prevalent at this time of year.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERSThat Tired Feeling.

Mr. F. H. Leard, Saskatoon, Sask., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood builder and think it an excellent remedy. Everyone should take it in the spring to cure that tired feeling that comes to so many at this time of year."

Uses It Every Spring.

Mr. H. Langley, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring tonic, and I find it the best thing I can take. It builds me right up and I use it every spring. It is excellent for the blood."

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

PULLS SO HARD ON THE STOMACH IT MUST HAVE HELP.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country makes stomach troubles. Five people suffer today where one did ten years ago with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of three in London and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

So reliable is Mi-o-na that W. T. Strong, with every 50 cent box he sells, gives a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

FOR A MILLION OF MONEY

BY ARTHUR W. MARCHMONT
Author of "By Right of Sword," "When I Was Czar," etc., etc.
Copyrighted, 1908.

"Now, my dearest, I can't stay more than a few minutes, and you must just let me tell you all I can cram in to the time without interrupting to ask any questions or scold or anything. First, you are cleared about that robbery of the papers. Merridew was mixed up in it, and he brought them here; I found them, and Mr. Casement has them. But for a time you must not do anything. Those arrests in London—that of the girl you recognized among the others—were my doing; I can't stop to tell you how I found out everything, but Mr. Casement will tell you now." And in the same brief manner she told him of Merridew's conduct; that he believed he had murdered her; and that after her escape she had come to Silver-bach as a servant, but really as a spy.

He listened breathless with interest, astonishment and rage; and at first was for going straight back to the Manor to have it out with Merridew. But Olive declared that this would ruin everything, and in the end he calmed him, and succeeded in winning him round to promise that he would do nothing to interfere with her plans. He was hard to convince but her quiet, firm insistence prevailed in the end.

No one had a suspicion that she was other than just the Irish girl, she told him; and the fact that even he himself had been mistaken was the proof that she was in no danger. Besides, both he and Mr. Casement now knew where she was; and even if she were discovered by Merridew, they would be able to come to her help.

This was the argument which won him round; and when they parted he had promised her faithfully that no act of his should betray the fact that he knew her to be even alive.

"But why couldn't you have told me that?" he asked. "It has been a terrible time."

"Because I could not warn you against Mrs. Taunton, Jack. She would have guessed your secret in a moment, even if you had not told her."

"By Jove! I never thought of that. Of course, I've seen her often and have spoken freely of it all."

"Don't see her again. She'll notice the difference instantly. You had better not go back to London."

"What a devil of a woman! I won't go near her again," he said quickly. "Yes, but you must have an excuse, or she'll suspect. Talk it over with Mr. Casement."

"He's deep, too. Never let on a word about you. Even told me there were a couple of letters for you, and asked what I thought he had better do with them."

"They may be from Selma Hammond, Jack. Tell him to open them, and let her see the girl somewhere within reach. She may be necessary. And now, dearest, I must go, or I shall be missed."

It took some minutes before Jack could tear himself away, and then he got in unseen to the house, hoping to get in unseen.

But Dawleigh's jealousy had been roused. He had caught a glimpse of Olive in the drive; and just as she slipped into a side door he met her, wanted to know where she had been, and then he saw that she had been meeting some other man.

Olive let him talk as long as he would, in order to see what his suspicions really were, and whether he had an idea that it was Jack whom she had seen. Satisfied on this point, she let him see another side of her character. She first forced a few tears, and then flew into a passion. A flood of angry invective poured in a torrent from her lips, all in her rich, rest brogue; and with a threat that she would never speak to such a spalpeen again, she appeared to break down, and burst into tears as she pushed him on one side and went up to bed.

Eager though she was to learn what the Merridews said to one another about Jack's visit, she did not leave her room again that night. She was too agitated to do any work coolly, and she dared not run any risk.

Catching sight of the present which Dawleigh had brought her from London, she picked up the newspaper in which it had been concealed and was tossing it aside when a heading caught her attention, and she began to read it. It was the report of the discovery of a great forgery; and in writing it up mention was made of other great forgeries, and at the close there was a paragraph about George Purvis with his name in large type at the head.

He was to be released at once, on ticket of leave!

In a flash the thought occurred to her to use this to test the effect upon the following morning to clean her mistress's rooms. She went to find the paragraph in the morning paper and arranged it so that it was sure to be read by her, and then observe the result.

She knew Mrs. Merridew's habits so well that it was easy for her to place the paper in a spot where it would be sure to attract her attention; and she was busy sweeping out the adjoining room when the mistress passed through from her bedroom.

"Can't you do your work with less noise?" she asked Olive sharply. "You go about your work like an elephant."

"Sure, I beg your pardon, ma'am. I thought Ol was as silent as St. Peter's Cross, savin' the reference to such a holy man."

"Your broom keeps knocking the skirting and the furniture as if you were beating a tattoo all round the room. You'll do no end of damage in that way. You must be more careful if you want to stay here. Mind that."

"It's that sorry I am, ye'll not know there's a mouse in the room, ma'am, for the future; but I was hurrying to get done before you should be up, ma'am."

"Well, don't make such a clatter. A well trained servant doesn't need to make a quarter of the noise over her work." And with that she passed on into her sitting-room and shut the door.

Olive went on with her work very quietly and then followed. "Will I be cleanin' the bedroom at onst, ma'am?" she asked, very humbly; "or will I finish what I'm at first?"

"I don't arrange your work, girl. Do what Mrs. Cooper has told you." She had the paper in her hand and spoke very sharply, annoyed by the interruption.

"Sure, Mrs. Cooper told me to ask ye, ma'am."

"Oh, go away, and don't bother me about it. Finish what you're doing first—anything. I'm surprised you should be told to ask me such questions."

Olive withdrew, carefully leaving the door slightly ajar and made a pretense of sweeping, while she listened eagerly.

She heard a quick rustle of the paper, then an exclamation of concern, followed almost directly by a low cry.

She opened the door and peeped in. "Did ye call me, ma'am? Sure, ye're ill," she cried, and crossed to Mrs. Merridew, who was lying with her head on her arms stretched out on the writing table where Olive had put the paper.

She looked up as Olive approached, and her face was gray and drawn with fear.

"I'm feeling faint," she murmured. "Oh, God!"

Olive ran through into the bedroom and fetched some eau-de-cologne. With this she bathed Mrs. Merridew's forehead and temples, uttering many little exclamations of concern and offers to call for help, and in this way restored her just as she was on the verge of unconsciousness.

"Tell Mrs. Merridew I must see him at once," said Mrs. Merridew, as soon as she had recovered sufficiently to speak. "You're a good girl. Tell him at once."

Olive ran to Merridew's room and told him the mistress was "ill, like

ACCOMMODATION WANTED

don was provided for 40 patients all told. He thought 60 was the least possible number.

Declares It Inadequate.

"If there are not more beds than 60 provided we might as well stay as we are," declared Chairman Niven. "The trouble was that we were trying to build an $80,000 hospital on a $50,000 grant," answered Mayor Stevely. "The other hospital was good, but we could not afford it."

Mr. Chas Taylor then moved that a resolution be sent to the council stating that in the opinion of the board of health an isolation hospital accommodating less than 60 patients would be a serious mistake.

This motion was seconded by Mr. R. A. Carrothers, and carried.

Smoke Nuisance.

Mr. J. H. McMechan brought up the question of the smoke nuisance, and suggested that something be done to prevent it. The amount of smoke in the city was rapidly increasing, and would shortly result in a serious condition. Other cities had taken action on this matter, and it was time London was doing something.

Mr. Charles Taylor thought the idea a good one, but declared that this was not an opportune time to discuss the question.

Mr. Harry Clarke also thought that there were many matters of much importance to be disposed of. London had been losing manufacturers instead of getting them, and he would not care to do anything at present to make it unpleasant for the manufacturers.

As the majority of the board were opposed to further action on this matter at the present, the question was dropped.

Those present were Dr. Niven, chairman, Messrs. Chas. Taylor, Wm. Skinner, J. H. McMechan, Harry Clarke, R. A. Carrothers, Inspector McCallum, Medical Health Officer Hutchinson, Dr. Tamin and acting secretary, Miss Nora Toll.

OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

the treatment of mumps and measles; and isolation for erysipelas and all septic diseases.

He also thought that a better equipped pathological department was necessary.

The administration building needed remodeling.

"The report is very encouraging," said Chairman Sreaton. "As regards the pathological department, if the hygienic institute is erected near the hospital, that recommendation will be unnecessary. If it is taken away, a better pathological department will have to be built."

Increased Grants.

The report of the trustees, Messrs. Harris and Jackson, who went to Toronto to interview the Government regarding increased grants for patients, was received. They stated that they were well received by Hon. Mr. Hanna, and that the request of the deputation, which was a very large and influential one, was given due consideration. It was expected that an extra grant of probably 30 cents per day would be received from the Government. It would probably appear in the supplementary estimates which have not yet come out.

"Last year we received $4,000 from the Government," said Mr. Sreaton. "If the grant is increased to 30 cents a day it will mean an extra $2,000 for the hospital."

The Resignations.

The resignations of Drs. Russell and McGillicuddy, house surgeons, were received and were accepted. "I think a special meeting of the trust should be called to deal with the appointment of house surgeons," said ex-Mayor Judd. "When that meeting is called, I am going to suggest that the appointment of house surgeons shall date from the first of May, rather than from July 1, as at present. It is impossible to keep house surgeons longer than May, and we might as well face this matter now as at any other time. I will suggest that the appointment be for one year, from May 1 to April 30, and no surgeon will be appointed unless he is willing to stay the year. I might also state that the appointment of Drs. Adams, Owens and Neeley is not permanent, but temporary."

Graduating Exercises.

The graduating exercises for the nurses who will graduate from the Nurses' Training School, will be held on May 20. Mr. Harris and Superintendent Heard were appointed a committee to arrange the details.

A grant of $50 was received from Hiram Walker & Sons, and placed in the general fund. The secretary was instructed to acknowledge the donation.

Superintendent's Report.

The report of Superintendent Heard for the month showed that 139 patients had been received during this time, 36 males, 73 females and 30 children.

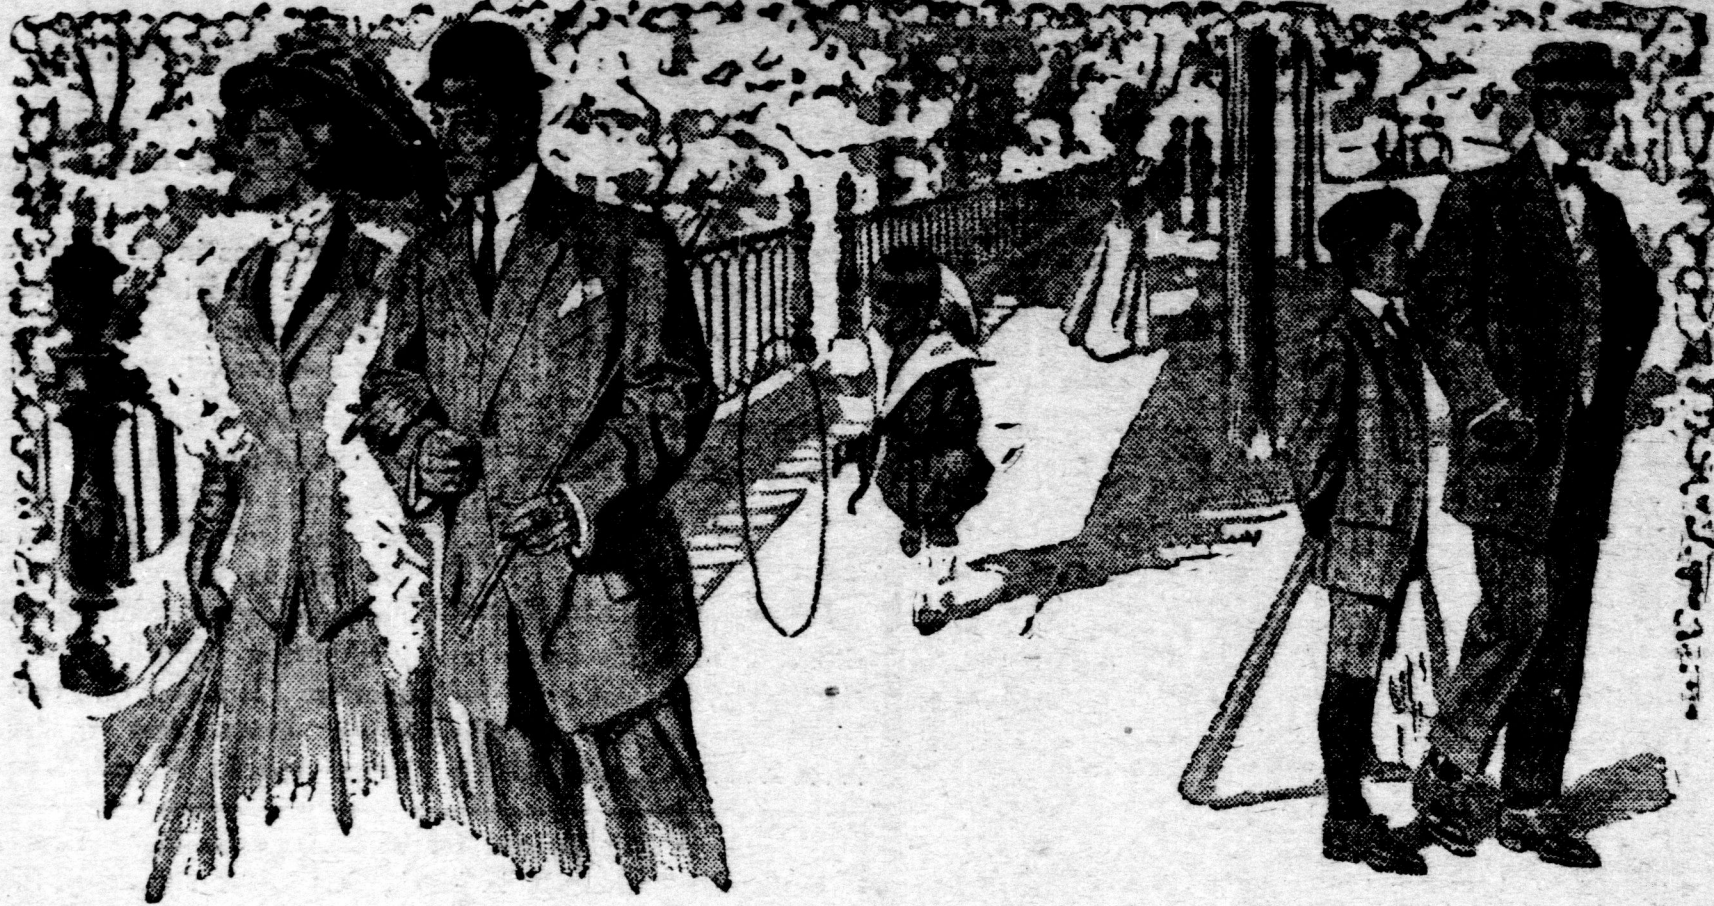

During the same time, 140 patients had been discharged, 45 males, 53 females and 36 children.

The total number of patients receiving treatment is 120 at present. Those present were Chairman Sreaton, Geo. B. Harris, R. W. Jackson, J. C. Judd, Mayor Stevely and Superintendent Heard.

DETROIT DEPORTS

Getting Rid of the Alien Women of the Underworld.

Detroit, Mich., April 14.—The police acting for the local immigration office, last night arrested four women of the Tenderloin district on the ground that they are aliens brought into this country for immoral purposes. Warrants are out for eight more of the same class, and the police are looking for them. The twelve are known to have come from Canada within the past three years.

Following the investigation of Detroit maternity hospitals two months ago by the local immigration officials and the deporting of several of the alien inmates, and the warning to the proprietors that no more alien patients must be admitted, the department turned its attention to the underworld, with the result that it has been learned that nearly 10 per cent of the female outcasts of the city are aliens. A crusade has been begun to deport all of these women, the new law making it possible to deport any person found to be undesirable within three years of his or her arrival in the country.

Three Men Suicided in New York Hotels Yesterday.

New York, April 14.—Three men killed themselves in New York hotels today. F. Dennison shot himself in the head and died in his room in the Hotel Albert. Joseph Christopher, a cigar salesman, who had been ill with consumption, shot himself in his room at the Hotel Albany. The third suicide was Charles Fisher, who was found dead in his room in Mills Hotel, No. 2. He had shot himself through the head.

It was learned that Dennison's home was in Bradford, England. He left a note in which he said he had suffered severely from insomnia.

Thomas F. Porter, the poet mayor of Lynn, Mass., has written a poem in praise of the muddy streets. The burden of his lay is that the mud gives the tailors, the bootblacks and the laundries work.

SHE PATIENTLY BORE DISGRACE

A Sad letter from a lady whose Husband was Dissipated.

How She Cured Him with a Secret Remedy.

"I had for years patiently borne the disgrace, suffering, misery and privations due to my husband's drinking habits. Hearing of your marvelous remedy for the cure of drunkenness, which I could give my husband secretly, I decided to try it. I procured a package and mixed it in his food and coffee, and, as the remedy was odorless and tasteless, he did not know what it was that so quickly relieved his craving for liquor. He soon began to pick up flesh, his appetite for solid food returned, he stuck to his work regularly, and we now have a happy home. After he was completely cured I told him what I had done, when he acknowledged that it had been his saving, as he had not the resolution to break off of his own accord. I hereby advise all women afflicted as I was to give your remedy a trial." 98

Egg Almost Struck the City Engineer

A colony of pigeons have taken up their abode over the cornice of the city hall. They have already begun nesting, and thereby hangs a tale. On Tuesday several of the pigeons were enjoying a pleasant scrap when one of them kicked an egg over the edge of the cornice. It fell directly in front of City Engineer Graydon and caused that much-worried city official a bad half hour.

Catholic Foresters Plan Demonstration

The Catholic Foresters of the Ontario jurisdiction are planning a huge demonstration in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of founding of the order. Representatives of all the Toronto courts met at the English Chop House King street west, Toronto, and discussed arrangements. L. V. McBrady, K. C., provincial chief ranger, was elected honorary chairman; Joseph Cadaret, acting chairman, and J. P. Mallon secretary. In addition several committees were appointed to look after the various arrangements.

Mr. Douglass Wins in Damage Suit

The Simpson vs. Douglass damage action, which has been holding fire for some time in St. Thomas, was completed at the assizes there yesterday before Mr. Justice Magee, with a verdict for the defendant. When the case came up for trial, the railroads were not named as co-defendants, and it was reported that a settlement had been arrived at in some manner between the parties. At the trial evidence was given which showed that two days before the trial the plaintiff had been offered by one of the railroads the sum of $400, and that the offer had been refused. The action against Mr. Douglass was based on the grounds that the road in question was a private one, and therefore, should have been kept in repair by Mr. Douglass. Judge Magee, however, held that the road was a public one. In order to avoid the necessity of another trial in case of a successful application for an appeal, his lordship set the proper amount of damages at $1,050.

Trust Wants the Hygienic Institute

The hospital trust will oppose the removal of the hygienic institute from the hospital grounds. At the meeting of the hospital trust yesterday afternoon ex-Mayor Judd stated that if the hygienic institute was built upon the Western University grounds, the hospital trust would be compelled to build a new pathological laboratory at Victoria Hospital. Mr. Judd stated to The Advertiser, "but it is too small for the needs of the hospital. If the hygienic institute is placed near the hospital as it should be, we will not be compelled to build a new laboratory. I do not know what a new laboratory will cost, but it will cost considerable, I presume."

Growsome Relics at the Courthouse

Today was a sort of housecleaning day at the courthouse, and as a result many relics of crimes noted in Middlesex and London criminology were brought to light. In the top room of the courthouse among other things were found the axe which was alleged to have killed Joseph Sifton; a model of the home of William Donnelly, whose father, mother, two brothers and a cousin, were murdered in Biddulph in 1860; the black flag which waved over the county jail on the day Marion (Peg-Leg) Brown was hanged for the murder of Policeman Toohy; and the skull of a cat which was also murdered.

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM OF BERNARD & CO.

Office Opened in the Oddfellows' Hall, Dundas Street.

A new real estate, insurance and auctioneer business has been launched in London under the firm name of Bernard & Co., with offices in the Oddfellows' Hall, corner of Dundas street and Park avenue. Mr. William Bernard is the senior partner. He is very well known to Londoners, being one of the largest property-owners in the city, his holdings ranging from some of the finest business property to residential real estate. He has had a long experience in land dealings, and is well qualified to carry on a real estate office.

Associated with him is Mr. George Woodcock, who has been connected with many successful real estate deals in this city. A year ago he placed several new surveys on the market, with resultant good to all concerned. It is announced that within a few days some big bargains in real estate will be placed on the market, notably that exceptionally fine piece of property on Richmond street north which is now occupied by the Springfield Gun Club, and which has been surveyed into city lots.

$5,000 A YEAR FOR THEFTS

"Consignments of fine silk goods are often broken into on the boats before they reach the railroads, the thieves having ample time to remove all traces of their work."

Cars Robbed. "Sealed cars suffer apparently as much as the regular cars, for frequently shipments of goods are refused by the consignees, who upon opening their goods find large portions of them missing."

The Grand Trunk keeps a staff of detectives busily engaged investigating these cases, but the success they meet with is indifferent, and only occasionally are the culprits run to earth.

The recent case in this city, where a bonded car was broken into, and the five cases of whisky stolen, is the first case in which a conviction has been secured in a long time.

Express Companies Losers. "Cases are not infrequent where the express companies are also losers owing to parcels being broken into. This, however, is small in comparison with the loss suffered by the railways, as they have an army of messengers, to check everything that passes through their hands."

All available berths on many steamers are already taken, and many passengers on the waiting list for accommodations. This also applies to return accommodations, and all those who do not reserve now will not be able to get berths returning.

WEEKLY REVIEW
OF THE MARKET

LOCAL MARKET.

Wednesday, April 15.
One load of oats was all that was offered at the market today, which sold at $1.50 per cwt.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

Trade in all lines of farm produce at the markets here the past week was fully up to the average for this time of the year. The prices of hay and oats were lower than last week's quotations, while in the other lines represented there was not much change.

The slump in the prices of oats is attributed to the fact that the dealers have received several carloads, which, it is said, were laid down here at less than $1.50 per cwt.

Grain—Prices of oats have fluctuated considerably, as on Saturday $1.50 to $1.60 was paid, while on Tuesday sales were made at $1.45 to $1.57 per cwt, mostly at $1.50. Wheat, 92c per bushel, Cloverseed, $12 to $13 per bushel.

Hay and Straw—The supply of hay has been large, and sales moderately brisk. Prices, however, were not as high as a week ago. Sales were made at $12 to $14 per ton. As soon as the farmers start to cut, the supply will be firmer, and after the seeding is completed may be lower.

Straw is dull at $7 to $7.50 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—Butter has been offered more freely of late, and prices are easier at 28c to 30c per pound for choice crocks and rolls. Eggs are selling at 15c to 15½c per dozen for crate lots. After Easter the market will be in a more settled condition.

Potatoes—Trade is very good and the supply is sufficient for the demand. Sales are made mostly at 95c a bag.

Apples—There is a slight improvement in the demand. Prices are a shade firmer at $1.75 to $2.50 per barrel, or 50c to 85c bag.

Foultry—Turkeys sell at 17c to 18c per pound for dressed and 15c to 16c alive. Chickens, 10c per pound alive or 12c dressed. Old fowls, 15c per pound alive or 11c dressed.

Dressed Hogs—The advance in the price of live hogs is the cause of the higher prices being paid for dressed hogs. Sales are made at $8.50 to $8.75 per cwt.

Live Hogs—Price paid here last Monday was $6.25 per cwt. About the same figures for next Monday's shipment.

Small pigs sell at $5 to $6 per pair. There is a small number offered.

Butchers' Meat—Good beef is scarce article, and prices are firm, with prospects of higher prices. Sales are made at $6.50 to $8.75 per cwt. Lamb firm at 13c per pound for yearlings by the carcass. Spring lambs, $4 to $5.50 each. Veal sells at $5 to $6 per cwt for what is commonly called deacons, and 33c per cwt for choice.

Maple Syrup—Prices are lower, as most of the sales are made at $1 per gallon; and some is sold at 90c in five to ten gallon lots. The season is pretty nearly at an end for this year.

PRODUCE MARKET.

Toronto, April 15.—Trading today was of a very trivial nature and business is again overcome with stagnation. Under the circumstances millers are still inclined to buy more wheat. Corn is off 1c, owing to the slight reaction in foreign markets. Prices are:

Toronto Star: President McCaffrey, of the baseball team, received a wire from President Taylor, of the Boston Americans, this morning, which reports that the Toronto team will not secure the services of Catchers Donohue or Carrigan for some time at least. Both London and Guelph, of the International League, have written requesting games on open dates. Yesterday Jack Thoney stepped into the limelight at Boston, and his Toronto friends wired him, wishing him all success.

Artistic Recital.

The regular monthly recital of the students of Miss Lotta Francis was given at the Concert at Victoria last night before a considerable number of people. The following took part in the recital: Margaret Purdom, Helen MacGuire, Lillian Purdom, Kathleen Darch, Helen Edy, Dorothy Harvey, Elsie Morrow, Luin Ashplant, Hilda Stuart, Eva Arscott, Marjory Struthers, Muriel Draper, Ethel Finch, Gertrude Rennie, Bruce Turnbull, Edna Smith, James Morrison, Kenneth Somerville and Stuart Draper.

Teachers' Association Lectures.

Tomorrow night Mr. Barnes, of Philadelphia, will give the first lecture of the course arranged by the Froebel Society and the Teachers' Association. During the past three years unusual lecture opportunities have been enjoyed by Londoners through its educational organizations, and this last is likely to prove as brilliant a success as any that have preceded it. The committees have placed the tickets at the course at popular prices. In the larger cities, where the speakers are known and popular, the prices for the same lectures would be three times the price of the London lectures. The subject for tomorrow night is "The Culture Value of Family Life." Dr. Ross will preside at the opening lecture.

CY WARMAN AT GUELPH.

Delivers Address Before Canadian Club on Capital and Labor.

Guelph, April 15.—Mr. Cy Warman, the poet and novelist, addressed the Canadian Club here today, his subject being "Capital and Labor." Mr. Warman deprecated attacks on capital.

He declared he did not agree with Secretary Taft, who regards a gigantic struggle between capital and labor as something inevitable, but believes that the representatives of capital and labor, in the future as in the past, each driving the best bargain possible for the interests he represents, and that the final outcome, in nine cases out of ten, will be shaped and shaded by the silent operation of the inexorable law of supply and demand.

Annual Business Meeting of the Members Held Last Night.

The annual business meeting of the Talbot Street Baptist Church for the year ending March 31, 1908, was held on Tuesday evening, with the pastor, Rev. A. J. Vining in the chair.

The meeting was opened by congregational singing, followed by prayer by Mr. Whitehead.

The chairman, after congratulating the church upon the splendid showing of members, along with their keen and appreciative interest in all branches of the churches activities, as well as declaring his inexpressible pleasure at being able to preside over such a gathering, opened the business proper by calling for the annual reports from the various officers.

Reports were then presented for adoption as follows:

The Reports.
Clerk's report showed an increase in membership of 72, making the total number on the roll 691.

The relief committee's report showed that $66 75 had been spent in assisting those who were in need.

The Ladies' Aid Society had succeeded in raising and expending $375 53.

The Woman's Mission Circle reported that they had raised $236 50, and for the foreign, $152 51, along with $23 65 for Indian missions.

The Young Ladies' Mission Circle, with a membership of 35, and an average attendance of 23, showed their total receipts to be $132 22.

The Mission Band, with an enrollment of 38, raised $33 46.

The B. Y. P. U. reported receipts of $37 36. The Sabbath School during this year raised for all purposes $775 82.

There were 120 names on the cradle roll, 22 of this number having been advanced to the primary class.

In the home department there were 102 members. Four of these joined the main school.

The church treasurer's report was most gratifying.

The total receipts were $8,051.12; disbursements, $8,003.13; cash on hand, $47 84.

The grand total of receipts from all sources was $9,854.18. Of this sum, $1,457.24 was raised for the various missions.

Historic Church Is To Be Replaced

Salem Methodist Church, near Derwent, on the Belmont circuit, which for over half a century has served the congregation as a place of worship, is to be replaced by a new building this season.

The plans designed are for a compact block church, including seating for some 200 people, of about $5,000, and tenders are now being called. The modern square style of church has been adopted, having a substantial, compact appearance. Provision for the Sabbath school will be made in the basement arranged with several class rooms. The old church was erected about 1855 during the pastorate of Rev. Dr. Wm. Savage, widely known as one of the foremost pioneer preachers in Western Ontario, then Upper Canada. Though now very feeble through advanced years, Dr. Savage is still living in Guelph. Former pastors of Salem now stationed on widely separated fields throughout Canada, will rejoice to learn that through the united and self-sacrificing efforts of the people of the community, as well as the aid from former friends living elsewhere, the outlay for the new edifice all complete, being fully provided for, and with satisfactory tenders and favorable weather operations will be commenced at a very early date, a portion of the material being already on the site.

Chairman Screaton Says No Change

There will be no change in the number of house surgeons at Victoria Hospital.

It has been rumored that the physicians of the city would object to the appointment of a head house surgeon, "they charge he interferes with their work."

Tuberculosis Exhibit at the City Hall

Arrangements will be made for the holding of a tuberculosis exhibit in the city hall in the near future.

At the meeting of the special hospital committee last night several communications were read from Dr. Hodgetts, provincial health inspector, in which he said that the exhibit would be brought to London provided that the council made the local arrangements. This would include a hall for the exhibit, a course of lectures on tuberculosis, and electricity for running a stereopticon.

A Good Move.

Mayor Stevely thought that the exhibit was a good one and that it should be brought to London. The cost would be very small, and would not require more than the assistance of a man for a couple of days, and

City Will Insist On Overhead Bridge

Preparations are being made in Brantford for beginning the construction on the Grand Valley Railway, and it is expected that the first sod will be turned early next week.

The bill is still before the railway committee, but the route has been confirmed as far as Woodstock.

The confirmation of the rest of the route will be taken up.

Mayor Stevely and Assistant City Engineer Kirkpatrick will probably attend the meeting of the committee on April 29 to discuss the question.

Sam Latta Now On Newspaper Work

The Prairie News, of Govan, Saskatchewan, one of the brightest of the many new-born publications of the West, is owned and edited by Mr. Samuel J. Latta, formerly principal of Colborne street school, this city. This week's edition says:

The editor and proprietor of Govan's newspaper was born on Colborne street, a little south of Central avenue, London, Ont.—quite a while ago. When he was quite young his father moved to Chislehurst in Perth County, where he established a blacksmith and wood-work business. When Sam J. was about 11, this business was disposed of and the family moved onto a farm in the same county. Here the children were educated—at old Govan, where in the days of Hector Campbell, Jimmie Hartley, Tom Mordie and Bill Robinson.

School Days.
After passing the entrance examination Sam J. attended the Collegiate Institute in St. Marys and Clifton, and then taught school at Wingham and Exeter, after which he took a course in the Collegiate at London, obtaining his professional certificate at the Ottawa Normal School under the late Dr. McCabe. He was principal of the Zurich Public School and clerk of Hay Township for a period of eight or nine years and finally wound up a career of about twenty-three years' teaching as principal of the famous "Old Colborne" of his birthplace, London, Ont. During his whole lifetime he was constantly dabbling in the newspaper business, having been actively engaged in the establishment of four or five newspapers in Ontario. He has some little ability as a sketch artist and some of his cartoons and ad sketches have met with a measure of public approval.

In the West.
In June 1905 he landed in Last Mountain Valley and settled on his homestead. The excellent quality of the district and the great possibilities of the future Hub became apparent, resulting in the establishment of the Prairie News in September, 1907.

The home of the Prairie News is a substantial frame two-story building on Elgin street facing the north. The plant is new and up-to-date, consisting of every appliance for turning out a good quality of commercial work. The policy of the paper is best judged by a perusal of its page. Suffice it to say that this policy is founded upon the profoundest conviction that Govan and Govan's district, now at the top of the list in wheat production and offering supreme inducement to the new settler, is destined to be one of the best, most progressive and up-to-date in the great Canadian West.

bellishments, and in many instances even of appropriate costuming, the action was stilted, and the players seemed merely to chant with a monotonous articulation, whatever dialogue was contained in the text. This method, no doubt, served the purpose of the time, but it would now serve only as a reminder of the methods pertaining to the dramatic days, and would simply be appreciated as such, "Parsifal," on the contrary, while still being a "mystery" play, is redolent with life and color, natural and spirited in action.

Reserved seat for subscribers for Leslie Harris opens tomorrow at Nordheimer's, and on Saturday to the general public.

"Red Feather" Tomorrow.
In the DeKoven, Klein and Cook opera, "Red Feather," which comes to the Grand tomorrow night, we are promised that in both the music and the attraction is considerably different to recent musical offerings. One great beauty claimed for the DeKoven score is that it is not merely a series of notes placed together in a haphazard fashion to make a song, but is very expressive, containing nerve and spirit, as if the writer were inspired, and not merely a song-making automaton. The principal role, that of Red Feather, falls to Miss Cheridiah Simpson, and in the company of forty people is numbered a large singing chorus, said to be capable of giving sympathetic expression to the score.

"We Are King."
"We Are King," with Edmund Carroll portraying a double role, is said to be rich with delightful comedy, interspersed with strong dramatic situations, a beautiful love story and just enough romance and pathos to please the most critical. The play is by Gordon Kean, and comes to the Grand for two performances on Saturday. The scenes are laid in a small principality in Northern Germany, and the plot hinges on the marvelous resemblance between the king and a literary vagabond.

"Parsifal."
"Parsifal" is rightly and truly called a "mystery" drama, because it illustrates, by means of allegory and symbol, the secret of redeeming love. Yet, although correctly named a "mystery" play for the foregoing reasons, it is in no sense of the word the same as understood by this name as applied to the early "mystery" plays of the Christian church, in those plays, devoid of scenic em-
