

C. W. BENNETT SELLS INTERESTS IN BIG VAUDEVILLE CIRCUIT

Resigns His Position as General Manager of Canadian Houses.

CLARK BROWN HIS SUCCESSOR

Mr. Bennett Will Not Make a Statement in Regard to the Move.

It was announced today that Mr. C. W. Bennett has resigned his position as general manager of the Bennett Theatrical Enterprises, and has disposed of his large financial interests in the company. He will be succeeded by Mr. Clark Brown, at present in charge of the booking offices in New York. Mr. Bennett, who has been appointed assistant general manager, with control of the theatres in Canada. The changes take place at once.

The news of Mr. Bennett's resignation will come as a surprise to the theatrical public of the various Canadian cities and towns where his name has become almost a household word, and also to the theatrical profession the world over, among whom he is well known, and to Londoners in particular on account of his popularity here.

Mr. Bennett was seen by The Advertiser in his office in the Bank of Toronto chambers, and upon being asked regarding the cause of his move stated that it was a personal matter involving a business move, and that he had plans of his own in which the public would not be interested, and these being private, he did not wish to discuss them.

Will Take a Vacation.
Upon being questioned further he would say nothing except that he was going to take a well earned vacation as soon as he could put his own personal business and the company's business in order. As soon as he has completed he will visit his aged mother in the west, and attend a family reunion there, and then continue on to the Seattle Exposition, returning via California. Mr. Bennett may then take a European trip before going ahead with his other plans.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON AND IRISH PICNIC

Offers Twenty Prizes for Non-Winners in the Baby Show.

President E. J. Ryan of the Irish Benevolent Society has received many more offers of prizes for the annual picnic, which is to be held at Port Stanley, Thursday, Aug. 12.

Past President Denis Mason has given a valuable silver cup, which will be presented to the winner of the baby show. A number of prizes have been donated by Dr. Becher for genuine Irish songs at the banquet in the evening, and the band committee has made an arrangement, whereby nothing but Irish music will be played on the grounds during the day.

A letter has been received from Sir Thomas Lipton, an enthusiastic Irishman, offering twenty prizes for non-winners of the baby show, and every baby entered will receive a handsome trophy.

DEATH CAME QUICK TO JOHN COCHRANE

Overcome With Illness, He Dies as He Reaches Hospital.

Death came most unexpectedly shortly after 11 o'clock this morning to John Cochrane, a young man who for some years has made his home with Ald. Fitzgerald. This morning shortly after 10 o'clock Cochrane was attacked by a hemorrhage. The city ambulance was called and he was hurried to Victoria Hospital. On the way he had another hemorrhage, and died just as he was being placed in one of the beds. Cochrane's parents are dead and he had made his home with Ald. Fitzgerald ever since he had been an orphan. He came originally from St. Thomas and was 19 years old. The funeral will probably be held on Friday morning to St. Peter's cemetery.

The deceased was employed by Readright brothers and is survived by his grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Evans, of 5 Henry street, and two sisters, Mary and Maud, also of Henry street.

THORNER TAKEN TO THE ASYLUM

John Thorner, the young English giant who was committed to the asylum the other day, charged with being dangerous to be at large, was transferred to that institution early this morning. He has eaten nothing since his arrest a week ago, and is very weak. He has ceased to be violent and the doctors believe that a few weeks in the institution will be sufficient to effect a cure.

BOY BREAKS AN ARM AND NEARLY DROWNS

Comrades Jump in and Land Him Just in the Nick of Time.

George Stephenson, son of Mrs. I. Stephenson, of 551 Colborne street, had a close call from being drowned while swimming above Dexter's dam last evening. Young Stephenson had just taken a dive when he struck a stone heavily, with the result that his arm was broken. He was dazed by the force of the blow, and was unable to swim for a few minutes, and was being carried down the stream, when some other boys who were with him jumped in, and after considerable difficulty succeeded in locating him and pulling him to a place of safety. He was taken home and Dr. Thompson was called and dressed the broken arm. The boy will be around again all right in a short time.

GREAT CROWD GATHERS TO SEE THAW'S WIFE

May Be Compelled to Tell If Harry Threatened to Kill Her.

White Plains, N. Y., July 14.—The promised reappearance of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw as a witness served to fill the supreme court room here long before the resumption today of the inquiry into Harry K. Thaw's mental condition before Justice Mills. When court opened, the state's attorneys took up the thread of their case which had been interrupted by the testimony of the plaintiffs yesterday, and offered additional testimony along the lines of that given by previous lay witnesses who had expressed their belief in Thaw's insanity. The state's representatives declared today that they had found good legal proof by studying the case over night, to show that the conversation between Thaw and his wife in Matteawan Asylum, in which the state contends he threatened to kill her, was not privileged. Justice Mills ruled yesterday that if this should be shown by the state, he would instruct Mrs. Thaw to answer Deputy Attorney-General Clark's questions in regard to the threat which were blocked yesterday by the objections of Thaw's counsel that the conversation was confidential and privileged.

The district attorney said that Mrs. Thaw would be recalled at the afternoon session. It was said today that Justice Mills would adjourn court this afternoon in order to allow Drs. Flint and Macdonald, the state's alienists, to make a physical examination of Thaw in the White Plains jail.

LITTLE FOXTERRIER MADE THINGS LIVELY

Acted as If Were Mad But 'Twas Only Distemper.

People living in the vicinity of King and Rectory streets are still suffering from a bad fright as the result of a mad dog scare a couple of days ago. A small foxterrier which was following a man along King street quietly, suddenly took a notion to run and yelp, and pedestrians, thinking the animal was mad, beat a hasty retreat. The dog held between the doors while the owner secured a box with an open end.

He arranged a hinged door in the end, and capturing the dog, carried him down the street. Many people were watching the scene, and the dog was mad, but it appears that he was merely suffering from distemper.

CANAL BREAK MENDED.

Port Dalhousie, July 14.—The break in the Welland Canal, caused by the washout at the waste weir of lock 19 Monday morning, was finally repaired at 2 o'clock last night, and the boats started to lock at once. There is a very large fleet in the canal, bound upwards and downwards.

A GALLANT RESCUE FROM AWFUL DEATH

Life of Little One Was in Great Peril, But Friends Were on Hand.

There was an interesting fight in the rear of the store at 115 Dundas street this morning, when a good-sized kitten captured a fledgling sparrow just learning to fly. As soon as the kitten caught the bird the old ones made a terrific attack on it, pecking it furiously about the head and eyes. The kitten was finally forced to relinquish its hold on the little bird and let it fall. It was apparently not badly injured as it flew to a place of safety and the old birds went with it.

A PRIZEFIGHTER FROM TOLEDO WAS DRUGGED AND ROBBED

Frank Earn Found Unconscious Near the C. P. R. Station—He Relates Story of Meeting With a Stranger Who Gave Him Knockout Drops.

What is apparently one of the most daring robberies in this city for some time came to light last night as a result of the finding of Frank Earn, a young prizefighter, beside the railway tracks near the C. P. R. depot. Earn's pockets were turned inside out, and he is plainly suffering from the effects of having been drugged. At the present time he is in Victoria Hospital in a very critical condition, but it is expected that he will recover.

Earn's Story.
According to Earn's story he left home yesterday to go to Montreal to fill an engagement, and met with a young man named George M. Miller. Miller proposed that they get off the train and spend the afternoon in London and (Continued on Page Nine.)

Campbell's uncle, Beverly Ingersoll, was killed at Woodstock in a toboggan accident 25 years ago.

CONTINUOUS FIGHTING AT SHAH'S CAPITAL

Nationalists Cornered in Garden.
Being Shelled by the Cossacks.

Teheran, July 14.—The firing in the streets of Teheran that has been going on more or less consistently since the Nationalist forces made their entry into the capital yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, became more serious at midnight last night, when the Persian Cossacks opened fire on the Nationalists, who at that hour attempted to rush the Cossacks' position from the north and east. The Nationalists succeeded in occupying a garden close to the house of Col. Liakhoff, the military commander of Teheran, where they are now being shelled by the Cossacks.

Rifle and artillery fire has been practically continuous since yesterday morning. Soldiers of the Shah from Sultanabad have approached to within three miles of the city, and are now shelling Bakari-istan, the quarter of the city where the Parliament building is situated. It is reported this morning that the Shah's troops are endeavoring to enter the city by one of the northern gates. Sipahdars and Sadrans, the Nationalist leaders, have transmitted the following message to the British and Russian diplomatic representatives: "In spite of the fact that the Russian flag is flying over the house of Liakhoff, National forces are being fired on by Persian Cossacks stationed under the roof of this house."

Ellis No. man, the son of Mr. John Norman of Ingersoll, is causing his father a good deal of anxiety. Young Norman is of a roving disposition, and on June 28 he started out to see the world. Since then only the vaguest rumors have been received as to his whereabouts. Mrs. Norman is very much upset over the occurrence and the anxiety threatens to endanger her health.

Once before, early in the spring, Young Norman ran away, but was found before he had been away any length of time. When last seen he was wearing a brown coat and light grey trousers, and brown peaked cap. He is of medium height and fair complexion.

GARBAGE SYSTEM FOR ABOUT $30,000

Special Committee Made Report on the Subject to Board of Health.

REPORT SENT TO COUNCIL

Carling's Creek Again to the Fore—Will Have To Be Cleaned by the Board.

At the regular meeting of the board of health held yesterday afternoon the special committee appointed to take up the question of a garbage system reported that in their opinion an incinerator was the best method of disposing of garbage. It was estimated that a suitable system could be installed for $30,000, the charges amounting to $15,000 per annum. The report which was ordered sent to the council, was as follows:

The Report.
London, July 13, 1909.
Your committee on the disposal of the garbage for the city of London begs to submit a large amount of correspondence from different parts of Canada and the United States, and a report of a visit of Mr. Clark and myself to two large American cities. In some cities it is collected by contract and sold for feed to hogs, but in most cases this has proven unsatisfactory and dangerous from a health standpoint.

In all places it is collected and placed on low waste land. This also appears to be very unsatisfactory, and only putting off trouble that will be bound to result in the near future.

Collections Reduced.
Most large American cities have it collected by the municipality, and then turned over to a reduction company, who take it some miles from the city and put it through a reducing process in a plant they establish themselves, at no expense to the city, the company getting their revenue from the results. Grease is the principal source of revenue. In this system the city has only the expense of collection and putting on cars at one contrivance point, the company handling it then for what they make out of it. This is the system now used in Detroit, but it is a very expensive one to handle straight garbage, not ashes or refuse. We have been informed by the reduction company of Detroit, and by other reliable persons that you must have a city of at least 150,000 population before it is worth the cost.

ASLEEP IN HIS BUGGY FIGHTS WHEN ARRESTED

Waxes Jovial in Court Room and Draws a Hot Reprimand
From Magistrate.

Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning while P. C. McCullough was on duty on King street, near Talbot, he was surprised to notice a horse and buggy apparently wound around a telegraph pole. Upon investigating more closely the officer discovered that the buggy had struck the pole and that the horse had turned round so as to cram the buggy closely against it. Sleeping calmly on the seat, and entirely unconscious of his predicament, was James Greese, a young man who has occasionally appeared in court. P. C. McCullough shook him repeatedly, but as Greese was dead to the world, the officer got in and drove to the police station. On the way Greese awakened, and was quite lively when P. C. McCullough tried to get him out. He kicked and fought at a great rate, and finally assistance had to be secured. In the struggle, P. C. McCullough's trousers were badly torn and his knee cut and bruised. In court this morning, Greese said he had been drinking some, but did not think he was very drunk.

There was an amusing scene when he tried to give the court an exhibition of his popularity with the police officers.

"Why," he said, "they often come up and give me a slap on the back just like this," and he gave Sergeant Birrell, who was standing beside him a terrific wallop on the back.

"Take your hands off," said the magistrate sternly. "Don't you dare lay your hands on an officer in this court. You are the most impudent fellow who ever came before me. I have a good notion to charge you with assaulting an officer."

Greese said he had overdone it, and said he was sorry, and would willingly pay the cost of having the trousers repaired, and any other costs. "I will fine you $20, or 21 days," said the court.

WILL TRY AGAIN TO HAVE THE CREEK TILED

Carling Creek Matter Will Once
More Be Before Board of Health.

Another effort will be made to tile Carling Creek by the board of health. For some years this has been one of the pet subjects of that body, but so far it has never got further than the agitation stage.

Whether or not it will amount to anything more remains to be seen. Dr. Niven has kept up a continuous agitation to have this creek tiled, and it is possible that he may succeed on this occasion.

The property owners with the exception of two or three are in favor of the move, and it is likely to succeed. "We should go ahead with the work," said R. A. Carrothers. "His drain should be tiled, and the sooner we take it into our own hands to do so the better."

LOTS FOR SALE TO PAY FOR THE TAXES

A number of lots that were offered for sale to pay for taxes on the 23rd of June and found no purchasers were again put up at auction at 12 o'clock this morning.

The first lot offered was the west end of the north half of lot 26, London Township, known as the Redmond swamp. The lot amounts to 50 acres, and is in arrears $1,428.83. The township reserved the right to bid in this land if it was deemed advisable. The highest open bid was $250. Deputy Reeve Brooks, who acted for the township, bid the land in for the amount of the taxes standing against it.

Lot 84 on Main street, Albia Craig, which has $78.11 standing against it, was sold for $25 to John Mullin, of Albia Craig. Lot 35 and 36, against each of which $21 unpaid taxes were registered, were both sold to John Mullin for $13 and $12.50 respectively.

Lot 67, Glencoe, against which there was $15.56 standing, was sold to Henry Macklin, of this city, for $1, and lot 68 of the same place was also procured by Mr. Macklin for $2.

For Purpose of Talking
Over the Entire Power
Question to Date.

CITY JEALOUS OF HAMILTON

Alleged Special Privileges That Place Is Receiving Worries
the City Fathers of London.

At a meeting of the special power committee held last evening another effort was made to unravel the mysteries of this subject, but nothing was done save to request the secretary to arrange for a meeting with the hydro-electric commission to discuss the whole question from start to finish, in order to find out just where the city stands. An effort will be made to have the commissioners come to London, but failing this the attention will go to Toronto.

Mayor Makes Report.

At the commencement of the meeting Mayor Stevely, reported on his recent visit to Toronto, and his conference with the hydro-electric commission's representatives in that city. The Hamilton contract was discussed while there, and it was learned that the commission could deal with that city regardless of the other municipalities.

The position of Hamilton was only different in that they were not compelled to take all their power from the hydro-electric commission. His worship also pointed out that the contractors for the London transformer station had until May, 1910, to complete their work.

Rather Peculiar.
"It seems to me rather peculiar that the commission can deal with Hamilton regardless of what the other municipalities think," said Ald. Beattie. "That is not according to the contract," he continued.

"A lot of things have happened since the contract was signed," said Mayor Stevely.

"That is correct enough," said Ald. Beattie. "That is where our trouble comes in. The contract explicitly says that the other municipalities must be consulted. How does Mr. Lobb get over that?"

"I wanted Mr. Lobb to come here and explain the whole situation," answered the mayor, "but the suggestion was not received very kindly."

Mr. Lobb's Opinion.
"So far as I can judge, Mr. Lobb's opinion merely forecasts what the commission will do," continued Ald. Beattie. "They might hear complaints but they would act as they thought fit in any case."

"The council of last year asked the Legislature to validate the contracts," said Ald. Fitzgerald. "What have we to do with it?"

"We asked them to validate the contract, but they did not do that," said Ald. Beattie. "They struck out several very important clauses in the contract and then validated that."

"If Hamilton and Brantford had not been in the schedule would we have signed the contract?" asked Ald. Stewart. "That is the question."

"We certainly would not have done so," said Ald. Beattie. "If we had, that if any municipality dropped out, the whole question would come back to the people. That has not been done. We were told to trust the Government, and they go to work and eliminate the clauses of the contract that protect us. We are tired of oral promises. Nothing but a deed in parchment in black and white go after this."

Dealt With Last Year.
"Can we open the question at all in face of the fact that the council voted on it last year?" asked Ald. Fitzgerald.

City Clerk Baker read the proceedings of the council last year when the question of the contract was decided. It is not our duty to differ in year, and we can discuss it to our hearts' content," said Ald. Stewart.

"This is a different year, and the situation is somewhat different," said Mayor Stevely. "There is a lot of information we should get, and I think we could get it in that way."

Objects to Jauht.
"It is a lot of expense, and I think it is due us that the commission come to London," said Ald. Moorhead. "It is not our fault that the work is delayed. I am decidedly of the opinion that the commission should come to London, and explain the matter to us without expense."

Ald. Beattie and Mayor Stevely did not think the commissioners would come to London.

Buffalo, July 14.—Luna Park, a pleasure resort at Main and Jefferson streets, was partially destroyed by fire that broke out early today. Among the buildings burned were the skating rink, the theatre and a number of concession buildings on the east side of the park. Manager McBroome estimates the loss at $50,000, with some insurance.

The grand stand, although scorched, was saved, as were also a number of buildings on the extreme north and south side of the grounds.

C. W. BENNETT SELLS

Pleasant Relations.

Mr. Bennett was very enthusiastic regarding the pleasant relationship existing between himself and his associate directors, and the loyalty of his staff and assistants, including his managers and New York representatives, and the kind treatment he had received generally from the press and the theatre-going public, and said he was glad of an opportunity of expressing his appreciation.

He dwelt upon his early struggles here, and stated that there would always be a soft spot in his heart for "dear old London," as he put it, where he had spent many happy days, and for all the towns in Canada which he had invaded with vaudeville.

Nearly everybody is familiar with Mr. Bennett's rapid and deserving rise in his business, and knows how he started a complete stranger here with the old London Opera House, in a small way, a few years ago, and how he developed his business into one of the largest and best-paying theatrical propositions in America, with theatres running into the aggregate cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars, extending all over Canada. How he became a power among the big theatrical men in the United States, even to such an extent that he participated in all the big meetings of the theatrical magnates held in the United States. No doubt he did his share toward making vaudeville what it is today. On the strength of his personality and strict attention to business he was able to enlist the financial support and assistance of some of the cleverest and most prominent financial men in the Dominion, making the Bennett Company the powerful financial organization it is.

Company Made Money.

It is said that this company is one of the few in America which has made money during the last two years, which, from a theatrical standpoint, have been the worst, so old theatrical men say, in twenty years, for the reason that while "hard times" hit the business as much, if not more, than any other line, the salaries of actors have been going up to unheard-of figures, being even worse off, the managers than the so-called "hard times."

It is admitted among the profession that the big theatrical men in the United States never woke up to the theatrical possibilities in Canada in their true light until Mr. Bennett and his company established their circuit of theatres in the various Canadian cities. Since then it is understood that overtures have been made to the Bennett Theatrical Company by theatrical magnates in the United States to buy the circuit, but they were told, so the rumor goes, "that it was not for sale," but as to this, Mr. Bennett had nothing to say.

Indians Murder A Canadian Family

Montreal, July 12.—A gruesome confession arrived here by the Grand Trunk this morning from the west, bringing details of a tragedy of a particularly revolting nature. Out in Rudolph, South Dakota, lived a family of the name of Christie, formerly of St. Stephens, New Brunswick, a husband, his wife and daughter. Christie pursued the business of a grain buyer, and had frequent dealings with the Indians in the district. Whether through some haggle over the price or other cause is not known, but an attack was organized on the Christie house and the mother and daughter shot dead. The father appears to have put up a fight for his life, but his skull was fractured. He was 57 years of age.

"Bobs" Bill Sidetracked By Lords

London, July 12.—The House of Lords tonight, by a vote of 123 to 103, decided not to proceed with the national service bill, which Lord Roberts introduced in the House yesterday. This bill provides for the compulsory service in the territorial army of all male citizens between the ages of 18 and 30.

Boy Aeronaut Sails Over Gotham

Hackensack, N. J., July 12.—Frank W. Goodale, the boy aeronaut, sailed across the Hudson and around a part of New York today.

In a talk about his trip this evening Goodale remarked: "The first moment the air is still I'll float over to New York again and surprise some people."

Goodale has twice crossed the Hudson River. Once he circled Grant's tomb and the action time he passed down Broadway as far as Eighth street. Not a breath of air stirred when the young aeronaut put his nose out of his tent near the balloon at 8 o'clock this morning and started on his flight. He went straight across the river to New York, then down Broadway until he reached Times Square. He circled the Times building twice, and then went further south to Herald Square, where he turned and made his return.

Head of Coal Company Says It Will Not Meet Representatives of the Union.

Montreal, July 13.—Mr. James Ross, president of the Dominion Coal Company, who is at Glace Bay, wired to Montreal tonight that the company would never meet representatives of the United Mine Workers. This means that the strike will be fought by the company to the bitter end.

Ottawa, July 13.—The department of labor today gave out the following official definition of its attitude:

"The dispute at Glace Bay between certain employees of the Dominion Coal Company, members of a local union of the United Mine Workers of America, and the said company, has already been the subject of Government intervention, by reference under the industrial disputes investigation act, and the report of the board appointed has been given to the public in accordance with the provisions of the act."

BONUS TERM MUST PAY THE SCHOOL TAX

Toronto, July 13.—That no municipality may bonus a manufacturing company by exempting it from the payment of school taxes is the effect of a judgment delivered at Osgoode Hall today.

The action was that of James Pringle, a ratepayer of Stratford, who brought suit to compel the town of Stratford to collect school taxes from the White Packing Company, and the George McLaughlin Furniture Company. According to the judgment the town must collect school taxes from the firms in question in future.

Pringle also wished to have back taxes collected. The judge refused to direct this, but says that Pringle may appeal on that point.

GETTING READY FOR THE BIG GUNS

Preparations at Petawawa for the Annual Training.

Ottawa, July 13.—Major Maunsell, director of engineers' service of the militia department, left for Petawawa on Saturday, where he will be present at the annual training, but more especially to complete the drainage system of the camp. The work on these drains is nearly completed, and Major Maunsell is anxious to have the system working before any of the militia batteries arrive, as an extra precaution against disease in the camp this summer.

THIRTEEN IN HOUSE ELEVEN BOLTS HIT

Sante Fe, Mexico, July 13.—News of a remarkable play of a lightning storm on Sunday has just reached here. During a thunderstorm lightning struck the house of W. E. Rail, a homesteader, and H. N. Rutherford, who with his family was at the Rail house, was killed.

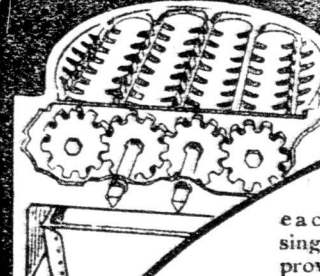

Following this interval of one minute eleven more bolts struck the house, each shocking an occupant, though not fatally. There were thirteen persons in the house at the time of the storm. The last stroke set the house on fire, but the flames were extinguished by Mrs. Hall with buckets of water.

PORTERAGE CHARGES.

Montreal, Que., July 13.—The portage charges levied by steamship companies at the port of Montreal for the first time this year are to be modified. The Canadian Pacific and Dominion Lines have taken the initiative and have issued a circular announcing that all contracts made prior to May 23 will be exempt from the special portage charge of 25 cents per ton, but exemption must be claimed by consignee before July 24. This means that the bulk of the cargoes this summer will escape the portage charge.

GAVE INDIAN BOOZE.

Brandon, July 13.—George Grooms in the police court this morning pleaded guilty to the charge of supplying liquor to Peter Hill, an Indian, and was fined $50. A fine of $25 was imposed on Hill.

Sunshine grates have maximum strength

Sunshine Furnace has four triangular grate bars, each having three distinct sides. In the single-piece and two-piece grate no such-like provision is made for expansion or contraction, and a waste of coal always follows a shaking.

On the left, and right-hand sides are cotter pins, which when loosened permit the grates to slide out. These four grate bars are made of heavy cast iron, and are finished up with building teeth. The teeth will grind up the toughest clinker; and because the grates are made in sections, not only can nothing but dust and ashes pass through, but after each shaking a different side can be presented to the fire. Also, with the Sunshine grate there is no back-breaking movements attached to the shaking. By gently rocking the lever, first on the left and then on the right, the ashes are released on both sides, and fall through into the pan.

CONCERNING FLAGS.

A Toronto contemporary, who has been interesting himself very much with what he considers the defenceless position of Canada, has also taken up the question of flags. He seems many cases of the contempt with which the British flag is treated by the people of the United States, both in their own country and when visiting the Dominion; and he notes with sorrow that Canadians do not seem to concern themselves very much about it.

With regard to most of the cases of lese majeste, where the flag has been suffered—whether it be the Union Jack or the Stars and Stripes—there are usually two sides to these stories. And the conclusion of a dispassionate observer is that there is generally "much cry and little wool." Toronto had a bad one on Dominion Day, when an automobile party from the other side trailed the British flag in the dust.
Later explanations make it appear that some mischievous boys tied the flag in question to the hind axle of the motor, and that the occupants of the machine knew nothing about it. Then we had a story from Port Stanley that a cottager from the States had her flag flying above the Union Jack, which led to more indignation protests. The owner of the cottage explains that the building was decorated profusely with Canadian flags, and that a small edition of the Stars and Stripes floated from the gable, and that she supposed she was doing honor to Canada instead of perpetrating an insult.

Whether or not these explanations be true, there is no doubt that many violations of international flag etiqquette take place without malice—with, indeed, the best of intentions, and these incidents are usually exaggerated by super-sensitive, ultra-patriotic people, who have more patriotism than judgment. There are foolish people on both sides of the line, and as there are probably twelve times as many people in the United States as there are in Canada, it is not unreasonable to estimate that there are twelve times as many fools in the Republic as in the Dominion. There may be more, but we are not egotistical in crediting our neighbors with only their fair proportion.

Let it not be assumed for one moment that we can condone indifference to the flag of one's country. The flag is the country's symbol. Every good citizen should pay it honor and respect. Our neighbors across the line have always done this; and there have always been some among them who have done more. Not content with honoring their flag, they have, when visiting other countries, delighted in flourishing it before everybody in a manner which brings them into contempt. It may be questioned whether it is patriotism with these people, so much as ignorant self-conceit—they are probably thinking more of themselves than of their flag.

Canadians certainly do not err in this respect. While we believe our people are as loyal to the flag and the empire as can possibly be desired, they are not, as a rule, disposed to go into hysterics over it. We are built more on the type of the average Englishman, who never thinks it necessary to indulge in blatant patriotism. He is perfectly satisfied with his country;
if other people are not, it is no concern of his. He does not consider that his flag or his empire need to be "boosted."

Many of our neighbors in the United States do not feel this way. They seem to be afraid that other people will not recognize the greatness of young "Uncle Sam" unless it is being continually dinned into their ears. They will probably get over this when they grow older, and feel a confidence which does not need to be bolstered up by ceaseless "hurrahs."

So far as Canadians are concerned, let us love and honor the old flag. Let our children be trained up in a sane patriotism, which leads to deeds of devotion, and not words of boastfulness.
If some ignorant, discourteous visitors make fools of themselves occasionally, that can do no harm—unless we try to imitate them.

PREMIER DEAKIN'S PROGRAMME.

The programme of the new Australian Ministry, as outlined by Premier Deakin, is generally considered remarkable more for its omissions and compromises than for what it includes. This is attributed to the fact that the constituent elements of the coalition majority are at variance upon almost every issue of federal interest, and that the majority itself does not exceed nine votes.

The chief need of the Commonwealth is immigration. Recognizing that fact, the Government has decided on an active policy, in the carrying out of which it looks for the co-operation of all the states. Following the example long since set by Canada, the Government will appoint a high commissioner in London, with a well-equipped office, to take charge of the financial interests of the Commonwealth, supervise immigration and foster trade and commerce.

Another Government proposal is the establishment of an inter-state commission, which will undertake many of the functions of the British Board of Trade and a federal labor bureau, and assist in supervising the workings of the existing customs tariff in its operations upon the investment of Australian capital and labor, and will advise upon the removal of any inconsistencies and the development of preferential relations within the empire.

The Commonwealth's representative at the Imperial defence conference will consult with the admiralty on the marine defence of the ports and coasts of Australia by the most effective vessels, manned and officered by Australian trained to the standard of the royal navy. In the matter of land defence the Government's policy will be founded on universal training, commencing in youth and continuing towards manhood. A military college, a school of musketry, and probably a primary naval college will be established to train officers, and the counsel of one of the most experienced commanders of the British army will be sought for with regard to the general development and disposition of adult citizen soldiers.

The obligations of the next eighteen months render the question of finances more important than it has been at any time since the federation. Provision will be required for defence and industrial projects. The taking over of lighthouses, the federal capital site, the construction of a railway to Western Australia, and the outlay on post and telegraphs, and especially telephones, will mean unusually large expenditures. The termination of the by-law period of the distribution of customs revenue provided for in the constitution is near at hand, and the Government is preparing a temporary arrangement pending a satisfactory permanent settlement of the financial relations between the Commonwealth and the states.

THE DOMINION LOAN.

[Winnipeg Free Press.]

Some apprehension was felt with regard to the outcome on the London market of the loan just issued by the Dominion Government, Canada's credit has been good and there was never any doubt as to its being otherwise; but no government of any of the dominions of the empire had previously ventured upon so large a loan as that which has been successfully launched by Mr. Fielding. A few days ago cabled information was received to the effect that the loan had been successfully underwritten at a good price, and yesterday the cables announced that the loan had been subscribed for had been very much better than anticipated. That so large a loan has been handled successfully and that Canada's credit remains unimpaired is an incident that will afford satisfaction to Canadians generally.

EVELYN THAW ON STAND AGAIN

Called by State in Husband's Sanity Inquiry.

BIG CROWD TO SEE HER

Attorney-General Endeavors To Bring
Out Fact That Harry Threatened To Kill Her.

White Plains, N. Y., July 13. — Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, as pretty as ever, petulant and school-girlish and dressed in the familiar blue which she affected so much during the trial of her husband, Harry K. Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, was on the stand for more than an hour before Justice Mills in the supreme court here today, subpoenaed by the state in its fight to keep Thaw in the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan. But for the absence of the dainty Eton collar which Mrs. Thaw wore so much during both of the murder trials, she appeared today much the same as she did when Jerome was trying to send Harry Thaw to the electric chair. She is a little more matronly, perhaps, but she showed the same girlishness that won sympathy for her while testifying heretofore, and at times she was petulant to the extent of tears.

And though called by the state in an endeavor to prove Harry Thaw irrational, what Mrs. Clark, the deputy attorney-general drew from her lips today created rather a favorable impression for her husband. She was excused from the stand shortly after 4 o'clock, but was resubpoenaed by the state and probably will appear again tomorrow.

Upon the ultimate outcome of Evelyn Thaw's testimony the state's fight largely rests. Mr. Clark tried hard today to get her to admit that Thaw had threatened her life when she visited him on one occasion after his commitment to Matteawan. But, turning appealingly to the court, she repeatedly refused to answer his questions, and after a clash between counsel, Justice Mills ruled that he would hold the conversation in which the threat was supposed to have been made a confidential one between husband and wife, and therefore privileged until the state presented proof to show that Daniel O'Reilly, the New York lawyer, who was present at the time, was not then acting as counsel for both Mr. and Mrs. Thaw. This Deputy Attorney-General Clark promised to do, and Mrs. Thaw was excused, after identifying a number of papers in her husband's handwriting.

Aside from Mrs. Thaw's appearance, which was the sensation of the day, the testimony was much like that of yesterday, accounts by witnesses called by Thaw's counsel, all of whom attested to his apparent soundness of mind. The eagerness to see Mrs. Thaw was just as intense as when she appeared daily at the criminal courts building. When she left the stand such a crowd followed her that she had to take refuge in the district attorney's office.

Deputy Attorney General Clark asked the witness about a conversation which she had with her husband at Matteawan, soon after he was committed, at which Daniel O'Reilly, one of Thaw's former lawyers, was present.

Mrs. Thaw declined to say whether she had such a conversation, saying: "I had rather not answer that question."

Witness Must Answer.

"Did Harry Thaw make a threat during that conversation that he would kill you?" asked Mr. Clark. Thaw's counsel objected, on the ground that conversation between husband and wife was privileged.

Justice Mills ruled that the witness could answer.

"I don't care to answer that question," said Mrs. Thaw. "I have not claimed any privileges so far as the record will show," added the witness.

The witness declined to answer any of Mr. Clark's questions, and he asked the court to instruct her to answer.

"I cannot afford contempt proceedings now and I must obey," said Mrs. Thaw, turning to Justice Mills.

"Did you have a conversation with Mr. Thaw in regard to your affairs?" Mrs. Thaw was asked.

"We had a talk in regard to a certain thing," said the witness. "I am not saying, though, what that thing was," she added.

"Had Mr. Thaw asked you to do something for him on that day?" "No, sir."

Lawyer Morschauer again objected to Mrs. Thaw's testimony, saying the conversation was confidential.

"But," said Mr. Clark, "the conversation was a thing to kill."

Then, turning to Mrs. Thaw, Mr. Clark asked if the conversation was in regard to something that happened just before the shooting of Mr. White. The witness said it was.

Mr. Clark asked her to describe the appearance of Thaw at the time she had the conversation at Matteawan.

"I met him in the dining-room and we both sat on chairs," said Mrs. Thaw. "The conversation only lasted a few minutes. His hair was mussed and he wore a handkerchief in place of a collar."

"Did his eyes protrude?" asked Mr. Clark.

"Well, I would not say they protruded, but they were very prominent," replied the witness.

"More prominent than usual?" Mr. Clark asked.

"Yes," said Mrs. Thaw.

"During that conversation did Harry K. Thaw say this, or words to this effect to you: 'When I get out of here I will have to kill you?'" asked Mr. Clark.

Thaw's counsel objected to the question, and the witness did not have to answer.

Justice Mills ruled that the conversation between Thaw and his wife was confidential and need not be repeated by the witness.

Mr. Clark argued that the conversation was not confidential, as it contained a threat against the life of one of the parties.

Attorney Winslow argued that the conversation was material as bearing upon the sanity or insanity of Thaw, the real issue before the court.

Mr. Clark asked the privilege of asking the witness some preliminary questions.

"Was the subject of conversation partly in regard to the killing of Stanford White?" asked Mr. Clark.

The witness said it was.

Justice Mills finally said that if the state could show that Daniel O'Reilly was not acting as counsel for Thaw and his wife at the time he was present at the Matteawan conversation he would rule that O'Reilly made a disinterested third party present, which overcomes the legal privilege.

Mr. Clark and Mrs. Thaw identified some papers written by her husband, Mrs. Thaw was excused from the witness stand temporarily and other lay witnesses were called by Thaw's counsel. She was resubpoenaed for tomorrow by the state.

EIGHT-MILE BORE THROUGH ALPS

Details of the Project to Tunnel Mont Blanc.

London, July 13.—The latest details concerning the project of boring a tunnel through Mont Blanc are embodied in a report prepared by the French ministry of public works. The great tunnel would begin at Chamoni, at a height of 3,500 feet above the sea level, and would end at Entreves, at a height of 4,300 feet. Its length would be eight miles.

It is not expected that special difficulties will be encountered in the boring, as the Mont Blanc massif is held to consist of hard granite throughout, and unbearably high temperatures and sudden floodings by subterranean streams, are not looked for. The construction of a double track electric railway would, it is estimated, take five years and cost $10,000,000.

Two new connecting lines, with existing systems would be needed, one at the French end from St. Gervais to Chamoni, and one on the Italian side from Aosta to Entreves. These would cost $3,000,000 each. Electric traction would be indispensable here, as the gradients of these connecting lines vary from 1 in 50 to 1 in 12½. The entire scheme would thus cost roughly $18,000,000, which should be borne equally by France and Italy.

The Mont Blanc direct route would shorten the Paris-Genoa journey by over 30 miles, but its great political importance would be that it would make the British overland mail to India independent of transit through Germany and Switzerland, as at present, and would be directed by the new Franco-Italian route.

CHINESE PRETENDER

Marched on the Provincial Capital,
But Was Easily Routed.

Peking, July 13.—A remarkable story of the tragic fate of a youthful pretender to the dragon throne and a large number of his followers comes through missionary channels from distant Yunnan Province.

Under the influence of Taoist priests a prosperous member of the country gentry named Chu conceived the conviction that he himself was a descendant of the Chus Ming Emperors, and his son, aged twelve years, the rightful occupant of the throne. He rallied the clansmen and his neighbors to the number of upward of two thousand men, variously armed with old guns, bows and spears.

With the pretender at their head this insurgent army marched upon Yunnan Fu, the provincial capital, proclaimed anti-Manchu crusade. Near Yunnan Fu a detachment of the viceroys' modern troops overtook, attacked and routed the insurgents. Several hundred of them are reported killed and wounded.

All the members of the Chu family were promptly slaughtered by the viceroys' orders. The head of the youthful claimant, so lately adorned by the halo of the son of heaven, was, after his execution, paraded through the province in a cage as an exhibit and warning to all questioners of Manchu authority.

MRS. ASTOR JILTS
AN INDIAN PRINCE

Devotion of Oriental Greatly Incensed
Famous Beauty.

London, July 13.—Mrs. John Jacob Astor is deeply incensed, while her friends are highly amazed, at the devotion and admiration which a certain Indian prince displays for her. Her open, indignant rebuffs cannot cool this ducky potentate's ardor, which flamed up the moment the lovely Mrs. Astor arrived in London and he set eyes on her.

The prince by education and experience is nearly as much European as East Indian. He has been spoiled by attentions paid him by Americans and English fashionable persons, whom he in turn has entertained lavishly here and in Paris. Viewing women and their status with an oriental eye, the prince condescends to flirt occasionally, and he cannot understand why he is rebuffed angrily.

Last year an English countess attracted him, and so demonstrative was he that the lady's husband and his friends told him bluntly that if he did not cease attentions they would thrash him within an inch of his life. He left England in high dudgeon, cursing the stupidity of the earl, who, he thought, should have been flattered by his admiration for his wife.

Now the prince haunts the Ritz Hotel, where Mrs. Astor is stopping, and he is told that she is "not at home."

CHEAPER POWER SAYS MR. SIFTON

Electrical Engineer Tells Power Committee Cost Will Be Under the Estimates.

LENGTHY EXPLANATION

Made in Reply to a Question—The Case of Hamilton Goes Into.

At the meeting of the power committee, Engineer Sifton, in reply to a question asked by Ald. Fitzgerald, gave it as his opinion that London would get power for $1 less per horsepower than the estimates of the hydro-electric commission's estimate, $23 50. His reply was typewritten, and was as follows:

I have been asked "What differences exist between the hydro-electric proposition as it now stands, and as it was when the people voted on it, and how such differences affect London?"

In reply I beg to state:

1. The total capital expenditure for the hydro-electric distribution plant as voted on totalled $3,418,677, which was apportioned between the various municipalities.

Hamilton and Brantford do not join in the contract, and their portion of the capital account amounts to $288,426.

The tenders were called for and approximately one-half million dollars was saved on the capital investment, due to the low price of copper and other materials, together with the fact that the commission's engineers had figured to be on the safe side.

Further, Ingersoll and Dundas entered the project, assuming about $150,000 of the capital responsibility, having the final result that about $350,000 more capital is guaranteed by the municipalities than is required.

When this capital is added to the estimated London should receive power cheaper than estimated.

Case of Hamilton.

On account of this difference alone the price of power on 5,000 horsepower distribution in London will be reduced by 80 cents per horsepower, and on a 2,000 horsepower distribution, $1 33 per horsepower.

If Hamilton now comes in they will be required to pay for power on an equitable basis, which will further reduce London's responsibility by 3 per cent at least, and the price of power accordingly, 24 cents per horsepower on 5,000 horsepower distribution, and 40 cents per horsepower on 3,000 horsepower distribution.

From the foregoing considerations only we have actual figures to show that London is over one dollar per horsepower cheaper than when the people voted on the proposition at a maximum estimated cost of $23 50 per horsepower.

Power Factor and Load Factor.

2. When the citizens of London voted on the proposition they had no regard to the engineering advice as regards these two disturbing electrical terms. Since then both Consulting Engineers Kelch and myself have endeavored to expell this magician, who could apparently make the price of power grow two and three fold by merely mentioning the words power factor, load factor.

Date of Delivery of Power.

3. When the citizens voted on the project the commission had contracted for them at their request for power to be delivered Dec. 15, 1909. It cannot be considered in the case of London anything else than very fortunate that the commission has secured a three months' extension, and London will be more fortunate still if further extension of three months could be secured.

4. As regards purchase of the distribution by the London Electric Company, Limited.

Contract for One Year.

London is now prevented from making a contract for more than one year without the vote of the ratepayers. Therefore, the question of distribution can hardly be considered, as I doubt if the company would install the necessary apparatus on a one-year contract.

Then, even if the ratepayers voted for it, it would still be necessary to make the hydro-electric commission a party to the contract. This condition I feel sure could not be accomplished unless the London Electric Company installed approximately $200,000 in new plant, and guaranteed delivery of power at approximately the prices now figured by the city as distributed power costs, as well as assuming the city's liability under the contract which, I think, is out of the question.

The Price of Power.

5. As regards the contention that the people voted on $23 50 power at London, and then signed a contract for $10 power at the Falls, with an estimate of $23 50 for delivered power, I can see no material difference, as it was distinctly understood at all times that the municipalities interested were to bear all the expenses, and the commission and Ontario Government financed the project, which meant their entire reputation at stake.

Another very strong feature which has been scarcely noted is the fact that nearly all the other municipalities have applied for just the amount of their present requirements. There is no doubt but that such places will double their application very shortly after the receipt of power, all of which will tend to reduce London's liability and price for power.

In conclusion, therefore, I can safely say that there is not one difference to deter London at the present time from accepting the entire hydro-electric proposition as compared with its standing at the time the ratepayers voted for some. Yours respectfully,

E. I. SIFTON,
Electrical Engineer.

COVERPOINT JOLTS

The Tigers made a fine win yesterday, and seem to be in their stride again. Eddie Killian was in fine form, and came through with a win in the psychological moment, as we say at the meeting. Adde Joss stopped the fast going Athletics, and saved trouble.

The Pirates are cast in an easy spot at this time and should not do a thing to the Brooklyn. Three out of four from the fast-going Giants is not too bad, and they should keep up this record all along the line.

The Port Huron races are off to a good start, and there seems to be a good entry list of harness horses. They are flitting with the fast-going trotters, but may cause some trouble. They run true to form.

The Cleveland Blues are stepping fast just now, and it may be they will better the Tigers before the end of the season. The race is but half-gone, and Joss and Young are pitching the sort of ball that will put any team in the midst of it. It is to be fighter.

TORONTO RINKS FARED BADLY

Seven Were Beaten in Second Round at Niagara Tournament.

GREENWOOD STILL UP

Rennie's Granites Also in Tight Fit—Greens Still Suffering From Effects of Rain.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., July 13.—The Ontario Bowling Tournament was continued at the Queen's Royal Hotel today. By starting at 9 o'clock, and continuing until about seven in the evening, a large part of the schedule was cleared out of the way. The greens were still suffering from too much rain and play had to be stopped on green 16 on account of the softness of the ground. For the most part the different rinks were well matched, and the contests very interesting.

It was an unlucky day for some of the Toronto rinks in the competition, seven being defeated in the second round, of the trophy contest. R. Greenwood, skip of the Canadas, won a very close game from W. J. Gould's rink of Acton. In the last end Mr. Gould was one up, and Mr. Greenwood made a perfect draw, which gave him two, winning the game by 11 to 10. Another exciting game in the same round was when A. H. Loughhead's rink of New Beach, in the last end, Dr. Edgar was two up, but the New Beach scored four and won two up.

The Balm Beach Club has not done very well, but few came so near winning as did Mr. Van Valkenberg's rink. Rennie's rink of the Granites, at the beginning of the last end Mr. Rennie was six up. He was ahead when Mr. Van Valkenberg trailed the kittle to within a couple of the dead line, lining up six of his own bowls to count and giving him the game seven up.

Two London rinks, those of A. M. Heaman and Charlie Abbott, have fallen in the cup competition. Mr. Shev's quartette are still in it, having won a fine game from R. Greenwood's Canadas four.

Hargraff's Granites, considered one of the strong rinks of the tourney, went down in the second round. The weather is perfect and the play is followed by a large gallery.

TORONTO RINKS FARED BADLY

Seven Were Beaten in Second Round at Niagara Tournament.

GREENWOOD STILL UP

Rennie's Granites Also in Tight Fit—Greens Still Suffering From Effects of Rain.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., July 13.—The Ontario Bowling Tournament was continued at the Queen's Royal Hotel today. By starting at 9 o'clock, and continuing until about seven in the evening, a large part of the schedule was cleared out of the way. The greens were still suffering from too much rain and play had to be stopped on green 16 on account of the softness of the ground. For the most part the different rinks were well matched, and the contests very interesting.

It was an unlucky day for some of the Toronto rinks in the competition, seven being defeated in the second round, of the trophy contest. R. Greenwood, skip of the Canadas, won a very close game from W. J. Gould's rink of Acton. In the last end Mr. Gould was one up, and Mr. Greenwood made a perfect draw, which gave him two, winning the game by 11 to 10. Another exciting game in the same round was when A. H. Loughhead's rink of New Beach, in the last end, Dr. Edgar was two up, but the New Beach scored four and won two up.

The Balm Beach Club has not done very well, but few came so near winning as did Mr. Van Valkenberg's rink. Rennie's rink of the Granites, at the beginning of the last end Mr. Rennie was six up. He was ahead when Mr. Van Valkenberg trailed the kittle to within a couple of the dead line, lining up six of his own bowls to count and giving him the game seven up.

Two London rinks, those of A. M. Heaman and Charlie Abbott, have fallen in the cup competition. Mr. Shev's quartette are still in it, having won a fine game from R. Greenwood's Canadas four.

ANOTHER BUSY MORNING WITH A BOOZE BATCH

Ten New Guests for the Castle Carter From Police Court Today.

Magistrate Love had another very busy morning at the police court today, and as a result of his worshipful decisions some ten gentlemen who displayed a weakness for the fluid that made Milwaukee famous will take the rest cure at Castle Carter.

His worshipful started off by hearing the cases of the five who were enjoying a little tete-a-tete over in the long grass at Tecumseh Park yesterday just after dinner. William McDonald was fined $10 or 21 days, and as he had spent all his money buying refreshments, William decided to take the days. The next man up, Robert Crozier, said he was a stranger here and came over from Stratford on Monday to help the Orangemen celebrate. He continued his celebrations up to the time the police arrived in the park and arrested the bunch. Being a first-timer the court allowed him to go.

William Maher, another of the party was fined $10 or 21 days, and he was unanimous for the days. William Kane was remanded for a week while the court considers what to do with him, and the last of the five, J. Wilson, was fined $5. He was also suffering from a financial stringency and decided to spend 10 days as the guest of Governor Carter.

Leslie's Pipe.

Leslie Jones, the young Indian Hater, who last week told that unless he tells where he got his whiskey he will have to stay in jail for three months, started in to hand the court a pipe story about some man he met giving him a drink.

"You had better think it over for another week," said the court, "and then, maybe, you will tell us the truth."

Thomas Dalley, another drunk, was assessed $3 or seven days.

William Kane, an Indian Hater, who said he got his drink at Port Stanley while he was on a fishing trip, was remanded for a week.

Isaac Stewart was still under the influence of vinous stimulants when he appeared.

"I will remand you for a week to give you a chance to get the whiskey out of your system," said the court.

Battered Bob.

Robert McKee, an Indian Hater, presented an exceedingly battered appearance.

"I believe one of the prisoners assaulted you," said the court. "It served you right anyway for the row you raised at home and I will fine you $10 or 21 days."

McKee wanted time to pay it but didn't get it.

A number of first-timers were allowed to go.

TWO IN A FIGHT OVER A PURP

George McMaster and William Griffiths appeared before Magistrate Love this morning for fighting. McMaster pleaded guilty to the charge, and Griffiths said he was not drunk and was only fighting in self defense.

Sergeant Down said Griffiths was very drunk when arrested and was bleeding profusely. McMaster was also intoxicated, but not nearly as bad as Griffiths. McMaster said the fight started about 10 o'clock and he got away. He told Griffiths the dog did not belong to him, and an argument started.

"I fine you both $2 for being disorderly," said the court.

GEORGE DISCOVERED THAT HE WAS DRUNK

George Smith, who was remanded yesterday morning by Magistrate Love because he didn't know whether he was drunk or not, appeared again this morning, and was fined $5 for being drunk.

P. C. Noonan, who made the arrest, stated that Smith was so drunk he didn't even know his name, and thought the road was the end of the world.

"You would have done much better to have admitted that you were drunk yesterday," said the court. "I will fine you $5 or 10 days."

MILLAN QUILTS AUG. 1

Washington, July 13.—The services of Neal McMillan, a United States consul at Sarnia, will end Aug. 1. A report on the nomination of his successor reached the Senate today. This is the nomination which Senator Smith held up temporarily. The report was made today in his absence, but is understood to have been made with his knowledge.

WINNIPEG'S ARTESIAN WELLS SATISFACTORY

High Pressure System Resulted in a Reduction of 40 Per Cent in Insurance Rates.

Ex-Ald. Robert Wyatt, of Winnipeg, a brother of ex-Ald. Wm. Wyatt, of London, is in this city on a visit. Mr. Wyatt says that the artesian wells give every satisfaction in Winnipeg.

In addition to the wells scheme, Winnipeg has a high-pressure river water plant, which protects the business district. It was installed on the principles laid down by ex-Mayor J. W. L. Laidlaw, his high-pressure scheme here. That is, special legislation was secured and those who were to directly benefit by the scheme were made to pay for it by a special assessment.

As a result of high pressure, Winnipeg businessmen enjoy a lowering in insurance costs of 40 per cent, and a still further reduction in expense.

The water from the wells is used for fire-fighting outside the business district, and the pressure and supply is ample.

OIL ON OVERALLS CAUSED A FIRE

Spontaneous Combustion Responsible for a Small Blaze on the Hamilton Road.

Fire originated in a very peculiar manner in an empty house just east of Maitland street on Hamilton road a couple of days ago. The house is being painted, and at noon one of the workmen took off his overalls and threw them in the window, which was open, and closed the shutters. The overalls remained on the inside part of the window ledge, and some people going by a short time afterwards were surprised to see smoke coming out of the window in large quantities. On investigating they found that the shutter and part of the ledge was on fire. The blaze was soon extinguished, and the only way in which its origin can be accounted for is from spontaneous combustion resulting from the oily overalls. Had the fire happened at night the results might have been much more serious. It is a new shutter will be required.

TENDERS ACCEPTED FOR TRANSFORMER STATION

Premier Whitney and the Hon. Adam Beck in Conference.

The hydro-electric power commission has, after conference with the Ontario Government, accepted tenders for the erection of the transformer stations at Niagara and Dundas. The engineers are now engaged in working out the details, and as soon as the contracts are made an official announcement will be made.

"Most satisfactory," was Hon. Adam Beck's chief comment on the tenders, after a lengthy conference with Sir James Whitney yesterday. "All I can say at present is that the tenders accepted are considerably below the estimate of the commission."

That work will be commenced forthwith is assured by a clause in the contract under which the tenders bind themselves under penalty to have the stations absolutely completed by the 1st of December next. The buildings will be a material improvement on the original plans. They will be fireproof throughout and constructed of iron and brick-concrete.

Today, Hon. Mr. Beck, the chairman of the commission, the commission engineers, and Consulting Engineer Ross, of Montreal, leave on an important tour of inspection over the right of way of the whole line. They will also inspect all the transformer station sites and visit the rolling mills at Welland, where the steel is being rolled, and the Canada Bridge Company's works at Windsor, where the towers are being constructed. The purpose of the tour is to enable the commission to furnish the public who are interested with a full official report of the progress of the work, and the probable date of its completion.

TORONTO MAN KILLED BY TRAMPS

Was Guarding Freight Train on the Lake Shore Railway.

Laporte, Ind., July 13. — Chas. F. Silversides, a Lake Shore detective, was killed near Otis last night. He was guarding several loads of copper on a fast eastbound freight, and it is believed that he encountered and thrown beneath a train. He was 26 years old. His mother lives in Toronto. The rail was smeared with blood for a distance of 120 feet, and a pistol was found where the blood marks began.

Mr. Silversides' widowed mother lives at 300 Major street, Toronto, with her son-in-law, Mr. C. C. Rutherford, druggist, where the murdered man lived until about two years ago. Mr. Rutherford yesterday received telegrams from Chicago notifying him of the death of his brother-in-law, and he sent word to have the body shipped to Toronto for burial. The victim was the son of the late Capt. Silversides, and while living in Toronto worked for Lyman Bros., and later was a traveller for the firm of J. Stephens & Sons. Two years ago he was appointed a detective on the Lake Shore Railway, since when he has not been in Toronto. His mother and Mrs. Rutherford are spending the summer at Beaverton, and the young man had made all arrangements to visit them shortly. In fact, Mrs. Silversides yesterday told Mr. Rutherford, at Beaverton, to send her son's mail to that place, as she expected him to arrive there at almost any time. Mr. Rutherford will go to Beaverton this morning and break the news to Mrs. Silversides, who is a very frail woman. W. J. Silversides, who was a clerk in Chubb's cigar store for some time, and is now in Yellowstone Park, is a brother of the murdered man.

Master Boyd DeWolfe is spending his holidays at Fisher's Glen, with the Y. M. C. A. boys' camp.

GARBAGE SYSTEM FOR $30,000

fore it would pay a reducing company to handle it. There would not be enough garbage to make the cash returns sufficiently large enough, and as London would not be that size for some years the reducing system is out of the question, except at a great expense.

Garbage Destruction.

Your committee think that after all the information we have had from all quarters, the best and most satisfactory system would be total destruction. That is, to establish a crematory or incinerator, and burn it. The estimated cost for such would be, say, Fifty-ton plant, for we think that if not now, in a year or two we will need one that size to destroy 50 tons of garbage, ashes, refuse of all kinds, every day, except Sunday, the plant to be put up by a first-class company, would cost about $15,000; fire brick building and a stock to hold the above plant, built by the city, about $10,000, making a total of $25,000. The plant should be established in some convenient spot near the city, to lessen the expense.

Done by Municipality.

The collection, we are told, is much more satisfactorily done by the municipality, and would also cost a large sum per year. There would have to be two collections in the centre of the city, and one in the residential parts, and about twenty wagons would be required to collect the garbage. The incinerator we recommend burns everything, and requires no fuel except the garbage. The cost of suitable wagons and horses would be about $5,000, making the total cost to establish a first-class plant about $30,000, and the cost to maintain per year, if we collected and destroyed about 40 tons per day for the first year or two, according to the length of the haul, at $1.25 per ton per day, the cost would be about $15,000 per year to cover all expenses.

A large amount of power may be produced from the above plant, and if any factory or establishment be in close vicinity to the same, the return from that source would be quite an item in reducing the annual expense.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN GRAHAM.

Carling's Creek.

Carling's Creek was again to the fore, and another effort will be made to tie it.

The discussion was precipitated by the board of works refusing to clean out that portion east of Adelaide street.

"We will have to clean it out in any event," said Dr. Niven. "The board of works could do it easily enough, as they have all the necessary machinery. I would like to see it tied and I think we had better make another effort to have this done."

The other members of the board were of this opinion, and the question was referred to the city engineers and Inspector McCallum to work out.

Langarth Street.

Mr. Chas. Quick, of Briscoe street, complained of sewage at the rear of his place.

"This comes from Langarth street," explained Dr. Hutchinson. "I have summoned five residents of the street and expect to abate the nuisance immediately."

Smallpox Accounts.

Mr. R. A. Carrothers started a discussion regarding the collection of the accounts for maintenance in the smallpox hospital. He was informed that the council had refused to collect them. He also opposed the proposition of Dr. Niven to erect a tent on the smallpox hospital grounds to store the furnishings of the smallpox hospital, and the appointment of a man to watch them, while the hospital is being rebuilt.

"We have to be prepared for an outbreak of smallpox," explained Dr. Niven. "The hospital must be rebuilt at once, and unless we are ready to take care of all patients, we are liable to get into trouble. It is necessary to have a man watch the hospital, and we have $1,000 worth down there, and it would be stolen."

"I think it an unnecessary expenditure," said Mr. Carrothers. "It is never, if you think it is needed go ahead."

It will be done.

Dr. Hodgkins was asking for the plans of the proposed waterworks extension.

Brantford, Ont., July 13. — Joseph Bowes, a prominent citizen and chairman of the board of health, was today committed for trial on a charge of attempted assault on Nellie Osborne, a 7-year-old girl of this city. The alleged assault took place last Thursday morning, when the girl says she went out for a drive with Bowes in his wagon. After the case for the crown had been presented, the magistrate committed Bowes for trial by a higher court, renewing his bail at $1,000. Bowes is 70 years of age.

Ottawa, Ont., July 13. — For raising a one-dollar bill to the denomination of $5, D. C. Cameron, a young man, who came in from Avonmore yesterday to attend the Orange celebration, was sentenced to a month in jail by Magistrate O'Keefe this morning. He passed the raised bank note at a livery stable. Only his youth prevented a heavy sentence.

ONLY HAY OFFERED
ON LOCAL MARKET

Wednesday Was Sort of Off Day
—The Quotation on the Square.

The local market was almost a minus quantity this morning, a few loads of hay being the only objects to break the calm repose of the market square. In all about a dozen loads of hay were offered. The old hay brought from $11 to $12, largely at the latter price for good quality, as the demand was strong. New hay, too, was selling better than it has done in the past, going as high as $10, and as low as $8.

Though the buyers waited around anxiously all morning, not a load of oats made its appearance.

There will be a good market for both commodities tomorrow, as the supply lately has not nearly met the demand.

There were very few berries and cherries offered by wholesale dealers this morning, but there was little change in the price.

LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO.

Toronto, July 13.—There was a light run at the city cattle market today, and trade in the butcher class was steady and unchanged at last week's level. The decline in the quality of grass cattle, however, is still marked and prices for the poorer stuff in this class are easily off 70c from recent levels. With the heavy buying of last week most of the whole sale butchers are well supplied, considering that with the warmer weather they must carry smaller stocks. Choice butchers, however, are still selling firm, anywhere from $5.50 to $5.85.

The stocker trade is still comparatively inactive, but with the recent rains and better pasturage a revival in this trade is looked for.

Exporters—As expected, the demand for export cattle this week is not nearly so active as a week ago, for the reason that cattle have to be held over for a week or perhaps longer for freight space. Prices for export cattle are on the account of about 20c.

Today's run was 60 cars, with 820 head of cattle, 527 sheep and lambs, 200 hogs and 22 calves.

Sheep—Lambs—Market steady at last declines, ewes slightly firmer.

Exporters—Market steady; extra choice heavy well-finished cattle, $5.50 to $5.85; medium, $5.50 to $5.85.

Butchers—Steady demand for choice butcher cattle and prices steady to firm; medium and common cattle easier and lower.

Stockers and Feeders—Demand for good stock; market steady.

Calves—Market steady for good butcher calves.

Milk Cows and Springers—Good market for good quality milkers and near springers, but common not wanted.

Feeders are wanted and are firm around $5, and offerings still light.

Choice butcher cattle steady to easier, around $5.50 to $5.85 for picked extra choice butchers and ewes; the ordinary run of fair to good butchers are easier around $4.50 to $4.80; common to inferior stock butchers, $3.50 to $4.00.

Hogs—Market unchanged at $7.75 to $7.90, f. o. b., and $8 to $8.15 fed and watered.

POLICE OFFICER WAS VERY DRUNK

An Indian Constable Accumulated Too Much Fire Water Yesterday.

It is not often that an officer of the law comes up in court for being drunk and disorderly, but such was the fate that overtook William Tomago, a Muncey Indian, and chief constable on the Muncey Reserve. Tomago came in to London to celebrate on Monday, but long before he got to the city had consumed so much fire water that he was in a fighting mood. He became aggressive on an M. C. R. train en route from St. Thomas, and was taken in charge and instead of joining in the celebrations here spent the day in the cells.

"Such conduct in trains cannot be allowed," said the court, "and besides it is a very poor example for an officer of the peace to set to others. He will fine you $5 and $4 35 cents or 21 days."

Mr. Tomago took the days.

SQUAW BEFORE COURT PAPPOOSE ON HER BACK

Was Lined Up With Thirty Others for Too Strenuous "Twelfth."

Magistrate Love had the busiest time at the police court yesterday that he has had for very long time. No less than thirty-one names appear on the docket, and when the prisoners came up from the cells for a time it was a problem where to put them, as there were a large number of witnesses and spectators occupying the benches in the court room. As many as possible were crammed into the case and the others had to stand up outside.

With his usual energy, the court got busy and discharged about fifteen drunks who had been celebrating, and had concluded their outing by getting arrested. As soon as these had gone on their way rejoicing the press was relieved, and most of the prisoners were able to find seats.

Squaw With Pappoose.

Among the prisoners let go as first-timers was a squaw with a little pappoose on her back. She was told to go and never to come back again. The baby had a big time and seemed rather anxious to stay. Its mother, however, was only too glad to get away.

Harold Cooper, for molesting some other young man by talking to some ladies, was fined $5.

James Christie, charged by his wife with assault, was remanded for a week.

Frank Harris, charged with supplying liquor to Indians, was let go, as the red men who, when arrested last night were quite certain it was Harris gave them the wet goods, declared they never knew him.

"I want to warn you, just the same, Harris," said the court, "to be careful, as you have been under suspicion for some time."

Several persons who had not paid their dog tax appeared, and on paying the tax and costs were let go.
