

THE ACADIAN

AND KING'S CO. TIMES.

HONEST, INDEPENDENT, FEARLESS.—DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Vol. XVI. WOLFVILLE, KING'S CO., N. S., FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1897. No. 40.

THE ACADIAN.

Published on FRIDAY at the office
WOLFVILLE, KING'S CO., N. S.

TERMS:
$1.00 Per Annum.
(IN ADVANCE.)

CLUBS of five in advance $4.00.

Advertising at two cents per line for every insertion, unless by special arrangement for a longer period. Advertisements will be made known on application to the office, and payment on terms. Advertisements must be guaranteed by some party prior to their insertion.

The Acadian Job Printers' Guild is constantly receiving new type and machinery, and will continue to guarantee satisfaction on all work turned out.

Newspapers from all parts of the country, or articles upon the topics of the day, are cordially solicited. The name of the party writing for the ACADIAN must invariably accompany the copy in writing, although the same may be written over a fictitious signature.

Address all communications to DAVIDSON BROS.,
Editors & Proprietors,
Wolfville, N. S.

NEW GOODS!

We are all ready for Our Friends and Customers, —WITH THE FINEST ARRAY OF—Spring Suitings,
that has ever been shown in KING'S COUNTY.

Our duty alone on Scotch and English
Cloths was nearly $1000.00.
That means the largest import order given in Nova Scotia this year.

Will you benefit by it?
Absolute satisfaction guaranteed.

Wolfville Clothing Company,
NOBLE CRANDALL,
MANAGER.

TELEPHONE NO. 35.

A DRESS FOR $1.49!

6 Yards of Double Width Summer Dress Goods for $1.49.

WRITE FOR A SAMPLE.

W. L. Kane & Co.

61 BARRINGTON ST., HALIFAX, N. S.

POST OFFICE, WOLFVILLE

Office Hours, 8.00 A.M. to 5.30 P.M.
Mails are made up as follows:
For Halifax and Windsor closest at 6.15 a.m.
Express west close at 9.50 a.m.
Express east close at 3.50 p.m.
Kentville close at 6.35 p.m.
Geo. V. Barn, Post Master.

PEOPLE'S BANK OF HALIFAX.

Open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Closed on Saturdays at 1 p.m.
G. W. Munro, Agent.

Churches.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—Rev. T. Trotter, Pastor.—Services: Sunday, preaching at 11
a.m. and 7 p.m.; Sunday School at 2.30 p.m.
Half hour prayer-meeting after evening service every Sunday. B. Y. F. U. Young People's prayer-meeting on Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock and regular church prayer-meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30. Woman's Mission Aid Society
meets on Wednesday after the first Sunday in the first Sunday in the month at 5.30 p.m.

METHODIST CHURCH.—Rev. P. M.
Macdonald, M.A., Pastor. St. Andrew's Ch. ch. Wolfville; Public Worship every Sunday at 11 a.m. and at 7 p.m. Sunday School at 3 p.m. Prayer Meeting on Wednesday at 7.30 p.m. Chalmers Church, Lower Horton, Public Worship on Sunday
at 3 p.m. Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Prayer Meeting on Tuesday at 7.30 p.m.

METHODIST CHURCH.—Rev. Joseph
Hale, Pastor. Services on the Sabbath at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sabbath School at 10 o'clock, a.m. Prayer Meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30. All the services are free and strangers welcomed at all the services.—at Greenwich, preaching at 3 p.m. on the Sabbath, and prayer meeting at 7.30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

St. John's Church.—Sunday services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Holy Communion at 10.30 a.m.; 2d, 4th and 6th at a.m. Service every Wednesday at 7.30 a.m.

Rev. Kenneth C. Hind, Rector.
Robert W. Storer, Warden.
S. J. Rutherford, Organist.

St. Francis (R.C.).—Rev. Mr. Kennedy,
P. Mass 11.00 a.m. the fourth Sunday of each month.

Masonic.

St. Georges Lodge, F. & A. M.
meets at their Hall on the second Friday of each month at 7 o'clock p.m.
F. A. Dixon, Secretary.

Temperance.

WOLFVILLE DIVISION S. O. F. meets on Monday evening in their Hall at 7.30 o'clock.

Foresters.

Forestal Band of Hope meets in the Gymnasium Hall every Friday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

Court Blomfield, I. O. F., meets in Imperance Hall on the first and third days of each month at 8 p.m.

whether any one is
with any newspaper included. Jones abhors and why space should but he reads eagerly when the facts about the "Smoking" "Smoking" a threat of annihilation with this paper there would even the announcement would have nothing of the tariff. Robinson the financial column.
statement of an event irrespective of the reverse tendency.

White Sewing Machine Co.

Cleveland, Ohio.
Thomas Organs

FOR SALE BY—Howard Pineo,
WOLFVILLE, N. S.
B. Machine, Needles and Oil
Bines and Organs repaired. 25

E. O. G. HANDLEY,
Merchant Tailor,
LOWERS ST., HALIFAX, N. S.

Wanted.

Women who can work hard and writing six hours daily, for $1 a week, and will be content with a dollar weekly. Address
W. IDEAS CO., Bradford, Ont.

Wah Hop,

CHINESE LAUNDRY,
Wolfville, N. S.,
First-class Work Guaranteed.

DOMINION ATLANTIC RAILWAY.

"LAND OF EVANGELINE" ROUTE

On and after Tuesday, 1st June 1897, the Steamship and train service of this Railway will be as follows:

TRAINS WILL ARRIVE WOLFVILLE.
(Sunday excepted.)

Express from Kentville.....	6.35, a.m.
Express "Halifax".....	9.10, a.m.
Express "Yarmouth".....	3.00, p.m.
Express "Halifax".....	5.55, p.m.
Accom. "Richmond".....	11.30, a.m.
Accom. "Annapolis".....	11.25, a.m.

TRAINS WILL LEAVE WOLFVILLE.
(Sunday excepted.)

Express for Halifax.....	5.35, a.m.
Express "Yarmouth".....	9.10, a.m.
Express "Kentville".....	3.00, p.m.
Accom. "Annapolis".....	11.30, a.m.
Accom. "Halifax".....	11.35, a.m.

Pullman Palace Buffet Parlor Car runs each way daily on express trains between Halifax and Yarmouth.

Royal Mail Steamship Prince Rupert
Daily Service (Sunday Excepted).
St. John and Digby.
Leaves St. John, 3.00 a.m.; arrive in Digby, 11.00 a.m.; leave Digby 1.00 p.m.; arrive St. John 4.00 p.m.
Trains are run on Eastern Standard Time.

W. B. CAMPBELL,
General Manager.
K. SUTHERLAND, Superintendent.

LOOK!

There will always be found a large stock of best quality at my meat-store in Crystal Palace Block!
Fresh and Salt Meats,
Hams, Bacon, Bologna,
Sausages, and all kinds of Poultry in stock.

Leave your orders and they will be promptly filled. Delivery to all parts of the town.

W. H. DUNSONSON,
Wolfville, Nov. 14th, 1895. 11

Ninards Liniment for Rheumatism.

POETRY.

Only.

KATE L. WHEELER.

It was only a gleam of sunshine
After a day of gloom,
Yet it brought its warmth and blessing
To a dreary, darkened room.

It was only a strain of music
Wafted upon the air,
Yet a heart caught up its meaning,
Till peace was a sovereign there.

It was only a smile of welcome
And a loving clasp of the hand,
Yet it made the world an Eden
To one who could understand.

It was only a word, low spoken,
To a spirit burdened,
Yet the angel sang: "Good tidings,"
For it saved a soul at last.

SELECT STORY.

Wildmere.

(CONTINUED.)
CHAPTER II.

MISSING.

When she had gone a strange loneliness seemed to fall upon the place. It was always so when she had been with him for a while. He had not thought of it; he had only felt it.

He watched her until the fluttering pink skirt was quite lost to view and then he turned toward home. The woods in which they had spent the morning was a pretty strip that ran up one side and crowned the top of a low hill.

As he emerged from it into the road that lay along the edge of the wood and across the hill, Wildmere was spread like a picture before him.

The grand old mansion, with its towers and turrets and gables, its clinging balconies and long pillared verandahs, its deep, wide door-ways and rows of irregular windows, rested upon a hill
somewhat higher than those about it, and wide, graceful terraces swept down to the lake which had been carried round the hill so that the mansion with its mighty old trees and tangles of flowers was like a wonderful gem in a setting of burnished silver.

Beautiful rustic bridges were thrown across the lake in the narrow places.
Strong old stone bridges most of them were, that looked with their burdens of Wildmere.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you know. I could pay any price for wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exerted a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would
be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would
be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would
be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the
estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the
estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let
them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and
foreign lands, and had come home to
find within the very shadow of Wild-
mere the fairest face his eyes had ever
seen. And his beauty loving soul
bowed before Loys Annesly and he
offered her all he had to give. She would be mistress of Wildmere some
day. No wonder his heart swelled
with pride as he looked upon his fair
inheritance.

"Maurice,"
His face flushed a little. He had
not heard the sound of the pony's feet
on the sandy road.

"Why, Loys, I was not expecting
this pleasure. I thought you would be at home by this time." He went up
to her as she sat in the pretty phaeton.
"You knew I was out?"
"Yes, Dimple told me; I saw her
just a while ago."

He smiled a little. Dimple would
have time to get home and put too
pink dress away!

"Was she here?"
"Oh, no. She was walking in the
wood. I had stopped here to admire Wildmere. Isn't it lovely from this
spot?"

She turned her eyes away and let them move slowly over the beautiful
picture.

"It is indeed; quite the prettiest
place I ever saw. But then I have seen so few! I've never been away,
you know."

"But you are going very soon," he
said quietly, for there was something
like discontent in the sweet, cold voice.
"But I really don't believe you will
ever find anything more beautiful than
Wildmere," he went on, a little wist-
ful look creeping into his blue eyes.
"It always seemed very grand to
me," she said, leaning forward and
gazing at the wonderful picture. "I
wonder to come here and look at it and
wonder what life over there was like.
I wanted to be rich, even then, you
know. I could pay any price for
wealth—give up anything for luxury."
"Yes, I know," he said, a strange
feeling of pain tugging at his heart.
"I've been poor and I don't like it—
nobody does."

"I don't know. It seems to me
that father and Dimple never mind it.

He was a home-loving man,
and his mother lived in their cramped
city quarters, she working and he
studying, he had always before him
the picture of a home that he should
work for by and when he was ready
for the stage, his chosen profession.

And then Howard Drayton had met
and loved his mother. She had exert-
ed a strong influence over the master of Wildmere. His joys had been a sort
of passionate fascination, and he readily
consented to seek the boy-nephew of Wildmere in case no child should be
born to them.

Mrs. Drayton had died within two
years, but she had seen the will that
had been made in favor of her son.

Maurice had been urged by his step-
father to give up his profession and
devote himself to the business of the estate. After a sharp struggle with
himself Maurice had yielded.

He had travelled in his own and foreign lands, and

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 11, 1897.

Town Council.

An adjourned meeting of the council was held last Friday evening. The Mayor, Councillors Caldwell, Sawyer, Bowles and Borden, with the Recorder, were present. Reports were received from Water, Streets, Police and Poor Committees, which were on motion adopted.

The following accounts were read and on motion ordered paid:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. George Tupper 25.10, Acadia Electric Co. 40.28, Town Clerk 2.46, J. Bowers & Sons 1.00, C. R. H. Starr 6.00.

A petition was read from Messrs Starr, Son & Franklin, asking for the privilege of erecting a wharf, to be built on the south bank of the creek at a point opposite the property owned by C. E. Starr.

This petition was referred to the Committee on Public Property with power to make such arrangements with the company as the committee may deem best and through the recorder to complete contract with said company.

A petition from C. R. H. Starr regarding the matter of re-paving the town for telephone service, was read, and on motion granted. Coun. Borden was appointed to meet and advise the manager of the Telephone Co. on the location of poles, etc.

A letter was read from Miss Edith J. Archibald, Vice-president for N. S. of the National Council of Women of Canada, in reference to a patriotic ode to be sung on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee. It was resolved that the Mayor and Coun. Sawyer be appointed to cooperate with the School Board for the purpose of celebrating the Diamond Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen.

The Mayor intimated his intention of defraying the cost of catch-pit near to Messrs Starr, Son & Franklin's store, and also to pay for the patriotic ode if they were required.

A letter was read from Mr C. C. Vaux in reference to Willow Bank Cemetery, when it was resolved that the clerk be instructed to notify the trustees of Willow Bank Cemetery that a hearing will be given them at the next regular meeting of the Council.

It was resolved that the Recorder and Coun. Sawyer be a committee to wait upon Mr J. W. Beach to ascertain upon what terms and for how much he will sell to the town eight feet of his property on Elm avenue to widen same, and report at a special meeting of the Council at a date to be named later.

Resolved that Mr C. R. H. Starr's offer of two pieces of lumber suitable for a flag-staff be accepted with thanks.

The clerk was instructed to correspond with civil engineers and ascertain what they will charge to make a survey and estimate of cost of a system of sewerage for the town.

The Exhibition.

The Nova Scotia Agricultural Exhibition and Industrial Fair, held under authority of the Provincial Legislature and the city of Halifax, will be opened at Halifax on September 28, and will continue till Friday night, October 1st.

The largest prize list, by many thousands of dollars, ever offered in the Maritime Provinces, is open for competition by our agriculturists, manufacturers, fishermen and others.

The exhibition is to be held in the handsome new buildings now being erected on one of the most desirable sites in the city of Halifax. These buildings will cost in the vicinity of $55,000.00 and will be the finest structures of the kind in eastern Canada. A mile track for speeding competition is now being constructed, under an expert, and the finest track in the Maritime Provinces is promised. All competitors are open to the Maritime Provinces, and manufacturers to the world. This marks a departure in Nova Scotia Exhibitions, and the exhibits will be correspondingly greater and more varied than any heretofore presented to the public.

The Amusement Committee have been most fortunate in securing for the exhibition of 1897 the great spectacular performance, "The Siege of Sebastopol." This vivid piece of realism formed one of the most attractive features of the Toronto exhibition of 1896 and stands at the head of its class. In addition to this, the committee have arranged for a number of special attractions which together will make the best amusement programme ever offered to the people of Nova Scotia.

The railway track will extend into the grounds, so that exhibits may be delivered on the premises with the smallest possible inconvenience.

This grand exhibition is to be conducted under the auspices and by the authority of the Provincial Exhibition Commission incorporated by Act of the Legislature of 1896. The Commission at the present time consists of Hon. J. W. Longley, Halifax, President; Mr E. B. Elderkin, Amherst, Vice-President; and Mayor Stephen, Halifax, Hon. T. R. Black, Amherst, Mr J. W. Bigelow, Wolfville, Mr Peter Innes, Goldbrook, Mr J. T. Hamilton, Halifax, Ald. C. S. Lane, Ald. A. W. Redden and Ald. Wm. McPartridge, Halifax. There are two vacancies on this Commission, one caused by the resignation of A. C. Bell, Mr P. New Glasgow, who found that his parliamentary duties interfered with the time he should devote to the exhibition work, and the other by the resignation of W. D. Dimock, Truro, who retired on assuming the general management of the exhibition.

The Executive Committee of the Commission consists of Mayor Stephen, Chairman, Hon. T. R. Black, J. W. Bigelow, Peter Innes, J. T. Hamilton, Ald. Lane, and Hon. J. W. Longley, ex-officio.

There is no doubt that perfect arrangements will be made in every detail for the successful carrying out of this exhibition. The Province and the city of Halifax are each equally interested in making it a great success, and there is no doubt that exhibitors in every department from all over the Maritime Provinces will do all they can to make the result of this exhibition the most successful of any ever held in the Maritime Provinces. Applications for prizes and space, forms of entry, and all detailed information can be obtained by applying to the secretary, Mr John E. Wood, Halifax.

Hoof Prints.

Bridgetown is to have a bang-up trotting race July 1st—entries closing with Mr Pudsey, the enterprising Sec'y, June 24th. There is to be a 2.30, and 3.00 contest. The driving park management there is generally good, being honest and straightforward. The track is fast and some new element on the judges' stand would not hurt anyone.

At Halifax, June 21st, there are to be contests for the 2.30, 2.38 and 3.00 classes, entries closing June 14th. We understand that some of our town horses will be on deck when the bell rings. There is no chance for fooling at Halifax, the best horse must go to the front, "mark, or no mark." In the 3.00 class it is dollars to doughnuts that we can put our finger on the winner, barring accidents.

Among the nominations for the 2.45 pacing class, to be paced at the time of the colt stake races, we notice the name of one of our townsmen who is an admirer of the lateral gait. We fancy there will be considerable disappointment because the successor of "John R. Gentry," 2:00 1/2, from Eastport, does not appear likely to be a contestant.

It is marvellous how fast the horses in training at Kentville are, trials all the way from 2:00 down to 2:30, nothing slower would be tolerated. Horses that in 1896 could hardly beat the flag, are now beating the band, and the step, waltzes as well. It is doubtful if there is so able and expert a lot of drivers anywhere on top of the earth as is to be found in the vicinity of Kentville.

There is to be a 2.25 class trotting at Halifax, July 1st. If Mr Lydiard's "Warren Guy" is given the chance we think he can about capture first money. There is a horse we hope is getting good patronage, he deserves it. He has size, action, speed, and no man in Canada has a better looking stallion than Mr Lydiard. It is certain that no stallion can impart qualities he does not possess—"You cannot gather figs from thorns or grapes from thistles."

As is generally known the Provincial Exhibition for 1897 is to be held at Halifax during the last week of September. A great deal of good money has been and is being expended purchasing grounds, erecting suitable buildings, building a track for the speed department, etc. All of which is to be, we understand, within the one enclosure, and under the one management, with superintendents of the different departments. Examining some of the men who comprise the Exhibition Commission, we had, and have, unbounded confidence in their good intentions and unselfish devotion to what they thought for the best of all.

We however must say that in so far as the proposed programme for the speed department is concerned, most serious blunders have been made. In the first place, the whole programme bears the broad car-marks of the superintendent himself.—Looking races in two days, badly arranged as to classes and with 10 per cent. entrance, while in the same two days there are 6 running races—"maxims bred," "free-for-all," "ponies under 14 hands," "licensed hackmen," "licensed truckmen," etc., etc., and 5 per cent. entrance only. A more glaring exhibition of selfishness on the part of two or three Halifax men, who are interested directly and indirectly in running homes, could not be imagined. They have secured classes for their own particular bob-tailed—the whole batch of whom, at auction, would not bring the price of a good trotter or pacer.

The speed department of the 1897 Exhibition, should have been under the management of James Power, of the Acadia Recorder newspaper. A square, true hearted, honest sportsman, who has the good of the harness horse at heart, and is not hide-bound enough to make a class for himself personally, with a 5 per cent. entrance.

The country horsemen and breeders will certainly have the chance of their lives when the speed is called on at Halifax. They will actually have the chance of beholding with the naked eye, 6 races made for a few old played out shoozies and bred, owned in Halifax city—bob-tailed, knee-sprung, fence jumpers, not worth $10 apiece at auction. Pony races—$2 entrance fee. Hackmen's race, truckmen's race—$2 entrance fee. 50mg mile dash, "one mile dash," "1/4 mile dash," etc., etc., etc.

If the farmers and horse breeders in Nova Scotia are obliged, under the laws of the land, to contribute dollars for these self-admission contests of speed among bob-tailed aristocrats of Halifax, to say nothing of the hackmen and truckman, why not for gracious sake build them a track out at Hammond's Plains, or somewhere else, and let them have it out, and any interested friends could attend to their health's content. No! Sir, we who attend this exhibition at Halifax will be obliged, actually obliged, to behold these exhibitions of this particular class under the management of Alderman McPartridge.

The largest amount ever offered in Prizes at any Exhibition in the Maritime Provinces.

In addition to the Grand Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition, special attractions have been arranged for every day and night.

The Spectacular Siege of Sebastopol every evening—the most gorgeous and realistic effects ever produced in Canada. An unequalled Half Mile Track for Speed Competition.

Exhibits carried at exceedingly low rates. Very cheap excursion tickets on all railways and steamboats.

Full particulars later. Apply for Prize Lists, Entry Forms and all information to JOHN E. WOOD, Secretary, Halifax, N. S.

Personal Mention.

(Contributions to this department will be gladly received.) Miss George Palmeter, of this town, returned last week from Mt. Allison Ladies' College.

Mrs Moore, of New York, is visiting her sister, Mrs McGehee, who is at present residing in Wolfville.

Mr B. H. Armstrong, barrister, of Halifax, was in Wolfville this week on professional business.

Rev. Isaiah Wallace arrived in town this week, and will remain for a few weeks at his home here.

Mrs Keirstead and family left on Friday afternoon for Dartmouth, where they will spend the summer.

Mr Grace Dean McLeod Rogers is spending a few weeks in Wolfville, visiting her mother, Mrs McLeod.

Mrs J. H. Taber and children, of this town, left on Saturday last for Fredericton, where they will visit friends for some weeks.

Messrs M. and W. Hale, of this town, came home from Sackville last week where they have been attending Mt. Allison University.

Dr. and Mrs Todd, of Winnipeg, who are on their wedding trip, are visiting Mr and Mrs Charles H. Borden, of this town. Mr Todd is a niece of Mrs Borden.

Mr Lew F. Wallace, of this town, who has completed his theological course at Rochester Seminary, returned home last week. He will remain in town all summer.

Messrs W. A. Fenelon and I. A. Somers, two well-known shots, of Halifax, were in town on Wednesday last in company with Mr D. R. Manro, of the Wolfville Gun Club, they went down to the Club's grounds, and spent a couple of hours breaking clay pigeons.

We are glad to learn of the success of Mr Warren J. Moore, who has just received the appointment of vice-principal of Pickering College, Pickering, Ont. Mr Moore has been studying at the Toronto School of Pedagogy during the winter, and from there was called to his present position. He will begin his duties in September and will teach Latin, Greek, and history. We congratulate him on his success.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO CHASE CAMPBELL & CO., Port Williams House.

GRAND OPENING

Fine Millinery and Modes. Pattern Bonnets and Hats! AND MILLINERY NOVELTIES.

We would respectfully announce to the ladies of Wolfville and neighboring towns, that having given the closest attention for many years to the study of Millinery as a "Fine Art," I am now prepared to execute all orders submitted to my opinion, in Ladies' Bonnets, Hats, Evening Dresses, etc., in a stylish, artistic manner, at reasonable prices.

Every detail of an order shall have my personal supervision. I promise my patrons perfect satisfaction as to fit and finish. Soliciting the favor of your patronage on and after April 15th, 1897. I am yours respectfully, L. W. ANDREWS, WOLFVILLE, N. S.

Price of Page Fence:

Table with 2 columns: Fence Type and Price per rod. 11 Bar 58 inch.....68c, per rod. 11 Bar 52 inch.....68c, per rod. 12 Bar 58 inch.....68c, per rod. 8 Bar 60 inch.....68c, per rod. 7 Bar 48 inch.....50c, per rod. 7 Bar 24 inch.....45c, per rod.

This fence is made of galvanized, hard Steel, and is practically indestructible. I also have the agency for the "Empire" Spray Pump. It has all brass fittings, and no leather or rubber valves. Each pump has twenty feet of hose, and two nozzles. J. P. BIGELOW, Wolfville, April 23d, 1897.

IN THE DARK!

Are you in doubt as to what is the trouble with your eyes or head? Come in and have your eyes tested FREE! J. F. Herbin, Wolfville, Optician and Jeweler. Honor graduate of Ontario Optical and Canadian Optical Institutes.

WE WANT YOU

to write us to send you two or three of those LADIES' SPRING CAPES on approval. We have a very well assorted stock among which we are sure to find something to please you. A STYLISH CLOTH CAPE AT $1.50. A HEAVIER WEIGHT $2.25. PRETTILY BRAIDED CAPE $3.50 and NICER ONES AT $4.50, $6.75, $7.50. We have them in Fawn, Cardinal, new shades in Green and Black up to $19.00.

It will only cost you a cent for a post card to see them as we pay expressage.

Blanchards WINDSOR, N. S.

New and Seasonable Copper Sulphate, Resin, Beeswax, SEEDS, Moth Balls, RAND'S SARSAPARILLA (50 cents) AT THE DRUGSTORE.

Always looks well, can be worn with and Skirt and is cool and comfortable for warm weather.

THE NEWEST WAISTS

In Linen effects edged with colors and with Colored Collars and Cuffs. Also White Lawn Waists, with fine Grass Cloth trimming and Collars and Cuffs, have just been placed in stock. We also have an immense assortment of Standard Patterns in Pinks, Blues, Persian effects and Half-Mourning, all made up in correct styles.

C. & G. WILSON & Co., WINDSOR, N. S.

ARRIVED IN TIME

A Carload of Bedroom Suits, Side boards, Extension Tables, Bent Chairs, etc., and addition a new line of Very Latest Style Parlor Parapet in Biscuit Pattern. Come early and be in to make a good selection. Our prices are right and "will guarantee satisfaction. Buy Furniture your friends will seek you, Refuse, they turn and go; They want full measure of all your pleasure, But they do not need your wool. A. J. Woodman, Wolfville, April 15th, 1897.

CALL AT ZINCK'S

SHIRTS in Whites, Regattas, Flannel-ettes and Linens. 25 CENTS TO $2.00. UNDERCLOTHING 50 cents to $2.00 per Suit. --FULL LINES OF-- SOX, BRACES, TIES, COLLARS, CAPS, SWEATERS, GOLF HOSE, ETC. BEST QUALITIES. LOWEST PRICES. A. A. ZINCK, WOLFVILLE. Cor. Main Street and Highland Avenue.

What About a Spring Suit or Overcoat?

E. P. WHITE & CO. --HAVE A SPLENDID LINE OF-- Suitings, Overcoatings and Trouserings. For the Spring and Summer trade. Run in and have a look at them.

GELDERT'S New Carpets!

We are now in a better position than ever to talk Carpets. Just received, ex S. S. Halifax City from London direct. BRUSSELS, TEPESTRY AND SCOTCH WOOL CARPETS, ART SQUARES, RUGS, ETC. Prettiest color combinations you ever saw. Floor Oilcloths and Linoleums from one to four yards wide, all prices. See our special, four yards wide, at 60c. square yard. We also show a fine range of Canadian Wool Carpets and Squares, purchased direct from the manufacturers. Our stock of

LACE CURTAINS, Sash Nets, Portieres, Roller Blinds, Curtain Poles, Art Draperies, Sheetings, Pillow Cases, Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, etc., will be found fully up to the mark, and our prices we guarantee to compare favorably with any in the Province. Our Home Furnishing Department was never in better shape than it is at present to meet the requirements of the trade, we therefore solicit your patronage, and we think our old motto, Mutual Advantage, will still be applicable to

GELDERT'S, THE DRY GOODS HOUSE OF WINDSOR.

N. B.—Mail Orders receive prompt and careful attention.

THE BLOUSE WAIST

Is an important part of a Ladies' Dress. A Stylish Waist Always looks well, can be worn with and Skirt and is cool and comfortable for warm weather.

THE NEWEST WAISTS

In Linen effects edged with colors and with Colored Collars and Cuffs. Also White Lawn Waists, with fine Grass Cloth trimming and Collars and Cuffs, have just been placed in stock. We also have an immense assortment of Standard Patterns in Pinks, Blues, Persian effects and Half-Mourning, all made up in correct styles.

C. & G. WILSON & Co., WINDSOR, N. S.

ARRIVED IN TIME

A Carload of Bedroom Suits, Side boards, Extension Tables, Bent Chairs, etc., and addition a new line of Very Latest Style Parlor Parapet in Biscuit Pattern. Come early and be in to make a good selection. Our prices are right and "will guarantee satisfaction. Buy Furniture your friends will seek you, Refuse, they turn and go; They want full measure of all your pleasure, But they do not need your wool. A. J. Woodman, Wolfville, April 15th, 1897.

CALL AT ZINCK'S

SHIRTS in Whites, Regattas, Flannel-ettes and Linens. 25 CENTS TO $2.00. UNDERCLOTHING 50 cents to $2.00 per Suit. --FULL LINES OF-- SOX, BRACES, TIES, COLLARS, CAPS, SWEATERS, GOLF HOSE, ETC. BEST QUALITIES. LOWEST PRICES. A. A. ZINCK, WOLFVILLE. Cor. Main Street and Highland Avenue.

What About a Spring Suit or Overcoat?

E. P. WHITE & CO. --HAVE A SPLENDID LINE OF-- Suitings, Overcoatings and Trouserings. For the Spring and Summer trade. Run in and have a look at them.

WOLFVILLE REAL ESTATE AGENCY.

Desirable Properties for Sale: 1. Residence at corner Acadia street and Gasquet street—contains 9 rooms. Well built, comparatively new. Good stable. Corner lot 60x100. 2. Farm at Greenwich—80 acres. House in good repair, 8 rooms. New stable. 250 apple trees coming into bearing. Flax, peas, and small fruits. Gravity water supply in house and stable. 3. Fruit Farm on Main Street—10 minutes walk from Post Office. 15 acre prime land mostly in Orchard, 8 acres of which is full bearing. New House—8 rooms and Bathroom, hot and cold water. Pleasant situation. 4. Residence and Dyke lot on Main Street—quarter mile from Ry. Depot. House containing 10 rooms and bathroom, hot and cold water. Heated by furnace. Stable and Carriage House. One acre in house lot—apples, plums and small fruits. 7 acre good Dyke adjoining. All in good order. Will sell residence separate. 5. Small Fruit Farm at Hantsport—16 acres. House 10 rooms, heated by furnace. Stable. Suitable for Summer Tourists or Country Residence. For further particulars, apply to AVARD V. PINEO, Barrister, Real Estate Agent, etc., Wolfville, N. S. Office in Herbin's Building.

Willard F. Read, M. D., (University New York) Office—Highland Avenue, opp. Baptist Church. Residence: Hotel Central. Telephone at hotel.

Money to Loan in amounts, Avard V. Pineo, Skipper Thos. For newly obtained. Her. She is now in Gal.

The success of a d the genus equus, in marsh, in unpleasant town. The health as that it is bred.

Professor James P. Anatomologist of the mental Farm, Ottawa visit to this county. free lecture at Kentville of June 16th.

The latest thing See window, Glas Rev. Mr. Fraser, (Presbyterian) church in St. Andrew's church last Sunday morning Fraser is a thoughtful er, and his sermons y

Last Wednesday Munro gave a party the gasoline launch, as far as the Port is in and out, and roing a pleasant evening. Wolfville had one in the Province.

Teachers who w summer vacation, knowledge of Book Shortland or Typo barely notified the July 6th, give a six ing these branches, to S. E. WEBSTER lege, 95 Barrington Perrisboro in pr celebration of Her Jubilee on June 23 ing full particulars issued in a few da of the day's amuse- cision of society, bicycle races, foot r at the driving pa- also best racing o- evening, hand con- A monster old tim held in connection A strong committe- affair de charge. Perrisboro on the 2

FIT -AND- MISFIT

The suit that fits costs no more than the suit that doesn't. To be suited go to P. J. HANIFEN 23—Barrington Street—23. HALIFAX. 22

HAVE YOU TROUBLE IN GETTING CLOTHES MADE TO FIT YOU?

WE CAN FIT YOU LIKE YOUR SKIN AND NEVER TRY ON, EITHER. GOODS, WORK AND FINISH BETTER THAN YOU USUALLY GET FOR THE PRICE.

N. L. McDONALD, MERCHANT TAILOR. ACADIA CORNER, 78 Upper Water St., Halifax, N. S.

Land For Sale. About three acres of cultivated land on west side of Highland Avenue, south of Foster property. Apply to ACADIAN OFFICE.

Fruit culture is more profitable to the farmer now than his other crops. Brown-Brook Co., the most extensive nursery house in Canada, have a vacancy in this section. Write them at Brown's Nurseries, P. O., Ont., for their terms.

SPECIAL VALUE THIS WEEK!

Ladies' Patent Tip Dongola Oxford Shoe, Worth $1.00, For only 85 Cents.

"BORDEN'S."

Men's Fan Stitch Fine Dongola Tio Oxford, Worth $2.00, Our price $1.50.

THE WOLFVILLE Outfitting Store!

SLATER SHOE AGENCY.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 11, 1897.

Local and Provincial.

Rev. D. R. Hemmon will preach in the Methodist church, this town, on Sunday evening next.

In another column will be found the card of Willard F. Read, M. D. Dr. Read is a graduate of the University of York.

Money to Loan in large and small amounts. Avar V. Pineo, Wolfville.

Skinner Thos. Foster has had his yacht newly painted. He has re-christened her. She is now known as the H. L. Gale.

The success of a deceased member of the genus equus, is repeating on the marsh, in unpleasant proximity to the town. The health authorities should see that it is buried.

Professor James Fletcher, Botanist and Entomologist, of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, is to pay another visit to this county. He will deliver a free lecture at Kentville on the evening of June 16th.

The latest thing in Men's Caps. See window. Glasgow House.

Rev. Mr. Fraser, of Coburg Road (Presbyterian) church, Halifax, preached in St. Andrew's church, of this town, last Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Fraser is a thoughtful and earnest speaker, and his sermons were much enjoyed.

Last Wednesday evening Mr D. R. Munro gave a party of friends a sail on the gasoline launch, Aymagh, running up as far as the Fort Williams bridge, and "in and out, and round about." It being a pleasant evening, the trip was a most delightful one.

Beecham Seed Buckwheat for sale by Charles Stewart, Wolfville.

An effort is being made to organize a cricket club in town. There is plenty of material in Wolfville to form a first-class team. Some of our olden day cricketers have the matter in hand, and are quite enthusiastic. In days of yore Wolfville had one of the best staveys in the Province.

The report of the Ontario provincial instructor in road-making for the year 1896 has come to our table. It is contained in a pamphlet of about a hundred pages, and deals in an exhaustive manner with the subject of road-making, fully illustrated. We shall reproduce portions from it from time to time in these columns.

Teachers who would like, during the summer vacation, to extend their knowledge of Book-keeping, or learn shorthand or Typewriting, or both, are hereby notified that we will, beginning July 1st, give a six weeks course covering these branches. Write for particulars to S. E. WELTON, Commercial College, 95 Barrington Street, Halifax, N. S.

Ferraro is preparing for a grand celebration of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee on June 22nd, posters announcing full particulars of the same will be found in a few days. The programme of the day's amusements includes a procession of societies, etc., in the morning; bicycle races, foot races, and other sports at the driving park in the afternoon, also boat racing on the harbor. In the evening, band concert, fire works, etc. A monster old time tea meeting will be held in connection with the celebration. A strong committee of citizens have the affair in charge. Be sure and visit Ferraro on the 22nd.

Local and Provincial.

Mr Wm. Follett, Sr., wishes through the ACADIAN to tender thanks to his friends who so kindly purchased him a cow to replace the one he recently lost.

Since the students have gone from us all the town "is solemn stillness holds." Our Yankee cotinus will however be with us ere long, and break the quiet melancholy that now pervades our "city."

If the clerk of the weather continues to give us such delightful days as the last one or two, we shall be able, in spite of his hitherto tearful performances, to give him a certificate of character. Had the wet weather continued much longer it would have been ruinous to the farmers.

Starr, Son & Franklin have a Lawn Mower for rent.

As reported in the proceedings of the town council this week Mayor Thomson has promised to place the town under further indebtedness to him in the matter of public improvement. We are glad to note this spirit among our citizens, and hope to see further manifestations of it. By the way we have not heard anything about a site for a park yet. The jubilee year is passing away, gentlemen.

The publishers of the Montreal Star are bringing out two magnificent Jubilee souvenirs. A grand photographic portrait of Queen Victoria, 22x36, said by everyone who has seen it to be by long odds the finest thing brought out in connection with the Jubilee. The Star has also had executed a grand Canadian Jubilee Medal, beautifully designed and struck. These two souvenirs by the Star will make Canada talked about the world over. Happy indeed should those be who secure these two treasures.

Milton Connolly, who last week was tried before Judge Henry at Kentville, on the charge of the murder of Oliver Fuller, at Aversport, last March, was found by the jury "not guilty." W. E. Shaffer and T. R. Robertson, of Kentville, conducted the prisoner's defence. Attorney-General Longley and H. H. Wickwire being the prosecuting counsel. We hope to see further steps taken to discover the perpetrator of this most heinous crime.

Money to lend on Mortgages—Apply to S. E. Welton, Solicitor, Wolfville, N. S.

The Digby Courier announces a special Illustrated Magazine number which is now in the press, to be ready for distribution in a few weeks. It will be a production of magazine size and nature, and will be well illustrated with photographs of Digby county scenery and people, and will present an interesting variety of reading matter. Digby is known as an ideal summer resort and the Courier will show some of its best attractions. The number will be on sale at the bookstores throughout the Province.

Ladies' Whitewear, Blouses and Shirt Waists at the Glasgow House. See adv.

Wedding Bells.

On Wednesday morning last at half past ten, the Baptist church of this town was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Mr Burpee Wallace, of Canaan, was united in marriage to Miss Mary Harding Fitch, of this town. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Trotter, assisted by Rev. P. A. Higgins. The bride was attired in white silk and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations. After the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple drove to their future home in Canaan. The ACADIAN in company with a host of other friends, extends to them the heartiest congratulations, and wishes that their journey throughout life may be an altogether happy one.

A Great Bargain IN SOAP!

For the next thirty days we will sell "Welcome" Soap,

4 1-2 O. PER BAR, OR $4.00 PER BOX OF 100 BARS.

Every Housekeeper should avail themselves of this offer, to lay in a good stock of soap.

T. L. Harvey, Crystal Palace, Wolfville, April 7th, 1897.

DENTISTRY.

Dr. A. J. McKenna, Graduate of Philadelphia Dental College. Office in Herbin's building, Wolfville. Telephone No. 43 A.

Dr. H. Lawrence, DENTIST.

Wolfville, - - N. S. Office opposite American House, Telephone at residence.

ERNEST A. BROWN, Genl. Insurance Agent.

Confederation Life Association, Toronto Ont. Quebec Fire Insurance Co., Quebec. Ocean Accident and Guarantee Co., Ltd., London, Eng. Wolfville, May 31, 97.

"Columbia Cafe."

Just opened, next door east of Electric Light Station. If you want anything in the line of Confectionery, Fruit, Ice Cream, Soda, Nuts and Cigars. It will pay you to call here.

New Stock throughout, and prices right. A. W. STEWART, Prop. Wolfville, May 23th.

The People's Forum.

To the Editor of the ACADIAN. DEAR SIR,—The exercises at College Hall on Tuesday evening last were highly instructive and interesting. I thought, and many others, unusually so. Music soft and sweet to soothe and charm, thought practical, pure and elevating—but there was one element that marred the proceedings and one to be condemned, more so among an intelligent body of people. This element did not consist in the construction and rendering of the essays, nor the rendering of the instrumental and vocal music, or in the apt, courteous and scholarly remarks of the president, but in the air we breathed. Let us by all means have and encourage all we can high aspirations couched in language that portrays practical and skillful training in our seminaries and schools, but forget not that it is highly essential to our happiness and well being that we have pure air.

The exhilaration from one thousand pairs of lungs in a room of a thousand feet with every crevice closed is to say the least, a most disagreeable and in ill accord with the intelligence and literary merit displayed on the occasion of the closing exercises of the Seminary. I am not a woman but I am strongly of the opinion that if the women had had the management of the hall on that evening we would have had a purer atmosphere. Those present in delicate health suffered then and afterwards. People often shut out pure air in order to avoid catching a cold, when it is the want of pure air or vitiated air that causes the cold.

Screens might have been placed at each of the entrances to the hall high enough to protect any individual whose hair was thin and shoulders sensitive. I trust that readers will not think I am putting on airs or that I am a doctor trying to air my notions, for to be the latter and tell people how not to get sick would be against the prevailing opinion as such practices militate against the doctors' pecuniary interests. I am only a humble and unassuming individual who believes that the Maker of heaven and earth desired that man should have pure air and that it is wickedness on the part of his intelligent creatures not to use all proper means to obtain and secure it, that it is more essential to his happiness and well being than Latin and mathematics for without it he cannot be fit receptacle to make the best use of those and all other acquirements. Much learning never did make a man mad nor caused his brain to give way or his constitution to succumb, except his physical system had become impaired and weakened by impure air, unwholesome food or dissipation of some kind. Kindly give to us with other good gifts when next we meet, pure air.

NOTICE.—Good washed wool taken in exchange for goods at O. H. Borden's, Wolfville.

Married.

WALLACE—FITCH.—At the Baptist church, Wolfville, June 9th, by Rev. P. A. Higgins, D. D., assisted by Rev. T. A. Higgins, D. D., Mr Burpee Wallace, of Canaan, and Miss Mary Harding Fitch, of this town. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Trotter, assisted by Rev. P. A. Higgins. The bride was attired in white silk and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations. After the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple drove to their future home in Canaan. The ACADIAN in company with a host of other friends, extends to them the heartiest congratulations, and wishes that their journey throughout life may be an altogether happy one.

Died.

SELFRIDGE.—At Aylesford, May 19th, of consumption, Lane M. Selfridge, aged 31 years, son of John Selfridge, of Gasperau.

LADIES' Blouses and Shirt Waists, WHITEWEAR,

The Latest Styles. The Newest Goods.

SPECIAL SALE THIS WEEK.

Glasgow House. - O. D. Harris.

WOOL WANTED!

Any quantity of Good Washed Wool taken in exchange. WE GIVE EXTRA VALUE IN—Woolen Mill Cloths, Gingham, Shirtings, Sheetings, Flannelettes.

FULL LINE OF—

Dress Goods, Trimmings, Fancy Goods, Men's Furnishings, Children's Clothing.

GET OUR PRICES. J. D. CHAMBERS.

L. W. SLEEP, WOLFVILLE, PAINT OF ALL KINDS.

Spring is here and now is the time to paint your houses. We keep in stock everything required in this line as well as a full stock of GENERAL HARDWARE. Wolfville, April 30th, 1896.

MILLINERY! SPRING OPENING, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7.

ALL ARE INVITED. S. E. WELTON. Opposite the American House.

Suits Overcoats Trousers

Season of 1897. For the spring and summer season, we have received the finest stock of Woollens ever imported into the Province. If you should come to the city, be sure and leave your measure and we will send you samples whenever you wish to get some clothes. We do only high-class work. Our prices are reasonable. W. C. SMITH & CO., 141 Hollis St., Halifax. High-class Tailors. F. J. Taylor. F. Jones.

LOOK AT OUR WHEELS!

"Perfect," "B. & D. Special," "Massey-Harris," "Crawford," "Garden City," "Dominion." See Our "Crawford" Tandem. We can suit you this season. STARR, SON & FRANKLIN.

8,000 ROLLS ROOM PAPER

The Largest and Most Complete Stock of Papers ever shown here. Over 150 Different Patterns to select from. All the latest designs. Beautiful paper for 4 and 5 cents per roll. Satin finished papers with matched borders, 6 and 7 cents. 9 inch Satin Borders from 11 1/2 cents per yard, and upwards.

We have the stock and our prices cannot be beaten. Lot of remnants at half-price. Call and see for yourself.

ROCKWELL & CO., Wolfville Bookstore.

GREAT BARGAINS ON AT—

CALDWELL'S

38 pairs Women's Kid Boots for $1.50 and $2.00; former prices $1.25 to $3.75. This is the chance of a lifetime.

19 pairs Women's Kid Slippers for $1.00 per pair; former prices from $1.40 to 1.75.

43 Men's Hats for 75c.; regular prices $1.25 to $3.00.

A few Women's Gossamers for $1.00. This is a big chance. Women's Wrappers, Waists and Capes marked down. Men's Heavy Suits, Reefers, Overcoats and Ulsters at largely reduced prices.

Wolfville, March 24, 1897.

Hello! Horsemen and Farmers!

Having one of the best Harness Stores in the Province, I am prepared to give you Horse Goods of all kinds, consisting of Harness, Rugs, Robes, Whips, Collars, Oils, Brushes, Combs, &c. My Harnesses are the best made in the County, for the price asked; all Hand Made. Call and inspect. WM. REGAN.

THE NEW WOLFVILLE BOOK STORE! FLO. M. HARRIS, PROPRIETRESS.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, NEWSPAPERS, MAGAZINES, SCHOOL SUPPLIES. EVERYTHING USUALLY FOUND IN A FIRST-CLASS BOOKSTORE. AGENT CAMERON'S CELEBRATED SPECTACLES AND EYEGLASSES AND OPTICAL GOODS. Spectacles from 25 cents to $5.00. A NICE, GOLD PAIR WITH FINE LENSES, FOR $3.50.

OH! AH DON'T KNOW!

BUT IT IS A FACT! McLEOD, the Kentville Jeweller, Has the largest and finest stock of Opal, Diamond and Pearl rings in the Province to select from. 1000 Diamond Engagement and Wedding rings. He has also the largest stock of Jewellery and Silverware in the county, McLEOD is a practical watchmaker. When your watch is out of order, you better take it to McLEOD. No botch work. Opposite the Porter House, Kentville.

Avar V. Pineo, LL. B. Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, &c., &c. Reliable Insurance. Loans Negotiated. Claims Promptly Collected. Office: Herbin's Building, WOLFVILLE, N. S. Telephone No. 43.

FOR SALE! Residence on Linden avenue, containing eight rooms. Modern improvements. Small orchard in rear. For fuller particulars apply to MRS CHARLOTTE MURRAY.

House or Rooms To Let! Partly furnished or unfurnished, for the summer months or longer. On Long Island, near Evangeline Beach. Also farm for sale. For particulars apply to L. SIMON PALMETER, Wolfville.

W. E. Roscoe, O.C. C. A. McLean, LL. B. ROSCOE & McLEAN, Barristers, Solicitors, Proctors, Etc. Prompt attention given to the collection of debts. Office, Payzant Block, Stannus St. WINDSOR, N. S. 31

A. B. S. DeWolf, 133 Upper Water St., HALIFAX. Commission merchant in Butter, Eggs, Cheese and Fruit. Prompt returns. Importer of Oranges, Lemons, Bananas, etc.

H. WENMAN WHITE, Teacher of Shorthand, Typewriting and Telegraphy. Rooms over Dr. Mulloney's dental parlors, Main Street, Wolfville. Students can enter at any time. Instruction private or in class.

A Hunter's Story.

EXPOSURE BROUGHT ON AN ATTACK OF RHEUMATISM.

Nervousness and Stomach Troubles Followed—Sleep at Times Was Impossible—Health Again Restored.

The little village of Petticoke is situated in the south-easterly part of New Brunswick, on the line of the Inter-colonial Railway.

Mr Yeomans' version of the facts are: "I became very ill and suffered the most excruciating pains in my arms, legs and shoulders, so much so that I could not rest in any position."

The statistics on the subject of human life are very numerous, yet not always reliable. The following may be taken as fairly authentic: The average length of life is about twenty-eight years.

MANY WOMEN DECEIVED.

At the present time many manufacturers of crude and adulterated package dyes are making lively efforts to induce the wholesale and retail druggists and grocers to buy their dyes.

Within the two boards of the poor man's Bible is a greater wealth of happiness, of honour, of pleasure, of true peace, than Australia hides in the gold of all her mines.

THE WHITE RIBBON.

"For God and Home and Nation Laid."

Conducted by the Ladies of the W. C. T. U.

President—Mrs Tully. Vice-Presidents—Mrs Hale, Mrs R Reid, Mrs A. Johnson.

What Our Flower Mission Saint is Still Doing.

BY FANNIE CASSEDY DUNCAN.

Since the Union Signal so kindly asks me for something about Jennie Cassidy and her love for those shut in from the luxuries of life, I will avail myself of his courtesy to tell its readers of our latest success in carrying forward her special pet work—the summer home for wage-earning women.

After telling, more fully than I shall here quote, the details of her response to this "call," Jennie Cassidy proceeds thus in her report:

The questions have often been asked, "Did you keep your house full of guests? How did you get hold of them? Did they pay you board, and how much? This is my answer. We called on different circles of young folk in the churches, to make their their duties would be to see that the cottage was kept full of guests; to require one dollar a week from all who were able to pay it; to make as many good times and put as many persons in them as could be crowded into the limit of two weeks. I would like to tell how these circles of young girls noted, and furnished from their own exchequer, needed supplies and toothsome delicacies; how the Highland Presbyterian King's Daughters gave a pot and party in order to fill out our larder, and the Cross Bearers made picnics to the cottage to see the 'other girls'; of how nearly eighty guests were entertained; of how my own little five dollars, which was my only nest-egg, multiplied one hundred and help them.

But how could she go? To touch her couch sent thrills of pain through her body. She was beloved almost to being worshipped in her native city; and the people of Louisville, of every rank were deeply moved by what was thus contemplated; and so there was much thought looking to the devising of plans for the easy making of the, to her, hazardous trip.

The wage-earners wished for it, too, and in 1895 they one day drew out their slender little purses and started a "purchase fund"—only a few dollars from a few girls. Other girls heard of it and added their offerings, and the little sum began to grow, and so got into a savings bank.

A sure foundation means as much for a business as a building, hence you are safe in buying

Eclipse Soap

Established for over 20 yrs. Send us 25 "Eclipse" wrappers, or 6c. in stamps with coupon and we will mail you a popular novel.

JOHN TAYLOR & CO. MANUFACTURERS, TORONTO, ONT.

STOP AND READ.

COAL! COAL! COAL! We have in stock the celebrated LACKAWANNA HARD COAL in all sizes—fresh from the mines. Also, the Best Grades of SOFT COALS.

We are also agents for the celebrated STOCKBRIDGE MANURES manufactured by the Bowker Fertilizer Co. J. F. ARMSTRONG.

WOLFVILLE COAL COMPANY. Telephone N. 18. Wolfville, N. S.

MONUMENTS

In Red and Grey Polished Granite and Marble.

Strictly first-class Work. GRIFFIN & KELTIE, 323 BARRINGTON ST., HALIFAX.

The Agency FOR THE WELL-KNOWN

HEINEMAN & CO. PIANOS has been transferred to MILLER BROS., who now have in their warehouses a stock of the latest style of these Piano, direct from the Factory.

MILLER BROS., 101 & 103 Barrington St., Halifax.

THE SLATER SHOE

How much of your Shoe is leather, workmanship—and how much of it is profit? The Shoe you should buy and the Shoe most dealers sell, differ as these proportions differ.

W. J. BALCOM, PROPRIETOR, Wolfville, Nov. 19th, 1894.

W. J. Balcom

has secured an Auctioneer's license and is prepared to sell all kinds of Real and Personal Property at a moderate rate.

AGENTS. I am just starting the best thing for money making you have seen for many a day. Your name and address will bring the golden information.

Elliot & Hopson ARCHITECTS, Halifax, N. S.

Halifax, N. S. make a specialty of the latest American styles and are prepared to furnish designs and working drawings for all kinds of architectural work.

UNDERTAKING! CHAS. H. BORDEN

Has on hand a full line of COFFINS, CASKETS, etc., and a FIRST-CLASS HEARSE. All orders in this line will be carefully attended to. Charges moderate.

RAIN OR SHINE OUR STUDIO

—AT— WOLFVILLE —IS OPEN—

Every Monday & Tuesday. Lewis Rice & Co.

Prof. Adams

Will take pupils for June let for Piano and Vocal instruction. For terms and further information apply to Mr Clarence H. Borden, Lewis, N. Y. Union Signal.

Yarmouth Steamship Co. (LIMITED)

1896-1897. 1898-1899. 2 TRIPS A WEEK! The Shortest and Most Direct Route between Nova Scotia and the United States.

THE QUICKEST TIME, 15 to 17 hours between Yarmouth and Boston!

Commencing Nov. 4th. STEEL STEAMER "BOSTON," UNTIL further notice, will leave Yarmouth for Boston every

Wed. and Sat. Ev'g after the arrival of the Express train from Halifax.

Regular mail carried on steamer. Tickets sold to all points in Canada, via Central Vermont or Canadian Pacific Ry., and to New York via Fall River Line, Stonington Line, New York, Haven & Hartford and Boston and Albany R. R.

For all other information apply to Dominion Atlantic, L. C., and Central Railway Agents or to W. A. CHASE, L. E. BAKER, Secretary and Treas. Manager.

NOTICE.

Having secured the Shop recently occupied by Mr W. Regan, I am now in a position to supply the public with all goods in my line.

Custom Boots & Shoes. Men's, Women's and Children's Boots and Shoes made to order.

Repairing neatly and promptly done. Thanking the public for past favours, and by close attention to business I hope to receive a fair share of patronage.

E. B. SHAW. Terms strictly cash on delivery of work.

Livery Stables!

Until further notice at Central Hotel.

First-class teams with all the reasonable equipments. Come one, come all, and you shall be used right!

Beautiful Double Teams, for special occasions. Telephone No. 41. Office Central Telephone.

W. J. BALCOM, PROPRIETOR, Wolfville, Nov. 19th, 1894.

ROBERT STANFORD, Fine Tailoring.

154 and 156 HOLLIS STREET, Halifax, N. S.

Ladies' Tailor Made Costumes, Sequies, etc., a specialty. Special Cuts and Special Workmen in this department.

Fruit Trees for Sale!

Weston Nursery, Kings Co., N. S. (NEWBURY R. STATION.)

I have for sale a good stock of trees for planting, comprising Ben Davis, Spy, Renhew Pippin, Fallwater, Nonsect, Wagner, Pewaka, Banks Red Gravenstein, and the common Gravenstein, and Moore's Arctic Plum—fruits.

Persons ordering direct from the Nursery will get this stock at first cost—saving agent's profits.

AGENTS. New Edition of "Queen Victoria" now ready. Thirty-two full page plates added.

Best history of the Queen and the Victorian Era published by Her Majesty's Stationery Office. Sold by all booksellers.

THE BRADLEY-GARRETTSON CO., LTD., Toronto, Ont.

Property for Sale in Wolfville!

Dwelling containing nine rooms, besides bath-room and kitchen, with hot and cold water, and all modern improvements; good outbuildings; three acres of land with apple, pear, plum and cherry trees, small fruits. Conveniently situated near school, churches, post office, etc.

Part of purchase money may remain on mortgage if desired. For further particulars apply to MRS. H. D. HARRIS.

SHORTHAND Instruction by Mail!

It is not necessary to leave your home to become proficient in shorthand. Write for particulars.

H. WENMAN WHITE, P. O. Box 215, Wolfville, N. S. 34

For Sale or Exchange.

At corner of Gaspereau avenue and Prospect street, Wolfville, horse containing ten good rooms, barn and stable. Lot 125 feet by 70. Will sell or exchange for orchard in Annapolis Valley. Address P. O. Box 5, Wolfville.

THESE BRISK LITTLE PILLS ARE EXACTLY WHAT IS ALWAYS NEEDED IN ALL CASES OF CONSTITUTIONAL SICKNESS, BILIOUS ATTACKS, AND DYSPEPSIA. SOLD EVERYWHERE AT 25c. A BOX. DODD'S MEDICINE COMPANY, PHARMACEUTICALS, TORONTO, ONT.

DR. BARSS,

Residence at Mr Everett W. Sawyer's; Office adjoining Acadian office.

Office Hours: 10—11, a. m.; 2—3, p. m. Telephone at residence, No. 38

J. C. Dumaresq ARCHITECT,

Halifax, N. S. Plans and specifications prepared for all kinds of buildings.

DR. E. N. PAYZANT

Will continue the practice of Dentistry as formerly, at his residence near the station, Wolfville. Appointments can be made by letter or at residence.

Special fees on lower sets of teeth. March 20th, 1895.

PURE FRAGRANT DELICIOUS MONSOON TEA

THE PERFECT TEA PUT UP IN SEALED CADDIES UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE TEA PLANTERS.

"MONSOON" TEAS... is produced under the supervision of the Tea growers and is advertised and sold by them as a sample of the best qualities of Indian and Ceylon Teas.

That is why "Monsoon," the perfect Tea, can be sold at the same price as inferior tea.

It is put up in sealed caddies of 4 lb., 1 lb., and 5 lbs., and sold through all the leading grocers and tea dealers.

W. J. BALCOM, PROPRIETOR, Wolfville, Nov. 19th, 1894.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c. Anyone sending a sketch and description will receive a free opinion of our Patent Attorneys.

Scientific American, the best and most influential journal of science and art in the world, is published weekly.

MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

Fred H. Christie Painter and Paper Hanger.

Best attention given to Work Entrusted to us.

Orders left at the store of G. H. Wallace will be promptly attended to.

A PAIL WITHOUT HOOPS

That means a long lasting Pail. Its many qualities are unique. The price makes it available to all.

THE E. B. EDDY CO'S INDURATED FIREWARE

PAILS, TUBS, BARS, BEEHIVES, ETC.

Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee

CARRIES "Queen Victoria, Her Life and Reign" into every home. Persons who have never said "look at that old fellow" will be interested in this book.

Preface the most eloquent of Lord Dufferin's achievements. No book so highly prized. We need more causers. Easy to make $15.00 to $30.00 weekly. Books on time. Free post free charge for orchard in Annapolis Valley. Address P. O. Box 5, Wolfville.

THE BRADLEY-GARRETTSON CO., LTD., Toronto, Ont.

Soaps for Odd Moments.

"Do you succeed in picking up a lying Jew?" said the robin to the toad. "Oh, yes!" replied the toad; "but it keeps me on the jump."

Hewitt—How did you feel when you were sick? Jew—That the whale knew his business when he got rid of Jonah.

Cunoo—He speaks broken English. Lawker—That's odd. He was born in America; hasn't he? Cunoo—Yes, but he stutters.

Minards Liniment is the best. He—Tell you what, let's found a society for mental admiration. I, for instance, admire your beautiful eyes; and what do you admire in me? She—Your good taste.

He—I am in favor of the English rather than the American mode of spelling. She—Yes! "Yes!" indeed! Take "parlor," for instance. Having "u" in it makes all the difference in the world.

Ayer's Pills are palatable, safe for children, and more effective than any other cathartic.

It seems to me, said one young woman, that Harold talks more clearly on the tariff than any one else I have ever heard. Yes, replied Miss Cayenna. He has the advantage of not knowing enough about it to get his ideas confused.

Might I ask what school of poetry you prefer? I inquired the young man who writes. And the old gentleman replied: The homeopathic school—the smaller the dose, the better it suits me.

"I once drove 28 miles," said the womanly little woman, "without ever hitting my thumb."

"How you do it?" asked they in wonderment. "With a hammer—and a man."

"Oh!"

"I brush you and the Majah had a little difficulty last night, Colonel?"

"No difficulty on my part, Judge, I assure you." It may be that the Majah had a little difficulty in getting himself together to go home after it was over, eh?

Minards Liniment Cures La Grippe. Irrate customer—See here! That suit of clothes I bought of you yesterday is full of moth-holes. Dealer—Das is all right, mine friend. Moths never eat cotton, an' ven ladies an' gentlemen see dose holes dey know you years only high priced, all-wool goods.

General Porter tells a story of his farewell to Mark Twain, once when Mark was going away. I said: "Good-bye, Mark, may God be with you always." He replied: "I hope he will, but I hope, too, that he will find some leisure moments to take care of you."

Minards Liniment Cures La Grippe. Irrate customer—See here! That suit of clothes I bought of you yesterday is full of moth-holes. Dealer—Das is all right, mine friend. Moths never eat cotton, an' ven ladies an' gentlemen see dose holes dey know you years only high priced, all-wool goods.

"What's your husband's politics?" asked the new neighbor.

"Jim said the lady addressed. "He's an anti!"

"Anti-what?"

"No; not anti-what; just an anti. He's agin anything that happens to be."

With the blood full of humor, the heated term is all the more oppressive. Give the system a thorough cleansing with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and a dose or two of Ayer's Pills, and you will enjoy the summer as never before in your life. Just try this for once, and you'll not regret it.

Fotis—The thing that mystifies me about the Turkish Grecian fight is—

Motis—The power?

"Bah, no, but rather the way people here who haven't seen the inside of a church in 40 years go wild with sympathy for Greece because the Greeks are Christians."

Stranger—As I was going home late last night somebody fired a pistol at me and shot the hole through my hat.

Western Jew—What the mischief have I got to do with that? This ain't a hat store. If the man shoots a hole through your head, then come to me and I'll see what can be done about it.

Cactus Charlie—Hello, Sam; wet air cleanin' yer gun for? Expectin' any trouble?

Sure Shot Sam—Yes, Utrin's ready to go to New York.

Cactus Charlie—What! What's takin' ye that?

Sure Shot Sam—One o' them eastern chaps as I had dealings with last telegraph me that he'd draw on me at eight, an' I'm goin' to see if he's as good as his word.

How Many Words Do You Use. Modern American dictionaries contain between one and two hundred thousand words. But, unfortunately, nine tenths of these are seldom used. It is remarkable how small a selection satisfies the best writers and speakers. An educated American, who has been at a public school and at the university, who reads his Bible and his newspaper, seldom uses more than 2,000 to 4,000 words in actual conversation. Close ransurers and thinkers, who avoid general expressions, and wait for a word that exactly suits their meaning, employ a larger stock, and eloquent speakers, may rise to a command of 10,000. Shakespeare produced all his plays with 25,000 words, and the Old Testament says all it has to say with 5,542.

THE ACADIAN

Published on FRIDAY

WOLFVILLE, N. S.

TERMS

$1.00 Per

(IN ADVANCE)

CLUBS of five in ad

Local advertising at

for every insertion, un

arrangement for standi

Rate for standing

to be made known on office, and payment on must be guaranteed by party prior to its inser

The ACADIAN JOURNAL

continues to receive

and will continue to g

on all work turned out

Newspaper communica

of the day or articl

of the day are cordia

ly received, and the names of the party will not be published, unles

requested, although the

over a addressal signat

Address all communica

to THE EDITOR, THE

ACADIAN, WOLFVILLE,

N. S.

POST OFFICE,

Office Hours, 8:00

Mails are made up at

for Halifax and Wolf

ville.

Express west close at Express east close at

Kentville close at 8

Geo. V.

PEOPLES BANK

Open from 10 a. m.

on Saturday at 1 p. m.

G. V.

CHAIR

BAPTIST CHURCH

Pastor—Services: Sun

day at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Sunday School at 10 a. m.

Worship at 7:30 p. m.

Prayer-meeting on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

at 3 p. m. on the

meeting at 7:30 p. m.

W. J. BALCOM

M. Macdonald, M. A.

Church, Wolfville, N. S.

Sunday at 11 a. m., an

School at 3 p. m. Sun

nesday at 7:30 p. m.

Lower Hutton; Public

at 3 p. m.; Sunday

Prayer Meeting on W

nesday at 7:30 p. m.

METHODIST CH

W. J. BALCOM

Hale, Pastor. Servi ces: at 11 a. m. and 7 p.

Half hour prayer-me

services every Sunday.

People's prayer-meeti ng at 7:30 o'clock.

prayer-meeting on W

nesday at 7:30 p. m.

at 3 p. m. on the

meeting at 7:30 p. m.

St. JOHN'S CHURCH

at 11 a. m. and 7 p.

at 3 p. m. Service eve