Impressive Ceremony.

YOUNG LADIES RENOUNCE THE WORLD.
Yesterday morning at 8.30 a solemn reception and profession took place at the new novitiate of the Order of Mercy, Littledale. The ceremony was performed by the Archbishop, assisted by Rt. Rev. Mr. McDermott, V.G., Revs. Frs. Coady, Rawlins, Greene and Dubordieu. A large number of the relatives and friends of the newly received and professed young ladies were present, besides many members of the communities of the Order from various parts of the Colony, with the Mother General and the Council.

The function was deeply impressive and profoundly soul-stirring. The scene before the Sanctuary as each young life sacrificed offered itself to God, and renounced all the attractions of the world, made an impression on all present that can never be forgotten. Never perhaps before in the history of the Colonial Church was such a large number received in any Order on the same day, and consequently the day was one full of significance, and pointed to the abundant fruits grown from the tiny plant sown on Newfoundland soil by the first intrepid souls who came, braving the dangers of the Atlantic, with the infant foundation. It was indeed a fitting celebration for the Diamond Jubilee year of the Order in the Colony, and was more appropriate than band or blare.

It is just 75 years ago since Mother McAuley, the Foundress of the Institute of Mercy, sent her daughters to this mission, and all her hopes must have been more than realized, for the mission has been gradually extending its work and its usefulness. It is an added pleasure for the Sisters to have, besides a large increase in its members, also in this jubilee year, the privilege of two new foundations—one at Bell Island in the east, and one at Bay of Islands in the west. After the ceremony the sermon was delivered by the Bishop of St. George's, in part as follows:—Taking his text from Matt. XI, 28, 29, 13, "Take up My yoke upon you, and learn of Me, who am meek and humble, of heart, for My yoke is sweet and My burden light." He spoke of its fitness to adequately describe the glowing thoughts within the minds of the onlookers at such a scene as they had just witnessed. It was, he said, "a little bit of Heaven," and made all feel that it was well to be present. He pictured the sad state of a war-wearied and war-worn world, the selfishness abroad, charity almost dead; and then he presented the thoughts of hope, and that all was not so dark when such a young and joyful band in self-abasement, left father, mother, friends, the pleasures of life, to do good to others. They had shown the world that the undying spirit of the old Church still lived on in one of its essential characters. The religious state was a part of the genius of historic Christianity, and from the very beginning belonged to the notes of the church called "Holy." It was, too, the line privilege of the old church, for nowhere outside her fold had any institution been able to produce a Sister of Charity and a Sister of Mercy. There was outside her fold many a valiant woman who had impressed the ages with the glories of her sex, like Florence Nightingale, but none had arisen with the renunciation so absolute, so uncircumscribed and complete as the cloistered Nun. They were called by the Church, which had the wisdom of centuries behind her, and which knew the noble traits of a woman's soul, to participate in the work of her commission "teach all nations." Into the devoted hearts of these young Sisters did the Archbishop place the charge of little girls—the mothers of to-morrow, those who would rock the future cradles, "for the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." They were to carry on the work of education, so dear to the church, that had ever planted by her cross the torch of learning. We lived in a transition period when traditions passed and customs no longer were efficient. The young Sisters were to be a part of the new order of affairs and christianize it. Besides teaching they would be called upon to perform "a work of mercy; they were the daughters of Our Lady of Mercy, and they were to distribute that mercy to poor suffering mortals; like Him, Whose Brides they were, they should have "compassion on the multitude." They should uplift the fallen, rescue the abandoned of their sex, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, sympathize with the broken heart; wherever there was a hand outstretched for Mercy, they were to be there, in God's name, and with God's grace to supply; they were to be there in self-abasement, for sweet Charity's sake, to help the unfortunate. Their reward was not of this world. It was not gold nor silver for the vow of poverty precluded this; it was not earthly affection, for the vow of chastity did not permit it; it was not social prestige nor intellectual triumphs, for the vow of obedience directed the will and created humility. It was not the applause of men, for their work was hidden; but it was alone from Him Who said "I am your reward exceeding great." He concluded by urging upon all to persevere in their holy undertaking, and told them to place themselves under the protection of Her whose true children they were—Holy Mary, the Immaculate. She would encourage them in their labours, she would solace them in their fatigues, she would applaud their successes, she would succor them in their moments of depression. They were, as it were, a garden of roses taken from the wayside of life. The roses that grow by the wayside are dust covered and never live long; but the roses removed from the roadside grow luxuriant and fragrant. They were taken away from the roadside from the danger of being sullied by the debris of life. Theirs was a great privilege for which they should thank God, for other young ladies had to work midst the turmoil of life, and with difficulty escape contagion. They had accepted a love, which, unlike the love of this life, was ever reciprocated. Thomson said

"Love was the ambassador of loss," but their love was the ambassador of eternal gain when they would be admitted amongst the "virgin Band, who minister before the great White Throne of the Lamb."

When the luncheon was over, the Archbishop visited the reception room, when he congratulated the friends of the participants in an historic and never-to-be-forgotten festival. The following young ladies received the white veil:—Miss Kelly, in religion Sr. M. Teresa; Miss McDonnell, in religion Sr. M. Clare; Miss O'Connor, in religion Sr. M. Augustine; Miss Stewart, in religion Sr. M. Philomena; Miss Fleming, in religion Sr. M. Gabriel.

Pronounced their Holy Vows—Sr. M. Cecilia Hartigan, Sr. M. Alphonsus McNamara, Sr. M. Aloysius Rawlins, Sr. M. Ignatius Molloy.

Flower Day.
It will be seen by the ad. in another column, that it is proposed to hold a Flower Day next Saturday in aid of the French Red Cross. It will be under the direction of Mrs. C. McK. Harvey, assisted by the W.P.A. ladies who so ably managed the recent Tag Day on May 23rd. The sufferings of our French allies, and the splendid and heroic efforts of that devoted nation in the cause of civilization and humanity, appeal to us with irresistible force. Let us show our sympathy with our noble allies by liberal giving on "Flower Day."

The Standing Committee.
Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir,—Is it not somewhat an anomaly as well as an indication of the rottenness of public spirit here when we have the case of the Hon. Doctor McGrath, President of the Legislative Council, prominent member of the Patriotic Association and holding important offices on its sub-committees, constantly viciously attacking in the "Council" as well as public "print" the works of the Standing Committee which contains on its membership such prominent men as the Premier, the Colonial Secretary, the Minister of Finance, the Deputy Minister of Justice, etc. It should also be noted that this Standing Committee is under the control of the Patriotic Association of which His Excellency the Governor is Chairman and to which it is accountable.

Enclosing my card I am, Yours truly, A MEMBER OF THE PATRIOTIC COMMITTEE.

WESTWARD HO.
In my old auto, worn and rusty, I jog along the highway dusty, where the hills of Colorado provide a cool and grateful shadow. For birds must have a brief vacation, whatever perils face the nation. Through many little grades I wander, and often stop, some coin to squander, my auto to refreshments treating—the oil and gas it's fond of eating. And everywhere I hear men spiling, with fervid patriotic feeling. Their optimism's so exalting I have excuse for frequent halting. "Throughout this war's unholy revel the Kaiser's held the allies level," I hear the garage sages saying; "in fact, he beat them all at slaying; it surely looked as though the sinner might in the end come out a winner. But now we've grabbed our sabres, and borrowed shotguns from the neighbors; the outlook will be pretty chilly for Hindenburg and Silly Billy. We, as a people, take no pleasure in squandering our blood and treasure, but when we're driven into scrapperin', you bet that something's bound to happen, and soon the Prussians will be wishing they'd balked at war and gone a-fishing."

Military Funeral.

The funeral of the late Corporal Oscar Vaughan took place on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended. The funeral procession was as follows:—

Firing squad Nfld. Regiment with arms reversed. C. C. C. Band. Regimental Drum and Bugle Band. Soldiers drawing gun carriage. Casket mounted on gun carriage and draped with the British Flag. Mourners. Catholic Cadet Corps. Newfoundland Regiment. Officers of Regiment and Forestry Company.

At the R. C. Cathedral the prayers for the dead were recited by Rev. Dr. Carter, after which the procession reformed and proceeded to Belvidere Cemetery where interment took place. After the remains had been lowered into the grave the firing party fired three farewell volleys while Bugler McGrath sounded the lost post. At intervals along the route of march the C. C. C. Band rendered sacred music.

Express Passengers.

The following first class passengers are on the incoming express:— Miss E. Murphy, Miss Uruhgart, Mrs. J. M. Forbes, Miss C. Hyde, W. F. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. A. Peters, Rev. R. A. St. John, J. Fenelon, F. G. Hunter, H. Wareham, Mrs. H. Goldstone, J. B. and Mrs. Wells, J. B. Jameson, T. F. Buttle, Mrs. J. Winslow, Mrs. J. Moulton, Miss E. Greene, Miss Kehoe, Mr. and Mrs. F. White, H. S. Burnham, Mrs. H. Blake, Miss F. Huggs, R. F. Moffatt, F. J. Chase, Rev. A. Reeves, Lieut. J. Spooner, Capt. C. D. Keen, Capt. W. Brown, P. Tarrant, J. Soper, J. Keefe, L. Brown, L. Hann, L. Baker, P. Jennings, H. Coles, E. Coles, J. Taylor, C. Roeter, J. Hayes, A. Muggford, W. Gardner, C. Way, John Kent, Chas. C. Bennett, R. B. Smith, F. D. Leonard, Miss A. Harris, Mrs. B. Bragg, Mrs. E. Ford and Miss B. Gilliam.

Homeless, Wanderer.

On Saturday evening last a girl reached the city from Pouch Cove. She was seeking engagement as a domestic. Late at night she was found by the police wandering about the streets and was taken to the lock-up for safe keeping. Yesterday the girl was taken to the home of her aunt who is arranging to send her back to Pouch Cove to-day.

Violated Game Laws

A resident of St. George's was tried before Magistrate McDonnell a few days ago at the instance of the game warden, who caught him catching salmon in a net in the gut of the Main River. The defendant was fined $5. A similar offence has been committed by a fisherman of Point Leamington, N.D.B. He will be tried before Magistrate Wells, of Little Bay.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gents,—I cured a valuable hunting dog of mange with MINARD'S LINIMENT after several veterinaries had treated him, without doing him any permanent good.
Yours, etc., WILFRID GANGE.
Prop. of Grand Central Hotel, Drummondville, Aug. 3, '04.

Football Notes.

The St. Andrew's and C. E. I. will try conclusions this evening. The latter team have many "has-beens" in their ranks, but think they are able to give the youngsters a warm time of it. To obviate any further disputes about goals, we learn in future goal judges will be appointed at every match by the captains of the respective teams.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Wm. Taylor wishes to thank Drs. Keegan and Smith, Misses Taylor and Scott, Sisters and Nurses of the General Hospital for their kindness to him.

THE SUPERMEN ON TOUR.

AMSTERDAM, To-Day.—Official announcement is made in Berlin that Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff have arrived there for a council of war with the Emperor. Last week Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff made a visit to Austrian headquarters.

ARRESTS IN CONNECTION WITH HUGE CONSPIRACY.

SAN FRANCISCO, To-Day.—Preparations for war with England were being made in the United States by German agents and Hindu agitators more than a year prior to the outbreak of the European War, according to a statement made here to-day by United States District Attorney Preston. That assertion was made in connection with the filing of 134 indictments in the United States Court here yesterday in connection with violations of American neutrality. Telegraphic warrants prepared by United States Attorney John W. Preston were sent broadcast to Federal agents, and it was expected that many arrests in various parts of the country would be made. The Government charges that the conspiracy dated from the outbreak of the war in 1914, was organized in Berlin and financed with German gold. The indictment charges the defendants with assisting in the carrying of German warships in the Pacific Ocean with arms, ammunition and coal supplies, to have been used in the proposed revolution of India. It was alleged there the activities extended from August 1st, 1914, to January, 1916. Those indicted also included members of the crews of various vessels connected with the alleged conspiracy.

CHINESE REPUBLIC RE-ESTABLISHED.

WASHINGTON, To-Day.—Official despatches to the Chinese Legation here to-night said the Republic had been firmly re-established at Nanking with Feng Kuo Chang, former Vice-President, as President of the new Provisional Government. Republican troops were reported converging toward Peking to drive out the Manchurian forces remaining in possession there in the name of the imperialists.

FRENCH SUCCESSSES.

LONDON, To-Day.—North of the Aisne the French again have checked the German Crown Prince in an effort to regain the line of the Chemin des Dames. Attacking on four sectors along a front of seven and a half miles from the mouth of Laffaux Mill to Frodmont Farm, the Germans were met by a determined resistance on the part of the French, and sustaining heavy losses were repulsed completely, except on the eastern end of the line between Bovettes and Frodmont Farm. Here on a front of nearly two miles the fighting was desperate and the French after several hours were able to regain some lost elements. Later in the day in local engagements the French recaptured more lost trenches. East of Cerny on the eastern end of the Aisne front General Potain's men in an attack were able to enlarge the ground captured on July 1. Near Allies on the left bank of the Meuse, northeast of Verdun, the French took the offensive and carried three strong sallies. One was west of Le Mort Homme and the other two southwest of Hill 304, dominating the height west of the Meuse and against which the German Crown Prince threw ineffectual attacks during the past week. The German efforts to dislodge the French from their newly won positions were fruitless.

PUTTING THE SCREW ON GERMAN.

WASHINGTON, To-Day.—Government control of American exports authorized in the provisions of the Espionage Act was directed to be put into operation on July 15 by President Wilson to-night with issuance of a proclamation requiring the licensing of shipments to all countries of the most important export commodities.

DEMAND FOR REPRISALS.

THE FRENCH RAID ON ESSEN.

AMSTERDAM, To-Day.—A frontier correspondent of the Handshlad reports that five persons were killed and several houses were destroyed during the bombardment of the German city of Essen, the home of the great Krupp works, on Friday night. A correspondent of the Telegraph says that bombs were dropped on the Krupp works and that the reports of the damage inflicted are conflicting. Estimates of the number of the destroyed vary between 15 and 40. A semi-official German statement received here from Muenster, Westphalia, says, "Enemy aeroplanes visited industrial districts, dropping eight bombs and causing damage to the extent of 2,000 marks. No industrial works were hit, and there were no casualties."

DEBATE IN FRENCH DEPUTIES.

PARIS, To-day.—A noisy scene attended the public sitting of the Deputies which followed a week of secret sessions, at which were discussed events connected with the offensive of April 16. Until an early hour this morning the Chamber, which began the public sitting yesterday, continued the discussion of the resolutions proposed as the result of the secret session. Although there were frequent demands for an adjournment, Premier Briot closed the debate for the Government, declaring that the April offensive was costly but that instead of being a check, as asserted by some, it was a real success. Mistakes undoubtedly had been made, the Premier said, but we cannot rob our Generals of the audacity that gives victory.

The first test vote taken in regard to granting priority to a resolution accepted by the Government was favourable to the Government by 257 to 137. Paul Painleve, Minister of War, dwelt upon the successes obtained in the April offensive, but did not deny that serious faults were committed. He said the responsible chiefs, among them the Commander-in-Chief, General Nivelle, had been relieved of their command. Investigations will be begun in a few days he said, to fix responsibility and permit the Government to take the necessary steps. M. House, who he quoted President Wilson's words to the effect that there was no alternative other than to conquer or submit; adding, the peace which lies behind the smiles of Scheidemann the German Socialist leader, and the pan-Germans means that to-morrow the Germans' intact fleet will dominate the seas. Your Boys and Girls.

At all times of the year the baby's skin is very delicate and should receive great care in regard to cleanliness and keeping very dry the parts that are likely to become wet; as for example, changing wet diapers at once as soon they are noticed to be wet. In summer even greater care should be taken in protecting the baby's delicate skin.

A full tub bath in the morning and one or two sponge baths during the day will do much in war weather to prevent skin troubles in the baby. The bath should not be too hard. If one is staying in a locality where the water is noted for its "hardness" a bran bag may be used in the water.

The use of soap should be carefully considered. It is usually unwise to put soap on the baby's face. The face should be bathed with a clean wash cloth before the water is allowed to become soapy.

Pure white castile soap is the best kind to use for the baby. If one does not care for this, then some very delicately scented French soap is the next best thing. Never use strong soaps of any kind on babies or young children. Only a little soap should be used on the wash cloth for head, body and extremities; then all this should be very carefully rinsed off with a french cloth and water. The child should never be dried while the body is still soapy.

Millady's Boudoir.

When the short skirt was accepted as an institution, women began to be more particular about their shoes. As they grew wiser and surer of themselves and their place in the world, they began to use their splendid sense in demanding the right shoes for their feet. That made the makers of shoes change their lasts. They were forced to make shoes that approached same lines for women's wear as well as for men.

The present shoe has the long vamp and splendid appearance which characterize the best type of custom made shoes. The short vamp and the stubby toe are frowned on by the best dressers. The long, slender foot, like the long, tapering hand, has ever given the impression of aristocracy in the accepted meaning of the word.

Some say there are more flat feet now than ever before, but it must be remembered that women are now using their feet as never before and also women have ceased to accept any old shoes and hobble about and suffer in silence. They are not afraid to speak when their feet trouble them, and try every sane means to better their condition.

Here is the rule in all the good shoe shops for general wear. When one buys Tango ties and Sandals there is more individual freedom of choice. But where one woman buys low heels for dancing there are a million who wear shoes for general use.

Given the consciousness of good shoes and good gloves and a woman can rise above the knowledge that her gown is not the freshest in style and appearance. Crown her with a modish and becoming hat and she can even forget the shortcomings of the rest of her clothes.

Household Notes.

Ginger poultices are as efficacious as mustard and will not blister. They should be made in the same way.

Raisin Bread.—To ordinary dough made with one quart of whole-wheat flour, add one cupful of seeded raisins. Part of the flour should be reserved for dredging them. Do not put the raisins in until just before kneading.

Prune Salad.—This is delicious for luncheon. Stew one pound of large prunes until soft, without sweetening. Drain and pit; then fill the cavities with nut-meats or cream-cheese, and serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise dressing.

Efficient in Happiness.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

"It's not how much we have but how much we enjoy that makes happiness." —Spurgeon.

Are you efficient in being happy? We were talking about a woman the other day the keynote of whose life seems to be restless discontent.

"She doesn't have everything she wants, of course," said Molly, "but she has more than most of us."

She seems to get the least possible Happiness.

"I think," said the Lady-who-always-knows-somehow, "that the trouble is that she just isn't efficient about happiness. She seems to get the least happiness instead of the most out of the circumstances of her life."

Of how many people that is true! We see them all about us—or even nearer home than that.

There are so many ways that one can get happiness if one is happy efficient, and so many ways one can miss it if one is inefficient.

People Who Make Hard Work of Living.

There's the people who miss happiness because they make such hard work of living—the woman who is forever winding and unwinding the red tape of domestic affairs, the man who is always worrying and scolding and blaming. People like that not only miss much happiness themselves but they make the people about them unhappy and this reaction on them and makes their chance of happiness still less.

And then there's the people who confuse happiness and pleasure and chase pleasures so hard that they miss happiness.

And the people who get into such deep narrow ruts that they miss the road to happiness.

And those who miss happiness because they abuse and impair their health. Health is one of the organs with which we digest our happiness. It is almost as hard to be happy when one is unhealthy as it is to enjoy food with an upset stomach.

People Who Haven't Much Capacity For Happiness.

And then there are the people so self-centred, so lacking in broader sympathies, so undeveloped mentally that they haven't any large capacity for happiness. "A small glass and a large one may be equally full but the large one holds more than the small."

Of course circumstances do have much to do with happiness. It would be cant to deny that. It is hard if not impossible to be happy under certain circumstances, under grinding harassing poverty, under recent bereavement, under remorse.

But in the daily circumstances of the average man or woman, happiness is possible. And how much happiness depends upon one's efficiency in manufacturing it just as much as upon circumstances.

In the words of Samuel Johnson: "The fountain of contentment must spring up in the mind; and he who has so little knowledge of human nature as to seek happiness by changing anything but his own disposition will waste his life in fruitless efforts."

To preserve brass without taking lacquer off, and stop from rusting, mix together a little beeswax and spirits of turps. Apply a small quantity, and then rub off with a soft cloth. This will make brass like new.

CONCEIT.

Conceit is a popular form of gas which is used to inflate the human megaphone. It is the cheapest form of gas in use, and several thousand feet of it can be produced with small overhead expense.

Conceit is caused by nursing a bump of self-esteem to the point where it can sit up and crow. A small bump of self-esteem is a good thing to have, but when it becomes so robust that it can't be held in with kicking straps it gets to be a burden to all who have to listen to its conversation. Some of the largest bumps of self-esteem on record were possessed by people who started out in life without any, but who became proud and haughty after learning how to eat with a fork. That teaches us that it is better to remain modest and eat with a knife in an eager and noisy manner than to become swollen with pride and refrain from tipping up the soup bowl.

Started to relate how he escaped from Libby Prison by overpowering nine guards and a cluster of bloodhounds.

One of the worst forms of conceit is the ingrowing kind which is hooked up with a short memory. Many a man has started to relate how he escaped from Libby Prison by overpowering nine guards and a cluster of bloodhounds, only to be reminded by some skeptical listener that he was three years ago when the war broke out. Some of the most thrilling tales of adventure ever related have been utterly ruined by this attitude on the part of listeners who are particularly about dates.

Fishermen carry a very pleasant brand of conceit which enables them to convert a crappy four inches long into a Roman-nosed pickerel weighing six pounds and eight ounces! Nobody objects to this form of conceit, for after a man has stood out in a rock-strewn creek all day in his bare feet and bunions, without catching anything but sciatic rheumatism, he is not responsible for anything, he may say.

Women have less conceit than men, owing to the fact that they see so much of it at home. It is a mistake for a young husband to brag about how much money he is making, as it sets a bad example before his wife and encourages her to reduce the surplus with a light heart. Conceit in money matters is a dangerous thing to exhibit to a wife who is hesitating between a $90 suit and a $40 top coat.

We are all more or less conceited, but we should 'drive' with a 'wife tie' and sit tight in the stirrups.

The Airman's Newspaper.

Manchester Guardian.—We all know in a way of the changes that the wonderful development of air travel in the war has brought about, but until peace comes we can have little idea how it will affect ordinary life. A hint of it can be seen in this story, told to me by a friend who dined recently at the Royal Flying Corps headquarters in France:

"Would you like to see to-night's 'Star'?" he was asked. He thought it was a joke, but the 630 edition "Star" was handed to him. The explanation was: "One of our fellows brought it over with him." This aviator had left in the morning, had been at the War Office before business hours, and was back in France in time for dinner!

The Gas Range!

The Gas Range means comfort for the housewife; shorter kitchen hours for her, and a cleaner kitchen. It is a great mistake to think that cooking with gas is expensive.

Whenever a woman becomes used to gas for cooking, thoughts of a coal or wood stove fill her with gloom. A Gas range is so much easier to operate, so efficient for all kinds of cooking, and so much cleaner, that the idea of going back to the old style methods is decidedly unpleasant. Yet in winter many housewives think they must use a coal or wood stove, because there is no other way of heating the kitchen. THERE IS ANOTHER WAY AND IT IS FAR BETTER THAN THE OLD. THE CLOW GAS STEAM RADIATOR WAY. MAY 23, 17

One Way to Save Leather.

While the Commercial Economy Board of the Council of National Defense is about it, why doesn't it endeavour to bring about a saving in the heels of women's shoes as well as in their tops? If it could induce the manufacturers to lessen the height of the heels, it would effect an economy in women as well as in leather that in war times should be worth considering. For the doctors all know very well, and are willing to say so when their knowledge is desired—which it rarely is upon that question—that the stiff-like heels upon which the majority of women prefer to trudge through life are largely responsible for many of the ailments that lower their physical efficiency.

If the board succeeds in limiting the height of the tops of women's shoes, as has been done in England, to seven inches, perhaps it will be sufficiently heartened to take another step in economy and persuade the manufacturers to cut down the heels to hygienic size and so save for wholesome use an immense amount of good sole leather. But, great as that economy would be, it would be negligible beside the ultimate saving in feminine health and strength and doctors' bills. Generations ago man discovered that high heels and fancy shapes in his foot coverings were uncomfortable, silly, futile, an unbearable interference with the work and the pleasure of life, and insisted that manufacturers make for him shoes that would clothe his feet without distorting them and subjecting himself to physical discomfort and illness. Masculine footwear, it is quite true, has not yet been evolved to the point of perfection. But at least it does not render men physically unfit to undertake their due share in the world's work, and it does not waste upon unnecessary heels leather needed for other purposes. In the making of the big majority of women's shoes enough leather is used in the building of the heels of each pair to sole another pair, with results wholly detrimental to the wearer's efficiency. The Commercial Economy Board should not be economical of its efforts in the leather-saving line. — N. Y. Times

THE LONDON AIR RAID.
LONDON, July 7.
The raid occurred at about 9.30 this morning. The people crowded the streets, many of them women and children. The police and soldiers had difficulty in holding back the people. Many persons were seen at the windows. Anti-aircraft guns throughout the city and British aeroplanes immediately engaged the hostile craft and for a time the sound of exploding bombs and the vicious reply of guns was deafening. Straight over the city flew the squadron of raiders pursued by shining shrapnel. The sun was overcast with a haze, such as is so favorable to the raiders. Notwithstanding the haze, however, the Germans were visible plainly to the people in the streets. The raiders appeared most suddenly and persons did not realize that a raid was in progress until the sound of bombs began to be heard. The Germans were travelling at tremendous speed. They appeared to be at a lower altitude than in the last raid when they exacted such a heavy toll of life in London. The following official report of the raid was given out: Lord French reports that at about 9.30 o'clock this morning hostile aircraft in considerable numbers probably in two parties appeared over the Isle of Thanet and the west coast of Essex. After dropping some bombs in Thanet the raiders proceeded in the direction of London, moving roughly parallel to the north bank of the Thames. They approached London from the northeast, then changing their course they proceeded north and west and crossed London from the northwest to the southeast. Bombs were dropped in various places in the metropolitan area. The number of raiding aeroplanes is at present uncertain, but probably about 20. They were attacked by artillery and by large numbers of our own aeroplanes, but reports as to the results of the engagements and as to the damage and casualties have not yet been received.

Damage was done in the heart of London by the raid which was one of the greatest, if not the greatest, ever attempted by the Germans over the metropolis. The German raiders came from the north, and left by way of the south. The streets were littered with glass from broken windows. People in the capital are urging that quick reprisals be taken. The west end and fashionable northwestern residential suburbs had a superb view of the approach of the visitors. From the further northern fringes of the metropolis the raiders swept on in fairly close formation, more than a score in number. The squadron, which had been flying high, then began a swift toboggan downwards, their speed increasing tremendously under the assistance of gravity, the planes soon reaching a level evidently of less than 1,000 yards in their swoop toward the central objectives. Meanwhile from all directions anti-aircraft batteries were working like machine guns, bursting shrapnel dotted the air around the oncoming raiders with snarling, vicious, black puffs of smoke more numerous than the planes, and it seemed impossible for the raiders completely to escape from the atmosphere of the curtain of fire surrounding them. The raiders, however, pursued their course, holding their cargo of bombs until they had crossed the suburban district and outlying parts. Thirty-seven persons were killed in the raid and 141 injured, it was officially announced this afternoon. One enemy machine was brought down by the Royal Flying Corps. A most exciting running fight between the British and German aeroplanes was witnessed by the people of London. After dropping their shower of bombs the Germans made off in a southerly direction. By this time the British aviators had reached a height at which they could engage the raiders and the chase began, machine guns coming into action. Even in basements the effect of the bombs was felt, the ground trembling as though an earthquake was in progress. Windows were shaken from their frames, plaster fell from the walls, and soot from the chimneys. Evidently there was a considerable difference in the calibre of the bombs dropped. Some had but a slight effect, throwing up clouds of shrapnel like debris. Others evidently were filled with most powerful explosives. The attack was even fiercer than the previous London raid, the new technique of the Germans being to swoop down to a low altitude, drop their cargo of bombs quickly, and rush home. The official report in regard to the casualties follows: Lord French reports that the total casualties reported by the police up to the present follows: Killed, metropolitan area, men 27, women 4, children 3, total 34; Isle of Thanet, men 1, women 2, total 3; total killed 37. Injured, metropolitan area, men 74, women 29, children 36, total 139; Isle of Thanet, women 2, children 1, total 3; total of injured 142. One machine was downed by the Royal Flying Corps and fell into the sea at the mouth of the Thames. Many Londoners seeking shelter from the raiders were given refuge in the basement of the American Consulate. No bombs, however, were dropped in that section of the city. Nevertheless the whole raid was observable from this point. Among those who watched its progress were former Premier Asquith and wife, whose home is nearby, and Ralph P. Skinner, American Consul-General. The women secretaries of the consulate, most of whom belong to Red Cross Societies, immediately donned their uniforms and proceeded to report themselves for duty in other sections. The Admiralty statement says: British airmen at Dunkirk watching for the returning raiders, missed them, but brought down seven other enemy machines.

The Admiralty announcement regarding the achievement of the Dunkirk aviators reads: The Vice-Admiral at Dover reports from Dunkirk that information being received that enemy aircraft were attacking England, flights were sent to intercept them as they returned. The raiding enemy aircraft were not seen, but three enemy seaplanes were encountered and destroyed. One enemy plane was driven down. Our machines returned to replenish their petrol and left again immediately. In the course of this flight eight patrol enemy aeroplanes were brought down in flames and another was forced to land on the beach, damaged, near Ostend. During their operations none of the raiding enemy aeroplanes were encountered.

ARTILLERY ON AISNE FRONT.
PARIS, July 7.
Heavy artillery fighting occurred last night near La Poyere and Pannetier on the Aisne front, and in the region south of Moronvilliers in the Champagne, according to to-day's official announcement.

ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT.
PETROGRAD, July 7.
Violent fighting has begun on the Russian front west of Pinsk. The city of Pinsk is in flames, according to an announcement to-day by the semi-official News Agency.

PETROGRAD COMMUNICATION.
PETROGRAD, July 7.
The war office communication to-day says: In the region of the town of Pinsk our naval flotilla destroyed the mines in the bank of the river Pinsk. In the direction of Ziochoff region at Batkovmanaly, after artillery preparation, our infantry attacked the strongly fortified positions of the enemy. We occupied three lines of his trenches, but later he succeeded by a series of counter attacks in pressing back our detachments. In the sector of the heights northeast of Predovio, Lavriovka and Rodov and in the wood west of Konluchy our detachments conducted an offensive and engaged in stubborn battle throughout yesterday. Six fortified positions constantly changed hands, but the enemy bringing up fresh reserves, executed a series of counter attacks more formidable, these being from the direction of the village of Urlov and the wood west of Konluchy. At certain places he succeeded in pressing back our attacking detachments. Toward the evening, however, there remained in our hands the heights northwest of Presovio and the villages of Lavriovka and Travand and the heights east of Bodov. We captured seventeen officers and 672 men. In the direction of Dolin in the region northwest of Stanislaus, after artillery preparation, our advance detachment pressed back the enemy in Pas-sechna sector and occupied his trenches. On the Roumanian front on the Danube River we destroyed an enemy ship that was armed with guns.

BRITISH ADVANCE LINE.
LONDON, July 7.
The British made an attack last night in Belgium east of Wyttschaete. The war office announced that the British line was advanced slightly.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL.
PETROGRAD, July 8.
In the direction of Kovel near Colaporska, the enemy released gas clouds, which dispersed before reaching our trenches. In the direction of Ziochoff on Friday night the enemy launched energetic counter attacks on the front at Godovand, west of Konluchy, in an attempt to dislodge our troops from positions captured in the battle on Friday. All these attacks were repulsed. All assaults west of Bychka by troops in dense columns, supported by armoured motor cars, were repulsed. In the battle of June 26th in the region of Konluchy an active part was taken by Belgian motor cars, which went as far as enemy wire entanglements. The driver of one of these cars and two soldiers were killed. East and south-east of Brzezany the enemy carried out an intense artillery fire. Attempts by large reconnoitering parties to attack our advanced positions southwest of the village of Chibalin were repulsed. The situation on the Roumanian and Caucasian fronts is unchanged. In the region of Presovio an enemy aeroplane was brought down.

SUCCESSFUL RAIDS.
LONDON, July 7.
We carried out successful raids last night southeast of Hargicourt and to the north of Ypres, taking some prisoners, says to-day's official announcement. There is nothing to report.

ENEMY RAID FRUSTRATED.
LONDON, July 8.
The official report from British headquarters in France to-night reads: After heavy bombardment the enemy attempted a raid on our trenches east of Loos but was driven off with loss. There was much aerial fighting yesterday, chiefly on the front between Lens and Ypres. In this area enemy machines were encountered in large numbers. One formation was composed of as many as 60. Despite this and pronounced activity on the enemy's part we bombed his aerodromes during the day causing damage and carried out successful artillery work and photography. Activity was continued by bombing during the night in which the enemy showed more enterprise than he had hitherto done. He dropped 144 bombs on our side of the line. Our bombing machines dropped nearly three times that number on his side. In this fighting during the day and night 8 hostile machines were brought down and six others were driven down out of control. Five of ours are missing.

FRENCH REPRISAL.
PARIS, July 7.
An official bulletin from the war office to-night gives details of an air raid accomplished by French airmen in several towns held by the enemy, in reprisal for bombardments against open French towns. Eighty-four machines took part. Eleven of these flew over Trevis, which they showered with shells. Other towns visited by the French airmen were Essen, Hirszen station, Dan Sur Meuse, Barthoville and the station at Machault. At Badische the aniline factory was destroyed.

GERMAN DEFEAT.
PARIS, July 7.
The war office announces that the Germans have sustained another defeat, with severe losses, on the western front. On the Verdun front the French captured five strongly organized salients and held them against German counter attacks.

EMPEROR ABDUCTED.
LONDON, July 8.
Reuter's despatch from Peking announced that Hsun Tung, the young Emperor, has abdicated.

BRITISH DESTROYER SUNK.
LONDON, July 8.
A British torpedo boat destroyer was torpedoed by an enemy submarine yesterday in the North Sea and sunk, says an official statement to-night. Eight men were killed.

FRENCH SHIPPING LOSSES.
PARIS, July 8.
Losses among the French merchant ships by submarines or mines during the week ending July 1st, included 4 vessels more than 1,600 tons, according to an official issued to-day. The last ships under 1,600 tons is given likewise as four with one rightfully belonging to the preceding week's report. Submarines unsuccessfully attacked three merchantmen. It is announced no fishing boats were sunk. Last week's report announced the loss of two ships of more than 1,600 tons, and three less than 1,600 tons.

IN CHINA.
LONDON, July 7.
A despatch from Peking to the Times says: Danger to foreigners in the capital is not feared. Advice to the Post from Tien Tsin are that the Imperialist Foreign Minister Haang Tun Yong has notified the Foreign Legations that he cannot guarantee undisturbed order and if trouble occurs Tuan Chi Jul, Commander-in-Chief of the Punitive Expedition, will be responsible. According to a telegram to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Tien Tsin fighting is occurring along the Peking-Mukden railway as well as between Peking and Tien Tsin and the Republican troops thus far have the advantage.

SWEDEN STEAMERS ARRIVE.
GOTHENBURG, Sweden, July 7.
Fourteen steamers from England, released under German safe conducts, arrived here to-day. Three other steamers have arrived at other Swedish ports.

LOCATING AMERICANS.
PARIS, July 7.
The training bases for American troops in France now have been established and are ready for occupancy. They include aviation, artillery, infantry and medical bases. The section of the battle front eventually to be occupied by the Americans has been decided upon by military authorities and approved by Major General Pershing, who has thoroughly covered the ground. The location of the sector is a military secret and no actual time has been specified for the American participation on the fighting front.

SUB. REPORTED SUNK.
CANADIAN PORT, July 8.
Claiming to have sunk a German submarine in the White Sea, just after leaving a Russian port, a steamer reached here to-day with evidence, in the shape of a damaged deck, of its fight. The U-boat started to shell the steamer, whose guns speedily found the range. Her gunners contended they secured a hit which caused the sub to founder. The fight took place on June 14th.

NORWEGIAN STEAMERS SUNK.
LONDON, July 8.
The Norwegian steamers Havbris, 697 tons, and Bjorko, 1,872 tons, have been sunk. Fourteen members of the Bjorko's crew are missing.

Disraeli Suez Canal Coup.
Philadelphia Ledger—As we move away from the day in which they labored, Disraeli looms larger as a British statesman and Gladstone smaller. Once these legislative gladiators appeared just the reverse. Gladstone never did anything for his Empire of such transcendent importance as Disraeli's financial coup in buying control of the Suez Canal from the Khedive of Egypt. That ended finally the French hopes of empire in the East. Besides delivering a mighty political stroke for his country which reminds one of Jefferson's purchase of Louisiana, Disraeli made a financial investment that was worthy of Rothschild. The Suez Canal stock which he bought—176,000 shares out of a total of 400,000—are now worth just seven times what England paid for them. Their par value is $100, and a dividend of 18 per cent has just been declared, and it was over 30 per cent before the war cut down canal traffic. The Panama Canal will in time become a Standard Oil type of investment for Uncle Sam.

Everyday Etiquette.
"If I have seats in the centre of the row at the theatre and the end seats are filled when I arrive, should I turn my back upon the people I pass or face them? It seems impolite to turn one's back and still it is awkward to pass them while facing them," was Agnee's worry.

The London Directory

(Published Annually)

enables traders throughout the World to communicate direct with English MANUFACTURERS & DEALERS in each class of goods. Besides being a complete commercial guide to London and its suburbs the Directory contains lists of EXPORT MERCHANTS with the goods they ship, and the Colonial and Foreign Markets they supply;

STEAMSHIP LINES arranged under the Ports to which they sail, and indicating the approximate Sellings;

PROVINCIAL TRADE NOTICES of leading Manufacturers, Merchants, etc., in the principal towns and industrial centres of the United Kingdom.

A copy of the current edition will be forwarded freight paid, on receipt of Postal Order for 4s.

Dealers seeking Agencies can advertise their trade cards for 4s or larger advertisements from 11s.
