SHOT GUN DRAWN ON LAW OFFICERS

Attempt Made to Arrest Arthur Sims For Infraction of N. S. T. A.—Exciting Episode.

There was some considerable excitement in the quiet burg of Inglewood on Saturday morning when Constables Angus McDonald and Eliza Messenger, the latter also Inspector for Annapolis County under the N. S. T. A., drove up in Mr. McDonald's new car to pay a call upon Arthur Sims and remind him that he was under obligations for an unpaid fine imposed some time ago for the sale of beverages which came under the ban of the Act. Mr. Messenger advanced toward the house and having identified Sims, informed Constable McDonald that his man was there. Arthur was there for the fraction of a minute, then rushing over to the house, grabbed up a double barreled shot gun, hastily shoving a couple of shells into the breach, informed the officers that they could not take him that day. Mr. McDonald was meantime rapidly closing in upon the victim, seizing the gun he wrested it from the grasp of the man who put name, fame and kick into Inglewood beer, removed the shells and threw the weapon to the ground. Meanwhile Wallace Sims, a fifteen year old son of the man for whom the warrant was issued, had been circling around and grabbing the gun commenced to duplicate his daddy's first stunt. Mr. Messenger seized hold of the gun with one hand while the other hand shot out in an opposite direction and hooked Arthur by the coat collar. Angus also laid hold of the case for a second seemed desperate for Arthur but by a frantic wiggle he shed his covering like a snake only a few hundred times as quick and showed a sprint equal to Longboat in his palmist days. Just where he went to evidence did not show, but the constables returned to town, picked up Chief Bishop, and again went out to Sims'. News of the fugitives was received, the gun taken as booty and exhibit in the case, while the boy was captured on the mountain and lodged in jail.

Preliminary hearing took place on Monday morning before Stipendiary F. R. Fay, Mr. K. L. Crowell, acting for Wallace who was committed but elected to be tried under the Speedy Trials Act, Judge Grieron presiding here on Tuesday.

Search was made for Arthur between spells but at time of writing his whereabouts are unknown to the arms of the law.

NEWSPAPER MEN AT MONCTON

pressed. The spirit of the newspaper organization, he said, was to unify Canadianism as opposed to sectionalism and the meeting with each other in the midst of their home conditions was tending towards this. Last Summer's convention in Halifax was the first occasion in 64 years of Canadian newspaperdom that a convention had been held east of Montreal. It had brought to the Maritimes some men who had never before been down this way and who therefore had never known us, and in all probability would never otherwise have come. Some of the reports of that trip were still running in serial form in several of the Upper Canadian weeklies. That tour had given to the Maritimes more advertising than any similar tour of the west had ever given to the West.

Secretary for Maritime Board of Trade

At this juncture Capt. Masters called the attention of his hearers to the fact that the Maritime Board of Trade had appointed a committee of six, including the premiers of the three provinces, to meet some time in November. The result of that meeting, he felt sure, would be the appointment to the Maritime Board of Trade of a permanent Secretary and Freight expert. Another notable Maritime move is the organization of a Life Assurance Company with a Maritime and Dominion field.

Mine Host

Called upon for a few remarks Mr. MacDonald, the Manager of the Atlantic Underwear Company and host of the evening, welcomed the visiting pressmen and enlarged the weekly newspaper as a great educational and moral force even more so than the daily papers.

Referring to the institution of which he was the manager, Mr. MacDonald said the hostel in which they were gathered had been erected in response to the age old question, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" It was helping the employees to a better scale of living and greatly assisted in providing a better moral influence for them. They had found it had doubly helped, being a benefit to the employees and a benefit to the company. Twelve years residence in Moncton had impressed him with its hospitality and he, as a citizen delighted in passing it on. There are no keys to our city, the latchstring would always be open to the newspapermen.

Mr. Matthew Lodge

Mr. Lodge paid his compliments to the weekly newspapers and greeted the visitor from Skowhegan, Maine. The Maritime Provinces, said Mr. Lodge, have been awakening to a different stage in their history and the time has come when the press of the Maritime Provinces must, as Dr. Couss says, "Every day in every way" discuss our Maritime affairs so that we will take our place in our grand Empire and impress everyone with the fact that the east end of Canada is a very necessary and important end. We have all that can be desired in natural beauty and resources but we need a better market. Near us are the big cities of New England ready for the time when we shall get the right trade relations between our two countries.

Referring to the railway situation in connection with the Maritimes, Mr. Lodge stated that the Transcontinental Railway runs into Moncton from Montreal on a four-tenths grade and that the haul from Port Arthur to St. John was more favorable, in spite of being 200 odd miles longer than using the haul from Montreal to Portland over a one and one-quarter grade. If Hon. Mr. Fielding, when the time was opportune, had been more awake to the benefits to Nova Scotia, the Transcontinental Railway would have extended on a four-tenths grade right through to Halifax and reached one of the finest harbors in the world. By the way, said Mr. Lodge, the real harbor of Halifax has 10 miles of deep water running inland whereas over 30 millions were spent on the ocean front.

Mr. Lodge advocated more advertising for the attraction of tourists and concluded with the statement that we in the Maritime Provinces were devoting our attention to only part of our problems but we have not yet finished.

Mayor Edgett

Mayor Edgett spoke felicitously of the visiting newspapermen and invited them to return to Moncton at their pleasure.

Mr. A. H. Lindsay, C.N.R., Advertising Agent, referring to a suggestion made by Mr. Lodge that the Maritimes should be a pleasant location for the National Railways to accommodate tourists, said that the idea was not a dead issue. Originally advanced by the old I.C.R. twenty years ago, he gave assurance it was again being brought to the attention of the railway authorities at the present time.

SEPTEMBER LAUNCHINGS ON THE CLYDE LOWEST NUMBER SINCE 1887

Scottish shipbuilders launched last month 15 vessels, of 11,230 tons. Of these, 12 vessels, of 6,946 tons, were built on the Clyde. The total for the past nine months on the Clyde consists of 57 vessels, of 155,222 tons. This is the lowest for the period since 1887, and represents a decrease of 46 vessels and 128,396 tons as compared with last year, and of 81 vessels and 234,203 tons as compared with the highest output for the period—that of 1920.

The only new contracts reported were two E. and O. liners for Messrs. Barclay, Curle & Co., Whiteinch; two barges which Messrs. Hawthorn & Co., Leith, are building for the Leith Dock Commissioners, and a small steamer which the Coaster Construction Company, Montrose, are building for the Union Steamship Company of British Columbia. The outlook for the winter is very bad in all the Scottish areas.

The gathering broke up with the singing of the National Anthem. The newspapers left on Wednesday morning for their various homes delighted with their stay in the beautiful and hospitable city of Moncton. The ride from Moncton to St. John is one of scenic beauty past handsome valleys well watered, by the feet of mountains fast losing their wealth of scarlet and gold as the daller hues speak the arrival of winter. Nearing St. John one passes along the shores of the Kennebecasis river more like a beautiful lake expansion than a river. We could write a few columns more but have already said too much. It but remains to say that while in St. John we had the pleasure of visiting Courtenay Bay and seeing the immense dry dock which was opened on Monday with appropriate ceremonies. It is 11.65 feet long, over two hundred feet longer than the largest steamer afloat. Its construction was first started in 1911 and the work involved the expenditure of over nine millions of dollars. It is forty-eight feet deep. The mechanical appliances in connection are electrically driven and powerful pumps can empty it in 2 1/2 hours. It is adapted so that steamer crews may be kept on board while repair work goes on instead of boarding them ashore, an important consideration when a crew runs up into hundreds of men. A marine railway is here also which will take care of sailing vessels up to 1600 tons.

We will give a review of the Court-nay Bay project in a near future issue.

APPLE INDUSTRY SHOWS GROWTH IN THE VALLEY

Warehouse After Warehouse Along Main Line of D. A. R. Shows Importance of Industry

A development that must impress the traveller no less than the orchardist in the Annapolis Valley, is the remarkable growth of warehousing accommodation for the care of products of the farm and orchards.

Not only in numbers are they impressive; their substantial appearance and the evident care of their up-keep gives an air of prosperity that will do much to influence the settlers when the tide of immigration turns this way.

Looking back twenty-five years to 1895 there were but two warehouses, one at Port Williams and one at Cambridge. After this the growth was gradual until the big apple crop record, and practically double of any crop hitherto, amounting to 1,700,000 barrels of commercial apples.

Fortunately the season was a mild one, otherwise there would have been a heavy loss, as apples were stored in barns and cellars until such a time as room could be provided in existing warehouses as the crop moved forward. Since then the growth has been keeping pace with the demand, until now the value of the apple warehouses is comparatively estimated at a replacement cost of $1,100,000.

Along the line of the D. A. R. there are 197 warehouses located as follows:—Main Line Newport to Metegan, 76; on Midland, 2; on Kinzua, 76; on Weston branch, 17. Those on the Western branch have been constructed within the past five years.

They total a basement and main floor space of 866,182 square feet, and a normal storage capacity of 662,9 barrels.

The intention was to keep to a standard building 100x40 feet. This may represent a majority of the warehouses for width, but in length there are now several of 200 feet with a storage capacity each of 18,000 barrels. If these warehouses were placed end to end in a row they would cover an area 21 miles in length with an average width of 38 feet.

With the exception of those owned by various speculators which would represent 20 per cent, the balance are controlled by Farmer co-operative organizations, a system that has given excellent satisfaction.

Industries that have developed with the growth of orcharding are and are now well established are those of evaporating and canning; also plants for the conversion of cider into vinegar, temperance drinks and jellies. From two small evaporators in 1911 there are now 13 in an area eight miles with capacities ranging from 150 to 400 barrels of apples a day. The canning factories last season had a turnover of 10,000 cases of canned apples, apple butter and apple conserve; two vinegar factories produced over 120,000 gallons of vinegar besides carrying a very large trade in the manufacture from apple cider of various temperance drinks. One factory at Bridgetown specializing in cider beverages was not able to keep pace with the demand for their goods last year.

Experts tell us there are orchards enough now to produce a 3,000,000 barrel crop provided all orchardists had the same experience and skill in the care and cultivation of their trees. Compared with the acreage available, the amount of orchard now set out is a mere trifle. With the influx of settlers we may look forward to an area of agricultural and commercial development surpassing the splendid growth of the past ten years.—Halifax Herald.

D. A. R. PRESIDENT EXPRESSES GREATEST FAITH IN TERRITORIAL SAVED BY HIS ROAD

At a complimentary luncheon given in honor of Grant Hall, President of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, at the Halifax Club, he expressed in no uncertain terms his faith in the future of the Dominion Atlantic Railway and the territory served by it. In the tourist program of Premier Armstrong and his government, particularly his 1924 project, he was optimistic as to the development of the territory generally. He said in part: "There is a strong movement all over Canada to bring more people into the country. There is urgent need for increased population of the selected kind, and no province can be too active in promoting such colonization legislation.

"There is, however, the economic situation of the country to be adjusted. The re-floating of the Victory Loan was a healthy sign, but business men are more deeply interested in capital being placed in industrial enterprises which are the greatest assets of any country. Canada, to be successful, must be made cheaper to live in. The federal and provincial governments and business men generally must cut down expenses. Railway men want more wages; farmers are not satisfied with their returns; means must be worked out to solve the problem. It cannot be settled by legislators, but by

A RECORD IN BUTTER PRODUCTION

Nova Scotia Multiplies Output Eight Times.

In 1912 Nova Scotia produced 470,603 pounds of butter. In 1922, the total production was 3,296,556 pounds. This year the province will have to its credit at least 4,000,000 pounds.

These figures showing the remarkable development in the dairy industry in Canada's Atlantic Seaboard Province, were given to a representative of the Family Herald by Prof. C. Cumming, Principal of the Agricultural College, Truro, and Commissioner of Agriculture for Nova Scotia, in the course of a recent visit to his office at the Truro College.

What has brought about this remarkable increase by which the creamery butter output of a whole province has been multiplied over eight times in ten years?

Foremost of course, has been the change from home-made dairy butter to the factory-made article. It is not to be supposed that all of the increase is due to greater milk and cream production; but we believe we are safe in saying that over fifty per cent. of it is due to greater production.

Naturally Prof. Cumming has been most interested in the increase of returns per cow, rather than in the total production, and what has been done along this line by individual farmers provides some interesting figures. So interesting in fact that the government is preparing a movie film showing the visit of a non-progressive farmer (Mr. Hardcash), with a dozen scrub cows, to a progressive farmer (Mr. MacKay), with a fine herd of improved cows.

RUM RUNNING ISSUE SETTLED BY ENGLAND AND UNITED STATES

Vessel Searching Limit is Fixed at Twelve Miles, British Ships Have Right to Carry Liquor Under Seal into Territorial Waters.

London.—The rum-running issue between the United States and British Ambassador, George Harvey, in his conferences with British officials repeatedly characterized as a dangerous menace to the existing good relations of the two countries, has been practically settled.

On the occasion of his formal farewell visit to the foreign office the retiring envoy and his foreign secretary Curzon gave final consideration to the terms of a draft treaty which it is believed will clear up the whole question. The treaty is understood to meet the United States desire for the right to search suspected rum-running vessels beyond three mile limit, but at the same time the United States gives the Great Britain formal affirmation of the three-mile limit as governing British Maritime rights generally. It would also allow British ships to carry liquor into United States territorial waters under seal, thus enabling liners enroute to and after departing from United States ports.

From the British side it only remains for the imperial conference of premiers to place its approval on a document embracing the points of agreement. It was expected this would be done, but as the document had not been completed it was postponed until later, after which the draft will go to the United States for ratification by the United States Senate.

Washington.—British modification of secretary Hughes' proposal for a treaty agreement permitting search of foreign vessels for contraband liquor beyond the three mile limit are expected to be acceptable to the United States government since they place an even stronger weapon against rum-runners in the hands of the United States prohibition enforcement officials than this government originally had expected to be able to obtain.

Under the modified plan as described in news despatches from London search of British vessels for contraband liquor would be permitted for an indefinite distance off shore, obviating the setting up for this purpose of the arbitrary 12 mile zone suggested by Mr. Hughes.

Presumably the distance to which United States enforcement officials would prosecute the search right permitted would be governed by the circumstances in each case. In any event, it is believed here that under the British plan "rumrunners" on the Atlantic Coast would disappear as vessels laden with liquor intended to be smuggled into the United States would have no zone of safety anywhere off shore.

community," said Mr. McKay, "have done even better, one running up to $150 per cow, but the above figures can be absolutely authenticated and go to show what can be done in an average community in ten years."

Another farmer, Huntley Putnam, about 10 miles out from Truro, that he visited on his own farm,—magnificently located on the shores of Cumberland Basin at the head of the Bay of Fundy—told us he had been grading up his herd for 15 years with pure bred Holstein bulls. He now has 20 cows of which only about half were milking at the time of our visit, but his milk cheques average around $175 to $200 per month and he has two grade cows that have milked 72 and 82 pounds per day this Summer. He has a silo and grows a mixed crop of corn and sunflowers.

Returns Too Low In spite of the high average returns from his herd and the fact that he has a good farm in what is undoubtedly one of the best general farming sections of the province with two boys to help him carry it on, he is not satisfied with the present day returns to the farmer.

"I would rather," he spoke with strong emphasis, "that a boy of mine go to work with a pick and shovel than take over a $10,000 farm mortgaged for half its value with the expectation of paying for it." It was not possible, he claimed, for a farmer today to make more than two per cent. on the capital he has invested; and this is the opinion of a man accustomed to figuring costs and returns and who has demonstrated that he understands how to obtain a maximum of income at a minimum expense.

But to come back to the development in Nova Scotia dairying. Besides the increase in production from individual herds and the switch from the dairy butter to the creamery product, another important factor in the fine showing made by the province is the provision of suitable creameries.

In Cape Breton, for instance, three government creameries are controlled and operated by the Dairy Branch from Truro. Patrons of these factories are given the same advantages as those supplying cream to the larger factories of the province, where comparatively high prices can be paid due to the reduction in overhead from the large business done. This is made possible by the government paying the deficits of the smaller creameries while they are getting underway. When the business becomes large enough these factories will be turned over to the farmers on a co-operative basis.

First Plant in Cape Breton The first plant in Cape Breton was started nine years ago and still has eight or ten of the original patrons. In 1914 these patrons were getting $18 to $20 per month. This year they will average $50 to $60. One man who was a strong advocate of the creamery for the first year, dropped out the second season but came back again last year. He is still getting an average return of $20 to $25 per month.

To further encourage the dairy men and to supervise the work of the factories, check up on the enforcement of the Dairy Act, etc., the government has two field representatives and the usual inspectors or instructors. These men in their work of enforcing the Dairy Act, have discovered mistakes but have never yet prosecuted a man, or in other words have yet to detect a factory manager deliberately evading the provisions of the Act.

Marketing of the butter receives attention from the Branch and they have now arranged locally to store Cape Breton butter in a fish cold storage plant, the butter being stored in a separate room and handled with separate trucks to prevent any tainting.

Around 1,200 boxes can be stored in the way and private plants are now organizing storage so that eventually Nova Scotia farmers will be able to supply their home markets in full and yet avoid flooding them with a surplus in mid Summer.

Further development in the dairy industry will continue along similar lines, but Nova Scotia farmers are buying far too much of commercial feeds and fertilizers says Mr. MacKay. "We need to depend on ourselves. We can grow roots and grain crops here to advantage and turnips can be a big factor in milk production. There is no trouble whatever with tainting milk when feeding turnips grown in the Maritimes." For there is an absolute difference in flavor, claims Mr. MacKay, between Maritime turnips and those grown in Quebec and Ontario. At the Truro College they have fed up to 125 lbs. per day to their cows and fed them at all times of the day without any complaint as to the flavor of the milk.

Better sires, more home-grown feeds and the extension of creamery and market facilities, with strict payment for milk and cream on the basis of quality, will be the chief factors stressed in developing the Nova Scotia dairy industry for the next few years.—Family Herald and Weekly Star.

APPLES FOR THE EMPIRE SHOW

250 Packages of the Valley's Finest Have Been Forwarded to London.

Berwick.—An event of considerable significance to Valley fruit growers is the British Empire Fruit Show, to be held in London early in the New Year. The fruit branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is sending a specially prepared exhibit of apples from the Annapolis Valley, consisting of 200 boxes of comparatively small apples, each apple is carefully wrapped in oil paper, and 50 cases commercially packed. The fruit, which was specially selected from such standard varieties as Kings, Spy, Golden Russet, Warner and Gano, was prepared last week in the new warehouse of the Berwick Fruit Company, under the supervision of Chief Fruit Inspector G. H. Vroom, assisted by Inspector George H. Hutchinson. The shipment was forwarded on Saturday via St. John, on reaching London it will be kept in cold storage until required for show purposes.

Last year Berwick fruit carried off a number of prizes at the Imperial Fruit Show, and the fruit sent this year is of the quality to repeat last year's performance. Apart from any prizes which may be won, the exhibit at the British Fruit Show of high-class fruit is good advertising for the Annapolis Valley, and, indeed, for the whole Province, and should have some influence in turning the thought of intending settlers of a desirable type in this direction.

EXTERNAL EXAMINATION FOR BANKS

Proceedings in connection with the trial of the directors of the defunct Home Bank will be followed with a large degree of interest all over Canada, and more so from the fact that despite the much lauding of the Canadian Banking system failures have been more common and more disastrous than they would naturally be expected to be. Back as far as 1909 H. C. McLeod, who was a general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, pointed out that bank failures in the preceding quarter of a century had been 25 per cent in number while for the preceding 43 years during which there had been government inspection in the United States there had been a failure of only 5 1/2 per cent in the case of National Banks and 17 1/2 per cent in the case of other United States Banks.

Our Canadian Banking system is held up as a model to the world and it receives a large share of praise from American financiers and bankers generally. Hence it is pertinent to enquire a little into the reasons why the percentage of failures with consequent large losses to depositors can be possible under a system apparently so well designed to present these very things.

In the first place it has been shown that the failure of banks such as the Home Bank, Farmers Bank, and a dozen others was not due in any degree to mismanagement or bad financing by the branch offices.

These have done their work thoroughly on sane lines and have done it well. The crux of the matter then really lies in the head offices and in the higher managements, which in a number of cases have evidently indulged in unsound investments, wild cat schemes and various financing games which should in the interests of shareholders and depositors have been checked.

This brings up the question of a remedy which it is believed could be found in a competent external inspection.

In the opinion of many it is plainly up to our legislators to see that provision is made and carried out in these regards.

Most of our banks are undoubtedly in a sound financial position and all should be. The fact that reckless speculation has caused failure and losses tends to weaken public confidence in our financial institutions and points to a need for external examination which should be welcomed by all concerned and not least by the great body of depositors.

POLITICS AND JUSTICE

(Dearborn Independent.)
There are twenty times as many murders in New York city every year than in all England, Scotland and Wales. There are ten times as many murders in Chicago every year as in all France.

What is the reason? One reason, no doubt, is the polyglot population, but at best it is only a secondary reason. The principal reason is the political aspect of American justice. In a recent Boston campaign the writer heard all sorts of candidates, from Congressmen down, base their pleas for election or re-election on their record for getting accused men out of the toils of the police or free in the courts. Just as there are industries that claim special tariff protection, and support the officials who secure that protection, so the crime industry of the United States looks to politics generally for protection. The only people who ever talk about having "influence" in official circles are those whose misdeeds created the need for it. The plain citizen has no "influence" and does not know how to go about to get it.

There is less justice and more crime in the United States than in Great Britain or France. Which means that in those countries there is more justice and less crime. It might be well for the Government to study the methods by which the authorities overseas avoid the political necessity of coddling criminals.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Mary Jane Sproule

On October 25th there passed away at the home of her two nieces, the Misses Hardy. Mrs. Mary Jane Sproule, an old and respected resident of Lower Granville at the age of ninety-six years. She was the widow of the late Deacon Ebenezer Sproule, who pre-deceased her some years ago. She was a member of the Lower Granville Baptist Church and an active worker until old age prevented. She never had any children so after the death of her husband she made her home with her sister and after the death of her sister, she still lived with her sister's family, who kindly looked after her in her old age. She retained her faculties and was able to look after her room till within two months of her death. She was buried at Stony Beach cemetery beside her husband. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. G. W. Heisler, assisted by Rev. Mr. Thomas, Methodist, of Granville Ferry.

Stephen Hall Robblee

The death of Stephen Hall Robblee occurred at his home in Lower Granville on October 29th, 1923, aged 74 years. While not in good health for some years, his death came very unexpectedly from heart failure, after an illness of only five days from acute kidney trouble. He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind husband and loving father, his wife, three sons and three daughters. Avard M., of Norwood, Mass.; Oscar and Watson, at home; Mrs. A. W. Thomas, of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. G. Morrison and Mrs. V. H. Porter, of Karsdale, and fifteen grandchildren. Three sisters also survive: Mrs. Julia Croscup, Mrs. Hattie MacKenzie, Mrs. Samuel Longmire.

Rev. W. H. Heisler conducted the funeral service at the home on Wednesday afternoon, basing his remarks on the words: "We all do fade as a leaf." Mrs. Heisler sang by request, "No. Not One," this being a favorite hymn of the deceased. Other hymns sung were "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Abide With Me." The large number of relatives, neighbors and friends attending the service testified to the respect and esteem in which the deceased was held in the community.

John Hall

On Monday morning death removed from our midst one of the oldest and best known citizens of the county, Mr. John Hall, of Lawrence town, at the ripe age of eighty-three. The deceased passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Miller, after an illness of several weeks. It was with Mr. and Mrs. Miller he had made his home for the past three months and there the funeral services are being held this afternoon conducted by Rev. H. Rackham, of Lawrence town, assisted by Rev. J. H. Freestone, of Bridgetown. The remains will be interred in Fairview Cemetery, Lawrence town, and the funeral will be under the direction of the Masonic order of which the deceased brother was a valued and prominent member.

The late Mr. Hall was long identified with the life of Lawrence town where he owned a valuable orchard and also conducted a blacksmithing business. Of his remarkable vitality it is only necessary to say that up to a year ago he could and did carry on his work in a way that would excite the envy of a much younger man. Outside his occupational work if there was one way by which he was better known than another it was by his kindness and benefactions to the poor, many of whom will bless his kindly and beneficent spirit. He was also distinguished by his love of flowers, his skill in growing them. He was an enthusiastic lover of horse-flesh and raised many fine animals, among them being Tom Thumb and Joe Howe which were well known years ago on Provincial race tracks and afterwards were purchased and taken to the United States.

He leaves to mourn their loss three sons, S. B. Hall, and W. E. Hall, of Lawrence town; S. C. Hall, of Medford, Mass.; one daughter, Mrs. E. B. Miller, of Clarence; two brothers, Dr. J. B. Hall, Lawrence town; Dr. C. F. Hall, New York; one sister, Miss Bertha Hall, of Lawrence town.

His wife, nee Henrietta Beale, pre-deceased him by seven years. A sister, Euphemia, wife of Arthur Marshall, of Clarence, passed away nearly a year before him. Another sister gone before was Anna, wife of the late J. W. Whitman.

Jarvis Chute

On Sunday morning, Nov. 4th, Jarvis Chute, a highly respected and beloved life-long resident of Bridgetown, passed to his eternal rest after a long and patiently borne illness. He was the oldest member of the Bridgetown Baptist Church, of which he was a consistent member, always being found in his place as long as his health permitted.

He was a good friend and neighbor.

Sewing Circle Gossip

There was some discussion at the Circle this week about the International Vessel race, and as to whether at four bells in the morning the Lunenburg sailors like coffee better than tea. The wife of the radio operator, whose husband is now at sea, said she thought it largely depended upon how good the coffee was. "If," said she, "the sailor can get LUXOR ORIENTAL COFFEE, he is bound to prefer it to anything else."

SANCTUARY FOR WILD BUFFALO

Boundaries of a New Game Preserve in Northern Alberta Dedicated.

Ottawa, Ont.—Boundaries of a new wild game preserve in Northern Alberta dedicated in perpetuity as the wilderness home of two herds of 1,500 wild wood buffalo, have just been announced by the Dominion government.

The entire habitat of the two herds has been enclosed in the sanctuary. It is heavily timbered and includes several mountain ranges, lakes and rivers. The area of the new park is 10,500 square miles. Throughout the park cabins have been built for wardens which will facilitate an efficient patrol service the year round.

Existence of these wild herds in the Great Slave Lake country has been vaguely known for years, but their numbers were never estimated above 250 until a year ago when a government survey party saw the herds and by rough count figured the total as 1,500 animals. The only other known herd of wild buffalo in the world is in the remote fastnesses of Yellowstone park and numbers not more than 100 animals.

With the largest number of wild buffalo, Canada boasts also the largest buffalo herd in the government park at Wainwright, the largest game preserve under fence in the world. The Wainwright herd now numbers more than 8,000. Two thousand bulls are slaughtered this fall as of no value to herd propagation and to conserve pastures. Their meat will be marketed in the United States and Canada and a large part of it made into pemmican for distribution among Arctic trading and fur posts.

It has been suggested that a pair of buffalo might be had from the government for a suitable sanctuary park in Nova Scotia.

A LUCKY EDITOR
Although several of our Provincial contemporaries are reporting the finding of strawberry blossoms in their respective neighborhoods, and also that several ripe berries have been brought to our office during the past week, we may mention the fact that we had the luxury of a full box of those excellent berries for dinner on Sunday. We have been regaling ourselves with the delicious berries for several weeks.—Yarmouth Herald.

TO THE MAYFLOWER
Oh! beautiful little flower
That opens in the Spring,
To tell of hours of happiness
That lovely May doth bring.
Upon thy mossy pillow
That decks a cradle hill
There one finds the smiling
In a Springtime rain.
And oh! what fragrant perfume
Little flower you do contain
You fill the air with sweetness
That makes one love thy name.
The bees all love the honey
That's hid in your pollen with care,
And one always finds a bee
When the Mayflowers doth appear.
There are other pretty flowers
That bloom in Summer and Fall,
God save them all their beauty
And it's only fair to praise them all.
But each person has their likings,
For things both great and small,
So therefore, I count the Mayflower
The fairest flower of all.

MARKETING THE FRUIT CROP

Trying to sell our fruit crop on sentiment is just like trying to sell Palmolive soap on sentiment or Ford cars on jokes. Both the fruit crop, the soap and the cars are wonderful value, and no doubt sentiment and jokes will help sales, but the only way to market any appreciable quantity of these products is to advertise them.

The marketing problem of the fruit growers in Nova Scotia is serious; in fact, every producer of farm products is in the same position. That being the case, it is always best to get down to facts, and in the case of fruit, the fact is that city people will not buy fruit on sentiment any more than farmers will buy Canadian implements on sentiment.

The farmer has got to fight for everything he gets; he has always done so and always will, and the only possible way he can recapture that fruit business is to go after it in a business way.

The only remedy is to advertise N. S. fruit until the consumer will think, talk, and eat nothing but N. S. fruit, until for his selfish interest, the consumer will be afraid to buy anything except N. S. fruit. Appealing to a man's greed or his desire will get nowhere, but appeal to his necessities and his fears and he will begin to talk business. Tell him how to prepare fruit; how to preserve it. Tell him about the economy of fruit, the health resulting from a fruit diet, and keep on telling him, and you will keep on selling him.

If there were any other way to successfully market fruit or other commodities, it would have been adopted by successful institutions long ago.—Wolville Acadian.

Cause of Backaches

Every muscle in the body needs a supply of rich, red blood in proportion to the work it does. The muscles of the back are under a heavy strain and have but little rest. When the blood is thin they lack nourishment and rebel. The result is a sensation of pain in these muscles.

Many people are frightened into believing that backaches are due to kidney trouble, but the best medical authorities agree that backache is very seldom due to kidney trouble. In fact not more than one backache in a hundred has anything to do with the kidneys. The whole trouble is due to thin or impure blood, and those who are troubled with pains in the back or loins, either frequent or occasional, should look to the condition of the blood. It will be found in most cases that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by building up the blood and feeding the starved nerves and muscles will banish the pains and make you feel better in every other way.

How much better it is to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for your blood than to give way to unreasonable alarm about your kidneys. If you really suspect your kidneys any doctor can make a test in ten minutes, that will set your fears at rest, or tell you the worst.

All dealers in medicine sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. of Brockville, Ont.

POOR BUSINESS

A Pictonian saw an Advertisement in a Halifax paper offering No. 1 Gravenstein apples at so much a basket direct from grower. It was so long since this chap had seen a No. 1 Gravenstein that he thought he would take a chance. He sent on the money and the apples arrived. They were not No. 1, the majority of them were windfalls and a few might have been No. 1's if they had not been bruised so much by falling from the trees, but the most of them, even if they had not been bruised, would not have graded above No. 2. Very few of the apples were ripe. The buyer was not very greatly put out personally, for he knew from previous experience that he was running a big chance when he sent for these apples, but he did think that the seller of those apples was a most short sighted man who was doing much injury to himself and to his neighbors who was doing his little "bit" to prevent the building up of a home market for Gravenstein apples. There is a great market right here in the Maritimes for No. 1 Gravensteins direct from grower to consumer provided the grower will show common honesty. There should be enough selfishness among the apple growers to avert a public opinion and pressure that would prevent any of their number from ruining a good business.—Picton Advocate.

CHIEF OF C. N. R. PLEASSED WITH VISIT

Montreal.—Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, returned to Montreal on the completion of an inspection trip embracing the lines of the National system in Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and the State of Maine.

"I was very gratified at the many evidences of the continuous improvement that is taking place in the service rendered by the Canadian National in the territory passed thru," Sir Henry said, upon reaching Bonaventure Station. "The physical condition of the property has not only been maintained, but has been improved in many respects. I was especially pleased to notice the degree of confidence that the various communities have in our district and regional officers. As I have said before, the success of the National system depends to a very large extent upon the intelligent, loyal and efficient work of its personnel."

At various points delegations waited upon the party to present suggestions for new extensions and for the development of existing lines. These proposals, it was stated, would be considered carefully, but there was no announcement forthcoming of any important expenditures. Among the points visited were Sherbrooke and Bonaventure, Que.; Moncton and St. John, N. B.; Amherst, Truro and Halifax, Charlottetown and Summerside. Members of the party stated that there were many indications of an improvement in general business conditions in all the cities visited.

DR. GRANT REPLIES TO ACTING PREMIER

Sydney.—Dr. H. R. Grant has sent a letter to Hon. W. S. Fielding in reply to the latter's communication disclaiming the government's responsibility to stop rum running on the C. N. R. between Montreal and Nova Scotia, which states that there will be a continuance of correspondence relative to the matter and asking that the good influence of the Acting Premier be used to prevent the fraudulent shipment of liquors. On Mr. Fielding's suggestion, Dr. Grant sent a letter to J. E. Dalrymple, Vice-President of the C.N.R., asking that the "intolerable" conditions be remedied.

Are You Building a New Home?

THEN plan the heating just as you plan the sizes and shapes of the rooms.

Merely setting up a furnace in the cellar and "guessing that it will heat all right," is not going to insure home comfort and economical heating.

You pay an architect to design the house. But—it costs nothing to have the expert heating engineers of Findlay Bros. Co. Limited, of Carleton Place, Ont., go over the plans for your home and tell you exactly what kind of a furnace will heat your home—why the furnace they recommend is the best for your style of house—where the furnace should be placed—how it should be installed and connected.

This service is free and you can see us about it or write direct for free booklets and service sheets.

Giant Canadian Pacific Pier Under Way at Vancouver

THE growth of Vancouver and the ever-increasing transpacific trade of this seaport has necessitated the construction of a new pier, one of the largest on the continent, for the accommodation of the Canadian Pacific Express liners. According to an announcement made by E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Company, at Vancouver recently, the pier, which is to be known as Pier B-C, will be of modern concrete design, capable of berthing the largest vessels trading to and from this port. It will be 1,100 feet long and will extend from the shore between Pier A, Burrard St., and Pier D, Granville St., on Burrard Inlet. An outlay of several million dollars upon this work and the associated buildings will be involved.

SATISFACTION

A seemingly low price for an article is always attractive, but unfortunately frequently misleading. How often is heard the remark—"I would rather have paid a little more and got the quality I wanted." As a matter of fact that "little more" was necessary to obtain the better quality. Good goods require a higher price to be good. There are cheaper teas than "KING COLE"—but would you be satisfied with their quality?

CLAIM FRAUD IN TRANSFER OF LAND

Charlottetown, P.E.I.—Evidence by retired British officers of the Indian army and others before a commission under the Public Inquiries Act or Prince Edward Island here was to the effect that Andrew Fraser Mitchell, since last February immigration agent without pay for Prince Edward Island and until last July in the day of the Federal immigration department, had sold land near Charlottetown to the officers at the rate of fifty pounds an acre, whereas he held options on the land at one hundred dollars an acre. Mitchell was appointed by the provincial government on his representation that he intended to bring out retired English officers and had 550 acres of land near Emerald subdivided into lots averaging four acres for the purpose of establishing an Anglo-Indian colony. According to today's evidence Mitchell got in touch with a number of officers in London and received seven hundred and fifty pounds each from two of them, and three hundred and twenty-five pounds from another. The Englishmen, it was said, bought the lands without getting a title to them. They understood they were buying government lands. Four officers arrived in the province a month ago and declare no preparations had been made to receive them, and after failing to receive a satisfactory reply to their cable of inquiry to Mitchell in London, took the matter up with the local government. The latter cabled London cancelling Mitchell's appointment and notifying the Canadian High Commissioner. Mitchell had a 12 months' option on the land in question, but according to evidence paid no money on his options, and received money at the rate of fifty pounds per acre from a number of immigrants. A bungalow was built on one of the lots at a cost of $1500 and this and the cost of the survey were paid by Mitchell. The immigrants say they are well pleased with the island, but consider that they paid exorbitant prices to Mitchell and are seeking redress. The inquiry was adjourned until next month for further evidence.

H. S. CRUICKSHANK, TRURO, N. S. WRITES OF RECORD MOOSE HORNS

Sidney McCabe, Greenfield, Colchester Co., Shot a Monster Moose in Northern Ontario, in 1901.

Editor Weekly Star:

Sir,—In your issue of Sept. 12th, I notice an article in re. to a very large set of moose horns, taken in Alaska with a spread of 72 inches, with the query by the writer if there were any larger horns in existence. Replying to this question I would say that the largest set of moose horns on record are now in the Field Columbian Museum, Chicago, Ill., and were taken from the Kenai Peninsula, Alaska. Spread at widest point 78 1/2 inches, total number of palmation 16 inches, total number of points 34, weight of antlers and dry skull 93 1/4 lbs.

I understand that Mr. W. F. Sheard Tacoma, Washington, U.S.A., owns another set of moose antlers of exactly the same spread as the one above mentioned, and which was also taken in the Kenai Peninsula. The moose in this region appear to get some food particularly rich in horn growing properties.

The record horns for New Brunswick have a spread of 72 inches, and for Nova Scotia the record is 62 in. I have been a Taxidermist for eighteen years and the largest set of moose horns I ever owned or handled had a spread of 72 1/2 ins. when fresh killed, but after drying out for years the spread was 70 1/2 inches with 30 points and 16-inch palmation, weight of horns alone without skull was 64 pounds, this moose was killed in Northern Ontario in 1901 by Mr. Sidney McCabe of Greenfield, Colchester Co., N. S. It may be interesting to some readers to know that moose are on the increase in Nova Scotia in 1909 a close season was declared on cow moose, the number of bulls reported killed in that year was 405 each year since that date, except one, has shown an increase in the number killed until in 1920 the number reported killed reached 1361. This great increase in numbers is due largely to protection of the cow moose.

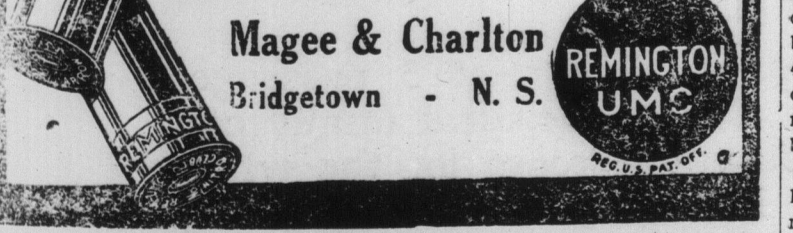

"Records of Big Game," by Rowland Ward, Piccadilly, London, England, give photo, size, weight and measurements of all the record game heads of the world, and is the most reliable source of information for anyone interested in that subject.
