GERMANS IN PRECIPITATE RETREAT ALONG THE ENTIRE BATTLE FRONT

Soissons, Western Anchor of the Salient, Entered by French—Thence to Three Miles West of Rheims Allied Troops Have Driven Foe Back—Guns Dominate Attempts to Get Back to Line of Vesle River.

FOE MAY SEEK REFUGE NORTH OF THE AISNE

South of Soissons Entire Crise River Has Been Forded by Allied Troops.

DOMINATED BY GUNS

Numerous Towns and Hamlets Captured and Crisis Has Been Reached.

The crisis in the allied offensive on the Soissons-Rheims front apparently has been reached. French troops have entered the Town of Soissons, the western anchor point of what remains of the famous salient, and all along the thirty-six miles of curving battleline from Soissons to Thillers, which lies about three miles west of Rheims, French, American and British troops have pushed in the entire enemy front and sent the Germans backward everywhere in precipitate retreat.

Over the battlefield the allies by quick and forcible methods of onslaught have deeply indented the German defence line for splendid gains, which seemingly foreshadow the necessity of the eventual retirement of the forces of the German crown prince to more tenable ground in the north. The plains behind the northwestern portion of the battlefield now are entirely dominated by the allied guns; in the south the French and Americans have negotiated almost all of the hills and forest country and are encroaching perceptibly toward the Flines railway, while on the east the British and French are almost astride the Rheims-Soissons railway and have their guns now so placed that the enemy is striven to be severely tried as he endeavors to press back and gain a haven of refuge along the Vesle River.

Just how far the Germans will go cannot at present be forecast, but with the southern line swinging northward in conjunction with that on the east toward the Vesle, and with the French dominating the Aisne eastward from Soissons, it is not improbable that the Germans may be compelled to take refuge north of the Aisne.

Numerous towns and hamlets have been captured by the allied troops during the latest fighting, and at some points they have advanced from two to three miles. South of Soissons the entire Crise River has been fished by the allied troops; northeast of Fere-en-Tardenois the allied line has been pushed well to the west of the region of Grand Rosoy, and the Town of Nesles has been taken. In the centre the Nesles Wood is being swept clean of Germans by the French cavalry and American and French troops are pressing the Germans hard north of Sergy and the hamlet of Nesles.

Further eastward, almost to the Salient of Rheims, combined forces of British and French everywhere are sorely harassing the enemy. In this latter region, in addition to Thillers, the Village of Ville-en-Tardenois is in allied hands, and the French now are on the heels of the Germans two and a half miles north of the Dormans-Rheims high road, over a front of nearly four miles.

Altogether, viewed from the war maps, the situation for the allied troops at present is most promising for complete success in riding Soissons-Rheims salient of the enemy. Throughout the latter phases of the battle the Germans have not shown their stamina of previous days, and at some points the allied troops particularly the Americans, were enabled to make their way into German positions with virtually no opposition being imposed.

Angry Crowd Wrecks Several Restaurants

Four others on West Queen street between Bathurst and Sunnyside.

Leaving a trail of wreckage and desolation behind them, a mob of returned soldiers, followed by many civilians, paraded the city last night, to avenge one of their comrades who, they allege, was maltreated in the White City Cafe, 433 Yonge street, near Carlton.

The trouble started on Thursday night, when a returned soldier got into trouble in the White City Cafe, with the patrons and waiters. When the police were called it was found that the soldier had a nasty gash in his head, which the raiders claim was caused by some one in the cafe. The soldier was removed to the General Hospital where he carried on to such an extent that the hospital authorities called the police, and had him removed to the station. In Friday morning's police court the soldier was fined $15 on a charge of drunkenness. After he was released the proprietor of the White City states he again came into the cafe and apologized for his behavior.

However, not very long after this, the raiders entered the cafe and proceeded to wreck everything in sight. Occupants of the restaurant having fled, the soldiers made short work of everything in the cafe. The plate glass windows were smashed as were 22 mirrors which lined the walls, expensive marble tops of tables were taken off and thrown on the ground and smashed. The counter came next, everything around it being a veritable wreck. The kitchen came next and here the raiders did their worst work. Boxes of foodstuffs of every description were hurled over the floor, cans of milk were split, till the floor was running in milk. No efforts were made by the police to stop the work of destruction, and the soldiers, now reinforced from 200 to 400 members, proceeded jubilantly on their way.

Their evident intention was to wreck all branches of the White City Cafe, for at 10:25 they had gathered in front of the branch at 945 West Bloor street. The destruction here was simply a repetition of the first. The same methods have been employed to gain entrance, by breaking one of the big plate glass windows at the front. Again the police stood, helpless, witnessed the pillaging going on. In the kitchen the wreckers had made a sorry mess, having even thrown fat on the fire to start a blaze.

Quick Locomotion. After the wrecking of the second White City Cafe, the soldiers, now growing into an ungovernable mob, made their way to the Star Lunch at 441 Yonge, which had been closed by the police as soon as they concluded that the mob would make more trouble. Having entered the cafe the men

VETERANS RESENT VANCOUVER STRIKE

Break Into Labor Temple and Throw Books and Records Into the Street.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 2.—Because Albert Goodwin, alleged draft evader and once prominent in labor union circles, was shot by a Dominion policeman who is now charged with manslaughter, about four thousand union workers of Vancouver laid down their tools at noon today and say they will remain idle 24 hours as a protest.

Coughlin's ship yard is tied up. About half of the force of the Wallace yards in North Vancouver returned to work this afternoon. The wooden ship yards are not affected. The workers on strike include 500 ship yard laborers, one thousand boiler makers, 500 longshoremen, 700 street railway men, 350 electrical workers and small numbers of some of the affiliated trades. The street car service in the city is completely tied up. Upward of 500 returned soldiers, officers and men, paid an unannounced visit to the Labor Temple late this afternoon, broke down some inside doors, secured entrance to the offices and threw books and records into the street. V. R. Midgley, a prominent labor man, was taken into the street and secured his freedom after he had kissed the union jack. The building was searched but no other leaders could be located, and the soldiers departed peacefully for Cambie street drill grounds, where they planned, to pass resolutions protesting against the 24-hour strike called on account of the killing of Goodwin, alleged draft evader.

FRENCH AIRMEN DROP BOMBS ON BATTLEFIELD

Paris, Aug. 2.—Aviation—On the 21st, seven German airplanes were downed during the day. Twenty-two tons of explosives were dropped on aviation grounds between the Aisne and the Vesle and on barracks and encampments of the enemy in the valleys of the Ardre and Vesle.

AMNESTY GRANTED TO ALL EVADERS

Penalty Will Not Be Exactod if They Report Before August 24.

Ottawa, Aug. 2.—An extra of the Canada Gazette, issued at seven o'clock this evening, contains a proclamation removing deserters and absentees under the Military Service Act from liability to punishment if they report for duty between now and August 24. It is recognized that many men who failed to report because of lack of a proper understanding of the act will be glad and willing to do so if a period of grace is allowed. It is believed that the establishment of such a period will bring to the colors many men whom it would be difficult to otherwise reach. Men who are still classed as deserters and absentees subsequent to Aug. 24, will, the proclamation states, "be pursued and punished with all the rigor and severity of the law, subject to the judgments of our courts-martials, which will be convened to try such cases and other competent tribunals." The proclamation provides that "those who employ, harbor, conceal or assist such men, will be held strictly accountable as offenders and subject to the pains, penalties and forfeitures in that behalf by law provided for their offense."

A Match Between Heavyweights.

Child's new restaurant, approaching completion, at Yonge and Dundas streets, hopes to feed country and city folk. Fair three weeks hence. Will Rolly Harris is ready to carry these visitors over the Don viaduct. Thousands are coming to the Fair to get the ride, among other attractions. Colonel Fleming of the Toronto Railway is getting ready to ride over the viaduct in new cars, with conductors in the ticket box. But will Colonel Harris be on time? Colonel Fleming is an early-riser and a light sleeper, but a man of some weight. Colonel Harris is in the hefty class and a good sleeper. He will have to hustle the viaduct along to the extent to give the signal to Mr. Fleming to bring his cars over on the opening day of the fair.

CONSTANT AIR RAIDS UPON DARDANELLES

British Aerial Forces in Mediterranean Attack Oriental Railway—Assist Italian Advance.

WORK IN HOME WATERS

Direct Hit on German Destroyer Causes Columns of Smoke to Arise.

London, Aug. 2.—An admiralty statement on aerial activities, issued to-night, says:

"Detailed reports have been received from royal air force units, working with the navy in the Mediterranean, Adriatic and the Aegean. Anti-submarine and escort patrols have been well maintained in the Mediterranean and the Adriatic. "As indicated in recent Italian official communications from Rome, our Adriatic formations have closely co-operated with the Italian air forces in raids on the Austrian naval ports of Cattaro and Durazzo, and in the land operations at Valona (Avlona). "In connection with the latter, one of our machines was forced to land within the enemy's lines, but both the pilot and observer were rescued the following day on the allies advancing and capturing an Austrian airfield. "In the Aegean a constant reconnaissance of the Dardanelles has been maintained during the night of July 28. A raid on the railway station and bridge at Uzunkopri resulted in damage to the station and buildings. "During a dawn reconnaissance of the enemy coast north and west of Imbros, thirteen castles were observed. Bombs were dropped, damaging two of the castles. A new enemy airfield at Uzunkopri was bombed, and photographs show that much damage was done, one hangar being completely destroyed. "A raid was made at dawn on July 26 upon Nagara, and at night on Galatia. A further raid on these two places was made during the night of July 28. Over half a ton of bombs were dropped, and large fires were started. One man who failed to report because of lack of a proper understanding of the act will be glad and willing to do so if a period of grace is allowed. It is believed that the establishment of such a period will bring to the colors many men whom it would be difficult to otherwise reach. Allies Compel Another Retreat on All Sides of Salient, Capturing Soissons, Ville-en-Tardenois, and Compelling Enemy to Abandon Entirely Important Chaudun Plateau—French and British Reach Valley of Crise—Three to Four Mile General Advance is Achieved, With Taking of Many Villages and Strong Points.

WITH the French Army in France, Aug. 2—The Germans are in retreat on all sides of the salient between the Aisne and the Marne. On the west the French and British troops, continuing their push of Thursday, have reached the valley of the Crise, a little river which joins the Aisne at Soissons.

The Germans therefore have abandoned the whole of the Chaudun plateau, between the Coeuves and Crise valley. This ground has been a desperately disputed battlefield for weeks. It had been swept by the German heavy guns from the north of the line and from the east, and was probably the hottest sector of the whole battle front.

In the centre the French cavalry are in the big woods called the Forêt de Nesles, a mile northeast of Fere-en-Tardenois. On the allied left the troops are in touch with the forests of the Ardre, two miles north of Villers Agron.

The Germans, disregarding the military considerations which counseled frank acceptance of defeat and rapid retreat many days ago in order to spare their men for a new attempt, have been obliged to accept the inevitable and are falling back, probably to the Vesle River.

The German crown prince's offensive on the Marne has failed as signally as that of Von Kluck in 1914, and the last word is with the allies.

TROUBLE OVERCOME; INSURGENTS RETURN

Harmony Again Reigns at the G.W.V.A. Convention, and Business Proceeds.

The feature of yesterday's proceedings at the Dominion convention of the G.W.V.A. was the return of the Ottawa and Winnipeg delegates to the floor of the convention. The question of proportional representation was freely discussed, and it was decided that the scheme of the Ottawa delegates to vote upon important subjects on the basis of paid-up membership would be adopted at the next convention. It was also decided that the present convention should not decide upon any general policy of membership. In general terms, an compromise was effected between the two opposing factions, with Toronto generously yielding points to the Ottawa-Winnipeg delegation to bring about harmony among the delegates.

On Ten-Mile Front.

London, Aug. 2.—The advance on the front of Gen. Mangin's army continues, according to a despatch from Reuter's correspondent at French headquarters. "In the main battle sector, between Hartennes and Taux, Paris, Aug. 2.—French troops have entered Soissons, according to the French official communication issued this evening. Over the entire line between Soissons and the vicinity of Rheims the Germans have been compelled to give up important positions and retreat precipitately, the communication adds. The Crise River has been crossed along the whole of its front, further progress has been made in the centre of the fighting line and on the east the allied line has been pushed more than three miles north of the Dormans-Rheims road. The text of the communication follows: "Attacks conducted during the past two days by our troops and allied units on the front north of the Marne have obtained full success, the Germans having been pushed back over all the line and forced to abandon the positions of resistance they had chosen between Fere-en-Tardenois and Ville-en-Tardenois and to retreat precipitately. "On our left our troops have entered Soissons. "More to the south they have crossed the Crise along the whole of the river front. "On our centre we are progressing widely north of the Oulx. We have passed Arcy-Saint Restieue and penetrated the Bois de Dolé. "More to the east, Coulognes, four kilometres north of the Bois Meunier, is in our possession. "On our right Goussancourt, Villers, Agron and Ville-en-Tardenois are in our hands. "On this part of the front we carried our line about five kilometres north of the Dormans-Rheims road on the general line of Vezilly and Lherly. "Between the Ardre and the Vesle we have occupied Gueux and Thillers."

Leut.-Col. W. P. Furney of Halifax was re-elected president by acclamation. The convention decided to urge upon the government the need of internment enemy aliens, of cancelling the publication of enemy journals, of prohibiting the enemy alien from moving beyond a 5-mile radius from his domicile without a special permit, and of giving friendly aliens the option of doing army work or work of national importance either in Canada or in their own countries.

On the Soissons-Chateau Thierry road, and Fere-en-Tardenois, we pushed forward along the whole line ten miles. We occupied Hettennes itself, and the wood to the south, and brought the line up to Gramaille and Saponay, making an almost straight front from Hartennes to Fere-en-Tardenois.

"In the centre we have passed the road running east and west from Ville-en-Tardenois to Coulognes, north of the Ourcq Valley, and are a couple of miles beyond Serzy," the despatch says. "In the central sector, as is usual when the enemy is retreating, his resistance is feeble than on the flanks. On the eastern flank of the salient our troops have taken the wood a mile east of Romigny, and are within pistol shot of Villers-Agron, on the Ville-en-Tardenois-Coulognes road. Our patrols were able to advance a thousand yards north of Ville-en-Tardenois this morning.

"The Germans are burning villages behind their front as they retire," the correspondent continues. "The effects of the French victory at the Marne and in Champagne, and General Foch's counter-offensive between the Aisne and the Marne are now being felt. The enemy, pressed on all sides and with his communications swept by our guns, has again been forced to give ground. He is retreating with reluctance, continually hoping that the effort will prove too much for us, as it has for him. "But unrelaxing pressure is bringing the results expected, and the crown prince's reserves are being exhausted at a quicker rate than ours. The weather is overcast, with rain showers."

Several locomotives taken. With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, Aug. 2.—The French and American troops north of Fere-en-Tardenois advanced simultaneously early Friday, the French occupying Gramaille and Cramoisielle before 7 o'clock, and French infantry entering Saponay at 8 o'clock. The Americans meantime kept pace with the French thru the Forest of Nesles.

Several locomotives and forty railroad cars were taken at Saponay. The allies advanced under the cover of the German withdrawing northward thru the valley stretching from Saponay, feebly replying at intervals with artillery.

There were many fires behind the line, the Germans having destroyed ammunition dumps before starting northward. The allies in this district encountered virtually no resistance. The French tonight are sleeping in Saponay for the first time in two months.

RATEPAYERS DISCUSS LIGHTING PROBLEMS

At a well-attended meeting of the Woodbine Heights Ratepayers' Association, held in the Savoy avenue fire hall last evening, the question of electric light for the district was discussed at considerable length, and it was eventually decided to appoint a deputation to wait upon the York Township Council at its next meeting and find out what steps have been taken by the township authorities to install the electric light in the district, and also if the agreement with the provincial hydro has yet been signed.

Rev. A. A. Kelley, pastor Rhodes Avenue Baptist Church, accompanied by Rev. D. A. Hackett, pastor Weston Road Baptist Church, are on vacation at the local church and the Grand Army Republic, also at Syracuse, and recently Mrs. Kelley, who is an educationist, was highly complimented for her efforts on behalf of the patriotic and charity organizations.

DESTROYED IN WEEK

Only 29 British Machines Are Reported to Be Missing. London, Aug. 2.—Proof of the continuance of British airplane supremacy is afforded in a weekly review of the air fighting, which shows that during that period 70 enemy machines were destroyed on the western front and 11 driven down out of control, while only 27 British machines were reported as missing. On the other fronts 18 enemy machines were destroyed at a cost of two British planes.

DOWLING COMMUTED TO LIFE SENTENCE

London, Aug. 2.—Lance-Corporal Joseph Dowling of the Connaught Rangers, who was landed on the coast of Ireland from a German submarine three months ago, was pronounced guilty today and sentenced to death. The sentence, however, was commuted to penal servitude for life. Dowling's trial by a court-martial opened on July 8. The prisoner, of medium height and slim, and of wide-awake appearance, pleaded not guilty to the formal charges, which were under three headings. First, that while a prisoner of war in Germany he joined a hostile force; second, that he induced others to join; third, that he participated in an attempt to land a hostile force in Ireland.

VISITS BRITISH FRONT

London, Aug. 2.—Sir Bhupindra Singh, maharaja of Patiala, who has been one of India's representatives in the imperial war cabinet, for some days past has been visiting the British front as head of the Sikh community. Earls Court

ANOTHER ACCIDENT

On the same spot where the fatal accident happened to Mrs. Ellen Bursey and Mrs. Nellie Morse, West St. Clair avenue, Monday night, an automobile sidled early yesterday morning and bumped into the telegraph pole, damaging the pole and injuring the auto. The machine was removed to a local garage for repairs and the owner's name could not be ascertained. The accident is said to have been caused owing to the narrow passage for machines to pass when cars are standing on the roadway.

RECOVERERS FROM ILLNESS

R. Macdonald Russell, of Ascott avenue, Earls Court, a prominent member of the executive committee of the British Imperial Association, has recovered from a tedious illness contracted a few weeks ago and is taking exercise again. Mr. Russell was to have taken part in a debate at the B. I. A., on the subject: "Shall we change the name of the 'German' ocean to 'British' ocean?" but owing to his illness, was forced to remain at home. The subject will come on at the next meeting of the association.

CHRISTENING OF BABY WAS INTERFERED WITH

The christening of the child of Nicholas Basaraba, Seventh street, which was to have been a gay celebration, was interrupted by Police-men Myers, Daniels and Simpson. Being somewhat suspicious, these officers appeared on the scene shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon with the intention of searching the premises. The happy father and his friends put up a strong objection to the officers' search, and the officers were faced with the problem of how to proceed. The necessary form was soon secured and on entering the household, they were met by the father crying children who sat on the floor, supposedly scared to death. As their actions were rather strange, the constables compelled them to leave the premises.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS JURY'S VERDICT

Last evening the enquiry into the death of Michael Tucker, who was killed by a G. T. R. train near Downsview, was resumed at the Court-Craught Hall. While giving his evidence Conductor R. Kydd, who was on the train at the time of the accident, became excited and fainted. He was carried from the room, and it was some time before he regained consciousness. It was proved that the victim was dead. A witness said that it was a custom for men to walk along the tracks until 25 feet of a car, and he did not pay much attention to the train. From the testimony of witnesses who saw the fatality it was shown that the engineer did all in his power to avoid the accident. A 15-minute deliberation of the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

MAGISTRATE LENIENT WHEN PLEA IS MADE

Walter Sargold, 297 Ocker avenue, was charged in the county police court yesterday with shooting at Edmund Grafty, 25 Brownville avenue, Mount Dennis. He was sentenced to two months in jail, but when Grafty's mother asked for leniency, stating that the defendant's mother was sick, the magistrate let him go on suspended sentence. Grafty stated that he was swimming in the Black Creek near Eglington avenue when Sargold and some other boys started calling him a sissy boy. He retorted by telling them they were yellow and ought to be in the Black Creek. Sargold then pulled a revolver and started shooting at Grafty.

VARLEY ALLEGES ATTEMPT TO 'FIX' Says Endeavors Were Made to Keep Him Out of the Field

That an attempt had been made to "fix" or bribe him to retire from the field, and thus allow Dr. Cody to be re-elected unopposed, was the rather startling statement made by William Varley at a meeting held in St. Paul's Hall, St. James' street, last night. The organizers and agents of his opponent's campaign, said Mr. Varley, were starting even earlier than he was to "fix" the election. They were using "dirty work," they were trying to hum him up as a disreputable character.

FINISH GRADING OF C.N.R. YARDS

The Ontario Railway Board yesterday approved the plans for the freight and subway. It will be about 50 feet long and 15 feet wide. The double street car tracks will be on the south side, leaving 31 feet for street traffic. The sidewalk, also on the south side, will be eight feet wide. There will be a clearance of 17 feet in the subway going to Glen Road from the new station. The sidewalk of the subway will be on the east side, and will be practically on the level of the street level on the Glen road bridge.

Toronto Railway Progress to Handle Crowds That Will Follow Opening of Bridges. With the completion of the Bloor-Danforth viaduct only a few weeks off, the Toronto Railway Company has made its arrangements to handle the heavy traffic which will follow the opening of the new thoroughfare. For the present, a cross-town service will be put into effect, commencing at Broadway avenue and running over the viaduct and its approaches to Bloor and thence west to the end of the tracks at Lansdowne avenue. This will not require any re-routing of existing lines and will be continued until the company's traffic experts have a chance to study its effect on the whole system.

SHOOTS SWEET HEART AND THEN SUICIDES

Italian Kills Young Woman at Timmins, and Then Turns Pistol on Himself.

Timmins, Aug. 2.—A tragedy occurred here last night at Goldfields Hotel when Della Donna, an Italian, shot and killed Miss Irene Leverton, with whom he was infatuated, and then, turning the weapon upon himself, sent a bullet through his brain, dying a few minutes later. Donna, it is said, had long been enamored of the girl, and also ten or twelve years her senior had forced his attentions upon her at every opportunity. She had repulsed him, and when the girl's father threatened him with arrest over a year ago he fled from the camp. Returning suddenly here last night at Goldfields Hotel, he met Miss Leverton in the ladies' reception hall at Goldfields Hotel.

There were no witnesses of the murder, and the first intimation of the tragedy was the sound of two revolver shots which followed each other in quick succession. The fugitive and his victim were found lying on the floor bleeding freely from bullet wounds in the head. Both died a few minutes later.

THREE ENEMY PLANES DOWNED BY AMERICANS

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, Aug. 2.—Three enemy airplanes were officially announced as having been downed today. Three other victories were achieved, and it is expected that they will be confirmed shortly. American bombing planes successfully raided Comans Thursday night. Lieut. David E. Putnam of Newton, Mass., scored another apparent victory by driving down a German biplane and which he attacked from behind. All the shots from Lt. Putnam's machine gun appeared to have penetrated the enemy machine, but its destruction has not yet been confirmed.

ALL KINDS OF SHELLS SHOT AT AMERICANS

With the American Army in France Aug. 2.—In Lorraine, the enemy put over a barrage at midnight last night, but did not follow it up with an infantry attack as they did in Alsace on the previous night, when 11 Germans succeeded in getting thru the American wire, and of them into the trenches, where one was killed. During the preliminary bombardment the enemy used a heavy concentration of guns and trench mortars, shooting all kinds of shells, including gas projectiles. An attempted raid at another point broke down altogether.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

Roll up, not only the map of Europe, but of this territory; it will not be needed for many days. On this fourth anniversary of the war, General Foch has the Germans at his mercy. The Germans are fighting almost without fighting from the thunder of the avenging guns; soon they will flee from the glimmer of bayonets in the hands of the conquering infantry. When the power of Germany completes its decline, the allies will produce a new map of Europe, and in this world, made by themselves, and will impose it on the Kaiser and his fellow conspirators against the peace and liberty of mankind.

The fact that the German military organization received from the preceding day's flank attack, sent his line tottering and compelled him yesterday again to retreat. Instead of being on a portion of his front as formerly, his present withdrawal extends to his whole front in the Soissons-Rheims curve for the reason that he has to get out of his predicament quickly, or he will be cut off. The victorious forward march yesterday, the allies covered a belt of former German positions two to four miles deep. On their left, they entered Soissons, and also crossed the Crise River, to the south of Soissons, and advanced beyond, seizing the Chaudun Plateau. In their centre, they advanced on the whole front north of the Ourcq, occupying the entire line of German prepared positions between Ville-en-Tardenois and a point north of Pere-en-Tardenois. At nightfall their line had passed beyond Arcy-St. Restieue and had penetrated Fole Wood. On their right they advanced to a depth of three miles north of the Rheims-Dormans road on the general line of Vesilly-Lhery and from the general direction of Rheims, they advanced also in the sector between the Ardre and Vesle Rivers to as far as Gueux and Thillers.

The capture of the strong pivot of Soissons, and the advance across the Crise River, looks extremely bad for the German positions south of the Vesle, and it is even doubtful whether the Germans can now maintain the Vesle line, so they will probably have to fall back to the line of the Aisne. The effect of the allied advance is also compelling the Germans to take to a more precipitate flight, instead of an orderly retirement. The consequences of the material and motor transport will suffer severely from the allied gunfire, and much of it will have to be left behind them, for they will be unable to carry it away. Thus, the enemy is losing indispensable material for an offensive, manufactured and prepared during many months, if not several years. His losses of shells and supplies may, indeed, be crippling for his future river defence, should the allies press on after him back on the Ailette.

An immediate result of the French and British success at Soissons and

THREE-MILE ADVANCE MAKES GERMANS RUN

London, Aug. 2.—Yesterday's Franco-British attack on the westerly side of the Marne salient was on a front of five miles and penetrated to a maximum depth of three miles, according to news received today. It resulted in the capture of the entire ridge which forms the watershed between the Ourcq and the Aisne, the advances indicate.

The French also captured the entire Meuniers wood, on the line to the west of Goussancourt, at about the centre of the salient. The advance by the allies along the western side of the salient is described as extremely important—possibly the most important thing the allies have accomplished since the Germans retired from the Marne.

The importance of the victory, it is explained, lies in the fact that the new allied positions command the whole area to the northward and take a flank and rear the entire western gate thru which the Germans have been retiring. This area is a nest of German reserves and field artillery. Goussancourt itself has been taken by the French, the advances add.

6,000 Bachelors in Montreal Register Under the New Tax

Montreal, Aug. 2.—Six thousand bachelors had registered in the city up to today as an outward sign of their willingness to accept the new tax. The special tax of $10 a year which the city authorities have decided to levy upon all unmarried men 21 years of age or over, was introduced at a meeting of the city council last night.

At this point the picket of about 30 members of the regiment, who had arrived and had been standing with the crowd on the roadway, not taking any part in the doings, were ordered in the conversation and moved off.

Balked in their efforts at this place several of the rioters shouted to their comrades that the cafeteria at the Lesais Camp must be visited tonight and raided. As the crowd got down as far as the Yonge Lunch, 237 Yonge street, cries of "Go ahead here," and "Go ahead there," were heard, and a number of men went into a restaurant and as it was found a couple of men employed there had served at the front in the allied armies, the crowd was passed to move on down Yonge street. A few of the soldiers with the crowd remained in the Superior Lunch until the mob had dispersed.

The city police had in the meantime taken up a position at the junction of Queen and Yonge and barred the way. No one who could not show good reason for continuing down the street was allowed to proceed and all traffic was diverted along East and West Queen streets. A small crowd managed to get round to the corner of Richmond and Yonge streets, and there again it was feared that an attack might be made upon Child's restaurant, a corner of city police, and a rush was made by the policemen and detectives who had taken up their stand there, and the crowd was scattered without too much trouble.

The military police, about 30 strong, in a large tent, kept moving up and down Yonge street and this helped materially to keep the crowds moving. The city police, as well as the last garrison at the corner of Richmond and Yonge had been broken up, divided their forces and in small groups kept marching up and down both sides of Yonge street, keeping everyone on the move and thus preventing further manifestations. By half past one in the morning quiet seemed to have been pretty well restored at least on Yonge street, but it was feared that further trouble might break out in the side streets, although the police, aided by the military, took all possible precautions to see that no crowds were allowed to gather anywhere where there was any possibility of fresh rioting breaking out.

As on all similar occasions the smashing of the cafes and restaurants was accompanied by a lot of looting. Not only did the men in the mob carry away pictures, banners, streamers and pennants taken from the walls of the wrecked eating houses but even women were to be seen removing eatables of all kinds, including chickens and fruits, and bottles of soft drinks were also commandeered by the crowds. Quantities of cigars and cigarettes were also carried away during the trouble.

There were some small casualties. Some of the wreckers in smashing the large plate glass windows got their cuts about the hands and arms and in front of some of the places wrecked, there were marks of blood on the sidewalks, and stained handkerchiefs, which had been used as first aid, were strewn on the street.

ANGRY MOB BRECKS MANY RESTAURANTS

proceeded to do their work thoroughly. Traffic was held up both ways on Yonge street by the crowd which had collected to watch the scene. The air was filled with flying glass and fragments of wood, torn from the benches and tables in the restaurant. Here, if anything, the rioters wrecked the place worse than any other, previously visited. Tables were broken and thrown to the cheering crowd outside.

After demolishing the ground floor the raiders proceeded to "clean up" everything in the upper floors. Boxes of tea, sugar, biscuits and other edibles were tossed out of the upper windows, till the ground below was littered with food of every kind. Here again, as in the other places, the police made no move to protect the property, other than to keep the crowds away. Leaving The Star some of the members made their way into Wainwright's dining hall, having previously been told that the owners of the cafe were part owners of the hall. However, cooler heads prevailed, and the crowd proceeded on its march up Yonge street.

The next stop was made at the Marathon Lunch, 322 Yonge street. The same performance as at the other places marked the conduct here. After demolishing everything in sight, the raiders started down Yonge street once more.

The first collision with the police came here. One constable was struck, and in trying to arrest his man, was threatened by a mob of about thirty infuriated soldiers. The policeman stuck to his man, however, and had him taken away in a patrol wagon to the station. To the soldiers' was the cry taken up by the raiders, and for a few minutes things looked serious, but the police arrival of two truck loads of pickets, put an end to all such threatenings, and the crowd moved on down Yonge street.

Several restaurant keepers on the way down were compelled to salute the flag with the threat of dine-out, if they refused. "We took our chance in France and we'll take it here," was the slogan of the parade and thoroxy did they stand by that slogan.

Two truck loads of soldiers from the Canadian Garrison Regiment were brought on the scene under command of Major G. R. Rodgers. These men were unloaded from the trucks on the street, and Major Rodgers, second in command of the Canadian Garrison Regiment, addressed the crowd from a window of the Coleridge Restaurant, 249 Yonge street. He only spoke a few words, advising the returned men that to take part in such disturbances would only be adding to their interests. He was interrupted by mixed cheering and howling and just as he finished speaking and stepped down to greet the crowd, someone threw a brick thru the big window above him, scattering a shower of broken glass in all directions.

The returned men claimed they were prevented from doing what they wanted in this restaurant, getting the squad of policemen getting there before them and standing in the entrance way with revolvers in their hands. At this point the picket of about 30 members of the regiment, who had arrived and had been standing with the crowd on the roadway, not taking any part in the doings, were ordered in the conversation and moved off.

BRITAIN RESOLUTE TO CONTINUE WAR

Fourth Anniversary of Entry Finds Nation Highly Confident.

VICTORY'S DAY DAWNS

Bright Beams of Liberty Seen Piercing Clouds of Tyranny.

New York, Aug. 2.—Unshaken resolution to go forward to the final victory and prediction of a complete triumph of the allied arms were voiced today in a series of statements from leading Englishmen on Great Britain's part in the four years of war ending Aug. 4. The statements, issued by the British bureau of information, include the following:

By the Earl of Reading, British ambassador and high commissioner at Washington: "The fourth anniversary of our entry into the war finds the nation stern and resolute. Success and reverse have been met with the same unflinching fortitude, and never has the spirit of the people been finer nor their confidence higher. Sustained in their continuous and unwearied effort by the love of liberty, navy, army and civilians have alike done great deeds. At the outset the navy swept the sea, and our original British army, some 160,000 strong, withstood with British and Belgian the mighty onrush of German millions. That tiny army handed down its spirit and tradition to the hosts that subsequently responded to the country's call.

Never to Give Up. "In every sphere of war activity the men and women of Britain are taking an ever-increasing share, and however long may be the duration of the war and whatever the further cost in blood and treasure the British people will in common with our allies, never give up the struggle for the freedom of mankind. Coupled with that spirit of stern resolve which animates every section of the community is the feeling of very real gratitude to America for her aid to the allied cause. The glorious achievements of the never-ending stream of American soldiers which is pouring into Europe go far to make certain the final and complete triumph of our arms.

Unshaken Determination. By Sir Henry Robinson Smith, assistant commissioner of the British mission: "Four years of war have taught us hard lessons, and there is no sacrifice but that of honor which they have not demanded. But our determination remains unshaken and we shall go forward to the final victory. By Brigadier-General W. A. White, commanding the British and Canadian recruiting mission in the United States: "No Englishman would ever have held up his head on the continent of Europe if we had not been able to bear fate. So on this fourth of August we are still fighting to drive Germany out of Belgium, and France. We rejoice that last year America was with us in this fight in spirit, and this year she is there with the men and the guns, so that the tide is turning. Just as the fourth of August, 1914, brought the final consummation of Franco-British friendship, so the fourth of August, 1918, will witness the Anglo-American compact which is the best guarantee of a peaceful world."

U. S. STEAMER SUNK

New York, Aug. 2.—The American steamship Poseidon, 1911 tons gross, formerly under the Dutch flag, was sunk in a collision with an American tanker last Wednesday off the Delaware capes, it was learned in marine circles here today. GERMANS PRESSED BACK

Paris, Aug. 2.—On the battlefield north of the Marne, the French troops during the night continued to press back the Germans farther toward the Vesle, says the official statement from the war office today.

Armies

It is frequently pointed out that no comparison should be made between the Fighting Army at the Front and the Industrial Army at Home, because the former supports National Honour and the latter produces Private Gain.

This is good reasoning and doubtless if we had it to do again we should square the facts with the logic, but—

What we have to do is NOW, always now, and the "NOW" of the matter is—

Private Contractors manufacturing Munitions of War and—

Munitions of War never more urgently needed than at this very minute.

Therefore the obnoxious duty of the Industrial Army is to loyally back the Fighting Army, and this applies alike to the "Generals" in the office and the "Privates" in the shop.

The Fighting Army CAN'T stop to hold a Court-Martial: The Industrial Army SHOULDN'T stop to hold an arbitration but—it should arbitrate its differences because—

Both Armies have only one enemy—

The Hun.

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 3.

A New Year of War.

Tomorrow is the fourth anniversary of the entry of Great Britain into the great war, and for her and her allies the prospects of "rest after toil, port after stormy seas," never were so bright. The literature of the war has become such a vast accumulation and the operations of the war itself have been on such a gigantic scale, that no one of the present generation can ever hope to master the subject. We must be content to grasp the general principles and the leading events, and leave to a patient, probing posterity the settling forth of all the facts and their value in determining the final result. Of the entry of Britain into the conflict we can only recognize its inevitability. We could have done no otherwise. The doubt of this lingered long, particularly in the United States, but the course taken by Germany finally persuaded all but the most biased and self-interested that the future of the world depended upon the blocking of the German purpose.

The German people and the Kaiser have chosen to regard the blocking of their purpose as evidence of a desire to annihilate themselves. This has been refuted again and again. Premier Lloyd George recently declared that the allies do not want one year of German soil, but Germany must be equally self-denying and that she is not willing to be. The treaty of Brest-Litovsk is sufficient evidence of this, and all the recent German overtures in speech and writing have required compensation in the east for the abandonment of the spoils of her invasions in the west. The Kaiser's own address to his people is as false as usual, and he cannot, apparently, bring himself to face the truth which so many of his high officials have admitted, that Germany made the war, that Germany plotted to overwhelm France and Russia, and dominate Europe and eventually the world, and that the plans went astray. Here is his Pecksniffian whine:

"Sacred duty commands that everything be done that this precious blood does not neglect by us to restore peace to the devastated world. The voice of humanity, however, still finds no hearing in the enemy's camp. As often as we have spoken words of reconciliation, we have met with contempt and hatred. The enemy does not yet want peace. Without shame, they smirch the fair name of Germany with ever-fresh calumnies. Again and again their mouth-pieces declare that Germany must be annihilated. We must, therefore, continue to fight and to labor until our enemies are ready to acknowledge our right to existence. Just as we have victoriously fought for and gained it against their overwhelming onslaught. God is with us."

Sacred duty does command that the precious blood should not flow in vain, but there is a responsibility resting on him who occasioned the shedding of the blood which cannot be escaped. Nothing has been neglected, he says, to restore peace, except one thing he has forgotten—he did not refrain from introducing war. He charges his foes with smirching the fair name of Germany, but it was not they who broke the peace, invaded Belgium, violated civilized war codes, used poison gas, murdered non-combatants, bombed open towns and hospitals, sank unarmed vessels "without trace," shelled defenseless passengers in open boats, and piled up the list of horrors which are recorded in the diaries of the officers of his own armies.

He is the responsible author of all this infamy, and if Germany regards herself as calumniated by the recital of these deeds, she has a remedy. The annihilation of the Hohenzollerns and their system is altogether a different thing from the annihilation of Germany. The Kaiser has been hypnotizing his people into the belief that he and they are one. They have shed their blood, which neither he nor his sons have done. It looks as if he must learn that without shedding of blood there is no remission of sin.

For our part, we must pursue our task to the bitter end. Notable assistance is being rendered us by the great republic of the west, and we may be confident that the democracies of the world, as they seek no more than mercy for themselves, will render no more than justice to Germany.

An Error Corrected.

Mr. J. T. Gunn took occasion at the Trades and Labor Council on Thursday evening to distinguish between the Labor party in politics and the Socialists or Social Democrats. A good many efforts to obtain Labor representation in the legislature have been defeated by the circulation of the story that the Labor men were a lot of Socialists. It is true that some Labor men belong to the Social Democrat party, of which Mr. James Simpson is the most prominent local member, but he and his friends are not of the Labor party, do not support it, and differ from it as much as a Whig from Tory. Yet, even in the present election campaign many speakers are confusing the Labor party with the Social Democrats and denouncing Mr. Varley as a Socialist.

It has been the custom to speak of public ownership, the operation of the postoffice, railways and other public utilities, as forms of socialistic enterprise, but the Social Democrats regard these things for the most part as means of supporting the capitalist system, and they adopt and defend the Bolshevik program which would reduce Britain, France and America to anarchy, and which has brought Russia to ruin.

The Labor party has entirely different objects and is constructive, not destructive, in its policy. This has been abundantly demonstrated in Britain, and the clash there between the real labor men and the extremists is emphatic.

Until we begin to understand each other and our several aims, the present social and political confusion will not be composed, and it only adds to the confusion when speakers mix up such different policies as those of the Labor party and the Social Democrats. It has been said that the Labor party relies on the reform of the individual, and the Social Democrats rely on the abolition of the present system. The Labor man is an evolutionist. The Social Democrat is a revolutionist.

The Labor party has been before the public for some time. It is composed of those who live by labor, whether manual or mental. The authorized general platform includes free and compulsory education, and in all institutions supported by the government, free text books; public ownership of all public utilities and natural sources of wealth; nationalization of banking and credit systems; equal pay to equal work; proportional representation; pensions for mothers with dependent children; old age pensions; creation of national reserves of coal and timber; and as many more progressive planks which we believe would be as acceptable to most of the members of the various political parties as to Labor men, if the several party managers would permit their adoption.

At all events no good purpose can be served by misrepresenting the Labor men and calling them Socialists. They represent advanced measures which are as necessary today for the preservation of society and the welfare of the nation as the Whitney platform of 1905, and which we believe Premier Whitney was denounced as a Socialist in some quarters on account of the Hydro-Electric policy. That was thirteen years ago and a new program and another advance is just as necessary now as then. It seems a pity that it is not Sir William Hearst instead of Mr. William Varley who is advocating the reforms.

U. S. Ownership of Railways Hits Canadian Express Companies.

Falling off of a million dollars in customs receipts at Toronto during July affected the railways and express companies. Heavy freight is below normal; also a decided slump in the bonded parcels of the express companies. This is general in Canada; one of the express companies would close its bonded goods department, but it cannot because of the law regarding common carriers. A big staff retained to handle the bonded goods, sending out advice notes, manifesting and clearing customs, could be utilized in facilitating delivery of domestic packages. Possibly the railway board will be asked to remedy existing conditions.

But the cure is public control and consolidation of railways, express and telegraphs as in the States. That country is saving at every turn all waste in transportation. We are still acting like drunken sailors.

Housing Commissions.

A good deal is being said for the appointment of a housing commission, but it strikes us that all the bodies that have been contemplated are too big and unwieldy, and are composed in some suggestions, of gentlemen who are already over-loaded with work in their own spheres. It is quite right to get businessmen, but not those who are too busy.

A commission of three men would probably accomplish more than a commission of thirty. An architect, the city architect for example, a transportation man, and a financial man are all that are needed. Some such combination would more quickly come to an agreement, would more rapidly get things in trim, and more efficiently and promptly have their plans carried out.

THE BOLSHEVIKS ARE GETTING CANADA

So The Globe and News Warn the Government Against Taking Over Railways and the Ross Rifle Co. or Even International Nickel—Is it the Hand of Wallace Nesbitt?

This week the United States took over the telegraphs and long-distance telephone lines. The telegraph system, part and parcel of the postoffice, administered by postoffice officials. The express companies have been corralled into one big merger, so that the very names, "Adams," "Wells," "Fargo," etc. will soon disappear. No one doubts that the express monopoly will soon be a part of the government monopoly which embraces the mails, the telegraphs and the parcel post.

The railways of the United States were brought into one system under state control last December. There was some dislocation, some sabotage, perhaps some grumbling at increased rates, but today the national system is so firmly established that no intelligent person ever expects to see the roads return to corporation management.

In a word, the United States has nationalized its great utilities of transportation and communication, and if we had been as spry as we should have been on this side of the boundary line, our nationalized system of public utilities would have complemented the American system like one blade of the scissor complements the other. We would have had state control of railways, telegraphs and express companies from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the North Pole to the Rio Grande. Moreover, each national system would have helped the other laboring together for the winning of the war. Even if our government had only nationalized and brought into one system under state control all the roads except the Canadian Pacific, and all the telegraphs and express companies except those controlled by the C.P.R., we would have had a state-owned system ready to work in harmony with the national system of the United States. And the Wilson administration, keen for public ownership, would have been only too glad to throw the enormous business it can give Canadian utilities to the national system, rather than to the Canadian Pacific. Indeed, the Canadian Pacific, the only privately-owned railway corporation on the continent, would be this have arrived at an impossible position.

As it is, the railway and the telegraph situation in Canada is in a chaotic condition. We own some roads outright; we own the capital stock in the corporation that controls other roads, and we hold mortgages upon still other roads far more than they would bring in the open market. If we get down to hardpan and proceed on a business basis, we would soon, as a government, be owning and operating all the railways except the Canadian Pacific. But for some reason or another, we have been dragging along, making progress slowly, indeed. The government has acquired the capital stock of the Canadian Northern, but the United States would not a government road in the sense that the Intercolonial and National Transcontinental are government roads. We have been spoon-feeding the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific, sending ministers overseas to negotiate Northern road, but today we are no nearer the nationalization of the Grand Trunk Railway than we were a year ago.

For all this, perhaps the government of the day is open to criticism, but it would be said in defence of the government that it has been enflamed by influences that seek to blight the further development of public ownership. There is a constant suggestion that the government is in danger of being captured by Bolsheviki. We are told that capitalists in London and New York fear ruthless confiscation in Canada of all private property and a reckless disregard of contract rights. These capitalists have had the patience to read the many order-in-council passed by the government, and according to the Ottawa correspondent of The Toronto Globe, they have fished out one that clearly convicts the government of being Bolsheviki. This order-in-council, dated last March, we are told, authorizes the government to expropriate any and all private property, wherever found, and to pay the owner thereof only a nominal sum. For example, we are told that the entire plant and business of the William Davies Company might be seized tomorrow by the government, which need only pay the company one dollar for its property worth millions.

When our minister of crown went to England to negotiate the Grand Trunk, they apparently got no hearing. They were, according to The Globe, howled down as Bolsheviki, and spent most of their time in explaining and apologizing. Here, at any rate, are the opening paragraphs of the despatch by the Globe's correspondent referred to, and to which The Globe gives a place of honor on its front page.

The visit of the Canadian ministers to Great Britain, and their conference with British investors regarding the government's plans for railway nationalization and for a post-war influx of British capital to Canada, have disclosed a certain feeling of uneasiness there as to a possible Bolsheviki tendency in Canada. Security for private contracts and investments in Canada against any federal or provincial governmental public ownership or expropriation onslaught has been "put up" to the Canadian members by the British capitalists, whose fears seem to have been aroused by the railway nationalization proposal in Canada, the C.P.R. special taxation and other "evidences" of expropriating for the people "the fruits of private enterprise."

This uneasiness of capitalists as to further investment in Canada may, of course, be due only to an unjustified scare over newspaper reports of public ownership proposals in connection with railway and power companies, etc., but it is nevertheless a factor in the solution of Canada's present and future financial problems, and during their stay in London the Canadian ministers were obliged to give public reassurance that Canada would keep faith with those who invested their money here. Hon. Arthur Meighen, while in London, gave a positive declaration on behalf of the government that "Canada would allow no conscription of legitimate investment."

This astounding declaration tends to discourage further railway nationalization, but we believe it is also camouflage for a campaign The Globe is now waging on behalf of Sir Charles Ross, sole owner of the Ross Rifle Company. The company's plant was expropriated by the government under an order-in-council, which limited the award of the exchequer court to $5,000,000. The Globe Thursday's issue claims that the factory has been rented by the government for $500,000 a year, and that from the sale of scrap and material in process of manufacture the government has already netted $2,000,000. The inference is obvious that in The Globe's opinion the government has been guilty of confiscation.

And The Globe goes further in this direction. Its Ottawa correspondent more than intimates that the government passed an order-in-council which permitted it to seize any person's property and pay for the same only a nominal sum. To quote:

It was made possible, and it is still possible, for instance, for the government to declare that it is in the interest of the state to take over the whole of Sir Joseph Flavell's bacon industry and award him therefor only the nominal sum of one dollar. The possibilities of such a weapon in the hands of an unscrupulous government during election time in forcing a corporation to contribute from any large corporation may be imagined. It is possible that the elimination of Mr. Rogers from the cabinet and the formation of a Union government prevented a wider exercise of the power taken than was actually attempted to be exercised.

Taking it altogether The Globe by inference charges that the government did levy blackmail on the packers and other people during the last election, that it tried to fry fat out of the Ross Rifle factory and when its owner failed to come across the government took the factory at a price which was scandalously inadequate.

These charges may be bunkum, but they are part of a campaign to discredit government ownership and to brand Bolsheviki any government daring to proceed with the nationalization of the Grand Trunk. We know The Globe, editorially, is calling for complete railway nationalization, but we know by long experience that the voice of Jacob on the editorial page isly consents of the hands of Esau in other parts of the paper.

If it not the height of impudence for the Grand Trunk to charge the government of Canada with disregarding contract rights, it was the Grand Trunk which broke its contract with the government in respect to the National Transcontinental after the government, upon the faith of that contract, had expended two hundred million dollars. The government of Canada has never violated a contract it made with the Grand Trunk. Has the Grand Trunk ever kept a contract it made with the government?

And now comes The Toronto News with this brilliant gem of thought:

The Toronto News criticizes the administration for what it calls its "Bolsheviki" policy with regard to the Grand Trunk Railway. Apparently it wants the government to confiscate the railway. This could be done. But what would be the result? The Grand Trunk has its terminals in Chicago and Portland. Without these in hand, the country would have in its hands a system without a beginning or an ending.

So The News joins The Globe in denouncing those who favor railway nationalization as desirous of "confiscating" the Grand Trunk. A government which confiscates a railway or rifle factory, or anything else, is truly Bolsheviki. Does The News say that the government confiscated the Canadian Northern? And will The News say that the government should not expropriate the Grand Trunk?

Let us remind The News that, neither by confiscation, expropriation, liquidation or negotiation, can the government acquire those portions of the Grand Trunk Ry. system which are beyond the territorial limits of Canada. Those terminals at Chicago and Portland towards which The News gazes so longingly are not in the possession of the Grand Trunk Railway, but are in the possession and under the control of the United States Government, and there they will remain. If The News' argument means anything, it means that we should do nothing more towards acquiring the Grand Trunk.

Thus The Globe and The News, both claiming to support the Union government, and both claiming to favor public ownership, combine to discredit that government and to halt any further railway nationalization. The old bogie of confiscation is trotted out, and the comparatively new vituperative term of Bolsheviki. The railways may be pleased with their efforts, but Sir Robert Borden may well pray to be delivered from his friends!

FOLLIES OF THE PASSING SHOW—By Mitchell

CHARLES MITCHELL

THE BRIDE LAYS DOWN THE LAW
"You must never call me hon again"

favorite summer reading for the capitalists of London and New York.

If we are indebted to a lawyer for bringing it to the notice of the Canadian people and for attracting the comment of The Globe newspaper, we may reasonably conclude that the lawyer is the personal counsel of Sir Charles Ross, and the attorney in Canada of the International Nickel Company.

A Line of Cheer Each Day of the Year
By John Kendrick Bangs.

TWO BLESSINGS.
The man who first invented sleep Deserves our thanks, sincere and deep. But when these August dawns I rise And glimpse the glory of the skies, And breathe the freshness of the air, And find God's beauty everywhere, I bless, likewise, the undertaking Of him who first invented waking.

HOUSING PROBLEM.
A meeting will be held at the city hall at 11 o'clock next Thursday morning to discuss the housing problem.

WILLS PROBATED

William Stewart Staughton, who died in Toronto June 22, left an estate valued at $24,650. His widow, Mrs. Martha Jane Staughton, is the sole beneficiary. Four sons and four daughters share the $2700 estate of Mrs. Julia Prior, who died Dec. 15, leaving no will. George F. Townsend, who died June 22, left an estate valued at $2423. His widow is the sole beneficiary.

QUESTION IS SETTLED.

Does the term "partisan" include the meaning of political bias in the constitution of the G. W. V. A? This question was asked at yesterday's convention by Comrade MacLeod of the central branch. "I rule that question out of order," replied the president. "We have settled all discussion of politics."

FULL OF LIFE

Open a bottle of Imperial. Pour quickly, or it will foam over. Fill your glass with the amber beverage, watch the bubbles rise. Clear as crystal. Now for the crucial test. How does it taste on the palate? ... Ah! that's fine—the mellowness of the malt—the tang of the hops. You get it all in

O'Keefe's IMPERIAL BEERS
Lager : Ale : Stout

After effects? Yes, you feel refreshed, invigorated, you have the inclination to smack your lips. This is wholly due to the nutritious, tonic value of well-brewed malt and hops, and in the least to alcoholic content, for the law is strict and is strictly observed in Imperial brews.

Your whole family can drink O'Keefe's Imperial Lager, Ale or Stout with real benefit as well as pleasure. Its use is ideal at this season of the year. Try it. It is full of Life and Zest!

Order a case from your grocer. Ask for O'Keefe's at hotels, cafes or restaurants.

O'Keefe's Ginger Ales in all flavors, including Cola, are indisputably the best of their kind. Your grocer can supply you.

"Barber's Itch"

Annoying, isn't it? But you can soon get rid of this form of eczema by applying Dr. Chase's Ointment after shaving. This soothing ointment heals the irritated skin and keeps it soft and pliable. By its antiseptic influence it prevents the spreading of skin trouble. You will not suffer from tenderness of the skin if you apply Dr. Chase's Ointment after shaving. It acts as a food for the skin, keeping it smooth and velvety.

BICYCLING COMING INTO FAVOR AGAIN

Many People Use It for Business and Pleasure Most of the Year.

Not only the glorious spring and the "good old summer time," but also the autumn of the year is Canada's cycling season. Indeed the months of September and October, when the weather is neither too hot nor too cold and the roads are in excellent shape after the summer traffic, are among the most delightful of cycling months.

For at least one person—the man or woman, the lad or lass, who rides to work as most of us do now—the cycling season extends well on toward Christmas. In fact a surprising number of riders never lay aside their wheels all winter except on an occasional day that is too stormy and cold.

Today--An Event Extraordinary!

Silk Shirt Sale

Beautiful Silk Shirts, Arrow, Tooke and Forsythe Qualities, Formerly Priced at $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00--Going Today--

$3.98

You can see what a splendid chance this is, coming as it does, right in the nick of time for hot weather wearing.

From every standpoint these silk shirts will please you.

In style, they are supreme, with a wide variety of sizes and patterns.

In fit they will be a constant delight to you, because they are tailored to conform to natural body lines.

In wear they will serve you exceptionally well, for there is quality stitched into every detail of their make-up.

Men who seek distinction in shirts who appreciate the refined effect of correct dress—know the superior advantages of silk shirts.

These silk shirts are notable for perfect blending of exclusive designs and richness of colors with authentic style and genuine worth of material.

They are coat shirts with double French cuffs—also, some white with satin stripe. Sizes 14 to 17. Formerly $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00 values. All one price today, $3.98.

They are the very perfection of silk shirt making and represent the greatest economy and best value.

The test of time and service—long wear and rough usage—will convince you that these silk shirts are as good as they are cracked up to be.

The neckbands of these silk shirts measure exactly as marked—no shrinking or warping in the tub—no change in size or shape.

Wear these silk shirts with collar of same size mark and the collar will set right—your neckwear will be always comfortable.
