German Shells Burst About Trenches Where Canadians Fight For Empire

Our Men Have Baptism of Fire and Bear Themselves Splendidly — Kept Under Cover Much of Time as Death-dealing Shells Fall About — Some Said to be Wounded — Unconfirmed Report Tells of Winnipeg Men Whipping Germans in Bayonet Fight

(Special cable to The Evening Times and Montreal Star.)

Boulogne, Feb. 25.—The first and second brigades received their baptism of fire under circumstances to test the courage and endurance of the troops.

The months of training have been tested and the Canadians have proved good soldiers, and steady in a distressing situation.

A private of the first brigade speaking of his experience says: "Early in the morning we knew that before long we were in for it."

"All along the line, a short distance in front, was heard staccato rifle fire with an underbeat of rattle from the heavy guns."

"About noon the first shell came our way. It fell behind us, but showed that damage could be done."

"Then the enemy began to get the range and we had to stay under cover every minute. Two men of the first battalion were buried under a heap of earth, and companions risked their lives digging them out."

"An unconfirmed report states that the Eighth Battalion, Winnipeg, actually in advance in the trenches, were attacked but repulsed the Germans and took their trench with the bayonet."

The first casualty list is expected in a few days.

Believe Germans Will Hit Hard Again In Western War Theatre

Allies Well Prepared and There is Decided Change For Better in Their Forces and Equipment

London, Feb. 26.—The impression is gaining ground among British and French military commentators, that Germany is preparing for a fresh expenditure of energy in the land campaign along the western front.

If this rush comes, the allies will be well prepared to meet it. During the last few months a decided change for the better has taken place in the forces of the allies, what with its reinforcements, bigger guns and more complete equipment.

The Turks are again appearing in the war news by virtue of the renewed fighting in the Caucasus. Meantime the allied fleet has demolished the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles, in what is believed to be the preliminary to a determined attempt to force the historic strait.

Stegler Declares Boyed Sent The Spy Lady to England

PUT TO DEATH IN TOWER

Substitute For Stegler Declared To Be on Steamship Franconia on Way to England — German Official in Washington Denies All

New York, Feb. 26.—Federal authorities today were conducting a rigid investigation into a statement made by counsel for Richard P. Stegler, a German naval attaché, arrested on Wednesday night, to the effect that Captain Boyed, naval attaché of the German embassy in Washington had furnished an American passport to Carl Hans Lody, a German spy, who was put to death in the Tower of London, in last November.

In his general denial of Stegler's statements involving Jim, Captain Boyed referred to this allegation as "trash."

Charles H. Griffiths, former assistant United States attorney, who was assigned by United States Commissioner Houghton to defend Stegler, linked the names of the German naval attaché, the same name as Lody, he was to pay a conference with Stegler in the Tower.

"Stegler told me," Mr. Griffiths said, "that a Dr. Fuchs told him that Captain Boyed had carried through the scheme that made it possible to secure an American passport for Lody, and that Boyed sent him to England, where he was executed."

"Stegler also said that Dr. Fuchs had told him that Boyed had decided to go, a young German-American, whom he knew by sign, but not by name, was assigned to the boat and sailed on the steamer with a bogus passport. The Franconia is due in Liverpool within a day or two."

AT MERCY OF SKUNKS IF NEW LAW PASSES

(Special Correspondence of Bangor Commercial)

Augusta, Feb. 22—One of the measures to come up for a hearing before the committee on fish and game this week is a bill prohibiting the killing of all kinds of wild animals between sunset and sunrise. One watchful legislator points out that the enactment of such a law might cause unexpected complications.

"Take skunks, for instance," he says, "suppose I should be going home from the grange hall some night and one of the critters turned loose on me, I would not be allowed to kill him, even in self-defence. I suppose the framers of the bill would want me to stand and turn the other cheek—providing he hit me in the cheek. You can put me down as being one of those who are going to vote against it."

RECORD RAW SILK IMPORTATIONS IN 1914

Total of 34,500,000 Pounds in the United States

Washington, Feb. 26—Imports of raw silk in the fiscal year 1914, totalling 34,500,000 pounds, broke all previous records, according to the department of commerce. This was an increase of 2,800,000 pounds over the imports in 1913 and 21,000,000 pounds more than in 1909. Japan supplied almost three-fourths of the amount imported.

Silk manufactures imported during 1914 were valued at $88,500,000. In addition more than $4,000,000 worth of artificial silks were imported.

In the thirty-five years since 1880, silk manufacturers of the United States have consumed approximately 460,000,000 pounds of raw material; and the value of their output has increased from $41,000,000 to upwards of $2,000,000.

Before He Became Famous as the Author of Dr. Chase's Receipt Book.

Here is a letter from an aged gentleman who consulted Dr. Chase, long before his Receipt Book attained a world wide circulation or his family medicines became known to the ends of the earth.

Like most people of advanced years his kidneys were the first organs to break down and when doctors failed to help him he remembered the physician who cured him of pleurisy in his younger days.

Mr. O. D. BARNES, R.F.D. 1, Byron, Mich., writes: "About fifty years ago, when living in Ann Arbor, Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author, was called on to treat me for pleurisy. Ever since that I have used and recommended Dr. Chase's Medicine, and have two of his Receipt Books in the house.

"Some time ago a cold settled in the kidneys, causing backache, frequent urination, dizziness, and affected the eyesight. My appetite failed and I could not sleep nights. Two doctors failed to do me any lasting good, so I started using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food. The results have been highly satisfactory to me.

Appetite improved, I gained in weight, sleep rest well, and feel strong and well. My kidneys resumed their natural functions, and I believe that my cure was due to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food. I am 75 years old, superintend work on my farm, and can stand up and do some work myself."

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The Conservative Ottawa Journal thinks that the government's appeal to the country early next summer because of sending liberal criticism of army contracts.

In the case of Wentzell v. N. B. & P. E. I. Railway Co. at Dorchester, N. B., yesterday, $1180 damages were awarded to the plaintiff who is the mother of Charles Wentzell, a brakeman killed last year on the defendant's road.

The heavy rainfall yesterday caused the central portion of Hartland, N. B., to be practically flooded with water. The unusually heavy rains melted the snow in the surrounding hills. An early opening of navigation is expected along the upper St. John and lumbermen's hopes for improvement in conditions are blasted.

1 1-2 POUNDS MINIMUM LOAF

Weight of Bread Fixed by Common Council—Com. McLellan Quotes Figures—No Bond Issue For Public Works Plant—Tax on Automobiles Suggested

The by-law, proposed by Commissioner McLellan, compelling local bakers to make their loaves not less than one and a half pounds, was adopted by the common council yesterday afternoon. Discussing the motion Commissioner McLellan said that in New York the pound loaf sells for five cents and in Toronto the pound and a half loaf for six cents, and the three pound loaf for twelve cents. He did not put much faith in the representations that the consumers would rather have a wrapper on the bread than a full sized loaf.

The commissioner then submitted figures showing the cost of production of bread. He declared that the men who sold the bakers their flour had assured him that the contract for flour at $6.75 still held good and that not a baker in town was paying more or would do so until next October at least. "In any case, the price of flour to the baker is not the rate of $9.25 quoted by the delegation, as this is the retail price, and the bakers would at least get the jobbers' rate of $8.65."

To show what the bakers were "cleaning up" he presented figures showing the profit on loaves at three weights. For the square loaf at two pounds one barrel of flour furnished 124 loaves. At eight cents this meant $10.40 on each barrel of flour. The cost of baking he figured $1 a barrel, with ten cents for salt and yeast, and a charge of one-half cent a loaf or 66 cents for delivering. This meant a total cost on the barrel of $8.40 or a margin of profit of $2.

In making loaves of one and one-half pound with the home-made process, the commissioner added 68 cents for milk, malt and lard, but the barrel produced ten loaves more, so the profit is about 12 cents more. Making one and one-quarter pound loaves the baker got as many as 170 loaves out of the barrel, thus getting a profit of about $8.80, allowing for the increased number of deliveries.

The second reading of the bill was accorded by Commissioner Wigmore. Labor Men Heard. Chas. H. Stevens and F. Hyatt, representing labor interests, were heard in support of the bill, and Mr. Hyatt suggested that if the loaf was one ounce short at the grocery, the dealer be obliged to cut slices from a loaf in stock and add them until the weight was even.

Commissioner Potts supported the by-law, but thought it went hardly far enough. Commissioner Russell said he would oppose the by-law, as there was plenty of machinery going to the sale of bread. Mayor Frink said he was favorably disposed to the by-law, but thought the bakers should be heard again.

On motion of Commissioner McLellan seconded by Commissioner Wigmore, the bill was passed and ordered. Commissioner Russell voting nay. Commissioner Potts announced that he has arranged for the erection of a large brick chimney and the installation of a machine lathe and a boiler at the asphalt plant. He hoped to be able to pay for them out of his appropriation, but asked for permission to issue bonds if he found it advisable. The request was refused.

J. McCarthy, Simonds street, asked payment for board for a horse impounded by the police in his barn several weeks ago. Commissioner McLellan said the horse was worthless and that the applicant should have taken steps more promptly. The matter was left to him.

The telephone company was given permission to erect a pole in Canterbury street. On motion of Commissioner McLellan the pay of mounted policemen was fixed at $2 a day, and of court sergeants at $3.25 a day, the latter change being made with the intention of providing easy work for older sergeants.

The by-law to fix rentals for coal carriages and other encroachments on the sidewalks was given a second reading and will receive final consideration at the next meeting. Mayor Frink suggested that city seek power to tax automobiles. He pointed out that other vehicles which do much less damage to the streets are taxed while the provincial government secures the only revenue from automobiles. The suggestion will be taken up later.

REPORT ON JUVENILE COURT IN HALIFAX

Judge Wallace Subscribes to Dictum "Spare the Rod and Spoil the Child"

In his report on the juvenile court continued in the annual report on Neglected and Dependent Children, presented in the House of Assembly by Hon. Mr. Daniels, Judge Wallace says: "In investigating cases of delinquent boys I have often asked a parent if he ever administered any chastisement to the boys for previous transgressions, and the parent usually admitted that no punishment was ever attempted. Sometimes the feeble excuse was put forward by the parent that the child was like to punish the boy because 'Jimmy' was not very strong. And so the day generally comes when 'Jimmy' does become 'very strong' in evil habits unchecked, and in vicious inclinations uncontrolled. Occasionally a father will state that he did administer corporal punishment to his boy 'once'—but never repeated it on the apparent ground that the boy was not in need of it. As a consequence of lack of home discipline boys and girls go wrong, and parents regret too late the foolish weakness which induced them to refrain from administering the necessary discipline. The rod and support give wisdom, but the indulgence of the indulgent parent, the child that is left to his own will brings his mother to shame."

The saddest of all homes is where the mother is dissolute. It is in relation to such homes that the court officials find their most difficult work. Defective home conditions must be attacked and whenever possible remedied. To ignore such conditions and yet hope for good results would be as unreasonable as to ignore material defects in machinery and expect good results while the machinery is out of order. It is in relation to such homes, although the wife is not dissolute she is nevertheless, almost wholly to blame for the stretched conditions that exist. The husband works hard all day and earns sufficient money from week to week to win a comfortable home, if he possessed a capable helpmeet, but the wife, unfortunately, is afflicted with the deepest ignorance of the art of home-making.

Occasionally it has happened that neglected children brought before the court are obviously mentally defective and in these cases it is apparent that the child's defectiveness had a vital relationship to the child's delinquency. The need in Nova Scotia of permanent custodial care of feeble-minded girls is pressing more painfully apparent every year.

In some cases of neglected children the court was unable to make a satisfactory disposition of the child because there was no evidence to establish the settlement of the child, and therefore no municipality could be made liable for its maintenance. The Provincial government does not assume financial responsibility where there is no settlement, unless the juvenile is actually a delinquent.

The conclusion it seems necessary to state that the juvenile court is not a cure-all, and that legislation and judicial machinery cannot ensure permanent reform of juvenile delinquents, needing moral and religious instruction. There are many parents who either cannot or will not do their part in affording the essential moral and religious instruction in their homes, and children are permitted to grow up needing these great steady influences. Many persons cling to the curious delusion that legislation and judicial machinery can never do the work of Christian homes.

Mr. Bliss, Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children for the province says: "The Children's Aid Societies are doing good work. Some are much more active and have accomplished much greater things than have others. In general, where there is a competent agent, the Societies are permitted to work to the best of their ability in a highly creditable manner."

"There are many important matters to be considered and satisfactorily settled before the work throughout the province is an efficient and creditable foundation. Foremost among these are the problems of providing temporary care for the children; properly trained agents, funds to pay agents' salaries; the support of children having no settlement within the province, and care of feeble-minded children."

"During the year there were 109 children before the juvenile court in this city; the total number to date being 602. It frequently happens that the parent of a delinquent or neglected child earns good wages and is financially quite capable of supporting the child while in an institution. The court, in such cases makes the necessary order against the parent, but unfortunately the amount is seldom collected. This is more particularly true of cases in the city of Halifax. The necessary aid should be furnished the juvenile court (by legislation if that be required) so that in every case the court's orders against parents for the support of such children can be enforced and the amounts collected and applied to the support of the children. If this were done a saving of public funds to the extent of several hundred dollars could be effected annually."

Bride's Reception. Mrs. George E. W. Taylor received for the first time since her marriage yesterday afternoon and evening at her home, 9 Elliot Row. She was assisted in the reception of the very many friends by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. C. L. Taylor, who was graciously dressed in black satin. Those who were invited helped in the entertainment of the guests were Mrs. J. W. Montgomery, Mrs. A. F. Cassidy and Mrs. M. H. Hoop. The little Misses Elsie Hoop, Doris Cassidy and Inez Roberts showed the guests into the drawingroom. Mrs. George Taylor, was charmingly gowned in white satin with a pearl necklace as sole ornament, has made a large circle of friends since she came to St. John from Troy, N. Y.

Fair Enough.

A gentleman, who was of a wagging turn, received a visit from his butcher just before Christmas. The butcher asked if there was any objection to the cook receiving her usual Christmas box. "What is the usual Christmas box?" asked the customer.

The butcher evaded an answer, but on pressure thought that it would not be more than half a sovereign.

"Well, look here," said the gentleman, "if it is worth while to pay my cook half a sovereign for the chance of keeping my custom, it must be worth your while to pay me a sovereign for the certainty of it. So you send me up thirty shillings, and I will give the cook ten."

He has not yet received a remittance.

Free Your Child From "Nerves"— Counted a Preventive Disorder

MENTAL HYGIENE

Whether a person becomes nervous or not depends upon two great factors—the constitution which he inherits from his parents and through them from his ancestors generally; the influences to which his body, especially his nervous system, is exposed during life and particularly during childhood.

There will always be differences of opinion among serious students of the subject as to the relative importance of these two factors; some assume that heredity or nature is the all-important factor; others say that this is relatively insignificant and that surroundings and food account for everything; both views are one sided.

Both nature and nurture are of fundamental importance and only by considering the two aspects of the subject fairly can sound ideas ever be arrived at.

Heredity and environment overlap in one period of life; during early childhood the child is usually under the educational influence of his parents and exposed to their example.

Doubtless much that is sometimes attributed to direct inheritance is really due to the influence after birth, of imitation of the parents. Where heredity is notoriously bad it might be well to protect children, who have the ill fortune to be born under such conditions, from the dangers of psychic infection in the parental environment; such children, taken away from home and placed under more favorable conditions would have a better chance of counteracting the faults of inheritance.

In families in which nervous states prevail it is a matter of great interest to know in how far the nervous tendency can be overcome by educational means and especially to learn what to avoid because of its likelihood of injuring the nervous system.

Even in families in which no nervous taints exist in the parents or near relatives the children sometimes become nervous through faulty education.

There is a growing desire on the part of well-informed people nowadays to make sure that the means of education provide for their children shall be such that the nervous system shall be protected and strengthened rather than exposed to overstrain and injury.

Jones was one of those men who grumble at everything and everybody. He was once attacked by inflammatory rheumatism and was carefully nursed by his wife, who was very devoted to him, in spite of his fault-finding disposition. His suffering caused her to burst into tears sometimes as she sat at his bedside.

One day a friend came in and asked him how he was getting on. "Badly, badly," he exclaimed, "and it's all my wife's fault!"

"Is it possible?" asked the friend, in surprise.

"Yes, the doctor told me that humidity was bad for me, and there that woman sits and cries just to make it moist in the room."

Paardeberg Recalled

Stirring Action in Which Canadians, Including St. John Boys, Figured so Prominently—First Surrender Flag Now in This City

In the High School this afternoon Archdeacon Raymond read to the pupils a very interesting paper on the South African war, the battle of Paardeberg, and the part taken by the Canadian troops, including G Company from St. John. Lieut. Fred C. Jones, who was at Paardeberg, was present and displayed the first white flag shown by the Boers on that fateful morning.

A new generation of school children has grown up since the day when the Canadian victory at Paardeberg marked the turn of the tide in the South African war. The 28th October 1899, was a memorable day in the annals of this city. Never had the community witnessed such a scene of enthusiasm as attended the departure of the New Brunswick contingent of the Canadian regiment for the war in South Africa.

The event marked an epoch in the history of the Canadian dominion. Our citizen soldiers had to face a foe in 1899 to defend our border from a threatened Zulu invasion, and again in 1900 they had to fight for the Empire in the "North West". But this was the first time that the sons of New Brunswick had ever been called upon to take part in scenes of warfare across the sea and fight Great Britain's enemies in a foreign country.

Never did men more willingly or more eagerly offer themselves to such an imperial service, and never did a city or a Dominion feel prouder of its sons. None asked, "What have we to do with the affairs of South Africa?" It was enough that England needed us. We had so much to do with South Africa that we sent those nearest and dearest to us to fight the wrongs of our fellow subjects and uphold the honor of our flag.

The first Canadian contingent went was followed by others, until the young Canadians fighting the battles of the empire in South Africa were numbered not by hundreds but by thousands. They stood shoulder to shoulder with the British, the Australians, New Zealand, South Africa, and with Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotchmen for the common cause.

Fifty Years From Now Forty years hence, when Canada shall have become a great and powerful country, those who witnessed the scenes on our streets when the first contingent departed for the Boer war will remember the event as the first notable demonstration of that grand imperial movement that has welded together the interests of the great colonies and the mother country and joined them to each other by bands stronger than steel.

The sending of the Canadian contingents to South Africa made an essential change in the relations of the Dominion of Canada to the mother country. Canada till then had rested contentedly as a colony. But when she came to the aid of the mother country in her hour of need she took her rightful place in the work of empire building.

Canada with her 8,000,000 of people is not only a more powerful country than England in the days of Cromwell, or the United States in the decade that followed the revolution, but is also a land of vast possibilities. There are those who are sanguine enough to believe that Canada in half a century will, in the number of its people, overshadow Germany and France. The moral effect of the unity of the empire and the spectacle of Great Britain buttressed round about by her great self-governing colonies is beyond computation. In a sense the thing had its birth in the throes of the struggle on South African battlefields.

We think today of the Canadian contingent of October, fifteen years ago, when from this city of the Loyalists and the province which they founded and under the auspices of the flag they loved, they went out on Company "G" of the Royal Canadian Regiment and the Loyalists in far away South Africa. As Canadians they bore with them, over the sea and over the wild, the message to their kinsman in distress that, whether beneath the Southern Cross or beside the Northern Sea, in the hour of need heart answers heart in Britain's realm through out the world.

After their arrival in South Africa after preliminary operations in the course of which they became well acquainted with the Boer tactics, the Canadians were sent forward to the Modder River. The first serious action in which the Canadians were engaged was at the Modder river, on the morning of the 18th of February. The regiment had marched twenty-three miles during the previous night. The engagement lasted through the day. The line of skirmishers was obliged to advance over an open plain, upon an enemy strongly entrenched, creeping from behind a low wall for possession of the bank of the river, where the Boers were entrenched. The Canadians spoke with enthusiasm of the Modder river, where the Boers were entrenched. The night before the battle the regiment occupied a trench 240 yards long and 150 yards wide. The front rank advanced with fixed bayonets, the rear rank with rifles slung and carrying shovels to assist the engineers in trench work.

IN PARLIAMENT

Hon. Dr. Pugsley Discusses Conditions

Mr. Rogers Springs in—General Hughes Declines to Give up Portfolio if He Goes to The Front

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—Of a sudden as parliament was proceeding with the budget debate tonight, Hon. Mr. Rogers, usually urbane and suave, broke into Hansard with a vitriolic outburst. Mr. Rogers was leading the house at the time.

Mr. Rogers was on his feet. He declared this assertion of Professor Shortt to be "the most dishonourable, dishonest and untrue statement ever made by any man." In his (Mr. Rogers) department, he declared, there had been 800 dismissals and 700 resignations. No account had been taken of these resignations.

Dr. Pugsley opined that it was manifest that parliament should have additional information in regard to this matter. Proceeding, he pointed out that at the present time, when municipalities were the people in increased taxes at a time when they should be making patriotic sacrifices of all kinds, two departments of the government alone were asking for $1,000,000 more than last year. He believed that such expenditures as that proposed on the Hudson Bay Railway might be materially reduced. This vote should be eliminated at the present time, in order that the coat should not be charged to the people.

Other votes for new public buildings and new public works might also be eliminated at the present time, in order that the coat should not be charged to the people. Hon. Robert Rogers said there was "no political urgency."

Dr. Pugsley replied that it was well known that the constituencies were in favour of the construction of public works. "Of course, my honorable friend may employ other influences than the mere sight of the blue book containing a list of them."

Dealing particularly with his own constituency of St. John, Mr. Pugsley said that the votes included $100,000 for a market and a public building, but the minister of public works stated that this work would not be proceeded with.

Mr. Rogers interrupted to say that he had never made such a statement. "Not had been called for, and he hoped the House would not be provoked into a discussion of the matter."

Dr. Pugsley replied that the assertion had been made that no new works would be undertaken. "I have done my work. If it were not gone with it did not want to see charged up to the people as we have seen."

The next vote which Mr. Pugsley referred to was one for a spur line to Courtenay Bay. It has been in the estimates for three years, but nothing had been done. Owing to the bungling of the St. John Valley Railway project, nothing was likely to be done. He objected to this sum being included in the war taxes.

At 10 o'clock Dr. Pugsley moved the adjournment of the debate until Tuesday. K. J. Richmond, severely arraigned the minister of finance on his administration. Instead of conserving the splendid surplus left by his predecessor, and conducting the finances of the country, on a business basis, he had dissipated the wealth of the country, and the taxes of the people, and had condoned and encouraged reckless extravagance. When confronted by warnings in the early part of 1914, before the war, Hon. Mr. White, instead of seeking retrenchment predicted to parliament better times were coming. In the seven months previous to the war there had been a drop of $19,500,000 in revenue. While proceeding to permit reckless extravagance to go on, seeking to excuse himself by the prediction that "better times were coming immediately." Mr. White had shown himself to be as poor a financial and national prophet as he had been a finance minister. Hon. Mr. Doherty, who had received the reply, "There is no such intention. Mr. Graham asked if there would be anything to prevent members now at war from being candidates if an election were held in the winter of 1915-16. It was announced that a patent for combination trenching shovels and bullet-proof shields, of which 20,000 have been purchased from a Philadelphia firm at $1.85, is held by Miss MacAdam, private secretary of the minister of militia, as inventor of the tool. Other inquiries produced the information that the government does not intend to communicate with the provincial governments with regard to revision of the marriage laws, and also that Major W. S. Hingston, a member of parliament, had been appointed in March, 1914, as inspector of penitentiaries at a salary of $8,000 per annum. Lieutenant-colonel commanding the 21st battalion, second contingent, at $725 a year.

Dr. Pugsley replied that the assertion had been made that no new works would be undertaken. "I have done my work. If it were not gone with it did not want to see charged up to the people as we have seen."

A REMEDY FOR BRONCHIAL COLDS YOU CAN'T BRUSH OR WASH OUT DANDRUFF

The Simplest and Quickest Way Is To Dissolve It. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look like a hundred times better. If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Could Hardly Straighten Up For The Pain In Her Back.

Many women suffer from an excruciating pain in the back. They are not even able to look after the common duties of their household, and cannot even walk at times. The whole trouble is that the kidneys have become affected, and when the kidneys get "out of kilter" the whole system becomes deranged. On the first sign of a weak, lame, aching back you should not neglect it, for if you do, you may be sure that some serious kidney trouble will follow.

What you want is a kidney medicine, for what you need is a cure. Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's Kidney Pills know nothing but kidney disorders, because they're made for kidneys only. Mrs. George Craigie, Rose Valley, P.E.I., writes: "I am writing to tell you what a wonderful cure Doan's Kidney Pills did for me. I was suffering with a lame back, and for several days I could hardly straighten up for the pain. I had used quite a lot of other kind of pills, but received no relief. Just then I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and had done for her, so I decided to try them. I used three boxes and I am completely cured. I do not hesitate to recommend them to all."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

HOW DIPLOMACY BROUGHT BACK PROSPERITY TO ONE INDUSTRY

THEY KEEP THEIR JOBS

Akron, O., Feb. 26—Autoists may thank Providence that the European war is not to cause a rubber famine with consequent soaring prices for tires, also to thank B. G. Work, of Akron, who went to England early in January, who, with the British Foreign and Admiralty offices, and in a few hours did what American State Department diplomacy had been trying to do for weeks—paved the way for the release of crude rubber shipments to American ports.

B. G. WORK

Modestly Mr. Work disclaims the full credit for his feat. He protests that the work of the state department had at last been successful and that on the day of his arrival in London it had been decided to raise the embargo, although the details were to be perfected later. But Mr. Work helped in perfecting these details. And under questioning he admitted that the British Foreign Office liked American business methods.

U. S. Suggestion To Germany and Great Britain

Washington, Feb. 25—The United States government suggested informally to Great Britain and Germany, in the interests of humanity, and the safeguarding of legitimate commerce, all mines be removed from the high seas, except those directly necessary for the protection of coast defenses and harbors.

"Sir Francis" he said—meaning Sir Francis Hopwood of the Admiralty—said that if in the beginning the American rubber trade had worked with them direct instead of through the state department, we could have been of material assistance in having the embargo raised much sooner.

state department in weeks of negotiation, apparently could do nothing. Then the Rubber Club, which includes the prominent rubber manufacturers and importers, decided to act on its own initiative. It looked about and selected Mr. Work to appeal in person to the British government.

Back to Work

How this Akron citizen took his blunt business methods into the government offices of England, developed a friendship with Sir William Tyrrell of the Foreign Office and Sir Francis Hopwood of the Admiralty, matched his ability with the highest skilled diplomacy on earth, and worked out a complete solution of the vexing problem, is too long to tell here. The solution itself is of most interest.

One divorce or separate maintenance suit was filed in the circuit or superior court for every marriage license issued in Chicago in 1914, County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer made public some of the figures which will be included in the first annual report of the Bureau of Marriages and Divorce Statistics.

Mr. Sweitzer has prepared a table showing the number of marriage licenses issued by month. The heaviest number of suits came in March, when 532 suits were filed. A total of 4,336 suits were filed during the year as compared with 38,807 marriage licenses issued.

Statistics on the number of divorces granted are not yet available, but will be in the printed report to be submitted to the judges of the circuit and supreme courts within a short time.

"Chicago's record is almost as bad as Japan's," said Mr. Sweitzer. "It is said that in Japan one pair out of every five

SEVERE STORM HITS QUEBEC

Wire Communication Between Montreal and Quebec City Cut Off—Railways Not Much Affected.

Montreal, Feb. 25.—One of the severest rain, snow and wind storms experienced in the province of Quebec in many years has raged all day today, and telegraphic and telephonic communication between the city of Quebec and Montreal have been shut off since morning. The Great Northwestern Telegraph Company was hit the hardest in the morning, and had to give up. The C. P. R. managed to keep a semblance of a service between this city and the ancient capital for a part of the day by relaying messages to St. John (N. B.), and from there back to Quebec, but eventually this was cut off.

While wires have snapped and poles have fallen in many places, the railways have maintained a fairly good service. MILITIA DEPARTMENT HAS RECEIVED NO WORD Ottawa, Feb. 25.—Cabled press reports tonight to the effect that a portion of the Canadian army division has been in action in France are not officially confirmed here. No information to this effect has been received by the militia department yet at least. In fact there is an inclination among high officials of the department to discredit the report as unlikely. The department has so far received no word of any of the expeditionary force, with the exception of the P. P. C. L. I. being on the firing line.

ANOTHER RESPITE FOR BOSTON & MAINE Boston, Feb. 25.—Holders of all but $1,000,000 of the $23,000,000 in short-term notes of the Boston & Maine Railroad have signified their willingness to extend the time of the securities under the plan offered by the federal trustees of the road, it was learned today. Company officials believe that virtually unanimous consent for an extension will be obtained before March 2, the date when the notes expire.

Excluding Alaska, the whole of the United States could be put into Brazil and there would be about 200,000 square miles left.

P. J. VENIOT PUTS IT UP TO WITZEL AND THE STANDARD

To the Editor of the Telegraph: Sir.—The Frederick Gleason, of Feb. 22, contains a lengthy letter over the signature of "A. J. Witzel," in which this self-styled apostle of truth has at last cast aside the cloak of anonymity to come to the rescue of those papers which he induced to make their scurrilous and uncalled for attacks on the loyalty of Mr. O. Turgeon, M.P., for Gloucester county.

Having furnished the wrong version of Mr. Turgeon's speech to the Standard, Mr. Witzel, no doubt, has been called upon by the editor to stand by his guns. He reiterates his statement that Mr. Turgeon made use of the words which the Standard found to be treasonable, but now comes behind the statement that he and others "understood the remarks to be the same as quoted." He is no longer as positive as his first statement to the Standard would make him appear. From positiveness, he now drifts to his understanding of the remarks made on that occasion.

As to Mr. Witzel's understanding we have Mr. Turgeon's point blank denial from his place in the House of Commons. There is not a fair-minded man in this county who, having read Mr. Turgeon's answer, would hesitate for one moment to accept his word. Mr. Witzel knows this but too well, and his attempt to give his understanding of what was said instead of adhering to his hitherto positive statement clearly marks him as a person who is so blinded by party affiliations that he will not hesitate at a false statement in order to make a point against a political opponent.

That meeting took place at Tracadie on the 19th of January. It took Mr. Witzel until the 11th of February 15 to reach the conclusion that Mr. Turgeon had given utterance to expressions which stamped him as disloyal. What was this magnificent specimen of loyalty doing when he allowed such a long time to elapse before making his statement to the Standard? If Mr. Turgeon was such a disloyal subject, why did Mr. Witzel, during Mr. Veniot's speech, proceed to the platform and give Mr. Turgeon the glad hand of goodfellowship and apologize to him for the interruptions that had taken place? Surely Mr. Witzel is too loyal a subject to fraternize with such disloyal men as he wishes the public to believe Mr. Turgeon to be.

Mr. Witzel, whose only argument against my speeches is that I do not stick to the truth, was expected that night to bring me to task but having refused my invitation, he felt he must do something to retrieve his fast waning fortune. Hence the newspaper attacks on Mr. Turgeon and myself. Too cowardly to denounce Mr. Turgeon face to face for his purported treasonable expressions, and too weak to bring me to book for my statements, he must needs have recourse to that weapon of all cowards—placing misrepresentation of his opponent's remarks in the hands of others more scrupulous than he in order to make an attack which he did not have the courage to make himself.

To show you, Mr. Editor, how reliable Mr. Witzel can be in his statement, I will quote the following from his letter: "It is singular that when Mr. Veniot addressed a meeting at Shippegan last fall, where the people were familiar with the work and knew the persons working on the bridge, that he never made any mention of it."

You will readily see how unreliable Mr. Witzel can be, when I say that I did not attend any meeting at Shippegan since September, 1913. It would be well for Mr. Witzel not to rely too much upon his vaunted honesty for telling the truth; the public might become suspicious and be led to believe that all liars are not to be found in the Liberal party.

Again, allow me to quote the following from Mr. Witzel's letter: "When I entered the meeting, 'what was my surprise to find that the so-called political truce was being shattered, and the meeting listening to regular election oratory.'" In his surprise Mr. Witzel, no doubt, forgot that it was he and his friends who violated that truce as far back as October 14, last, when they invited Mr. Sevigny to come all the way from his home in Carleton and there, during an hour denounce Mr. Turgeon and the Liberal party. You were at the meeting, Mr. Witzel, and took an active part in it. Why should you and your friends be allowed to talk politics during the war and Mr. Turgeon be debared from the privilege? Not only were you guilty of first violating the truce, but you were guilty of inviting a man to violate it who, in his own province, was proved to be guilty of the most treasonable attentions against the empire during the election of 1911. He was the man who called

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Thickness

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage, Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

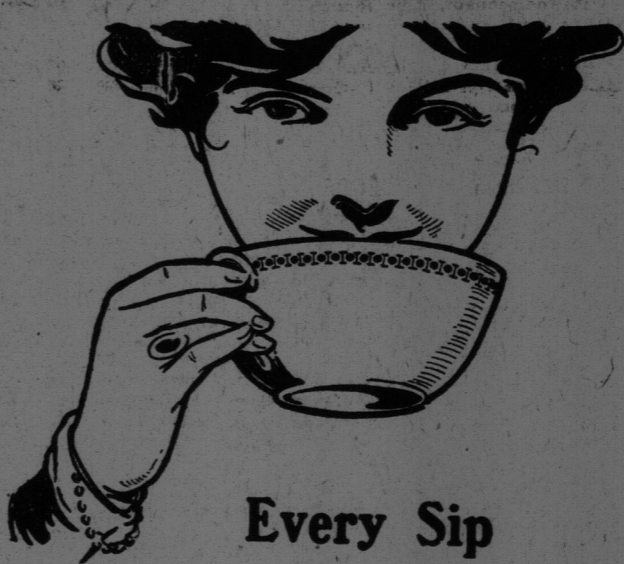

stand his request is to be granted. When the bill to authorize the appointment of such a commission is before parliament let Mr. Witzel ask that this commission be given power to investigate the doings of outside officials, or every or any person not an official who may have had any connection with fraudulent transactions. When this is obtained I will furnish the witness and the evidence to prove every statement made by me. Come now, Mr. Witzel, cease your abuse; it is no argument; but get down to business and prove that there is some sincerity in your makeup.

Yours, etc., P. J. VENIOT. Bathurst, Feb. 23, 1915.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

(From the Montreal Herald) One reason why, in this year of depression, administration expenses of the Federal Government will reach $140,000,000 instead of $87,000,000 in the last year of the Laurier Administration is that while the present government have dismissed 215 employees in the Civil Service they have appointed 10,578. Reckoning each of the 8,000 people added to the country's payroll as being the head of an average family, we have 40,000 more people living off the tax payers than there were in 1911.

A Gloucester young man was to act as escort to two girls on the same evening, but each of them wanted to attend a different social function. He solved the problem by accompanying one to her destination and dancing a few dances, and then he returned to escort the other to her function and remained there a short time. He repeated these rounds until midnight.

Two Other Matters Deal With in Probate Today

In the probate court today the will of Thomas Foley, of East St. John, retired grocer, was proved. He gives to his sister Bridget Foley $200, property in East street, his property at East St. John and property on the Old Loch Lomond Road. He leaves to his trustees in trust to sell and dispose of at auction the property Nos. 614 and 616 Main street, and out of the proceeds, after payment of debts, to invest the balance and pay the income to his wife for life, and after her death to divide the same among his two sons, Thomas F. and Joseph, to permit his wife to have the personal use and occupation so long as she shall see fit to dwell in any one of his other properties, and to pay the net income of the remainder of his properties to his wife, on the death of his wife, to convey his property Nos. 381 and 385 Main street to his son Thomas F. Foley, to pay the net income of his property Nos. 381 and 385 Main street to his son Joseph for ten years after the death of his wife, and upon the expiration of ten years to convey the same to him; to divide the net income from his property on the Old Loch Lomond Road between his two sons until such time as it shall be considered advisable by his trustees to sell and dispose of the same, with the consent of his wife, and to divide the proceeds between two sons; the rest of his property he leaves to his wife and Harry H. Brittain, barrister-at-law, executors. These two renounce and join with the two sons in recommending that the Eastern Trust Company be appointed, and they were accordingly appointed executors and trustees. Real estate is valued at $6,400; personally $2,300; total $12,660. Jack H. A. L. Fairweather is probator.

The court took up the matter of the estate of Nicholas J. Kelly, late of St. John, but doing business in Fairville as a grocer. He died intestate, leaving his widow, Kate Agnes Kelly, and two infant children, Gertrude and Joseph. On the petition of the widow, she was appointed administratrix. There is no real estate; personally $2,000. John A. Barry is probator.

The court also dealt with the matter of the estate of Jonathan P. Duval, retired cabinet maker. He died intestate, leaving his wife, Annie Duval, three sons, Foster F., serving with the Majesty's Expeditionary Forces; Edmund William, clerk; and the Rev. Louis M. Duval, of Sackville, in Nigeria, a missionary; and one daughter, Maude, the wife of Moses Spragg. On the petition of those resident here, there is no real estate; personally $1,600. Kenneth A. Wilson is probator.

MISS EDITH HEGAN SENDS WORD OF ARTICLES THAT ARE REQUIRED IN HOSPITALS

All Daughters of the Empire and all who are interested in the welfare of our soldiers in hospital will be interested in the following letter received by Mrs. Geo. Macaulay from Matron Macdonald who is with the Canadian Expeditionary Force:

Office of Matron-in-chief
Canadian Expeditionary Force,
86 Victoria street,
London, S. W.
2nd February, 1915.

My Dear Mrs. Blizard:—
At the request of Miss Edith Hegan, I am enclosing a list of articles that are a constant need in our hospitals.

You will note that I include towels, pillow slips and sheets—this is due to the fact that laundrying is such a difficult matter in some of the out of the way places where the hospitals are situated. I cannot adequately express our appreciation of all the Canadian Red Cross has done to date—without its generous assistance we should not have been able to carry on the work of properly caring for our poor sick at Salisbury Plain. Colonel Hodgetts is looked upon as the fairy god-father of the contingent. As far as one can judge an inexhaustible supply of socks must always be available for the men coming from and returning to the trenches.

With the approach of warmer weather mufflers and mittens will not be required.

I wish I had a little more leisure that I might tell you of our experiences in France. I go over from time to time but we are exceptionally busy here at the moment.

The Canadian nurses are doing splendid work and it seems to me that the more trying the conditions the more cheerful do they become.

With best wishes for the continued good work of your Chapter,
I am very sincerely,
M. G. PROUD, A.L.D.,
Matron-in-chief
Canadian Expeditionary Force.

SHOES DEARER IN-SPRING

That is View of Manufacturers, Because of New Taxes

Shoes will be higher for the spring market. That is the belief of prominent manufacturers, who vary in their opinions as to what the increase will be, their estimates ranging from 25 to 60 cents a pair. That the change in the tariff will mean higher prices seems certain, according to the Shoe and Leather Journal of Toronto, an authority which quotes various manufacturers on the matter. Hides are no longer admitted free but are subjected to a duty of seven and a half per cent, if brought from the United States, or any country except England from there five per cent will be the duty.

Such materials as tanning extracts, dyes, oils, greases, and other essentials have formerly been free, but these will be taxed and this will bear upon the tanner who has to bring in most of his product from other parts. Then there are other articles obtained mostly from across the border, including hanks, sole sewing thread, screw wire, shoe buttons, steel heel leatherboard, finishing waxes, etc., which will bear the tax of seven and a half per cent.

The Shoe and Leather Journal quotes the views of manufacturers with regard to the increase caused by the tariff. One said that he did not think the added duty would benefit Canadian manufacturers in the least. They had enough to contend with at the present without being taxed in addition. Others took different views, one feeling that "the government has made sufficient inquiry into the matter to warrant the tariff increases, and therefore decided that they needed the money and we must make the best we can of it." All are of the opinion that an increase must assuredly follow, however, but they are dubious as to what effect it will have on the general shoe and leather trade.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING ENDORSED BY CANADA LIFE PRESIDENT

"We have come to the belief that the daily press can be utilized as an effective ally in presenting to our constituents the attractiveness of our goods and in creating a healthy interest and desire for them," said Herbert C. Cox, President of the Canada Life Assurance Company at a recent Annual Meeting.

"We, therefore, contemplate a carefully planned and vigorous appeal to the public, which will be carried on simultaneously in all important towns and cities from coast to coast, to be supported, of course, by indefatigable personal effort."

It is interesting to learn that one of Canada's foremost financial men, like many successful merchandisers, recognizes in the daily newspaper a valuable means of reaching the public, and has planned an extensive advertising campaign to explain to the people the value of life insurance.

In the men's Clothing-to-measure department we are showing an unusually wide range of suitings for spring in the very newest color effects and patterns that will be fashionable this season.

MEN'S BUSINESS SUITS, to measure, . . . . . $20.00 to $32.00
MEN'S EVENING DRESS SUITS, to measure, . . . . . $30.00 to $35.00
MEN'S FROCK SUITS, to measure, . . . . . $25.00 to $35.00
MEN'S TOP COATS, to measure, . . . . . $20.00 to $35.00
MEN'S TROUSERS, to measure, . . . . . $5.00 to $8.00

We have a very efficient tailoring organization, and you can be assured that a suit or overcoat ordered here will be entirely satisfactory in every detail—if not, we won't ask you to take it.

Special attention is directed to the $25.00 line of suitings, not only because of the wide range of fabrics and colors from which to choose at the price, but because our $25.00 made-to-measure suits are at least $5.00 less than clothing of equal merit can be purchased from other good tailors.
