A GREAT WELCOME
The community welcome extended last evening to Mr. A. M. Belding, the Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star representative, on his return from his western mission was marked by hearty enthusiasm and by expressions of the keenest appreciation of his work and the enterprise of these newspapers in sending him across the continent in the interests of the Maritimes and of Canadian unity.

IT MUST GO DEEP.
Progress toward any form of settlement of the mining strike in Cape Breton is very slow, and while from day to day hope is expressed that an arrangement will soon be reached whereby work may be resumed pending an adjustment of the difficulties, evidence that even a temporary agreement is coming is by no means tangible as yet.

Mr. Belding's Mission.
To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir—I would like to say that I greatly enjoyed the splendid address delivered by Mr. Belding at the welcome banquet extended him in Pylhian Hall last night, also that I was fully in accord with the resolution that was presented to him and which was unanimously endorsed.

Mr. Belding's Mission.
Being the representative of a progressive newspaper that was deeply interested in giving wide publicity to his transcontinental trip, it is not at all surprising that such a keen interest was awakened both at home and abroad in his journey, in the discoveries that he made, and in the broad national spirit that his remarks and inquiries aroused.

Mr. Belding's Mission.
During my lifetime I made two trips to the Pacific. The first trip impressed the need for fuller development of all of Canada's western areas as well as those of the east. The second created a stronger and brighter impression. While I was regretful to learn that serious work of interfering with the progress of many sections of Canada, yet it was impressed upon me that there is a duty for a getting-together on the part of Dominion and provincial boards of trade, there should be a Dominion Board to be composed of the best type of business men and manufacturers from all parts of Canada, and that this Dominion Board should give serious thought to the upbuilding of all Canada, as well as to the problems that affected the various areas.

Mr. Belding's Mission.
There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that if Canada is to make real and rapid advance toward progressive lines, and a kindly interest must be shown toward each other, the part of all districts of the Dominion. Furthermore, it is our duty as members of the British Empire to endeavor to expand as speedily as possible this Empire section.

Mr. Belding's Mission.
The moon and the stars, which Thou hast ordained,
What is the man that Thou art mindful of him?
But when one reflects upon the power of the mind of man to make the measurement of a star so far distant that it takes its light, traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, about 162 years to reach the earth, one can add, "Thou makest him who has dominion over Thy world," to an extent never dreamed of by the ancient observer of the heavens. We may say this patriarchal star he called "Mira," "The Wonderful." It is less wonderful than the intellects of the astronomer and mathematician who devised the instruments and computed its mighty diameter and prodigious distance. The heavens are not only the glory of God but the glory of the scientist who can both see under the whole heaven and measure its bounds, amid the front page news of the day makes the quarrel over national boundaries on this puny earth, rapid transit disputes in the mind of man.

BURNED LANDS.
(By Charles G. D. Roberts.)
On other days and other scenes the morn'
Laughs from her blue, but not such fields as these,
Where comes no cheer of summer leaves and bees,
And no shade mitigates the day's white scorn.

Odds and Ends
"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."
A Ralph Connor Hero
(Toronto Globe.)
Anthony Marsell, who would have been a century old on April 12, died on his farm near Irongouss this week. He has left his mark on the records of the country, for he was the original of "The Boss of the Ottawa" in Ralph Connor's celebrated story, "The Man From Glengarry." Readers will remember the famous fight, in the opening pages of the book, between rival gangs of lumberjacks headed by Murphy and Macdonald. "Black Hugh" Macdonald is fatally injured, and his son, Ranald, "The Man From Glengarry," takes up the feud, and then causes the struggle between his desire for revenge and the impulses of his better nature. In the end he saves the life of his adversary, and idealism triumphs.

Imported Joke.
"Wot's goin on over there Bill?"
"A golden wedding."

Not Always Safe.
A cynical old bachelor says that "Stop, Look and Listen" may be a very safe when it refers to trains, but if one stops and looks at a pretty woman there is danger that he may have to listen to her later on.

His Own Selection.
"So you claim to be a literary man."
"Yes, sir," wrote this book, "A Dozen Ways to Make a Living."
"And yet you are begging?"
"See, sir, that's one of the ways."
Dinner Table Repartee.
He was a young surgeon dining out and was asked by his hostess to carve the chicken. He made a bungled effort, to the amusement of the lady, who remarked to her husband, "I don't know, Robert, but if I wanted a leg of lamb I should not eat it."
"Then you're not a chicken?"
"Out For Damages."
Letter said to have been received by a lawyer: "Dear Sir—My boy got struck by an automobile, number 45128. If the driver is rich, sue him at once. If he isn't, sue him, but on your notifying me that you have brought suit, I will have him arrested and taken to the mill with a hammer. Yours truly, etc."
Tipping the Tower.
The news that the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa is in danger of falling reminds us of a story: A newly-rich Irish contractor and his wife were traveling in Italy. At Pisa, the wife, who was a very heavy woman, went ahead with some money and her maid. The tower, however, came along with another tourist when suddenly he heard his wife calling from above. Looking down he saw her hanging out from the top of the tower. In great alarm he shouted, "The tower's falling! Get out of there! You're heading the building!"
Trolley Vandalism.
"Well, that you certainly looked flushed when I dropped in on you and Jack Timmid last night. I'll bet he'd been proposing to you."
"I see; the question had been popped, but the pop had not been questioned. What happened after I left?"
"I urged him to go into the library and see father, but he broke into a profuse perspiration and hunched back."
"Little drops of water and not a grain of sand, eh? Yes, go on."
"Then I consented to go in with him and—Poor Jack! You should have seen his knees tremble."
"Did he ever speak after advancing to par," as the brokers say?"
"Unfortunately the car reached our street at this point, so we missed the rest of it."

Radio Vision.
(New York Times.)
Theoretically, now, and most certainly before long, pictures can be sent any distance without the use of wires and by means of the same waves that now bring music and words from afar into so many homes every day and every night. Indeed, the impulses to be transmitted for a picture are much less complicated than those carrying an orchestral rendition of a symphony, or even a speech, they being ordinary "wireless" communication.

Wonders and Horrors in Wax.
Among the most famous shows in all the world was Madame Tussaud's wax works in London, recently destroyed by fire.
"Madame Tussaud's Exhibition" was founded by Marie Grotsholtz, the daughter of a Swiss army officer. Her uncle, a doctor, had a collection of anatomical figures in wax. His niece, the Princess de Conti by his beautiful anatomical figures in wax. His niece, the Princess de Conti by his beautiful anatomical figures in wax.

Wonders and Horrors in Wax.
The building which was put up in 1884, and which has been destroyed, was a capacious red brick and stone structure on the Marjebone road close to Baker street station on the old underground railway. It had a very popular admission price, one shilling, with a few pence for a programme, and if the visitor wanted to have a blood curdler, he paid an additional sixpence and descended into the Chamber of Horrors, where Charles Peace and a whole string of murderers could be seen, and in some cases, such as the Deeming murders of Australia, the entire setting was there. In the case of the kitchen, under the tiles of which several victims had been buried, was purchased and transported to London.

Wonders and Horrors in Wax.
In the general show there was a very complete set of figures, whose features were recognizable to any reader of history and literature, so that the collection was educational in value. Kings and queens, statesmen and warriors, religious leaders, authors and poets were all to be found, with no bias whatever, though sometimes the on-lookers exhibited some, as for instance when a zealous Methodist minister sat in the chair of Voltaire and recited a hymn.

Man and Bear Rode Together.
(Soo Daily Star.)
All animals will run to man in a bush fire for help, says Mr. Peters. He says a prospector named Roy Crider man had an odd experience in the 1911 Porcupine fire. He hurriedly shoved an odd stump into the rig and jumped in after it. He found he couldn't have it all because a bear followed close at his heels and took one end of the stump. The two became quite good friends in the smoke, and neither tried to crowd the other of the stump.

BUDGET POINTS TO REDUCTION IN REVENUES

My reasons for referring to this matter in a budget speech are not so much in the interests of the party to which I have the honor to belong, as in the interests of all who make up our national life.

It was not until I feared that such criticism of the accuracy of our public records might result in impairing our national credit that we may be called upon to pay higher rates for accommodation.

We have examined the balance sheet of the Dominion of Canada, as at March 31, 1924, and we certify that the balance sheet conforms to the balance sheets of previous years in not including in the net debt of the Dominion issues of the Canadian National Railway Company and companies included in its system, which carry the guarantee of the Dominion of Canada.

A Peep At The New Spring Coats

Revels Beauty in Line, Fabric and Color Tones—But Prices Moderate

Altogether they strike a new keynote in smartness; each one deserving of wear over the nicest frock—they are fashioned of fine charmeuse, poiret, chamoisness, velours and suedenes in sand, nut browns, almond, burnt russet and navy—collars show new puffed and gathered effects, some with soft fur trimmings—sleeves are gathered or flared, many models show handsome embroidery in one, two and three colors.

Prices $23.75 to $47.75

The Plaid Dress is Springtime's All Round Frock

Here they are in several pretty differences appropriate for every practical daytime need, developed of "kasha twill" in lovely color combinations. Such smartness is seldom seen in Dresses so moderately priced.

amount of loans to the railway company from March 31, 1923, to March 31, 1924, namely $24,000,000, was added to the debt of the country. Fortunately, our financial condition was sufficient to more than offset this heavy addition to the net debt, and in spite of it, we more than balanced our budget in the year by some $8,500,000.

COMPANY RELIEVED. The railway company from earnings are not yet able to meet the arrears of interest accumulated on our loans to the company. This government, following the policy of its predecessors, continues to relieve the company from the payment of interest, not otherwise, would require the increasing of our annual provisions in the estimates thus adding to our debt on the one hand, and after receiving back from the company the amount so provided in our estimates, on the other hand, thus reducing our debt by the very amount by which the interest on the loans to the company was relieved.

CASH BALANCE. May I, before leaving this question of debt reduction direct the attention of the House to the balance sheet of the public accounts at the close of the fiscal year, 1923-24, page two, where will be found among our assets, an amount of $83,919,716 cash left in our hands after the closing of our accounts for that year, and I submit the question: "Is not the actual position of the country, may I point out that of this amount the savings made—$34,500,000—was aggregated and deposited in an interest-bearing special account, until such time as the pressing needs of the country required it for our general purposes."

CASH UTILIZED. The Minister of Finance thus found himself in possession of a large amount of cash which was not outside of the country's taxation, and rather than incur an additional obligation with its high interest charges, he wisely took the position that, in view of the high interest rates then prevailing, it would be better to utilize his cash for all purposes of the railways and allow that part of it for capital requirements to enhance the value of the proceeds. Parliament has made provision for our railway requirements, by authorizing the Minister to make loans to the railways for all purposes by way of cash or by way of guarantee or indirectly one way or the other.

DEFICIT—Operating deficit, interest due public, and rentals of leased lines, 1923-24, $80,922,811; 1922-23, $78,422,319. Redemption of debt—Including equipment trust, principal payments and sinking funds, 1922-23, $25,275,902; 1923-24, $11,468,389; 1924-25, $7,007,688. Total $43,751,979.

WORLD CONDITIONS. Mr. Speaker, before dealing with the present financial year, which closes on the 31st of this month, I would like to refer to the disturbed world-wide economic conditions which affected all nations so disappointingly during the year 1924.

YEARS RETURNS. It will be some time before all returns for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1925, come to hand, but we are today in a position to estimate closely for the balance of the year's operations.

HANGMAN'S TASK IS SOUGHT BY STOKES

Applies to Sheriff Hawthorne But Latter Will go to Montreal For Man.

Sheriff J. B. Hawthorne of York county, yesterday afternoon received an application from a local man, William W. Stokes, for the job of hanging Harry D. Williams, whose execution is to take place next month.

His qualifications, he declared, were of the best. He had officiated at 40 hangings in England and Palestine and did not see why he couldn't do this one properly. In addition to this, he said, he had served overseas with the 20th Battalion.

"Why should they give the job to some fellow from Montreal or Toronto when a Maritime man wants it?" was the burden of his plea, and the other fellow never saw khaki," he declared, as he pressed home his desire to do the work. He was emphatic over the alleged injustice of the affair and was considerably perturbed when Sheriff Hawthorne refused to grant him the right to add a forty-first hanging to his list.

He said last night that he had assisted Pierpont, the official hangman of England, at 27 executions and that he had done 13 himself in Palestine. He had just returned from London three weeks ago. He added that Ellis, the official hangman for the province of Ontario, had been his assistant and that he was better than Ellis.

DOG IS TRAINED ON GOLF COURSE

Terrier Puppy Retrieves Balls From Forbidden Ground in Oregon City.

OREGON CITY, Ore., March 24.—"Check," English terrier puppy, is the original golf hound.

Check belongs to B. R. McArthur, greenkeeper at the Oregon City Golf Club course.

He knows more golf etiquette better than many of the hole-in-one boys, and he has now learned to help his master hold down his job.

His principal job on the course is retrieving balls which have been misplaced into some forbidden area, and parallel to several of the old ones. A slice can easily cause a ball to get lost in them. The club had always planned a rule that no one could go on the growing grass to recover his ball, but here is where Check comes in.

He has been trained to search for balls on the forbidden grounds, and he takes hundreds of them to the edge of the fairway where his master awaits him.

Check is efficient and for a time he attempted to carry two balls at once, but he found his mouth was too small. Check will not touch a ball in play on the regular fairways. He knows his job and sticks to it. He also knows the new seeded greens, and carefully walks around them.

MEXICO WILL HAVE CIVIL SERVICE BODY

Applicants For All Public Offices to be Examined Before Appointment.

By A. W. FOLGER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, March 24.—With the re-opening of the school for public administration, which formerly served public employes, but was closed for economy's sake, Mexico takes her first step toward the establishment of a thorough civil service system.

Acting upon the advice of President Calles, the comptroller-general of the republic, Senor Luis Montes de Ocas, formulated the regulations whereunder employes in all public offices will be examined for their respective posts, following a period of training in the school for public administration.

In his recommendations to the Comptroller, President Calles declared that the recent reduction of personnel was indispensable to the balancing of the budget and implied the necessity of finding the most efficient employes in order that the number might be just that required for the efficient conduct of public offices.

The requirements for a particular post under the new order were briefly outlined by the President in his original resolution and are as follows: Aptitude for a particular position, demonstrated by means of an examination of his antecedents and a clear record of past services.

It is expected the new regulations will be made a part of the organic laws of the nation when the Congress convenes in April. This has been recommended by the comptroller.

POLAND IMPROVES Country Greatly Helped by Loan Floated in the United States

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The financial stringency in Poland was relieved considerably during February through the beneficial effects of the $20,000,000 loan floated in America, according to a cable to the Department of Commerce from Commercial Attache Bogdan, Warsaw.

This loan was for reaching in increasing confidence, locally and abroad, in the soundness of Poland's financial position and it likewise exercised a good effect on industrial credits. The granting of the $20,000,000 credit to the sugar industry and the extending of new English-Italian cotton credits to reliable Polish mills are cited as evidences of the restored confidence.

General industrial conditions, continues Mr. Bogdan, show improvement despite the continued failures of small business firms and the gradually increasing costs of living. Most marked improvement is noted in the textile field and is attributed to seasonal buying, new foreign credits and improved factory organization. A six-day week schedule of operations has been resumed, but competition from Czechoslovak textile concerns is still felt.

"400" LIST TO DROP MRS. RHINELANDER

Social Register Will Omit Her Name—Comment by Mrs. Stillman.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Mrs. Leonard Kip Rhinelandler, the former Alice Beatrice Jones of New Rochelle, former laundress and nursemaid, whose sister is married to a negro butler, is "in but not of" the Social Register, according to an explanation made by the Social Register Association regarding the inclusion of her name while the names of Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, Countess Ludwig Salm-Hoogstraten, the former Millicent Rogers, and others are omitted.

The publishers of the Social Register explained that Mrs. Rhinelandler's name was included in the supplement merely as a notice that Rhinelandler had married, and that it would be omitted in future issues. According to the publishers, many letters were received in reference to the matter, one of them from Mrs. Price Post of 114 East Fifty-second street.

Some of the paragraphs of Mrs. Post's letter, one of which reads, "So for the sake of race, as well as for the decency of society, which you do uphold, please explain," brought a reply when published from Mrs. Stillman. She said the omission of her name from the Register was not worrying her in the slightest, but, on the contrary, since her return from taking a cure at a Battle Creek sanitarium, she was feeling exceptionally well.

"Mrs. Emily Post's letter is especially good reading and contains four priceless lines. I quote: 'I happen to know that you announce all the instances of such a nature on your list, but that ends them, and unsuitable behavior ostracizes—a stand which I have greatly admired and one which in certain prominent cases has shown no little courage of principle on your part.'"

Cardinal Mundelein Back From Visit to Rome—Praises Mussolini.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, returned home Friday on the Cunard liner Serenaglia from Rome where he went six weeks ago on the same ship on a pilgrimage to the Holy Land.

The Cardinal and his party were met at the pier by a large delegation of church dignitaries and laymen both in New York and Chicago.

Cardinal Mundelein explained that his trip to Rome was for the three-fold purpose of a Holy Year pilgrimage to discuss with the Holy Father plans for the Eucharistic Congress, and to visit the Missionary Exposition erected in the Vatican grounds.

He said that on three different occasions he had audience with the Pope who granted him altogether four and a half hours.

The Pope authorized me to say positively that he would send a Cardinal to represent him at the Eucharistic Congress," said Cardinal Mundelein.

Commenting on conditions in Rome under the government of Premier Mussolini, Cardinal Mundelein said: "I saw much more order in the City of Rome than I did thirty years ago when I was a student here."

LARGE CROWD CHEERS APPEAL FOR BROAD NATIONAL SPIRIT

Guest of Evening Advocates Building on Northern Half of This Continent Prosperous Dominion Animated by National Spirit CONFIDENCE FELT MOVE WILL SUCCEED Mayor, Council Members, Board of Trade Members, and Leading Business Men Unite in Welcoming Telegraph-Journal Envoy Back From Prosperous Mission

The Resolution

FOLLOWING is the resolution, moved by Lt. Col. A. E. Massie and seconded by W. J. S. Myles, and carried unanimously at last night's big civic welcome to A. M. Belding in the Pythian Castle: "RESOLVED, That the attendees at this Community Welcome Banquet—representative as they are of the leading organizations of the City of Saint John—desire to extend a hearty welcome to our respected guest, to express appreciation of the wonderful accomplishments of Mr. Belding on his westward trip, the deep interest he has awakened in the routing of Canada's traffic through the ports of Canada, and in the promotion of Canada's national interests from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and particularly the line co-operative feeling he has aroused on the part of practically all Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce, Canadian Clubs, Rotary and Gyro Clubs throughout Canada. Such outstanding accomplishments should tend to promote Dominion interests and awaken a most friendly feeling on the part of all progressive citizens.

"FURTHER, we also wish to express our appreciation of the broad progressive spirit shown by the New Brunswick Publishing Company, publishers of The Telegraph-Journal and Evening Times-Star, in sending Mr. Belding out on such a splendid national mission. It has given Canada, and particularly the Maritimes, the widest possible publicity and should be helpful to all Canadian areas and interests.

SCENES of indescribable enthusiasm marked the civic home-coming of A. M. Belding in the Pythian Castle last evening when men in all walks of life attended the banquet under the combined auspices of the Board of Trade, the Rotary, Gyro, Men's Y and the Canadian Clubs to show their whole-hearted appreciation of the outstanding success that has attended Mr. Belding's recently-completed coast-to-coast tour in the interests of the Maritime Provinces.

CHANCE PRESENTED. "We were in at the birth of Confederation. We have an opportunity now to join in a great nation-wide movement to make that union permanent. Shall we say the path is too steep, the way too long and the dark too near? Or shall we turn our faces to the morning and go forward to the tasks of a great new day, building up a prosperous Dominion, animated by a national spirit which will command success? That is our task, and I have faith to believe we shall not falter and we shall not fail!"

INDUSTRIES WANTED. The charge had been made in other parts of Canada that the people of the Maritime Provinces lacked initiative and ambition to get out and help themselves. It was true that many industries had been developed in Saint John but it was also true that we had lost many of them. Those that had continued had surmounted many geographical disadvantages and he believed that in this there was a real lesson. Concluding, he expressed the opinion we should have more industries based on our natural resources. The motion then was put by the chairman and carried without dissent.

COL. MACLAREN WRITES. Before calling on Mr. Belding, the chairman read the following letter from Col. Murray MacLaren, C. M. G., D. S. O., M. P.: "I am very sorry, indeed, I shall not be able to be present at the banquet for Mr. Belding to be held on Monday, March 23. I am glad to know that Mr. Belding's work is being recognized.

MUCH GOOD VISIONED. Following the report, the chairman called on Mayor Potts. His Worship, on behalf of the city, formally welcomed Mr. Belding back home again. The citizens, he said, had followed Mr. Belding on his trip with great interest and he believed much good would come of it. The problems of the country were many but he believed they could be solved in a spirit of co-operation, he said.

GRATITUDE EXPRESSED. Col. Massie, on behalf of the Board of Trade, extended a welcome home to Mr. Belding.

LARGE CROWD CHEERS APPEAL FOR BROAD NATIONAL SPIRIT

(Continued from page 9.) Trade by way of the Panama Canal. They say there ought to be a very much greater trade between the Atlantic provinces and British Columbia by way of this great water route. They see no reason why producers in the Maritime Provinces should not be able to do a great deal of business through the port of Vancouver, sending goods through the Province of British Columbia, and even as far east as Regina, because some goods are now going from this coast to the Pacific port, and are being railed back to Regina to meet the rail rate from here. "They say there are great possibilities of trade in that direction. They are also very keen to have their ports developed. They have the same problem we have here. They have a fear that trade which ought to go to Vancouver might find another way and get rid of the mountain grades, and go to Portland and Seattle, and they have been sympathetic with us in our port problem because of that. They have the question of port development. They anticipate a great trade with the Orient. There is another problem. Their timber is being taken to the United States and manufactured. Some of it is coming back into British Columbia and they are paying duty on their own resources, which are being manufactured in another country. The same thing is true, to some extent, of their minerals. So you see these people on the Pacific Coast have serious troubles of their own, and the greatest of these, as I have already said, is transportation.

ALBERTA'S BIG TASKS. Continuing, Mr. Belding said: "Take now the province of Alberta. Alberta is also concerned over this transportation problem. There is the matter of the Crow's Nest rates for example, and just here I want to say something about that agreement in Calgary which was told the Maritimes and the central provinces did not understand the Crow's Nest Pass affair. They said we appeared to think they were unreasonable in that regard. A gentleman said to me: 'We have been told there should not be a readjustment of freight rates. What do you say to that?' It is an agreement, and we are not willing to consider a readjustment of rates with nothing in our hands.

FAIRNESS ASKED. "He said further: 'You are from the Maritime Provinces. You have had some experience in the Crow's Nest. If you had that agreement, what would you do?'" "I had to say: 'I think we would hold on to that agreement.' So they ask us to be fair in regard to this matter and try to get their part of the agreement. If they are unreasonable, they at all events appear to have been doing what is reasonable thus far.

COAL ISSUE ACUTE. "Now to get back for a moment to Alberta, which is also interested in the question of transportation. They have a problem there with regard to coal. They say they can see no reason why there should not be a dead-line in Ontario where the coal from Nova Scotia would meet the coal from Alberta, and then it is unnecessary to import so much coal from the United States. They think it should be possible to use the rail route and bring Alberta coal down into Ontario, and they agree that the same privilege given to them, if it is a privilege, should also be given to Nova Scotia.

METHODS PROTESTED. "They also object to the methods of the United States coal companies in connection with the coal trade. They say these companies carry large quantities to their own lake ports, sell all the coal they can to their own people at their own price, and then they have the Canadian market for the balance and are ready to dump it there, and under our tariff the duty is reckoned on the price at the point of production. They say further that the Americans screen the coal on their own wharves and ship the lump coal on which there is a higher rate of duty. They also ship the slack coal at a low rate of duty. Then they mix it again and sell it to the Canadian and the people in Alberta say this is not a square deal.

CONCERNED RE LAND. "Then they are very much concerned in Alberta over the matter of land settlements. There has been at least one settlement made in that province which ought not to have been made. The people have gone in and settled on what they thought was wheat land, but which turned out to be only fit for ranching, and some have been forced to leave and others are moving. "Next we come down to Saskatchewan, and we find that this province is also troubled about the question of transportation. We find in Saskatchewan that in some sections they had a splendid crop last year and in some sections a very light crop, so that the conditions are uneven in different parts of that province. But they want the Hudson Bay Railway completed, and so does Manitoba.

KEEN FOR RAILWAY. "Alberta is not so much concerned as is Saskatchewan since Saskatoon is pretty near the point where shipments to the Pacific and shipments to the Atlantic diverge; but Saskatchewan and Manitoba are very keen regarding the Hudson Bay Railway. They say if the records at Ottawa were searched it would be found that for five or six months in the year, or more, this route is open for navigation; and, this being the case, if that railway is completed it will mean much to the Maritime Provinces, as it would enable them to send their products by this route right into the heart of the prairies. I do not say that this route is feasible, nor do I say they are wrong. There are many conflicting reports, but those people say there is a great country along the railway that should be developed, and they want the line completed. So they are much concerned over that.

INDUSTRIES SOUGHT. Manitoba, like the other provinces, has suffered from depression. They are now making a strong drive with the intention of establishing industries in the City of Winnipeg. They have in-

NERVOUS WRECK FROM BOWEL TROUBLE Ten Years of Suffering Ended by "Fruit-a-tives"

I said, 'Do they sell here?' He said, 'There is a good sale for them at the coast.' I am not here to advertise Mr. Bardsley or anybody else, but I want to ask you this question—'Hats are being made in the city of Saint John at the present time, and they are being sold as far as the Pacific Coast. I wonder how good a demand there is for them in the Maritime Provinces?' I wonder if the owner of that industry has been given all the financial assistance needed.

Mr. F. M. Sullivan. "For over ten years, I was a complete nervous wreck, owing to severe Bowel Trouble and Acute Indigestion. Though a big man, I could hardly lift the smallest weight without suffering pain. As a last resort, I started using 'Fruit-a-tives.' Like a cloud, the nervousness left me after using the first box. I use the tablets according to directions and follow carefully your diet rules. The result is, today I am free of indigestion and Bowel Troubles, and cannot recommend the wonderful Fruit-a-tives too highly."

BITTERNESS IN WEST. "Now, I am going to talk to you about another matter. I found in the west—as you know this has been the extreme east—a certain feeling, rightly or wrongly, of bitterness toward the central provinces. There is a feeling that they have not been considered as they might have been of the interests of the other parts of the country. That feeling was expressed by one western man who said: 'If you can get the sympathy of a relatively small group of men in the city of Toronto and of a similar group in the city of Montreal, your problem is well on the way to solution. The benefit to the central and political power were to a certain extent centered there, and that it was not always used for the benefit of the extreme portions of this country.'

TWO ENDS AT ODDS. "How can you have a real national spirit when you have the two ends of the country at odds with the center? Toronto and Montreal in the city of Montreal, and in the cities of western Ontario, wherever I went, I tried my best to disabuse my mind of any such notion. They said, in effect: 'It is not true. We sympathize with the central power down there, and we do desire to help to make your part of Canada prosperous, because we realize that it benefits us all.' And they spoke with an air of sincerity I could hardly doubt. But there is that situation—a division.

UNITY ADVOCATED. "What are we going to do about it? I have been making a suggestion and it has been received well. It is this: There are four sections of the country, the Maritimes, the Central Provinces, the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. They all have their problems differing from each other. Perhaps we on the Atlantic coast may have something in common with those on the Pacific, but in each of these four divisions differing problems are to be found; and if this Dominion is to endure there must be unity. How are we going to get it? If you say there is a body at Ottawa which exists for just that purpose. It has existed for that purpose since we are more than 60 years, but the problems have not been solved; and so I have been saying that this question must be taken up by business men, regardless of politics, from coast to coast, that they may be able to work out an economic policy which may be endorsed by the Maritime Provinces, the central provinces, the prairie provinces and British Columbia. If this cannot be done it seems to me there is nothing for us to do but to go on raising boys and girls to go down and help to build up an alien country.

CONFERENCE URGED. "But I have suggested that representatives of these four divisions come together and let the representatives of each division present their difficulties and the policy they think ought to be adopted in the interests of their section and of the Dominion. They might have

REMEDY SUGGESTED. "But I have suggested to some Boards of Trade that perhaps there may be something the Government could do to remedy the situation here. If this country has a tariff to which the Maritimes submit and from which they do not derive the same benefit as some other parts of the country, the latter would owe something by way of compensation to us. Would it be possible for example, to have a subsidy of some kind to aid us in the development of our own natural resources for export trade? What can we do? Why is it that the people of Saskatchewan and the people of Alberta can rail butter all the way down across the country and to the wharf at Saint John and ship it over to England's markets and we in these provinces cannot do the same? Why? Does anyone know why?"

CHANCES ARE OPEN. "We have a good dairy country—why may not the business be enlarged? Then surely these provinces are adapted to wool raising. Why should there be flocks of sheep on the prairies, as I have seen them, and no hills of sheep in these beautiful provinces of ours? It seems to me that if we sit down to think it over we will find there are many ways we may help ourselves, and perhaps get assistance along the lines I have suggested. I give this to you as a suggestion.

SELF HELP ADVISED. "There are many ways, it seems to me, that our provinces can help themselves, if our people display a community spirit such as has been referred to here tonight. There are many ways we can improve our condition by co-operation with the other provinces, and secure their sympathy and their support in measures which we believe should be carried out in our interests. I went across the continent making one speech, and I come back making another, because of the information I gathered and because of the views expressed to me by Canadians all over this country.

UNITED POLICY ASKED. "Once I remember when going across the prairies looking out from the train DOMINION POLICY. "I have been suggesting that business men of the four divisions should discover an economic policy for the whole Dominion and that the result be a policy to be presented to the representatives of Boards of Trade of all the provinces. Perhaps they would make some amendments but by the time they had finished their work they would have mapped out an economic policy which might fairly be taken as the basic policy of this country. If we cannot do that the condition is serious. There you have the situation, and I say if we are going to have unity we must regard all these difficulties. The time is now ripe, it seems to me, to take such action as will bring all parts of this country together in support of a national economic policy fair to all.

PLAN WANTED. "I desire to say a few words to you about ourselves in the Maritime Provinces. I have already said that everywhere I was asked this question—'What is your remedy?' What do you want? Tell us what you want us to do.' I was unable to answer that question except in general terms, and I say we must consider us pay more also that when we ask it we want, so that we can let the Boards of Trade and the other organizations across this country to support us we have a good case and deserve their support. "Another matter to which I would like to draw your attention as a result of my travel across the country is what we can do ourselves, what we ought to be doing ourselves. For example, we talk about difficulties in getting industries.

HAT SALE GOOD. "I went into a dry goods store in Brandon. I was introduced to a commercial traveler as 'Mr. Belding, of Saint John.' He said, 'I am carrying a line of Saint John goods.' I said, 'What is it?' He said, 'Bardsley's hats.'

summing-up. The singing of the National Anthem then brought the gathering to a close. Leonard Wilson acted as accompanist for the evening. The presence of the "Settlement Band" injected considerable merriment into the proceedings while the singing of songs specially appropriate to the welcome were sung in real community style.

Backache Rubs PAIN Away

75% of disease avoided through internal cleanliness

WHEN you are constipated, poisons are formed in the accumulated food waste, and reach all parts of the body. The first results, headaches, biliousness, a feeling of "heaviness," etc., serve as warnings of graver diseases to follow if this intestinal poisoning continues unchecked. This is why intestinal specialists state that constipation is the primary cause of three-quarters of all illness, including the graver diseases of life.

Physicians Advise Lubrication for Internal Cleanliness. Medical science has found at last in Lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste, and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

RENEW LICENSE FOR FERRY AT CAMPBELLTON

Department of Public Works Says Not Reason Enough for Tenders

WILL USE RANGE AT LEGER'S CORNER

Defence Department Says Firing Not Dangerous to Residents.

OTTAWA, March 23—In answer to questions by George B. Jones, M. P., one of the New Brunswick Conservative members, it was stated in the House of Commons today that as the license for Cross Point-Campbellton ferry service expires on April 30, next, the licensee, having made substantial expenditures on his boat to provide more efficient service and better accommodation, made application to have the license renewed. Upon a thorough investigation made by the department of public works, and in view of the request for renewal of the license having been approved by the municipalities concerned, it was decided to grant the renewal as authorized by the Act for an additional period of five years from May 1, next.

Tenders Not Called.
At the time the matter was under consideration in the summer of 1924, representations were made by Robert L. Sinclair, G. B. Harper, A. A. Andrew and Capt. Frank J. Alford, all of whom desired that the renewal of the contract be opened to tenders but sufficient reason was not found to exist to grant their request. In reply to questions by A. J. Doucet, Kent, it was stated in the House today that, although in the spring of 1922 complaints had been received from residents of the community opposing the use of the shooting range at Leger's Corner, N. B., it was found on investigation by the Department of National Defence, that firing on this range was not dangerous to the residents of the vicinity and the range will be used this summer.

WILDCAT REVIVES AND FIGHTS BOY

Animal Escapes After Being Clubbed Unconscious—Youth Badly Scratched.

WOODSTOCK, March 23—Holland Smith, young son of F. E. Smith, while visiting his traps about five miles from town Saturday, found a live wildcat caught in one of them. He beat it with a club and, thinking it was dead, threw it over his shoulder and started for home. After going about half a mile the animal suddenly sprang from his shoulder and attacked him fiercely trying to get at his eyes, but the lad succeeded in felling him at each onslaught although he was getting badly scratched. The last time he sprang at him they clinched and both fell, the lad on top. He choked the beast with every ounce of strength he had as it was savagely scratching the backs of both his hands. When he jumped up the cat trotted off in the woods on three legs, carrying away the trap on the other. The youthful trapper is mourning the loss of a 20 cent trap. An organ dating from 100 A. D. was unearthed at Carthage in recent excavations.

The year 1924, Sir George declared, was the turning point which would always be remembered, "for the first time since the war, a reasonable attitude has been shown on international problems. I cannot emphasize too greatly the fact that the world is a unit which stands or falls together," he added.

King's Message.

The captain of the visiting team was allowed all kinds of scope and repeatedly ran around the entire team and when the ball was flashed in he had a clear field to shoot for the basket.

ORLANDO, March 23.—When baseball fans speak of Elmer Smith they usually refer to him as the "only player to ever make a home run in a world series with the bases filled."
That's just what Elmer did in the 1920 classic between Cleveland and Brooklyn. He was playing with the Indians at the time, his second engagement with that club.

The title was given to McDewitt by James Padon on his retirement last December on condition that he meet Major Goodsell to decide the question of supremacy.

FAILURE TO MARK OPPONENTS WAS CAUSE OF DEFEAT

Game Was One Of The Best Played Here In Years

The Trojans finished on the small end of a 31 to 28 score in their match last evening with the Rideaus of Ottawa in the first of a two-game series to decide which team shall journey to the west to compete for the Dominion basketball championship. The teams were exceptionally evenly matched and from the time the whistle sounded to start the game until the second period ended it was in truth a battle royal.

Jump Into Lead
The Trojans got away to an early start, but failed to hold the advantage. The Rideaus soon got their eye on the basket and slowly but surely piled up point after point. They worked a forward pass successfully on several occasions and caught the local defence players off guard. As a result the first period ended 18 to 13 in their favor. They also were clever at intercepting passes made by their opponents and repeatedly broke up some good combination play.

Locals Over Anxious
The locals seemed over anxious and lost many chances to score on what looked like easy chances. While all of the Trojans gave their best efforts, the work of "Beef" Malcolm and Captain Wilson was outstanding, the former netting 12 points and the latter 10. Urquhart had chances to put his team to the fore on penalty shots, but failed to take advantage of them. Several penalties were handed out to members of both teams, but the game was exceptionally cleanly fought and the best of feeling prevailed.

P. Manley of Montreal officiated as referee and his decisions were impartial. He adhered strictly to the rules, but showed no favoritism and as a result his decisions were well received. A. W. Covey acted as scorer, and S. L. Kerr as timer.

BROADWAY PLAY ON IMPERIAL SCREEN

"Tarnish" Attracts Many at Opening Shows—Concert Adds to Pleasure.

George Fitzmaurice, director of the Samuel Goldwyn production, "Tarnish" which is now playing at the Imperial Theatre, firmly believes that the ordinary girl has a piece in the business world, and that every girl should learn to support herself and be financially independent. But, he states, there is one disadvantage.

"With the indolent and self-indulgent father," claims the director, "the temptation to allow his daughter to shoulder more than her share of the responsibility of supporting the family sometimes becomes too great. He begins to feel that he can ease up in his own work and spend more upon his own pleasures."

"Such a situation forms the basis of the story of 'Tarnish,' which, as is well known, was the most successful stage play on Broadway during the past season. On the daughter, because she is efficient and capable of earning a good salary, falls the brunt of the work of supporting her parents."

May McAvoy plays the role of the daughter. Ronald Colman is cast as her sweetheart, and others in the cast include Marie Prevost, Norman Kerry and Harry Myers. "Tarnish" has been decidedly popular with Imperial patrons since its opening and promises to be one of the best like photoplays of the year.

In addition to the splendid pictorial features at the Imperial last night the orchestra discoursed another of its artistic programmes which included Herold's famous overture "Zampa," a novelty number "Amoureux" (Pierrot and Pierrette) by Burgin and a bit of symphonic jazz entitled "Gigolette" by Romberg. The same programme obtains tonight. Tomorrow Agnes Ayres and Pat O'Malley are the stars in Paramount's feature "Worldly Goods."

Arbuckle Strikes Snags in Wedding Arrangements—Ceremony Set For Tonight.

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Plans for the wedding of Roscoe Arbuckle, former film comedian and Deke Deane, motion picture actress, appear complete, though the one-time heavy weight actor last night ran into a few snags before getting everything set for the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, near Pasadena, this evening.

After Arbuckle and Miss Deane had appeared at the court house and obtained a marriage license, it was announced that the Rev. J. Whitcomb Brouwer would marry them. A little later, however, the clergyman announced he had a lecture engagement and would be unable to officiate.

Judge Secured.

He said he suggested that Arbuckle have a superior court judge officiate inasmuch as "very few clergymen wish to marry divorced people."

So it was arranged to have Judge J. W. Summerfield perform the ceremony. After accepting the invitation to officiate, however, Judge Summerfield had made a dinner engagement for the evening, "which would keep him occupied the entire evening." He offered, though, to find another judge for Arbuckle, and late on it was given out that Judge Hugh J. Crawford would officiate.

More details will be forthcoming, when the Rotarians will ask the public assistance in their effort to provide a notable musical opportunity at a reasonable price, and in their efforts to make money for the club, which, incidentally, will be employed in boys' work.

A feature which will distinguish this concert is the fact that a group of business men have become patrons, and pledged a substantial sum.

NOTED PLAYERS ON QUEEN SQ. SCREEN

Pauline Frederick, Tully Marshall, Wanda Hawley, Laura La Plante in Big Picture.

"Smouldering Fires," Universal-Jewel-Clarence Brown production which was shown at the Queen Square Theatre last night, is founded on the misery that came from the marriage of a young man to a woman twice his age.

Pauline Frederick and Laura La Plante are co-stars in the picture, the former having the part of the young girl who fell in love with the youthful husband, portrayed by Malcolm McGregor.

Miss Frederick's part is that of a woman whose sole purpose in life is to make a success of a big factory left her at the death of her father.

One day this stern, maternal woman admits she is in love with a young man, who has come to her notice through his assistance that she give consideration to a plan of his to increase the output of the factory. She makes him her assistant and as a result of the ensuing gossip he believes that he is honor bound to marry her, which he does, but not before he has found that he loves her younger sister.

Much of the action of the story takes place in the factory operating rooms and in the executive offices, and, early in the story, there is a strong comedy situation. The company also went on location to the Yosemite National Park, where the natural grandeur of scenery was used as background for episodes of the story.

Tully Marshall, Wanda Hawley, Helen Lynch and George Cooper support.

Spectators Thrilled by Lincoln J. Carter's Stirring Work on Gaiety Screen.

Lincoln J. Carter's forte, established by lifetime devoted to the production of stage melodramas, is thriving. He is expected, therefore, that a melodrama picture by him should be a thriller. It is true in the case of "The Arizona Express," the William Fox production presented for the first time at the Gaiety Theatre last night.

Carter has imagined an up-to-date story and applied it to the rates of melodrama with telling effect. The good things as one sees one highly dramatic sequence after another, and when the picture reaches its climax, capturing one upon the other, and the engine hissing great clouds of steam, one is liable to grip the arms of the chair.

An excellent cast appears in this production, which was directed by Tom Buckingham. Pauline Starke is the ingenue lead, Harold Goodwin plays the juvenile lead. Others in the cast are Evelyn Brent, David Butler, Anne Cornwall, Francis MacDonald, Frank Beal and William Humphrey.

"The Arizona Express" will have its final showing at the Gaiety tonight.

Record Audience at 750th Performance of Carroll Co.

One of the biggest audiences of the season—one which overflowed the balcony into the upper gallery—was present at the Opera House last evening to greet the F. James Carroll Players on their 750th performance in Saint John. To mark the occasion, each patron presented a souvenir in the form of a colored silk book mark, bearing the picture of Mr. Carroll and the names of the company. The vehicle chosen for the week was the well known drama, "The Fatal Wedding," replete with thrilling situations, and the members of the company were rewarded with generous applause for their artistic work in presenting it.

Frank Harrington, leading man of the company, was given a hearty greeting on his appearance after being absent for a week in Halifax.

An added feature to last night's performance was the appearance of little Eunice MacGillivray, who enacted the role of Jessie Wilson, "The Little Mother." Although the part is an exceptionally difficult one for a child, Eunice covered herself with glory and her work was frequently punctuated with applause.

Players Do Well.

Mr. Harrington, in the role of Howard Wilson, the husband who believes his wife unfaithful and divorces her, carried conviction all the way through his part and was the principal character in many fine scenes. Miss Nancy Duncan, as his wife, gave a most sympathetic rendition of her part, made a charming appearance in some handsome costumes, and was the recipient of well deserved tributes from the audience.

In the hands of that intrepid pair, Miss Emma DeWaele and James Swift, as Irish servant and French butler, respectively—was placed the comely element of the show, and their performances netted a full bag of uproarious mirth. They were very true to life.

The villains of the piece—plotting, unscrupulous characters—Cora Williams and Robert Curtis, were played by Miss Dorris Kelton and Clyde Franklin, and through them the dramatic intensity of the play was developed to the utmost. Miss Kelton wore some stunning clothes and her wedding costume in the last act, a pearl-trimmed satin and lace creation, caused many exclamations of delight, particularly from the ladies in the audience. Owen Cell played the role of the Dutch janitor, Schwartz, with perfect diction and mannerism, while George Smith and Phillip Boland filled minor roles.

The stage settings were rich, well conceived and exceptionally well executed, especially the church scene in the last act which was a masterpiece of the scene painters' and stage manager's art.

SOCCER LEAGUE IS EXCITING FILM

Spirited Horse Racing Drama of South Places at The Palace.

For thrills, comedy, beauty, and more shills, "The Dixie Handicap," Reginald Barker's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, which came to the Palace Theatre yesterday, is one of the most all-around satisfactory pictures of the year.

For excitement there are stirring horse races. For beauty one need go no further than Claire Windsor, who plays the leading feminine role, that of Virginia, the daughter of Judge Robinson (portrayed by Frank Keenan). Always a colorful actor, Mr. Keenan does some of his best work in "The Dixie Handicap" playing the role of an aristocratic old Southerner who falls into poverty.

Lloyd Hughes is delightfully different as the hero. His is a role that combines comedy with straight heroics. The remainder of the competent cast includes John Sainploff, Otis Harlan, Edward Martindel, Otto Hoffman, and Joseph Morrison.

Altogether "The Dixie Handicap" rates high in the racing field. It will be shown for the last time tonight.

"SPOILERS" DRAWS EMPRESS PATRONS

Notable Story of Alaska Returns to Screen as Super-feature.

"The Spoilers," the most famous and most exploited story by Rex Beach, has again been transferred to the screen, this time as a big super-feature, produced by Jesse D. Hampton, directed by Lambert Hillyer. The picture was the attraction at the Empire Theatre last night and will be shown for the last time tonight at 7 and 8:30.

"The Spoilers" is the greatest story about the Klondike gold rush ever written, and one of the most widely read American novels. It established Mr. Beach's reputation as one of our most virile authors, and started the school of out-of-door writers who have been so popular in American magazines and books in the last decade, a school in which no one has surpassed Mr. Beach. Then, too, "The Spoilers" is a true picture of early Alaska history.

The Moth and the Flame!

Of course you have noticed how a light will attract moths and winged insects of all sorts.

Strangely enough, light also attracts human beings. A well lighted store will always attract more customers than one which is dim and gloomy.

The promoters of Coney Island and other amusement parks well understand this fact—as evidenced by the lavish illumination of these places.

Newspaper advertising is an "illumination" too. The merchant who regularly advertises does not need to worry about getting a crowd. His store is always well filled, to the envy of his less progressive competitors.

People think of the advertised store as a place where there is always "something doing"—something new—something interesting—something different.

The "light" of advertising attracts trade just as light attracts every living, seeing thing.

Why not light up? Phone for an advertising representative.

Parents of boys who allow their children to continue this practice, he said, are liable to find themselves brought to court and fined.

As Hiram Sees It

You can't beat them French fellows for politeness. When I went in to talk to the editor in Montreal, he interdoomed me to a reporter that asked me a haul lot of questions and put the answers all down in French as fast as I could talk. He was an awful smart young fellow. Then the editor he thanked me for coming in—and he wanted me to go on! see him next time I went to Montreal. Made for the Spring of 1925 Good " " " " 1926

We just can't help putting service first—it's a habit of ours to talk and tailor in terms of two years instead of one, but we want to add a word or two about the practicality of the models and the picturesqueness of the materials. The models in Topcoats possess that conservatism that never goes out of style—they'll be up to date as long as you wear them! And the richness and variety of the fabrics will keep you busy making up your mind.
