Exhibition Association Formed—
Annual Picnic Passes off
Very Pleasantly.

Bathurst, July 15.—The continuous wet weather has had a dampening effect on trade, but crop reports are good and better things are expected for the fall.

Mr. Henry White is making good progress with his contract on the station bridge. This is a long job and will not be completed much before the ice forms.

The new ell on the White House is being completed as quickly as possible and the bedrooms will be ready early in August.

Your correspondent was informed that negotiations are being carried on by a large American firm with a view of purchasing the mill and timber limits of the Sumner Co., of Bathurst Village. This is a valuable property. The mill has been thoroughly refitted with new and modern machinery and is doing fine work this season. Band saw gangs replace the old stock gangs.

The Stacy property has been transferred to the Americans who have been negotiating for it for some time. The deal was completed Friday. The price is said to be $50,000 and the local gentlemen who invested their money in it have made something out of their holdings.

A number of Bathurst gentlemen met Thursday afternoon and formed an exhibition Association. Sufficient capital has been subscribed and the necessary property is being negotiated for on which to erect suitable buildings.

A children's picnic was held Friday afternoon at the fishing lodge at Rough Waters. This was the second annual picnic to be held here and given by Messrs. R. B. Osler, M. P., H. D. Warren, and Chas. Cockshutt, wealthy gentlemen of Toronto, who each year spend a few weeks fishing here. These gentlemen brought down from Toronto two hundred presents for the children of the neighbourhood, and as they were obliged to leave for Toronto before a suitable fine day could be chosen, they requested Rev. Fr. Martin, their Curé, to distribute the presents, while, Henry Bishop Esq., looked after all the necessary arrangements. The little ones and their parents congregated at the camp shortly after one o'clock and a right good time all enjoyed. The chef had prepared ice cream and cake, and there was a bountiful supply of candy. Fully two hundred persons were present, mostly children, who all received presents. The older ones enjoyed a dance in the spacious living room and on the piazza, while step dancing and phonograph music furnished amusement for others. At five o'clock all dispersed to their homes, having enjoyed a most pleasant afternoon. It is needless to add that on every hand were heard expressions of appreciation of the kindness of the Toronto gentlemen who so thoughtfully provide this annual picnic, and thus provide a pleasant outing for a large number of

CRIMINAL OR MAD MAN?

Richard Yeo Arrested in Chatham
Last Week Charged with Terrible Crime.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL.

Damaging Evidence Given by Doctor and Many Other Witnesses.

Richard Yeo, a P. E. Islander, aged about fifty, was arrested in Chatham Thursday charged with committing rape upon the three year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Black. The crime was committed in the Exhibition park.

Mrs. Patrick Whalen, it appears, saw the prisoner assault the little girl. A Mrs. MacDonald was with Mrs. Whalen. The two women called Major Ramsay who was near, and the three pursued Yeo. Mrs. Whalen knocked him down with a stone and captured him. Officer Coughlan, who had been notified, arrived and took the man into custody.

Yeo was arraigned in court Monday morning, R. A. Lawlor, K. C., prosecuting. The court was closed to press and public. The evidence of Dr. Byrne and other witnesses went to show that the child had been criminally assaulted; and the little girl identified Yeo as her assailant. The prisoner was remanded for three days, to allow Mr. Lawlor to attend court in Bathurst.

Yeo's crime is, if the man is accountable, the worst that has happened in New Brunswick for years, but it is altogether likely the man is insane.

Little ones who otherwise would not be able to spend a pleasant afternoon and receive an appropriate gift. Mr. Bishop, was congratulated on the success of the outing.

Mr. George Eddy is preparing to rebuild his woodworking factory which was destroyed by fire some time ago.

T. Blanchard, ex-M. P., was in Bathurst last Wednesday.

Mr. Hugh Cowan of Upper Pokemouche, Liquor License Inspector, was here last week.

Wm. Hayden of Pokemouche was in town Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry White has returned from a visit to Caraque.

O. Turgeon, M. P., was visiting the eastern parishes of the county last week.

POLITICS.

Politics in Gloucester is commencing to be the all important topic and there are many surmises and rumors.

One thing is very noticeable and that is that a greater interest than ever before is being taken in political issues. One meets young men, who previously were willing to listen to advice from party leaders and fall into line, discussing the issues in an intelligent manner and drawing their own conclusions. The opposition party seems to be alert to this and is making some progress. It is even said that a ticket composed of Messrs. J. P. Byrne, A. J. H. Stewart and T. Blanchard, ex-M. P., will be in the field in the interests of the opposition to try conclusions with the government forces. This will be a strong combination and has an equal chance to win.

There is also talk of Mr. P. J. Veniot, Esq., Col. of Customs of Bathurst, and who was an active member of the local government for a number of years, entering politics and that he will be offered a portfolio in Mr. Robinson's government. Whether this is so or not we could not ascertain, but if Mr. Veniot does again enter the M. P. Veniot does again enter the especially considering Mr. Veniot's present position) this county will be the gainer, and the whole province will be benefitted by his elevation to the executive as he is a young man of marked ability. The government will also add to its strength in this county and could then be reasonably sure of winning out here at the next election.

A VETERAN LEGISLATOR DEAD.

John Young, M. P. P. for Gloucester Co., Gathered by The Grim Reaper.

HIS CAREER.

Largely Attended Funeral at Tracadie Sunday Afternoon.

Mr. John Young, M. P. P. for Gloucester County, died at his home in Tracadie on Friday morning of apoplexy.

The parliamentary Companion gives the following sketch of the life of Mr. Young, who was one of the best known men of Gloucester county:—

"John Young, born at Tracadie, N. B., May 1, 1841, son of James Young, Scotch, and his wife, Ann Ferguson, Canadian. Educated at Grammar school, Chatham. Married Nov. 18, 1867, Addie M. Hubbard, fourth daughter of Capt. William Hubbard, of Alberton, P. E. I. Was warden of Gloucester county two terms, and county councillor upwards of twenty years. A general merchant. Was first elected to the legislature at the general elections in April, 1886. Served full term, and retired from politics until 1899, then elected at by-election. Dec. 4, 1899, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of P. J. Veniot, who was appointed collector of customs at Bathurst. Re-elected at general elections, 1903. A Liberal."

The late Mr. Young was well known to all sportsmen and other visitors to Tracadie, and was a member of a family distinguished in the history of Gloucester county.

Mr. Young's funeral took place from his residence to the Presbyterian burying ground at Tracadie at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Many people from Bathurst, Pokemouche and Tabusintac and other places were present. A special train bringing a large number of friends from Caraque arrived at 2 p. m. Rev. Mr. McKay, of Tabusintac, and Rev. G. R. McKean, of Stonehaven, officiated. The pallbearers were: Messrs. T. M. Burns, M. P. P., Jos. Poirier, M. P. P., P. H. Melvin, William Archer, Hugh Cowan and Michael Sonier.

LUMBER MILLS AT MILLERTON.

Two Enterprising Firms Have Plants in Operation.—Seventy Men Employed.

Millerton has now two lumber mills in operation and these give employment to at least seventy men.

The larger of the two was erected by the Renous Lumber Co. and has been running for some time. This mill employs between thirty and forty hands, and is doing good work. The mill has a rotary, lath and shingle machines. This enterprising company are to be complimented on the success their mill has met with since its start.

The other mill was completed last week, and ran for a few hours giving perfect satisfaction. It was built by an American firm, Vanderbeek & Co., of which the genial John Vanderbeek of Millerton is manager. This mill is also of rotary pattern, with lath and shingle machines and will employ between twenty-five and thirty-five hands. It is now running steadily. Millerton thus has two new industries which will assist materially in furnishing employment and prosperity to that community.

At Bedford on Wednesday, July 10th Mr. and Mrs. W. J. DeBlois celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their marriage. Many on the Miramichi and Bathurst join with Bedford and Halifax friends in wishing them many more years of happy wedded life.

PUBLIC MEETING AT CARAQUET.

Held in the Interests of The Gloucester Navigation Company.

THE SPEAKERS.

Gloucester County Rapidly Developing.—Great Growth of Caraque.—A New Paper.

Last Wednesday evening, in the Caraque College Hall, a public meeting was held called by the Gloucester Steam Navigation Co. There was a large audience composed entirely of men. Rev. Fr. LeBastard, Superior of the College, was chosen chairman. On the platform were several of the Eudiste Fathers and Messrs. P. P. Morais, manager of the S. N. Co.; Dr. F. N. Comeau, Vice-President, Turgeon, M. P.; T. J. B. Leger, Warden of the County; P. J. Veniot, ex-M. P. P.; Chas. L. Robichaud, D. T. Robichaud and H. B. Anslow.

The first speaker was Mr. Morais. After a eulogistic reference to the reverend fathers for their share in the success of the company, he reviewed the corporation's progress since its inception a few months ago. One of the advantages the company had brought was the rallying of the French element of the county. The enterprise has the support of the general public. Much custom was being received from the north of the Bay as well as from the New Brunswick side, thus justifying the Company's demands for the Dominion subsidy which has been promised. In closing he appealed for more shareholders and still more interest in order to place the enterprise upon a permanent basis.

Mr. Turgeon followed, expressing the opinion that, by securing the erection of many wharves along the coast, he had aided materially the business interests of the county. He was, as ever, disposed to do all in his power to help along the development of Gloucester, but needed the hearty co-operation of his constituents. The sum of $15,000 will be voted next session for extension of Miscou wharf. Beginning next year, the Navigation company would have an annual subsidy of $2,000. After that he would endeavor to have a wharf constructed at Lower Caraque. The distribution of buoys would be made next year by the Beaver. Next year the railway will be extended to the new wharf at Caraque.

Mr. D. T. Robichaud complimented the company upon their success and Mr. Turgeon upon good work the latter had done for the county. He did not however thank the Liberal party for the wharves, etc., but attributed such improvements to the efforts of Mr. Turgeon and his constituents. Although Mr. Turgeon credited everything to the government, he had admitted the contrary by declaring that Gloucester was getting more than its share. He closed by announcing that there would soon be a new French paper in Bathurst, for which he solicited his hearers' support.

Mr. Veniot strongly encouraged the people to take shares in the steamship company as large dividends would be forthcoming, and was much in favor of starting the new paper. He congratulated Mr. Robichaud on his political attitude since entering upon editorial life.

Mr. Anslow referred to the great progress made by Caraque during the last few years. Fifteen years ago it was a mere village, now a town of prominence. As a shareholder, he was sure of the Company's success.

Warden Leger advised everyone to take shares in the Company to avoid it being monopolized by a few.

KEEP IT OUT FOR GOOD.

In order to eliminate one factor that always increases disturbances the Ontario government issued orders last week that no liquor should be carried into Cobalt, where there is a strike of 2,500 miners. Hotels in neighboring towns are also forbidden to sell liquor in packages.

This is a wise move. There will be enough trouble before the strike is settled, without any intoxicated irresponsibles to fan the flames. The government's action is a plain confession that liquor-drinking tends to create and multiply disturbance. This granted, why not prohibit the importation and sale in all places and at all times? Nothing good can at any time result from the traffic; and much loss of life, health and property would be avoided were all governments to permanently outlaw the business.

THE JARROW ELECTION.

As mentioned in our news columns at the time, the Irish Nationalist party in the British parliament definitely renounced their alliance with the government on the 19th ult., because of the latter allowing the introduction of a bill to appoint a commission to enquire as to the need for government inspection of monastic and convent establishments. As a bye-election was pending in Jarrow, an English constituency containing a large Irish vote, the Nationalists, in order to weaken the government, which had long held the seat, put up a candidate of their own to contest the district. Pete Curran, another Irishman and a life-long Home Ruler, ran as the Socialist candidate, and the Unionist Tariff Reformers also put a man in the field, making with the government supporter four aspirants for the one place. The result of this first attempt of the Nationalists against the government was a great disappointment to them, as their candidate stood last on the list when the votes were counted. The Irishman won, however, for Curran carried the seat with a majority of 768. The government majority at the last election had been over 2,000.

CHILD'S PLAY.

Working men learn slowly. The Dutch dock-laborers struck in Rotterdam a few days ago because of the introduction of elevators in unloading grain ships. Only by an imposing display of military and naval force on the part of the government have the laborers been prevented from smashing the new machinery and wrecking the ships. Similar riots occurred all over England seventy or eighty years ago, when labor-saving machinery was being introduced on a large scale. Many machines were destroyed, but new machines were permanently installed just the same; and the workers had to accommodate themselves to the new conditions. So will the Dutchmen. The wheels of progress will not stop for them in Holland any more than for the agricultural and other workmen of England in the last century. Machinery is too evidently a blessing to humanity to be discarded at this late day. However, the fact remains that every machine introduced tends to lessen the remuneration and permanency of employment. But the fault is not with the machine, it is with the ownership of the machine. The machine always saves money for its owners. When the laborers wake up to the fact that their numerical majority makes it possible

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual cause to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend for them, by legislative means, to obtain possession of the machinery they operate, they will see how foolish was the custom of stopping work and smashing things to gain their ends. For a hundred years or more the great mass of laboring men have wasted more energy in useless strikes than, rightly expended, would have sufficed to put them in complete control of every government in Europe and America.

IN PROSPEROUS

NEW BRUNSWICK.

In a corner of one of the supervised playgrounds on Saturday a little girl was observed crying in a disconsolate way, and when approached by a sympathetic lady she said in answer to enquiry: "They say I'm too dirty to play with them in the sand pile."

The child's dress was certainly not clean but when she explained the reason there were tears very close to the eyes of the lady who listened:—

"Mamma was going to wash it last night, but she works in the factory and my father was so sick she had to wait on him."

The father ill, the mother working in the factory to support the home, and the little girl repulsed by playmates because her dress was not as clean as theirs. Here is a little story of heart interest, the pathos of which should not be lost upon men and women whose children are denied nothing that love and care and ample means should provide for them.

Some people have said there is no need of playgrounds, now that Rockwood Park is open with all its grand attractions. Of what value is Rockwood Park to these little girl and hundreds of other too small to go there and too poor to pay for the pleasures offered? If well-to-do citizens would visit the more congested districts in the town and look about them, taking note of the little children in the streets and gutters and back-yards and doorways, they would never again question the desirability of an effort to introduce a little more sunshine in these young lives.

WHY THE POOR

ARE DISCONTENTED.

One can hardly credit the story that is told of child-labor and sweat-shop methods in some English cities, and yet the story is told by a factory inspector. We quote from a review in a recent letter from London:—

Miss Squire, a lady inspector of factories, giving evidence touching the evils of home-work before a committee of the British House of Commons, said that the employment of children was very prevalent in the lace trade in Nottingham. It was quite a common thing at the dinner-hour to see children busy with lace work, without having stopped to take off hat or jacket. The children were given something to eat on the way back to school. It was said that children started work at four years of age, and she herself had seen children working at six years of age. Children twelve years old were found earning several shillings a week on their own account. In the Birmingham metal trade children were employed at home sorting out small articles. They could be seen at night picking out hooks and eyes, and their little fingers were very clever at the work. Children in the past had been largely employed in the match-box trade. That was dying out as a trade, owing to the introduction of machine-made boxes, but similar boxes for tin tacks and other small things were still made with the help of children. Much of the work could hardly be done even by the very poorest unless it were done by the children sitting with their mother. The witness said that 2d. was paid for making boy's knickers, from 4d. to 9d. for men's coats, from 5d. to 8d. a pair for trousers. Spoilt work was charged against the out-worker. In one case she knew of a coat, for which 1d. would have been paid for making, being spoilt, and the worker was charged 8d. for it, that being the cost of the materials and the cutting. At other times the selling price would be charged against the worker. The price paid for making shirts was as low as 6d. a dozen. One case which came under her notice was that of a widow who was left with two young children to support. She found her making shirts at 8 3/4d. a dozen, and she had to provide her own cotton, a 4d. reel making three dozen shirts. Her earnings varied from 5s. to 8s. a week. Match-boxes were paid for at 2d. per gross, or 1 3/4d. without sandpaper. Materials cost the worker 1 3/4d. for seven gross.

What is a Backache?

IT IS NATURE'S WARNING TO WOMEN

Women's Organism Cured and Consequent Pain Stopped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"It seems as though my back would break." Women utter these words over and over again, but continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, "bearing-down" pains, nervousness and no ambition for any task.

They do not realize that the back is the mainspring of woman's organism, and quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the female organs or kidneys, and that the aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been for many years the one and only effective remedy in such cases. It speedily cures female organs and kidney disorders and restores the female organs to a healthy condition.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— I suffered a long time with female trouble, having intense pains in the back and abdomen and very sick headaches every month. I was tired and nervous all the time and life looked very dreary to me and I had no desire to live until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to get some relief. My recovery was slow but it was sure, and I never regretted the money spent for the Compound as it brought me back to good health. "It seems to be a medicine especially adapted to the ills of our sex and I am glad to say a good word for it."—Mrs. Albert Mann, 184 Gore Vale Ave., Toronto, Ont.

No other person can give such helpful advice to women who are sick as can Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free.

and, in addition, the worker had to keep the room warm for drying purposes, and tie the boxes up neatly in packages. Blisters on the boxes caused their rejection. Corsets which were sold at 1s. 0 1/2d. to 1s. 11d. were made by home-workers for 10 1/2d. a dozen, and in this way a woman was able to earn 1s. 9d. in three days.—St. John Evening Times.

WHAT IS A BLENDED FLOUR?

Cooking schools and cooking experts have never grown so enthusiastic over any other flour, as they have over blended flour. And the enthusiasm is well merited.

What is blended flour you ask? It is a blend, adopted for some time by most millers, consisting of Ontario fall wheat (which is sown in the autumn and reaped in the late summer), and Manitoba spring wheat, the fall. The first is mellowed, and given a rich consistency and fine flavor by remaining all winter in the ground, maturing slowly during the summer months. Up in the Northwest they have several hours more sunshine every day in summer than comes to more southern lands, and wheat matures quickly into hard, flinty grain containing a large percentage of gluten. These two wheats, when blended scientifically in just the right proportion, make the most nutritious, finely flavored and successful flour that can be obtained.

Blended flour is unreservedly recommended by those learned in culinary mysteries for both bread and pastry.

There is no doubt that Blended Flour is the perfect flour.

DISTRICT DIVISION MET WEDNESDAY.

Seventh Session Convened With Grangeville Division,
No. 440.
573 MEMBERS.

One New Division and Three Re-Organized During Last Quarter.

The Kent-Northumberland District Division, Sons of Temperance met with Grangeville Division, No. 440, on Wednesday afternoon, 30th inst. Officers and delegates present were:—
Ald. T. A. Clarke, D. W. P., Newcastle.
Henry Harvey Stuart, D. S., Newcastle.
Harcourt, No. 438—James McKa, Wathen, and Misses Grace K. Bailey, Marion J. Dunn and Helen M. Buckfield.
Grangeville—E. W. B. Smith, H. J. Smith, Allan Haines, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Jonah, Mrs. O. S. Jones, Mrs. J. Irvine Blakney and Misses Alma West and Beulah Colpitts.

Besides the above there were a large number of visiting members from Harcourt and Grangeville divisions.

The District Scribe's report showed that during the quarter ending June 30th Bay View Division had been organized at Bay du Vin; and the following divisions had been reorganized:—New Era at Nelson; River View at Coates Mills, and Rosefield at McLaughlin Road. The Northumberland Temperance Federation was making slow progress.

On June 30th, Harcourt Division had 100 members; Grangeville, 79; Newcastle, 56; Bay View, 55; Richibucto, 43; Miramichi (Burnt Church), 26; New Era, 20. Estimated membership of non-reporting, but still active, divisions was:—Caledonia (Douglasville), 48; Silver Stream (Black Brook), 25; Nelson (Derby), 20; Bass River, 74; River View, 20; Rosefield, 20. Total in the district was about 586. Total on March 31st was about 454, and on December 31st, 1906, was 520. The decrease in the first quarter of 1907 was caused by Northumberland (Chatham) and Maple Leaf (Tabusintac) Divisions becoming dormant during that period. Outside of Chatham and Newcastle it was hard to get liquor in Northumberland County.

The report was received and adopted. The financial report, received and adopted, showed a surplus of $1.42. The collection at the public meeting in the evening increased this to $4.06.

A general discussion on the state of the order followed, in which Messrs. Clarke, H. W. B. Smith, Jonah and Stuart, Mrs. O. S. Jones and others took part. The fact was brought out that in Grangeville 90 per cent. of the adults belong to the division and consequently all the young people old enough to join.

On motion of Mr. H. W. B. Smith and Miss Grace K. Bailey, a resolution was passed deploring the fact that Chatham's division had again become dormant and tendering that division assurance of any assistance required.

Next quarterly session will be at Newcastle on Wednesday, October 23rd.

The public meeting in the evening was largely attended by the people of Grangeville and Harcourt. Mr. H. W. B. Smith, presided.

The program (which had to be considerably shortened to allow the Newcastle delegates to catch the Maritime express) was as follows:—

HEAVY ELECTRIC STORM.

A Girl Killed at Painesec, and Many Narrow Escapes Throughout The Province.

Among the victims of the terrible electric storm of Tuesday the 9th inst., was the thirteen year old daughter of Jacob Trites, I. C. R. section man, at Painesec. Trites' daughter was standing in the door of her father's house when struck and instantly killed. The corner of the house was wrecked, but none of the other occupants were injured beyond a slight shock. The child's death was undoubtedly due to standing in the draught in the doorway.

At Fredericton lightning struck and splintered the flagpole of the postoffice, and was deflected down one of the iron stays saving the building and its inmates. Mr. David McIntyre's house, in Loggieville was struck, but no one injured.

O'BRIEN VERSUS O'BRIEN.

To-day (17th) is polling day in the provincial election in Hants Co. N. S. The Liberal (government) candidate is James O'Brien, and his conservative opponent is Everett A. O'Brien. Prohibition is a prominent issue of the contest. Both candidates are Presbyterian elders and pronounced temperance men. The conservative is for provincial prohibition, while the Liberal claims that the province already has the best machinery in Canada for the effective curtailment of the liquor traffic.

I. O. G. T. MEET IN ST JOHN.

A Very Prosperous Year.—Much Propaganda Work Accomplished.

INCREASE 315.

Will Support Candidates Pledged to Prohibition Regardless of Party Affiliations.

The seventy-seventh annual session of the Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. of New Brunswick met in St. John on the 9th and 10th inst.

During the year there have been held under the auspices of the I. O. G. T. through the Grand, District and subordinate lodges, 381 public meetings at which one or more addresses on some phase of the temperance question have been delivered. There have also been held 3,640 lodge meetings attended on an average by 34 persons. The lodges have raised, in addition to collections at public meetings, the sum of $1,175. This money has been spent in procuring temperance literature, procuring appliance for conducting in a better manner lodges and public meetings, and building and improving halls at which such meetings are held. The order during the year has conducted in New Brunswick over 4,000 meetings and expended over $5,000 for the advancement of the temperance cause. This easily puts it in the fore front of all organizations working directly or indirectly in New Brunswick for the promotion of temperance. There are at present 71 active lodges with a membership of 2,850. The net gain in membership during the year was 315.

The following report of the Committee on political action was unanimously adopted:—

"Your committee are glad to note the marked and rising tide of temperance sentiment in this province, and the growing determination on the part of the people to abolish the drink traffic, and recommend the adoption of the following:—Resolved, That in the opinion of this grand lodge the time has come now when a stringent prohibitory act should be placed upon the statute books of this province, and this grand lodge pledges itself to support candidates pledged to the enactment of such a law regardless of party affiliations. We endorse the action of the N. B. Temperance Federation in appointing a committee to conserve the interests of the temperance people in the approaching provincial elections."

J. Vernon Jackson, Moncton, was re-elected G. C. T. and Editor of the Templar, and L. R. Hetherington, Richibucto, G. Sec. Michael Kelly, "the blind orator," St. Martins was chosen Grand Electoral Supt.

Next meeting will be in Moncton.

WORTH TAKING

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;
One ounce Compound Salatsone;
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;
Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, is pronounced by a prominent physician to be the best mixture for the cure of the kidney, bladder, and all urinary troubles.

This says the doctor, is the most simple though remarkable prescription ever written to cleanse the system of impurities and waste matter. It acts as a powerful tonic to the kidneys, forcing them to filter out the acids and poisons, overcoming rheumatism, lame back, sciatica and other afflictions arising from sour, impure blood.

The ingredients can be procured at any good drug store, and being purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can only be misused at home.

If you have a suffering friend show this to him, as he will undoubtedly be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended a remedy.

Bowel Troubles

Liver pills, cathartics, mineral waters, often make Constipation worse. They merely irritate the bowels and force them to move—stop taking purgatives and the bowels become "tight" again.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the one certain cure for Constipation because their action is upon the liver. "Fruit-a-tives" are a liver tonic. They stimulate the secretions of bile by the liver, this bile causes the bowels to move in the natural, regular way and completely cures Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices with tonics and antiseptics added. In "Fruit-a-tives" one atom of bitter replaces one atom of sweet in the fruit juices, forming a new compound which is many times more active, medicinally, than the fruit juices could possibly be. 50c. a box—$2.50 for 6 boxes. SOWING DRAGONS' TEETH.

The fact that Mr. St. Rosewell Roles, visiting St. John, N. B. in the interests of the Belleville (Virginia) Industrial school, was, along with his wife and Miss Clements, both teachers in the same school, and his two children, refused admittance to the city hotels one night last week and compelled to walk the streets until taken by a policeman to the electric light station, reflects no credit on the leading city of our province, and will not tend to impress the colored races of the world—whether Negro, Hindu or Mongolian—with the superiority of Canadian religion and civilization. It is disgraceful that colored educationists whose reputation is above suspicion should be debarrd from hotels simply because they were not born white. The childishness of boycotting fellowmen because of their color, which is something entirely beyond human control, should be sufficient to prevent any sane people from committing such a foolish and altogether unreasonable act. Our white fire-eaters should remember that all kinds of white people (some of whom, too, are pretty swarthy,) taken together number only one-third of the world's population. Such intolerant acts may easily bring about a confederation of all colored races against us. A struggle against an outraged enemy twice as numerous and led by such practised fighters as the Japanese is not a pleasing prospect; but that is the end to which the foolish tactics of those who hate and despise all colored men is rapidly driving us. For every insult we heap upon the unoffending, law-abiding Negro, Hindu, Chinese or Jap, the whole white race shall ultimately pay in blood and tears. Injustice never pays. Let us pause a moment and consider our ways.

GREAT PROGRESS AT CARAQUET.

Improvements Evident in all Lines—Fine New Hotel.

Caraget, July 15.—One who has not been a regular visitor to Caraget for the past four or five years will see great changes here. Progress has been general along all lines, and business for the year, considering the stormy fishing season, has been very good.

Among the marked improvements in Caraget is the fine "Hotel Belvedere," recently erected by Mr. P. P. Albert. This hotel is without an exception the most commodious and luxuriously furnished in the province, outside the cities, and for a town the size of Caraget is a monument to the pluck and enterprise of the proprietor, and demonstrates his faith in the further progress, along commercial lines, of this hustling French community. The hotel is a large three storey building, with piazzas, a large dome and palm garden. The interior finishing is all in natural hardwood, the offices, writing room, smoking room and parlors are large and comfortable, lighted by large plate glass windows. The chambers are all of comfortable dimensions, and well furnished. The dining room is exceptionally commodious, and neatly furnished. Seats for seventy-five guests can easily be arranged, while more can be accommodated if occasion required. The service here is all that can be desired, and considering the disadvantages under which "mine hosts" labors in procuring a variety of edibles, the menu is equal to that served at the Newcastle, Chatham or Campbellton hotels. From a tourist standpoint Caraget has many advantages, which if known would be more appreciated by many who desire to spend a few weeks at the seashore. It has a splendid beach, the drives are enticing and within easy reaching distance the trout fishing is good. The weather is always cooled by refreshing sea breezes and these coupled with the first class hotel accommodation, which can be had at very reasonable rates by the week, should bring Caraget to the fore as a summer resort.

Within easy distance, and now connected by a steamer plying between the different ports, are such places of note as Lunenburg, Miscou and Shippegan. A no more pleasant sail could be taken than the round trip on the steamer "Plover" of the Gloucester Navigation Co. Its obliging manager, Mr. P. P. Morris will leave nothing undone to make the trip a pleasant one, and will supply all information on request.

Under the fostering care of this steamship service, trade with the villages at the eastern end of the county of Gloucester is steadily increasing and new industries launched which will materially help in bringing the county into greater prominence. In the matter of transportation this section of the county has in the past suffered, but we trust better things are in store, and that both the Local and Federal governments will recognize this and grant sufficient aid to the company to assist it in making the improvements contemplated, and that the very necessary public works will be erected to enable trade to be carried on in a satisfactory manner.

The crop outlook in this section of the county is exceptionally good and on every hand reports are very favorable, except in some districts where the land is low and drainage not sufficient to carry off the surplus rain. In the matter of farming also great improvements are being made. The people have learned the value of good farm produce and now attend carefully to the farm work, as well to fishing. The lumbering industry is al-

It is stated the fire was due to incendiarism—that the building in which it started was saturated with oil, and that the fire fighting apparatus was tampered with the siamese' having been removed and two joints of hose cut.

REDBANK.

THE NEW CHURCH.

At the dedication of the new St. Stephen's Presbyterian church at Redbank on June 30, there were large congregations, and the offering amounted to $300 which goes toward the building fund. The building, which is a beautiful wooden structure of a modern design, with a substantial stone basement, has an auditorium with a seating capacity of 250. A Sunday school room with accommodation for folding doors which admit of the two being thrown into one large audience room, on special occasions. The pews are of oak and elm and were the best made by the Globe Furniture Company, Walkerville, Ont. A beautiful memorial window to the memory of "James Holmes, and Catherine his wife," was presented to the church by Wm. Holmes, of Pembine, Wis. The pulpit furniture and bell were donated by the Mission Circle, "United Workers". Everything about the church is complete—pulpit, table, chairs, carpet, etc.

The contractor was Mr. P. A. Forsyth, of Whiteville, and the architect J. M. Troy, of Newcastle. The cost of the building was about $5,000. The church which is one of the most handsome and convenient in the Presbytery, reflects great credit upon both the pastor, Rev. G. S. Wittchell, and his people.

This industry depends largely on the Caraget and Gulf Shore Railway in getting its product to the markets. This road under the energetic management of Mr. Webster is giving more satisfactory service, and improvements are being made all along the line as business warrants.

NEW FISH HATCHERY FOR MIRAMICHI.

Old Buildings Being Torn Down and Up-to-Date Ones to be Erected.

That the artificial propagation of Salmon and trout is beneficial to the fishing interests of the North Shore is admitted by all, and the only regret in the past has been that the old fish hatchery was not constructed according to modern ideas, and consequently, although Mr. Isaac Sheasgreen, who is in charge, is a very capable and painstaking overseer, the results have not been as good as he or the department would wish. In order to improve matters it has been decided to rebuild, at the same place, a fine, up-to-date hatchery, one which will rank with any in the Maritime provinces. The new buildings will cost about $5,000, and work is now going on at the hatchery.

Another departure has been made this year, and all the parent fish have been caught during the season in nets put out near the hatchery, so that the fish entered the retaining pond in prime condition, and no doubt better spawn will be the result. In Mr. Sheasgreen and his son the department have men who take a deep interest in their work, and who for years have made a special study of these fish. This has been noticeable in the good results obtained even under disadvantages.

"You see," he said, "it is only natural that the great many people should give me the cold shoulder. My story was a little tame. There is no reason why they should believe in me."

"I believe in you," she answered. "It was a very unpleasant business," he said in a jerky, self-conscious voice. "I didn't know that I was that sort of fellow. The temptation was very great. I nearly gave in and let him do it. He was a stronger man than I. You know—we did not get on well together. He always hoped that I would turn out a literary sort of fellow, and I suppose he was disappointed. I tried at one time, but I found it was no good. From indifference it turned almost to hatred. He disliked me intensely, and I am afraid I did not care for him very much."

Millicent was listening gravely without interrupting—like a man. She had the gift of adapting herself to her environments in a marked degree.

"And," he added curtly, "no one knows how much I wanted that three thousand a year."

The girl moved uneasily and glanced toward the conservatory.

"It was not the money that tempted me," said Guy very deliberately; "it was you."

She rose from her chair as if to join her aunt and the horticultural old gentleman.

"You must not say that," she said in little more than a whisper, and without looking round she went toward Lady Cantourne. Her eyes were gleaming with a singular suppressed excitement, such as one sees in the eyes of a man fresh from a mad run across country.

Guy Oscar rose also and followed more deliberately. There was nothing for him to do but take his leave.

"But," said Lady Cantourne graciously, "if you are determined to go away, you must at least come and say goodby before you leave."

"Thanks; I should like to do so, if I may."

"We shall be deeply disappointed if you forget," said Millicent, holding out her hand, with a smile full of light heartedness and innocent girlish friendship.

the river. The third was killed by the contact of six paddles with the gunwale of the canoe as the paddlers withdrew them from the water.

Victor Durnovo rose again and brought from the boat a second rifle, which he laid beside the double-barreled Remington which was never more than a yard away from him, whether sleeping or awake.

He knew that no boat could reach the bank without his full permission, for all the rowers could be killed before they got within a hundred yards of his rifle. He was probably the best rifle shot but one in that country, and the other, the very best, happened to be in the approaching canoe.

After the space of ten minutes the boat came in sight—a long, black form on the still waters. It was too far away for him to distinguish anything beyond the fact that it was a native boat.

"Eight hundred yards," muttered Durnovo over the sight of his rifle.

He looked upon this river as his own, and he knew the native of equatorial Africa. Therefore he dropped a bullet into the water, under the bow of the canoe, at 800 yards.

A moment later there was a sound which can only be written "P-tit" between his legs, and he had to wipe a shower of dust from his eyes. A puff of blue smoke rose slowly over the boat and a sharp report broke the silence a second time.

Then Victor Durnovo leaped to his feet and waved his hat in the air. From the canoe there was an answering greeting, and the man on the bank went to the water's edge, still carrying the rifle from which he was never parted.

Durnovo was the first to speak when the boat came within hail.

"Very sorry," he shouted. "Thought you were a native boat. Must establish a link-up in the first shot, you know."

"All right," replied one of the Europeans in the approaching craft, with a courteous wave of the hand, "no harm done."

There were two white men and six blacks in the long and clumsy boat. One of the Europeans lay in the bow while the other was stretched at his ease in the stern, reclining on the canvas of a neatly folded tent. The last named was evidently the leader of the little expedition, while the manner and attitude of the man in the bow suggested the servitude of a disciplined soldier slightly relaxed by abnormal circumstances.

"Who fired that shot?" inquired Durnovo, when there was no longer any necessity to shout.

"Joseph," replied the man in the stern of the boat, indicating his companion. "Was it a near thing?"

"About as near as I care about. It threw up the dust between my legs." The man called Joseph grinned.

Nature had given him liberally of the wherewithal for indulgence in that relaxation, and Durnovo smiled rather constrainedly. Joseph was grabbing at the long reedy grass, bringing the canoe to a standstill, and it was some moments before his extensive mouth submitted to control.

"I presume you are Mr. Durnovo?" said the man in the stern of the boat, rising leisurely from his recumbent position and speaking with a courteous savor faire which seemed slightly out of place in the wilds of central Africa.

"He was a tall man with a small aristocratic head and a refined face, which somehow suggested an aristocrat of old France."

"Yes," answered Durnovo. The tall man stepped ashore and held out his hand.

"I am glad we have met you," he said. "I have a letter of introduction to you from Maurice Gordon of Loango."

slightly. His eyes—blue, clear, and unclouded—took a new light.

"Ah!" he answered. "Are you a friend of Maurice Gordon's?"

There was another question in this, an unspoken one, and Victor Durnovo was watching for the answer. But the face he watched was like a delicately carved piece of brown marble, with a courteous, impenetrable smile.

"I met him again the other day at Loango. He is an old Etonian, like myself."

This conveyed nothing to Durnovo, who belonged to a different world, whose education was like other things about him, an unknown quantity.

"My name," continued the tall man, "is Meredith—John Meredith—sometimes called Jack."

They were walking up the bank toward the dusky and unwinding tent.

"And the other fellow?" inquired Durnovo, with a backward jerk of the head.

"Oh, he is my servant."

Durnovo raised his eyebrows in somewhat contemptuous amusement and proceeded to open the letter which Meredith had handed him.

"Not many fellows," he said, "on this coast can afford to keep a European servant."

"I understand," answered Meredith, with a half-suppressed yawn, "that the country gets finer farther up; more mountainous."

The proprietors of very dark eyes would do well to remember that to one side or the other. The attention of dark eyes is more easily felt than the glances of gray or blue eyes.

Jack Meredith's suspicions were aroused by the suspicious manner of Durnovo.

"There is no white man knows this river as I do, and I do not recommend it. Look at me, on the verge of jaundice; look at this wound on my arm, it began with a scratch and has never healed. All that comes from a month up this cursed river."

Jack Meredith's suspicions were aroused by the suspicious manner of Durnovo.

"I certainly shall," replied Meredith. "We will discuss it after dinner. My chap is a first-rate cook. Have you got anything to add to the menu?"

"Not a thing. I've been living on plantains and dried elephant meat for the last fortnight."

"Doesn't sound nourishing. Well, we are pretty well provided, so perhaps you will give me the pleasure of your company to dinner? Come as you are; no ceremony. I think I will wash, though. It is as well to keep up these old customs."

CHAPTER VII
IN that part of Africa which lies within touch of the equator life is essentially a struggle. There is hunger about, and where hunger is the emotions will be found also.

Now, Jack Meredith was a past master in the concealment of these, and, as such, came to Victor Durnovo in the guise of a new creation. He had lived the latter and the larger part of his life among men who said, in action if not in words, I am hungry or I am thirsty; I want this, or I want that; and if you are not strong enough to keep it, I will take it from you.

This man was different, and Victor Durnovo did not know, could not find out, what he wanted.

He had at first been inclined to laugh at him. What struck him most forcibly was Joseph, the servant. The idea of a man swaggering up an African river with a European manservant was so preposterous that it could only be met with ridicule; but the thing seemed so natural to Jack Meredith, he accepted the servitude of Joseph so much as a matter of course that after a time Durnovo accepted him also as part and parcel of Meredith.

Joseph took off his coat, turned up his sleeves and proceeded to cook such a dinner as Durnovo had not tasted for many months. There was wine also, and afterward a cigar of such quality as appealed strongly to Durnovo's West Indian palate.

The night settled down over the land while they sat there, and before them the great yellow equatorial moon rose slowly over the trees. With the darkness came a greater silence, for the myriad insect life was still.

"So," said Durnovo, returning to the subject which had never really left his thoughts, "you have come out here for pleasure?"

"Not exactly. I came chiefly to make money, partly to dispel some of the illusions of my youth, and I am getting on very well. Picture book illusions were there. The man who drew the pictures had never seen Africa."

But for making money, for work and steady work, I am afraid, Mr. Durnovo, that I am distinctly the wrong sort."

There was a little pause. Durnovo looked round as if to make sure that Joseph and the boatman were out of ear shot.

"Can you keep a secret?" he asked suddenly.

Jack Meredith turned and looked at the questioner with a smile. His hat had slipped to the back of his head, the light of the great yellow moon fell full upon his clean cut sphinxlike face. The eyes alone seemed living.

"Yes, I can do that."

"I can see you're a gentleman," Durnovo said. "I'll trust you. I want a man to join me in making a fortune. I have got my hand on it at last. But I'm afraid of this country. I'm getting shaky; look at that hand. I've been looking for it too long. I take you into my confidence, the first corner, you'll think. But there are not many men like you in this country, and I'm heavily afraid of dying. I want to get out of this for a bit, but I dare not leave until I see things going."

"Take your time," said Meredith, quietly and soothingly. "Light that cigar again and lie down. There is no hurry."

Durnovo obeyed him meekly.

"Tell me," he said, "have you ever heard of simlacine?"

"I cannot say that I have," replied Jack. "What is it for, brown boots or spasm?"

"It is a drug, the most expensive drug in the market. And they must have it, they cannot do without it, and they cannot find a substitute. It is the leaf of a shrub, and your hatful is worth a thousand pounds."

"Where is it to be found?" asked Jack Meredith. "I should like some in a sack."

"Ah, you may laugh now, but you won't when you hear all about it. The scientific chaps called it simlacine, because of an old African legend which, like all those things, has a grain of truth in it. The legend is that the monkeys first found out the properties of the leaf, and it is because they live on it that they are so strong. Do you know that a gorilla's arm is not half so thick as yours, and yet he would take you and snap your backbone across his knee? He would bend a gun barrel as you would bend a cane, merely by the turn of his wrist. That is simlacine. He can hang on to a tree with one leg and tackle a leopard with his bare hands—that's simlacine. At home they are only just beginning to get out its properties. It seems that it can bring a man back to life when he is more than half dead. There is no knowing what children that are brought up on it may turn out to be. It may double the power of the human brain; some think it will."

Jack Meredith was leaning forward, watching with a certain sense of fascination the wild, disease-stricken face, knowing that the man's breathless periods. It seemed that the fear of death, which had got hold of him, gave Victor Durnovo no time to pause for breath.

"Yes," said the Englishman, "yes, go on."

"There is practically no limit to the demand that there is for it. At present the only way of obtaining it is through the natives, and you know their manner of trading. They send a little packet down from the interior, and it very often takes two months and more to reach the buyer's hands. The money is sent back the same way and each man who fingers it keeps a little. The natives find the leaf in the forests by the aid of trained monkeys and only in very small quantities. Do you follow me?"

"Yes, follow you."

Victor Durnovo leaned forward until his face was within three inches of Meredith's, and the dark, wild eyes flashed and glared into the Englishman's steady glance.

"What," he hissed—"what if I know where simlacine grows like a weed? What if I could supply the world with simlacine at my own price? Eh-hi! What of that, Mr. Meredith?"

He threw himself suddenly back and wiped his dripping face. There was a silence, the great African silence that drives educated men mad and fills the imagination of the poor heathen with wild tales of devils and spirits.

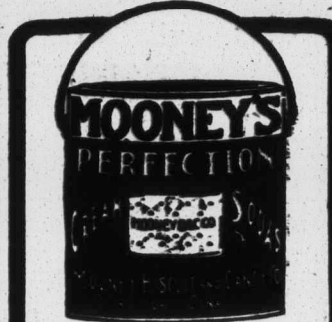

Then Jack Meredith spoke without moving.

"If your man," he said, "with a few more details."

Victor Durnovo was lying back at full length on the hard, dry mud, his arms beneath his head. Without altering his position, he gave the details, speaking slowly and much more quietly. It seemed as if he spoke the result of long pent up thought.

"We shall want," he said, "at least 22,000 to start it, for we must have an armed force of our own. We have to penetrate a cannibal country of the fiercest devils in Africa. It is a plateau, a little plateau of two square miles, and the pilgrims think that it is haunted by an evil spirit. When we get there we shall have to hold it by force of arms, and when we send the stuff down to the coast we must have an escort of picked men. The bushes grow up there as thick as gooseberry bushes in a garden at home. With a little cultivation they will yield twice as much as they do now. We shall want another partner. I know a man, a soldierly fellow, full of fight, who knows the natives and the country. I will undertake to lead you there, but you will have to take great care of me. You will have to have me carried most of the way. I am weak, devilish weak, and I am afraid of dying, but I know the way there, and no other man can say as much. It is in my head here; it is not written down. It's only in my head, and no one can get it out of there."

OFFICER HILL TRIED FOR ASSAULT

Policeman T. C. Hill was tried before Police Magistrate Maltby on Wednesday afternoon, on an information laid by Albert Hickey, charging an assault occasioning grievous bodily harm. The complainant swore that Policeman Hill, who was accompanied by special officer John Jardine met him early in the morning of June 23 (the morning after circus day,) and asked him where he was going. He said he was going about his business, and Officer Hill took him by the collar and threw him to the ground, scratching his neck, and choked him when down until he said he was going to the station and the dance. Special officer Jardine, called by the defendant, swore that he had not seen Hill throw Hickey down as he had walked along toward the Singer office with a Frenchman just at the time. Officer Hill in his evidence said he was not sure whether complainant answered for him as he was going about his business, or "It's none of your business." He took the answer to be an uncivil one, and it angered him somewhat. He took complainant by the coat collar and twisted him around. He at first intended to take him to the lockup, but on second thought decided that to give him a shake up and send him home would answer his purpose. In giving him the shake Hickey came down on his back. He could not say whether he threw him down or he fell. The affair happened about 12:30 in the morning. In reply to questions by the Magistrate, it came out that the manager of the circus had informed the Mayor and Police Magistrate that liquor was being taken to the circus grounds, and the policemen had been instructed to look out for certain parties who were alleged to be taking it there. In his evidence Mr. Hickey swore that he was not taking liquor to the grounds in the dance tent, and that he was not drunk and had not touched liquor. The complainant was represented by Mr. A. A. Davidson while Mr. Hill conducted his own case. Both Mr. Davidson and the magistrate commented upon the fact that the town had not retained counsel for the policeman, who was acting, whether rightly or wrongly, in the discharge of his duty. Col. Maltby reserved his decision until tomorrow morning.

Digby, N. S. Nov. 12, '01. C. C. RICHARDS & CO. Gentlemen,—Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Two of the cuts, (small ones) healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten, and though I tried many kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks' time every sore was healed and the hair has grown over each one in fine condition. The Liniment is certainly wonderful in its working.

Woman Who so Often Deserted her Husband, Dies of Her Wounds.

A SAD CASE.

Husband, Will Plead Justification.—Finding of Coroner's Jury.

Fredericton, July 12.—Mrs. Thos. David of Lowell, Mass., who was shot by her Syrian husband at McAdam Junction, on the 8th, just as she was about to desert him for (as her husband alleges) the fourth time, died of her wound this afternoon in Woodstock hospital.

It was first thought that she would recover, but a doctor's examination showed that the bullet perforated the bowels, peritonitis set in, and although everything was done by the medical staff of the hospital that could be done to prolong life, it was of no avail. When her husband, in Fredericton jail, was told of her death, he exclaimed: "I wish I was dead, too." David claims his wife deserted him three times without cause, and on each occasion he had begged her to return.

On the day the shooting occurred she promised at Woodstock that she would accompany him to Lowell, but when McAdam was reached suddenly changed her mind. She purchased her own ticket and refused to enlighten him in regard to her destination. When he tried to compel her to tell, she invited him to go to the lower regions, and the remark so enraged him that he lost control of his temper and shot her.

David believes that he was justified in shooting the woman. He will be tried for murder, however. The prisoner has no money with which to engage counsel.

At the Coroner's inquest at Woodstock on Thursday the following verdict was rendered:—"We find that Julia David came to death from the effects of a wound caused by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of her husband, Tom David, while in the ladies' waiting room of the C. P. R. at McAdam Junction, on Monday last."

HAD BURN QUICKLY HEALED.
"I am so delighted with what Chamberlain's Salve has done for me that I feel bound to write and tell you so," says Mrs. Robert Iynton, 457 John St., Hamilton, Ontario. "My little daughter had had burn on her knee. I applied Chamberlain's Salve and it healed beautifully." This salve allays the pain of a burn almost instantly. It is for sale by all druggists.

After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the residence of the bride's father where dinner was served, a number of invited guests being present. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes are very popular among their many friends, and have the good wishes of all for a happy wedded life.

UNITED BAPTIST ANNUAL MEETING.

Good Year Reported.—Declaration in Favor of N. B. Temperance Federation and Prohibition.

The second annual meeting of the United Baptist Churches of N. B. met in Woodstock on the 10th and 11th inst., Rev. Jos. McLeod presiding.

The United Baptists outnumber any other two Protestant denominations in this province. It was recommended that salaries of pastors under the minimum salary plan be increased to the extent of $100 to $150 annually. Ministers are so scarce that efforts have been made to induce clergymen to come out from England.

Rev. F. J. Grant from committee of temperance, reported that while not all had been accomplished that was desired, yet there was reason to be thankful for what had been done. Baptists were behind none in fighting the liquor traffic, and desired again to put on record their uncompromising hatred to this evil and their sympathy with the N. B. Temperance Federation. They deplored the apathy of the people. It was urged upon all that by vote and influence, aid should be given in securing prohibition which is the only remedy. The churches are responsible because it is in their power to destroy it. After discussion by Rev. C. P. Wilson of Doaktown, Phillips, Daggett, Smith, McIntyre, Kierstead and Messrs. Weyman and Frost the motion was heartily carried.

Messrs. F. S. Porter, M. L. Orchard, Percy Hayward and R. S. Collingham were ordained as ministers; G. Bolster, M. McGill, F. Orchard and H. Sharp were licensed to preach.

The Editors of the Maritime Baptist were thanked for their work. Dr. Creed and Revs. E. J. Grant and C. P. Wilson desired that the paper (which has very favorably reviewed and commented upon the volume in question) should make a firm, outspoken pronouncement against the dangerous teachings of the so-called "new theology," as enunciated in Rev. Mr. Waring's book.

Rev. J. H. McDonald, Fredericton, was elected Moderator; and F. W. Emmerson, clerk.

It is rumored that the Rev. Fr. Whalen, of Balmoral, is to take charge of Pokemouche, and the Rev. Fr. Fitzpatrick will take charge of Jacquet River.

Mr. Thomas Foley has purchased a fine gasoline launch in St. John. It is 46 feet over all and pretty fast. It is expected here soon, and will be used by Mr. Foley in connection with fishing parties, etc., from the Hotel Miramichi.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson, Derby, Miramichi N. B. leave for New York on Saturday July 13th to meet their daughters, due to arrive in that port July 17th on the S. S. "Konigen Luise," North German Lloyd, sailing from Naples, Italy. The Misses Robinson have spent the year in the study of music and language and visiting the principal cities of Europe.

The wiring for the Renous Bridge Lumber Co's telephone line has been completed, and the instruments are expected daily. The line runs from their store at Renous Bridge up to John Dunn's about six miles up the Renous River. A branch crosses the covered bridge and runs to Michael Buggie's, on the Dunganville side, about three miles. There are about ten miles of poles altogether. It is a metallic circuit. There will be twenty instruments connected, and probably more will be added later on.

OBITUARY.

MRS. JAS. W. ABBEY.
The remains of the late Mrs. James W. Abbey of Stanstead, Que., reached Bathurst on the Maritime express Wednesday morning en route to Pokemouche, Gloucester Co., for interment. Mrs. Abbey was 44 years of age and was formerly Miss Essie Rivers, youngest daughter of Michael Rivers of Pokemouche. For a number of years Mrs. Abbey, before her marriage, was in charge of the G. N. Tel. Co.'s office at Bathurst, and afterwards went to the office of the company in Montreal. She died on Saturday last after an operation had been performed at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. Mr. Abbey accompanied the remains. Her sister, Mrs. F. M. Murray, reached Bathurst Wednesday afternoon. The funeral on Friday was largely attended.

DOCTORS USING PATENT MEDICINES

The Honest Physician is Anxious to Cure and Uses the Best Available Remedies.

The proposed legislation through the Dominion Parliament for the regulation of the manufacture and sale of patent or proprietary medicines is of the utmost importance, and it is receiving a great deal of attention, not only by the proprietary medicine manufacturers, but also by the leading doctors and druggists. Every manufacturer of reliable and high class remedies welcomes the bill as a step in the right direction. The discussion has brought out the fact that the best physicians in Canada and on the continent approve of and prescribe Pynchine in cases of the most difficult character. In a recent instance of very serious throat and lung trouble the patient had been using Pynchine. Two leading United States specialists were consulted, in addition to two eminent Canadian physicians. Upon learning what the patient was using, a sample of Pynchine was taken and analyzed, with the result that the physicians advised its continuance. They prescribed no other medicine but Pynchine, with the result that the patient has fully recovered and is a splendid walking and talking advertisement for the wonderful curative power of a remedy that will "stand up" before the keenest professional criticism and analysis. As a builder up of the system and restorer of all wasted conditions, Pynchine has no equal, and the best and most earnest physicians recognize this fact.

"At the age of 25 my lungs were in a terrible state. I had a gripe the year before; it settled on my lungs and I kept steadily growing weaker till I got down so low I was in bed for six weeks. I had a consultation of doctors, and they said they could do nothing more for me. Then I started to use Pynchine. I took the medicine for more than a year. It certainly did wonders for me. I am now as strong as I was before my sickness."

MRS. H. BOPPE.
Pynchine, pronounced Pinksin, is the greatest of tonics, building up the system, increasing the appetite, purifying the blood, aids digestion, and acts directly upon the throat and lungs, giving tone and vigor to the entire system. At all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, 178 King Street West, Toronto.

The Twelfth of July excursion from Newcastle to Campbellton was liberally patronized. Some 460 tickets were sold, the day was fine, the crowds enthusiastic, and everyone had a good time.

The case of Connell vs. Benn in which the defendant was charged with unlawfully fishing in Albert Connell's fish preserve in Bartibogue, was closed at Chatham on Monday. Mr. Benn claimed that he did not fish in Connell's water, but was merely crossing it. Plaintiff won the case, which will be appealed.

The Miramichi Presbyterian met in Napan church on the 9th and 10th, with a very good attendance. Rev. S. J. McArthur of Newcastle delivered an eloquent address on Foreign Missions, and Rev. H. J. Fraser another on Home Missions. In the evening the church was filled to hear Rev. Dr. McGill, principal of Pine Hill Theological College, and the audience was not disappointed. The meetings were very successful in every way.

At a slimly-attended Opposition meeting at Chatham on Wednesday night, speeches were made by Organizer W. W. Hubbard and Messrs. John Morrissey and D. Morrison, M. P. P.'s. The following officers were elected:—President, G. E. Fisher; Vice-President, Ed. Gallivan; W. L. T. Weldon, Secretary, and J. L. Stewart Treasurer. These with W. Y. Mersereau, E. Burke, D. P. MacLachlan, J. Fred. Benson, Thos. Fitzpatrick, R. Babineau and Chas. Cassidy form the executive.

While No. 76 fast freight train, going east, Conductor Warman, was passing Beresford platform, seven miles west of Bathurst on Sunday morning, the train was signalled to stop, when a man named Jas. Riley, of Halifax, informed the conductor that his companion, William Shortell, had been killed by a passing train during the night. Both men belonged to Halifax and had been in Bathurst some days repairing umbrellas. The remains were brought to Bathurst and buried in the R. C. cemetery, Bathurst Village. Shortell was forty-five years of age and was well known in Halifax, being a trainer of fast horses.

The supporters of the provincial Opposition in Nelson organized for the approaching election campaign on the 9th. A largely attended meeting was held in the school house. Speeches were delivered by Messrs. Morrison and Morrissey, M. P. P.'s John M. Sutton, W. W. Hubbard, provincial organizer, and others. The following officers were elected: President, T. W. Flett; Secretary, J. M. Sutton; Treasurer, Matthew Carroll; Executive committee, Ephraim Hayes, Michael Walsh, Richard O'Brien, John A. Flett, John Dolan, Geo. A. Flett, David Blackmore, with power to add to their number.

A play of intense interest, rivaling the popular drama "In Old Kentucky" and entitled "My Dixie Girl" will be the attraction at the Newcastle Opera House on Saturday evening, 20th inst. The scenes are laid in Kentucky; its characters are prototypes of the grass region, the story is consistent and entertaining and the atmosphere is that of an old fashioned southern home with its retinue of colored servants. "My Dixie Girl" is a play that appeals to all classes of theatre goers and has been voted by those able critics, the gallery gods, to be one of the best plays of its kind on the road to-day. Friday evening, 19th, the popular and world-renowned play of "Dora Thorne" will be presented by the same company. Miss Sadie Culhoun, a celebrated southern actress, is the leading lady in the both plays. Seats on sale at Shaw's.
