Manchester's Canal Managers in Trouble.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Labor troubles already threaten to inconvenience the management of the Manchester ship canal. They arise from the employment of Glasgow and Liverpool workmen to the exclusion of local laborers. Manchester laborers held an angry meeting at the docks of that city yesterday. Several hundred were present, and they made a disorderly demonstration before dispersing. The canal officials will to-morrow to consider the complaints of the men.

She Got $1,000.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—At the County of London Sheriff's Court Mr. Under-Sheriff Burchell and a jury heard the remitted case of Horry vs. Hickox, an action to recover damages for breach of promise of marriage.
The defendant was a London professor of music, organist of St. Paul's, Paddington, and an associate of the College of Organists.
In 1877 the plaintiff was governess in the family of the Earl of Aberdeen, and the defendant was engaged as his lordship's private organist. In 1890 the defendant promised the plaintiff to be his wife, and she consented. She wrote to her friends, informing them of the engagement and received a warm letter of congratulation from Lady Aberdeen. The defendant was of an exceedingly religious turn of mind. In his letters there were frequent passages from the Bible. In April of this year the defendant met her at Victoria station. He appeared very cool and ultimately, after a lot of hesitation parted with the following words: "We had better part.

It is God's will that we shall part, and I hope that you will be happy." They parted and had not met since. Miss Horry, in her evidence, bore out the opening speech. The jury awarded the plaintiff £200 and judgment was given accordingly.

Prosecuting His Prosecutors.
LONDON, Jan. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Zieren-berg were charged with perjury in the Bow street police court to-day. The the accused in their recent libel suit against Mr. Henry Labouchere, proprietor of the Truth, who made a complete ex-posure of the home for female inmates run by the Zierenbergs. Mr. Labouchere won the libel suit and then caused the arrest of the plaintiffs in that action. He is prosecuting his former prosecutors for the perjury he alleges they then committed. The accused were remanded.

Uncle Sam and Queen Lil.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Globe, in an article on the Hawaiian situation, says that President Cleveland has pointed out to the deposition of Queen Liliuokalani was affected by the misuse of the name and power of the United States without the sanction of the central Government or the American people, wherefore he can hardly renew the deposition, confiding in the honor of the United States. Some Americans would like to adopt a course that will lead to the annexation of the islands, but others besides the Hawaiians and the American parties will have something to say to that solution of the question.

er entered the editor's room in the Tagblatt office last evening and violently demanded the name of the author of an editor refusing to give the author's name, Klinger struck him on the head with a loaded stick, inflicting a wound from which blood flowed profusely. Klinger then smashed the lights in the office in the expectation of being able to escape in the darkness, but employees caught him and held him until the police arrived.

Far From Free Trade.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Times, referring to the Wilson Tariff Bill says:
"The modifications already made in the bill in order to conciliate the protective party in the aggregate would be recognized as a pretty stiff protectionist policy. After its passage by the Senate it is doubtful whether the bill will not emerge from the ordeal in such a shape that whether it ever becomes a law or not."

Canadian Trade Gave Away Down.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Board of Trade returns for the past year, just issued, afford a striking comment on the alleged growth of Canada's trade with the British market for food products. The statistics show that British imports of Canadian wheat and flour were £200,000 less during the year; ham, nearly £100,000; butter, £60,000; eggs, £7,500. Canadian cattle were £30,000 less, partly owing to the Board of Agriculture's embargo. The total decrease in imports from Canada is 12½ per cent., £1,500,000. This is specially notable, as the decrease in imports from all countries is only 4 per cent.

to be divided into eleven shares, several of these being bequeathed to charitable institutions. Before his death Mr. Schillitz had built, at a cost of over £80,000, a church for the use of his co-religionists in Paris, who have hitherto possessed no place of public worship in that capital. Two shares of his estate, amounting to £82,000, have been left to provide for the endowment of the sacred edifice and for the establishment of a hospital in Paris.

Escape, Leaving Not Even a Footprint.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Female footpads introduced a new wrinkle in the business last night. As Charles Krohn was passing along Forty-eighth street he was accosted by two women who had hawls over their heads.
"What time is it?" asked one of them.
She instantly cast her shawl over Krohn's head, while the other seized him around the neck and threw him to the sidewalk.
Then, while one of them held him, the other went through his pockets, securing $8.50, his watch for the week. Before he could realize what happened the women had disappeared. They left behind the shawl.

instantly.

Duke fled, pursued by West's friends, who caught him, and after fatally beating him were about to string him up. They were prevented by officers, who took Duke to jail, where he now lies dying.

logist, and J. W. Tyrrell, Dominion Government land surveyor, have just returned here from a visit to the far north. They went as far as Chesterfield Inlet on the miles of entirely new country which a white man had never before crossed. Reindeer were found in enormous herds, one of which contained several thousand and covered a stretch of country over three miles on their return trip, having to walk the greater part of the way, owing to the lakes and rivers being frozen.

CARNEGIE'S NICKLE NO GOOD.

Cracked by Two Shots—Must Have a Better Article for Ship Armor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A Washington special says the armor plate trial at Indian Head yesterday resulted in a wrecked plate and a considerable cost to the Carnegies.
The plate tested was one of a group representing 500 tons of 11½-inch nickel steel plates for the side armor of the Puritan, for the barbet armor of the Monadnock and for the tower of the ram Katabidion.
Two shots were fired from eight-inch guns, one with 1,631 feet velocity for premium and the second with 1,590 feet velocity for acceptance. The first, which was fired at the upper left hand corner, produced a number of serious cracks, and so weakened the plate that the second completed the work. Under the conditions of the contract the Carnegies may select another plate from the same group for trial. If this should fail the entire 500 tons of armor, representing nearly $300,- 000, will have to be rejected. This is the last of the nickel steel armor to be tested.

is made of silk in such a form that it is equipped with a constantly moving hand.
No metal other than aluminum is used in its construction. Dynamite bombs will be dropped from the balloon on the rebel fleet.

WROTE UP HIS OWN SUICIDE.

But Student Newton Changed His Mind and His Story Wasn't Exact.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 11.—John Newton, a student at Bethel College at Russellville, committed suicide Monday night by morphine. The following advance account of the tragedy, written by himself, was discovered in his room:
"I am Newton, of Cadiz, Ky., who has been attending school here for the last six months, was found dead Monday afternoon in Dr. Harrel's office with a dagger in his heart. No cause is assigned for the rash act. Newton had always been considered an eccentric fellow by his fellow-students.
He was about 20 years of age and the son of Rev. P. M. Newton, a Methodist preacher, who resides at Cadiz, Ky." Evidently he had changed his mind as to the place and manner of ending his life.

A Young Wan Walks Off With a Sack of Silver and the Teller's Nose.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 11.—On Tuesday one of the tellers of the National Bank of Mexico, who was making a large consignment of silver coin, was counting out the amount by piling the heavy sacks of silver, each containing 1,000 silver dollars. As employees of the bank were present in considerable numbers no great care was exercised.

A well-dressed young man presently sauntered into the room, and while attention was directed elsewhere he picked up one of the sacks and walked out. Backing to a burden carrier, he handed him the sack and leisurely led the way along the crowded street to the nearest car line.
Here he stopped a car, and tossing a coin to the carrier quietly took a seat in the car.
Passengers of the car thought her as a paymaster. After riding to the suburbs of Tacubaya he left the car, and although the police were soon hot on his trail they have not caught the robber.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN KNOCKED OUT

Mrs. Sullivan Did It This Time With One of His Own Indian Clubs.

BUFFALO, Jan. 10.—John L. Sullivan is at the Tilt House "indisposed." After his appearance at the Court Street Theater Tuesday night Sullivan made a tour of the drinking places. He returned to his hotel about 4 o'clock in the morning. Friends assisted him to his room. The porter, who was last to leave him, soon heard a crashing of furniture. He stopped for a moment on the stairs, then, hearing nothing more, proceeded on his way to the office.

A moment later a bare-footed woman, whose night-robe and blond hair streamed out behind, ran across the lobby to the clerk's desk. "Send for a doctor, quick! I John is dying!" she screamed. Then she fell to the floor in a faint. Call boys hurried for doctors, who quickly brought Mrs. Sullivan around. All then proceeded to Sullivan's room. John L. lay upon the floor, with a stream of blood trickling from his forehead. Three doctors worked over him for an hour before he was restored to consciousness. While they were at work Mrs. Sullivan told them how it came about.
John had started to tilt her as soon as he arrived. In self-defense she seized an Indian club which he used in training and struck him with it. The force of the blow was greater than she had intended, and Sullivan experienced a knockout such as the prize ring had never brought to him.
toward his wife, but he carries a large bruise on the top of his head.

A JILTED MAID

Gets $2,000 and Costs to Salvage Wounded Feelings.

Dr. Smuck, of Wentworth, the Delegant—Seventy-four Love Letters, Including Poetry.

HAMILTON, Jan. 11.—At the Wentworth Assizes yesterday the case of Young vs.
Smuck, a breach of promise, was taken up.
The action was quite a cause celebre in the county, and during the hearing of the evidence the court room was crowded. The plaintiff, Miss Jennie Young, is a very pretty young woman. She is the daughter of Theo. Young, a well-to-do farmer. The defendant is Dr. J. Wallace Smuck, a young physician, now practicing in the county.
The action was undenied. The plaintiff claimed $5,000 damages, and the jury was asked to assess the sum she should receive. A voluminous mass of love letters was put in by the fair plaintiff. There were 74 altogether, dating from March, 1889, to August, 1893, and they covered 70 type-written pages of legal copy. Miss Young swore that the defendant paid her addresses to her before he left home to attend the university in Toronto. While in that city he used to write to her, giving glowing descriptions of how he enjoyed himself, and mentioning that he moved in the most fashionable society. He became enamored of some fair Toronto maid, and subsequently married her. In February, 1892, he wrote Miss Young, asking that she release him, as he had come to a conclusion that they could not be happy together. The shock, she said, made her so ill that she had to go to bed for two weeks, and a physician attended her. The lawyer for the defense objected to her saying the illness was caused by the shock. On cross-examination he tried to make out that the witness had a gripe.
"Oh, there are one or two authentic instances of broken hearts in the history of the world," remarked Judge MacMahon, laughing.
The reading of extracts from the defendant's love letters was productive of much amusement.
As he began to lose his heart to the Toronto young lady, his letters grew colder, and early last year he wrote plainly that he no longer loved her, and asked to be released, saying he would rather be in his grave than enter upon that hell upon earth—a loveless marriage. Several voluminous letters were written, with the intention of making Miss Young see it in that light. She was very practical, and wanted to know what he was going to do about it. He failed to move her when he quoted poetical selections beginning:
"Better to part now than wake to weep When time has robbed life's roses of their dew."

He married the Toronto girl, and Miss Young sued him for $5,000 damages. After hearing the addresses of counsel, the jury retired, and at 9 p.m. brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $2,000 and costs.
Smuck's correspondence from Toronto while at college was replete with poetic selections and descriptions of the efforts of Toronto girls to win his true heart from the then object of his affections. In one epistle he says the Toronto girls would give their heads to get a medical student, and asks her to imagine him promenade around in a swallow-tail gown and mortarboard at the University conversatione, wearing an eyeglass and escorting a rose-bud of the first families.
His Lordship—I presume that is read for the purpose of enhancing the damages.
(Laughter.)
In another letter he quotes Moore, and credits to Byron:
"O, the heart that hath truly loved never forgets."
But as truly loves on to the close,
As the sunflower turns to her god when he goes.
The same look which she turned when he rose."

BABY OFFERED FOR SALE.

Woman Tries to Dispose of an Infant Left Upon Her Hands.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 10.—The unusual spectacle of an infant being offered for sale at a market stand was witnessed here when Mrs. Jackson, an elderly woman who has a stand at the east market, offered to dispose of a 2-months-old babe to her customers. She said that the child was born to a young woman who gave her name as May Lewis and her home as Chicago, and who said that the name of the child's father was Rothchild. The child was born at her house, and as she had brought up eleven children of her own, she did not desire to undertake the rearing of another.
The mother paid two weeks' board for the child and then disappeared, and Mrs. J. man said that she had brought the babe to the market in hopes of finding a home for it. A large crowd assembled about the stand and finally attracted the attention of the police. When an officer approached a woman offered to take the babe and care for it, and it was turned over to her, but an hour later she returned with the babe, saying her husband would not let her keep
it. Mrs. Jackson still has the baby.

SLIGHTED SLIGHT STATESMAN.

Mr. Foster's Troubles at the Toronto Banquet—He Looks for War While Others Believe in Working for Peace.

An Ottawa dispatch says: The members of the Dominion Government are very angry at the results of the Toronto Board of Trade banquet on Thursday evening. The Minister of Finance could not conceal his chagrin at being called on to speak after a dozen persons of inferior positions, officially, and at such a late hour as 1 in the morning. He had in his pocket the notes of a carefully prepared speech on fiscal questions, but he told them that he would keep it till next year if they would bring him on earlier. The Empire of Saturday contained a leading article on the slight to Mr. Foster.

This was not the only thing, however, which grieved the Minister of Finance. A member of the New York Chamber of Commerce, apparently a Cleveland Democrat, the Hon. George Raines, was heard before Mr. Foster in a straight free trade speech, in which he told them that when the Wilson Bill, which contained many advantages for Canada was adopted the Ontario Government would find it incumbent on them to meet out to the United States as limited a measure as the United States was meting out to Canada. To hear the gospel of a tariff for revenue preached to Conservatives in Conservative Toronto by an American was not a palatable thing to the Minister of Finance, who actually took Mr. Raines to task for declaring that with extended commercial intercourse between Canada and the United States there would be no need to build up walls of defense or equip armies. Mr. Foster declared that commercial amity "is no certain guarantee against a rupture of peace." The visitor brought a Christmas message of peace and good-will, but Mr. Foster breathed horrid war, and refused to believe in perpetual peace except "under one flag." This is a rather dark outlook for peaceful Canadians who desire to remain under the old flag.

POISONED BY HAM AND EGGS.

A Dozen Cases Reported in a St. Louis Hotel.

St. Louis, Jan. 10.—Over one dozen persons were poisoned by eating ham and eggs at the Hotel Goddard the other morning. The matter was kept quiet until the symptoms of at least one of the victims became alarming. Among the victims is Nina, the Midway Plaisance dancer, who, with the rest of the troupe, has been stopping at the hotel. She is slowly recovering. Miss Anna Jackson, of Bowling Green, Mo., is in a precarious condition. She is in St. Louis for the purpose of studying shorthand. Everyone who ate the ham was taken sick, while those who ate the eggs were not. Miss Nunnally, a stenographer, had a narrow escape from death, and Miss Wine was taken violently sick. The case is mysterious and the only plausible explanation is that the ham must have been impregnated.

A NEW BRUNSWICK STORY.

The Remarkable Experience of a Husband and Wife—Their Story as Told in a Reporter.

Recently, says the Newcastle Union advocate, there came to the knowledge of his paper, the story of two residents of the town, Mr. and Mrs. Hamill, which was thought to be of sufficient interest to warrant publication, and a reporter was detailed to seek an interview. What he learned may be summarized as follows: For two years Mrs. Hamill had been in very poor state of health, steadily growing weaker until she was unable to do the necessary work about the house. Pains in her back and limbs, weakness, dizziness and other disagreeable symptoms troubled her. For some time she was under treatment of doctors, but they effected no improvement and she had given up hope of gaining her health. Having read of the cures effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills she decided to try them and did so, taking but a few boxes when a gradual movement seemed to be taking place. Pains in her back and limbs left her as the other unpleasant symptoms, and at present time she is as well as ever, and without feeling the tiredness and exhaustion of her former state.

Her recommendation her husband also made the use of Pink Pills. He had suffered from an attack of typhoid fever, the effects of which he did not recover from. His blood seemed to be watery, and he was weak and worn out. After taking a few boxes he felt a wonderful change. The feeling left him and he had a better appetite and enjoyed his food with a relish not had before. He continued the pills for some time and is fully restored to his old-time health and vigor.

A DANGEROUS SEASON.

At this season of the year old and young suffer from the effects of sudden colds and chills. Many have sore throat, hacking cough, hoarseness, enlargement of the tonsils and serious bronchial troubles. Such troubles should not be neglected; they demand immediate attention and care.

It is pleasing to note that many of our best physicians are advising the use of Harvard bronchial syrup as a cure for all such forms of colds. No other preparation known to medical men has ever given such delight and satisfaction. A few doses will banish any ordinary cough, hoarseness or sore throat, and a 25-cent bottle will do wonders for those who have been suffering for days and weeks. Harvard bronchial syrup has become popular, owing to its honesty and great curative properties. It never fails to do its work with the old or young. The children love it, owing to its palatableness and sweetness, and once used they will take no other. As a banisher of croup it has no equal in the world. Every home should be provided with a large 25-cent bottle. Harvard bronchial syrup has saved many a child's life.

Good Cause for Suspicion.

"John," exclaimed the nervous woman, "do you think there is a burglar in the house?"

"Certainly not. 'Why, I haven't heard a sound all night.'"

"That's just what alarms me. Any burglar who wasn't foolish would keep perfectly quiet so as not to excite our suspicions. Indeed, John, I do so wish you would get up and look through the house?"

No Hurry.

A dude, while walking along the streets, met a little boy, who asked him the time. "Ten minutes to 9," says the dude. "Well," says the boy, "at 9 o'clock get your hair cut," and he took to his heels and ran, the dude after him, when, turning a corner, the dude came in contact with a policeman, nearly knocking him down. "What's up?" said the policeman. The dude, very much out of breath, said: "You see that young urchin running along there? He asked me the time; I told him ten minutes to 9, and he said, 'At 9 o'clock get your hair cut.'"

LAMBTON.

Railway officials on the Grand Trunk at Sarnia report freight business brisk but passenger traffic slackener than they can remember.

Dr. James Newell, of Detroit, has purchased the practice and prescriptions of the late Dr. L. Harvey, of Watford. Dr. Newell was a student of Dr. Harvey 26 years ago, and followed his profession for a number of years in Wyoming before going to Detroit.

Chief Windred, of Sarnia, in the course of his detective work in connection with the recent burglaries, succeeded in striking a clue which enabled him on Monday to recover several articles of jewelry which had been found and appropriated by grubbers in the ruins of the fire at the McAdams residence.

It is expected that Lord Aberdeen will formally open the Boys' Brigade Hall at Sarnia whenever it is ready. It is not expected to open till next spring or summer.

On New Year's night the home of Thomas Johnson, of Walpole Island, was destroyed by fire and three of the children were burned to death. The rest of the family had a very narrow escape.

MIDDLESEX.

Mrs. James Donnan, for many years a resident of London township, died recently at prospect Hill, at the ripe age of 83 years. She was a native of Ireland and came to Canada in 1848. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

HE READ DIME NOVELS.

Supposed Murder of Parents and Suicide by a Young Man.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 10.—The triple murder of the Sauer family Monday night deepens in mystery. The son supposed to be missing was found in the ashes of the barn and fully identified by his watch and other articles, though burned beyond recognition. The father and mother reveal fearful mutilation by bullets and bruises. The evidence reveals a fearful struggle. The barn is about 400 feet away and there are some blood stains between the house and barn, as from bleeding wounds. There is a growing suspicion that the son killed his father and mother and then rushed to the barn, setting it on fire and killing himself. A pistol was found near him emptied. The family were well off and intelligent, and considered happy, but the son was an inveterate reader of yellow-backed literature. In the absence of a better clue the conviction is that he may have committed the deed.

A few doses will banish any ordinary cough, hoarseness or sore throat, and a 25-cent bottle will do wonders for those who have been suffering for days and weeks. Harvard bronchial syrup has become popular, owing to its honesty and great curative properties. It never fails to do its work with the old or young. The children love it, owing to its palatableness and sweetness, and once used they will take no other. As a banisher of croup it has no equal in the world. Every home should be provided with a large 25-cent bottle. Harvard bronchial syrup has saved many a child's life.

Good Cause for Suspicion.

"John," exclaimed the nervous woman, "do you think there is a burglar in the house?"

"Certainly not. 'Why, I haven't heard a sound all night.'"

"That's just what alarms me. Any burglar who wasn't foolish would keep perfectly quiet so as not to excite our suspicions. Indeed, John, I do so wish you would get up and look through the house?"

No Hurry.

A dude, while walking along the streets, met a little boy, who asked him the time. "Ten minutes to 9," says the dude. "Well," says the boy, "at 9 o'clock get your hair cut," and he took to his heels and ran, the dude after him, when, turning a corner, the dude came in contact with a policeman, nearly knocking him down. "What's up?" said the policeman. The dude, very much out of breath, said: "You see that young urchin running along there? He asked me the time; I told him ten minutes to 9, and he said, 'At 9 o'clock get your hair cut.'"

Liberal Tariff Platform.

We, the Liberal party of Canada, in convention assembled declare:

That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it now is, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service.

That the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle and used as it has been by the Government as a corrupting agency, wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combinations:

It has decreased the value of farm and other landed property;

It has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few;

It has checked immigration;

It has caused great loss of population;

It has impeded commerce;

It has discriminated against Great Britain.

In these, and in many other ways, it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so long as the present tariff system remains in force.

That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote domestic and foreign trade and hasten the return of prosperity to our people.

That to that end, the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government.

That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessities of life and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly Great Britain and the United States.

We believe that the results of the protective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly supported it, and that the country in the light of experience is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

The issue between the two political parties on this great question is now clearly defined.

The Government themselves admit the failure of their fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any substantial relief from the burdens under which the country labors.

This issue we unhesitatingly accept and upon it we await with the fullest confidence the verdict of the electors of Canada.

London, Thursday, Jan. 11.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER, with its morning and evening editions, covers the ground.
 With one exception, it is the ONLY EARLY MORNING DAILY IN ONTARIO, outside of Toronto.

—Only those communications to which the writers are willing to have their names appended in print will be published in these columns.

—When the public officials come to be elected by popular vote, will the electors choose the hangman as well as the judge?

—The plebiscite worked so well on Jan. 1 that now everybody one meets regards it as a good thing. Even the Conservative journals which ridiculed it at the start now are silent or favor its extension to other questions.

—It is a safe course for a man never to increase his indebtedness unless he has sufficient reserve to meet the increased liability. Municipalities should have their affairs conducted in a similar economical way. Aldermen and school trustees are merely directors for the community.

—The first number of the new Grip is issued. It is a laughable, instructive, enjoyable contribution to current illustrated literature. Bengough's hand has lost none of its cunning. The cartoons on topics of current moment are really excellent. Grip has come to stay. The country needs its weekly combination of good humor and good sense.

—One important provision in the new Insolvency Act will be that which stipulates for the public examination of insolvent. Another feature is that access to the list of creditors can be obtained from the guardian or liquidator. Despite the demand for a fair insolvency measure, however, we very much fear that the Administration will once more shirk its duty.

—Sugar will be cheap this year, but not as cheap as it would be if the sugar lords of Canada were not enabled by law to collect tribute from every consumer of this necessary to the average family. A very heavy crop of sugar is coming forward, estimated at 350,000 tons excess in Cuba and 400,000 tons excess in Germany, besides large increases in France and Austria, so that the world's supply for this year will be about 1,000,000 tons excess. The price of raws will naturally be much lower than ever before, and there should also be a substantial reduction in refined but for the import mentioned. The healthful competition of British-refined sugar is needed.

—There is much that will interest Canadians in the mineral statistics of the United States for the last calendar year, now published. The value of the mineral products of the Republic in that year was $685,377, 383, the highest ever known. The following table gives the amount and value of the production of the several more important articles:

A SOCIAL REVOLUTION.

A cablegram from London says that the Conservative leaders in the British Parliament have been forced by the strength of public opinion to agree to the passage of the Parish Councils Bill of the Gladstone Government with a few insignificant amendments. Henceforth the masses will rule in England, if they choose; hitherto, the squires and the Established Church vestries have had it all their own way.
 Some idea of the effect of the reform can be obtained from the application of the measure to the British metropolis. The present system of local government through vestries and poor law guardians, both elected by the ratepayers, is abolished, and a method of franchise quite equivalent to manhood suffrage with the secret ballot becomes a law. Even the rating qualification of candidates is abolished, and women are electorally eligible.
 It is complete democratic home rule for London. It must be galling to the Conservative majority in the House of Lords, many members of which have been asserting in the country that under no circumstances would they consent to a radical change in the present system, to find that Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain have tied their hands. The victory is a great one for the Gladstone Ministry.

"THE ECONOMY OF HIGH WAGES."

In the last issue of the Contemporary Review Mr. J. A. Hobson, a well-informed writer, discusses the question of "The Economy of High Wages." The writer proves conclusively that it is a fallacy to assert that the employment of what is called "pauper labor" always means cheap production. Low priced labor, for several reasons, is often not nearly so productive as high priced labor. He, for instance, tells us that Lord Brassey, the great railway contractor, who has conducted works in almost every portion of the civilized globe, found that in India, where the cost of native labor ranges from 4d. to 6d. a day, mile for mile, the cost of railway work is about the same as in England. The same results were obtained, though not in so striking a degree, in Canada and in Ireland. English navvies at 6s. and 6s. a day were actually cheaper than French-Canadian laborers at 3s. and 3s. and 6d. a day, and in Ireland he found it more profitable to employ English navvies at 3s. a day than Irish farm laborers at 1s. and 6d.
 In manufactures, low priced labor is not always the cheapest. "In France, Germany and Belgium, where wages and the standard of living were considerably lower than in England, the cost of turning out a given product was not less, but greater. In the United States, and in a few trades in Holland, where the standard of comfort was as high, or higher, than in the corresponding English industries, more or better work was done."

Lord Brassey's experience coincides with that of Prof. Schulze-Governitz. That economist found that low-priced labor is not in all cases by any means the most profitable. Some tabulated statements of his that are reproduced in this article show results that to most people will be unexpected. It is generally supposed that in the beginning of the century, when most of the spinning was done by hand, more people were engaged in spinning cotton than at present and that they received higher wages.
 Well, the tables show that the contrary of this was the case. In 1819-21, for instance, there were 111,000 persons engaged in spinning cotton in England. The average yearly wages in that industry were in those years 23s. 13s. and the product of each worker was 968 pounds of yarn. In 1880-82 there were 240,000 cotton spinners in England. Although wonderful improvements had been made in labor-saving machinery in the intervening years, more than twice the number of people were employed in spinning cotton in 1880 than there was in 1819. The wages of each spinner were in the later period 44s. 4s.
 The product of each spinner had increased greatly; one year's work in the former period was only 968 pounds; in the latter period it was 5,520 pounds—nearly six times as many.

The record of the weavers is somewhat similar with respect to the wages paid, but different as to the number employed. In 1819 there were 250,000 cotton weavers in England; in 1880 there were 246,000. The yearly income in 1819 was £20 19s. in 1880 it was £43. The annual product per worker 72 years ago was 322 pounds; the annual product 13 years ago was 4,039 pounds. At the same time, the cost of labor per pound fell 15s. 6d. to 2s. 3d. In America the average yearly wages of a cotton weaver in 1830 were $164 and in 1884 they were $290. The product of each worker had increased from 4,321 yards to 28,032 yards. This great increase was, of course, mainly due to the improvements in machinery, which has also affected a reduction in the cost of labor per yard from 1.9 cents to 1.07 cents.

In Switzerland, where the wages are low and the hours long, the weekly product of the cotton weaver is 466 yards and the weekly wages 11s. 8d.—not quite $3. In England each weaver produces 706 yards, but he or she works only nine hours a day; the wages are 16s. 3d. In America each weaver produces 1,200 yards and works ten hours a day and gets 20s. a week. The operatives tend more machinery in England than in Germany, and the machines run faster. In America, again, the operatives tend more machinery than do the English workers, and they exceed English operatives in alertness and energy as the English operatives exceed the German. "The low-paid, long-hourd labor of the Italian factories is easily under-sold by the higher paid and more effective labor of England and America." Thus the pauper labor "ery" which protectionists so frequently to head off a curtain-raise of their tax-collecting privileges, is ment of their tax-collecting privileges, is really a "bogey," and an easily knocked out "scarecrow" at that. It is with other occupations as well as with these of industries adduced in evidence by this investigator. He admits that "in cotton weaving in America, it pays better to employ women at high wages to tend six, seven or even eight looms for short hours than to pay lower wages to inferior workers such as are found in Germany, Switzerland or even Lancashire." Pauper labor, so-called, is the dearest kind of labor to the intelligent manufacturer, whether he conducts his operations in Canada, in the United States or in Europe.

LATE DISCOVERIES IN DIPHTHERIA

In view of the prevalence of diphtheria in many Western Ontario municipalities the result of the recent investigation of the subject by Dr. Herman M. Biggs, chief of the bureau of pathology, bacteriology and disinfection of the health department of New York city, is important. In the summer Dr. Biggs by bacteriological examination discovered that more than three-quarters of the cases reported as diphtheria were not true diphtheria, but a comparatively mild ailment. Not long ago his department showed that there was but slight difference between diphtheria and so-called membranous croup.
 Dr. Biggs' latest report proves that in a great many cases persons who have had diphtheria continue to carry the germs of the disease in their throat for many days after all signs of the disease disappear. In 245 cases out of 405 examined it was observed that the Loeffler bacilli disappeared within three days after all traces of the disease in the throat had disappeared.
 In 103 cases the bacilli were found a week afterward, in 54 cases twelve days afterward, and in sixteen cases fifteen days afterward. In four instances traces of the bacilli were found after three weeks, and in three cases after five weeks. Dr.
 Biggs believes that the disease is spread by convalescents who mingle with others while their throat secretions still contain the bacilli. As a result of this discovery, the Board of Health has adopted a rule that all diphtheria patients in tenements, boarding-houses and hotels must be kept isolated until a bacteriological examination of their throat secretions shows no traces of the disease germs. The London Board of Health will no doubt make a note of these discoveries and resolutions. Is due care always taken to prevent the spread of infection through the too speedy return of convalescent children to the public schools?

THE PITH OF IT.

A DOCTOR'S FAILINGS.

(Brantford Examiner.)

As we expected the registrars are after Dr. Ryerson with a very sharp stick. The first to be heard from is Mr. Barr, of Victoria county, and his answer to the charge of delinquency is complete. The return from which Dr. Ryerson quotes, is a return of "uncoopered and uncompleted, instruments." In quoting it he left out the words "and uncompleted," thus making it appear that documents sent in to be recorded are habitually neglected until the work of recording falls far in arrears. This is a serious charge, but is a baseless one, so far as Mr. Barr's office is concerned. At the close of 1892, there were only 26 documents to be copied, while there were 349 to be compared, and at the close of 1893 the number was only seventeen. As Mr. Barr intimates, the explanation which applies to his office will no doubt be found applicable to others, and we would like to hear from the Conservative registrars of West Middlesex, Essex and other districts on this point.
 For Dr. Ryerson's misrepresentation about a respectable and trustworthy body of men there is no excuse. If he omits the dis-words on purpose he is flagrant carelessness he is criminally reckless; in either case he is unfit for the responsible position he holds.

HE IS NOT BUILT THAT WAY.

(Ottawa Journal.)

Dr. Bourinot expresses the opinion that the Ontario Government is, in view of the prohibition vote of the Province, bound to introduce a law prohibiting the retail sale of liquor.
 We think that Dr. Bourinot is entirely mistaken.
 The people of this Province voted in favor of complete, not partial prohibition. Sir Oliver Mowat cannot prohibit the manufacture and importation of liquor. At best he can but stop the sale in shops and saloons.
 We do not think that the people of this Province voted for prohibition in order that wine and liquor should be reserved for the use of the well-to-do, who may keep a stock in their homes. Nor do we think the people voted for prohibition with a view of repeating the failure of the Scott Act, caused by the fact that often one district was attempting to stop the sale of liquor while an adjoining district was encouraging it. We think the people voted that they are prepared for a complete voted prohibitive Dominion law, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Nothing less. If Sir Oliver Mowat tries retail prohibition he will make a fool of himself and of the temperance cause, and he is not built that way

RADWAY'S PILLS,

Always Reliable.

Purely Vegetable.

The Great Liver and Stomach Remedy

An Excellent and Mild Cathartic.

PERFECTLY TASTELESS

Over Forty Years in Use and Never Known to Fail.

Possess properties the most extraordinary in restoring health. They stimulate to healthy action the various organs, the natural conditions of which are so necessary for health, grapple with and neutralize the impurities, driving them completely out of the system.

RADWAY'S IS A COMPOUND PILL.

One of their ingredients will attack the LIVER, another will rouse up the BOWELS, another will attack the SKIN, and still another hurry up the KIDNEYS.
 This is the beauty of their effective operation; whilst they have a specific action on the Liver, they have a reflex or reflective action on this same organ by their other specific effects on the other organs of the system; whilst they force with the one hand, they persuade with the other, till all the organs are brought to harmonious action, and perform their required functions.

RADWAY'S PILLS

Drive out all diseases, from whatever cause they may be making inroads on your system; delay no longer, the remedy is at hand; a doze or two will convince you of the truth.

To thousands now suffering, we say, you have the remedy in your own hands. Radway's is a well-known pill, containing the choicest of extracts taken from the VEGE-TABLE KINGDOM ONLY, compounded in the most scientific proportions, which were found by Dr. Radway to be the best adapted to stimulate and restore to healthy action the disordered organs. They contain no minerals or metals or their salts—nothing poisonous enters into their composition, and they are perfectly safe to take.

I Had Gout

O' swellings in the neck—these were 10 years old; am now 52. I used Hood's Sarsaparilla recently and the swelling has entirely disappeared. It has been very troublesome. When I began I was feeling so discouraged with the gout and rheumatism I felt that I would soon be dead as alive. Whenever I caught cold I could not walk two blocks without fainting. Now I am free from it all and I can truly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. I received a letter from Mrs. Jennie Bigelow, now of Fremont, Mich., asking if my testimonial in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla was true; I replied it was, and sent her a letter. I have another letter from her thanking me very much for recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and stating that she also has been cured. Mrs. ANNA SUTHERLAND, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills. They assist digestion and cure headache.

THE TURF.

AGAINST THE RACE-TRACK. New York, Jan. 10.—The Herald says it is proposed by the gentlemen who engineered the abolition of the race-track in the State of New Jersey last fall, to extend the work to every State in the Union. A committee is engaged in laying plans for beginning operations in a practical way in this city. The name of the organization is the National Anti-Gambling League.

AN OLD-TIME JOCKEY DEAD. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—Robert Poole, the oldest, and in his time one of the best known jockeys in the country, died yesterday, aged 62. He was a long time one of the fastest long distance winners in the United States.

THE WHEEL.

LENZ'S LONG RIDE. PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—A letter has been received from Frank Lenz, the Allegheny cyclist, who is riding around the world. He is in Karachi, India, and is enjoying good health. He has the deserts of Persia to cross, and then his most difficult task will be accomplished. Since leaving Pittsburgh Lenz has covered 12,081 miles on wheel and on foot and 6,823 miles by steamer.

BASEBALL.

VON DER AHE GETS JUDGMENT. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.—In the Circuit Court here President Von Der Ahe, of the St. Louis club, got judgment against the Baltimore club in an attachment of the receipts during a Baltimore ball series here last summer. The suit originated in the trouble over the Cincinnati ball park left in Von Der Ahe's hands after the brotherhood war.

THE KENNEL.

The bench show committee of the Detroit Kennel Club has decided to arrange a premium list of $2,500 for the coming show. This does not include the valuable cups given by the mastiff, St. Bernard and spaniel clubs and other special trophies. The show will be held during the four days beginning March 7.

HOCKEY.

LONDON DEFEATS PETROLIA. The first game of the western series of the Ontario Hockey Association was played off yesterday afternoon at the Columbus rink in Petrolia between the Petrolia and London Hockey Clubs. The game began at 7:30, when Belz, by one of his long hits, shot the puck through Petrolia's posts. Within six minutes more two more goals were sent through by Capt. Skay. When play was resumed MacDonald, by a strong rush, managed to score one for Petrolia. London kept the puck in close vicinity to Petrolia's goal until the end of half time. Several good shots were put, but all except two failed to go through between the posts, owing to the smart work of Petrolia's goal keeper. Score at half time—London, 5; Petrolia, 1.

Both teams played a stronger game during the second half, with the odds in favor of London. Their passing and combination play was far superior to their opponent's, and they scored no less than 8 goals to Petrolia's 2 when time was called. Alex. Turner acted as referee and gave perfect satisfaction to both clubs. London's team was composed of: Goal, Glover; point, Brown; cover, point, Belz; forwards, Hobbs, Skay, R. Lind and E. Johnston; defences, Becher and Bower. The goals were scored as follows: Skay, 4; Johnston, 3; Lind, 2; Belz, 1. Score: London 13, Petrolia 3.

ELECTICS.

SAYS MITCHELL WILL PROVE A SURPRISE. "Parson" Davis, in a conversation on the approaching Corbett-Mitchell fight, said: "In my opinion Mitchell is a much under-rated man, and is bound to surprise some people. He himself thinks he will win, and told me not long ago, not in a boastful way. If you were to talk with him you would think he stands good odds to win. As to the report that he will not want to fight, it is nonsense. He is most eager to have a go with Corbett. He is hardly having fair play in the opinion. Whoever wins will not be out without making the fight of his life."

THE EXPECTED FIGHT.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 10.—"I will $1,000," said Manager Cowden, of the Jacksonville Athletic Club, this evening, that he will lay down and announce to the public over the radio signature that he will no longer fight in Florida. Mr. Cowden refused to give the reasons for his confidence.

THE WILLIAMS CASE.
Verdict of the Coroner's Jury—McWhirrell, Walker and Butcher Held for Murder.

COOKSVILLE, Jan. 10.—The verdict of the coroner's jury in the Williams murder case was as follows: "That James and Eliza Williams were foully murdered and that Wm. McWhirrell and John Walker are guilty of the murder and George Butcher is accessory after the fact. Cory was honorably discharged."

Eight Went Through.
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 9.—Seven boys and a girl skating broke through the ice together yesterday. All were rescued. The water was eight feet deep.

Actor Curtis' Acquittal.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Mrs. M. B. Curtis has come from New York to give evidence in the case of alleged jury-bribery, wherein Frank McManus and Ed. Dunn are charged with having asked $2,800 for having "fixed" Jurymen McFarlane. It is understood her testimony will be that they made a demand for $2,800, but did not get the money and bribery was not used to secure her husband's acquittal.

The Russian Marriage Method.
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Merriso Sakolski, a Russian, in filing a divorce bill to-day, said that at the age of 15 his mother enticed him to the town of Siwalk, in his native land, blindfolded him and before he was aware he was married to a girl upon whose face he had never looked. His mother, he says, got about $50 for bringing about the marriage. His wife followed him to America, but they have never lived together here, he says.

Crazed by the Grip.
MAUCH CHUNG, Pa., Jan. 10.—Summit Hill, the head of the Switchback Railway, was the scene of a terrible tragedy yesterday. John F. Thomas, in a fit of insanity, killed his child, a boy 4 years old, and afterwards cut his own throat. Both were found dead by the mother. The razor with which he committed the deed was still in the father's grasp. Thomas was 40 years of age and bore an excellent reputation. He had been ill with the grip.

IN CONGRESS.

Boutelle Persists in Badgering the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—It had been generally supposed that Mr. Boutelle's original Hawaiian resolution had been finally disposed of when the House took up the tariff bill, but to-day the question again came up in connection with the report made by the chairman of the naval affairs committee on a resolution offered by Mr. Boutelle, calling on the Secretary of the Navy for any information in the possession of the department relative to the Hawaiian matter. The committee amended the resolution by calling for information from March 4, 1892, instead of 1893.

The discussion gave rise to two little tilts, which the House went into committee of the whole to consider the tariff bill.

In the Senate the resolution which Mr. Frye (Republican, Maine) offered a week ago, and which has since been lying on the table, declaring a non-intervention in the governmental affairs of Hawaii, was taken up to-day and made the basis of a speech by Mr. Davis (Republican, Maine) in which the action of Mr. Boutelle and the Administration was criticised, but without asperity; the action of Minister Stevens commended, and the overthrow of the Queens Government defended and justified. The speech was not concluded.

HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE.

MESSRS. MOODY AND SANKEY have opened a series of revival meetings in Providence that is to continue a month. Their first meetings were attended by throngs of people, several overflow meetings being held to accommodate those who could not find admission to the hall.

ALTHOUGH alligators are less plentiful than they once were, the price of the skins is lower rather than higher than it was some years ago. Skins of other reptiles have become more fashionable for many purposes that the alligator skin once served, and the latter is little used now in the manufacture of small articles of ladies' use. Very small alligators are still cheap and plentiful in southern Florida.

UTAH has written the record of her mineral resources all over her territory in geographical names. There are towns, cities, post villages, and railway stations named Irontown, Bullion City, Ballionville, Diamond, Agate, Emery, Graniteville, Coal Mine, Asphalt, Argenta, Antimony, and doubtless many more. The religion of the Mormons has made little impression upon the geography of their Territory.

HORSEFLIES in China have been considered a great delicacy for centuries. The inhabitants, however, for the purposes of the kitchen, use almost exclusively animals of a small breed, little bigger than ponies, which have thin legs and small bones, and grew fat on little food. They are fed almost entirely on grass and hay. The meat is sold at comparatively low prices for this reason. Many farmers devote their time almost exclusively to raising these horses for the market.

THE railroads do more for people than the public knows. If a man has really bought a ticket and loses it, he can generally finish his ride. Sickly, young and timid people, too, are watched to see that they do not get off at the wrong stations, and last year a little boy traveled alone from New York to San Francisco. Telegrams were sent in advance by the railroad authorities to their agents along the line, and at certain points they boarded the train, saw that he was well, put him aboard the right car when changes were made at Chicago and Omaha, directed the conductors to give him berths and see that he got his meals, and the little fellow reached his mother in California after a ride as adventurous as a trip to Harlem.

Train Robbing.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 10.—Five masked men held up the Hannibal and St. Joseph fast train, "The Eli," about 6:40 o'clock this evening, four miles east of this city, and robbed the express and mail cars. They placed torpedoes on the track and swung a red lantern. How much they got is not stated.

"Doc" Andrews' Case.

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—The Andrews case came up at the assizes to-day for a few minutes. Mr. W. R. Meredith appeared for defense and asked a remand until next week on the ground that he had only been asked on the previous day to assume the defense and was not prepared to go on. A remand was granted until Monday. Doc Andrews complained that he has been remanded 22 times.

The Boodlers' Scapegoats.

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—To-day Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., continued his argument in the chancery division of the High Court in opposition to the application of the prisoners, Hon. Thomas McGreevey and N. K. Connelly, now in Carleton county jail, for a new trial, and upon the points reserved by the trial judge of the court. He was followed by Mr. J. K. Kerr, Q.C., representing the Attorney-General of Ontario. Mr. S. H. Blake, Q.C., began his address in reply, and had not concluded when the time for adjournment arrived. The case will not be resumed until Saturday, Jan. 20.

Renounced His Religion.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—Louis Joseph Papineau, seigneur of Montebello, and a grandson of the great French patriot, to-night renounced the Roman Catholic faith, and was regularly received into the Presbyterian Church. The ceremony took place in Russell Hall, this city, and among those who participated were Father Chiquay, Principal McVicar, Dr. Cousin and others. A large number witnessed the ceremony. The proceeding passed off quietly. Rev. Mr. Morin conducted the ceremony and received Mr. Papineau into the Presbyterian Church. Addresses were made by Father Chiquay, Dr. McVicar and Prof. Cousin. Mr. Papineau spoke, declaring that he had taken this step from conscientious motives and because he believed that the Catholic faith was contrary to the teachings of the Scriptures.

McKinley's Prayer.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 10.—Gov. William McKinley was inaugurated for his second term at noon yesterday. The crowd was the largest attending an inauguration in many years. The State military was represented in the parade by parts of nine regiments, and several companies of United States troops were in the procession. But the political clubs formed the feature of the day, the number of organizations and their appearance being the subject of general remark. Among other things, McKinley in his address said: "God grant that this scourge to our industrial prosperity may speedily pass away, and that the time may not be long distant when business confidence shall again come to every community; when industry shall resume its former activity, and when the men now in enforced idleness shall have work and wages, and the homes now in poverty shall be blessed in plenty."

RELIABLE.

Something reliable is what the people want. When it is sold by a reliable house it is all the more appreciated. Barnum, the big showman, said that "people liked to be humbugged." They don't live around London. We never saw any of them in our stores. They come to us because they don't want to be humbugged. They are sure not to be. Our big Linen and Household Departments are now in the hands of economic housekeepers—at any rate there is a big demand for our Irish Table and Toilet Linens, Bed Covers, Sheetings, etc., etc. We know why they are flocking to us. You know too. If not, guess. It is not because our goods are shoddy, nor because we are asking fancy prices. Not at all. It is simply because our lines are good and

DESIRABLE,

Our prices low, and the materials are guaranteed exactly as represented. What do you think of these:

WHITE SHEETING at 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c, UNBLEACHED SHEETING at 20c, 25c, 28c.

There is a bargain in every yard for every housekeeper. This is also a bargain: A very choice Snow-white Damask Table Cover, 2 1/2 yards long by 2 wide, at $2 to 0. You don't need a Table Cover. Here then: A heavy Linen Towel, 40x26, at 18c. Surely you require some good Towels.

Already we have received from the English markets 7,260 yards of choice new Spring Prints. This is a little early for Prints, but it will not hurt anybody to see them now. The wise purchaser doesn't always wait until the last moment.

For Woman Suffrage.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 10.—Mr. Hemeon, M. P. for Queen's county, to-day introduced in the Provincial Legislature a bill conferring the franchise on woman. The bill was introduced last session, but was defeated. The bill to-day is modified to such an extent that the introducer hopes it will pass.

Purely Vegetable.

First the bud, then the blossom, then the perfect fruit. These are the several stages of some of the most important ingredients composing the painless and sure corn cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. The juices of plants greatly concentrated and purified, gums and balsams in harmonious union, all combined give the grand results. Putnam's Extractor makes no sore spot, does not lay a man up for a week, but goes on quietly doing its work until a perfect cure results. Beware of acid substitutes.

SELF-WILLED.

"But this is what I want to do, Gerald. I want to find this man, but I cannot tear myself from her just at once. Think! I have only seen her for a few minutes, after losing her so long! I want to stay and find out for myself how her heart lies toward this man. And now, Gerald, will you go up to town and find him out for me? Find him, and write to me, and while I am coming keep him in sight. Will you do this for said lang syne?"

Gerald Moore started and looked disturbed.

"At once, do you mean?"

"By the next train," said Willie, feverishly. "I shall not rest until I know where I can put my hand upon him."

Gerald Moore bit his lip and looked at his watch.

"Give me an hour, Willie," he pleaded. "Don't think me unkind of old times if I ask for an hour; I have something to do—something that lies as near my heart as your passion does to yours."

Willie touched his arm sympathetically.

"I am very glad, Gerald," he said. "Very glad you every success. May you win her, be she whom she may, and may she be worthy of you, old fellow," with a sigh.

Gerald Moore turned pale, and muttered something between his closed lips.

"A few minutes will decide my fate," he said. "The woman I love lives in this place; see is to tell my fate to-day. Thank you, old fellow—thank you! When—when I have seen her, and learnt whether I am to be the happiest or the most wretched of men, I will start for London. I mean to do so in any case, and I'll find you man for you."

"His name," said Willie, between his teeth, "is Cecil Neville—Lord Cecil."

"What is the matter?" for Gerald Moore had sprung to his feet, and stood staring out to sea, his face white as death, his hands clinched. "Great Heavens, Gerald, are you ill?"

With an effort that cost him more than it costs most men to die, the horror-stricken man turned his face into a smile.

"Yes—yes—a sudden spasm—I get them sometimes. It is all right now, Willie. Have you—a flask with you? You are a traveler, you know," and he laughed a hollow, mirthless laugh.

Willie took a flask from his pocket and poured out some brandy, and with a shaking hand Gerald Moore tossed the draught off. Then with a long breath, he turned his face, white even below the tan, to Willie.

"I am all right now. Go on. What did you say the name of the man was?"

"Never mind, rest a little while. Lean back, Gerald, and keep quiet."

"No, no! I tell you I am all right again!" exclaimed Gerald Moore, impatiently. "The name—the name?"

"He is Lord Cecil Neville, Lord Fitz-Harwood."

"I know, I know!" broke in Gerald Moore, raising his trembling hands in his pockets. "And—and you want me to find him? Well, I'll do it. See here, friendship before love, and he laughed a wild, mocking laugh—"I'll make a sacrifice on the altar of friendship, and execute your mission first! Perhaps—who knows?—I'll make a little on—on the other undertaking, and he smiled a ghastly smile.

"No, no!" said Willie, but Gerald waved his remonstrance away with an impatient hand.

"And—and this Lord Cecil is to be married, eh?" he said, staring at the ground.

"Yes," said Willie, gloomily. "To a Princess Florence, or some such name. The villain and fool has deserted my darling for the other woman's rank, I suppose, and he is not married yet!" significantly.

"No," said Gerald Moore, with a ghastly smile. "No, he is not married yet, and—and—well, with a long breath, he turned his face, white even below the tan, to Willie.

"I am all right now. Go on. What did you say the name of the man was?"

"Never mind, rest a little while. Lean back, Gerald, and keep quiet."

"No, no! I tell you I am all right again!" exclaimed Gerald Moore, impatiently. "The name—the name?"

"He is Lord Cecil Neville, Lord Fitz-Harwood."

"I know, I know!" broke in Gerald Moore, raising his trembling hands in his pockets. "And—and you want me to find him? Well, I'll do it. CHAPTER XXX.

Like a lurid flash of lightning the truth had smitten Gerald Moore; he understood now the significance of Zenobia's malicious laugh, her delight in the prospect of ruin, the rival she had supplanted. As a flash of lightning vivifies the scene and lights up all the dark places, the enormity of his intended crime broke fully upon him.

In fancy he already saw the consequences of the evil deed he had resolved upon. He would have ruined the innocent, beautiful girl whom he loved, and would have played into Zenobia's hands, and would have wrecked his own and Carrie's life past meaning, lost everything save a remorse worse than hell itself!

Like a man awakened from a hideous dream he staggered to his feet and paced to and fro, his forehead bedewed with beads of cold sweat. He had not been a wicked man, had committed no crime; his worst deeds had been those of folly; and he shuddered at the yawning abyss from which Willie Fairford's story had saved him. Then he sat down again, and strove to think. The only way in which he could atone to Carrie for the evil he had contemplated would be to save her and the man she loved. But how to do it without rendering the breach between them wider than it was? He, and perhaps he of all men, knew the desperate nature of Zenobia—her heartless and cold-blooded determination to gain her own ends. He knew that no appeal to her mercy and pity would have the slightest effect. She had set her mind upon gaining the Fitz-Harwood coronet, and nothing save peril to herself would deter her from taking the step she meditated. He thought and struggled over the problem until he became calmer and cooler, and at last he hit upon a plan. He got up and strode to the hotel, and making his way to his own room unobserved, wrote a line upon a sheet of paper—"Meet me in the shrubbery at six o'clock." This he put in an envelope, and thrust under the door of her room.

Then he went down to the shore, and hailing a boat from the yacht, went on board.

"Get all ready for the Mediterranean," he said to the skipper. "We shall sail to-night."

"Ay, ay, sir," said the skipper; then he looked at the sky. "Weather rather threatening, sir."

Gerald Moore looked up impatiently.

"It will be nothing," he said; "we must sail to-night. You will get provisions in the town and watch for my signal from the shore. Let the boat come for me immediately."

Then he went down into the cabin, and spent the morning writing letters. He made all arrangements for leaving England forever; wrote to his agent, giving him minute instructions as to the disposal of his effects; wrote to his nearest relatives letters of farewell, and lastly, wrote to Carrie.

Over this last letter he lingered in an agony of sorrow and remorse, short though the lines were, and sealing it, put it in his jacket-pocket. Then, with a heart more at peace than it had been for days past, he went over the vessel, superintending the preparations that were rapidly progressing.

Meanwhile, at the hotel, Lady Fendal's party were getting ready for an excursion into the country. There was a general bustle of servants, a packing of hamper and trunks, and harnessing of horses. Beautifully dressed women, and men in knickerbocker suits ran up and down the stairs laughing and chatting, but none amongst them was fuller of life and spirits than her highness Princess Florence, not a single one of them had connected with the bosom the note which Gerald Moore had written.

"Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia."—Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville, writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now 79 years of age I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. I am well-known in this section of Canada, having lived here 57 years; and you are hereby to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case."

Among the pains and aches endured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject.

ARREST OF A SPIRIT.

Sensation Among the Faithful at Battle Creek—The Materializing Medium Exposed.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 10.—A sensation has been caused here among the faithful by the announcement that Joseph King, the materializing medium of Benton Harbor, had been captured in the act of impersonating a spirit. King came here from Benton Harbor about a week ago, and has given several seances in different houses. A number of business men have attended, and several members of different churches have also talked with their departed friends through the medium of King.

At Sunday night's seance King turned the lights down and went into an adjoining room when it became time for the ghost to walk. The names of several persons were called by the assistant, and they were shown the spirits of their departed friends, and some of them had the pleasure of shaking hands with them. The seance was at its height when the name of a lady was called, and she arose to cross the room to shake hands with a friend that had gone before. The spirit walked lightly out to meet her, robed in white. Just as the lady was about to reach out her hand to shake with the one who had gone before, Mr. Thomas Cox, one of the audience, jumped up and grabbed the spirit around the waist. The spirit made a desperate effort to get away, but Mr. Cox held on. A lamp was lighted, and the spirit found to be King. He made a frantic effort to get away before the lamp was brought, but Mr. Cox held him fast. A messenger was dispatched to police headquarters, and King was arrested. He will be held on the charge of defrauding the public. The arrest caused a sensation here among the spiritualists, who had just organized a society.

Know Thyself.

How important this injunction to every young man? How many ruin their health and future happiness through pernicious practices contracted in ignorance and repent of when too late. Parents, guardians and humanitarians can do no better service to the rising generation than to place in their hands the information and warnings contained in a little book recently prepared by an association of medical gentlemen who have had vast experience in dealing with the grave maladies here hinted at, and who feel that they owe it to humanity to warn the young of the land against certain destructive habits which are far more prevalent than any layman can possibly imagine, and which, if persisted in, gradually undermine the constitution and health, and destroy the future happiness of the victim. Out on this notice and inclose it with 10 cents in stamps (to pay postage) to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y., and the book will be sent, secure from observation, in a plain sealed envelope.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general expectorant, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—The Orient Minstrels gave a pleasing entertainment to the inmates at the Asylum last night.

—Jas. Hooper, formerly of this city, has severed his connection with the Portage Review, and returned to Winnipeg.

—Magistrate Glover, of Aylmer, heard the charges of attempted blackmailing against Phoebe Hall on Tuesday. Village Constable Ward, of London West, was the principal witness for the crown, and his evidence was of such a nature that the magistrate decided to commit the prisoner to St. Thomas jail, refusing bail.

—Messrs. H. Shorey & Co., of Montreal, proprietors of the Rugby waterproof garments, are sending out a photograph of Lady Aberdeen to all their customers, informing them on the back of the photo that their representative will call on them shortly with a large assortment of samples for the spring season, soliciting orders.

—A very pleasant occurrence took place the other evening at the residence of Mr. Wm. Evans, East London, when Mr. Evans' daughter, Miss Hattie, was united in marriage to Mr. George Elner, of Port Huron. Mr. Edmund W. Wallace acted as groomsmen, while Miss Galloway, of this city, assisted the bride. Rev. R. Gundy performed the marriage ceremony, and after the wedding breakfast was partaken of the happy couple left for their home in Port Huron.

—That was a delightful dance which the members and friends of the Puritan Waltz Club indulged in last evening. The occasion was the third annual assembly of that organization, and the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple never presented a better appearance. Mr. John S. Fair was master of ceremonies, while Prof. C. L. Ensign acted as musical director. Messrs. G. S. Parkinson, Ed. B. Muirhead, A. G. Sutherland (president), R. J. Parkinson (treasurer) and Geo. H. Davis (secretary), members of the reception committee, were exceedingly attentive to the large number of guests present.

—At the regular meeting of Court Brighton, No. 6,507, South London, held on Tuesday, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: P. C. R. W. Hart; C. R. J. T. Read; S. C. R. E. W. Temple; treasurer, Henry Pritchett (retained); S. W. Geo. Smith; J. B. Thos. R. Griffin; S. E. Jas. Jupp; J. B. Henry Gardiner; minute secretary, Thos. May; surgeon, J. M. Piper, M.D., C.M.; janitor, Henry Gardiner; trustees, P. D. C. R. J. S. Dewar, P. C. R. D. H. Young and P. C. R. W. Row (all re-elected); auditors, P. C. R. Thos. May, P. C. R. R. Wallace and P. C. R. W. J. Wilson, V.S.; secretary, H. Sutherland, 3 Byron avenue, South London.

Gustin—McClure.

At the residence of Mr. James McClure last evening his daughter, Miss Jessie McClure, was married to Mr. James Gustin, of this city, under very auspicious circumstances. Rev. J. A. Murray tied the nuptial knot. The groomsmen was Mr. Fred. Scandrett; the bridesmaids, Misses Mary McClure and Edith Gustin. A handsome dress of cream silk, on train, became the bride charmingly, and her maids were also handsomely attired in cream surah. Among relatives and friends invited were Dr. and Mrs. Gustin, Bay City, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gustin, Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Manson Campbell, Chatham; Mr. and Mrs. A. Appleton, Windsor; Miss Eva Ridgely, Brockville, Ont.; and Mr. Thos. McClure, Portland, Ore., U.S. The young couple left for the west on the C. P. R., and will reside in this city on their return.

A Remarkable Woman.

In Wrocton on Friday night there died an old resident—Mrs. John C. Parks, widow of the late John C. Parks, for a number of years a resident of that place. Mrs. Parks was born in Guysboro, Ont., on March 13, 1816, and had reached the ripe old age of 77 years and 9 months. Up to the time of her death she was hale and hearty, never experiencing a day's illness in many years. Her husband died 24 years ago, Mrs. Parks being a Miss Awrey, and a cousin of Nicholas Awrey, M.P. By the marriage was a family of sixteen children—six daughters and ten sons—as follows: Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. McCutcheon, William and Gideon Parks, residing on the old homestead; Thomas Parks, 127 Carling street, city; Mrs. Cranley, Bruce Mines, Ont.; Mrs. Pender, Washington Territory; Mr. Haines, Saginaw, Mich.; Mrs. Armstrong, in Michigan; John, Little Rock, Ark.; Matthew, killed in the Bruce Mines; George, in Manitoba; Peter, in Michigan; Benjamin, killed on the Grand Trunk in this city several years ago, and Charles and David, in Bay City, Mich. Of the descendants living are 7 grandsons and 26 great-grandchildren, while of Mrs. Parks' brothers and sisters eight are still living, all being well advanced in years but still enjoying good health.

Deanery of Middlesex—A Total Abstinence Resolution.

The January meeting of the Ruri-Doennal Chapter of Middlesex was held yesterday in Christ Church. The holy communion was partaken of by the brethren at 11 a.m. The business meeting commenced at 3 p.m. The rural dean, Rev. Canon Smith, presided, and among those present were Revs. F. G. Newton, of St. Mary's; A. Corbett, of Thorndale; A. G. Smith, of Muncy; W. M. Shore, of Ailsa Craig; W. Johnson, of Wardville; W. Lowe, of Glenoe; Canon Richardson, city; Canon Davis, city; G. B. Sage, London West; T. E. Roy, city. Rev. G. B. Sage was elected secretary of the chapter in lieu of Rev. H. R. Diehl, removed to another deanery. A good deal of discussion took place in regard to the question of omitted collections in other parts of the diocese and with reference to the assessment of parishes. It was moved by Rev. W. Johnson, seconded by Rev. F. G. Newton, that this chapter respectfully recommend to the proper authorities that a local mission committee be appointed in each deanery to assist the diocesan committee in this work. Carried. Moved by Rev. A. G. Smith, that in response to the bishop's appeal this chapter pledges itself to make an earnest effort to increase the amount from this deanery. Carried. A good deal of time was occupied in arranging the list of meetings to be held throughout the deanery and the deputations to attend and deliver addresses. A resolution was adopted regarding the Christian Endeavor Society, approving of the same as a parochial organization and recommending its establishment where practicable.

On motion of Rev. G. B. Sage, seconded by Rev. W. Johnson, it was resolved that the members of this chapter now present, in view of the serious evils of intemperance, beg to recommend that henceforth total abstinence be an essential qualification for candidates for holy orders. On the invitation of Rev. W. Lowe it was decided to hold the next meeting at Glenoe the last week in May. After further discussion the meeting adjourned at 8 p.m.

SEABROOKE COMIC OPERA COMPANY.
Thomas Q. Seabrooke Opera Company in "The Isle of Champagne" stands forth as a delightful breezy vehicle for an evening's enjoyable entertainment. The music is well calculated to suit the popular taste. The originality of the scenery is a pleasure to the eye as well as thirsty to the taste. The production is staged with spectacular magnificence, brilliant costumes, choruses of handsome women with good voices. The Seabrooke Opera Company carry a company of 70 people, two carloads of scenery, and will appear at the Grand to-morrow night "THE IRISH STATESMAN."

Carroll Johnson, the Irish comedian, in his new play, "The Irish Statesman," will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House Monday evening. In this new play Mr. Johnson does away with his knee-breeches and plays the part of an Irish gentleman in evening dress. His work is very artistic and truthful and his acting entirely new. His brogue is natural, rich and melodious, and he represents a prosperous Irishman who has come to America. Mr. Johnson has with him a very clever company.

"APRIL WEATHER" LAST NIGHT.

It was a splendid audience that greeted the old favorite, Sol Smith Russell, at the Grand last night. The theater-going public had not forgotten his last appearance here in "A Poor Relation," and the warm welcome of last evening was a deserved tribute to the popularity of the inimitable comedian and to the chaste quality of his performance. "April Weather," written by Clyde Fitch, is a play admirably fitted to the genius of Mr. Russell, whose pronounced individuality and peculiar methods are in it allowed full scope. With anyone else in the role of Raphael Reed, "April Weather" might be uninteresting, but Mr. Russell invests it with the wealth of his quaint art. Comic pathos is its best definition, for humor it can hardly be called. "April Weather," like all of Mr. Russell's plays, teaches many pure lessons, and its quiet charm is a welcome relief from the boisterous nonsense that too often assumes the name of comedy. The many exquisite touches of nature in the piece, as illumined by his unerring instinct, appealed insistently to the audience, who, like "April Weather" itself, were betwixt smiles and tears, according as the spirit of the actor moved them. The members of his company are merely foils to set him off, but what little they had to do they did it well, excepting Mr. Johnson, who needed a prompter. The two children—Viola McNeil and Frankie Lynn—are prodigies of intelligence and shared honors with the star. Miss Blanche, as Kitty, from the Bowery, was capital and Miss Minnie Ralecliffe, the widow, acted with feeling and correctness. The stage equipments, though not elaborate, were perfect in details. Mr. Russell may return to London before the season is over.
