Success of the Dutch Force Sent to Lombok Island-Is the Alleged Sword of Gen. Wolfe Genuine?

Death of Margaret Tupper. LONDON, Sept. 18 - Margaret Tupper, an artist, sister of the late Martin Farquhar Tupper, the poet, died on Sunday in this city of heart disease. The Dutch Win.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 18 .- An engagement has occurred between a Dutch force sent to Lombuk Island and the rebels. The Dutch eventually won the victory, capturing three forts fronting on Lombuk Island. Many natives were killed.

Fatal Hypnotic Seance.

VIENNA, Sept. 18 .- A hypnotic seance given last evening in the house of a wealthy land owner named Salomon at Nyiregyhaza, Hungary, had a serious result. The land owner's daughter, Ella, was one of the subjects experimented with. While she was in the hypnotic state the hypnotizer, a man named Neukor, told her she was afflicted with consumption. The girl immediately fell dead with a shrick.

Gen. Wolfe's Sword.

LONDON, Sept. 18 .- The authorities at the Admiralty Office have received a letter from an officer who served under Col. Dunn, in which the writer expresses doubt as to the genuineness of the sword which Hon. J. C. Patterson, Canadian Minister of Militia, believing it to have belonged to Gen. Wolfe. The writer asserts that it is impossible that the sword can have lain 90 years in the earth without rusting away.

Another Chinese Defeat. London, Sept. 17 .- The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News telegraphs as follows: While Chinese transports were landing troops at Yalu a Japanese fleet attacked the Chinese warships conveying the transports, and a severe battle followed. The Chen Yuen and another Chinese were sunk, and the Chao Yung and Yang Wei went ashore. The Japanese lost three vessels. It is reported that the Chinese admiral, Ting, and tol. Von Hannecken and another foreigner were killed.

The Chinese report that their loss at Ping Yang was 6,600 men.

An Anglo-Jap Treaty.

LONDON, Sept. 18 .- The new treaty between Great Britain and Japan fixes the duties on all articles imported into Japan exceeding an annual value of $30,000,000 at a slightly increased rate, while Japan retains the right to fix her own tariff on articles of lesser annual value. The treaty will be in force for twelve years.

The whole of Japan will be opened for British trade and industry as soon as the consular courts are abolished. In the meantime British merchants may travel through the country and make prospective arrangements for trade.

The Czar's Condition.

LONDON, Sept. 18 .- Confirmed announcement that the Czar is suffering with a complication of diseases which must prove fatal at a day not far off, according to medical opinion, is the paramount political topic of talk. Alexander III. has not completed his 50th year. He has been eleven years on the throne. His heir, Nicholas, is 26 and unmarried. He is betrothed to Princess Alix of Hesse, but the match is known to be distasteful to him and not over agreeable to her, involving, as it does, abandonment of her Protestant faith for that of the Greek Church. The marriage is set for next January, but it is freely asserted, especially since the Czarowitz was in London during the summer, that the wedding will never take place. He is declared to be opposed to matrimony, a fatalist who believes that he will perish by violence while young and that the dynasty will go out with this generation. His father's condition, even if the Emperor shall survive until the new year, will make marriage at the time appointed impossible. There is little probability that Alexander III. will live so long as that, and predictions are rife that his days will be numbered by

The correspondent of the Central News in Shanghai telegraphs that an imperial edict has been issued depriving Li Hung Chang of his three-eyed peacock feather because of his mismanagement of the Corean campaign. Taotai Shing, it is reported, is intriguing against Li Hung Chang through the Emperor's favorite teacher. Reinforcements for the Chinese troops to the number of 50,000 are said to

LOST WITH ALL HANDS.

The Namyong Went Down in the Carimata Straits.

Her Crew and Officers, Sixty four in All, Were Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18 .- One of the most peculiar stories of the loss of a vessel that has been received in this city for many months is brought in advices per the steamer Oceanic from Singapore, via Hong Kong. The Namyong, a 1,152-ton steamer, is said to have gone down with all hands on board in the Carimata Straits, while on a passage from Soura Baya to Singapore.

On the evening of Aug. 7 the British steamer Ingraban noticed signals of distress in the direction of Sarutu Island, and bore down upon them. The Ingraban lay to near the island during the night, and at daybreak the next morning discovered the Namyong with her head on a coral reef. The Ingraban then approached closer to the reef and succeeded in getting sixteen of the wreck's crew off her. Then an attempt was made to tow the Namyong in deep water. Several useless attempts were made, and finally she commenced to slide backward, and almost before anyone thought her floating, she slipped from the ledge, striking the Ingra-oan near the port quarter, smashing in a number of planks of the latter, The Namyong did not appear to be badly damaged by contact with the reef so after re-transferring her crew from the Ingraban, the vessels separated, each proceeding on its respective voyage. The Ingraban had the Namyong in sight up to 6 o'clock in the evening of the 8th, and signaled her Suddenly Capt. Piper. of the former vessel, saw two danger rockets discharged from his companion ship. He came about and steamed his vessel sixteen miles in the direction of the lights, but could find no traces of the Namyong. He searched until 7 o'clock, and finally gave up the hunt and resumed his course for Singapore, where on arrival he learned that she had been given up as lost. She undoubtedly sprang some of her weakened plates after leaving the Ingraban and sank with all her crew. Capt. THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Misunderstanding of Epworth League of Christian Endeavor.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: We fear that great misapprehension prevails as to the action of the Methodist General Conference touching Epworth League and Christian Endeavor. The resolution passed by the conference does not interfere with the status of existing societies in the church, but provides for their unification. Epworth Leagues of Christian Endeavor may remain such and this local title has by the action of the conference become constitutional and disciplinary. Epworth Leagues may still have fellowship in the Christian Endeavor Society, by adopting the joint name, and Chrisian Endeavor societies in the Methodist Church may affiliate with the league in the same way. By this action the General Conference has taken an advanced step along the line of Christian unity, and has placed its young people in legal relation to interdenominational fellowship. This should be satisfactory to all Christian Endeavorers and to every Epworth League of Christian Endeavor. They are not required to sever their connection with the Christian Endeavor Society, and are only asked to adopt the joint title, and so continue their work as at present. The Christian Endeavor Society makes it a sine qua non that its name, as the guarantee that the society adopting it has certain clearly specified aims and methods of work, shall be adopted in order to fellowship. Surely, therefore, it is only fair that the name Epworth League be taken by Methodist Christian Endeavor societies, if they wish official recognition by their own church. Since the General Conterence has authorized an official young people's society, viz., the Epworth League, there cannot, without confusion, be another recognized society.

And as the spirit and methods of work of an Epworth League and a Christian Endeavor Society are so similar, and as the action of the highest church court has granted the liberal provision whereby all Methodist Christian Endeavor societies may by the mere adoption of the name Epworth League of Christian Endeavor, or as a local designation, have a legal statue in the church, surely not one of them will fail to fall into line in harmony with this legislation of our church. It is hoped that Christian Endeavorers will exemplify the principles of their society, viz., "loyalty to their own church and denomination," by at once adopting the legal permissive joint title, Epworth League of Christian Endeavor. Yours, etc.,

A. M. PHILLIPS, chairman of C. E. executive for Canada. W. W. Andrews, trustee of C. E. for the Methodist Church of Canada.

"Fencing Master" Tonight-"Ivy Leaf" the Balance of the Week-Sol Smith Russell's "Peaceful Valley" Last Night.

The opera of "The Fencing Master" will be given at the Grand this evening. The Pittsburg Chronicle of Sept. 4 says of this year's production: "A surprise was forthcoming shortly after the curtain rang up on Smith & De Koven's tuneful opera. The Fencing Master, when a new and charming Francesca was introduced to a Pittsburg audience. Miss Dorothy Morton is more than a worthy successor to Marie Tempest and the late Laura Schirmer Mapleson. She is the Franceson one will love to remember when he has forgotten others. Miss Morton is a young lady whose sweet yet powerful voice is sure to be listened to by music lovers for a long time, it is to be hoped. The supporting company has been strengthened in several ways since its last appearance here."

"IVY LEAF" TOMORROW NIGHT. The attraction at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee will be W. H. Powers' "Ivy Leaf" Company. An exchange says: "The Ivy Leaf" was given to a large audience at the Masonic Theater last night. It is one of the few good Irish melodramas on the road, and was well received. It affords opportunities for some good, strong work and a bit of taking comedy business. The scenery is elaborate, and the company all that the play demands. Many of the situations are thrilling, and the applause was liberal.

SOL SMITH RUSSELL. A much larger audience greeted Sol Smith Russell last night than on Monday. The Grand was almost crowded, and the people welcomed Mr. Russell in a role adapted to his peculiar genius. Those who witnessed his Dr. Pangloss with cold disappointment were warmed into their old admiration by Hosea Howe. Mr. Russell was himself again. As the uncouth lad of "The Peaceful Valley" he fell into his natural groove and was simply inimitable. The audience was very enthusiastic and in response to a curtain call Mr. Russell made one of those witty little speeches for which he is famous off as well as on the stage, He hoped they would enjoy this tender, simple play, he said, even though it lacked the sensation and the perspiration of melodrama. As his role required him to assume an awkward figure he thought it well to show the audience the graceful personal appearance of the actor in reality. Mr. Russell received excellent support.

Tuesday Afternoon. The afternoon session of the Methodist Conference opened at 4 o'clock. The order of the day was the reception of the Presbyterian delegates. Rev. Dr. Stewart, of the Nova Scotia Conference, who with Dr. Allison and Chapman visited the General and No. 5, Montreal. The changes will Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in take effect on May 29, 1895; the terian Church. Rev. Dr. Carman, with characteristic personal and Methodist warmth, welcomed the delegation, and introduced as the first | Hamilton on June 1. Uxbridge district member of the delegation to address the to be connected with the Toronto Conferconference Principal Caven, of Knox Col-

the delegation present from the Presby-

lege. The eminent principal said that he esteemed it a great honor and privilege to be the bearer of the fraternal salutations of the Presbyterian Church, which desired to cherish fraternal feelings towards all the respecting the name and privileges of young churches of Christ which partook of the hidden life of our risen Lord. Speaking preached was the great credential recognized by the Presbyterian Church. Alluding to great Methodists whom he had known who had passed away, he spoke of Dr. Ritchie as "the old man with the four equare to all the winds that blew." "Dr. Douglasa heroicman and great orator." Their names, Principal Caven said, were almost as well known in the Presbyterian as in the Methodist Church. The sacred. ness of the Scriptures as a fundamental to certain widows who were claimants on doctrine of both the Presbyterian and the fund at the time of the union ten years Methodist churches, and their integrity as ago and whose claims appear to have expired, the divine word of God, was briefly dealt | the same standing that their husbands with. The more higher (that is thorough) would have received under the basis of critics the better, but if the Protestant union. Also that the clause of church lose confidence in the Bible its the basis of union respecting the cause is lost. There is, he proceeded, rights of superannuated ministers be so a sentiment adverse to the Bible, construed as to make them claimants for and we need the best light of the their natural lives. That in the election most advanced scriptural science, but of members to the superannuation fund nothing to impair our faith in that most | board the following be the allocation by blessed work. The first result of loss of conferences: London, one minister and faith in the Bible would mean either going one layman; Hamilton, one minister and to the Church of Rome, which claims one layman; Toronto, two ministers and authority, or to be cast adrift on the wide | three laymen; Montreal, two ministers and sea of skepticism; hence the necessity of regarding the word of God as his very word. In conclusion Principal Caven dealt | ster; a board of sixteen members. with the question of union, not in his representative but in his individual capacity. Sometimes, he remarked, we claim a membership of 20,000,000. You claim 20,000,000 to 25,000,000. Whatever may one. We have learned that all labor exfine morning we should wake up and find thought of having reached. (Great applause.) Rev. Dr. Cochrane, who was introduced as the convener of the Home Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church, alluded to the fact that Principal Caven and he had come all the way across the ocean to attend the Methodist Conference, they having arrived on the last trip of the Labrador and Etruria. Dr. Cochrane, in the course of a witty and elequent effort, spoke strengly in favor of organic union of chiefly to prevent the waste of men and means in the mission field.

Rev. J. A. Murray, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, expressed the high regard which the membership of the Presbyterian Church have for the Methodist Church. Mr. John Cameron, as representing the Presbyterian laity, was informed by Dr. Carman that to maintain the rights of the laymen he was entitled to speak three times as long as the ministers. (Laughter.) resenting the Dominion Alliance, on whose behalf he would address the conference, he would at that point content himself by expressing his hearty concurrence with the addresses of his co-delegates. A resolution expressive of gratification at the action of the Presbyterion Church in again sending a delegation to convey fraternal greetings, and assuring that great denomination of their profoundest respect and manifest love, was, on motion of Rev. Dr. Burns, seconded by Chancellor Burwash, carried by acclamation. Rev. Dr. Philp introduced the temperance representatives, Mrs. Thornley, of the W. C. T. U., and Mr. John Cameron, for the Dominion Alliance. By desire of Mrs. Thornley Mr. John Cameron first addressed the conference, reviewing the great progress of the temperance cause and the prohibition movement during the past

Mrs, Thornley said that as the hour was late she would omit the usual compliments, and as for the W. C. T. U. it called to her mind an old Irish Methodist minister who used to refer to his prime as "the days of me activity and the hoight of me splendors." The W. C. T. U. had not yet reached its zenith. The need in temperance work of Christians applying their religious principles to practical work, instead of following the too prevalent fashion of divorcing their religions from their daily lives when it came in conflict with their party politics or personal interests, was dealt with at some length. In speaking of the grand resolutions which make every Methodist heart beat so high, but so often Electric Power Transmission | end with the "whereas," Mrs. Thornley gave a graphic description of a yacht being tossed hither and thither with only helpless children for its crew, while a crowd on shore stood passing resolutions. In conclusion the gifted president of the Ontario W. C. T. U. urged the General Conference to organize committees in such a thorough way that united action would result. Dr. Carman informed Mrs. Thornley that the conference had already taken such action, and was continuing to do so. On motion of Rev. Dr. Ryckman, seconded by Dr. T. G. Williams, an appreciative vote of thanks was tendered the temperance delegation. The conference did not hold an evening

The committee on missions were in session this morning in King Street Methodist Church. They will recommend that Rev. Dr. Ely's proposals regarding a remodeling of the mission work in Japan, The applications for special

The committee on conference boundaries in completing their report will recommend that Conference No. 1, as formed the other day, shall be named London; No. 2, Hamilton; No. 3, Toronto; No. 4, Bay of Quinte, Canada on behalf of the Methodist General present Guelph Conference to meet Conference, introduced in suitable terms at Galt on May 25, to complete and wind up its business, but not to station its men. people's societies. The discipline committee was in session of credentials, Principal Caven said that if a church could show an unbroken descent recommendations will be that not more from St. Peter it would not improve his than one class leader, and one assistant opinion of that church. The dicipline provides that all changes of General Conference officers date from their next conference year so that the change of editors of the Guardian will not take place until June next. The conference to-morrow entered on its third week. A Kingston dispatch says: "Many regrets were expressed here when it was announced that Rev. A. C. Courtice, pastor of the Sydenham Street Methodist Church, Avoid Cosmetics. Ladies, shun cosmetics! Most of the common preparations contain poisonous chemicals which exert a deleterious action on the skin; and at the best no paint, powder or wash can supply the natural beauty of a fine complexion. They are palpable and a palpable fraud is an abomination. Pure rain water and good health are essentials to a healthful skin. The former is plentiful; the latter can be regained and kept by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which purifies the blood, removes pimples, blackheads and roughness, strengthens impaired digestion and wards off pulmonary diseases. Without pure blood you cannot have a clear complexion.

DAIRY INTERESTS.

Meeting of the Directors of the W. O. Dairymen's Association-Date of the Next Annual Convention. The board of directors of the Dairymen's

Association of Western Ontario met yesterday afternoon in the board room of the Western Fair offices, Queen's Park. There were present President Pattulio, Woodstock; Thomas Ballantyne and A. F. Mac-Laren, Stratford; Wm. Dickson, Attwood; John Prain, Harriston; Thomas Gibson, Fordwich; Harold Eagle, Attercliffe Station; J. F. Williams, Ingersoll; John Geary, J. L. Pearce and J. W. Wheaton (secretary), London.

The most important business transacted by the board was the selecting of the place for holding the next annual convention. It was decided to hold the next annual gathering in Stratford on Jan. 15, 16 and 17,

It has been the action of the association to move around from one place to another with its annual convention. By following this regular order there are one or two smaller places that would take preference before Stratford. During the last year or two, however, the annual gathering of the western association have been so largely attended that it was considered advisable to select those places where suitable hall accommodation could be secured and where there would also be sufficient hotel accommodation for the entertainment of the numerous visitors and dairymen who annually attend, As the annual convention is due to be held in the northern district, Stratford was chosen as the most suitable and the most convenient point for such a gathering.

Special efforts will be put forth to make this convention more than usually attractive and profitable. The secretary will issue a specially prepared programme advertising the meeting. There will be a couple of prominent speakers on dairy topics present from across the line, foremost of whom will be Mr. John Gould, of Thio, who rendered such valuable services at the Ingersoll convention last year. The leading authorities on dairying in Canada will be present, all serving to make the coming convention of unusual interest to the dairymen of Western Ontario.

THEIR TOUR OFF

and Immediately With the Voice They All Began to Make Excuses.

[Special to Hamilton Times.] OTTAWA, Sept. 18 .- The tour of the Ministers to Manitoba and the Northwest and British Columbia has been declared off. There was a meeting of the Cabinet at 11 o'clock today, and the result was that there will be no effort for the present on the part of the Government to counteract the work done by Mr. Laurier and his party in the west. The exact reason for this is not forthcoming. It is, however, said that Sir Hibbert Tupper is unable to go on account of illness in his family. It is also said that Mr. Ouimet is unable to go on account of illness in his family. It is also said that from the beginning Mr. Ouimet did not like the idea of going.

Fraud Charged. ST. THOMAS, Sept. 18 .- Yesterday Chas. H. Toffhermire and Geo. E. Myers, of Wallacetown, were arrested on the charge that they "did conspire and agree together by deceit, falsehood and other fraudulent means, to deprive Mr. John A. Bobier of the sum of $1,000." The fraud complained of was in connection with the sale of a quarter interest to Mr. Bobier by defendants in an arrangement for cooling off wagon tires. It is alleged that the defendants made agreements with Mr. Bobier which they did not carry out, and representations which were not in accordance with facts. The Quadrant Scores Again. Messrs. Carroll, McKenzie & Co. have received the highest award (a silver medal) at the Western Fair for their display of "Quadrants" in competition with the best hibit is very fine, embracing silver and gold-plated racers, and road racers and adies' safeties enameled in most artistic shades. Colored incandescent electric ights are suspended from each of the frames, and choice flowers, ferns and rubber plants adorn the ends of the two big plattorms of machines. On the top row four old machines are shown, viz., the nickelplated machine which took the gold medal at the World's Fair, Frank F. Radway's machine, with a record of his victories above it, then comes the first "Quadrant" racer that was imported into Canada by Mr. Carroll, and upon which Clay Manville won the city championship in 1892, and next the machine which won the city championship this year. These four wheels are set in motion by means of an electric motor, giving a novel and decidedly pretty effect. Conspicuous in the exhibit is a large portrait of Radway, and on all sides are suspended striking announcements of "Quadrant" achievements, the most prominent being Radway's recent records from 6 to 100 miles. The machines shown are in point of workmanship and finish the finest by far that we have ever seen, and excel in the opinion of competent judges anything of the kind previously seen in Canada, Messrs. Carroll, McKenzie & Co. have reason to be proud of their exhibit, and well deserve the silver medal which has been awarded them, for it is unquestionably the finest array of machines combined with artistic effect that has ever been shown in Canada-Toronto included. NAVIGATION AND RAILWAYS.

-Surely it is about time another Arctic expedition were setting out to get wrecked.

-Mr. Mahlon Cowan, who has been chosen as Liberal candidate for the House of Commons in South Essex, is a hustling young Canadian-a native of the riding and for years prominently identified with it. He is one of the best public speakers in the West, and has hosts of friends who will wish him success. That will be if the voters' lists are not neglected. Let it be remembered in every riding that vigilance in preventing election list stuffing is absolutely necessary to success.

-Hon. Wilfrid Laurier concluded his most successful series of meetings in British Columbia by great gatherings at Kamloops and at Revelstoke, A shameful state of affairs exists at the last named place. The Dominion Government and the Province have been squabbling about the ownership of the town site for ten years, and the settlers have not yet obtained their deeds, while a non-resident has obtained a deed for 100 acres. Mr. Laurier promised to lay the facts before Parliament. The leader and his associates will now conduct a series of meetings in the territories.

-Those who desire to see an object lesson in the transaction of business with neatness and dispatch could hardly do better than spend an hour in the Methodist General Conference. The same method of procedure would make the fortune of any secular parliament in the world. No doubt a good deal of this is due to the wonderful tact of the chairman, General Superintendent Carman. It simply illustrates afresh how needful it is that in every gathering, no matter how important or orderly, the presiding officer shall be a man skillful in holding the reins.

-Mr. Cameron Brown, who has many friends in London and Western Ontario, has butter, as to quantity, is fair, and the qualresolved to exercise his talents in the pro- ity is good. Fair from far and near. Many citizens, too. have visited and inspected the excel- a factured at Thom's implement works, Watlent exhibits. Every Londoner should aid in making the Western Fair a success. It is a great aid to the advertising of this fine city and its varied products as well as an educational agency for forwarding the interests of the best customers for the wares of London's factories and wholesale warehouses. See the Fair, enjoy it and encourage the business men who unselfishly spend so much of their time and money to make it a success. Don't grumble because you are not always suited. Look on the best side of everything. Grumbling can safely be left to the pessimists who are never pleased with anything that they do

-Poor Mr. Patterson, Canada's Minister of Militia, is having a bad time of it over the alleged sword of Gen. Wolfe, the hero of Quebec, which he recently purchased amid a great sounding of trumpets. From all sides come expressions of belief that the War Lord has been imposed upon. There useful invention. Mr. Thom puts on the market possibly more good, practical Winnipeg Mr. Henry Imlach, formerly of this city, writes to the Manitoba Free Press as follows:

tion appearing had been made." And a British officer who served under General Dunn writes to the British Admiralty asserting that the sword recently "dug up on the field of Abraham" could not possibly have lain 90 years in the earth without rusting away. How could it be in Stratford, too?

A GOOD MAN GOES, AND A GOOD MAN COMES.

If there was to be any change in the editorship of the Christian Guardian, the organ of the great Methodist denomination in the Dominion, we do not know that I any better selection could have been made than that of our former fellowcitizen, Rev. A. C. Courtice, of whose brilliant talents and many excellent traits of character it has before now been our pleasure to testify. It is to be hoped that the new editor's health, which has not been entirely satisfactory, may improve so that by next June, when his term of office begins, he will be as physically able for his duties as all know him to be mentally.

While this is our view as to Mr. Courtice, it is only fair to say that Dr. Dewart, who for over a quarter of a century has been editor of the Guardian, that he will leave the office with unusual credit. Dr. Dewart, by virtue of his record, stands today as one of the very foremost journalists in Canada, and no doubt his pen will not long be idle. We understand that the worthy editor, after his first surprise, is disposed to take the result of the election good-humoredly, conceding that a man who has had 27 years' control of a representative journal can hardly complain if someone else is given an opportunity. The best wishes of every journalist in Canada go with Dr.

UNION.

A good deal was said yesterday, in connection with the visit of a fraternal delegation from the Presbyterian General Assembly to the Methodist General Conference, about the possibility of organic union at some time in the future. As a matter of fact, the two bodies which do now co-operate to the greatest extent in all so cial and moral reforms are the Methodists and Presbyterians.

They occupy the pulpits of each other, they administer and partake of the communion with one another, as occasion is presented, without let or hindrance, and the polity of the two Churches is in many respects the Shanghai correspondent telegraphs that advices from Chinese sources report a severe naval engagement at the mouth of the Yalu River between the Chinese northern squadron and the Japanese fleet. The battle lasted 6 hours. During the fight the Chinese warships Yang Wei and Chao Yang caught fire and were burned and run ashore, and the Chi Yuen and King Yuen were sunk Four of the Japanese vessels were sunk and the remainder of the fleet retreated. The Chinese then succeeded in landing the troops which they had on board. Admiral Ting, who was in command of the Chinese squadron, was severely wounded. After the battle the Chinese vessels proceeded for Wei-Hai-Wei, which place they reached in safety. It is supposed some of the troopships which were being conveyed by the squadron were Citizens' Day Attendance Was Also Equal to Last Year.

The Horse Races - Many Meritorious Exhibits-The Special Attractions and Another Successiul

Ralloon Ascension.

Germania Day at the Western has come and gone. In point of attendance it fell a little below last year, but so very little that the scale can be easily turned by the attendance of today. Germania Day last year was credited with an attendance of 12,000. Yesterday the erowd reached 10,000, and a couple of thousand paid admission to the evening attractions. Although it has been stated that Citizens' Day did not equal last year's, the gate receipts on Monday were in advance of the previous year, and there was not $2 difference in the total receipts. The weather of yesterday was all that could he desired, although the track was just dusty enough to cause the performance of the man with the watering cart to receive as much applause as the special attractions. The stands presented a much more lively appearance than on Monday, although there were some gaps in the mass of vari-colored humanity on the boards. The Fair management have been disappointed by the non-appearance of two of their most widely advertised attractions-the three Albion acrobats in their German emigrant specialty, and Seigrist and Lee, the pantomimists. The first four heats were equally divided between the two. Each horse had two firsts and two seconds, while Nugetta had four straight thirds. In the final heat General Sprague led until the three-quarter post had been passed. The judges in the various departments ave about completed their work. The directors met yesterday morning and organized only a short time. Ernest Jarrett, a contortionist volunteered to give an exhibition yesterday afternoon in the absence of Seigrist and Lee and the Albion acrobats. Jarrett performed some clever feats.

Mr. James Gardiner, of Chatham, was one of the visitors yesterday. Mr. Gardiner was one of Middlesex's early settlers, and sat on the county council 30 years ago. Though over 80 years of age he is enjoying good health.

LIVE STOCK EXHIBITS.

The Western Fair still maintains its proud pre-eminence in the department of live stock. In point of numbers and excellence of individuals this exhibition surpasses all previous ones. There are many animals which won prizes at Chicago and fame for Canada. All the great breeders of the Dominion are to the fore, and their herds and flocks show that improvement is the order of the day, and there is great advancement all along the line. There is an air of conquest about the breeders since their return from the World's Fair which fits them well, and a determination is expressed to retain the laurels wou in a fair field against the world. Notwithstanding the dullness in the live stock markets, and the unremunerative prices obtained by the farmers, their interest in good stock is as keen as ever, and large crowds are visiting the stalls and pens, and put in their time there, thinking it more to their interest than to "take in" the many attractions provided by the management.

The show of Polled Angus is not very large, but the exhibit of Robert Craik, of Montreal, would be hard to excel on the continent.

THE BUTTER BREEDS. Every thing on earth is undergoing a constant change, and it is evident that the opinions of Canadian farmers regarding cattle for the farm is no exception to the ruie. While the becf breeds have been a source of pleasure and profit in the past, the consensus of opinion is that they must go, and the dairy breeds take their place, largely, on the farm. The extremely low prices obtainable for beef cattle makes it impossible to feed them except at a loss, while the present prices for cheese makes dairying the only profitable branch of farming, except hog raising. The large excellent herds of Jerseys and Ayrshires present, and the amount of attention they attract are an indication of the growing popular taste. A prominent breeder of Jerseys asserted that the demand for pure dairy-bred cattle had increased in Canada during the past year 100 per cent. This may be too high an estimate, but nevertheless many prominent farmers who were noted for their beautiful herds of Shorthorns heretofore, and would brook nothing else on their farms, have introduced the butter breeds, or are looking about for choice animals with which to start dairy herds. Numerous sales were made by breeders of choice animals at Toronto, and the indications are that most of them will have disposed of their surplus stock before the close of this Fair. Among the principal exhibitors are J. Smith & Son, J. O'Brien, and R. Gibson.

While the Jerseys are the most numerous, their great rivals, the Ayrshires, make | magnificent character as would do credit to a large display and contain many fine specimens. They are held by many—and among the number are a good part of the Scotch visitors-to be the best all-round dairy breed in existence. Several sales were made on the grounds, and in the near future the Ayrshire will be more familiar on the Canadian farms than at present. Among the exhibitors of this breed are M. Ballantyne, Downie, R. G. Stacy, Lynn, and Mr. Smith, Fairfield Plains. Holland, of Culloden, shows two Guernseys, one of which, a 3-year-old bull, secured the sweepstakes at 'Toronto.

The farmer who would not be deeply noved by the unmusical grunt of a pig when live hogs are worth 51 cents to 51 cents per pound, don't care about the jingle of coin in his pocket. "I hate hogs, but I love the money they bring," was the remark of a prominent farmer, as he closed

Mr. James Calvert, Thedin the butcher boys' race as would have ford, shows a sow and a boar of this breed which weigh 620 pounds each, and which took prizes at the World's Fair. W. H. Odell, Belmont, also has a large number of them on exhibition, and which will compare favorably with others in the pens. Chester Whites and Yorkshires still retain their reputation with those who favor the larger breeds. W. Butler & Sons show two of the former which weigh about 800 pounds each. Joseph Featherstone, of Streetsville, has a fine exhibit of Yorkshires which took several prizes at the World's Fair. W. & F. Roe show Tamworths and a good collection of Poland China, which are a popular breed in some localities. There are a large number of Berks, which, for farmers' use, are still considered most profitable, though the packers do not cavor them as well as other breeds for bacon for the foreign market. The fine-boned Suffolks have their admirers and the show is good. SHEEP. The exhibit of sheep outrivals that of all other years in point of numbers and in excellence of individuals. The sheep. breeders of Canada have used more science and more care with their flocks than with any other domestic animal on the farm. As a result of this it is contended by good judges that there are home-bred individuals in the flocks on the ground which are as good as any imported. It would be hard to find, even in England, an equal number with those at the Western Fair which would surpass them in excellence. Judging by their numbers the Shropshires appear to be the most popular, but they are closely followed by the Lincolns and Cotswolds. Among so many good ones the judges found it a hard matter to pick out the winners. Though the "bottom" is knocked out of the sheep industry on account of the low prices which prevail for wool and lambs, yet it is found good policy to keep a small flock on the farm to destroy noxious weeds and assist in keeping the farm clean. A few good sires changed hands today, which were purchased to improve flocks. The farmers do not seem inclined to sacrifice their sheep like many did in the States, but seem rather determined to hang on and wait for the good times coming. Among the exhibitors of Cotswolds are Messrs. Weeks and Shore, Glanworth; Wilson and Snell, Brampton; Jackson and Laidlaw, Wilton Grove. Messrs. Smith and Kelley show Leicesters

A Fine Instrument. The crowds continue to roll through the main building, and as soon as the southwest corner is reached a stop is made. Visitors are always attracted at this point by music of a very sweet nature and an elegant array of pianos. The exhibit is made by that celebrated firm, Gerhard Heintzman & Co., of Toronto, the excellent quality of whose goods is known from one end of the Dominion to the other. The display consists of six instruments of most exquisite design, their finishings being in ash, blister walnut, Circassian walnut and mahogany. The appearance of these pianos is such as to arrest the attention of sightseers, but what is of infinitely more importance is the ments as the keyboards are fingered by the musicians in charge. These pianos were first manufactured in 1877 by Mr. Heintzman, and as their merits became known the output steadily increased until now the company eccupies an extensive factory on Sherbourne street, Toronto, in which is employed a small army of the most skilled workmen. The end is not yet. The trade carried on by the firm continues to grow, until now plans for the enlargement of the manufactory are under consideration. This of itself is sufficient proof of the popularity of these instruments, but what further indicates the solid foundation on which this enterprise is based is the fact that some 4,000 pianos at present grace the homes of Canada's professional and amateur musicians. Daily recitals are given by Mr. Fred L. Evans, the leader of the Grand Opera House orchestra, and Mr. James Maitland, of Toronto. London and district is under the supervision of Mr. W. McPhillips, who has his down-town warerooms at 229 Dundas street, where visitors will always readily and courteously be shown the merits of the Gerhard Heintz-

Tuckett's Tobacco. G. E. Tuckett & Son Company, Hamilton, are exhibiting a full line of tobacco. This firm commenced the manufacture of tobacco 40 vears ago. The famous Myrtle Navy is known in all habitable parts of the world, and notwithstanding the fact that it has now been on the market for such a length of time the quality is the same as at first. An inferior plug has never yet been heard of. Tuckett & Son also manufacture several other brands of tobacco, which are unsurpassed for quality and purity. They are making a chewing tobacco called Mahogany which is meeting with great success, and the firm believe it will supercede all other chewing tobacco in the market. It is parexcellence in quality and fragrance, and being utterly free from all chemicals it has no injurious effect on the users. There is also a large assortment of cigars, in which are used the finest Cuba and Habana tobbaco. Tuckett & Co. employ only union labor. The pianos are fitted with the very latest devices, which fill many long-felt wants. Their tone is perfect, their finish is unex-celled, and the woods used in their manufacture are exclusively of the best quality of oak, walnut and burl. The exhibit is in charge of that obliging manager for London, Mr. A. Burness, while Messrs. John Martin, a noted musician from Toronto,

The construction of the machine throughout is most ingenious and unique, and any description which might be given would convey a very poor idea of what it really is. It is entirely different in every respect from the old ele vator binder, so much so that a person seeing the two machines standing together would hardly imagine that both were used for doing the same class of work. The bindlochine is in use in many parts of Canada, and the glowing testimonials received prove that they are highly satis-

Semething New in Pumps. Mr. I. W. Anderson, of Aylmer, Ont., is showing something entirely new in pumps. The exhibit is situated near the windmills, and comprises a double-acting force pump which is so constructed that the working parts completely balance at any depth. The pump is always primed, never freezes in any climate, will wear a lifetime, and is looked upon as the cheapest article in the market. It produces a continuous stream, and for fire protection, watering lawns, spraying trees, etc., is unequaled. It is especially adapted for deep wells, with windmill or hand The spray pump manufactured by Mr. Anderson is similarly constructed, having brass working parts, which insures endurance. The advantages of this pump are many. It has great force, and the spray can be made as fine as a mist. Two persons can operate it at once. Mr. Anderson wants agents in every part of

A Combination Spray Pump. Mr. Charles J. Brown, of Brigden, Ont., is at the Fair this year with a combination spray pump of great merit. Mr. Brown is to be found at the south end of Horticultural Hall, where he will furnish all information regarding the pump. It has many advantages, being suited for spraying purposes, while by changing an attachment, it can be used as an agricultural syringe or potato-bug exterminator. The outfit also includes a veterinary nozzle and two of Lewis' patent graduating spray nozzles, one of wich is very fine, and adopted for use on grape vines. The pump has been in the market for ten years. It was shown at the World's Fair at Chicago and was pronounced superior to any article of a superior quality. John A. McGillivray | in its line.

Wemple's Shaft Coupling. Just outside of the carriage shed there is Wemple's anti-rattling, self-locking pole or still coupler. By a simple arrangement the pole can be taken off and the shafts put on in its place inside of ten seconds. On the other side over 30,000 have been sold since April last. Mr. Wemple is here to sell the patent right for Canada, and the purchasers will have a money making invention that sells on sight. It's simplicity commends itself, and it comes within reach of a poor man's purse.

A Nice Corner. The exhibits by the piano makers in the main building are numerous this yearso numerous, indeed, that a visitor to the Fair can go into hardly any portion of the palace without hearing music. What is claimed to be the richest display of them all is to be found on the lower floor in the northeast corner. It is placed there by the R. S. Williams Company and deservingly draws the attention of visitors. The Williams Company have been in the business for the last 50 years. They well know how to suit the people, and why should they not? It is on the general public that the firm depends and every effort to please has beem met with a suc cess that is surprising. The display placed this year is made up of the very choicest of goods. There can be seen a celebrated grand, finished in very fancy French burl, with nicely carved legs. Then there are several uprights, in French burl, magnolia, and Circassian walnut. The concluding touches on these instruments make them, as they have always been, of the Al class, and possessed of a sweet, rich tone. The stand without the pianos would alone elicit admiration. It is beautifully furnished. and has on the walls oil paintings of Europe's leading composers - Wagner, Beethoven and Mendelssohn. Prof. Zickel, one of Detroit's foremost pianists, is at the Fair, and gives recitals on the Williams, which are convincing of their superiority.

The general verdict is that it is a decided success, for it is absolutely fireproof, its use requires very little labor, can be applied when the stove is luke-warm, and is guaranteed to last three times as long as the ordinary goods. A DISAPPOINTED MAN

Thought He Was Going to Die Beiere Summer Was Out, But He's Alive and Well and Working

Today. Somerser, Man., Sept. 17 .- "Hard Times" is the cry from farmers in this country. Arthur Coley, a farmer living near here, has had double reason to cry "hard times," for eight months ago he lay on his back in bed, a victim of Bright's Disease. He acknowledges that he expected to be dead before the end of summer, but his expectations have been most pleasantly disappointed, and all summer he has worked on his farm just as though he had never known a day's illness. Last spring he hegan taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and a few boxes completely cured him, as they have every other victim of this disease who has used them.

Local Market. Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son. London, Wednesday, Sept. 19. WEEKLY REVIEW.

This week has been one of few events in grain circles so far as the local market was concerned. Wheat opened at 85c to 87c for red, and 88c wheat opened at 80c to 87c for red, and 80c to 90c for white, held steady at these figures for the greater part of the week. Saturday's trading was done on the basis of 85c to 88c for red, and 88c to 91c for white; one exceptionally fine lot sold at 96c, and another load sold at 94c from same seller. These two sales are no guide, as it is seldom we find wheat equal to it.

The closing values were from 85c to 90c.
Oats have met with a moderate inquiry.

Buyers look for lower prices; 83c to 85c were today's range.

The offerings of barley were light, and the demand light; sales run from 80c to 85c.

Peas were scarce, and only a moderate demand existed. Sales were made from 80c to 90c, ruled entirely by the quality. The bulk of sales were made at 80c to 85c. The samples offered were poor as a rule.

One or two sales of rye are reported, the price varying from 98c to $103. Some lots were thin and sold slow, while plump in clean lots were quickly picked up attop prices.

No beans, corn or buckwheat offered.

Butter was quite active all week. The close was 20c to 23c for crocks and 22c to 25c for pound rolls, a gain of 1c per 1b all around.

Eggs continued to climb the ladder, and closed at a gain of from 1c to 2c. Stocks here are light: 11c to 11c by the basket and 12 to 14c retail was the price at noon today.

Beef and all the rest of the meats show little change.

change. Chickens were very plentiful and sales good the demand being extra heavy. Sales by the quantity, 30c to 40c per pair, 40c to 50c single pair. Ducks quiet at 50c to 70c.

Hides steady; the demand was not so keen,

Hides steady; the demand was not so keen, but all offerings, after a slower sale, were absorbed at last week's values.

Fruits were steady. Peaches not quite so plentiful and a shade higher at 50c to 80c for good stock; plums higher at $1 for green gages, $1 25 for eggs, 80c for sugar and 70c for ordinary blue; years quiet, unchanged: apries dull at any price: potatoes easier at 70c; tomatoes also lower at 30c bu.

Speaking from over twenty years' experience, I can sum up in a few words some of the results of the indiscriminate use of glasses. In the case of odd eyes-gradual oss of sight in the weaker eye, ending in blindness of that eye, strabismus (or squint), diplopia (or double vision), and a gradual weakening of the good eye and making it much more susceptible to disease, glaucoma, iritis, etc. In cases of astigmatism, unsuitable glasses will cause neuralgic pains in the eyes, frontal headache, nausoa, paralysis of the accommodation, resulting in permanently impaired vision which no skill can restore. Mr. North sat looking at the flowers. He nad been sitting there for the past hour, buried in reflections that were not pleasant, and the morning was getting on. He thought of his embarrasements; those applications for money from madam, that he strove to hide from his well beloved son Richard, and that made the terror of his life. They were apt to come upon him at the most unexpected times, in season and out of season; it seemed to him that he was never free from them; could never be sure at any moment she would not come down upon him the next. For the past few days the house had been, so to say, sacred from these carping concerns; even she had respected the sorrow in it; but with this morning, the return to every day life, business and the world resumed its sway. Mr. North was looked upon as a man perfectly at his ease in money matters; "rolling in wealth," people would say, as they talked of the handsome portion his two daughters might expect in their wedding day. Local debts, the liabilities of ordinary life, were kept punctually paid; Richard saw to that; and perhaps no one in the whole outer world excepting Mrs. Gass, suspected the truth and the embarrassment. Mr. North thought of his other son, he who had gone from his view for ever; but the edge of grief was wearing off, though he was as eager as ever to discover the anonymous

But there is a limit to all things-I don't know what would become of some of us if there were not-and the mind cannot dwell forever upon its own bitterness. Unhappy topics, as if in very weariness, gradually drifted away from Mr. North's mind and were replaced by thoughts of his flowers. How could it be otherwise, when their scent came floating to him through the broad open window in delicious perfume. The colors charmed the eye, the armoma took captive the senses. Spring flowers, all: and simple ones. Further on, beyond the trees that bounded the grounds, a fine view was obtained of the open country over Dallory Ham. Hills and dales, woods and sunnyplains, with here and there a gleam of glistening water, lay under the distant horizion. Mr. North looked not at the landscape, which was a familiar book to him, but

The spring had been continuously cold and wet, retarding the appearance of the early flowers to a very late period. For the past week or two the weather had been lovely, and the flowers seemed to have sprung up all at once. A little later the tulip beds would be in bloom. A rare collection; a show for the world to flock to. Later on still, the roses would be out, and many thought they were the best show of all. And so the year went on, the flowers replacing each other in their loveliness. Sadness sat on them today; for we see things, you know, in accordance with our own mood, not as they actually are. Mr.

North rose with a sigh and stood at the open window. Only that very day week, about this time in the morning, his eldest son had stood there with him side by side. For this was the eighth of May. "Poor fellow!" sighed the father, as he thought of

Some one went sauntering down the path that led round from the front of the house, and disappeared beyond the trees: a short, slight young man. Mr. North recognized his son Sidney; madam's son as well as his own; and he gave a sigh almost as profound as the one he had given to the lost Edmund. adiulty dissipa and had already caused a great deal of trouble. It was suspected—and with truth -that some of madam's superfluous money went to his son. She had brought him up badly, fostering his vanity, indulging him in everything. By the very way in which he walked now-his head moodily lowered, his gait slouching, his hands thrust into his pockets, Mr. North judged him to be in some dilemma. He had not wished him to be summoned home to the funeral; no, though the dead had stood to him as halfbrother; but madam took her own way and wrote for him. "He'll be a thorn in her side if he lives," thought the father, his reflectime when he himself should be no more. The door opened, and Richard came in. Mr. North stepped back from the window at which he had been stonding. "Sir Nash and his son are going, sir. You will see them first, will you not?"

"Going already! Why-I declare it is past eleven! Bless me! I hope I have not been rude, Dick? Where are my boots?" The boots were at hand, ready for him. He put them on, and hid his slippers out of sight in the closet. What with his present grief, and his disinclination for society, or, as he called it, company, that for some time had been growing upon him, Mr. North had held aloof from hisguests. But he was one of the last men to show incivility, and it suddenly struck him that perhaps he had been guilty of it.

"Dek, I suppose I ought to have been at the breakfast table?"
"Not at all, my dear father; not at all.

Your remaining in privacy is perfectly natural, and I am sure Sir Nash feels it to be so. Don't disturb yourself; they will come to you here."

Almost as he spoke they entered, Captain Bobun with them. Sir Nash was a very fine man with a proud face, that put you in mind at once of Arthur Bohun's, and of the calmest, pleasantest, most courteous manners possible. His son was not in the least like him a studious sickly man his least like him; a studious, sickly man, his health delicate, his dark hair scanty. James Bohun's time was divided between close classical reading and philanthropic pursuits. He strove to have what he called a mission in life; and to make it one that | might do him some service in the next

"Is it an engagement that I cannot well put off," interposed James Bohun in his small voice that always sounded too weak for a man. "I would not have made it, had I known what was to intervene."

"He has to preside at a public missionary meeting,"explained Sir Nash. "It seems to me that he has something or other of the kind on hand every day in the year. I tell him that he is wearing himself out."

"Not every day in the year," spoke the son, taking the words literally. "This is the

Mr. North. "I can't do with the early morning air, sir. I don't accustom myself to it.
"A bit of a valetudinarian," remarked Sir Nash.

"Not at all, father," answered the son. "It is as well to be cautious." "I sleep with my window open. James, summer and winter. But we all have our testes and fancies. And now, my good friend," added the baronet, taking the hands of Mr. North, "when will you come and see me? A change may do you good. "Thank you; not just yet. Thank you all the same, Sir Nash; but later - perhaps,' was Mr. North's answer. He knew that the kindness was meant, the invitation sincere; and of late he had grow to feel grateful for any shown to him. Nevertheless he thought he should never accept this. (To be Continued.)

DEEP WATERWAYS

Meeting of the International Convention at Toronto.

Ald. Thompson's Strong Plea in Favor of the Projected Deepening of Canals.

TORONTO, Sept. 18 .- E. V. Smalley, of Minneapolis, was called to the chair when the morning session of the Deep Waterways Convention was opened. A paper by Ald. Thompson, of this city, on "Deep waterways and who shall pay for them," pointed out that in the seven months of lake navigation 30,000,000 of tons of freight are carried on the lakes, or over a fourth of all the freight carried yearly by the railways f the United States. Concerning the relative importance of Canadian and American business on the great lakes, Mr. Thompson said Conada had made an expenditure of $50,587,. 856, with not over 3,000,000 of her people directly interested, while the United States, with 26,000,000 bordering on the lakes, had spent only $7,931,900 on the improvement of the railways, which are deep spots that are more annoying used on the same terms by vessels of both countries. The percentage of crops in the different countries were about the same proportion as the populations. Regarding the question of ways and means Mr. Thompson said that if the city of Manchester, single-handed, could spend $75,000,000 on a canal, surely it would not be a stupendous undertaking for a dezen cities, at the head of which stands Chicago, to divide between them and the territory behind them the cost of constructing a twenty-foot waterway to the lakes. While the only practical route was within Canadian territory the business of the country is not sufficient to justify her undertaking the work alone. In closing Ald. Thompson gave evidence of the feeling in favor of deep waterways by queting resolutions in Congress and in Parliament, and commercial bodies on both sides of the line, and urged that mistaken ideas of patriotism should not be allowed to stand in the way of joint control or construction,

Mr. Fowler, Superior City, Wis., complimented Mr. Thompson on his paper. He disagreed with a remark that railways were likely to oppose the project. He could state that it would not meet with the opposition of railways of the Northwest. He quoted also Sir Wm. Van Horne and Mr. Shaughnessey, of the C. P. R., in support of the cheapening of transportation by water of grain from the Northwest. The only opponents to be expected were the politicians, with their table of war and tarifis and other foolishness.

Mr. O. A. Howland, M.P.P., Toronto then gave some information as to the press ent rights of an international character despening the canals. The convention, he would make war between the two countries

The latest dodge for raising the wind and cheating farmers has been reported from a G. N. W. agent at Melbourne, who says that "A man on foot has been selling our lines on highway, the wire at $2 50 a ton and the poles at 10c each. He poses as foreman of a gang following him, who are putting an entire new copper line. One man is known to have bought a section of five miles and others were negotiating. The man was also making arrangements with farmers for the use of teams at $3 per day." Altogether it is one of the "slickest" schemes on record.

A lady passenger was standing on the platform when a man walked quietly up behind her, slipped his hand into the dress pocket, and was in the act of taking the purse out when Bradley interfered and placed the man under arrest. He gave his name as James Lee. He had in his possession about $16 in money and a silver railroad watch (case No. 3991), believed to have been stolen. Lee is about 35 years old, of reddish complexion, and about five feet eight inches in height.

Repetition of Job's Great Affliction.

Mr. George Henry Drew. of this city, has been in very poor health for some time. His eystem was completely run down, and his blood so impoverished that "boils came out all over his body"—in short, it seemed but a repetition of Job's great affliction, for no sooner did they disappear in one part of the body than they returned elsewhere with more severity, and this condition of affairs seemed to increase. although Mr. Drew had tried no end of curealls. On the 5th day of August he got one bottle of the Royal Crown Remedy and a box of Royal Crown Fills at Bark-well's drug store, of which he has taken half, and last evening he called at the above store to return thanks, and in the presence of eight witnesses stated that it did him more than $1,000 worth of good, as he had not felt as well for years, and the benefit derived from it could not be overrated, and it ought to be made known to other sufferers. It establishes throughout the entire system functional harmony, and supplies the blood vessels with a pure and healthy current of new life. The skin, after a few days' use of the Crown Remedy, becomes clear and beautiful — pimples, blotches, black spots and skin eruptions are removed, sores and ulcers soon cured. Persons suffering from Scrofula, Eruptive Discases of the Eyes, Mouth, Ears, Legs, Throat and Glands, that have accumulated and spread, either from uncured diseases or mercury, or from the use of corrosive sublimate, may rely on a cure if the Royal Crown Remedy is continued a sufficient time to make its impression on the system. RAVING MAD

After Being Released from the Dentist's

Chair. BURLINGTON, N. J., Sept. 18 .- Scott Pierce, of Florence, is confined in the police station here a raving maniac, having become suddenly insane while in the operating room of a dentist, who was extracting several of Pierce's teeth. Whether his insanity was the result of cocaine, which was applied locally to deaden the pain during the operation, or was due to some other cause, has not as yet been ascertained. Mr. Pierce drove to the dentist's and quietly submitted to the operation. But two or three teeth, however, had been extracted when, with a yell, he bounded from the chair, rushed from the room, and, shouting wildly, dashed down the stairs. He sprang into his buggy and lashed the animal into a gallop down the main street, with the evident intention of driving over the pier and into the river. A policeman caught the reins, and, though he was dragged 20 or 30 feet and severely bruised, stopped the horse just in time.

Pierce was locked up and will be examined. His friends say he never before displayed any evidence of mental abera-
