SAYS HE DIDN'T BREAK FANNY'S LEG badly injured.

But Chauffeur Pleads Guilty to Colliding With Street Car.

Toronto, June 7 .- George Seager, while temporarily in charge of an automobile belonging to Mr. D. D. Mann, vice-president of the C. N. R., on the night of May 27 crashed into a street car on College street, two women being injured, one Fanny White, having a leg broken and otherwise bruised. In the police court today he pleaded guilty to colliding with the street car, but not guilty to the charge of grievous bodily harm to Fanny White. "She was hurt in the collision, but I did not do it," said Seager. The case was remanded. Two years ago Seager ran over and killed a woman on College street, but the police say the fatality was unavoidable under the Death came most unexpectedly to Abram Young, a Delaware farmer, on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Young was standing in the laneway of the Clyde Hotel lighting his pipe just before starting to the stable to get his horse ready to go home, when he was seen to stagger and fall. Before anyone could reach him he was dead. Mr. Young was 70 years old, and came in on Saturday on purpose to see Dr. Stevenson, as his health had not been good for some time. He had visited the doctor's office, but half an hour before his death occurred, and AGAINST HUSBAND had walked down to the hotel to get eady to go home. His son who had accompanied Mr. Young had just left and on his return was very much surprised to find his father dead. Dr. MacLaren was called, but upon examination decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Once Lived in Dorchester.

Mr. Young formerly resided in Dorchester, and had only moved to Delaware about a year ago. His wife, Mrs. Sarah A. Young, arrived in the city last night, and the remains were removed to Delaware, where Mr. Young resided at the corner of the fourth concession and Longwoods road. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon to Dorchester.

A., and has a host of friends in the city, who were very glad to see him again. Boy Was Discharged.

In the juverile court this morning a boy appeared, charged with stealing the wheel of Hadley Murray, from the Collegiate last week. The boy, however, was able to prove to the satisfaction of the court that he had found the wheel, and was discharged. It is thought that some other lad took the wheel to have a ride and then left it on the street, though when it was found by the boy who was arrested the hind wheel was missing.

A team of colts attached to a buggy ran away on Sunday on Richmond street, when the lady who accompan led the driver attempted to raise the

To Be Dyspeptic Is To Be Miserable.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. It is largely due to gross errors in diet, over-eating, too free indulgence in stimulants and over-taxing the stomach with indigestible food, eating too rapidly without chewing the food sufficiently, indulging in hot biscuits, pastry, pickles, confectionery, etc.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and fuliness and distention of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic. Bardock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the system to full health and vigor, and thereby cures dyspepsia and all its tributary diseases.

Mr. Amos Sawler, Gold River, N.S., writes:- "I was greatly troubled with dyspepsia, and after trying several doctors to no effect, I commenced taking Burdock Blood Bitters and I think it is the best medicine there is for that complaint."

state and church were so combined that the one could settle the opinions of the other. But it is to be hoped that men think on broader lines today. It is not so much what a man believes. as what he does that concerns his neighbor. Plenty of men are better than their creed, and some are worse. A man's honest belief is only known to his God, his fellow men can only judge him by his deeds.

And yet even in this day there are plenty of people who appear to think that a serious blow will be struck at the British constitution if those offensive expressions of a mediaeval bigotry are abolished. The bill proposing a reform carried in the British House of Commons by a very small majority; it will be thrown out by the House of Lords. And we will have professedly Christian gentlemen all over the Empire-including the Orangemen of Canada-who will write letters and make speeches and pass resolutions denouncing any attempt to change the old laws and introduce a little Christian toleration.

No Christian sect should be especially favored by the state: no creed should be especially condemned. The state is the people combined for secular purposes. A NEW PUNISHMENT

In New Brunswick a lad convicted of burglary has been sentenced by Judge Forbes, not to the penitentiary, punishment is not ordered by the criminal code. Yet it may do more good than the regular penalty. The boy may learn something during his term that he had never known in his earlier days. Possibly he may get through religious training by deputy.

4 in Second Game.

Youngs 9 Stars 5. There were two good games of ball at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon. Smart work, particularly on the part of the outfield, some clever infield play and timely hitting kept the large crowd of fans in good humor and they were generous with their applause. The scores were not large in either game, and this was due to the effective work of the pitchers, who were in the game all the time. Such ball as was played on Saturday should draw good crowds. The First Game. The first game between the Stars and Youngs was won by Youngs by a score of 9 to 5. The game was really won by them in the second inning, when by a few hits and some errors on the part of their opponents they piled up five runs. Thereafter the Stars settled down, and all the runs that were gained came by the hardest kind of work. McFie for Youngs played an allstar game, and made a series of running catches that delighted the fans and won him a repeated round of ap-

THE SECOND GAME.

Rockets 6, Ramblers 4. The second game between the Ran blers and the Rockets was by far th better game, and it was only by th clever work of the outfielders ar pitchers that the score was kept a low as it was. The playing was clean and snapp throughout, although there were one two costly wild throws.

The hitting was most timely and th base stealing on both sides clever. was the kind of a game that kept th crowd in suspense as to the resu right up to the last inning, and the they went away well pleased, cor fident that both sides had played the hardest to win. Dunn, who played first for the Rockets, notwithstanding that Poland out for interference. he has a sprained ankle, was right at Jersey City 0001000000-1 home on the sack, and at bat had two Baltimore 011000000-2 doubles and a single to his credit. John Murphy, of No. 33 Joy street, Somerville, is the murderer. He was captured and tonight is raving in a cell of the Somerville police station.

Murphy, aged 50, known for years as morose and vindictive, was busy this afternoon on the seventh floor of the packing house, cutting the heads off slaughtered hogs with a big knife when the frenzy seized him. Without a word he turned on Dr. Daniel Hayes of Waltham, a Government meat inspector, who stood at his side, and spector, who stood at his side, and with a shriek buried his huge knife in continues Monday and Tuesday. the doctor.

Quick as thought he withdrew it and with a second thrust nearly disembowelled his victim, and then, howling in frenzy, dashed through the Paris Congregational Church Extend crowd of employees and fled down the stairs to the sixth story.

There was a panic on the seventh floor, but a few of the braver workmen started after Murphy, as, his long knife dripping, he fled. Through the terrified employees of the sixth floor, invitation to the Rev. Heber Mahood then down to the fifth, the fourth, the third, the second and the first floors an increase in salary of $200 per anthe maniac ran, his shrieks spreading num. But no sooner was Murphy down than he sprang up again, and, slashing right and left, broke through the ring that surrounded him and fled to another part of the basement. Behind him, groaning on the floor, lay heart almost split with thrust of the huge knife, and Chevas, whose right arm was almost severed, and who, besides, was bleeding from the side Within a few minutes Jencius was still. And then the crowd drew in again. But not for a minute did they dare to close. Bloody and furious the madman stood fast, the huge weapon with which he swept the heads from hogs with a single blow still clutched in his hand. Remembering their dead fellows the crowd gave way. But with the footsteps of the police who had been summoned by someone whose brains had survived the general ranke, some unknown here took heart and just as the bluecoats arrived on the scene he tumped in and felled Murphy again, this time knocking the deadly knife from his hand. Before the man could regain possession of and it was only after a desperate battle during which he was clubbed almost into unconsciousness, that Murphy was subdued.

Just when or under what circumstances all of Murphy's victims were struck down no one was able to tell. During the few minutes of the fight the whole factory was in confusion and when the killer, wild-eyed and Wales, the Archbishop of Canterbury, F. K. Murphy's huge knife, swung by his maniac arm, had in every case dealt a fatal blow. Some of the bodies of the dead were almost cloven in two, and the injured were also deeply cut in vital parts so that from the first all Had Been Mixed By Clairvoyant hope was gone. Without the loss of a minute, however, dead and dying were hurried to the Cambridge Relief Hospital, while Murphy, still howling, was taken to a cell.

It is said Murphy has for a time held a grudge against the management of the place, and this is thought to be the basis of the maniacal outburst which resulted in the bloodiest crime by one man in the history of New

CANADIAN OFFICERS SHOW MUCH SKILL

Make Great Impression in Riding Competion at the London Horse Show.

London, June 7 .- Canadian officers competed in the first jumping competitions at the International Horse Show on Saturday. They rode with plenty of skill and pluck, and some success, but, like their British confreres, lacked that polish which long ever, offered of better things when their horses became more used to the course, which is a very difficult one, comprising a treble pole, a five-barred gate, and an imitation of a railway level crossing, eleven jumps in all with a time limit of two minutes. WHARF DISASTER

Six Persons Drowned in an Accident at Mandeville, La.

New Orleans, La., June 7 .- No more bodies have been found in Lake Pontchartrain, at Mandeville, La., where the wharf gave way while the steamer Margaret was making a landing last night, and it is believed that the deaths will not exceed six. For some reason the boat landing has been changed to a wharf which had not been used for several months. Scores of people crowded upon the landing upon the approach of the Margaret, and it was only when the vessel drew a few feet alongside that the crash came. Men, women and children went into the water, and it looked for a time as though scores would

WONDERFUL WORK OF APOSTLE JOHN WILLIAMS

Interesting Sermon Preached Last Night in St. Paul's United Evangelical Church.

A large audience was present at St. Paul's United Evangelical Church last night when Rev. R. Wobus gave the second part of an interesting address on "John Williams, Apostle of the South Seas." In his address last night Mr. Wobus dealt particularly with the work of John Williams among the cannibals, and the success that attended

John Williams was born at Tottenham, near London, England, June 27, 1796. When 14 years of age his father sent him to London to learn the hardware business. During every spare moment he was seen standing at the work bench, manipulating the different instruments, not thinking in the least that it was the guidance of Providence and that the Lord was preparing him for his service. Although Williams had a very plous mother, he was very wicked. He mocked those who went to church and used God's name in vain at every opportunity. One Sunday evening, Jan. 30, 1814, ompanions in a saloon.
