WHITNEY IS A "PAUL KRUGER" SAID MR. MACKAY IN HYMAN HALL

Large Audience Heard the Liberal Leader Explain His Policy on Saturday Night—Comes Out Strongly in Favor of Technical Education—The School Book "Cut" Was Shown Up.

At Hyman Hall on Saturday night, Hon. A. G. MacKay delivered a scathing arraignment of the "Paul Krugerism" of the Ontario Government in the matter of legislation, and attacked the school book bargain with the Eaton Company most vigorously. He also dealt with technical education, and made a strong plea for trade schools.

The Liberal leader touched upon the revenue-producing legislation of the Liberal Governments of the past, and proved that it was owing to this legislation that the revenue of the Ontario Government had increased to such an extent during the past four years.

Mr. MacKay opposed the centralization of education in Toronto.

The speech was a strong one, and created a profound impression. Mr. MacKay has seldom been in such good form here, and the Liberals of London are optimistic regarding the future of the party. There was a very large crowd present, and great enthusiasm prevailed.

Short addresses were also given by Messrs. J. C. Elliott, M.P.P., West Middlesex; Thomas Mayberry, M.P.P., South Oxford; J. M. McEvoy, T. H. Purdom, K.C., Geo. C. Gibbons, K.C., and F. G. Rumball. Mr. Angus Elliott, vice-president of the Liberal Club, presided in the absence of Mr. George S. Gibbons, the president.

Mr. McEvoy paid his compliments to Mr. Beck in reference to the reception given to the Western University deputation that went to Toronto, and declared that assisting universities was not in Mr. Beck's line.

Ex-Mayor Rumball.

Mr. F. G. Rumball, president of the Liberal Association, was the first speaker, and gave a hearty welcome to Hon. Mr. MacKay on behalf of the Liberals of this city. London Liberals could not have too much of him, and they hoped he would come often. Mr. Rumball paid a compliment to Mr. J. C. Elliott, M. P. P., and Mr. T. Mayberry, M. P. P., for their excellent work in the Legislature.

Mr. Mayberry followed, and in a brief speech expressed his pleasure at being present at the gathering. He was proud of Mr. MacKay, the Liberal leader, and characterized him as the leading debater of the Legislature. He referred to the many sharp contests in South Oxford, and pointed with pride to the fact that that was one of the few ridings redeemed by the Liberals at the last election.

Liberalism in London.

Mr. J. M. McEvoy declared that Liberalism was by no means dead in London, and the large crowd gave ample testimony. It was thought that the serpent had been scotched, and Liberalism was dead forever in London, but the men who fondly dreamed that

MISS PATTI MACLAREN,

Who won the bracelet donated by Miss Margaret Anglin, the celebrated Canadian actress, for the best actress in the Earl Grey dramatic competitions.

PATTI MACLAREN WON BRACELET

In the Earl Grey Competition at Toronto, Donated by Margaret Anglin.

MR. POURE IS SATISFIED

Says Although He Did Not Succeed, He Would Not Trade Places With the Winning Orchestra.

The announcement that Miss Patti MacLaren, daughter of Dr. MacLaren, of Queen's avenue, had won the gold bracelet donated by Miss Margaret Anglin, the noted Canadian actress, for the best performance given by a lady at the Earl Grey competitions, was received with great satisfaction in this city.

Miss MacLaren appeared as Mrs. Parker-Jennings in the performance of "Jack Straw," given by the London Dramatic Club on Saturday night, and her splendid acting was quite the feature of the play.

When she appeared at the Royal Alexandra, she was most enthusiastically received, and it was not hard to guess that she would win the highest individual honors.

All Well Received.

As a matter of fact, "Jack Straw" was well received. The applause was generous at all times, and the company showed to much better advantage than in London.

Mr. Campbell Becher, Mr. Peake and Mr. Charles Hunt enacted their roles with distinction, while Miss Mary Love, Miss Neta Macbeth and Miss Nita Hunt gave striking interpretations of the characters alloted to them. Dr. E. Pardee Bucke was fair.

After the performance his excellency came on the stage and personally congratulated the cast.

All Well Pleased.

The members of the "Jack Straw" company were more than delighted with the success of Miss MacLaren, and also with the fine reception tendered them.

"We were more pleased that Miss MacLaren won the prize than if we had won it with 'Jack Straw,'" said

REV. THOS. MITCHELL'S FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

Large Congregations in New St. James' Church on Sunday.

The fourth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Thomas Mitchell was celebrated in the New St. James' Church yesterday, and the special preacher for the day was Professor Law, of Knox College, Toronto.

Large congregations were present both morning and evening, and Professor Law delivered two fine sermons. The choir rendered a splendid programme of sacred music. In the morning Rev. Thomas Mitchell, the pastor, of New St. James', conducted a special service in the West London Presbyterian Church in connection with the reopening of the building, which has been undergoing repairs. Rev. Thomas Nixon preached at night.

COMET WILL LEAVE ONLY SOME DUST

Washington, April 11.—Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, issued a statement today that will bring peace of mind to folks who are worrying about a possible collision with Halley's comet. Here is what Moore has to say:

"Popular apprehension regarding harm to the earth and its inhabitants during the impending visit of Halley's comet to this portion of the universe is unfounded. The result of a collision between the earth and the comet would depend upon a mass of the comet, the velocity of the bodies and the angle of impact. A collision in the present case will be impossible owing to a safety margin between the tracks of the earth and the comet of some 13,000,000 miles.

"The tail of the comet, through which the earth will probably pass, will be noticeable only as an absolutely harmless luminous gas or dust, and may produce electrical and magnetic effects that can be detected only by self-recording instruments. A source of possible danger or discomfort to the earth attending cometary visits would be the falling into the sun of a comet. As the least distance between Halley's comet and the sun in the present instance will be more than 54,000,000 miles, the possibility of discomfort from solar excitations will not exist."

SLAYER OF PERCY PARKINSON GOES TO THE GALLOWS MAY 20

North Bay, April 11.—Walter Ross, who murdered Percy Parkinson, of Kincardine, was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, May 20, for the murder.

James Moran, the youth convicted of manslaughter, in causing the death of Wm. Dyson, of Guelph, was sentenced to ten years. His lawyer presented petitions for clemency from leading citizens of Ottawa. G. T. Blackstock, for the crown, seconded the request for mercy.

GIVES SERMON ON MARTYRS SLAIN BY ONE OF FLOCK

Noted Mission Worker in a Pittsburg Suburb Shot After Declaring Willingness to Die and Murderer Escapes.

Pittsburg, April 10.—A sermon on martyrdom, in which Frank Skala, an editor and prominent mission worker, had declared himself willing to lay down his life for the Christian cause, was followed today by his assassination in a highly sensational manner, and the shooting down also of a fellow-churchman and leader, John Gay.

Arm in arm the two missionaries were leaving the little congregational church in Woods Run, a suburb, at the head of more than a hundred foreigners. A raggedly dressed and collarless man poked his way through the crowd, and when he was but a step behind the leaders he pressed a revolver to Skala's head and fired twice. The bullets took effect in the jaw and temple and in the midst of his followers he fell dead.

Gay, who threw up his right hand to ward off the weapon, was struck first in the thumb, and then a second bullet was buried in his head. He fell unconscious across the lifeless body of his colleague.

For a moment the assassin stood over his prey in a crazed contemplation of the deed, flourishing his revolver while the panic-stricken crowd fled to shelter behind doorways and posts.

The madman was Jan Radovitch, a character known to most of the mission for his shiftless habits, slovenly dress and radical opinions.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY MAY HAVE NEW SITE IN FUTURE

Board of Governors Met Today and Discussed the Matter—Committee Will Make a Report—A Number of Localities Mentioned.

A new site will probably be selected for the Western University.

At a meeting of the board of governors on Saturday afternoon a committee was named to investigate the question of sites, and they will report at a meeting to be held shortly.

During the discussion a number of prospective sites were discussed, among them being Huron College, the McCormick property in South London, a site near Victoria Hospital, just westward, on Ottaway avenue, and many others.

Nothing of a definite nature was decided upon, and Mr. Justice Meredith, Capt. T. J. Murphy and Mr. T. H. Smallman will look into the matter further.

Some routine business was transacted. No further word was heard from Sir James Whitney regarding the date of the interview regarding the Western. The governors are confident that a date will be suggested shortly.

Those present at the meeting were Mr. Justice R. M. Meredith, chairman; T. H. Smallman, T. H. Purdom, K. C.; J. H. Chapman, T. J. Murphy, J. O. Dromgole, Dr. John D. Wilson, Mayor Beattie, S. Stevely and Secretary Baker.

PLUCKED FROM THE TRACK AS ENGINE THUNDERED BY

Woodstock Citizen Takes Life in His Hand and by Daring Act Saves Deaf Woman From Terrible and Instant Death.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, Ont., April 11.—Only the prompt and heroic action of Mr. William Elliott, jun., of this city, saved the life of Mrs. C. McGinnis yesterday morning. The woman, an inmate of the house of refuge, was walking home from the Roman Catholic Church along th C. P. R. line, and being deaf and having her head down, did not hear or see a freight train approaching from the front. When within 150 feet of her the engineer realized that she did not see the train, and applied the brakes. He could not stop in time, but Mr. Elliott, who was walking 30 feet from the tracks, saw the danger, and rushing forward seized her and dragged her clear, having his arm bruised by the engine as it went past. The engine was brought to a standstill within 50 feet of where the woman got off the track.

The farewell address on behalf of the men of the parish was delivered by Daniel J. Kenefick. Mrs. George W. Pfohl spoke on behalf of the women.

Mr. Frederick Bennett then presented a check for $2,600 to Father Fallon, which had been collected in the parish for a set of episcopal robes.

Father Fallon leaves for Tewkesbury, Mass., where he will remain in retreat for a week.

"JACK STRAW" PLEASED TORONTO

Papers There Speak in High Praise of Good Work of Cast.

"AS ITHERS" SAW THEM

Interesting Criticisms of the Work of a Local Amateur Society in the Queen City.

The Toronto papers have the following to say of the presentation of "Jack Straw" by a London company of amateurs in that city:

Toronto World: Stories of good work had preceded the advent of the London Dramatic Club, and the expectations of the audience were fully realized. The London players were fortunate in the choice of their play, as "Jack Straw" contained none of the defects which, from an artistic or popular standpoint, militated against the success of most of the other plays presented during the week, the choice of a suitable vehicle for exploitation being equally important with the appointment of a capable stage manager. The players in the London club were well balanced, and showed a high average of ability.

In the title role of "Jack Straw," Dr. E. Pardee Bucke was clever. He introduced that imperturbable manner which is so exasperating at times to one's friends. As Mrs. Parker Jennings, one of the ignorant nouveaux

BUSY WEEK OF MEETINGS FOR THE CITY HALL

Almost Every Board in Existence Will Hold a Session.

There will be a few meetings in the city hall this week, all right.

Tomorrow afternoon is the regular meeting of the board of health. In the evening the finance committee will endeavor to strike the rate, and a conference with the hospital trust will be held. After that the estimates of No. 1 committee will be taken up. It is not expected that the rate will be struck at this session, but a meeting later in the week, probably Saturday night, will be called to complete the work.

On Wednesday evening No. 3 committee will meet, and on Thursday evening the board of works will hold a session. The finance committee will do their regular routine on Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon the water commissioners will meet.

The latter body will discuss meters and lawn service prices, and the session promises to be a long one.

LAY ON GRASS DIED OF PNEUMONIA

Mr. Peter E. Widdicombe Succumbed to a Ten Days' Attack.

WELL-KNOWN RIFLEMAN

Took Part in Shoot at Ranges on Good Friday—Brother Taken to Hospital Seriously Ill.

Mr. Peter E. Widdicombe, of 127 Wharncliffe road, died in Victoria Hospital this morning after an illness of about ten days with pneumonia.

Mr. Widdicombe was keenly interested in rifle shooting, and it was his devotion to the sport which resulted in his death.

On Good Friday he spent the greater part of the day at the ranges, practicing, and lying on the damp grass brought on an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Widdicombe did some splendid shooting last year, winning the Beck cup, and intended going in for many competitions this year. He would unquestionably have made a name for himself, as he was rapidly developing, and showed every promise of being a Bisley man.

Prominent Englishman.

He was president of Beresford Lodge, Sons of England, and was one of the hardest workers in connection with the English picnic last year. He was also a member of St. George's Lodge.

Mr. Widdicombe came to London from Chudleigh, Devonshire, England, several years ago, and held the position of ledgerkeeper in the Sovereign Bank.

Later he went with the Home Bank, and was in their employ at the time of his death. He was 35 years old, and besides his wife, is survived by three children.

One brother, John Widdicombe, of 1068 Dundas street, survives. A sad fact in connection with the case is that the latter was taken to the hospital this morning very ill also.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

A CLINTON PIONEER

Was Mr. John Brickenden, Father of Mr. G. F. Brickenden, of This City.

Mr. George F. Brickenden, of 326 Queen's avenue, was in Clinton yesterday attending the funeral of his father, the late John Brickenden, which was held in the afternoon to the Ontario Street Methodist Church. Mr. John Brickenden was one of Clinton's most highly esteemed residents, and his death removes a pioneer. He was 75 years old, and besides Mr. George Brickenden, leaves three daughters, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Rodaway, of Clinton, and Mrs. Adair, of Collingwood.

LLOYD GEORGE DENIES O'BRIEN'S STATEMENT

Declares He Never Received or Heard Read Letter About Concessions.

London, April 11. — Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George repudiates Wm. O'Brien's statement regarding the concessions he was alleged to be willing to make to obtain Irish support for the Government. Mr. O'Brien read at the meeting Saturday in Cork, at which he made his statement, a letter which he said he had sent to Mr. Lloyd George after his first interview with him, recapitulating the concessions for confirmation, and he added that he had read the letter aloud to Mr. Lloyd George at their second interview.

Mr. Lloyd George says on this point: "I never received the letter, and it was never read to me. The statements made in it are grossly untrue. The whole affair is a disgraceful breach of confidence."

LONDON MAN HIGHLY HONORED IN COLUMBUS

Mr. Ed. W. Wright Chosen President of the Delta Psi Law Society of That City.

Mr. Ed. W. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wright, South London, was recently elected president of the International Delta Psi law fraternity, the annual convention of which was recently held in Columbus, Ohio. This honor was won in the face of keen competition, and is a distinguished one, especially in view of the fact that Mr. Wright is but 24 years of age, and the youngest frat man to hold the position. He is an old Collegiate Institute student, and is well and favorably remembered by his former associates. He was born in Columbus, but removed here with his parents when but six months old. Many messages of congratulation have been wired him.

FIRST OF THE NEW PACIFIC TYPE ENGINES

Will Be Here in the Course of the Next Week, It Is Said.

The first of the new Pacific type engines, which the Grand Trunk are placing on the middle division, will be along in the course of the next week or ten days. Fifteen of the new engines will be placed in the service, and will be used exclusively on the passenger runs. The new engines will be the most powerful engines on the Grand Trunk, and are guaranteed to pull a train made up of twelve of the largest passenger coaches or Pullmans at a speed of 50 miles an hour. The new engines, according to railroad men, will not arrive too soon, as passenger traffic has been exceptionally heavy throughout the season, and all trains are crowded.

MINISTER'S SON MAY HAVE SUICIDED

Mysterious Disappearance of a Former Clergyman of Toronto.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Detroit, Mich., April 1. — Crombie Munro, 24 years old, a son of Rev. George Munro, a former prominent Toronto minister, mysteriously disappeared from his home in this city, taking with him his bathing suit and a razor. His mother arrived from Toronto this morning, and she believes he cut his throat and threw himself into the river. Munro was employed as a clerk in the National Bank of Commerce, and when he left the bank he was bareheaded

LONDONERS BUY A SPLENDID YACHT

Hon. C. S. Hyman and Mr. J. C. Duffield Are the Purchasers.

Mr. J. C. Duffield and Hon. C. S. Hyman have purchased a sea-going steam yacht in New York, and it will be delivered the latter part of April.

It is a large boat, 180 feet over all, and will need a crew of 8 or 10 to handle it. It is the intentions of the owners to do considerable sailing this summer.

The price has not yet been made public.

APPROVES OF PLANS.

Brussels, April 11.—King Albert has approved the plans of the ministry of the colonies for reforms in the Belgian Congo, to become effective on July 1, when a large area will be opened to free commerce.

The reforms include a reduction in the taxes which will be collected in money and not paid by labor by the substitution of natives for white officials; the restriction of obligatory labor on the part of adults to the works dedicated to the improvement of their own conditions, and the suppression of polygamy.

CROWDS VISIT FRANK HOMESTEAD

Hundreds of the Curious Explore Scene of Recent Shooting on Wellington Road.

MISS FRANK IMPROVING

John Prodger Is Still a Model Prisoner at the Jail—Likely Ed Meredith Will Defend Him.

Hundreds of citizens took advantage of the fine weather yesterday to visit "Mount Frank," on Wellington road, the scene of Tuesday's shooting affray.

All through the morning and afternoon crowds of curious people thronged the grounds and rambled all about the place, and at times made such a noise that Miss Frank was somewhat disturbed.

She had a very quiet night, however, and is steadily improving.

Will Defend Prodger.

It is practically certain that Mr. Ed Meredith, K.C., will appear for John Prodger when he comes up in the police court for his preliminary examination on Thursday morning next before Magistrate Love.

Prodger continues to be a model prisoner at the jail, and good reports are made regarding his conduct.

The police are working steadily on the case, and are making every effort to locate the gun that was used, and also the missing trousers. The general impression is that the trousers were burned by Prodger, and that the revolver was thrown into the river.

GATHERED $324,000 IN 28 MINUTES

New York, April 11.—In 28 minutes the congregation of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church subscribed $324,000 yesterday to build a new edifice. Of this John D. Rockefeller gave half, having promised to duplicate dollar for dollar, up to $250,000, when a $50,000 limit will have been reached. As the share of the congregation did not reach $250,000 today, other subscriptions will be taken up later.

BOAT BURNED.

Kingston, April 11.—The steamer D. D. Calvin, recently sold by the Calvin Company to Carlow & Smith, of Belleville, was badly damaged by fire at Garden Island early this morning. Captain J. H. Smith, part owner, was aboard fitting out the boat. The Garden Island and Kingston fire apparatus was used to subdue the flames, which were confined within decks. The loss is covered by insurance. The steamer was valued at $8,000, and was built in 1883.

BARBER COMPANY MAY SELL THEIR LOCAL PLANT TO CITY

Not Prepared to Consider a Proposition to Lease It—New Plant Would Cost From $30,000 to $35,000—Price Looks Prohibitive.

The Barber Asphalt Company will not lease their asphalt plant to the city, but they might consider a proposition to sell it.

Mr. Lackie, of Buffalo, representing the firm, was a caller at the office of City Engineer Graydon today, and discussed the matter with the city engineer.

"We might consider a proposition to sell," said Mr. Lackie. "A new plant such as ours would cost from $30,000 to $35,000. Of course it is old, but it will serve our purpose for many years, and I fancy the cost will be more than the city would like to pay. So far as renting the property, that is out of the question. It is not business, and we could not entertain that proposition at all."

Price Prohibitive.

At the last meeting of the city council, Ald. Stevenson suggested that the city purchase the plant of the Barber Company, and lay their own pavements, but it looks as if the price would be prohibitive.

The company will figure on the resurfacing of Dundas and Richmond streets.

WHITNEY A "PAUL KRUGER"

should be present at the gathering to have the idea removed from their minds. He dealt with Niagara power somewhat, and felt satisfied that the engineers of the city and Mr. Kelsch had found out that power would cost the citizens of London $44 per horse-power, somewhat more than he had mentioned when discussing this project in the election of 1908. This was considerable of an increase over $23 50 promised to the citizens by Mr. Beck at election time. He was glad the facts were becoming known, and it had recently been made public that the hydro-electric figures were prepared by the Westinghouse agencies.

Powerful, Indeed!

"I am glad the city of London had one powerful a representative at Toronto that when a deputation from here on behalf of a great educational institution were given an introduction that Sir James gave them in return such courteous treatment," said Mr. McEvoy. "I am sure the deputation that went to Toronto must all be proud of him. It looks very much as if assisting universities is not in his line. He follows a line of policy with a large purchasing element in it. If you want his support, get a project that entails the expenditure of a million or two of dollars, and then you will obtain it. He can even buy automobiles cheaper than any other man."

"Second-hand automobiles," interrupted one man.

"As long as you elect a second-hand man you must expect that," declared Mr. McEvoy.

He expressed his pleasure at having Mr. MacKay present, and hoped that he would come often.

Mr. J. C. Elliott.

J. C. Elliott, M. P. P., followed and spoke briefly. He paid a high compliment to Hon. A. G. MacKay, and declared him to be easily the best debater in the Legislature. He criticized the method by which the hydro-electric commission had compelled municipalities to enter into contracts for power, and pointed out that the procedure had not been fair nor just. The extravagance of the management of the power scheme was commented on, and the enormous growth of legal expenses in connection with it was deprecated. The automobile purchases, in which Mr. J. F. Beck, brother of Hon. Adam Beck, figured, were dealt with, and explained. Mr. Elliott charged that the transaction was too round-about to be proper, and demonstrated clearly that the gentlemen engineering it were convinced that it was not right. The failure of the Government to live up to its promise to keep the Gillies limits for the people, was touched upon. The Government had sold one claim for $10,500, that afterwards brought $330,000. Several other claims had been sold for enormous sums, of which the Government received but little in return. The Government, said Mr. Elliott in conclusion, was not keeping pace with their promises, and were extravagant in the management of public affairs.

The Liberal Leader.

Hon. A. G. MacKay was given an ovation on rising. The large gathering was certain testimoney that Liberalism was far from dead in London. It was a pleasing sight to him, especially in view of the fact that it was an off-season politically.

He launched immediately into many political questions, dealing with them under the headings of the past, the present and the future.

It had been claimed by the Government that the increase in revenue since 1904 from six millions odd to over eight millions of dollars was due largely to the economical and wise administration of public affairs. This, he claimed, was erroneous, and was not just to the Liberal party. The receipts had increased undoubtedly about $2,500,000 since 1904, but the cause was not from the wise administration of the party in power. There were six sources of revenue touched upon, with their increases during that period. The corporation tax had increased from $430,000 in 1904 to $730,000 in 1909; the succession duties from $458,000 to $758,000, the special tax on brewers and distillers from $60,000 to $90,000, on mining from $1,597 to $243,000, Dominion subsidy from $1,134,000 to $2,128,000, and on the Temiskaming Railway from nothing to $600,000. A total of $2,512,000.

Credit for the Liberals.

"These are the channels we dug," declared Mr. MacKay. "These increases come from bills we passed, and against which the Conservatives voted. They would have dammed these channels, and today they are reaping the results of the wise legislation of the Liberal party, and now desire to claim all the credit for it. They opposed the corporation tax. They would have cut down the succession duties' tax one-half or one-third. They bitterly opposed the special tax on breweries and distilleries. The credit for the royalty from mines does not belong to Mr. Cochrane, but to the Liberal party who suggested it, when he wanted to tax mines on an acreage basis. We insisted on an increased subsidy. They want to claim credit for what the Liberals in Ontario first asked, and which the Liberals in Ottawa gave.

"We built the T. and N. O. Railway in spite of the opposition of the Conservatives and they know it. Now they are receiving a revenue of $600,000 a year from it, and insist on taking the credit for that. We made the channels through which this increased revenue flows. They got down in the ditch and tried to dam the flow, but we threw them out, and the money flows still, and will continue to flow in large quantities into the Government coffers, because we were wise enough to enact proper legislation.

Hollow Hypocrisy.

"It is hollow hypocrisy for them to claim that the increase is owing to wise administration. It flowed into the vat, and the only credit they can claim is that they did turn off the tap.

"They have introduced no constructive financial legislation during their term of office. They have increased the railway tax a trifle, and also the tavern licenses, but beyond that they have not placed one act of constructive financial legislation on the statute books."

The School Books.

Mr. MacKay gave a slashing criticism of the school book printing contract, and scored the Government unmercifully.

"They made a great boast that the cost of school books was but 49 cents," said Mr. MacKay. "Now the truth is becoming known, and that sum does not cover the whole cost. The Government appointed a commission, who collected facts on education, selected the literary extracts, prepared the electroplates, and cuts and type, and then the whole was given to the Eaton Company to print, and the work was done for 49 cents. That does not represent the whole cost. Why do the Government not act fairly in this matter, and state that the cost of the type has not been included in that 49 cents? When the Government went so far as to prepare the type why did they not go farther and complete the job? They did everything but print the books.

"That was the job John Eaton got. He must have thrown his arms about the Government's neck and wept when he saw them coming. It was a fine bargain—for John Eaton. I believe in the principle of "Live and Let Live." The retailers of this country have a right to live. This contract with Eaton is directly against their interests, and that does not include the retail bookseller alone. It affects all retailers, and that is not fair. It would have paid John Eaton to have printed them for nothing as an advertising medium, rather than allow another firm to do the work. The Manitoba Government refused to enter into such a contract, although one was offered. Toronto is not all the province, and Eaton's not the only departmental store."

About Centralization.

The centralization of all things in Toronto was deprecated by Hon. Mr. MacKay, and he pointed out that the centralization of education in Toronto was a mistake.

"I am opposed to centralization, in educational matters as in other things," said Mr. MacKay. "That is one reason why we opposed the abolition of model schools. The centralization of universities in Toronto is a mistake. We opposed that, and I think rightly. You cannot confine to one spot all the ducational institutions of Ontario. That is what the Government has been trying to do."

The drastic legislation enacted by the Government was dealt with at some length. The Florence Mining Company was legislated out of the courts. The farmers who had claims for damages for easements on their property were legislated out of court. Any suit brought regarding the hydro-electric project was legislated out of court.

"I have nothing against the Niagara power project," said Mr. MacKay. "If they can give us cheap power I am fully in accord with that. But I must protest against the high-handed legislation that has been passed. The farmers over whose property the lines pass should have been treated fairly. The project is of no special benefit to them, and they should be given reasonable and just treatment, and paid a fair amount for their land. The cities and towns of this province should not have been benefitted at their expense. We suggested a way out for the Government but they would not accept.

The Toronto Kruger.

"What is the difference between Paul Kruger, of the Transvaal and Paul Kruger of Toronto?" asked Mr. MacKay. "That is the same method used in South Africa. With the consent of the judges, Oom Paul legislated every claimant out of court. That was the source of complaint from the Uitlanders, and not so much the desire for the ballot. Don't imagine Paul Kruger is dead. Go to Toronto, and watch a session of the House, and you will discover that he is not dead."

As for the future, two large questions were looming up. One was the conservation and reforestation of the timber lands of Ontario. Twenty-five years ago the universities of the United States warned the Americans that they were using their timber too fast, and they are now almost face to face with a timber famine. It was high time Ontario took some steps to prevent the same trouble in this province.

Technical Education.

"The other question was that of technical education. Mr. MacKay pointed to the wonderful commercial advancement of Germany, and declared emphatically that this was due to the fine system of technical schools of that country. Mr. MacKay pointed out that the Government was assisting the 450,000 public school children to the extent of $1 38 per annum per pupil, the 3,200 Collegiate pupils at the rate of $4 66 per annum, the 1,500 Normal and Model School students at the rate of $112 per pupil per annum, and the 3,950 University of Toronto students at the rate of $126 per annum. The agricultural student was also being well cared for. There were hundreds and thousands of boys, however, who never went to the high schools, or who were not destined for the professions, whom chill penury compelled to go to the workshops at 12 and 14 years of age—for these the Government did nothing. There should be night technical schools in every centre to give every lad an equal chance. In the House he moved such a resolution, but the Government refused to listen to it.

A Necessity.

"I believe technical schools are a necessity to this country," said Mr. MacKay. "I know the Liberals of this province do not want us to be such an opposition as they have in Ottawa—they have to sit up all night to convince anybody that they are awake, but they want us to be constructive. And I am sure that in this we are taking advanced ground. It is a nice thing to have a cultivated brain, but it is also good to have a cultivated hand. Germany is looking after the cultivation of the hands, as well as the brains, and is now rapidly assuming the commercial supremacy of the world. I wanted the Government to appoint a commission to look into this matter, but they would not.

"The trouble is that we want an intelligent man to direct the educational affairs of this province. We have not such a man as minister of education. It is a mental impossibility for him to be so."

In concluding, he mentioned the high position Canada was assuming in the affairs of the world, and predicted a great future for the country.

A vote of thanks was tendered Hon. A. G. MacKay, on motion of Mr. Geo. C. Gibbons, K. C., and Mr. T. H. Purdom, K. C. The latter declared Mr. MacKay to be one of half a dozen speakers he wanted to hear as often as possible, and declared him to be on a par with such speakers, as Cartwright, Blake, Gough, and others. The Government was making a sufficient number of mistakes to throw them out at the next election if they were properly placed before the people.

The vote of thanks was carrid amid great enthusiasm.

DINNER TENDERED MISS ARMSTRONG

Pleasant Afternoon Spent by the Woman Teachers' Guild.

Miss Isabel Armstrong, who is leaving for the west shortly, was the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered her on Saturday afternoon at the Normal School by the Woman Teachers' Guild. The presidents of the other woman's organizations in the city were also present.

Miss Yeates, president of the guild, introduced Miss Armstrong, who gave a very interesting talk of a reminiscent nature. She gave credit to the several organizations represented for their influence on her life.

Short addresses were given by Mrs. Ashplant, president of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Irwin, president of the Mothers' Clubs; Mrs. A. T. Edwards, of the Y. W. C. A. and Alma Daughters, and Mrs. Arthur White, of the Woman's Music Club. All regretted the departure of Miss Armstrong, and wished her happiness and prosperity in her new home.

The guild expressed their gratitude for the assistance of the following girls from Talbot Street School: Misses Jean Govenlock, Elsie Mitchiner, Olive Coo, Rebecca McLachlan, Mabel Thorne, Grace and Ethel Lamb, Kathleen Campbell, Essie McLeary, Ruth and Naomi Gilbert.

"St. Elmo."

"St. Elmo," was repeated at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, matinee and evening, and drew two good houses. As on the occasion of its previous visit here, it pleased greatly. The roles were all in capable hands, and the performance on the whole was quite enjoyable.

A Guaranteed Attraction.

Local playgoers are to enjoy some of the brightest and best light-comedy acting when Henrietta Crosman fills her engagement of one night, Wednesday, April 13, at the Grand Opera House. This charming comedienne will appear in "Sham," her new play by Geraldine Bonner and Elmer Harris, in which she so thoroughly captured New York during her run of six months at Wallack's Theatre. The play is unique in theme, brilliant in treatment and deliciously humorous in lines and situations. The seat sale opened this morning.

Faversham as "Herod."

No play produced in modern time has received the extensive critical praise from the most exacting critics that has been bestowed on Stephen Phillips' Herod, which William Faversham will present at the Grand next Monday. One writer has said that Mr. Faversham's production of Herod excels Richard Mansfield's most elaborate achievement. The point that has been made; by the important reviewers of both England and America is that "Herod" is not only a beautifully-written play, but is a drama of action that has not been excelled in English dramatic literature. The seat sale will open Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Mail orders will be reserved now and when accompanied by money order will receive prompt attention.

BOY TORN BY DOG

Animal Lacerated His Neck, Arms and Hands Before Help Came.

Hamilton, April 10.—As a result of being badly bitten by a dog, which is believed to be mad, the little son of Joseph and Mrs. Carson, is lying here in a precarious condition. The dog set on the boy, tore his ear half off and lacerated his neck, arms and hands. Only the plucky interference of the mother of the child saved it from death, for when she came upon the scene it had the boy upon his back and was fastening its fangs in his throat. The dog has been kept to see if it shows any signs of rabies.

13,500 PEOPLE PAID TO SEE THE SHOW

Made-in-London Exhibition at the Armories Was a Huge Success.

2,400 SAW IT SATURDAY

Financial Statement Will Not Be Possible for Some Days Yet, But it Will Show a Handsome Sum for the Sanatorium.

The Made-in-London Exhibition closed on Saturday night with a paid attendance of 2,400, bringing the total attendance for the week up to 13,500. The women in charge were highly satisfied, but very tired when the exhibition closed, and declare the show to be a success beyond all expectations.

The financial statement will not be prepared for some days yet, as there are many accounts to obtain and other matters to clear up. It is expected, however, that the exhibition will show a large sum for the sanatorium.

An Auction.

At the close of the regular programme the dolls, flower baskets, and other goods left were auctioned off.

Mr. A. M. Hunt and Hon. Adam Beck acted as auctioneers, and a good sum was realized from this source. Everything was sold out. The auction sale proved to be one of the most interesting features of the evening, and the bidding was keen tor many of the articles offered.

An excellent programme was given in the Concert Hall, under the direction of Mr. A. D. Jordan. Among those taking part were Miss Beatrice Hunt, Miss M. Fitzgerald, Miss K. Smith, Miss McDougall, Mrs. J. E. Jordan, Mr. Parnell Morris and Mr. A. D. Jordan. All the assisting artists were in excellent form, and their efforts were highly appreciated. At the theatre, "A String of Pearls" and "My Uncle's Will" were repeated, and the audience appreciated the performances greatly.

The Pipers.

Piper Macdonald and his Scotch pipers were present, and as on the occasion of their previous visit made a great hit. The Seventh Regiment Band rendered a choice programme in the evening, while Tony Cortese's orchestra played exceedingly well in the afternoon.

The grand march on Saturday night was a bright feature, and created great enthusiasm. It was a very brilliant pageant.

Miss Graydon, the treasurer, received a check for $25 from Mr. George Kingston, of Montreal, and Mr. William Kingston, of this city. Mr. George Kingston was a visitor at the exhibition on Saturday, and was greatly pleased with it.

"The exhibition was a great success and we are well pleased," said Mrs. Beck.

FIGHT FLY PERIL WITH BIOGRAPH

Chicago Health Officers Show Life of Dirty Pest.

Chicago, April 15.—Moving pictures, showing the house fly in its daily walks of life, will be used by Health Commissioner W. A. Evans in the coming season's campaign for extermination of the insect.

The first film was thrown on a screen at the Orpheum Theatre, State and Monroe streets, yesterday. It was a complete biography of the fly, from the conditions that lead to its incubation through the process of incubation to the time it enters the tragedy of human life. The pictures were demonstrated by a lecturer.

Thousands of persons who visited the theatre were astonished to see what they mistook to be an enormous bird settling down on a magnified piece of meat. It was an actual photograph of a house fly magnified many thousand times. It darted on to the piece of meat, which, in the picture, looked like a hill of plowed ground.

Turn Into Life.

When the next scene came the hilltop was dotted with little white rolls, like a lot of stones. These were fly eggs. In the next scene the little rolls turned into life. They twisted and wriggled and seemed to burrow into the hilltop.

But there was another act. While the curtain had been down, they crawled out again with different costumes. First just one tiny fly appeared on the stage alone. It darted along with more agility than one would expect in such an infantile actor. Soon all the rest of them were on the scene, and the drama that affects human life and the part that has caused the city health department to stage and reproduce the drama was enacted.

"This is the fly in its daily walks of life," announced the lecturer, as a big swarm of them were shown sticking their noses into many disgusting places.

On the Milk Bottle.

"And this is the climax," said Dr Evans, as the final act was thrown on the screen. There the same flies again, but this time they were shown in most intimate familiarity with the baby's milk bottle and lumps of sugar on the family table.

"This is where the villain gets what is coming to him," said the doctor with a chuckle, "for we are going to show these pictures all over the city in free shows. I cannot imagine a more effective weapon we could have employed in this war against the house fly. People will begin seeing these pictures early, and as a result pains will be taken so that conditions for their multiplying will be removed and there will be many millions of flies less in Chicago than there would have been if it were not for the moving pictures."

"I WAS IN BAD SHAPE"

But Little Digesters "Have Done Wonders for Me"

Here is an experience with the first part of which you may be all too familiar. Mr. Josh Smith, of North Seneca, Ont., writes about "Little Digesters:"

"Having been troubled with Indigestion for a number of years, I have tried nearly all kinds of pills and tablets for Indigestion only to be disappointed.

"Seeing your tablets advertised I thought I would give them a trial, and must say I am glad I did. Before taking them I was in bad shape. Bad taste in my mouth mornings and so dizzy that I hardly knew how I would put in the day. Everything I would eat would seem to sour and ferment, but after taking "Digesters" I can say they have done wonders for me."

If you know what the first part of this story means why not learn the relief and delight which comes from the use of "Little Digesters?"

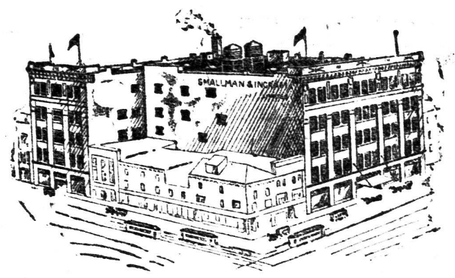

"Little Digesters" are positively guaranteed to cure all forms of Indigestion and Dyspepsia or your money will be refunded.

BRITISH COMMONER KILLED IN HORSE RACE

Tragic Outcome of the "Parliamentary Steeplechase Run at Epsom Saturday.

London, April 10.—The parliamentary Steeplechases, which had not been run for three years, were revived on Saturday, and were attended by a fatal accident. The races were held at Epsom in the presence of a great crowd of legislators, racing men, prominent Government officials and others. Sir Wm. Grant Ham, judge of the Queen's bench division of the high court of justice, and the Right Hon. James William Lowther, speaker of the House, acted as judges.

In the principal event of the day, the House of Common's race, there were fourteen starters: Neil Primrose, the youngest son of the Earl of Rosebery, and Viscount Castlereagh, being the favorites.

While leading at a fast pace, the horse ridden by the Right Hon. James Tomkinson, of Cheshire, fell at a fence. Mr. Tomkinson was thrown and suffered a concussion of the brain. He died today.

Mr. Tomkinson was elected for Crewe division of Cheshire in 1900, and was a Liberal.

DENOUNCES REDMOND

Cork, April 11.—William O'Brien, speaking here, said that Chancellor Lloyd George promised the Nationalists as concessions for their support of the budget, relief from the spirit, stamp and succession duties, brewery licenses and land taxes, and from a general revaluation. He offered also new provisions for the land purchase bill conditioned on Messrs. Redmond and Dillon meeting O'Brien and Healy.

The refusal of Redmond and Dillon to meet their Irish Colleagues, said Mr. O'Brien, meant ruin to home rule. They would not long survive the verdict of their countrymen.

He denounced as an insult the forthcoming visit of Messrs. Dillon to Cork to inaugurate a campaign in South Ireland.

LIVERPOOL CATTLE MARKET.

Liverpool, April 9.—John Rogers & Co., Liverpool, quote today that the numbers on the Birkenhead market were again light, and met a slow but steady trade. Very few good cattle were to be found, and these sold readily at prices which showed an advance of a quarter of a cent per pound all round, and ruled as follows: United States steers from 14½ to 15¼ cents per pound, and Canadians, 14¼ to 14¾ cents.

LONGFELLOW'S FAMOUS "VILLAGE SMITHY" DEAD

Thaddeus W. Tyler, Who Inspired Noted Poem, Was a Shoe Manufacturer.

Lynn, Mass., April 11.—Thaddeus W. Tyler, the original "village smithy," is dead. It was while watching him at work over his forge and anvil that Longfellow was inspired to write:

Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stands.

Tyler died this morning at his home here, 76 years old, after an illness of but four days, with pleuro pneumonia. He was a blacksmith for but a few years. Not long after he had been immortalized by the poet, he went into the shoe manufacturing business, which he continued to his death. He invented the process of molded stiffenings for shoes.

Mr. Tyler was a close friend of Longfellow and a frequent visitor at his home after the day's work at the blacksmith shop. He cherished his memories of the talks and discussions with Longfellow, and was very proud of the fact that he was the original "village smithy," though few of those who met him at the shoe factory were aware of it.

Three children, three grandchildren and one great-grandchild survive him.

KING'S HEALTH POOR NOT TO MAKE CRUISE

The Official Assurances Are Not Credited in London.

THE POLITICS AT CRISIS

No Agreement Is Reached With Irish Party, and Fall of Ministry Is Feared.

London, April 11.—Official denials that King Edward's health is poor, are not trusted here, even by his majesty's close friends. Impartial reports from Biarritz represent the King as looking listless and tired, and having an unhealthy yellow color.

Facts seem to coincide with these reports, rather than with the denials. The King has abandoned his projected cruise on the Mediterranean with the Queen because he has been advised not to face the fatigue of travelling, but to rest quietly at Biarritz until the political crisis demands his presence in England.

His majesty is neither entertaining nor being entertained.

Never before has the King been known to refer so repeatedly to anyone dead as he now does to Consuelo, Duchess of Manchester. He frequently speaks of her loss. He misses her particularly at Biarritz, where, for years, she made things "go" for him.

Crisis in Politics.

The political crisis here continues. No arrangement has been reached between the Irish party and the Government as to the conditions on which the former will consent to allow last year's budget to be passed. On April 18, Premier Asquith will introduce in the House of Commons his special closure resolution, providing for the passage of the budget through all its stages within a limited time.

Unless some understanding is arrived at, the Irish party will vote against the resolution, and thus provoke a ministerial crisis. It is considered essential by the Irish party that it should have assurance from Mr. Asquith before allowing the budget to pass from the control of the House of Commons that when the House of Lords rejects the veto resolutions, he will ask the King for power to create peers, and, if refused, he will resign.

Mr. Asquith contends it is impossible for him to make any public declaration respecting the action of the crown or even any public promise, that he will approach the King and ask for the exercise of the royal prerogative. In fact, British ministerial convention and red-tape threaten the whole situation.

Visit to King Secret.

Communications between the prime minister and the sovereign are supposed to be invested with so sacrosanct and mysterious a character as would make it sacrilege if the public report of them were to be revealed beforehand to the people or their representatives.

Not alone the Irish party, but the whole rank and file of the Liberal party are entirely dissatisfied with this medieval fashion of transacting political affairs of vital urgency and moment. Efforts are being made to influence the members of both parties by suggesting that it will be very damaging to the Liberals at the coming election if they should seem to be virtually appealing to the country, not only against the Lords, but also against the King.

The rank and file do not want to drag the King into the campaign, but they think it necessary that the country should know authoritatively and precisely what has happened, and what is likely to happen again unless an overwhelming majority is sent to Westminster to establish popular rights and vindicate representative government.

Negotiations are still proceeding between the leaders of the Irish party and the Government, to find a solution for this difficulty. Both parties recognize that their rupture now in Parliament would surely be followed by rout and disaster in the constituencies, and that fact is the strongest influence working toward agreement.

GREASY DECK STARTS FIRE

Big Floating Machine Shop at Amherstburg Badly Damaged.

Amherstburg, April 10.—Fire early yesterday swept the big floating machine shop of Hickler Bros., anchored at the dry work of the Livingston Channel, near here.

A workman on his way to the shop saw the flames and the alarm was sounded on whistles of craft near by, but the fire had too great a start.

The tug Salpeen hurried over from Amherstburg, and a stream of water was played on the big hull which carried the shops, about 300 feet long. After a hard fight the flames were subdued before the hull was destroyed, but the complete equipment in the shops is believed to be ruined, and the loss is estimated at $20,000. In the shops were drills, lathes, steam hammers, planes and other tools.

While the origin of the fire is not known definitely, it is believed that in some manner the greasy deck near the boilers became ignited. The timbers were well saturated, and make excellent fuel.

Hickler Bros., of Sault Ste. Marie, brought the big floating shops down to the Livingston channel for the purpose of looking after repairs to tools used in the dry work of the new channel, which is being done by Grant, Smith & Locher.

LONDON, MONDAY, APRIL 11.

MR. MACKAY'S ADDRESS.

Mr. MacKay's speech on Saturday night was keen, brilliant, and scrupulously fair. His skill as a parliamentarian is matched by his platform ability.

Very effective was his criticism of the financial policy and predictions of the Ontario Government. The Government makes a boast of the circumstance that the annual revenue of the Province has increased $2,600,000 since 1894. Mr. MacKay showed that $2,512,600 was accounted for by increases under six heads: Corporation taxes, brewers' and distillers' licenses, succession duties, mining lands, the Temiskaming railway, and the federal bonus. Mr. Whitney and his associates, when in Opposition, fought the corporation, brewers' and distillers' taxes. They moved to cut the succession duties in half. They obstructed the Temiskaming railway project, which had resulted in the mineral discoveries in New Ontario. The imposition of mining royalties was Mr. MacKay's own suggestion, accepted by the Government a year after the present Minister of Mines had declared that he would never consent to a royalty basis of taxation. For the increase in the federal subvention, the Liberal Government at Ottawa must be credited.

Mr. MacKay believes that the function of an Opposition is not only critical, but constructive. He is deeply convinced of the need of broadening the educational system to bring it into conformity with modern industrial development, and to open wider the doors of opportunity for the children—unfortunately, the great majority—who are obliged to leave the schools and seek their livelihood in their early teens. The Government spends $1 38 per annum on each of the public and separate school children; $4 66 upon each high school pupil; $112 upon each normal and model school pupil, and $126 upon each student of Toronto University. The 20,000 or 30,000 children who are forced by chill penury also to go to work before they reach the high schools are left to shift for themselves, so far as the state is concerned. Mr. MacKay would have the state extend them a helping hand by providing a system of trades schools. They could continue their general education at night classes, and combine it with technical instruction, which would make them more skilled and more productive workers.

This is a question of vital importance to the manufacturers and working classes. The standard of industrial education must be raised if Ontario is to fully profit by her great natural advantages as a manufacturing centre. Mr. MacKay has moved resolutions in the Legislature year after year, aiming at making a beginning toward the establishment of trades schools on a scientific plan throughout the Province, but the Government is singularly reluctant to make a move. The pressure of public opinion must force the Government to do something in the near future. Mr. MacKay is performing a useful service in hastening the day.

THE REPUBLICAN REVOLT.

The insurrection in the Republican party in the United States is loud and deep, and the prediction is freely made that the election of November next will result in the return of a Democratic House of Representatives, or one pledged to a lowering of the tariff.

There is accumulating evidence that the tide of public opinion is running strongly against the Republican "stand-patters." Following the triumphs of the Democrats in the municipal elections throughout New York and New England, came the defeat of the Republicans in the state senatorial election in the rock-ribbed Republican district of Springfield, Mass, and in the Congressional election in the fourteenth Massachusetts or Plymouth Rock district. The latter is remarkable for several reasons. It is one of the six strongest Republican districts in the United States, never before having been carried by a Democratic nominee, and it contains probably more diversified communities and varied classes of American citizens than almost any other division in the country. It embraces the suburban homes of Boston businessmen, three important manufacturing cities, many minor towns, prosperous farming sections, and the fishing villages of Cape Cod. Two years ago the Republican candidate got 20,959 votes, and the Democrat 6,709; a fortnight ago there was a complete turn-over, the Democrat polling 14,980, and the Republican 9,340 votes. Indiana is the latest to join the insurgents. The Republicans of that state consider the Cannon and Aldrich type a fault in the party, and in their recently adopted platform they call for a complete housecleaning. Their demand for another and immediate revision of the tariff is significant.

All these incidents are taken as a popular protest against the present tariff, and against the presidential attempt to force Cannon and Aldrich and the ring agents of special privilege upon the people as proper leaders. The removal of Speaker Cannon from membership on the rules committee of the House of Representatives shows that the wave of public feeling is not beating in vain against the walls of Congress. At least 40 Republican Congressmen are in revolt against the machine. As Senator Beveridge puts it, the coming battle is not so much between political parties as between the rights of the people and the powers of pillage.

ONTARIO'S FISH AND GAME.

In his annual report the superintendent of game and fisheries for Ontario refers to the numerous prosecutions last year for infractions of the fishery laws. Many persons obtained licenses for domestic purposes, and grossly abused the privileges by illegally catching, selling and exporting black bass. Most of these infractions occurred in localities and vicinities of summer resorts visited by large numbers of foreign tourists, the attraction being the angling for bass and other game fish. It has been considered in the public interest to withdraw the privilege of hunting permits that have been grossly abused by residents in certain portions of organized territory to whom they were issued. The authorities deem it time the settlers were made to realize how unwise their conduct has been in the wanton destruction of game and fish.

The increased facilities for reaching the northern part of the province, with its thousands of miles of forests, lakes and rivers, have been taken advantage of by many wealthy non-residents who have bought property on which to erect summer homes in localities unexcelled. The principal attractions for these pleasure-seekers are the fish and game, and it is therefore felt to be the duty of all to protect and perpetuate this reproductive source of revenue. The increased sale of angling permits is given as proof of the growth of tourist traffic which the numerous holiday resorts are attracting, and it is gratifying to learn that illegal fishing among summer tourists is decreasing.

The efforts of the fisheries patrol service during the year were rewarded by the seizure of thousands of yards of net, besides boats, guns and illegal contrivances, and the punishment of culprits who openly carried on illegal fishing in the waters of the Bay of Quinte, Lake Ontario, the St. Lawrence and Rideau in defiance of the local officers.

During the year 25,000 bass fingerlings were raised in a pond at Brantford, and deposited in various waters of the province, and the superintendent expects to raise at least 100,000 this year by the same means. This, it is hoped, will lead to the establishment of a series of ponds which will make it possible to restock waters which have long been depleted.

The defeat of the Miller bill will stimulate American immigration into Canada—during the race meets.

Our local contemporary is disposed to blame the Minister of Justice for the defeat of the Miller bill. How did Mr. Beattie vote on it?

A flying machine in Tennessee on Saturday came down on an automobile running at high speed. This is the most up-to-date collision yet recorded.

So far as we can gather from the comments of candid Conservative papers, the Ottawa Opposition has a good leader, but it has not been well led.

The German Government permitted political meetings to be held in the parks of the city yesterday for the first time in years. The crowds were orderly and nothing worse than fiery speeches happened. Now the Government will probably wonder at its own stupidity in sitting on the safety valve so long.

WHAT SHE THOUGHT.

[Washington Star.]

Addison Mizner, the well-known New York first-nighter, told at a studio supper a good story about a prominent business man.

"A chandelier fell in the night at his house," explained Mr. Mizner, "and in the morning at breakfast he said to his wife with a laugh:

"'What did you think when you heard the chandelier fall in the dead silence of the night?'

"'I thought, darling,' his wife answered, 'that you had been detained on business again, and were getting upstairs as quietly as you could.'"

DON'T MENTION IT.

[Success Magazine.]

The politest man in Boston collided violently with another man on the street. The second man was angry. "My dear sir," said the polite one, with a bow, "I don't know which of us is to blame for the encounter. If I ran into you, I beg your yardon; if you ran into me, don't mention it."

ALMOST A PANIC.

New York, April 8. — A wave of terror passed over the 2,000 men and women in the Alhambra Theatre tonight, when a motor cycle, driven by Cedora, a young woman who performs a marvelous riding feat inside a mammoth closed wire globe, collapsed, and ignited the gasoline tank of the machine.

Flames shot up to the top of the building, and there was a spontaneous movement among the people in the audience that portended a panic. This was prevented, however, although several women became hysterical.

When the curtain went up, Cedora, smiling and bowing, stood before them. "I am not hurt," she said. "Don't be frightened." Then the audience arose and cheered.

PLACING THE BLAME.

[Tit-Bits.]

A story is told of a well-known Sheffield tenor, who, when asked to sing at a dinner, although he had no music with him, went on to the platform to try. He did his best, but he broke down in the middle and retired. He was cheered up by an elderly man, who tapped him on the shoulder and said:

"Never mind, lad, tha's done thy best; but t' feller as asked thee to sing owt to be shot!"

Dropped from the skies;
Only a laughing face,
Two sunny eyes;

Only a tongue that wags
Loudly and oft;
Only a little brain,
Empty of thought;
Only a little heart,
Troubled with naught.

Only a life to love
While we are here;
Only a baby small,
Never at rest—
Small, but how dear to us,
God knoweth best.

GRAND TRUNK TO INVADE NEW YORK

Proposes to Take Portion of the Traffic of New York Central.

BUFFALO TO THE SEA

Interchange in Michigan With Wabash and Pere Marquette Is Proposed.

New York, April 11.—The World says: The Grand Trunk, one of Canada's two powerful railway systems, proposes to invade New York State and New England and get an important share of the rich traffic monopolized for years by the New York Central and Hudson River systems. Co-operating with the Grand Trunk in this purpose is the New York, New Haven and Hartford Road.

Friday the up-state public service commission gave a hearing at Buffalo on the application of the Buffalo, Rochester and Eastern Railroad to build a steam or electric road across the state from Buffalo to Troy. The real eastern terminus of the proposed road is Providence, R. I., but the public service commission only has to deal with the territory in this state.

Mystery as to Backer.

There has been the greatest mystery about the backing of the Buffalo, Rochester and Eastern Railroad, those actually behind the project preferring to remain unknown, evidently with the hope of mininizing the hostility of the Vanderbilt-New York Central interests to the project.

This secrecy was carried to such an extreme that when the public service commission gave its first hearing March 15 on the application it was denied because the financial ability of those behind the matter, to carry through the project, was not clearly established to the commission's satisfaction. The rehearing given Friday at Albany was the result, it is said, of the public service commission being convinced that all of the money needed to build and equip the road would be forthcoming.

Former Gov. Frank Black is counsel for the Buffalo, Rochester and Eastern road, and associated with him is Henry W Ely. President Mellen, of the New Haven road, has written Chairman Stevens, of the up-state commission, that his system is not the financial sponsor of the proposed road, but it is understood there is an agreement between the Grand Trunk and the New Haven for the distribution of traffic between New England and the west.

To Be a Connecting Road.

The Buffalo, Rochester and Eastern is to be chiefly a connecting road, that is, connecting the Grand Trunk in the west and the New Haven in the east. Of necessity the proposed line will parallel the New York Central between Buffalo and the Hudson River. For this reason the proposed road would take business from the New York Central at Buffalo. It would connect with the Grand Trunk at Suspension Bridge, where Canadian tonnage could be handled.

The proposed line, with its Grand Trunk connections, would not only traverse Canada, but reach many points in Michigan, and it is understood there is to be an interchange of traffic with the Pere Marquette and Wabash lines.

Friday the Rhode Island senate passed an act incorporating the Southern New England Railroad Company. No secret was made of the fact in the Rhode Island Legislature that this company is fathered by the Grand Trunk and is to be an auxiliary of that system. The bill incorporating the company was unanimously passed in the House on Thursday and there is no expectation that Gov. Pothier, of Rhode Island, will refuse to sign it.

The New England Route.

The creation of the Southern New England Railroad Company is part of the comprehensive plan of the Grand Trunk for its invasion of New York and New England. The prime purpose of its creation is to give the Grand Trunk an Atlantic seaport outlet at Providence, as well as to connect there with the New Haven system.

The New York Central is opposing before the up-state public service commission the application of the Buffalo, Rochester and Eastern Road, and contended that the Boston and Albany was amply able to handle all of the traffic east of the Hudson River.

A $25,000 BRIBE

But Head of the Pulp Workers Refused To Betray His Comrades.

Watertown, April 10.—William Pritchard, claiming to be a member of the brokerage firm of Hamiln & Pritchard, of St. Louis, Mo., President J. T. Carey, of the International Brotherhood of Pulp and Paper Makers, claims to be the name of the man who in the alleged interest of the International Paper Company has been following him about for the past week, offering him a $25,000 bribe if he would call off the paper makers' strike, and use his influence to get the men to go back to work as individuals, and accept a 5 per cent increase in wages. The man, according to President Carey, has for several months been in the employ of the International Paper Company as a spotter, and has been going around pretending to be a clothing agent in some places, and as a perfume agent in others

FREEDOM OF MEETING

Berlin, April 10.—The Kaiser's capital, for the first time in his reign, belonged to the people today, without interference by the police. The people were officially permitted to hold mass meetings in Berlin's three great parks, Humboldthain, Friedrichshrain and Treptow, to protest against the Prussian Government's franchise bill.

One hundred and fifty thousand people met peaceably in the three parks and adopted resolutions against the bill. Fiery speeches were made denouncing the measure, but the police made no attempt to check or suppress the speakers.

One-third of the demonstrators in the parks were women, which was extraordinary because the Prussian laws forbid women from participating in political meetings.

Today's peaceful demonstrations are considered doubly important as forming a precedent for the right of free assembly, which the authorities hereafter will find it difficult to disregard.

DEAD BY ROADSIDE SON FINDS FATHER

Aged Farmer Near Tweed May Have Been Murdered—A Neighbor Surrenders to the Police.

Tweed, April 10.—A mysterious murder came to light here Friday morning, when the body of William Masters, an aged farm laborer, was found lifeless in a ditch by his son, after a couple of hours' search.

The body was lying face downwards, and it was apparent that the man had been dead for some time. Bullet holes were found in the coat and shirt sleeves, and it is presumed that the victim was shot by someone standing near him.

Mr. Roger Parker, who had been bad friends with the Masters for some time, and for whom a warrant was issued last night, drove into town and gave himself up.

He is now in Tweed jail. He denies the shooting, and says he can give an account of himself at the time Masters was shot. His hearing is fixed for Monday.

Masters was an old man over 70 years of age. He was a farm laborer, and lived with his wife and five children, four boys and a daughter. They occupied a little frame house and a poor little patch of ground along the gravel road leading to Belleville, and about two miles out from Tweed.

Threats of shooting and killing one another have become so common among families living in this location that they were regarded as compliments. A resident might reckon his importance in proportion to the number of threatenings he received.

Friday morning Masters went out with his horse and wagon to gather wood along the roadway. He gathered his load along an old unused sideroad that led to the east, about a few rods south of his home. He was not more than a mile from home at any time during the morning, and had his load all on and was on his way home when he was shot.

The family were surprised to see the horse and wagon standing at the gate without Mr. Masters. Mrs. Masters looked down the road, but not seeing him told Will, who is visiting at home for a few days, to go and look for his father.

He went back over the road, and finally found the old man lying on the roadside on his face. Thinking his father was sick, he spoke to him and slightly raised his head, but found that he was dead.

Will left the body and ran back to his home, telling his mother and the neighbors of the accident. Soon a crowd of men gathered at the spot, and Coroner Farrel was sent for.

After viewing the body as it lay in the place where it fell, the coroner decided an inquest was necessary.

TURBULENT SCENES WHEN BRIAND SPEAKS

French Premier Opens Electoral Campaign and Supporters Mix It With Reds.

Saint Chamond, France, April 10.—Violent scenes marked the opening of the electoral campaign here.

Premier Briands' address pleaded for moderation and peace, urging the attainment of social reforms by pacific and gradual methods.

The premier's words were drowned by the crash of a shower of bricks through the windows and the cracking of revolvers.

The speaker continued, however, and detailed the work of social reform, which had been accomplished by the outgoing Parliament. He outlined the Government's programme, in which electoral reform occupied a prominent place.

An individual who was arrested while trying to make his way into the banquet, which was attended by the premier, was found to be a Spanish anarchist.

ENGLISH POLOIST HURT

W. S. Buckmaster, of Hurlingham Team, Seriously Injured.

[By Associated Press.]

Lake Wood, N. J., April 11.—During a practice game of polo here yesterday W. S. Buckmaster, a member of the Hurlingham (English) team, which is in this country to compare with the leading American clubs, was unhorsed and thrown heavily to the ground, under his pony. He received a broken collar bone and a severe shaking up. He was carried from the field unconscious, and the physicians say he probably suffered internal hurts.

WALSH'S FUNERAL.

Washington, April 9.—By his own request, the funeral services of Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado mining millionaire, will be a simple service without flowers or music. It was the late mining king's wish, and it will be carried out scrupulously.

The funeral will be conducted with Masonic rites, and the body will be placed in the Walsh Mausoleum in Rock Creek Cemetery, beside that of his son Vinson, who was killed by accident several years ago.

Today the Walsh home on Massachusetts avenue is flooded with telegrams and messages of condolence to the widow and family.

DEATH OF ALVIN CRONK.

Aylmer, April 9.—Alvin P. Cronk died this morning after an illness of three years, at the age of 77 years.

For many years he was in the furniture business as one of the firm of Cronk & Palmer. With the exception of four years, he lived his whole life in Aylmer. A widow and one brother, John H., of Toronto, survive. The funeral will be held Monday at 2 o'clock.

TORONTO BYLAWS PASSED

Ratepayers Carry Proposal to Raise Money for Hospital and Waterworks.

Toronto, April 10.—The hospital bylaw was carried by the ratepayers on Saturday by a majority of 3,261, and the waterworks addition bylaw by a majority of 2,257. The vote was small. There were 3,803 votes cast for the hospital bylaw, and 542 against. The vote for the waterworks bylaw was 3,773, and against 516.

The hospital bylaw was for the purpose of the city raising by debentures the sum of $250,000 toward the cost of the new Toronto General Hospital, and being in addition to $200,000 previously voted by the ratepayers for the same object, or $450,000 in all. The estimated cost of the hospital is $2,500,000.

A LIFE'S DEVOTION

BY

FRANK H. SHAW.

Author of "A Daughter of the Storm," "First at the Pole," etc.

(Copyright in U. S. America. All Rights Reserved).

"I would not marry any man clandestinely," she said firmly. "But I shall never marry any man at all save Mr. Scroggs. And I will marry him with your permission, too."

"You will never do that. I refused today, I shall refuse ten years hence. You do your cause no good in thus pitting your will against mine. I do not know what the world is coming to, I'm sure." His voice grew plaintive, almost weary. "That my daughter should so far forget her pride of race as to combat her father on the question of her marrying a parvenu is atrocious enough in very sooth."

"I do not forget my pride of race; it is the one factor that will keep me from taking the law into my own hands and marrying the man I love despite your opposition. But it is not lowering to our honor to marry me to a man who is a gentleman in every instinct. Contrast him with many of the noblemen we know. He is clean and good. His sense of honor is as strong as ours. Where is there a man of our class who could stand beside him when it is a question of simple worth? Could Sir Percy? Do you think that because I am only a girl I am blind to the true character of that man? I know more than I am supposed to know, and I know that the honor of an ancient family is often merely a cloak for great dishonor."

He stared at her dumbly, making a strange rasping sound in his throat. Then he let loose the vials of his anger upon her that, brave as she was, she fled in terror.

For the next few days she lived as on the brink of a precipice, not knowing what any hour might bring forth. Wherever she looked she met grim smiles or frowns. Lady Forbes treated her with open disapproval; even the servants seemed to regard her with pitying scorn. But as time wore on her father made no motion to limit her freedom. She had expected to be sent somewhere far away, out of reach of her lover; but perhaps Lord Greatheart realized that such steps would be fraught with disaster, and would only precipitate an explosion. Scroggs was a man of means; there was nothing to stop him from following Marion wherever she went.

And Greatheart never referred again to the matter. It would seem the earl had extraneous affairs demanding his close attention. Munster, the solicitor, was closeted with him daily.

Marion saw something of her lover during this time. She needed the strong encouragement of his presence to enable her to drag through each weary day, and she found him very necessary to her well-being. He was always ready with a profound sympathy and words of hope.

"We'll overcome the opposition yet," he said cheerfully. "I've won hard fights before today, for a prize less considerable than you, beloved. And I'll never cease to fight. The worst of it all is that this must be an underhanded fight; there can be nothing done in the open. I have written to your father repeatedly; he sends back the letters unopened. He is like a great rock upon which sometimes I think I must break in futile spray, but always I remember what the prize is, and I will never despair. And so I bid you hope on, my Marion. Out of this time of darkness will come rest and light. I feel it in my every nerve; love such as ours can never fail in its purpose, and I love you more and more with every day that passes.'"

Against such optimism what could Marion do, save put her trust in the future and answer love with greater love? Daily she sounded some new deep in Scroggs' character; she found him mild and gentle, when by all the laws of reason he should have been irritable and angered.

"Your father is troubled," he said. "I don't know why, but he is. Perhaps once this secret trouble is over he may become more amenable, and I'm striving all the time to make myself more worthy of you, dear heart."

Mrs. Scroggs, too—simple and gentle—was a very tower of strength in these troublous times. Cunning, with that cunning so often present in gentle natures, she counselled the lovers wisely, and often, when the impasse seemed most hopeless, some word of encouragement from her would send them forth buoyed up to a new pitch of hopefulness and earnest intention to triumph even in the face of impending failure.

Marion Seymour was not the only one to read character in those dark days. Scroggs himself grew to understand his sweetheart's nature as he understood his own. His mother helped him in this, and he saw that her pride was a most tremendous thing, a thing which but for the softening effect of her love might have made her almost unbearable. But because it was her pride he loved it, and renewed his solemn vows to save her from even the slightest breath of dishonor; if ever such a need should arise.

Once Christmas was over his parliamentary duties would take him to London, but during the few days that remained to him he wasted no single effort to undermine the adamantine opposition aimed at his suit. It was all in vain. Three days before Christmas found him almost desperate, and for once Marion felt that he had no further hope. It was only a brief obsession; he did his utmost to fight it down, but she, quick to understand his every mood, read the iron despair beneath the light hopefulness.

They were long in parting that evening; they clung to each other in a perfect abandon of love. When Marion betook herself homeward she felt herself reeling from the majesty of his passion, and almost she decided to take the law into her own hands and give him what he most desired—her own sweet self as his wife.

It was a crisp day that greeted her on waking. Two days later would see Christmas upon them. She was busy in preparing simple gifts for her father's tenants; she was busier in advising her lover as to the gifts his tenants should receive. But tea-time found her back in the hall of the Priory, oppressed by some deadly and ever-present horror that seemed to hover about the old house.

"I can't tell what has come over your father," said Lady Forbes, rattling the teacups. "He has become most irregular in his habits. He seldom appears to a meal in time now—and he is nervous, Marion, very nervous." Marion was thinking—as she always was thinking—of her lover, and she awoke to an understanding of her aunt's words with something of a start.

"Papa? Oh, yes—he is getting most bearish, Aunt Geraldine. How distinct that shot sounded! It must be Graham in the home park—I believe the rabbits are behaving shamefully." A dull detonation had sounded on the crisp air, but neither of the two women read anything unusual in the occurrence. Often enough the Scotch gamekeeper had shot rabbits almost on the Priory steps, for the home park was a warren for the little rodents.

At half-past five there was still no sign of the earl's appearance.

"He has never been so late as this before, excepting when he has been away," said Lady Forbes in an agitated manner. "Marion, dear, I do hope nothing serious has happened."

"What could have happened?" asked Marion irritably. "Aunt Geraldine, you fuss about my father like a hen with a single chick. He is old enough to be able to look out for himself—what is it, Smith?" A servant was standing in the hall, his face white and horror-struck, his knees trembling beneath him. He beckoned Lady Forbes out of hearing, and Marion, fearing something wrong, sprang to her feet. Just in time to hear a sharp cry from her aunt's lips, to hear the servant's words:

"His lordship's lying in the arbor, m'lady, shot through the heart!"

CHAPTER XV.

Murder.

It was only too true. The proud, irascible old man had run his race to its bitter end, and was now lying, a piece of lifeless clay, stretched on the floor of the secluded arbor at the extreme south end of the home park—a spot seldom visited by the servants; at this time of the year almost a terra incognita. A stretch of land nearly half a mile long separated this spot from the high road to Beddington; it was approached by a path that ran from the south corner of the rose garden to a side road some quarter of a mile away, and which passed it within a couple of yards. The arbor had been built by a Lord Greatheart long since deceased; a man who had loved wild nature passionately, and who had made this quiet place an observatory, where he might watch the antics of furred and feathered players to his heart's content. Back of the arbor stood a thick copse of young trees, which brooded darkly over the little building. At this time of the year it was dark and gloomy, an ideal spot for the perpetration of such a crime as this which was now stirring the stately calm of the Priory to its very depths.

Marion was almost stunned by the suddenness of the happening, but she was, above all other things, brave to a fault. She had a quick power of rising to an emergency that made her grasp the situation almost as soon as it appeared; now, even with her father lying dead, she did not lose her grasp upon the realities.

"Ring for Lady Forbes' maid," she said sharply, and when the woman appeared: "Take your mistress away and attend to her." Lady Forbes was moaning incoherently and wringing her hands in a frenzy of horror. She was led away to her room, and at once Marion turned to the man who had brought the news.

"Tell me everything there is to tell," she commanded sharply. The man shivered a little—the sight he had seen was still vividly present in his mind.

"Beg pardon, my lady. I'd been off to Wallis Ford, being that I'm engaged to a young person there, and seeing it was near Christmas I thought maybe no offence would be taken. I took the path that runs past the arbor, and Mary—the young person, m'lady—having told me that she had left a note for me there, that being her custom, I stepped aside to get it. Then I saw a dark body lying stretched on the floor, and saw it was his lordship, stone dead, with blood running from his breast. That's all, m'lady. I come on here as fast as I could. I was mortally scared, being that it was growing dark," he concluded simply.

"You did not stop to make sure that he was—dead?" asked Marion. "You simply left him lying there! You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Smith." But she looked at him, and saw the man was quaking with pure terror. He was a young stableman, not over bright intellectually, his mouth hung half open and was wet and weak; whilst his light blue eyes were squinting with sheer fear. Nothing of a hero about Smith, though he was held to have a manner almost unbelievable with horses.

Everyone Thought She Was Going Into Consumption.

Gained Ten Pounds in Two Weeks by the Use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Fred. Biggs, Kingston, Ont., writes:—"I was completely run down, my blood was out of order, and I used to get so weak I would be compelled to stay in bed for weeks at a time. I could not eat, was pale and thin; every one thought I was going into consumption. I tried everything and different doctors until a friend advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I did not have one bottle used when my appetite began to improve. I used six bottles. I gained ten pounds in two weeks. When I began to take it I only weighed ninety-three pounds. It just seemed to pull me from the grave as I never expected to be strong again. I will tell every sufferer of your wonderful medicine."

The blood reaches every portion of the body to distribute nutriment and remove effete matter and waste products. Clearly then, any influence, good or bad, affecting the blood, must necessarily affect the entire system for good or evil as the case may be.

Get pure blood and keep it pure by removing every trace of impure morbid matter from the system by using Burdock Blood Bitters. It exerts a curative influence unapproached by any other remedy.

AMBITIOUS CITY HAS BIG SAFE CRACKED

Robbers Got Away With Only $15, Proprietors Having Taken Money Out.

Hamilton, April 10.—The safe of the Hamilton Lumber Company was cracked early Saturday morning by crooks who used nitro-glycerine, after forcing an entrance to the office. Alarmed while at work, they seized several drawers filled with valuable papers and fled. The papers were found scattered along the Grand Trunk tracks by the police. The cracksmen secured only $15 for their trouble, as the firm removed several hundred dollars from the safe the previous afternoon and placed it in the bank. The detectives think the cracksmen are crooks from across the border, who have figured in several daring burglaries in Hamilton and the surrounding country. Notices will be sent out to the banks in small towns to take extra precautions until the gang is rounded up.

NEW LIFE SAVER

Resourceful Ottawa Chief Prevents a Woman Being Suffocated.

Ottawa, April 11.—Clever work on the part of the fire brigades probably saved the life of Mrs. Lachapelle, an invalid woman, and other members of the family of E. Archambault, 71 Andrew street.

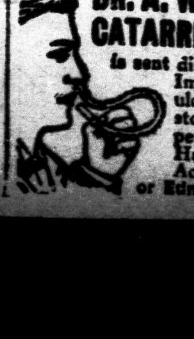

Mr. Archambault is employed at the royal mint, and about 11 p.m. Saturday his son, Oscar, came home to find the house full of smoke when he entered. Opening the cellar door to investigate he was met by a rush of flames from below. Mrs. Archambault, two daughters, her mother, Mrs. Lachapelle and an uncle were all asleep in their rooms at the time.

All got downstairs save Mrs. Archambault and her mother, the latter of whom is an invalid and a very heavy woman. Her daughter refused to leave her, but was brought down to safety on one of the brigade ladders.

It was found almost impossible to get Mrs. Lachapelle out, and Fire Chief Graham hit on the expedient of sealing the room by plugging the space at the bottom of the door and covering the woman closely with tarpaulines.

The dense smoke was thus kept out and suffocation averted.

The first census of the city of Bangkok, recently taken, showed a population of 628,675.

SALVATION ARMY STAFF BAND COMING TO LONDON

A Musical Treat in Store for the Citizens—An Announcement Made.

A great treat is in store for the citizens of London, and more especially for those of a music-loving nature. The Territorial Staff Band of the Salvation Army, attached to the headquarters, Toronto, are to visit London on Saturday and Sunday, the 16th and 17th of April. They will be accompanied by Commissioner Coombs, the leader of the forces in the Dominion of Canada.

On Saturday night they will arrive on the 6:30 train, and will proceed to the citadel, where the band of the local corps will entertain them to tea. After this there will be an open-air concert on the market square, after which they will proceed to the citadel on Clarence street. A musical festival of a superior nature will then be gone through. The instrumentalists are of the highest standard, and number 26 all told.

Mayor Will Preside.

Mayor J. H. A. Beattie has kindly consented to preside on this occasion.

A splendid performance is being looked forward to. So highly thought of are the members of the band, that one gentleman a short time ago invited them back to the town where they had given an entertainment, paying the expense out of his own pocket.

On Sunday morning the service will be held in the citadel at 11 o'clock, and will be conducted by the commissioner, assisted by Lieut.-Col. Sharp, Brigadier Morris, and other staff and field officers, as well as the band.

On Sunday afternoon and night the Majestic Theatre has been secured for these services, and at both a large crowd of friends and others who have heard the staff band in the past and have enjoyed their music, will be present.

At 3 o'clock a splendid sacred concert will be put on. Hon. Adam Beck will preside over this meeting. The commissioner will also be present.

At night at 7 o'clock the commissioner will conduct a great salvation meeting, assisted by the members of the staff band, who will sing and play throughout the service.

SOME POINTERS FOR AMATEUR GARDENER

A Few Seasonable Hints As To Seeds and Seeding.

It is not wise to select seeds haphazard. While there are a great many varieties of the different vegetables, all of which are good, some of them are just a little better than the rest.

Not the Seed.

You, no doubt, have often heard people who have been unsuccessful in their garden efforts, attribute their lack of success to the seed. "The seed was no good," they will say. This is rarely, if ever, true, if they have purchased the seed of a reliable dealer.

Carefully Selected.

Great care is always taken by seedmen that the seed they offer for sale is reliable. In most cases samples of the seed you are buying this year were planted last spring and tests made. If these tests do not prove the seed thoroughly reliable, it is not put on the market.

If, therefore, the seeds you have planted do not produce a crop, the fault lies at your own door, and failure is due either to lack of knowledge of the preparation of the soil, or carelessness in the handling of the plants after they are above the ground.

Follow Instructions.

Dig deep, manure well, buy seeds of a reliable firm. Keep the surface of the soil loose and free of weeds. Follow instructions closely as to planting, transplanting and thinning out, and if the season prove a good growing one your success is assured.

The following selection may be of aid to those who are not familiar with the different varieties:

Radishes.

Radishes require light, rich, mellow soil in order to produce the best results. If sown early in a position sheltered from the north, in deep, dry, well-manured soil, which has been carefully raked and prepared, a good crop should be secured. Radishes must grow quickly, otherwise they become fibrous and tough.

Early Scarlet (turnip or olive shaped) or French Breakfast are good.

White Icicle radishes are rapid growers, crisp and tender, and will grow to 3½ to 4 inches in length in less than a month's time.

Sow radishes every two weeks.

Onions.

Plant onion seed as early as possible in the best piece of ground available, which should, properly speaking, be prepared and well manured in the previous fall. Sow onion seed in drills about a quarter of an inch deep. Drills should be about a foot apart. It is well to sow fairly thick, as maggots will likely attend to the thinning process for you.

Giant Prize Taker (silver), Globe Danvers (yellow), Large Wethersfield (red), are all good. Take your choice.

Peas.

As soon as the frost has left the ground, and it has become fairly dry, prepare the ground for garden peas. Peas should be sown in drills, and covered to a depth of three or four inches. Drills should be about two feet apart. A good plan, however, is to plant in double rows about six inches apart, leaving a space on either side not less than two feet wide. This will enable pickers to pass through between double rows, picking two rows as they go. This applies to dwarf varieties.

Tall growing peas, which should be trained on brush, will require more space between the rows.

In dwarfs, American Wonder and Knott's Excelsior are hard to beat.

Improved Stratagem and Gradus are both climbers, and in consequence of their having to be supplied with support, are much more trouble to grow. They are, however, worth the extra effort.

Spinach.

Spinach seed cannot be in the ground too early. It is easily grown, flourishing in almost any kind of soil. Giant Flanders and Long Standing are our choice. Spinach should be renewed every two weeks.

Cress.

Cress or pepper grass is easily grown and makes a tasty green. Plant early and at fortnightly intervals.

COMET MAN'S FOLK.

Windsor, April 9.—Direct descendants of Edmund Halley, who discovered the comet which is to swish its big tail over the earth on May 18, are living here in the persons of James L. Halley and his daughter.

William Halley, brother of James L., made a study of the Edmund Halley family tree, and all its branches, and at the time of his death in Toronto, three years ago, was in possession of evidence which showed conclusively that he and his brothers, the only one of whom now living is James L., were directly descended from the comet discoverer and noted astronomer.

The parents of William and his brothers removed from England, the birthplace of Edmund Halley, to Ireland. Some years ago, William and his brothers came to Canada from Ireland. For years William was associated with J. Ross Robertson.

TONGS START GUN PLAY IN GOTHAM CHINATOWN

Two Killed and a Third Injured in a Feud of Secret Societies.

New York, April 10.—The rival Chinese societies warred again today in Chinatown, and within four hours two Celestials were killed and a third seriously injured. The fighting was between the On Leong Tong and the new organization of the Four Brothers, which has recently risen on Pell street.

One man each of the On Leongs and the Four Brothers was shot. The third man shot met his death by mistake. He sat in a seat at a gambling table, which has just been vacated by a Four Brothers' man marked for death. The police believe that more shooting may occur before the old feud drops once more into smoldering inaction.

The fighting started at a few minutes after 1 o'clock this afternoon. Cha Moy Yen, one of the big men of the Four Brothers, and counted a man of wealth by the Chinese, was shot down in his tracks as he passed a doorway at No. 5 Mott street.

An ambulance took the wounded man to the Hudson Street Hospital. There it was found he had two bullets in one thigh and one in the other.

Still later in the afternoon, as Chung Lee, Chung Ling and Chung Fook, all cousins, were walking up Park Row, near Pearl street, a strange Chinaman shot Chung Fook in the stomach. The stranger fled immediately after the shooting, but was followed by a policeman. At the police station he said his name was Chu Hain, and that he was a laundryman, living at 22½ Pell street. That was all he would say. iHs name explained the cause for the murder. It is one of the four surnames, the possession of which constitutes qualification for members in the fraternity of the Four Brothers.

Chung Fook lived long enough to reach the Hudson Street Hospital, where he died.

LAME BACK

JUST THE SORT OF CASE THAT PROVES TO THE WORLD THAT THE BEST LINIMENT EVER MADE IS NERVILINE

When it comes to determining the real merit of a medicine, no weight of evidence is more convincing than the straightforward statement of some reliable and well-known person that has been cured. For this reason we print the verbatim statement of Juan E. Powell, written from his home in Carleton. "I am a strong, powerful man, six feet tall, and weigh nearly two hundred. I have been accustomed all my life to lift great weights, but one day I overdid it, and wrenched my back badly.

LETTER NO. 4769

Every tendon and muscle was sore. To stoop or bend was agony. I had a whole bottle of Nerviline rubbed on in one day, and by night I was well again. I know of no liniment possessing one-half the penetration and pain-subduing properties of Nerviline. I urge its use strongly as an invaluable liniment and household cure for all minor ailments, such as strains, sprains, swellings, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism and muscular pain.

No better medicine for curing pain was ever put in a botte than Nerviline—over one million bottles used every year—better try it yourself. Large bottles, 50 cents; trial size, 25 cents. At all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont

CURED ACUTE STOMACH PAIN

Mighty Mi-o-na, Magical and Infallable, Stops Stomach Distress In Five Minutes.

Read what the stomach prescription sold by W. T. Strong did for Mr. McCaffrey:

"Acute attacks of pain would catch me in the pit and lower part of the stomach. I could not eat meats or starchy foods, as they would quickly ferment, forming gas and causing a constant belching. I was weak and run down and became so restless that I could not sleep at all. There was a distressing pressure around the heart caused from gas, and often I would be scarcely able to draw my breath. I felt miserable generally, and became so irritable that I did not care to see or talk to anyone. Mi-o-na was recommended to me by a friend, and I procured a box. I soon found relief, however, and in less than a week the pain had gone from my stomach. I strengthened gradually and was soon able to eat my meals and enjoy a nice sleep. I gained in weight and became stronger. I had no trouble since, and can only thank Mi-o-na for the speedy and lasting cure given me when all else failed."—W. Harris McCaffrey, 491 Aylmer street, Peterboro, Ont.

If any reader of The Advertiser is suffering from indigestion, belching, gas on stomach, heaviness, sick headache, coated tongue, they should get a box of Mi-o-na today. Mi-o-na gives instant relief in stomach distress, but it does more—it builds up the stomach and makes it so strong that in a few weeks it will be able to digest a hearty meal without any outside aid. Mi-o-na is sold on the money-back plan by W. T. Strong, and leading druggists everywhere.

TH ANNIVERSARY OF KNOX CHURCH

ring Sermons Preached on Sunday Morning and Evening.

TRA MUSIC RENDERED

t Dedicated to Church by Leys Family Was Unveiled Yesterday.

quarter of a century has passed e the pastoral settlement of the gregation of Knox Presbyterian rch, South London. During that success and prosperity have at- ed its growth and today it stands hurch well founded and upon a ng, sound basis.

nuer the present pastor, Rev. J. G. art, the church is forging ahead, looks forward to a period of con- ed prosperity.

n Sunday the twenty-fifth anni- sary was marked by special ser- s. The pulpit was manned by an divine of the Presbyterian Church, . John Neil, D. D., of Westminster rch, Toronto, who delivered two ng sermons appropriate to the day. he church was crowded at both vices, the congregation being espe- ly large in the evening.

The Sermon.

n the morning Rev. Mr. Neil chose his text Acts ii., 21, speaking on the ject, "The Model Church." Antioch referred to as the model church scriptural times. The effect of the aching of the gospel in Antioch, the rd largest city in the Roman em- e, was to revolutionize it and trans- m it. Previously this great city llowed in vice and sensuality, but dually and silently the gospel per- ated into its very heart, uncon- ously replacing the gross corruption ich prevailed.

modern application was made, the mary object of the gospel today be- to transform the community and remove all forms of evil antagonis- to it.

A Model Church.

Various reasons were given for the e of a model church being ascribed Antioch: -It transformed the com- unity in which it was placed; it was church of brotherly love, one of the aracteristics lacking in many of the urches today. These churches were, haps, not as pure as those of today it required time to eradicate the ils from the spiritual nature.

t was the first great missionary urch. Self-sacrifice was shown in nding out their best men. This is great problem which is facing the urch today, that of getting men— n of the right spirit. What is the use of this dearth? Various causes ve been assigned, including low y, the glamor and attraction of ner professions, "but the primary use," said Rev. Mr. Neil, "is that we ve not the proper conception. When is conception is realized there will no difficulty in securing men."

Rev. Mr. Neil concluded with a per- nal appeal to the congregation. "It not wealth, numbers or social posi- n, but the love of God which will ke this church great."

The Music.

Special mention must be made of the usic given by the choir for the oc- sion. The numbers rendered at both rvices were much appreciated by the ngregation. The choirmaster, Mr. F. Evans, is to be congratulated upon e success of his efforts. Miss Edna atson was the soloist in the morn- g. A duet was also given by Miss eston and Mr. Walter Murray, and a artette by Miss Weston, Miss Mil- ent Kent, Mr. Murray and Mr. Joe. win. Miss Kemp was soloist in the ening. The occasion was also mark- by the initial appearance of the oir in surplice.

Another special feature of the an- versary services was the unveiling d dedication of a baptismal font resented to the church as a memorial the late Colonel Francis Baxter eys and Mrs. Leys, by their daugh- rs.

Mrs. W. C. Doerr, 13 Brighton St., London, Ont., writes:—"It is with pleasure that I thank you for the good your Doan's Kidney Pills have done me. Have been troubled with backache for years. Nothing helped me until a friend brought me a box of your Kidney Pills. I began to take them and took four boxes, and am glad to say that I am cured entirely and can do all my own work and feel as good as I used to before taken sick. I am positive Doan's Kidney Pills are all you claim them to be, and I advise all kidney sufferers to give them a fair trial."

DR. W. A. PIPER RETURNS FROM A TRIP SOUTH

Met Many Londoners in Californ nia and Other Places on His Travels.

Dr. W. A. Piper returned Saturday from a six weeks' trip to the south and west, in which he visited New Orleans, Mexico, Texas, California, Seattle, Vancouver and several prairie cities. He reports an excellent time.

"In Southern California I found everything prospering," said Dr. Piper. "I met Mr. George Tackaberry, brother-in-law of ex-Mayor Stevely, at Redlands. He has a fine orange ranch there, and is doing extremely well.

"Ex-Mayor Stevely has a fine ranch there, and so has Rev. J. G. Stuart. They should do well out of them during the next few years. At Seattle I met Dr. Charles Cowan, who has done well in the west. At Portland I came across James R. Elliott, son of Mr. George Elliott, customs collector here, and he gave me a fine time.

British Columbia Is Booming.

"I found British Columbia booming. Vancouver is destined to be one of the greatest cities in America. It will be the terminus of four transcontinental railroads, and with the advantages of location it is bound to grow, and that rapidly.

"We came through Rogers' Pass, where the snowslide took place. The snow was actually 51 feet deep there. The force of the slide can be imagined when I tell you that it lifted an 80-ton rotary plow and placed it on top of a snowshed. Scores of lives were lost there.

Calgary Progressing.

"Calgary is progressing rapidly. They have abolished level crossings there, and the trains tear through at top speed without endangering lives."

"Edmonton is growing rapidly, and Saskatoon is going to be a fine city. However, Winnipeg is the greatest and best on the prairies, and is really a wonderful city. It is growing rapidly, and already they are making preparations for the exhibition of 1914.

"The west is the place to make money, but the east is the place to live. I saw no city there that I liked as well as London."

"BOOSTER CLUB" GAVE A CONCERT

McClary Men Put on Splendid Programme in the Auditorium.

An excellent concert was given in the Auditorium on Friday night, under the auspices of McClary's famous Booster Club, under the able direction of Mr. William Provan. Among those taking part were Miss Mina Taylor, soprano; Miss Verna E. Hallman, reader; Mr. Ben Rigby, instrumentalist; Mr. James Guy, tenor; Mr. F. McPhail, baritone; Mr. Will Provan, London's favorite Scotch comedian; Mr. L. Sage, monologist; Benham-Jaques-Howe, trio in instrumental specialties; the McClary Choir, and the McClary Dreadnought Band.

All the artists acquitted themselves most creditably. Miss Taylor was in excellent voice, and her selections were highly appreciated. Mr. Provan made a big hit with his impersonations of Harry Lauder. The flag chorus of the choir was especially well done. Mr. Earl Dunnistos, as Scotland; Mr. J. Hughes, as Ireland; Miss Baker, as Britannia, and Miss Violet Scott, as Canada, acted their parts admirably.

Mr. G. Stein acted as accompanist cleverly, and Mr. George Moll made an ideal chairman. He congratulated the employees of McClarys on being able to put on so creditable a concert from their ranks, and he wished the Boosters' Club every success in their laudable efforts to keep London to the fore.

NEW SUBWAYS PLANNED

New York Appropriates $60,000,000 to Build.

New York, April 10.—The board of estimates have decided to put aside $60,000,000 for the building of new subways. Of this amount, $13,000,000 will come out of the city's greater borrowing capacity which will be available. The increased valuations of real estate go into effect on July 1.

The rest of the money will represent the deductions from the existing indebtedness, when the enabling act is passed by the Legislature permitting the city to take out of the city's bonded debt the stock issued for the building of the present subway.

It is estimated that such stock amounts to about $47,000,000, and this sum, together with the $13,000,000, will be reserved for the building of the Broadway-Lexington route in this borough, the Broadway-Lafayette line in Brooklyn, the Fort Hamilton and Coney Island extensions, Fourth avenue (Brooklyn) subway, and the Canada street-Crosstown subway in Manhattan.

The city council of Cincinnati is planning a subway to connect the business section of the city with the outlying residential sections.

SOME MYSTERIES OF HAMID'S HAREM

A German Girl Says That She Was Kidnapped by the Turks.

WIVES DESERT SULTAN

Objected To Being Used as Tasters of Physic Suspected of Containing Poison.

Constantinople, April 11. — Abdul Hamid, ex-sultan of Turkey, has of late been the subject of many reports, one being that he had been deserted by his harem. According to La Turquie, the ex-sultan was in such fear of being poisoned that all food or drink which he took had to be tasted by some member of his entourage. Recently he decided to make similar regulations with regard to the physic prescribed for him by his medical attendants.

The result was the women of the harem were called on to swallow nauseous drugs and potions, a regimen which soon told on their health. In order to save themselves further experiences of the kind they decided to desert the ex-commander of the faithful, which they did at the dead of night, to "avoid painful parting scenes with the prisoner."

Lured to Stage.

From an incident at Frankfort-on-Main it would appear that after the dispersal of the ex-sultan's harem some of the women were fascinated by the footlights of the vaudeville stage. The chief attraction at a Frankfort music hall has been eight "genuine odalisques from Abdul Hamid's harem," who appeared under the charge of two eunuchs.

A member of the audience discovered that one of the women spoke German with a pure Berlin accent. He complained to the police, who proceeded to the hotel where the party stayed to investigate the supposed fraud. The Turkish consul proved that seven members of the troupe were actually women of the harem. The eighth alleged odalisque, who hailed from Berlin, fell on her knees and implored the consul's protection, declaring that she had been kidnapped by the two Turks in charge of the troupe. The police released the girl, and are now making inquiries to ascertain how she fell into the hands of the Turks.

A FORMER LONDONER LECTURES IN SCOTLAND

Address Given by Mr. Victor Mitchell in Aberdeen.

The Aberdeen (Scotland) Herald says of Mr. Victor Mitchell, a former newspaperman of London:

"Here and There in Canada," was the title of a very interesting lecture given by Mr. Victor Mitchell, journalist, in the Gymnasium, Summer street, on Tuesday evening. Rev. Father Meany presided. The lectures was given under the auspices of St. Andrew's Catholic Association, and was illustrated by limelight views kindly lent for the occasion by Mr. John McLennan, Canadian Government representative in Aberdeen. The plates were thrown on the screen by the association's new lantern, operated by Mr. Walmsley, and gave very good results. Mr. Mitchell dealt chiefly with the older parts of Canada, of which he has had intimate personal experience, and gave graphic descriptions of the leading cities and towns, including Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, etc. He also gave a vivid description of the country as a whole—of the vast orchards and vineyards in the fruit-growing districts, and of the huge wheat fields in other parts. Many people, he said, still thought of Canada as a country of perpetual snow. That was far from the truth. Though the winters were severe, there were no fogs, and the sun always shone from a clear sky, while in the summer time straw hats and linen suits became a necessity. Mr. Mitchell also gave interesting particulars regarding the various Catholic churches, colleges, and religious establishments in the chief centres of population. The lecture was listened to with great interest throughout.

CORRESPONDENCE

Milk in Bottles.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I noticed in last evening's edition of your valuable daily, that three members of the board of health are condemning milk bottles as being insanitary.

I claim these gentlemen are wrong, as I have delivered thousands of quarts of milk both in the bottle and the can. I can honestly say under favorable conditions I would prefer the bottle by long odds.

I presume these gentlemen who are condemning bottles wish the citizens to use can milk, as they have not stated otherwise. If a milk dealer does not clean his bottles thoroughly he will not clean his cans thoroughly. I think not. I have seen milk cans so dirty that they looked as if they had not been cleaned for a week—simply filthy. Take the carrying can. How much dirt, dust, germs, etc., get down the spout into the milk, and into the measures? How much? After travelling a short time through the dusty streets I have seen milk cans so dusty a person could write his name on them. Does any of this dust get into the milk?

If a milk dealer will keep his cans clean and sweet, he will do likewise with his bottles. Why not? It takes more elbow-grease to clean a can than a bottle. There are no seams in a bottle for the germs to hide in.

Supposing a milk dealer (if he is lazy) does not stir his milk occasionally in the big can. Who gets the thickest milk? Not the last consumer—not much. It is a well-known fact that cream will come to the top, and most of the milk wagons do not jar enough to keep the cream where it belongs. With the milk bottle this trouble is done away with, which is a big item. If consumers wish to have their own milk bottle, they can get a thin piece of brass, tin, or any other kind of thin metal, cut in the shape of a tag, mark their initials on the tag, and tie the tag around the neck of the bottle, with a thin piece of wire, and if they wish they can wash the bottles themselves. Is this not sanitary? I think so. Milk bottles are cleaned thoroughly with scalding hot water, with a good supply of washing soda in the water, and a large bottle brush, used vigorously, and then rinsed out with boiling water and put in a clean space. That is how I used to clean bottles when I was in the milk business, and there are milkmen today cleaning their milk bottles just as good.

A milkman who will fill a dirty milk bottle while on his route or at home should be severely dealt with. A good reward should be offered for his arrest and conviction. That would put a stop to that.

I have a healthy, strong boy, ten months old, weighing 25 pounds. He drinks bottled milk, and shall as long as he can. We have our own bottle, and I fully believe it safer than the can. Yours truly,

AN EX-MILKMAN.

London, April 8, 1910.

Lost 16 Lbs. in Weight

WAS KEPT DOWN BY BILIOUS INDIGESTION, AND WHEN IN DESPAIR DR. HAMILTON'S PILL CURED

In the following interesting letter, Mrs. H. R. Plunkett, well known in her home town of Hewtonville, tells how she conquered bilious indigestion: "I think it was drinking ice water on a very hot July day two years ago that caused an inflamed condition in my stomach, which gave me such repeated and weakening attacks of biliousness and stomach trouble. So severely did I suffer, that my strength was impaired, and I lost sixteen pounds in weight. My whole body was weakened, both kidneys and bowels failing to keep the system in natural condition. Food fermented, skin was dry and yellow. I had flushes of heat, and prickling sensations in various parts of the body. In the winter I had cold feet and clammy hands, and not until I commenced to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills did I obtain relief. In a short time Dr. Hamilton's Pills cured the bilious dyspepsia, and in a month I gained almost four pounds. The pain over the liver disappeared, the bowels acted regularly, and I kept on improving so rapidly that in three months I was vigorous and well. I recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills to everyone in poor health."

To receive the same benefit as Mrs. Plunkett, commence Dr. Hamilton's Pills today, 25c per box. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

LAWYERS UPHOLD C. W. HARTRIDGE

Jerome's Assistants Testify That His Services to Thaw Were Worth $150,000.

New York, April 10. — James W. Osborne and William Rand, jun., both former assistant district attorneys in this county, came to the rescue of Clifford W. Hartridge yesterday in the latter's suit in the United States circuit court against Mrs. Mary C. Thaw to recover for professional services.

Both lawyers were asked what they thought Mr. Hartridge was entitled to from the Thaws. Mr. Rand thought that $158,000 would be a fair charge, while Mr. Osborne regarded Hartridge's services as worth from $125,000 to $150,000. Hartridge is suing for $125,000.

"I consider," said Mr. Osborne, "that when a man gives up his whole time to a particular case his other business would go to smash; it almost unfits a man when he is finished with it. The complainant (Hartridge) invented a defence that had never been heard of before, and almost got away with it, the jury disagreeing, you remember. Such a thing was unheard of and was worth a large sum of money."

Mr. Osborne had reference to the "brainstorm" theory of the defence in Harry Thaw's first trial for the murder of Stanford White.

Delphin M. Delmas, chief counsel for the Thaws in the first trial, was called to the stand. He was asked if he knew that Hartridge visited restaurants and disorderly houses in the interests of Thaw.

"Oh, yes, I knew he visited restaurants," he repled, "because I have dined with him."

"Do you know anything about Mr. Hartridge interviewing women of the Tenderloin, and paying them money to keep from telling stories about Thaw?"

"I knew absolutely nothing about that," replied Mr. Delmas.

Clerks from several banks testified about Mr. Hartridge's balances in their respective institutions.

SWEPT BY FIRE.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 9.—The business section of Middletown, nine miles from this city, an important manufacturing town of about 10,000 people, was swept by fire today, about 75 buildings being burned, with a loss of about $100,000. The town was in danger for two hours, but by the combined efforts of firemen from this city, Lancaster, Columbia, and Steelton and the use of explosives, the fire was stopped.

FIRE IN A CHURCH.

New York, April 9.—Fire starting this afternoon in the organ loft of the fashionable Green Avenue Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn, a lofty brick and stone structure, burned out the rear section and badly damaged the upper portion of the building, causing a loss estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000. The high tower, containing a 1,000-pound bell, was badly damaged, but did not fall.

DANGEROUS DANDRUFF

WILL MAKE CANADA A BALD-HEADED NATION IF NOT CHECKED.

M. Pasteur, the great French Physician of Paris, once said: "I believe we shall one day rid the world of all diseases caused by germs."

Dandruff is caused by germs, a fact accepted by all physicians.

Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. If it were not for the little destructive germs working with a persistency worthy of a better cause, there would be no baldness.

Parisian Sage will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks or money back.

W. T. Strong guarantees it. It will stop itching scalp, falling hair, and make the hair grow thick and abundant.

It puts life and lustre into the hair and prevents it from turning gray.

It is the hair dressing par excellence, daintily perfumed and free from grease stickiness. It is the favorite with women of taste and culture who know the social value of fascinating hair.

A large bottle costs only 50 cents, at leading druggists everywhere, and in London by W. T. Strong. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package.

JEFF LOSES "GROUCH" AND CHEERS TRAINER

"Farmer" Burns Delighted Over Change and Says Hurdle Is Crossed.

SMILES AT CAMERA MEN

"Alfalfa King" Chaffs Visitors—Works Like Hired Hand at Harvest.

[By Associated Press.]

Rowardennan, Cal., April 9.—Jim Jeffries joined the sunshine society today, after several days of gloom which had led his trainers to fear that he would not readily get back into his old-time form.

Today's change of mood brought decided reassurance to the colony of trainers and attendants, and the big fellow smiled blandly as he faced the omnipresent battery of cameras as though he saw dark clouds suddenly dissipated.

Jeffries is working at his training routine like a hired man in harvest time, but today he found a few moments to chat pleasantly with visitors and chaff his trainers.

Over First Hurdle.

"Farmer" Burns, trainer in chief, was delighted at the change for the better. "It means," he said, "that Jeffries has gotten over the first hurdle toward good condition. When an athlete has been out of the game as long as Jeffries, the first few days' work are pretty tough on him. Naturally he becomes stiff and sore, and when all the rubbing down in the world cannot effect a cure, a fellow is quite likely to nurse a little grouch. Now, however, it is quite plain to me that Jim has worked all the soreness out of his system. He'll be in the best of spirits from now on."

Long Road Jaunt.

Despite his having been cautioned by Manager Berger regarding the danger of overtraining, Jeffries put in the hardest day of the first schedule today. Early in the morning he started on a ten-mile road trip, returning to camp by a different mountain road.

His penchant for baseball seems stronger than ever and he was unable to finish his daily practice without an additional half hour. Although perspiring freely, he followed with a five-round bout with a hastily-improvised punching bag, hung from a temporary platform.

An Afternoon's Work.

The afternoon's work consisted of rope skipping, shadow boxing, with light dumb bells, three fast games of handball, and tugging and hauling four rounds with Burns and Armstrong.

Jeffries will do his first boxing Monday. Two sets of especially made gloves reached here today.

[By Associated Press.]

San Francisco, April 11.—Rowardennen, where Jeffries has been in training for a week, is being converted into a miniature Monte Carlo. Since the hotel has been open to guests the price per day has been $5, whereas in the past summer, resorts in the Santa Cruz Mountains have been well satisfied to receive from $12 to $20 per week for accommodations.

There are now being installed here gambling establishments, which will include roulette wheels, crap tables, black jack games and possibly a faro bank. Visitors in automobiles also will be charged 50 cents for auto space, as the parking concession has been sold for $300.

CRAWFORD IN LINE UP

Despite Injury to Ankles—Timely Hitting Wins Contest for Detroit.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Indianapolis, Ind., April 9.—Hughie's Tigers, in their regular batting order, lined up today for the first time this year.

They came through with a 5-to-3 victory, thanks to Pernoll's good arm and some timely hitting by the champions.

This same Hoosier aggregation beat the regulars in San Antonio a few weeks ago in a one-run game, but today Detroit showed better hitting, fielding and some well-regulated team work.

Crawford Played.

There is hope of Hughie whipping his team into shape in the three games that remain to be played. Sam Crawford, it was feared this morning, would be out of the game, but Hughie and his crack outfielder had a brief session after Sam asked the manager for leave of absence, and the man from Wahoo decided to play. His ankles are badly swollen, but medical attention and care may bring them to proper condition for Thursday's opening game.

JACK JOHNSON IS IN MORE TROUBLE

The Champion Must Appear in Chicago Court on April 23—Should Be Training.

DIDN'T PAY FOR PIANO

And Store Asks for $247 50—Business Is Becoming More Tangled Daily.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chicago, April 10. — Joe Choynski is going to leave April 16 to join Jeffries' training camp in California; Jack Gleason and Jack Johnson are both agreed that Johnson will leave April 16 to establish his training camp; Joe Cotton, a pupil of Choynski's, has been retained to assist Johnson in training, and, on top of it all, Jack Johnson, together with his wife, has been made defendant in another suit, service returnable April 23.

Answers should be addressed to the puzzle department of the Rickard-Gleason daily calamity bulletin.

Didn't Pay for Piano.

Jack Gleason, half of the syndicate promoting the Jeffries-Johnson fight, cast anchor at the Hotel Stratford wharf yesterday, and all hands were piped on deck to learn that there had been a private agreement of some few months' standing to the effect that the black pugilist, who is half of the moving picture syndicate, would leave here next Saturday for the coast, but a State street department store has complained to the municipal court that Johnson and his wife kept a piano from their store over a month longer than their contract allowed, and should therefore be compelled to hand over $247 50 to the complainant as settlement in full for the instrument.

Arranging for Tickets.

Gleason will remain in the city until Tuesday, arranging for railroad service and ticket sales. He reports success from his New York trip, which was for the same purpose, and says the seat demand already is enormous. The orders for seats will be put on sale all over the country within a few days after Gleason's return to the coast, and the tickets which they call for will be obtainable within six days before the fight.

Chicago, April 11.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, announced that he will depart for the coast on April 20. He has engagements booked en route: April 23 at Omaha, April 25 at Salt Lake City, April 28 at Los Angeles. This will give him time to set up his camp at Seal Rocks about May 1.

Johnson is not disturbed by the suit by a local firm for a piano placed in his house.

"That piano was not good enough," said Johnson. "I have one in there which was made for me, costing $2,200, and what would I want with a $200 instrument."

Today's programme calls for ten miles of road work through the parks, and more or less serious mutilation of his sparring partners. This is to be maintained until the departure for the coast, according to Johnson.

TERRE HAUTE WAS EASY.

Terra Haute, Ind., April 10.—Ten errors by the Terra Hauteans gave Bill Donovan's bunch of American Leaguers an easy 7 to 1 victory today, despite the fact that they were unable to connect with the benders of Asher and Summers. Lelivelt and Killian did not mystify the Tots to any great extent, but after the first inning they were given errorless support and the Tots' one run was earned.

JOE WEST BOWLING WELL IN GAMES AT BUFFALO

Londoner Shows Up Well Among Bison City Men in Practice Matches—Some Scores.

Joe West, of London, continues to bowl high in the practice games for the trip across New York State with the Buffalo Blue Ribbons to the national tourney at Baltimore.

The team will have to win 16 games out of 18 to bring home the cup, but if the travellers annex two at Rochester, and 2 at Syracuse, it looks pretty safe, according to West.

The doubles scores Saturday at Buffalo were: Smith 677 and West 672, Floss, jun., 648, and Floss, sen., 614.

At night the team put up a total of 2,902, the scores being: West 603, Finch 612, Steve 601, Floss 558, Smith 529.

Floss' Colts, with West bowling, defeated a pick-up team, 2,923 to 2,727. The winners' scores were:

The second squad of the Americans will play the Weer Club of the New England League, at Worcester tomorrow.

All the regular players of both teams are in splendid condition, and the start of the season will probably find them in the lineup. The two local teams begin the season with new managers, Fred Lake, who last year managed the Boston Americans, having charge of the National team this year, while "Patsy" Donovan, formerly manager of the major league teams, succeeds Lake as the leader of the American team.

TWO MARKS SMASHED ON NEW COAST TRACK

Robertson in Simplex Covers 10 Miles in 6:35.06, New World Record.

ENDICOTT'S FAST TIME

Sets Fifty-Mile National Speedway Event for Stock Chassis at 43:59:69.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Los Angeles, April 9.—One world's record and one new American speedway stock car mark were the extent of the record-breaking on the Los Angeles motordrome today.

George Robertson, in the Simplex, and Caleb Bragg, in the Fiat 90, in the 10-mile free-for-all, reeled off mile after mile under the forty-second mark and completed the ten in 6:35.06, the Simplex winning by a hundred feet.

For seven miles the cars were lapped, it being difficult to tell which led at the wire for the first five miles.

Time after time Robertson, who was on the outside, would run high on the track in an effort to swoop down into the lead, but Bragg held on and refused to give an inch. In the seventh mile Robertson forged a yard in the lead. This was increased to a length in another half-mile and at the end of the eighth circuit the gap was steadily widening.

Oldfield's Tire Troubles.

In the record trials not a mark was broken, Oldfield coming within 9-100 of a second of beating de Palma's five-mile mark made yesterday. The Benz made five circuits in 3:15.71. Had not the tire gone bad within a sixteenth of a mile from the wire the record would have been broken surely. This was Oldfield's second trial.

A national speedway record was established by Endicott in the Cole in the fifty-mile race for stock chassis measuring 161-230 cubic inches piston displacement. The fifty miles were made in 43:59.69. The former record was made at Atlanta—50:6. The five-mile class C, 451-600 cubic inches displacement, was won by Oldfield in the Knox after Hume, in the Apperson, had held the lead for a mile. The summaries:

Time trials, one mile — Fiat (De Palma), 0:38.35; Fiat (Bragg), 0:39.22. Five miles—Simplex (Robertson), 3:17.34; Benz (Oldfield), 3:15.71.

Five miles, stock chassis, class C, 451-600 cubic inches—Know (Oldfield), first; Apperson (Hanshue), second; Isotta (Marquis), third. Time, 3:52.20.

Ten miles, stock chassis, handicap—Ford (Hampton), 3.10, first; Stoddard-Dayton (Livingstone), 0.25, second; Knox (Oldfield), scratch, third—time, 10:10.10.

Ten miles, free-for-all—Simplex (Robertson), first; Fiat (Bragg), second—time 6:35.6.

Fifty miles, stock chassis, 161-230 cubic inches—Cole (Endicott, first; Buick (Nikrent), second; Warren-Detroit (Miller), third—time, 43:49.69.

DETROIT WINS IN ELEVEN INNINGS

Indianapolis' Rally in the Ninth Forced Tigers to Go Into Overtime to Cop.

SECONDS HAVE A CINCH

Terre Haute Hands the Match to Wild Bill's Men, Score 7 to 1.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 10.—Just at a time when much value attaches to reminders of how little a thing may turn the tide of a ball game and change an apparent cinch into a beating, the Tigers pulled off a couple of plays today that indirectly cost them three runs and that forced them to play eleven innings to win a contest, 6 to 5 its final score, that they should have nailed in the regulation distance, and with the Hoosiers three scores shy of their final count. After one was gone in the Indians' ninth, chances to retire two different men were lost. Then Carr's clouters hopped onto Browning and hit home three tallies. A throw to the plate by Cobb, stopping another, alone prevented the Tigers from losing.

SHACK MARTIN HAS BIG PROBLEM TO SOLVE

Trying to Figure Out How Many Acres of Whiskers He Has Mowed.

If a barber cuts twelve people's hair every day, and shaves fifteen other people every day, six days in the week for 56 years, how many acres, square miles, square yards, or square feet of hair will he have mowed down in that time?

This is not a fool proposition, but a question which Shack Martin, London's oldest barber is trying to figure out.

So far he has not been able to do so, as the amount of "thatch" to be abbreviated depends on the size of the customer's head and the amount of whisker lawn that he raises is dependent upon the area of his face.

So far Mr. Martin has been unable to locate the formula, which multiplied together will enable him to strike an average which will give him a fairly accurate result.

Mr. Martin Ill.

Mr. Martin has been laid up for many weeks, and was out this morning for the first time.

"During my illness," he said, "I was trying to figure out just how much hair I had cut in my time. It is just 56 years the 4th of next month that I came to London, and ever since that time I have been busy cutting hair."

Any youthful mathematical prodigies who may reside in the district, now have the chance of their lives to come to Mr. Martin's rescue and give him a correct solution.

PATTI MACLAREN

Mr. H. Campbell Becher. "She did extremely well, and the win was very popular.

"The presentation of 'Jack Straw' was well received. The theatre was completely filled. Both Government parties were present, and after the performance his excellency came behind and congratulated us on the presentation of the play. The house was very appreciative, and the applause was most generous. The play went smoother than it did here. The stage pictures were perfect.

"The orchestra did well on Friday evening, and are to be congratulated on the fine showing. With more practice they will certainly win anywhere."

Mr. Poure Speaks.

"Although we did not get the prize, I would not exchange places with the winners."

This was Maurice Poure's statement when spoken to regarding the competition for Earl Grey's prize.

"We won the popular prize and that is sufficient. The reception given the orchestra was most flattering, and that we came so close to winning the honors is indeed gratifying.

"It is undeniable that the Ottawa orchestra was more finished, but it lacked the dash and attack of our orchestra. It must be remembered that this orchestra has won the trophy now for three years, and is well practiced, while ours is of comparatively recent organization, and has had but limited practice.

Material Not Developed.

"We had not the time to develop our material, and I think we did extremely well under the circumstances. Instead of feeling depressed that we did not obtain the highest honors, we feel delighted at having done so well.

"When we had finished, I was summoned to Earl Grey's presence, and he congratulated me on the success we had achieved. He said that he had listened with great satisfaction to the programme.

"He asked me if the trophy he had offered had been the inspiration behind the organization of the orchestra, and I, of course, answered that it was. This, he said, was a great pleasure to him as that was the purpose of the competition. His Excellency also asked about the support we received from the citizens, and when I told him that we had been supported to the extent of $11, he seemed amazed. The whole responsibility was on my shoulders, and I am personally pleased with the fine reception.

Wouldn't Trade Places.

"As I said before, I would not trade places with the winners. The popular verdict was ours. Of course, they say that I was worse than Creatore in gymnastic exercises, but that does not do any harm. I am pleased that my players responded to the enthusiasm so well.

"I was personally congratulated by Mr. Howard Brockway, of Auburn, on the orchestra work, and he said he would watch my career with interest."

RABIES OUTBREAK IN CHATHAM DISTRICT

Cattle in Dover Township Show Symptons of the Dreaded Disease.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, April 10. — Rabies have again broken out in this district. Within the last few days cattle in the township of Dover have developed symptoms of the disease. On Friday Thomas Dunlop, of Dover, shot a valuable cow that had gone mad. Others have been destroyed during the week. The animals became very vicious, frothing at the mouth and charging everything with which they came in contact. It was generally supposed that the rabies scare had died out here, but it is thought by the owners of the afflicted animals that they were bitten by a mad dog that went through the township a few weeks ago. The dog was shot at Wallaceburg on March 28. Dr. Kime, a local veterinary surgeon, pronounced the cattle to be affected with rabies, and he has sent one of the heads of the destroyed animals to Toronto for analysis.

Dr. Kime says that the farmers of Dover are not following out the regulations with regard to dog muzzling. It is feared that Mr. Dunlop's son may develop the disease, as in coming in contact with one of the animals he got some of the froth from its mouth on his hand.

George Emmett is bringing an action against the townships of Harwich and Raleigh for $2,500 for injuries sustained by himself and his wife in an accident while driving along one of the highways in these townships. By agreement the Pipe Line Company have to indemnity the townships for any loss sustained in this manner.

FIERCE STRUGGLE WITH MAD COLLIE

An Animal Bites Small Boy at Thamesville Who Will Be Sent to Pasteur.

Thamesville, April 10.—The first outbreak of rabies in this section occurred Saturday morning. While playing with several children an old collie owned by George Secord, one mile attackd young Ernie Secord in, etaoin from here, became suddenly mad, and ing a serious wound on his leg. A. Purdrum and Everett Youngster, who were playing with them in the yard, were also nipped, but not serious enough to cause flesh wounds.

The dog was unmuzzled at the time, and Mr. Secord managed to get it secured in the back part of the house, where he wired the doors, thinking to keep it secure until morning. Late in the night Alex. McKay, the hired man, came home, and as was his custom, went to enter the house by the back door. Upon finding it wired he thought it was a joke, and removed the wires. The dog plunged at him, and made its escape. He thought nothing of it, but this morning when they found the dog in the yard it attacked both McKay and Secord, and only by strenuous efforts did they manage to escape its bites and again locked it in the shed. It was shot through the head, and thought to be dead, but upon looking in again, three hours later, it made further furious attacks at them, and was finally shot.

Medical attention was secured for the boy, and arrangements are being made to send him to Toronto. No animal was bitten as far as known, but a close watch is being kept by the authorities, as the dog was at large all night.

REPRISALS IN ORDER

Further Killings Expected Amongst the Chinese Tong Warriors.

New York, April 11.—A big police guard was poured into Chinatown and it was evident from an early hour that the authorities had determined to prevent a renewal of the Tong war. With two men dead here and two in Philadelphia, however, as the result of the first onset the appetites of the feudists were believed to be only whetted and the feeling that prevailed in the haunts of the Orientals was more menacing than reassuring. One of their members is dead, while their rival's leader, Chu May, of the On Leong Tong, who started the fighting with an attack of the leader, Chu May Yen, who was twice shot, will recover. The second Chinaman killed here was unaffiliated, and was shot mistakenly. By the Chinese Tong code reprisals on both sides are in order.

DR. FOREST MODERATOR

Nominations Unanimously For the President of Dalhousie University.

Halifax, April 11.—Nominations for the moderatorship of the Presbyterian General Assembly have been made by practically all of the Presbyteries of the Maritime Provinces. In every case the presbyteries have named President John Forrest, D.D., for the office. This singular unanimity well shows what is "the mind of the Church" in this part of the province.

Rev. Dr. Forrest is the son of a Halifax physician, and before assuming the presidency of Dalhousie University he was minister of St. John's Church in this city, a church whose pulpit is now occupied by Rev. J. S. Sutherland.

The general assembly meets in Halifax in June, and while there is no reason for making anything approaching a rule that a moderator should be chosen from the city where the assembly convenes, or even from the part of the Dominion in which the meeting is held, still it would be popular with Presbyterians generally in the east if Dr. Forrest's long service for the church were to be recognized and himself honored by election to the moderatorship.

JACK STRAW

riches, Miss Pattie MacLaren gave a vigorous interpretation to the part. Most likely a professional would have modified some of the passages which Miss MacLaren was inclined to exaggerate, but her general characterization was satisfactory. Charles Hunt, as Ambrose Holland; Col. W. E. Hodgins, as Count von Bremer, and Weston Peake, as Parker Jennings, were admirable in their respective parts, as was also Stanley Meredith, as Vincent Parker Jennings. Miss Mary Love, in the role of Ethel Parker Jennings, about to be sold to a title, and Miss Nita Macbeth, as Lady Wanley, shared honors equally.

The Mail and Empire: The dramatic entry for the closing performance was "Jack Straw," a fantastic comedy by the successful English playwright, Mr. W. Somerset Maugham, presented in surprisingly good style by the London Dramatic Company. Owing to the time limit of ninety minutes, only the first two acts were entered as part of the competition, but the third act was given for the entertainment of the audience, which was the largest of the entire week, nearly 300 Londoners having come down for the event. The third act proved to be much the best, and had the judges been permitted to take it into their consideration, it is possible that their award would have put the London players in first place, or at least bracketed them with the Margaret Eaton players as worthy of second honors. The distinguishing merits of the presentation were the unusual uniformity of strength of the large cast, which included thirteen speaking parts, the ease of the players, the absence of self-consciousness, the technical skill displayed, and the careful attention paid to the settings, costumes and properties, the production in this respect being on a par with a majority of high-class companies. The most serious fault noticeable was the failure on the part of some of the members to enunciate distinctly.

The title role, assumed by Dr. E. Pardee Bucke, was one demanding a high degree of resourcefulness, proficiency and assurance, the character being that of a pseudo waiter who agrees to masquerade as an archduke, and who carries through his undertaking with superb insolence and aplomb, only to prove at the end that he is in reality the personage whose identity he has seemingly assumed. Considering the difficulties presented by the role, Dr. Bucke's impersonation was a most creditable one, but a trace of monotony was apparent. It would be unjust to expect in an amateur player the possession of the diamond-keen incisiveness of method which so admirably fitted Mr. John Drew for the role as it was created by him in the American production of the play. Miss Pattie MacLaren, winner of Miss Anglin's bracelet, gave a clever and convincing delineation of the newly-rich, ill-bred, vulgar and aspiring Mrs. Parker Jennings. Col. W. E. Hodgins displayed an excellent speaking voice and ease of manner as Count von Bremer. Miss Mary Love, as Ethel Parker Jennings, did capital work, portraying the role in a natural, girlish and unaffected spirit, and giving a rendition which rang true at all points. Mr. Charles Hunt, as Ambrose Holland, and Mr. Campbell Becher, as the Marquis of Serlo, filled their parts with distinction. Mr. Stanley Meredith and Mr. Weston Peake did effective character work, the former as the snobbish and illiterate Parker Jennings, and the latter as the pert and supercilious son, Vincent. Miss Meta Macbeth enacted Lady Wanley with acceptance, and the other members of the well-balanced cast were: Mr. Alec. Powell, as Rev. Lewis Abbott; Mr. Adrian Law, as the head waiter; Miss Anita Hunt, as Mrs. Withers, and Miss Dora Labatt as Mrs. Abbott. The play bill failed to give the name of the stage director, who is entitled to the warmest praise for the smoothness and cohesiveness of the performance.

The Globe: "The main event of the evening, however, was the performance by the London Dramatic Club of the comedy "Jack Straw," in three acts, by W. Somerset Maughan. The cast comprised thirteen people, the majority of whom possessed more than average ability. The scenic effects were beautifully contrived, while the gowns of the ladies caused much favorable comment. Moreover, these London ladies were bewitching to look upon. The plot of the play was really one dealing with the ambitions of one Mrs. Parker Jennings (capitally played by Miss Pattie MacLaren), to shine in high society, but who is brought to her senses through the intervention of "Jack Straw" (Dr. Pardee Bucke). The comedy was well received by the large audience, and the players were recalled again and again. Praise must be unreservedly given for the excellent work of Dr. Bucke and Miss MacLaren, who kept the house in merriment. The London Dramatic Club did themselves credit."

SARNIA'S POLICE CHIEF SHOOTS SICK HORSE

An Interesting Case for P. M.—Able Council Engaged —A Sad Accident.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, April 11. — There will probably be a lively time in the police court on Tuesday morning, when John Morton appears to answer a charge of cruelty to animals. Morton has appeared in the police court before on similar charges, and has been found guilty. During the past week he has had a sick horse at his barn on Christina street, which has been causing the citizens a great deal of trouble and loss of sleep. On Friday evening Chief Crawford paid a visit to the stables, and found a badly diseased animal kicking and pawing at a furious rate. The poor brute had nothing to eat, and a bare floor to lie on. The chief tried to get the animal out in order that he might better see its condition, but the poor brute fell down when coming out of the stall. The chief at once decided to destroy the brute, and with a couple of shots from his revolver ended the animal's sufferings. Morton claims that the authorities were too previous in their action, and has engaged Messrs. Hanna and LeSuer to defend his case. It is hardly likely Morton will seek to recover damages for the loss of the animal.

A special train of emigrants bound from Montreal to the Northwest passed through the tunnel early Saturday morning.

A Loss to Sarnia.

Another of Sarnia's prominent citizens crossed the great divide on Saturday evening last in the person of Mr. Jos. B. Hamilton. Deceased, who was in his 44th year, had been a lifelong resident of this place, and was well and favorably known to the people of Sarnia and surrounding country. He is survived by a family of three children, his wife having predeceased him some ten years ago. Mr. J. W. Hamilton, tax collector, and Robert Hamilton, butcher, Lochiel street, are brothers, and Miss Sarah Hamilton is a sister. To the bereaved family and brothers and sisters is extended the deep sympathy of their many friends in their hour of sorrow. The funeral will be held from the late residence, 136 Bright street, at three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Interment at Lakeview Cemetery.

A Bright Boy's Birthday.

Master Theo Burgess, of Point Edward, was pleasantly surprised on Thursday afternoon last, when a number of his friends gathered at his parents' home to help him celebrate his 12th birthday. The afternoon was spent in games and amusements, after which supper was served and a pleasant birthday party brought to an end. Theodore is The Advertiser carrier boy at the Point, and always wears a smile in the performance of his duty. Both his customers and The Advertiser wish Theodore long life, health and prosperity.

Mr. Adam Knapp, Croden street, and daughter, Gertrude, left on Saturday on a week's visit to friends at Parkhill.

Sad Accident.

A sad accident happened at Port Huron on Thursday night, whereby Mr. Marshall London received injuries from which he died at 9 o'clock on Friday morning. Mr. London, who was employed at Swift's ice-house, near the tunnel, had been working on a late shift, and had quit shortly before midnight. He boarded a car, and when near home was about to alight from the car, which had stopped, but before his feet touched the ground the car made a sudden start, and he was thrown to the pavement, alighting on his head. He was helped to his feet, but did not complain of feeling badly hurt, and walked home unaided. He was not long home, however, before he complained of pains in his head, and his wife telephoned for a doctor, who refused to go out at such an unreasonable hour. In fact, four doctors were telephoned for before one could be persuaded to come, and when one did arrive the man was unconscious. The doctor worked for a couple of hours over him, but he died at 9 o'clock. The late Mr. London was well known in Sarnia, being a brother of Messrs. William and Arthur London, of Maxwell street. He is survived by his widow and four children. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron London, of Petrolea, and a brother of John London, also of Petrolea. He is also survived by two sisters. The sincere sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family. The funeral was held at Port Huron on Sunday afternoon.

A fire in the attic of J. E. Proctor's residence, near Confederation and Russell streets, gave the fire brigade a long run on Saturday afternoon. The fire is said to have been caused by some plumbers, who were at work on the premises, and before the brigade arrived the fire had gained considerable headway. About $400 damage was done to the upper story and roof. Loss partly covered by insurance.

Another Death.

The death occurred here on Saturday of Louise, wife of Richard Duncan, a well-known barber, of Sarnia, at the age of 66 years. The funeral will be held from her late residence, Lochiel street, this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, to Lakeview Cemetery.

AFTER BALDWIN'S MONEY

Sixteen-Year-Old Girl Claims She Is Entitled to Part of $20,000,000.

Boston, April 11.—Basing her claim on the allegation that she is a legitimate daughter, Beatrice Baldwin, 16 years old, of Brooklyn, has begun suit in Los Angeles, Cal., for one-third of the estate of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, the turfman.

Miss Baldwin is the daughter of Mrs. W. B. Turnbull, who alleges that she and Baldwin contracted a common law marriage, which is binding under the California code, and that the claimant was born of that marriage. Fourteen years ago she brought suit against Baldwin, which culminated with the attempt of her sister to shoot Baldwin. This hasty action, it is claimed, prejudiced the jury against her. The estate to which the young Brooklyn girl lays claim for a portion is said to be valued at $20,000,000.

DUST OF ETNA IN WEST INDIES

New York, April 11.—Clouds of fine dust are floating over West Indian waters, which Capt. Dickinson and crew of the steamship arrived today from the West Indies, believe came from the eruption of Mount Etna, and were blown over the Atlantic.

Chief Officer Adam said that for nine days the sun appeared small, and a blood-red color, while what appeared to be fine volcanic dust filled the air.

"There was every sign of seismic and volcanic disturbance," he said, "and one day the air was so charged with electricity that we could not send a wireless message. While sailing off St. Helena in 1883 we got the dust of a volcanic explosion on Java, 6,000 miles away."

WARNS FROM GOTHAM.

London, April 11.—Courteney W. Bennet, British consul-general at New York, in his annual report cautions immigrants against assuming that New York is an El Dorado for the workingman. "It is not," he says. "The expenses of living are so high and so constantly rising, that a man in regular work in the United Kingdom at lower wages, is as well if not better off than his fellow-workman in New York at the higher wages here, while if out of work he is better off at home. It is estimated that to live in decency here a man with a wife and two children must spend just $1,000 a year."

The tail of the comet, through which the earth probably will pass, will be noticeable only as an absolutely harmless illuminous gas or dust. It may produce electrical or magnetic effects that can be detected only by self-recording instruments.

EIGLE WISEMAN NUPTIALS

Quiet But Pretty Wedding at a West Nissouri Home.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, April 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wiseman, of the fourth concession of West Nissouri, when their youngest daughter, Maggie M., was united in marriage to Mr. John A. Elgie, a prosperous young farmer of West Nissouri. Promptly at the hour of 6 o'clock the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the parlor to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Maude Elgie, sister of the groom. The parlor was beautifully decorated for the occasion, there being an arch made of evergreens, bunting and flags, under which the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Hannahson, of the South Nissouri Presbyterian Church. After congratulations had been received all adjourned to the dining-room, which was prettily decorated with bunting, where all did justice to the dainties prepared for the occasion.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk; she wore the usual bridal veil and carried white roses. Little Mary Wiseman, niece of the bride, made a very pretty flower girl, being daintily gowned in pink silk, and carried a basket of pink carnations, in which was concealed the wedding ring.

The presents were both numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl crescent brooch, and to the flower girl also a pearl brooch.

AYLMER LADIES' INSTITUTE

Discuss Question of Erecting a Hospital—Death of Alvin Cronk.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Aylmer, April 11.—By the death of Alvin Cronk, which occurred about 3 o'clock on Saturday morning at his residence, John street north, after an illness of three years, Aylmer loses one of its oldest and most respected citizens. He was 77 years of age. Born in Malahide, he spent his earlier days in the furniture business here, later selling out and moving to Dakota, where he engaged in farming, and afterwards returned to Aylmer, where he had ever since resided. On his return here from Dakota, about 16 years ago, Mr. Cronk again started in the furniture business, later taking in John Palmer as a partner, the firm being known as Cronk & Palmer. On account of Mr. Cronk's failing health, The partnership was dissolved, and for the past three years he had lived a retired life. Deceased is survived by a widow and one brother, John Henry, of Toronto. Mrs. Charles Bingham, of Toronto, who made her home for some years here with Mr. Cronk, is a niece. The funeral takes place from his late residence, John street north, today (Monday), at 2 o'clock, to the Aylmer Cemetery, and will be in charge of Malahide Lodge, No. 140, A., F. and A. M.

Mrs. A. T. Sherk has returned to Hamilton, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Charles E. Clark, who will pay her a short visit.

Mrs. William Brown is recovering from a severe illness.

Clark Marlatt and Archie Reevie leave today for Weyburn, Sask.

Jack Mitchell has decided to locate in Detroit and has left for that city.

Messrs. Chapman & Thorne, of Toronto, lately paid an official visit to the Aylmer Pump and Scale Works.

A meeting of the Ladies' Institute, held in the town hall recently, was largely attended, members from Mapleton and Lyons being present. Much regret was expressed that the district president, Mrs. D. Finch, was unable to attend on account of illness. A hospital for Aylmer was again discussed at some length. It was learned that a local physician had given the matter some thought, and a committee consisting of Mrs. D. Finch, D. P., Mrs. M. Turrill, D. S., Mrs. McLennan and Mrs. Susie Marlatt were appointed to investigate his plans, and if they met with the approval of the committee, the institute would fall in line, and offer their assistance if desired. Dr. Backus, while in the midst of an address to the members, was hurriedly called to Springfield, and as a result was unable to finish her talk. It was decided that June 9 should be the date fixed for the annual meeting, when an effort will be made to have delegates from Guelph and Toronto attend. The secretary was also requested to write letters of condolence to Mrs. D. McLennan and Mrs. E. Copeland. After a communication from the circulation manager of the institute paper, "The Home Journal," was read, fourteen of the members subscribed for the paper. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Mrs. A. E. Haines left on Saturday to visit her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Willis Lemon, of Chicago.

TWO SMALL FIRES

Two small fires gave the fire brigade a busy time for an hour on Saturday afternoon. At 5:50 o'clock an outhouse caught fire on Elizabeth street, and set fire to the fence. The loss was small.

A grass fire on the Wortley road near the Grand Trunk tracks caused a run half an hour later. There was no damage.

BRAND-NEW BOAT.

Collingwood, April 9.—After being being thoroughly overhauled, all traces of the accident at Flower Pot Island last October removed, and lengthened 36 feet, the C. P. R. steamer Athabasca cleared today from the new yard of the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company for Owen Sound. The steamer is now 293 feet over all, and the additional length gives a fine appearance.

Captain James McCannel is in charge with William Lockerable as chief engineer.

EXPORTING CREAM MAKES BUTTER SCARCE

Very Little on the Market and Price Keeps High—Hay Was Much Lower.

Things were quiet around the market this morning. Only 20 loads of hay were offered, and they sold at considerably lower prices. The majority sold in the neighborhood of $10, but good hay sold as high as $12.

A carload of hogs was shipped to Toronto, the price being from $9 to $9 15 per cwt.

A load of eight calves was offered for sale and sold, live weight, at 5c per lb.

Butter is reported very scarce and the price is still high. The ruling price for creamery is 28c to 30c per lb. Farmers are shipping their cream in large quantities to the other side and also to the factories, which accounts for the scarcity.

There appears to be an abundance of eggs, the prices remaining unchanged, at 19c to 20c for fresh-laid and 18c to 19c by the crate.

The predicted slump in pork has not yet arrived, but the butchers still maintain that it is coming. Last week's figures still prevail, at $12 25 for dressed hogs and $9 to $9 15 live weight.

A RUNAWAY TEAM STRUCK BY EXPRESS

Farmer Instantly Killed by a C. P. R. Flyer Near Guelph Junction.

C. P. R. express, No. 12, which leaves here at 12:45, struck and instantly killed F. Watson, a farmer, residing in Nassagwega Township, near Guelph Junction, on Saturday afternoon. It is believed that Watson's horse was running away at the time of the accident, and carried him straight in front of the train. The express engine struck him a terrific blow, which hurled him many yards, and killed him instantly. The train was in charge of Conductor Glendenning, with Engineer Austin in the cab.

NO WORD AS YET FROM LONDON ELECTRIC

But It Is Said the Lighting Company's Poles Will Have to Come Down Shortly.

No word has been received at the city hall regarding the London Electric Company's intentions with respect to its poles.

It will be remembered that City Engineer Graydon was notified some time ago to compel the company to erect their poles in conformity with the bylaw governing the franchise.

He prepared the notification and it was sent, but was called back later, and the document sent to City Solicitor Meredith for his advice.

Since that time nothing has been done, and both sides are apparently waiting for something to transpire before showing their hands.

There will be only the power poles of the London Electric in dispute.

May Come Down.

Some time ago Mr. Meredith gave it as his opinion that the poles used for street lighting purposes would have to come down, and that would remove a large number from the field of litigation. Until this is done, there will be probably little doing on either side.

The city electrical department are going ahead stringing wires, and it will not be very long until the whole city is covered with wires.

Work Is Proceeding.

The construction work is also proceeding rapidly on the station, and it is expected that the building itself will be erected, and completed in May, or June at the latest.

The new form contract from the hydro-electric commission has not arrived in the city as yet, but will be along shortly.

Practically all the steel for the towers between Ingersoll and London is on the ground, and it will be assembled within a couple of weeks.

Gangs are working on the line between London and St. Thomas.

MILLER BILL DEFEAT CAUSED SOME SORENESS

Promoter of the Anti-Gambling Measure Thinks Justice Minister Treated Him Unfairly.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 11.—As a unsuccessful litigant has 24 hours in which to curse the court, so a disappointed public legislator is by custom conceded the right to a certain amount of temporary soreness.

So with Mr. H. H. Miller, who lost in a piece of morality legislation last week. One of the men who voted against that bill was Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, who thought it was not so much an improver of public morals as a restriction on personal liberty.

Mr. Miller and some other people think Mr. Aylesworth had a good deal to do with killing the bill. During the debate Mr. Miller read an opinion by Hon. Mr. Aylesworth, who wrote that he did not see how the Miller bill could be made stronger to prevent betting.

Mr. H. H. Miller said he was not actuated by any feeling of resentment in making his explanations, but at the same time he would not be restricted from making his position clear by any party feeling. The Minister of Justice had complained that he (Mr. Miller) had done a dishonorable thing in making public a letter that was not intended to be public.

The facts were that as chairman of the committee to which the bill had been referred, he wrote to the Minister of Justice to obtain his leal opinion, and thought the letter he received in reply, not being marked confidential or private, was one which he was at liberty to use. He thought he had reason to complain of the references of the Minister of Justice to himself, and of his treatment in connection with the whole matter. It was striking below the belt.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth, in reply, said he regretted that Mr. Miller should feel any grievance against him. He had no idea of imputing to Mr. Miller any dishonorable conduct in connection with the reading of the letter referred to. He repeated that he had no objection to the letter being put on Hansard, but that he had not expected to see it there.

Mr. Miller, being a personal friend, had repeatedly had friendly conversation with him with reference to the measure, and he (the minister) had spoken to him freely in regard to objections to it, but he certainly never expected that anything which passed between them in conversation would be a matter of discussion afterwards in any public form.

GETS $800 FOR EYE

Court Makes Company Who Gave Boy Rifle Pay for Accident.

Toronto, April 11.—Judge Britton this morning awarded Mrs. Sarah Fowel, of Hamilton, $800 damages Grafton & Co., of the same city, for the loss of an eye. The woman's eye was destroyed by a pellet fired from an airgun in the hands of John O'Connor, a boy, who got the gun from Graftons in return for coupons for goods bought there. The judge held that the company was to blame for not making sure that the lad was over 16 years of age before letting him have the gun.

GODERICH PASTOR BURIED.

Goderich, April 10. — The funeral of the late pastor of Knox Church, the J. A. Anderson, B. A., took place on Friday, and the church held a larger congregation. Nearly all the ministerial members of the presbytery were in attendance. Services were in charge of the moderator of the presbytery, Rev. F. H. Larkin, of Seaforth, and he was assisted by Rev. Messrs. Fletcher, of Thames Road; Small, of Blyth; Sawers, of Brucefield; Mann, of Auburn; Shaw, of Egmondville; and Dr. McLean, of Goderich. The address was given by Mr. Small, of Blyth. Rev. J. Hamilton, of Goderich, is acting as moderator to supply the pulpit in the meantime, and a meeting of the presbytery will be held shortly to deal with the vacancy.

COMET PREVENTS SLEEP.

Evansville, Ind., April 11.—Scores of people in this community complain that they are unable to get enough sleep; in fact, in several instances people have slept for 15 or 24 hours, and still were sleepy. They attribute this inclination to sleep to Halley's comet.

A Financial Problem.

A London merchant asked a friend the other day to change a dollar bill. The friend had $1 15 in Canadian silver, but could not make change for a dollar, for 50 cents, or for a quarter. What coins did the friends have?

A Runaway.

Excellent Concert Tonight.

An excellent concert is to be given this evening in New St. James' Presbyterian Church, by the church choir, who will render the cantata, "Ruth." They will be assisted by the best local talent, also Mr. Lawrence, of Toronto. Mrs. Wyatt will take part, and altogether it promises to be a first-class concert.

Can Hen-ery Beat This?

A correspondent writes: "I see by your paper of April 9 that a record for eggs was made by a South Londoner's chickens. His Brown Leghorns will have to take a back seat to my Barred Plymouth Rocks, for I received during March the grand total of 994 eggs from 32 pullets and 8 hens. This is the record for 31 days. How is that for Komoka?"

A Big Sale.

The seat sale for the Liberal Club Minstrels on Thursday and Friday nights of this week opened this morning at the Grand Opera House, and there was a great demand for seats. The crowd promises to be very large for both performances. The minstrels are practicing faithfully, and they will present an excellent show. There are some seats left, and they may be had from the committee or at nearly all downtown stores.

Examinations Commence.

The next few weeks are busy ones for the college boys and girls of the city, and in that time there will be much burning of midnight oil and perusing of text books. The oral examinations at the Medical School commenced this morning, and the written examinations commence next Monday. The arts examinations at the Western University commence on April 27, and the annual examinations at Huron College begin next Friday.

Thanks!

They also wish to show their appreciation of the kindness of Mrs. Ave Galbraith in training those taking part in "The String of Pearls."

Appeal Dismissed.

At Osgoode Hall, before Chief Justice Osler, and Justices Garrow, Maclaren and Meredith, decision was given in the case of Crouch vs. Pere Marquette Railway. This was an appeal from a divisional court, dismissing appeal from the judgment of Teetzel, J., of May 7, 1909, in favor of plaintiff, against the Pere Marquette Railway Company for $1,200, on an action brought under provision of Lord Campbell's act, for damages for death of her husband and daughter, caused by being struck by an engine of defendants. Judgment: Appeal dismissed with costs. Meredith, J. A., dissenting.

Lady Minstrels Again.

The lady friends of St. John's Athletic Club are again showing their interest in the club by putting on another ladies' minstrel show. Those who were privileged to see the show last year declared it to be the best amateur performance ever given in the city. On Wednesday and Thursday, April 27th and 28th, the ladies' minstrels hope to repeat the great success of last year. The chorus has been trained by Miss Minnie Raymond, and the following ladies are patronesses: Mrs. Adam Beck, Mrs. W. T. Cox, Mrs. H. S. Blackburn, Mrs. Francis B. Ware, Mrs. John Nicholson, Mrs. H. D. Somerville, Mrs. T. H. Baker, Mrs. James McKenzie and Mrs. J. W. Scandrett.

EAST LONDON

EAST END HOME WAS ENTERED AND RANSACKED

Things Turned Upside Down in the Home of Mr. Robert McDonald.

Sometime during Saturday morning unknown persons entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McDonald, 110 Inkermann street, and after thoroughly ransacking the place, departed without taking anything of value, notwithstanding that some jewelry was lying on a dresser.

Entrance was gained through a window in the cellar and nothing was known of the affair until Mrs. McDonald returned from shopping and discovered that things in a number of the rooms had been turned upside down.

Jewelry Overlooked.

Two diamond rings and a gold watch and chain were not taken, and as far as can be learned all that is missing is a lunch, to which the intruder helped himself very coolly, eating it in the kitchen and leaving the dishes about.

The police have not been notified as yet.

Death of Adam Ballantyne.

The death occurred at Victoria Hospital on Saturday of Mr. Adam Ballyntne. Mr. Ballyntyne was 59 years old, and had been ill for several weeks with appendicitis. He is survived by one son, Elliott Ballantyne, of Huron College. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon to the C. P. R. station, and interment will be made at Smith's Falls.

BUSINESS MEN WILL WAIT ON COUNCIL

East Enders Will Again Ask for a Fire Engine for That District.

Despite the fact that the $10,000 placed in the estimates for a steam fire engine for East London was thrown out at the first session of the finance committee, held to fix the tax rate for the coming year, Mr. Thomas Shaw and the east end businessmen who are agitating for increased protection, will wait on No. 3 committee of the city council again Wednesday.

"I do not think we have much chance to get the engine," said Mr. Shaw, "but we will not quit yet. We have secured information showing that London is far behind in the matter of fire protection. Portland, Me., a city of upward of fifty thousand people, and having a fire area of about 18 square miles, has eight steam fire engines, besides three or four chemical engines and the same number of combination chemical and hose and chemical and ladder trucks. The water supply there is provided by a gravity system.

"There are forty-five horses in the department, and seventy-one permanent and 145 call men. Last year the department in Portland responded to 450 calls and laid about $2,750 feet of hose. The value of the property involved was $1,180,816 and the loss $104,816."

Mr. Shaw stated that, while he believes this information sould interest Londoners, as the city of Portland is about the same size and population, eight engines are not needed here.

Should the matter go over this year, the east Londoners will take it up with next year's council.

YOUNG PEOPLE THOUGHT MR. SHIELDS HOSTILE

Jarvis Street Church Issues a Statement in Regard to Recent Call.

Toronto, April 11—The following official statement was handed out this morning by Mr. D. E. Thomson, chairman pulpit committee, Jarvis Baptist Church, regarding the call recently extended by the congregation to Mr. T. T. Shields, pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church, London:

"Some of the published reports of the recent meeting of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church held to consider the extending of a call to the pastorate are calculated to convey an impression of want of unanimity quite at variance with the facts. Few congregations set less store by formal unanimity, but fewer still are so free fro mreal divisions.

"The committee which recommended the name of Mr. Shields was thoroughly representative, embracing all the officials of the church. The adverse vote was chiefly composed of some of the younger members, and was based on an impression of Mr. Shields' attitude towards young people's organizations, which turned out to have been ill-founded.

"Should the call be accepted, it is safe to predict that the incoming pastor will be as cordially received, and as loyally supported by those who opposed as by those who supported the committee's recommendation."

DECISION IN BURNS-LANG GO DIDN'T SATISFY FANS

Witnesses of Fight at Sydney Australia, Did Not Share McIntosh's Opinion.

Sydney, April 11.—The decision given to Burns over Lang today was not satisfactory to the crowd, though Burns got the better of the fight in ten rounds.

The weather was fine, and the fight was witnessed by 1,700 persons. The betting was 3 to 1 on Burns when the men entered the ring. Burns tipped the scales at 181½, and Lang at 188 pounds.

The referee was Hugh McIntosh.

Both men wore bandages. The first ten rounds were fast, Burns having the advantage. Thereafter Lang evened up matters, Burns, though more clever, tiring, and ducking repeatedly. In the sixth round Burns roughed Lang through the ropes, and was hooted by the crowd. Lang, however, rose and shook hands with the Canadian as the bell rang.

In the ninth round Burns punished the Australian champion severely, but the latter fought back gamely. Lang made a splendid rally in the twelfth, and landed his left on the ear and nose. Burns responded twice with a hard right to the other's jaw. During the last eight rounds Lang fought cautiously, while Burns plainly weakened, and forced repeated clinches. McIntosh gave the fight to the Canadian on points.

A Comparison.

Chief interest in the Burns-Lang bout was derived from the fact that Burns is the man whose defeat by Jack Johnson earned for the American colored pugilist, the title of heavyweight champion of the world, and afforded him an opportunity to meet James J. Jeffries.

Johnson met Lang at Melbourne on March 4, 1907, and easily whipped the Victorian pugilist in nine rounds. At Sydney, on Dec. 26, 1908, Johnson defeated Burns, who had claimed the heavyweight title since it was relinquished by Jeffries. This fight was stopped in the fourteenth round, when Burns was practically helpless. Lang had won the Australian title by knocking out Bill Squires, his fellow countryman, on Oct. 25 last.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Marshall, of Syracuse, are visiting in the city. Mr. Marshall, who was a well-known newspaper man, is doing well in Syracuse, and was given a hearty reception by his many friends in the city.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

GRASS WIDOW.—Husband and wife parted eight years ago and wife has not heard from or seen him since. She resides on her own property in an incorporated town, assessed at $600. Can she get her name on the voters' list and cast her vote? Ans.—If she cannot be proved to have known her husband was alive during the last seven years, she can be assessed as a widow, which will entitle her name to be placed on the voters' list, and give her the right to vote at municipal elections. If property is in her name without designating her as a married woman, she is prima facie entitled to have her name on the voters' list.

TEA UP IN SMOK

Toronto, Ont., April 11. — Fifty thousand dollars is the estimated loss done by the fire which broke out in the Salada Tea Company's premises at 32 Yonge street, at 2 o'clock this morning, the damage being chiefly to tea, as $2,500 will cover the damage to the building, the result of smoke. The loss is fully covered by insurance. The exact cause of the fire, which broke out in the cellar near the motor which operated the fan used in preparing and packing tea, has not been decided as yet. The flames were confined to the cellar and ground floor. The firm's business will not be affected by the fire.

BUSY FIRE BUGS.

Kingston, April 11—The stone stables of E. J. B. Pense were gutted by fire of incendiary origin. The loss is $1,400 with small insurance. Half-a-dozen blazes have occurred during the past two days, and several of these are thought to have been the work of a fire bug.

REV. MR. DUXBURY ATTRACTS CROWDS

Large Audiences Heard Him in First Methodist Church and the Auditorium.

SOME SERMONS SUNDAY

Condensations of Addresses Delivered by Pastors in Many Local Pulpits.

Rev. John Duxbury, of Manchester, England, conducted the services in the First Methodist Church yesterday, and in the morning enacted scenes from the life of Job. In the evening he recited in a dramatic manner the story of Joseph.

At both the morning and evening services the church would not hold the crowd that gathered, and many were turned away. There was a big audience at the Auditorium in the afternoon yesterday, when Professor Duxbury recited "A Waterloo Veteran," the story being that of Gregory Brewster, taken from Conan Doyle's "Around the Red Lamp." As a special encore, Professor Duxbury recited Edgar Allan Poe's poem, "The Bells."

Some Sermons.

Rev. J. G. Inkster, at the First Presbyterian Church, "There are ever so many decent people in our churches today, who have received every grace but one. They have received the grace of faith, of prayer, and of eloquence, but have not yet received the grace of generosity. It seems the last thing many Christians learn is to give. We praise the widow who gave her mite, but blame the rich man for not giving more. Let us praise the widow, but not blame the rich man. It is extremely hard to learn to give liberally."

First Congregational Church.

At the First Congregational Church on Sunday night the Rev. Ernest Peatfield continued his series of sermons on "The Mysteries of the Book of Revelations." The topic was "The Seventh Trumpet Angel, or the Angel of Judgment." "The greatest sin a man can be capable of is the utter rejection of God's love," said the Rev. Mr. Peatfield. "Every man will be judged according to his chances, and the heathen will be judged according to their slender opportunities. The purpose of the final judgment is that all shall be gathered together and God's justice and government through the centuries shall be vindicated. The good shall live with God, while the evil shall be banished to a second death. As we live so shall we die, and as we die so shall judgment be passed."

Memorial Church.

The Rev. Dyson Hague, of the Memorial Church, preached on Sunday morning on "Peter as a Rock." The central theme was that Peter was the primate apostle, and the first who had the honor of confessing Christ as the Son of God, thereby laying the foundation of the Church of Christ. The evening topic was "The Twelve Apostles."

Colborne Street Church.

Rev. F E. Malott, at the Colborne Street Methodist Church: "We are too often inclined to put our faith in temporal things, and human strength as long as everything is going all right. But times will come in our lives as they have in the lives of other men, when we lose our health, our friends, misplace our confidence, or find that our hope which sustained us when we were strong is gone. That is the time when God alone saves and satisfies us and strengthens us in every way."

Chalmers Church.

"Christ at Bethany," was the subject of Rev. Walter Moffat's sermon at Chalmers Church on Sunday evening. He sketched the characters of Mary, Martha and Lazarus; Mary, sitting at the feet of Christ; Martha, careful and troubled about many things; and Lazarus, the friend of Jesus. Although Jesus loved them sincerely, sickness and death came. This seems mysterious, and they send for the Master, but He comes not. His delay, however, was wisely timed in order that he might teach higher and grander truths concerning himself, in that He is the resurrection and the life.

Empress Avenue Church.

Rev. George Dewey, at Empress Avenue Church: "Do not feel hardly toward the poor fellow you see staggering from the saloon. He does not drink because he likes liquor, but to drown the memories that he has of his better self, and what he might have been."

Church Notes.

Rev. A. J. Vining, of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, and Rev. Mr. Bingham, of the Baptist Church at Paris, exchanged pulpits Sunday.

A number of business meetings of the various societies of the Colborne Street Methodist Church will be held this week to finish up the year's work prior to the departure of Rev. F. E. Malott for Germany next week.

A number of the adjourned vestry meetings of the Anglican Churches will be held this evening.

On Thursday afternoon the various mission societies of the First Presbyterian Church will hold their annual meetings in the church.

Rev. W. H. A. Claris, of the Southern Congregational Church, and Rev. Mr. Simmons, of Forest, exchanged pulpits Sunday.

A reception will be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Friday evening for the young people of the church.

On Thursday evening next the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Southern Congregational Church will hold a social at the home of Mr. Walton, 225 Maitland street.

The Wellington Street Methodist Church was occupied at both services on Sunday by Rev. D. N. McCamus, of the Methodist Church, St. Marys.

In connection with the anniversary services at Knox Church a concert will be given tonight when the choir will be assisted by Miss Jessie Alexander.

Canon Dann, of St. Paul's Cathedral, and Rev. Dr. Sage, of St. George's Church, West London, leave tomorrow for Toronto, where they will represent the Diocese of Huron at the Sunday school commission to meet there.

An exchange of pulpits took place at Askin Street Methodist Church on Sunday. The Rev. A. K. Birks preached in Wardsville, while Rev. T. T. George, of Wardsville, occupied the Askin Street pulpit at both services.

The quarterly board of the Askin Street Methodist Church will entertain the choir to a banquet on Tuesday evening.

Pastor Booth.

Pastor George G. Booth, in the Tabernacle, Ottaway avenue: "I would rather make my home in a cave on the river bank, and have some charitable organization bury me, and in the end go to heaven, than be a millionaire and be all right in this life financially and all wrong spiritually." Mr. Booth preached on the subject of the rich fool, as found in Luke xii., 20.

ALL PORKERS LOOK ALIKE TO FARMERS

Funny Mix-Up at Weigh Scales That Looked Bad for a Time.

The disappearance of a hog from the weigh scales on Saturday has been satisfactorily explained. It was merely a mistake and not a theft, as at first reported.

It was a most curious mixup. A farmer came along and desired to leave a hog at the weigh scales while he delivered another. A second farmer came along shortly, and having to take a trip near where the hog was consigned undertook to deliver the hog for his brother farmer. In a short time a third farmer came along and also desired to leave a hog at the scales.

The first farmer came back and took what he thought to be his hog and left with the intention of delivering it.

In the course of time the third farmer returned and found his hog missing. With hogs selling at $9 a hundred weight this was a serious loss, and the farmer had no other conclusion to arrive at but that it had been stolen.

However, the first farmer discovered that his hog had already been delivered, much to his mystification, and after some delay returned to the weigh scales, when matters were straightened out to the entire satisfaction of all parties concerned.

SWALLOWED TABLE KNIFE

One Nine Inches Long Taken From Stomach of Insane Woman.

Los Angeles, April 11.—Seventeen physicians assisted at an operation for the removal of a table knife nine inches long from the stomach of Mrs. Sarah Carlson, an insane woman. The operation was successful, and Mrs. Cawlson is recovering. The knife had been in the stomach of the woman for several hours before the physicians could be induced to believe that the woman who told of having swallowed it was not joking about the matter.

RATIFIED BY POPE.

Rome, April 11.—The Pope today ratified the nominations of the consistory as presented to him by Cardinal del Val, appointing Abbott Vincent Wehrle, of the monastery of St. Mary, as bishop of the new diocese of Bismarck, North Dakota; Rev.
