AUSTRIA MUST DELIVER ARCHDUKE JOSEPH FOR

Leading German Officials Demanded Will Hide Behind the Ex-Kaiser's Responsibility and Will Refuse To Submit To Arrest For Trial Until Holland Hands Over Former German Emperor.

Basic, Feb. 9.—The list of persons charged with war crimes whom Austria must deliver over to the Allies will be handed to the Austrian Government at an early date, according to a Vienna dispatch. The list includes Archduke Joseph, Field Marshal von Straussenburg, Field Marshal von Koevess, Gen. Poticerek, governor of Bosnia; Field Marshal von Broevic and Count von Berchtold, former Austrian foreign minister

EX-KAISER MUST BE SECURED BEFORE OTHERS CAN BE DELIVERED

Paris, Feb. 9.-The more prominent ames on the extradition list were pubished by the newspapers yesterday. Most of them adopt a pessimistic attitude regarding the probability of Gertude regarding the probability of Germany giving up the accused persons, and virtually all the papers dwell upon what one of them terms "the change in policy of Lloyd George."

The Matin says: "Asking for the extradition of the generalissimo, the former chancellor and the admiral is an act to which the allied high command probably would not have subscribed. Unless the delivery of the former kaiser is exacted from Holland, Von Hindenburg, Bethmann-Hollweg and Von Tirpitz can hide behind his responsibility. Germany can plead inability to arrest the culprits."

The Oeuvre comments tersely: "The allied governments hesitatingly are requesting the extradition, and Germany is unhesitatingly refusing."

GERMANY'S GENERALS REFUSE TO RECOGNIZE

ANY FOREIGN COURT Berlin, Feb. 9.- A secret meeting of army and navy leaders a month ago in anticipation of a demand for extradition, compiled a set of regulations for common action. These instructions, which are signed by Gens. Von Heeringen, Von Kluck and Falkenhayn, as well as others, declare that it is no violation of honor for one to place himself outside the pale of seizure by his own government. Therefore they must refuse to surrender, refuse to recognize the legality of a foreign court, and do nothing in the shape of personal diffence, or otherwise acknowledge such court, but make the following declaration in the German language

"I have merely done by duty as a German soldier. As such I refuse to recognize a foreign court, and also decline to make any further statement."

EUROPEAN POWERS TO

French Financial Writers Advocate Economy and Higher Taxation.

U. S. SUGGESTION OPPOSED

Method Advocated by Secretary Glass Fails To Find Favor.

Paris, Feb. 9.—Consideration of the general European financial situation, as reflected in the exchange, resulted in the adoption Saturday by the supreme economic council of a resolution advocating a conference of competent ministers of France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium to consider possible measures for relief.

Financial writers devote little space to the sentimental aspects of the situation that figured largely in earlier discussions, but recognize that adoption of heavy taxation, stringent economy and reduction of imports by France must be awaited before these several conventional methods of bettering the exchange situation can be applied. It is pointed out that the total debt of France at the end of 1919 aggregated 238,474,133,950 francs.

Lack of Solidarity.

Le Journal, commenting on M. Pallain's declaration, says the difficult situation is due to the lack of financial solidarity on the part of the Allies.

In an editorial dealing with the exchange situation, Andre Liesse, member of the institute, and editor of the weekly financial journal. At the time the schools were built the insurance placed on them was quite insurance placed on them was quite adequate. Since then, however, building cost has steadily advanced. If one of the schools were burned today the insurance on it would be far below the amount required to begin reconstruction. Attention to this situation was attracted by the fire which threatened the Broughdale school. This was checked before any appreciable damage was done, but resulted in a searching of the fire insurance records of the board.

Applies To Churches.

That' this situation applies to other buildings than schools was demonstrated in the case of the Egerton street church, destroyed Saturday. The insurance on that building, while representing a fair percentage of the original cost of the building, is now only about one-third of the amount required to rebuild the structure.

A local architect expresses the opinion that this condition is general. He thinks that many businessmen have overlooked the fact that their buildings have increased enormously in ings have increased enormously in value and have failed to increase their fire insurance accordingly.

Schools Fairly Safe.

On the other hand this architect points out that the percentage of fires in schools is surprisingly low and there is perhaps less need for alarm here than in any other section of the community. On the other hand he are community. On the other hand he asserts that the percentage of church fires is very high. He attributes this condition to the fact that a janitor while at most churches the janitor is constantly on duty at the schools, is only on the premises a few hours a week.

Thousands of these people in Poland, Lithuania, and nearby countries have been kept alive for many months by refief committee's funds and supplies. The present effort on a large scale to reunite these broken family ties is designed to lessen the drain upon these relief funds and place the financial burden of supporting these people upon their long lost, but willing enough breadwinners in Canada.

If an exhibitor takes exhibits to a fair that is a small fair where they have no glass enclosures, but just laid on tables for the purpose, and some of the exhibits are stolen, can the exhibitor claim value of articles stolen from the society? Would the president be the person to take action against, or the managing board, and how long after could I take action, or is there a time limit, and what is the limit? I am inclosing the rules re such societies, and you will notice they have to take reasonable precaution to insure the safety of exhibits, and if that is done I take my own risk, but I can prove that they had no one guarding the exhibits in the upstairs department for a certain period of time, but let the public go back and forth examining the work.

M. P. P. AS ECONOMY

Loans to the city from private individuals instead of from banks is a suggestion of Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. P. P., for reducing the tax rate. He suggests that taxes, water rates, electric rates and other payments due the city could be made six months in advance. Interest would be paid on this money and both the city and the citizen would benefit by the plan. The car slowed up, and just when it was opposite to the tall, pale-faced individual, Motorman Rockett put on the brakes and brought old 27 to a stop. Conductor John Ashton swung to the step and addressed the man.

"What are you doing here?" said Conductor Ashton. The man never answered, nor did he make a move.

"I said, what are you doing here?" said what are you doing here?" said this money and both the city and the citizen would benefit by the plan.

Dr. Stevenson explains it this way. At present the citizen pays his water stallments. This necssitates twelve trips to the city offices during the year with the possibilities of the payment being neglected until the discount day has passed. He points out that most citizens can judge within a few cents what their water and electric light bills will be each month. Knowing Start in Canada.

The question of war memorials was considered. In this connection the action of the Government in instituting the coming competitions for the Canadian national memorials on the battlefields of Europe was heartily approved. Seven of these memorials are to be erected in the following battlefields: Passchendaele, Observatory Ridge, St. Julien, Dury Crossroads, Courcelette, Bourlon Wood and Hospital Wood.

The estimated cost of these is $100,000 each. A special monument will be erected at Vimy Ridge. The cost of this is to be $500,000. Appeal is to be made before the board of customs in Ottawa early in March for the revision of the basis of appraisal in building plans by non-Canadian architects and engineers.

Confidence is felt that this will result in largely increasing duties on imported architectural services.

LLOYD GEORGE MA GO TO DEFEAT DUE TO LABOR'S POWER

Tremendous Problems Are Facing British Parliament.

LONDON, Feb. 7.-The British Parliament will reassemble on Tuesday with several of the weightiest problems of reconstruction still hanging over its head. The financial situation, the question of nationalization of mines and railroads, and the Irish problem are three of the most important subjects with which the session is expected to grapple without delay. Mr. Lloyd George is expected to begin the session with a review of the general state of Europe and of the British policy toward various developments, such as relations with Russia and the Polish and Italian situations.

The Laborites promise to move an amendment to the motion providing for nationalization of mines, while the small delegation of the Irish Nationalist party still left in the House of Commons is expected to attack the Government's policy of repression, which they blame for Irish disorders.

proposed international conference for discussing the world's financial ailments.

The home rule bill probably will be brought forward at an early day, the cabinet having overhauled it during the last week at conferences with Viscount French, lord-lieutenant and governor-general of Ireland, and James Ian MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland. The bill may prove considerably different from that which had been expected. One proposal which is finding support in England is that it should be made an enabling bill rather than one which would impose a new system on Ireland, leaving it to the Irish people to decide by some form of referendum whether they will accept it and try to put it into effect.

Heavy Clouds Appear.

Heavy clouds appear to be gathering behind the coalition government, owing to the steadily increasing power of the Labor party. Some of the best-informed politicians profess to see the "handwriting on the wall" that the formation of a new ministry by the Laborites is only a question of time, and that the hour may strike within the next few months.

Meanwhile, men of widely different types, such as Viscount Haldane and Admiral Sir John Arbuthnot Fisher, have come out for labor.

Viscount Haldane, who was one of the most conservative members of the old Liberal Government, which brought Great Britain into the war, and a close political friend of Herbert H. Asquith and Viscount Grey, threw a bomb into that group when he gave an interview, declaring that "the Labor party alone has a vision which will enable it to possess and serve the future."

Advance Arthur Henderson.

Speculation as to the personnel of the pext cabinet advances Arthur Henderson, the Laborite leader, as a possible premier; Viscount Haldane as lord chancellor, and Professor John Maynard Keynes, British delegate on the reparation sub-commission of the peace conference as chancellor of the

The Paisley by-election, where former Premier Asquith is making a strong bid for re-election to the House on a Liberal platform, is the focus of political interest. LONDON, Feb. 7.—(By the Canadian Press).—Discussing a book just issued by Sir John Monash, commander of the Australian corps on the Flanders font, the Manchester Guardian editorially refers to the most delicate points which the book had either to touch or evade—namely, the Australian rejection of the original plan for their co-operation with the 31st French Corps on their right in the great battle of August 8, 1918, and their almost equally delicate relations with the British 3rd Corps, which fought on their left that day.

OTTAWA, Feb. 7.—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada now has the judgment of Justice Metcalfe in the trial of H. B. Russell, Winnipeg strike leader, under legal advisement. If, as it is claimed, it assails the right of organized labor to strike and to peacefully picket, approaches will be made to the Canadiah Parliament to have the law changed.

But if the judgment deals with seditious conspiracy and revolution the congress will not interest itself particularly in the matter. This was the interesting information given to the Ottawa Trades and Labor Council at its regular meeting last night by P. M. Draper, secretary of the congress, when the Winnipeg strike judgment was brought up, and Delegate Peter Leckie vehemently appealed to the labor men "to get their backs up" and challege the issue in Judge Metcalfe's findings.

TENDER AND BLEEDING

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pycrrhea away by using Forhan's For

For han's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea-or check its progress-if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U.S. If your druggist cannot supply

A WRONG VIEW.

A noted American jurist says there will be no trial of William Hohenzollern because "the men at the bottom of the insidious propaganda which precipitated the war and has upset the world, do not seriously contemplate a trial of the ex-Kaiser. They would be reluctant to have the world read the evidence he might present. The war followed forty-five years of general preparation for it."

If we believe this we believe past governments of Great Britain and France along with the great capitalists and financiers of the Entente nationa conspired more or less directly to bring on the world war. Of course munitions makers and manufacturers of the instruments of war have been busy off and on for forty-five years preparing for war, but the most super ficial observer of events knows that the arming of the nations was for purposes of defence against the day when the German hordes were to be let loose a second time. To intimate that the financial captains of the Allied peoples deliberately planned to bring on a struggle is nonsense. Had that been the case they would have postponed the clash until the Entente alliance was prepared to the point were victory was certain. As it was, France was far from ready and Great Britain absolutely unready as far as a great campaign was concerned when the German emperor gave the signal for war. There is nothing to indicate that the ex-kaiser, shoul i he be placed on trial, can produce evidence of a world-wide criminal conspiracy of capitalists to precipitate the struggle. German arrogance and ambition growing and expanding for two score years was the cause.

CUT OUT EXTRAVAGANCE.

According to Sir George Paish, the distiftguished English financier who is visiting Canada, a general world catastrophe is certain if international exchange breaks down. How are we individually facing this dreadful menace? One thing that we should do at once is to cut out extravagance. This is the advice that leading Canadian bankers and financiers are giving us daily, and there is no class so well able to speak on the matter. Economy and thrift should be the motto to guide. At any time they adoption of them will help tremendously to head off any industrial chaos and financial collapse that may threaten. And to save is good business, too, as the man who has saved will, of course, benefit by any great fall in values, as he will be in a position to make excellent investments. Produce, keep on producing, cut out extravagance, economize and save. That is manifestly our duty to ourselves and the coun-

We believe that Canadian common sense and conservatism will weather any storm that may come. In fact, there are excellent indications that Canada is today in good shape to meet a financial crisis. A report of the Canadian Bank of Commerce on the business situation bears out this view. It says:

Reviews of business conditions by recognized authorities indicate unanimity of opinion as to the necessity of a greater volume of production from our own raw material in order that the prosperity which we are enjoying today may continue. It is also evident these reviews that there is abundant work for all available hands and that any aints of lack of work come from those who find difficulty in getting employment of cind that suits them. More men are now available for work in the forests and the mines, but the demand for factory help remains insistent. It would thus appear that the new year opens auspiciously. The people as a whole, despite the extravagant purchasing of luxuries, are increasing their savings. osits in the banks, the number of new insurance policies issued, purchases of securities, payments of taxes and of debts generally, all show a marked increase. Capital is still being expended in adding to the productive machinery which was lifted to a higher standard of efficiency under the inspiration of war effort. Mining prospects are being more intelligently exploited and agriculture and animal husbandry are receiving keener attention than heretoforo. All this indicates that production will be more than maintained unless olitical or social friction intervenes.

That is distinctly encouraging and assuring, at an hour when the world is facing perhaps the most serious industrial and financial crisis of modern times.

"ARTEMUS WARD, HIS BOOK."

Two generations have laughed with Artemus Ward, "the genial showman," before his biography has come alone from the pen of Don C. Seitz, a New York newspaperman. Those who enjoyed Ward's humor long ago will delight to know more of one of the most interesting literary characters of the United States of the sixties, and those who are just being initiated into the fun of his books can make his personal acquaintance at the start. The middle of last century produced what we like to call typical American humor, broad in its lines, often almost horseplay, making use of exaggeration, strange orthography and oddest of metaphors to achieve its ends. And the humor of those ful influence in the formation of public opinion upon the questions of the day. Not Ward alone but Petroleum V. Nasby (David Ross Locke) and others have to be counted in as political influences quite as much as Thomas Nast, the cartoonist. Lincoln's liking for humor of the Ward and Nasby type is well known. When his cabinet was called together to discuss for the first time receives bright smiles, pleasant greetings, while to the emancipation project the president began our own we are often cross, rude, selfish, nagging the emancipation project the president began proceedings by reading one of Ward's humorous sketches. Stanton, secretary of war; was disgusted at what seemed to him levity of the worst kind, but then Stanton was disgusted with lots of things that Lincoln did, though his own chief fame today comes from his connection with the great war president. Lincoln found in the nonsense of Ward a relief for strained nerves and bitter thoughts. What a pity that some of our statesmen of today couldn't take the same pleasant medicine. Ward would also be a splendid soothing syrup for our noisy agitators whose chief lacking is exactly what he so generously supplies.

Nasby's humor was not as frolicsome as that of Ward: he was more of a politician and consequently less of a humorist. But there are delicious touches of fun in his "Swingin' Round the Circle," where he imagines himself chaplain to Andy Johnson's speech-making tour in the summer of 1867. The whole country laughed as Nasby twisted Johnson's one speech into a score of variations, but always centring on the fact that he had risen from aldermen of his village to president of the United States. Nasby's humor and Nast's drawings were a combination that could upset the best regulated political scheming.

The English people enjoyed both Ward and his lectures when he went across the ocean on a lecturing trip. He seems to have liked them equally well, for his writings are always kindly towards England, as is also his little sketch "In Canada." He saw that Canada's "monikal form of govment" was no tyranny, that on the contrary, "Mrs. Victoria, who is Queen of England, don't bother herself much about Canady, but let's her do bout as she's mighter." Moreover, he was able to find a likeness between Canada's politicians and those of his own country, "some of 'em bein' gifted and talented liars, no doubt."

The humor of today is more subtle, does not depend upon bad spelling to raise a laugh, but it is a question if contemporary humor is read anything like as generally as it was in the time when Ward and his fellows were the funmakers. Lowell used much the same means to achieve his ends in the Biglow Papers, though there it is really rather a dialect than mere mis-spelling that is adopted. There was no very great invention in Ward, nothing to compare with Mark Twain, and probably his humor lies chiefly in the wild impossibility of the situations, almost inviting the reader to come along half way and, innate fondness for the-spirit of wine? make his own fun. Perhaps that is why so many people have liked and still like the broader fun, because they themselves for the time being are also funmakers.

IRRIGATION OF PALESTINE. A recent article in the New York Evening Post describes the scheme of a Norwegian civil engineer for the irrigation of Palestine. Under the blighting hand of one conqueror after another since the days of Nebuchadnezzar, the natural wealth of the Holy Land, which needs water to bring it forth, has lain largely in abeyance. Now that England has taken hold, things will move at last around Mount Zion, as they have moved in Egypt under British occupation.

It is said that the deforestation of Mount Lebanon is one cause of the barrenness of a large part of Palestine. The cedars retained moisture and made part of the land fertile. But with all the cedars the country would still need irrigation, though Moses once described it as "a good land, a land of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of the valleys and hills."

The Norwegian engineer proposes to construct a tunnel 37 miles long from the Mediterranean Sea to the west slope of the Dead Sea, which is 1,367 feet below the Mediterranean. Through this tunnel water will pour at the rate of 20 tons a second. It is estimated that at least 40,000 horsepower will be developed, besides the conveying of water for irrigation. With the power various producing enterprises will be pushed forward, electric cars run and a pumping plant operated at the Sea of Galilee. This plant will itself provide a large supply of water for distribution in channels over that region. A considerable area of the Dead Sea, its shallow southern extremity, is to be reclaimed for cultivation, while for the Plain of Sharon ancient cisterns in thousands, long disused, will be revived. As vegetation increases on the irrigated areas, the land will retain more and more the water of the rainy season, and the number of trees will grow apace, to the general benefit of

As it is, Palestine is rich in its productive parts, and supports a population of about a million. This population will be quickly increased by the promotion of agriculture and other works. In that climate and soil three crops of grain can be raised in a year. Palestine is once more a Promised Land, promised by modern engineering science. Not only the honey-bee, the coney and the raven will inhabit its deserted valleys. They will be restored to humanity and health. Corn and wine will flourish, asphalt will come from the ashes of Sodom and Gomorrah, and surely the prices of figs and dates may be expected to take a drop when everything gets going.

SHANGHAI'S PROSPERITY.

[Hong Kong Daily News.] Despite many adverse factors due to the war in Europe and the internal strife in China, Shanghai enjoyed a remarkable degree of prosperity in 1918. The big staple industries of the port-cotton mills, docks and shipping-have seldom, if ever, had a better year, and it would, perhaps, be difficult, we are told, to name any particular branch of industry in which there was not good reason to be satisfied Of all business men the Japanese have reaped the they enjoy in consequence of proximity to the source of supply, "they have found China generally and Shanghai in particular a veritable El Dorado.'

DRIVE AS IF THE OTHER WAS AN IDIOT. The Halifax Automobile Association recently sent out a bulletin that contains some very good advice under the caption, "Safety First and Always." It follows:

"Drive as if the other driver was a born idiot." "Drive as if all children and most pedestrians were bent on suicide beneath your wheels. "Drive as if every hill had a chasm at the

NOT YET REACHED CLIMAX.

[Hamilton Spectator.]
In view of the higher standard of living being indulged in, it is not surprising to learn that canned goods are likely to be increased in price next year. The whole economic system is interlocked; indisputable figures show that labor's pay has greatly advanced, and to this situation all else must be adjusted. It has been said that national extravagance is like a boil and must be allowed to come to a head before there is satisfactory relief. The board of commerce and other economic experts have tried their hands at lancing the boil, but it must be admitted that their efforts have not been attended by overwhelming success.

AMERICA'S CLEAR DUTY.

[Times of India.] The League of Nations, the peace and prosperity of the world, depend upon the willingness of the big powers to take their weaker brethren among nations under their care and tutelage. Great Britain France and the British Dominions can do no more than they are doing; whether what remains to be done, is done or left undone, rests with America. That America should permit a doctrinaire policy to stand in the way of the accomplishment of good should be unthinkable. When America entered the lists on the side of civilization, she led the world to expect great things from her, and great things, wonderful things, in the way of organization and fighting did she achieve; but peace is even more important than war. America's duty is clear-so clear that she will have no excuse to plead before the bar of history if she fails to do it.

AN ODD CUSTOM. The very old custom of legal adoption in the Hawalian Islands, which originated when there were many tribes often at war with one another, was intended to bring peace among them. cause has long since disappeared, but the custom still persists. When a child is "spoken for" by some relative or friend, the little baby, as soon as it can leave its own mother, will be given to the foster-mother, and will be regarded as a sacred trust. A writer tells of one woman who was the mother of eight children, seven of whom had been adopted by friends. When she was asked why she gave them away, she replied sadly: "It is a super stition, I know, but if they are 'asked for,' and I refuse, I fear some harm might come to them. The poor soul let them go just because she loved them so much.

The custom leads to very amusing complications

One of the native princesses now living has given her baby to her own mother. The little girl is legally adopted, and therefore has become the grandmother's daughter and the mother's sister.

THE LAND OF THE FREE.

The land of the free and the home of the brave is certainly having difficulty in maintaining its democratic ideals these days. Men came to America from every land, were welcomed and exploited; they were also given citizenship. A lot of them made money, but in some of the crowded industrial centres of the East they really did not become American: they hived and swarmed in masses These masses began to develop intellect and finally -whether they were agitators, prophets or leaders time will alone tell-men arose among them and told them that they were being exploited for the benefit of the portly plutocrat, and that it was time for them to bring about a change in the government of the country. In a word, they advocated socialism, and in the State of New York not long ago five of these socialists were elected to the State Assembly as socialists. This so outraged the American sense of the legislature that orthodox American members threw the others out, there are five men, duly elected by a majority of the constituents in their districts, refused seats because they hold some more or less indefinite ideas of government alien to those more or less indefinite views held by the other members of the assembly It's a topsy-turvy world. Here are these five socialists with funny names who apparently have the rights of the argument, and yet, Judging from their pictures, it would almost seem undesirable to let them sit in a deliberative council. All this can happen in a country which owes its separate existence to an overthrow of constituted authority by

If you have a piece of Crown Derby china you are interested in its history. Derby manufacture, which had been the hands of the Duesbury's, the original manufacturers, passed into the hands of Mr. Robert Bloor.

The changes in history of any ware failed to discover the lost secrets but form of printing. This remarkable then went through a sad time ell from its high state. The or inakers were so jealous of the good of Derby ware that every piece name of Derby ware that every piece was rigidly examined and if a haw was detected in a piece it was not allowed to be placed upon the market. Because of this a great deal of damaged china had accumulated. Bloor marked it as damaged ware and sold it at auction, but it ruined his business. Finally about 1848 the works were discontinued, the models were sold, and the workmen went into Staffordshire or Worcester.

Such curtains should be treated by a special process. First soak them overnight in cold water. Next morning put them in soft, warm, very soapy water and wash them till perfectly clean. So many helpful hints we find sent by those who are so kind and thoughtful and ever ready to help. If measured by the spirit in which it is done and not by the imnortance of the task or the rank of the needy one will find that the leest thing done in the needy one will have its reward. League Meeting At Detroit Sees Boost in Salaries of Officials and Umps .- Six of Latter To Be Carried This Season.

DETROIT, Feb. 8.—One source of trouble in the affairs of the Michigan-Ontario League of baseball clubs of 1919 was removed at the scheduled meeting held at the Statler today. The Minters, who had much trouble with umpies in their inaugural season, authorized the new president, George H. Manes, of Film, to get the east umpires available. To aid him in this he was authorized to pay a salary of $275 per monin, with traveling expenses. Six umpires will be employed, two to be assigned to the more important series and one to each of the others. More than fifty applicants have already asked for jobs.

Ali of Prosperity.

There was a general air of prosperity about the meeting of the league, which ended its first season with a good balance in the treasury. It was voted to double the salaries of the president, and of the scerctary, Frede.ick Wilson, of Toronto, Traveling expenses; of course, also were allowed.

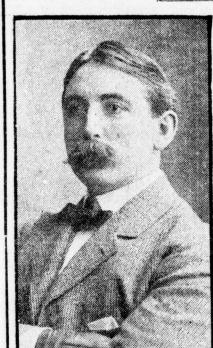

Last season the league had but two officials. A vice-president was added at this meeting. The selection was Clark C. Hyatt, a well-known Detroit real estate man and former ball player. He will assume the duties of Mr. Maines in case of illness or absence of the president and also will make inspection trips from time to time.

New directors chosen are: Messrs. Ballantyne, Hamilton; Nelson, Brantford; Rhodes, London; Williams, Kitchener; Clements, Saginaw; Beckett, Bay City; Sotheron, Battle Creek, and Halligan, Flint.

Intermediates in Shape For Game With Seaforth

Recovered From Heavy Buffetings Received in Northern Town-Fans Promised Great Game Tomorrow.

The O. H. A. Intermediates have recovered from the heavy buffeting they received on their trip up north Thursday night to Seaforth, and will get a hard workout through their systems tonight in preparation for tomorrow night's return effort and attempt to pare down an eight-goal lead.

The Cockneys were given a rough passage by the heavier Highlanders up north—some of it entirely out of the bounds of good hockey. While the majority of the northern team played clean hockey and used their weight legitimately, several of them were responsible for the roughness which sent the locals home with a lot of courtplaster decorations and decoration that don't come off with washing.

An eight-poal lead looks big, but there have been some roticeable instances of reversals of form, the feat of the Sarnia team some years ago in overcoming a fifteen goal lead Belleville piled up on them, probably formhard workout through their systems to in overcoming a fifteen goal lead Beileville piled up on them, probably forming the best remembered.

The locals realize that they not only have a big lead to pare down, but that they will have to use everything they know to do it. The fans will probably witness one of the best exhibitions of the game watching the paring down process.

TORONTO, Feb. 8.—Kitchener's senior O. H. A. team defeated the Parkdale Canoe Club here Saturday night by 6 to 1. Kitchener had a hurricane attack that was reminiscent of the days when the Kitchener were kings of the ice. By this victory they got back into the running for the O. H. A. championship. Throughout the whole sixty minutes' play Kitchener had the better of the play. At no time did the locals have a chance to win, but they stuck to their work to the finish. They still lead in their group, and if Parkdales defeat Granites on Thursday they will just about have the group championship cinched.

MOONEY GIBSON HAS HARD SEASON AHEAD WITH HIS PIRATES

Only New Manager in Major Leagues Has Some Bolstering To Do.

Of the sixteen big league managers who will start out this season with pennant hopes bravely flying to the four winds—some of them hopes for public consumption only—George ("Mooney") Gibson, winterlte of these regions, will be the only one wearing a brand new major league manage ial uniform. The big fellow has gone back in a new capacity to the club which paid him money for his best work in active baseball, and by all appearances, while he may be in the soft coal region, there are none of the earmarks of bushiness about his new berth.

Gibson's troubles have not started yet. He is confronted with numerous problems that must be solved if the Buccos are to be in the running.

In the first place, the Pirates have but one dependable catcher in Walter Schmidt, who is susceptible to injury. Schmidt was hurt last season, and while on the side lines several games were lost because neither Blackwell or Lee could fill the bill.

A major league ball club should have two real catchers on its roster, receivers who can turn back would-be base stealers; use good judgment when heavy hitters are up, and who are able to stop runners at the plate.

On the Pirate roster to date we find in addition to Schmidt, Cliff Lee, Fred Blackwell, Nig Clarke and a youngster named Haeffner. If Clarke plays as good ball as he did with the Phillies last season he may fill the bill, but he is no youngster, and it is problematical just what he will do.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 8.—An eightean league of M. C. R. ballplayers appears to be one of the coming features of baseball in this city. Such an aggregation of players would provide for St. Thomas a few good games during the summer months. The matter is being looked into by those in charge of the local M. C. R. sporting department.

Nothing Helped-Mat Oszman Till He Took Tanlac-Feels Fine in Mornings Now.

"I will never be able to praise Tanlac enough for the way it has fixed me up after everything else failed," was statement made recently by Mat Osznan, a well-known logger, who lives at the Newton Rooms, 110 Water street, Vancouver, B. C.

"I was troubled with indigestion so bad that I lost my appetite," continued Mr. Oszman, "and half the time I did not care whether I ate anything or not. Many a time when I just passed by a restaurant the smell of food would make I me feel nauseated, and whenever I did force myself to take a few bites it aldisagreed with me. Gas would

"That was my condition, but since I have taken Taniac thirgs are the opposite—I am never troubled in any way and am in as good health as a man could want to be in. Indigestion is a thing of the past, and I can eat anything I want and as much as I want without having any bad effects in the least. My constipated condition has been releved, and I am no longer bothered with headaches and dizzy spells, and the pain in my back has disappeared entirely. I am getting a good might's sleep, and rest every night, and of mornings I just feel fine. Nothing is carried to stream the list. The cabinet is sitting today to discuss the Allies' demards.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid Is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity-acid stomach—and not, as most folks believed from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Fifty Years of Progress

Our Jubilee Year .- The year 1919 was notable inasmuch as it completed the first nity years of the company's active operations, and at the same time marked the year of its greatest development and progress in all departments of its business. The first policies were offered to the public in the spring of 1870, and the end of the first half century sees the company with unimpeachable assets of $38,000,000 and policies in force amounting Remarkable Expansion of Business .- The most remarkable feature of the year was the flood of new business received, due largely to the awakening of popular apprecia-tion of the beneficent function of life assurance by the experiences of the war and the influenza epidemic that followed. The increase in new business acquired was nearly That the record for quality business was fully maintained is indicated by the large increase of $33,065.691 = the total business in force, being over 80% of the new The Surplus Earnings .- No item of the year's operations is more gratifying tham the great increase in the surplus earnings. Notwithstanding a certain number of abnormal death losses arising from the war and the influenza epidemic, amounting to $352,857.65, the surplus earnings for the year were $1,302,801, an increase over the previous year of 60%, and showing earnings of $34.27 for every $1,000 of total assets held at the end of Invested Funds .- Never in the history of Canadian life insurance has there been such a remarkable opportunity for the profitable investment of life insurance funds, and the effect of the past year's investments will be to enhance the surplus earnings over a long period of years, through holding up the average rate of interest earned on the invested funds. For the year 1919 the company earned the very satisfactory rate of 0.39%,

HOW CAN WE DO IT?

We pay more for wheat, more for labor, more for taxes-but Shredded Wheat sells at about the same old price - very little advance on account of the war. How can we do it? We can do it because the volume of sales now reaches many millions of Biscuits per day. Considering its real food value Shredded Wheat is the cheapest food in the world today. It is 100 per cent whole wheat in a digestible form. Two Biscuits, with hot milk, make a nourishing meal for a few cents.

I.—Awaking From a Dream

I am a young grass widow. People either sneer or smile over the phrase. And yet I find it prettier than "separated woman" or "abandoned wife!"
I am not at all sure yet to which class I do belong.
Only a week since we returned from our giorious, ten-aay honeymoon, Jim and I! But that one week seems like an eternity.
"Sweetheart, we'll never have a quarrel!" As we stood in the centre of my "Sweetheart, we'll never have a quarrel!" As we stood in the centre of my tiny London flat, our luggage all about us, Jim stooped and kissed me. No one in the world can kiss like Jim. "This is our home-coming. We're going to be tremendously happy."

"Ever and always—Amen!" I added idiotically, rather shaky from his k.ss. I have never cared for anyone as I have cared for Jim. I write in the past tense now. For Jim and I have said farewell.

Tony leaned forward, staring at me curiously.

"Helen, I do believe you are in love!"

"And if I were——?" A kind of reck-lessness possessed me.

"Then, naturally, I'd be inconsolable," he said in a stiff, affected way. His voice did not ring true.

His statement made me think of Alice Anstruther, who is more than half in love with Tony—or who thinks she is!

His voice did not ring true.

His statement made me think of Alice Anstruther, who is more than half in love with Tony—or who thinks she is!

Alice is my friend—or quasi-friend. A pretty, appealing, feather-headed little blonde, distinctly vampiresque—and with a husband who adores her. That type so often has! Alice is vain, and loves attention. We all do! But Alice is abnormal, in her predatory instincts. She was an enterprising little beau-snatcher at fifteen, and now farewell.

What was the trouble? Bad enough!
Another woman—a forged check—a scene with his father—a he to me!
Yes, he had lied to me who had adored him. And we had only been married for ten days!

I shall never trust another man again. But that won't stop me from amusing myself!

again. But that work stop me from amusing myself!

"Helene, if you won't believe me, then our contract's ended!" If I half-close my eyes, I can still visualize Jim's white, furious face as it looked down on mine the day we parted. "I swear I never signed the check—I swear I never bought the diamond bracelet for never bought the diamond bracelet for My lips curied in a sneer.

"No going back? What do you mean?
This flat belongs to me—you are the intruder—"

A town!"

A terrible urge was on me to wound his price as he had wounded mine.

And I succeeded.

The recollection that hurts me most—and yet, in a curious, unfathomable way consoles me—is the memory of nis pale, handsome face ablaze with anger and outraged pride as he swung away from me, and slammed the door of the flat behind him.

I sank down in the nearest chair, and listened to the last echo of his footsteps on the stairs.

Then silence. And I wept my heart out! out!

I must have cried for quite two hours. And I am not one of those heroines of romance to whom tears are becoming. Upon the contrary, when I caught sight of myself in the mirror over the mantelpiece I was no longer pretty Helene Beauclaire, the idol of the matinee girl, but a plain young woman with a swollen nose and reddened eyelids!

The sharp ting-ting of the phone dened eyelids!

The sharp ting-ting of the phone bell startled me. Could it possibly be Jim, repenting of our quarrel? Was he coming back to make it up? How gladly I would welcome him, I who had

ANNUAL MEETING IS HELD BY HOLY NAME SOCIETY

Members Attend Early Morning Mass

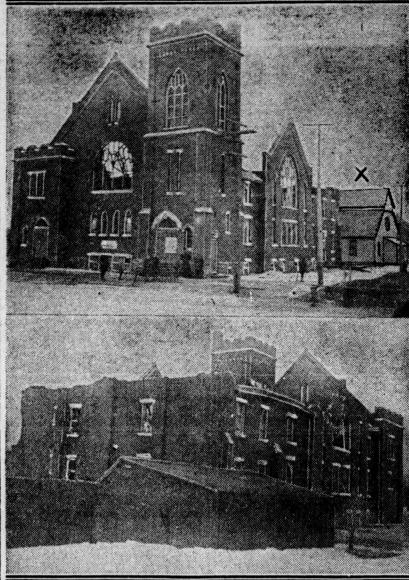

On the occasion of the annual meeting of the London Holy Name Society, an organization of the Roman Catholic Church, whose church, whose aim is to prevent profanity and the taking of the Lord's name in vain, the members attended in a body the 8:30 o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday morning. They afterwards adjourned to St. Peter's Parish Hall, where breakfast was served to about 400.

Rev. Father Stanley of Woodstock, spiritual adviser of the Holy Name Societies in London Diocese, addressed are gathering at some length on the aims and work of the society. Those who worshipped with the congregation of the Egerton Street Baptist Church yesterday morning in the little old building ,which was forsaken seven years ago for the beautiful new church, now utterly destroyed by the fire of Saturday morning, could not help but feel in the spirit of that worship that Christians have a different way of facing misfortune than is common to mankind—that there is a reserve of power and strength, and unfaltering faith, which sheds its radiance even in the deepest gloom. In all of the services yesterday there was not a note of complaint or rebellion or of doubt, but only a quiet acceptance of the stunning blow, and a resolve to undertake the heavy and a resolve to undertake the heavy task of restoration as quickly as possible.

"God in His providence is going to overcome what seems disaster, and quicken our faith and spiritual life into a flame which shall mount higher and burn brighter than the destructive fires in yonder church," said Rev. A. C. Bingham during the course of an inspiring sermon on the subject, "Tried by Fire," yesterday morning. In introducing his subject the pastor said had face the present situation—the new

now difficult it was to adjust oneself and face the present situation—the new church, pride of their hearts and hope of their future work, lying in a heap of ruins; but that even when the fire was raging he had not shed a tear—perhaps he was too stunned—because even then he realized that it was only the outward and material which was helped determined. being destroyed, while the spiritual and eternal verities, he was sure, would be found more firmly established in the lives of the people than ever.

Ready Sympathy and Help.

"But," he said, "it has brought the tears to discover how much sympathy and ready help there is in time of need. Not only among our own people, but from many outside sources have come the sympathy and offers of material assistance." He said that the Orangemen had offered their hall (the old Baptist Church), and the Presbyterian Church across the way had offered the use of part of their building, almost before the embers of the fire were cold, while the wires to his phone had been kept hot with the many expressions of sympathy and help by gifts of money, so that the work of the church might soon be restored to its full volume and usefulness once more. One of the first donations, he said, had come from a prominent Methodist layman, and there had even been telegrams from other cities—one from Calgary—to assure the church of assistance.

"There are some things which the fire cannot burn," continued Mr. Bingham, "and some things which it reveals. It tries brotherhood and benevolence, and it has astonished me to find how many friends we have. Then, some of our people have seemed cold and indifferent in the past, and the fire has warmed them up. It has burned down partitions and insulations which seemed to exist between individuals, and by the grace of God may they never be rebuilt, so that we may move forward unitedly in the work of extending Christ's kingdom.

each man's works and worth. Any who are cowards or who have been using the church for their own ends will flee from us in these days, but those who have the refined gold of Christian character will buckle on the whole armor of God. Our beautiful church has gone, but after all it is only the workshop. Our work as Christians is not only to build churches of brick and mortar, but to awaken in each heart the knowledge that we ourselves are the tabernacles of the Most High Godto convert as many mortal souls as to convert as many mortal souls as possible, so that they may be worthy

"The Cup of Fury," together with a number of the church added film attractions, vaude-ville and a double matinee daily with Vivian Martin in "The Little Comerate" as the extra feature.

Everyone of the millions who followed Mr. Hughes' best novel were enthsiastic over this dramatic tale of the shipbuilding of North America. It relates, thrillingly and dramatically, the adventures of a young society debutante, who, tiring of a life of idle uselessness, determines to disappear from her circle of worthless acquaintances and enter the world of workers to plunge with heart and soul into real life. She becomes a helper, disguised as a boy in one of the great shipyards of the Pacific Coast.

M'CORMICK PICNIC GENEROUS RESPONSE ON SATURDAY NIGHT IN FUND CAMPAIGN WAS HUGE SUCCESS

Congregations Asked To Help Mock Trials Proved Most Forward Movement.

THE FINAL APPEAL

Workers Will Begin Their Canvass in the City This call was issued on Sunday for vorkers for the Forward Movement campaign. The need of spreading Christianity was referred to by the reachers for the last time before the city will be canvassed for funds. The workers will get down to work this veek and every church hopes to surpass its objective before next Sunday

In several churches the ministers spoke on the need for generous contributions to the fund. Subscriptions such as had been given in other years would not be sufficient to carry this would not be sufficient to carry this campaign over the top, it was pointed out, as the purchasing value of the dollar was not nearly so great today as in years gone by. The ministers said that the need for the Christianization of such parts of the world as had not heard of Jesus Christ was so great that people could not longer think in small figures.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh spoke at length along this line at the morning service in King Street Presbyterian Church. His text was: "Now, Concerning the Collection," using the words of the Apostle Paul as found in Corinthians, chapter xvi. Mr. McIntosh appealed to his congregation to subscribe generously to the fund. Money was considered something sacred in the Bible, and if its true value were to be realized it should be used for God's purposes.

No New Thing.

A forward movement was no new thing in the church, according to the speaker, for Paul in his day had appealed to all the churches to assist financially and morally in the spreading of the world of the Maker. The world at the present time was in need of more Christianity, and through such financially and morally in the spreading of the word of the Maker. The world at the present time was in need of more Christianity, and through such a movement as the one now launched in this city it was hoped to carry the gospel to all corners of the globe.

Mr. McIntosh said there was not sufficient Christianity in the world to prevent the war, and there was not sufficient Christianity in the world at the present time to maintain the League of Nations. He believed that only through carrying of the gospel to all parts of the world could peace be assured.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

MONEY AND THE MOVEMENT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The writer has recently been struck by the way in which the financial prosperity of the various churches has been emphasized. The Forward Movement, in which we are all interested, of course, appears to have millions to its credit.

One cannot enter a church without being impressed by the apparent prosperity of the members, if one can judge from the appearance of the occupants of the church.

We read of the need of the Armenians; how the men and women and children are starving by thousands, Subscriptions are starving by thousands, Subscriptions are starving by thousands, Subscriptions are starving the starving Europeans and the stored up millions for the Forward Movement, and general luxury of the church meners?

Would it not be a good plan to start the movement by a substantial general church contribution for these starving people? Surely we do not look for money to be the main factor in man's religion as throught could be done to day. One tenth of a give for the sake of One who gave all. Good only expected money from those who had experienced the sancting for the sake of One who gave all in the campaign of this week would be worsholded to the sancting for the money on Sunday, Mr. McIntosh congressed that the best policy for the members of his congressed that the best patient of the sale to up millions for the expectation.

The Test of Reality.

Rev. Thomas S. Roy spoke on "The Church's Day of Judgment" at the morning service in Talbot Street Baptist Church. He said the Forward Movement would in a sense test the reality of the life of the church. He referred to the great work that lay before the church and the necessity of putting the Forward Movement over successfully.

able Predicament.

London's fire-fighters have responded in emergencies of many kinds, but probably never under quite such peculiar conditions as obtained in a case in which their assistance was requested—and given, of course—on Sunday night. A horse, owned by a man whose name The Advertiser was unable to learn, bolted on Wellington road, and, with a cutter trailing behind, made for the bridge over the river. The animal chose to follow the car tracks, which cross the bridge on ties laid with intervals between them. The horse's feet went through between the ties and it pittched forward, resting with its body and head at the road level and its feet resting on air below the bridge.

Three firemen, who responded to the call for assistance in rescuing the horse, spent an hour in the attempt and finally, with the help of a block and tackle, a sling under the horse's stomach and a good deal of patience, the terrified animal was hoisted to terrafirma. Its legs were badly skinned, but otherwise, so far as could be accertained, it had suffered no injury except possibly to its nervous system.

A nail-driving contest, a novelty race, medicine ball and hustle ball relay race were taken part in by girls, while a tug-of-war by the men created considerable enthusiasm. On the second floor Madame Knowall, proficient in palmistry, was besieged by the fair sex. From this floor spectators watched Prof. C. Butterworth give a fancy swimming exhibition.
