DOMINION LABOR CONGRESS OPENS CONVENTION IN WINDSOR

APPEALS AGAINST HIGHER RAILWAY RATES FILED

LARGER FAIR GROUNDS ARE NEEDED SAYS SECRETARY HUNT

SMILLIE DENIES THAT HE SENT TELEGRAM TO CALGARY ASKING CANADIANS TO JOIN IN WALKOUT

Message Sent Under Name of President of British Federation of Miners Is Received by O. B. U. Delegates of Western City—Nova Scotia Miners Are Advised of the Contents of Cablegram.

London, Sept. 13.—By the Canadian Associated Press.—Smillie, the miners' leader, repudiates the telegram, said in a Reuter message to have been sent by him to the One Big Union delegates at Calgary, favoring simultaneous strikes.

ALBERTA MINERS IN SYMPATHY.

Calgary, Sept. 13.—In response to a cablegram from Robert Smillie, president of the British Federation of Miners, asking simultaneous action in bringing about a strike on September 28, the O. B. U. members in Alberta, in convention Saturday, sent a reply, stating that "the Alberta members of the O. B. U. miners' unit were with the British miners to a man in their demands." Whether this means a sympathetic strike, officials of the O. B. U. here would not say.

CALGARY DELEGATES RECEIVE CABLEGRAM

CALGARY, Sept. 11.—One Big Union delegates attending the convention which is now being held in Calgary were somewhat startled this morning to receive a cablegram from Robert Smillie, president of the British Federation of Miners, requesting that simultaneous action be taken in bringing about a strike on September 26. A reply has not yet been drafted. It probably will be taken into consideration by a council of action to be appointed by the convention to decide on what date it would be possible to stop work in the event of the "check-off" in Alberta mines not being repealed. In the meantime

LARGER FAIR GROUNDS NEEDED BADLY SAYS SECRETARY HUNT

Record Entries For the Big Exhibition, Which Got Under Way Today—Unprecedented Crowds Expected From All Over the District— Poultry Show Opened This Afternoon.

The Western Fair opened early this morning with a larger than usual crowd of first-day visitors. If the paid attendance is in any reasonable measure proportional to the number of exhibitors and exhibits, this year's fair will have an attendance that will make an undreamed of record for the old favorite exhibtion. About the only thing that Secretary A. M. Hunt had time to say was a very emphatic "Yes, if I live through this week," when asked if there would be a new fair grounds next year.

Queen's Park this morning looked like a gigantic collision of several hundred moving vans or a railroad toss-up of six circus trains. Literally speaking the elephants helping to push the midway trucks into place hadn't room to turn around. The great ponderous beasts who haven't heard about the One Big Union of organized labor worked patiently and devotedly. One of the wagons drawn by three teams of horses got stuck solid in the sand and the elephants put their heads to the rear of the truck, and assisted by a score of men with levers, succeeded after much effort in getting it back onto solid ground.

Interesting Work.

"Putting the Fair together" is the most interesting part of the whole exhibition, and it was concluded by noon. It didn't seem fair that the elephants and horses should be the only animals helping out, but the camels sleepily idled by, the lions and tigers growled impatiently in their gilded cages, and the dogs and monkeys barked and chattered their impatience.

There's no foretelling the number of visitors who will pass through the gates by the excellence of the exhibits, for Fair attendances, like theatre attendances, are governed by esoteric laws of psychology that nobody has yet discovered. But it requires no press agent dope to say that the biggest pile of exhibits and attractions ever dumped into Queen's Park littered every available square rod of space this morning. How they could ever assemble the various parts of the various units of the Fair and the Midway was hard to understand, but minute by minute the work progressed until by 1 o'clock everything was in place, and the spielers began their week-long task of barking the wonders back of the gaudy banners. Order evolved from chaos in surprisingly quick time, and the machinery and tractor exhibits gradually crowded into their own narrow quarters and ceased to trespass on their neighboring spaces.

Rush for Space.

The Administration Building was besieged by late exhibitors, some of them refused space last week, who took a chance on bringing along their products trusting to be crowded in somewhere. They were offering premiums to other exhibitors to change exhibit spaces with them, and many of them could not possibly have been located except for the co-operation of other exhibitors who agreed to double up or take smaller spaces to let the larger exhibits entered to be accommodated somehow. One Sarnia machinery manufacturer disregarded explicit refusal of space last week and unloaded an extensive exhibit. He came prepared to take any space he could find, and he got it, such as it was.

It was the unprecedented crowded conditions evident this morning that made the directors realize that it is doubtful if another fair can possibly be accommodated in Queen's Park. The Western Fair has grown too large, and is harder than solving a Chinese picture puzzle to get all the exhibits crowded in.

The Poultry Show.

The Poultry Building will open this afternoon, and all the other buildings were open this morning, although visitors had to elbow throngs of workmen putting the finishing touches on the booths and dressing the displays. The Main Building has some very attractive exhibits well displayed, and the machinery, automobile and tractor exhibits are fully half as large again as ever before. One tractor firm had twenty-five or thirty small tractors standing in rows and lines like soldiers in close formation of drill. "They offered to take all the space we had over and pay us well for it," explained Mr. Hunt. "We let them come on that condition." The crowded appearance of the exhibit indicated just how it had worked out. Where this firm and other tractor firms will get room to demonstrate is a problem that will have to be worked out this afternoon. Possibly they may have to parade them in single file through the crowded grounds to the race track.

A Splendid Display.

Fruit, vegetables and flowers promise to be a finer display than in any previous year. All will be in place this afternoon. The Ladies' Work Pavilion is crowded to capacity, and the Dairy Building is also well filled with instructively displayed exhibits.

All classes of live stock appear better represented than in any other year. The fancy cattle and stout porkers were being bathed, massaged and polished in preparation for the judges' rounds. Bathing the porkers was an interesting feature of the Fair in itself. One massive grunter about the size of a hippopotamus, was protesting vociferously against a delayed breakfast. There it was in the barrel beside him waiting to be ladled out, but his attendants had evidently decided that piggie must have his bath before he ate.

Pens Are Crowded.

The sheep and swine pens are all crowded except for a small section of the pavilions where a large number of goats, ponies and mules appearing on the midway are stabled between shows.

There are no vacant spaces anywhere and many disappointed would-be exhibitors were pleading to be allowed to stack their exhibits up against the sides of the various buildings. In instances where they would not be too close to the automobile driveways this was permitted.

Everything was in readiness for the opening of the grandstand performance this afternoon, and the midway was ready to open at 2 o'clock. Every act engaged for the ring entertainment had reported to him, Mr. Hunt stated. The elephants with the midway company will take part in the ring entertainments today.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Fears that another epidemic of influenza will sweep through North America this autumn and winter, are expressed by Dr. Bibbs, of the Fort Dearborne Hospital, Chicago. Dr. Bibbs is visiting Toronto today. He says that there are between 400 and 500 cases in Chicago at the present time—mostly among stockyard employees.

DAMAGE FROM STORM WILL BE $400,000

Greatest Loss Is Sustained in Port Weller Vicinity.

BATHERS HAIL PELTED

Number At Niagara Peninsula Beaches Required Medical Attention.

St. Catharines, Sept. 13.—Reports this morning from the lake shore sections of Louth and Grantham townships, devastated by the terrific wind and hail storm on Saturday, indicate that the damage will total at least $400,000. In an area of five miles in length and half a mile in breadth west of Port Weller, not one farm escaped, and in numerous cases the loss is complete.

W. H. Bunting had 1,500 bushels of late tomatoes alone to pick this week. Today he says he will not be able to get fifty baskets. George X. Walker says he will not be able to realize $1,000 from his crop, which on Saturday was worth $11,000.

Other growers' losses are equally complete. There was no loss of life, although several bathers at the beaches were so seriously pelted with hail that they required medical attention.

MACSWINEY REPORTED IN A SERIOUS STATE

Lord Mayor of Cork Begins 32nd Day of His Fast.

London, Sept. 13.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was in a state of collapse and exhaustion this morning at Brixton Prison, where he is continuing his hunger strike in protest against his arrest by British authorities. This is the 32nd day of his fast. MacSwiney passed a bad and restless night, according to a bulletin issued early today by the Irish Self-Determination League.

Mrs. MacSwiney, wife of the lord mayor, together with his sisters, Mary and Annie, and his brother, Sean, have addressed an appeal to the United States ambassador and the heads of the other embassies and legations in London for submission to their governments. It calls attention to the case of the lord mayor and eleven hunger strikers at Cork, and expresses the hope that the Ulster councils of the nations addressed "will prevent the tragedy now pending, and thereby calm the peoples of the world."

The letter deals fully with Mayor MacSwiney's case from the date of his arrest to the present time, and says: "Lord Mayor Curtain was murdered for the same reason for which Lord Mayor MacSwiney is being murdered now—because he was fighting for self determination for his country. If the present tragedy is allowed to proceed, we are confronted with the unparalleled crime of two lord mayors of the same city being murdered within six months of each other by a supposedly civilized government.

"We are of the opinion that this is of grave concern for all governments. Owing to the very close relations existing between modern nations, a government outrage in one country reacts in another. It is clear to us that if the crimes now perpetrated in Ireland in the name of the English Government are tolerated, the foundations of the governments of all nations will be imperilled."

DENIES HUNGER STRIKERS BEING FED SECRETLY

London, Sept. 13.—Rumors that Irish hunger strikers in jail in the city of Cork are being fed surreptitiously, are denied in a Dublin dispatch to the Daily Mail, which declared the only nourishment they are receiving is from oil with which they are rubbed to alleviate the pain they suffer due to wasting tissues. While the deaths of more delicate

FIVE APPEALS AGAINST RULING OF COMMISSION FOR HIGHER RATES ON RAILWAYS ARE FILED WITH GOVERNOR - IN - COUNCIL

Petitions Are Submitted by Winnipeg, Edmonton and Halifax Boards of Trade, Toronto Board of Control and the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association — All Request a Stay in the Order Until Appeals Have Been Heard—No Date Yet Set For Hearing.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—Five petitions of appeal against the recent order of the railway commission increasing rates have already been filed with the governor-in-council. They are from the Winnipeg, Edmonton and Halifax boards of trade, from the Toronto Board of Control, and from the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association. While it has been intimated that the provinces of Saskatchewan and Manitoba would be parties to the appeal, neither a formal notice of appeal, nor an appeal has been received as yet from any province of the Dominion. The two provinces named were represented at the hearing, but these were the only ones. On behalf of Manitoba, H. J. Simington was counsel. In addition, Premier Norris himself was in attendance practically throughout the whole hearing. For Saskatchewan, D'Aarcy Scott was counsel.

Most of the petitions have been addressed to the premier, but have been transferred to the file of the governor-in-council. All of the petitions request a stay in the order pending the hearing of the appeal, and possible but not probable revision. But the new rates go into effect today, and even of they didn't the Government in its statement yesterday stated there would be no stay. The Government will grant an oral hearing of the appeal, but in order that there may be no false hopes, has mentioned that on no occasion has the governor-in-council reversed a judgment of the board. No date has yet been set for the hearing.

Canadians Making Good In Search For New Markets

New York, Sept. 13.—Canadian Press.—Discussion Canada's financial situation, the Wall Street Journal this morning says:

"Viewed from almost any angle the current exhibit of Canada's foreign trade compiled by the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce is encouraging.

"Both the results achieved in the year ended with July, 1920, and the indicated accumulation of raw material for further trade expansion the figures in detail tell their own story."

After giving the figures on Canadian exports, the Journal declares that increased exports to the United States, to Belgium, and the steady but aggressive expansion to other countries, shows that Canada is making good the promise to her people to go after the new markets of new countries, which the war would open.

Premier Here On Way To Windsor

Has Nothing To Say in Reference To Government Plans.

Premier Arthur Meighen passed through the city at 11:30 o'clock today via the Grand Trunk, on his way to Windsor, where he will address the Dominion Trades Congress convention.

When interviewed the premier declined to make any statements regarding the Government's policy in respect to organized labor. He was also reticent regarding the Government's plans.

He said from what he could see as he passed through London that the city was growing rapidly along industrial lines. When informed that the Western Fair was officially opened today, he stated that it reminded him of the time when he used to attend the London Fair, and thought it the biggest thing in the world.

"At that time I was forced to drive 20 miles with my parents to reach a railroad station. In those days it was a real outing," he said.

Twelve Thousand Men Are Affected by Award.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM VICTORY.

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—Maine men and women went to the polls today for the election of state and county officers, a legislature and congressmen. The Republicans claimed victory by a 30,000 plurality, while the Democrats indulged in no figures. The issues have been national, with chief emphasis placed on the League of Nations. For the first time women voted in this state.

ITALIAN PARLIAMENT ASKED TO PASS LAWS TO COVER SITUATION

Resolution To This Effect Were Passed At Confederation of Labor.

Milan, Sept. 13.—Immediate convocation of the Italian parliament for the purpose of passing laws under which workmen may take over management of industrial plants, has been demanded by the confederation of labor in session here. Resolutions favoring a compromise of the situation resulting from occupation of plants by workmen throughout Italy were adopted at a stormy session of the confederation yesterday. Socialist leaders bitterly attacked the confederation and demanded that the Socialist party assume control of the situation which they claimed had taken a purely political aspect. When the Socialist demands were rejected an additional resolution was passed by the confederation which asked the president of the chamber of deputies and Premier Giolitti to call parliament into session.

Wants Power To Govern Pensions

Soldiers' Aid Commission Is Taking Question Up With Government.

Ed Lance, secretary of the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission stated to The Advertiser today that the commission is going to write the attorney-general to find out the exact powers and authority it has under the new bill which was passed by the Legislature at its last sitting. He says the commission has not, in many cases, sufficient power to govern the administration of the pensions of soldiers, widows and children. In many cases, he states, these people are not capable of handling their pensions, and if the commission received the pension it could give the money to them when the secretary saw necessary. Word is expected any time, but what measures will be taken by the local commission is not known.

PRISONER LEAPS FROM TRAIN TO HIS DEATH

Cobalt, Sept. 13.—Matte Parrny, a middle-aged man, being taken to the jail at Sault Ste. Marie, jumped to his death when he made a desperate leap for liberty from a moving Algoma Central train one hundred miles from the Soo, according to information received here today from Constable Fred Hughes of Cochrane, who was in charge of the prisoner. Parrny died within a short time after being replaced on the train. The man had been committed for trial by the magistrate at Hearst on a charge of a serious offence against an 11-year-old girl.

FINED $500 FOR O. T. A. BREACH

Proprietor of Poolroom Pleads Guilty in Police Court.

John J. Carr, proprietor of the Belmont poolroom on Richmond street, was fined $500 and costs, with the option of four months in jail, by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon today, as a result of two bottles containing whiskey being found in his establishment on Saturday night by Sergt. William McCullough and Constable Gow. Carr pleaded guilty to a charge of having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, but declared he knew nothing of it until it was found by the police.

The officers testified that they visited the Belmont about 9:30 p.m., as a result of a complaint. In a room upstairs, which was locked, and to which Carr possessed the keys, they saw a partially filled bottle protruding from an army overcoat pocket. Carr informed them that the coat was left downstairs, and that he threw it in the room for the owner to return and claim. In another store-room opening into the pool parlor they discovered a filled bottle in a pail, covered by an old cloth. Nearby on a shelf was a corkscrew and glass. The latter smelled of whiskey. According to accused it was retained for drinking water.

Carr declared that his clients had free access to the room, and that liquor could be brought there without his knowledge.

"One of the most dangerous places for liquor to be found is in a poolroom," commented the court. "It might be what is commonly known as a blind pig. This is different to a man arrested on the street with liquor in his possession. It leaves open the suspicion that if you are not selling whiskey you are conniving with others to do so." The fine was paid.

Six week-end drunks were assessed the usual penalty of $10 and costs, with a ten-day sojourn in jail as an option.

RESCUED GIRL FROM SLUMS; FALLS HEIR TO LARGE FORTUNE

David S. Byrne Is Again in the Limelight.

New York, Sept. 13.—Canadian Press.—It is announced by the World this morning that David S. Byrne, formerly David S. Kidd, of Toronto, will soon enter into possession of the $10,000,000 estate of the late W. G. Byrne, whose daughter he rescued from a Chicago slum resort thirteen years ago. Byrne is in New York. He says he has located property belonging to the estate in and near Pittsburg, valued at $1,200,000, and will leave for Australia shortly to enter into possession of properties there. The World prints a lengthy review of the story of how Kidd induced Lucy Byrne to return to her home by reading the story of Mary Magdalene to her from a Bible which he carried, and later became the trustee of the father, who was a wealthy miner, in various evangelical enterprises, changing his name to Byrne at the request of his benefactor.

STORY IS INVESTIGATED.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—David Kidd-Byrne's story of his rescue of the millionaire's daughter from the Chicago slums, and the grateful action of the father in leaving him a big estate, has bobbed up time and time again in the newspapers of Toronto and Montreal. A Toronto newspaper recently made inquiries in Pittsburg regarding the story, but could ascertain nothing definitely establishing the existence of such an estate.

Kidd-Byrne was recently arrested in Montreal and brought to Toronto on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences, but after some negotiations the charge was dropped, and the defendant was allowed to leave the city.

BODIES ARE RECOVERED.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The bodies of Alicia Veronica and Marguerite Helen Starke, daughters of the late William Starke, former alderman of Verdun, who were drowned in the river off Verdun on September 4, have been recovered.

RED HOT DISCUSSIONS ARE EXPECTED ON RESOLUTIONS AT TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS

Motions To Be Submitted Range All Way From One Favoring Irish Independence To That Condemning Profiteering—Premier Meighen To Address Gathering This Afternoon—Will Outline Policy of Government Towards Organized Labor.

Windsor, Sept. 13.—Although the time originally set for the opening of the thirty-sixth convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was set for 9 o'clock this morning, it was not until 10:30 that President F. J. Clancey, of the Windsor Trades and Labor Council, welcomed the delegates at the armories in the name of organized labor of the city. Mayor E. B. Winter, Hon. Walter Rollo, minister of labor and health in the Provincial Government; Walter McGregor, representing the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce, and W. C. Kennedy, M.P., welcomed the delegates, and it was some time after 11 o'clock before the convention was declared formally opened by Tom Moore, president, after he had replied to the addresses of welcome.

A feature of the morning's session was the address of Hon. Mr. Rollo, who declared that the present Ontario Government had adopted many of the planks of the labor platform, and had made a record in placing progressive legislation on the statute books of the province. He also warned the delegates that the greatest danger to organized labor lay in dissension within its ranks.

Rollo Outlines Policy.

After the welcoming speeches the morning session was occupied with a roll call of delegates and the feature of the afternoon session will be an address by Premier Meighen. Hon. Walter Rollo declared he had no intention of making any rash promises in his capacity of minister of labor and health of the province, but he assured the delegates that anything that he could do for the wage earner he stood ready to do the same as when he was an ordinary delegate to the congress. He briefly outlined the growth of the Independent Labor party until Hamilton sent an Independent Labor representative to the Provincial Legislature and pointed out that now Hamilton's full quota of two members in the Legislature is labor and that Independent Labor party had now twelve members. He touched briefly on the elections in October last which gave the province of Ontario a system of group government instead of the old party system and declared that the farmer-labor Government had placed more progressive legislation on the statute books last session than had ever been done in the same length of time in the history of the province. He asked that the government be given a chance. He declared that though the farmer-labor Government was not a labor government it was sympathetic to labor and anything it had done in the past or would do in the future would be for the greatest good to the greatest number.

Entitled to Square Deal.

Although sympathetic with workers and humanity, Hon. Mr. Rollo said, the members of the Government had to remember that they were legislating for all classes and that all were entitled to a square deal.

The only people who could destroy the trades union movement, Hon. Mr.

PARENTS TOO LAX WITH CHILDREN

Young People Are Given Too Much Liberty Now, Is Minister's View.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh was elected president of the Presbyterian Ministerial Association, which held the opening meeting of the winter season in the Y. M. C. A. this morning. Rev. M. F. Cree, newly-inducted minister of the Hamilton Road Methodist Church, was elected secretary-treasurer.

A general discussion was held on the question of "Youth and Authority." It was the opinion of the clerics that the young people of today would be better for a dash of Puritanism in their characters. The view was expressed that there was too much petty crime and insubordination among them. The general opinion was that an effort should be made to tighten the bonds of authority in the home, church and community generally.

Fifty Ontario Boys To Join Canada's Navy

Toronto, Sept. 13.—On the request of the department of naval affairs at Ottawa to the Navy League of Canada, 50 Ontario boys—members of the boys' naval brigades—will leave Toronto for Halifax to join the new ships presented by Britain to the Canadian navy.

The event marks an epoch in Canadian naval history, because this is the first group of boys definitely launched upon a Canadian royal naval career as the result of the efforts of the Navy League of Canada, and it marks definite recognition of the work of the league. The boys are all of fine type, representative of the best Canadian spirit and tradition.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT CLOSELY ESCAPES DEFEAT

London, Sept. 13.—(Canadian Associated Press).—The Times Melbourne correspondent says that Australian ministers are seriously alarmed about their positions, and the result may be to expedite the appointment in London of a high commissioner and of a representative in Washington. The Government narrowly escaped defeat in the House, its representatives only being saved by two votes on a sudden combination of the harbor and country parties, on the proposal for soldiers' homes in Queensland

Work Will Be in Charge of Specialists From Toronto.

Robinson of Toronto, a specialist in social conditions, and Miss Emily Nohr of Toronto are in charge of the survey, which is being made by the social service workers. Rev. T. D. McCullough would not say this morning just what active part Professor Robinson and Miss Nohr were doing, but that a report would be published at the end of the survey, which will not be for some time.

Reports which have been received by the Social Service Council at different times regarding the slum conditions in some parts of the city will be looked into thoroughly, particularly among the foreign element. It is expected by the council that many families living in dire circumstances will be brought to light.

PLEASED WITH STAND ON MACSWINEY CASE

"That a cable be sent to Premier Lloyd George as follows:

"'That the county of Middlesex Loyal Orange Lodge representing 5,000 United Empire Loyalists, admire your stand in regard to the MacSwiney case, and that our sympathy goes out to the widows and orphans of the Loyalists of Ireland, both Protestant and Roman Catholic, who have lost their husbands and fathers in defence of the Empire. We have no sympathy for cowardly would-be suicides.'"

UNANIMITY PREVAILS AT WORLD MEETING

Rev. Leslie Armitage Tells of Spirit of Fellowship At Lambeth.

Rev. Leslie Armitage preached a most interesting sermon on Sunday morning, outlining to his congregation the meeting of the bishops and archbishops from the world over at the Lambeth Conference held recently in London, England.

Mr. Armitage during the course of his sermon mentioned the bishops and archbishops from the various countries throughout the world making special reference to Bishop Oluwole of West Africa, who is a native of that country. He mentioned this bishop as being of a particularly fine character, saying that his predecessor had been the son of an African slave. Bishop Oluwole, at the unveiling of the monument of Abraham Lincoln had in an impressive manner placed a wreath on the monument, a token of gratitude to the slave-freer from the bishop and fellow countrymen.

The speaker took the word, "Fellowship," for his subject, and particularly mentioned the great spirit of fellowship that existed at the Lambeth conference, how, despite the fact that there were 252 bishops present any decisions made were unanimous. The Lambeth Conference, the speaker said, was held every ten years, and called the Lambeth Conference because it is always held at the Archbishop of Canterbury's residence in Lambeth. It represents the Anglican Church throughout the world, and is held for the purpose of discussing momentous questions in the religious world and plans for further advancement of Christianity.

BREAD PRICE SAME UNTIL FLOUR DROPS

Edward Parnell of Winnipeg President of Local Firm, Gives Interview.

Edward Parnell of Winnipeg, president of the Parnell Bread Company, this city, who has spent nearly a month here superintending the reconstruction of the company's plant, which when completed will be one of the most up-to-date in Ontario, made the following statements today in an interview in reference to the report of the board of commerce, which appeared in Saturday's paper:

"The report as I read it in your paper Saturday seems to me to leave the impression in the minds of the public that the price of bread the province over was 13 cents a loaf. The facts are that in Ontario the price of bread that has ruled for months past in all but three or four of its communities has been 14 cents for the 1½-pound loaf, or 9 3-10 cents a pound. London is one of the exceptions, the price here being 13 cents for a 1½-pound loaf, or 8 7-10 cents a pound. The report leaves a further impression that the price of bread would be lowered owing to reductions in the price of flour. Such may be the case, where bread sells for 14 cents, but as far as London and other towns where 13 cents is the prevailing price is concerned flour will have to drop as much as it has already dropped before it will be possible to consider the further lowering of prices. The only way that the 13-cent price has been maintained in this city is because we and other bakers have carried large stocks of flour which was bought prior to the last big increase. We felt that as we had a margin on our sales at the price we bought flour it was our duty to give the public the benefit of our wise buying and the 13-cent loaf was the result.

Mr. Parnell leaves this week for Toronto attend the meeting of the boards of trade and the chambers of commerce of the Empire, as a delegate from Winnipeg, and on the 23rd of September he is to address the National Association of the Baking Industry on his impressions on trade and labor conditions in Australia, at Atlantic City, where a convention of North American bakers is to be held.

"SHABBY TREATMENT" DECLARES EXHIBITOR

Citizen Criticizes Treatment Dog Owners Are Getting At Fair.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

With the announecment of the opening of the Western Fair one will note, if they read carefully, the charge for admission has been increased to 50 cents. Why? Is the Fair going to be twice as good as in previous years. We hope so, but in the meantime we will reserve judgment. The Toronto Fair this year was a decided improvement over other years, but the admission remained the same, namely, 25 cents.

We will review one department—the dog show. This year I have it on good authority that there will be less than 150 dogs benched. Again we ask, why? Here is one reason: Shabby treatment of dog owners at large. This year the dog owner has the privilege of paying 50 cents admission if he or she wishes to dine at home and return to the show to exercise their dogs and water them after the evening meal. Of course, you need not pay the half-dollar if you care to leave your dog tied up from 6 o'clock p.m. until 8 or 9 o'clock next morning. But what dog lover would care to do that?

I think the voters of London showed considerable judgment in turning down last January the Fair extension bylaw until such time as there is a house-cleaning among the powers that be of the Western Fair board, and we are not overlooking the fact that this year the Dominion Government gave a sizeable grant for the Fair's betterment. I think the citizens of London are entitled to some explanation.

In making this criticism I wish it understood that there is not the slightest complaint against the superintendent of the show, who has always been most courteous and obliging.

JOHN D. EGAN.

ONLY REAL PEACE IS PEACE WITH GOD

If People Believed As Paul, No Seeking After Mushroom Life.

"If people believed as Paul did when he spoke of living in the peace of God and a spirit of thanksgiving, there would not be so many folks running after a mushroom variety of life, as there are today," declared Rev. D. C. MacGregor at the morning service in St. Andrew's Church yesterday. "This is no pious platitude of St. Paul's, but a real experience. And such peace as he refers to is the only real peace. Riches give a certain amount of peace, in that the mind has no longer to worry about starvation in the future. Health also brings a certain kind of peace. Christian Science brings a certain form of temporary peace when it induces its believer to think that the troubles which harass him do not exist. But none of these forms of peace are between God and man. Real peace is not a state of rest or passivity. It is intensely active, but like a great machine, where every part works in harmony with every other part."

At the evening service Mr. MacGregor took for his subject "The True Test of Life," showing how life cannot be great until its ultimate end is known; that youth cannot afford to be thoughtless, because its greatness consists in working toward some ultimate end.

As a result many subscribers throughout the surrounding district were deprived of their usual copy, because of the impossibility of making connections with the trains. Repairs were effected quickly enough to deal with most of the edition.

MOTHER SCREAMS AS LAD IS REMANDED

Boy Was Charged With Having Stolen a Bicycle.

John Lavin pleaded guilty in police court this morning when charged with disorderly conduct, having created a disturbance when told to move on by a constable on Dundas street last night.

"I might [illegible] had a little, your honor," he admitted, "and I am very sorry."

On promising to go back to work at once he was allowed his freedom.

A local juvenile, charged with stealing a bicycle from Roy Adams, a local parcel boy, last Thursday, was remanded one week for sentence. When the remand was announced the prisoner's mother rushed screaming down Carling street.

Breeches of the motor vehicle act cost T. W. Kirk and John Hayman a five-spot and costs each, while Earl Dodds, Frank Floynsk and John Hayman paid $2 and costs for breaking city bylaws.

YOUTHS MAKE ESCAPE FROM AYLMER JAIL

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Sept. 13.—Stanley Chappelle and Roy Roberts, St. Thomas, arrested on Saturday, charged with the theft of an auto in Hamilton, escaped from the Aylmer jail last night. Chappelle and Roberts are alleged to have been the parties who broke into John Leitch's garage some nights ago and stole a car belonging to Mr. Price of St. Thomas, which they left in Hamilton and fled to Niagara Falls. Some weeks ago Chappelle, who was locked up in Aylmer jail for a similar offense, escaped, but was recaptured.

BUILDING FORGES STEADILY AHEAD

Permits Issued To Housing Commission For Seven New Residences.

Building figures for September have already passed the mark reached in the ninth month last year, and are now well on the way to overtake the set back received when the August figures of this year fall below those of August, 1919. Seven permits issued to the London housing commission made a big advance in the total today.

Forty-seven permits have been issued to date, involving an aggregate amount of building of $155,335. This is $6,125 in excess of the total of $149,210 in September last year. The total for 1919 to the end of August was $1,586,655, while to the end of August this year it was only $1,249,340, leaving a difference of $337,315 to be overcome by the end of the year, if the 1920 figures are to equal those of last year.

As September has now passed the total of the same month in 1920 every dollar's worth of building commenced from today will do its share in reducing the lead, and Building Inspector A. M. Piper is confident that by the end of the year he will equal, if he does not surpass the previous year's total, which was a record. This year's figures kept steadily ahead until August.

The housing commission permits issued today involve an expenditure of $29,000. The houses were designed by H. C. McBride. They are to be built by Hayman & Mills. All will be located on Pine avenue. There will be two one-story frame dwellings, costing $3,000 each; two plaster-stucco houses costing the same amount each; one plaster-stucco house, costing $3,400, and two frame dwellings, costing $3,400 each.

The Parnell Baking Company has taken out a permit to build a one-story brick garage to cost $1,000.

VAG SAYS HE IS ON HIS WAY TO SWEDEN

In the Meantime He Is Guest of Governor Carter.

J. P. Hakanson of Detroit, who stated that he formerly served in the Canadian army, appeared in police court today, charged with vagrancy, and was remanded to jail for one week. "I was arrested as a suspicious character, and I am going to Sweden," he declared.

Samuel Spickett, who faced a similar charge and obtained a similar remand, stated that he left Brantford because "I did not like the place." He slept in the Grand Trunk station here for several nights, and was seen trying the rear entrances of business establishments in the vicinity. The youth admitted that he had no home, and was urged by the court to impart information to the authorities during the next week, regarding the whereabouts of relatives, failing which a jail term would be meted out.

A youth pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. "What's going to be the end of it," said Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon to the 17-year-old prisoner. "you are up here all time, and your parents have no control of you."

"Well," replied the accused, "the policeman is not going to tell me when to go home."

"I told him to go home at 1 o'clock in the morning," said Constable William Gow, "and he said he was not going to be bulldozed by a cop."

"He started to bulldoze me," said the youth.

Here the youth's older brother inquired why his parents were not notified of the arrest, to which the magistrate replied that it was not necessary.

"If the boy was arrested for anything that you could fine him for, you would soon let his father know," said the brother. "He is a ratepayer. Lot's of the police are malicious, you know." He was ordered to be quiet by the court, and the youth was allowed to go

ROSH HOSHANNA FEAST TODAY

Jewish New Year Is Being Celebrated Throughout World.

The feast of Rosh Hoshanna, or the Jewish New Year is being celebrated by the Jewish citizens of the city today and on Tuesday. In the Jewish Church the Rosh Hoshanna marks the anniversary of the creation of the world supposed to have taken place 5,680 years ago. The celebration today marks the beginning of the year 5,681.

This feast day in the Jewish Church is also known as the Day of the Memorial or the Day of Blowing the Trumpet. A holiday is granted to all Jews during the celebration and feasts are being held in Jewish homes throughout the city. The observance of the Rosh Hoshanna is noted in the book of Leviticus in the 23rd chapter and the 24th and 25th verses. In these verses it is read that no Jew shall engage himself in any occupation and that trumpets shall be blown.

The first special service was held in the Wellington Street Synagogue on Sunday evening. Feasting and making merry will occupy the time of Jewish citizens today, and tomorrow another special religious service will be held, closing the feast.

MACSWINEY REPORTED

hunger strikers may be expected at any time, the dispatch says they may not succumb for several days.

TRAM EMPLOYEES PRAY FOR MACSWINEY

Dublin, Sept. 11.—This city was without tram car service between 10 a.m. and noon today. All traffic on the lines was suspended to enable the employees to attend a mass for Mayor MacSwiney of Cork.

PRISON DOCTORS ARE LOOKING FOR DEATHS OF HUNGER STRIKERS

Cork, Sept. 12.—Seven of the eleven hunger strikers in Cork jail appeared today to be in a critical condition. They are Sean Hennessy, the 19-year-old youth; Joseph Murphy, whose status as a citizen of the United States is being investigated; Thomas Donovan, Michael Burke, Upton, Bower and Kenny.

Hennessy still was unconscious today and the others were so weak that they were hardly able to articulate. Murphy has a troublesome cough, which he refuses to permit the doctors or nuns to do anything to alleviate.

The physicians today confirmed that John Hennessy, father of Sean Hennessy, had altered his decision to permit the nuns to endeavor to keep his son alive. His change of mind came shortly after he had granted permission to allow the nuns to use the means suggested by the physicians. It appears that young Hennessy regained consciousness for a short interval directly after the father had reluctantly consented to the plea of Harold Barry, former high sheriff of Cork, and that the old man was fearful of being put in the attitude technically of disregarding his boy's last conscious injunction. Mr. Hennessy had placed the greatest hopes in the efforts Mr. Barry was making to obtain his son's release, and last evening when a reprieve was not forthcoming he became hysterical. The prison doctors are treating him.

Looks For Death.

"How much longer can they last?" the correspondent asked of the physicians today. Both of them shook their heads.

"What is the attitude of the prisoners?" was then asked of them.

"They will to die," answered Dr. Battiscombe. "This is due perhaps to the extreme exhaustion of their physical forces. I think they feel that death would relieve thm."

"Suppose they were released?"

"There is no doubt in my mind," replied Dr. Battiscombe, "that the psychological effect on them of their release would be great."

The doctors went on to say that they were not aware of any medical record of death through a direct hunger strike. They asserted that from the professional viewpoint these cases would be of great interest were the doctors permitted to make a free observation of the patients and if they could make a satisfactory daily record of their condition. The doctors recalled the fact that an Irish political prisoner, Thomas Ashe, who was on a hunger strike in Mountjoy Prison, Dublin, in 1917, died several days after he was released, but that his death was attributed to the effects of forcible feeding.

HUNGER STRIKERS WEAKER.

Cork, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press).—The eleven hunger strikers in the Cork jail were still alive today, but all of them were materially weaker. Two of the striking prisoners, Michael Burke and Kenny, collapsed twice during the night, and their condition is causing especial anxiety.

Sean Hennessy, the 19-year-old youth, whose condition has been so grave for several days, remains in a comatose state, and in his semi-conscious moments he is refusing to take the customary quantity of water. During last night he accepted only two sips.

All of the eleven strikers are becoming very restless, which, according to the doctors, is a new and not reassuring phase of their cases.

It was learned today that both the Government physicians, Dr. Pearson and Dr. Battiscombe, had received death threats.

LOCAL NEWS

GOING IN TRAINING.—Miss Maude E. Paddington, who has been a popular member of Victoria Hospital office staff for some time, will leave tomorrow for Buffalo. She intends to take a course of training in the city hospital there.

—Miss Jessie Ruse of the city treasury staff, has returned from a pleasant two weeks' vacation spent on the Great Lakes.

FINED FOR ASSAULT.—William Johnston, of Westminster Township was convicted by Squire W. H. Chittick in the county court today of having assaulted Joseph Templeton of the same municipality on Thursday last, and was fined $2 and costs. The assault, which included a black eye presentation, emanated from a loan of dishes made between the two parties.

BICYCLE THEFTS.—The police are receiving numerous complaints regarding bicycle thefts. Many boys are in the habit of leaving their wheels in front of theatres for hours at a time, unlocked. As they seldom know the serial number on their wheels it is difficult for the police to locate them after they have been stolen. Detective Nickle says that it is advisable that when wheels are left on the streets for any length of time that they be locked. This, he says, will save owners from probable loss and the police a great deal of trouble.

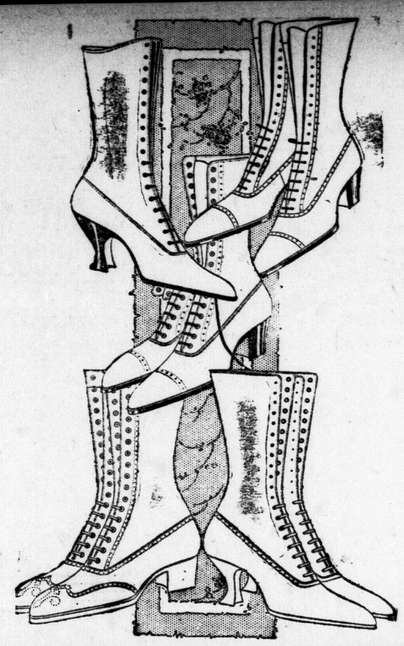

FOUND BALLOON.—While walking through the jail garden on Saturday afternoon, Governor James Carter discovered a large red balloon, the rope of which was caught in the plants. Printed on the balloon are the words "Philadelphia, Pa.," and the find may have proceeded here from that city on the breeze. According to the governor he mistook the object for a large pumpkin, but these vegetables as a rule do not bounce up and down in the garden, and hence the investigation. If no one claims the balloon the governor will keep it as a souvenir.

OIL CART ABLAZE.—Bursting into flame and fame at the same time, one of the city oil carts was responsible for the entire fire brigade being called to Wellington and Hyman streets today. Only a small chemical extinguisher was required to end the excitement. Little damage was done to the cart. The horses were released before there was any possibility of their being injured, and the driver escaped without harm. The fire was caused by the heating apparatus used to thin the oil so that it will spread more rapidly. Similar accidents have occurred with other carts this summer.

TWELVE FROM LONDON.—Twelve out of the 62 who received certificates as corps cadets of the Salvation Army in exams. held recently are from the city. These examinations are held four times a year and the last was given in June. The results were announced Saturday. The object of the Army in these tests is to develop young men and women as officers. The tests include all work required by Salvation Army officers and the results show that all taking the tests are greatly interested in the work. Out of 89 who tried in this district fourteen passed with first-class honors. All those from the city passed. Other cities and towns in Western Ontario, where tests were conducted are St. Thomas, Sarnia, Windsor, Woodstock, Owen Sound, Chatham, Tillsonburg, Wallaceburg, Ingersoll, Leamington and Forest.

Watch Hydro Do the Housework at the Fair---

The Hydro Shop invites you to its exhibit of electrical labor-saving devices in the annex to the Crystal Palace at the Western Fair. Almost everybody in this part of Ontario uses hydro power in some way or other. Everybody should use it to lessen the work in the home.

At the Fair you may see it wash the clothes, sweep the floor, do the ironing and sewing, and a score of other jobs which usually fall on the shoulders of the housewife.

Not only do you save labor, but you save money when you use electricity to do the housework. The Hydro Shop would like to talk with you about convenient terms of payment, which makes it possible for everybody to own a washer, sweeper, ironer, sewing machine, or, in fact, any other of the many standard labor-savers now on the market.

GOOD RESULTS ARE EXPECTED FROM WELL

Every Indication That Strike On Carling Heights Is a Find.

Further investigations today at Carling Heights, where the public utilities commission struck water, after several weeks of drilling, have revealed the fact that there is a large bed of water-bearing gravel, which promises a good supply of clear water. A. O. Hunt, assistant general manager for the commission, emphasized the fact that no positive statement on the capacity of the bed could be made until a pump had been installed, and a thorough test effected.

Preparation for doing this are proceeding rapidly. It is expected that a pump will be installed and ready for use by Wednesday, and that an official report will be made soon after that.

Water was struck last week. Investigations today were for the purpose of learning the depth of the gravel bed. it proved to be about seven feet. The gravel is three-quarter-inch mesh, and much larger than that which has been struck in previous drillings.

If pumping proves that the strike is a valuable one, more wells will be drilled. Mr. Hunt is particularly pleased that water has been found at this high level, as it will be an easy matter to distribute it, should there be a sufficient supply to warrant permanent wells.

The well in which the pump is being installed is located a short distance east of the Oxford street entrance to the heights.

SMILLIE DENIES

MINERS' OFFICIALS TO MEET IN LONDON

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 12. — The Trades Union Congress concluded its session here yesterday without any intervention in the coal crisis. Most of the labor leaders, including the miners' delegation, left by afternoon trains, and the scene of operations will again be transferred to London, where the miners' executive will meet early this week.

The triple alliance, composed of the miners, railwaymen and transport-workers, will also be called together again, it is said, before the miners' notices expire on September 25. Whether the parliamentary committee of the Trades Union Congress will make a definite move is regarded as problematical.

The restraint exercised by the congress delegates this week, and their reluctance to propose mediation are considered due to the feeling that no useful purpose would be served at present by outside interference between the miners and the Government.

ANOTHER GENERAL STRIKE THREATENS

LONDON, Sept. 12. — London is threatened with a general strike next Saturday of all the electrical engineers, which would mean the complete tying up of all the street car and underground railway systems and industries depending on electric power. Twenty-five thousand men are involved.

The Electrical Union yesterday decided to hand in a seven-day strike notice in sympathy with the employees of an electrical machinery works, who are out owing to a stike in a Sheffield factory. This strike is in protest against the continuation in the firm's employment of a man who upon his promotion to foreman resigned from the union.

SEE NO HOPE OF AVERTING TROUBLE

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(By the Canadian Associated Press).—The week-end has brought no relaxation in the tension due to the threatened strike of coal miners, and though the public shows no fear of a strike, no hope is apparent of averting the trouble.

Premier Lloyd George supports firmly the official attitude and after a consultation with him on Saturday, Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade, issued a statement, pointing out that the miners refuse to submit the wage demands to a competent court, and declaring that the country was menaced by an industrial strike for political ends.

Strike notices were given out on Saturday.

The miners' executive meets on Tuesday. Meanwhile, the food controller intimates that in the event of a strike prompt measures will be taken to restrict food consumption.

RIDOUT ST. BRIDGE TO BE REPLANKED

Material Arrives and Work Will Be Rushed.

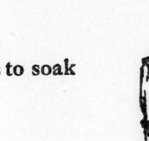

Another phase in the stormy history of the Ridout street bridge was opened today with the announcement by City Engineer H. A. Brazier that material for replanking the structure is on its way to the city. With shipping facilities in their present condition he was unable to say when it would arrive, but expected that it would do so in time to have the work completed before the snow flies.

Replanking was the course decided upon by the city council after a proposal to build a concrete bridge was voted down last January. City Engineer Brazier stated that this would lessen the jar on the bridge somewhat, but would not make it safe for traffic more than four tons in weight. The council decided that this was all that could be done, as a proposal for a steel bridge of less cost than the proposed concrete bridge was turned down by the Legislature when an appeal was made in the London bill.

"CHILDREN'S DAY" AT FAIR BIG SUCCESS

Throngs of Youngsters Took Advantage of the Special Rates.

Although today has been designated as children's day by the Western Fair board, it is not recognized as such by the board of education, R. M. McIlheran, secretary of the board, stated. Thursday and Friday of this week were declared school holidays by the board in order that the children could attend the exhibition.

Trustees said that this had invariably been the custom of the board in the past as it caused less serious interference with the studies and gave the pupils an opportunity to see the exhibition in full swing instead of in its early stages.

Pupils of Lord Roberts and Alexandra public schools will be able to take advantage of today's special rates for children. Because these school buildings are being used for high school classes as well, public school pupils are free for the day at 1 o'clock.

Twenty bottles of porter were found in a private room in the hotel by the Government detectives, which Gilmore insisted had been prescribed for his wife by a local doctor. Gilmore, however, acknowledged he had purchased the liquor direct from a London brewer.

SAYS HOME FOR BOYS IS NEEDED

Businessmen Urged To Take More Interest in Boys' Work.

That London is badly in need of a club house for boys was shown by figures presented by C. J. Atkinson of New York at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Tecumseh House today. He stated that there was a population of 60,000 in London, and at that rate, there were 6,000 boys. In an estimate which he claimed exaggerated, 500 boys belonged to the "Y," 200 to the Boy Scouts, 900 to the Canadian Standard Efficiency Training department, 150 to the Boys' Naval Brigade and 250 to the Catholic and the Jewish organizations, a total of 2,000.

"Where are the other 4,000?" asked Mr. Atkinson.

"The boy is worth as much to a man as his building," said Mr. Atkinson, in his opening remarks. It has been said that our forests are protected, our hogs inspected and boys neglected. There are 60 men in the city protecting buildings from fire and not nearly half that number protecting the boy. The boy is worth more to his father than his millions.

Are No Better Off.

"However, in many cases the sons of wealthy men are just as badly off as the under-privileged boy. They are not made to go out and plug for themselves, and the boy that does this is the kind of boy that London and all Canada wants.

"It is hard for the under-privileged boy to keep company with the better class. We, as Rotarians, must overcome this and get a home where all the boys can get together and keep in such a condition that in the years to come they may turn out to be men of wonderful physique and ability.

Home Is Needed.

"London has a bigger juvenile court than Toronto. This is taken on the average, and this alone is sufficient to show that a home of this sort is needed in London. Ninety per cent of the boys who appear in the juvenile court here are of the under-privileged class. These are the kind of boys we want.

If my plans are carried out a clubhouse will be built where all boys can get together and receive training that will fit them to become great thinkers and men who are able to go out in the world and become real British citizens. We will take the poor boy into this club, because he is the kind we want. If he is unable to pay his fees why we can arrange for him to come in and sweep floors and do general work around the building.

"I think that I will get the results I want out of this trip, an I hope that you, as Rotarians, will help me to the best of your ability," concluded Mr. Atkinson.

Tells of Training.

Taylor Statten, secretary of the National Boys' Work Board, spoke on the training of the boy.

"The work amongst the boys is only beginning," said Mr. Statten. "Now is the time to get together and push this so that we may get the best of results and stand out among all the other countries as the best country for the boy.

"It is for the best interests of the country that we do this. See how Germany came out of the great war after treating the boys as she did. We must train the boy to get away from selfishness. Service above self should be the motto, and when this is accomplished and not until then can we be the prosperous nation we should be.

"We must utilize the leisure hours of the boy. Those are the hours when his character is formed for either evil or good. His off-time must be capitalized. We can do away with the "gangs." This is where the boy gets bad influences.

"The only way we can make use of our chance is to have a non-denominational club, called the Federal Boys' Club. The object of this club will be to all come together as a Canadian boy life movement. With this, every boy in London will get a square deal. Team play and enthusiasm amongst the churches where he can go because he wants to go will be the only solution to make the boy unselfish."

RED HOT DISCUSSION

Rollo declared, were those who were in it. If they allowed dissension to break their ranks they were playing into the hands of the enemies of labor.

The present Ontario Government, he declared, amid much applause, would give the manufacturers and financial interests greater consideration than their representatives had given the farmers and wage-earners when they were in power. The Government did things above-board and honestly. If they made mistakes it would be from lack of knowledge of their duty or lack of experience as legislators. There was talk of big interests influencing members of the Government, but no big interest had made any effort to bring pressure to bear on the cabinet. He had seen no representative of "big interests" since the House adjourned, and in the House he only saw the representative of the C. P. R. there for six weeks trying to defeat amendments to the workmen's compensation act.

He apologized for the inability of Premier Drury to attend, and said it would be necessary for the Trades and Labor Congress to dig up some new planks, as the Provincial Government were adopting all the suggestions for progressive legislation they were advancing, and pleaded to give the Government a chance to make good, asking the delegates to remember that if the Government did not give all they asked it would give as much as it could.

Moore Acknowledges Welcome.

President Tom Moore acknowledged the welcome on behalf of the delegates and declared the convention open. He counselled moderation in discussion of contentious resolutions, which would come up, and declared that those best able to speak of the trades union movement were those who were in it.

Resolutions recently passed by the Toronto District Trades Council, relative to non-interference in the Russian-Polish trouble, self determination for Ireland, and censuring Britain for holding Mayor MacSwiney of Cork in Brixton Prison, which were forwarded to the trades congress here, are reported not to have reached their destination.

Windsor, Sept. 13.—Most of the delegates, representing trades and laboras, the English Government, by military organizations from every important centre in Canada were on hand this morning, when the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada opened in the armories, with Tom Moore, the president, in the chair. Routine business took up the early hours of today's session, but one of the chief events of the convention will be this afternoon, when Hon. Arthur Meighen, premier of Canada, is scehduled to deliver an address, in which he is expected to state the attitude of the Government on certain questions in which organized labor is interested. The premier is to arrive in the city at 2 o'clock, and is expected to reach the convention hall and start speaking by 2:45.

Included in the 85 resolutions to be submitted to the committee, which have been forwarded by various trades and labor organizations, are a number likely to precipitate a heated controversy.

These resolutions touch on practically every topic of public interest, ranging from the Irish question to profiteering, from the little affair between soviet Russia and Poland to the amendment of the Lord's Day act.

Irish Resolution.

The Irish question is to be introduced in resolutions No. 63, which owes its paternity to John Thompson, Lodge 711, I. A. of M. It asks that the delegaes place themselves on record:

"As recognizing the rights of Irish people, to self determination, and who have by an overwhelming majority established the Irish republic; and, whereprocess, is doing all it can to destroy the republican form of government in Ireland; be it resolved, that we condemn the action taken by the English Government of sending in the military to shoot down a defenceless people; and whereas, we demand the instant withdrawal of the army of occupation and allow the Irish people to guide their own destinies as proclaimed in President Wilson's bulletin incident to his fourteen points, whereby all peoples shall have the right to choose their own form of government; be it further resolved, that we petition the workers of Great Britain, through their own labor party, to see that no material for use in warfare is handled by the workers, we also plead to the workers through the trades union movement to refrain from joining the service to go over to Ireland to shoot down their fellow workers, because they have the courage of their convictions in demanding the right to self determination; be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be mailed to President De Vaalera, one to the leader of the labor party in England, also copies to be forwarded to the press."

Polish-Russian Resolution.

Then the Edmonton trades and labor council in the next resolution on the list intimates that the truth is not being told by the press regarding the trouble between Russia and Poland, suggesting that:

"Whereas, for some weeks past, the capitalist press of Canada and Great Britain, has carried on a campaign of insidious propaganda regarding the Polish-Russian situation, and, whereas, by this propaganda the true facts of this war of aggression by imperialist Poland was made to appear that soviet Russia were the aggressors, and, whereas, this misleading of the public mind had for its object the obtaining of the moral and material support of the peoples of the British Empire in favor of Poland, in its war of conquest against the Russian people and, whereas, this campaign of misrepresentation did not abate, before British labor asserted itself in no uncertain manner, therefore, be it resolved that this trades and labor council of the city of Edmonton, indorse the stand of British labor in its attitude against interfering in the affairs of the Russian people. It is further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Trades Congress of Canada in convention, for their indorsation."

The high cost of living is brought to the attention of the congress of Inverness Council, No. 4512, United Council of Workers, with a ersolution in which the opinion is expressed that high prices at present are due in no small measure to unjust and iniquitous profiteering," and asks:

"The Federal Government, whose function it is to legislate for the common weal, to enact and enforce such rigid legislation as may be necessary to eliminate profiteering and to prevent both corporations and individuals from realizing excessive profits."

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction

Judge by the Tone

—that is the way to select a phonograph

ALL makes of phonographs are not alike. Phonographs differ because of different methods of reproduction. Each make has its method.

But time has brought many advancements. New-day phonographs bring all that is best.

The House of Brunswick has introduced several dominant betterments. First came the Ultona, our all-record reproducer. It brought a phonograph that would play all records at their best. Previously, each phonograph favored only its own make of records. That meant limitations or bothersome attachments to the record.

At a turn of the hand the Ultona presents the proper needle, the proper diaphragm. No makeshift attachments are necessary, no compromises in tone results. The Ultona brings out all the shadings of reproduction for transmittal to the amplifier.

Here, again, is a new conception. We introduced an all-wood, moulded, oval amplifier, connecting directly with the tone arm, with no cast metal throat between.

This brings full tones, non-metallic. It conforms with acoustic laws. It brings a new naturalness, greater reality. Our aim is for finest tone.

So we ask you to hear The Brunswick first — before you decide. You'll recognize instantly its betterments. Your idea of tone will change. You will realize that great advancements have taken place.

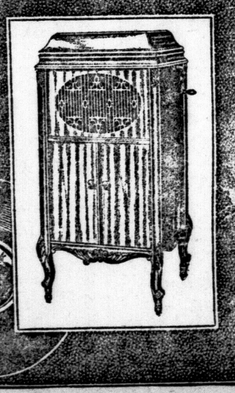

We suggest also that you hear Brunswick Records, which likewise bring improvements. You'll want to add some to your collection. Brunswick Records can be played on any phonograph with steel or fibre needle.

HAVOC TRAILS STORM OVER NIAGARA BELT

Worst Wind and Hail Tempest Sweeps Fruit-Growing Section.

DAMAGE UNKNOWN YET

Residents Fear End of World As Trees Snap—All Communications Are Cut.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 12.—The worst wind and hail storm that has ever visited the Niagara fruit belt swept over one portion of it on Saturday afternoon and caused a toal loss to some growers. The destruction took place in a narrow area of about a half a mile in width and about five miles in length, west of Port Weller along the south shores of Lake Ontario. As telephone connection between the fruit growers in that section is demoralized the extent of the damage done will not be known for at least two days.

About 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon two storms, one from the northeast and the other from the southwest, converged between St. Catharines and the lake, and a disturbance ensued, the like of which has not been seen since the tornadoes of 1898 and 1902. Almost complete darkness followed, causing many to think the end of the world had come. Trees and telephone poles were snapped off and orchards were completely dismantled, merely the trunks of trees whose branches a few moments earlier were bending beneath their weight of fruit being left standing.

Only Barren Posts.

Vineyards, which were heavily laden with grapes yesterday, are today nothing but barren posts and wires, even the vines being scripped off. Corn fields in the path of the storm are today mere stalks, bereft of cobs and foliage, even the stalks in some cases being riddled with hail until portions of the stalks hang like ribbons. Melon patches were transformed into areas of garbage with the vines missing, while crops of onions were torn out of the ground.

The greatest damage appears to have been to peaches and grapes, nearly all of the latter remaining uncut, while great quantities of late peaches had been unpicked.

Estimates Heavy Loss.

As an example of the damage in the path of the storm, George Walker of Grantham estimates his loss at $10,000. The hail cut pieces out of the apples in his orchard.

W. S. Bunting of Grantham is another fruit grower who lost about $10,000, as a result of the storm.

Orchards and fields from Port Weller to a point some distance beyond Port Dalhousie are with few exceptions almost totally ruined.

Incomplete reports of damage in Louth Township are also coming in. In the village of Port Dalhousie dozens of shade trees were felled on the main street. The electric light system there was put out of commission, and the trolley service between St. Catharines and the N. S. and T. Navigation Line at Port Dalhousie were interrupted for some time.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN NIAGARA FALLS

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 12.—The severest storm of the season hit Niagara Falls, Ont., on Saturday and did considerable damage, but fortunately no person was injured, so far as is known. There were several narrow escapes, especially in Queen Victoria Park, where many persons took shelter beneath the trees.

Queen Victoria Park today presented a scene of devastation. Hundreds of fine trees were uprooted and broken off. Power and light standards were bent like putty and were lying flat on the ground. Heavy limbs were scattered over the ground of the park and in Niagara Falls hundreds of trees were felled by the storm and all the streets were littered by tree trunks and heavy limbs. Century old trees at Lundy's Lane were torn out of the ground.

The factory of the Niagara Canning Company, a branch of the Dominion Canners, was unroofed and large sections of the roof were carried hundreds of feet away. The roof was struck by lightning and the storm wrecked the upper story. The loss on the building was about $20,000 besides.

The streets of this city became raging torrents and metal was stripped off some of the steeper slopes. Power, telephone and telegraph lines were down all over the district and it may be a week before all the telephone lines can be restored.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., is also badly battered. The state reservation is in as bad condition as Queen Victoria Park. Several windows of the stores there were blown in.

WHEAT GRADES HIGH.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—Less than 25 per cent of the wheat crop of the west will grade under No. 3 northern, according to the final estimate of Northwest Grain Dealers' Association, which was issued today. The total wheat crop is estimated at 213,245,000 bushels for Manitoba, Saskatoon and Alberta, as against 160,701,000 in 1919. The estimated yield per acre is 15.2 bushels.

GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO STAY RULING

Meighen Administration Declines To Move in Railway Rate Order.

TODAY SEES ADVANCE

Cabinet Will Hear Appeals, States Official Announcement Issued At Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—(Canadian Press)—The Dominion Government in an official statement handed out tonight declines to grant a stay in the ruling of the board of railway commissioners granting the railways the right of increasing their freight, passenger and sleeping car rates. The order goes into effect tomorrow. The Government, however, recognizes the right of appeal against the ruling and will facilitate in every way the early hearing of the appeal.

The Government statement follows:

Telegrams have been received from different parts of the country protesting against the judgment of the board of railway commissioners granting a general increase in railway rates and requesting that the action of the board should be first suspended and afterwards set aside by the Government. Many of the wires received would indicate that a belief exists in certain parts of the country that the board of railway commissioners is merely a department of the government service. This is not the case, and it is important that the right position be stated.

Control of Railways.

In 1903 Parliament decided that the control of railways was to be removed from direct departmental and political interference, and provision was made for a board of railway commissioners. The board was subsequently constituted and has since discharged the statutory and judicial functions assigned to it in a manner undoubtedly on the whole in the public interest, and to the acceptation of the people. It has not been interfered with by this or any other government. Instead of being a mere governmental department the board is, by statute, constituted a court, and has the right, privileges and independence of a court.

The act, however, provides for an appeal to the governor-in-council and reserves the right for the governor-in-council, on such appeals, to vary or rescind any order, rule or decision of the board. The practice that has grown up under this rule is well settled. The decisions of the board cannot be lightly interfered with. As a matter of fact, since the board commenced its operations no judgment of the board has been set aside by the governor-in-council. In no case of the importance of the present, it undoubtedly becomes the duty of the governor-in-council to go carefully into the whole of the issue, to hear the arguments that may be made and after becoming seized of the whole matter to dispose of the appeal, having regard to the under-lying principles of the railway act, the rights of shippers, the rights of carriers and the underlying national interests.

Question of Stay.

The question of a stay of the board's judgment has been as carefully considered as the very short time at the Government's disposal renders possible. The board's judgment goes into effect on Monday, the 13th inst. The Government has had before it the complete judgment of the railway commission embodying references to the evidence and the reasons for judgment. This has been carefully studied. As against this there have been, and, of course, could be presented, only brief contentions by way of protest. The judgment finds that the relief granted is necessary and should be applied at once, and after the hearing of evidence and arguments on both sides a suspension means more or less indefinite postponement, and if the judgment is right would render impossible the remedying of any injustice so done. The judgment of the commissioners, which it should be pointed out, is unanimous, being concurred in by all the commissioners who sat upon the case, further indicates that the objections now urged were taken into account and emphasizes that such objections went to the measure of relief that ought to be granted rather than to the claim that no increase shot l be made.

United States Decision.

The official judgment of the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States has, as well, been available for reference. This judgment, it may be noted, is now in force. A perusal of this judgment discloses that more general and in many cases heavier increases have been granted to railways in that country. For example, on coal the Interstate Commerce Commission has increased the rate 35 per cent in western territory, and 40 per cent in eastern territory. In Canada the rates on coal are increased 10 cents a ton on all existing rates not exceeding 80 cents, an increase of 15 cents on all rates over 80 cents a ton and not exceeding $1.50 a ton; and 20 cents a ton on all existing rates over $1.50 a ton. It will be noted the increase in Canada is very considerably the lower. Coal constitutes a large part of the total traffic of Canadian carriers. The rates on sand, gravel and crushed stone in the United States have been increased 40 per cent for the eastern territory, and 35 per cent in the western. In Canada no increase whatever is allowed. On cordwood, slabs, and mill refuse used for domestic fuel the same increase has been granted in the United States, while in Canada the increase is held down to 10 per cent.

The general increases allowed in American territory are reduced in the cost of milk movement, the increase allowed there by the Interstate Commerce Commission being 20 per cent. In Canadia no increase whatever is allowed.

Over and above this, the increases in the United States are not limited as to time in the manner as to which increases in Canada are. The general increase of 35 per cent in western territory and 40 per cent in eastern territory allowed by the Canadian board are reduced under the judgment, to 30 per cent and 35 per cent effective January 1, next, and in addition, the railway companies are bound to submit monthly statements so that their earnings may be checked up and reductions made in rates in case the rates allowed prove unnecessarily high.

Passenger Increase.

It should also be noted that the increase in passenger rates is also limited. In the American territory the increase is 20 per cent; in Canada the increase is 20 per cent, but in Canada the increase is to be reduced to 10 per cent, effective January 1, next and July 1, next, the increase is cancelled altogether. No similar limitations are made in the American order.

The above references are such merely as have been open to the ascrtainment of the Government in the short time intervening before the date fixed for the application of the commission's order. They have been deemed as necessary to be taken into account when the Government is asked to take responsibility for the confusion and possibly the injustice that may be done at this date by interfering with the commission's order to suspend its application.

The whole subject can, however, be fully gone into on appeal. Every facility will be given to argue the merits of all contentions advanced and to review the entire order. If it should appear to be a case where the appeal should be granted and the decision modified or reserved there could, if deemed proper, be provision for rebates of rates charged beyond those ultimately fixed.

BODY OF FARMER IS RECOVERED ON SHORE; INQUEST TO FOLLOW

HAMILTON, Sept. 12.—With a deep knife wound on the inner surface of the left arm near the radial artery and a knife said to have been bloodstained found in one of his pockets, also $4 in loose change, the body of Thomas Milburn Matthews, a farmer of Stoney Creek, Ont., was recovered from the water on the lakeshore near the waterworks on Burlington Beach on Saturday afternoon. An inquest will be held.

FLYNN SCORES PENSION BOARD AND GOVERNMENT

Brantford, Sept. 12.—Speaking to a crowded meeting of returned soldiers, under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans Association here this afternoon Harry J. Flynn made bitter attacks on the pensions board and the Union Government, with reference to the treatment of returned soldiers.

The motto of the Union Government he described as being "to him who hath much shall be given, and to him who hath not, shall be taken away even that which he hath not," Mr. Flynn cited numerous cases of mistreatment and reduction of pensions by the board, evidence of which he claimed to have in his possession, and asserted that Col. Margeson and the members of the pensions board were receiving $6,000 and $7,000 salaries to keep pensions down.

He called upon soldiers throughout the country to organize for the next Federal election, which was coming sooner than they expected, and to throw their support to a Farmer-Labor combination in order to effect the defeat of the Government. He claimed the votes of an organized returned men's movement would constitute a balance of power between the political parties.

Mayor M. M. MacBride also spoke along similar lines, referring with great emphasis to the unredeemed pledges made by the Government in 1917.

CABINET TO FIX DATE OF THANKSVIVING DAY

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—(By Canadian Press).—An order-in-council fixing the date for Thanksgiving Day will be passed at the next sitting of the cabinet, to be held on Tuesday next, it is understood. Monday, October 18, is practically certain to be the date, although there is a possibility that it might be October 11, one week earlier. Last year the holiday fell on Monday, October 13.

HIGH WHEAT PRICE

CALGARY, Sept. 11.—The first carload of this season's Alberta wheat from Coaladale was received here today. It netted the farmer $4,429.98, less 1 per cent commission charges. The car contained 1,702.10 bushels, and the price at which it was sold was $2.77¾. It is believed on the Calgary Exchange that this is a record figure for a carload of wheat.

GUELPH CELLARS FLOODED.

Guelph, Sept. 12.—Guelph was visited Saturday afternoon with the heaviest rainstorm of the season. It arrived just before 2 o'clock and completely flooded the downtown streets, doing considerable damage to goods in store cellars.

IMRIE TAKES OVER HAMILTON TIMES AS HEAD OF SYNDICATE

HAMILTON, Sept. 12.—The Hamilton Times has been purchased by John M. Imrie, manager of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association, Toronto, acting for himself and others associated with him. The properties acquired include the Hamilton Daily Times, the Hamilton Semi-Weekly Times, the Times Job Printing Department and the business of the Canada Ready Print Company.

The new owners took possession today, and the business is being carried on in Mr. Imrie's name, pending the incorporation of a company of which he will be president and general manager. Mr. Imrie will not assume active management until October, when his resignation from his present position will become effective.

The Hamilton Daily Times is one of the older newspapers of Canada, having been established in 1837 as a weekly newspaper. It has been published as a daily newspaper continuously since 1853.

Mr. Imrie has been manager of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association since its organization in December last. Prior to that date he was for nine years manager of the Canadian Press Association, Incorporated.

REFORMISM IS LIBERALISM.

Nicolai Lenine has issued a sort of ukase from his high seat at Moscow to the socialists of France. His commands fall under nine heads. The sixth is one of the most objectionable and is absolutely central. It is that socialists in France and everywhere "must break radically with reformism and free their ranks from elements that do not wish to follow the new revolutionary path."

This path is called "new" not from the standpoint of theory, but of practice. Long ago socialists talked of the sudden, instantaneous, scarlet and contemporaneously comprehensive, universal and complete revolution as the ideal in contrast to the futility of gradual, circuitous and uncertain reform. But suddenly the sudden revolution has become a fact of history in Russia. It seems brewing in Italy. Its leaders at Moscow are now making a tremendous effort to stir world-wide unrest into open revolution. Lenine insists that the time no longer permits words, but is ripe for bombs in every land of modern labor.

It cannot be denied that all Europe is in peril. War-scarred, half-fed, exasperated against the militarist, imperialistic, profiteering commercial classes, regarding them as the bungling, discredited authors of the universal misery, European workingmen begin to believe that they can at last count on the help or at least acquiescence of the peasantry or part of it in a bloody uprising against constitutional government. Envy and class hatred have reached a fearful pitch as a result of war, flaunted wealth, starvation and the improved education of the workingmen. Stokers, furnace workers, mill hands seize upon aristocratic youth in Italian cities and put them for days together at exhausting and dangerous labors, just to make them understand that hereditary privilege must give way to equality of opportunity and perhaps to some of the same passing around of the back-breaking, eye-glistering tasks in peace as has been experienced in war.

One can not deny that as there is a ferocity and insanity in Lenine's denunciation of "reformism," so there is callousness and insanity in the stand-pat selfishness of imperialists, profiteers, the privileged classes generally and their almost equal opposition to reasonable reform. In these days of suspense all should be sufficiently aware of the need of disinterested reconstruction. On the one hand you see the Leninites eager in their "red fool fury" to smash civilization for vengeance on the rich. On the other hand is a band of self-seekers cursing all reformers as wreckers and revolutionaries. Premier Meighen's statesmanship goes just this far. We are happy to think that in America, in Canada, all is well, no danger anywhere. The danger lies in the Meighens, the cabinet with which Mr. Murdock found it impossible to work. What is wanted, in Canada as elsewhere, is "reformism," and that is Liberalism. Meighenism breeds Bolshevism, its opposite and ally against reform and reason; it half persuades even ministers and teachers, intelligent and benevolent men, in sheer desperation amidst rising prices and inadequate pay, to embrace the folly of Lenine.

Referring to the announcement that an American trust had struck a lower scale of prices for the coming season, a commercial man the other day remarked that it might be only a bluff. Manufacturers, he said, would sometimes take orders on a certain scale of prices and then break "contract" by raising them later. The method might be to engineer or even invent a "strike" among their workmen and raise wages a little, on which pretext the "contract" re prices would be declared void.

If this sort of thing is going on, it is imperative to reform taxation in a way to discourage profiteering, to regulate prices fairly to all, and to maintain constitutional government against Bolshevism on the one hand and oligarchic usurpation like that of the Borden-Meighen regime on the other. There is a great opportunity for Liberalism in Canada as in other lands. In the 19th century Liberalism secured the principles of representative and responsible government. It has now to hold fast this gain and to supplement it by using the machinery of popular government for general economic welfare. This the Liberal party in Canada, under a leader who is an eminent economist on both the theoretical and the practical sides, proposes to do, in accordance with the platform adopted in 1919 by a Dominion-wide convention. Reformism menaced in Canada by Meighen plutocracy and denounced by Lenine in Europe is the work that must be accomplished by the overthrow of the sinister ring at Ottawa and by the premiership of Mr. King.

SPOOFING.

We are inclined to think that Dr. Ellis T. Powell, editor of the London Financial News, was "spoofing" the elderly gentlemen of the Empire Club at Toronto when he told them, on the authority of an aged American citizen whom he met before the war, that within the lifetime of the present generation the United States would be making an effort to get back into the British fold.

One can almost picture the sigh of satisfaction that would pass around the Empire Club tables when this prediction was made. But we are inclined to think that Dr. Powell is not quite foolish enough to make the statement that has been attributed to him, and we hope he is not foolish enough even to hope for it. The future of this world would not be the safer for any such amalgamation, however imaginary it may be. But the world will be a whole lot safer for the future if men and women everywhere will speak and work and act in such a way that between the two great countries, Britain and the United States, there will be such real sympathy and brotherly feeling that petty differences may never become grave differences.

In the meantime we doubt if the cause of British-American friendship is going to be advanced by any man, however eminent he may be, getting up before a body of supposedly sensible men and even repeating such foolishness as that the United States will be seeking asylum under the Union Jack in this generation.

DEPOSITS AS CAPITAL.

"A large part of the money deposited in savings banks is lent by the banks to the railroads, manufacturing establishments and municipalities, and it is the amount earned by the banks through these enterprises that enable your bank deposits to grow. Your capital enables the enterprises to do more work and to produce more goods, and that is why they pay interest.

"The capital of the country is not owned chiefly by a few rich men; it is owned chiefly by the common people. It is owned largely by those who hold savings bank deposits and insurance policies, and by those who own a few shares of stock which they have purchased by means of saving, often hard and often almost cruel, that you and others like you have made. Of all railroad stocks in the United States, about 92 per cent are owned by holders of few shares only. The stock of one large railroad is held by more than one hundred thousand owners, and almost half of these are women. Of the stock of another, with twenty-seven thousand holders, and nearly one-half women, more than twelve thousand holders are owners of fewer than eleven shares each. The savings banks of Massachusetts alone hold over one billion dollars of investments of capital in business and government enterprises. The insurance companies of the United States have invested four billion three hundred and fifty millions in enterprises, and this is the property chiefly not of the rich, but of the thrifty common people. The colleges of the country have about $550 invested for each student enrolled, and from the earnings of these investments of capital the colleges are in part supported."

Those who rail against capital should remember that the above extract is true, and they are the greatest sufferers by the high cost of living.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir George Foster calling the United Farmers Bolsheviki should cause them to see red.

Somebody has discovered that certain foods tend to drive the masses to anarchy. A more effectual way is to see they don't get any food.

Mr. Carvell asks us to "cheerfully" pay the increased railway rates. That would be about as easy as for the railways to collect them dolefully.

Conan Doyle says that spirits inform him there is a heating system for domiciles in heaven. But what we want to know it, is there a cooling system for domiciles in the Other Place.

ENOUGH TO FINISH MEIGHEN.

[Brantford Expositor.]

Canadians will do well to remember that Hon. Arthur Meighen, for the base purpose of doubtful political advantage, deliberately fastened six months more of the rum-running era on the Province of Ontario. This is a blot sufficient to mar any hope of political preferment he may have.

THE ALL-BRITISH PRESS.

[London Daily Mail.]

Great Britain, as a charming French critic once pointed out, ought to possess the best of journalists and the best of novelists, because they alone are born into a world-wide connection and come into daily touch with facts and experiences that preclude narrowness. The delegates to the Imperial Press Conference who are at present touring Canada should help us to appreciate those ideal opportunities that the French author envied. Everyone who attended the last congress, held in London in 1909, came away stimulated beyond his expectations. "It is the vitality of you in London that chiefly amazes us," said one of our visitors on that occasion, and we in London felt very much the same in regard to our guests. The vitality of the British press has certainly increased in the interval; and it has become doubly obvious how much good this press may do both to itself and to its world by common acquaintance, by discussion, by travel, and in the sequel, perhaps, by common action. Yet when all is said, the greatest aim of all may be a knowledge of Canada itself. Canada, a land where hospitality of the finest savor flourishes, is almost a half-way house for us to the Antipodes; and from both sides we shall find there ideas and inspirations most fruitful for strengthening imperial and human ties when we return to our home countries after some ten thousand miles of most informative traveling.

A GALLANT COMPANY OF WOMEN.

[Ottawa Journal.]

On the streets of all the larger cities of Canada, in many small towns and villages, out on the prairies, and through distant parts where few men live and fewer women, the blue uniform and black kit bag of the Victorian Order of Nurses are seen every day of the year. Their contribution to the health of the nation has been great, and largely voluntary. While others have talked of the benefits of medical inspection, and the scarcity of doctors and nurses, and the pitiful plight of settlers when there was sickness, these women have visited the sick, and carried on child welfare work, and in the larger places have led the way to better public health.

Their field of service is extensive, and it is given in most cases to those who would otherwise be unable to have a trained nurse. Child welfare, medical inspection, baby clinics, public health training, the establishment and maintenance of hospitals and regular nursing service are all carried on by the Victorian Order of Nurses. Since its foundation by the Countess of Aberdeen in 1897, the order has been a great public health agency, standing almost alone until the provinces interested themselves in public health.

It is a wonderful thing that Canada has an organization to provide nursing service for the poorer people in places where there are no nurses. Seventy-five cents a visit is the charge for a Victorian Order nurse, an amount which saves the self-respect of the family unable to employ an independent nurse. The annual report discloses many thousands of visits for which no money, or very little, was received

"We can never give them the praise due to them, nor can we ever pay them the money they are worth, for theirs is a field of labor where money can never purchase their good work," wrote a doctor about the nurses. He knew the visits they made at all hours and in any weather, while performing tasks not usually expected of the nurse in the house.

A gallant company of women they are, from the chief superintendent to the single district nurse in a small town. What lives they have saved, and what has been their contribution to Canada's health, cannot be told yet. Foregoing the pleasures of life they might otherwise have, they have found their pleasure in service.

Public health is becoming more and more a matter for public concern, since it became realized that the health of one affected the health of his neighbor. Even today the provinces are not ready to tackle their individual health problems. Until they are, the Victorian Order stands in the breach and helps the people.

From Here and There

ONE SIGN IT WON'T GIVE.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

The Meighen Government has recognized that the war is over by abolishing the offices of two parliamentary under-secretaries for which there may have been some excuse under war conditions. Critics of the Meighen Government will not be satisfied till it gives further sign of recognition that the war is over by abolishing itself.

WASTE OF LUMBER.

[Montreal Herald.]

The waste of lumber is deplorable. Take pine: the value of resin, turpentine, ethyl alcohol, pine tar, charcoal, lost in this waste, represents three or four times the value of the lumber produced, but, great as is the loss, it is modest compared with our colossal fire waste. We have been prodigal wasters, reckless destroyers, mere skimmers of cream.

A YEAR OF TRAVEL.

[Brockville Recorder.]

Increase of travel is one of the striking features of the present year. Perhaps it is because travel was checked in the war period, and, now that the tension is over, there is a general desire to see what is going on in the world. The ships bound to Europe are crowded. The trains at home seem always full. Sleeping car accommodation is in great demand. Many a traveler has to wait for days for the accommodation that he requires. Hotels everywhere are full to overflowing. Boats are filled to capacity. Railway charges and hotel charges are much higher than formerly, but there is no difficulty in find the people ready to pay. Indeed, it is the higher class of accommodation that is most in demand. The people have the money to spend and are willing to spend it on things which can hardly be classed as necessaries, but which evidently add to the sum of comfort and happiness.

WANTED—MORE VILLAGE INNS.

[London Daily Telegraph.]

The number of people who want holidays and have money to spend on holidays was never so great. The accommodation for them was never so scanty. Everyone who knows England can think of innumerable pleasant corners of the country in which the inn is, on a charitable view, no better than a tolerable drink shop for the inhabitants. There is surely in the nature of things no reason why such places should not be made at once a good tavern for the country folk and a comfortable inn for strangers. Anything pompous or expensive would be out of place and financially a failure, but the homely guest house should be able to hold its own anywhere, and if we could find it everywhere England would be merrier. Let us give Johnson the last word: "There is nothing which has yet been contrived by man by which so much happiness is produced as a good tavern or inn."

FIVE CENT NEWSPAPERS.

[Ottawa Journal.]

In announcing the advancement of its selling price to 5 cents per copy and $12 per annum, the Montreal Gazette prints the following table showing some of its increased production costs since 1914, taking 100 as a unit:

	1914.	1920.	Increase.
Wages	100	180	80%
Paper	100	300	200%
Other supplies	100	200	100%
Delivery	100	400	300%

Making an average percentage increase of 170% in the last six years. The new price to subscribers represents an advance of about one-third of the increased cost of publication.

The increased cost figures given by the Gazette are quite conservative; the returns of the Journal show equal and in some cases larger increases. Three cents per copy is now a very general price for daily newspapers, and it seems probable that five cents will ere long be the prevailing rate.

TRUTH IN FABRIC.

[Farmers' Advocate.]

The trade and consumers generally demand that fruit growers do not include any scubby or wormy apples in a barrel of number ones, and if a dairyman or butter maker should leave more than 16 per cent of moisture in a pound or a box of butter the guilty culprit is arraigned and prosecuted forthwith. Wool is sold on a graded basis, or else the producer is paid a flat rate that is sure to be sufficiently low to provide for lack of quality or undue losses in weight when scouring. How changed is the situation when one goes to purchase woolen goods! What guarantee has a buyer that he is not getting 50 per cent shoddy or an admixture of cotton? Some say they can tell the difference, but we are not all so discerning, and the less skillful ones are often "fleeced." There is a "truth in fabric" bill pending in the United States, which, if carried, will compel clothing and cloth manufacturers to label materials with the percentage of shoddy contained in them. "All-wool" clothing is considered a misnomer that is fooling nobody. If we must have truth in the label on a barrel of apples, truth in butter, truth in wheat, truth in wool, truth in advertising, truth in the written and spoken word, then it would do no harm to have truth in the fabric that has been returning such handsome dividends to the manufacturers of textiles and garments.

THE RETURN TO NATURE.

[London Daily Express.]

It is in the summer that we realize most forcibly that man is a creature of the soil. The great cities become intolerable, and the nerve-racked townsman longs for the open spaces and the quiet of the countryside. It is the sound instinct of the race reasserting itself in the individual. Civilization is like the giant Antæus, only strong when not too far removed from nature. When Antæus attempted to stop the passage of Hercules through the land of the Pigmies, the hero wrestled with him and threw him again and again. But each time he bounded up with renewed vigor from contact with the earth, his mother. Hercules than changed his tactics, and, holding Antæus in the air, felt him gradually weaken until he could crush him to death. There is only one way to kill a nation, and that is to cut it off completely from the land whence it ever renews its physical strength and health.

THE NEW HAVEN AND ITS RADIALS.

[Financial Post.]

Speaking to a representative of the Post on the radial railway situation, a retired New York banker, who has followed these matters closely for many years, made two points: First, that there are a number of suburban trolley lines which have had to suspend operations entirely because they could not pay running expenses.

Secondly, he pointed out that some years ago the directors of both the New York, New Haven and Hartford and of the Pennsylvania railroads, becoming alarmed at the development of radials, persistently advocated the building of a series of electric systems by their respective roads, but their respective general managers, Mellon and Cassett, were strongly opposed. Mellon was over-ruled, radials were gone into with disastrous results to the New York and New Haven road. Mr. Cassett was a stronger personality, and put his foot down on the demand, and no lines were built. Pennsylvania has today no white elephants to take care of.

The theorists who want Ontario to spend millions on radials without any investigation persist in quoting what the New Haven did, but they don't say that the New Haven became practically bankrupt, while the Pennsylvania is regarded as one of the best managed railroads in the world.

GETTING CLEAR OF IT.

[Edmonton Bulletin.]

Premier Martin of Saskatchewan says the renamed coalition at Ottawa does not seem to be very popular, and intimates that he agrees with the prevailing sentiment regarding it. Mr. Martin has not been at all hasty in relinquishing his faith in the system of hybrid government. In fact, he is something of a last ditcher in that respect, and is following rather than leading public opinion in the movement back to political sanity and safety. The coalition has got to the place where its erstwhile friends recognize any other place is a "better 'ole."

THE ROCKING CHAIR.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

The French Academy of Science has approved the rocking chair as the most hygienic of all seats, which convinces us that the members of the academy either don't live in semi-detached houses or that their neighbors' wives don't use rocking chairs on the veranda. The rocking chair on the neighbor's veranda usually squeaks, and its effect on the hearer's nerves, when it's rocked steadily, is anything but hygienic.

If your neighbors operate the kind of rocking chair referred to in the preceding paragraph, a good way to get even is to install a hammock on your own veranda and carefully refrain from oiling the hammock hooks.

POLITICAL POINTS.

[Life.]

"And whom did you vote for, Miss Sophy?"

"Well, you see, the Republican was simply stunningly good-looking. But the Democrat had always been perfectly splendid to his family, so I marked both ballots, closed my eyes, shuffled them, put one in the box and tore up the other. Nothing could be fairer than that."

ONE WRITER TO ANOTHER.

[In Condolence.]

I know the labor these few hundred pages
Spell. I know the urge, the thrill, the tedium,
The sticky key, the clacking of the type,
The hope and pride of family and friends,
The joy bestowed by the accepting letter,
And grateful ease after accomplishment;
The too warm flattery of kind acquaintances.

The neat, trim binding, too, and good black print
Took many skillful hands.

And yet, my poor dear friend, your well-made book
Is but the proof of wish and industry.
It lacks the informing spark of pulsing life.

Yet you will write another. And I, too,
Cannot resist the urge, though my own ears
I din with its futility.
Of making many books, the Preacher said,
There is no end, my friend, there is no end.

HE LOOMED SO LARGE.

[Answers, London.]

Just as the train was about to start, a very stout man struggled into the carriage and sank into a seat, breathing heavily.

A small boy who sat opposite appeared to be fascinated. His ardent gaze eventually began to annoy the fat man, who demanded angrily:

"What are you staring at me for?"

"Please, sir," replied the lad, "there's nowhere else to look."

As a result of debility, sickness or improper diet, the blood often becomes weak and unable to free itself of poisons.

Morbid, unhealthy matter accumulates and breaks out in sores that discharge and will not heal.

CHILDLESS WOMEN

Please Read This Letter And See What Normal Health Will Do For You.

Berwick, Ont.—"I had organic trouble, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine all my troubles passed away. I was made strong and well and have been ever since. Now we have a fine baby boy six months old, and I know that I would not have this baby and would still be suffering if it had not been for your remedies. My husband and myself say that your remedies are worth their weight in gold, and I recommend them to my friends. One of my aunts is taking them now."—Mrs. NAPOLEON LAVIGNE, Berwick, Ontario, Canada.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its ability to correct sterility in many cases. This fact is well established as evidenced by the above letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

CLAIMS CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT IN DANGER

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 12.—(Associated Press).—Bolshevism is eating its way into the co-operative movement in Great Britain, and labor has now become the enemy of real co-operation, declares R. G. Naish, formerly a member of the central board of the Co-operative Union of Britain. Mr. Naish made his accusation in explaining his withdrawal from the labor movement. He added that the whole co-operative movement is in danger.

Mr. Naish said that some months ago the English Co-operative Wholesale Society sent a cargo of goods to Russia, but it had not yet been paid for.

RUMFORD—NICHOLS.

"Walnut Lawn," the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Nichols, Wilton Grove, was the scene of a pretty September wedding last Thursday morning, when their only daughter, Janet Elizabeth (Nettie), was united in marriage to Warren St. Clair Rumford, son of Thomas Rumford of Fullarton, Ont.

Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party entered the parlor, the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The wedding march from Lohengrin was beautifully rendered by Miss Belle Brown of London. The bride was charmingly gowned in white charmeuse with overdress of white georgette with pearl trimmings, and wore the customary viel, which was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Blanche Rumford, sister of the groom, who was prettily gowned in white crepe de chine with overdress of silver lace and carried pink roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Charles Rumford. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. A. R. Kellam of Belmont, and during the signing of the register, Mr. Gordon Blanchard sang "O Perfect Love." The bridal party then led the way to the dining-room where a dainty wedding breakfast was served, several girl friends of the bride assisting.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl lavalier and a handsome check, to the bridesmaid a piece of silver, and to the groomsman gold cuff links, to the pianist piece of ivory and to the soloist a ruby and pearl stickpin.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, among them a silver tea service from the bride's parents, a substantial check, knives and forks from the T. S. Ford & Company, Mitchell. After the wedding breakfast the young couple left amid showers of confetti and best wishes for Sarnia, where they took the boat for Fort William, thence by train to Winnipeg and other western points. The bride traveled in a smart tailored suit and black hat. Mr. and Mrs. Rumford will reside at Fullarton.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

IV.—Danger Ahead.

I couldn't possibly be angry with Julie. It was so very obvious she was jealous. Hadn't she been making eyes at Freddie for the last ten days?

She was looking very pretty in a lilac-colored wrap. She looks absurdly young to be a widow, although she must be 27 at least.

There is something fascinating about Julie. I do not trust her, but I am honest enough to admit her powers of fascination. She understands the ways of men—except where Freddie is concerned.

To render herself pleasing to the opposite sex is Julie's long suit. She is invariably bright and smiling, chic and well-groomed. That goes a long, long way with men. Up to the moment, too, in everything. There's nothing of the back number about our friend.

"You're very clever, Julie," I said brightly, "but—regarding Freddie—you don't hit the right nail on the head at all. He isn't mercenary. Besides"—I took a sudden resolve—"whoever said there was any love-making between us? Can't I be friendly with a man without people jumping to ridiculous conclusions?"

Julie gave a cynical little smile and shrugged her pretty shoulders.

"Platonic friendship? Poof! And never with the Freddies of this wicked world!"

I flushed. I began to feel annoyed.

"What do you mean, Julie?" I queried sharply. "Explain yourself."

Dear little Anne, be tranquil." She took out her silver case, and deliberately lit a cigarette. Then, puffing blue rings of smoke daintily toward the ceiling, she added:

"I am glad if you do not care for him. It is hard for a man with 'beaux yeux' like your Freddie's to be faithful. And, cherie, you deserve so much happiness in life."

Her tone and manner were quite serious. Thinking it all over in the solitude of my little cabin this afternoon I feel depressed.

Several days have passed since writing the above. And many curious things have happened to disturb me.

Life can be painfully unexpected. I have found that out.

After my talk with Julie, I spent some hours alone, trying to look into the future, and wondering if there was any real truth in her words.

"It is hard for a man with 'beaux yeux' like Freddie's to be faithful."

Better than any woman I have known does Julie read the hearts of men.

Her cynicism rather frightens me. I want to believe in everyone.

The words of the sandy-haired young stranger, too, came back to me. Insufferable Saunders! Oh, how he hated Fred! He was going to "knock blazes out of the worst rascal in the country."

It was all due to jealousy, of course. Fred was so handsome, so attractive to all women.

At that psychological moment a tap came to my cabin door.

"Anne, I've been waiting ages for you. Aren't you coming out, my dear?" The tones of my fiancee never failed to thrill me. And the reproach they held seemed ample proof that the speaker truly cared for me.

"Just coming, Fred!" I sprang up from my recumbent position on the bed and darted to the mirror. Oh, I must look my best for him! Those other women who admired him—I must always cut them out.

Hastily I dabbed some scented powder on my nose and chin, rubbed my pale cheeks until some color came to brighten them, fluffed out my hair, and rummaged for my prettiest hat.

I found it—a pale pink georgette, with long blue ribbons, and a coquettish La France rose nestling underneath the droopy brim.

I slipped into a little linen frock of pink, adjusted a wide ruffly collar, caught up my vanity-case, and hurried to the door.

"Sweetheart, you look lovely," whispered Fred, giving me a surreptitious kiss, and with a wary eye on the cabin doors that were sacred to my aunt and Julie, and another guest. "Let's slip away together for a little chat."

How gladly I complied.

I let Fred see how much I cared for him. A foolish thing, perhaps. . . .

Yet, pride or no pride, it is hard for a woman who is in love to hide her feelings.

We drifted down stream idly in the canoe. I paddled lazily, my lover stretched out luxuriously on cushions in the centre of the boat.

"Too ornamental to be useful," I rallied him, admiring his slender litheness, and the attractive picture that he made.

We had been gone for perhaps an hour, when, glancing at his wrist-watch, he made a rueful face.

"Good gracious, Anne! I didn't realise the time. You must put me ashore at once. I have an important engagement. I—I must catch a train up to town. There's a railway station half a mile from here. Yes, I'll be back tonight, but don't wait up for me. A business engagement, sweetheart!"

Five minutes later I was alone, a disappointed Anne, my lover gone.

I didn't want to go back yet. I let the boat drift on, and on. . . .

Twilight was deepening, and the sweet-scented night promised to be sultry.

My thoughts were on romance and love—and Fred—when suddenly I heard a warning shout:

"Look out! The rapids! Danger ahead!"

The warning came too late. The boat was caught in the swirling current, spun round twice, and—

Crash! There was a roaring in my ears as the water sucked the canoe and me down into its inky depths—and I remember nothing more.

V.—The Wisp of Moon.

I woke to consciousness with someone bending over me. An arm was underneath my head, and a deep, attractive voice was saying, reassuringly:

"There, you're better now!"

"Freddie!" I gasped, putting up a tentative hand, and touching the cheek that was so close to me. It was dusk here on the river-bank. I couldn't see quite clearly. But those attractive tones—

"I'm not Freddie. My name's Saunders." My rescuer sat up suddenly, and it was then I recognized him—the sandy-haired young fellow of the morning's lively encounter!

He was dripping wet. Rivulets of water trickled from his damp flannel suit to my already soaked garments. But the frosty sparkle had gone from his blue eyes, and it seemed to me that in them was a look of real compassion. That kindly look softened the whole face wonderfully.

"It was I who shouted a warning to you," he was saying now. "That backwater's most awfully dangerous; if you don't watch out. You were dreaming, evidently. There, try to sit up. You're all right now."

I struggled into a sitting posture. My head ached dreadfully. I was shivering, too. The roar of the pouring waters as they closed over my head still sounded in my ears.

"Where are we?" I said, faintly.

"About a hundred yards below the rapids. You were carried underneath the stream. I had an awful time trying to get hold of you. Here, take my arm and let me help you up."

He half lifted me to my feet. I stood there, shakily, regarding him. So he had saved my life!

"The boat—where is it?" I murmured, swaying a little as I stood.

"It came ashore furher down the stream. It's all right. Another fellow's got it. Don't worry. Here, lean on me."

A sudden blackness came before my eyes. I think I must have fainted, for my next recollection was a sensation of utter peace and comfort, combined with a monotonous jog-trot sort of movement. I was being carried over the fields in someone's arms, and my head was drowsily pillowed on someone's damp shoulder.

It was growing dark. Between my half-closed lids I could see the slender wisp of moon rise up behind the trees.

And then—after what seemed a long, long time—we came to a wide, low house with hospitably lighted windows.

The strange young man ran lightly up the steps, carrying me as though I were a child, deposited me upon a bamboo couch on the veranda, disappeared inside, and was back in a twinkling with a stout, motherly-looking woman who proved to be the keeper of the inn.

In a few words he explained exactly what had happened.

"Give her a change of clothes. And then I think she ought to have some dinner. But, first of all, a hot drink."

He hurried off to fetch the latter. I drank it before I went upstairs with the kindly landlady. I felt better now.

How good he'd been to me, the sandy-haired young man! So ran my thoughts as I discarded my dripping garments, slipped into a hot bath, then dressed in borrowed plumes. Of course, apart from this evening's adventure, he was hateful. I never could forgive the way he'd spoken to my Fred. . .

When at last I descended to the dining-room, there he was, arrayed in a rough grey suit of tweed, his thick hair brushed back from his forehead, and sitting at a little table set for two.

"Dinner is ready. Here we are." He drew out a chair for me.

I shook my head.

"I must go home. It's quite impossible for me to wait."

He gave a short, amused laugh.

"Its quite impossible for you to go for half an hour, at least. I've ordered a car to take you home, and it won't be here for some little time."

"But I can walk," I protested, blankly. "It isn't far to Sunnydale." (Oh, how Fred would hate to see me tete-a-tete with Saunders!)

"It's a good eight miles," came the disconcerting answer. "Come, eat your dinner, like a good child. I guarantee that you'll be home within an hour."

So, at a loss for any adequate excuse, and feeling really hungry, I sat down.

It was a dainty little meal, I couldn't help enjoying it.

"I've a cottage not far from here," remarked my companion, applying himself heartily to the viands set before him. "While you were upstairs I ran home and changed."

My face stiffened. So he had deliberately planned this meal with me!

"Then why did you think it necessary to come back?" I said.

"My dear young lady, it would be scarcely gallant to abandon a damsel in distress!"

There was mockery in his voice and that annoyed me further.

I at once determined that I would come to an arrangement with the landlady whereby I could settle the bill for this meal tomorrow. I wasn't going to be indebted to Fred's enemy. . .

So, to forestall him, and just before we'd finished dining, I made an excuse, and hurried out to look for the innkeeper.

She wasn't in the office. No, nor in the lounge. I went out to the veranda, which was now bathed in a sort of velvety darkness.

In one corner was a woman's figure. I approached. Then, to my chagrin, I noticed that I'd made an error. For the woman was young, slender—and had a lover with her. A man's hands were clasping hers, two heads were close together, whispering, and I heard the man's voice say:

"Dearest, it's wonderful to be here—with you"—

The blood rushed from my heart at the sound of that soft voice. Oh, no, it couldn't be—I was mistaken—

I wasn't! For, at that psychological moment, the wisp of moon came out from behind some clouds, shone on their faces clearly for an instant, and—

It was Fred—my Fred—and Julie—making love!

Tomorrow—Explanations Asked.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

No endeavor is in vain; its reward is in the doing and the rapture of pursuing is the prize the vanquished gain.—Longfellow.

Vernada Chats.

Dear Miss Grey,—I read the Mail-Box letters every day, and I wonder when I read them if I could be any help to anyone. I see where they are asking for a pattern; I wonder whether this one is like what they want. I inclose one. I know if Sardonyx is on a farm she will not have time for much fancy work during the summer months; however, I hope she will be able to make what she wants from the pattern I send. I made one like it, and thought it pretty when finished. The inclosed pattern is for the Mail-Box, if they can understand it.

QUEEN BESS.

Ans.—Thank you very much, Queen Bess. Pattern forwarded to Sardonyx.

France Brevete.—Thank you for extra copy of contest. This was very thoughtful of you. CYNTHIA GREY.

Likes Having Shadow Friends.

Dear Miss Grey,—Many thanks for stocking-foot pattern received O. K.

Oh, Cynthia Grey, I had the loveliest letter from Comrade Rosalie; she's just splendid. I wrote right back to her, and oh, it's just great sport writing to someone you never saw.

Come, Urs Kidd, and tell us where you and your pal disappeared to. Oh, Hiawatha of the Northwind, do write another one of those lovely letters. I'm nearly in love with you already. Rose of Sharon, come show your pretty face. Don't you know this is when you should be out?

Inclosed find a few S. F. P. and also a mite for the S. C. H. from mother, and my dime, I said, was in last time, but I'm afraid it wasn't. Good luck, Miss Grey. From BLONDY.

Ans.—Tell mother she is lovely, Blondy, to send such a big gift for the hospital fund. Thank you also for your dime. Glad you are happy over your new friends.

Tired of Being Silent.

Dear Miss Grey,—Are you ever tired welcoming strangers? It would really be interesting to know just how many persons correspond with you. However, I do not expect this information from such a busy person as you undoubtedly are.

Like so many others, I am tired of being a silent but interested reader, so have plucked up enough courage to write. A great many of your letters are instructive as well as pleasing to read, and everyone should learn something from them each day. The last two editions of The Advertiser have been minus your page, and I for one have truly missed it.

Now, Miss Grey, I must come down to business. Will someone kindly forward me some crochet patterns for pillow-slip edges? Ever so many have offered the Mail-Box readers the use of their patterns, and I would love to have some. Pillow-slips are really a hobby with me, and I have not a plain pair in my home. Of course, I have just been married one year and a half, and consequently had plenty of spare moments to make pretty things.

I wish to pass on one good idea which we have found indispensable. When one is ill and cannot raise his head to take any liquid, we just use a macaroni straw, about six or eight inches long, and insert it in the cup. They will last for more than one drink usually.

Miss Grey, have you any correspondents from this little place? Must hurry now and commence making chili sauce. I simply cannot think of any pen name, so will not worry over that.

MRS. B. C.

Ans.—Have mailed you some patterns received from Heather Bell. Perhaps you would like to send some to Heather Bell in exchange, from your large choice. Glad to welcome you to our group.

ORIENTAL RUGS.

Volumes have been written about Oriental rugs, but the casual inquirer may be satisfied to know one or two general facts about them. The fineness of a rug depends upon the number of knots tied in a square inch, a coarse, turkish rug having perhaps as few as thirty or forty—a fine Persian as many as four or five hundred, all tied by hand.

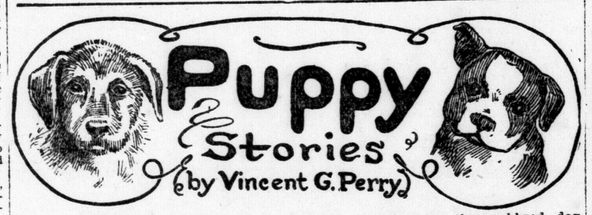

There are two kinds of knots used—the Ghiordes, or Turkish, and the Senna, or Persian. The Senna, the finer, has a thread of the pile coming up between every warp thread and the next, and makes a very close pile which can be closely trimmed, and which still shows the design while the threads hang together. The Ghiordes knot has the pile thread coming up between every second warp thread and the next, which makes a coarser rug, and requires a longer pile to cover the warp. This pile, however, getting untwisted, give a very beautiful sheen to some turkish rugs.

The dyes are vegetable, made with great care and secrecy. Aniline dyes are forbidden in Smyrna and Persia, under penalty of heavy fines. Chemically washed rugs should be avoided, as the process, used to soften the too bright colors, and give the rug a look of age, injures the fibre of the wool. There is a harsh feeling to a chemically treated rug, and the back is brighter in color than the pile, while the threads are often brighter at the base than on the surface. But it takes an expert to judge, after all, and it is safe to buy only of reputable dealers whose names stand behind their wares, who will not ask you to pay the price of an antique for a modern, chemically washed rug.

THE FRAUD DOG.

Part Three.

Prince had terrible dreams that night. He dreamed that the judge sent him to a dark dungeon and there great cross men and angry dogs threw sticks at him and tied tin cans to his tail. Then again he dreamed that he was being thrown into a fire, a great, hot, smoky fire, and when he woke up from the dream he wondered if it were real, for he could smell smoke. Prince made sure he was awake, and when he found that he was he knew something was the matter, for the building where the dog show was held was really full of smoke. Some of the other dogs had wakened up, too, and a dismal howl started.

Prince was very frightened, but he knew, as a wise dog like Prince would be sure to know, that someone had to do something. He gave one bound and his chain snapped. It would have been easy for Prince to run away, but he did not do that. Instead, he rushed to the place where the smoke was coming from. There was a bale of straw all ablaze, and unless it was put out of the way the other straw would catch and in a few minutes the whole building would be on fire and all the little dogs would be burned, he knew. If Prince had been a thoroughbred dog he would not have been half so big or half so strong, but lucky for the other dogs he was a mongrel, for he pushed his teeth into the bale of straw and pulled it toward the door. How Prince did pull, and how slowly the bale moved. The fire was getting near to him and he could feel his whiskers getting singed. Before he had it outside his face was burned, but he did not stop until the burning straw was put where it could do no harm. Just at that very minute the watchman returned and what a surprise he got. How he praised Prince, and what a piece there was in the papers the next day about the dog that had saved the others.

Of course, the other dogs had all been wakened and knew what Prince had done for them. They were sorry, indeed, that they had treated him so meanly, and from that time on he was the honored dog in the dog show. He had not won a prize, but a collection was taken up by the other dog owners and a handsome silver cup was presented to Prince's master. Prince had shown himself a thoroughbred hero-dog, even if he was a mongrel.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

What Is Pneumonia?

It is customary for a doctor to conduct the post-mortem investigation at the close of a case upon which he has put an artistic, workmanlike finish. But I am going to do the post-mortem at the beginning here, just for the novelty of the thing. A reader whose family had influenza, writes, in part:

". . . We all started to convalesce but my husband, on whose lung the doctor found a spot after he had been in bed four days. So the doctor cautioned him not to get out of bed. But on the following day, with his temperature 100 degrees, while I was attending to the children, he went to the bathroom and shaved. That night his temperature went up to 101 and the next morning it was 103 . . . two nurses . . . consultation with Dr. C. . . . and with Dr. M. . . . , but in spite of all he succumbed in three days. . . . Do you think it might have been from exposure in crossing the hall to the bathroom? Or might it have been because we didn't have enough fresh air? It was bitter cold and a strong wind and I thought it unwise, but the nurses kept the windows open all the time. . . He had never been sick a day in his 31 years, and had done hard farm work always."

Moral: Doctor's orders should be obeyed. Why employ a doctor if you do not intend to follow his advice?

In this autopsy we encounter a very common condition, namely, the fear of fresh air, or rather an effect of that fear.

Pneumonia has several titles. Lung fever is a good old name for it, because it conveys more meaning than the word pneumonia. Ultra-scientific doctors have even proposed pneumonitis—presumably to signify lung inflammation, but this is too ugly a word. Pleuropneumonia is also an old term for it, emphasizing the fact that usually some pleurisy (inflammation of the lung covering membrane) goes with the pneumonia. Hippokrates confounded pneumonia with pleurisy, and wasn't so far wrong at that. Lobar pneumonia is a familiar term in medical parlance, meaning that the inflammation is usually limited to one or more entire lobes of the lung; the right lung has three lobes, the left two. Lung fever is the most satisfactory name because the general fever and the general systemic poisoning that characterizes pneumonia is the important feature of the disease, not the degree of involvement of the lung. The seriousness of lung fever lies in the injury the poisons or toxins of the pneumonia germs (pneumococcus) do the heart and the nervous system. If the patient dies, he succumbs usually to the effect of this poisoning of his system, be it manifested in heart exhaustion or in exhaustion of the nervous system; suffocation or oxygen hunger is rarely a grave factor in lung fever.

There is another disease of very different type unfortunately also called pneumonia. This is broncho-pneumonia, better known to the older physicians as capillary bronchitis and to still older ones as suffocative catarrh. In this condition the degree of lung involvement is the determinating factor, and the systemic state is largely secondary. Broncho-pneumonia is usually a gradual development upon a preliminary bronchitis. Lung fever is not. Broncho-pneumonia is essentially a bronchitis extending down into the very finest tubes and then some. Lung fever is independent of bronchial inflammation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Blood Pressure.

I saw an article some time ago, I think it was yours, advising persons over fifty to have the blood pressure tested annually. I do this regularly. Can one by doing this take treatment, if the pressure is too high, which will prevent paralysis? (A. L.)

ANSWER—High blood pressure does not particularly favor paralysis—that is, it is not often a cause of a "stroke" (hemorrhage in the brain, apoplexy). When blood pressure is found too high, that is but one sign or symptom; it remains for the physician to determine what is the matter. For it is not the height of the blood pressure, but the disease condition or the wrong mode of life which causes it, that should be treated or corrected. Measuring the blood pressure is a minor, and often unnecessary part of the annual physicial examination which all persons over the age of 30 should have.

Early Signs of Cancer.

I am an unmarried woman, aged 35. For the past six months there has been a hard lump in my left breast. At least I first noticed it about six months ago. It has never been sore or painful. But my sister tries to keep me worried about it. Should I worry? (E. J. E.)

ANSWER—No. Go to your doctor and find out what is the matter. Worrying about such a condition is foolish. It may be insignificant. And again it may be cancer. Any lump developing in the breast of a woman over 30, even though it be painless, suggests possible cancer. This is particularly the case if the skin over the lump appears drawn in or seems attached to the underlying lump. Women should learn that cancer is painless in its early stage and a fair hope of cure hinges on surgical treatment applied in that stage. Never worry about such a thing: go immediately to your physician and find out. This is health and money economy.

BEAVERS WON FINAL GAME FROM SOX BETWEEN SHOWERS

9--1 Score of First, But Second Called Because of Darkness.

KITCHENER, Sept. 11.—The Mint League season had a weird finish here this afternoon. A heavy downpour of rain during the morning necessitated the postponement of the game until 3:30. Another shower fell during the third innings and play was stopped for a few minutes. The Beavers won the first game after play was resumed by a 9 to 1 score. It was a free and easy hitting contest, 32 hits being registered by the two teams. The Red Sox objected to playing the second game on account of wet grounds, but finally agreed, and four innings were played when Umpire Brichter called it on account of darkness, Brantford having scored 13 runs, while the Beavers only secured one hit off "Lefty" Walters. President Maines was present, and at the end of the first game presented the M.-O. League trophy to President W. J. Williams of the Kitchener club. The box score:

Pennant Winners Lose Last Game of 1920 to Hams

2--1 Score of First Game, Which Was Seriously Played—Three Frames of Burlesque Was Final Burst.

Three innings of burlesque and darkness, as announced by Thumps Shay, concluded the official Mint League program of 1920 over at Tecumseh Park Saturday, the Hams having taken the first game by a score of 2 to 1 in a piece of real heavy work with no comedy about it.

Petie Behan and an error by Calbert beat the Tribe out of the last game of the season in the eleventh frame, after the score had been tied with one run by the Champeens in the fourth stanza. The second game was won by London 2—0, as far as it went, but it didn't go the required distance.

Nearly 3,500 fans turned out to see the official obsequies of the 1920 Mint League season played out. There wasn't much to thrill the crowd, except possibly the memories of other days when the same Shaughnessy won a pennant right under London's nose on the home lot, brought to mind by the fact that Shag was there again, but lamb-like this time.

Fine Hurling Jobs.

Delotelle and Behan turned in a fine day's work and both teams put up an article of ball that leaves a good impression of the closing days of the 1920 season. The former held the Hams to five hits, while the Tecs grabbed off six from Behan's slants. The Hams won the game in the first innings, when Pitt's error on Shag's grounder permitted Zinn's three-bagger to score the big leader.

London didn't do anything brilliant until the fourth, when Shay and Kuhn were on by virtue of hits. Then the Bud Fisher combination grabbed a signal for a double steal and got away with it, Shay brushing over the plate as Laap dropped the returned throw from second base.

Neither team threatened to break out into anything more than a rush in the ninth, so the affair went into the tenth. Here again it was as quiet as a bootleggers' convention, but in the eleventh Micky Corcoran put up a fly that looked too much like the clouds for Calbert and Mick was safe. He came in on Zinn's sacrifice fly to centre. In the London half Delotelle grounded out, Carmen fouled out and Shay grounded out, and the little old season was fini.

Just Like Michigan Games.

Sports filled up the interval between games and the crowd of small boys most of the view. Neitzke made the round of the bases in 14 seconds flat and won a box of cigars. Blake of Hamilton took the 100-yard dash, and Zinn took another box of cigars with the most perfect peg to the plate, with Pitt a close second. Behan had designs on the Pacific coast in the long-throwing contest, hitting the roof of the grandstands.

And then the second game started with Buzz and Franklin Shaughnessy announced as the opposing heavers. The first inning was enough to show that these birds would never be out of work as long as the supply of coal lasts. Only four men faced Buzz, but they had to carry water to Shag before he was half way through his first frame. Shay and Harper came in on an error of Grimm's, which Shag ought to tell Grimm about, and then Briger, Crichlow and Pitt were on. In this tense moment a triple theft was attempted by the three, Briger being caught with the shin pads on at the plate. After this the umps stopped umping and started playing ball. Walter Shay smoked a cigar and umpired and finally the smoke haze from the prizes and the darkness forced Shay to call the game.

LONDON WINS TENNIS SEMI-FINALS WITH LISTOWEL PLAYERS

Four Out of Five Events Go To the Locals—Are Now in Finals.

London court players go into the finals with the winners of the Hamilton-Kitchener semi-finals in the Western Ontario Tennis League by virtue of their win over Listowel on Saturday on E. E. Reid's cinder courts. The locals took four out of five events in rather decisive fashion from the northerners, but a large gallery saw some excellent matches.

The ladies' division is still in the running, and has been ordered to play Goderich ladies some time this week on neutral courts. The date and courts will be decided today in all probability.

The results Saturday were:
Y. Williams of London won from L. H. Bernie of Listowel, 2—6, 6—2, 6—1.
I. Rechnitzer of London won from Dr. Livingston of Listowel, 6—4, 5—4.
R. Harper of London lost to M. R. Hays of Listowel, 6—2, 6—1.

Doubles.

Rechnitzer and Harper of London won from Livingston and Bernie of Listowel, 6—0, 6—4.

Williams and Williams of London won from Hay and Bernie of Listowel, 6—3, 6—1.

In the double-header soccer bill at Carling's Heights Saturday afternoon Grand Trunks and Pats played to a 1-1 tie and the G. W. V. A. beat the Army and Navy Veterans 2-1. A big crowd watched both games, which gave an indication of the class of the coming cup tie series.

Round the Kitty

The London Rowing Club, providing they receive enough entries, will stage a farewell tourney on Saturday next. The Rowers have ten greens in first-class condition. Twenty rinks are wanted in three 15-end games to commence at 2:30 sharp. Three sets of prizes are up, and the entry fee has been fixed at $4 with entries open to the world. Luncheon will be served on the grounds.

Write or phone your entry to the club secretary, J. M. Farrow, 1843 and 276.

A NOVELTY.

The games committee of the Thistle Club announce that a regular carnival week of bowling will be held this week, with bowling of some kind every night. This will mark the closing of the front greens and practically the finish of this popular sport.

There will be something doing every night beginning with a progressive bowling tournament on Monday night. Did you ever do any progressive bowling? If not, you have missed a lot, and if you want the most fun of the year be there Monday sure. Entries must be in by 7:30 p.m., as the draw will be made on the minute. Each name must be given separate. Phone 1629 and the games committee will do the rest.

Watch the papers each day to keep posted and if for any reason the notice fails to appear, phone your name in anyway, as there will be something doing. Something special has been arranged for Thursday and Friday evening, but at the same time don't make the mistake of missing the first three night. If the weather man does his part, the best week of the entire year will be at the disposal of any bowler in the city who desires to take advantage of it.

Wm. Hynd and Harry Wright won the Thistles' Saturday doubles tourney with 4 wins and 33 plus, just a point ahead of G. E. Coombs and A. E. Turner, who also had 4 wins. Third and fourth prizes went to M. S. Aikenhead and R. J. Trethewey, with 3 wins and 19 plus; and O. C. Barrie and C. B. Laur, 3 wins with 17 plus.

BOWMAN CUP TRAVELS.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 12.—The much-coveted Bowman Cup is back again in Owen Sound. The silver mug moved three times in three days, Brock McCauley of Southampton taking it from Owen Sound on Wednesday, Crawford of Port Elgin snatched it from Southampton on Friday afternoon, and Moffatt of Owen Sound returned the cup to Owen Sound on Friday evening by a score of 29 to 18. On Saturday Brock McCauley of Southampton came back to Owen Sound, but Moffatt's rink was too many for him to the extent of 31 to 12. The rinks:

Owen Sound—N. H. Wilson, J. J. Kelley, H. Carr, H. R. Moffatt, skip.

Southampton—Jack McCauley, Dave McVitter, J. Long, Brock McCauley, skip.

The next challenge in order is Guelph.

Orients 1920 Champions of Interclub Baseball League

Score 5--1 Win Over Manhattans On Saturday At Springbank—Good Crowd Sees Final Game.

Orients copped the honors in the Inter-Club League in the play-off with Manhattans, champions of the first series, Saturday at Springbank, by a score of 5 to 1.

Clarke and Downs opposing on the mound were on even terms throughout the game, but the winners got a big hold in the third innings, when they scored three runs on one hit, a dead ball and a misplay by MacFie, who misjudged a hot one laid down at him, the three runners scoring while the ball rolled out to right field. The Manhattans got their one run in the 5th, when Burgess let Connor's hit get through him and the runner scored.

Joshua Devore's Team Arrive In City Tomorrow

Central League Champs Practically All-Stars of Circuit.

Grand Rapids, champions of the Central League, will arrive here Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, according to word received last night, to play the Tecumsehs for the Class B championship of the United States and Canada. Josh Devore, manager of the Furniture City team, formerly played with the New York Giants, and for years was a valued member of that team, participating in two world series.

The first game will be called at Tecumseh Park Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, and the Grand Rapids Club will be spectators at the Detroit-London game Wednesday.

The teams will play three out of five games, and Manager Wetzel says the local boys will have to battle as never before, as the Central Leaguers have been strengthening their club considerably, but Buzz says he will win—and we believe he will.

Man-o'-War's New Record

New York, Sept. 11.—Man o' War, champion 3-year-old, made another United States track record today when he won the Jockey Club stakes, one mile and a half, in 2:28 4-5. The best previous time for the distance, 2:29 3-5, was made by Thunderclap at Laurel, Md., last year.

Detroit Tigers Are Here Wednesday Unless It Rains

Billy Evans, Famous Umps, Will Handle Game, With O'Hearne On Bases.

Unless it rains at Detroit today or tomorrow, the Tigers will be here to cavort at Tecumseh Park Wednesday. The weather man says it will be fair weather in this section all the week, so the Tigers, with Ty Cobb, Young, Bush, Pinelli, Veach, Heilman and 22 members of the team will come.

Billy Evans, premier American League umpire, will handle the game, with O'Hearne on the bases, and local fans are promised one of the best baseball games ever played here as the Tecumsehs are anxious to show a Major League club just what kind of a team the pennant winners of the M. O. are.

Carmen will probably oppose Ayres, and Calbert has intimated he will knock the old pill out of the lot. Many fans are interested in comparing the work of Pittenger and Pinelli at third base, and the local boy ought to make 'em watch him.

THREE WINS IN TWO DAYS KEEP ROBBINS' LEAD INCREASING

Reds Slip Badly On Saturday and Are Idle On Sabbath.

Brooklyn, Sept. 12.—The Brooklyn Nationals got a firmer hold on first place today, when they continued their hard hitting and fast fielding, and won the first game of the series from Chicago, 5 to 0. Grimes was invincible throughout, receiving perfect support by his teammates, who had a total of 20 assists. Vaughn of the Cubs pitched steady ball until the fifth inning, when Schmandt's Texas leaguer dropped safely in centre field, and then bounded over Paskert's head for a lucky triple. From this point Vaughn was hit hard.

SOCCER KICK-OFFS

BY UNOMI.

If the two exhibition games played on Carling Heights Saturday can be put down as a criterion of soccer playing, then it must be confessed that all the soccer fans, including the most confirmed critics of the game, have a real treat in store for them in the forthcoming London Association Cup tie which will in all probability be initiated on the last Saturday of this month. Both he games were good, the play on both sides being extremely fast, clean and interesting, all the forty-four players being in fine condition and all four teams being evenly balanced, which in itself augurs well for an exciting and closely fought out cup tie series.

Cup ties being hand in hand with the weather as regards to their uncertainty, make them all the more interesting, and champion league elevens who rule the roost in their respective leagues by sheer consistent play often get their quietus right at the commencement of a cup tie series. Much weaker aggregations which have finished much nearer the bottom than the top of their leagues have repeatedly shown the various league champions the finer points of the game in a cup tie series, and have by their staunch and steadfast play made their opponents fade away into oblivion just as quicky as a dollar bill when pulled out of one's pocket fades away during these post-war days.

All the four formidable elevens which played on Saturday have entered in the cup tie series in addition to the W. O. R. and the Public Utilities crack league eleven, who recently played a pick of St. Thomas twice to a scoreless draw, defeating St. Thomas Rovers, city league champions, by 2 to 1 on their third journey to St. Thomas.

Whilst on the cup tie theme we take great pleasure in announcing that owing to the uncertainty of the P.P.C.L.I. leaving for the west, that their soccer team have decided to enter the cup tie series, which is very gratifying to all the sportsmen here in London who have always found the gallant Princess Pats true sportsmen in all the various sports they have participated in, and especially to soccerites they have proven themselves to be not only great boosters of the great game of soccer, but ardent and expert exponents of the game as well. Regarding the forthcoming cup ties, condition is the prime factor and the best essential in that series, and one which will undoubtedly be found in the winners, an aggregation who with their prime condition withstood the nerve-racking pressure of their cup tie games and who at the end of their ninety-minute strenuously fought out battles were in the pink and still going strong.

In the first game of the afternoon Princess Pats, with a representative eleven, took the Grand Trunk champions of the city league in hand. Not a minute was wasted in the whole seventy minutes, the play being very hard and fast throughout. The Wasps tried out a few new players, with Bell filling the left back position and Askew, who has now practically recovered from his accident, acting as centre half, a position both mentioned players filled well. In the first half, with the wind on Carling Heights blowing rather too strong to be comfortable for the players, the Wasps, with the wind at their backs, pressed and bombarded their rivals' goal in the first two minutes of the game, with Benny Birchill sending in a splendid shot to goal, which Maule saved in grand style, the sphere ultimately traveling to the other end of the field, with Harber doing yeoman service for the Pats, but otherwise failing to locate the net with his terrific drives sent in. Allday and Birchill had a meritorious run down, Young Allday, the Wasps' outside left, in particular showing class with his perfect centres, which are a treat to witness. The Pats, showing some of their old-time combination, invaded foreign ground and Garrow the Wasps' clever custodian, had a hard time in clearing shots sent in by Harber and Andy Armstrong's, the latter's headwork and passing being very prominent. Pats forced a corner, Cooper taking the kick, sending in a fine centre, Harber getting control of the sphere, but sending it towards goal rather wide. The Wasps' halves sent the ball with the wind and the Wasps swarmed around Pats' goal, having hard luck at this time in not scoring, although credit must be given Maule, Hare and Edgar for their capable defence in stopping the Wasps' rushes. Good shots were sent into Pats' goal by Morley, Lownie, Birchill and Askew, but the Pats' defence, using very effective tactics, kept the ball at a safe distance. Ultimately on the Grand Trunk finding out the Pats' weakest point of resistance, Langridge getting the ball, passing to Allday, who in turn centred to the Wasps' veteran forward, Lownie, and he made sure of matters by sending the sphere past Maule.

Allday, Birchell and company in the latter stages of this period played great combination for the Wasps, with Langridge, their left half, forcing a corner off the Pats' goalie, who was giving a good exhibition of goal tending. Nothing, however, resulted from the corner kick. Half time: Grand Trunk 1, Princess Pats 0.

Second Half.

On the resumption of hostilities both teams kept up the fast pace set by them in the first half, the Pats opening up and giving the league champions all they could handle. Jack being as good as his master on the day's play, not only the Pats' vanguard standing out prominently, but their defence as well.

Harber and Armstrong directed some good shots into goal and missed some in turn. However, the former clever player made amends towards the dying moments of the game by securing the sphere and sending a curved shot into Geordie Garrow, who on his hands and feet down, got the ball which, however, slipped out of his grasp, and although he strenuously tried to reach it, he was unable to do so, the wind carrying the sphere beyond his reach into goal.

Second Game.

In the second game, Great War Vets, who as runners-up in the league competition, played 14 actual league games, won, 9, lost 3 and drew 2, scoring 33 goals, with only 11 being registered against them, faced their old comrades in arms and on the field, the Army and Navy Vets. The game, which was fought just as hard as the first one, with just as good football being shown, was very interesting inded, the combination shown by the Great War Vets in the early exchanges was really pretty, that old veteran Jack Herring, in the outside right position, showing great speed and some remarkably clever finishing touches, and the same can be said of the other old soccer veteran, Millikin, who as centre pivot fed his wings to perfection. Along with his club mate, Wee Macfarlane, he was the goal-getter for his side in the first half. Army and Navy Vets, who were playing one of their finest games this season, were having their fair share of the play in this period, although they were unable to get the sphere past Ireland, who was right on the job and gave the sphere the right about every time it was sent into him. Eddie Whitworth, between the sticks for the Army and Navy Vets, gave a great display of goal-tending, showing that his brother Alf's coaching had been effective and very useful. In the second half the Army and Navy Vets, who were also trying out some new players, kept up the steady pace, pressing the Great War Vets mighty hard, but never proving dangerous, thanks to Messrs Wilson and Perkins Junior, who, along with their halves, Croots, Marshall and Noble, worked hard and kept feeding their forwards well. The Army and Navy Vets' vanguard, led by Scotty McKay & Co., made several combination rushes toward the Great War Vets' goal, and although their combination at times was good, still they unluckily failed to locate the net until a few minutes before time was called, when, during a sensational melee in front of Great War Vets' goal-mouth, Hill scored for Army and Navy Vets. No more scoring took place after this, and when the referee, William Bissett, tooted his whistle for time, one of the hardest fought-out games of the season ended in a narrow win for Great War Vets by 2 goals to 1.

A. J. Noble and Billy Ball, Great War Vets, officiated as linesmen in an impartial manner. The new secretary of the Great War Vets soccer team is F. Foster, who fully intends piloting his team to victory in the McCutcheon cup ties, and Grand Trunk's new secretary is Harry Poole, carshops. Charles Jackson looks after the secretarial duties for the Army and Navy Vets.

NOTED ENGINEER OUT WITH FACTS

Says the Results He Got From Tanlac Were Nothing Less Than Wonderful.

Captain Andy Ospring, engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad, pulling the fast train known as Keystone Express between Terre Haute and St. Louis, declares that the results he has received from Tanlac are nothing less than wonderful.

Captain Ospring has been engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad for the past 40 years, and is one of the best-known and most popular men in the service of this road. His home address is 629 North 10th street, East St. Louis. Relating his experience with Tanlac to friends in Terre Haute a few days ago, Captain Ospring said:

"Tanlac will always get a good recommendation from me for the results I have received from it are nothing less than wonderful. Before taking this medicine I had suffered from weak stomach, loss of appetite, sluggish liver and a run-down condition for several years. I could never enjoy anything to eat, suffered with severe pains in my back and chest, and was continually losing weight. The pains in my back were so severe that I could hardly bend over, couldn't even sit comfortably in my cab, and invariably finished my run feeling all tired out. I had gotten to where I dreaded to make my runs, and had lost several trips on account of feeling so bad.

"I had taken lots of different kinds of medicines, but all failed until I found Tanlac. A friend of mine in Terre Haute put me on to Tanlac, and that was the turning point with me. Three bottles of this medicine have fixed me up in fine shape, and my weight has been increased eleven pounds. I have a fine appetite, don't have a pain of any kind, and feel all of fifteen years younger. I make my trips regularly, never losing any time, and come in from my runs without feeling all tired out like I used to. A medicine that will do such things is certainly worth while, and I will always say a good word for Tanlac."

WINDSOR LABOR CONGRESS MAY DEMAND RELEASE OF MACSWINEY

Officials Expect Determined Effort To Put Irish Resolution Through Today — Premier Meighen To Be Accorded Fullest Courtesy—Moore and Draper Confident of Support On Their Record—Toronto Blamed For Efforts To Obstruct Smooth Running of Convention.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Sept. 12.—Efforts to force through a resolution calling upon British authorities for the immediate release of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, Ireland, and asking the Canadian Government to interest itself towards this end, promises to constitute the outstanding feature of the opening day's convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, which assembles here for one week on Monday, it became apparent today.

"The congress has already expressed itself in favor of giving Ireland a measure of government similar to that of Canada, and just what action will be taken on the MacSwiney question, I cannot accurately say," declared President Tom Moore tonight.

Second Largest Attendance.

The credentials in from delegates from all parts of Canada, extending from British Columbia to Nova Scotia, and with every train that arrives in Windsor discharging new arrivals, officials of the big labor body are looking forward to the second largest attendance in the 35 years' history of the Trades and Labor Congress since its organization. The attendance, President Moore said today, would not equal that of last year at Hamilton, owing to the location of that city, in the heart of the most widely populated area in the Dominion of organized workmen, but the delegates will be fully as representative.

But, while numerically the convention will not assume the proportions of last year, the problems to come up for consideration will eclipse in importance those of any previous year.

Important Questions.

In addition to the warm debate which is anticipated on the Irish situation the congress will deal with the question of immigration as related to the industrial disputes act and Canadian labor; amendments proposed to the workmen's compensation act of Ontario and similar legislation in other provinces; the cost of living; new labor legislation at Ottawa; amendments to the constitution to the Trades and Labor Congress, and the attitude of organized labor in Canada, and of the Dominion Government to Russia and the Soviet Government of that country.

Canada and Russia.

The last of these questions, the one affecting Canadian and Russian interests will be given an interesting angle by the appearance of Premier Meighen, who is to address and formally open the congress Monday afternoon at 2:45.

Speculations were rife today among the newly-arrived delegates at the attitude the recently-appointed premier would adopt to the problems slated for discussion. During the past few weeks Premier Meighen has adopted a decided stand regarding Russia and "Bolshevism in the Dominion." As a result considerable antagonism among the more radical branches of the congress has arisen against the premier and hard feeling in certain quarters was apparent today, considerable of the criticism reflecting back on the officials of the congress for their action in inviting Meighen to open the convention.

Toronto Centre of Trouble.

On the other hand, President Tom Moore, discussing the situation that has arisen on this aspect of the gathering, reviewed the matter calmly, characterizing it is an opportunistic attack, centred in Toronto, and directed specifically against the present administration in the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Moore declared that in spite of the active propaganda being carried on by insurgents in various parts of the Dominion and chiefly in the Queen City, the movement represented by the congress was forging rapidly ahead and gaining in strength and influence in every part of the country. He had long been aware, he said, of insurgency in the ranks at Toronto, and the present ill-feeling stirred up from that source was merely an attempt, he said, to embarass convention arrangements, and obstruct as far as possible the smooth-running program that had been planned.

He strongly defended the course and policy of the officials of the organization, and predicted that the thinking members among the delegates would vindicate the actions of the executive during the past twelve months.

Fullest Courtesy for Meighen.

In regard to the visit of Premier Meighen, he said:

"Arrangements will be made to extend full courtesy to Mr. Meighen, and we shall welcome him heartily to the convention. Believing, as we do, in freedom of speech and toleration, we can understand the policy of his Government to labor."

In considering amendments to the present constitution of the Trades and Labor Congress, probably the most important, and certainly the one at which the warmest feeling will be aroused, will be the proposal to change the status of the secretary-treasurer from part to full-time employment.

Reports of the officers of the organization will probably be submitted Monday, covering their activities and the progress made by organized labor in the Dominion during the past twelve months. Debate on any issues involved in these reports, however, cannot extend over a very lenghty period, owing to arrival at 2:45 of the premier, who is to formally open the convention, and address the delegates for over two hours.

Later on, toward the end of the week, these reports will probably again come up for discussion, when the election of officers is slated to occupy the spotlight position on the floor.

Officers Are Confident.

While it is too early to gain any accurate idea of the probable fate of the present executive, it is regarded probable among a majority of the delegates who have already arrived that President Tom Moore and Secretary-treasurer P. M. Draper will be returned to office in spite of the efforts and criticism of the radical and insurgent croup who are oppose to them, and who have contributed mostly to the difficulties alreday met in making arrangements for a quiet and business-like session.

Moore and Draper are the two big men in the organization, and naturally have been and will be picked out for attack by the group of wilder members who have adopted obstructionist policies in their attitude toward the big gathering and the organization generally.

Confident, however, in their conduct during the past year, these officers are viewing the situation with the greatest calmness and assurance, based on their estimate of the support of the thinking members of the Congress.

Cosmoplitan Gathering.

Meantime, arrangements have been completed for the reception and accommodation of the 1,000 delegates now expected to attend the session. Large numbers will be quartered in local and Detroit hotels, while the remander will be the guests of border union men. In addition visiting delegates will be here from the United States, Great Britain, France and Belgium.

THE DREAD PYORRHEA BEGINS WITH BLEEDING GUMS

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

TORONTO I. L. P. BACK OF MACSWINEY RELEASE RESOLUTION

WINDSOR, Sept. 12.—(By Canadian Press).—A resolution denouncing the British Government for its policy towards Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork, Ireland, has been submitted to the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress by a Toronto group of delegates.

The committee on resolutions, contrary to the former practice, has not been in session a week prior to the initial session of the congress, weeding out the various duplicative motions, consequently little is to be gained officially on the subject from this body, which was only appointed today.

Toronto delegates who are here, however, admit that such a resolution was drafted some time ago in Toronto by a branch of the Independent Labor party, which is entitled to representation at the congress. The names of a number of prominent members of the Labor political group are attached to it, but these will not be divulged until the motion's formal presentation to the congress.

"Ireland Cannot Secede."

"We have taken the stand indorsed at last year's congress," explained Tom Moore, president of the congress, with reference to all resolutions bearing on the Irish question, "that Ireland cannot secede from the Empire, but that a dominion government be granted that country by the British Parliament.

"If the Irish had agreed among themselves some 20 years ago on what kind of government they wanted the British Government would not now be confronted with the present serious situation. What is the use of telling the Irish people what they want when they don't know themselves. The events of the last year have not changed my views on the Irish question."

Resolutions dealing with prohibition, immigration and the trades disputes act also will be considered, President Moore said.

A special train arrived this morning from Toronto bearing the main body of its delegates. Among those already here are Arthur O'Leary and W. J. Hevey, who recently collected heavy damages from James Simpson of Toronto, the editor of the Industrial Banner, in a suit brought by them against the latter, charging libel and slander.

The Week's Program.

The convention schedule for Monday is as follows—9 a.m., delegates convene at armories. Addresses of welcome by F. J. Clancy, president of Windsor Trades and Labor Council; His Worship Mayor E. B. Winter; Hon. Walter Rollo, provincial minister of labor and health.

Afternoon—Speech by Hon. Arthur Meighen; 8 p.m., monster get-together of armories, concert, dancing and refreshments.

Tuesday—Morning session; afternoon, river trip, S.S. Britannia.

Wednesday—Morning session; afternoon session; sight-seeing trip around city of Detroit for visiting ladies; evening, local unions will entertain delegates.

Thursday—Sessions as arranged; auto trip around border cities for visiting ladies.

Friday and Saturday—Sessions as arranged.

DEBS SAYS LABOR SHOULD COMPEL MACSWINEY'S RELEASE

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—Arthur Griffith, founded of the Sinn Fein, has received a cablegram from Eugene V. Debs, the American Socialist leader, who is serving a ten-year term in Atlanta prison for the violation of the espionage act, condemning the treatment of Lord Mayor MacSwiney. Debs says in his message that "British labor should not halt at mere protest, but should compel the mayor's release."

BELFAST, Sept. 12. — A Belfast citizen, John Toner, proceeding along the Newtonards road after curfew Saturday, was shot dead, making the 32nd riot victim here, or, including the July disturbances, the 52nd. The total deaths in the 1886 riots, heretofore reckoned the worst in the city's history, were 51. Fifty-eight arrests were made in Belfast Saturday night after the curfew hour.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A bulletin issued early this evening by the Gaelic League announced that Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork, who is on a hunger strike in Brixton jail, was much worse, and that the patient was in very great pain.

The bulletin issued at noon said MacSwiney had passed a slightly better night, during which he had a little sleep. He was described as still being in a state of extreme exhaustion but conscious. At 2 o'clock this afternoon it was announced that the patient had taken a turn for the worse.

FARMERS HAVE TWO CHOICES IN W. PETERBORO

Convention Names Campbell, But Collins Will Run Also.

PETERBORO, Sept. 12.—James Corbett Campbell of South Monaghan was the choice of the U. F. O. at a convention here on Saturday as the farmers' candidate to contest West Peterboro in the by-election for the House of Commons. J. F. Collins of Ennismore, who was defeated in the final ballot for the U. F. O. candidature by 94 votes, declared his intention of remaining in the field as an Indenpent-Labor minority U. F. O. candidate.

The vacancy in West Peterboro was created by the resignation of John H. Burnham, Unionist M.P., who was dissatisfied with the Government at Ottawa, and avowed his intention of contesting the riding as an Independent Conservative candidate.

LONDON EXCHANGE RATE HITS LOWEST POINT SINCE MARCH

Despite Heavy Gold Imports New York Sees Further Depression.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Further depression in foreign exchange market was a disquietening feature today. Despite heavy gold imports, remittances to London fell below $3.50 to pound for demand bills, with sympathetic declines in the rate to France, Belgium, Germany and Italy.

Today's quotations for British remittances were the lowest since March 1, and the reaction in quotations to continental Europe are the lowest in several months.

According to reports, there has been heavy speculative selling of foreign exchange, based largely on industrial conditions in England and Italy.

BODY OF CANADIAN VETERAN FOUND IN BELLE ISLE WOODS

DETROIT, Sept. 12.—A boy taking a short cut through the woods on Belle Isle Saturday afternoon, came upon the body of a man, who the police believe was a Canadian war veteran, reduced to his last few pence, who had wandered to the secluded spot and with a draught of poison, put an end to his life.

In the clothing, showing signs of wear, were found a Canadian war veteran's button, two U. S. copper coins, one Canadian cent, an enamelled green clover-leaf ring bearing the inscription "12-14," and a cheap watch. No wound was found on the body, but there were burns on lips such as are made by carbolic acid.

The man was about 24 years old, had red hair, weighed about 138 pounds and about 5 feet 8 inches in height. He was wearing a dark checked suit, green cap, brown shoes, black socks and a white collar and shirt. The body had apparently been in the woods less than 24 hours when found.

CONSIDER WHITLEY COUNCIL PLAN FOR POSTOFFICE DEPT.

Employees and Labor Heads Submit Scheme To Cabinet.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—A Whitley council for the postoffice department is being considered by the cabinet. The scheme for such a body was submitted by representatives of organizations of post-office employees, Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and P. M. Draper, secretary of the Trades Congress.

Following conferences between Senator Robertson, minister of labor, and Messrs. Moore, Draper, W. J. Cantwell, president of the Dominion Postal Clerks' Association, J. S. Forsythe, representative of the Federated Association of Letter Carriers, and Frank James, president of the Associated Federal Employees at Ottawa, a draft scheme was submitted to the cabinet.

The proposed council would be composed of 14 members, seven appointed by the Government, seven by the staff. The chairman would be a member of the official side, and the vice-chairman a member of the staff side. They would meet frequently. Their powers would not interfere with the prerogatives of the civil service commission or the Government, but they would act as a board of appeal and consider postal employees' grievances. The main purpose of the council would be to bring about greater co-operation between the staff and employees. Each side would bear its own expenses.

FREDERICTON, N.B., Sept. 12.—In their efforts to make the province "bone dry" it is understood the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance are taking steps to have the number of licensed vendors in the province limited and otherwise curtail the sale of liquor.

GALT NURSES' HOME TO BE DEDICATED WEDNESDAY

Building To Be Opened by One of the Donors.

Galt, Sept. 11.—The formal opening of the handsome Hugh McCulloch Memorial Nurses' Home, built on an elevation north of the General Hospital, will take place on Wednesday afternoon next, when R. O. McCulloch, one of the donors, will make the presentation to the hospital trust. The building, one of the most modern of the kind in Canada, is elegantly furnished. Lieutenant-Governor Lionel Clarke and Mrs. Clarke will grace the gathering.

The Kiltie Band gave its final free concert of the season Sunday afternoon in Dickson Park before a very large and appreciative audience. From the attendance point of view, the Sunday concerts have been most popular this season.

An 81-year-old resident of this city, who disappeared from his home on Friday afternoon, was found today in Kitchener.

A field day of sports for the public school pupils of the city is to be held on Friday afternoon, September 24. This will be the first time such an event has been held here, and it is hoped it will become an annual autumn occurrence.

The first week of school at the Collegiate Institute has seen all attendance records smashed. On the first day 350 pupils enrolled and up to the end of the week 375 had registered, which is 40 more for the same time a year ago.

MAY CANCEL ALL TAXI LICENSES IN WINDSOR

Constant Complaints by Citizens of Behavior of Drivers Is Cause.

Windsor, Sept. 12.—So acute has become the fight being waged between city officials and police with local taxi drivers, that Magistrate Miers in imposing fines on five drivers in police court declared the time rapidly approaching when all licenses to operate cars for pay would have to be cancelled.

In response to repeated complaints from citizens of annoyances suffered from taxi men addressing insulting remarks to passing women, Mayor Winter has issued a number of warnings within the past week. Finally he was forced to threaten the cancellation of licenses and removal of the present stand from Ouellette avenue to a back street unless the men changed their conduct.

Three men were fined $16 and costs Saturday in police court for accosting young girls, and two others were assessed $10 each for disregarding traffic instructions from policemen.

Messrs. W. W. Fergusson (Scottie) and Wilfred Hodgins, well-known automobile men of this city, have been instrumental in securing the agency for the Essex Automobile and will soon open an up-to-date salesroom, where they will be pleased to have their many friends call and see them.

These men have for some time past been watching the automobile situation and have come to the conclusion that the wonderful performance that the Essex has put up throughout the world makes it the one car to handle that will give entire satisfaction. The Essex cars hold all world's records for endurance, workmanship, speed, with low consumption of gasoline.

Messrs. Fergusson and Hodgins have a car here during the Exhibition, and will be glad to have all intending purchasers or those interested call or phone for demonstration at 781 Dundas street, one block west of Fair Grounds.

SARNIA NOSES OUT MIMICO 9-8 IN O.L.A. SEMI-FINAL

Border Turns Out En Masse To See Big Lacrosse Event.

Sarnia, Sept. 12.—In the fastest, cleanest and closest game the Sarnia lacrosse team has yet participated in, Mimico was nosed out 9—8 Saturday in the last second of play, Littlefair scoring on a pass from Yank Karn as the final whistle blew. Both teams played clean lacrosse, three minute penalties being the longest given.

The first period ended 2—2, but in the second the Mimico lads lengthened the lead, getting the odd man in past the defence, and at half-time they were leading 5 to 3. Mimico made it a three-goal lead at the start of the second half but with Harding watching Thomas, who had been working round the defence with clocklike regularity, and a close watch being kept on Cooper, the Mimico home lost some of their effectiveness. Both defences played tight lacrosse. Individual effort and long shooting counting as a rule, Mimico being especially noticeable in the latter. Both goalies were given lots to do, and despite the score played pretty lacrosse. In the last period Sutherland left his goal and went up on the home to make the odd man to break the tie, but this proved the undoing of the visitors in the last second of play, Littlefair scoring on an empty net. The teams were paraded through the main section of the city, headed by the band, and were the guests of the Athletic Club Saturday night, and were tendered a dance at the beach. The largest crowd that has attended a sporting event in Sarnia for years turned out. Among those in attendance were Mayor Nesbitt, Judge Taylor, and members of the county council, chamber of commerce and the Athletic Club. Harding and Copeland, the two new defence of the Sarnia team played a splendid game. The Sandy Karn-Little defence of the Sarnia team played a splendid game. The Sandy-Littlefair-Glintz-Frobel combination, barring some wild streaks of passing, played a consistent game. The return game is booked for Mimico next Saturday. The teams:

Sarnia—Goal, Ferguson; point, Richards; coverpoint, Copeland; first defence, Harding; second defence, H. Karn; centre, McGuire; second home, Glintz; first home, Frobel; outside, S. Karn; inside, Littlefair; spares, McAllister, McDonald, Cuthbertson.

Referee—Carmichael, Toronto.
Umpire—Coombs, Toronto.

INGERSOLL BOWLERS FAIL TO LIFT KRUPP CUP

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 12.—Two rinks from the Ingersoll Bowling Club challenged the local club for the Dr. Krupp trophy which the Tillsonburg club lifted at Woodstock on Labor Day, but the visitors were on the short end of the score after some very interesting playing.

Western Ontario bowlers are watching with a great deal of interest the progress of the local bowlers who have already lifted five Canadian trophies this season, and will be represented by two rinks at the Brantford Heathers' tournament on Wednesday. The local club now have four additional greens under way which will be opened next summer, when they will have one of the best bowling greens in Ontario.

LA SALLETTE LOSES

Simcoe, Sept. 12.—Lasalette was decidedly outclassed here yesterday in the first game of the finals for the county championship at baseball. Ramey pitched for Simcoe and Harwood for the Saints. The locals led from the opening of the game, although the score, 9 to 4 was rather one-sided, the play was exceptionally good. The return game will be played at Lasalette within a fortnight.

METAGAMA STILL AGROUND.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The Canadian Pacific Ocean Services liner Metagama, which ran aground on Isle Bouchard, over twenty miles below Montreal, on Saturday afternoon, is still unable to move, despite the vigorous efforts of the five tugs sent to her rescue on Sunday morning. All the passengers, however, arrived here this morning on the Canada Steamship Lines steamer Three Rivers, none the worse for an extra night on the river.

Manitoba Flour—Government standard, new crop, second patent; Toronto, $13.25.

Millfeed—In carlots, delivered Montreal freights, bags included; bran, $52 per ton; shorts, $61 per ton; good feed flour, $3.75 per bag; middlings, not quoted.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—Flour—Unchanged.

Shipments—45,156 barrels.

Bran—$41@42.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—The feature of the local flour situation was the announcement by Canadian spring wheat millers of an advance of 25c per barrel, attributed to the rate increase in freight.

For the same reason bran and shorts have also been increased in price.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat, new standard, $14.50.

Rolled Oats—Per bag, 90 lbs., $4.90@5.05.

Bran—$54.75.

Shorts—$59.75.

Flax 2c down for October at $3 60.

Corn—Dec., $1 18¼; May, $1 16⅜.

Oats—Dec., 65⅞c; May, 68⅞c.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Wheat moved upward in price today largely as a result of the meagreness of receipts from the spring crop on both sides of Canadian boundary. Houses with seaboard connections were conspicuous buyers.

Despite liberal receipts, corn was firm in sympathy with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅞c off, the market scored an advance all around.

Prospective export business in Canadian grain strengthened oats.

STANDARD STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Business was again very quiet on the Standard Stock Exchange this morning, with only 12,600 shares changing hands. Higher prices ruled in many of the transactions, but Hollinger, with a loss of 4c, was a conspicuous exception. Lake Shore, V. N. T. and McKinley showed gains ranging from ½c to 4c.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Morning sales: Gold Reef, 2500 at 3¼; Dome Mines, 100 at 12.50; Hollinger, 300 at 575; Kirkland Lake, 500 at 53½, 2000 at 51; V. N. Total sales, 12,600 shares.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—With one or two exceptions stocks showed a tendency to weakness in listless trading on the stock exchange this morning. The volume of transactions was again very light. F. N. Burt's dividend announcement was responsible for an advance of 2 points in that issue of 105, despite the fact that only seven shares were marketed. Mackay, which is selling ex-dividend, was the most active stock on the board, transactions amounting to almost 300 shares. It sold up from 68 to 68⅜, but fell back to the former price before the noon close. Brazilian sagged ¼ to 37¾, and Spanish River was up ¾ at 119¼. In the investment issues Toronto Trusts opened at 204 and gained 2 points.

Girl Hidden For Seventeen Years In Dark Cellar

Illinois Authorities Attempting To Place Responsibility.

Joliet, Ills., Sept. 13.—State and county authorities are today preparing an investigation to determine persons responsible for the condition of Marie Kolwiszki, aged 19, who they said, had been kept hidden for seventeen years in the cellar of her home here.

Officials announced that they had learned that the girl was placed in the cellar when she was 2 years old. They said she had the physical appearance of a child of 6 and her limbs were twisted and shriveled, and her face gaunt and discolored. The girl was found in a crib in a corner of the cellar, covered with a quilt. The only light came from one small window.

FAVOR MINERS GOING BACK TO THEIR WORK

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 13.—Leaders of districts 1, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America, meeting in Hazleton today, are reported to be in favor of adopting a policy of ordering all union workers back to their places. Such a step, it was said, however, will not be taken without a bitter fight among the union chieftains.

MILNER NOT LIKELY TO RETIRE FOR SOME TIME YET, IS BELIEF

London, Sept. 13.—Canadian Associated Press.—A weekly dispatch in a Sunday paper states that Lord Milner, who is wanting a rest, will shortly retire from the colonial office. Downing street, however, denies this, and points out that Lord Milner is not likely to think of retirement until his Egyptian government scheme has been realized.

BRITISH DELEGATES REACH MONTREAL

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, arrived at Quebec this morning with the delegates of the Empire Chambers of Commerce congress, which is to be held in Toronto on the 16th inst. and following days. The party includes many noted men in industrial and commercial life of the British Isles. Another distinguished voyager is Major-Gen. J. E. B. Seeley, who commanded the Canadian Cavalry Brigade during the war, and who since then has been in command of the air forces in England.

FEW COMPLAINTS AS TO RENT PROFITEERING

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—Despite innumerable complaints in the past two weeks of rent profiteering in Winnipeg, the last 48 hours in which the joint council of industry has invited tenants to lodge particulars of profiteering, have resulted in but two official complaints being turned in.

KOMOKA.

Komoka, Sept. 13.—Threshing is in full swing in this locality and the farmers are well pleased with the heavy yield of grain. Apples are a splendid crop and a good quality.

The W. M. S. of the Presbyterian Church held their annual meeting last Wednesday and packed a substantial bale of clothing for the Northwest missions.

John and Albert Weinham, of Perry, N. Y., have been spending several weeks here visiting their brother-in-law, Fred Edwards, who has been very ill at his home here.

AGREEMENT IS OUTLINED.

London, Sept. 13.—(Canadian Associated Press.—The Times gives the details of an agreement between Holt & Co. of the Blue Funnel Line and the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and the Canadian National Railways for a joint steamship service between Vancouver and the Far East, each providing an equal number of vessels. The Times regards the scheme as a remarkable combination between the Government and private interests and further suggests that Holts, who have a large business with United States Pacific ports, may be influenced to develop trade with British Columbia by discriminatory measures in the United States against foreign shipping.

STEAMER ARRIVALS.

Says Annulment of Marriages in Quebec Is Becoming Scandal

Quebec, Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press).—The decisions of judges in the courts of Quebec, annulling the marriage of Catholics and non-Catholics performed by Protestant ministers, was becoming nothing less than a scandal, stated Canon Scott in the course of a statement he made today relative to the annullment by Mr. Justice Bruneau of Montreal of the marriage of Bernard John Dahlmann and Gertrude Idella Barbeau, performed by him on September 21, 1914. Canon Scott said the supreme court of Canada had decided that such marriages were legal, and he hoped that in the public interest steps would be taken to put an end to these decisions of judges of inferior courts which enabled a person by consent to secure the nullification of the sacred obligations of marriage and bring unhappiness and the sting of illegitimacy upon innocent little children.

The canon said he was well aware that one of the parties was a Roman Catholic. He considered such a marriage binding. He had always refused to marry two Roman Catholics, such a marriage being, he agreed, on a different footing.

Says Marriage Licenses Too Easy To Procure

Port Arthur, Sept. 13.—"You can buy a marriage license in any place from a grocery store to a junkshop," said Magistrate Pallinger of Fort William at a hearing here on Saturday. Pallinger also declared that couples in the city procured a license, hung it up at the head of the bed, and considered that sufficient ceremony.

MANY APPLICANTS FOR CHAIRMAN'S POSITION

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—There are more than fifty applicants for the position of chairman of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, left vacant by the transfer of Dr. W. J. Black to the position of organizer for the National Liberal and Conservative party. Sir James Lougheed, minister of the interior, has just got back from the west and will undertake the making of a selection.

SEVEN ARE HURT WHEN MOTOR TRUCK STRIKES LOADED STREET CAR

New York, Sept. 13.—Seven men were hurt this morning when a motor truck sideswiped a Hamilton avenue trolley in Brooklyn, scraping passengers off the running board and piling them into the street. The truck driver was arrested on a technical charge.

GOVERNOR SMITH TO TRY AND ARRANGE STRIKE SETTLEMENT

New York, Sept. 13.—Governor Smith was here today to attend a conference with representatives of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company strikers in an effort to reach a settlement of the strike, now entering its third week. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was among those whom the governor expected to meet.

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $5,000,000 TO AID McGILL UNIVERSITY

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Plans are under way for a six-day campaign to raise $5,000,000 for McGill University, in order to recoup it for the losses occasioned by the war, and also to make up for the depreciation of the Canadian dollar.

Does This Mean You?

John Jones died leaving an intimate friend as his executor. Shortly afterwards the friend died, leaving his two sons as his executors. The two sons live in a distant part of the country, have never seen John Jones and know nothing whatever about his estate. Consequently, they are entirely unfitted to carry out the terms of his will.

If the estate had been instrusted to this company's care in the first place—as has since been done—the heirs would have suffered no loss or delay on account of the executor's death.

The deplorable mismanagement, either through ignorance or business inability of the individual Executor, has decided this point.

In selecting a Trust Company for this important function, Service should be your first consideration.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS DEFER THEIR STRIKE

Toronto, Sept. 11.—There will be no strike of the electrical workers, machinists and carpenters employed by the Toronto and Niagara Power and the Toronto Street Railway companies on Monday.

What course will be pursued after Monday will be determined by a joint meeting of the trades affected Monday night at the Labor Temple.

Premier Drury has asked the men to defer action, so that the Government can act as mediator and has stated that the ultimatum expiring Monday at 12 o'clock noon was too short.

CHARGE IS REDUCED.

Windsor, Sept. 13.—Jos. C. Drouillard, 17-year-old farm laborer, of Sandwich West Township, is to be tried at the fall assizes of the supreme court at Sandwich in November on a charge of assault with intent to maim, injure and disfigure Daisy Blake, 19-year-old daughter of a farmer residing on the Walker road, Sandwich East, on August 19. With the consent of the crown, the charge was reduced from one of assault with intent to murder. Drouillard pleaded not guilty, and vouchsafed no statement when invited to do so by the court.

BOOKIE FINED $500.

Windsor, Sept. 12.—Finding Harry Harry Blackman, of Detroit, guilty of operating a private book on the races at the Devonshire meet last week, Magistrate Miers late Saturday imposed a fine of $500 and costs. Blackman was arrested in front of the totalizer at the park with a ruled form, on which he was entering the names of a number of men from whom he had accepted money. In defence he claimed he had merely taken the money to play it in at the pari-mutuel machines for his friends.

William Jones of Detroit was given three months in Sandwich jail, when found guilty in Walkerville police court of attempting to pick pockets at the race track.

At The Theaters

CYRIL MAUDE'S LONDON AND NEW YORK SUCCESS "GRUMPY," AT THE GRAND TONIGHT.

Though his adoring and altogether bewitching little granddaughter chose to adorn him with that nickname, "Grumpy," who comes to the Grand tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week, proves to be a really wholesome character.

"Grumpy," in fact, is a whimsical, delicately-done bit of refined English comedy. The situations built up from a first-rate detective story, with just a dash of the melodramatic, and a sweet little love story, are of the sort theatregoers revel in.

In the hands of Mr. Edward Lewers and his all-star English company, this ten-year favorite of Great Britain, Canada, United States and Australia, is the delight of amusement lovers and the natural choice of visitors, who divide their time between the exhibition and theatrical enjoyment.

The title role was made famous by Mr. Cyril Maude, the distinguished English actor, but in Mr. Lewers he has a creditable and capable successor. Mr. Lewers for the past ten years has been associated with Mr. Robert B. Mantell, playing the comedy parts of his Shakespearean production, but prior to that time he had already gained a notable reputation with Martin Harvey.

Violet Hall Caine, the bewitching little ingenue, who is one of the notable lady stars of this all-English company, is a niece of Hall Caine, who has played with outstanding success with Ben Greet, Sir Herbert Tree, Sir George Alexander and others. Peggy Dundas, a former star of William A. Brady, Comstock, Gest and Shubert productions, is another member of the cast.

Seats for all performances of "Grumpy" now on sale, and can be reserved by mail, phone or wire, and will be held until 6:30 of evening wanted. Intending visitors to the Fair are advised to send their mail orders in advance.

BASEBALL NIGHT TONIGHT AT THE GRAND.

Mayor Little tonight will present the gold medal as donated to the winning hitter of the M.-O. League. Speck Kennedy, that golden-haired boy—the idol of the London fans—is the recipient of the medal. Mr. Kennedy will not be here to receive his prize, but Manager Buzz Wetzel of the champion Tecs will receive the award on behalf of Speck, who is now playing with the San Francisco club.

A JAPANESE SHOW-GIRL WITH "CHU CHIN CHOW," AT THE GRAND THURSDAY NEXT.

From far-away Japan, the land of the orange blossoms and lotus bud, has come a beautiful show-girl, whose remarkable type of beauty attracts a great deal of attention in "Chu Chin Chow," which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest will present at the Grand on Thusray, Friday and Saturday of this week, with special Saturday matinee.

The young lady in the case enjoys the unique name of Okita Watima. She is 22 years of age, and was born at Tokio, where her father has a large importing and exporting business. In the course of his travels to America three years ago, he brought Okita with him and sent her to a girl's boarding school up the Hudson River to learn English. The moment Papa Watima went back to Japan little Miss Okita decided to go upon the stage. She reached New York two years ago, just as F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest were about to produce "Chu Chin Chow." Through a theatrical agent she was sent to Mr. Gest. In the mannequin scenes of "Chu Chin Chow" a number of show-girls were employed, and one of the costumes is a Japanese creation. Mr. Gest decided that it would add realism to have a real Japanese girl play this part, so little Miss Okita made her stage debut in "Chu Chin Chow" just two years ago. She has been playing the part continuously ever since, except last summer, when Mr. Gest decided to put her in the Midnight Whirl in the Century Theatre Roof Garden in New York. It is no reflection on the American girls who dazzled theatregoers as showgirls to say that Miss Okita more than held her own with the Americans, and that her Japanese type of beauty, exploited in attractive costume, brought her more than the usual number of mash notes.

Little Miss Okita during the summer was the especial pet in New York of a great many officers of the Japanese army and navy, who were in this country on official business. When "Chu Chin Chow" resumed its tour the Japanese show-girl reluctantly bade farewell to her admirers in New York and went on the road as the Japanese Marmequin in "Chu Chin Chow." Seats for "Chu Chin Chow" are now on sale.

LONDONERS SHOULD SEE BIG ATTRACTIONS BEFORE IMMENSE FAIR CROWDS THRONG ALLEN—"ON WITH THE DANCE" NOW SHOWING.

At last it is here, one of the season's best film attractions, the much-discussed George Fitzmaurice production, "On With the Dance," opens at the Allen today as one of the biggest attractions in the city for Fair Week.

Starring Mae Murray and David Powell, with Alma Tell and a host of other famous artists this brilliant Paramount Artcraft special is undoubtedly an epic in photoplay production. With scenes which rival Solomon's splendor, dazzling, brilliant and colorful, the picture presents such a wealth of beautiful settings, such a display of wonderful clothes, gowns, jewels and furs, the luxurious homes, cars and apartments—it is a veritable fashion show from the first to the last scene.

The story itself is one of those tense, sensational and thrilling romances of New York's gay whiteway; of the mad, pleasure-seeking throngs who are ever in the search of new pleasures, new sensations, driving on and on, wasting their beauty, their youth and lives, in this mad dance, dragging down their companions in the destruction which is certain to follow.

The management advise that the citizens take advantage of the small amount of visitors on the opening days of the Western Fair to see this attraction and avoid the great crowds that will attend when the exhibition gets into full swing. There will be a special children's matinee daily at 4:30, and continuous performances daily.

ALL WESTERN ONTARIO IS TALKING OF THE EXTRAORDINARY FILM ATTRACTION AT THE MAJESTIC.

There's not a person who expects to attend the Western Fair who is not counting on seeing also during their visit the extraordinary attraction which is now showing at the Majestic Theatre in continuous performances.

"Shipwrecked Among the Cannibals," that most unexpected and unusual of films, is the most discussed topic among movie fans of the day, and if Londoners wish to see this attraction in comfort, the management urges that they attending during the first of the week, and so avoid the great crowds which will throng the city when the exhibition gets into full swing.

Telling of the thrilling and hair-raising adventures which happened to the shipwrecked cameramen who were castaways on the shores of the blackest, wickedest spot on earth, the New Guinea Islands, the entire six reels is crowded with one sensation following close upon the other. You are urged to view the production in the spirit in which it is shown, for these people live by a very different code of morals and conventions than we or the civilized world are governed by. In fact, they know no law, fear no God, and are nothing more or less than human savage tigers, the living proof of Darwin's theory of the missing link, living the most primitive of existence, battling against the great beasts of the jungle with spear and tooth, slashing their bodies to make them more ferocious, and teaching their children to use as toys nothing more or less than the remains of their hundreds of cannibal feasts, the bones of human skeletons.

There will be a special matinee daily for school children at 4:30, as the boards of education in the different cities in which this picture has been shown have highly indorsed the attraction, and urge that there is not a man, woman or child who should miss this photographic record of a people who are fast vanishing from the earth.

AT LOEW'S

Mary Blake, a steno, and active member of the Working Girl's Club listens to Jimmy Stanhope, the dear boy, deliver a snappy little address on the subject of Patriotism.

Mary's heart palpitates, "zoomes"—does the difficult Immelmann, and throbs when she hears him speak. She has fallen. The vamp has been vamped. But at the same time four very doubtful citizens take a deep and personal dislike to Jimmy, because in his speech he jumped on their toes, figuratively speaking, with spiked shoes. Jimmy voices his opinions in accents loud and unkind, and the more enthusiastic he gets, the more determined Mary becomes to vamp him into loving her, and the more determined the radical gentlemen become to do something to fix the dear boy for his pertinent remarks. With these two elements against him it is easy to understand why "The Perfect Woman," which comes to Loew's Theatre the next three days, embodies such entertaining and humorous situations.

A Sunshine comedy, all laughs, Loew's screen pictorial and Loew's supreme vaudeville completes the bill for the next three days.

AT THE PATRICIA
Quaint Characters Aid Plot of "Passers By."

"Passers By," the J. Stuart Blackton-Pathe feature starring Herbert Rawlinson and featured this week at the Patricia Theatre, is a real life drama of real people. Of course it has has a plot, for it is the greatest work of C. Haddon Chambers, playwright, with nothing but successes to his credit, and that plot is tender and noble in theme, but primarily it is a study of types.

The story turns the searchlight on the characters, dispositions and philosophies of several people who pass by Peter Waverton's window one stormy night. He brings them into his home, entertains them, and invites them to come again. Out of this kindly deed comes the happiness that Waverton thought he had lost.

The usual added features and vaudeville will also be shown.

TIP TOP TAILORS WONDERFUL $27 CLOTHES AT WESTERN FAIR
ORDERS TAKEN ON THE GROUNDS.

The display of one-price suitings and overcoatings by Tip Top Tailors, the world's largest one-price tailoring organization, is attracting the attention of men who know value.

With the tremendous growth of their business during the past twelve months, the value of Tip Top one-price clothes has become greater than ever before. AUTO HITS TWO; DOES NOT STOP Driver Gets Away Before Number Is Taken—Police Want Him.

Clifford and Daniel Kargus, brothers, residents of Manor Park, were struck and injured by a Ford auto on Wharncliffe road near Emery street at 9 o'clock last night, but the driver of the car did not stop to ascertain what damage he had done. Clifford, who is 19 years old, was so badly injured that he was removed to Victoria Hospital. His brother, who is 18 years old, was only slightly injured.

Both young men were walking on the side of the road, as there was not a sidewalk bordering the road there. Daniel stated that the car came from the south, and after knocking him to one side, carried his brother on it for a considerable distance, and finally pitched him off to the side of the road. When spectators rushed to Clifford's assistance he was unconscious. He was taken into a house and later removed to the hospital where he regained consciousness.

London and St. Thomas police are searching for the car, Chief Armstrong of St. Thomas having been notified by local authorities that it had been seen doubling back to St. Thomas after the accident.

It is described as a Ford with the rear of the top torn, the windshield smashed and the headlights broken. Lights were not lit when it hit the two pedestrians, and a London motorist stated that a car with the headlights smashed passed him at Tempo previous to the time of the accident.

Daniel's head was cut. Clifford is suffering from scalp wounds and several bad bruises. Early this morning he was resting quietly in the hospital.

This is the second time in the past few months that Londoners have been hit by autos which have been driven away before anyone was able to secure their license numbers. In this latest instance and in the one in May when a citizen was killed the cars were reported to be traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

EVERY BUSINESSMAN SHOULD BE CHRISTIAN
Says Rev. J. T. C. Morris—Attacks War Profiteers—Selfishness Hindrance.

"Business, manipulated as it has been in the hands of the Anglo-Saxon race, especially by England, the nation of shopkeepers, has been the greatest medium for the spread of Christian civilization," said Rev. J. T. C. Morris Sunday evening in the Askin Street Methodist Church on the subject of "Christianity in Business."

Continuing, Mr. Morris said that the business world was a great commonwealth, having laws which were so vital that not even kings could put them aside without paying a penalty. The strength of this commonwealth was shown the world over by great buildings reared for the transaction of business. It was the one power which saved the world from crumbling before the ravages of war. Every man engaged in honest business, including the farmer who tilled the soil, aided the welfare of the world.

"Business," said the speaker, "is the great quantity which aids men to earn a livelihood. Every man owes a debt to society. He should earn by his own efforts enough to pay for his living. Society never has owed man a living. Business is the great school where character is developed. It is a school of energy and of knowledge. It is the great institution where patience is taught, and where men by tribulations are taught to be great. It is the school where integrity is instilled in the soul of men."

Mr. Morris claimed that selfishness is the greatest hindrance to business. Not so much the selfishness of self-indulgence, but that of grasping for profits. He attacked the profiteer who used the war to extract money from the public. Profits were legitimate, he said, but at times they were terrible. Competition was a curse to business, when its devilish steel claws shut out honest business places. The sin of worldliness also was a stumbling block to the businessman.

Every businessman needed Christianity. He ought to be a Christian. He must learn to measure things fairly. The time was coming when this must be done.

JOSEPH WEBBER DIES
Resident But Three Weeks—Five Sons and Three Daughters Survive.

Joseph Webber, 60 years of age, died suddenly at his residence, 422 King street, on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock from heart-failure. He had been working all afternoon in his garden, being apparently in the best of health, but he expired soon after coming into his house.

Mr. Webber had been a resident of London for only three weeks, having come here from Dublin, Ontario, where he conducted a hotel for the past 14 years. Besides his wife, he is survived by five sons, Father Edward Webber, who was recently ordained in St. Peter's Seminary, and John, Joseph, Wilfred and Jacob, all at home; three daughters, Mary, Theresa and Elizabeth, all at home, and two brothers, Jacob of Seaforth, and Michael of Kitchener.

The funeral will be held from the family residence on Tuesday morning. Requiem high mass will be sung by his son, Father Edward Webber, in St. Peter's Cathedral at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

THE LONDON MARKET CANNOT BE TOUCHED THROUGHOUT ONTARIO
Many Pre-War Prices Prevail As Western Ontario Disgorges Her Harvest.

"I doubt if there is another market in Ontario can touch the London market this month," declares George Conner, Government fruit inspector for this district. And truly the market display on Saturday morning seemed to bear out his statement. Wheel to wheel, covering the entire space allowed to vendors, wagons groaned under the weight of their luscious wares. Purple and golden fruit spread out in hundreds of baskets vied with red, yellow and green vegetables to attract the greatest attention and open the canniest purse. Peaches, still early in their crop, were going for $1 a basket, which speaks well for the market just two weeks hence, when they will have attained their prime. A grower near Byron promises 1,200 baskets of home-grown peaches for that day, so housewives should be ready with sterilized cans and quantities of sugar to put away a regular pre-war brew of the fruit.

Fifty cents and 60 cents would purchase a basket of the finest plums, and 25 cents was being asked for baskets not quite so fine. Large and mellow pears were sold for $2 a bushel, with promise of even a better price as the season advances. Apples still remain high, however, but rumor says that the best winter varieties were being sold in advance at $6 a barrel this morning.

"The crop of fruit this year is simply marvellous," says the fruit inspector. "And although I hear a grumble here and there about some blight on the potatoes, I fail to see anything but splendid tops and potatoes literally bursting out of the ground, so numerous and large have they become. They are now selling at $1.85 a bag at the Caradoc station."

Not a complaint could the thrifty housewife make with regard to the quality of vegetables which abounded at reasonable prices. Ten and 15 cents a dozen for corn, and 15 cents for fine heads of cauliflowers were certainly reminiscent of pre-war days, while great squash and pumpkins and all manner of pickling things filled up a public cornucopia to overflowing with goodness. And here and there masses of bright-colored gladioli and asters mingled beautifully with the softer shades of the vegetables and fruits.

It was a market, indeed, to be remembered.

GUNN'S EASIFIRST.

Demonstrations of economical baking and cooking with Easifirst Shortening are being given at the Easifirst Exhibit at the Western Fair.

Right before your eyes, every stage in the baking of a cake, or some other recipe is demonstrated by charming young ladies, and the results are all that could be desired.

Delicious cakes, crisp short pastry, pies and other products bear witness to the excellence of Easifirst as a Shortening. The fact that the flavor of these products is so much better than products made with lard, and that Easifirst is more economical than lard, means much to the thrifty housewife. A visit to the Easifirst booth is worth while.

TURPENTINE, LINSEED OIL LOWER IN PRICE
Stoves Likely To Advance Any Moment—Freight Rates Above Expectations.

Hardware and Metal, September 11, says:

Most of the changes that have taken place this week are in goods that will be shipped out next spring, such as garden tools, sprayers, lawn rollers, hay rakes and harvest tool handles, scythe stones, etc.

Turpentine and linseed oil are lower in price, but Hardware and Metal understands that the American flax crop is considerably below previous estimates, and linseed oil is expected to go higher.

Cotton rope, sash cord and waste are quiet, and some expect a decline.

Advances are made on grindstone fixtures, stovepipes, injectors and grease cups, and higher prices are quoted on claw bars and sash weights. Some lines of saddlery hardware are marked higher. Stoves seem likely to advance at any moment.

The increased freight rates announced this week are higher than was generally expected by the trade, and the effect will be felt in many hardware lines, especially among the heavier class of iron and steel products, and in white lead, paint and oils, and to a less extent on lighter goods. The opinions of many manufacturers and jobbers on the subject are given in Hardware and Metal, and when the facts have been digested it will be possible to judge better what effect the new rates will have on prices generally.

Many lines are still very scarce, and while the railroad situation is said to be better, deliveries of raw and finished or partly finished materials from the United States mills are still a very long way behind, and production is hampered in many industries.

Wire nails are very scarce, as are also Canada plates and galvanized sheets and bar iron and steel.

Business is a little quieter and collections are said to be satisfactory.

FEW MINOR ACCIDENTS
Fire Chief's Auto in Collision—Pedestrian Hurt Saturday.

During the week-end there were a few minor auto accidents in London. On Saturday afternoon at 5:55 o'clock Fire Chief Aitken and another motorist had a slight collision, while the chief was on his way to a fire at 8 Wyatt street, where a chicken coop was burned. The chief's auto, which met in a collision with the other car on Wharncliffe road south, was not damaged, but the fender of the other car was smashed.

On Saturday night a pedestrian was struck by an electric-driven auto on Dundas street, about 100 yards east of Richmond street. One of his legs was bruised, but the police did not get his name.

Two motor cars collided at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, but neither of them was badly damaged.

NO CHAOS NOW IF GOD WAS ACCEPTED
Declares Rev. T. S. Roy—Sometimes Political Alliances Are Unwise, Unjust.

"He that believeth will not make haste," was the text taken by Rev. T. S. Roy, in his sermon in Talbot Street Baptist Church, Sunday morning, the subject being "Unhastened Life."

Rev. Mr. Roy, referring to Israel being stampeded into an alliance because of the Assyrian peril, said: "It is a human tendency to stampede, by that I mean, financial or political panics and epidemics. Political parties are sometimes stampeded into alliances which are unwise and unjust. When man believeth greatly in God and supremacy of right he will not be stampeded into a policy with evil result. When man believeth as greatly as Paul did he will work his way through to great policies. There would not be the chaos and turmoil of the present if we believed in God still being in the universe and controlling affairs," Rev. Mr. Roy stated.
