FALL RACE MEET PROMISES WELL

October 17, 18, 19 Will be Gala Days at the Driving Park-- Invites Fun at Home.

The races to be run at the Chatham Driving Park on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 17th, 18th and 19th, respectively, are attracting considerable attention on the part of those who appreciate fast horses. The interest is not only in the fact that the races will be held on the days that have been marked, and it is safe to assume that this fall meet will not only receive the patronage that it deserves, but will prove to be eminently successful from every other standpoint.

$2000 has been offered in purses, and this sum practically guarantees that the best horses in the city and county will compete; and indeed, the great race horses of this county, those which have been on the road during the summer—driving, racing, and showing—will certainly not require a prophet or the son of a prophet to foretell the resultant quality of the speed contests.

The fact also that the season and day of the races as Thanksgiving, a holiday that permits of the sport probably as no other during the entire year, and that the weather will likely be just of that temperature to put ginger into the events, augurs well for the races, in addition to the other things enumerated above. All who are on the least interested in fast horses—and who is not—should stay in the city during that day and help to swell the crowd who intend to take advantage of the splendid opportunity that will be offered them at the Driving Park.

The day's racing that will follow the holiday or opening day, will in no wise be inferior in any respect to the holiday racing, but is readily conceded that the latter ought, in the very nature of things, to be the banner day of the three.

Following is the program for the three days:

Wednesday, Oct. 17.—
1.14 pace or trot, $300.
2.22 pace or trot, $300.
Half mile run, 2 in 3, $100.
Thursday, Oct. 18.—
1.18 pace or trot, $300.
2.30 pace or trot, $300.
5-8 mile run, 2 in 3, $100.
Friday, Oct. 19.—
2.20 trot, $300.
1 mile run dash, $100.
In 2.14, 2.22, 2.18, 2.30 classes 5 seconds over the limit.

Entries close Oct. 11, and the general secretary of the Driving Park will gladly explain anything necessary to prospective competitors. Box 728 will reach him.

ANNIVERSARY CONCERT WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Delightful Musical Program in Which Some of Maple City's Best Talent Participated.

An anniversary concert took place at the home of the anniversary association and concert of former residents of the Victoria Avenue Methodist church last evening. One of the best talent of the city were on hand to edify the large gathering with their best selections, and the resultant enjoyment was great.

The pastor, Rev. F. E. Malott, was chairman, and in a well worded address mentioned the presence, presiding of the church, and said that it was expected by the many friends of the congregation that this would continue, if not be eclipsed. He took occasion also to thank the people for the support that had been vouchsafed him during the past year of his pastorage. He thoroughly appreciated the cordial relations that existed between himself and every member and friend of the congregation, and felt assured that they would continue, and that all would be willing to work for the glory of God, the good of man and the prosperity of Victoria Avenue church.

Those who took part in the musical program were: H. Horstead, solo; Miss Edith Deane, solo; Mrs. S. C. Walker, solo; Messrs. Horstead and Bushell, duet; Miss Olive Richards, solo; Miss Mary Brackley, solo; Miss Lou Jackson, solo; with violin obligato; Fosti's "Beauty's Eyes," E. T. Jones, violin solo. The accompanists were the Messrs. Josie Bogart, Beattie Brackley and Grace Irving.

Every soloist did well, and every number was liberally applauded. Especially worthy of mention was the violin solo by Mr. Jones. It showed a fine mastery of the technique and possibilities of the instrument on the part of the player. Miss Bogart was his able accompanist.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING

On Sunday afternoon, while several young men from this city were walking along the G. T. R. tracks about two miles west of the city, a large piece of iron, several inches thick and over a foot long, and weighing about 50 pounds, was found lying across a rail. A few minutes after the young men had taken the iron from its resting place, the 518 train rushed past.

The young men do not wish their names mentioned, but are positive that the iron had been deliberately placed on the track.

WAS GENUINE THING.

Detective Hodge, of the G. T. R. is in the city today. His visit is in connection with a recent attempt at train wrecking, by the placing of railroad ties on the track near Vossburg.

FIRE BRIGADE TO ENTERTAIN

The fire laddies will give an entertainment at the Grand Hotel on Tuesday night, Oct. 23, when they will place some features on the stage that are destined to do them all excellent credit. There will be moving pictures of the very best sort, for an hour, among other things, and in addition to this, one of the features will be a show of war for a prize of $25, which is open to all the employees of factories in the city. The men are putting on the show with the expectation of getting out accident policies with the proceeds.

MINIATURE HOMESTEAD AFFAIR THIS POLICE AND STRIKERS IN GUN FIGHT

Two Shot Dead in Murderous Affray and Five Detectives Wounded, Two so Seriously That They May Not Recover-- University Row in Toronto.

Buckingham, Que., Oct. 9.—Two men were killed and two more will die from wounds received in a strike riot, which amounted to a pitched battle between the police and strikers at Buckingham yesterday afternoon. Guns were used with telling effect. About twenty of the strikers were hit, and twenty-one out of twenty-two police detectives were also wounded. The dead: Thomas Belanger, leader, aged 35, of St. Jerome, Que., leaves widow, Francois Theriault, unmarried, aged 40, leaves widow and seven children. Strikers Seriously Injured. Felix Fauvel, aged 65, shot in stomach, likely to die. Edward Minor, aged 31, thigh fractured. Adelard Hamelin, aged 30, bullet wounds in legs. Isidore Renaud, aged 33, shot in back. Emory Hamelin, aged 32, wounded in neck. Baptiste Clement, aged 45, wounded in arm, neck and head. Dolor Hamelin, aged 34, shot in arm and hand. Felix Laocelles, aged 30, shot in arm. X. Codieux, aged 28, shot in head. Xavier Tremblay, aged 29, wounded in leg. Louis Gervaise, aged 32, wounded in arm. There were several other minor casualties. Police Injured. Chief Frank Kernan, shot in head, not dangerous. Detective Herbert Warner, Montreal, several shots in body, may die. Detective Peter Picard, Montreal, seriously wounded, will probably recover. Detective Lavit, Montreal, seriously wounded, will probably recover. Constable James Kernan, wounded in arm. Sixteen other police and detectives were hit, but not seriously.

Demanda Refused. A month ago the employees of the James MacLaren & Co.'s lumber mill struck for higher wages. They had been paid $125 per day, and they demanded $150, which is the wages paid by W. H. Kelly, the other important lumber merchant at Buckingham. The MacLaren Co. refused to give the raise and 500 men were affected. Three hundred left the town for the lumber camps, while 200 remained to await developments.

Matters went on quietly until yesterday, when the news leaked out that MacLaren & Co. had brought down a number of strikers. Seventeen of these men began to work at 7 yesterday morning and broke two of the booms two miles above the town. Drive Men From Town. A meeting of the men was called and it was decided to drive them out of the town. First Messrs. Albert and Alexander MacLaren were notified, but they refused to listen to compromise and the union men determined to take action after dinner.

At 1 o'clock they gathered on the shore of the Lièvre River, and marched four abreast along the edge of the river towards the main street landing, which is about half-way to the mills. The strike-breakers had brought some logs down so far.

The police and detectives with Albert and Alexander MacLaren were lined up to bar the way. Again Belanger offered the men's terms, but they were refused and he intimated that the union were determined to drive away the strike-breakers.

The men again advanced and here the testimony varies. The statement most heard is that the police fired first, though the police aver that the strikers were the first to open fire.

Police First to Fire. Uninterested witnesses, with the exception of one, state that the police fired first.

and an inquest will be held to-day. The town is under military command and the soldiers are patrolling the streets.

THIRTY APPLICANTS AFTER HEALTH INSPECTOR'S JOB

All Are Good Men and True and Any one Would No Doubt Capably Fill the Position.

Who wishes a job? From the distance comes the echo, "What?" There is no danger of the job of health inspector or going begging, for, at the next meeting of the city council that honorable body will have 30 or more applications for the position awaiting their attention. The position appears to be a coveted one, even if there be many who are of the opinion that the duties of the office would not excite the envy of many citizens.

The present inspector retires from office on Oct. 15, the day of the next regular meeting of the city council. The civic fathers will therefore have to quickly choose from the long list that will await their pleasure. Who is the best man among them for the place is a question that is quite out of place for it goes without saying that practically each one of the 30 or more who are hankering for the position is firmly convinced that he is the man who possesses the proper qualifications for the position.

It is a case of the man seeking the office, and a famous politician once said that the office ought always to seek the man. That, no doubt, was the first time that a politician said something so true.

The position has been in the test of hands during the time Mr. Mounteer has had charge. He attended to his duties with a rare conscientiousness, and nothing that was for the good of the city, when it came under the surveillance of the inspector, was left undone. Frequently he was seen musingly leaning down the street on his wheel—in such cases he had no doubt just received word of a new case of fever, or some other disease. At other times he was seen hurrying through the streets with a queer looking apparatus in his hand—in such cases he was probably on his way to disinfect a house whose inmates had just been declared free of disease. In such cases he always thoroughly disinfected the bedding, and the clothing—and when he was through doing this he had to disinfect himself.

This summarizes the job for which thirty or more men are bidding. To be mayor of a city and to be health inspector are two very different things. Mr. Mounteer, during his five years' term as inspector, knew this, and realized that there was important work for him to do, just as the mayor finds much of importance to think about.

The retiring inspector did his duties well, and may his successor do them likewise.

RUMMAGE SALE DATE

That of Kent Children's Aid Society to be Held From Oct. 29 Instead of Oct. 22.

The regular monthly meeting of the advisory board of the Kent Children's Aid society was held in the county clerk's office at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Present were Messrs. J. Sheldon, Goodland, Goodland, Sulman, Oldershaw, Fraser, and Messrs. Paterson, Somerville, Baxter and Dr. R. V. Bray. Also Mrs. W. E. McKough, president of the King's Daughters.

The executive officer reported that since the last meeting there had been visits made to 12 children, 12 interviews, 13 cases reported for investigation, 2 embracing 8 children. Investigations 1, under obligation 1, children made wards of the society 1, children placed in homes 1, applications for children 1. After the report had been explained it was adopted.

Accounts amounting to $15.68 were ordered paid.

The executive reported a case in Camden township requiring the urgent assistance of the society. The matter was left with the executive officer to deal with as she saw fit.

The executive officer reported that the girl who had been made a ward of the society had been placed in the Water house temporary home.

The date of the anticipated rummage sale was changed from Oct. 22 to the 29th, and it was decided to keep open the store on Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Messrs. Stephenson, Sheldon, Oldershaw, Fraser, Goodland and Sulman were appointed a committee to act with a committee from the King's Daughters, to have full power to make and carry out all arrangements. The canvass for memberships in the society will be incessantly carried on this month by the ladies, and it is hoped that no one will refuse to join, as the membership is only 25 cents.

After some minor discussion the meeting adjourned.

THE ASSIZES

The assizes yesterday afternoon were scheduled to open at 1 o'clock, but it was half past three by the time His Lordship, Justice MacMahon put in an appearance.

The delay was due to the fact that His Lordship's train was considerably behind time.

A large crowd was present for the opening of court, while within the bar the legal profession were well represented.

The following is the grand jury list: John A. Cameron, Harwich; John M. Edwards, Romney; George Holmes, Tilbury East; John Lidster, Zone; Archibald, McLaren, Orford; Hiram McLarty, Howard; Patrick McGavin, Dover; Peter J. Newkirk, Chatham township; E. J. C. Shaw, Camden; David Toll, Raleigh; John Waddell, Chatham; A. J. Ware, Chatham; Richard Young, Harwich.

Four civil cases are entered for trial. Smith vs. Galbraith, a Ridgeview case, in which L. J. Ryeart appears for the plaintiff, and Walter Mills for the defendant, and Dart vs. Quaid, in which L. J. Ryeart represents the plaintiff, and Proudfoot and Blake and Co. for defendants; and Patterson vs. Dart, Crothers and Price, of St. Thomas, for plaintiff, and Wilson, Pike and Gundy for defendant.

The criminal cases are Rex vs. Abe Federat and Rex vs. Sam Kovsky, both arising out of the now celebrated theft of furs from Seiffer and Co. of New York, for which the two defendants were sent down a short time ago. Witnesses from New York are now in the city.

Hume B. Elliott, of London, is crown prosecutor.

CANADIAN BANKS.

The high standing of Canadian banks has long been known to every reader of the United States press of that press especially, as for years the bankers on the other side of the line have been endeavoring to have the Federal government legislate so that a system somewhat similar to ours may prevail there. In his weekly letter to this journal, Henry Clews of New York, a banker of national eminence, pays some attention to this, to our neighbors, very important point. After indicating that at last there are signs of an awakening of interest in the question of currency reform, and that therein lies the sole avenue of escape from such financial storms as have been seen in the States in years past, he goes on:

"American monetary markets are the most erratic in the world. In Europe and even in Canada, where systems of varying elasticity exist, rates usually average between 3 and 5 per cent, very rarely going more than one or two points outside of these figures. (What would London, Paris or Berlin think of rates ranging from 10 to 125 per cent, such as have been paid here, not in panic but during prosperity. No civilized country in the world maintains a system so ill-suited to its wants as the United States. That we are so far astray in this respect is a sore reflection upon our national intelligence. Even Canada, which works under conditions closely resembling our own, is far in advance of us in this respect. Across the border the same to and fro movement of funds for cropmoving purposes takes place every autumn as here. But who ever hears of such spasms of stringency in Canada as occur on this side of the border. The Canadian banks issue currency to the par of their capital as needed. (When interest rates advance, the supply of currency increases; when interest rates decline, contraction takes place smoothly and naturally, by means of proper redemptive facilities. Thus the equilibrium is automatically maintained. This system has worked satisfactorily and without friction for over thirty years, not a dollar having been lost on any Canadian bank note during that period."

This is a tribute worth something. When Mr. Clews standing and wealth of information are considered, when it is recognized that he is everywhere known as a leading exponent of common honesty and right in the conduct of banking—and it must be said that only too frequently have such been lacking in financial circles in the States—to what a degree his praise redounds to the credit of banking affairs as they are conducted in Canada may be comprehended.

WE'RE CIVILIZED NOW.

Once on a time there lived a writer named Gibbon. He was an Englishman and rather materialistic, if not worse, in his ideas, but was keen of vision, and with a desire perhaps to do his small part in helping turn the thoughts of his contemporaries toward better things, he penned those ponderous tomes known to every scholar and lover of history as The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. There was once also a man named Carlyle. This one was a Scot, and looked upon the universe as being peopled with persons, mostly fools. He too added to the literature of the world, and in his French Revolution laid bare for all to read, with the skill of a dissector, the causes of that triumph of every heterodoxy.

Both these gentlemen, strange to say, arrived at virtually the same conclusion. They painted respectively the glories of Rome and of France. Then they traced the rise of a wealthy class, with a craving for luxury, for voluptuousness, for fame of a kind better spoken of in whispers. They described the coincident disappearance of truth, of religion—as religion, rather than mere form—of simplicity, of stern justice, of all the virtues, in brief that save this world from being a veritable nether region brought to light. Both specified particularly the lust for change that arose with wealth, the insufferable disdain expressed by the rich for the poor, extending even to contempt for the lives of the lesser among the people, and the rise of a clergy, composed of truly Lyceum-age sycophants, men with wit enough, but lacking all elements of a religion that work transformation in the human heart.

It would be interesting to hear these two gentlemen discuss the recent Vanderbilt cup auto race in the limbo in which perhaps they dwell with many other choice spirits; to learn whether the days before the French Revolution, or the descent of the barbarians on the Eternal City, ever showed a deeper hatred of the lesser for the greater, or more contempt on the part of the great ones for their brethren not so fortunately circumstanced than now is. Probably there would be interesting digressions on the clergy, who neglect to speak of these things in the churches frequented by the followers of the most dangerous sport of the day.

Gibbon described the gladiatorial fights in the arena; Carlyle wrote of peasants shot by drunken nobility for the fun of it.

Is the world so greatly improved today?

GIFTED MAN DEAD.

John S. McClelland, Orator and Journalist, Passes Away at St. Kitts.

In the death of John T. McClelland, formerly editor of The Star, recently, St. Catharines loses a gifted man—a brilliant orator, journalist and poet. He was born there 52 years ago. He learned the art of telegraphy when a boy, and at the age of 20 was train dispatcher on the old Detroit and Milwaukee road, now the Chicago and Grand Trunk.

In 1880 he went to New York, where he followed telegraphy for a time, and later became identified with the newly-organized Knights of Labor, in which he served as secretary of the executive board of the general assembly. He was also secretary of the telegraphers' district, and assisted in managing the great strike of that body in 1883. While connected with the Knights of Labor in association with Mr. Terrence V. Powderly, Mr. McClelland drafted the American alien labor law, and succeeded in having it passed by Congress, himself appearing before the United States Senate in its advocacy.

During his residence in New York he devoted studied medicine during his spare hours, and was graduated from the Homeopathic department of Columbia University. After the strike he, with many others interested, was blacklisted by the Western Union. He was from that time until 1887 manager of the New York State Associated Press.

He then returned to St. Catharines, and took the editorial management of The Evening Star newspaper, in which position he remained until December, 1900, when he was appointed city clerk. Mr. McClelland also served very acceptably as alderman for a number of terms.

He possessed exceptional ability as a public speaker, and during many election campaigns was heard with much acceptability from platforms in various parts of this country. His repartee on the public platform has perhaps never been excelled. He was also a writer and poet of no mean ability. He achieved considerable notoriety as the advocate of the flat earth theory.

The Putnam Cottage.

The Putnam cottage in Greenwich, Conn., is to be dedicated as a museum by Putnam chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. This is a small house whose legend is that Israel Putnam was occupying it as his quarters when surprised by British cavalry, and dashed away on his trusty mare down the precipitous steps of "Put's hill," was shot at, but turned at the foot of the steps and shouted, "I'll hang ye to the next tree when I get ye!" The cottage is about 200 years old.

Oldest Fixed Date in History.

Professor James E. Breasted, the Egyptologist, who has lately returned to this country from Egypt, writes that the oldest fixed date in history is 4241 B. C. In that year, he says, the calendar was established, the year beginning on what would now be July 19. Consequently the calendar now in use is 5,147 years old. The professor arrived at these conclusions during his long exploration trip to the Nile valley, when he compared the astronomical dates in the old and middle kingdoms of Egypt.

Champion Whittier.

B. F. Clay of Philadelphia, a retired ship carpenter nearly eighty years of age, is said to be the champion whittler of the world, says Technical World Magazine. Aided only by his penknife and a piece of sandpaper he has cut from a single block of wood a quadruple linked watch chain over three feet long and many other exceedingly delicate and difficult pieces of work. During the last few years, since his retirement, Mr. Clay has cut scores of watch chains.

DEAD WATER.

Effect of This Queer Marine Phenomenon Upon a Ship's Speed.

One of the most curious marine phenomena known to seamen is that called by Norwegian sailors "dead water," which, without any visible cause, makes a vessel lose her speed and refuse to answer her helm. The sailor's only definite knowledge of its origin is that it exists solely where there is a surface layer of fresh water resting upon the salt waters of the sea.

Several explanations have been advanced by the captains of ships of the effect of dead water, the commonest of which is that the two water layers move in different directions. The true explanation, however, recently offered by Swedish navigators and verified by mathematical calculation and direct experiment, is that in addition to the "resistance waves" at the surface the vessel creates a second line of subaqueous waves between the two strata of water.

The experiment carried out to demonstrate the truth of this theory was an exceedingly pretty one. A large plate glass tank was first mounted on a wooden frame. The tank was then filled to a certain depth with salt water, and a layer of fresh water was carefully poured on to the surface, so that two separate water layers were obtained.

The salt water was blackened with liquid Chinese ink before the water layers were prepared, and in this way the different layers were made clearly visible. A boat model was then towed along the tank and a silhouette of the waves produced was obtained by placing a white screen at a short distance behind the tank. The waves were also photographed by flashlight, and the results actually were set up at the boundary line between the two liquids.

Further experiments were made to verify the sudden loss of speed due to dead water. The boat model was drawn across the tank and the towing string suddenly slackened, when the boat was about halfway across. In cases where the tank contained salt water only the boat stopped gradually, moving some boat lengths after the towing string had been slackened. When the tank contained a layer of fresh water resting on salt water, on the other hand, the boat slackened speed quite suddenly and moved only a very short distance.

These experiments, carried out on a small scale, prove conclusively that the difficulties encountered within a dead water zone are really due to the resistance experienced by the vessel in generating invisible waves at the fresh water salt water boundary, although in some particular cases the influence of undercurrents must also doubtless be taken into account.

For the Man Who Works at a Desk

Not Doctors, But the Right Kind of Food is What He Needs.

You work at a desk and you are shut up in an office all day long, your brain overworked, your body absolutely idle. You get "out of sorts" and your meals don't please you and what you eat doesn't agree with you.

Maybe you think you are sick, but you aren't. You need one of two things—exercise or better food, or both. It may be impossible for you to get the exercise, it's the easiest thing in the world to get the right kind of food. Ask your grocer for Malta-Vita.

This famous food is the whole of the wheat thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute purity and mixed with finest malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, which quickly converts the starch of the wheat into maltose—malt sugar. Maltose is great food, and stimulates it without effort. It is baked under such intense heat that when it comes from the great ovens, every particle is crisp, brown Malta-Vita—the most delicious food in the world. Always ready to eat.

A perfect breakfast is impossible without Malta-Vita and it's good three times a day. All grocers sell it. 10c 50 cents per package.

That Mysterious Suicide Note.

Hamilton, Oct. 8.—The police have a mystery on their hands. Friday they got a note saying that they would find the body of the writer, who claimed to be from Detroit, in the bay at the Turbina dock. The body of Mrs. Embury, a Hamilton woman, was found there soon after the note was received, but Mrs. Embury's family say that the writing in the note was not in their mother's hand, and it is feared that there may be another victim of suicide in the bay.

During a newspaper men's convention, a number of journalists were one afternoon talking of the tricks of the "faithless types," when Henry Watterson said:

"While I've heard of a great many funny typographical breaks in my time, about the oddest and most humorous transposition of the types that I ever came within my observation was that in a New York paper some years ago. That sheet used to print its shipping news on the same page with the obituaries. Imagine the glee with which its readers found the captions exchanged one morning, whereby a long list of respectable names were set forth under the marine head 'Passed Through Hell Gate Yesterday.'"

Men Have Not Degenerated.

It is common to hear of the giant people who lived in the old days, yet it is decidedly uncommon to find proof that the average ancient was any larger or more powerfully built than the average person of the present day.

The Egyptian mummies show these people to have been of medium size. The remains taken from the catacombs do not differ in size from the people of the present, while the armor which was worn by the warriors of the long ago fit as readily the forms of people who are not at all gigantic or at least extraordinarily above the average either in birth or stature. There were great men in the old days, but as great still obtain in this twentieth century.

GRAND PRE EXPULSION.

Sweet Evangeline and the Acadians—Poet's Inaccuracy of Its Causes.
Set Right in Canada Archives.

By the poet Longfellow the story of the expulsion of the Acadians from Grand Pre, Nova Scotia, is told in such a way as to suggest that the depor-table event was provoked solely by the barbarity of the British rulers of the eastern provinces. But this is not an accurate view of the case. At all events, the new volume of the Archives of Canada, which give a mass of documents not hitherto printed on this subject, leaves a different impression. It is to be remembered that Acadia came to the British as a result of the Treaty of Utrecht. That treaty was signed in 1713, and it was in 1755 that the expulsion took place.

Interneine Difficulties.

What occurred during the 42 years intervening? This period was one of interneine warfare in Acadia. The King of France was anxious to drive England out, and, with this end in view, the country was constantly harassed. In the operations against the English occupation the Indians were engaged, and there was at one time directly influencing them to raid the British settlements a French priest by the name of Le Loutre, whose correspondence with the French authorities is now published. Le Loutre writes on July 29, 1749, to the French Minister that he is keeping the Indians busy with the English, who are being taught that no English settlement will be permitted in Acadia. If the English persist in their design to colonize, he will never be peace, says Le Loutre.
Meanwhile Le Loutre and other emissaries appear to have been exercising influence with the Acadians. Bigot reports to France in September, 1749, that the English are trying to induce the Acadians to take the oath of allegiance, and he adds that, if they do, they will have to take up arms against the Indians.

The Oath Question.

It seems clear that the English and the French were pulling the Acadians in opposite directions. The English wanted them to take the oath and to become British subjects in the fullest sense of the word, in order, no doubt, that they might offer resistance to the attempts of the Indians under Le Loutre and the French commanders to dislodge the British. On the other hand, the emissaries of France were persuading the Acadians to resist the oath and to leave the country rather than take it.
They wanted the Acadians to be neutral, except when openly on the French side. The Acadians were willing to take a restricted oath, such as was given them in 1726, accompanied by an assurance that they would not have to carry arms. But the oath was the assurance given by Governor Philip-ps were not agreeable to the rulers of a quarter of a century later. In all probability the circumstances had changed. What was regarded as unnecessary in 1726 may have been thought to be imperative in 1750 and thereabouts.

A Decided Refusal.

In 1755, owing to the pressure of the French, and the continued operations of the Indians, representative Acadians were called to Halifax to talk the matter over. The subject was discussed between Governor Lawrence and the Acadians, and the latter made reply. They said they had taken an oath of fidelity "with all the circumstances and reservations granted to us in the name of the King, and we are resolved, with one consent and one voice, to take no other oath." Another party declared that they would not take such an oath as that which was taken by the natural subjects of His Majesty, nor would they take an oath "which changes ever so little the conditions and the privileges obtained for us by our sovereigns and our fathers in the past." The Acadians here maintained that the oath taken in 1726, which exempted them from the defence of the country, was of the nature of a bargain with them, and they were opposing any deviation from that supposed compact.

Threatened by France.

It is believed that the unfortunate people were urged, and even coerced by the representatives of France to take this position. There was war between the two countries, and possibly the view was presented to them that were they to take the oath or to take up arms, the Mother Country, in the event of victory, would treat them as traitors.
Be this as it may, the English were not satisfied with the position, and Chief Justice Belcher, of Halifax, made a report upon it. This judge stated that the Acadians had been hostile from the first and had given aid to the Indians and to the French troops. There were 8,000 of them in the province, against 5,000 English. Their attitude, which was helpful to the French, was correspondingly damaging to the English. It disrupted the present English settlers and prevented others from coming. It also made it impossible to hold the province without a large force.

Deportation Decided Upon.

For these reasons deportation, or the distribution of the Acadians among the other colonies, was determined upon. The autumn of 1755 saw the assembling of transports at Grand Pre and the passage of 2,242 persons for the Provinces of New York, Pennsylvania, and Maryland. The compulsory migration was a painful episode;
but it does not appear from the records that to be hand that families were separated or that neighbors were kept apart. The Acadians went on board ship according to villages and families, and every effort was made to spare the feelings of the unfortunate. Preparations were made for their reception in the other colonies, and many remained there, while others returned when the trouble was over and became the ancestors of the splendid Acadian population we now have. There will never be a unanimous opinion touching the justice of this deplorable event in Canadian history. But everybody is bound to recognize that the Acadians, placed as they were between two strong contending powers, were in a very difficult position, and that they suffered for the conduct of others.

CHINESE LIKE HAMMERS.

Carpenters Lose Their Axes to Get the Modern Tool.

With the introduction of the pall into his craft the Chinese carpenter was in need of a hammer. His ax is provided with a sort of hammer face, so he came to use that. Though a good ax, the tool is a bad hammer. However, a large proportion of the hammers first introduced from the west by importers were poor imitations of what a hammer should be, and the Chinaman rightly judged it no better than his own, so generally repudiated it. Here was another evidence of so called obduracy. At a venture I secured a small consignment of thoroughly good claw hammers for trial with my own men.
Shortly thereafter a man chanced to lose his ax-hammer at a juncture where it was very badly needed in the latter function. I presented him with one of the new lot. He "hefted" it and swung it with a grin of dawning satisfaction. When I made the next round he was wielding the new acquisition with energy.

In the course of a few days there occurred again the loss of a native tool, which resulted in the presentation of another of my hammers. At the third occurrence of the phenomenon my suspicions were slightly aroused. Upon the fourth I decided it was time to begin an investigation. These hammers seemed the source of a rare satisfaction.

It was arranged to begin prematurely a phase of the job in hand which required a great deal of ax work. After giving directions, I retired to watch developments. There was a rather ostentatious struggle to meet the demand of the work with a short supply of axes. Then the boss carpenter made a plea for a new supply, which was refused. Moreover, he was told that as some of the men seemed to be loafing it might be just as well to reduce the force. Alarmed at this possibility of a reduction in his own "squeeze," he took another course. One by one, when my back was turned, the lost axes were unearthed. Judicious intervals were interposed between the respective recoveries, but that was merely "face padding." They knew that I was in no way deceived, but so long as I had no actual proof that "faces" were saved they were all immensely pleased when they were permitted to keep the new hammers. The remainder of the force was likewise equipped, and thereafter the work progressed smoothly and satisfactorily.—Engineering Magazine.

Confidence is the Napoleon in the mental army. It doubles and trebles the power of all the other faculties.
The whole mental army waits until confidence leads the way.—Success.

The Hazel Tree.

A curious survival of the days when the magicians of Europe sought in-defatigably for the philosopher's stone is the superstition that attaches to the hazel tree. The old alchemists used to make their divining rods out of hazel twigs, and they fostered the belief that it would mysteriously direct its owner to hidden treasures, if it was manipulated with the absolute faith that was required in all those occult enchancements of the middle ages. As time went on, the "rod of Jacob," as a branch of hazel was universally known, gathered new powers. Not only would it lead to the discovery of buried hoards, but it would also act as an infallible agent in locating runaway servants and escaped criminals.
It was a sure guide to underground springs as well, and was an unfailing charm against the lightning.

Curious French Market.

There is a curious old market near Paris in which everything is sold at secondhand. Working girls can fit themselves out there from head to foot. As a writer says: Mimi can sell her old felt hat and buy a straw one, exchange her old dress for a new one and, if she likes, buy a steak and a salad for her dinner, a paper bag of fried potatoes, sweets and some flowers for her window. Democracy is king here, and no more attention is paid to the millionaire who is looking for something marvelous which he may pick up cheap than to the man with a wooden leg who wants a new boot in exchange for a dozen sardine tins, five gloves and a stocking.

OVERCOAT DUTY!

You owe yourself an Overcoat that's right—the Overcoat that's right over you. But you will not find that "right kind" of Overcoat everywhere. You'll certainly not find it, if you shop at random.

If you patronize most any kind of a Clothing Store most anywhere.

If you jump at the first reduced price advertised.

If you rush into a store and rush out, buying the first Coat you see.

To procure that "right kind" of Overcoat you must go to the right store—the kind of a store that confines its advertising to facts and invites investigation and comparison.

If you will consider these points, we believe that you will leave your Overcoat money here.

Our Overcoat price range is from $5.00 to $20.00, and your money goes back, if the Coat goes wrong—but it won't.

GOT IT BACK

Dr. Musson yesterday informed the police that he would be much obliged if the party who borrowed his wheel the other day would return it.

The wheel was standing in front of the doctor's office when the loan was negotiated, and the doctor, incidentally, wasn't in right to raise any objections. The wheel was a Cleveland.

It was returned to the police station this morning by a young man, who stated that he had picked the bicycle up after it had been knocked over by a rig, and held it awaiting a claimant.

FOR U. S. GOOD-WILL

Ancient Colony of Newfoundland Is Again Sacrificed.

ONLY REMEDY INDICATED

Britain's Oldest Colony Must Annex Itself to the Dominion, and Then Urge the Formation of Canadian Squadron—Abstract Rights of Colony, However Legitimate, Will Not Induce Britain to Incur Risk.

London, Oct. 9.—Referring to the fishery modus vivendi The Morning Post points out the moral of the reported result. If it transpires that Newfoundland's interests have not been separated from those of British North America as a whole, the fact will deserve serious consideration of the islanders.

Their "responsible" Government being really irresponsible in the last resort, because dependent on Imperial authority, their natural logical destiny is to join the Dominion; then urge the formation of a Canadian squadron.

Isolated, Newfoundland has no prospect ever of equipping herself with a material defensive force in default of which no British Government will ever incur serious risks for her claims, however legitimate in the abstract.

The Standard says the modus vivendi is the only course practicable for the time being, and adds that no transactions of this kind can be rightly conducted unless the Colonial Government concerned be directly represented in the negotiations.

One More Sacrifice.
The Pall Mall Gazette says it is one more sacrifice of a British colony in the cause of Anglo-American good-will. Much as we all value that cause, it is painfully apt to work out in a one-sided fashion with all the business on one side and all the sentiment on the other.

The Globe says hardly any pretence is made of the fact that the oldest British dependency is treated with absolute contempt in a matter of vital moment to its chief industry.

DAVID BUTLER CONVICTED.

Magistrate Hunt Considers Orwell Man Not Fit to Run Hotel.

St. Thomas, Oct. 9.—David Butler, proprietor of the Orwell Hotel, who was convicted last week of keeping a disorderly house, was yesterday fined $50 and costs, amounting to $16.50, the maximum penalty for a first offence.

Magistrate Hunt also annulled the license, observing that judging by Butler's demeanor on the stand he was an unfit person to conduct a hotel.

In passing sentence the magistrate repeated what he said last week about the local option hotels of Yarmouth and Southwold.

Magistrate Hunt's decision will likely be appealed to the Divisional Court at Toronto.

Fielding Appeal Dismissed.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The Supreme Court gave judgment when it met yesterday in the Sheburne and Queen's election case. The unanimous decision of the court is "That the sole question disallowed by the trial judges was properly so rejected, and that the appeal should be dismissed, with costs, and the necessary certificate forwarded to the Speaker of the House of Commons."

This disposes of the case against Mr. Fielding.

Bartender Had No License.

Essex, Oct. 9.—The first conviction in Essex County under the new license law requiring all bartenders to be licensed occurred here. Robert Hassell, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, was charged with permitting Robert Henry to sell drinks over his bar without having a bartender's license. Henry was also charged with working without a license, and each man was assessed $10 and costs by Magistrate Bosman.

Succession Dues.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The total receipts for succession duties for September, 1906, were $25,025, according to the latest returns from the Treasury Department. Last year the receipts for September were $4,687; for October, $13,445; for November, $13,445.

The gross receipts to Sept. 30, 1906, are $408,118, being an increase over the same period last year of $4,235.

EAST KENT CASES

IN LINE LIGHT

One For Breach of Promise; Other Concerning Percheron Stallion.

Owing to a delay in the handing in of the indictments against Kovinsky and Ruffalo, His Lordship was unable to deliver his charge to the grand jury who today were empanelled yesterday afternoon. The charge was delivered this morning. Up to noon today the jury had not brought in their verdict in the two fast cases.

His Lordship yesterday issued an order for the production as a witness of Simon Gabritski, now incarcerated in Kingston Sheriff's Gaol, on his way to Kingston, to bring Gabritski back to Chatham.

The first case yesterday afternoon was an action for damages for seduction and breach of promise, brought by Robert H. Smith, of Howard township, on behalf of his daughter, Lena Smith, against Cecil J. Galbraith, a well to do young farmer of the vicinity.

In the course of the evidence it was shown that the defendant had declared that if he went back on the girl, he would be a cur.

The judge quite properly described himself, as His Lordship's stern comment, in the course of his charge to the jury.

The latter brought in a verdict for $1750 damages. L. J. Rycraft, of Ridgeway, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Waterhouse for the defendant. No evidence was offered for the defence.

Some Oil Co. vs. Jas. W. Campbell, was a motion brought to compel the execution of an oil lease. The defendant, according to the evidence, made an agreement for the lease but failed to execute it. The judge, Mr. Blake and A. T. Dolan and M. Wilson, J.C., for the defendant. His Lordship reserved judgment.

This morning the court took up the case of Jas. A. Dart vs. Robert Quaid et al., a suit upon a number of promissory notes, the Lordship considered the questions involved to be merely legal, and accordingly took the case from the jury.

From the evidence presented, it appears that George Waterworth, a salesman for Hamilton and Hawke's Bay, sold to the defendant, Robert Quaid, his sons Fred, Bert and Albert, a nephew John, and a friend named James Scott, a Percheron stallion. The purchasers signed what purported to be an agreement, but which turned up later in the shape of three promissory notes, assigned to Mr. Dart, of Ridgeway. The defendants refused payment, as the result of which Mr. Dart entered action to recover on the notes.

Mr. Waterworth was the chief witness for the plaintiff.

"Are you the same Mr. Waterworth who dealt in Arctic creameries?" queried Mr. Wilson, counsel for the defence.

"Yes," admitted the witness.

And you served a term in jail in connection with that affair?"

Mr. Rycraft, counsel for plaintiff, objected to the question, but the objection was overruled. Waterworth admitted serving a week in jail and paying an accompanying fine in connection with the creamery transaction. He had met Quaid at the London fair in 1904, and Quaid suggested that he come up and see him with a view to placing the stallion. Accordingly, he visited Quaid in February, 1905, when the deal was concluded. The agreement was signed at night, and the notes next morning. He did not remember making any promise or agreement.

Mr. Wilson here presented a written guarantee from Waterworth that he would not place another stallion nearer to Quaid than the Bruce county line.

Bert Quaid, called for the defence, stating that he had objected to purchasing the stallion, when Waterworth insisted that it would pay for itself. All they were to pay was one-third of the yearly proceeds for three years. Waterworth represented that the $2000 price was first the agreement in order "to hold the horse up to the farmers as a $2000 horse."

Witnesses asked if there were any notes, and Waterworth declared there were none; all witness had signed was two copies of the agreement, as a paper regarding insurance. They were to receive a copy of the agreement, but did not. He admitted the signature, "Bert Quaid" on the notes was his.

A DELIGHTFUL WINTER RESORT

It is announced that this year the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's fine hotel at Caledonia Springs, Ont., will be kept open for accommodation of visitors all winter. The Company has great faith in Caledonia Springs as an all-year-round resort, something better than a mere summering place, and this action will without doubt be appreciated by many people to whom the Springs have been hitherto closed more than half the year owing to lack of accommodation.

Call on E. Fleming, C. P. R. Opera House Block, for booklet entitled "Caledonia Springs."

This is Canada's growing time. The next few years will see wonderful development and opportunity in Canada. Are you getting ready to get your share? If employed through the day, take in the Evening Classes at the Business College, opening Monday, Oct. 22nd, and get ready to fill a choice position.

Evening Classes every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Business College, Queen street, on and after Oct. 22nd. Call or write for terms, and subjects taught.

FORGERY, SAYS DEFENDANT

An interesting case of alleged forgery came up before Judge Dowlin at Division court this morning, where the De Beers publishing company had an action for $50 against D. W. Crow, for an order on certain books. The defence was that the signature on the order was forged.

A. F. Falls and H. Loudon, hand writing experts, gave evidence for the plaintiff, to the effect that the signature was that of Mr. Crow.

The case will be resumed this afternoon, when W. Pringle, manager of the Merchants' Bank is expected to give evidence for the defence.

Mr. Houston is counsel for the plaintiff and H. D. Smith for the defendant.

THE STAGE

In refreshing contrast with the cheaply sensational play of some plays of alleged heart interest is, On the Bridge at Midnight, a comedy drama which will be seen here on Saturday night. The story is the frank, honest and natural narration in play form of the search of a blind mother for her stolen child and her experiences, exciting and sometimes tinged with pathetic humor, grip the attention of the audience from start to finish. It is a moving and a whole story and there are few characters on the stage that have won wider popularity than Germany and Reddy. The scenery is remarkable and of course reaches a climax in the setting that gives the play its name showing, with faithfulness, in detail, the huge lift bridge over the Chicago river, and a steamer passing through the draw. The company is far above the average. Prices 15, 25, 35, 50 and a few at 75 cents.

KING RICHARD THE THIRD.

No play has called forth a greater variety of opinion than this. It has been characterized on the one hand as the "grandest conception of human genius," and on the other the learned Dr. Johnson says, "It has no more discrimination of character." Another gifted writer of the past says, "The play has the power to charm and bewitch every audience from that time to this"—so the public of today may readily see that from the time of its first presentation about the end of the sixteenth century to the present day, a period of over three hundred years—it has been a leading subject of thought and discussion among the world's greatest minds, and the greatest actors the world has produced within that time have given in giving performances of this rugged, stern and dominant and majestic character. CLEMENTS AND CLANCY PROMISED A LICENSE

JOHN GRIFFITH

Political Exposure in Course of Examination in Division Court This Morning.

A case of more than usual interest came before Judge Dowlin in Division court this morning; of interest from both a political and legal aspect. The plaintiff was John Handor, and the defendant William Rose, who formerly kept the Baswood tavern, but whose license was taken away from him by the late Liberal government.

Rose was being examined by Barrister Brackin on a judgment summons for $135, when the following questions and answers were registered:

Q.—What was the note given for?

A.—For cattle I bought from Handor.

Q.—What did you do with the cattle after you bought them?

A.—Put a chattel mortgage on them.

Q.—Why did you do that?

A.—Because I had been promised my license back, and I wanted to raise some money.

Q.—From whom were you to get your license?

A.—I suppose from the inspector, but it was Mr. Clements and Mr. Clancy who promised it to me.

The witness went on to say that he never got the license, and as a result cannot pay all his debts.

The political "exposure" caused roars of laughter in the courtroom, and Judge Dowlin eventually decided that the defendant must pay Handor $2 a week.

—THE— "KIBOSH" By Bill.

KIBOSH BILL.

I AM a guest of the city Aldermen today on their little vacation in the gas field. We will visit the Holiday home and a dozen more boys make two Holidays into one. A Holiday for our fatherly bunch; some Holiday Tanks—giving that we arrived home all right. I suppose we will get muddled up pretty fierce, I am just tickled to death that I have to go. I would just as soon have my right leg broken as never make a dollar. I will see if I can't do something about the King street pavement up near Faggots and the Gas-pipe, more Power to it. If I don't arrive home for supper speak kindly of me. I wasn't a bad old scout when I was young. Keep me laughing all day.

NORTH BUXTON.

North Buxton, Oct. 8.—We had a very heavy rain on Saturday. Following Thursday's rain it has put the ground in good shape for fall plowing, but set wheat sowing back. The farmers in this locality are not going to have much of a crop of wheat, but are saving any at all. The price being so low and the crop generally poor has done a great deal toward discouraging them. The tobacco around us has all been housed in fine order and some will raise it another year—some—The great fellow have made a good start toward building their hall. We have not learned whether they have a site in view in the village or in the Gas field. The boys who were so seriously hurt during the baseball contest, we are glad to say, is able to be out again—North Buxton beat Chatham by a score of 9 to 7. She always did clean up for Chatham. Take the boys from behind the plow and they can make a corner with any team in the county. The members and friends of the Baptist church, who took a dose of carbolic acid on Friday in mistake for pain killer. He found it the worst pain killer he ever took. He is able to be up and around feeling none the worse, with the exception of a little sore mouth. He says he has never felt so good. House-keepers should be very careful how they set such bottles around—Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Irene Johnson and Mr. John O. Crommel, to take place on the 17th—Mrs. M. F. Hatchet was appointed president of the W. H. M. society. She is out already getting the auxiliaries in working order. She will begin her first and next Sunday, the 14th, at 8 o'clock she will hold an interesting address will be given on missionary work. The choir will render some fine selections, solo and duets. Rev. Mr. Peavy will give a short talk from Luke 14: 23. It ought to interest all Christians. All are welcome to the meeting. The members of the Baptist church gave Rev. Mr. Peavy and family a big surprise a few nights ago. Everything that one could think of was in well filled baskets, from bags of flour down to chickens. It looked like a harvest home and he was indeed surprised. After spending a pleasant evening all went home feeling that they had had a most enjoyable time.

Pandora Range

SAVES FUEL AND HELPS TO PAY FOR ITSELF.

It is not the price you pay for a range which makes it cheap or expensive, but the fuel it consumes after you get it.

If you buy a range which costs $5 to $7 less than a "Pandora" and it burns a ton, or only half a ton of coal more in a year, what do you gain? Nothing, but you actually lose money, besides putting up with all the inconveniences, troubles and extra work which are a certainty with a poor range.

The "Pandora" is equipped with many fuel-saving features which are not found on any other range. Hot-air flues are constructed so that all the heat from the fire-box travels directly under every pot-hole and around the oven twice—every atom of heat is used, and only the smoke goes up the chimney.

TERRORISTS OF RUSSIA

REVOLUTIONISTS OF THE CZAR'S EMPIRE AND THEIR METHODS.

Causes of the Nihilist Movement and the System Now Pursued by the "Fighting Section" of the Socialist Revolutionary Party—An Arrest of Revolutionists At Night—Career of Mme. Catherine Breshkovsky.

War has been started again on the ruling classes of Russia by the "fighting section" of the Social Revolutionary party. They are waging it with such persistence that scarcely a day passes without some new record of horror. The Russian who believes in promoting reform by use of the pistol and bomb-hope and believe that out of the wreck of an autocratic government will rise one under which liberty and happiness may prevail in their land. Whether this is an illusion or not time alone can tell. In the meantime political assassinations have become so common that the recital of them has grown almost monotonous. There is, however, something particularly fiendish about a kind of warfare which involves promiscuous slaughter of women and children along with the

MME. CATHERINE BRESHKOVSKY. men held responsible for conditions complained of by the malcontents. The latter do not attempt to justify such a method of war except on the ground of the desperate nature of the case.

One of the most active of the revolutionists is an aged woman, Mme. Catherine Breshkovsky. Mme. Breshkovsky was cradled in luxury, but when as a young woman she attempted to work for the ignorant and oppressed people she fell under the suspicion of the government, was kept a long time in prison and then exiled to Siberia, which she reached after a terrible journey of 5,000 miles and where she labored for years in a gold mine.

On obtaining freedom she swore devotion to the revolutionary cause and is now in Russia in disguise helping to promote the downfall of the present regime.

The revolutionists of Russia are known under different names, and violence and assassination are favored by only the most extreme of the elements now contending for change in the constitution of the Government.

There are several different groups of revolutionists, and their mutual relations shift from time to time according to the development of the general movement for constitutional government in the empire. The "red series" of assassinations, as it is known, was begun some forty or more years ago, and at first the movement was chiefly confined to a disaffected element composed largely of students or members of the educated classes. In recent years the working classes of the large cities have furnished many recruits to the movement, and strikes and other

AN ARREST OF REVOLUTIONISTS AT NIGHT. Symptoms of social protest have been incidents of the general unrest. Formerly the term "nihilist" was applied to the Russian revolutionist who believed in resorting to the pistol and bomb to secure reforms, and it is still used, though it does not have quite the significance that it once had.

There is a story that the nihilist movement was started in the early sixties by students who were aroused to desperation by the brutal treatment accorded the family of one of their number by agents of the imperial government. They met in secret and swore to fight for liberty of speech, the press and religion, using every means to accomplish such reforms, even the weapon of assassination. The movement, at any rate, included many of the wealthy and educated classes, and even women were sometimes chosen to execute sentence of death upon those selected as victims for the pistol, the knife or the bomb.

Since 1903 over thirty prominent bureaucrats and military tyrants, including a grand duke and several princes, counts, governors and generals, have fallen victims to the wrath of the revolutionists, and the latter, under the direction of a "grand central committee," have issued proclamations stating that the policy of assassination will be pursued to the uttermost, even to the killing of hundreds of persons connected with the government, unless the latter yields to the popular demands.

The Fertile North.

Who would live in these dismal regions of the temperate zone if he realized the tropical luxuriance, combined with the crisp champagne-like atmosphere of the Yukon. Besides being the great gold-producing corner of the continent, the Klondike is setting up as the great vegetable patch of America. The Dawson News describes a triumph of the gardener's art now to be seen in Dawson. "Those who have had most experience with gardens are the most positive that the sample from the French garden at Ogilvie bridge surpasses anything grown in any part of the world. It is a great cauliflower, of the Early Paris variety, being exhibited at Avery's South End store. The total spread of the plant is four and a half feet, of which a foot is the meat of the cauliflower, the one plant being about the size and weight of ten ordinary specimens of that luscious edible. The seed was sown April 21, and the great growth coming along so rapidly, so far from making the specimen woody or tough, has given it a tender firmness superior to any of the belated regions of the southland, where plants have in each twenty-four hours alternating periods of growth and a suspension of function."

Recommended by doctors, proved by time to be infallible. Catarrhoxone is just what you need. 25c and $1.00, sold everywhere.

DEEP SEA FISHES.

There Being Nothing Else to Eat, They Live Upon Each Other.

"All the deep sea fishes are enormous eaters," says a naturalist. "There being nothing to eat but the life about them, they live upon each other. Every facility for killing and devouring is provided—luminescence to dazzle, swiftness and strength to overtake and overpower, knife blade teeth for tearing, abnormally large jaws for crushing. Whatever the prey or how ever large it may be, there is little trouble in swallowing it. The mouth yawns like a cavern, and the stomach distends to hold a body even larger than the swallower. The appetite in fishes seems never wanting, and complete digestion with some of them is only a matter of half an hour." For this reason slaughter goes on unendingly. Usually it is produced only by hunger, but some monsters, like the bluefish, even when gorged, kill for pure love of killing.

Of the eternal warfare that goes on beneath the surface of the waves the same writer remarks: "They follow the prey like packs of wolves, and in turn are followed, hand succeeding hand, increasing in size as they decrease in numbers. The herrings eat the smaller fish, even their own young; they are harried by the bluefishes until a trail of blood stains the water, while following the bluefishes come the insatiable porpoises. Nothing saves the weaker ones but breed. Many thousands of eggs are spawned that a dozen or more may be hatched and brought to maturity. Billions are lost; yes, but millions survive.

"The herrings move on the sea in uncountable numbers—in banks that are miles in length and width, in windrows so vast that they perhaps keep passing one given point in unbroken succession for months at a time. Just so with the menhaden. A catch in a purse net of 300,000 is not infrequent. Such numbers are sufficient to withstand all the ravages of the natural enemy. The bass, the haddock and the pollock may kill to their hearts' content, and still the menhaden will hold their own."

THE BLAST FURNACE.

In Cleaning One It Is Necessary to Use Dynamite.

The function of a blast furnace is the reduction of ores to metallic iron. The iron ore, like stone and coke, is put in at the top and the iron and slag are drawn off at the base. The temperature of the interior of a blast furnace when in operation varies according to circumstances, but the molten iron when drawn off is about 1,500 degrees F., indicating a much higher temperature inside.

To withstand such terrific heat, which is maintained by a powerful blast of air which acts much in the same manner as a forced draft on a boiler, the furnace is lined on the inside with a fine grade of fire brick, thoroughly burned. This wall of non-combustible material is about four feet thick, outside of which is the steel jacket of the furnace, about one-quarter of an inch thick.

The lining of a furnace will last from two to six years, according to the nature of the material smelted, the furnace being in continuous operation during that time. It takes about six weeks to reline a furnace.

After a furnace is "blown out," or ceases to be used, there is a quantity of iron which cools and solidifies at the base of the furnace. This is called salamander, and it is necessary to use dynamite to loosen this material and get it out of the furnace, so that it can be consumed. Salamander has a ready sale, as it is a fine grade of pig iron.

As a rule, when trade conditions are good a blast furnace is never allowed to cool down or be taken out of blast except at intervals of several years for relining.

Took the Wrong House.

On one of the southern railroads there is a station building that is commonly known by travelers as the smallest railroad station in America. It is of this station that the story is told that an old farmer was expecting a chicken house to arrive there, and he sent one of his hands, a newcomer, to fetch it. Arriving there, the man saw the house, loaded it on to his wagon and started for home. On the way he met a man in uniform with the words "Station Agent" on his cap.

"Say, hold on. What have you got on that wagon?" he asked.

"My chicken house, of course," was the reply.

"Chicken house be jiggered!" exploded the official. "That's the station!"

His Promotion.

A somewhat turbulent private wrote to his mother: "I am sorry you had no letter last week, but I am a defaulter, and it gives me a heap of extra work." The good woman in reply begged him not to be too hard on the others, but to remember he had been a private himself. I regret to say that he roared with laughter and read the letter aloud for the benefit of all who shared his room.—Miss M. Loane, a Queen's Nurse, in Contemporary Review.

Musical Note.

A gentleman at a musical party where the lady was very particular not to have the concert of sweet sounds interrupted, seeing that the fire was going out, asked a friend in a whisper, "How could you stir the fire without interrupting the music?"

"Between the bars!" replied the friend.

There is no duty we so much under rate as the duty of being happy.—Stevenson.

Same Old Story.

It was the vacation rush in the baggage room of the big depot. Suddenly, without warning, there was an explosion that shook the building.

"The trunk of an anarchist with a bomb in it!" shouted the depot detectives.

"Russian nihilists!" echoed a man in the crowd.

"The Black Hand!" added a third.

But just then a meek little man pushed his way through the crowd and picked up the fragments of a hinge.

"Lucy's trunk!" he sighed. "I told her if she forced anything else in that trunk the whole top would blow off, but a man can't tell a woman anything when she is packing."

Tenderly they lifted the poor "smasher" from the floor and picked from his anatomy one toothbrush handle, one curling iron, a soap dish and a belt buckle.—Chicago News.

THE NEW JOURNALIST.

His Remarks on Lynching Cause Him a Heap of Trouble.

"I was in the newspaper business once myself," laughed the portly party. "When I left college I decided that nothing but journalism would cater to the strenuous life that I proposed to lead. In looking over the eastern field was too cramped for my swelling ambition, so I decided upon the free and boundless west as the only spot where my budding genius could properly expand unhindered by the conventionalities of the effete east."

"Well, I found a small town in the west where there was no paper and proceeded at once to fill a long felt want. Soon after I had established my great mold of opinion a lynching took place, and I felt that the situation called for a few burning words upon the subject. The result was a two column leader, wherein I handed the outrage without gloves. I cannot now recall what I said except the end, which read something like this: 'Gentlemen, think twice before you again drag the name of our beautiful and future great city through the mud.'"

"The edition containing my inspired and burning words was hardly issued when I had a call from a delegation of my fellow citizens."

"What can I do for you, gentlemen?" I asked, realizing that I was facing a condition, not a theory.

"We've kim yere," said the spokesman, "to inform you that we don't take no shine to that thar article of yours 'bout lynchin'. Our first impression was to bring a rope along with us, but we remembered what you said 'bout thinkin' twice, so we've jes' called to let you know that we've had our first think. We'll be yere again tomorrow."

"I took the hint and the first train out of town."—Detroit Free Press.

A Partisan Shot.

"Perhaps, but the neighborhood will not be prying into our business."

WITH THE PREMIERS

Provincial Heads in Conference
At the Capital.

THE SUBJECTS DISCUSSED

Increased Subsidies May Be Granted Upon Conditions—Provinces May Surrender Railway Jurisdiction—Ontario and Western Men Have Yet to Consider the Resolutions of 1903—Sir Wilfrid's Welcome.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—In the Senate committee room, which has often been the scene of wrangles over railway charters, the Provincial Premiers and Ministers were in session for nearly three hours yesterday. The Premiers present were: Ontario, Whitney; Quebec, Gouin; Nova Scotia, Murray; New Brunswick, Tupper; Prince Edward Island, Peters; Manitoba, Roblin; Saskatchewan, Scott; Alberta, Rutherford; British Columbia, McBride.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the morning, opened the proceedings with an address of welcome, to which each of the nine Provincial Premiers replied briefly. The federal representatives then spoke, and Premier Gouin of Quebec was made chairman of the provincial representatives' meeting, and Deputy Attorney-General Lanctot of Quebec was made secretary.

After an hour's discussion in the morning the meeting was adjourned to give the representatives of the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan an opportunity to decide whether the resolutions of the Quebec conference of 1903 would meet their views.

Ontario's Position. Beyond a request for increased subsidies, no clear understanding as to what will be brought up at the joint meeting yet exists. Premier Whitney said yesterday morning that he and his colleagues had come here at the request of the Dominion Government, but he did not know what questions would be submitted by the latter. The present Ontario Government, Mr. Whitney was understood to say, had not formally signified their concurrence in the resolutions of 1903, except to this extent; that after the return to Toronto of former Premier Ross from the conference Mr. Whitney moved in the Legislature an amendment to the effect that Ontario would not put the case for that Province as strongly as he might have done.

Quebec's Demands. A Premier Gouin declared yesterday morning that the demands made by the province in the printed resolutions laid before the federal Government in 1903. He had no knowledge as to what other questions were to come forward. It is understood that until the Province has laid their demands before the representatives of the Dominion Government the latter will not announce the conditions upon which increased Federal aid will be vouchsafed. It seems to be taken for granted that the Dominion authorities will increase the subsidies to the Provinces, provided that suitable concessions in return are made by them.

Premier Peters of Prince Edward Island, in the case of his province, does not want the capitation allowance based on the last census return, as the population of the island has declined. He wants a minimum fixed for the allowance, which a decrease in population will not affect.

The Premiers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, while agreeing to the principle of the Quebec resolutions have just had a census taken of their provinces which shows a tremendous growth over 1901. They want the capitation allowance given on the basis of population shown by the 1906 and of any future census.

A sub-committee consisting of Messrs. Gouin, Weir, Murray, McBride, Pugsley, Fox, Campbell and Secretary Lanctot was appointed to revise the Quebec resolutions. They will report to a meeting of the provincial representatives at 10 o'clock this morning.

If the new draft of resolutions is adopted it will be presented to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the other federal Ministers to-day at 11 a.m.

It is believed that the Dominion Government is anxious to learn whether the Provinces are disposed to consider a proposition to surrender the right to subsidize railways, and, if so, upon what terms, and that they also wish to have a clear idea as to the extent of jurisdiction when a Provincial line makes connection with a Dominion railway. If either of these matters comes forward, however, it must be with the consent of the Provinces.

Last evening the delegates attended a reception given by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. To-day at 1 o'clock they will be the guests of R. L. Borden at luncheon.

Bomb Hurled at General.

Sebastopol, Oct. 9.—A bomb was thrown yesterday at Major-General Dunbadin, commander of the troops, as he was driving to the barracks of the Brest Regiment. The general, who was slightly wounded, fired on his assailant, but he escaped after a struggle with some soldiers. The general's coachman and two orderlies were severely wounded.

Confesses Infant Murder.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 9.—Bert and Mollie Kemp, aged 39 and 29, respectively, are under arrest here, charged with murdering their baby on Sept. 4. The police say that Kemp confessed the crime, saying that shame drove him to it.

Sentenced to Four Months.

Belleville, Oct. 9.—John Hines, who was yesterday morning found guilty of breaking into a G. T. R. bonded car and stealing therefrom, was sentenced to four months in the Central by Magistrate Flint.

Stop Paying Rent.

Smolensk, Russia, Oct. 9.—The peasants of Molokhin, at a great meeting held Sunday, resolved to cease paying rent to the proprietors of the land, and also adopted other resolutions of a most radical nature.

MR. MATHISON RESIGNS.

Leaves Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville to Become Supreme Secretary of the I. O. F.—His Letter.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—Mr. R. Mathison, superintendent and principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Belleville, personally handed in his resignation to Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education and acting Premier, whom he called upon at the Education Department yesterday morning.

He leaves the Government service to become Supreme Secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, in succession to Lieut.-Col. J. A. McGillivray, who is resigning on account of ill-health, not having been able to attend his duties during the last three or four months. The appointment was made at a meeting of the executive of the Foresters held at the Foresters' Island on Saturday. Mr. Mathison has been a Forester for 20 years, for 14 of which he was Supreme Journal Secretary.

Praise For Present Government. In speaking to a reporter of his resignation, Mr. Mathison said that while he was a Liberal and had been appointed by a Liberal Government, he was glad to say that since the change in Government he had received from the present Administration the most courteous treatment in every way. There was therefore nothing political in the change. He was simply resigning because he had a better position awaiting him.

The Letter of Resignation. Mr. Mathison's letter to Hon. Dr. Pyne formally conveying his resignation was as follows:

"Dear Sir.—After a service of thirty-four and one-half years, six years as Bursar of the Asylum at London, one and a half as Manager of Industries of the Central Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and 27 in my present position, I tender herewith my resignation as Superintendent and Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Belleville, to take effect on Nov. 15, if you please. Before leaving I wish to present the annual report to Sept. 30, and close up all matters of accounts, etc. I shall remain any longer period that you may think necessary in order to give my successor such instruction as he may wish, and if at any time your assistance is desired in furthering the interests of the deaf and dumb of this province it will be at your command."

"During my whole tenure of office I have been content to perform the various duties assigned me to the very best of my ability, and it is a pleasing recollection at the present time that I enjoyed the confidence of the Ministers and the various Governments under whom I served."

"I notice by the newspapers that Mr. Snow of Toronto has been appointed by Royal Commission to enquire into matters connected with this institution. Would you kindly arrange for Mr. Snow to commence his enquiries here in the near future in order that his findings may be arrived at before I leave the service."

"Allow me to thank you personally for many courtesies since you have been Head of this institution. I have received every consideration that you could possibly extend."

Is Well Known. Mr. Mathison, who is an M. A. and an old newspaper man, was born in 1845, and has been an authority on the education of the deaf and dumb for a number of years, and is well-known across the border in this capacity. The inspectors of the Education Department have repeatedly complimented the management of the Belleville Institution under Mr. Mathison's care.

GOVERNMENT SPUR LINES.

Contracts Have Been Let—Cost Will Be About $250,000.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—Contracts for the new spur lines on the T. and N. O. Railway system have been let in connection with the clearing and grading of the proposed branches. The rails will be laid by the staff of the commission, and the total cost of the several new lines will be about $250,000 for almost 14 miles.

Canadian Constructing Co., Montreal, has been awarded the contract for the clearing and grading of the miles of the Charlton branch from Englehart to Long Lake.

McQuigg & Hunt, Arnprior, got the Haliburton spur, a mile and three-quarters, connecting the main line with Haliburton Wharf.

A. Spencer, Niagara Falls, obtains the four mile contract from the main line at Cobalt into the Kerr Lake region, part of which will traverse the mineral section of the Gilles limit, and be of much convenience to the Government exploitation works.

REMAINS CREMATED.

Ex-Mayor Beaugrand Neglected to Revoke Portion of Will.

Montreal, Oct. 9.—A strange situation has been created by the death of ex-Mayor Beaugrand, who, although dying in the Catholic faith, cannot receive Catholic burial, and will be cremated this morning at 10 o'clock.

In May last Mr. Beaugrand made a will stipulating that there must be no ceremony, religious or otherwise, at his funeral, no flowers, no pall-bearers, and his body must be cremated. When Beaugrand retracted last month he told those clauses of the will, but this he failed to do, so the executors will give it effect to-day in its entirety.

The estate of the late mayor will foot up to nearly $200,000, all of which will go to his daughter, Mrs. Vallancourt. Madame Beaugrand having the use of it during her lifetime.

Bishop Arnett Dead.

Kenia, Ohio, Oct. 8.—Bishop William Benjamin Arnett of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, died of uræmic poisoning Sunday night at the Wilberforce University. Bishop Arnett presided over the parliament of religion in Chicago, Sept. 18, 1893, and at the ecumenical conference of Methodists in London, Sept. 7, 1901.

A TRANSFORMATION.

Evidence Given in Seduction Charge Caused a Sudden Arrest.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—As the outcome of evidence given in the Assize Court yesterday afternoon, before Justice Falconbridge, Walter Follett was placed under arrest by Constable Walter Stewart at the City Hall.

Follett, who comes from near Eversley, King Township, was the defendant in a suit brought by Mrs. Tawse, for damages for seduction of her daughter, Elizabeth Tawse, 25 years old.

Miss Tawse told the story of her engagement to the defendant, and its sad results, and in her evidence mentioned that the defendant had secured her drugs and instruments from Aurora.

The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict of $1,600 damages, and while they were coming to that conclusion County Crown Attorney Drayton decided that Follett must answer the criminal charge of getting the drugs and the instruments.

CUBAN REPORTS MOSTLY GOOD.

Just a Little Friction in Cuba Over Reinstatement of a Mayor.

Havana, Oct. 9.—The reports received by the Provisional Government show that the pacification of Cuba is practically complete, with the exception of the Province of Santa Clara, where matters are rapidly nearing a settlement.

The only trouble known to exist is at Alquízar, Province of Havana, where the Liberals and Moderates are about equally divided and irritation has been caused by the reinstatement of a Liberal mayor. It is believed that the 30 military guards there will be able to keep the peace.

A NOVA SCOTIAN COLLISION.

Two Work Trains Crash; One Man Is Dead, Another Dying.

Glouce Bay, N. S., Oct. 9.—The worst collision in the history of the Sydney & Louisbourg Railway took place about four miles from this town yesterday afternoon, and as a result one man, Norman McLeellan, is dead. His brother, Daniel, is dying and nine were injured.

The accident was caused by a collision between No. 6 and No. 55, construction trains coming from Louisbourg. It appears both trains thought they had a clear track.

PASADENA A TOTAL WRECK.

Three of Her Crew Drown in Big Storm On Superior.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 9.—A terrific gale was raging on Lake Superior last night. The barge Pasadena, in tow of the steamer Gladstone, was blown on the rocks and is a total wreck. Three of her crew were drowned, while several others reached shore after a terrific battle with the surf.

The Gladstone made the harbor safely.

Fatal Fight Between Negroes.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 9.—Samuel Washington, colored, was arraigned before Police Magistrate Cruikshank yesterday morning on a charge of aggravated assault on another colored man named Daniel Little. The assault occurred on Saturday night. Little died yesterday morning. An attempt was made to get a statement from him, but he was not conscious enough to speak intelligibly. The most serious wound visible on his body is a hole in the face, passing through the nose, which is alleged to have been caused by a punch from Washington's umbrella.

Albert Lamb Killed.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The terribly mangled body of Albert Lamb, a G. T. R. yardman, was found beside the tracks near the foot of Peter street at about 10.30 last night. The circumstances indicate that Lamb was struck by the yard engine. He was seen alive about an hour before the body was discovered. Lamb was married and had one child. He was 33 years of age.

Found Dead In Chair.

Petrolia, Oct. 9.—John Garrison, oil operator, was found dead sitting in a chair yesterday morning at his residence. His wife is on a visit to her son at Cayuga, who is station agent at that place. He recently returned from an oil-drilling tour to Borneo.

Two Bombs Thrown.

Kasan, Russia, Oct. 9.—Two bombs were thrown yesterday at Vice-Governor Kobeto, but he was only slightly injured. The would-be assassin escaped.
