DETAILS OF KING'S DEATH

How Cowardly Assassin Succeeded in His Effort.

"Murderer" Exclaimed King George of Greece as He Died.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
SALONIKI, March 19.—Aleko Schinas, the murderer of the late King George I. of Greece, appears to have lived much abroad. He returned to this city only after it had been occupied by the Greek army to which the Turkish garrison surrendered.

The premeditation of the regicide appears to be established by the fact that Schinas lurked in hiding. He rushed out when his royal victim had reached within six feet of his and fired point blank into the back of the king who at the time was only a few yards from police headquarters.

Lieut.-Col. Francoudis, his aide-de-camp, who was walking beside King George, immediately drew his revolver; Schinas then turned about and aimed at the aide-de-camp without, however, hitting him.

Two Cretan military policemen, who were acting as an escort to the king, dashed at Schinas and pinioned his arms before he could fire again.

When Lieut.-Col. Francoudis saw that the assassin had been arrested, he returned to King George, who he supposed had escaped unscathed, and was horrified to find his Majesty stretched on the roadway.

Lieut.-Col. Francoudis raised the stricken monarch's head from the pavement, but King George by then had become unconscious and he never spoke again.

Some soldiers who had been attracted to the spot by the shots, lifted the King from the ground and carried him to the hospital, but he had expired before he had reached the place.

When questioned by the police, Schinas frantically replied: "You have courts, I will speak there."

Asked to say who he was, and who was the motive of his crime he replied: "I shot the king because he was a tyrant and I will speak there."

On reaching the police station he gave his name and a few particulars about himself.

Mr. T. Whitlock and Co's. will be open Thursday evening—Good Friday eve.

Woman Dead Left $80,000 With no Heirs

PORT HOPE, March 19.—Mrs. Jane Monsell, who was found dead in her home last night, left an estate of between $80,000 and $85,000, and as there are no heirs or any will, the whole of the estate will revert to the Provincial Government. The deceased had lived alone since the death of her daughter about a year ago. She was last seen alive on Saturday night. Monday evening neighbors became alarmed and broke open the door. They found the deceased on a couch in a reclining position, but life had been extinct for some hours. Death was due to natural causes.

LOVE'S TRIAL OPENS TO-DAY

Dense Crowds Besiege Court House at Owen Sound This Morning.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
OWEN SOUND, Ont., March 19.—Long before the hour set for the hearing of the charge against Henry Love of murdering his wife in their home at Cayton on December 9, a dense crowd besieged the doors of the court house here and fought for vantage points on stairs, galleries and aisles. A generous sprinkling of the gathering were women, who vied with the men in eagerness to secure seats in the court room.

The task of selecting a jury occupied considerable time. Mr. W. H. Wright, the prisoner's lawyer, challenged no less than 23, and as a result a new panel had to be sworn in. Love followed the swearing in of each juror with keen interest. As some one or another stood up preparatory to taking the oath he would give an admonitory nod to his counsel, who thereupon promptly challenged that talsman.

Before the proceedings commenced a preliminary spar took place between counsel in the question of the exclusion of witnesses. The result resulted in Mr. Wright securing a victory, all witnesses being requested to leave the room. The polite request of the sheriff to meet with the approval of Mr. Justice Lennox. There's no "please" about it, they must leave," he declared sharply. A titter ran around the crowded court room, which was promptly checked by the officials.

Love's appearance attracted considerable comment. His face bore none of the jail pallor usually associated with those who have undergone solitary confinement, and his confidence of manner gave the lie to the reports which have been circulated in regard to his dejectedness of spirits during incarceration.

Not a stir was stepped up to the box but was greeted with a steady gaze with the prisoner who invariably succeeded in staring down the talsman.

Mr. H. D. Gamble, in outlining the case for the Crown, emphasized that repeated quarrels had taken place between the accused and his wife, and that the latter, who had been through Love's smoking habits. He traced the circumstances surrounding the finding of the woman's body in the cellar of the Love home on December 12, three days after the Crown alleged the murder had taken place.

Counsel restaged the sordid drama, and dwelt at some length on the prisoner's alleged conversation with his 14-year-old son Arnel, in which excuses were given by Love about the disappearance of the woman. The accused, declared the crown attorney, had impressed on his son that he was to agree with his (the father's) statement that his mother had left home on a visit.

It lacked a few minutes of noon before the first witness, Isaac Trainer, was called, who told of preparing plans of the Love-house. He was subjected to a lengthy cross-examination on certain technical points by Mr. Wright. Mr. Trainer was followed on the stand by Gibson Collinson, a neighbor of Henry Love, on whose evidence the case for the Crown is largely based.

Collinson, a venerable, gray-haired man, nervous of men and abrupt in his address, made an excellent witness. He told of the disappearance of Mrs. Love, which apparently was a matter of general knowledge, and detailed his first interview with the accused about this disappearance. "I went to Love on Wednesday, December 11, and asked him if his wife had taken any clothes with her," he said, "and he replied that he did not think so. Her spectacles, veil and other things were in the house, and I asked him if it was usual for her to go away without notice."

"I said that I thought she was not far away and I asked him if there

BRITAIN IS IN MOURNING

King George of Greece Was Regarded as Great Monarch.

Court Will go Into Mourning For Distinguished King.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, March 19.—Intense feeling of indignation over the assassination of King George of Greece and deep sympathy for the royal family and people of Greece is given freely by all the London morning newspapers to-day and all in a similar strain.

"He gave himself heart and soul to the cause of Greece in good days and evil for forty arduous, eventful years," says The Times in tribute to the King, "and he has gone when she is reaping the harvest he has sown."

"King George left Greece far richer in fame, honor and power than he found her and he has bequeathed to her service sons who have already proved their worth and an heir who will fill his place with inherited courage and tenacity," says The Daily Express.

"Within a few weeks," adds The Daily Graphic, "the whole of the Hellenic world would have acclaimed King George as the creator of that greater Greece which for centuries has been the golden dream of eastern Christendom."

The Morning Post expresses confidence that "the qualities of bravery and patience which have been displayed during the war by Greece will be further revealed during the critical moments occasioned by the assassin's crime."

"King George's long reign was a slow climb up hill, checked with many reverses," says The Daily Chronicle, adding, "If it be fortunate to die at the height of success, he died fortunately."

The other newspapers similarly point out that the king has been struck down at a moment when Greece stands higher in the estimation of Europe than for many years. The British court will go into full mourning for three weeks and into half mourning for another week.

The Greek minister on leaving Marlborough House to-day said that his advice today was to King. When her sons, Prince George and Prince Andre, communicated the news of the tragedy to her she fell fainting in their arms, and only recovered to swoon again. This happened several times until the doctors were able to soothe her to some extent.

All the princes and princesses of the royal family accompany their mother to Saloniki by way of the port of Chaleos.

State mourning has been ordered for a period of six months and court mourning for a year.

The whole Greek capital is draped with mourning. On public and other buildings the national flag flies at half-mast and is draped with crepe. The bells of all the churches in the city have tolled all day, and minute guns have been fired from the forts.

The population is overwhelmed with gloom. All the newspapers are printed with black borders and contain long eulogies of the dead monarch.

The chamber of deputies met this morning, when Premier Venizelos formally announced the death of King George and the succession of King Constantine.

Queen Mother Bears Loss Very Heavily

(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, March 19.—Queen Mother Alexandra, the sister of the murdered king of Greece, has recovered from the first shock of her brother's tragic death and is bravely giving considerable personal attention to the flood of sympathetic messages she has received from all parts of the world.

King George of England, her son, joined her early in the day and remained with her until this afternoon. The diplomatic corps in London left cards of condolence at Marlborough House Buckingham Palace and the Greek legation.

The flags on all the public buildings in London and also those in club and land floated at half mast to-day and during the change of the guard at St. James Palace opposite Marlborough House, the regimental band played the "Dead March in Saul."

A SYNDICATE IS ORGANIZED

Big Apartment House is Planned in This City.

A syndicate has been formed to look into the question of the erection of an up-to-date apartment house in Brantford. Options have been taken on a couple of properties, and if the scheme looks feasible, after due consideration, the project will be carried to completion.

GREAT GRIEF IN ATHENS

Bereaved Queen Leaves Athens for Saloniki To-Day—Country Mourns.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
ATHENS, Greece, March 19.—Queen Olga of Greece was too prostrated by the news of the fate of her husband to sail for Saloniki last night. When her sons, Prince George and Prince Andre, communicated the news of the tragedy to her she fell fainting in their arms, and only recovered to swoon again. This happened several times until the doctors were able to soothe her to some extent.

All the princes and princesses of the royal family accompany their mother to Saloniki by way of the port of Chaleos.

THESE FIGURES ASTOUNDING

A Staggering Announcement From the Toronto Street Railway.

Company Is Buried Under an Avalanche of Liabilities.

There came through the mails from Toronto to this city to-day an amazing story of high finance. The story was largely in figures and it was also a rehash of what has been going on in street railway affairs up to December 31, 1912. It was the report of the auditor, Mr. F. W. Frank of this city in printed form, together with other statements, and the liabilities, receipts and expenditures of the allied street railway and radial companies were duly set down. How it is hoped to save anything from the almost hopeless tangle as shown by the figures is a matter which is puzzling chartered accountants and experts in company reorganization and high financiers in general.

The documents were sent out shows a marvellous surplus of $6,748.85 on the Grand Valley Radial. The total receipts for 1912 were $25,006.16. While tickets sold netted $23,671.06. The expenditures were $17,880.41; salaries $1,805.65; power $3,305.67.

On the street railway there was another marvellous surplus of $5,877.19. The receipts for the year totalled $24,666.01, while the ticket sales reached $23,788.99. The main expenditures were car maintenance, $1,097.73; wages $10,516.30; power $2,910.12; salaries $1,330.25.

In addition to the above the receiver submitted a statement in which he showed a deficit of $7,028.52, which will have to be made up.

It is, however, when the reader comes to the liabilities that the amazing state of affairs is revealed. On the Woodstock railway there is a mortgage of $140,000. On the Brantford Street Railway the National Trust Company holds a mortgage interest of 7 per cent of $125,000. On the Grand Valley the Trusts and Guarantee Company holds a mortgage of $80,000. In addition Mr. F. Muir holds a 7 per cent mortgage of $900 and the city water commissioner holds a $1,500 mortgage on the Colborne street power house building. In addition to the above mortgage there is said to be the second issue of bonds $1,250,000. Who holds all these bonds which have been settled in any re-organization.

When it comes to taxes there is high finance galore. Provincial taxes are owed on the three lines as follows: $558, $842.08, $332.00. The amount of tax arrears with accrued interest due the city of Brantford is $26,190.45. Then there is the arrearage of charges due the city $45,075.44. The company also owes its share of the market street bridge, $5,228.91. The grand total here is unpaid accounts amounting to $7,028.52, $3,326.73.

The above figures were taken out of the statement issued from Toronto and are authentic.

The formal report of the bondholders' committee was submitted at a meeting in Toronto yesterday and it is just possible suit may be entered, as per the advice of Sir Allan Achesworth, against the directors personally. However, nothing is settled in this regard as yet.

BEST AERO IN THE WORLD

Announcement in the British House To-Day Created a Sensation.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, March 19.—The British army possesses the best aeroplane in the world and has perfected a type of flying machine far superior to any in the possession of other nations, according to Colonel John Seely, Secretary of State for War, who caused a sensation by making this announcement in the House of Commons when introducing the army estimates to-day.

For British purposes Col. Seely said the great problem had been to secure an aeroplane that could fly both slow and fast. The British army now had machines that had beaten 80 miles an hour and which also were able to reduce their speed to 40 miles an hour. An army biplane yesterday had passed all tests at an average speed of 91 to 105 miles an hour.

Col. Seely said the British army would have 148 aeroplanes by next May. He claimed that Great Britain had deliberately tabooed large airships as being useless for her purposes. The War Department was devoting its attention to small dirigibles which could be packed up and sent abroad with expeditions.

The secretary for war said that the mechanical problem of repelling attacks on air craft had been solved by experiments carried out by the army service.

Can Freight Disadvantages be Removed

At the Greater Brantford Association meeting last night it was pointed out that in the matter of heavy freight transportation this city was struggling under disabilities, and that these disabilities were of such a nature as to prevent Brantford landing any of the bigger iron industries.

That there is a Dominion Railway Board for the removal of freight inequalities, and that a combined effort by City Council, Greater Brantford Association and Board of Trade in this direction would result in removing largely these disabilities, was the opinion expressed by a member of the Greater Brantford Association last night.

LIBERALS ARE WAWERING

And Navy Bill Will Be Passed without Closure Proceedings

(Canadian Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, Ont., March 19.—The Liberal side of the Commons was in caucus to-day and discussed the action of Speaker Spruille in taking the chair in committee and naming Dr. Clark on Saturday. A resolution of censure in connection with this and the rulings of committee chairmen will, it is understood, be presented in the House.

The general attitude of the party on further consideration of the Navy Bill will not be determined until the members have felt out their constituents during the Easter recess.

OTTAWA, March 19.—While the House was more or less quietly passing supply yesterday there was an appearance of much significant activity and of "things done" outside of the chamber. The Opposition is at the parting of the ways on the naval issue. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been holding a series of conferences with small groups of his followers. These conferences have taken place in the House office of the leader of the Opposition. The result has not been made known, but there is a strongly defined impression that the Liberals are wavering and that a date for the final passage of the Naval Aid Bill may be fixed to-day. In that event it is probable that the Government will not give notice of the closure resolution for the present.

In the meantime there are being made suggestions of compromise. These are purely imaginary. The Government intends to have the Naval Aid Bill enacted into law, and there is not going to be any compromise. The absolute futility of attempting to force a dissolution is now recognized and admitted by Opposition members, despite the disappointed ambitions of the seatless ex-Ministers. That being so, there is nothing to be gained by continued obstruction. It is probable that wisecounsel will prevail in the Liberal party and that the opposition to the Naval Bill from now on will be of somewhat formal kind. That this is likely is borne out by the demeanor of two of the leading obstructionists in the House last night, Messrs. Pugh and Lemieux. They were ready to snap at their own shadows.

Your board finds that many Canadian towns are offering inducements to prospective industries in a way that Brantford has not been willing to follow. The chief among such are—free sites, gifts of buildings, loans of money and guarantees of bonds.

Your board has pursued the consistent policy of advocating the advantages of Brantford as a good labor market, and as a city whose people are able and willing to risk their capital in any enterprise which appears likely to be successful; but refuse to consider those which appear to be founded on unsound business principles and methods.

Your board while holding to these views feel that their hands would be greatly strengthened if the owners of available factory sites would offer them to the board for a period of say, one year, at what might be considered somewhat less than their present value.

The question of how best to encourage the establishment of small industries has received earnest attention. One of the most feasible that could be adopted is the erection in a convenient location of a factory building, of which the floor space or flats, could be rented to manufacturers. This would become a nursery for factories in their initial early and growing stages. From what has been learned regarding such buildings in

THE COAL SITUATION.

Next Three Months Coal Will Be Cheap.

Now is the time to order your next year's supply of coal. The price of coal is lowest during April and May than any other time in the year. At present Buffalo harbor is clear of ice and railway companies are busy loading their boats with coal. This is being done to rush the coal to the West as soon as navigation opens on account of the supply getting very low in that section of the country during the past winter. This state of affairs will have a tendency to make coal a scarce article in Ontario. It will pay you to order your coal from E. H. Walsh before May 1st, as after that date all mine-owners advance the price monthly. Throughout the past winter several of the local dealers have been buying coal from independent firms in Detroit at an advance in price of $1.00 a ton over what Mr. Walsh has been paying; therefore, he is able to quote you a better price for April, May and June deliveries, especially car lots for employees of factories. This coal is mined under the city of Scranton, Pa., (guaranteed), and no better coal can be purchased in the world. Mr. Walsh can quote a lower price than most dealers as he is under less expense than any coal merchant in the city. You get coal of quality and quantity, which is full of weight, worth and warmth, when you have Mr. Walsh fill your coal bins. He is already booking orders for next year's supply of coal at prices which will astonish you. If you are not already one of his many satisfied customers give him your next order and be convinced that he sells the best coal in the city and at economical prices and full weight. He is also sole agent for Beaver Brand Charcoal. F. H. Walsh, Coal and Wood Dealer, Phone 345.

Greater Brantford

The Book and Accounts of the board have been audited by Mr. Harvey T. Watt, one of the auditors appointed by the members. The total amount received to date for the year is $4,369.64, including $150.00 of the $1,000 grant made by the City Council, $3,538.00 contributed by the Merchants, Manufacturers and other citizens and $61.64 interest on deposits to December 31st.

The total payments to date amount to $4,769.26 leaving a balance on hand of $1,500.38.

In addition to the balance on hand there are due to the board commissions estimated at $850.00 and other amounts about $60.00, making a total of available assets of about $2,500.38.

The payments include commissioner's salary $1,400.00; stenographer, $77; travelling and other expenses, $652.71; office furniture $137.45; office rent $81; telephone $16; light $30; insurance $2.84; books, printing $130.08; bank exchange $33.10; organization expenses $4.22; expense appointment of commissioner, $27.16; grant to secretary $150; Brantford automobiles to be repaid $30.

The greater part of the subscriptions were made annually for three years. Those made for one year amount to about $1,000.00 but it is anticipated that most of these subscriptions will be renewed, and that ample means will be provided to enable the new board to carry on the work satisfactorily.

Your board cannot speak too highly of the splendid display of public spirit by the Council representing citizens generally and by the merchants, manufacturers and other subscribers to the Greater Brantford fund. In the knowledge that they have the good will of the citizens behind them the members of the board are able to prosecute their work with vigor.

The thanks of the association are due to the Industrial committee of the Board of Trade and to the Manufacturers committee of the City Council for the work they did in connection with the organization of "Greater Brantford" and for their continued support and co-operation during the past year.

The board desires to make it known that the service of the Industrial Commissioner and the use of his office and staff are at all times at the disposal of the members of the association, and of the manufacturer and commercial interests of the city, to the smallest detail. It is believed by this means a community of interests will be established that will tend to the "Greater Prosperity of the City."

Obituary

The Late Mrs. Salmond
On Sunday, March 16th, Mrs. Mary B. Salmond, a former well-known resident of Brantford, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stuart, 94 Linden Avenue, Victoria, B.C., aged 83 years. Mrs. Salmond for many years resided at 240 Darling street, this city, and was a faithful attendant of Zion Church. Her son, Mr. George Salmond, for many years conducted a book store on George street and afterwards on the corner of Market and Dalhousie Sts. She leaves to mourn the loss of a devoted and beloved mother, five daughters, Mrs. Stuart, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Nicholls and Mrs. Malloch and two sons, David and George. Interment in Victoria, B.C. The Courier extends to the bereaved family sincere sympathy.

Love Trial

(Continued from Page One.) was a chance of her being in the well. He replied that she was not there nor was she in a cistern.

"Later the witness told of the prisoner finding a stick of wood and burning it. Love had assured him that there were no marks on this stick."

"I then asked Love when was the last time he had seen her and he said, 'At 8.30 a.m., Tuesday, December 10th.' She was then knitting, the accused had said."

This interview had taken place late at night and before leaving the witness had told him that if Mrs. Love was not found there would be an investigation next morning.

Later that night the accused had come to his house and said, "For God's sake come—I've found her." "I asked him," "if she was alive." "No, she's been bled to death; she's in the cellar." When I got to the house he and his boy were sitting by the stove."

The witness told the court that he did not go into the cellar until the corner had been notified. He was proceeding to tell of the discovery of the body when Mr. Wright objected. Before the objections came, however, the witness managed to state, "that the body was shoved up against the side of the wall."

WRIT ISSUED FOR DAMAGES

Young Man Claims He Was Struck in the Head With a Hammer.

A writ has been issued for unstated damages by a young man named Bailey, who alleges that the defendant, Lloyd Taylor, struck him over the head with a hammer and injured him. There was, it is claimed, an altercation between the two young men, who were both employed in the construction of a building in the city, when the alleged assault took place. Bailey, it is stated in the writ, was incapacitated from work as a result of the injury received, although there have been no serious results of a permanent nature.

FINE CONCERT AT ALEXANDRA

Most Delightful Programme Was Rendered by Popular Musical Artists

The concert given by the Alexandra Presbyterian church choir last evening was a decided success. The church was filled with an appreciative audience to listen to the delightful programme provided. The success of the entertainment is due Mr. Arthur Chrysler, the efficient leader, who was indefatigable in his determination to have a fine organization. The Rev. Mr. McClintock described Mr. Chrysler as doing more than his share of the work by a large margin. Mr. Chrysler in turn complimented his choir for their faithfulness.

Dr. Wiley and Mr. Rogers moved a vote of thanks to all those who had so kindly assisted the choir. The proceeds will be applied to the new organ fund for the new church. Those taking part in the first part of the programme were generous in responding to demands and encores.

The second part was the delightful cantata, "The Love of God," (Berridge), given by the choir of thirty-five voices, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The soloists for the cantata were: Mrs. A. Burch, soprano; Mrs. T. Humble, contralto; Mr. J. Jess, tenor; Mr. Neil McLeod, baritone, and others.

The first part of the programme consisted of a piano duet by the Misses Johnson and Whitney; quartette, Messrs. Crocker, Stiles, Kerr and Green; solos by Mr. Neil McLeod, Mrs. A. Burch; violin solo by Mr. Stuart Gamble; reading, Rev. Mr. Lavell.

the Farmers' Binder Twine Company factory on Sydenham street, but the announcement was made by a member of the directorate that there was absolutely nothing in the reported deal.

Hamilton and Mr. Hepperson, after due consideration gave their decision as a draw.

be known as the Brantford Public School Battalion. One company will be connected with the Central School, one with the Victoria school, one with King Edward School while Alexandra and Ryerson will combine to form the fourth company.
To have the companies gazetted, it was necessary to have 30 applications from those who desired to join.
There were 120 names secured and these being forwarded to the militia

the Woodmen of the World, leaves to-day to put the query as to why coal received at the Grand Trunk de-cannot be released until Monday morning, and on other days, when received at 7 p.m., cannot get a release until 9 a.m.

B.C.I. "At Home."

The pupils of the fourth and fifth forms held their annual "At Home" last evening in the assembly hall of the Collegiate. The hall had been handsomely decorated by the boys, paddy green being very much in evidence. In the centre of the hall a large shamrock was suspended, the edge of which had been circled with electric lights, producing a very unique effect emblematic of the day.
About one hundred members of the forms were present to enjoy the music and promenades, after which the young ladies served refreshments. All were of the opinion that the only thing needed to make the evening an entire success was dancing, but alas!
it was against the rule.

Expressing Oneself

By RUTH CAMERON

THE other day I read of a decorator who was extremely proud of a certain room which he had created. He had chosen and arranged the furniture brought from Europe especially for that room. He considered the effect had brought some more furniture on her own hook and put it into the room, he was almost frantic.

And that is just what she is doing. Without a great deal of money to work with, she is gradually transforming a commonplace house into a wonderfully attractive and artistic home. Every one who enters it says at once that it looks like her. Without a great deal of time, she is nevertheless painting a picture which she must be very proud to have signed with her name.

The physical aspect of her home, the atmosphere within it, her children's clothes, their health, their manners, their ideals, her husband's happiness—all these things and others innumerable a married woman can express herself.

And since her name is indelibly signed to her work, she had best make sure that the work is as good as it is in her to do.

You see, he considered that that room was his work. He felt that he had created it just as an artist creates a picture, or an author a book, and although he could not actually sign it as an artist or an author signs his work, he felt that it was signed by the fact that many people knew it was his work. Therefore he resented having it changed and spoiled even by the legal owner of the house. And at the risk of antagonizing a valuable customer, he actually went to her and begged her to restore it.

I was deeply impressed by that little incident. For this reason, I wish more women felt toward their homes as that man felt toward his work, for they certainly have reason to. A woman's home is her expression of herself. Her name is signed to it just as clearly in the corner of it.

A very clever young art student who was making a success of her profession gave up her art to marry. At first she planned to do some work after marriage, but before long her hands were too full of nursing bottles and thermometers to leave room for the other day.

We were discussing her forsaken profession the other day, and this is what she had to say: "I mean to take it up again some day when my children are older and do not need me so much. Just now I am trying to express myself in making an attractive home and bringing up my children properly."

And that is just what she is doing. Without a great deal of money to work with, she is gradually transforming a commonplace house into a wonderfully attractive and artistic home. Every one who enters it says at once that it looks like her. Without a great deal of time, she is nevertheless painting a picture which she must be very proud to have signed with her name.

Stew of Mutton and Peas — Cut three pounds of lean mutton into dice in a pot. Fry six slices of fat salt pork; when crisp, remove them with a skimmer and lay in the grease the mutton dredged with flour and half an onion sliced. Cook for five minutes, then cover with cold water and simmer until the meat is very tender. Remove the meat, lay it on a platter, sprinkle with salt and pepper and keep it hot while you thicken the gravy with a brown flour, and season it to taste, with a tablespoonful of kitchen bouquet and salt and pepper to taste. Now add the contents of a can of peas. These peas should have been drained and exposed to the air for an hour. Bring the stew to a boil, cook for five minutes, return the meat to the pot for a minute, then pour all into the hot platter.

TRY IT! SAYS SAGE TEA DARKENS AND BEAUTIFIES FADED, GRAY HAIR

Says Sage and Sulphur Darkens Hair Beautifully and Ends Dandruff.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is coming in vogue again, says a well-known downtown druggist. It was our grandmother's treatment and hundreds of women and men too, are again using it to keep their hair a good even color which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready to use product called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy for about 50 cents a bottle. It is the most popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply dampen a soft brush or sponge with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this to-night, and by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautiful darkening the hair and appearance of abundance which is so attractive, besides prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Here, you gray haired folks, get busy; look years younger.

SALT RHEUM FOR 6 YEARS

Zam-Buk Has Cured Him

For over six years Mr William H. Birt, of Pisquid, P.E.I., suffered from salt rheum. He says: "The disease attacked my arms and hands, and the fore-finger of my right hand was the worst."

"I was engaged as a blacksmith by the Bruce Stewart Co., of Charlottetown, and sometimes every stroke of the hammer would cause the finger to bleed freely. I tried various ointments and salves, and then went to Lottetown."

"One medical man, after treating me for some time said he did not

I think I could ever be cured. Another seemed to burn it terribly, and then put a straight jacket—as I called it—on the finger for two days. Trying one thing after another I spent over $50.00; and all in vain.

I saw an account of some of the great cures which Zam-Buk has worked and decided to try it. The first box did me a lot of good, and the finger showed traces of healing, so I kept up the Zam-Buk treatment and a few boxes worked a cure. There has been no return of any trace of the disease, so I am so thankful for permanent, and I am so thankful for the cure that you are at liberty to use these facts as you like.

Some men are spare and others wear two hundred pounds of tallow; some minds are deep and knowledge keep, and other minds are shallow. Some men behave like Solons grave, and some are sports and friskers; some will not wear the facial hair, and others have long whiskers. It takes all kinds of men and minds to make the world we dwell in; it is not wise to criticize, or of their faults be yellin'. You loaf in town and say that Brown is like dumb driven cattle; that old man Jones is naught but bones, and you can hear him rattle; you roast old Jinks because he drinks, and jeer at all your neighbors; you ought to stop that sort of yawp, and take up useful labors. Yes, brother, halt, until no fault in you can be discovered; some folks may say that you're a jay, swayed and chicken-livered. The Lord made Jack and Ben and Zach, and lion and hyena, and as we're built we toil and tilt around this world's arena. Because I'm squat shall I throw shot at lads who're tall and slender? Shall they assure me I'll be poor till grease is legal tender? All men have faults who graveward waltz, a trail of sins behind 'em; but we, with zest, should seek the best, and take men as we find 'em.

Football Clubs Hold Meetings Last Night

Dufferin Team Picked—Sons of England and All Scots Hold Enthusiastic Gatherings

At a meeting of the Dufferin Ride Football Club last night the following was the team selected to play against the Westinghouse on Good Friday. Dufferin, goal; Wiley, Martin, backs; Bingham, Harris, Myring, Cook, Malburn, Cole, Mercer, Corp; Hutchinson; reserves, Scanlon, George; linesman, Fred Davis, late of Sheffield United, England. The teams will clash at 3 p.m. at Agricultural Park, and at night indoor football will be played at the Armories.

Sons of England.
The Sons of England football team held a meeting in the store of Roberts and Van-Lane last night and a jolly lot of chaps were present. Among those on hand were: D. Sleeth, J. Clay, W. Holmes, W. Smith, J. Smith, H. Arthur, A. Johnson, E. Clark, H. Sleeth, L. Mears, W. Mitchell, J. Mitchell, J. Mathias, H. Viney, F. Castle, J. Stewart, H. P. Harner, Fred Lee, E. Biggs, S. Frid. The chairman of the evening was D. Sleeth and he is to be congratulated for the manner in which he hustled through the business. Secretary L. Mears read the minutes of the previous meeting which were adopted.

The membership committee composed of Messrs. Mears, Kopsch, Holmes and Lee presented their report, and on motion of F. Briggs, seconded by W. Smith same was adopted. It was decided to have membership cards printed and offered for sale. The secretary read a letter from the Cocksfoot Football Club offering them the use of their club rooms for their exhibition game on Good Friday.

The line up of the players for the game on Good Friday between the Whites—Captain—Goal, W. Holmes; Captain (hites)—Goal, W. Holmes; backs, W. Mitchell and W. Smith; half backs, H. Sleeth, E. A. Harris and F. Biggs; forwards, J. Mitchell and A. Johnson.
Vice-Captain (Blues)—Goal, S. Frid; backs, E. Clark (capt), and A. Mills; half backs, J. Stewart, G. Wright and J. Keighley; forwards, W. Holder, H. Harmer, L. Mears, W. Stewart and H. Arthur.
A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the Courier for the donation of a silver cup to the league.

In Big Leagues

The Boston Nationals have disposed of Recruit Schwind to San Antonio under an optional agreement.

Manager Connie Mack has taken on for a tryout a semi-pro outfielder named Stevenson who hails from Minneapolis.

Buddy Ryan has been delayed in reporting to the Naps at Pensacola because of an operation for an abscess in his ear. He is now all right again.

Catcher Carrigan of the Red Sox has bought another three story building in Auburn, Me. Another world's series and he will be the biggest property holder in Maine.

John Dube is one of the few players this spring who get contracts called for more than one year's service. His contract is for two years.

Last year Manager Clark Griffith would not waive on anything offered in the American League. This year he was the first to waive on Clyde Engle when the Red Sox put him on the market.

Larry Cheney's new contract with the Cubs is for three years. For that period at least the Oklahoma inter-urban line in which he holds stock will have to run without his close superintendence.

The Boston Red Sox have sent Pitcher Benny Ban Dyke, of whom much was expected last fall, back to Worcester of the New England League. He had but one real trial and that was in a game against the Browns.

Two great New Yorkers are agreed upon one thing: Josh Devore and Frank Chance both pick the first division standing in the National League race alike. New York, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Chicago.

Bill Steele of the St. Louis Cardinals is reported to have admitted he did not try to pitch for Bresnahan last year because he was sore over a bawling-out. A case for the National Commission or Horace Fogel, which?

SPORTING COMMENT

By FREE LANCE

Once more arises the statistic who figures out the odd angles of baseball. His latest research has to do with Joe Wood of Boston who was such an important factor in the Red Sox triumphing over the Giants in the world's series. I quote from these statistics:

Wood pitched in forty three games last season. At $7,500 a year, that would mean about $172.09 a game. He pitched 344 innings, averaging eight innings to a game. That would be about $21.80 an inning. Not being quite so old for his steady as Walter Johnson, Wood wastes more balls and more energy than does Johnson. While the "Terrible Swede" pitches from about 20 to 100 balls in a game of nine innings, "Smookey" Joe goes him about 10 better on an average. While no statistics have been kept you will find Wood averaging some twelve balls to an inning. So you see Joe Wood will be paid $1.82 every time he hurls the horsehide in a regular game of baseball this year—always assuming that the $7,500 story is true. In other words Wood threw the ball from 4,000 to 4,200 times last season, and for probably just about the same work he is credited with receiving $7,500 this year, to say nothing of perquisites, as there's plenty of easy money when you only know how to get it.

If you were looking for comedy and a horse laugh you'd hunt for them almost anywhere rather than in the annual reports of the National Commission wouldn't you? Those grave and business-like documents do not appeal to you as being especially diverting do they? And yet, if you will take time to go through those nicely printed pages you can get giggles enough to put fat all over your ribs: Some of the things that athletes do—and that ball clubs do—are really rich and calculated to rouse hilarity in the heart of a Siberian porcupine.

We will mention no definite names but we will take for example, the pathetic case of the St. Louis major league club versus the Unspoken Club of Far-off (minor) League, concerning monties mixed up over Player Gogtopf. According to the woeful plaint of the major team it purchased Player Gogtopf from the lesser club, paid many doubloons for his release, sent him much money to bring him across the continent, and then waited his arrival. Kept on waiting too for many days. At last, when May was wails the major club, the player "re-ported at the park in a condition of marked inebriety."

Being shocked and horrified at such awful conduct the manager told the inebriated one to go chase himself. The inebrious individual deciding that the order was final, thereupon vanished, and has not since been visible. Now the major club maintains that the lesser club should give back the money; and the little club declares that the athlete was not in a hilarious condition at the time he left the smaller city, therefore, the money was rightly earned.

Now turn we to the case of Player Skates, whom the Smokio Club of the major league sold to the Terrot club of the Nearby (minor) League. Very gravely the Commission states that the Terrot Club was to pay Player Skates $100 monthly beans; that Player Skates one day when the team was short of men, declared that Smokio releasing him, had assured him his stipend was to be $100, and that he accordingly would hold up the little team in the time of need. Unless they forthwith kicked in with the difference, up to date, they could go run to the river and do a Kellerman with their old ball team. So the little club makes uproar as to Player Skates; and Player Skates makes the reply that he wouldn't be short-changed—and the Commission, rising on its hind legs in wrath, expounds thusly:

"Player Skates is a son-of-a-gun on wheels. He is a bad young man who should be hung up by the toes. If he were not a very young player, who possibly knew no better, his punishment would be an awful one."

Nothing funny in all this, you say? Well, no—but listen. Small type, printed just below, the names of the Commission:

"Since this finding was made, the Commission has learned from Manager Park of the Smokio Club that Player Skates was, as he claimed, promised $150, and that the statements made by Player Skates, therefore, were truthful ones."

Now let's look at the case of Player Mudcat. Player Mudcat wants salary for time off, claiming that he was disabled in the service of his club. He reached for a hot grounder, so he states, misjudged it, and got a badly injured leg. Pathetic till you read what the Commission says. The commission finds, through a certificate sent in by the doctor who attended Player Mudcat, that the young man was actually injured by a rock, the said rock being hurled by an indignant farmer whose melon patch Player Mudcat was then devastating. Wherefore the appeal of Player Mudcat is dismissed, and he is cautioned both against bearing false witness before the Commission, and against the devastation of melon patches not within the boundaries of the ball-yard.

And there is 50 other cases just as funny.

Gossip of the Prize Ring

Now that the McFarland-Britton bout is a thing of the past let us congratulate Packey McFarland upon his sportsmanlike work both in and out of the ring. There are more congratulations coming to Packey than in some of the others concerned. In the first place several efforts to annoy and unnerve McFarland were made shortly before ring time. When Packey came to weigh in, according to the Boxing Commission's ruling, the opposing parties dared him to make a bet with them. Packey replied that he would not bet; that it was against his principle to bet on his fights, and that he never does bet. This should have settled the matter

Lady Marjorie's Love

"Otherwise it would be an extreme liberty to point that Peter the Hermit had nothing whatever to do with the invention of gunpowder, but so far as I can form any estimate of his character was quite content to cut the throats of his fellow creatures, the good time-honored way; or that it was he and not the venerable Bede, who is supposed to be principally responsible for the Crusades; or that the Spanish Armada did not seek to invade these shores in consequences of the death of the two young princes in the Tower. I entertain no doubt whatever that Spain was fully as ready to choke a young prince as ever we could be, providing that she found reason to regard him as a superfluous creature. As for such a trifle as mistaking the Red for the Black Sea, and confusing the respective locations of the Himalayas and the Rocky Mountains, they are little mistakes that might happen to anybody. But still—again strictly from the generosity point of view—I fear you may find them drawbacks."

"Well I don't care." She gave a defiant little shrug and toss, and though she was half inclined to laugh at herself, she also blushed. "If I have made all those mistakes when I have been talking to you," she said with a pout, "you must have laughed at me nicely. I should think, but I can't help it. I told you I wasn't clever to begin with, you know. A pause. "And as for those ridiculous people I don't care who they were or what they did. They are all dead and most of them were wretches when they were alive."

Another pause and a vicious tweak at Jack's ear, whetted somewhat monotonously. "And as for those absurd old mountains, I don't see why it need matter a scrap to me where they are. I don't want to go climbing up them." A third pause, and a little foot tapping irritably upon the flags. "Since you are so excessively observant, possibly you can point a few more things upon which I am ignorant."

"Possibly, I'll try. I sit to be corrected, but am right in limiting my serious suspicions that your knowledge of trigonometry and the higher mathematics may be slightly hazy?"

"I don't know anything about either of them"—flattly.

"Exactly, as I thought. May I ask what are your views upon the atomic theory?"

"Whatever is that?"

"Or—to leave the beginning of things and come down to the ethics of the nineteenth century—what do you consider to be the principal points of divergence between the respective philosophies of Huxley and Herbert Spencer?"

"Oh don't be so ridiculous." The remonstrance was as vigorous in tone and gesture as in words. Marjorie having made it stared out of the window over Jack's head. If she had let her eyes meet her companion's she knew she must laugh, and she did not choose to laugh. "He was silent because he preferred to wait until she spoke."

"I call it perfectly absurd," she grumbled, with her chin on Jack's sleek head. "Of course I don't know about the atomic theory, or whatever it is, and all the other stupid things, and I'm sure I don't want to know. What good would it do me? If I had children to teach what good would it do them? Not useful things, everyday things, things they would want to know afterwards! Do you want to overthrow the whole established and accepted system of English education, Lady Marjorie?"

"I don't want to do anything!" She flared, and pouted. "I suppose that you really think, Mr. Barrington really is that I'm too stupid to attempt to be a governess and that it is of no use my trying?"

"I don't think you stupid, which you don't need telling. But at the same time I am frankly."

"I told you before that you were."

"Well, with due apologies, and speaking strictly from a scholastic point of view, I'm bound in honor to confess that a more appallingly ignorant young person I never met with in the whole course of my life."

"Oh!"—amazingly.

"Under commands and with all possible apologies!"—meekly.

A pause. Marjorie straightened herself resolutely.

"I shall write to my aunt," she said.

"Pour un!" he had been looking at her the poise of her head, the curve of her cheek, the sweep of her lashes, a spectacle which naturally obliterated all other things mundane.

Marjorie's eyes flashed impatiently. He had no business to be even momentarily oblivious of her aunt.

"Mrs. Paget," she said, "I'm sure I told you about her. Why I showed you her portrait the other day. Don't you recollect?"

ORANGE ORDER

Rev. Mr. Fish of Owen Sound Delivered Address at Victoria Hall

A very interesting and instructive lecture was delivered by the Rev. H. A. Fish of Owen Sound, Grand Chaplain of the Orange Association of British America. Aid John H. Spence who officiated as chairman, introduced in a few well chosen words, the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Fish in opening his address on "Home in the Homes and Public Schools of Ontario," confined his remarks largely to the school question, drawing attention to the advances the Roman Catholics are making in some of the eastern counties, namely, Stormont, Russell, Prescott and Glengarry. Speaker said they had gradually secured a controlling interest in some of the Public schools and in one or two cases actually secured the schools and were running it under their own auspices but still retaining the government grant.

In these places, however, a number of affidavits had been secured by the provincial committee of the association and submitted to the government (showing the Catholic customs and teachings in vogue in the said schools). The government threatened to withdraw the grant unless these customs were done away with and also to cancel the teachers' certificates unless they used them only in the capacity of Public school teachers. This, stated the speaker, was only a particular instance of what had been going on in many countries but which had been stopped in all places at the instance of the Orange association backed by the government. Mr. Fish dealt in detail with the work of the provincial committee and the work that is to be done along Public school lines. When seen by the correspondent after the lecture, Mr. Fish stated:

"The officers of Brant County Orange Association: County Master, J. W. White; County Secretary, J. W. Armstrong; County Treasurer, E. Danby.

Ball Notes

There is another Jennings in the American League, a young first baseman, who has been signed by Washington for a tryout. He is from the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College, where he was said to have made a great reputation on the ball team. His first name is Morley.

John McGraw is quoted as saying that in the ten years he has managed the Giants he has been seeking for a Cobb or a Speaker, and he believes he has found a combination of the two in Claud Cooper, the Fort Worth recruit. Some pretty big boosts have been given rookies but this tops them all.

John Clancy, the New Orleans recruit with the Naps at Pensacola, tells proudly that he was the roommate of Jim Thorpe while the two were players on the Fayetteville team of the Eastern Carolina league. Johnny, by the way is a cousin of William Clancy, the Eastern Carolina manager who first tipped off that the Indian had played professional ball, and according to Johnny some few hundred ball players knew it before the A.A.U. got its eyes open.

Much interest was stirred up at Boston when a story was printed that Manager Stallings of the Braves, from the training camp in Georgia had sent transportation to Bill Bradley, former third baseman of the Naps. It developed, however, that the transportation was for a younger named Smith that Bradley had recommended and the ticket was sent for him in Bradley's care. Bradley belongs to Toronto, but is a holdout, objecting to a cut under the new International League salary limit.

In spite of Manager Stallings' declaration that no one would be allowed in the training camp of the Braves unless signed to a contract, Pitcher Lefty Tyler made the trip without that formality, his manager

Mr. Joseph Ruddy.
Mr. Ruddy, as mover of the report, of the directors, reminded those present that the association was an experiment at first, and was still in the experimental stage. The board was not satisfied with results so far. The result had been however to open their eyes to difficulties which Brantford is up against. The city was handicapped because it had no water facilities. Large iron industries required these facilities. The city would not give bonuses, free sites, total exemptions or guarantee bonds. Most places did these things, but it was not necessarily the most successful way. There were, however, some industries which would succeed but which went the way the biggest inducements were. There were small industries which Brantford could secure with a proper policy. The directors had decided to follow the plan of some American cities in putting up loft buildings, and if one building of four stories was put up, Mr. Ruddy believed at least four important industries would be secured.

Mr. Ruddy said the association proposed to act as stock brokers for new industries, the affairs of which had been thoroughly looked into. In this way a commission was available, and it was hoped to make the association self-supporting.

Mr. Bunnell's Opinion.
Mr. A. K. Bunnell emphasized what Mr. Ruddy said about the modest beginning of the undertaking. It was a matter of satisfaction that Brantford people had come forward with funds to promote the success of the venture. If the city was prepared to pledge its credit in various ways, many new factories could have been secured. It was felt, however, that this city occupied a unique industrial position, which had not been attained by any such methods. It was 30 years since Brantford had given a bonus, and such means were not necessary at this date. There was loyalty in Brantford which meant a willingness of people to invest in any proposition here which was worthy while. If available building sites were secured, a great deal more could be done. It was not easy to secure properties from private owners. If the board had options on properties it would help a whole lot. Mr. Bunnell considered the loft building idea to attract small concerns, was an excellent idea. Small industries would not at first make a great big outlay. Mr. Bunnell declared the present board had been not only willing to serve, but to hazard its own capital in order to encourage what it is believed will be a good industry for Brantford.

The Other Directors.
Mr. W. S. Schultz declared that everything went in season, and the board had been launched just at a time when new industries were a likelihood. It was a good sign that the board was not satisfied, because it meant that an advance would be made. If a building were put up to house one or two industries at once, it might give a great impetus to the work. It was a matter of giving an industry a chance to get started quickly, which was important. In all the better U. S. towns and cities, there were buildings equipped for small industries. These, Mr. Schultz thought would mean great growth in due course of time. After all, it was a case of every bright Brantfordite leaving the city on a trip to keep his eyes open and boost his city.

Mr. Jos. Ham.
Mr. Joseph Ham, another director, of the board, endorsed what had been said by the previous speakers. He said that the job of director had not been done than people generally had any idea of. The board had been learning, so had the commission. Mr. Ham was sure that the loft building, which had been proposed, could be put up. He felt that the directors had good hopes of securing in a very short time some industries well worth while.

The Commissioner.
Industrial Commissioner Emerson said that a loft building in Chicago, which he had inspected, was rented at 38 cents per year per square foot on each floor for new industries. That rate yielded an interest of about 20 per cent. on the investment. Mr. Emerson believed a $40,000 building in Brantford would pay on this basis. He recounted some of the difficulties he had encountered in his work. The American manufacturer had the idea that he should not lock up his money in real estate. They preferred rents. Mr. Emerson had one industry from New York which would be secured if a building here was necessary. What they wanted was to pay about 5 per cent on the value of the land and 8 per cent on the value of the building rental. Mr. Emerson urged that three or four two story buildings be put up, in addition to the loft building.

The Dividends.
Chairman Muir asked the shareholders present if they were all satisfied with the dividends. If another there would be a deficit. Mr. C. A. Waterous expressed appreciation to the directors for their good work and no better one could be selected for the position. Mr. S. G. Read also added his words of satisfaction with things.

Vote of Thanks.
When the report of the directors was adopted unanimously. Mr. C. A. Waterous moved a vote of thanks to the directors for their generous interest and work. Mr. C. Cook seconded the motion and was carried. Mr. Cook said that all the Association needed now was proper backing up.

The Directors.
Messrs Joseph Ham, Joseph Ruddy, W. S. Schultz and A. K. Bunnell were re-elected as directors. The nomination was made by Mr. C. A. Waterous and seconded by Mr. S. G. Read.

The auditors elected were Messrs. K. V. Bunnell and Harvey Watt. Those present were Messrs. W. D. Schultz, Joseph Ruddy, John Muir, A. K. Bunnell, Joseph Ham, Fred Mann Gordon Scarfe, J. M. Harris, C. H. Emerson, Chris. Cook, A. E. Reeder, C. A. Waterous, P. D. Read, A. A. Hurdles, S. G. Read, Ald. McFarland, F. J. Bullock, M. E. Long.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars.

Music and Drama

Few plays on the boards to-day can parallel the record of success achieved by "In Old Kentucky," scheduled for an appearance at the Grand Opera House on the evening of Wednesday the 19th. Its popularity is widespread and its fame is enduring. The tendency of latter-day dramatists to write upon themes of immediate current interest, does not always result in the sort of play that appeals through a decade of continuous presentation. "In Old Kentucky" seemingly was written for all time and to fit all changes in public taste. What its dramatic merit and generous supply of excellent features are considered, it is difficult to account for its continued prosperity. It tells a delightful story.

MRS. E. J. TALBOT TELLS THEM TO FIND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

S e Had Rheumatism, Lumbago and Neuralgia and Found the Remedy She Was Looking For in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

HAMILTON, Ont., Mar. 17 (Special)—"I know there are a lot of people who suffer and do not know what will cure them. Dodd's Kidney Pills will."

These are the words of Mrs. E. J. Talbot who resides at 293 Wellington street north this city. And Mrs. Talbot speaks out of her own experience.

"Last July I was very sick," Mrs. Talbot continues. "My heart bothered me, my limbs were heavy, and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. Rheumatism, lumbago and neuralgia added to my sufferings, and the doctor I called in did not help me much.

"I finally decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used seven boxes and I am so much stronger and better that I feel I must recommend them to others."

Mrs. Talbot's complication of troubles all came from sick kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure kidney disease of any kind. They never fail to do that.
