G. N. W. OPERATORS ON STRIKE TO-DAY

Telegraphers Walked Out This Morning, In All parts of Canada.

By Courier Leased Wire Toronto, Sept. 24.—The G. N. W. operators walked out of the main and branch offices here at 11 a.m., according to schedule. They are holding conferences in groups outside the head office here.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—Practically all the operators, linemen and automatic operators to the number of 120 according to E. J. Young, chairman of the eastern division of the G. N. W. Company employees committee, joined in the strike. The strikers, Mr. Young said, would hold a meeting here this afternoon and decide to offer their services to the Dominion Government, in order to prevent a tie-up of telegraphic service in such points as depend wholly on G. N. W. wires.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Sept. 24.—The operators at the Great North-western Telegraph Company went on strike this morning at 10 o'clock. They were supported by the linemen. Between 50 and 75 mile and female operators are affected in Winnipeg, including the operators at the grain exchange and Morkrum operators.

KERENSKY FOMENTED KORNILOFF'S REVOLT

Startling Revelations in Petrograd Give Rise to Belief That Russ Premier Himself Instigated Uprising of Commander-in-Chief of Army--Kerensky in Conspiracy

By Courier Leased Wire Petrograd, Sept. 23.—Prominent newspapers are demanding from the Government some further explanations regarding the Korniloff uprising, which according to some later rumors, was abetted by Kerensky himself. The attempted revolution is now being generally described as the "Korniloff mystery," while the Bolsheviki organs openly accuse the premier in the words of the Nabotchi Poot of being in the conspiracy with Korniloff to crush Petrograd proletariat and the workmen's and soldiers' delegates with the help of a cavalry corps sent against Petrograd.

The Russika Volya says the revelations have had an overwhelming impression on the members of the government who were not initiated into the plan and that these "ministers are awaiting Premier Kerensky's explanation. The Reich says that General Korniloff drew up a plan for the salvation of the country, comprising military revolution courts, the militarization of railroads and war workshops and the restoration of officers' disciplinary powers, which Premier Kerensky rejected. Nevertheless Korniloff promised General Savinkoff that he would give full obedience to Kerensky.

Then Vladimir Lvoff arrived at army headquarters, the Reich says, with three alternative proposals from Premier Kerensky. The first was the resignation of Kerensky, the second was the formation of a directory within the cabinet with the participation of Kerensky and Korniloff, and the third provided for the appointment of Korniloff as dictator. General Korniloff, the newspaper says, chose the directory but M. Lvoff falsely announced to Kerensky that Korniloff had commissioned him to present an ultimatum demanding that he (Continued on page four)

"VIRGINIAN" SUNK BY HUN SUBMARINE

Allan Liner Destroyed by U-Boat Off Coast of Ireland.

By Courier Leased Wire Halifax, N. S., Sept. 24.—According to an officer of a merchant steamer now in port the Virginian, at one time an Allan Liner, was one of the latest victims of the Hun submarines off the Irish coast. The officer's story, published in a local paper, deals with the submarine attack on a number of vessels being convoyed and reports of which have already reached American ports. The officer here claims that eight vessels, not five, as previously reported, were sunk, and that the Virginian, seriously crippled and in a sinking condition, managed to make the beach.

"It is impossible for me to say," said the officer, "whether any submarines were sunk or not. We were scattered over quite an area and our ship had her own troubles in getting away. The destroyers were busy, however, and I am quite sure that some of them got what they were aiming at. With a heavy sea running and nothing but a periscope to aim at, it is a difficult matter to get in a killing at a submarine."

WAGE WAR TO VICTORY

Germany Prompted By Fear of Great Allied Drive in West.

By Courier Leased Wire London, Sept. 24.—The London morning papers are almost unanimous regarding the replies of the Central Empires to the Pope as vague hypocritical and hopeless and all the more reason why the war should be prosecuted to certain victory.

The Daily Mail says that the object of the new German manoeuvres is clear, the enemy fears Field Marshal Haig's victorious troops and the future appearance of a great American army in France. "Above all," continues the paper "the fears that the allies, stirred to energy by President Wilson, will at last apply commercial and economic pressure, which if properly utilized, might long since have brought the Hohenzollern system down to ruin. With the Hohenzollerns and the gang of international criminals around them, no honest abiding peace can be made, and no peace is worth a moment's discussion." The Express, under the caption "The mad dog of Europe," declares that Germany no longer hopes for victory, and foresees after the war the creation of a league of nations. It must be useless to bid. Treaties guaranteed by a Hohenzollern must remain scraps of paper until the end of time.

The Morning Post, under the caption "An Imperial Pecknitz," says: "The German reply, like the Austrian, is most devised to convey no definite meaning of any kind, whatsoever."

The Post says it has no doubt that "pious professions" in the German note will be cleverly passed to the world, but that the German heart has changed, adding: "That, no doubt, is the main effect which the unctuous hypocrisy of this latest German note is intended to produce."

The Post declares that the trick has miscarried and that it will hardly be worth while to try again. "In the meantime," it says, "there is nothing to do but on with the war to the utmost."

The Daily Telegraph asserts: "Unless there are some signs of penitence, some effort to obviate the righteous detestation of the world, there can be no approach to the ideal of friendly comity of free nations of a world made free for democracy to which we, America, and all the other allies aspire."

The Daily Telegraph says that the German Emperor may speak of unselfish devotion to peace, but what the world cannot forget are such atrocious acts as the Lusitania, the killing of Edith Cavell and Captain Fryatt and Argentina, the persistent evidences of double dealing in all Germany's relations with America, the constant discovery of new instances of bad faith and perfidy on the part of German agents because it cannot help but remember how black is the Tautonic record.

The Telegraph is unable to imagine any satisfactory negotiations with the Hohenzollerns.

The Daily News thinks that "something has clearly happened to the diplomacy which wrecked the prospects of disarmament at the Hague conference, when it comes forward to propose disarmament under its own name."

The paper adds that it would have been more possible to credit the sincerity of the German Emperor's new passion for peace had he not chosen to preface it with protests of his past devotion to the same ideal. "In the light of what we now know," says The Daily News, "these protests are, not to mince words, hypocritical humbug."

EXPOSURE CHAGRINS GERMANY

Regrets U. S. Obtaining "Entire Collection of Diplomatic Documents."

By Courier Leased Wire London, Sept. 24.—In commenting upon the latest Washington disclosures concerning the activities of Count von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, the Koelnische Volks Zeitung, according to Amsterdam dispatches to Reuters Limited, says: "Regret if True

"This affair, if true, has a very disagreeable character, and it is highly regrettable. The American Government, God knows how, was able to get hold apparently of the whole collection of German diplomatic documents which it is now exploiting against us and Sweden. What the state department remarks about the relation between von Bernstorff's policy and the U-boat war can be recognized as a misleading invention by everyone who knows the history preceding the U-boat campaign."

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ON WEST FRONT

German Heavy Guns, Open Bombardment in the Arras Sector.

RAIDERS REPULSED Artillery Duel Reported Violent on French Front Also.

By Courier Leased Wire London, Sept. 24.—German heavy guns were active early this morning on both banks of the River Scarpe on the Arras front in France, Field Marshal Haig reported to-day. A German raiding party near La Basseville was driven away after a sharp fight last night with the British. "The text of the statement issued to-day by the British war office says: "A hostile raiding party last night near La Basseville was driven off with loss, after a short fight. A few of our men are missing."

"The enemy's artillery was active early this morning on both banks of the Scarpe and artillery activity also was shown during the night, south of Lens and northeast of Ypres."

French Official Paris, Sept. 24.—North of Verdun and in the region of Fosses and Chaume woods, the artillery duel was intensely violent last night. The French war office announced to-day, German airplanes bombed the camp of German prisoners near Barle-Duc and two prisoners were killed.

CONSPIRACY IS ALLEGED AGAINST SOUKHOMLIHOFF

Ex-Minister of War, Facing Trial at Petrograd on Charge of Treason, May Have Been Betrayed by Gutchkoff, a False Friend—Attempts Made to Oust Soukhomlihoff From Office.

By Courier Leased Wire Petrograd, Sept. 23.—General Soukhomlihoff, the former minister of war, was depicted as the victim of a conspiracy in which M. Gutchkoff, his former friend, was the arch conspirator by Attorney Zecharin, the ex-minister's counsel, in the closing arguments of his trial on a charge of treason. Dealing with General Soukhomlihoff's alleged relations with Aitschuler, whom the prosecution charges was a master spy, Zecharin declared that the only ground of prejudice against Aitschuler was that he was a Jew. "If Aitschuler was a spy, how was it possible that he lived for 30 years in Kiev which was packed with countless secret agents?" asked the defendant's lawyer. He branded allegations against Aitschuler as frivolous. He said that the prosecution of the office maintained here by Aitschuler, in which he was supposed to have had secret dealings with Soukhomlihoff proved nothing as he also had commercial dealings here with other ministers. There was no proof that he had received favors from General Soukhomlihoff, who proved with his dealings with his own relatives that he was extremely scrupulous. The prosecuting attorney, Zecharin declared, being unable to prove that General Soukhomlihoff had had mercenary motives for treasonable acts attempted to prove it by referring to "mysteries" in the war minister's life, but all that was childish gossip. Concerning General Soukhomlihoff's relations with the traitor Miasoydoff, M. Zecharin said that this story was invented by M. Gutchkoff with the aim of driving the war minister from power and replacing him with General Pchelovonoff. The lawyer attempted to discredit M. Gutchkoff's evidence at the trial. He pointed out that when he asked Gutchkoff the source of his information that there were spies in the entourage of the war minister, Gutchkoff had answered: "I have seen them."

THE SITUATION
 The Germans have been making desperate counter-attacks in an effort to recover the positions lost to the British last week on the Ypres front. None of them have succeeded, and the losses of the foe have been very heavy. For their part, Haig's men have gained additional ground north east of Langemarck. The total of the Hun prisoners taken by them since Thursday last is 3,243.

The Berlin official report asserts that on the Russian front, the troops of the Fatherland by "an impetuous thrust," have forced the Russians back to the Dvina river on a front of twenty-five miles, to a depth of six miles. It is also affirmed that "considerable quantities of war material were found in the hastily evacuated Russian positions." The statement comes from Petrograd that in the neighborhood of Riga, Russian troops have scored some success, and that on the Rumanian front Russo-Rumanian troops have successfully repulsed a number of attacks.

The Italian report states that on the Bainsizza plateau, violent Austrian attacks were repulsed, while some slight advances have been made towards the coast.

The threatened break between Argentina and Germany has been averted, a note having been received from Berlin repudiating the views expressed by Count Von Luxburg.

The State Department at Washington is gradually giving to the American public a series of startling disclosures with reference to German intrigue and perfidy in that land. Following upon the disclosure of documentary evidence of a fund to corrupt the U. S. Congress, there has now come the indictment of a number of prominent Americans, including a Judge of the Supreme Court in New York city, with regard to participation in plots against Uncle Sam. There is the trail of the serpent wherever the Hun appears.

At the entrance of the English Channel, a British destroyer was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. There were fifty survivors.

A correspondent at the front relates that short rations are evidently beginning to tell on the German soldiers. The pallor of prisoners recently taken is noticeable, and their attitude is said to be that of men who have lost confidence.

CONSPIRACY

 tourage of General Soukhomlinoff, Guchkoff had answered: "I do not wish to say."

"M. Guchkoff alleges that he knew of these spies dealing with Soukhomlinoff before the war. If that is so, how is it possible that the present duma and one of Russia's great men did not take measures against these spies?" asked M. Zacharin. "How could any man neglect to do this in view of the terrible misfortunes threatening Russia. The fact is that the original friendship between Guchkoff and Soukhomlinoff developed later into enmity between the men."

The general's counsel declared the evidence of the Austrian spy, Miller, which was obtained behind closed doors, should be discarded because Miller, threatened with execution, was ready to invent "ridiculous fables" in order to save his own neck.

Democratic Congress
 Petrograd, Sept. 23.—The democratic congress, according to the present program, will be composed of 1,500 members, but Democrats to participate are arriving from political organizations from all parts of the country and the definite composition of the congress has not been decided. As the organization committee has decided to give a small number of seats to representatives of professional and industrial associations, the middle or property classes will not be altogether excluded. The overwhelming majority of the members, however, will represent the peasantry. It is announced that congress may open on September 26, a day later than originally proposed.

FOUND ON THE WAYSIDE.
 There is still corn in Egypt. There is also still whisky in Ontario. A local motorist, who drove to Hamilton on Sunday, states that he alighted with his family to get a drink at a pump between Hamilton and Ancaster, and that a short distance from the road were five empty bottles, that not long before had been full. He placed his nose tightly against the necks, and to him, the fluid smelt like the real stuff.

CAMPAIGN LITERATURE FOR THE SOLDIERS

"Canada," an independent paper published in London (England) makes the charge that Canadian soldiers overseas have already been subjected to camouflaged literature. It says in this regard:—

"We regret very much to learn that the mails from Canada have recently brought over a certain amount of campaign literature to the men of the Canadian Overseas Forces. Judging from a sample that we have seen, this literature mainly consists of pamphlets raking up old scandals in connection with army supplies—boots, fuses, sheets, etc.—and we have seen nothing containing any definite platform or policy in regard to the war or to the provision and care for returned soldiers.

"Up to the present we have not heard of any campaign literature reaching the troops from the Government side.

"This form of political controversy introduced among Canada's civilian army is immensely to be deprecated. It will do no good to the party whose interests it is supposed to serve, and it has already brought forth strong expressions of feeling in the Canadian camps in England on the rottenness of party politics. Whatever mistakes have been made, Canada has to-day a fighting force as well equipped and as well administered as any unit of its size in the whole of the Allied nations. Furthermore, owing to the keenness and initiative of both officers and men, the Canadian Corps at the front increase with every fresh opportunity the reputation it won at the second battle of Ypres. These men resent the petty intrusion of party politics, at a crisis when the security of democracy lies in the scales of Fate. The consensus of feeling throughout the Canadian force is strongly opposed to the idea of a general election, but, since it has to be, they prefer to cast their votes on the simple question of for or against national conscription.

"Political pamphlets of the kind we refer to scattered broadcast in Britain are hardly calculated to enhance the prestige of Canada or to attract desirable settlers."

The arraignment posits one more illustration of the ideas which certain Grit manipulators hold with regard to winning the war.

BUSINESS PROFITS TAX NOT TO BE DISCONTINUED

Representations are being made by the Liberal press that the Business Profits Tax is not to be continued. This is absolutely incorrect, as is shown by the following statement made by Sir Thomas White as it appears in Hansard:

"The Business Profits Tax, by its terms comes to an end on December 31st of this year. When that measure was introduced it was thought the war would be at an end by that time. I stated expressly the other day that we should tax abnormal business profits resulting from the war, and in the next budget that I bring down we shall deal with that matter."

Mr. Pardee: "Will there be a renewal?"

Sir Thomas White: "I have stated that next year taxation will be imposed on excess business profits. I stated also the other day that it might be necessary to make some allowance for necessary plant extensions, but I laid down the principle as strongly as I could that abnormal business profits due to the war must be abnormally taxed."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The reply of Germany to the Pope makes it appear that the Kaiser has always yearned for peace. In fact liked the idea of it so much that he went around looking for it with a chip on each shoulder and poisoned gas in the offing.

The disclosures in the States as to Teutonic perfidy would add another "tinge of black to the dark record, if such a thing were possible.

The proper thing to do these days is to avoid waste in order to save the waists.

Turkey's answer to the Vatican note is that she demands that her territory shall not be violated. Evidently wants along with Germany to have a monopoly of the violation business.

 Petrograd, Sept. 24.—Russian forces on the Riga front, in the region south of the Pakoff high road, yesterday took the offensive and after a fierce struggle, occupied the German positions in the sector of Silzene, one mile northwest of Spittalmerman. The enemy losses were severe, and on the battlefield we found more than 400 corpses. We captured 60 prisoners and ten machine guns. The brilliant Sokolov was wounded in the head by a shrapnel splinter.

Faith in Outcome
 Petrograd, Sunday, Sept. 23.—Raymond Robins, head of the Permanent Red Cross Commission in Petrograd, and Catherine Breshkovskaya, known as "the grandmother of the revolution," spoke from the platform this afternoon, both assuring their audiences that Englishmen, Americans and Russians had mutual faith in the ultimate outcome of Russian democracy.

Mr. Robins drew a parallel between Russia's troubles today and early American history. He said the outcasts here were nothing new in history, and he urged foreign business interests to deal with new Russia on lines of economic freedom. Madame Breshkovskaya, who spoke in English, was cheered when she expressed faith that her people, as the result of education, would form a true democracy after vanquishing Germany, the common foe. Members of the diplomatic corps in Petrograd were present.

CAMPAIGN STILL ON

Secretary W. J. McCully of the Italian Red Cross campaign, stated this morning that the canvassers were still at work and that the money was coming in slowly. A meeting will be held at the first of the week to wind up the campaign.—Stratford Herald.

ASK $40,000,000

The Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States will be asked to provide $40,000,000 in the next five years for foreign missions. The world program committee of the board of foreign missions, which has been meeting in Niagara Falls, Ont., has plans for mission work which include every country in the world. Methodism in Europe, said to be in sore financial straits, will be aided and the German churches will get a share.

COAL DEALERS WARNED

The office of the Dominion Fuel Controller, Ottawa, repeats the warning to coal dealers throughout the country that objection will be taken to any advance in the price of coal being made without notification first being sent to the Fuel Controller. The view of the Fuel Controller is that the coal dealers had a liberal profit last summer, sufficiently so to enable them to continue the present prices into the winter, and give the smaller users of coal the same price, notwithstanding any increase that the mines may make at this time.

TO ENROLL DETROITERS

Acting under instructions from the United States Provost Marshal, the Detroit Draft Board in future will permit a British Recruiting Mission, which has opened headquarters in Detroit, to consult the records of registrations and exemptions. The mission recently opened a recruiting station, and will begin at once to get data on Canadians who are known to be in Detroit, and who are evading the American draft law by claims of British or Canadian citizenship.

SAYS THE DRUG IS AN THERCOMPOUND

Just a few drops loosen any corn so it lifts out without pain.

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, can be lifted out with the fingers without pain.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that while freezone is sticky it dries in a moment and seems to simply shrivel up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whitening at his corns, but cut this out and make him try it.

FIGHT THE SUBS

In a letter received this morning by City Assessor A. G. Ludlow from Prof. A. E. Hunt, now a lieutenant, the writer states that in the area in which he is quartered the Canadian troops have this year raised twenty thousand bushels of potatoes, in addition to other vegetables in a like proportion. Lt. Hunt refers to the death of Earl Braund, who was one of the first grocers to be claimed by the Grand River this year. He had been associated with Earl for about 14 years, and states, "He had grown up into a fine type of Christian man."

SCHOOL FAIR AT VICTORIA

Proved to be a Decided Success.

The school fair of Victoria School which was held on Saturday afternoon, was a decided success from every standpoint. Notwithstanding so many other attractions, the attendance was unusually large.

The exhibition of vegetables reflected great credit on the boys and girls, who had gardens this summer and to whom seeds had been distributed in the spring.

There was also exhibited splendid work in knitting, plain sewing, cooking and manual training.

A unique sight greeted the visitor on entering the room. This sign, "Proceeds for the Boy's Basket Ball" hung over a candy booth, presided over by the boys themselves, and as the neat sum of $12.31 was realized, prospects for some good sport for the boys is assured.

It should be mentioned that two girls, unselfishly, helped the boys in this enterprise.

At the home-made cooking and candy table over $28 was realized, and the Victoria Art League is to be congratulated on having for its officers and executive, ladies who give unparagonably of their time and interest to the welfare and the education in the best sense of the term of the boys and girls of Victoria School.

POLICE COURT

Gambling among foreigners was again in evidence on Saturday night when the police raided 48 King street, when they found eight men at a table with cards and money on the table, on the floor and in the hands of the players.

Arrests were made and in the police court this morning August Debono, the occupant of the house was charged with keeping a common gambling house, Matthew Barkovitz, John Sipos, Mike Milevitz, Harry Dickatz, Mike Posovitz and Lucka Grubacz were charged with being frequenters. The foreigners were defended by M. W. McEwen. Evidence was heard and the case was adjourned until Wednesday.

Foreigners following and annoying girls and young women have caused considerable trouble in the city during the past summer. On Saturday night, Steve Grenko, an alien, who has a wife and family in Austria, was caught following a young woman and was turned over to the police. The young lady had first noticed the foreigner dogging her footsteps at the Grand Trunk Station, and had hurried up the hill. Her pursuer quickened his steps correspondingly. When she reached the George and Sydenham streets, the girl entered, while the man went straight up Sydenham into the country where the streets are not lighted.

The girl left the store and went up St. George street, but was immediately followed by the foreigner, who chased her for a block. Mr. Ireland, a returned soldier, who resides on the hill saw the incident, and catching the foreigner, gave him a thrashing and then turned him over to the police. A fine of $7.00 and costs was imposed by Magistrate Livingston, with a warning that on a second offence he would be dealt with severely.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Harry Sirotski, who, charged with having liquor in an unauthorized place, did not show up for his trial this morning.

Mrs. Clara Ritchie, charged with the theft of groceries from the store of A. Coubeck, a Market St. grocer, and Fred Shackell, charged with receiving stolen goods, were heard in the afternoon court.

D.S.P. LOST LAST GAME OF SEASON

City Champs Beaten Seven-One by Hamilton Aggregation on Saturday

The last game of the local baseball season, played on Saturday afternoon between the 20th Century Club of Hamilton, and a patched-up team representing the Dominion Steel Products, resulted in an overwhelming victory for the visitors who romped home to the post with a lead of seven runs to one. The game was an exact reversal of the game of a week ago, which went 13 innings. When the local aggregation went to pieces in the third inning, five runs crossed the plate, and from then to the conclusion of the ninth inning, the result was never in doubt. Although Allen was replaced by Harwood, the lead was too great for Brantford to overcome, and the best the D. S. P. could do was to shove one tally over the pan.

The bad spasm occurred unexpectedly in the third inning, when with one out, Allen walked Will, hit Muir with a pitched ball, and filled the bases by passing Brodie. Gurrrie, who struck out in his first five appearances at bat when he faced Allen on the previous Saturday, produced the needed bingle, and two runs crossed the plate. The ball was thrown wildly around the diamond, and when the dust had cleared away Muir and Gurrrie had rounded the four stopping places. Lamond got a life on Venning's error, and by some poor playing on the part of the D. S. P. advanced to third. Gordon drove out a clean single between first and second and Lamond scored. Finlayson grounded out, third to first and ended the agony. Harwood relieved Allen and for the balance of the game twirled good ball, allowing the Hamiltonians to cross the plate only twice. In the fifth, on two walks, two hits and an error the players from the Ambitious City scored another run, and in the seventh on two hits and an error made their seventh and last tally.

In the sixth, Henry was safe when Gordon allowed the third strike to go through his legs. Sears grounded to short, forcing Henry at second. McElvey came through with a scorching single, and Sears, after a hard run, made the only run of the locals for the game. Tillman fled out and Allen grounded out, short-stop to first.

The D. S. P. did not have their regular team on the field, but even allowing for this, played a poor brand of ball. Orcutt was missing, but his place at second was capably filled by Eddie Sears, who played one of the best games he has figured in this year. He had to his credit seven put-outs and five assists, and was chalked up only once in the error column. Tillman had ten put outs by the strike-out route, and Johnson at first was responsible for the remaining ten put outs. Henry played at shortstop for Doyle, and Armstrong filled in the outfield. Harwood and Allen were also used to plug up the outer gardens when not working in the box.

Harvey Muir twirled a good game for the visitors, and was not embarrassed once during the game. Lamond played his usual brand of ball on the initial sack, and Gordon and Sullivan worked well together, catching several runners attempting to pilfer a sack.

The crowd was poor, considering that it was the last game of the season, but the cold weather may have accounted for the decrease in attendance. When rallies were promised in the sixth and seventh innings, however, the few faithful who had gathered in the stands, rose to their feet with cheers, but to no avail. Sam Lee handled the indicator to the satisfaction of the players and crowd alike, and only on one occasion was exception taken to his decision, a close one at second base.

Sporting Comment

B. C. I. Rugby

Baseball has once again run its course for the summer season and has retired to the glory of freetime reminiscences in Brantford. Sport followers will this autumn have ample opportunity for indulgence of their inclinations, for the B. C. I. Rugby team will soon be seen in action and prospects for the championship of the league are the best that have prevailed in the Telephone City for a number of years. A well balanced, husky team composed mostly of veterans, has been assembled under the competent captaincy of Lawrence Buckborough and the tutelage of Coach Geddes, a former Varsity man.

Captain Buckborough and Physical Instructor Green attended the league meeting held in Galt on Saturday, where the schedule for the coming season was drafted and the constitution slightly altered. Brantford has four successive games, and have thus achieved a decided advantage. The season will open at Guelph on October 6th and finish at Galt on November 10th. The following schedule of games was decided upon: Oct. 6—Galt at Guelph. Oct. 13—Brantford at Galt. Oct. 20—Guelph at Brantford. Oct. 27—Brantford at Guelph. Nov. 3—Galt at Brantford. Nov. 10—Guelph at Galt.

An experiment has been adopted this year in relation to the practice. A change was made this year in the constitution, that allows for the playing of one teacher on each team. The experiment will be tried this year of having no teachers on the line-up.

Guelph have a light team, and endeavored to have the other teams agree to a weight limit of 140 pounds, but the locals, who have a fairly heavy aggregation would listen to no such proposition and threatened to withdraw from the league. Galt supported the local delegates, and the suggestion was dropped.

Another innovation was decided upon. This year the home team will pay the railroad expenses of fourteen players on the visiting team. This method was adopted to prevent defaults as much as possible.

To The Editor of The Courier

To the Editor:—The criticism at the last T. and L. meeting of the two men contending for the issue by Ald. MacBride has penetrated his cuticle; by no means an inconsiderable performance. The incident, indeed, appears to have so painfully affected him as to arouse his anger. Judging by the tone of his letter, Delegate Keen and I are indebted to a protecting Providence we were not within his reach when he read what we dared say about him and his motives, otherwise we might have been the subject of a physical manifestation of his displeasure.

An angry man is rarely an accurate one. The worthy alderman is no exception. Were it otherwise, he would understand from your report that no one was "peevish," that Messrs. Kite and Keen did not expect an invitation to the charmed circle in which the alderman sits in semi-regal state, but that they were dealing with a lack of respect for the Trades and Labor Council, the central body of the organized workers of the city. He would, in that event, have got a better balanced view of the work of the T. and L. Council, and would understand that a case like that no one was "peevish," that Messrs. Kite and Keen did not expect an invitation to the charmed circle in which the alderman sits in semi-regal state, but that they were dealing with a lack of respect for the Trades and Labor Council, the central body of the organized workers of the city.

While the confession may deprive them of access to the pink teas of the occasion, that certain number of the delegates cannot escape the soft impeachment of Ald. MacBride that they are agitators. They are to be numbered among the ever-growing class of people who think that the world might be made better for all than it is, and who suffer from the sodic disorder known as "divine unrest." It will, however, be within the recollection of Ald. MacBride, who was present on the occasion, that when a certain ben. delegate and agitator entered a mass meeting of moulders at the Conservative Club in May last, no less a person than Dominion Secretary Draper, of the Trades and Labor Congress interrupted his speech to express his good opinion of the culprit. Who didn't get a ride on that occasion, when he had an excellent opportunity, give expression to the views outlined in his letter? If Ald. MacBride keeps himself informed on current events, he ought to know that the only politics of which he can accuse the delegates he condemns are the politics recently endorsed and recommended by the Trades and Labor Congress at Ottawa.

The trouble with the alderman is that he takes himself far too seriously. Some time ago, when the T. and L. Council endeavored by resolution to "finger up" the City Council with the view to immediate steps being taken on the H. C. of L. report, I am informed by Delegate Keen, that Mr. MacBride transmitted to him an exonerating and somewhat over the "phone in condemnation of the T. and L. Council, pointing out that he, Alderman MacBride, was doing for the working man, and threatened to write to the papers on the subject. I understand that he was then told that, while it was appreciated he was an important personage—no "small potatoes" in fact—he was but one of the fifteen members of the Council, and that the resolution referred to the City Council, and not to him. Mr. Keen, I believe, ventured to encourage his epistolary intentions, but his final judgment was better than his now. Our rather fussy, and somewhat furious friend has been trying, on the coal question, the ancient but ever-failing device of "running with the hounds" and hunting with the hounds. He endeavored to placate the coal merchants on the one hand, and on the other to serye the harassed coal consumers. The merchants would not be comforted by his blarneyisms. They opposed his application, and he was told by the court in Toronto that a case like that had not been made out by him, hence this belated referendum to the property owners. Had the municipality applied for powers to conduct a municipal coal yard—that is to say to go into the business in a permanent, straightforward and bona fide way—it could have established the fact that another distributor of good financial standing in the city would at least afford an additional chance of getting more supplies and consequently increase the stock available. The idea of having fifty thousand dollars at call for an occasional emergency purchase of coal—to be introduced into the city upon that scientific system of organized distribution which Ald. MacBride made famous in the potato transaction—did not appeal to the Ontario Railway Board. They apparently took the practical view that to provide for an emergency, it would be necessary to lay in and hold a stock before the emergency arose and that, in the emergency itself, when there was no coal to be had, no money could buy it.

Some time ago, and after the H. C. of L. investigations here, Mr. Keen informs me he was approached by the City Solicitor of Peterborough, to speak in that city on the coal question, with a view to municipal distribution. Peterborough has, in the meantime, obtained powers to open a municipal coal yard. What was possible for Peterborough would have been possible for Brantford prior thereto, if Ald. MacBride had not been afraid of offending the mercantile interests of the city. As for the experience as to coal we had last winter, and in view of the H. C. of L. report submitted to the City Council as long ago as March 12th, 1917 it was almost criminal negligence for the City Council to sleep through the spring and summer months without anticipating the conditions likely to exist next winter. A referendum on New Year's Day virtually means no effective action next winter. The T. and L. Council nevertheless feels it a step in the right direction, and has shown its impartial public spirit by strongly recommending the adoption of the by-law, notwithstanding its associations and shortcomings.

The concluding paragraph of Ald. MacBride's letter in terms of fulsome self-appreciation, may be characteristic but is an anachronism. The paternalistic "friend of the working man" is, in these enlightened days, a thing of the past. The alderman, if he is sincerely desirous of serving the interests of working men, should join the active delegates of the T. and L. Council in inducing them, in mutual association, to be their own friends, and not rely upon the intangible, illusive and vote-getting benevolence of ward politicians to repair the undesirable social and economic conditions which afflict them.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

"FLORA BELLA."
"Flora Bella," queen of this season's musical offerings, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House to-morrow night, with a joyous cast of 50 people. The producer of this charming addition to the year's crop of pronounced successes, will send an excellent company and production for this engagement. There is a plot running through the three acts, while the glittering ensemble of girls and boys who sing, dance and make merry, is of metropolitan stamp and a joy to behold.

"HENPECKED HENRY"
So many attractions are offered, theatre goers nowadays, that it is a problem to pick out the worthy ones. "Henpecked Henry" is one that any discriminating person can safely attend and feel sure of receiving good value in laughter, music, girls and song. The great musical comedy has made a deep impression upon press and public, being original in plot, exceedingly funny in idea, and honestly produced. The Maxwell-Keene Sentinel called it "the funniest show in the world." It will be presented at the Grand Theatre next Saturday, Sept. 29th, matinee and night.

"STINGAREE."
Just as Irving Randolph, now a respected citizen of London, decides that he cannot marry his fiancée because his fortune has been dissipated by a deceased relative, he receives a visit from one, Howie, who was his companion in Australia during the years he was "Stingaree," the bush-ranger. Howie brings warning of the approach of officers who wish to serve an old warrant. At this "Stingaree" decides to return to his old outlaw life in the bush.

While "Stingaree" is bidding his fiancée farewell the officers arrive and recognize Howie, who, however, tricks them and escapes to sea with his leader. A wireless message over-takes the ship warning the captain, but Stingaree appears so unsuspecting that his arrest is deferred until the ship should land. Melbourne being reached, officers board the boat. They think they have "Stingaree" cornered in his cabin, but finally affecting entrance discover they have been delayed by an ingenious device that made it appear as if their prey was inside defying them. The gentle outlaw and his partner safely make their way to their old cabin in the back country. This is the plot of the first of Kalem's new series "The Further Exploits of Stingaree," to be seen at the Rex, the first of this week.

"THE SKY PILOT"
Are you a Ralph Connor fan? Are you one of the thousands who have set up most of the night, eyes aglittering and mouths agape, reading his "Sky Pilot" and "Black Rock" until the type blurred and you fell asleep from sheer exhaustion?

Remember the Pilot, kind, gentle, soft-spoken Samaritan, who, Bill, quick as a rattler with his gun; and fat, funny little cow-puncher Hi Kendall and his innamorata, the comely Indian, maid, Ponka; and Gwen—pretty, care-free, dare-devil, headstrong, man-defying, God-defying Gwen?

These living characters are in the play, "The Sky Pilot," which Frank Mandel and George H. Brennan have adapted from these two stories. The dramatists are said to have retained the wholesomeness and spiritual vigor of the books, and to have made the story even more vivid and thrilling than it was between book covers.

The play will be seen in this city at the Grand Opera House on Monday night, October 1st. The cast of stellar quality includes Brandon Tynan, Regina Wallace, Ernest Anderson, Harry D. Southard, Eddie Heron, Louis Leon Hall, Elva Frederic, Isabella Winlocks, Edwin Caldwell, Joseph Lawrence, Thomas Wall and Edward Broadley.

ITALIAN RED CROSS DAY

All the Returns Not Yet in, But Indications are Satisfactory.

With returns not yet complete, Mrs. W. C. Livingston, president of the Women's Patriotic League, which with the Brant and Dufferin Rifle chapters, Daughters of the Empire, were responsible for Saturday's "Italian Flag Day" sale and house to house canvass in connection with the Italian Red Cross campaign, announced that close to $1,100 was in hand Saturday night. "Without question over $1,100 was contributed to the women and girls Saturday night," said Mrs. Livingston this morning. "There are twenty-four coin boxes remaining to be turned in or about one-tenth of the number used. The Treasurer, Miss Jones, however, did not report at the Royal Bank of Canada Saturday night as the girls remained at their posts at the railway and radial stations until late in the evening. Our final report will be ready to-morrow."

Only seven of the boxes used by the "A.R.C." Club members in their canvass of factories and shops Saturday, were turned in to the Campaign Treasurer, Frank W. Bain, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada. About forty were out. The seven boxes totaled $36. President Charles A. Jarvis is confident that several hundred dollars will be credited to the efforts of the "A.R.C." members. In the cool of the evening, the majority of the women and girls having turned in their boxes at the women's committee headquarters opposite Market Square on Dalhousie Street, the "A.R.C." members turned their efforts to selling Italian flags and tags on the streets.

The cash register continued to ring up contributions given the girls stationed at the corner of Colborne and Queen streets until nearly 9 o'clock Saturday night, and it saw fully twelve hours of service for this half of their work remains to be done. Many persons from whom large gifts are expected were out of the city last week end. Over $3,000 is now in hand.

President Logan M. Waterous of the Board of Trade, which organized and directed the campaign, stated this morning that the final report will not be ready until Wednesday. The City Council will consider the recommendation of the Finance Committee to-night relative to a grant to the Italian Red Cross.

The business men's teams are continuing their canvass to-day. Nearly half of their work remains to be done. Many persons from whom large gifts are expected were out of the city last week end. Over $3,000 is now in hand.

Directors L. P. Shumway and L. Ported Moore at Southern and Western Ontario campaign headquarters of the Italian Red Cross Society in the Temple Building stated yesterday that outside of Toronto and Hamilton, Saturday's "Italian Flag Day" results of the women's appeal is a record. The total of $88 at Stratford on Wednesday for the house to house canvass and "tagging" on the streets, is next best thus far.

Communication by telephone with Mayor W. L. Hillier at Waterloo yesterday confirmed that its campaign which closed Saturday will pass the goal of $1,000. Thus another record for this division of the Italian Red Cross campaign was broken. Waterloo has a population of 4,000 and with a total of over $1,000 in its three days campaign makes per capita gift of over twenty-five cents. Stratford was next best with nearly twenty-cents per person as an average.

Director Shumway left for London last night to confer with the campaign committee there. No definite dates have yet been set for London's Italian Red Cross appeal. Galt will campaign next week.

Director Moore left for New York City last night called for a conference by War Council, Young Men's Christian Association of the United States, with which both Directors Shumway and Moore were associated in the first "Red Triangle" campaign in the United States last spring. He will return to Brantford headquarters Thursday next, when Italian Red Cross campaigns will be launched in close to 150 small towns and villages in Southern and Western Ontario by mid-October.

THE FRUIT OF FEAR.

Nothing in the world makes one much crosser than a little scene such as I witnessed the other day. It was the bathing hour at our summer place. A dear, chubby baby boy between two and three was carried into the water by his father. He was crowing and laughing. And then all of a sudden his father loosened the baby's clutch from his neck and ducked him.

He came up spluttering and screaming. First his father laughed and then he told him to stop being a little coward or he would duck him again.

Talk about being a coward. Isn't a bully always the worst coward? And wasn't that father being the worst kind of a bully? When the mother scolded he said he wanted to teach the boy not to be afraid.

Nothing in the world but panic. Just recently I read of a man who was in the water where the girl was not drowned at all but died of heart failure because she feared she was being carried out by the tide. The child who gets acquainted with the water in babyhood and learns to play with it as with a comrade will not be so liable to that insane fear.

The Baby Wanted to Eat The Snake. It is a sin to plant any kind of fear in a child's mind. The fruit of fear is cowardice and suffering and limitations.

A normal child is almost fearless. Many of the fears we think are instinctive are really acquired. For instance we held a tiny harmless snake out to a year old baby girl to see if she would shrink from it. Instead she crawled, reached out for it and tried to put it in her mouth. Don't Tell the Child All Bowwows

Are Cross. Of course one must warn a child but one should be careful to make such warning sane and intelligent and not absurdly exaggerated. To tell a child that all bowwows are cross and will eat him up, will keep him from touching strange dogs but it will also inculcate a lifelong distrust of man's truest animal friend. Surely the warning can be fitted more closely to the need than that

Good Night Stories

BY CHARLES STUART
WHY WILLY WOODPECKER MOVED

Willy Woodpecker poked his head from his doorway in the old apple tree and looked around. "Good morning, Mrs. Jenny Wren," he said.

"Morning, indeed! Lazy fellow it's way past morning and almost noon," replied Mrs. Jenny Wren.

"Impossible!" retorted Willy Woodpecker. "You don't mean to tell me you just awakened?" chirped Mrs. Wren.

"Good Morning, Mrs. Jenny Wren," said Willy Woodpecker. Willy nodded sleepily. "Then you're the laziest bird in this part of the woods," replied his friend scornfully, for she was such an early riser herself that she couldn't understand how any one could stay in bed so late.

Willy Woodpecker flew out of his doorway and looked up and down for something to eat. There was nothing in sight, so he sought another tree, but with the same result, and at last after a worrisome search, he returned home.

"You don't happen to have a bug or anything good to eat in your pocket?" he asked Mrs. Jenny Wren as she came from her house and presented her feathers in the warm sunshine.

to get up in time to catch 'his' own. All the best bugs and worms you'll find early in the morning. Now they've crawled back into the trees and have gone down deep into the ground," replied Mrs. Jenny Wren.

Willy Woodpecker knocked on the trunk of the old apple tree but she, too, refused to give a lazy bird anything to eat, and Willy spent a foolish day and would have gone hungry to bed if Mrs. Jenny Wren hadn't taken pity on him and given part of the dinner she had gathered for herself early that morning.

"It's the early bird that catches the worm," she told him. "I don't know why I sleep so late," replied Willy.

"Bet I can tell you!" laughed his friend. "It's because your house is so deep in the hole in the apple tree when day comes you can't see the light."

"What shall I do?" asked Willy. "Move into a place where you can get more light," replied Mrs. Wren.

It caused a great stir in Birdville when Willy Woodpecker announced that he had changed his address. None could imagine what his reasons were—this Willy and Mrs. Jenny Wren kept to themselves. But he built a new home in the top of the pear tree where the sunlight streamed in bright and early every morning. He lay with his head near the opening so it would awaken him and early the next morning Mrs. Jenny Wren was awakened by a knocking at her door.

"You're right!" exclaimed Willy Woodpecker: "as he pulled a nice fat worm from . . . of the tree, "that's the laziest breakfast I've had in many a day," and he thanked Mrs. Wren for her suggestion.

She did not for an instant forget that she was endued, not only by personal right as an injured woman herself at fault, but also by the authority of Mrs. Gosnold, with letters of Marque and reprisal.

That she would penetrate at sight his disguise, whatever its character, she had not the faintest doubt. But then, the woman's faith in her vaunted, if vaguely comprehended, faculty of intuition is a beautiful thing and a joy to her forever.

And she wondered what Savage would have to say to her. But in this phase her thoughts were a complexion of far less self-assurance, notwithstanding the moral support of her employer.

It opened in New York that he must need an early appointment to discuss it with her? What had been the outcome of that terribly incriminating clue, her name on the garments consigned to the slough of chrysalis of yesterday? Was it possible that her comrades of the studio (Heavens! how historically remote and almost unreal seemed that well-hated chapter of existence!) had become anxious enough to notify the police of her long absence? In such cases, she believed, something called a general alarm was issued—a description of the absentee was read to every member of the metropolitan police force, that it might be on the alert to apprehend or succor the lost, strayed, or stolen.

Could that possibly have been done in the case of missing Sarah Manvers? And, if so, could the police detectives possibly have overlooked the fact that the name of the wanting woman was identical with the name of the woman wanted?

For all the strength of her tower of refuge Sally shivered. A description of the absentee was read to every member of the metropolitan police force, that it might be on the alert to apprehend or succor the lost, strayed, or stolen.

For all the strength of her tower of refuge Sally shivered. A description of the absentee was read to every member of the metropolitan police force, that it might be on the alert to apprehend or succor the lost, strayed, or stolen.

And she realized that she possibly have been done in the case of missing Sarah Manvers? And, if so, could the police detectives possibly have overlooked the fact that the name of the wanting woman was identical with the name of the woman wanted?

For all the strength of her tower of refuge Sally shivered. A description of the absentee was read to every member of the metropolitan police force, that it might be on the alert to apprehend or succor the lost, strayed, or stolen.

her assigned disguise. She had had visions of something very splendid, something almost baroque in its richness—had nursed a day-dream of herself flaunting radiantly through the mazes of the moonlight fete, like some great jeweled butterfly.

After that vision the modest garb of a Quaker Maid seemed something of a come-down, even though the costumer's conception of a Quakeress had been considerably influenced by musical comedy standards.

But her disappointment was fugitive. After all, the dress was of exquisite quality and finish, and it became her wondrous well. She took from the room the memory of a very fetching figure in a gown of dove-gray crepe-de-chine, the bosom crossed by glistening bands of white, the skirts relieved by a little apron of lace and linen, white bands at wrist and throat, a close-fitting cap of lace covering her hair, her feet and ankles disclosed discreetly in stockings of dove-gray silk and suede slippers of the same neutral shade, set off by silver buckles—the whole rendered the more tempting by an almost jaunty cloak of gray satin lined with white.

With the addition of the mask (which she wore to pass through the corridor in memory of Mrs. Gosnold's injunction) the effect was quite positively fascinating.

And that mask proved to be far from superfluous, for when she followed her knock into the boudoir of her mistress she was thunderstruck to find nearly two dozen people, men and women, gathered together there, sitting and standing about in silence which seemed curiously constrained, taken in connection with their festive attire. For they were all in costume, and, with the single exception of Mrs. Gosnold, all masked.

This last was very brilliant in the billowy silken skirts, puffed skirts, puffed sleeves, tight bodice, and wide ruff of Queen Elizabeth, and carried off well the character of that hot-tempered majesty, making no effort to disguise the fact that she was deeply wounded and profoundly agitated.

She sat regally enthroned upon a splendorous chair that matched her toilette, and betrayed her impatient humor by the quick tapping of one exquisite shod foot. And the others seemed to wait upon her pleasure in a silence almost of subjugation—a nervous, unnatural, ominous hush.

It was broken on Sally's entrance by the mistress of Gosnold's House, who nodded without a sign of recognition and said in a bleak manner thus far in Sally's experience wholly foreign to the nature of the speaker: "Come in, please, shut the door and find some place to sit down. Retain your mask. There are two guests wanting, and we must wait for them."

There were no chairs vacant, and a majority of the men were already standing, but another (by whose unquestionably authentic cowboy costume Sally was sure she recognized Trego) rose and silently surrendered to her his place.

She accepted it with a stifled murmur of thanks.

The slight stir occasioned by her addition to the company subsided, and the sense of constraint became even more marked. Nobody appeared to care to know his neighbor; there was no whispering, no murmuring, even the indispensable fidgeting was accomplished in an apprehensive and apologetic manner.

A few men breathed audibly, a few hands stirred imperceptibly in an atmosphere supercharged with radiations from so many human bodies added to the natural heat of a summer's evening; there were no other sounds or movements of any consequence.

Sally became uncomfortably susceptible to the undercurrent of high nervous tension, conscious of the sonorous thumping of her heart. Unaccountably, nobody else seemed to hear it.

Perhaps they were all listening to their own hearts. But why—

She wasted a few moments vainly scrutinizing the masks in her immediate neighborhood. Their eyes gleamed uncannily through the slits in the black silk, and when she intercepted lowered or averted, as if hastily to direct glance, as if there were something indecorous in acknowledging her bewildered appeal.

Again, perhaps, they were as much puzzled by her incognito as she was by theirs.

Those small shapes of black, silk-covered cardboard proved singularly effective, even when they concealed no more than the nose and the cheeks immediately beneath the eyes. She found it surprisingly difficult to fix an identification, even when satisfied she had not been in error; but she was measurably sure of Mrs. Artemus Beattie's diaphanous draperies, of dear Diana's Grecian garb, of Mercedes' frills in the conventional make-up of a witch. The rest at once provoked and eluded conjecture; she fancied she knew Lyttleton in the doublet and hose of Sir Francis Drake, but could not feel certain; divested of his peculiarly tailored personality, he was anatomically like half a dozen other men among the guests.

Presently Mrs. Gosnold's maid, Marie, appeared in the doorway in the bedroom, holding in her hand a number of envelopes, and at a no-

Comrades in Service!

In years to come you will recall with Pride the day you signed the Food Service Pledge.

For it is your Dedication to War Service. Your observance of it will cause you some of the Finer Emotions of Your Life.

You will gradually realize that though your own and your family's self-denial may be small—the mighty Legion of Canadian women pledged to equal service, will mean the difference between Victory and Disaster to our soldiers.

You cannot—you must not desert them. It is not that they want more white bread, beef, or bacon than you—it is just that these foods are less perishable and so more easily exported than others.

So, until Victory is ours, do these simple things.

When making bread, use one-third oatmeal, corn, barley or rye flour, with the white flour. Or tell your baker to bring some brown bread each day.

Substitute for beef and bacon, such foods as fish, peas, lentils, potatoes, nuts, bananas, etc.

Third, and this is very important—prevent the waste of any food in your home.

Be a Comrade. Dedicate yourself and your family to War Service. Display the window card.

Women's Auxiliary, Organization of Resources Committee, in Co-operation with The Hon. W. J. Hanna, Food Controller.

Practical Housekeeping Hints

THE USE OF FATS AS BUTTER SUBSTITUTES.

The average Canadian housewife has no conception of the value of fats as food, and as a result much fat is wasted that should be used.

Fats are one of the principal sources of energy. We buy fat in the form of butter and spread it on our bread. We use lard as shortening in bread and pastry, and as a medium in which to fry other foods. The grease which melts out of ham and bacon is sometimes made into gravies; but more often it is thrown away, because the housewife does not realize its value as a food. Beef fat is less appreciated as a food even than lard, and yet, pound for pound, its energy value is as high as butter or lard or any other fat.

When we buy a beefsteak the butcher carefully trims off the fat and throws it into a box under the counter with bones and other waste which goes to the soapmaker. This fat has both a food value and a money value. It belongs to you, and you should have it. You can render it and use it in cooking.

The fine lumps of sweet beef fat or suet which adhere to the roast are used in roasting to give flavor, but most of the fat melts away and is not served at the table. Beef suet is occasionally used in cooking, but rendered beef fat is rarely used as a table fat in this country, although in Europe it is often eaten on bread in the place of butter. Beef suet has a rather pronounced flavor and a comparatively high melting point. These are probably the reasons why it is not more commonly used as a table fat. Much of the objectionable taste may be readily removed. One household method which may be successfully followed is to mix milk with the suet when it is rendered, using one-half cupful of milk to a pound of suet. When strained and cooled, the flavor of the milk is absorbed by the beef fat and changes the characteristic flavor.

Sign and Live Up to the Food Service Pledge.

From her mistress began to thread the gathering, presenting one envelope to each guest, together with a small pencil such as is commonly attached to dance-programs.

The incident provided a graceful introduction to a situation that was rapidly assuming in Sally's esteem the grotesqueness of a dream. Remembering that this was Gosnold's House, the great point of America's meet self-contained summer colony, and that all these subdued and articulate masqueraders were persons daily exploited by the press as the brightest stars in the social firmament, the incognito of this durb gathering seemed as glaring, as bizarre as anything her fancy could conceive.

And when her envelope was handed her and she had lifted the flap and withdrawn an oblong correspondence-card bearing the monogram A-G and nothing else, the final effect of meaningless mystery seemed to have consummated.

If this, as it happened, was coincident with the arrival of the last two guests—one of whom was a little and shapely Harlequin in party-colored tights, and the other a bewitchingly blond Columbine—and then the purpose of the meeting was soon exposed. (Continued in Tuesday's Issue)

HARVEST HOME SERVICE HELD

GET SOMETHING THAT WILL HOLD WATER.

The Riverdale Baptist Church held its annual Harvest Home and Anniversary services yesterday. The church was suitably decorated for the occasion, the pulpit and platform being laden with fruits, flowers and vegetables of every description.

The aim of the thank-offering, both by pledges and gifts, was to clear the balance of the church mortgage. Over two thirds of that has been promised or given, and the balance is expected within the next two weeks.

The pastor took for his morning subject "The Joy of Ingathering," and delivered a very inspiring and uplifting sermon on it. In the evening he spoke on "The Only Kind of Soil that Yields a Harvest." The sermon was taken from Christ's parable of the different soils that were sown in.

He made it very interesting by comparing our souls to these various grades of soil.

Many of us had cultivated lots this year, and they had cost us much more labour than we anticipated. After we had sown the seed (the work wasn't accomplished either). The weeds had to be constantly cut down and the ground worked, and so in our Christian lives, the weeds or bad habits had to be continually kept under. He also said that a good seed grown in good soil would bring forth good fruit, just so good thoughts sown in good children, makes good men and women. That whatsoever a man sowed that shall he also reap. So let us all be careful what we sow, and we to that man who soweth bad thoughts and words in our boys' and girls' minds. He said it was a mistaken idea about young men having to sow wild oats. If young men sowed wild oats, they would reap the same. But some sow the seed of their soul was too stony to bring forth good fruit. Any of us that have been out into the country and seen the fields a few years back, would have seen nothing but fields of rocks and trees. In the same way Christ can change our soil from stony ground into usefulness.

The choir, which consisted of both services and great credit is due to each one of them for the able manner in which they took their parts. Large congregations gathered at both services.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-tives'. I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis, chronic after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-tives', and now for six months I have been entirely well. I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-tives', and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefits you will receive".
