Will Exact Severe Reprisals for Murder of Ambassador RUSSIA MAY ONCE MORE PLAY PART IN WAR; ANTI-GERMAN FEELING ROUSED

March on Moscow, Accompanied by Ruthless Severities, May be Ordered by Kaiser in Retaliation For Assassination of Count Von Mirbach--Latter Killed in His Office by Two Unknown Men Who Made Their Escape

By Courier Leased Wire.

There are many indications that the news from Russia in the next few days will be important and significant as concerns the future of that troubled country.

In the north the residents of the Murman region have thrown off the authority of the Bolsheviki government in Moscow, and joined the Entente Allies. There is a great amount of war supplies in this region and American, French and British troops are guarding it, while German and Finnish forces have been reported advancing in force northward from Finland. The Murmansk coast offers a starting point for Allied operations in Russia.

Germany has not yet acted on the murder of Count von Mirbach, the ambassador in Moscow. The Bolsheviki government has made apologies and has enforced strong measures in Moscow in an endeavor to find the assassin. Opinion in France and England is agreed that far-reaching results may be expected from this act, which is compared in importance to the murder of Arch-duke Francis Ferdinand, the Austrian heir-apparent.

discel, July 6--Gen. Count von Mirbach, German ambassador to Russia was assassinated to-day at Moscow, according to news dispatch received here. Obtaining admittance under false pretences, two unknown men entered the private office of von Mirbach this morning. A short discussion ensued, then revolver shots were heard, followed by explosions of hand grenades.

The ambassador died almost instantaneously. The assassins escaped.

Von Mirbach has been active in negotiations between Germany and the Bolsheviki. He was formerly German minister to Greece. The Bolsheviki government consented to his nomination as ambassador to Russia last April. In May a dispatch from Moscow said the demands presented by the German ambassador would virtually make Russia a German colony. On May 27 the Russian government agreed to the appointment of von Mirbach as an intermediary between Russia and the Transcaucasian government. On May 31 he obtained from Russia an acceptance of the German proposal for peace negotiations between the the Germans will march on Moscow, but thinks the murder is the first sign of awakened anti-German feeling in Russia. LONDON, July 8.--The assassination of Count von Mirbach, the German ambassador to Russia, is seen as an event of great importance, which may have far-reaching results by the newspapers here.

The Daily Mail and the Daily Express agree that the assassination may have momentous consequences, and compare it to the murder of the Arch-duke Francis Ferdinand at Sarajevo four years ago. The Express adds:

"German influence (in Russia) can only be established on a solid basis by the maintenance of a great army of occupation. Russia may once more play a part in the war."

The Daily Chronicle expects that if the German Emperor has his way there will be a march on Moscow, accompanied by ruthless severities, although it is possible a more prudent policy may prevail, especially as Lenin and Thitcherlin will accept almost any demands for reparation. It thinks, nevertheless, that such a surrender might precipitate the downfall of the Bolsheviki government.

TURCO-BULGARIAN DISPUTE IS STILL FAR FROM SETTLED

Two Countries Disagree on Division of Territory Taken from Roumania by Peace Treaty With Central Powers--Question Is To the Forefront in Constantinople

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, July 8.--The Turco-Bulgarian dispute over the division of territory taken from Roumania over the peace agreement, with the central powers, is still at the forefront in Constantinople, according to indications in a Constantinople telegram to the Rheinische Westfalische Zeitung of Essen.

The German newspaper quotes the Turkish journal Sabah as declaring that the apparent swinging round of opinion in Germany regarding the Turco-Bulgarian frontier question has made an unfavorable impression in Turkey, but this had disappeared when Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary, had publicly voted his approval of the Turkish standpoint.

"But how will the declaration of the secretary of state be received in Sofia?" asked the Constantinople newspaper. "Will Bulgaria also restrict her insatiable appetite. Unhappily there is little hope of this."

PERFECT NATIONAL DEFENCES OF JAPAN

Plan For Co-operation Between Army and Navy Also Adopted.

London, July 8.--Measures for perfecting the national defences of Japan were decided upon and a plan for co-operation between the army and navy was adopted by the council of field marshals and admirals held recently in Japan, says a despatch to The Times from Tokyo under date of July 1. The army, it is said, will comprise 21 corps with two divisions to the corps and three regiments to the division. The changes will not necessarily be effective immediately. The Times computes that the new measure will double the strength of the Japanese army.

The German artillery displayed activity in the Somme region during the night. It was similarly active north of Albert in the vicinity of Beaumont-Hamel and on the Flanders front in the neighborhood of Bethune.

RUMOR SAYS AUSTRIAN EMPEROR IS A TRAITOR

Charles and His Wife Suspected of Having Sold Plans to Italians--Planned Flee From Austria.

By Courier Leased Wire.

London, July 8.--No light has yet been shed on the mysterious rumors concerning Emperor Charles and Empress Zita of Austria, which Dr. von Seydler, the premier, found necessary to deny when his attention was called to them by a group of Austrian deputies. The premier declared "these base and absolutely senseless tales," and declared that anyone caught spreading the rumors would be punished severely.

One report circulated among certain continental papers is that the royal pair is charged with revealing the plans of the recent battle along the Piave to the Italians. Another report is that the emperor and empress planned to flee from Austria.

The origin of the rumors is not given, but a theory advanced is that the Austrian public is indignant at Emperor Charles' peace overtures through Prince Sixtus of Bourbon-which caused a sensation in diplomatic circles of the Central Empires. According to messages from Vienna, the visit of the deputies to Dr. von Seydler was preceded by a public meeting of the Christian Social Party which was attended by Cardinal Piffli, archbishop of Vienna, and where the rumors concerning Emperor Charles and Empress Zita were energetically denied. The Austrian state censor prohibited publication of the details of this meeting.

NEW OFFENSIVE COMING Paris, July 8.--(Havas Agency)--A new offensive is impending on the Trentino front. General Ludendorff, says a dispatch to The Matin from reliable sources in Switzerland, personally has visited the Austrian headquarters there, and has hastened preparations for another blow against the Italians. Considerable reinforcements it is added, are being concentrated at Innsbruck and Trent.

"CITY OF VIENNA" ASHORE WITH CANADIAN TROOPS

Entire Company of 1,400 Landed Safely--Large Ship May Go To Pieces Near Canadian Port--Fishermen Aid in Rescue Work

A Canadian Atlantic Port, July 8.--When the Hall liner City of Venice with 1,400 Canadian troops, consisting of various drafts and details, on board, ran ashore on a dangerous rock near here in a thick fog, it was at first feared that there might be considerable loss of life.

There was a heavy on-shore swell and dense fog, and the steamer, exposed to the full force of every wave, was in danger. It was thought, of speedily breaking up. But the troops and men have been safely landed and the ship herself still holds together, so that there is even a possibility of saving her.

Fishermen to Rescue According to the story told by the rescued men, it was about seven o'clock in the morning that the City of Venice, endeavoring to make harbor, struck the ledge. The engines were reversed without avail, and the ship was driven ashore. The ship, too, were fired, and could be heard on shore, a mile or more from the rock. Fishermen soon located the ship and returned to shore to report her exact location.

Orders were given by the port authorities for the boats from nearby lifesaving stations to proceed to the City of Venice and take off as many men as the boats would accommodate, and other craft was despatched from the harbor to the scene. So rough was the sea that one harbor tug was forced to return to port with water almost up to the fires in her engine room.

bet of German prisoners to 50. The story of this incident as told by an American officer who took part in the fighting follows:

"The Boches did not bother us until Thursday when they made their counter-attack, which was repulsed. They did succeed in the first rush, however, in getting hold of two Americans and five Australians, whom they carried back.

"We immediately called for volunteers to go out after these captured men and all our men at once began yelling for the chance. A corporal was given a squad of men for the work.

"The guns had put down a heavy barrage, but the corporal led his chaps straight through this fire and charged hot-foot after the retreating enemy. The Germans retired to a strong point, but the volunteer party went in after them.

"Our boys were re-taken along with the five Australians, and the corporal and his party also captured a Boche officer. In the meantime, twelve Australians had circled around, joined the American party with the result that 50 German prisoners were brought back.

"We were surprised," the officer added, "at some of the prisoners taken. Most of them were strapping fellows, but there was a lot of them who, while big, were very young. "I want to say here that those Australians are magnificent fighters." (Continued on Page 3.)

Lull of Past Few Days is Not Expected to Continue Long.

ENEMY IS PREPARING Allies, Meantime, Strengthen Latest Positions Won From Teutons.

MINOR OPERATIONS.

(By The Associated Press.) Momentous happenings are in the making on the western front. The lull of the past few days will not continue long and it is not improbable the Germans will break it by hurling their masses against the Allied line to crush it, if possible.

Correspondents at the front, while reporting that a new German blow is impending, obviously are unable to give grounds for the belief. But the Germans have had much time in which to prepare for further great strokes and it is known they have from 30 to 40 divisions in shape to throw into the fray. Added to this is the fact that the Germans have not been very active for more than a week and their counter-attacks have not been carried out with the usual strength and determination.

Meanwhile the Allies are busy strengthening their positions taken from the enemy in the past week. Raids are being carried out here and there, but not in great strength, except in the case of the Australians who have moved forward 400 yards on a front of more than a mile in the Hamel region, south of the Somme. The American sectors have been quiet since the activity of Saturday when the French made a slight gain near Chateau Thierry on a sector adjoining that held by the Americans. Fein reports this very local incident as attacks in strong force which were parried.

On the Italian front the Italians are consolidating and strengthening the positions taken near the mouth of the Piave. Vienna admits the loss of the ground east and southeast of Cane Sile, which was the nearest the enemy had got to Venice. There has been only slight activity in the mountain zone.

VICTORY AT HAND?

Peculiar Marking of 1918 Oak Crop May be Auspicious Omen

Seventeen years ago, in the year that the Boer war came to a close, a peculiar phenomenon was observed in the oak crop of Ontario, every leaf of which bore the distinct impression of a capital B. Considerable attention was paid to the occurrence at the time, and the belief obtained in many districts that it was an omen of victory. Years passed, and the legend was well nigh forgotten, for the phenomenon was not repeated until this year. Several oak leaves were brought into the Courier office this morning by Miss Luff of Weir, and upon each the B was easily to be distinguished. The same marking has been observed in other parts this year, every leaf bearing the design. Whether or not it is an indeed an omen of imminent victory, the recurrence of so peculiar a phenomenon is in itself worthy of note.

The oak stalks handed in to the Courier are in themselves of a fine length and quality, and give every indication of forming part of a splendid crop.

BODY OF MISSING TOWNSEND MAN FOUND SATURDAY

Foul Play Suspected in The Death of Late Frank Henry Kitchen.

MISSING FORTY DAYS. Over One Hundred Dollars in Clothes When Body Was Found. INQUEST TO BE HELD. Other Norfolk News— Budget of Items from Simcoe.

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, July 6.—The body of the late Frank Henry Kitchen, a farmer resident on the west half of lot 3 in the 10th concession of Townsend, about six miles from Simcoe, and who had been missing since May 25th, was found by his brother Ernest Kitchen, at 10 o'clock to-day, lying about 80 feet east of his farm in a depression on the south side of and close to the boundary fence which ran at right angles in a westerly direction from the centre of his farm (a "string" hundred) and separating the farm of Henry Messer and the Clouse estate farm. Searching parties had spent all their spare time looking for the lost man, and had passed within eighty feet of the body. Detectives had spent weeks on the case, and it was stated at the Kitchen farm to-day that one detective had said, "I searched the body and I will produce the guilty man."

Suspicion of foul play was based on the fact that Kitchen was known to have money on him when he left his mother's home near Vanessa, late on the night of May 28th. This was Tuesday. The brother who found him missed him on Wednesday, and going over, found the horse driven to Vanessa stable as usual, and everything in order, and made diligent search of the premises that evening. Kitchen's wife, absent from home a deal of her time, was not about, and had not been. This was her custom. Her husband worked and batched weeks at a time.

On the body was found ten $10 bills, four twos and some silver. Corner Foster of Waterford was promptly notified. He in turn notified Crown Attorney T. R. Slaght, and called up Dr. McGilvery, of Simcoe, to make a post mortem examination. The body was removed to the barn on the Kitchen farm for the purpose, and by two o'clock gathered in.

Body Badly Wasted. Nothing save the skeleton, integument and nervous system remained. A plate with a few false teeth was found with the body, and in one of the pockets ten $10 bills, four $2 bills and some silver.

Inquest Opened. The following jury was empanelled, sworn in and on instructions, viewed the remains and visited the place where the body was found. The inquest was then adjourned till next Saturday: Walter Blayney, foreman; Delbert Blayney, Allan Crayser.

It is within the limits of truth to say that local doctors have in their care continually many patients who linger ill on account of their not getting proper care, and have not the means to pay for transportation and charges at a distant city hospital.

Spotters were busy on Saturday night picking up automobile drivers. Most of those notified are paying the toll and the juvenile and child driver has disappeared from behind the wheel.

The cherry crop is on in earnest this week should finish the pick.

It has been suggested that the railings should be extended on the roadway at Marr's Hollow, where accidents have recently occurred. Our own police magistrate is said to be of the opinion that nothing but a very solid one would suffice.

DOMESTIC CONSUMERS OF COAL

Are to be Put on Short Rations

By Courier Leased Wire.

Washington, July 8.—Domestic consumers of coal will be put on short rations under a plan being put into operation to-day by the administration to prevent a repetition next winter of the fuel famine which caused suffering over the country during the last cold season.

Householders will be allowed only the amount of coal necessary to heat their homes to a temperature of 63 degrees and it is announced that those who fail to observe conservation rules and eliminate wastes, will have only themselves to blame if they are without fuel before the cold season ends.

Consumers who obtain coal in excess of their allowances, or who knowingly violate rules and regulations of the fuel administration will be prosecuted.

POSTMEN WANT INCREASE.

Ottawa, Ont., July 8.—A second delegation has been appointed by the Ottawa branch of the Federated Association of Letter Carriers to wait on the Postmaster-General or his representative in connection with the increased rate of pay, which, though voted on May 23rd last, has not yet come into effect.

The postmen themselves consider that ample time has passed since the higher rates were voted to permit of all formalities connected with their application being gone through and that they should have received the increase by now.

Children Cry for FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The prolonged and serious illness of my wife has made me hesitate a long time in coming to a decision, but I believe we have both come to see that the increased opportunity and the greater need yonder constitute the call. The church in Detroit has never ceased since Easter Sunday to urge me to come to them and I am comforted in the thought that they all feel that I am God's choice as well as their own.

I have many letters urging me to go from men who know the field and its possibilities. I go to a church with an enrollment of 1000 in the S. S. I go to a great city, now the fourth on the continent in population with over a million souls. I go to a church with an aggressive working force and with ability, financial and otherwise, for a great work. I go, I believe, to a field that is white to the hilt.

I ask you to pray for me, as I will continue to pray for you. I cannot go far away this summer and will endeavor to serve you as long as I can. Let the church come for supplies. I ask to be relieved of my duties as pastor not later than the second Sunday in September. May the peace of Christ rest upon you all down through the years, until the day dawns and shadows flee away and we all reach safely home.

Faithfully yours,
Llewellyn Brown.

At the close of the common service in the evening the resignation was brought before the church by the Chairman of the Deacons' Board and after several complimentary remarks a committee was appointed to wait on the pastor for a re-consideration.

Rev. Mr. Brown has been in charge for eight years and during his pastorate the membership has been greatly increased and the work of the parish enhanced in all directions. His departure will certainly prove an all round loss to this community.

Twelve thousand New Yorkers spent "the first" trying to get jobs and evade the new anti-loading law. "Garaged" the engine which was to derive its power from the air has proved a failure in Government tests at Boston.

In the event of a strike on the Western Union, the U. S. Government will most probably take over the operation of all wires.

A wage question at the Port Arthur shipbuilding plant, which has been threatening trouble for some time, was settled.

Looking backward over the years I am conscious that I have made mistakes, but some one has said the man who makes no mistakes, will not make anything. I am conscious, too, that I have not been able to meet better, as I believe they are not to be found anywhere. A year ago and more, God took to himself the finest co-laborer as a deacon I have ever worked with. I have been longsome ever since his passing.

A year ago and more, God took to himself the finest co-laborer as a deacon I have ever worked with. I have been longsome ever since his passing.

While in Brantford we have received many kindnesses at your hands, kindnesses which will never be forgotten by us as a family. There are some families in this church which from the beginning of its history have persistently shown us kindnesses which have wonderfully cheered us in the work.

Whoever your pastor may be, treat him with a large hand, show your appreciation of his efforts, by word and deed right along, and you will prolong his pastorate and multiply his usefulness. A pastor moves along the busy stream, but he is often lonely and hungry for sympathy and love.

My heart sickens when I think of leaving this church, but we all know that, sometimes a change is good for the minister and the people as well. When I think of the dear land in uniform, when I think of leaving Canada in war-time, when I think of this splendid work I have had a hand in building up, when I think of our beautiful music, the times I have had or expect to have again; when I think of the many I have married, of the great company I have baptized, of the dear little children in the Sunday School I try to weep of the many I have stood with in sorrow when I think of the many sweet friendships we have made outside of our church, when I think of the many creatures, animals, we enjoy here in this beautiful little city, and then when I think of leaving all this for another field where all are strangers, where one has to begin all over again, I am frank to say that only a sheer sense of duty would lead me to take this step of resigning my pastorate.

NEW PASTOR AT PARK CHURCH

Rev. R. White Opened His Pastorate in This City Yesterday

The Rev. Robert White, late of Hollidaysburg, Pennsylvania, assumed his pastorate at Park Baptist church yesterday, occupying the pulpit morning and evening, and delivering two inaugural sermons of unusual force and eloquence, enhanced by the personality of the speaker. In the morning, Mr. White spoke upon "The Beginning of Things," pointing out how beneficial it was to get back to the divine intention and thought. What was man in the Divine intention, if a conclusion were to be formed from present day observation man was but a piece of clay, to be rusted by the centuries. But man was made in the image of God, both morally and mentally.

What was man's relation to man in the divine intent? Humanity had a bad record; since 1400 B.C., there had been but 227 years of universal peace in the world, showing that humanity was having a weary time hanging itself upon the tree of its own invention.

The speaker touched also upon man's relation to nature, in the Divine intention. Nature supplied the

THE SITUATION.

The possibility of Germany still having much trouble on her hands in Russia, is emphasized by two recent incidents, the assassination of the German ambassador to that country and an uprising in the Ukraine of 75,000 well armed revolutionary troops. The latter are stated to be marching towards Kiev, while German battalions are also falling back towards that place. With any sort of leadership the kingdom of the ex-Czar might even yet do much to overthrow the iron heel of the Teuton, but the trouble of it is that there is apparently no one in sight capable of undertaking such a job. The Italians have completed the driving of the Austrians from the lower Piave sector, and are now consolidating themselves in that entire region. The attack on Venice, which at one time seemed perilously near, is now apparently efficiently blocked. An official statement from Rome shows that since June 15 the Garibaldians have taken prisoner 523 officers and 23,391 other ranks, 69 'big guns, 65 trench mortars, 1,234 machine guns, two airplanes and vast quantities of other war material. The Australians in another new drive on a front of over a mile scored an advance of four hundred yards. The people of the Murman coast, on the Kula Peninsula, bordering the White Sea and the Arctic, have broken with Russia and have asked for Allied aid. If that feeling would spread important results could be attained, but the trouble is that the Bolsheviks are reported to have billions in cash and with the connivance of Germany to be determined at all cost to hang on to the reins of power.

THE WESTERN CROP.

Reports from the West show that the probable wheat crop will be less than two hundred million bushels, or about the same as in 1914. In referring to the cause, Norman Lambert, a well known expert, says: temperature was 104 in the shade, and over the whole south-western and central western sections of that province, a wind was blowing at the rate of 45 to 50 miles an hour. That one day almost ruined the crops of south-western Saskatchewan beyond recovery. Southern Alberta also has been badly affected by drought. Manitoba has probably the best uniform condition of any of the three provinces, but even here there has been a great deal of damage through drifting of soil early in the season. For instance, at Hamiota the other day at a meeting, five farmers who were spoken to quite at random showed that amongst them they had been obliged to re-seed over 2,600 acres. That 2,600 acres had been sown in wheat and because of the violent winds in April and May, they were obliged to seed that area over again in coarse grain. From the total area that was reported sown to wheat in the three western provinces this year—roughly 17, fifteen and a half million acres—it was estimated some two months ago that we ought to get 300,000,000 bushels of wheat. I have talked to a good many experienced grain men during the past two weeks, and they all agree that if we get 200,000,000 bushels from the prairie provinces we shall be doing very well indeed. Furthermore, I may say that if we do not get more rains between now and the first of August, and get them at the rate of one every ten days or so, our yield of wheat will be much less than 200,000,000."

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

So far July is suffering from just about as bad an attack of cold feet as Miss June.
 The new Sultan of Turkey is Mohammed the Fifth. Along with the rest of the nation he will be Mohammed when the war is over.
 If the housing problem in certain centres becomes much more intense it will be a case of some of the inhabitants living in tents.
 From Belleville way there comes the story of a young farmer dangerously injured at a charrivari. As a matter of fact, these demonstrations belong to the dark ages and those taking part in them ought to be given a good still jail sentence.

They belong to the intimidation and blackmail class.
 The general tax rate in Woodstock will be 31 1-5 mills and Cobalt is telling of trying to keep matters down to 40, so that Brantford is not faring so badly after all.

The Taggart complaints that the recent speech of President Wilson was "vague." In that delirium he affirmed that world freedom must be complete.
 "The settlement must be final. There can be no compromise. No half-way decision would be tolerable. No half-way decision is conceivable."

If that is vagueness it would be interesting to know what the Berlin paper in question would regard as definite. Probably that no German pledge is worthy of belief.

A MAN OF PEACE.—The Allies are fighting for peace. There would have been no war if Germany had not willed it. Germany was glad of an excuse to touch the buffet and start her war machinery. Not one of the Allies wanted war, inasmuch as Germany believes in war, that might is right, there can be no cessation of the war until she is beaten and the Allies are strong enough to force her to an international league of peace. I believe this colossal war will put the world on a new frame of mind that there may be organized "The United States of the World." Why should not mankind organize for the benefit of the whole human family? If Europe were to federate as the American States and Canada have, it would be comparatively easy for the world to federate. When Germany has vanquished or crushed her war ideals, this world federation will be a possibility.

To The Editor of The Courier

July 6, 1918.
 Sir.—Kindly allow me space for the following, viz.:—I see by the dailies that a special meeting is convened of the councillors to discuss the granting of $8,000 for which the Railway Commission want to buy two cars for the Paris road. They claim that the road pays better per mileage than any other part of the road. The cars cost $7000 each, where is the extra $6000 coming from. Now sir, I want to point out that as to a growing proposition of a city is based upon its advantages of public utilities. Therefore does it not strike forcibly upon the business faculties of our railway commissioners that although the Terrace Hill street cars may be considered as a joke and also to be a drawing card for the future aldermanic positions. The old slogan sounds so well to the patient sand hillers voters, I am in favor of a subway at St. Paul's Ave, also the street railway for the Hill, and we vote accordingly to be sold again and time goes on. But will the taxpayer be contented to add to the comfort and this mobile ability for others just for the chance of seeing in print the accumulation of a few cents per mile which is not helping the pressing necessity of relieving the disadvantage of thousands of people suffering for the want of this utility. What encouragement have the people to shout for a greater Brantford with a population of 40,000? The growing proposition is dwarfed from the start. Again the cry comes up for market improvement, etc. A great advantage and encouragement for the taxpayer in that respect not only increasing this tax but also putting the burden on the woman, lugging baskets home with market produce, thereby helping greatly to the cry of cash and carry that in itself says much for 40,000 people. Another item that should not pass unheeded is a pamphlet being scattered broadcast with our worthy Sanitary Inspector's name on them, but did he forget to put on his glasses to see who was the printer thereof.
 Would it not be a proper thing to do to call them all in and get that done not forgetting the progressive mark.

 By Courier Leased Wire.
 Ottawa, July 8.—The chief press censor permits the following announcement for publication, regarding the composition of the troops on the stranded City of Vienna, all of whom were rescued and brought safely to a Canadian Atlantic port, by various vessels.
 The troops were made up of railway operating and railway construction units from Ontario, Royal Canadian Engineers and infantry reinforcements from Ontario, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

SILVER WEDDING OF ROYAL FAMILY WAS VERY QUIET

King and Queen Observed the 25th Anniversary of Marriage Saturday.

CEREMONIES LACKING
 London, July 6.—To-day is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of the King and Queen Mary. The popular rejoicing with which such an event would ordinarily be celebrated was refrained from in consequence of the war and the only public ceremony commemorating the event in which the royal couple participated took the form of special thanksgiving services in St. Paul's Cathedral, followed by a visit to the Guild Hall where a congratulatory address was read from the City of London was received.

Driving from Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral, the King and Queen passed through the main streets in an open London drawn by six horses, attended by a troop of light guards and royal horse guards. Upon reaching the boundary of the city of London, the King and Queen, under the protection of the Lord Mayor—the time honored ceremony of surrendering the city's sword of state to the Sovereign was observed. After the usual return to the City of London, the procession continued to the cathedral.

The Lord Mayor of London, the Bishop of London, the Dean of St. Paul's and others of the cathedral in attendance. The sovereigns here the procession taking along the nave until the allotted places were reached under the great dome where the other members of the royal family had already taken their seats. There was a large attendance of official representatives and the nave was filled with mounted soldiers and soldiers. The special services which lasted 45 minutes, included an address by the archbishop of Canterbury.

From the Cathedral the King and Queen were driven to the Guild Hall, where the Lord Mayor and city officials had preceded them. The address was read and the handsome illuminated copy of it presented to King George. This ceremony was followed by the presentation of a check for a large sum to be distributed among such charities as their majesties should decide upon, and the gift of a piece of silver. The only public silver wedding gifts to the sovereigns consisted to accept, they having decided that at the present time nothing should be diverted from the charitable purposes. The gift was subscribed for by the city guilds, the stock exchange, the Laidin banks, insurance and commercial companies and others.

After the double ceremony, their Majesties drove again to the palace, cheered along the entire route by enthusiastic crowds. As is customary, when the sovereign makes a visit of state to the city, the King, Queen and the Lord Mayor, Charles A. Hanson, a baronet and conferred knights upon the two sheriffs, George Rowland Blades and Harry Frankland Hepburn.

The celebration of the silver wedding throughout the country is taking the form of the collection of gold and silver articles and money for the Red Cross. Such gifts are being received by the mayors of the various towns to be sent to Buckingham Palace, from which they will be handed over to the Red Cross. Every article and saleable article, including the remainder of the precious metals will be sent to the Mint as bullion. It is expected that the Red Cross will thus receive a very large sum.

The King's Reply
 King George, replying to the address of the Lord Mayor of London, said: "I am greatly touched by the kind references to the happiness of our married life—a happiness which has been much increased by the sympathy and affection of our people. We acknowledge with gratitude to God the many blessings bestowed during these years, and we thank the unscrupulous foes. In this time of trial it is our honest desire to share the sorrows of the people and to alleviate their sufferings.
 "While hearts are heavy at the thought of the bereavement and distress which have befallen the nation, we have seen with joyful gratitude the wholehearted response and the duty throughout the empire. Here in the presence of representatives of the Dominions, the Colonies and the Indian Empire, I warmly acclaim the noble self-sacrificing spirit with which our brothers across the seas have given their best in the united defence of liberty and right.
 "Through four long years of unceasing conflict the ancient qualities of the British race have shown themselves in numerous heroic deeds and in dogged endurance which have baffled the enemy's purpose.
 "From visits I have made to the soldiers in the trenches, I have brought back an ever-increasing admiration for the spirit which pervades all ranks and for their resolution and cheerfulness in all circumstances.
 "What words can express the debt we owe to the navy which, with unsleeping watchfulness, and through every kind of difficulty and danger, has protected our shores and has kept open for us and our allies the highways of the sea.
 "What can express our debt to the splendid army, the very flower of the nation, which stood and still stands as wall between us and the fury of our enemies; and to our air force, distinguished by many glorious achievements and now the third arm of the defense of the empire, of which I am proud indeed, to be general in the service of the great fighting services, let us remember too, the unflinching gallantry and devotion of the men of the merchant navy, who refused to be dismayed by a terrorist hitherto unknown in naval warfare, and the courage of the mine sweepers, trawlers and fleet of auxiliaries which have performed without ceasing their perilous tasks.

"A hearty tribute of praise is due the service of the troops on the more distant fronts, which I have been unable to visit in person. The men who have been fighting in Italy, the East African Force, which has performed in difficult conditions of climate and locality; the armies in Mesopotamia and Palestine, which have rescued the once rich and famous territories from the tyranny which devastated and depopulated them; have restored already something of the former prosperity—all these have abundantly earned our gratitude and admiration.

"The conditions at home also give cause for pride and thankfulness. We have seen ready acceptance by all classes, men and women alike, of the burdens which the war has brought, courage in time of crisis, and the spirit of self-sacrifice, when by air attacks the enemy sought to terrify the non-combatants, of the population of this great city, and at all times unflinching determination to persevere to the end in the maintenance of a righteous cause.
 "Inasmuch as in particular the efforts of the Canadian people, in which the City of London has been so long held, and enhance the financial credit of the country and raise the vast sums needed for the prosecution of the war.
 "Especially I have been struck, on visits to the industrial districts, by the evidence of a spirit of mutual confidence between employers and workers with regard to the matters affecting individual interests, and a readiness to sink differences, that the essential unity of the country should be carried on.
 "We cherish well-founded hopes that in the furnace of war new links of understanding and sympathy are being forged between man and man, class and class, and we are coming to recognize as never before that we are all members of one community, and that the welfare of each is dependent upon and inseparable from the welfare of all.
 "We thank you for your kind reference to the Prince of Wales, whose knowledge of our fellow countrymen has been increased in the comradeship of war, and to our daughter, who has been a source of justification to the queen and myself, that our children have been able to bear some part in the great task to which the country has been called upon to respond.
 "We are deeply moved by the manifestations of good will which have been so abundantly displayed towards us. We rejoice to feel that we are not forgotten, and that the whole empire in its aspirations, joys and sorrows, determined to secure such a peace as will save the generation to come from the sufferings and horrors and desolation inflicted on the world in the past four years.
 "When that peace comes, may it dawn upon an empire strengthened in character by the fiery trial through which it has passed, and knit together more closely by the memory of common efforts and common sacrifices."

Margaret Garrett's Husband
 By JANE PHELPS

CHAPTER C.
 A Clever Woman.

Elsie came over early the next day, and we had a long heart to heart talk.
 "I was sure that Bob would do as you asked," she said, "but Margaret, you mustn't bank too much on that! You must watch yourself every single minute of the coming year. You are fortunate to have two such competent maids; as not even the children must interfere with the program we have laid out. And do you know, Margaret," she continued, "I don't know but that women are all inclined to neglect their husbands a trifle after the children come. Their little wants are so ever-present, they need so much care that almost unconsciously we give them their own share of our time, and also that of their fathers. Not you—you children have been so well, and you have had such good help it hasn't been necessary. But I did for a year or two, and it took a pretty hard jolt before I realized that men are only children, too, and won't stand for neglect without crying—usually for some other woman to sympathize with them."

"No—I never have neglected Bob, but what do you mean, Elsie, that Tom?"
 "It's just what I do mean. And, Margaret, I learned a lesson. We all have to I guess, and that was to be my husband's pal in every way. We wives can't have to try; we wonder how we ever lived any other way. The children don't suffer either, because we learn to plan for them and him, too."
 "Mrs. Farnsworth passed the window and I called Elsie's attention to her."
 "Not Mrs. Dick Farnsworth?" she asked, all interest at once.
 "Yes, I believe her husband's name was Dick. Bob said something about having known him at one time; but I wasn't interested so I paid no attention."

 "There, Margaret, you see. You don't even pay attention to what Bob tells you, then you complain he doesn't care to remain at home with you, instead of going where people fairly hang on his words. But go on tell me about her, is she living here?"
 "Yes, and she's a great friend of the Baldwins. Mrs. Baldwin brought her to call. Oh, I remember something Bob said about her! He had heard her husband had married again."
 "Yes, it was in the paper! But I hadn't any idea she lived over here."
 "She lived here before she was married, I believe, and the house belonged to her, so she came back here."
 "Well, I used to know her slightly, and as I remember her she was a lovely woman, girl rather. At the time she secured her divorce I was tempted to write her, but neglected to. I wish now I had."
 "I wonder why she divorced him?" I said. "The topic had now a sort of fascination for me. Should I not win Bob in the year I had promised Elsie not to object to anything he wished; I knew that I, too, would have a divorce."
 "The only wonder was she stood it so long," Elsie replied.
 "What did he do?"
 "What didn't he do? Would he more easily answered. He never was true to her, it all came out in court, and she knew it from the first—they hadn't been married a month before she found it out. Then she showed the stuff she was made of, she never whimpered, never said a word to anyone. After her baby came I heard she was happier, although he cared nothing for the child. Then the little thing died when he was two years old. That almost killed her. She had lost two before. Dick Farnsworth grew worse after that, I don't know why. And I heard that finally he almost forced her to divorce him by telling her that he wanted to marry the other woman. So she finally consented to do as he wished. She said when asked her reason that if she could make two people happy, she thought it her duty, that her life was ruined, that if Dick would surely marry the other woman she would not hinder him."

 "But if she was all you say, Mrs. Farnsworth I mean, why did he want to leave her?" I asked, wondering what hope there was for me if she couldn't hold her husband."
 "I don't know, no one does. But Dick Farnsworth always was wild. People said he would reform after he married. But they were mistaken, he didn't! That she wasn't to blame I know, she was the most self-sacrificing, self-effacing creature when she found out about the other woman you can imagine. Yet her home was always open to him and his friends and I think until the very last she hoped to avoid the scandal of a divorce. For no matter how righteous a woman's cause is, there is something about a divorce—even when she gets it, and is entitled to it—that hurts. That Mrs. Farnsworth was hurt was evidenced by her disappearance. She went away immediately, and I never have seen a soul, even her intimates who knew a thing about her. I want you to take me to call on her some day."
 "I will! and Elsie what you have told me of her discourages me. She is young, handsome, accomplished and clever. If she couldn't hold her husband, how can I hope to hold Bob after?"
 "There!" Elsie interrupted, "you mustn't talk that way. There is no such word as fail in our lexicon."
 (To be continued to-morrow.)

MISCHIEVOUS REPORTS

The volume of tourist traffic from the United States this year has been considerably lessened by misleading press dispatches appearing in American and Canadian papers regarding the Canadian registration act. It was unwarrantably stated that visitors to Canada from the United States would be compelled to register at a post office before they could secure accommodation at a hotel; that passports were absolutely necessary, and more recently the absurd rumor was widely circulated that women from the United States would not be allowed to return home. This latter ridiculous report is specifically denied by W. D. Scott, superintendent of immigration, who officially designated it as absolutely without any foundation in fact." Senator Gideon Robertson, a member of the Dominion Cabinet, and chairman of the registration board, is equally positive in his denials of other mischievous reports.

Previous to going to France he had taken a six months signalling course in Sussex, England. He had a very exciting trip back, one of the convoys which was securing the boat he was on, being sunk off the coast of Ireland by an enemy submarine. Several shots were fired at it, and it was probably sunk, as it was not seen to appear again. He was not expected home until later in the week, but when Mr. McDonald, secretary of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, called at his home to tell his parents the good news, he was greatly surprised to find the young man already there. Pte. Pearsall's father is also overseas.

COURT MARTIAL HAS COMMENCED

Of Corporal Who Landed on the Irish Coast

Prosecutor Details the German Plot

By Courier Leased Wire
London, July 8.—The trial by court-martial opened here to-day of Corporal Joseph Dowling, who landed on the Irish coast in a German collapsible boat two months ago and who since has been a prisoner in the Tower of London.

Corporal Dowling, in civilian clothes, was brought to the court in an auto ambulance handcuffed to a British soldier, and accompanied by a non-commissioned officer armed with a revolver.

Lord Chylesmore presided over the court. Corporal Dowling, who is slim in build, of medium height and of a wide-marted appearance, pleaded not guilty to the formal charges, which are under three heads:

First.—That while he was a prisoner of war in Germany he joined a hostile force; second, that he endeavored to induce others to join that force; and third, that he participated in an attempt to land a hostile force in Ireland.

Sir Archibald Bodkin, the prosecutor, described at great length the German plot launched at the end of 1914 for the formation of an "Irish brigade" from among the Irish taken prisoner on the British front. The scheme, Sir Archibald said, was repudiated by most of the prisoners, but Dowling and a few others joined the brigade and acted as recruiting agents.

The prosecutor described the means used by the Germans to induce Irishmen to join and in particular the German promise to them, reading:

"At the end of the war, the German Government undertakes to send every member of the Irish brigade to the United States."

Sir Archibald Bodkin read a long document, issued by the Germans at Linsburg Camp, which said:

"The Irish in America are collecting money for this brigade. Join the new unit and win your independence. The Irish brigade is to fight solely for the cause of Ireland, with moral and material assistance of the German Government."

The story told by Prosecutor Bodkin of the arrival of Corporal Dowling in Ireland, follows:

"On April 12 fishermen going out from a harbor on the Clare coast saw a man waving a handkerchief on an island half a mile from shore. He said he had been washed ashore from the torpedoed ship Mississippi during the night. He paid the fishermen five shillings to land him at Ballylisc pier, where he gave his name as James O'Brien and describing the torpedoing of the Mississippi with great detail, stating that the ship came from Baltimore. "Later in the day his collapsible boat of undoubted German manufacture was washed ashore. Dowling had seventy pounds of English money. He said he had come from the United States to see Irish friends before joining the American army."

BANK CLERK IS ON TRIAL

Hugh Farrell Arraigned in the County Court This Morning

Hugh E. Farrell appeared before His Honor Judge Hardy in the County Criminal Court this morning, charged with forgery and embezzlement of $6,917.50 from the Bank of Nova Scotia. S. A. Jones appeared for the bank, A. J. Wilkes for the Crown, and Louis Heyd for the prisoner. Farrell pleaded guilty to forging two checks. His own testimony was the only evidence taken up to one o'clock to-day.

Farrell was eighteen on June 14. He entered the service of the bank two years ago, after leaving school. He became teller in June, 1917. The last inspection of the bank took place on May 17 last. Up to that time, stated the witness, he had been guilty of no misconduct. He was receiving $500 per year.

In May last Farrell presented to the bank manager a note for $1,400 drawn in favor of A. G. Farrell, his father, and asked to have it discounted. This note the manager returned to him without discounting.

Farrell first took $250 from his cash in the bank, and paid it in part purchase of an automobile. Later he took a similar sum, and several smaller sums at intervals, giving them to his brother to be used. The total sum he had taken approximated $300.

At the end of May, Farrell found his car $2,000 short. He did not tell the manager, lest his own defalcation might be discovered, but felt that the remainder of the missing money would be found. He went to the bank one night, and spent three hours, checking his accounts in an effort to locate the money.

At the time Farrell forged the two checks he was suffering from severe jaundice and a weak heart, and had been told by his physician that he needed a vacation. He produced a doctor's certificate to this effect, and obtained leave of absence. In order to make his cash balance, he forged two checks and took out $3,200 in cash. Farrell left the bank on Friday, May 31. He told the manager that he intended to go to Mount Clemens, Michigan, and if his health did not improve, farther south. His brother, Steven, accompanied him to Sarnia, where the prisoner paid him the remainder of the money due on the note for $1,400.

NEW PASTOR AT WESLEY

Is Heartily Welcomed and Creates a Fine Impression.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall, the new pastor of the Wesley Street Methodist Church, conducted the services for the first time yesterday with much acceptability. At the morning service Mr. George Wedlake, as recording steward, extended a hearty welcome to Mr. Marshall, his wife and daughters and pledged the hearty support and good will of the members. It would be the hope and the prayer of all that the ministrations of Mr. Marshall would be even more abundantly blessed than those of previous ministers.

The reverend gentleman took for his text the words, "Co-workers together with God." He emphasized the fact that results did not depend upon preaching alone, but also upon the unreserved and the hearty cooperation of those who occupy the pews. No minister, unless aided by the prayers and the work of the congregation, could hope for the maximum of results in the vineyard of the Master. He and his family looked forward to a period of much happiness and blessedness in Brantford and he felt sure that they would not be mistaken in that anticipation. It was a very striking and forcible address throughout and deeply appreciated.

FIGHTING OCCURS IN MOSCOW

Following the Assassination of German Ambassador By Courier Leased Wire. Bulletin, Washington, July 8.—Fighting took place in Moscow between Bolshevik forces and revolutionary Socialists following the assassination of Count von Marbach, the German ambassador, according to an official dispatch to-day from Switzerland.

On leaving the German embassy, the dispatch says, the assassins took refuge in a house occupied by the revolutionary Socialists. This building was defended by machine guns. Details of the fighting have not been received.

Bulletin, London, July 8.—A serious counter-revolution has broken out in Moscow, according to a semi-official Wolff Bureau telegram, dated Sunday from Moscow and transmitted to London by the Exchange Telegraph Company's correspondent at Copenhagen. THE TELEGRAPH OPERATORS STRIKE

Statements Issued Which are at Variance

By Courier Leased Wire. Toronto, July 8.—J. Komarkamp, international president of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, is expected in this city within a day or two to make one last effort to secure the re-employment of suspended operators of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company and so prevent the strike to take place on Wednesday and spread all over the C. N. W. system, according to the ultimatum served on the Minister of Labor at Ottawa last night, following a mass meeting of the operators here.

C. E. Hill, deputy international president here, has received word to-day from the president that in view of the postponement of the proposed Western Union strike in the United States, he would be able to come to Toronto to-night.

New York, July 8.—President Newcomb Carlton of the Western Union, gave out the following statement this morning: "On Sunday afternoon strike meetings were called by the Commercial Telegraphers Union in all the principal cities. In many cities there were so few present that the meetings were abandoned. Out of our 40,000 odd operating employees, exactly 600 attended and joined the union for the purpose of a strike. This is the one and only reason why the proposed strike was called off."

"Truth in Advertising" TRUE Advertising is GOOD SEED—it is the ONLY Seed worth sowing. You run against an advertiser now and then who is not so careful as he ought to be as to what goes into his ads. An untruthful word, spoken, may soon be forgotten—but once the lie gets into PRINT, there is no telling HOW long it will live to work HARM. Had there NEVER BEEN Advertising Liars, the Selling Cost of Things would now be a great deal LESS in all lines of business, which is another way of saying that the ADVERTISING ABUSES of other days have operated through the rogues and honest advertisers. The AD is the SPOKEN WORD of Business. More and MORE, all classes of people are reading and RESPONDING to advertising. Why? Because the public is learning to regard advertising in a SERIOUS LIGHT. People are beginning to understand that the AD IS TRUE. TRUTH IN ADVERTISING is the Modern Standard. Decent STORES and decent NEWSPAPERS all over America are LEAGUED TOGETHER to eliminate the FAKERS, and to make all Advertising SQUARE with FACT. Merchants and Businessmen whose Advertisements you see in the Advertising Columns of THIS Newspaper are DISCIPLES OF THIS NEW SCHOOL. If the Advertiser says it, the purpose is to MAKE GOOD. Rippling Rhymes

SMALL TRAITORS. Some skates are thinking treason, and others talk the same; in due and proper season we'll spoil their foolish games. The Government's interfering some spiers every day, who seemed to have a yearning to go the Teuton way; our Uncle Sam will boot them until his patience breaks, and then perhaps he'll shoot them with rusty nails and rods. One cheap and noisy traitor will make a lot more noise, a shooting off his crater, than fifty loyal boys, who when they hear the rumour of a traitor, they think there's lot of treason a-circulating round. But when you count your traitors they're mighty hard to catch, and they have in their garters the coldest kind of feet. I often hear of fellows who sympathize with Teuts, who like to work their bellows like traitorous galoots; but when you catch them and read the plot act, to read them and remind them of many a loyal fact, their patriotic manner disarms me right away; they love the spangled banner, as much as any Jay. Dame Rumor is too busy to drum up lies, she swerves it keeps a fellow busy to lick and harry, and says they're traitors; at once, we start to howl. To blast man's reputation by charges, ifly made won't help preserve the nation, or make the foe afraid.

RAILWAY EARNINGS.

By Courier, July 8.—The June return of gross earnings of the three principal railroads of Canada shows, like the return for May a slight contraction from the high record figures of a year ago. The falling off in the aggregate of Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern is $244,270 or 1.1 per cent, this following a decrease of $366,985 or 1.5 per cent in May.

Results for the half year ended June 30, however, because of the phenomenal gains recorded in March and April are well ahead of the best previous figures in the history of the country. At $123,324,424 for the six months, the aggregate stands $3,635,161 ahead of the high record established in the corresponding period of 1917. It compares with less than $75,000,000 in the depressed six months ending June 30, 1915. The increase over that period therefore amounting to more than $48,000,000, or about 64 per cent.

VACATIONS IN ALGONQUIN PARK

Plan a vacation in Algonquin Park this year. That great reserve of nearly four thousand square miles is on the very ridge of the "Highlands of Ontario. Its altitude above sea level averaging 1,700 feet. The lake land breezes which sweep over the Park are impregnated with the life-giving fragrance of the pine woods. The days are unusually long, with warm balmy sunshine, and the evenings are a time of enchantment. There are excellent hotels for those who want to be in the wilderness and enjoy all the comforts that good service and special companionship can bring, these including the well known "Highland Inn." Illustrated descriptive literature and all particulars may be had on application to any Grand Trunk Agent.

Work is to be rushed on the re-opening of 44 wards of the 150 authorized by Congress two years ago.
