OUR FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Forty years ago today, Friday, Oct. 12, 1883, THE ACADIAN made its first appearance. Preceding that time, for six months, the paper was known as the Young Acadian, the publisher being the late Arthur S. Davison, a brother of the father of the present publishers, who became associated with him on the date mentioned above.

Forty years is not a long time in the life of a community but many changes have come to Wolfville during this time. Practically every advance step that has been taken has been initiated by this paper, and all have received its hearty support. Residents of the village in 1883 would scarcely recognize the town of today. Progress has been made in every department and as a community we now enjoy very many of the conveniences which in that day were only enjoyed by city residents. Most of those who wrought the changes are no longer with us. They are gone to their reward and their works follow them. Given a wider vision than their fellows they served faithfully the community in which they lived and we of today profit by their efforts. Let us then be up and doing and by our devotion to the duties of the present show ourselves worthy successors of the citizens of the long ago.

ALDEN CLARKE WILL LEAD ACADIA FOOTBALL TEAM

Alden R. Clarke has for three years been a leading light in Acadia athletics. In football he is a reliable star and in hockey a man to bank on, when things go hard for Acadia. At track, Clarke has well earned his distinction as captain of this year's team.

Under the leadership of one so well acquainted with Acadia's special needs in the field, on the cinders and on ice the three teams should prosper.

It is expected that next week Frank Williams, of Moncton, will arrive as coach for the fifteen. Mr. Williams is an old-time authority on the game and has experience further than Canadian fields. It is understood that he has acquaintance with the Welsh mode. Certainly there is considerable material to be moulded here.

TO BUILD UP MARITIMES IS NEW PURPOSE

Influx of Settlers Proposed To Stem Exodus From Maritime Provinces.

HALIFAX, Oct. 6.—An executive to organize a Maritime Colonization and Development Association was appointed at yesterday's meeting here of a committee from the Maritime Board of Trade with government and transportation officials. The executive was formed as follows:

Chairman—A. E. McMahon, Kentville, N. S., president Maritime Board of Trade.
Executive:
Prince Edward Island—E. T. Higgs, Charlottetown; A. A. Pomeroy, Charlottetown.

Nova Scotia—Mayor R. K. Smith, Amherst; F. G. J. Comeau, Halifax.
New Brunswick—Angus Maclean, Bathurst; E. A. Schofield, St. John.

Lieutenant Colonel R. Innes, Director of Agriculture of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, now in charge of the Agricultural Colonization Investigation being conducted in Nova Scotia, has agreed to act as Secretary of the executive.

An appeal by E. A. Schofield, of the St. John Board of Trade, for something more tangible than "promises of co-operation" from the transportation and government representatives present was a feature of the meeting. Colonel J. S. Dennis, Industrial Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway; W. D. Robb, Vice-President in charge of colonization of the Canadian National Railways; and W. J. Black, recently appointed manager of the department of colonization and development of the Canadian National Railways, with headquarters in London, England, all expressed themselves as heartily in accord with any sincere movement toward the building up of population in the Maritimes, and promised the ready co-operation of the bodies they represented.

Other speakers were Major John Burnett, representing the Soldiers' Settlement Board; E. T. Higgs, Charlottetown Board of Trade; G. Price-Green, of the Canadian National Railways; E. W. Robinson, M. P. for Kings, N. S.; A. E. McMahon, President of the Maritime Board of Trade, was in the chair.

All the speakers favored the idea of forming a Maritime Colonization and Development Association. Colonel Dennis described the formation and ultimate success of a similar organization in Western Canada, and gave the movement support, but, pointed out, it would be impossible for him, as representing the Canadian Pacific Railways, to make any definite promises or outline a course of action, until the Maritimes had gone ahead with their organization and it became a substantial working body. It was purely a business matter, he said, on the part of the transportation companies, and their part in the development would be on a purely business basis.

Mr. Robb advised getting quickly to work and declared there was not a doubt as to the necessity of some such action as proposed. The Canadian National Railway was vitally interested because the project, if carried through successfully, would be to the advantage of the railway. He added that neither Sir Henry Thornton nor any other man living could make the railway system pay unless population per mile of railway in Canada was increased to the standard necessary for successful operation; namely, four hundred people per mile of road.

Declaring that many people in the Maritimes were not impressed with the need for colonization Major Burnett urged that attempts be made to educate the masses of people to the necessity for increasing the population by the bringing in of desirable settlers from abroad. He expressed his belief that an influx of hard working agriculturists would do much to stem the exodus of people from this part of Canada to the United States and to the West.

Mr. Higgs, Charlottetown, gave the movement hearty support and emphasized the necessity of proper placement of incoming settlers from the viewpoint of religion, race and occupation. The association should be composed of sincere and unselfish members headed by a man who would inspire confidence in the newcomer and who would direct the activities of the organization from a purely unselfish standpoint.

E. A. Schofield, St. John, urged concrete definite action at every stage of the work. He said he understood he had come to hear from transportation and government representatives, what they were prepared to do, how far they were prepared to go in the way of assisting the Maritime Association, if formed, in carrying out its aims. All he had heard was a promise of co-operation. Something more tangible was needed, he said. If any man was approached by parties who intimated they were going to set about a work that would improve his business, he would promise co-operation readily enough. But the mere word was not sufficient. Provision must be made for the settler to make a living at once or else assistance provided. The question would be, he said, from whom would come that financial assistance.

Those attending the meeting were guests at dinner, at 1.30, of the Dominion Atlantic Railway.

REV. G. W. MILLER'S DEPARTURE

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:

Dear Sir,—I am sure that I am voicing the sentiments of nine-tenths of the inhabitants of this town when I say that the departure of Rev. Mr. Miller and family from our midst is a loss that will be long felt. A faithful minister, an able and painstaking pastor, a valuable citizen, ever ready to lend a helping hand to every good cause, and a man of singularly pleasing and engaging personality, it will be long before we look upon his like again.

It is regrettable that circumstances prevented a properly arranged public send-off, but the best we could do, I am sure the fervent good wishes of all our citizens of all creeds and classes will follow him and Mrs. Miller and family to his new sphere of labor for God and humanity. In my own case the memory of a close and affectionate friendship with him and his lovable family will remain one of my most precious possessions. "May God go with him and his. We wish them good luck in the name of the Lord."

THE BOY SCOUTS AND WOLF CUBS

A noticeable improvement in "all three" attendance has taken place with both the WolfCubs and Scouts during the past few weeks. There is still room for improvement however.

Last evening the Grey Cubs (Presbyterian) played the Brown Cubs (No. Baptist) in indoor cricket. All the Cubs are doing good work for their second stars. This evening the Scouts will meet as usual, cricket between the Wolves (Methodist) and Beavers (No. 1 Baptist). Boxing for 2nd class Scouts and work in Badges for the remainder.

Last Friday evening Prof. Ross gave instruction in wrestling. Mr. Patriquin took charge of the cricket between the Lions (Presbyterian) and the Tigers (Anglican). This resulted in a win for the former.

The attendance last month was very close, the Wolves (Methodist) winning by a narrow margin over the Lions (Presbyterian), the Tigers (Anglican) being a close third.

CITIZENS' MEETING

Turns Down Street Extension But Endorses Sewer Proposition

The public meeting of citizens, which was held at Parish Hall last Friday evening, was not nearly so well attended as it should have been. There was, however, a representative gathering of ratepayers, a goodly proportion of whom were ladies.

In the absence of Mayor Phinney, President Councilor Whidden occupied the chair and read the notice calling the meeting. The object was to authorize the Council to secure legislation which would enable the borrowing of $5000 on the credit of town for the purpose of extending the permanent street in the eastern extension of the corporation and a similar sum for the extension of the sewer on Main street from Cherry Lane to the western limits of town.

The matter of street extension was first taken up on motion of Coun. Young, who stated the conditions existing and the need of adequate repairs being made. An inquiry from Mr. George A. Pratt the informant was given that the annual cost of such a loan was suggested, for interest, sinking fund, etc., would amount to about $250. Mr. Pratt argued that this amount, if properly expended for a period of three years would make the road equal to that adjoining it outside the town limits, and advised that under present financial conditions it would not be good policy to increase the capital debt of the town. Very little discussion of the matter was had and on the vote being called for a ballot was taken resulting in the defeat of the motion by a vote of 48 to 10.

The resolution providing for sewer extension was moved by Coun. Peck and seconded by Coun. Balcom who stated the circumstances regarding the proposed work and said that the work was commanded by the Provincial Inspector. Dr. G. E. DeWitt also spoke as did other citizens and the resolution passed. The vote was small and resulted 21 to 14.

Coun. Whidden thanked those present for their attendance and expressed his appreciation of the interest manifested in town affairs by so many citizens, and the meeting was adjourned.

DEATH OF FREDERICK G. CURRY

The death of Mr. Frederick G. Curry, which occurred on Friday afternoon last, removed one of the best known residents of the town. Mr. Curry was born at Hantsport 83 years and nine months ago, and spent practically all his long life in the vicinity of his old home. In failing health for some time, his death resulted from heart failure.

Mr. Curry took a very great interest in public affairs and filled many positions of responsibility. He represented Ward 9 of the Hants County Council and was for some time mayor of the county. He was a member of the Hants County Agricultural Society, School Trustees, etc.

In politics he was an ardent Liberal and during the war filled an important post at the dock yard at Halifax for some time. For over seventy-five years Mr. Curry was a regular attendant at the Methodist church, of which he was a faithful member and supporter. He was for forty years superintendent of the Sunday School and twice on Sunday and once during the week was regularly in his place. He was a member of the Trustee Board and Recording Steward of the Quarterly Official Board and was frequently a representative at the District Meeting and Conference.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Lee at Hortonville, and Fred in Madison, N. J., and four daughters, Mrs. Brown of British Columbia, Mrs. Wittenmore of Boston, Edith at home, and Mrs. Ayrton Johnson, of Grand Pre, with whom he resided at the time of his death.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon and was very largely attended. Rev. A. C. Borden, D. D., conducted the service and gave a most appropriate and effective address. Rev. W. A. Outerbridge, of Hantsport, offered the prayer. The interment was in the Methodist cemetery at Lower Horton.

DEATH'S HARVEST

The sad death occurred on Oct. 5th, of little Florence May Rodger, at the home of her foster parents Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Spencer. The funeral service was very touching conducted by Rev. McDonald, and members of the Baptist choir sang three very appropriate hymns, closing the service with "Safe in the Arms of God."

The little remains were carried to their last resting place by four school boys who were preceded by five boys carrying the floral offerings. Little Florence was the sunshine of the home and shall be greatly missed.

Here I give my all to Thee, Friends, and time, and earthly store, Soul and body thine to be—Wholly Thine—forevermore.

President F. W. Patterson, of Acadia University, gave two inspiring sermons at the Baptist church on Sunday last.

This Festival has been celebrated for several consecutive years. In the parade in connection with this picturesque celebration were one hundred and seventeen floats profusely decorated with the beautiful Oregon Roses. One of these floats representing "Public Works" is worthy of special mention, it being a veritable rose petals from a receptacle, scattering them on the street and pedestrians as it glided along. FAREWELL GATHERING

To Rev. G. W. Miller, Under Auspices of Children's Aid Society

On Sunday evening last, at the close of the regular church services, a meeting was held in the school room of the Baptist church, under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society. The purpose of the gathering was to say farewell to Rev. G. W. Miller, who for the past seven years has filled the office of president of the society and devoted much time and attention to its carrying on.

Rev. Dr. MacDonald presided and after a few fitting remarks called upon Dr. M. R. Elliott, who read the following address: Rev. G. W. Miller

President of the Children's Aid Society of Kings County.

Dear Mr. Miller,—Since your departure from Wolfville is so imminent we feel that we cannot allow you to go without some expression of our appreciation of your service among us and our good will as you enter another field of labor. For seven years, without interruption, you have worthily filled the position of president of our society, during which you have ever assisted us in our duties by wise counsel and devoted service. To you in no small measure is due whatever of success has been achieved for the betterment of the conditions of the child life about us. Only one with the most sincere interest in the welfare of the children, such as you have shown, would have devoted so much time and effort in the presentation of their claims to the people of the county and in pleading their cause before our legislative bodies. We shall miss your presence at our meetings and in our daily intercourse.

To your new sphere of usefulness we will follow you and yours with the very best wishes for happiness and prosperity, realizing that while absent you will still maintain the same interest and sympathy in our work which has characterized your connection with our organization. That God's richest blessing may follow you to your new home and duties is the earnest desire of us all.

On behalf of the Executive Society, was then called upon and spoke briefly and appreciatively of the assistance which he had ever received from the president in the performance of his duties, as well as to the general interest which Rev. Mr. Miller had ever shown in the young life of the community.

He was followed by Rev. D. B. Hemmion, who read an address from the Wolfville Ministerial Institute, and by Rev. R. F. Dixon and Dr. MacDonald, who spoke of the pleasant associations in the work of the church here and the cordial relationships which had ever existed between themselves and Rev. Mr. Miller. The latter replied in fitting terms, expressing his regret at leaving Wolfville and thanks for many kindnesses extended to himself and family during his residence here.

The Rev. Mr. Miller has been a resident of Wolfville for the past seven years and has been a member of the church here since 1883. He was born in Scotland and came to Canada in 1883. Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

CITRUS ADVERTISING A SUCCESS

The Florida Citrus Exchange is making an appeal to the growers of grape fruit to co-operate instead of compete in the marketing of their product, and states that the keynote of its success up to date has been found in newspaper advertising. Ten years ago, the exchange says, it started to educate the American housewives to the food and health values of grape fruit. Today, as a result of newspaper advertising, one-fourth of the American people eat grape fruit. There remain, however, three-fourths of the people yet to be reached.

The potential market for the canned grape fruit alone is staggering to contemplate. The canning of grape fruit now has been perfected. All that remains is to have the people told about it. The citrus exchange is to be complimented on its vision in seeing that only newspaper advertising can accomplish such mutually beneficial education. The housewives of every small town in the country will learn through advertising in their local newspapers all about grape fruit. Then everybody will profit.

GOOD ROADS AND COMPETITION

Community building is beset with more puzzling problems than one might suppose. Perhaps one of the most difficult of solution being the problem created by the extension of good roads.

Everybody admits good roads spell the development of the country, the spread of education and a better understanding among neighbors. There has been much difference of opinion however, as to whether villages are first built by stores attracting residents or by increasing residents attracting stores. Whichever theory may be correct the fact remains that the growth of any community depends very largely on the prosperity of its trading section.

Some villages are so situated geographically that good roads simply open up an easy avenue for trade to go out of town. Then there is an element of danger in such thoroughfares which must be balanced, of course, by the advantages derived by the farmer.

The lesson of course is obvious. The extension of good roads never can be halted, nor is it wise that they should be. But their building means that local merchants must come to know more of merchandising, that they must take the hometown folks more into their confidence and show them conclusively they can trade at home advantageously.

The competition in the small town is not between storekeeper and storekeeper, but between city and town. The little fellow has his place, but he must be awake to his responsibility.

INSPECTION OF FOOD STUFFS

The recent attempt on the part of the Town Manager to protect the purity of our water supply and safeguard the public health from the possibility of any defect in the ice which we use is most commendable. On several occasions THE ACADIAN has urged that better means be taken to prevent the pollution of the reservoir, and we gladly welcome the assistance of Mr. Stairs in this matter. So far there is no great occasion for uneasiness as a recent analysis of the water by a government official proves its good quality. However, an ounce of prevention is often worth more than a pound of cure and we gladly support the Town Manager in his endeavor to make things right in this regard.

There is no doubt but that considerable more care should be exercised than is apparent in the matter of the inspection of conditions surrounding what we eat and drink. We have no complaint to make respecting our supply of milk, but certainly no oversight is had in this community respecting this very important commodity of food. In some other places that we know of very careful inspection is frequently made of stables and dairies and the containers of the milk supply are very carefully examined. We have inspectors of meat and fish and other articles of food, but so far as we have been able to ascertain these officials exist only in name. Our object in calling attention to these things is not in any spirit of fault finding, but rather in the hope that the public attention may be directed to what we cannot but regard as important.

HISTORICAL ADVERTISING

An act of the greatest possible utility to the civilized world is the business of advertising. A woolly horse and other freaks were by the power of advertising made to yield a fortune of four millions of dollars to a New York showman—the famous P. P. Barnum. Eaton's do the largest retail business in Canada and they are its greatest advertisers. Car loads of their catalogues are broadcasted every season. This community furnishes a most remarkable case of advertising. The poet, Longfellow, gave the name "Evangeline" to a fictitious character in Acadian life, which has caught the popular imagination and books, magazine essays and newspaper articles almost without number have been written about her, orators have declaimed on her sufferings and children have wept over her sorrows; such is the power of advertising. Now for the contrast. Eight years before the deportation, a contingent of Britain's Colonial troops living in Acadian houses at Grand Pre were attacked by a Militia force from Beauséjour, and cut off in detail. Some eighty of them were killed. Their bodies were dumped in a trench with in sight, almost within a stone's throw of the Churchyard where the Acadians were gathered for deportation. Where is the monument to these brave men killed in defence of their country's rights and to protect the honor of their country's flag? There was once a spruce board attached to an apple tree designating the place of their remains, but that is gone. Why has not a monument been erected to their memory? Simply, lack of advertising! Perhaps not a hundred people in this country had any knowledge of these men, their achievements and their death. A very pleasant gossip work recently was issued by the "Century" Company, called "Ambling Through Acadia" in which the writer fairly weeps over "Evangeline", but fails to say even a passing word about the eighty soldiers killed at a time when the little British populations in Acadia were always on the qui vive and kept armed to the teeth for defence. About four years ago THE ACADIAN published an enlightening account of the engagement from the pen of Dr. W. C. Milner, which he had "dug out" of the Archives records, and which was widely copied in the press as news. The writer of it made a strong plea for a monument at Grand Pre to commemorate the sacrifice these men made in the service of their country. THE ACADIAN ventures to assert there is no place in the Maritime Provinces more deserving of a memorial record. Although "Evangeline" was a creation of imagination, we honor the patriotic regard paid to her, as she typifies the genius and aspiration of her race. A nation that preserves its high ideals can never be lost.

In again and again and again repeating the plea to the Dominion authorities for a monument at Grand Pre over the grave of Colonel Noble and his command, we consider it ought not to be less adequate, imposing and inspiring and not less satisfying to our national ideals, than the commemorative works of the Acadians at the same place.

THE VALUE OF A NEWSPAPER TO A TOWN

Few people in the average city appreciate the value of a newspaper to a town. Like flowers, they are appreciated most by those who do not have them. Like mothers, they are wanted most when they are gone.

Most people look on a newspaper as the business of a single individual. If it thrives, that is the owner's or the editor's business. If it fails that is also the owner's or the editor's business. As a matter of fact the success or failure of a paper is a matter of grave concern to an entire town.

If it were not for our newspapers, rumor and gossip would run riot over the world. Everyone knows how a simple question asked by someone often is made a statement by another, how that statement is distorted by a second or enlarged by a third, and how it sometimes goes on and on until people do not know what to believe. Sometimes such a story gets so big that the only way it can be stopped is by someone coming out in the paper and stating the precise truth. Such conditions we should have constantly if it were not for our newspapers.

Newspapers, too, are the best advertisement a city has in the outside world. Other cities judge a town by the kind of newspaper it has. If it is supported well, given the news and the advertising patronage it ought to have, it thrives and is able to present an appearance of prosperity for the town to the outside world. If it does not thrive, outsiders are inclined to look on the town as undesirable to live in, and so move on to other cities.

Newspapers are also our chief source of information. Most of our reading matter after we leave school comes from the papers. What we know about national and world problems, comes from the papers. Thomas Jefferson once said that if he had to have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, he would take the newspapers because through them he felt the state could be run with at least fair success.

If some of us appreciated more fully the value of our newspapers, we would make greater effort to see that they get the news and advertising and so become successful. Modern society cannot get along without newspapers any more than it can without schools and churches.—Exchange.

HINTS ON CLEANING AUTOMOBILES

"There is a proper time to wash an automobile and the work should be thoroughly done. If mud is allowed to dry on the car it is harder to get off and stains the varnish. Mud should never be permitted to remain on a car any longer than absolutely necessary, by any means not over night. All mud contains alkali, and in some parts of the country is almost clear alkali. Alkali has the same relation to varnish as muriatic or nitric acid has to steel. The antidote is water; isn't it simple, plain everyday water right off the tap.

"If one expects to keep a fine car looking fine he must be willing to flush off the mud at night no matter how late it is; the work need not take more than half an hour and the work can be done thoroughly in the morning.

"The chief faults to guard against are the excessive use of soap, using water with too much force, and washing the hood before it is cooled.

"In the old days no coachman would permit a fine carriage to go uncleaned at night. You must treat an automobile the same way if you reach the same standard that the old-fashioned coachman reached.

"There are two things that should be remembered. First, that soap, gasoline, or anything like them, intended to cut grease, will attack varnish if allowed to stand on the car, because oil is an important part of varnish. Second, hot water takes the lustre from varnish.

TURKISH TROOPS HAVE RE-ENTERED CONSTANTINOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 6.—Turkish troops re-entered Constantinople this afternoon, after nearly four years of banishment. Through streets bright with flags and treading on flowers thrown by a populace almost frenzied in its rejoicing, Shukri Naili Pasha's famous Iron Brigade—the regiment selected for the honor—marched from Stamboul to Seraglia Park, where the formal ceremonies occurred. The troops, officially the eighth division of the Turkish army, were in full field equipment and all were veterans of the Great War and the war with Greece.

Keeping friends One of the most important things in life is keeping your friends. You have to win friends first, and having won them you have to keep them. Friendships demand attention, and there is nothing more binding than the little acts of remembrance that take so little time and mean so much. In a dozen and one ways you may use Greeting Cards to keep friends as a present reality, rather than a past possibility. Even if someone lives across the continent or over great waters, a "Hello" written on a Greeting Card will strengthen the bond of interest. The idea of using Greeting Cards lays claim to meeting the need and the interest of men of affairs and charming women enmeshed in the obligations of social life. BETTER STEAMSHIP SERVICE ON MINAS BASIN PROMISED

D. A. R. Officials, at Parrsboro Banquet, Tell Citizens That Up-to-date Vessel Will Replace Present "Joke"

PARRSBORO, Oct. 4—The transportation banquet was given under the auspices of the Board of Trade of Parrsboro to Geo. E. Graham, General Manager of the D. A. R. and other guests here last night. Mr. Graham was accompanied by Col. Dennis, Chief Development Commissioner of the C.P.R. and F. G. J. Comeau, General Traffic Agent of the D. A. R. On their arrival on S. S. Prince Albert, they were met by Mayor Leo Gillespie, and other citizens, and conveyed to the summer residence of H. J. Logan, M. P., whose guests they were while here.

In the evening the spacious dining room of Broderick's was filled to capacity with the leading professional and business men of the town. Mayor Gillespie presided and welcomed the above named gentlemen and other guests, including Daniel McMillan, Superintendent of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co. and Mr. Cox, of the engineering staff of the Public Works Department. After due honor was given to the loyal toast proposed by Mayor Gillespie, other toasts were proposed by ex-Mayors Spicer, Huntley and Salter and by H. E. Mosher, J. D. Jeffers and J. H. Cameron. The principal speakers in reply were Mr. Logan, M. P., Mr. Graham and Col. Dennis.

Mr. Logan referred to the close connection between the D. A. R. and its tourist propaganda and Parrsboro. He then portrayed the charms of Parrsboro as a tourist resort, and its close proximity to Blomidon and other places made famous by Longfellow, the best publicity agent the town ever had. He referred to the beautiful scenery and wonderful climate, and stated that the local hotel accommodation is probably the best according to population of any town in the Maritime Provinces. He, however, regretted the character of steamship service across the Bay and urged that an improvement be made, so that Parrsboro would receive the benefit of the tourist travel, particularly that coming in from the New England States, via Yarmouth. "Let us get on the D. A. R. map," stated Mr. Logan.

Mr. Graham made a speech full of optimism, and portrayed what the D. A. R. is doing particularly in the way of propaganda in the United States, to bring people back to Nova Scotia. Among other announcements was that next season the Flying Bluebonnet will be back in service. But the announcement that brought most satisfaction to the citizens was that in reference to putting a new suitable and up-to-date boat on the route from Wolfville to Parrsboro. He paid a high tribute to Mr. Logan for his indefatigable efforts in connection with the Minas Basin steamship service, and who had persuaded him and other D. A. R. officials to come to Parrsboro at the present time. "Let our motto be 'get together,'" said Mr. Graham.

Col. Dennis was particularly happy in his remarks. He referred to his life's task in development work, formerly in the West, but now over the whole C. P. R. system. He was now in Nova Scotia to assist Mr. Graham in meeting any reasonable requests for better service, and after crossing on the boat which he could only refer to as a joke and seeing the possibilities of great increased traffic, he had no hesitation in saying, he would recommend the expenditure necessary to secure a first class boat for Minas Basin service. He confessed his great admiration for Nova Scotia and in impressive language pictured the great future before the province. His address was one of the best ever delivered here.

Mr. Comeau set forth the possibilities of tourist traffic and urged that Parrsboro get behind Mr. O'Connell and Nova Scotia Tourist Association.

A. J. Mason rendered two solos with encores. Mrs. H. J. Logan, accompanist.

The banquet came to a close about 11 p. m. and everybody present realized that the function had been a great benefit to the town and had brought a new and very pleasant relationship with the D. A. R.

THE OTHER MAN

Perhaps he sometimes slipped a bit— Well, so have you.
Perhaps some things he ought to quit, Well, so should you.
Perhaps he may have faltered—why, Why, all men do, and so have I;
You must admit, unless you lie, That so have you.

Perhaps if we would stop and think, Both I and you,
When painting some one black as ink, As some folks do,
Perhaps, if we would recollect, Perfection we would not expect,
But just a man half way correct, Like me and you.

I'm just a man who's fairly good, I'm just like you,
I've done some things I never should, Perhaps like you.
But, thank the Lord, I've sense to see The rest of men with charity;
They're good enough if good as me— Say, men like you.

Little Bo-Peep has lost her sheep; She didn't know how to mind them,
She's scanning the hills, and the murmuring rills,
She's wearing out shoes, and she's running up hills;
But she doesn't know how to find 'em!

Leave them alone—and what will they do? Farther and farther away they'll go,
If only she'd just place an ad. on this page, Those prodigal muttons would end their rampage,
And Bo-Peep would see them walk back to their cage,
Bringing their tails behind 'em.

CHURCH UNION IS PROGRESSING

The Methodist representatives of the Joint Union Committee from Nova Scotia New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island met the forty-three Presbyterian representatives in St. Andrew's Church, St. John, on October 5th. Rev. R. J. Wilson, of London, Ontario, who has charge of the publicity side of the Union movement, addressed the Committee relative to organization and finance.

The officers chosen for the Maritime Committee were: Dr. John McIntosh, of Sydney, President; Rev. H. E. Thomas, of St. John, Secretary-Treasurer; and H. C. Burchell, of Windsor, Vice-President.

After discussion it was, on motion, decided to divide the Maritime Provinces into four sections, namely, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick; each of these to be under the general supervision of a committee of seven, made up of three Presbyterians, three Methodists and one Congregationalist. The members chosen for the peninsula of Nova Scotia were: Dr. Clarence Mackinnon, Rev. George Farquhar, H. A. Fleming, Rev. D. B. Hemmison, Rev. C. E. Crowell, Charles Bell and Rev. G. W. Ball. Rev. C. E. Crowell was appointed President, and H. A. Fleming, Secretary.

The Maritime Executive is made up of the three officers of the Joint Committee, together with the Presidents of the four groups.

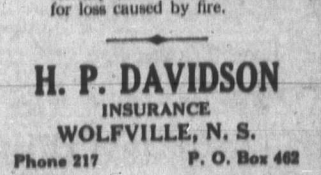

The meeting was pleased to hear that Rev. Dr. Gordon (Ralph Connor), of Winnipeg, and Dr. James Endicott, of the Methodist Mission Rooms in Toronto, are to spend two weeks in November in the Maritime Provinces, giving instructive and inspirational addresses. The following itinerary was arranged for them: November 4, St. John; 5, Summerside; 6, Charlottetown; 7, Truro; 8, Yarmouth; 9, Lunenburg; 10, Travel; 11, Halifax; 12, Chatham; 13, Fredericton; 14, St. Stephen; 15, Moncton; 16, Pictou; 17, Travel; 18, Sydney; 19, New Glasgow.

As far as the Provinces are concerned, it is hoped that each unit will finance its own local work, besides making a liberal contribution to the general fund.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT NOVA SCOTIA

There is one spot in Nova Scotia where you can lie on the ground with your head in one county, your feet in a second, your right arm stretching into a third, and your left arm into a fourth.

If you take the map of our Province you will see the junction of Halifax, Guysboro, Colchester and Pictou Counties. The boundary lines of all four intersect about two miles due west of Tralgar, on the St. Mary's River.

This is the only place in Nova Scotia where this can be done, although there are several places where you can stand with one foot in one county, the other in a second, and have your shadow fall in a third.

The nearest approach to this first instance is the junction of Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby Counties, just north of Roseway Lake; the fourth county line in this case is just four miles from the intersection of the other three.

Cumberland is bordered by only one Nova Scotian county, Colchester. The Northumberland Straits and Bay of Fundy are its northern and southern boundaries respectively, while on the west it abuts on New Brunswick.

Halifax County has the greatest area with Richmond the smallest.

The island of Bouvarderie in the Bras D'Or Lakes is divided between Cape Breton County and Victoria.

A line drawn due west from Halifax would run through the town of Digby, so that, strange as it may sound, Annapolis Royal and all other Valley towns are actually north of the capital city.

There are less than eight miles of railway in Guysboro County.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. M. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

GOOD RULES FOR DRIVING

Look out for children.
Drive on the right side of the road; it's just as good as the left.
When making minor repairs, stop the car where it can be seen from both directions.
Warning signs are never put up as ornaments. Always read and obey their messages of caution.
Be sure that "dimmers" really dim. It is dangerous for a motorist to drive into a blinding glare.
Try to help, instead of hindering, the traffic officer. He has a tough job, but is always ready to offer assistance.
Always use discretion, have the car under control at all times and be considerate of pedestrians and other motorists.

FIGHTS FROST WITH AIRPLANE PROPELLER

With an airplane propeller attachment, the fruit raiser in a spring frost section who owns a blower can prevent frost damage, even when the temperature goes several degrees below freezing, by maintaining circulation of air among the trees. A California man reports that, with a homemade equipment, he raised the temperature in his orchard two degrees in a few minutes and held it above the danger point during the night, the propeller putting the air in circulation 700 feet away. With this range of power the machine could be made the centre of an area 1400 feet in diameter. It is claimed the plan is far superior to smudge pots or any other method of combating frost injury.

It is built of interlocking tiling, and is both frostproof and fireproof. The packing room is equipped with a double capacity grader, specially constructed by J. W. Hutchinson, and is the only one of its kind used in the province. It is run by electric power, and takes a crew of seven men to manipulate and regulate the supply of apples. Electric carriers are being installed to transmit the barrels of apples from one to another. At the east end of the building are the offices for the staffs of the company and the Kings Mutual Fire Insurance Company. John N. Chute is manager, and A. W. Hiltz, foreman. CABINS IN THE CLOUDS

To climb 6,875 feet above Lake Louise and to enjoy a cup of tea in delightful surroundings is one of the attractions offered visitors to Lake Louise, Alta. Tea houses on mountain peaks were unheard of a few years ago, but to-day there are at least a dozen of them situated in the Canadian Rockies.

Two of the most picturesque are the "Beehive" on the shores of Lake Agnes, about two miles and a half from the Chateau and the other a rustic log cabin on the top of Mount Fairview. Walking and pony excursions over the mountains in the vicinity of this picturesque lake are among the popular pastimes of visitors from all parts of the globe to "the lakes in the clouds."

From the "Beehive" one can get a perfect view of Mirror Lake and Lake Louise, which, with Lake Agnes, are known as "the lakes in the clouds." This cozy little tea room is owned by Miss B. Dodds and operated during the season by Miss Goddard. Its furnishings are quaint and rustic.

The foodstuffs are delivered every morning by pack pony from the Chateau Lake Louise—even fuel for the cook stoves is transported in this way.

In addition to the tea room there is an attractive assortment of antiques collected during the winter months by Miss Dodds, who usually goes abroad.

There are many surprises of scenic beauty along the trail to the tea room, but perhaps the most interesting fact is that one can obtain a delicious cup of English tea, with equally delicious home cooking within sight and sound of whistling marmots and squirrels and chipmunks that leap from bough to bough, and often within sight of friendly bears who come close to the kitchen door in search of tasty food.

One of the most interesting trips at Lake Louise is by a narrow, winding path on Mount Fairview to Saddleback Tea Room and Rest House, which is 2,500 feet higher than the Chateau. This quaint little log cabin, situated on Mount Fairview, overlooks Saddleback Mountain, so called because of its rock formation being similar to a saddle. It takes almost two hours by pony to make the trip over a steep zigzag trail, from which can be seen winding streams and rushing brooks thousands of feet below.

This tea room and rest house, like "Beehive," is owned by Miss Dodds and operated by Miss A. E. Whyman. Its surroundings are most artistic and restful. The view of Paradise Valley and Mount Temple from the tea house is one of the finest in the Rockies.

Daily supplies of food and fuel are transported by pack ponies from the Chateau to serve approximately 25 guests a day, who are well rewarded for their journey to the "highest tea house in Canada."

GRAND PRE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The October meeting of the Grand Pre Women's Institute was held at the home of the president, Mrs. J. Oscar Harris. A large representation of members was present. The roll call response was,—"How I earned my dollar for the Institute", told in poetry. The poems which were very humorous and showed unique ways of earning a dollar, were worthy of a larger audience. The report of the school exhibits which were sent to the Exhibition at Kentville was given and the prize cards were handed over. The report of the members met two afternoons at the home of Mrs. W. A. Woodman to sew for the needy families. A large quantity of both old and new material was made into garments. Others who were unable to attend those afternoons sewed in their homes.

The November meeting which is our annual business meeting for the election of officers will be a Birthday Party held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Crane. Each member will please bring as many cents as she is old, in an envelope. No names are required on the envelopes so it will not be embarrassing.

A motion to have the meeting open at two thirty instead of three for the winter months from November to February inclusive was carried.

An invitation to visit the Gasperau Institute on Thursday, October eighteen, was accepted.

The opening poem was read by Miss Clara Vaughn. Mrs. Alden Harris read an interesting paper on "Smoking". Miss Georgie Miner read an instructive and helpful paper on "First Aid".

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, making a happy ending to a very pleasant afternoon.

ACADIA SEMINARY ART SCHOOL

The Art Studio of the Seminary is beginning its Fall and Winter session with new features.

Miss Ricker has spent the Summer at the Berkshire Summer School of Art and her work in Design and Decorative Landscape as well as in Arts and Crafts has been strongly augmented and amplified.

Linoleum and other Block printing so much in vogue now are interesting features of the course.

Mr. Lewis Smith's original experiments in the domain of color promise a unique opportunity for students in this Department. And his practical work in illustrative and Commercial Art should prove of great value to those who desire to fit them selves for practical art work.

The new students from the public schools, who have won this year's Free Scholarships at the Studio, have begun work. They are Robert Herbin, Minnie Bishop, Frances Forbes, Waitie Stackhouse and Lina Crowell. While Edna Doyle and Reginald Northover have the privilege of another full term offered them for this year.

The Friday morning Lectures on History of Art by Lewis E. Smith are open this year to those interested in this subject. A limited number can arrange to take this course on payment of the class fee.

An Art Exhibition for Faculty and Students of the Seminary proved an inspiring event in the life of the school last Thursday evening. Miss Ricker's Summer Work, a collection of Chinese Ceramics, Embroideries, and chased and inlaid Metal Work brought by Miss Gates from China, and a selection of Mr. Lewis Smith's Summer Sketches in Oils and Water colors were heartily enjoyed by almost the whole school. The Principal, Vice Principal, and some of the Professors of the University were present by special request.

Save the Feet and You Save All

A good understanding is the secret of good health. See that the children especially are provided with sound, well-made, comfortable shoes for fall and winter. Shabby shoes bespeak the careless man. Maintain your self respect and the good opinion of others by wearing shoes that are in style, as well as in season. Let the summer shoes go the way of the straw hat.

No woman who claims to be discriminating will wear shoes that clash with the rest of her apparel. Street shoes are for the street and evening shoes for drawing or ball room. A well dressed woman's shoes correspond with her surroundings.

"How about your shoes?"

We still have a few special lines which are offered at very attractive prices and are worthy of your inspection.

Mr. E. R. Redden was successful in capturing a moose last week.

The Dalhousie University football team defeated the Wanderers last Saturday by the score of 11 to 0 in the first game of the Halifax City Rugby League.

A most enjoyable "corn boil" was held last Friday evening at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Macpherson, Avonport, the guests motoring down from Wolfville.

The eastern part of the Woodman Building, now occupied by Finneys Limited, has been purchased by Mr. W. A. Reid, who, it is understood, will eventually occupy it.

The Freshman class at Acadia University city have elected the following officers: Clarence Mason, Springfield, N. S. President; Grace Perry, Wolfville, Vice Pres.; Miss McPhail, Sect.; R. E. Jenkins, Charlottetown, Treas.

The Herald and Mail Modified Marathon at Halifax last Saturday was won by Victor MacAulay, of Windsor, this being his fourth time to win the race. Bartley Atwell, of Wolfville, finished in eighteenth place. Of the 25 runners who started all but one finished.

There is Mrs. — at the Cross Roads, she always gives you a good cup of tea. Why? Well, she always uses MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE, and always makes it according to directions. No wonder that Mrs. — always gives you a good cup of tea.

A quantity of material has recently been stolen from the new "Orpheum" building. This has happened on several occasions and in one case, at least, the thief was detected. While those in charge have no desire to inflict severe punishment it is understood that if the offence is repeated prompt action will be taken.

Regret has been expressed by many that they did not see Edson Graham's exhibit of colored landscapes at the Kentville exhibition. As there is not space in the studio to hang them all the time, they will be on view for one week—Oct. 13 to 19th, day or evening, during which time the public are cordially invited to inspect them.

The members of the Presbyterian congregation here made a very quiet presentation to Rev. and Mrs. Miller before their departure from Wolfville. The former received a purse of a hundred dollars and the latter a handsome gold wrist-watch and thirty dollars in money, as a slight token of the universal esteem in which they are held.

Mr. A. K. Bars, who has for some time been conducting a tobacco store and newsstand, has retired from business. The premises will in future be occupied by Mr. C. H. Hansford, who has removed his tonorial equipment there and will in future carry on both businesses. Mr. A. C. Cox, who has had a real estate office in the same building, has purchased the present stock which will be disposed of.

Announcement is made in another place in this paper of a new express service which is destined to be of great value to all points between Halifax and Berwick. The Inter-Urban Motor Transit Co. Ltd. renders a daily service between these points, offering a quick and cheap delivery that will meet with public approval and should be of particular advantage in receiving and despatching shipments of goods from and to Halifax.

Don't make the mistake that some of our people fell into last year in ordering Private Christmas Greeting Cards before seeing our samples. These are now at hand and are most artistic and beautiful and very different from the shoddy designs often shown. If you please call on our representative will be pleased to call and let you inspect what we have to offer. Do not hesitate. Even although you do not decide to give an order it will be a real pleasure to show you our samples.

The staging from the front of Mr. Evan's building was removed on Saturday and some idea is now had of the improvement that will be made in the appearance of that part of the street when the new edifice shall have been completed. It will be known as the Orpheum, the name being inscribed in handsome gilt letters and giving a very imposing appearance. Work is now going on satisfactorily and it is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy by the end of the present month. The proprietor is sparing no pains or expense and when completed the structure will be one that the owner and the public may be proud of.

We understand from Prof. Farnsworth that owing to the inconvenience of using the Baptist church and the cost of building a platform there it has been decided to postpone the presentation of "The Messiah", which was planned for next Spring, until the following year when the auditorium in the new College Hall will be completed. Consequently there will be no Choral Club here this winter. Instead Prof. Farnsworth plans to work on some light opera, such as "The Bohemian Girl", which will be given probably in the new "Orpheum". Our readers will probably hear more concerning this in the near future. Prof. Farnsworth has this week organized a choral club in Kentville.

Coming Events

Notices under this heading are inserted at 10 cents a line. Each repeat, 5 cent a line; minimum charge, 30 cents. Contract rates on application.

An Oriental Social will be held in the Baptist church Lecture Hall on Thursday Oct. 18th, at 8 o'clock. All are welcome. Admission 30 cents.

Next Sunday the union services will be in the Presbyterian church in the morning and in the evening in the Methodist church. Both services will be conducted by Rev. Logan of Canard, who has been appointed by Presbytery as interim moderator of the Presbyterian congregation here during the vacancy.

A grand Fair and Bazaar will be held at the Kentville Arena on Oct. 19th and 20th, under the joint auspices of the G. W. V. A. and Citizens Band. There will be Band Concerts, Track Meets (one open to the school children of King's county), Dancing, and a number of interesting booths. See their ads. in this paper and make your plans to attend.

A special meeting of the Town Council will be held on Friday evening of next week at which the proposed revised building and traffic laws will be discussed. The public are invited to attend and take part in the meeting and as the proposed changes are important and affect very largely the interests of all there should be a large attendance of citizens. See the Town Manager's invitation in another column.

A debate of unusual interest will be held in the Baptist Church, Wolfville, on Friday evening, October 19th, when the Oxford University debating team will discuss the pros and cons of the League of Nations with the representatives of Acadia University. The Oxford team in their contests with the leading universities of Canada and the United States have established a reputation for breadth of view and skill in debate. This contest will provide a rare opportunity to hear a subject of vital interest discussed by those who are conversant with all its phases.

WHAT THERE IS IN A PIECE OF COAL

A number of substances contained in a piece of black coal down in the cellar bin is amazing. There are over two thousand shades of aniline dye, numerous drugs like phenacetin and antipyrine, disinfectants for purifying the air, such as carbolic acid and naphthalene oils for lubricating, beautiful perfumes, flavoring extracts that taste much like vanilla, raspberry, and other flavors. Much of the ammonia used for trade purposes comes from coal as does the very sweet substance known as saccharine.

All these products are obtained from coal tar, a liquid formed when coal is heated to produce gas.

LOVE AND LILAC TIME.

Go down to Kew in lilac-time, in lilac-time, in lilac-time;
 Go down to Kew in lilac-time (it isn't far from London).
 —Alfred Noyes.

The lilac is one of the most delightful of spring flowers. Its very name suggests poetry. It came to us by way of Persia, and to this day, the Persians call it lilac. Henry VIII had it in his garden at Nonsuch. It has been found growing wild in Transylvania; and, when one comes to think of it, there is something slightly Oriental about its perfume—something vaguely reminiscent of the Arabian Nights, of the glamour of the East.

Yet it is seen in profusion in New England gardens. There lilac share the front yard, lilac shade the well, and lilac grow beside the kitchen doorstep; and in every mansion which owns a garden there the lilac blossoms.

I was rather surprised at this, although I knew it was not a British flower by right of birth; but it was explained to me that the Puritan Pilgrims carried over slips of loved shrubs as well as seeds from their gardens, planting those to remind them of "home". My New England hostess, too, spoke of it by its old-world name, "lalyock," the words which Walter Savage Landor clings to so persistently.

She also told me that Walt Whitman was standing beside the blossoming lilac when he received the news of President Lincoln's death, which accounts for the many references to lilac in that beautiful dirge, "The Burial Hymn of Lincoln," which begins, "When lilac last in the doorway bloom'd". The poem is well worth reading again this lilac-tide, as a reminder of the great man Abraham Lincoln, to whom we, too, yield homage.

"I shall not go to town whilst the lilac bloom," wrote Longfellow from his fine old country house, and only those who have seen how lilac-embowered Craigie House is can understand the poet's reluctance.

Indeed, some of the most beautiful lilac bushes I have ever seen were in America; yet everywhere I found it regarded as an English flower. In Dong Island they called it "Blue Pipe"—why, I could not discover, unless it was that pipes were once made of the wood.

In Devonshire lilac is called "Duck's Bills," and in Cornwall "Prince's Feather;" and I have heard it described as "Sweet Robin's Love."

Bacon, in his essay on gardens, spells it "lelacke," and, as far as I can discover, this is the earliest mention of the flower in literature. Shakespeare, in all his garden of blossoms, does not mention lilac at all.

In the West Indies the lilac is looked upon as a flower of mystery. Its perfume is said to keep away evil spirits, ghosts, and banshees; and when it does not grow in the garden bunches of blossoming lilac are hung over the doorway. In the Midland country folk share this superstition, for they say no ghost can enter a house when lilac blooms in the garden.

If you are in love look for a "Luck Lilac." This is usually found on white lilac, and has five divisions of the petal instead of four. Snyallow this, and think of the one you love, and he, or she, will be faithful to all sorts of charms and spells for you for all time. So runs an old Midland superstition; but there are lovers associated with lilac, some of them quite beautiful, as well as fanciful, to remember.

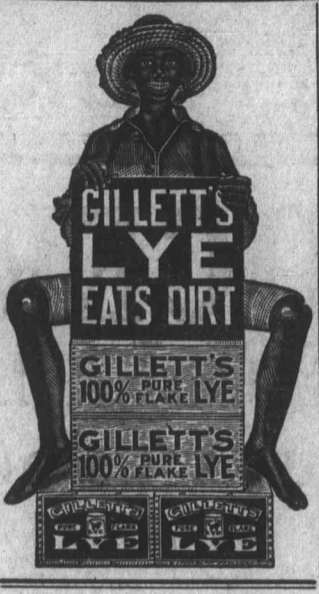

Love and lilac-tide. The two are irrevocably bound together, for even when we have grown old, if we smell the perfume of blossoming lilac at night, with the night-gale singing somewhere in the darkness, we feel what Richard Steele describes as "the yotherie of the year, and it is good to be alive in lilac-time."—Answers.

COST OF CRIME TO A COMMUNITY

The cost to the community of crime is emphasized in the report of the committee re Juveniles in Penitentiaries, presented lately at the Canadian Conference on Child Welfare at Winnipeg. The necessity of drastic action with a view to nullifying the tendency toward ill-doing in the very young, and the need for improving the environment of unfortunate children were among matters dwelt upon. Treatment rather than punishment the committee urged, and play-grounds for the young rather than penitentiaries for the older delinquents.

The report states that a large number of those now serving sentences in Canadian penitentiaries are less than 20 years old. Last year in the Kingston Penitentiary there were 388 inmates under 20; 82 were under 18, and there were 18 who were less than 16 years old. There are at present over 1600 young people in Canadian industrial and reformatory schools. The committee also assert that a large number of the younger people now in the penitentiaries have already served terms in such institutions or in jails.

"We find offenders doing evil simply because they have never known good," the committee reports as a result of its investigations, and it insists that by segregation and proper care the majority of juvenile criminals may be reclaimed and made good citizens.

The committee refers to a report made recently to the Canadian Bar Association recommending that when a boy is discovered to have unmistakably wayward tendencies he should come under the jurisdiction of a probation officer and be guided beyond the pitfalls of boyhood and until such time as he has learned to appreciate the good, and follow the good and avoid the evil. Reference is also made to the same report in which it is stated that conviction of a crime costs the government an average of $1,200, to which has to be added maintenance in prison and the loss to the community of the man's labor. The report states that if a like amount were spent in an endeavor to help the fallen, very few would be sent to prison.

The recommendations of the committee accordingly, are that every community should foster home life and give all children an better and happier childhood. Every community should provide supervised playgrounds for winter and summer sports, as well as summer camps. In the appointment of jail and prison officers, policemen and policewomen and similar public officials, regard should be had to their qualifications in preventing mischief, especially in co-operation with schools, attendance officers and probation officers; that all penal and reformatory institutions should be freed from political or other adverse influences. Teaching in the schools which will make them attractive places to boys and girls, and the training of teachers to realize the preciousness of childhood and their unparalleled opportunities in building for the future.

BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

A writer in the Municipal Review of Canada dealing with education, remarks: "There are certain subjects which are too greatly neglected in our schools in Canada. These are: The English Language, the Bible, Courtesy, Truthfulness, Military Drill, the French Language and Civics."

The Bible and Military Drill may give rise to rather heated discussion. Hence the remarks pertaining to the two are of special interest. The Review's contributor continues:

It is interesting to find that the educational Conference that recently met in Toronto recommended the use of the Bible in all schools—not for teaching religion or theology, but as a medium for teaching the English language. And the recommendation is good. The greatest speakers in English are students of the Bible, which is a fountain of good literature, apart from any other value.

Some people have hearts so big that they seem to have squeezed their souls and consciences to death.

A person need never be without something to do if he does all that folks are willing to let him do.

VALUE OF THE SPEEDOMETER

The speedometer has been called the watchdog of the automobile, but it might more truly be called the watchdog of the owner's pocketbook.

The wise automobilist checks up speedometer periodically to insure its accuracy. Then he checks up regularly on the speedometer's readings to make sure he is getting maximum gasoline and oil mileage. Thus his speedometer tells him if the component units of the car are functioning as they should.

Some knowledge of the speedometer's make-up is essential to the car owner who would keep it in proper condition for the work it must do.

Four definite types of speedometers are in use. These are magnetic, centrifugal, hydraulic and air-actuated. The magnetic type is probably most common. This type employs but one moving part—a circular magnet. Over this, but not touching it, is an inverted metallic cup on the rim of which is a row of figures that indicate the miles per hour. The magnet is revolved by a flexible shaft, its field acting on the dial cup. As the magnet's speed increases, so does its magnetic pull. Thus the dial cup is drawn around to indicate the increased speed.

All speedometers have certain characteristics in common; the variations are in the means employed of actuating the mileage dial. All these instruments have a rotating shaft that is flexible and is housed in a flexible housing running to some moving part of the mechanism, usually the front wheel.

While it practically has been the universal custom to connect the speedometer with a front wheel, recently the idea of utilizing the propeller shaft has come into marked favor. A few makers are connecting the speedometer with the transmission unit, and claims of maximum quiet, perfect lubrication and protection are made for this location.

When something goes wrong with the speedometer itself the car owner is advised to take it to the service station. He would stand just as much chance of repairing his watch as this instrument.

There are, however, other arrangements that he can repair. For instance, the coupling at the bottom of the speedometer head sometimes shakes loose, so that, while the shaft still revolves, the dial does not register. To fix this, the end of the shaft should be loosened from the head, pushed firmly in place and tightened again. The flexible shaft may bind in the housing due to abrupt bends. When trouble occurs look first at the shaft and see that it has as few bends as possible and these long and sweeping.

Another thing to watch is in making a change from one size tire to another on the wheel that drives the speedometer. These will make the readings inaccurate. Even a change to oversize will cause inaccuracy.

UNION OF CHURCHES CONSUMMATED IN KENTVILLE SUNDAY

KENTVILLE, Oct. 8.—Church Union in Kentville has ceased to be a theory, it has become a fact, consummated yesterday.

Because of prominence given to anti-union sentiment, one might suppose that little progress has been made towards Church Union. But the Union in Kentville is the 18th in Halifax Presbytery alone, and it is expected that before long there will be no overlapping between Methodists and Presbyterians along the entire D. A. R., from Halifax to Yarmouth. As it is, Union exists from Halifax to Newport, and from Kentville to Yarmouth. There has been no bitterness upon the part of any in this area. Neither have the people been "priest ridden". It has been a laymen's movement.

St. Paul's Church will be the new home of the congregation. This beautiful stone church was open in 1915. For a time two ministers will be in charge, Reverends R. B. Layton and B. J. Porter.

The services on Sunday were most encouraging, the church being crowded to capacity, both morning and evening. Masses of flowers added to the beauty of the interior. The large choir, under the able leadership of James Brydon, gave pleasing music, the anthems being splendidly rendered as was also the fine solo "O Divine Redeemer" by Mrs. W. E. Ramey, Mr. Brydon, who is the talented organist as well as choirmaster of the United Church, rendered very beautifully "The Last Chord" at the morning service and "Tostis 'Good-bye'" at the evening service.

Prof. John Lane, D. D., of Mount Allison University was the speaker for the day. In the beginning he dealt with the dangers of Union. One lay in neglecting the traditions of the past, belonging to both churches, to be overcome by going beyond to Jesus Christ the Head of the Church. Another is being satisfied with Union in itself to the neglect of the Purpose of the Church—a danger offset by undertaking the real business of the church under the Holy Spirit's guidance.

"The Opportunities of Union" was the evening subject. He compared the world of Christ's Day with now, both were weary. The early church received power because it had a task that needed Divine Power. When the modern church undertakes a like task such power will be again given.

Tasks await the church in Eastern lands beyond the seas, and in Canada. Church Union will increase the church's ability to meet this opportunity. When the church undertakes the program the Holy Spirit will direct.

Prof. Lane's addresses were inspiring, encouraging, and the United church of St. Paul's and St. Stephen's begin a career of much usefulness with great hopefulness. The officials of the New Church are:

Prof. W. S. Blair—Chairman.
E. B. Newcombe—Secretary.
E. H. Munro and A. A. Thomson—Treasurers.

The Official Board includes the above along with A. E. H. Chesley (Mayor), James Brydon, James Galloway, Frank Andrews, Robert Newcombe, Charles Newcombe, Robert J. Murphy, Col. T. A. Lydard, L. N. Cogswell, Thomas Weaver, N. H. Newcombe, and Dr. W. S. Woodworth from St. Paul's; and from St. Stephen's, Arthur Pelmetier, Robt. Gillingsham, Wm. Corbin, M. P. Pike, L. W. Phinney, E. Williams, W. Burgoyne, E. J. Bishop, Richard Mosher and J. H. Yould.

How many know that the greatest gold mine in the world is in Northern Ontario. It is the Hollinger and is located at Timmins, 500 miles north of Toronto. It has become the leading gold producer within the past few months. For two years it had been running a close race with its nearest rival, the new Modderfontein of the Rand, South Africa; but is now steadily forging ahead, figures issued by the Ontario Department of Mines show, and may be heralded as the greatest gold mine in the world. Thirteen years ago the outcropping was discovered by a young prospector, who died at the age of 42, a pool room proprietor at Pembroke, Ont.

The man who whines about poor business is taking the surest way to make it so. Women like the good-looking man—but they settle down with the other kind. That's how some of us come to be settled down.
