PRICE THREE CENTS

ALMOST A CLEAN SWEEP

Conservatives Carry a Tremendous Majority of P. E. I. Seats.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 3.—The elections today resulted in almost a clean sweep for the Conservatives. When the new house meets Premier Matheson will have twenty-six if not twenty-seven supporters, whilst the opposition will be represented by two or three members only.

In today's elections only two Liberals have safe majorities. Hon. John Richards' leader and his colleague A. McWilliams in second district of Prince who are returned by 165 and forty-nine respectively.

In the second district of Kings R. N. Cox, Liberal is one vote behind A. E. Simpson, Conservative. The result will not be known till declaration day when the special votes put in for these men all over the island are counted. They will likely increase Simpson's majority judging by previous elections.

At last general election in 1908 seventeen Liberals and thirteen Conservatives were elected. These were changed by bye-elections to sixteen to fourteen and on Nov. 15 last the Conservatives by capturing seats in the third and fourth districts of Queens obtained the government.

The city of Charlottetown where two Liberals were returned by acclamation in 1908, and by a large majority in 1904 made a big turn over, the Conservatives winning by overwhelming majorities.

LOCAL OPTIONISTS GAIN IN ONTARIO

Over Half of Ontario Now Under no License.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—Returns of the local option contests throughout the province gave cause for rejoicing among the temperance forces. The comparative standing of the results is as follows: 18 local option victories, 80 licenses abolished, 15 municipalities sustained local option on by-laws to repeal it, 46 defeats, including 18 defeats by the three-fifths majority requirements; total dry territory, 460 municipalities; Wet territory, 362 municipalities.

351,595 NEW CANADIANS

The department of the interior has compiled figures showing immigration in 1911 to have total of 351,595, as against 311,084 in 1910. The British immigration shows a particularly large increase, reaching 141,035, in comparison with 123,013 for the year of 1910. The American immigration increased some four thousand, the figures this year, December excepted, being 125,399. The continental immigration jumped six thousand, totalling this year 72,478.

A FEAST OF REASON

There are few Canadian publications so well worth while as "World Wide," which is a weekly reprint of articles and cartoons from the leading journals and reviews reflecting the current thought of both hemispheres.

Without wisdom of its own, "World Wide" reflects the wisdom of the age—the day—the hour—the moment.—Without opinions of its own, "World Wide" beats to the dick of modern British and American thought.

"World Wide" finds a welcome place on the study table Business men, preachers, teachers, writers, and thinking people in all walks of life hail it as a most delightful visitor.

An effort is made to select the articles each week so that due proportion is given to the various fields of human interest to the shifting scenes of the world's great drama, to letters, and science, and beautiful things.

There is no paper more acceptable than "World Wide" to the busy man or woman who wants to keep in touch with the world's thinking, and many of "World Wide's" readers would be glad to endorse the words of one of them who says "almost every issue you feel you would like to show to a friend or put away among your treasures." Or of another, "World Wide" is a mine of information, "good to have, hard to do without."

If you do not know "World Wide," personally, the publishers will gladly send samples free of charge on application. "World Wide" sells at five cents (5c) per copy, but the yearly subscription is only $1.50 a year. On one year's trial to new subscribers, only $1.00, by mentioning this paper. Address, John Dougall & Son, "Witness" Office, Montreal.

CANADA'S FINEST ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE

That delightful illustrated magazine, the "Canadian Pictorial" which is to Canada what the "Illustrated News" or the "Graphic" are to England, continues to improve with each year of its existence. It is by all odds the best printed magazine in Canada. While Canadian pictures generally predominate, plenty of illustrations are given of events and scenes the world over, so as to merit its claim to give "News by Views." Short complete stories, music, and well edited departments add to the interest. It is not only a beautiful album of the highest work of the engravers but it gives such information that the printed page unaccompanied by fine illustrations simply cannot convey.

The quality of the photographs, the exquisite enameled paper, and the fine printing, cannot be fully appreciated unless you actually see it, but to quote Lord Strathcona "it is undoubtedly a credit to Canadian journalism." The "Canadian Pictorial" is issued monthly by the Pictorial Publishing Company, 142 St. Peter street (Witness Building) Montreal, and the subscription rate is $1.00 a year. To NEW Subscribers for 1912, on trial, only sixty-five cents.

RICHESON CONFESSES TO MURDERING MISS LINNELL

No Assurance of Leniency—Law Will Be Allowed to Take Its Course.

Boston, Jan. 6.—Yesterday Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson under indictment for the murder of Miss Linnell, his eighteen-year-old sweet-heart, by whom he was about to have a child born, but whom he had deserted to marry Miss Violet Edmund, an heiress, sent for his lawyers yesterday and confessed everything, crucifying himself upon the cross of his conscience. His statement read as follows:—

"To John Lee, Esq., Wm. A. Moise, Esq., and Phillip E. Dunlop, Esq.:

"Gentlemen.—Deeply penitent for my sin and earnestly desiring, as far as in my power lies, to make atonement, I hereby confess that I am guilty of the offence of which I stand indicted. I am moved to this course by no inducement of self-interest or leniency. Heinous as is my crime, God has not wholly abandoned me, and my conscience and manhood, however depraved and blighted, will not admit of my still further wronging, by a public trial, her whose pure young life I have destroyed. "Under the lash of remorse I have suffered and am suffering the tortures of the damned. In this I find a measure of comfort. In my mental anguish I recognized that there is still, by the mercy of the Master, some remnant of the Divine spark of godliness lingering with me.

"I could wish to live only because within some prison's wall I might in some small measure redeem my sinful past, help some other despairing soul, and at last find favor with my God.

"You are instructed to deliver this to the district attorney or to the judge of the court.

"Sincerely yours,

CLARENCE V. T. RICHESON.

Since he mutilated himself with a piece of jagged tin in the Charles street jail a few days before Christmas, Richeson has been on the verge of a nervous and mental collapse. His lawyers received no assurance of any recommendation to mercy.

BRITAIN BARS AMERICAN TRUSTS

Pending the ultimate result of the legal proceedings in the United States court into meat packing trusts, it has been decided by the British government that none of the firms involved shall be invited to tender for army supplies.

The decision of the government is due to the opposition of labor and the advanced Radicals of Parliament to the American trusts. The contracts are now expected to go to Argentine packers.

REFORMS SOUGHT BY LABOR DELEGATES

Ottawa Jan. 7.—The Dominion Trades and Labor delegates are to meet the government to-morrow with numerous requests for reform among them are: Allowing musicians to play on Sunday, one day off in seven for waiters and waitresses, exclusion of Asiatics and insistence that all immigrants have $25 in cash on landing, eight-hour day and increase for letter carrier, eight-hour day in public works and adoption of the federal department of public health, abolition of the senate, full-nightly pay of railway employees, opposition to bounties on steel, etc., more practical enforcement of alien labor law and government inspection of locomotive boilers.

LITTLE WORRIES IN THE HOME

It is These That Bring Wrinkles and Make Women Look Prematurely Old.

Almost every woman at the head of a home meets daily with many little worries in her household affairs. They may be too small to notice an hour afterwards, but it is these same constant little worries that make so many women look prematurely old. Their effect may be noticed in sick or nervous headaches, fickle appetite, pain in the back or side, sallow complexion, and the coming of wrinkles, which every woman dreads. To those thus afflicted Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy and certain cure, a restoration of color to the cheeks, brightness to the eye, a healthy appetite and a sense of freedom from weariness.

Among the thousands of Canadian women who have found new health and new strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. W. C. Daer, London, Ont., who says: "About two years ago I found myself so badly run down that it was almost impossible to perform my household duties. I fell off in flesh, was weak and very pale, had no appetite, feet constantly cold, and to further make my life miserable I was afflicted with those other ailments from which so many women suffer. I tried many kinds of medicine, but got no benefit, and began to feel that I was slipping into chronic invalidism. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and although I felt somewhat hopeless decided to do so. To my delight after taking the Pills a few weeks, I felt much better, and a further use of them brought me back to my old time health. I have since recommended the Pills to many others, and those who have used them have always been benefited."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

N. B. Apples Best

Montreal, Jan. 5.—"New Brunswick will make the rest of Canada sit up and take some pretty sharp notice at the Dominion Horticultural show, which is planned for Montreal next year," said A. J. Gregory, a Fredericton N. B. barrister, at the Windsor today. New Brunswick apples, he declared, make the famous Antapolis valley variety look inferior, and he thinks New Brunswick will do big things at the show.

MORE PERSIANS HANGED: REIGN OF TERROR IN TABRIZ

Teheran, Jan. 5.—Besides the Sikat el Islam whose position corresponds to that of an archbishop, three leading divines and all the principal members of the Animan, or local assembly, were publicly hanged by Russians at Tabriz.

All the Armenian shops there were looted and a reign of terror has begun. The officials of the revenue of fees fled for refuge to the English imperial Bank.

At least the same programme was carried out, but in a less extreme form. The Governor, the Chief of Police and the heads of the municipal government have been sent into exile. "Suspects" are being arrested in large numbers, court-martialed and shot or imprisoned.

CHINA TO BE ROBBED AGAIN

Russia Excludes China From Mongolia and Prepares to Take Charge Herself.

Peking Jan. 9.—Two important developments yesterday intensified the interest in the situation in China. These were a renewal of hostilities and the demand of the Russian government that China recognize the independence of Outer Mongolia. Revolutionaries from Shan Si and Shee Si, having recaptured the town of Shao Chow are advancing on Ho Nan, which reinforcements have been dispatched to the imperialists. The armistice has not been renewed and there is a deadlock in the peace negotiations so that early fighting may be expected between the opposing forces. In addition to requesting China to recognize the Katukia of Urga as the monarch of Outer Mongolia the Russian government has notified China that the independence of Outer Mongolia must be recognized as concerns internal affairs.

The note adds that Russia will assist the Mongolians in maintaining order and that she intends to build a railway from Kiakhta to Siberia, to Urga. Henceforth China will not be permitted to maintain military forces or send colonists to Outer Mongolia but may retain control of external relations. To this note China has as yet made no reply. To the other powers, however, the Chinese government to-day communicated the substance of the Russian demands.

China is unable to defend herself with reference to Mongolia. Hereafter the Desert of Gobi will mark the Chinese boundary on the northwest. The statement that Russia will assist in maintaining order in Outer Mongolia probably means that she will increase her troops in that territory, which heretofore has served merely as consular guards. It is believed that several railways will follow the Kiakhta Urga line and that much of the country will be developed.

Russia's permission to China to retain control of its external affairs is meaningless because practically there are no dealings with any country except Russia. The general opinion held here is that the Chinese government really suffers nothing from the loss of Mongolia, although Russia and the Mongolians will probably be greatly benefited. Peking officials look for British action in Tibet at a later date as it is believed unlikely that Russia has taken the present step without previously consulting with Great Britain and Japan. Inner Mongolia, so far, has been left undisturbed.

Labor Leaders and Temperance Meet

The most ascetic party in the House of Commons are the Labor men. This used not to be the case in the old days. To-day the Labor men can be seen in a row at table with glasses of water beside them. Keir Hardie is a teetotaler; Ramsay MacDonald, the present Labor leader, is a teetotaler. Thomas Burt, the first Labor member of the House of Commons, and still the most universally respected is a teetotaler and so one might go through the list.—T. P. O'Connor in London Public Opinion.

College Socialists

New York, Dec. 28.—Delegates from forty colleges and universities, representing a three-fold increase in membership the past year, were in attendance at the third annual convention of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, which met in this city to-day. The convention speakers included Congressman Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, Mayor-elect George R. Lunn of Schenectady, and several other prominent representatives of the Socialist party.

HARD ON FATHER.

Croquet Season Is Opened Again and Papa Knows.

Again the croquet season is with us. One notices it first when papa comes home from lodges. He sits in the side gate and walks across the lawn so as not to disturb the dog. He waves his way carefully toward the door where a light is dimly burning.

There is a slight touch on his right leg about four inches above his ankle. He doesn't notice it.

The next instant he is on his face. His nose investigating the intricacies of a flower bed, while with his other hand he upsets a stand full of flower pots.

"What in the lovely, charming, pleasant and agreeable circumstances is this?" asks papa.

The dog bays a mournful answer to the moon as a window is opened and a sharp voice says:

"Come in the house, you fool, before you fall over another croquet wicket."

The father knows the croquet season is on and he remembers at breakfast next day that if Willie forgets to bring in the wicket at night he will burn the damned outfit.

For the next few weeks the boys and girls come over and plant their heels in the flower beds and play rover among the paratombs. In the evening, sometimes, papa will play a game with mamma just to square himself for the nights he goes to lodge.

THE KING'S THRONE.

Hard to Say Which is the Real Throne.

The King may be said to have a suite of thrones—or shall we say a set of "occasional thrones"—on each of which he probably sits at least once. Certainly he only sits on a single occasion upon one of them—that is the Coronation Chair in Westminster Abbey—the wickered, battered, non-footed old oak settee which contains the Stone of Destiny, and upon which all the King's predecessors since Edward II. have been crowned. That chair might, perhaps, claim to be the throne of the Empire, as it is infinitely more "scented" and "insanched" as the King must sit upon it to be crowned.

It is not at all likely that the King would sit upon it often, even if it were in his "ain hangle-look" because it is an extremely uncomfortable chair. It stands, year in and year out, in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where it was first placed by Edward I. and it is only removed for the Coronation, when, covered with gold brocade, it is set on the altar, between the choir and the altar.

Probably the throne most familiar to the public is the great creation which stands upon a dais in the House of Lords. It is often mentioned in the newspapers quite apart from the opening of Parliament—the only occasion upon which it is actually used as a seat. Often a phrase like this occurs: "Mr. John Burns, who is greatly interested in this bill, listened to the debate from the steps of the throne." A beautiful rail separates this "Royal seat of Kings" from its faithful peers.

BRITISH STANDARD BEARER.

Lieutenant Harrison, the tallest officer in the British Army, will carry the standard of the Royal Horse Guards Band in the Coronation procession. The standard is a sword pointing to the Blues by King William on August 13th, 1831. Queen Adelaide's birthday. The last time it was carried was the first Jubilee of Queen Victoria, when the Queen went from Slough to Windsor.

AFRICANS LIKE UNIFORMS.

Much money is made out of cast-off police uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent" where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins, and other merchandise. It is by no means an uncommon sight to see a swarthy savage dressed in the uniform of a policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

"It Is Vain for You to Rise Up Early."

The abrupt siren of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Drew to Lieutenant Parish, one of Lord Gledstone's A.D.C.'s, recalls the fact that Miss Drew was the favorite grandchild of a companion of the late Mr. W. G. Adams. She has been the subject of many pretty stories, one being to the effect that she once nonplussed the G.O.M. on a Biblical subject. The famous statesman was trying to induce her to get up earlier. "Why don't you get up, my child?" he asked. "Why, sir?" replied Miss Dorothy, "didn't you tell me to do what the Bible says?" "Yes, certainly," said Mr. Gledstone. "The little girl then proudly opened her Bible at Psalm cxviii. and read the second verse: "It is vain for you to rise up early."

RICARDO'S REPLY.

Professor Nichols, a famous physicist, during the recitation of a freshman class in natural philosophy, observed a tall, lanky youth in the rear seat, his head in a recumbent position, his body in a languid pose, his eyes half closed, and his legs extended far out. He was either asleep or about to lose consciousness.

"Mr. Ricardo," said the great scientist, "you may recite."

The freshman opened his eyes. He did not change his somnolent pose.

"Mr. Ricardo, what is work?"

"Everything," work," was the drawing reply.

"What! Everything is work?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then I take it you would like the class to believe that this desk is work?"

"Yes, sir," replied the youth, wearing "wood-work."

CHESTERFIELD AND GRATORY.

"Lord Chesterfield's letters are, I will venture to say, masterpieces of good taste, good writing and good sense."

Gratory and Lord Warrington—Democritus, the celebrated Greek orator, thought it so absolutely necessary to speak well, that though he naturally stuttered, and had weak lungs, he resolved, by application and care, to get the better of those disadvantages. Accordingly, he commenced his stammering by putting small pebbles into his mouth and strengthening his lungs gradually, by using himself every day to speak aloud and distinctly for a considerable time. He likewise went often to the seashore, in stormy weather, when the sea made most noise, and there spoke as loud as he could, in order to use himself to the noise and murmurs of the popular assemblies of the Athenians, before whom he was to speak. By such care, joined to the constant study of the great authors, he became at last the greatest orator of his own or any other age or country, though he was born without any one natural talent for it. Adapted Copy Demosthenes.

CARNEGIE AND DEINER.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie, whose own experience fits him to speak with authority as to the elements that make for a successful business career, says in his book "The Empire of Business":

"The first and most exclusive peril, and the destroyer of most young men, is the drinking of liquor. I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him and I say to you that you are more likely to fail in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor, than from any or all the other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to almost any other temptation and reform—may brace up, and if not reform, at least ground at least remain in the race, and secure and maintain a respectable position. But from the insatiable thirst for liquor, escape is almost impossible. I have known but few exceptions to this rule."

As a Pearl of Great Price.

There is no power of love so hard to get and keep as a kind voice. A kind hand is deaf and dumb. It may be rough in flesh and blood, yet do the work of a soft hand and do it with a soft touch. But there is no one thing that love so much needs as a sweet voice to tell what it means and feels; and it is hard to get and keep it in the right tone.

One must start in youth, and be on the watch night and day, at work and play, to get and keep a voice that shall speak at all times the thoughts of a kind heart. It is often in youth that one gets a voice or tone that is sharp, and which sticks to him through life, and stirs up ill-will and grief, and falls like a drop of gall on the sweet joys of home. Watch it day by day, as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you in days to come than the best pearl hid in the sea. A kind voice is to the heart what light is to the eye. It is a light that sings as well as shines.

Not Your Own Face.

"My boy," said a wise father who knew how to play and be a "chum" with his twelve-year-old lad, "my boy, you do not own your own face." The boy looked puzzled. He had come to the breakfast table with a frowning, clouded countenance, and had started moodily to eat his food. Everybody felt the shadow of his ill spirits, evident in his looks. His father's unexpected words brought him back to life, and he looked up with a half-guilty expression, but did not understand what was meant. "You do not own your face," his father repeated. "Do not forget that it belongs to other people. Try, not you, have to look at it. You have no right to compel them to look at a sour, gloomy and crabbed face."

Shoe Shops of Japan.

Writing about the shops of Japan a visitor to that country says that the typical shoe store makes a strange impression on the foreign visitor. "All the footwear of the little brown men are here in view. The funny wooden clogs and straw sandals are indeed a fanciful exhibition. They line the benches, the floors, the shelves. They hang from above, and seemingly are everywhere, allowing the seller just about enough room to squat on his mat. The newcomer is at once startled at the immense quantity of this simple footwear and the many places where it is sold, but he soon finds a solution to his query when he hears that a Japanese man annually makes away with from eight to ten pairs."

Logic of Reasoning.

"It's difficult to understand the peculiar mental processes of the relatives of some of the offenders who appear before me," said Justice Wilkin, as a starter for his story.

"Only yesterday a boy was charged with stealing coal. He simply had been told in his home to go out and get some coal. He did, and was arrested. I had to adjourn his case, and asked his sister, who was with him, to appear at the second hearing.

"What! Do I have to come down here again?" she asked.

"You'd better," said I, "for your brother may be sent away for a long time."

"But who's going to pay the car fare?" she said.

"Why, I suppose yourself! Whom do you expect to pay it?"

"Why, the coal dealer? Who had Jimmy arrested?" said she.

"Why the coal dealer? I asked.

"Because he has more money than we have," she replied.

Let no man who only pays regard to the fruits of success think that he can bring forth the fruits of the Spirit.

If you love a bad man he will soon hate some of his badness.

You will be proud of the bread you'll make with PURITY FLOUR

AFTER seeing a batch of big, golden-crust, snowy white loaves, that you have baked from PURITY FLOUR, you will, indeed, be proud of your cooking-ability—and proud of your wisdom in deciding to pay the little extra it costs to procure such high-class flour. You will admit, too, that we are justified in the pride we take in milling this superb flour.

PURITY FLOUR

"More bread and better bread"

PURITY FLOUR is milled exclusively from the best Western hard wheat—the world's finest. More than that, PURITY FLOUR consists entirely of the high-grade portions of the wheat. The low-grade portions are separated and excluded during the PURITY process of milling. Such high-class flour, of course, expands more in the baking. It makes "more bread and better bread."

It makes lighter, flakier pastry, too, if you just take the precaution to add more shortening. On account of its unusual strength PURITY FLOUR, for best results, requires more shortening than ordinary flour.

Progressive dealers, everywhere, sell PURITY FLOUR and pride in recommending it.

Add PURITY FLOUR to your grocery list right now. 106

LISTEN TO US

"We are only little ones, but we know Zam-Buk eased our pain and cured our sores. Perhaps it would cure you, too, if you tried it?"

Isn't this sound advice from "babes and sucklings"? Take it! The speakers are the children of Mrs. E. Webster, of Seigneurs St., Montreal, and the mother adds weight to their appeal. She says: "My little girl contracted scalp disease at school. Bad gatherings formed all over her head, and not only caused the child acute pain but made her very ill. The sores discharged, and occurring on the scalp we feared she would lose all her hair. She was in a pitiable plight when we tried Zam-Buk, but a few days' treatment with this balm gave her ease. Then the sores began to heal, and we continued the Zam-Buk treatment. In a short time she was quite healed."

"My little boy sustained a serious scald on the neck. It set up a bad sore, and quite a few things we tried, failed to heal it or give him ease. Once more we turned to Zam-Buk, and we were not disappointed. It acted like a charm in drawing away the pain, and soon healed the wound."

Zam-Buk is "something different" in the way of balms. It contains powerful healing herbal essences, which, as soon as applied to skin diseases, kill off the germs and end the painful smarting. Other essences contained in Zam-Buk so stimulate the cells that new healthy tissue is speedily formed. Eczema, itch, ulcers, cold sores, abscesses, festering sores, blood poisoning, chronic wounds, cold cracks, etc., are healed and cured in this way. Use it for all skin injuries and diseases. It is also of great service for piles. All druggists and stores at 50 cents box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

The Strength of Fit-Reform is The Weakness of the Tailor

SPECIALIZATION IN TAILORING is at once the strength of Fit-Reform and the weakness of the custom tailor.

Every man in the Fit-Reform corps is a skilled tailor—a master tailor—who devotes his talents to doing one individual part of the work of designing, cutting, shaping or hand stitching.

It is but natural that a number of experts—each doing one part of the work—will complete the garment quicker and better than one tailor who must measure, design, cut, sew, wait on customers and keep books.

The Morning Coat and Frock Coat, shown above, exemplify the perfection and economy of the Fit-Reform system.

NAVAL BATTLE WITH HORSES

How 3000 Cowboys Captured the Spanish Fleet.

Paez, who was the first President of the Republic of Venezuela, was perhaps the only man who won a naval battle on horseback. The matter of history that he won more than any other man, apart from Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence, actually won, to his capture with his cavalry a fleet of ships.

Bolivar was determined to cross the Apure River in the struggle for independence, but was prevented from doing so by some Spanish gunboats. Paez, who moved to lead down the stream as he did, Bolivar was in despair for a while. To Paez, who was second in command, he appealed for counsel, saying that he could never cross the river as long as the Spanish gunboats were there. "If only we could capture them," the revolutionary leader observed, "the rest would be easy."

Paez decided that he would have those ships of the river accordingly to follow him. Paez himself had been a cowboy on the plains of the Guinoco, and was the idol of his men. So when he spurred his horse into the stream, calling on his men to follow, of the 3,000 cowboys and their mounts, which are taught to swim as well as to gallop, there was not a single man to hold out in this unique assault upon the gunboats. It being night, the Spanish fleet were taken quite unaware. The cowboys wriggled from their saddles to the decks of the vessels, letting their mounts swim back to shore. Having thus cut off their own retreat, it was a question of win or die. They fought well, and every gunboat was captured.

The Butter Trade of Canada.

In the year ending 1910 Canada shipped only 4,615,380 pounds of butter, worth $1,019,874. Canada's exports of butter on the other hand amounted to 687,454 pounds, worth $104,301.

These imports into Canada last year are given below, with the rate of duty that had to be paid on coming into the country; and also with the changes in that rate which would be effected under Reciprocity.

Table with 3 columns: Country, Quantity, Value. Rows include Great Britain, Australia, Newfoundland, New Zealand, Norway, Turkey, and United States.

Table with 2 columns: Rate of Duty, Rate under Reciprocity Agreement. Rows include Er. Pref. 3c. per lb., Gen. Tar. 4c. per lb., and various other rates.

Prince Arthur as Footman.

Prince Arthur of Connaught who will probably come out to Canada with his father, or "young Arthur," as he is usually known, about the Court and to his intimate friends, was once stationed at Aldershot, where some engagement had prevented him from changing into the prescribed uniform before going to a State ball.

Consequently she presented up in a suit of ordinary dress-clothes. One of the ladies — she is fairly well known in society — was departing, when she saw what she took to be one of the Court footmen, and ordered him, in non-polite terms, to find her carriage for her.

Very Convenient.

An enterprising builder was one day in conversation with several friends, when he was accused of using inferior materials in the construction of houses which he had recently built.

When a man goes out to buy a collar he comes back with a collar, and perhaps a necktie or two. When a woman starts out to buy a collar she returns with a collar, a new silk blouse, a pair of gloves, some shirt binding, a cake of soap, a paper of pins, some window curtains, a sewing machine, and a mangle.

An expert states that all one needs do to put out a gasoline or kerosene fire is to put foam on it. He does not say so, but we presume the gentleman well to have a mad around the house to supply the foam.

Winnipeg's Growth.

Winnipeg, 35 years ago a Hudson's Bay trading post, now ranks fourth in Canada's industrial centres. Manufacturing output, 1905, $1.3 billions; output, 1910, $6 millions; increase of 460 per cent. in 10 years.

EXCHANGE CHILDREN FOR VACATION TIME

Growing Custom in Europe Which Assists in Education of Youth.

Though only started five years ago, the custom of exchanging children between families in Germany, France and England, has attained wonderful proportions. This year, in Berlin alone, 1500 children have enrolled themselves as applicants for reception as guests abroad in the whole empire there are thousands of eager youngsters with the same ambition.

CARUSO'S COLD COSTS DEAR.

It is announced that Signor Caruso will shortly leave for Italy, where he hopes to benefit by a complete rest and change of air, the physicians having forbidden him to sing this season. The loss sustained by the great tenor through what was in the place regarded as an ordinary slight cold is estimated at about $16,000, as he has been compelled to refrain from singing for a period of twelve weeks.

TO STOP HAT LIFTING.

To put a stop to hat-lifting a league has been formed at Zurich, which seeks to introduce the military form of salute. The league states that the uncovering of heads is the cause of many colds affecting mainly the older men. In Germany, Austria, and German Switzerland it is the custom for a man to hold his hat in his hand until the lady asks him to "cover" himself. A nod is generally sufficient, but some wait for a formal request.

At the Court of St. James.

But it is not everybody who realizes that the Palace of Westminster—the correct name for the Parliamentary Houses—contains a second throne. This is placed in the King's robing room and is used by the King when he is putting on his legal garb before entering the House of Peers to read the "Speech from the Throne."

As a matter of fact, the official throne of these realms is the one at James' Palace, that very ordinary looking building at the foot of St. James' street. All ambassadors are accredited to this court, and in the eyes of foreign governments, it stands for the majesty of Britain. Its throne is a very handsome one, and stands under a magnificent and most ornate canopy.

Though the throns at Windsor is but little used, it is unique in one respect. It is really an Eastern throne after the style of the one we read of in the records of King Solomon, for it is composed entirely of ivory, and was the gift of one of the Princes of India.

As Done in France.

"Some years ago," writes a well-known motorist, "I was being driven by a French friend of my acquaintance. He is as careful over his personal expenditure as he is reckless on his Panhard. I did not like the combination, but it is best to be tolerant to foreigners. Passing through a village near St. Albans we encountered a hen. She was staking across the road like a conspirator one moment, and dead the next. I hope never what struck her, Adolphe, which is my friend's name, pulled up."

It is useless to go to her assistance," said I.

"But Adolphe, jumped out of the car and went to the hen. I thought it very kind of him. He picked up the dead bird and came running back.

"'Helas!' she is not young," she panted. "But she will do well for ze soup, ze bouillon de poulet, tren delectable."

"'Go! heavens, you're not going to take her home?'"

"'Mais certainement! Here she would be wasted. It is as we do in France. 'Vive la chassé!'"

"I had heard that motorists were not popular in the French villages. From that day I have understood."

A well known Railroad president, in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers who went to any lengths to show his men that he was the real boss.

One morning this foreman found that his gang had put a hand car on the track without his orders.

"Who put that 'an' car-r-r on the track?" he asked.

"'Well, it was one of the men an' we was all fully.'"

"'Well,' he said shortly, 'take it off an' in!'"

A Record in Book Publishing.

ON THE
DEATH OF THEIR SON,
ERNEST

All on this earth do pass away -
How soon all earthly joys pass by -
The flower that is so bright to-day
Will on the morrow die.

All on this earth is but alone -
Here nothing shall on our own
No earthly joy is sure.

Here our dear friends all pass away,
To return to us no more.

While we weep over the cold clay
In grief our loss deplore.

You, too, have shed the sorrowing
Tear
For one dear unto your heart;
But death to all is drawing near.

All loving friends to part,
It was in the month of December,
On that bright and cheerful day,
That he, thy dear son,
By death was borne away.

Little did you think when you did
rise,
When all was fair and bright,
That tears of grief would dim your eyes.

Before the coming night,
But God, whose eye is over all,
To guard them from all ill
No evil then can us befall
Without his holy will.

He sends us trials here below
To raise our thoughts above,
For us to be prepared to go
To join the friends we love.

You who are with grief oppressed,
Thus by a sudden blow
Look out on earth for joy or rest,
Dear friends you will find it so.

But look by faith to Christ alone,
The eternal Son of God;
To Him that liveth to atone,
That shed for all His blood.

He is a Saviour merciful and kind
To all with sorrows here oppressed,
It is He that can calm the troubled mind,

And give the weary rest,
The doubts and fears within you
rise,
And o'er cast your mind with gloom;

And tears of sorrow dim your eyes
While weeping o'er the tomb,
But could you see beyond the skies,
That happy throng above,
No more would doubt with in you
rise,

Or fears for him you love,
Could we but see that happy land,
The land of pure delight,
Where thousands and ten thousand stand,
Arrayed in robes of white!

There living flowers divinely bloom
No grief can enter there,
Beyond the confines of the tomb,
All is bright and fair.

Then pray for him the falling tear,
That now at rest doth lie:
An trust to meet thy Son, so dear
In fairer worlds on high.

A YORK CO.

MYSTERY

Since one day last week a strange dog has remained continuously near a hole in the ice of the northeast branch of the Nashwaakissis stream, York Co., about two or three miles above the Estey Bridge. All efforts to get the animal to leave the place have proven fruitless, and the dog also refuses to make up with anybody or pay them any attention, and it is believed that his master, wherever he may be, has gone through the hole in the ice and lost his life. The water at the place is about four or five feet deep and the stream is swift and would quickly carry away anybody who might have gone through the ice. There is no solution of this mystery.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

One of the Most Interesting Institutions in the Dominion.

The place where money is made or what is perhaps more accurate where it is created has always appeared as most seemingly mysterious things do to the general reader. In Canada the Mint is located in Ottawa. Here are made our gold and silver coins—the real money of the country. The paper medium of exchange is in the hands of the engraving firms and one does not see any trace of it in the Sussex Street establishment.

The Mint is open to visitors for certain formalities have been completed. The use of these is with every thing connected with the institution is punctually.

Unless the workman arrives exactly on time he finds himself locked out. It is necessary for him to telephone in and get a written order, before he is allowed to enter. Prior to the work beginning his day he must change his clothes, put them in a locker which is locked and don special garments supplied by the Mint. The employees are not permitted to leave for dinner, therefore each department has a kitchen of its own, which supplies the midday meal to the staff. The metal to be used for the day's work is weighed out in the morning and no employee of the Mint is allowed to leave the building until the weight of the coins made and the material lost over daily exactly with the weight of gold and silver handed out in the morning. Aside from all this, each member of the staff is locked in his or her department and is not permitted, even in case of illness to leave without a written permit. Thus, in the Mint chances for dishonesty are reduced to a minimum.

The concluding process of weighing and automatically packing the coins into packages requires the most finely adjusted machinery of all. In this department is a scale so delicate that it had to be mounted on a concrete pier, sunk in the ground down to bedrock.

This machine automatically weighs the coins, throwing them into three different compartments, to the centre go the perfect ones; those under or overweight are deflected to the other two.

A Rising Financier

The old man was perched upon a high stool, figuring up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush.

"Say, pop," exclaimed the young man, "I can buy a chattel mortgage for $150 will you make a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?"

"What kind of a boss, my son?" enquired the father cautiously.

"Boy, four years of fifteen hands high, weighs a thousand pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world," and he reached down to the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?"

"A hundred and forty-nine fifty."

The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk.

"What?" he exclaimed.

"I've got half a dollar—forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar."

Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

"My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading hosses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business."

Cranks and Climate.

Under the title, "An Englishman in America," a writer in the New Age has been writing about things American. His point of view is not always accurate, but he says some interesting things. Among others, in a recent spread on New Thought in America, he condemns many of their "isms," attributing them to "superficial thinking." He says:

"There are more 'cranks in America than there are in the whole of Europe combined.' This is not my opinion; it is a simple fact of arithmetic known to all visitors to America who have given this interesting question any serious consideration. America is the land of the mystic and the metaphysical, the philosopher and the devotee. Heresies were here in society as in the climate. I am convinced that the climate has much to do with all these sorts of strange and impossible 'isms.' The atmosphere being highly electric, imaginative ideas become overcharged with thought and an outlet is needed. Mere impressions and whims are mistaken for truth, and the victim begins to write or to preach, to form some small groups and then societies."

THE CARICATURE

Its Influence on the Public Mind

A correspondent makes a timely suggestion as to the influence of caricature in turning boys from the farm. It cannot be questioned that false representations of our lives have an effect on the public mind. People accept the distorted personality in order to enjoy the joke. Those who create caricatures and make jokes have consequently a wide influence. If we leave out the important element of truth they spread a bad influence for they give false views of classes of people and of institutions. The farmer, the Irishman, the Dutchman, the Jew, the mother-in-law, the old maid, the suffragette, the small boy, all have afforded and still afford themes for the caricaturist and the joke-maker. These draw false pictures to excite mirth, and the more clever their work the more lasting are its impressions. The farmer of the melo-dramatic, the clown, and the joke teller has no real existence. The image of a farmer and of his family is quite as pampered as that of the average city man. There is no ordinary type, and but so much individuality and diversity among farmers as among any other class. The farmer, the granger, the newspaper-writer, and the social acquaintance are quite as prominent among the rural as among the urban population. The stage Irishman and the stage Dutchman are equally prominent, but people keep them for the jokes that can be made in their regard. They are raw material for the caricaturist and the joke-maker. When a joke is made of a profession of service, such as it is, distorted by many professions and applied to each and every class with which the humorist comes in contact, they are nearly always untrue. The Jew is nearly a favorite part of which jokes are made, and he is quite as false a picture as any of the other creatures. The character attributed to him is entirely untrue. While most Jews have been converted to Christianity, they are also freely charitable, generous, and devoted to some enjoyment of all the healthy pleasures of life. The mother-in-law, the old maid, and the suffragette of the lamp have no existence. They are a ready-made category created for the amusement of the crowd. The children inspired by Punch and Judy are not whole stars must be supplied by other methods by caricature and jokes, but not by a deceptive remembrance of actual life.

TRAINING THE CHILD

"Let The Punishment Fit The Crime"

I have had a large and varied experience in dealing with children, both as a teacher and as a mother. Two rules which I have followed are of inestimable value to me. The first, some advice given to me by an old gentleman who had been a teacher in the early part of the nineteenth century, was this: "Be very careful what you command you give, but be sure if you do command your words are always clear. Be gentle but firm."

Secondly, this man has always been my guide: "Let the punishment fit the crime." A punishment a child receives that does not fit the crime as a direct consequence of his action is always more of value than one he feels is an injustice to him. Vice versa, the same system should be carried out in regard to rewards for good conduct. If he is angry let him say by himself until he is in a proper state of mind to associate with other people. If his behavior away from home has not been satisfactory, debar him from going anywhere "until he is sure that he can be a little gentleman of whom his mother may be proud." On the other hand, if his manners are pleasing allow him some special privilege, because you were so proud of him the last time he accompanied you."

A child thus dealt with comes to appreciate the fairness of those who control him and realizes that he himself is responsible for the privileges granted or denied him.

Catching Monkeys

In the Philippine Islands, the natives catch monkeys in a curious way. The monkeys are fond of the meat of coconuts, which grow as plentifully there as apples do in our country. They are lazy, though, about gnawing through the outer bark, and will only do so when exceedingly hungry. The natives take advantage of their greed and indolence by cutting a small opening through the shell, just large enough for Mr. Monkey's long, thin hand to penetrate. When he once gets inside, he gets his hands full of delicious, dainty meat, and his hand is naturally wider in this act than when it entered. Finding his hand will not come out, the monkey chatters and scolds, plainly showing his indignation at the way he has been trapped, but never thinks of loosening his hold on the coconut and withdrawing his hand as easily as he puts it in. There he stands, an angry monkey, until the man who set the coconut trap comes and takes him captive.

Satisfaction

Once while stopping at a country inn, Stephen Inceledon, an eminent English tenor of other days, quarrelled during the evening with an army officer. He imagined he had closed the controversy by going off to bed, but the officer, left downstairs in brood over his wrongs, thought otherwise. Making his way to Inceledon's bedroom, he found the singer fast asleep. Waking him, the officer demanded satisfaction. "Satisfaction?" murmured Inceledon sleepily. "Well, you shall have it." Whereupon he sat up in bed and sang "Black-Eyed Susan" in his best style. "There," he said, lying down again, "my singing of that song has given satisfaction to thousands, and he will be to satisfy you!" And he turned over and went to sleep again.

CHAPPED HANDS & COLD SORES

One thorough application of Zam-Buk at night will bring ease by morning. Zam-Buk stops the smarting, heals the cracks, and makes the hands smooth.

PROOF—Miss Hattie Bertrand, Galeberg, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with chapped hands and arms and nothing ever seemed to heal them thoroughly until we found Zam-Buk. It has cured them. My father has also used it for several skin troubles and injuries, and thinks there is nothing like Zam-Buk."

Mothers should see that their children use Zam-Buk daily, as there is nothing like prevention. A little Zam-Buk lightly smeared over the hands and wrists, after washing, will prevent chaps and cold sores.

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin diseases, eczema, itch, ringworm, blood-poisoning, piles, and for cuts, burns and bruises. Use box at all stores and druggists, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes and imitations.

As soon as the proposed railroad is decided to be built by the government or by a company, the said parties will at once build a shoe shop and a shirt factory; and next summer they will start a fish business. Rev. Fr. Lagace is looking to have industries in his settlement, to be in a position to employ all his colonists, having already the demand of over fifty families willing to come and settle in Loggieville next summer.

CHATHAM MEN CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

A Chatham dispatch to the St. John Telegraph says that three men, John Cribbs, Herbert Gannon and George Walker, it is charged, broke into James McLeod's grocery store, Hill street, Saturday night and just as they were effecting a neat and clean get away, Officer Thomson came along. The men saw him and ran, but he gave chase, firing his revolver to stop them. He succeeded in collaring one. Later in the morning a second was traced to a home below town and arrested and yesterday morning Cribbs, under the impression that he could not be arrested on Sunday, drove boldly up Water street. The police took him into custody. The men will probably come up for examination on Wednesday.

MEANING OF THE CROSS
This cross (in red) has been adopted in Canada and all over America as the emblem under which the Crusade against Consumption is carried on.
Every reader knows of the ravages of this disease; how, too often, the bread-winner of the family falls a victim, or the young man or young woman, with a promise of a happy and useful life, is stricken down.
This modern Crusade, like the one of old, is a winning fight. The death rate from Consumption in this province shows a decrease of over 25% in the past few years.
Nearly 6000 of these poor sufferers have been cared for in our Consumptive Homes in Muskoka and near Weston. To-day we have 300 patients under treatment—patients who, if they had the money, could not through fear of contagion gain admittance into other hospitals.
In the Muskoka Free Hospital alone we now caring for 156 patients. 128 of these cannot pay a single cent for the cost of their maintenance, 15 pay 70c. per day, 1 pays 57c. per day, 12 pay 50c. or less per day.
Our Trustees, having faith in the generous-hearted people of Canada, have continued to carry on this work during the past year.
Money to pay doctors, food, nursing and caring of these sick ones, is urgently needed. Will your readers help and have the joy of sharing in a work that has the promise of the Master's reward?

PRESENTATION TO HENRY CURRY

On Wednesday 27th December, a smoker was held in the I O O F Hall, Campbellton, at which Mr. Henry J. Currie was presented with an address and a P. G. Jewel.

The following is the text of the address:
To H. J. Currie, D. D. G. M., P. G., North Star Lodge No. 48:
Dear Sir and Brother:

We cannot let this season of good cheer and fellowship—the season when the heart of man is prompted to noble deeds and to give expression to the appreciation of the kindly offices performed by his fellows, and to show some recognition of faithfulness to duty—we cannot let this season pass without expressing to you our sincere appreciation of your work and efforts on behalf of North Star Lodge.

As Inspector of the work of constructing our new hall you have ever been watchful of our interests, and your practical mind has brought to a successful issue the many advantages and comforts with which we find ourselves surrounded in this splendid hall.

As Degree Master you have always endeavored to have the work upon the floor performed with dignity and grace, and in this work you have shown us an example of zeal and activity which we should all strive to emulate.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge, D. F. Graham, N. G.

REV. C. W. GORDON.

Rev. Charles William Gordon B.A. D.D., LL.D., F.R.S.C., or as he is more widely known, Ralph Connor was born in the country, at the time of his birth the place was almost in Parkwoods. It was the early trading of Indian Lands, Glangarry Co. Ont. which we see reproduced in the broad manly atmosphere of Ralph Connor's books.

Before returning to take up his work in Canada, he made, in company with five friends, a bicycle tour of the continent.

Upon his return to the Dominion he took up his task with grim determination to succeed. The now Rev. Mr. Gordon was sent on a missionary tour to the Rocky Mountains. He did his work thoroughly and labored for the spiritual good of the region with all his indomitable energy.

RALPH CONNOR
The impressions he received were indelibly stamped on his mind and they make some of the most thrilling passages in his books.

He has labored not alone for the moral betterment of his own congregation, but for the whole West, especially in his own city. Dr. Gordon takes a vital interest in the improvement and purification of municipal politics and in the lot of the working man.

Imitation Bad For Us.
Great and good men should be an inspiration to us; their light should illuminate us, their enthusiasm warm us, their spirit animate us.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice.

Another Grateful Woman
London, Ont.—I feel as if I could not tell others enough about the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has surely cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

WEDDING BELLS

A very quiet event took place at Campbellton on the 20th Dec., when Miss Grace Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goad of Dalhousie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. James McKenzie of Blackville.

The bride looked very charming in a tailored suit of navy blue diagonal serge with hat to match.

THE NAME OF AMERICA

Called after Amerigo Vesputius on Columbus's first voyage of Spain.

In the interesting town of St. Diego, a French Lorraine name was given to the continent of America. It was the first name to appear on the map of the world, and in a letter written in 1492 to Italy. It was a name which had been used by hundreds of sailors and explorers.

But the chief wrong, if any was done, was committed by the cartographer in the book which was published in 1492, and on the map which he published a year or so later. On that map the name Amerigo was applied, however, only to the southern part of the New World.

It is possible, perhaps probable, that the mainland of America, and it was Vesputius who gave it the name of Amerigo, was given to the New World, and given to remain forever.

A Great Man
We cannot look, however imperfectly, upon a great man without gaining something by him. He is the living life-fountain, which is good and pleasant to be near; the light which enlightens, which has enlightened, the darkness of the world; and this not as a kindling lamp only, but rather as a natural luminary as the sun.
