quire $1,400, and the High School $600, the village for the year required to be levied by taxation is $5,790.52—or 18 mills on the dollar.

The Wesleyan Social last night was well attended. After tea was over there were readings by Messrs. Lafferty and C.
Maddock, and music by the choir and the Misses Stevenson. Jas Hough, Esq., was called to the chair, the duties of which he discharged to the satisfaction of all.

FIRE IN HESPELES.—A fire broke out in the drying-room of Schofield & Co's.
Woolen Factory on Thursday evening about 8 o'clock. The engine was soon on the ground, and, for a wonder, worked well, the fire being extinguished in a few minutes. Water was conveyed up a pair of steep steps and thrown into the room by pails, in the hands of strong and willing men, who deserve great praise; and who, no doubt, quenched the fire, although the engine by flooding the premises prevented its spreading. The fire is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. Loss probably not more than one or two hundred dollars, which is covered by insurance.

ODDFELLOWSHIP.—Last week, the ceremony was performed in the Odd Fellow's hall, in Fergus, of conferring the Degree of Rebecca upon 12 or 15 of the wives of the Scarlet members, who voluntarily dedicated themselves to these good works peculiar to Odd Fellowship. After the degree was conferred an oyster and fruit social was held, when an exceedingly enjoyable time was spent, the company not separating until a few minutes before 8 o'clock next morning. Owing to limited accommodation, none but Oddfellows were invited, but it is the intention to hold at an early day another entertainment when the attendance will be more general. Since its first inception in the section, Odd Fellowship has prospered wonderfully.

BRAIN SHOCKS.—The late mishap to Mr. John Hobson reminds us of a similar effect produced by a fall upon a little boy with whom the writer is well acquainted. The youngster, then nine years old, was skating, tripped on an obstruction and fell heavily backwards upon the ice. He soon got up, and showed he was not much hurt, but all recollection of the day's events had left him.
Some playmates had come to the house before he left, and he had spoken to them, but he could not remember the fact after his fall, and asked "When they came?" and it was the same with other circumstances. This circumstance caused considerable alarm at first, but the lad recovered perfectly in two or three days.
We omitted to say yesterday Mrs. Hobson, with great presence of mind, jumped from the vehicle as soon as the horse started, and that the animal detached itself from the buggy after running against the fence, and galloped home. Mr. Hobson, we are glad to hear, is doing well.

GEORGE MOORE and Wm. Tiernan, both of Arthur, were, upon the information of Donald McTaggart, beiliff, arrested by Constable Masson and brought prisoners to Fergus on the 8th inst., on a charge of forcibly rescuing 28 bags of uncleaned wheat which Baliff Mc-Taggart had seized upon the farm of California John Graham, in Luther the day previous, under a warrant issued by the Fergus Division Court. It appears McTaggart had got as far as Arthur Village on his way towards Fergus when Moore and Tiernan took the wheat from him by force, stating that they were acting under a Landlord's Warrant. McTaggart told them that there was enough grain left upon the premises to satisfy their demand, and requested that they would go and make a seizure for themselves, which they refused to do, however, and took forcible possession of the wheat he had. This took place after dark, contrary to the law respecting landlord's warrants, which cannot be acted upon between sundown and sunrise. Owing to McTaggart's warrant being made for one month instead of for thirty days, the Court (Messrs. Cattaneach and Taylor) decided that it was informal and could not legally be acted upon, and therefore dismissed the case, giving the prisoners a reprimand for their high-handed action in the matter.

Terrific Gas Explosion.
A House Blown to Pieces.
(From the Bond Est. News of Oct. 16.) Last evening we had an opportunity of witnessing the most extraordinary phenomenon that has ever occurred in this section of the country. For the past few days Mr. H. Trux, proprietor of the old Vester House, on the Gravel Road between Blenheim and Chatham, had had some men engaged in boring for water, a few feet from the hotel. Yesterday, about four o'clock, when they had reached a depth of ninety feet, they suddenly came to water, and in such quantities that in five minutes a stream of mingled water and gas the size of the ten inch hole was rushing a hundred feet into the air, making a loud rumbling noise like a train of cars. Water was pouring over the building and into the ditches along the road. Stones, thrown high into the air, were falling all around, and every minute the stream seemed to gain volume and force. This had lasted about an hour when the gas by some means, caught fire, exploding with a report like the discharge of a cannon, filling all parts of the house with flames, tearing it to pieces, and setting fire to the fragments.
Quite a number of people were in the building at the time, three of whom were badly burned.—Mrs. Trux, James Drake, and a man named Lewis Roe. The flame and water were now rising about seventy feet, with a sound as of a hurricane. When we visited the scene, an hour later, the column of fire was unabated, and as cloud after cloud of flame rose high into the air, lighting up the darkness, and casting a sickly, ghastly glare on the faces of the hundreds of people who had gathered from all parts of the country, the spectacle was really grand, and one not likely to be forgotten by those who witnessed it. The hole from which the fire and water escaped was by this time worn to about two feet in diameter, and the tremendous subterranean force seemed now to be irresistible. Streams of water and sand were running in all directions, flooding the ruins. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but it is supposed to have been caused by a fire in the kitchen, about 40 feet distant. At a late hour in the flames remained unabated, though they are likely to cease soon.

The loss falls heavily on Mr. Trux, who had just retitled the hotel at considerable expense.
We learn that all those injured are likely to recover, although suffering severely.

The Whitty Scandal.
An extraordinary action for crimcon. has been tried before Mr. Justice Galt, at the York Fall Assizes, in Toronto. The plaintiff, Mr. Robert Campbell, is principal member of the firm of R. & J. Campbell, merchants, of Whitty; the defendant, Mr. George Gordon, is also well known in that town, and, up to the present, all these parties have been held of entire respectability.

The facts of the case, disclosed in the evidence, are these:—Ten years ago Robt. Campbell (of the firm of R. & J.
Campbell of this town) married Miss Eliza Byrne, daughter of the Rev. J. T.
Byrne, the well-known Congregational clergyman. The lady was then only seventeen; her husband some thirteen or fourteen years older. Three children—two boys and a girl—aged respectively nine, eight and six, had been the issue of this marriage;—and, as sworn to by Dr. Gunn, the lady is now far advanced in pregnancy. In June last Mr.
Campbell visited the Old Country, returning in August. On his arrival home stories—whether true or not remains to be ascertained—of his wife's infidelity were being talked of in public. The principal accuser is his own brother and partner, James, who, it is believed, kept watch over his sister-in-law's movements. The husband, it is stated, did not immediately charge his wife with her guilt, but had the children removed from the house, under pretence to her that he desired to send them to his relatives in the west for the benefit of change of air. On his return, after having bestowed the children, he made the accusation against her, demanded that she should quit his house, and entered an action against Mr. George Gordon for criminal conversation with his wife, —damages laid at $10,000. The wife demanded vehemently to be confronted with her accusers, and refused to leave the house, asserting that the stories told him were untrue, that she was innocent and a faithful wife to him, and that the whole case against her was a vile conspiracy got up by the brother.
The husband was immovable and refused to believe her or be reconciled, insisting that the evidence of her guilt placed before him was too plain and positive to be refuted.

The unhappy wife brings her action against James Campbell for defamation of character, laying her damages at $10,- 000. And she also files a bill in Chancery for alimony. Meanwhile Geo. Gordon brings a second action also against James Campbell, claiming $10,000 damages, for defamation. Mrs. Campbell refused to leave her house, was confined to bed from illness—was reported incapable of being removed, except with serious consequence to her health. This state of things continued from the latter end of August to Sept. 24—the husband living in lodgings and refusing intercourse with his wife. On the night of the latter day her forcible ejection from the house took place—and the result was and never before has the magistrate which we have already briefly referred to.
The Whitty Chronicle says that "Mrs.
Campbell is a refined and well educated lady, very much admired for her beauty and accomplishments; she has resided from her earliest childhood in the town, and never before has the breath of scandal whispered against her good name. Mr. Campbell is a highly respectable business man, and, in bringing such a case against his wife and breaking up his household, must believe himself to be grossly wronged."

The proceedings in the action against Gordon occupied the court during Wednesday and Thursday. The principal witnesses were Jas. Campbell and a man named John Anderson, who swore that in consequence of the suspicious conduct of Gordon and Mrs. Campbell they went to the house before the opening of August 22nd last and listened at the parlour window opening on the verandah. Mrs. Campbell and Gordon were alone together in the parlour, from nine in the evening until three o'clock next morning. The listeners could hear their conversation plainly, and what transpired then left no doubt whatever of the guilt of the accused. It was proved, also, that Gordon had been in the habit of visiting Mrs.
Campbell in the absence of her husband, and remaining until a late hour. An attempt was made to show that it was impossible for a person outside the parlour-window to hear what was going on inside, but this was effectually disproved by further evidence.

After an absence of about an hour, the jury returned with a verdict for plaintiff, $5,000 damages.

ed to three months in the common goal

The Doings in Manitoba.
Lepine's recent arrest has raised once more the question whether or not an amnesty was promised by the Dominion Government to Riel and his friends. A great meeting was recently held in St. Boniface, Manitoba, at which a very lengthy string of resolutions was passed. They are given with authority by men cognizant of the negotiations referred to, and form an instructive commentary on Sir John's denial that an amnesty was promised and his emphatic statement that "he wished he could catch Riel." We append a synopsis of the resolutions. It will be noticed how carefully the Ministry refrained from giving the delegates any documentary assurance of the much wanted amnesty, whilst they showered verbal promises in profusion that the style of John A.'s tactics. He pacified the Manitobans with solemn assurances of complete forgiveness, whilst humbugging Ontario with pretences that the offenders were to be brought to justice:—

The Imperial Government being deeply concerned on account of the state of things which had existed in Manitoba, charged Sir John Young, then the Governor-General of Canada, to bear the complaints of the malcontents and to do them justice. Accordingly, on the invitation of the Canadian Government, the President of the Provisional Government of Manitoba—Riel's government, he is noted—by order in Council, dated 22nd March, 1870, deputed to the Rev. N. J.
Ritchot, John Barry and Alfred Scott, Esqrs., to carry to Ottawa a list of the rights which the people of Assiniboia claimed, and to negotiate the conditions on which that people would consent to enter the Canadian Confederation. This delegation was received and treated with by Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir George E. Cartier, the two ministers authorized for that purpose by the Government, as appears by a communication of the Provincial Secretary of State. Among the demands of the delegates there was required as a sin qua non that an amnesty should be granted for all acts done or authorized by the Provisional Government; and Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir George Cartier, after having considered the matter, declared themselves able to assure the delegates of the intention of Her Majesty to grant the amnesty.
They undertook to cause this amnesty to be proclaimed immediately after the passing of the act of Manitoba. On the 2nd of May, 1870, before terminating the negotiations, the Governor-General and Sir Clintock Murdoch, who had been introduced to the delegates by the Governor-General as a special commissioner from Her Majesty, appointed to hear them, assured the delegates, in the name of the Queen, that the amnesty would be granted, and as a proof that this was the intention of Her Majesty, they cited the proclamation of December, 1869. The delegates, in reply to this verbal declaration, complained that there were no written words, they would have no written document to exhibit to the population of Red River; but the members of the Government repeated several times that the question presented no difficulty, and that the amnesty would certainly be granted.
This promise was repeated by the Governor-General to the delegates at his own residence, in the presence of Sir George Cartier, on the 19th of May following, with the assurance that the amnesty would have reached Manitoba before the arrival of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, and that awaiting the proclamation by the Governor-General, would give orders that no one should be disquieted on account of the troubles of 1869. Monseigneur the Archbishop of St. Boniface, having come from Rome at the pressing instance of the Canadian Government, and having been supplied by them to labour for the pacification of the North-West, solemnly declared that a general amnesty had been promised and would be immediately proclaimed, and on this, the people placing confidence in the promises made to the delegates and to the Archbishop, retired peaceably to their homes, and accepted the new regime given them by the act of Manitoba. The proclamation in the name of Her Majesty by Lieut. Governor Archibald corroborated the promise of amnesty heretofore set forth; and the Hon. A. Girard, then the Prime Minister of the Lieut. Governor, considered himself authorized to explain the proclaimation, and did so explain it at a public meeting held at St. Norbert on the 20th September.

The Reason Why.

The reason why the magnificent Retail Grocery Establishments in the Alma Block and on Lower Wyndham Street, belonging to John A. Wood, are so very popular with the intelligent public—

Because the Goods are all of the best quality.

Because the Prices are invariably the lowest.

Because the Clerks are courteous and obliging.

Because the Stock is the largest to select from.

Because the goods are always clean.

Because the Weights and Measures are always correct.

Because, in fact, the proprietor understands his business, desires to please his customers, makes good use of his capital, and buys for cash in the best markets, and always deals liberally with those who honor his stores with their custom.— These and many other weighty reasons have contributed very largely to make the name of John A. Wood, as connected with the Grocery trade of Guelph, so well known, and his stores so very popular.

Guelph Evening Mercury

FRIDAY EVEN'G, OCT. 17, 1878.

The South Huron Election.

The Tories Defeated by 24.

It seems that there has been a blunder in the figures telegraphed yesterday announcing the result of the election in South Huron. The Mail and Globe of this (Friday) morning each publish the following corrected returns:—

	BISHOP.	CASE.
Tuckermith.....	122	—
Senforth.....	28	—
Hay.....	175	—
Usharne.....	39	—
Exeter.....	—	35
Stephen.....	—	45
Goderich, Township.....	—	180
Goderich, town.....	—	23
Stanley.....	—	37
	354	347

It will be seen, however, that there is an error in the addition of the first column, which makes Mr. Bishop's majority Twenty-four, not fourteen. Curiously enough, both the morning journals allowed this error to pass uncorrected.

It is stated that the Reformers were careless from over-confidence, and that there was some local personal feeling against Mr. Bishop, which accounts for the comparative smallness of his majority.

In view of the result, it is amusing to read the comments of the Mail on Thursday, when it thought the Tory candidate, Mr. Case, had been elected. Rising in all the might of black-letter headings and big type, the Mail delivered the following crushing blow at its Reform opponents:—

"The Grit papers in the Riding made the coolest use of confidence or non-confidence in Sir John Macdonald. The Huron Expositor expressly declares this to be the issue at stake. Week after week it appealed to the people of the Riding not to support the man who, as it expressed it, had sold the Pacific Railway charter to Sir Hugh Allan and his Yankee friends. He writes that, to a large extent, this issue was involved. It was hardly possible to have prevented it influencing the minds of the electors, so industriously did Mr. Cameron, Mr. Bishop himself (the defeated candidate), and several other Grit speakers, insist upon it throughout the canvass. The answer of the electors of South Huron to these "bawling patriots" is one which they will not readily forget, and which must have a telling effect throughout the whole Dominion. The election of Mr. Case is a marked expression of confidence in Sir John Macdonald at a time when a desperate and cruelly vindictive attempt was made to humiliate him from his position and involve him in disgrace.

"Mr. Case's election means more than this, however. It is the opinion, calmly and deliberately expressed, of a Grit constituency respecting the wild extravagances and gross corruption of the Ontario Government. Next election will see the bogus thing swept out of existence, should it succeed in squirming along till then."

The broom is not made, O Mail, by which that little piece of sweeping can be accomplished. The article concludes as follows:—

"No wonder that there was great rejoicing in Goderich and throughout South Huron last night. There was good cause for it. A great and noble victory had been won—a victory which will send a cold chill through the heart of the Grit (Tory) Party and give additional buoyancy and vigour to the true friends of honest and economical government in Canada. Electors of South Huron, we send you hearty greeting."

So do we.

The Governor-General and Lady Dufferin arrived at Montreal at 8 o'clock, a.m. on Thursday. They visited Ville Marie Convent, and leave for Ottawa this morning at 10 o'clock.

Two noted Government voters have been sent to Manitoba by Sir John to take charge of Cunningham, and if possible to bring him back to the Ministerial ranks. It is said that Mr. Mitchell has taken charge of Mr. Decosmos, and keeps him almost a prisoner, never out of his sight. In fact every means have been resorted to in order to keep the disreputable party together.

A Montreal telegram says:—The nomination of Mr. Aldric Oumet, as the Conservative candidate for Laval County, is the result of intrigue. When it was known that Mr. Bellerose was to vacate the seat, measures were taken to secure a candidate to succeed him, similarly inclined on religious principles, and accordingly one was selected by Mr. Bellerose, and approved by the Hon. Messrs. Langevin and Chapleau and the clergy. All seemed going smoothly till the Bishop's party was astounded at the formal nomination of Mr. Oumet, at St. Roch, last Monday, their friend having somehow been quietly laid on the shelf.

For once the Toronto Leader has given utterance to a sentiment in which many Reformers will coincide. In its issue of Thursday it says:—"But the last contest which took place the other day in South Huron, cannot by any amount of wriggling or plausible argument but be accepted as a fair and honourable expression of public opinion, in regard of the position of the Dominion Government, although the contest was for the representation of the Provincial Legislature, and, therefore, not so important as if the question to be settled related to the politics of the Dominion."

CHAPTER III.

THE M'KENZIES RAFFLED—AN UNFORTUNATE GIRL—LOCH MAREE—DANGER AGAIN—THREATENS THE LOVERS.

"But you have yet to tell me how it was that Ian M'Kenzie and you became acquainted, and how he came to be so fondly attached to you," observed Hector.

"He was about a year ago a constant visitor at my uncle's," replied Flora; "and I met him often at the table, although never otherwise. I soon discovered that he paid a great deal more attention to me than ever I had given him any warrant for, but I never dreamed that he had formed a resolution such as the one he gave expression to in the hut."

"Do you think your uncle favoured his advances to you, or gave him any reason to hope for success in his endeavour to obtain your hand?"

"Well, since hearing Ian express himself as he did in the hut, I am inclined to think it must have been he to whom my uncle referred when he spoke of his having a suitor in view for my hand. He has several times spoken to me of 'Randal Murray,' and asked me what I thought of him. He always spoke of him as if he considered him to be a very estimable person."

"That is just exactly what has occurred to me," replied Hector, "and that will of course give him additional assurance. But I do not think there is any danger of interference now from any one. In fifteen minutes, if steeds are to be had, we shall be on our way to Castle M'Leod. Once there, and we are safe. But for so many Macdonalds being here, M'Kenzie might have been after us with his clansmen before this time."

The two had now reached the inn, and after conducting Flora to the little parlour, Hector went out in quest of horses.

She sat down at the little window which looked to the rear of the house, and which, because of the building being placed on a raised knoll, commanded a fine view of Loch Maree. A charming meadow, dotted with trees, lay between the inn and the loch, on which the cattle quietly browsed. Beyond was the extensive sheet of water, smooth as glass, in which were mirrored the lofty and frowning Ben Slegach and not less lofty and frowning Ben Eay—two giants gazing at each other across the loch, as if in magnanimous rivalry. And stretching away, far as the eye could reach, were the waters of 'far Loch Maree,' guarded on either side by the wild and silent mountains, which, clad as their sides were by dark and sombre firs, tended to throw a shade of melancholy over the young lady's spirits, which she was unable to throw off.

Nor was this lessened when her gaze fell upon the beautiful island in the centre of the loch, which, though relieving the painful monotony of the scene and seeming to lend a sweet charm to that part of the lake, had also a shade of melancholy about them; for in the centre of the largest isle stood a weird yet venerable-looking ruin, just visible from where she sat, about which, as the landlord had informed herself and companions the previous evening, many strange things could be told. This spot—so the landlord had said—was carefully avoided by the people of the district. It was said to be 'holy ground,' and the spirit of the Saint Malrubha, to whom the building—a church or monastery—had been originally dedicated, was supposed to visit it periodically, and, with kindred spirits, perform rites in behalf of certain of the inhabitants of Kinloch-Ewe and surrounding districts, and to invoke the wrath of Heaven upon such as had at any time disturbed the seclusion and sanctity of the spot.

Having gazed at this weird and rugged scene for some time, Flora rose and crossed the room to the other window, which commanded a full view of Glen Dochart. Here nothing was to be seen but a wilderness of hills and mountains, rising range over range—not a bush nor a bracken to be seen—nought but bare mountains with the goats far up on the summits picking the scanty herbage which grew here and there in the interstices of the rocks. A path visible for nearly four miles led up the glen, until a sudden bend in the road hid it from view.

As she sat and gazed up the path, along which three or four killed or armed men were trudging, about a mile and a half distant from the inn, she saw a horseman suddenly sweep round the bend in full view.

She continued to gaze listlessly at the horseman, who was riding rapidly, and every minute urging on his steed to greater speed, until he had traversed nearly half the distance between the top of the glen and Kinloch-Ewe, when she suddenly started and a pallor overspread her face. Eagerly she gazed for a few seconds more, and then she sprang to her feet exclaiming—

"My uncle! Oh, heavens, what is to be done? We cannot escape!"

She was just about to rush from the room in quest of Hector, when suddenly the horseman reined up and seemed to be gazing intently at something on the mountain-top at his right. Then she saw a figure, whom at the distance she could not recognize, rapidly descend the hill and approach the horseman, who after a minute's further delay spurred on harder than before, while the individual who had descended the hill, now joined by the others whom Flora had first seen on the road, also walked rapidly in the same direction.

SAD ACCIDENT AT WHITBY.—About four o'clock on Thursday afternoon little Lia McDougall, aged four years, daughter of Mr. J. G. McDougall, baker, while playing near the house, fell head foremost into a newly dug dry post-hole, about three feet deep, only ten or fifteen feet from the house. Her mother missed her in about half an hour, and on making search, found her little girl with her face in the dust at the bottom of the hole, smothered. The doctor was on hand immediately, and made every effort to restore life, but failed.

Forty years' experience has tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung diseases, embracing the whole range from a slight cold to a settled consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died, and made no sign."

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN IRON SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protozole of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damage, and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of its wonderful success. The remedy is curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its purifying effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and it is its constant, reasonable, honest, to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass. Pamphlets Free.
