'Multum in Parvo' "Much in Little"

Two thousand years ago a clever Roman coined the above Apothegem. "Much in Little" fits my store, while Much for Little represents the parcel you can buy there, i. e. more than you can buy elsewhere for the same money.

My Store, Dry Goods only, is possibly the smallest in Annapolis Co.

My Prices are certainly the smallest in this or any other county for the same quality of goods.

During the sale now on, I have decided to deliver by Registered Mail at your P. O., or if on a Rural Route, at your door, the undernoted Bargains.

Penman's Men's Fleece Lined Shirts and Drawers, 34 to 44 inch. Sale Price in my Store $1.10 per garment. Delivered add 5 cents for every garment ordered.

Local Death Roll

Many Prominent Residents are Passing Away

MRS. ISABELLE RILEY

Mrs. Isabelle, widow of the late Andrew Riley, passed away at the home of her daughters, Mrs. Roach, Annapolis Royal, Tuesday afternoon November 11th aged 79 years. She had been residing with her son Andrew on Victoria street for thirty years, but three weeks ago went to spend the day with Mrs. Roach and was taken suddenly ill, succumbing to heart failure. The funeral took place (Thursday) afternoon in Woodlawn Cemetery. Rev. C. A. Munro officiating. Mrs. Riley was a well known and highly esteemed resident of Annapolis Royal and leaves three sons and two daughters besides many grandchildren. Her sons are Thomas (in Toronto), Richard (in St. John) and Andrew (in Annapolis). Her daughters Mrs. Roach, of Annapolis and Mrs. Carl Miller, of Bear River.

Mrs. Susan Augusta, widow of the late Robert Hill Young, died at her home in Belleisle, on Tuesday, the 18th inst, aged 83 years. The deceased was a life long member of the Episcopal church and well and favorably known in the village in which she resided. Her husband predeceased her many years ago. She is survived by two sons, Edward of New London, Conn., who was present at the funeral and George T. of Newark, N. J. Interment took place last Friday, the services being conducted by Rev. E. Underwood, rector of St. James parish.

FATAL SHOOTING AT DELAP'S COVE

It May Have Been Either an Accident or Suicide

Word has reached here of a fatal shooting affair, either accidental or suicide, which took place at Delap's Cove last Wednesday, when Cecil Lewis, a sixteen year old boy, lost his life. He had been out in the yard gutting wood, and about four o'clock went into the house and announced that he was going hunting. He went into his room for the gun, and a few seconds afterwards a report was heard. His sister went in and found him lying dead, a bullet from the gun having entered his mouth and passed out thru the brain.

The tragic occurrence may have been accidental, but the wound was in the roof of the mouth and not even his teeth had been shattered, which makes it look as tho he had the muzzle in his mouth.

An inquest was held Friday before Coroner McKay, of Annapolis, and an open verdict to the effect that the death resulted from a rifle shot in his own hands was found.

He was a son of Riley Lewis, and leaves, besides his parents, several brothers and sisters.

WILL MANAGE THREE HOTELS

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson Have Hotels at Lawrencetown, Bridgetown and Annapolis

The Annapolis Spectator says: Mrs. McMullin, who has so ably conducted the Queen Hotel during the past summer, retires from the management this week and will take life more easily for the winter. Her able assistant, the ubiquitous, always cheerful and indomitable Nettie, also retires from hotel life, greatly to the regret of every regular patron of the Queen. The hotel has been sold to W. C. MacPherson, of Bridgetown, who will also continue to conduct the St. James in this place.

Both Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson are giving the public an excellent service at the St. James Hotel, Bridgetown, and the Elm House, Lawrencetown. We know they will do well at the Queen, Annapolis, and we wish them every success.

Creeping into the lives of men everywhere is the thought that co operation is better than competition—we need one another. And by giving much we will receive much.

AN IDEAL TONIC FOR WEAK PEOPLE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Act Directly On the Blood and Nerves

Food is as important to the sick person as medicine, more so in most cases. A badly chosen diet may retard recovery. In health the natural appetite is the best guide to follow. In sickness the appetite is often fickle and depraved.

Proper food and a good tonic will keep most people in good health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most popular tonic medicine in the world, harmless and certain in their action, which is to build up the blood and restore the vitality of the run-down system. For growing girls who become thin and pale, tired women, and for old people who find their strength Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. Thousands of people have testified to the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in many homes they are the only medicine used. Among the houses in which the benefit of this medicine has been proved is that of Mr. E. A. Underwood, Kingston, Ont., who says: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the most beneficial results. As the result of hard work I was very much run down, and my appetite was very poor. I got a supply of the pills which I used regularly for some weeks with the result that they restored me to my old time strength. They also proved a blessing to my daughter, who was in a very anaemic condition, and who seemed not to get more than temporary relief from any medicine until she took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She took the pills for about three months, and is now enjoying the best of health. For these reasons I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Want Canadian Goods

H. S. Arkell, Live Stock Commissioner, who has recently returned from a trip to Europe where he has reviewed the live stock market situation, has expressed his views, regarding Canada's position, in the October number of The Agricultural Gazette. He states that the London agents of our Canadian packers reviewed in disappointment the orders for Canadian goods—bacon, eggs, etc.—for which they could obtain but a tenth of the product they required. The unwarranted high price of hogs in Canada during the past month is but a reflection on the reputation of Canadian bacon, as compared with American, and demonstrates the effort of our packers to maintain their connection with old established clients in the face of short supplies. Since Denmark, within a year, will again be a factor on the bacon market our only security for the future is full production and such a substantial export supply as must command recognition by its volume and quality. Short hog production is unquestionably the most dangerous policy Canada can adopt. This is true of eggs as well as bacon.

A REAL JESSE JAMES STUNT

CASPER, Nov. 25.—William Carlisle train bandit, walked into the Western Union office here today while scores of heavily armed men searched the surrounding country for him, and sent a telegram to the Union Pacific railroad office in Cheyenne, thanking the railroad for the money he secured from the passengers on the Los Angeles Limited train which he held up near Medicine Bow on Tuesday night.

Agriculture

Forcing Bulbs in the House

(Experimental Farms Note)

Bulbs when properly forced make splendid house plants and come into bloom during two of the winter months which most need the brightening effects of their rich colours. "Bulbs" is a general term which includes Narcissi, Early Tulips and the more recent Darwin Tulips noted for their elegance of form and range of rich colours.

After the bulbs have been potted the next essential is to induce an abundance of root growth as quickly as possible. The proper root development will determine the subsequent size, vigor and lasting qualities of the flowers. Explicit advice in this connection is, first, choose as the storage place for the pots the coolest, darkest and dampest part of the cellar or the vegetable storage room is very suitable. Second, provide a condition which approximates as nearly as possible the condition they would have if planted in the ground outside. One thorough watering at the time of potting may be sufficient, but in most cases it is not, therefore water regularly as often as the top soil shows signs of dryness. Another method is to plunge the pots into damp sand and keep the sand moist. Provided the place is not too cold, or they are not kept exceptionally wet, rooting will proceed satisfactorily, and towards the end of December the roots should begin to fill the pots. Third, after two months or ten weeks has elapsed bring the pots into a lighter place and water even more regularly and frequently. Allow them to make about three inches of growth and the growth to change to a good green colour then bring some of the pots into the full light and warmth. Very rapid and healthy growth should soon result.

A few words of advice as to what not to do. First, do not on any occasion place the pots too near the furnace or near the hot air outlets; dry, warm air is disastrous to healthy plant growth. It dries out the soil and hardens the roots; it stunts the foliage and shrivels up the blossoms. Second, do not over-water at any period; the soil should be kept always moist but never soggy and cold, and do not allow the plants to experience too violent temperature changes. At the time of rooting the temperature may range from 35 to 45 and after the plants are brought into the light it should range from 50 to 70. Higher temperatures during the day, due to combined sun and heat, may not hurt the plants but they are apt to be materially injured if forced to experience several hours of dry, high temperature during the evening when they should enjoy the resting period always provided for them under natural conditions. Flowers with little or no stem and plants with a stunted growth are due to improper forcing methods. Bulbs appreciate the sunshine and when in the flowering stage also respond to and should have abundance of water.

Testing Seed for Farmers and Merchants

The Dominion Seed Branch with laboratories at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Calgary reported over 35,000 seed tests for the year ending June 30th. The growth of seed testing in Canada is indicated from the fact that only 5,775 samples were reported in 1909. The great bulk of the work in our seed laboratories is done between September and June when each laboratory may handle up to 200 samples per day. Only ten samples are tested free of charge for any farmer or seed merchant during the season. Over this number, the service is charged for at cost.

Official seed testing is the basis of Government seed control, which in older European countries is rated as a leading Government service to Agriculture. Any country without an efficient system of seed control soon becomes the dumping ground for inferior seeds from other countries, and low-grade homegrown seeds may be sold to unsuspecting farmers. Our system is frequently referred to in other countries as being the most practical and efficient. Its importance is now being better appreciated when it is required that imported seeds are not released from bond until they are approved at the seed laboratories, and when cereal grains, flax, corn, as well as clover and grass seeds, are marketed on the basis of fixed quality seed grade standards.

Canada's Agricultural Position

The Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Canada's new Minister of Agriculture, has summed up the outstanding facts of Canada's agricultural position in an article appearing in the November number of The Agricultural Gazette. He presents statistics showing the growth of Canada's financial burden during the past five years and points out means by which our national debt will be reduced. He says in part: "I am confident that this Dominion, through the development of her natural resources, will in time wipe out her debt. Forests, fisheries, and mines all contribute their part of the revenue but by far the greatest returns will be derived from agriculture which industry we must continue to establish in permanency and increase in magnitude. One of the greatest responsibilities that falls on either the federal or provincial departments of agriculture is the conservation of the great wealth that lies in the virgin soil. Innumerable considerations are involved in this one problem, but the whole affair can be accomplished if we engage in mixed farming with live stock as a basis. This is the fundamental principle underlying success in agriculture."

GENUINE ASPIRIN HAS "BAYER CROSS"

Tablets without "Bayer Cross" are not Aspirin at all

Get genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a "Bayer" package, plainly marked with the safety "Bayer Cross". The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin, prescribed by physicians for nineteen years and proved safe by millions for Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and Pain generally. Made in Canada. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger sized "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada), of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic-acid-ester of Salicylic acid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company, Ltd., will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross".

A New Hullless Oat

(Experimental Farms Note)

The introduction of a good, new variety of hullless oats by the Experimental Farms Branch has not perhaps attracted as much attention as it should. Free samples of this variety are now being distributed by the Dominion Cerealist at Ottawa. The stock on hand is not large, but as long as it lasts samples will be gladly sent to farmers in almost any district of Canada, as it is believed that this oat will be widely useful. The full name of the variety is Liberty, Ottawa 480. It is derived from a cross made in 1903 between the well-known variety, Swedish Select, and a hullless oat from China. The new variety is decidedly superior to the old, Chinese sort. Thrashing out free from hull, this type of oat furnishes a concentrated product of extremely high value which has only to be ground in order to make most excellent feed especially for young pigs and chickens. When carefully enough cleaned for use as human food, it makes meal of surprisingly fine quality. The Liberty oat has very good field characters, being rather early in ripening and having reasonably stiff straw. The yield (so far as kernel is concerned) is equal to about seven-eighths of that of Banner oats. Farmers who are interested in the raising of hogs and chickens are strongly advised to give this new oat a trial. It has already proven extremely satisfactory in some districts.

WAR HERO NOW GAINS 24 POUNDS

After Strain of Service Was Almost A Nervous Wreck—Praises Taniae

Here is another instance of the remarkable reconstructive powers of Taniae. William J. McCullum of 114 Broad St., St. John, New Brunswick who spent three and a half years at the front in France and Belgium, wounded five times, gassed and shell shocked and finally invalided home, states that Taniae has put him in shape to where he is not only beginning to feel like himself again, but that he has also gained twenty four pounds in weight, besides.

Mr. McCullum is a veteran of two wars. He holds a medal for service in the great European war and also a four bar medal for gallantry in the Boer war.

"I can hardly realize just what Taniae has done for me," said Mr. McCullum, in an interview, recently. "In restoring my health and putting me in good shape. When I got home from the war I was simply a nervous wreck and neither time nor medicines seemed to do me any good. I was so nervous and shaky I could hardly hold a cup of tea to my mouth and if my wife happened to drop a fork or knife at the table I would nearly jump out of my chair. In this excited condition, my food could not digest, but would sour and form gas on my stomach adding more misery to the night, getting only about two hours restless sleep and would sometimes have to get out of bed and walk the floor. My condition was distressing in the extreme and seemed to be getting worse all the time."

"Finally someone suggested that I try Taniae and I got a bottle, having little idea it would do me any good, but it has not only helped me, it has made me feel like a new man. I now have an appetite like a bear and eat just anything set before me without the least effect on it. I have been built up and strengthened until my nervousness is practically gone. I can sleep all night long like a log and my wife has a job waking me up in the mornings. I am now able to do a full day's work and Taniae gets all the credit for me being on my feet. My nerves have steadied down until I can stand all sorts of noise and sudden jar. When I first began taking Taniae I couldn't hold my hand steady enough to take a drink of water, but now I can shave myself. I am praising Taniae to all the boys, especially those suffering like I was, take a tin from me get Taniae, for I fully believe I would still be a nervous wreck if I had not taken it myself."

Taniae is sold in Bridgetown by S. N. Wear, in Middleton by Clifford A. Munford and in Bear River by L. V. Harris.

Thrill In The Schools

Increasingly insistent is the demand that the schools of this Dominion teach citizenship—that they equip the child to do the full duty of a good citizen. It is not forgotten that the schools have for generations done excellent work; but the experience of the last four years has brought the realization that a change in method and in subject matter—a shifting of emphasis—is urgently required. A young man may be an expert in arithmetic, in spelling, in writing, grammar, geography, and every other subject on the curriculum and may, none the less, display qualities of brutality, injustice, wastefulness, and treason—may, indeed, be a bolshevik. An altered type of training, a new view of relative values, must come. A knowledge of the fundamentals on which rests the structure of democracy must be a part of all instruction worthy of the name. Education may make or mar a nation—it has done so in Europe and elsewhere.

What are the fundamentals? Honesty is one. Industry is another, and there are many more. Frugality is an important one, and one that is being overlooked in this new country. Canada was built on thrift, among other things the pioneers were specialists in thrift. Thrift is not hoarding; it is not miserliness; it consorts not with the pessimist. Thrift is intelligent care of money and resources, conservation for the future, wise and thoughtful spending. The thrifty man is an optimist, for he has stored up power.

And thrift must be taught in the schools. This will not add to the teacher's burdens, for every subject of study can be so taught that it helps to inculcate the practice of thrift. A Thrift Club in the classroom works wonders in the discipline of the school; it gives the pupils something worth while to talk about and something worth while to think about. United for a common aim, they learn esprit de corps. They come to know the value of money and the principles of business; they are imbuing the necessary preparation for citizenship. For the attractive investment of small savings, War-Savings Stamps afford an excellent medium. This plan has been highly successful in the schools of Great Britain, of the United States, and of Canada.

Thrift taught in the schools encourages industry because children wish to earn so that they may save. And, more than ever in its history, this old world needs to go to work. Production must be increased. Produce, save, invest, must become the universal slogan.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star. Sir, Your report of the visit of the Kiwanians to the Boys' Training School at Shawbridge is one more reminder of the possibilities of this institution.

I have no axe to grind in its favor. I am simply prompted to ask publicity for these lines because after spending a day with the superintendent and the boys, and comparing it with similar institutions in the United States which I have frequently inspected, the province of Quebec is to be congratulated upon having at Shawbridge a man inspired with a lofty and yet attainable ideal. The average reformatory aims at the inculcation of the principles of discipline, and frames its curriculum of drill and labor accordingly. Scholastic instruction follows conventional lines. Sports enter largely into the imagination of the youth. Technical studies are also encouraged, and results along these lines are on the whole gratifying.

At Shawbridge the aim of Mr. Barrass is to co-relate these to the highest of all attainments—the realization of nobility of character in its original significance. Barrass, in my opinion, made the greatest sociological discovery on this Continent, and if he is provided with the facilities required to give effect to his dynamic, he will do more to revolutionize the thought of criminologists than either Warden Homer, just gone to his rest, or the late Dr. Farnardo or Muehler did. He may even impart a new interpretation of evangelization for the universal Church, and do something that will give the quietus to sensationalism in religion. A man with a contagious faith in God, allied to a love of scientific teaching and a practical, almost uncanny knowledge of human nature, and the boy mind in particular, Barrass is a rarity. It is an education to meet him.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty.

Some times there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

Marine News

Stmr. Arleaux, Capt. Milne, was in Digby on Sunday.

The coaster Henry H. Chamberlain, Capt. Wasson, is at Weymouth loading lumber for Cuba.

Capt Donald Barkhouse went to Yarmouth from Westport on Saturday to resume his studies at the Marine school.

Stmr. Prince Arthur, Capt Arthur MacKinnon, sailed from Boston on Nov 9th for New York, in tow of tug Harry G. Little.

J. F. Craser and Charles H. Ritcey of La Have who were at St. Mary's Bay points in the interest of shipping returned home via Yarmouth last Friday.

After a trip of sixty seven days from New York the schooner Seth W. Smith has arrived at Yarmouth with a cargo of coal. It was one of the longest voyages on record.

Capt Lewis F. Barkhouse passed the board of examiners at Yarmouth Tuesday and is now qualified for master of sailing vessels and passenger steamers in the coasting trade.

The new tern schr. Celeste D. recently launched by the Doucet Shipbuilding Co. at Meteghan River, is now about completed and with the exception of bending her sails is practically ready for sea.

During the recent severe storms several of the important buoys in the Bay of Fundy were blown out of their positions. They will be replaced by the marine and fisheries department as soon as possible.

Alexander Graham Bell and F. W. Baldwin have been actively engaged for some time in Cape Breton on the development of a hydroplane boat which has given a speed of 71 miles an hour. The boat is called H. D. 4.

The Annapolis schr. A. W. Longmire which went to the North Shore for bait arrived in Yarmouth on Sunday afternoon and on Monday evening sailed together with several of the local fleet, for the fishing grounds.

In the early days of the lobster industry only the large ones were caught. These were so abundant that the young ones were ignored. A single lobster would often fill all three cans. Today it takes several of the average size to fill a can.

Dartmouth Patriot: The United Fish Co., which has been located for the last few years on Howard's Wharf has gone out of business and a new fish concern formed by the name of the Dartmouth Fish Co., under Capt Benjamin Buffel.

The C. G. S. Laurentian, Capt M. J. McLean, arrived in Yarmouth Harbor Wednesday with the Brazil Rock gas and whistling buoy which was picked up 20 miles S. S. E. from the Lurcher Lightship. The steamer sailed today in search of the North West Gas Buoy, reported adrift.

Captain A. W. MacKinnon, of Yarmouth will soon proceed to New York from Boston with the steamers Prince George and Prince Arthur, which are to be refitted. He will remain in New York as the Boston and Yarmouth S. S. Company's representative and superintendent the work on these ships.

Mr. Ward Fisher has been appointed Inspector of Fisheries with officers at the Dockyard Halifax.

Mr. Fisher has been connected with the Department of Fisheries at Ottawa. His daughter, Miss Prudence is stenographer in the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment at Halifax.

Capt Bayard Powell, 1st officer of the steamer Lady of Gaspe, arrived in Yarmouth on Wednesday of last week and after spending a few days at his home in Plympton, Digby Co., returned to Boston Saturday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Powell who will spend the winter with him. Capt Powell has been placed in charge of the Nova Scotia Steamships Ltd., docks at Boston.

Capt Beecher Powell, master of the Nova Scotia Steamship Co's steamer Lady of Gaspe, has been appointed Marine Superintendent of that company, with headquarters at Halifax.

Capt Powell is making his last trip this week between Boston and St. John's Nfld., and upon arrival back to Boston he will proceed to Halifax to take up his new duties.

There is at least one Nova Scotian among the crew of the American steamer Peler Land, abandoned off Cape Breton on Sunday. He is Clyde Weagle, of Annapolis Royal. With David Marsball, a South American he shares the experience of being shipwrecked twice within five weeks. Both men were members of the crew of the schooner E. B. Hardwick, who put up such a gallant fight for their lives off the coast early last month and were rescued and taken to England.

The following sale of fishing vessels has been reported by the Yarmouth Light: The fishing schooner Lorain B. Snow, also the schooner Cupola, owned by the Yarmouth Trading Co., have been purchased by Mayor J. M. Walker, of the Gateway Fish Company. Schr. Wilfred L. Snow, owned by the Yarmouth Trading Co., has been purchased by Raymond N. d'Entremont of Abbots Harbor. Schr. Lucille M. owned by Raymond N. d'Entremont of Abbots Harbor, has been purchased by the Yarmouth Trading Co. Capt Andrew D'Eon will command this vessel.

The Digby schr. Dorothy M. Smart which arrived in Yarmouth during the heavy weather of last week, on Monday shipped her fare of 40,000 lbs of fresh fish to her owners, Digby. The entire lot was landed, iced, packed and shipped by Monday evening's train for the Montreal and Toronto markets. The Smart had, previous to Monday morning, when she came into the dock to land her fare, been lying at anchor in the harbor and when an attempt was made to raise the anchor it had become so bedded at the bottom of the channel that the shackles of the chain parted and it was lost. A new anchor was purchased and the vessel sailed Monday evening.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic.

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

PRINCE DALE

Mr. Leon Wright returned from St. John Monday.

Mrs. Elder Fraser spent Friday and Saturday at Greenwood.

Mr. Percy Dondale left Wednesday for Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. R. C. Brooks, of Centerlea, spent Monday night at Mr. Elder Fraser's.

Mrs. Noble Dondale spent Thursday at Mrs. Harry Potter's Clementsvale.

Mr. Fred Potter, of Upper Clements, spent Sunday at Mr. Gardener Wright's.

Mrs. Wm. Dondale, of Bear River, spent Wednesday at Mrs. Manning Dondale's.

Mrs. R. F. Connel, of Bridgetown, was an over Sunday guest of her father, Mr. C. M. Fraser.

The wise woman rules her husband by permitting him to think he's "it."

Halifax Girls are Wrathy

A correspondent of a Halifax paper writes as follows:

"We saw a piece recently about several thousand English girls being emigrated from England to Halifax."

We take it that they are coming with the object of getting married to Canadian boys and getting work in the city. We don't think that fair—do you? There is not enough work in Halifax for all the girls there are here now. The wages will take a slump and where will we Canadian girls be? Out in the cold, you bet. We are barely earning enough, as it is. Then, if these English girls come well, just picture to yourself a slump in wages. Just enough for us to keep eating on.

"They have already enough of our men, without more coming to Canada to take Canadian husbands from their rightful owners. Gee whiz! Mr. Editor, there isn't enough men for the girls in Halifax now. Do you think it fair? We'll suddenly find ourselves old maids. Something has got to be done. Look, Mr. Editor, we are going to form an army and meet that boat when it docks, and if we don't you can except the herring to come out of the harbor and walk into a chink restaurant and order up chop suey."

"We are mad, that's what we are and when something like this gets under our skin it's time for action."

MRS. TURNER STUDYING BABY HYGIENE

She Asks The Physician

"My dear Mrs. Turner" said the family physician. "I can only repeat what I have said so many times—that not only must we see to it that the child properly assimilate its food, but, equally important, that the waste products are properly eliminated. Infant—or Child—hygiene plays an immense part at this day. The proper feeding of children is to day an exact science and it has brought with it the knowledge of how to keep the child's alimentary tract in the proper condition. Have you noticed how many physicians now specialize in children's diseases? Those men have at their command all the treatises on the maladies of infancy and child hood. Naturally they have the advantage over the general practitioner. But, do you think the specialist has more success in treating the children than has the physician who brought them into the world; who day in and day out sees them, watches them and notices all their little individual peculiarities? The Specialist comes in as an outsider and has to learn of these things. The family physician knows them."

"One of the best known physicians in this country puts the matter of sanitation of the alimentary canal into a terse sentence—"Clean out, clean up and keep clean." Surely what is true about the grown ups is still more so in regard to children. The grown ups can think for themselves. But the baby? Ah! you get the point? Food that may suit one child may be absolutely unfit for another, the ice cream cone, the tempting watermelon, the ever to be desired green apple, these and many more cause the woe, which may be soothed by remedies that cannot be given to the infant or small child, such as Castor Oil a most nauseating old fashioned remedy. Now, to tell you the truth, I very rarely give Castor Oil. For years and years in my own family as well as in outside practice, I give Fletcher's Castoria and I know of scores of other physicians doing likewise. You ask why? Well I have had nearly thirty years experience with it, that is why. Experience teaches. You, Mrs. Turner, are still young and have only your first baby to worry over and because his little stomach is out of kilter you are scared. Now, just do as I tell you. Give him Fletcher's Castoria as directed and you will find that your boy will be very comfy."

"But Doctor" broke in Mrs. Turner, "are you sure there's nothing injurious in Fletcher's Castoria?" Why my dear Mrs. Turner right on the wrapper of every bottle you will find the formula. And since you are of such an inquiring turn of mind, if you will send day come over to my office I will read to you the text books say about those ingredients and explain it to you in ever day lingo."

The doctor's candid talk convinced Mrs. Turner that Fletcher's Castoria was the remedy for her to keep in the house and any other mother who takes the trouble to ask her physician will receive the same advice.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Annual Meeting Held in Bridgetown Last Friday Evening

On Friday evening, Nov 21st, the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in Mr. Fred Bath's office.

There were present seven members besides the President and Secty treas.

Reports were given by members of the executive of the work done since March and of the need of further work.

Dr. Armstrong was appointed President for the coming year and M. S. Jost re-appointed Secty treas.

The other members of executive: Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mrs. Owen Price, Mrs. J. W. Peters, Capt. W. R. Longmire, Dr. M. E. Armstrong, Mr. A. F. Hiltz and Chief Police Gill were re-elected in a body, except that Mrs. F. V. Young was appointed in the place of Dr. Armstrong.

It was decided that this year it would be advisable to hold meetings more often, that the members may have a more intelligent knowledge of the needs of the work, and every one have a chance to help.

If the members who were not present will kindly hand in their membership fee or if any, no members, would like to help in this work for needy little children, it would be very grateful.

TUXIS SQUARE IN BRIDGETOWN

To the Editor of the MONITOR: DEAR SIR: After the "Tuxis Boy" Conference at Annapolis the eight delegates from Bridgetown returned very enthusiastic over the Tuxis movement.

We are glad to inform you that a Tuxis Square has been organized here by the Methodist and Presbyterian boys from the age of fourteen and upwards, with a membership of 12 boys.

At the first meeting held in the Methodist vestry on the evening of Nov 14th, the following officers were elected: Pretor, (President) Harold B. Price; Deputy Pretor, (Vice President) James G. Fair; Scripitor, (Secretary) Maurice W. Armstrong; Comptor, (Treasurer) Mark Fair; The boys then chose Mr. J. T. Archibald, for their Mentor.

The meetings are carried on wholly by the boys supervised by their Mentor. The name selected by the boys for their Square was, "Tri Muse which means, Three Ms, which stands for, MIND, MORALS and MUSCLE. The motto chosen was, "We can and we will".

The meetings are held every Friday night at 8.30 o'clock.

M. W. ARMSTRONG, Scripitor HAROLD PRICE, Pretor Bridgetown, N. S., Nov 22, 1919.

RANSOM B. FULLER RANSOM SCHOONER. The Annie Conley Abandoned at Portland After Collision.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 14.—The British schooner, Annie Conley was abandoned off this port tonight after her side had been stove in by the steamer Ransom B. Fuller. Capt. Thebedeau and his crew of three men were rescued by the Fuller and brought here.

The collision occurred soon after the Fuller had left here on her regular trip to Boston. The schooner was struck forward. The Conley, lumber laden, was from Meteghan, N. S., for Boston and has since been towed into this port.

(The Annie Conley was owned by Mr. J. O. Dakin and Mr. W. E. VanBlarcom, of Digby, and we understand there is no insurance. The crew have returned to Digby.)

After you've rubbed and scrubbed and cleaned—

The next question is how to keep the house looking all winter as fine and bright as it does the day you finish your Fall housecleaning. The answer is simple—you'll find it in the continual use of O-Cedar Polish.

Not only is this great household help necessary to the housecleaning job itself—but necessary every day in the year for keeping the furniture and floors gleaming like new. We always carry a full line of O-Cedar Polish in all sizes from the 25c bottle to the $3.00 can—also the O-Cedar Polish Wap—in two styles, each at $1.50.

We can furnish every housecleaning requirement—the brooms, the brushes, the pails, the paint and varnish.

REAL LIVE TESTIMONIAL Given to Professor Hamilton, Hampton, Nova Scotia. As we look over the papers, we find lots of Christmas gifts advertised, but among the choicest gifts bestowed upon man exclusive to all others is the gift of health, which can be procured by consulting Professor B. S. Hamilton. Hampton, N. S., Nov. 7th, 1919. To PROFESSOR B. S. HAMILTON— It is with pleasure that I give these statements, with a feeling of unbounded joy and for the benefit of others who suffer, sick and afflicted everywhere. While in Back Bay, Boston, I was taken down sick, and had to give up work. I consulted the best skill that could be procured to diagnosis my case. They pronounced it leakage of the heart and tumors of the stomach. I doctored for some time without benefit so I had to return back—if I ever expected to arrive home. I continued treatment with your local doctors getting little aid. At times in bed propped up with pillows as my heart was so weak I could not lie down. I was living on liquid nourishment, principally milk, and had a bad cough which made my troubles still harder to bear going in decline. On the arrival of Prof. Hamilton my mother sent for him and this is the result: After two months treatment, I can lie down, sleep, eat, work and take long walks. My cough is gone and I feel no inconvenience of my former troubles. But I am gaining strength and weight every day. Many thanks for what you have accomplished in my case wishing you a long life to do good for others as you have done for me. RUBY FARNSWORTH

DIGBY'S NEW RAILWAY STATION. The Up to Date Structure Will Cost About $60,000. (Digby Courier). The building will be of wood roofed with slate. It will be a standard station with all up to date improvements, and it will be a building of considerable size as all departments are to be under the one roof. The southern end will be the freight shed, express and baggage rooms, and to handle the immense quantities of such passing through Digby these departments will have to be large. The portion of the station with which the public will be immediately concerned will be provided with restaurant, dining room, kitchen, ladies' and gentlemen's waiting rooms fully equipped lavatories in connection, spacious ticket office, and everything that goes to make up a modern station. The main platform will be of concrete and will be 700 feet long—the longest on the road—and exceeded by but few in the province. The present buildings of course will be retained until the new one is completed, and then will be either torn down or sold to be moved away and their sites parked. There will be three tracks in front of the station for regular trains, so that trains can cross and the transfer train be manipulated without the constant moving ahead and backing to make room which prevails at present. The Halifax Chronicle of Monday said: It is announced that L. A. Kirkpatrick, for so long D. A. R. passenger agent here and lately of Annapolis, has been promoted to the position of agent of the line at Digby and the appointment is a very popular one. Mr. Kirkpatrick is at present in the city. C. C. Duncan has returned to his post at Annapolis after an extended vacation.

A Town Manager

How Would This Arrangement Work in Bridgetown?

The town of Woodstock, N. B., has recently taken a forward step in appointing a town manager. This appointment marks an epoch in the history of civic government in Eastern Canada and promises to revolutionize the system of town government in this part of the world. The town of Picton, N. S., has done the same and results will be awaited with interest. The plan has much to commend it, although of course its success must in a great measure depend upon the man.

The MONITOR believes that it would be worth while for the rate-payers of Bridgetown to think this matter over. It can hardly be expected that citizens should give their services to conduct the town's affairs without remuneration at the sacrifice of their private interests. Besides few of them have such expert knowledge as is needed to manage the affairs of a growing town. It is well within the range of probabilities that it would be found that even a rather high priced man would save his salary if placed in charge of a town's business.

Inasmuch as the question of civic government is a live issue and inasmuch as the town of Woodstock has entered upon an experiment the success of which will be watched with keen interest by the people all over Canada. The MONITOR believes that no excuse is necessary for devoting considerable space in this issue to the efforts being put forth by Mr. R. Fraser Armstrong, Woodstock's first town manager.

A Woodstock exchange says: When the committee approached your present town manager regarding coming here they talked a three year contract; he would only consider a two year one. There are you who talk of the salary he is getting can rest assured he would not be here if just for his present salary, but he wants to make the system a success. He has faith in the system, faith in Woodstock and is not here just to sit and draw money. He is working to put the system on a proper basis, to organize office records, and systems so that someone can easily take over from him and keep the ball rolling along business lines. Take everything out of him you can in the two years he is to be with you in a public capacity for he is working to the best of his ability for your good. If he removes your friends from office, it is because it is necessary for the success of the system. There is going to be no politics or anything personal in anything he does. From what he can see, after his first month of office the town council are big enough men not to interfere in any way with the administration. He appreciates this and is more anxious than ever to make the system a success for the confidence which they apparently have given him. He wants the opinion of the council and everyone on the various questions; everyone can learn something from everyone else, and if he finds someone has a better idea on a certain matter, than he has, he is willing to accept it.

The first thing is the lengthy contract between the town manager and the town council which makes interesting reading but too lengthy for this issue. One of the first things instituted by Mr. Armstrong was the publication each month of a municipal bulletin. We will allow Mr. Armstrong to discuss in his own words his new venture and the prospects for the town.

"In placing your town under the town manager form of government you have adopted a straight business proposition; the electors correspond to the stockholders; the council to the board of directors and your manager to a company manager. The object of the monthly bulletin (published) is to give the stockholders of your company an idea of what conditions exist in our town; of what work is going on; what the work is costing them and to get the cooperation of all civic bodies to work for the good of Woodstock. We hope to have short articles each month from the first department, board of trade, agricultural society and other civic departments. Owing to our lack of space this bulletin cannot cover the detail as fully as we like, but anyone requiring any further information can get definite details from a complete report which will be put in to the town council on the first council on the first Monday of every month and which can be seen at any time at the town manager's office from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

"The greatest asset a town can have is the proper spirit among its citizens, and those of us who have lived and worked in other towns in various parts of Canada and other countries know that you have a town to be proud of. First as regards business; we are the center of probably the most prosperous agricultural district in Canada and if we make up our minds that we are to get the trade which should come to us from our rich surrounding district we cannot help having a prosperous town even without any further industries. Then the old rule seems to always hold good "to him that hath shall be given." If we get the amount of trade which we should get from our farming district, show the progressive spirit towards forward moves that we should; wisely and economically spend our money so as to get something to show for what we spend. It may surprise us how easily we may have some good industries attracted our way, and we also must not throw up the sponge in this direction because some former industries have closed down. Apparently these industries did not close down because there was no scope for a successful business in this line and in fact probably our biggest industry closed down because it was doing such a prosperous business, that a rival concern had to buy them out and stop competition. Secondly as to a place to live in nowhere in the world will you find a more beautiful river than our St. John; nowhere that you go will you find more natural beauty in trees, scenery, etc. Few towns of our size can boast of an up-to-date pure water supply, a race track tennis courts, golf links, drives, etc., such as we have here. Wisely expanding our money, we soon, too, can have side walks, sewer systems, etc., and electric lighting which can compare with the best but a small, if any, additional outlay to what we have at present.

"Compare our town with a similar sized western town; their business is chiefly due to the grade from their surrounding farming district and prosperous though some of their district are, there are none that we know of, and we have been over most of them, any more prosperous than Carleton Place, and a place to live in the odds are all with us. Too much trade now goes across the border or to Upper Canada, and this is a question which should be thoroughly gone into by the Board of Trade to see what can be done to make it more profitable for everyone in the district to do their business in Woodstock.

"In coming into your town as town manager, we feel that we can best make our government a success by looking after the general interests of the town in establishing a cost system in office studying the policies regarding proposed works and expenditure and giving a general supervision to everything, rather than we can by neglecting these important matters and sitting on the job as a foreman. In all our works carried on, we will be fighting costs all the time and the results of our outside work will show in our unit cost, and therefore each job must be run as efficiently as possible and everything organized so as to get the maximum value out of the teams, labor and material we may hire. There is a vast amount of work to be done in getting proper records of all utilities such as sewers, water services, pipe lines, valves etc.

Mr. Armstrong has the following to say which forms a fitting conclusion to this article: "The more I begin to realize the looseness of the system where the town council controls without having some trained executive to advise and look after the business and working details and the more I realize the weakness of such a system as the commission form now adopted in St. John, where the executive head of a department is elected and not appointed on account of any special training, and has to be in his position some two or three years before he knows enough of the technical end of his department to know whether the officials underneath him are properly carrying on their duty, I am more and more convinced that the system adopted here is the real solution of civic government and any information that I can give you I will be greatly pleased to give it."

A Word For Thrift
(By a native of Paradise, N. S.)
Today my voice I wish to raise,
As to the skies my eyes I lift,
To speak abroad a word of praise

Who act as if they were in haste
Most all they have to give away,
And all that others have to waste.

We often face to face are brought,
No matter how deep our regret,
With those who never give a thought
To waste, which only leads to debt.

A winter, he be the or friend,
Of one with whom we live and dwell
Will, if allowed to, in the end,
Spand all he has, and yours as well.

To take in debts we never can meet
Is to bring on our souls, a blight;
And life is washed of what was sweet,
For we have not used others right.

And this no honest man will do:
No matter what his rank or race;
And so, in summing up the two,
I give the one of thrift first place.

So 'tis the men of thrift I praise,
For they their time and talents give
To make the earth, in many ways,
A better place in which to live.

THE TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM

Happily Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-a-tives"

3 Ottawa St., Hull, P. Q.
"For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine never being able to walk again. One day while lying in bed, I read about "Fruit-a-tives" the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it. The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me."

Good Apples An Interesting Story About Old Time Varieties

(Boston Transcript)

The recollections published in this column the other day of the old apple orchard on the farm have been the means of bringing a rare pleasure to the Nomad, for they have inspired M. P. C. W. J., and others to seek out and present the writer of the article with an apple or apples of every sort named as growing in the old orchard. The apples mentioned were the Fameuse, Baldwin, Northern Spy, Golden Russet, Pippin, Rhode Island Greening, Talman Sweet, Spitzenberg, Gravenstein, and Belleflower. It has been so many years since the Nomad saw or heard of the Belleflower apple that he did not believe it was still in existence, but M. P. C. and C. W. J. have turned it up for him. There was one apple in the old orchard which the Nomad forgot in making his enumeration; it was the following interesting letter, chiefly about reminiscences of fruits:

Dear Nomad—Your memories of the apples of your boyhood have set me pondering on the unique part the apple plays among the fruits that minister to the palate. Has it influenced the character of English and Americans, who alone have known the companionship of a good apple? I say companionship advisedly, for surely there is no other fruit that is not self-assertive demanding undivided attention or else revenging itself by turning on its victim. Of course, even those tropical fruits that require the costume of their native clime, or a bathtub for their full enjoyment, may be brought in chains, as it were, to the dinner table of the epicure. Slices of the palate—but imagine the boy lying flat on his stomach, heels in air, in his limbs hauled among the Capital shadows of the adventures of pirate, buccaner or arctic explorer, automatically absorbing oranges as he reads! A bunch of the amber-colored grapes of Southern Italy may vanish on by one between the lips of the Neapolitan boy lying in the shade of a stuccoed wall fringed with wild miconette, wallflower and the drier and purple blooms of the caper, but it will be but the sensuous absorption of the dolce far niente. A childhood spent as an American child in Germany has but few fruity memories. In the valley of the Elbe the cherry trees along the highways are a delight and the goal of spring-time pilgrimages to the shrubs of beauty. Their fruit in its season is very, very good. When on a walking name of "Wint'r Porter." I suppose you have heard of the old farmer who, when some customers wanted a sweet apple, said: "Well, no, I ain't got no sweet apples, but I got the Valflower, and people who like sweet apples generally like the 'Valflower'." In the afternoon some customers wanted a sour apple, and the farmer's reply was: "Well, no, I ain't got no sour apples, but I got the Valflower, and folks who like sour apples generally like the Valflower." C. W. J.

Stone Croft Farm, BeZord. The farmer was right. The Belleflower, or Winter Porter, will make an acceptable kind of substitute for any other apple, because it is better than most apples, and anyone is bound to like it.

From H. C. Swain, Framingham Baldwin, also comes a box of Belleflowers and other wonderful apples. It was certainly a happy day when the Nomad was inspired by one apple left hanging on the trees in the garden, to dream and write about the old orchard. "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."

M. P. C. accompanies her gift of the apples of the old orchard with the following interesting letter, chiefly about reminiscences of fruits: Dear Nomad—Your memories of the apples of your boyhood have set me pondering on the unique part the apple plays among the fruits that minister to the palate. Has it influenced the character of English and Americans, who alone have known the companionship of a good apple? I say companionship advisedly, for surely there is no other fruit that is not self-assertive demanding undivided attention or else revenging itself by turning on its victim. Of course, even those tropical fruits that require the costume of their native clime, or a bathtub for their full enjoyment, may be brought in chains, as it were, to the dinner table of the epicure. Slices of the palate—but imagine the boy lying flat on his stomach, heels in air, in his limbs hauled among the Capital shadows of the adventures of pirate, buccaner or arctic explorer, automatically absorbing oranges as he reads! A bunch of the amber-colored grapes of Southern Italy may vanish on by one between the lips of the Neapolitan boy lying in the shade of a stuccoed wall fringed with wild miconette, wallflower and the drier and purple blooms of the caper, but it will be but the sensuous absorption of the dolce far niente. A childhood spent as an American child in Germany has but few fruity memories. In the valley of the Elbe the cherry trees along the highways are a delight and the goal of spring-time pilgrimages to the shrubs of beauty. Their fruit in its season is very, very good. When on a walking trip you plan to rest and eat your lunch when the lessee of a number of laden trees has set up tables and benches and sells you a measure of the cherries to go with your sandwiches, all very systematic and orderly. No German boy would ever have had, in the old days of the seventies, so original and adventurous a thought as to try to help himself. It was "verboten", and forbidden fruit signified to lack the special charm it has for boys in our land. We children were allowed to help ourselves to "Zwetschen" in one garden where we played, and for a life liberty to grant, and for likely to be abused, as those wretched purple plums, grown to be converted into a dreary sour jam, had no fascination even for the child who was once found eating dried beans in a loft, for the sake of the beauty of their various tinted skins! Wild strawberries were brought to the "Gors" in little crocks. I never in my even German summers saw them growing. They were sweet and full flavored, not like some I once bought in Bergamo and carried to a confectioner's only to find when I secured them over my ice cream that they might as well have been pink cotton batting. But to return to our New England apples. Even as they lead a richer flavor to any book read to their accompaniment, what more intimate picture of home life can we call to mind than the scene around an open fire, the younger child on its father's lap, the big and older children sprawling on the hearth rug, the mother in the background sewing by the rather dim light of the lamp on the centre table, all listening to stories of the past, or to fairy tales and stories of adventure as the father's mood might prompt—and, family symphony, the hissing and sizzling of the row of apples slowly turning on their strings before the fire. Surely no other fruit could undergo such a transfiguring auto ca as that!

The passing of the old familiar apple barrel at the commercial center has a distinct advantage from the point of view of the picturesque. This slowwalk around Quincy Market are as brilliant as an upland pasture with the red and gold and green. Surely the wet summer has been generous of the fruit, even if the housewife, on jelly making hour, is complaining her product "jell." It has been interesting to note that there is enough attention being paid to the question of varieties to cause the retail dealers to label their piles. In face of the plenty now abroad it seems as if we might be spared the travel weary invaders of the West. If we have to have them it is surely proof of a great consumption of apples. May their strength and snap and ripeness enter into the blood of the nation!

all other fruits. It is sold as a great delicacy, in tropical countries, where it does not thrive. In Mexico, where delicious oranges are to be had for next to nothing the Nomad has seen apples sold from baskets and eagerly bought at a high price by the people. A part of this demand is, no doubt, due to the fascination of the exotic; we put the apple aside for the orange and the grapefruit. But after all, we come back to a good apple as the really inefable fruit, and so do the Mexicans and Cubans, while to the Floridian there is no fruit like an Albemarle Pippin. M. P. C.'s remarks about roasting apples before the fire bring back a flood of memories to the Nomad. That used to be a nightly proceeding at home. The Nomad doubts whether an apple is really better roasted or cooked in any way, than when eaten raw, but there was great social satisfaction at least, in sitting before the fire—either an open wood or coal fire or a red hot stove, and listening to your apple as it sizzled, first on one side and then on the other and afterward sampling its hot and winey flesh. The number of apples that a healthy boy could roast and eat before he went to bed was appalling. And the fruit cost you nothing but the gathering.

INGLISVILLE

Geo A. Whitman spent last week at Mt. Hanley among friends. Mrs. Chester Beale and children Harold and Marion are visiting at Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Beale. The farmers have taken the advantage of this mild weather and are getting their plowing done. Mr. Cecil Bayers came the 18th from Halifax to visit his uncle. He intends having a hunting trip during his stay. The children of the school are all recovering from the effects of the vaccination and are again resuming their regular attendance. Notwithstanding the long distance most of the children have to travel, the frequent rainstorms, etc., the average attendance for the quarter closed has been very good. Names of pupils, first on the honor roll for neatness of desk exercises are: Allister Whitman, Edna McGill, Reginald McGill and Eleanor Lynn. Those receiving highest marks for correct answers to examinations are Arthur Banks and Erna Leonard.

BAPTIST DISTRICT NOTES

The executive is arranging for an exchange of pulpits, whereby students from Acadia will substitute for some of the pastors, allowing them to visit other fields. By this arrangement, if it is agreeable, Rev. M. S. Richardson will visit Parker's Cove and Litchfield; Rev. I. A. Corbitt Hampton, Arlington and Port Lorne; Rev. I. Brindle, Melvern Square, etc. Rev. M.H. Brown, Margerville, Victoria; and the secretary Annapolis, Round Hill Millford and Greywood. The dates will be left for the speakers to arrange with the churches, respectively. No expense will be incurred for students supply and the offerings taken at the sections visited will go to Denominational Work, after travelling expenses have been deducted. It is hoped that these fraternal visits will result in encouraging the workers all along the line. The earnest united prayers of the constituency are solicited for God's blessing on the campaign.

MELVERN SQUARE

Mr. Ezekiel Pierce, who has been quite ill, is improving slowly.

We are sorry to report Mr. Harold Gates quite ill, at time of writing.

Miss Georgie VanBuskirk has returned from visiting friends at Annapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, of "Pleasant Grove Farm," are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Our teacher, Miss Powell, recently spent the week-end at her home at Plympton, Digby County.

Miss Harriette Spurr is spending a few days at Annapolis Royal, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Gill.

Miss Carrie Neily, of Brooklyn, Anns. Co., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Edward VanBuskirk, Melvern West.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Gates, who have been spending the past year in Melvern, returned to Boston, Mass., a few days ago.

The young people met in the Melvern Hall Thursday evening, Nov. 20th, for the purpose of organizing a Social Entertainment Club for the winter months.

Messrs. Outhit and Frank Kerr, of Toronto, lately visited their uncle, Mr. D. M. Outhit, one of the young gentlemen remaining a few months for the benefit of his health.

Sergt. Fred Van Buskirk arrived from overseas a short time ago, and is spending a few months with his mother, Mrs. Chas. I. Van Buskirk, at the home of D. M. Outhit, "Hillside Farm." Sergt. Van Buskirk was the first young man to enlist for overseas, having enlisted soon after the war began, and not only bears the scars of active service, but has won distinction for himself as a soldier.

Shortly after his arrival a reception was tendered him at the inimitable home of Mr. Outhit, where his many friends met, and gave him a royal welcome.

ARLINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Whitman, of Williamsport, were calling on relatives here on Tuesday last.

Miss Beatrice Ring and brothers Tom and Kenneth spent Wednesday with their sister, Mrs. E. Marshall.

Recent guests at Mrs. Harry Hines were Miss Vera Graves, Port Lorne, Harold Chute, Hampton, and Vaughn Poole, St. Croix.

Messrs. Milbury and Charlton, also Sabean and Brown, have been doing good work for the farmers this week, passing through here with their threshing outfits.

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 3rd, a social will be held in the Arlington Church. Will all come and help finish paying for having the roof of the church shingled? It is so very it will be held the first time evening following.

OUTRAM

Mrs. Wilbur Beardsley left Saturday for Halifax to spend the winter with her husband.

Mrs. Joshua Banks spent a few days last week the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wallace Marshall, Mt. Rose.

Mr. George O'Neal, from Melvern Square, called on his many friends in this place on Monday last.

Messrs. David and Webb Milbury, from Port Lorne, were in this place last week threshing grain for the farmers. Crops are reported fair.

MIDDLETON

(Outlook)

Gordon Goucher, of Acadia spent Sunday at home.

Mrs. May Welton, of Kingston, is the guest of Mrs. T. A. Craiker.

Mr. S. W. W. Pickup and son were visitors in Halifax for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Farnsworth are expected home from the West Saturday.

Miss Catherine Parker, Clementsport, was a week-end guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Parker.

Capt. Prickler and family took possession of their farm this week. We regret to see Col. and Mrs. Hodgins leave us, yet we welcome the strangers.

ALBANY

Since writing for the MONITOR your correspondent witnessed the operation at the Granite Quarries on the property of H. J. Munroe T. A. Chipman Nietaux West, where they are getting out paving blocks for the city of Halifax. It was wonderful to see the skilled workmen cut up the huge boulders of granite into blocks as smooth and even as bricks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Murray celebrated the thirty fifth anniversary of their marriage last Saturday evening, 15th, by entertaining a party of their friends.

Quite a number from outside. A very enjoyable time is reported. Mr. and Mrs. Murray were the recipients of a large number of useful presents besides quite an amount in cash.

L. A. Whitman is loading his third car with apples.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Fairn, of Yarmouth, are the guests of his mother, Mrs. A. B. and brother George.

Mr. Albert Oakes, of Wolfville, had a short visit to Albany this week.

Miss Annie Fairn has recently visited her nieces at Lawrence town.

The Infirmary at St. John, N. B., for medical treatment returned home Wednesday 19th feeling much better.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Marilla Walker, in poor health.

Mr. Lloyd Blackford left for New York a short time ago and has received a notification there.

Mr. Warren Bates is doing winter work at Freeport for a short time.

Patricia Thorne, of Freeport, was in town Tuesday, 18th.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gentlemen,—Last winter I received great benefit from the use of MINARD'S LINIMENT in a severe attack of LaGrippe, and I have frequently proved it to be very effective in cases of Inflammation.
Yours,
W. A. HUTCHINSON.

WARNING TO TEACHERS

On page 257 of the Journal of Education for October 1919, just issued, teachers are warned that if the vaccination regulation is not enforced, they cannot make the required oath, that their schools have been conducted in accordance with the law. In that case there will be loss of the Provincial Grant and also of Municipal Grant to the section. Every pupil must produce one or other of the two certificates or the "Conscientious objectors" declaration.

BIG SHIP ASHORE

The Barquentine T. H. Macdonald May Become a Total Loss

YARMOUTH, Nov. 23—Word was received here yesterday that the large four-master T. H. Macdonald, Captain George L. Wetmore, of Yarmouth, had gone ashore on Friday on Tybee Island, at the mouth of the Savannah River, and would probably become a total loss. The vessel was a new one, being built last year and launched at Meteghan in January last by Dr. T. H. McDonald for whom she was named, and who left here by the steamer Northland last evening for Savannah.

The barquentine was returning from her maiden trip to Buenos Aires, from which port she sailed on September ninth for Baltimore with linned. No further particulars concerning the disaster have as yet been received. The T. H. Macdonald was one of the largest vessels built in Nova Scotia during the recent boom, and measured 176 feet keel, 40 beam, 19 deep, 1,185 gross and 1,088 nett tons. There is some insurance.

WILL "CARRY ON" ALONE

PARIS, November 20—While the supreme council did not positively decide today to put the peace treaty with Germany into effect on December 1, its members all agreed it would be desirable to do so. An effort will be made to have preparations for the enforcement of the treaty completed by that date and it will probably be put into effect very early in December, regardless of the failure of the United States to ratify the treaty.

American delegates declare themselves still hopeful that a compromise will be arranged in the senate, but the French and British peace delegates are apparently less optimistic and inclined to prepare to carry out the treaty without American co-operation. Suggestions that another treaty, more to the liking of the European allies be negotiated, apparently, are not seriously taken.

UP TO UNITED STATES

LONDON, Nov. 20—Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons today said he saw no hope of a melioration in the economic situation of Vienna without the help of the United States. The British had already aided the Viennese government in amounts to three and one half million pounds sterling, but the premier announced that Great Britain did not intend to continue to bear the burden of famine in that country.

Killed While Cleaning Gun

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 20—Chester McDonald, seventeen years of age, was instantly killed this morning while cleaning a gun. The weapon was loaded and the charge passed through his brain.

Annapolis Spectator: Schr Emerald arrived here from and cleared for St. John, Nov 17th.

MARINE NEWS

Capt. Munro, superintendent of the J. B. King Co. was in Digby last week looking over the facilities for shipping from that port during the winter.

A fleet of twelve boats, about 50 feet in length, built in Upper Canada for the French Government, will spend the winter in Halifax. They will not attempt the trip across the Atlantic until the spring.

Annapolis Spectator: It seems pity to see the boats returned dismantled, but it seems very doubtful now when there may be any vessels built here and the port is being cleaned out. It is understood that the high price of labor and materials discouraged the Annapolis Shipping Co. from undertaking any further construction.

YARMOUTH WINS GERMAN CROWN

The captured German field comes to Yarmouth, this county having the largest percentage over its objective. Yarmouth's objective was $450,000, and its achievement $1,172,300, or 160 percent above the objective. Cumberland County came second with 150 percent, and Digby third with 140 percent. Yarmouth fully deserves this distinction and the whole province is sending congratulations. The good news was received Tuesday morning when the Prince of Wales' flag was raised over the Court House by Mayor Walker and bells were rung and whistles blown.

A number of the Westport young men for some weeks have been talking of forming a brass band and several instruments have been purchased for the purpose. The group have obtained the services of George Burgoyne of Santof, Yarmouth, Co.
